VOL. XXXIV. NO. 76

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 7, 1925

FIVE CENTS

PRE-PROM DANCE SATURDAY TO BE SEASON'S CLIMAX

Benson Emanuel's Ten-piece Orchestra Will Play in Lathrop Hall

The social season for the first semester will be brought to a close with the pre-prom dance to be held in Lathrop gymnasium Saturday night. That everything is being done to make it a fitting climax of the semester's social activities is the promise of Carl Klath '26, chairman of the dance.

Acts to Be Given

Benson Emanuel's ten-piece orchestra will play. Three acts which formed a part of the Union vovvil program, but different as to lines and songs, will be given during the intermission. The banjo trio with Nathan Grabin '26, Gordon Roberts '26, and Harold Rieger '26, "Topsy and Eva," by Ruth Oberdorfer '27 and Dorothy Crocker grad, and a song sketch by William Ross grad, and Katherine Reid '26 will make up the entertainment.

The stage decorator from the Parkway theater is handling the decorations, the exact nature of which he would not reveal last night. At previous dances held in Lathrop gymnasium complaints have been made about the condition of the floor, but Klath says that because of a new system that will be tried out he can guarantee that the floor will be in shape for dancing.

No Union Dance

Tickets if purchased before hand are $1.75 but at the door will be $2. They may be obtained at the University pharmacy and at Morgan's.

Union board has announced that the regular dance in Lathrop parlors has been canceled for Saturday night because of the pre-prom affair.

WAYNE MORSE COACHES WOMEN'S DEBATE TEAM

Wayne L. Morse '23, now of the University of Minnesota faculty, is coaching the first intercollegiate debating team for women in the history of that college. Arrangements have been made for a debate to take place in April, between the co-ed teams of the University of Minnesota and the University of Iowa. Efforts are being made to have Wisconsin women debaters participate in the affair in order to make it a triangular meet.

PLAN P. M. CLASSES FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Due to the growth of the summer session, afternoon classes will be scheduled for the first time this summer, according to a report by Scott H. Goodnight, director of the summer session. Many students who come here for special work during the summer have found that two courses they desired to take were taught during the same hour.

Returning Students Give Attention to Exams and Prom

With the re-opening of the university after Christmas vacation, student attention is turning towards final exams and Prom. With only 15 days remaining in this semester, there is a hurry and rush to complete topics, themes, and catch up in outside reading.

Senior students are getting theses well in hand or planning on doing the work all at once in the spring. To them, there was little thrill in returning to Madison Monday night, but to freshmen it was a different trip.

As soon as exams are by the boards, Prom opens for a three day run in Madison. Then the second semester starts.

The calendar has been kind to students in 1925. Washington's birthday, February 22, falls on Sunday, so the following Monday is a legal holiday, giving students an extra day over the week end. Spring vacation, from April 8 to 14, is the last recess in the collegiate year.

MARIE HERRIED DIES AT HOME OF PARENTS

Miss Marie Herried, 20, a junior in the home economics course, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Herried, Monday afternoon after an illness of two weeks.

Mr. Herried is chief state banking examiner for Wisconsin. Miss Herried is survived by her parents, two brothers, and a sister, who graduated from the university last year.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock today from the home at 941 Harvey Terrace, and burial will be made at Blair, Wis., on Thursday.

MUSIC DEADLINE SET FOR TONIGHT

Prom Fox-Trots Appointments
May Be Made With Miss
Hammett

The deadline for the Prom fox-trot has been set for this evening, according to Constance Hammett '26, chairman of the music committee.

All students who plan to submit music to be judged for the Prom fox-trot are asked to call Miss Hammett, B. 2048, not later than this evening to be appointed a definite time for the hearing of their selections.

Hearings for the fox-trot will be held tomorrow, Friday and Saturday. The winning song will be played at the pre-Prom dance Saturday evening in Lathrop gym by Benson-Emanuel's ten piece orchestra.

Both the Hook Music Co. and the University Music Co. have joined in giving the $50 prize to the winner. Other business places who have donated funds to be used by the music committee are:

Bailey-O'Connell & Meyer Clothing Co., the Chocolate Shop, Karsten's Clothiers, Kessenich's Dry Goods Co., Harry S. Manchester's, Morgan Bros. and Speth's Clothiers.

BE VACCINATED NOW IS MOWRY'S ADVICE

That every student should be vaccinated is still the belief of Dr. W. A. Mowry of the student health department who declared before vacation that it was very advisable to vaccinate to prevent the spreading of smallpox.

"No cases have been reported in Madison but since there is so much smallpox in adjoining states and in the northern part of this state, it is well to be precautions," Dr. Mowry said yesterday.

Many students are already following his advice and are to be seen in the clinic waiting for their appointment.

COLD CAUSES DAMAGE TO 13 GREEK HOUSES

Cold weather with the mercury hovering below the zero mark most of the time wrought havoc in the Latin quarter, while the students were away during the holidays. Ten fraternity and three sorority houses suffered freeze-ups. The boiler broke at the Phi Gamma Delta house ruining walls and furniture. Frozen water systems and bursting pipes soaked the walls and furnishings causing losses of hundreds of dollars at the Sigma Kappa, Psi Upsilon and Sigma Phi houses.

MILLS IS RE-ELECTED AS MUSIC GROUP HEAD

Prof. Charles Henry Mills, director of the School of Music, has been re-elected as president of the Association of Heads of State University Music schools at their meeting in St. Louis during the holidays. Professor Mills also attended a meeting of the National Music Teachers' association while he was in St. Louis.

SCHEDULES FOR EXAMS MAY BE OBTAINED NOW

Copies of the revised examination schedules may be obtained from 151 Bascom hall, according to G. A. Chandler, assistant to the faculty secretary. These new tabulations take the place of the ones printed in the timetable.

PROFESSORS PAY COMPLIMENTS TO UNION LECTURER

Slosson Will Talk on "Creative Chemistry" Tomorrow Night in Lathrop

One of the greatest scientists and most popular lecturers in America will speak on "Creative Chemistry" tomorrow evening in Lathrop hall gymnasium, according to the comments of several professors when they learned that Union board had made arrangements to bring Dr. Edwin E. Slosson, chemist, author, and journalist, to the university for a public lecture.

"That is the best news I have heard for a long time. Dr. Slosson is a most entertaining lecturer, full of irresistible humor, and is a leader in scientific thought in our country," was the comment made by Prof. J. H. Mathews, director of the chemistry department, who will introduce Dr. Slosson.

Bleyer Praises

The faculty of the chemistry department is planning to entertain the speaker at a dinner in his honor early in the evening. The local section of the American Chemical society had been planning to ask Dr. Slosson to visit the university sometime in the near future, before it was learned that he had already been invited by Union board.

Prof. W. G. Bleyer, director of the course in journalism, said, "Dr. Slosson has done interesting work in popularizing science and is always stimulating. He was for some time literary editor and managing editor of The Independent."

Uproariously Funny

"I heard Slosson deliver an address when I was in the east during the past week. He was uproariously funny, and kept his audience laughing all the way through; but he seems to know just the right things to make humorous. His lectures are full of good and useful information," Prof. W. J. Meek, assistant dean of the medical school, stated.

According to the opinion of Prof. C. K. Leith, head of the geology department, Dr. Slosson has done more than any other man to bring the fundamental facts of a great science within the reach of the non-scientific public and is the only man who has discovered how to write and speak in a popular and humorous way and not distort the truth.

Tickets on Sale Now

"He has had a very interesting career, first as a professor of chemistry, then as a journalist and editor of a magazine, and now as director of Science service, at Washington, through which medium he gives what is at the present time the most complete and accurate weekly account of scientific progress throughout the world," Professor Leith said.

Tickets for the lecture are on sale today and tomorrow at the University pharmacy for 50 cents.

Smoke Pipe Causes $3,000 Fire Damage at Delta Pi House

A smoke pipe in the basement that blew up because of over heating is believed to have started the fire at the Delta Pi Delta house last Friday afternoon that resulted in $3,000 damages.

No members of the fraternity were in the house at the time and a passing truck driver put in the alarm. The firemen had to break through the window to fight the fire which was confined to the basement and first floor.

The entire first floor will have to be done over. A new floor will be put in and the furniture, walls and woodwork will be refinished. The damages are covered by insurance.

The Delta Pi Delta fire is the largest that has occurred in the Latin quarter for several years. The members of the fraternity are able to live in the house, however, because the second floor was not reached by the flames.

SATURDAY LAST 12:30 NIGHT FOR SEMESTER

January 8 and 9 will be the last social nights before Prom, according to Dean S. H. Goodnight, who is in charge of social functions at the university. All dances and parties will be discontinued during examinations and during this time Friday and Saturday nights will be 11 o'clock nights instead of 12:30. The ban will be over the week-end of Prom, February 6. Thursday and Saturday nights of that week will be 12:30 o'clock nights, while Friday, Prom night, students will be allowed to remain out until 2:30 o'clock.

PREXY SELECTION NARROWS TO TWO

Dean Pound of Harvard and Dean Lovett of Chicago
Are Considered

Either Roscoe Pound, dean of Harvard Law school, or Robert M. Lovett, dean of the University of Chicago, will probably be the future president of the university to succeed President Birge. A committee composed of Theodore Kronshage, Harry L. Butler, Zona Gale, John Callahan and Daniel H. Grady will select the candidate.

The committee has been conducting a comprehensive investigation of many of the prominent educators of the country, in order to determine who is the best qualified for the position of president. Dean Pound is seriously being considered as the ultimate selection because of his great scholastic attainments, but Dean Lovett's talent as an executive is much in his favor.

At the meeting held on December 30, no decision was reached, and a session which will be held within the next two weeks will probably decide.

Candidates which have been seriously considered are Frank T. Graves, commissioner of education of New York; Dr. W. A. Neilson, president of Smith college; D. W. Caldwell, president of Teachers' college, Columbia university; T. E. Finnigan, commissioner of education of Pennsylvania; Dr. Walter Jessop, Iowa, and Henry Suzzallo, Washington university, Seattle.

MUST REGISTER FOR CON EXAMS SATURDAY

All students who wish to write off conditions incurred during the summer session of 1924 or the second semester of last year must make application in the office of the secretary of the faculty, 151 Bascom hall, on or before Saturday of this week.

C. A. Smith, secretary of the faculty, issued the following bulletin in regard to the matter:

"The examinations will be held on Saturday afternoon, January 17 at hours and in rooms to be announced on the official bulletin boards in Agricultural hall, Bascom hall, and in the Engineering building two days before the examinations. Students who have failed to make proper application will be refused admittance to the examinations and their conditions will lapse into failures."

BASTIAN, JOURNALIST AND AUTHOR, IS DEAD

George C. Bastian, lecturer in the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern university, died recently after an operation.

"Editing the Day's News" is the title of a book on editing which Mr. Bastian has written. The book is used in the department of journalism as a reference book on editing.

Mr. Bastian was a copyreader on the staff of the Chicago Tribune before he accepted the position at Northwestern, where he has been for some time.

ESTABLISH NEW RADIO ROOM IN MUSIC HALL

A new radio broadcasting chamber to be used for musical programs has been fitted out in room 35, Music hall. It will be used in addition to those in Sterling hall. The choral union and the university orchestra have already broadcast from the new Music hall room.

BADGERS DEFEAT DEPAUW IN FAST CONTEST--27 TO 22

Varney and Brooks Star For Wisconsin in Hard Fought Contest

By KEN BUTLER

DePauw's speedy quintet rushed into the Badgers with the violence of a hurricane last night and at times forced Captain Diebold and his men to the shelter of hurricane cellars, but the Badgers met the DePauw attack with one just a little bit faster and a bit more spirited and they won by a 27-22 score.

DePauw Speedy

DePauw had two good guards who had ambitions for the basket but who fed the ball to Stewart and Ward, who, in turn, aided by Sturtz at center, fed the ball to the basket. Stewart and Ward, as far as DePauw was concerned, were the life of the party. Speedy and clever in all their maneuvers, with a good speaking acquaintance with the basket, they caused the Meanwell team a mint o' trouble and nearly eased out a victory.

But with an eye-for-eye and tooth-for-tooth light in their eyes the Badgers met blow with blow and near the end of the game put in a series of tallies in quick succession and maintained a small lead.

Varney Makes Counter

The game started off auspiciously enough with a basket by Varney, a counter by Ward, and then another basket by Barwig. Stewart introduced himself with a clever shot from the side line which evened the score. Varney countered again. Stewart, who has a clever mania of jumping high out of unexpected places and grabbing long passes, tried his favorite stunt but failed. The Badgers worked the ball down towards the hoop, but Brooks fumbled and soon after Diebold fouled. Stewart missed the throw.

DePauw Leads 10-8

Then Brooks shot from under the basket and made the score 8 to 4. Varney missed a free throw, and when a double foul was called on Barwig, Stewart popped one in. Stewart and Ward popped the ball back and forth under the basket and Stewart slipped another one in, bringing the score dangerously close. Soon after he received another long heave and made another counter. When a foul was called on Varney, Stewart made a free throw and made the score 10 to 8 against Wisconsin.

Barwig was given a free throw and he made it, but Stewart came back and popped in another field goal. Brooks then began to function and made two baskets in succession, followed by another by Varney, who had dribbled the ball down the floor at a fast gait. The half ended with the score 15-12 with Wisconsin holding the fragile lead.

Barnum Replaces Brooks

The second half opened with erratic passing and shooting on the part of both teams. The diminutive

Phi Kappa Annual Meeting Held Here During the Recess

The annual convention of the Phi Kappa fraternity was held at the local chapter from December 29 to 31. Delegates from 18 chapters were present. John Cavanaugh '26, William O'Malley '26, Gordon Joyce '26, Charles O'Malley '25 and James Conway '26, all of the local chapter, were in charge of the arrangements of the convention.

Petitions from University of Cincinnati and the Carnegie Institute of Technology were accepted and chapters will be established there in the near future.

A banquet was given for the delegates at the Madison club on December 30 at which Mr. J. J. McKenna of Chicago delivered the address. The convention closed by a formal dance at the Park hotel on New Year's eve. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Sullivan and Colonel and Mrs. George O'Connell acted as chaperons.

NEWLY APPOINTED
HOCKEY COACHRink Has Been Constructed on Lower Campus For Skaters

With a new hockey coach, a big skating rink on the lower campus, and a well filled program of intramural and intercollegiate winter sports ahead, the prospects look exceedingly bright at Wisconsin.

Kay Iverson is the newly appointed hockey coach, who comes to Wisconsin from the University of Minnesota where last year he was assistant hockey coach, supervisor of their outdoor rink, and instructor in figure skating, speed skating, and skiing. His brother, Emil Iverson, is the present Minnesota hockey coach. Iverson himself also had previous experience as the assistant director of the Detroit arena, instructor of the Chicago arena, and manager of the Rogers Park skating rink in Chicago. At the latter place he turned out a winning team in 1921.

Plan Two Rinks

A skating rink has been constructed by flooding the lower campus. This is being divided in half, making a hockey rink for the varsity and freshmen, and leaving the other half for the students and faculty to use for regular skating. If this space does not prove sufficient for the students, it is planned to flood the old freshman football field at Camp Randall for the purpose. The athletic department has found it difficult to maintain a rink on the lake, so that will not be attempted this year.

Hockey Season Opens

Intramural hockey will receive the most attention this month of all the winter sports. Coach Iverson and George Berg, director of intramural athletics, will work together to develop material which may be used later in the season or in following seasons on the varsity hockey squad.

Interfraternity hockey will occupy a prominent place on the program as it is the best way of developing all the hockey material in the university. Coach Iverson intends to divide his time between instructing the fraternity teams and the varsity and frosh. Interfraternity games will be played on the varsity court.

No Conference Games Soon

No conference hockey games are planned for January, but the team will go to Janesville January 16 and 17 to compete in the winter sport carnival there. Games will be arranged for February with Minnesota and Michigan, which are the only two other conference schools now turning out hockey teams.

Skiing will begin during the next few weeks. There are about 40 men in the Badger Ski club and they are planning big things both in long distance skiing and ski

Varsity Wrestlers
Take Final Work
Before Maroon Tilt

With the Chicago meet only a few days off, the varsity wrestlers are having their final workouts before they compete with the Maroons Friday night on their own mats.

"The men are in good condition and I consider our chances to be as good as Chicago's for winning the meet," declared Coach George Hitchcock yesterday. As yet, the Maroon lineup has not been received and it is difficult to gauge the opposing wrestlers' chances from past records.

Four of the squad including Capt. Lyle Zodtner, Robert M. Wheeler, William G. Splees, and Charles H. Whitworth remained in Madison during the holiday recess and wrestled daily. Although the other members of the team were away they continued training at home.

The lineup Friday night will probably be David Minkow, bantamweight; Charles Whitworth, featherweight; Robert Wheeler, lightweight; Lyle Zodtner, welterweight; William Splees, middleweight; Charles Chada, light-heavyweight; and Walter Muegge, heavyweight.

jumping. An all-university ski tournament will be held January 24, open to all students. On February 9 there will be a tournament in which skiers will come from all parts of the country to compete.

HOCKEY CANDIDATES TO REPORT TO COACH

All candidates for varsity and freshman hockey should report to Kay Iverson, varsity hockey coach. Practice will be held daily at 3:30 p. m.

BADGERS FEEL
SPOONER'S LOSSRuled Ineligible By Faculty
Representatives of Big Ten

The title seeking Wisconsin quintet received its most severe blow of the season when the announcement was made that Dwight Spooner, star forward and most accurate shot of the Cardinal team, was ineligible for the rest of the season due to the fact that he had competed in track during the second semester of his freshman year at Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Spooner had been depended on to lead the Badger attack for the coming cage season.

The fact of Spooner's competition in track at Coe was known at the start of the season and was investigated by Prof. J. F. A. Pyre of the athletic council. Prof. Goodenough of Illinois with whom Pyre had consulted on the matter, ruled that since he had only competed in

MEANWELL FIVE
VICTORIOUS OVER
GRINNEL CAGERSPlaying Shows Up Decidedly
Better Than in Butler
Game

Playing a whirlwind game in the second half, shooting from all angles of the floor and holding the Grinnell team to few field goals, the Wisconsin cage team swept to an easy victory against Grinnell on December 22, winning by a 29-15 score. The first half of the contest found the teams on even ground, for the period ended with the score tied eight to eight.

track and in that for only one semester he was eligible for one semester of competition this year. For this reason it was thought that the flashy forward would again wear the Cardinal jersey of the Wisconsin cage team.

In order to make certain of this situation, Professor Pyre asked the faculty representative of the Big Ten universities for their decision. The result of this mail vote was compiled December 24 and it was found that the vote stood 6-4 against the further competition of Spooner. This is the final court from which there is no appeal, so that Spooner is lost to the Wisconsin teams for all time.

The attack of the Meanwell men did not daunt the spirit of the Iowa college five until the last half of the fray, when the Cardinal team piled up point after point for their easy victory.

On the whole the Cardinal five showed a decided improvement over the playing in the Butler game. Varney was in his old form after being in a slump for the last few games, and showed real drive and ability. The playing of Wackman and Martell was the best this season. Their passes were more accurate and their shooting more certain. By the start of the conference season these three men, Varney, Wackman and Martell ought to present a real offense which can penetrate any of the Big Ten defenses. Diebold played one of the best games at his guard position that he has played since the start of the season.

WOMEN RIDERS TAKE
TRYOUTS FOR TEAMS

Women riding horseback for university credit are trying out for teams which will present an exhibition drill at the Little International to be held in February. Charlotte Logeman '26, Ellen Dryden '27, Katherine Clausen '27, Miriam Wollaeger '27, Helen Mueller '27, Eugenia MaQuatters '26, Charlotte Churchill '27, and Dorothy Potter '28 are at present competing for places on the teams. The exhibition is to be given under the auspices of the Prince of Wales club.

SPIRITED PLAYING OF BADGERS BREAKS UP ATTACK OF DEPAUW

Ward made a free throw, and here Barnum was sent in for Brooks. Sturtridge missed a free throw after a foul had been called on Barnum, but Stewart came through again and shot in a basket that tied the score at 15-15.

A series of clever and fast passes placed the ball in Barnum's hands near the basket and he put in a counter. Martell was sent into the fray. Stewart made another free throw and the fight waxed hot. The playing speeded up considerably, with DePauw fighting like mad to overcome the one-point lead held by Wisconsin.

Varney countered again and DePauw made several vain tries at the basket. Ward and Stewart finally got the ball going back and forth under the basket and Ward stepped back and tossed in one that recovered lost ground. Wackman went in for Martell and Adams went in for Sturtridge. Varney and Wackman scored in quick succession and Adams went out, letting Sturtridge into play again.

Brooks Shows Improvement
A double foul was called on Brooks, but Stewart missed both attempts. Ward failed again. Varney made two free throws and Struck tossed in one for DePauw just before the whistle blew.

Varney was the star of the game as far as Wisconsin was concerned, but he did not figure alone in the victory. Brooks, showing wonderful improvement, played a good game. Wackman was handicapped by the protector he wore, but he made the best of it. Barwig and Diebold kept things lively at their end of the court.

Intramural Trophy Competition Fixed on Point System

The Wisconsin Intramural Supremacy trophy, an innovation this year, has now been set on a firm basis. A point system to govern the competition has been arranged, and the fraternities are now lined up in readiness for the starter's gun of the first race.

The chapters which have signed for the contest are Alpha Gamma Rho, Beta Theta Pi, Chi Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Sigma Pi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Theta Delta Chi, and Theta Xi.

The fraternity earning the greatest number of points for the school

So It Seems

DePauw put on a wonderful brand of basketball all the way through, and although Wisconsin was never lagging in score for any length of time, the game was close all the way through.

Wackman was considerably handicapped by the protector used to protect his nose, which was broken in a recent scrimmage. Chase, of Grinnell, also wore a similar protector to guard his glasses in the game two weeks ago.

Varney went like a whirlwind last night and led the Badger attack with five field goals and two free throws. Brooks made four baskets and looked considerably better than in previous games this year. Barwig made one field goal and one free throw. Wackman and Barnum made one basket each. Martell did not succeed in finding the hoop, although he was in the game only a few minutes.

Wisconsin did the most fouling in the game, although the Badger percentage was better on successful free throws. Wisconsin made three free throws of four tries; DePauw made four out of nine attempts.

Stewart, clever DePauw forward, made five field goals and three free throws, while his running mate, Ward, made three field baskets and one free throw. Sturtridge, DePauw center, made one field goal.

All in all, things don't look any too bright for the first Big Ten contests which come with Minnesota the end of the week and with Ohio next Tuesday. Although the team has shown steady improvement in the preliminary games, the play has not been of Big Ten caliber.

The Gophers and the Buckeyes both have strong teams this year and Meanwell's quintet will have to loosen the ties that bind to stack up anywhere near evenly with these two teams.

Boge, whirlwind center on the Grinnell team, might not be an autocrat of the Pullman car, but he sure gets the tips at the pivot job. He would be a credit to any Big Ten team.

The basketball team is drawing full houses this season. The "sold out" sign was hung out at the ticket office early for the DePauw game, and all seats are sold for the Ohio game next Tuesday night.

year shall be awarded the trophy. A cup will be given each year. Competition has been divided into three classes in which points will be awarded according to the sport. These classes are major, intermediate, and minor sports.

Major sports are bowling, basketball, and baseball. Entrance of a team counts 10 points, first place counts 48 points, and seven other places will be given points accordingly.

The intermediate sports are ice hockey, tennis, swimming, track, and water basketball. Entrance

CARDINAL SKIERS PLACE IN MEET AT LAKE PLACID

Leon Emmert and Robert Pabst Take Honors in Several Events

Although not repeating their brilliant performance of last year by winning first place in the Intercollegiate Ski meet held at Lake Placid, N. Y., the hardy Cardinal-clad men of the north, the only representatives from any school west of the Allegheny mountains, brought back new laurels to add to Wisconsin's growing list of victories.

Leon Emmert won first place in the half mile skate race from a field of notable skaters, besides placing fourth in the fancy skating contest. In the ski efficiency test, Robert Pabst finished third.

Team Has Disadvantage
The ski team was placed at a great disadvantage by not being able to practice any at Madison due to lack of snow, and had but one chance to practice at the place of the tournament.

again counts 10 points, first place counts 30, and five other places will receive credit.

Butler Quintet Easily Wins Tilt From Wisconsin

Butler college quintet defeated the Wisconsin cagers by a 22-16 score December 19 and was the first team to defeat the Badgers on the home floor in three years.

The first half of the contest found the Badger team in real form and the period ended with the Butler men on the small end of a 10-5 score, but the loss of Diebold weakened the Cardinal defense and the whirlwind attack of the Page men gave Butler a comfortable lead which they were able to maintain the rest of the game.

At a critical stage of the game a personal foul was called on Captain Diebold, and much to the surprise of the team and the fans the official scorer announced that this was the fourth infraction of the rule committed by the Cardinal leader, and he was dismissed from the game. According to Diebold and the press men in the gallery, this was only the third violation, but the scorer would not yield the point and Diebold was put out of the game.

The Page men opened a very barrage on the basket and sank shot after shot. Shooting from all angles of the floor the Butler men easily piled up a comfortable winning lead and were able to stall away the last five minutes of play.

ATHLETIC MENTOR TO BE SELECTED IN FEW WEEKS

Either Meanwell or Pyre
Likely to Be Chosen For Position

That the athletic director at Wisconsin will not be chosen for several weeks, probably on January 21, was decided upon at the meeting of the athletic council yesterday. The board of regents meets on January 21 and the recommendation undoubtedly will be made to them at that time.

Several men have been considered for the athletic director's post but the two men who are expected to have the best chance for the position are Dr. Walter Meanwell and Professor J. F. A. Pyre.

The athletic council refused to state whether Paul Withington, who coached at Wisconsin several years ago and is now coach at Columbia, is a likely candidate for the position.

The Cardinal men fought to get possession of the ball, but the invaders hung tenaciously to their lead, and the game ended with the Butler five leading by a 22-16 score.

THREE WEEKS

And they won't in any way resemble Eleanor Glynn's three weeks, either.

This is not going to be a long rigmorole of dos and don'ts for the coming three weeks. Every one knows that there is going to be more studying done around here during that time than there has been during all the rest of the semester.

It is going to be nothing more than a statement of the fact that these three weeks are going to go faster than any one supposes and that the sooner this great amount of work is started the better for the workers. The end of the three weeks will be here in no time.

THE LECTURE MONOPOLY

The complaint filed by the Forensic board with the Student court, calling upon the latter to force the Union board to desist from its activities in bringing speakers to the university for public lectures, on the grounds that it is the sole right of the Forensic board to perform this function for the student body, should develop into an interesting case, not only because it will serve to indicate the relative strength and influence of the two boards and of the court, but also because it will involve a point in the educational system of the university, and in a way reflect the whole outlook of the university toward education.

A proper understanding of the situation requires some knowledge of a bit of history. The Forensic board, at its inception, received a charter from the board of regents, naming it as the official undergraduate body which should henceforth administer to the forensic needs of the student body. This, it should be remembered, was in the days when forensic activities rated a first place among all student interests, and the heroes of the gridiron were also heroes of debate. In late years, when debating and oratory, although maintaining a high standard of excellence, began to have hard sledding through failure to arouse popular interest, in order to finance its other activities, Forensic board had to rely on public lectures, by speakers imported from outside, to raise the necessary money. However, due to lack of prestige and a sound financial basis upon which to begin, even this method of raising funds was found to be wanting, and the Forensic board had to admit that in the economic sphere it was not battling very high.

This was the situation two years ago, when the Union board decided that there were great possibilities for service to the university in the lecture field, as the Union board alone was sound enough financially to undertake to bring speakers to the campus from outside. The matter was talked over with members of the Forensic board, and because the latter maintained that their charter gave them the sole right to import lecturers, and because they claimed this was their only source of revenue, the Union board agreed to pay a substantial sum to the Forensic board as compensation. Ex-Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois was then secured for an address, and the stipulated amount was handed over by the Union board.

Last year no lectures were given under the auspices of the Union board. It was decided, however, to continue the activity again this year, with the full approval of the faculty authorities, who felt that the Union board was best fitted to arrange for a series of lectures, because it had both the necessary influence and the capital with which to begin. At the present time, two lectures have been contracted for, the first to be given tomorrow night, by a man known as a scientist and as a popular humorous lecturer, with no reputation whatever in strictly forensic endeavors. No contract was made this year between the Union board and the Forensic board requiring the former to pay any sum to the latter.

The Union's case in its own defense, in the opinion of the Daily Cardinal, rests upon three points. In the first place, it is not endeavoring to take away the Forensic board's right to administer to the forensic needs of the student body, nor to supplant that body in any respect. It is acting on the principle that in an enlightened community, and especially in a university community, the more opportunities that are given for the public to hear famous men and leaders of thought, the better off everyone will be. Its lectures are not forensic in nature, nor by men with forensic reputations, but they are by men who have won national reputations for their achievements in other lines. Furthermore, the Forensic board's charter does not give it the sole right to schedule lectures for the university, but merely the sole right to take care of the university's forensic needs, which is an entirely different thing.

Secondly, the big reason why the Union was willing to pay the Forensic board two years ago was because the latter was without any other means of support, and it did not seem right to allow debating to be stopped because of insufficient funds. This difficulty has been obviated this year, however, as the Darrow lecture, under the auspices of the Forensic board, more than two-thirds filled the stock pavilion, and the cry of bankruptcy cannot be raised by the debaters for a while, at least. Nor did the Union's activities seem to hurt them in this instance.

In the third place, the Union board is far from being the only organization which brings speakers to the university. During December, Sigma Delta Chi ran a lecture, and charged admission. The Y. M. C. A. every year contracts to bring a speaker here for the Campus Religious conference, and although these meetings are free, the costs are largely paid by the students who make contributions during the Y. M. C. A. drive. Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Beta Kappa both make a practice of inviting the public to hear the addresses of the men brought here for their initiation banquets. In fact, it would be hard to find a campus organization which does not in some way violate what the Forensic board pleases to call its sole right to arrange for lectures at the university.

If the Student court should decide that the Forensic board has really been sinned against, and stop the Union's activities along this line, would that not also throw every other campus organization open to the same sort of proceedings, with the logical conclusion that finally the only addresses permitted on the campus would be the one or two contracted annually by the Forensic board? Would such a situation, or even the beginning of such a situation through legal interference with one single lecture, be becoming to a university of higher learning? The Daily Cardinal thinks not, and it thinks that the Forensic board's complaint is contrary to the best educational and moral interests of the university.

The post office department will now strike up that touching ditty entitled "Linger Longer, Letter." A package was mailed from Madison special delivery and had not reached Chicago, its destination, by Sunday night. Something's wrong somewhere.

The accusations made by various Notre Dame alumni against the sportsmanship of Leland Stanford in connection with the football game on New Year's day indicates that there are disadvantages as well as advantages in having inter-sectional athletic contests.

Well, we grabbed the west-bound flyer and found all the heat and the other low-brows in the first cattle car, with the second reserved for refrigeration. Back in the Bullmen, everybody that wasn't friz was looking for Ken Gardner, who had hidden somewhere between the diner and Wyeville. At Beloit, the lady friend of a man whose name we won't mention, but is very prominent in Y. M. C. A. and his name sounds like a view of a European country (not Germany), picked up a college boy other than the young man in question. When we left the trailer at Rockford, the intersectional meet was in full swing.

AFTER THREE WEEKS, OR

"Three Weeks" Ago
Li'l Dicky Beck was glad as heck, he tossed his hat in glee: I'm going to catch a train for home at four o'clock said he. This Christmas stuff is great enough, but that's not all, he cried; why when I got that bid from Jen I pretty nearly died. I'll spend my nights in soup and fish, and spend my days in bed; and this will be my New Year's wish: I hope I'm not quite dead when classes start to grind again and students start to snore, and lecture profs forget "Amen," and talk and talk some more. I'm taking lots of books along, I'll put my time in well; I'll buck and rest, and play Mah-Jongg. Oh, yes, I will, like I did last year.

HASTE REDUCES WAIST

We've worked out some bully slogans for prom, and we don't suppose they'll use 'em, but we leave it to you. Write your own letter home:

HERE YOU ARE, PROM SLOGANS:

1. Blow your dough, Wisconsin.
2. Sell Dad this Prom.
3. A Prom for Every Fraternity.
4. It's Your Prom—if you Can Afford It.
65. Your Girl Will Get Much Out of Prom.
6. Don't Bother With Banks—Go to Prom.

If anybody ever gets out a bootleggers' directory we suppose they'll call it, "Booze Who In America."

OUR NEW JEER RESOLUTIONS

To give the Zelta Datas more publicity—they need it.

Not to go to prom—unless a real keen bim with her own closed job and plenty of swath takes us.

To study on the third Monday night of each week, instead of, oh, whatever way it was before.

To laugh at all of Abie Hall's reminiscences—or try to.

To date the prom queen.

College student: "I just came from an English survey lecture."

Grady's '28: "Oh, I didn't know you were an engineer."

and said they'd finally solved this here furnace murder. It seems this preacher's wife's son stuck her in the furnace himself. Said he wanted to get Red Hot Mama.

METHUSELAH.

MacBeth went home too, and is feeling woozy also. He says that when the baggage man asked him about his excess baggage, he decided it must mean those test books tucked away under the pajamas and tooth paste. The rest of this stuff is his:

TEXT FOR TODAY:

Kindly bear in mind and act accordingly: there remain only 300 shopping days before Christmas.

These newspaper men ought to be effaced from the planet, no fooling. Why, we had the darnedest time trying to explain to the little girl back home why they call Madison a fusser's paradise!

One reason why we students appreciate Christmas vacation is because it gives us a chance to learn from the home town shieks, just what is considered collegiate in clothes and manner.

Last Wednesday night some friends and yours sincerely were determined to see the old year out and the new year in. Well, to make a long story dry, when the new year came in, I was out.

NICHT WAR?

It isn't the going home that hurts, Nor it isn't the coming back; But it's the opening up the pocket-book And noting what you lack!

All of which reminds your uncle Mac that about the only bird I know who has quoin all the time is the village printer—and it's no good to him without a chase.

Talking about the fitness of things, there was quite a gang on the train coming in from Milwaukee Monday night, arguing about the date when Spring vacation commenced. As far as I'm concerned, the only date that interests me is the 16th of June.

We're all in favor of those agitating that the calendar be changed to include thirteen instead of twelve months. That would give us two New Year's Days:

It is estimated by Methuselah and me that 3,417 letters will be mailed home today, all containing the clause: "and, mother, don't forget to send my skates along with the other things I forgot!"

About the worst joke I heard while on vacation was about the absent-minded cop who arrested an inebriate for D. T. on New Year's Eve, and then drank the evidence.

"Your money or your life," growled the stick-up man as he impressed the muzzle of a Colt in my ribs. "Take my life," I replied, handing him a copy of the well known humor magazine.

When they asked the cavalry officer to sing, he shook his head sadly, saying, "To horse, to horse."

MACBETH.

PAXON IS NAMED TO COMMITTEE

Will Work on Dictionary of American Biography With Other Professors

Prof. Frederic L. Paxson, head of the history department here, is a member of the committee appointed by the American Council of Learned Societies to consider the project of a dictionary of American biography.

This council has just made public the signing of a contract on December 6 with the New York Times company, for the preparation of this biography which will be regarded as the "one great desideratum among American works of reference." Five more historians and economists from noted colleges in the country are also members of this committee.

Such an undertaking is made possible by the New York Times through the action of its publisher, who has advanced the sum of $500,000 for the project. The Times, however, will be neither maker nor publisher, as such work is entirely under the auspices of the committee of the council.

Professor Paxson yesterday called attention to the fact that while dictionaries of American biography have been published in past years, some of them relatively good, the ideal dictionary of a grade that would admit comparison with the British Dictionary of National Biography, has never been published.

He averred that the final volumes would not appear for at least ten years and that the 20 volumes of about 750 pages each, would contain 15,000 or 20,000 biographies.

English Teachers in Great Demand By State Schools

English teachers are in greatest demand, according to statistics compiled by Prof. T. L. Jones, chairman of the committee on high school relations. Of the 600 calls for teachers from high schools, vocational schools, junior high schools, elementary schools, normal schools, and colleges of the state, 170 were for English teachers.

History and mathematics are next with 65 and 64 respectively. Many calls were received for Latin, science, music, French, home economics, and physical education teachers.

This number does not include calls from outside the state of which many were filled by the committee. There were about twice as many requests for women teachers as for men. Seven requests for men athletic coaches were received.

MORRISON TALKS AT SEARS RADIO STATION

Prof. Frank B. Morrison, of the university, spoke yesterday from the Sears-Roeback radio station, WLS. The talk was on "Feeding Dairy Cattle," and was a part of a series given on Tuesday noons and evenings during January sponsored by the extension service of the Holstein-Friesian association of America. Other well known speakers booked for the month are M. M. Maughn, secretary of the national dairy council; H. H. Kildee, Iowa State college, and Prof. W. W. Yapp, University of Illinois.

STREET RAILWAYS START NEW RATES

Raise From Six to Eight Cents
Went Into Effect
Monday

Improvements of the Madison street car lines will be the most important change as a result of the new fare of eight cents, officials of the Madison Railways company said yesterday.

The new rate superceded the former rate of 6 cents last Monday. Changes in the fare and betterment of the stock of the company must be approved by the state railroad commission. The commission has not yet made final decision on the use of the money that will accrue from the new rate.

A book of 17 tickets may be purchased now for one dollar, the company's authorities said.

While the plans for improvement are not yet definite, it is expected that they will include the extension of the Monroe street line, double tracking of some of the more used lines and the purchase of new cars.

Donald Anderson and Miss F. Aitken Married January 5

Announcements have been received here of the marriage on January 5 at Bozeman, Mont., of Florence R. Aitken of Bozeman, to Donald Anderson '24 of Tampa, Fla.

The wedding took place at high noon at the Presbyterian church. A wedding breakfast for the family and close friends was served immediately following the ceremony.

Miss Aitken is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Aitken of Bozeman. She graduated from the University of Washington, where she was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi and the P. E. O. sisterhood.

Mr. Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Anderson of Tampa, Fla. He is a member of Sigma Chi. He formerly wrote and edited the literary column of the Wisconsin State Journal and he is now assistant city editor of that paper.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at 902 Grant street, Madison.

Alice Corl '25 is Affianced to William W. Wilson

Announcement of the engagement of Alice Corl '25 to William Wallace Wilson of New York City was made last night at the Alpha Phi house. Miss Corl, daughter of Mrs. Samuel S. Corl, Grand Rapids, Mich., is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, Mortar board, and is the president of the W. S. G. A. Mr. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Wilson, also of Grand Rapids, Mich., is a graduate of Colgate university and of the Harvard law school and is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and is now practicing law in the east.

The engagement of Miss Esther Menough, senior at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, Ohio, to William S. Ross '26, was announced at a formal dinner dance of the Ohio Wesleyan chapter of Phi Kappa Psi at Granville, Ohio, on December 20. Miss Menough's home is in Wells-ville, Ohio. She is a member of Lambda Alpha Sigma sorority at Ohio Wesleyan university.

Mr. Ross is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ross of Lakeside, Ohio. He entered Wisconsin last fall from Ohio Wesleyan university where he won letters in football, playing end on two Ohio conference championship teams, and in track.

A. K. L. National Conclave Held Here During Vacation

A convention of the middle and far west chapters of the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity was held at the local chapter from December 29 to 31. Walter Weesman from Illinois and national treasurer, was in charge of the arrangements. Representatives were present from Stanford, University of California, Kansas, Illinois, and Michigan.

Dean S. H. Goodnight spoke on "The Place of the Alpha Kappa Lambda Among National Fraternities" at the opening banquet at the chapter house December 29. Lyle Gage '25, president of the local chapter, Hugh Folsom '25 and Clifford Franseen '25 also spoke.

The time of the convention was taken up by two sessions which were held daily and in which fraternity problems were discussed and settled. These meetings were terminated by a dance held at the chapter house December 31. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gillin chaperoned.

The Ministerian Union will hold its first meeting of the year Tuesday morning, Jan. 13, at 10:45.

EXPECT TO SOLVE MURDER OF GRAD

Contents of Safety Deposit Box Thought to Contain Valuable Clues

OMAHA, Neb.—The contents of a safety deposit box in a local bank expected to be opened by an administrator to be appointed today by county Judge Bryce Crawford, will, in the opinion of officers, have an important bearing on the investigation of the murder last Friday of Mrs. Mae Hahne, for which her husband J. Warren Hahne, wealthy contractor, is being held.

Mrs. Hahne formerly lived in Janesville, Wis., and was a graduate of the university.

The box is known to contain a deed to a cemetery lot in Colorado, where Mrs. Hahne is to be buried and police also believe that in it will be found the $2,000 worth of diamonds belonging to the slain woman, and which have been missing since her death. Hahne claims these were stolen by an unidentified person who he claims killed his wife.

In addition to the jewels, police also hope to find in the safety box the diary of the murdered woman. She is reported to have kept a close record of her life and is said to have been very sensitive. With this record police say they expect to establish whether she had enemies whom she feared, and whether there were domestic difficulties between the Hahnes.

RANGOON—Replying to the All-Burma Buddhist Council, which complained that Buddhist monks were being compelled to show the usual respect to the bench in criminal courts, the government states that if Buddhist monks cannot adopt the ordinary British mode of showing respect, they should abstain from attending trials. As to the contention that no Buddhist monk should undergo rigorous imprisonment or be required to wear prison clothes, the government of Burma suggests that the All-Burma Buddhist Council should devote themselves to the task of persuading Buddhist monks to abstain from committing offenses, as in no country is there one jail law for the clergy and another for the laity.

ARDEN CLUB GETS KARL YOUNG HOME

Plan to Serve Meals to Twenty or Thirty English
Students

The Arden club, sponsored by the English department, will establish itself beginning next semester in the old Karl Young home, 433 North Lake street.

Provision will be made in the Arden house for serving between 20 and 30 men and women at meat times. It is expected that the house will become a center for professors, instructors, and students who wish to chat together about their readings or writings and enjoy a social hour with friends.

Final steps toward securing the house were taken yesterday by Prof. H. B. Lathrop, Prof. Warner Taylor, Miss Margaret Scallon, Carrie Rasmussen '25, and Harriet Wolleager '25, representing the Arden club.

The club has been organized by students and faculty of the English department for those on the campus interested in literature. Eight or nine women with a chaperon will live in the house and form a nucleus for the club. General membership, however, will be extended to all students and faculty members in the university particularly interested in literature.

A committee has been studying English interiors for some time with the plan in view of furnishing the first floor of the house in the English cottage style.

WHA Program

Tomorrow evening's radio program, like most of those to be broadcasted from WHA station in the next two months, will be a faculty performance.

Leland A. Coon, professor in the School of Music, will be the pianist for this evening's concert.

The numbers which he will play are:

"Polonaise in E Major," by Chopin; "Imprromptu F Minor," Faure; "Claire de Lune," Debussy; "Toccata," Debussy.

On Friday, "The League of Nations Peace Protocol," will be the subject of a talk by Prof. W. R. Sharp, political science department.
