LOWDEN LOOMS IN G. O. P. RACE; HARDING SPHINX

Political Authority Bars "Bob"

A series of articles on the 1924 presidential campaign is being published by The Cardinal with cooperation of members of the department of political science. The first, today, gives the republican forecast.

BY INTERVIEWER

That ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden is the most logical candidate for the Republican party is the forecast today of Walter Thompson political science instructor, giving the course, "Party Politics", at the university.

Because of the fact that LaFollette, Borah and Johnson represent the liberal wing of the party, little chance exists that the convention next year will adopt one of these men, in the opinion of Thompson.

The republican party must select a nominee upon whom the faction can agree. This is one of the principles which is puzzling party leaders at present and which caused leaders in the 1920 convention to pick Warren Harding as a black horse, Thompson declares.

Strength of Lowden

Reason for the strength of Lowden are outlined by the Wisconsin instructor as follows:

1. He has been out of politics since the last primary.
2. Farmers will support Lowden who is a farmer himself and is in sympathy with the farmer movement.
3. He would receive the support of Illinois and states in the Middle West where he is popular.
4. His views on foreign relations are sensible and would receive support of the league and non-league believers.

Harding Big Factor

The most important factor in the political situation, however, according to Thompson, rests with President Harding. If Harding decides to be candidate for renomination, the party will very likely give him the opportunity for a second term, he states.

Political traditions have favored the second term for a president if he desires. It is very possible that the party machine in congress, organized by every president, would be strong enough to nominate Harding. This was the case, Thompson states, in 1912 when President Taft sought renomination.

Other potential candidates in 1924 for the republican honor are Secretary Herbert Hoover, department of commerce, and Secretary Charles Evans Hughes, state department.

HELEN BENNETT TALKS MARCH 16 TO U. W. WOMEN

Miss Helen M. Bennett, manager of the collegiate bureau of occupations in Chicago, will speak here March 16 and 17 under the auspices of the women's student vocational committee, according to the announcement made by Lois Jacobs '24 yesterday.

"Miss Bennett has spoken here annually for the past nine years on vocational matters and is familiar to a great many women here. Her talks are based on a great store of actual experience dealing with women in the different fields of enterprise," Mrs. Flett, assistant to the dean of women and in charge of the vocational work at that department, asserted.

The leading address will be given Friday afternoon. Friday and Saturday will be devoted to individual conferences for senior and junior women with Miss Bennett to discuss their own problems.

ALASKA A LAND OF PROMISE, IS TOURIST'S VIEW

"Alaska has been and, contrary to general opinion, still is a land of great promise," J. L. Markwardt of the U. S. forest products laboratory stated in a lecture on Alaska given under the auspices of the Madison Branch of American Foresters in the auditorium of the Engineering building last night.

Mr. Markwardt made a 12,000 mile trip through Alaska this summer with A. B. Sherman, associate forester of the U. S. forest service, to study conditions there relative to the utilization of forest products.

"Alaska is simply overflowing with scenery, experiences and opportunities," Mr. Markwardt continued, "and is one of the most fascinating places on the face of the globe."

HEREDITY FOR CATTLE SHOWN

Types of Cattle Are Crossed By University to Solve Problems

A study in heredity of a la cattle is one of the unique features which will be exhibited at the Winter Farm Festival at the university, February 23 and 24, Prof. L. J. Cole, head of the genetics department, stated yesterday.

"Few breeders realize that this department maintains one of the largest herds in the country for inheritance studies," Professor Cole said. "Two widely different types of cattle are being crossed in an attempt to learn more of the inheritance of the economic characteristics belonging to each type."

"For this purpose the following crosses have been made: Jersey and Angus, and Holstein and Angus."

"The occasional appearance of red and white calves in pure bred herds of Holstein Friesian cattle has long been a problem to many breeders of those cattle."

"Although only black and white Holsteins have been imported into this country, the lines of red inheritance are evident, and it demonstrated how these come together at times and produce red and white colors in this country."

NOTED ITALIAN WOMAN SPEAKS THIS AFTERNOON

Signora Olivia Rossetti Agresti, of Rome, granddaughter of Gabriel Rossetti, the Italian patriot-poet and political exile who was condemned to death by the Bourbons of Naples and escaped to England, will deliver an illustrated lecture on "Italian Garden and Fountains" at 4:30 o'clock today in 165 Bascom hall.

Signora Agresti was in the United States for the first time in 1919 with the Italian delegation to the international trade commission. In 1921 she traveled across the continent, giving a series of lectures in which she interpreted the important phases of the European situation to the American public.

Because of her exceptional knowledge of the world's economic problems and her brilliant international reputation as an interpreter, Signora Agresti has been sent by the Italian government on many important missions, notably that which involved seven months at the peace conference in Paris, attending the various sessions of the international labor bureau, and acting as interpreter to the Italian prime minister at the recent economic conference at Genoa.

Dean S. H. Goodnight, who has been confined to his home for a number of days is still suffering from a severe cold and attack of influenza. He was ill on Wednesday and Thursday of last week, but on account of returning early to his office met with a relapse in the beginning of the week.

Jazz Music Now Is Passing, Wisconsin Music Expert Says

Jazz is nothing but noise that resulted from war time emotional stresses. This misnamed name for music is only a temporary fad and shows evidences of succumbing to good music.

This is the opinion of Lowell Leslie Townsend, associate professor in the Wisconsin school of music, given yesterday.

"The weird wailings and wild shrieks of jazz so prominent in even the so-called 'best places' three and four years ago have been quieted somewhat today, and a new era in good music is approaching," Professor Townsend declared.

"Students of music in our American colleges and universities, to a greater extent than those in the conservatories of music, will be powerful influences for a better music in the future. And therefore the number and quality of music schools in our colleges and universities should be increased."

As students at Wisconsin hear good music they will become gradually disatisfied with jazz, Professor Townsend believes. A great step in this direction are the Union board attended more largely by university people.

To Bee or Not to Bee is This Man's Query

In a cage with a swarm of live bees, Walter A. Kuenzli '23 will explain the modes of living of the stingers from the auditorium platform of Agricultural hall before the members of the Apis club and bee followers at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Kuenzli will handle the wooden frames holding the honey combs without protection. He will be followed on the Apis club program by Harvey G. Ahrens, grad, and Ernest E. Ehrigott '25 who will talk on the general subject of bees.

Motion pictures of bee life will be shown. Exhibits of candy and other articles made from honey will be exhibited in the corridors during the evening.

WOMAN PASTOR TALKS TONIGHT

Maude Royden of London is Honored Guest of Woman's Organizations

Miss Maude Royden, one of the big women of the day, will speak at Lathrop gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock. Pres. E. A. Birge will preside and the Girls' Glee club will sing, preceding her address on "Can We Set the World in Order?"

Miss Royden, of England, is the first woman of her country to occupy a pulpit in a metropolitan church. She was recently a preacher in the City Temple of London and previous to that had been a social worker, lecturer and suffrage leader. She is also the author of several books, among which are "Political Christianity," "Women and the Sovereign States" and "Sex and Common Sense."

In a recent speech at Chicago, Miss Royden said, "It's up to women to set the world in order. They'll have to use their intelligence, and not wait for some man to show them how."

The address is free and open to the public as all expenses are being borne by the organization sponsoring her appearance, the university Y. W. and Y. M. C. A., the Campus Religious Council, the city Y. W. C. A. and the university. Doors to the gymnasium will be opened at 7 o'clock.

Methodist Students Hold Valentine's Party Tonight

$450 DAY, ICY BLAST'S FINE

King Winter Boosts Up University Expenses For Coal and Pathways

It costs the university approximately $450 a day more to heat the buildings and keep the sidewalks passable in weather like this than on the average winter day.

On Thursday, the record day at the heating station, the chief engineer reported that more than 150 tons were used.

This amount is in excess of the average run of about 50 tons which amounts to $350 at the rate of $7 a ton.

Need 16 on Job

J. Bergan, superintendent of grounds, says that he employs normally a crew of five men to keep the walks clean, but that now it is desirable to have about 16 on the job, 4 teamsters and 12 shovelers.

He states that the present grippe epidemic in town, however has reduced his crew of day laborers by half and that is the reason why the work is progressing slowly.

With the superintendent of the agricultural end of the grounds, he expends about $100 each day when the full crew is in action after snowfalls.

Just 12 Below!

According to Eric Miller, the weather man in North hall, it stated that on Thursday, the coldest day during the present siege, the mercury dropped to 12 degrees below and that the snow fall was 6 and one-half inches.

The cold wave came from the western Canadian coast and was caused by atmospheric pressure. It will last several days longer, Mr. Miller predicts.

Columbia President Attacked By Chicago Ministerial Body

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, was called on to repudiate his reported statements in favor of nullification of the eighteenth amendment in resolutions which were adopted unanimously by the Chicago Methodist ministers at their weekly meeting on Monday.

The resolutions stated that "any man who advocates nullification of any law is unfit to be a teacher of American youth or the head of a great educational institution."

CO-EDS DEBATE FORENSIC TITLE AND WIN DEBATE

Sex Superiority is the Question

Which of the sex is superior? This question, a mooted one for centuries, was revived last night by members of the Forensic board during a discussion of a proposed point system for literary society competition.

The general superiority of the women on the campus was a subject for several rounds, while the debating ability of the two sexes and the importance of the two joint debates were reviewed.

Out to "Scalp" Honors

The issue arose over a trophy. Should the women's literary societies be entitled to a separate trophy? The members of the Forensic board discussed the subject.

Although only two women are members of the board, they stoutly maintained against the overwhelming majority of male members that if the men of the university would give the women a fair chance, the latter would soon gain the majority of positions on the Intercollegiate debate teams and N. O. L. contestants and that the joint debate between Castalia and Pythia would soon eclipse the men's joint debate in importance.

Three Trophies Are Offered

The president finally decided that the debate was a "draw." A separate trophy was agreed upon.

Two other trophies will be given this year. One will be awarded each year to the winner of the debate between the Agricultural Literary society and a "hill" society.

The main award, to be presented to the winning literary society, will be a travelling trophy. This will become the final property of the group winning it three times. Six societies will compete for the main honor.

The basis for point award has not yet been established. The character of the trophy will also be determined.

Announce New Speakers

The board further announced that three speakers have been secured for university audiences. Ralph Dennis, dean of the speech department at Northwestern university, will make an address on March 21. Mr. Fidelia Rice, president of the Leland Powers School of Expression of Boston, will be presented on May 1.

The third speaker is Henry L. Southwick, president of the Emerson College of Oratory, Boston, who will be here May 28.

PSYCHIC FACTS TO BE REVEALED BY '12 ALUMNUS

Fritz Kunz '12 will give a lecture on "Psychic Senses and Spirituality" at the auditorium of the city library on Sunday, February 25, under the auspices of the Madison lodge of the Theosophical society. The lecture will be free to the public.

Mr. Kunz has travelled around the world twice since his graduation from the university. For three and a half years he was at the head of a Buddhist college in Ceylon. After this he was associated with Dr. Annie Besant, president of the Theosophical society, in her work in India.

Mr. Kunz has travelled around the society as an international lecturer. His long experience in the countries of the Orient has enabled him to gain a very good insight on eastern and western systems of thought.

A closed season for hook and line fishing in the Rock and Crawfish rivers and Lake Koshkonong is provided in a bill by Senator Garey sent to engrossment.

SAWDUST MAY HELP CHILDREN

Novel Plaster is Discovered For Experiments at Bradley Hospital

An experiment will be made at Bradley Memorial hospital to determine whether the plaster formulated by Miss Della Wilson of the applied arts department can be used for casts in the work with the crippled children. Dr. F. G. Gaenslen, in charge of the work at the hospital, declared yesterday.

It is expected that with the co-operation of the arts department the new substance will be tried out within the next week.

The plaster, composed of sawdust and water glass, has the advantage of being firmer, harder and less easily broken than clay ordinarily used in modelling. It has been used in the applied arts department with great success in the making of masks.

Miss Reid, superintendent of the hospital, has expressed confidence that the experiment will prove successful.

The money for the fund would come from money deposited by it for miners from 7 to 18 years of age, ten cents each week from counties and 15 cents a week from the state for each minor by or for whom 25 county weekly deposits were regularly made and by gifts and contributions.

In event minors wish to withdraw from the fund provisions are made to repay him the actual amount he placed in the fund plus interest at three per cent.

Short Ballot Asked In Duncan Bill

An amendment to the constitution to permit the short ballot was asked in a joint resolution by Assemblyman Thomas M. Duncan, Milwaukee, introduced in the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature.

If passed the offices of county clerk, clerk of courts, register of deeds, coroner, comptroller and district attorney would be appointed by the civil service commission instead of by the vote of the people.

The repeal of the district drainage law was asked by Assemblyman Clinton G. Price, in a bill introduced today.

Millions of dollars of unpaid drainage assessments are going back to counties unpaid, Mr. Price said and added that the repeal of the law would lift a great burden from all drainage counties. It would also prevent these counties

The state board of education would be granted general supervision over the administration of the fund.

A fine of not more than $500 or two years in jail or both would be imposed on any man who deserted his wife and refused to provide for her and minor children's maintenance regardless of whether they were in destitute circumstances under a bill introduced today by Assemblyman Thomas F. Duncan, Milwaukee.

Persons voting on a bond issue by any city in the state would be limited to those who, in addition to possessing other qualifications as an elector, paid a property or income tax in the state within a year prior to election, if a bill by Assemblyman A. B. Blomberg, Price county, introduced today, passes.

County offices in the state would be given a half day off on Saturday.

Labor Committees O. K.'s 8 Hour Day Bill

By a 6 to 1 vote the labor committee of the assembly today reported for passage the Tucker bill establishing a basic eight hour day in Wisconsin industry. Passage of this measure would make it a misdemeanor for any employer to work his men more than eight hours in any one day, unless extra pay were given for overtime.

The judiciary committee of the assembly reported for passage the Kiesner bill which would permit a proposed amendment to the state constitution to be submitted to the people after passage by one session

MANY VETS IN PRISON SICK

Drs. Lorenz And Middleton Report Results Of Badger Survey

A nation wide survey of former soldiers incarcerated in prisons to determine the cause of their imprisonment and arrive at some means of ameliorating the condition that led them to commit crimes, is to be proposed by Wisconsin as a result of an investigation conducted among prisoners at Waupun and the Green Bay Reformatory, Gov. J. J. Blaine announced today.

Upon a submission of findings made by Drs. W. F. Lorenz, director of the Wisconsin Psychiatric institute and W. S. Middleton of the University of Wisconsin after several months' study of service men in prison, Gov. Blaine concluded that the Wisconsin condition warranted similar investigation in other states.

The survey disclosed that 62 per cent of the ex-service men at the state prison are mentally abnormal, and that 40 per cent of those at the Green Bay Reformatory are below normal intelligence. It brought out that over 20 per cent of the former soldiers at the prisons have disabilities traceable to military service.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

BADGERS DRIVE HARD FOR NEXT YOSTMEN EVENT

Second Place Honor Spurs Team

Wisconsin's conquering heroes will resume work today following their sensational 18 to 15 victory over the Michigan basketball team at Ann Arbor on Wednesday.

The team came out of its conflict in good shape and will practice steadily until Monday when it jams with Coach Mather's quintet in their second meeting. Although Wisconsin defeated Michigan, the margin of victory was so small that the result may be reversed in the next game.

Free throws, which are getting more and more important in these days of low scores, played a large part in the Badger victory. Captain Ely, tossing free throws in place of Miller who became scholastically ineligible, threw only 7 out of 14 chances. Gage caged four out of six for Wisconsin. Every one of the foul-line tosses was needed to give the Badgers their fifth victory.

Win Second Place

By winning, Wisconsin shoved Michigan down to third place in the standings and took second place itself. The team is two full games behind Iowans who have won eight games and have yet to go down in defeat.

Michigan, considered a championship possibility, is now hitting the hardest part of its schedule. With two regulars ineligible and another ill, the team is likely to meet more disaster. The Wolverines were forced to play five games in 11 days. Two of the contests have been played without the use of Miller and Birks, who are ineligible, and without the full use of Haggerty, forward who has been ill.

If Haggerty had been in condition for the Wisconsin tilt, results might have been different. Coach Mather sent him into the fray late in the second half, and although he made one basket, he "blew" several more from sure scoring territory.

Guarding Strong Point

The Badger defense kept its reputation as the closest guarding combination in the Big Ten when it held Michigan to 15 counters. No Conference team has been able to reach the 20 mark against the Meanwellmen yet. Tebell and Williams are mainly responsible for keeping opponents to a small score, but Gibson and the two forwards bear their share of the burden.

Spooner started at right forward for Wisconsin, and he seems to have replaced Ken Elsom.

He netted two field goals. Les Gage was high scorer for Wisconsin. In addition to his four free throws, Gage dropped in two baskets at crucial points during the game. His last basket cinched the victory for the Badgers.

Heroes Meet Heroes

Rollie Williams came down the floor for his share of points also. The Badger flash scored twice. Football heroes opposed each other on the basketball court. Tebell and Williams once again met Kipke. All-American half, and Cappon, fullback, who helped defeat them, 14 to 6, on the gridiron last fall.

Coach Mather will have undoubtedly his team worked into better shape when it clashes with Wisconsin at Madison next Monday. Haggerty will be ready for the conflict and Kipke will work more smoothly with his mates.

Tickets for the game will go on sale at 9 o'clock tomorrow. Sale continues until noon and is then resumed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Valentine Day Sale

Jones Terms Harvard Sports Leader "Utopian" in Beliefs

No Monetary Inducements Should Be Made to Athletes, Wisconsin Director Says in Urging Clean School Sportsmanship

"Notwithstanding the fact that Dean Briggs is a clean sportsman and a fine man, his ideas are too Utopian, Thomas E. Jones, director of the department of physical education, says, regarding the reported the chairman of the Harvard athletic committee made recently.

Dean Briggs proposed drastic changes in rules concerning the legitimacy of athletic players. In addressing the committee, Briggs said:

"I care to know nothing more about the legitimacy of your players than is implied by your willingness that they should represent you. Then, and not until then, shall we be sportsmen."

Tramp Athletes Expensive

"How far proselyting has gone among college athletes may be inferred from the attention paid in recent discussions to students who have moved from one college to another, and who are designated by the question-begging name of 'tramp athletes.'

"He who hires a university athlete to come from another college must pay the way of that athlete for one year before he is eligible for intercollegiate athletics of any sort; and he must do this on the chance that the athlete will show a sufficient record of this studies and will show sufficient skill in the game to be both eligible and chosen as a university player," said Dean Briggs.

Changes Are Costly

"Already this player has counted off at another college one of his three years of eligibility, when (and if) he becomes eligible in his new university, his patron must continue to support him, incidentally running the risk of discovery throughout the entire period of his benefaction."

Professor Jones explained that the adoption of such rules must come through a slow process of education and that great difficulty would be encountered in some cases where colleges would have to choose between square dealing or ostracism.

High School Students Want Money

"Games should be played on the same inducements as scholarship," Professor Jones said. "No monetary inducements should be made to students. The unwillingness to do so is the main source of trouble."

"There is a prevalent idea among high school students that they should receive money for their participation in sports. High school pupils should choose their university themselves without aid of anyone."

"For a number of years we have been trying to arrange a broad program of sports. Since a limited number of men can participate in football, the receipts from conference games are taken to finance the intramural and less remunerative sports," Professor Jones declared.

"There is more variety of intramural sport at Wisconsin than any school in the United States."

Scholastic Ineligibility Hits Northwestern Athletic Teams

Semester examinations took their toll of athletes at Northwestern it became known Monday. Six swimmers, two wrestlers, one track man, and one basketball man were declared ineligible. Capt. Harold McKenzie of the basketball team, and Capt.-elect Billy McElwain of the football squad have tottered back from the rugged edges.

PI KAPPA RELAY NEARS RECORD IN FAST TRIALS

One-fifth of Second is Only Check

Coming within 1-5 second of breaking a 10-year-old track record the Pi Kappa Alpha relay team yesterday won its preliminary heat in the interfraternity relay and qualified for the finals to be held tomorrow night.

The fraternity race will be a feature of the seventeenth annual relay carnival at the gymnasium annex.

The Pi Kappa sextet, each man running two laps, went the mile in 1 minute 39 3-5 seconds. Ralph Spetz, Jones Scott, Wade and Dugan compose the team. Theta Xi which traveled the distance in 1 minute 48 2-5 seconds, finished second to the Pi Kaps. Its time was slowed up considerable when the anchor man fell.

Delta Upsilon's Record

Alpha Gamma Rho won the second preliminary heat in 1 minute 41 4-5 seconds. Phi Gamma Delta trailed the agrics with a record of 1 minute 45 seconds.

Eight other fraternity teams entered in the relay will run in four preliminary heats this afternoon. will compete in the finals. Delta choice, six teams with the best time will compete the finals. Delta Upsilon holds the relay record of 1 minute 39 2-5 seconds.

Four state colleges will furnish a large part of the interest in the relay carnival.

State Colleges Compete

Beloit, Milton, Ripon and Marquette will enter quartets in the races, and a special event will be the dual relay between Wisconsin and Marquette teams.

HILLTOP SQUAD TO PLAY HERE

Marquette University Comes For Hockey Game Tomorrow

Wisconsin's hockey team will be the first one in the conference to knock shins with the Marquette university puck chasers when the two squads meet tomorrow afternoon on the lower campus.

Although there is no hope on the strength of the Milwaukee aggregation, it is believed that they will give Wisconsin good competition. Their team is in charge of Coach Rasil Corbett and Buck Brailey who are both well experienced in the puck game. The fact that the Hilltops have games scheduled with Minnesota and possibly Michigan does much in pronouncing their strength.

The Badger squad is again hard at work under the direction of Viner after the halt in practice caused by the recent snow storm. There is a possibility that the squad will lose Tredwell for the game tomorrow afternoon on account of illness. In case Tredwell is not able to fill the guard position, Coach Viner has several possible substitutes to take his skates.

The members of the Marquette team that will play here tomorrow are: Garry, goal; Delaney and Collop, defense; Carle and Briedmeier, center; Van Holland, Thomas, Montagne, Cornell, forwards.

CO-ED HATERS

Men students who are criticizing co-eds might be interested in knowing some of the problems co-eds have to face.

Submit one of the supposed co-ed maligners to but a few of the rules which co-eds must obey and there will be a strenuous howl of protest.

Many of these rules are necessary; others seem to belong to an era preceding the dawning of freedom for women. Before such freedom is deemed existent, consider the following:

A man student pays from $2.50 to $5 a week for his room. Very few pay as high as the latter figure unless they are securing one of the best rooms available in the city.

Inside of that room or in the entire house, there are no printed rules of guidance. He comes when he chooses and leaves when he chooses. Bed linen and towels are furnished at no additional cost.

If he does not like the room or the landlady, he moves to another place. True there are rules which state that he cannot leave in the middle of a semester. But man does not feel strictly bound by these rules. He more often does as he feels is right and expedient.

But the co-ed has no such independence. Many of them are paying very high prices for but mediocre rooms.

Rents of $5 or $6 a week in many instances. In addition the girls are expected to furnish towels, bed linen, and even dresser covers.

Some landladies further require that their roomers must pay the cost of laundering these articles. This brings the average weekly cost of the rooms up to $8, or even higher, for each of the girls.

The landlady may, and usually does, exact half of the semester's rent in advance. Consider what that means.

If the room rent is $6 a week for each roomer, and if twenty girls are staying in the house, the advance payment required amounts in the aggregate of more than $1,000. Quite a tidy sum for the landlady to invest at interest. And a sum that is not yet earned.

There are other difficulties. If a girl leaves school because of sickness she ordinarily is not allowed a cent of return on her advance payment. Appeal to the dean's office will avail her exactly nothing. But if a girl leaves because of faculty request, the entire advance payment is refunded. Thus is scholarship rewarded!

There are girl's rooming houses near the campus that require their roomers to pay for tuning the piano, charge them "overhead" expenses on the lighting bill, and in every other possible way exact the few extra pennies of the co-ed's allowance.

If the co-ed roomers objects, it gets her nowhere. In fact she may be punished by having additional injustices and indignities heaped upon her.

The landladies concerned know that women students cannot be as independent as are men and take advantage of the fact.

Some of the injustices committed on women students are without university sanction or even knowledge. But that makes them no less hard to bear.

It would appear as though the co-eds have reason for some of their critical and "queer" tendencies and characteristics.

They deserve more sympathy than criticism. The activity of the newly formed co-eds haters club might well be directed toward removing some of the injustices which co-eds face rather than criticising them unheard.

"Resolved: That it is better for boys to wear valentino trousers than for girls to bob their hair" was the subject of a debate given at the First Methodist church at Urbana, Illinois, Sunday night. The debate was held at a social of the Young Peoples league.

The Orph Owl

How'd this week-end's bill strike the owl?

Too hoot! Too hoot! It hit above the normal curve, but those jokes that the A. T. O's and Alpha Sigs laughed at brought it down in spots.

Will Ward represented Ireland in personality, jokes and songs while "The Rose and the Thorn" caused all from Minnesota to think of their distant homes.

Lawton:

Although a juggler, he got away with the Orph audience. He beat a drum with Johnnie's rubber balls and enjoyed himself tossing around the army canon balls.

Rose and Thorn:

"Sold" is the act written especially for the Gophers. "Miss Swenson," the dumb but willing woman in the case was clever in her Swedish way. The salesman didn't sell the car, but the two sold the act.

Douglas Graves and Co:

"I've got to have meat," was the cry of the beefy actor. We did not wait to see if he got it or not.

Will J. Ward:

With an Irish smile he sang his Spanish love "Wannaeata." Will played well, and told old jokes so well that they got by.

Bevan and Flint:

This act was enough to make owl blank. The hero of the act was the typical anti-co-ed "He-(he) man" who could answer any question he asked. "The big bimbo from the city" lived up to her big reputation.

The band was a good orchestra with a devil at one of the pianos and a Valentino playing the banjo. It was a good finale to the bill but not pure jazz.

STUDENT FORUM

THE ICE CARNIVAL

Editor The Cardinal:

As an exhibition of amateur reporting the article in the Sunday Cardinal on the Ice carnival deserves comment. Whatever the attitude of the editors and staff of The Cardinal may be, the fact nevertheless remains that this was distinctly a university event fostering a very desirable university activity—skating.

It would seem that purely as a matter of pride in our university the events of the carnival would have been given at least a fair and reasonable publicity. And yet consider for a moment the article which was offered to the student body as an adequate presentation of the afternoon's events.

In giving the summary, was it impossible to mention the winners of second and third places? Why name those who won first? Some of the events, such as the mixed doubles, the men's 100-yard dash, the women's 220-yard dash, are not even mentioned.

Again, Willis Wood is recognized as one of the best university skaters in the West, and was sent to Lake Placid, N. Y. to contest in national events, yet The Cardinal did not even think it worth while to put in a cut; while at the same time there were three different cuts in the paper on 'Fetching Fashions for Spring Wear' and—the height of irony—one large cut of a New York skater breaking a record.

Dorothy Whipple, who won the women's races, is cited once as 'Bernice Whipple' and once as 'Dorothy Wiple', winner of the half-mile. As a matter of fact, she also won the 440-yard dash though (the reporter calmly assigns this race to Helen Cushman), the 220-yard dash (not even mentioned), and, with her partner, the mixed doubles (also not mentioned).

There seems to be only two possible interpretations of this. The more charitable one is to assume that the reportorial ability on the staff at the present time is at such a low ebb that accurate reporting cannot be gotten. The other is that practically all the leaders in skating are not sufficiently prominent in campus social and political circles to be granted very much space or accuracy. If it is the policy of The Cardinal to slash all news of those who are not in the ruling clique, then why not go a step farther and cut such news out altogether?

SCENE ON THE HILL

As members of the Protective Society against Co-ed Wives feared it would be after the knowledge of their existence was announced to the world.

The hill was full of co-eds, a sheik stood here and there, They gnashed their teeth (the co-eds), their hands tore out their hair.
"Oh, heaven help us," shrieked they all, "on us has a fell a blight."
"The Eds ay they won't marry they all, "on us has fell a blight."

This communication comes from a prominent senior in the Course of Letters and Science. It bears the Theta letterhead.

THIRTEEN DEAD AS STORM TOLL

Madison Milk Supply Is Reduced; Train Service Still Crippled

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Thirteen persons are known to have lost their lives in the northwest as a result of the terrific blizzard that laid its icy hand on that section of the country this week. Nine died in fires that resulted from overheated stoves or furnaces, while the bodies of four were found frozen on the prairies.

Four children of C. N. Gibbs were burned to death at their farm home near Pine City, Minn.; an aged woman and a boy were cremated when their home was destroyed near Richardson, Sask. and a woman and her son and daughter lost their lives when their home near Tilston, Sask., was burned. The body of Henry Hennen of Dumont, Minn., was found frozen on the prairie near his home, while the bodies of three children of Fred Beck, a farmer living near Eureka, S. D., were found frozen in a sleigh.

Madison Milk Supply Hit

With the abatement of the heavy gale which swept this city and all Wisconsin with icy temperatures yesterday, work was begun today in restoring the entire Middle West to normalcy.

The milk supply for Madison babies was considerably cut down because of inability to secure milk from the district about Madison. A. M. Kramer, secretary-manager of the Kennedy Dairy Co., reported this morning that but 40 per cent of the requirements of customers could be met because the company trucks were unable to break through the drifts on the country roads. Many independent milk companies were unable to make any deliveries Wednesday, and were seriously handicapped today, finding necessary to shovel their way as they came.

Despite the fact that the wind subsided during the night, the mercury continued a steady descent until at 7 o'clock this morning the official thermometer at the weather station here read 12 degrees below. At 9 o'clock it had risen only two degrees, but slowly rising temperatures were predicted today, with the weather considerably moderated by Saturday.

Continued fair weather is promised. The first 15 days of February have been favorably compared by the weather bureau experts to the coldest in history. The first seven days had an average of 4 degrees below, and the cold spell this week will bring this average down to 6 degrees below, officials declared.

The temperature this morning was only two degrees below the lowest ever recorded for a Feb. 15. It was 14 below on Feb. 14, 1920. The coldest day of the winter so far was 18 below on Feb. 3.

Train service was getting back to normal this noon. Officials of the railroads said that it would be another day before normal service could be assured.

Service on the Madison and La Crosse lines of the Northwestern road was continued by doubling locomotives. A number of Northwestern trains are stalled north of Green Bay and others at Granville.

On the Milwaukee road similar conditions prevailed, no trains having been sent north during the last twenty-four hours. No trains had run to or from Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, or Ripon since early Tuesday night.

PROF. COMMONS IN LABOR TOPIC

Noted Authority, Addresses Wesley Forum on Sunday Evening

"Has the Labor Union Justified Itself" will be the topic of the discussion to be led by Prof. J. R. Commons at the Wesley Forum at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

Professor Commons follows Prof. D. D. Lescossier who spoke last Sunday on the negro question. A part of the discussion will deal with the negro situation in labor. Other points include the economic aspects of organized labor and the solution of labor disputes.

Last week Professor Lescossier dealt with the negro situation and emphasized the economic and political pressure that gives rise to the clashes between whites and blacks in this country. More than 200 students and faculty members attended the meeting and questioned the speaker afterwards to clear up questions arising from the presentation of the subject.

City Health Officer Warns Against Disease

Warning teachers that it is the dreaded after-effects of measles and not the disease itself which should cause the most alarm, Dr. E. V. Brumbaugh, city health officer, spoke to Brayton school parents and teachers yesterday.

"In children of school age, infection of the ear often results, causing partial or complete deafness," he said. "In younger children a greater danger is that of pneumonia."

The "flu" prevalent in Madison, doctors agree is an acute, highly contagious catarrhal fever, he said. There is only one way to treat it, he stated, and that is to take it to bed and nurse it.

The process of conditions of communicable diseases are observed in the offices of the board of health from a map upon which is placed pins, differently colored for different diseases, as soon as reports come in. It is by this method that the prediction of a probable epidemic of measles in the near future was made by Dr. Brumbaugh.

MARINETTE—Edward W. Miller, whose appointment as federal district attorney was confirmed on Tuesday, was guest of honor at a banquet given by the Marinette County Bar association.

"THE VOICE OF THE MINARET"
Featuring Norma Talmadge, Eugene O'Brien and Edwin Stevens
Presented at the Strand.
Directed by Frank Lloyd.
Released through First National.

Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien, once acclaimed the perfect lovers of the screen, again are seen together in the attraction at the Strand this week-end, and fans who, it is said, requested the re-casting of this pair in a production will be satisfied with the result.

An unusually large number of close-ups of the love-makers are inserted to show that neither has forgotten the art. There are even too many of such scenes.

The director's zeal to impress us with the fact of their reunion was so great in places as to become boring. Still, we must admit, they are good at it.

The plot is not new. It is the eternal triangle and the struggle between religion and love, in an oriental atmosphere. But that sort of plot doesn't appeal to us somehow—especially when Miss Talmadge is one of the principals.

Photography, an essential too often over-looked, is extremely well done. The filming of a swift polo game—the dashing ponies, swinging clubs, and even the speeding ball—was most skillful.

Edwin Stevens' characterization of Lord Leslie Carlyle, the unscrupulous husband of Lady Adrienne Carlyle (Norma Talmadge), deserves mention. He made us hate him thoroughly before the picture had ended.

"The Voice From the Minaret" is not Miss Talmadge's best vehicle, but we enjoyed it—and think you would.

Former Ex-Service Man

Gets Pardon From Blaine

Martin Maederer, Milwaukee, serving three years in the state prison for larceny, was granted a conditional pardon today by Gov. Blaine. He will be released as soon as work is obtained for him. The governor said that Maederer's trouble was due to "prohibition alcoholism," and only technically to larceny. He is a former overseas service man.

Harry J. Walker, Milwaukee, serving six years at the Green Bay reformatory for robbery, had his case referred to the state board of control for action.

"Prohibition alcoholism" is new phrase coined by Gov. Blaine and means "moonshine."

The association is composed of drainage engineers, contractors, tile manufacturers, and farmers interested in drainage projects. The state of Wisconsin is divided into 33 drainage districts, and representatives from each district are expected to attend the conference.

Elaborate preparations have been made by students and faculty men in the College of Agriculture to entertain the drainage experts during their visit to the agricultural college. The Wisconsin State High School Judging contest, and the Little International Live Stock show has made it possible for those in charge of the events to secure reduced rates on all of the important rates leading into Madison.

Armenian Boy Nurse Subject For Story

Lias, a 14-year-old Armenian boy, is the nurse of 45 baby boys. A Near East Relief worker, Miss Margaret Reid, who is in charge of an orphanage in central Armenia, tells the interesting story of "Lias-of-the-great-heart" in a recent issue of the Near East Relief magazine.

"We were seldom able to take in large boys."

Ask Madison Concerns To Donate To Prizes

The "Baby Beef" show to be held here in October will be given added inducements by local business firms if letters mailed out by the Association of Commerce are headed by the firms.

In a letter to the association recently the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders association stated that it hoped Madison would add to the prize list so as to create more interest in the show.

Capital Punishment is Wrong Says Ohio Dean

The practice of capital punishment for wrong doing is demoralizing in its effects on the executors and upon the public at large according to Dean J. E. Hagerty of the College of Commerce and Journalism at Ohio State university.

"In administering justice we often kill the insane and feeble minded, and that fact is a serious reflection on our civilization," he declared.

"If life imprisonment without pardon should be substituted or the death penalty, most of the objections to the prevailing system would be taken away," said the Dean at a convocation of students of that university.

RABBITS OR MINUTES? EXPERT'S TEST ON MINDS REVEALS UNIQUE

Is it easier for the average mind to think of rabbits than of hours? Is the psychological reaction more clear and forcible towards rabbits than towards abstract time?

That there is some relation between deference of results obtained in arithmetic problems when different subjects is used has been demonstrated recently by university experiments. Several thousand pupils in Milwaukee are being tested on concrete arithmetic problems under the direction of Prof. F. L. Clapp, School of Education.

It has been discovered that 38 per cent of 2,275 pupils missed a problem which asked how much each boy should receive if two boys were paid 90 cents for mowing a lawn, one boy working 1 hour and the other working 4 hours. But only 19.3 per cent of the same group failed when asked how much Harry and John should each receive if John sold one rabbit and Harry sold four, and the sum proceeds equaled 90 cents for the five.

The departure from tests in abstract processes of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division is being made in order to study the types of problems and their effect upon the mind of the child.

BANISH WAR IN WORLD: BORAH

Punish War Instigators and Profiteers, He Urges
In Resolution

WASHINGTON — War would be outlawed and make a crime against the law of nations and its instigators would be subject to indictment and punishment under the provisions of a resolution introduced in the Senate by Senator Borah.

The resolution also suggests creation of an international court for the peaceable settlement of controversies.

"Senator Borah's resolution provides:

"That it is the view of the United States that war between nations should be outlawed as an institution for the settlement of international controversies by making it a public crime under the law of nations.

"Every nation should be encouraged by a treaty to bind itself to punish its own international war instigators and war profiteers.

"That a code of international law of peace, based upon justice between nations, should be created and adopted.

"That a judicial substitute for war should be created in the form of an international court modeled on our federal Supreme Court, to possess jurisdiction over all international controversies?"

TOBACCO POOL CASE DELAYED

Attorney For Combine Unable to Reach Madison Because of Storm

The adverse examination of Jens Davidson, Westby, president of the Northern Wisconsin Cooperative Tobacco pool, and other officers of the pool, scheduled for 9 o'clock this morning before Rufus B. Smith, circuit court commissioner, was postponed until 10 Saturday morning due to the fact that Emerson Ela, attorney for the pool, and attorneys for M. H. Bekkedal, Westby, against whom an injunction was recently issued by Judge E. Ray Stevens restraining him from buying any more tobacco from farmers under contract with the pool, were snowbound at Viroqua and unable to reach here for the hearing. The attorneys had gone to Viroqua to examine witnesses in the case.

George O. Moen, Stoughton, member of the pool, Walter Corrigan, Milwaukee attorney who represents Bekkedahl and Frank L. Gilbert representing the pool, requested Commissioner Smith to postpone the hearing. C. N. Pulley, department of markets, was also present. Jens Davidson, Christ Hoen, and A. C. Johnson, of the pool, mentioned in the summons to appear before the commissioner this morning, were not present.

BLAINE URGES CO-OPERATION

Farmer and Labor Groups
Must Unite to Preserve Rights

Cooperation between the farmer and the laborer was urged this afternoon by Gov. J. J. Blaine in an address to the assembly. The governor said:

"Your chairman has said I am with you now. I want to say that I have been with you always and hope always to be with you," Gov. Blaine said.

"The greatest fight seems necessary for the American people to retain those fundamental rights which were guaranteed to them by the constitution. Continual efforts being made to break down these rights, I am with you in your efforts to retain them.

"Well paid labor is necessary," he said, for contented and prosperous people, and if conduces to aid the prosperity of the farmer and all other classes."

DUESSELDORF—Ten thousand German security police throughout the occupied region are to be disbanded by order of Gen. Degoutte.
