UPHAM RECEIVES STUDENTS

HOTEL VAN ETTA THE SCENE OF AN ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING.

STUDENTS ASSEMBLED TO SHAKE HANDS WITH THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEE.

University Republicans in Charge.

Major Upham, the republican candidate for governor, held a public reception yesterday afternoon at the Van Etta hotel under the auspices of the U. W. Republican club. The reception took place from 3 to 4 in the afternoon, and in spite of the disagreeable weather and drizzling rain the lobby and stair-ways of the hotel were crowded with voters anxious to meet "the next governor."

One of the parlors on the second floor of the hotel, which was prettily decorated with the national colors and flowers by Miss Van Etta, was given up to the occasion.

S. A. Harper, president of the Republican state league; G. H. Sheldon, '95, president of the U. W. Republican club; Harvey Clark, law '95; E. R. Stevens, law '95, were in charge of arrangements and introduced those who attended to Mr. Upham. Gen. Lucius Fairchild was present and helped to receive the many voters who attended.

The affair was really to make the U. W. students acquainted with the republican candidate, but the hundreds of others who attended were cordially received. Major Upham expressed himself as much pleased to meet the students and had a kind word for each. After shaking hands with hundreds of republicans and numerous democrats he departed for Monroe.

GYMNASIUM RULES.

The following are the rules in regard to the use of the apparatus at the gymnasium:

1. Indoor pole-vaulters will kindly be careful not to throw the poles on the floor, but place a sufficient number of mats around, so as to protect the poles from becoming shattered. This must be done, or else the poles must be caught by some one who is standing near.

2. The climbing ropes must not be used for swinging. They will hereafter be strapped to the floor, and must be used for climbing alone.

3. All students are warned to attempt no dangerous exercise, without the consent and presence of the instructor. Everything attended by risk must be carefully avoided. All apparatus must be used only for purposes for which it is intended.

4. Students must observe the rule of the gymnasium regarding the class hours for sophomores and freshmen. No students except those who properly belong in the classes will be allowed on the gymnasium floor during these hours.

5. All who use the running track are required to observe the direction which is posted on the placards.

BELOIT WILL BE CARDINAL.

Between the hours of twelve and one today could be seen groups of students hurrying to the station to accompany the football team on its trip to Beloit.

On the depot platform for University band discoursed a lively air, the prophetic note of victory. As the time of departure drew near, nearly three hundred "gay students" of which the fair sex composed a large percentage, crowded into the special train and filled to overflowing four coaches. False moves of the train created some excitement but at last warning ribbons and eager faces disappeared on the way to Beloit. Such a baking for the team, the band, the good lusty university yell and girlish smiles, ought to carry victory with it.

SOCIAL GATHERING.

The young ladies of the local chapter of Gamma Phi Beta gave another of their pleasant five o'clock teas yesterday afternoon. The hour was passed in entertaining conversation interspersed by cheering cups of the old-time beverage. Mrs. Saunderson also kindly favored the company with one of her delightful readings, which was heartily encored. Besides the members of the chapter, there were present the following: Prof. and Mrs. H. A. Sober, Prof. and Mrs. Geo. W. Saunderson, Madame Friedland, Prof. Haskins and Prof. Hendrickson; Misses Ingersoll, Mary Freeman, Kennedy, Thomas and Lottie Freeman; Messrs. Ward, Alstead, Mason, Cady, Phipps, Warren and Lindsey.

WHAT IOWA THINKS.

The following note on the Iowa game is taken from the Vidette Reporter:

"Very little need be said concerning the game with Wisconsin, more than that we were outplayed in every manner. The Wisconsin team is the strongest team in the west this year, and our boys would have been perfectly satisfied had they been able to score against them. The boys have nothing to be ashamed of, for it is no dishonor to be beaten by the Wisconsin team this year, and they showed remarkable pluck by holding the score down so well in the last half. The boys were sore and tired when they reached Madison. We give the Cardinal's note on the game, but think they have overestimated the weight of our rush line greatly."

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The 'Varsity eleven and the second eleven played a practice game yesterday afternoon. Cocherns, '97, did some good work for the second eleven and is steadily improving. Kull was also out in his accustomed place at center.

The lower campus is being utilized more than ever for football practice. At one time yesterday afternoon there were no less than four different groups of players. Owing to the fine weather which prevailed, a much larger crowd than usual watched the practice.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Hon. H. H. Taylor spaks in the assembly chamber tonight under the auspices of the U. W. Republican club. Mr. Taylor will confine himself principally to state issues.

FEW SOCIETIES FAITHFUL

MANY ADJOURNMENTS ON ACCOUNT OF OTHER ATTRACTIONS.

FRESHMAN ENGINEERS COMPLETE THEIR ORGANIZATION.

Philomathia and Laurea Hold Interesting Meetings.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, Philomathia's meeting last night was well attended. The debates showed thorough preparation and those of the newer members especially were very animated. Immediately after the opening of the meeting the officers elected for the term were initiated and President Hough gave a brief but forcible inaugural address.

The first debate was on the question, "Are trusts opposed to the best interests of society?" The debate was decided in favor of the affirmative led by Shuart, '96. Erness, '95, the leader on the negative, put forth strong arguments, but the affirmative succeeded in convincing the jury. After the recess, the question, "Should our present Chinese exclusion laws remain in force permanently?" was debated. Bolton, '96, led the affirmative and Harvey the negative. Both sides put forth strong arguments and the result was for a long time doubtful. The debate was decided in favor of the affirmative through Jackman's timely arguments. Bolton kept up the good spirits of the meeting by his many humorous sallies. After giving the society yell the meeting adjourned.

There was a large and enthusiastic meeting of Laurea last night. Owing to the absence of some members an impromptu debate was substituted for the regular one. Edith Lyon ably supported the affirmative of the question, "Resolved that the influence of an author's writings is independent of his character," and won the debate in spite of Mrs. Fordyce's forcible arguments on the negative. Music by Kittie Corscot and Edith Robinson and a recitation by Hattie Rosenstengel were thoroughly enjoyed. A unique feature of the program was a newspaper under the editorship of Julia Richardson, Fannie Medbery and Caroline Spence.

There was not a very large attendance at the meeting of the Engineers' association last night, as many had gone home for the short vacation and the senior mechanical engineers were in Chicago.

The debate, "Resolved, that it is unprofitable to macadamize main country roads," was won by F. D. Warner, '96; C. B. Hayden, '96, and O. B. Zimmerman, '96, who were on the negative. C. H. Parr, '96, read a very interesting paper on weldless steel chains which was well received.

There was a fair attendance at the meeting of the Freshmen Engineers' Reading club yesterday afternoon. No regular program was presented as there was a good deal of business to be disposed of. The constitution was finally adopted and signed by the members present. As the organization is now completed a regular program of exercises will be carried out at each meeting, beginning Friday, November 9. The meetings will be held Fridays at 3:00 o'clock, in room 22, Science hall. The programs will be posted on the bulletin boards in Science hall.

STUDENTS THAT TALKED POLITICS.

Following is a list of the U. W. students who were on the stump for the various political parties during the present campaign.

ART-LOAN CONCERT.

One of the best musical entertainments given in Madison for some time delighted an appreciative audience at Christ Presbyterian church last evening. The inclemency of the weather and the numerous attractions in town made the audience smaller than such a truly excellent entertainment deserved. Those who were present enjoyed the pleasure of a rare musical treat.

We would suggest that the college song class, which by the way seems to be defunct, be replaced by a class for the practice of the college yell in accordance with principles of elocution.

The carelessness in exercising while in the gymnasium which has resulted in several mishaps, ought to be guarded against by the students, who could employ their time and efforts in systematic training rather than in attempting to accomplish all kinds of impossible feats.

There are a certain few among the students on the hill who make it a practice during recitation to seat themselves just as far back as possible and there to create more or less disturbance. This is especially true under some of the more lenient professors, but here more than anywhere else it is a practice which courtesy at least ought to forbid. It is not only an annoyance to the professor in charge of the recitation, but it is a great injustice to the other members of the class, who come there for something besides pleasure, and whose work is thereby sure to be more or less hindered.

Considerable difficulty is being experienced by the collectors of the class tax in the various courses, which perhaps deserves a word of comment. That the duty of the collector is not only a disagreeable but a thankless job goes without saying and for any student to show so little class spirit as to refuse or delay the payment of his assessment, is only making the task much more disagreeable. If the practice could be adopted here as it exists in many colleges of prohibiting students to vote on any questions whatever pertaining to their class interest unless their tax had been paid, probably more prompt payments could be secured.

CAP AND GOWN AT NORTHWESTERN.

The cap and gown have made their appearance and seem to have already won universal admiration. Favorable remarks without number were heard on University Day concerning the classic garb as it appeared here and there in the procession and at the church. If the costume had any enemies among Evanston students, we are convinced that such enemies have turned into admirers. Whether the student body will adopt the cap and gown for every-day wear remains to be seen. Certain it is that such action will meet the heartiest approval of the faculty.—The Northwestern.

—Willard Bleyer, '96, left for Chicago yesterday.

—J. C. Russel, law '95, is spending his vacation at his home in Thomson.

—The gymnasium will be closed all day Monday so that the steam fitter can connect the steam pipes.

—Victor Koeppel, law '97, and J. E. Anderson, law '96, leave today for their home in Milwaukee to vote.

—Dr. Hillyer reports that the students in the laboratory department are making unusual progress in experimental work.

—Wm. H. Hay, '98, and Arthur C. Tuttle left today for their homes to spend a few days visiting relatives and friends.

—Albert H. Schmidt, '96, left this noon for Manitowoc county to spend the remainder of the week in "stumping" for the republican party. He will return Tuesday evening.

—Prof. Daniels has instituted a series of quizzes in the chemistry department. This step was necessitated by the size of the class that daily meets at 2:00 o'clock.

T. C. Richmond of Madison fired the last gun for the U. W. Prohibition club at the assembly chamber Thursday evening. The near approach of election day combined with the reputation of the speaker, the pleasant evening and the university band to draw out a large audience.

President Barber, of the club, acted as chairman, and Rev. H. A. Miner preceded the speaker with prayer. The band livened up the program with two pieces of music in the gallery of the chamber.

Although Mr. Richmond had been speaking for several consecutive nights he seemed in the best of trim to discourse tellingly on governmental problems. He said in the beginning that he is looking forward to a time when the prohibition and peoples' parties will unite; that each one is a protest against national injustice, and that a union of forces is necessary. He did not confine himself by any means to a discussion of the liquor traffic, though he characterized it as the greatest of the evils to be battled with.

The first governmental wrong which he discussed was the fluctuating national standard of value. "We have not," he said, "had an honest dollar in this country for twenty years."

The saloon question was next discussed. Mr. Richmond says there are many men who will not send their boys to the state university where they will be under the influence of the seventy saloons of Madison. He said that it ought to be necessary only to appeal to the manhood of the nation to get the support of a majority of votes for a party which is opposed to the saloon. And to those who believe a place where liquor can be procured a necessity he made this proposition: "If you will help me to do away with the saloon, I will help you to establish a place, under regulation of government where pure liquors can be procured at cost." He said that if we could get that far the entire abolition of the traffic would soon follow.

Next in the list of wrongs considered was the matter of taxation. The speaker characterized the system of protective tariff as "as devilish a scheme as was ever hatched out in this country." He considered the industries of America able to compete with any in the world, and said that our liberty to buy and sell where we please should not be curtailed.

The other evils he talked of were the amassing of large fortunes, and the railroad problem. In regard to the former he would pass a law limiting the amount of property which a person may inherit, while as to the latter he said that "the government has given the railroads more than enough to build them, and ought to own them." Mr. Richmond was interrupted at many points by hearty applause.

After the speech a short meeting of the club was held at which several new names were added to the membership.

FRESHMEN!

ALL members of the class of '98 who have not yet paid their class tax are urgently requested to do so as soon as possible.

John C. Schmidtman, Treas.

—Baron Pierre de Coubertin of France has offered a gold medal to be competed for yearly in an intercollegiate debate between Stanford University and the University of California. The subject of the discussion is to be some topic connected with contemporary French politics. The prize is to be known as the "Medaille Carnot" in honor of the late President Carnot. The contest is to occur in February of each year.—Cornell Sun.

SENIOR CANVASSERS.

The following members of the senior class will canvass their respective courses for subscriptions to make up for the deficit in the Badger board accounts: Modern Classical, Miss Hand and C. L. Warren; Ancient Classical, Miss Baker and W. L. Ball; Civic Historical, Miss Fulton and R. L. Holt; English, Miss Harris and J. A. Toomey; General Science, Miss Ellsworth and S. A. Carhart; Electrical Engineering, P. A. Bertrand; Civil Engineering, Karl Kummel; Mechanical Engineering, Mr. Golder. The collectors are requested to report to the class treasurer as soon as possible.

WEBSTER'S

INTERNATIONAL

DICTIONARY

Entirely New. A Grand Educator.

Successor of the "Unabridged."

Standard of the U. S. Gov't Printing Office, the U. S. Supreme Court and of nearly all the Schoolbooks.

Warmly commended by every State Superintendent of Schools, and other Educators almost without number.

A College President writes: "For ease with which the eye finds the word sought, for accuracy of definition, for effective methods in indicating pronunciation, for terse yet comprehensive statements of facts, and for practical use as a working dictionary, Webster's International excels any other single volume."

The One Great Standard Authority, So writes Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice U. S. Supreme Court.
