MAKES STRONG PLEA FOR NEW SOCIAL BASIS

Nearing Urges Those Who Do Not Work
Should Not Eat

"The new foundation for society must be upon a basis where those who do not work shall not eat," said Prof. Scott Nearing, noted socialist and publicist, at his lecture last night on "American Foreign Policy" in the high school auditorium.

Professor Nearing has become a national figure since his dismissal from the University of Pennsylvania where he was assistant professor of economics, and from the dean of the College of Letters and dean of the college of Letters and Science.

"The organized labor movement is the only way out of the present capitalistic system with its gulfs between groups, with its unscientific, unsocial, and unethical principles. There will be a struggle between organized business and organized labor, and if we desire to get rid of the problems that we are now facing, we must abolish the competitive system and stop the exploitation of labor by vested interests."

SAYS DISARMAMENT IS PLOT

Professor Nearing characterized the pending disarmament conference as Great Britain's plan to engage the United States, Japan, and Great Britain in a gigantic plot to exploit and rob the world. He showed at length by diagrams and figures that the present economic system was purely capitalistic, and furthermore, that all the large governments were working on the same capitalistic plan.

That Japan must expand on account of pressing conditions of population and on account of lack of natural resources seemed an indication to Professor Nearing that a greater part of China would soon be taken over by Japan. He showed further that American and British capitalistic desired an entrance into the same territory, the desire arising naturally from the motives of our capitalistic era. The fact was emphasized that Japan must exploit this valuable territory of southern and eastern Asia, whereas American bankers merely want to do so in order to further their selfish ends.

USE OF GYM REFUSED

Professor Nearing, who was invited to speak in Madison by the members of the Social Science club, an organization of liberal students at the university, was denied the use of the university gymnasium, and the high school auditorium was used instead.

OCTY CALLS FOR CONTRIBS NOV. 3

A hurry call has come from the Octopus office for quips and cartoons for the fall issue of the book. Contributions will not be received after Thursday, Nov. 3.

Thirty-one hundred copies of the fall Octopus will be on sale November 19. Every one of the 3,000 books of the last issue were sold, making it necessary for more copies to be printed this month to supply Octy's followers.

The cover design for the issue, entitled "Say it With Flowers," touches of fall atmosphere, showing as its central figure a football hero. It was drawn by Hubert Townsend '23.

3,000 DOLLARS CLINK INTO TIN PAILS AT GAME

So many shining silver dollars clinked their way into the tin pails during the Homecoming game Saturday afternoon that it took three stalwart men to lift them from the ground into a car and again from the car to be carried into the bank.

"We had $2,990 when the last dollar was counted," said Willet Kempton, manager of Silver Dollar day, "and the Commercial National bank put in enough to make it an even $3,000."

A cigaret, a key to a Cadillac car, a couple of sticks of gum, two pieces of chocolate candy, nickels, dimes, paper dollars, five dollar bills, one $20 bill, and even a check for a dollar hastily written in pencil and signed "J. F. A. Pyre," were among the contributions.

"We are pleased with the outcome of the silver dollar campaign," said "Hap" Baker '22, general chairman of the Memorial Union drive, yesterday. "Although we did not raise as much money as we hoped, we have $3,000 ready cash, which will defray the running expenses of the campaign, and that means a great deal."

UNION VODVIL HAS TRYOUTS NOV. 15-16

Final plans have been formulated for the production of the 1921 Union Vodvil. The dates for the tryouts have been set for Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 15 and 16. Those who remember the congeries of foolishness, a little of serious Thespian endeavor, and not a little abundance of song and dance which was offered in Jack Bigler's show of 1919 are looking forward to the Union board's stellar attraction, scheduled for the early part of December.

Dale Merrick '23, general manager, has selected as production and business managers, Carl Bronson '22, and Leslie Gage '23.

In the old days, next to Prom, Homecoming and June Reunion, Union Vodvil took its place in order.

Privacy and confidence are promised by the production committee, so that any reticence on the part of modest individuals should be forgotten.

HEADS WOMEN IN UNION DRIVE

Dorothy Dwight '22 is head of the women's division in the Memorial Union drive to be held this week beginning Saturday. Under her are four girls who are heads of divisions, as follows: Gladys Webber, sorority houses; Helen Zulke, Barnard, Chadbourne and the co-op houses; and Cleo Parsley and Florence Huprick, head of the rooming houses. These divisions comprise about 160 women, and the regularity of their attendance at the salesmanship meeting has been most marked.

Miss Dwight is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, treasurer of Mortar Board, treasurer of Pi Epsilon Delta, president of Twelfth Night, and is active in Y. W. C. A. work, being on the cabinet council.

Miss Dwight has her work so organized that the territory to be canvassed by the girls will be according to geographical location, which will greatly facilitate the labor. There will be competition among the girls, and also, it is said, between the teams led by the men and those led by the girls.

WINNERS IN HOBO PARADE ARE GIVEN ATTRACTIVE PRIZES

Engineers Win Handcar Race

Lawyers Fail to Appear

Prizes for the winners in the hobo parade have been awarded after careful decisions on the part of the judges. The following were announced as entitled to the awards:

Best college group: Medics Prize, large $65 cup.

Largest group: Y. M. C. A. Prize, $25 cup.

Fraternity and non-fraternity groups: First prize, $30 cup, Phi Delta Theta steam roller; second prize, $20 cup, Phi Gamma Delta; third prize, cigars, Mabies' 1908 Maxwell.

Longest bearded hobo: First prize, $5 in barber trade, Hap Phillips '22; second prize, $5 in Pantomime trade, Roy Miller '23.

Best individual hobo: First prize, $15 shaving stand, W. B. Hance '24; second prize, $7 memory book, S. D. Thompson '23 and Leslie Garber '22, tied.

The prizes, made possible by local merchants is an attractive collection.

Failure of the lawyers to appear made it necessary to call off the hand car race down State street between the engineers and the law students. The engineers won by default.

$18,000 FOR MEMORIAL IS NOW PLEDGED

Site to Be Dedicated Nov. 5
—City to Conduct
Drive

Over $18,000 have been pledged to the Memorial Union fund already, according to Phil Bredesen '23, general publicity manager of the campaign. This amount comprises money subscribed by the canvass during their salesmanship course, and the funds collected at Saturday's football game during the Silver Dollar stunt.

The student quota to complete the drive for the million dollar Union building is $100,000. On dedication day, November 5, the site of the building, which will occupy the whole space from Park street to the Y. M. C. A. on Langdon street, will be dedicated at an all-university ceremony and the canvassers will start taking subscriptions. The Memorial Union dance is to be given on the evening of the same day.

City to Raise $100,000

The city of Madison has undertaken to raise the same amount of money for the building as the students. The city campaign has been organized, and solicitation by business men and other residents will also start on November 5.

The total amount collected toward the million dollar goal is well over the half way mark. Dean Scott H. Goodnight is spending a large part of his time on the work. Alumni from all parts of the world are responding to the call to help "Build a Home for Wisconsin Spirit." The student drive under the direction of Loyal Baker '22, general chairman, will close November 12.

CULBERTSON IS HEAD OF FIRST FROSH TICKET

James Culbertson, Stanley, Wis., heads the first freshmen class ticket to be announced. Culbertson played quarterback on the Stanley high school football team for two years and was forward on the basketball team for three years. He is a member of the freshmen basketball squad at Wisconsin, and was an assistant chairman of foreign publicity for the 1921 Homecoming. He is a pledge of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Jessie Morrison, Columbus, Ohio, Lucy Gale, Chicago, Jack Payne, Milwaukee, and Gus Koch, Davenport, Iowa, comprise the rest of the ticket.

Jessie Morrison, running for vice-president, was president of her class and represented her section of Ohio for two years in state declamatory contests. She is a Barnard hall girl and is enrolled in the College of Letters and Science.

The ticket's candidate for secretary is Lucy Gale, a pledge of Kappa Alpha Theta. Payne, the ticket's choice for treasurer, is a pledge of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Gus Koch, the candidate for sergeant-at-arms, played football for three years on the Davenport high school football team, and is now playing center on the Wisconsin freshmen eleven. He is a pledge of Sigma Nu.

DIDN'T it seem to you yesterday when you went to classes that you had been out of school for two weeks? But it all depends on whose opinion you ask on the matter. As one professor said, "I'm glad Homecoming doesn't come every week." But a Phi Delt said that it is too bad that a year isn't 30 days long, because then we could have a Homecoming once a month.

ANDY Gump should have been to see the victory on Saturday. He could have aptly remarked afterwards, "Oh, Minn, wasn't that some game!"

THE Commerce Mag, or the American Magazine Annex, will be out on the hill today, full of many useful suggestions to the undergraduate. A prominent writer, a noted supreme court justice, a successful business man, a distinguished banker, a famous surgeon, and a member of Harding's cabinet have all written articles for us, and all that is left for us to do is to carefully study what any one of them have to say and we can become either a prominent writer, a noted supreme court justice, a successful business man, a distinguished banker, a famous surgeon, or a member of the President's cabinet.

IT is therefore a very timely issue of the Mag, for we are all getting out of school in five or six more years and these writers have very kindly solved our post-college career for us.

ONE of the articles which is entitled, "Sell Something—Anything for a Year," is illustrated with the picture of a book agent standing at the door of a house trying to sell something to the housewife. Under the picture runs the caption, "During College He Sold Books and After College He Became a Bond Salesman." You know, that is a wonderful little piece of help to the freshmen expecting to take Commerce. It is almost an convincing argument as the one that says all horses have four legs, and that a table also has four legs, therefore, and so on to the end of a most conclusive conclusion.

MAYBE you noticed the feature story on the front page of one of last night's papers which said that Rollie Williams went home right after the game to see Ma, Pa, and the Best Girl. Anyhow, the point of the whole thing is that Rollie says he doesn't understand why they said Ma and Pa, because he is sure that they don't like unnecessary publicity.

THE NOSY NEWSIE

Today's Question: "What suggestions have you to offer in the way of new traditions for the university?"

Dave Mahoney: "I should like to see all freshmen girls carry chewing gum up the hill, to be supplied to any upperclassmen who may desire it and who can get it by merely requesting the girls for it. It would result in a great many friendships being made."

Buster Zimmerman: "A tradition which would compel all the boys of the university to take us poor little girls out at least every other night is just what the girls would like. These selfish men can have such wonderful times by themselves, but we are dependent on them for amusement."

Tom Coxon: "Why not make it a tradition that seniors be allowed to smoke in classrooms. In that way the professors could easily pick out those who need credit in the courses most. Too often they mistake a senior for a fresh and flunk him on general principles."

Virginia Plattenburg: "We freshman girls get just as hungry on Sunday evenings as any other time, therefore I believe that a tradition compelling men who take us out to dinner to buy us something more than club sandwiches is not unreasonable."

THE difference between an 8 o'clock in the morning and an 8 o'clock in the evening is that you have to be shaved for one and you don't have to be shaved for the other.

"Down and out," he said, as his wife pushed him off the front porch.

URGES UNITED PRESSURE FOR DISARMAMENT

Mrs. La Follette Delivers Stirring Address at Capitol

"If public opinion ever put over anything, it can put over disarmament, not because it is so idealistic but because it is so sensible," declared Mrs. Robert La Follette, in her address on disarmament before a packed audience in the Assembly chambers at the State capitol, Sunday evening.

"American people must make clear to President Harding and to congress that they expect success of the International Disarmament conference convening on November 11, but that they will not be crushed by a single defeat should they at that time be disappointed."

"Let us flood the White House with petitions for recommendations of a lower armament appropriation in the president's message to congress, and press our representatives to register the sentiment of their constituents in debate, for the international conference will be working always with an eye on the trend of contemporary legislation in regard to armament programs."

Wants Free Discussion
"Insist above all things upon freedom of press and discussion of the movements of the conference and relevant legislation for it is only behind the closed doors of secrecy that disunionists will have the bravery to disregard forward-looking public opinion."

Mrs. E. C. Hoebel, president of the Madison branch of the Wisconsin Women's Progressive association, opened the meeting and announced the proposed meetings to be held at noon in Music hall during disarmament week under the auspices of the Collegiate League of Women's Voters at which A. B. Hall, M. C. Otto, Carl Russell Fish, Graham Stuart, and Dean Goodnight will be speakers.

Eustace Haydon of the University of Chicago introduced the speaker of the evening. Governor and Mrs. John J. Blaine and Miss Gena Thompson, secretary of the Wisconsin Women's Progressive association were on the platform.

KAMERA KRAFT TO PRINT DIRECTORY FOR FRATERNITIES

The Kamera Kraft shop will publish a directory of fraternity men and women which it is to be named "Greek Letter Folks." The booklet is to contain the names and addresses of every fraternity man and woman at Wisconsin. It will contain also many other items of information pertaining to Greek letter organizations.

These booklets will be distributed free of charge if the price of publication is not prohibitive. The book will be ready for distribution about November 15.

COMMERCE MAG APPEALS TO ALL

Is Likened to "The American"
—Noted Writers Contribute

By WALTER K. SCHWINN

The question of just what should be the aims and functions of a campus magazine — any campus publication, in fact — has been a pertinent one for some time. The Lit, the Cardinal, the Engineers' Mag, all have been wondering; each has discussed the question, and each, as far as I can learn, has passed the query on to the student — "What do you want?"

The appearance of the Commerce Mag on the campus shows clearly one solution that has been found and put into practice. It is a solution based on good editorial reasoning of a sort, the belief in the popular appeal. The Commerce Mag states clearly its purposes: to reach out to the business world, and from contact with actual working and thinking men to inspire the students in the commerce course. And the Mag, in following out this line of reasoning, has taken this line of appealing to the mass of students in the manner of successful national publications. The Mag is, under this new regime, like no magazine so much as the American. Whatever your reaction to that judgment, the Mag is successful in its policy, and succeeds in putting across its material in the manner that it has chosen.

From the frontispiece, portraying the senior and his eternal question, "What have I gained?", through the answers from Prof. William A. Scott, Dr. Albert Ochsner, Thomas E. Wilson, of Wilson & Co., Chicago, Miss Zona Gale, the author of the famous Miss Lulu Bett, Justice Marvin B. Rosenberry of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, and Will Hays, postmaster general of the United States, down to Prof. "Al" Haake's dictum concerning low grades, we find all of the American's characteristics. The headings — "What Will You Take Away?", "Get the Other Fellow's Viewpoint" (this is Mr. Hays' article, and the best of the whole group), and "Sell Something—Anything for a Year" all show American tactics. We even find pertinent paragraphs boxed into the article itself, proposing to give the meat of the story, we presume, that he who runs might read.

The magazine is excellently gotten up; it presents a pleasing appearance, the pen and ink illustrations are attractive, and the articles well written. Of one thing we are sure: each article is valuable and presents in a definite manner a definite notion. Too, the Commerce Mag is wide in its scope, and ought to be of interest to the most confirmed L. & S. student. The editors may be sure that the Mag does make a definite appeal, and whether or not we care for our inspiration in this form, we must admit that it is successful of its sort and very much worth while, both in writing and in reading.

BIG TEN TEAMS PREPARE FOR HARD BATTLES

Conference Leaders Hold Positions After Saturday's Games

BIG TEN STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Wisconsin	3	0	1.000
Chicago	2	0	1.000
Iowa	2	0	1.000
Ohio State	2	0	1.000
Minnesota	2	2	.500
Michigan	1	1	.500
Indiana	0	1	.000
Purdue	0	2	.000
Illinois	0	3	.000
Northwestern	0	3	.000

Western football games ran fairly true to form last Saturday, the leaders of the Big Ten conference remaining unchanged. Wisconsin, Iowa, Chicago, and Ohio State still remain in the 1000 per cent column.

The Illinois-Michigan clash was the most exciting battle of the day, the Wolverines finally emerging victorious by a 3 to 0 score. Steketee booted a drop kick which was the only counter scored during the game. Roby was the outstanding star of the day, as he rarely failed to gain through the Illini line.

The defeat makes things look quite dubious for Zuppke this season. They have now suffered three straight conference reversals, and Chicago and Ohio State are the teams remaining on their schedule. Zuppke's material was weak this year, and even his veterans have been hard hit by ineligibility and injuries. A number of the men are sophomores, however, and they will form the nucleus of a powerful team next year.

Iowa Preparing for Gophers

The Boilermakers gave the hopeful Iowans a much better fight than was expected. Coach Jones now has his attention concentrated on the Minnesota struggle. Devine is playing the greatest game of his career, and it would not be surprising if he would come in for a share of All-American consideration at the end of the season.

Notre Dame decisively settled the question as to the championship of Indiana by defeating the Hoosiers 28 to 7. Coach Rockne's team is beginning to show some of the form which gave them a record of ten years of continuous victories. Indiana still have hopes of defeating Iowa in their homecoming game on November 12. A victory over Jones' crew at that time would atone for the several defeats received from conference teams this season. This game and one with Purdue will end the Indiana schedule.

Elimination Fight Saturday

Chicago received a good mid-season workout in the game with Colorado. Stagg used his regulars for only a few minutes of the contest, and then jerked them so that nothing would happen to them before the elimination game with Ohio State next Saturday. The final score at Colorado was 35 to 0. Captain McGuire was the only one of the regulars who finished the game. The game which will take place on Stagg field Saturday will probably be one of the greatest ever played there. Both teams are well-coached and both have a bunch of plays and formations that are almost sure ground gainers.

Northwestern won its first game of the season when a 34 to 0 victory was registered over De Pauw. McDevitt reconstructed his team last week, and the offense that they presented against the collegians was an entirely new one which looks as though it might be effective against Purdue and possibly Iowa.

Marquette Beaten Aggies
Marquette was victorious over fleet team this year.

TEAM RATED AS BEST SINCE 1912

Versatility of Grid Backfield is Factor in Badger Victories

Probably the best Wisconsin football team since the championship eleven of 1912 showed its wares to 27,000 Homecoming spectators when the Badgers trampled on Minnesota and spoiled the reputation of the Minnesota shift Saturday. The tune of 35 to 0, was welcome music in the ears of Wisconsin homecomers, especially those who remembered the 19 to 6 beating administered by the Gophers in 1919.

"Doc" Williams and his over-rated Minnesota shift were completely non-plussed by the manner in which Badger forwards sized up and stopped the plays. Not only were the linesmen on top of the ball-carrier before he pushed through the line of scrimmage, but the backfield men, especially Capt. Sundt, frequently hit the line plunger simultaneously with the forward wall men.

Gopher Line Fails to Hold

The heavy Gopher line was at a loss to hold Wisconsin. "Trig" Johnson was swept aside by the steady charging of Jim Brader. "Rollie" Williams drove his backs through Johnson's tackle time and again, and many of the early gains which disheartened the northmen were the result of Brader's slicing of his opponent. Wisconsin men were down under punts with surprising speed. Several times the linesman clustered around Brown, Minnesota quarter, ready to tackle him before the punt had lazily dropped into his arms.

The Wisconsin backfield ranks with the great Driver, Larson, Cochens trio. That it is versatile as shown in the performance of Woods, a back who can be shifted to end and perform there like a veteran, of Williams who can handle the team unerringly at quarter and still run the ball like a halfback, and of "T" Gould who can play the game well as offensive half and defensive end. By their great playing on Saturday, every Badger back made himself a possibility for positions on honorary elevens.

Backfield Easily Shifted

Wisconsin now has two sets of backs who can be shifted around in amazing fashion in case one of the regulars should be injured. Gibson and Williams can pilot the squad and both are good for substantial gains on returning punts. Gould and Williams are both steady ground gainers at left half. Elliott has a dependable relief man in "Jimmy" Woods, who scored a touchdown in the Illinois game by following the ball, and Capt. Sundt has Crozier to step into the breach when the Badger leader is taken out.

The Badger squad will begin today its preparation for the Michigan contest on Saturday, Nov. 12. Practice early in the week will be lighter than it has been during the last fortnight, but Coach Richards will drive his men hard next week and they are expected to be at the top of their game for the first contest with Michigan since 1905.

the Michigan Aggies by a score of 7 to 0. This was the first game this year that the Milwaukee team looked at all as it should. The Junior-Wolverines put up a plucky fight. Beloit recovered from its slump and defeated Knox college 13 to 7.

Almost every team in the country is being put through the hardest practice of the year, as many crucial and bitterly contested battles will take place on the country's gridirons next Saturday.

J. S. Wood, West Point and commandant of the University of Wisconsin R. O. T. C., is an accredited official of the Western Intercollegiate conference.

BADGER HARRIERS ARE CONTENDERS FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Finkle and Wall Show Wall Against Gophers—Meet Chicago Next

When the Wisconsin harriers defeated the Gopher squad in their first meet Saturday they proved that Wisconsin will be among the leading contenders for the Big Ten honors this fall. In the conference meet at Bloomington on the 19th the Badgers' only dangerous rivals will be Illinois, Purdue, and Ames.

In George Finkle and Mark Wall, Coach Burke has two men to rival any distance men in the conference. Finkle, two miler on the 1921 track team, has improved wonderfully this year, and appears even better in the longer distance than in the two mile run. In running the 4.7 mile course, wet and slippery as it was Saturday, in 25 minutes 43 seconds, he has shown that he will give Furnas, Purdue's little marvel who won the conference meet last year, a strong race for first place in the big meet this season. Furnas' time for the five miles was 26 minutes 30 seconds.

Wall Dependable

Captain Wall is an experienced and dependable runner and can be counted on to place well toward the front in any meet. The other members of the team, although new at the hill and dale sport, have shown much ability, and after the experience of the Chicago meet this Saturday will be fairly well versed in the art of real racing.

The Illini showed their strength in the cross country department Saturday by defeating both Michigan and Ohio State decisively in a triangular meet. McGinnis of Illinois finished the five mile course in first place. Chute, of Michigan, placed second, and following him, the rest of the Illinois squad came in for third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh positions. Ohio was third in the meet.

Badgers Meet Chicago Next

The Chicago squad which the Badger runners will oppose Saturday has few strong runners. Moore, of Chicago, who placed second in the dual meet here last fall, will not be available this season. Their probable lineup will be: Barnes, Bowers, Davis, Kayton, and Spruth, none of whom are dangerous. Coach Burke expects to bring home the first seven places.

Negotiations are being made to make the meet a triangular affair, bringing in Northwestern. The Evanstonians got away to a late start in cross country and were unable to schedule any meets. Their addition to the race will not change Wisconsin's prospects for a victory in the least, but will serve to make the meet more interesting as there is always keen rivalry between the two Chicago schools.

Squad Leaves Friday

The Badger squad will leave for Chicago Friday. The meet will be on Saturday morning, and in the afternoon the men will have an opportunity to see the Chicago-Ohio State football game. They will return to Madison Saturday night.

ELLIOTT WINS THE SHOES

Alvah C. Elliott, familiarly known as "Rowdy," won a pair of Nunn-Bush shoes and $10 worth of trade in the Sport Goods store for making the first touchdown against Minnesota.

"Put on that sheepskin so you won't get stiff," "Big Jawn" ordered a Badger who was resting. The athlete made no move. "What's the matter, isn't it the latest style in coats?" growled Richards. "T" put it on.

S. W. Anderson is a Wisconsin man on the list of football officials compiled by the Western conference.

John Wilce, Ohio State coach, put Weston and Elliott on his 1920 All-Western conference team.

BASKET TEAM MAKES STRONG BID FOR TITLE

Prospects Brightened by Wealth of Strong
Material

With a wealth of new material to draw upon, and the reporting of three veterans from last year's five, which tied for the conference championship, Coach Meanwell has every prospect of developing a basketball machine that will be a strong contender for conference honors.

Ex-captain Taylor and Ceaser will be found back at their old forward positions when the season begins, and either Rollie Williams or Gus Tebell will play the running guard. This means that new men will have to be broken in to fill the places left vacant by Frognier and McIntosh. The candidates for these jobs were members of the yearling squad last year and, since they have the Badger mentor's system of play pretty well in hand, it may reasonably be expected that Wisconsin will be represented by fully as good a team as it was last year.

Johnson New Center

Johnson seems to be the man who will work in at center. He has had considerable basketball experience and was one of the stars on the freshman squad last year. While he is not as tall as might be desired for the pivot job, he has strength, weight, and speed, three qualities which are a big asset to him. He seems to be working into the team-play well, and there is reason for belief that he will be playing a high-grade brand of basketball before his first season of conference ball is over.

Back Guard Unsettled

The question as to who will fill the back guard position is still unsettled. Gibson, Gill, Brumm, and Irish are possibilities, but as all except the former are on the football squad, little can be foretold of their basketball ability at this time. Gibson's play has improved a great deal, and the fact that he will have been out since the beginning of practice gives him a slight advantage over the others.

Foy, Elsom, Bell, Rudeger, and Amborn will probably be used to relieve Ceaser and Taylor at the forward positions for a portion of the time. Bareis seems to possess the qualities of a running guard and he will doubtless see action during the year. "Bill" Feirn will probably serve as understudy to Johnson. He is tall, but is a little too inexperienced to be much used this year. He gives, however, every evidence of coming through in good shape after a year's experience on the squad.

NO COMPLAINT ON TICKET SALE

"Everybody satisfied" is the statement of approbation made by students when they speak of the efficient manner in which ticket sales for the Homecoming game were handled this year. This, despite the fact that Robert C. Quick, manager of ticket sales, was forced to contend with counterfeiting of tickets and that the largest crowd in the history of football at Wisconsin was handled at Randall field Saturday.

Twenty-seven thousand fans saw the Badgers beat Minnesota, 35 to 0, last Saturday. So efficiently were orders handled and applicants for seats placed that the wooden, old concrete, and new concrete stands were wholly filled.

Since applications for tickets were sent in weeks ago, Manager Quick has been busied with handling the problem of a record Homecoming crowd. With a corps of assistants he has assigned the seats and had them in the mails on scheduled time. Few persons complained of their locations at the game.

High School Students Need Opportunities

Supt. Callahan Urges
More Chances for Youth
at Kiwanis Meeting

Pointing out the necessity of providing unlimited opportunities in high school for the young people in order that they might not all be funnelled into clerical and professional lines, John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction, addressed the Kiwanis club this noon at the city Y. M. C. A. His subject was The Problems of the Educational Systems of Wisconsin.

He gave a survey of the vast changes which have taken place in the high schools in the state during the past 20 years. He declared that more than 50 per cent of the students must make their living by engaging in some sort of industry.

Mr. Callahan also spoke of the rural schools and showed that improvements had been made as far as possible unless rural consolidation takes place.

"Where roads are good and conditions are favorable consolidation makes possible better teachers and improved schoolroom facilities with no increase in expense to the rural residents," explained Mr. Callahan.

Salvation Army Uses Funds for Bureau Work

The sum requested of the public for the service of the Salvation Army embraces provision for all state rescue and maternity work, and the relief work of the corps, its bureau of missing persons, anti-suicide bureau, free employment bureau, work among service and ex-service men, Americanization program and industrial homes. The drive for funds opens today.

The little bands of gray velvet mean much to this light georgette frock. Shrimp colored georgette combined with gray is the color combination. The bands of velvet trim the loose sleeves and the side panels of the frock, both of which are made of the gray. Note the uneven bottom, which is a fad of the moment.

The new Stratford styles for Fall and Winter definitely attest to the fact that Stratford designers are anticipating America's style trend. Stratford Clothes are distinguished by several vitally important and exclusive designing and tailoring features. For instance, the life of Stratford overcoats is greatly prolonged by the Namsirr Method, a process of strengthening the texture by totally stitching the cuffs and continental patch pockets with very fine silk.

GERMAN SITUATION TOLD BY WOLF AT BADGER CLUB MEET

A crowd attended the meeting of the Badger club Sunday night in spite of the many Homecoming activities and the inclemency of the weather.

The address of the evening was given by Secretary "Dad" Wolf on the political situation in Germany. Mr. Wolf spent the summer in personal investigations of conditions in Germany, and it is his belief that the success of democracy and the republic is assured there.

He bases his belief upon two points: first, that the vast majority of common people contrary to press reports are anxious for a republic; and second, that the strong est parties and factions in Germany just now are those upholding the democracy.

"Since the war," said Mr. Wolf, "the labor unions in Germany have doubled their memberships and in a great measure are responsible for the agitation against the restoration of the monarchy. The monarchical parties are in truth in the minority and are divided against themselves as to religion and ultimate form of government." Harold B. Schier '22, as chairman of the social committee for the club announced a barn dance and Holloween party for Friday night, Nov. 4. "Doc" Dorward entertained the organization with his songs.

Do This Tonight

Watch the quick effects—see the change in a week

Present this coupon to your dealer. He will give you a delightful ten-day test of a new teeth-cleaning method which millions are employing.

Watch the effects, quick, pleasant and conspicuous. Watch the new luster that comes. In ten days let your mirror tell you the way to pretty teeth.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this method now. You will see and feel the reasons when you make this test.

End the dingy film

The chief purpose is to fight film. This viscous coat, which you can feel, causes dingy teeth and also most tooth troubles.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The old ways of brushing did not end it. So film-coats night and day threaten serious damage.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing. Despite the daily brushing with old methods, very few escaped them.

Now you can fight it

Dental science, after long research, has found ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved them effective. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in Pepsodent, the new-day, scientific tooth paste. Millions of people now use it, and the use is fast spreading the world over.

That is the dentifrice we urge you to try. Your druggist has a free tube for you. Enjoy its effects for ten days, then judge them for yourself.

Also starch and acids

Modern diet makes other things essential. And those essentials are embodied in this scientific tooth paste.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's agent for neutralizing acids which attack the teeth.

An ideal diet would do these same things, but few people get it. So dental science now needs the tooth paste to bring these desired effects.

Pepsodent will daily bring you five great benefits which the old ways did not bring. Together they mean a new era in teeth cleaning.

Men's tobacco stains

Men who smoke stain these film-coats with tobacco. The use of Pepsodent brings them conspicuous effects.

Food stains with women make these film-coats dingy. The glistening teeth seen everywhere now show how Pepsodent removes them.

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Very few escape them. Dentists advise that they use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

Watch teeth whiten

The results of Pepsodent are quickly seen and felt. No user can long doubt them. A book we send explains the reasons for them. A very short test will convince you that this new way is essential.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

Then you will see and feel and know that Pepsodent is necessary. You will realize that old methods were not right. And this discovery may bring life-long benefits both to you and yours. Present this coupon to any dealer named this week. Cut it out now.

SHALL WE KNOW THE TRUTH?

THE university faculty's refusal of the gymnasium to the Wisconsin Social Science club for the Scott Nearing lecture was in our opinion an undiplomatic, unscientific, and unethical action and has unfortunately resulted in misunderstanding and possible ill-will toward the university.

The authorities contended that Scott Nearing is an extreme radical thinker and is further unfitted to address a university audience by his indictment during the war for having violated the espionage act. Of the latter he was formally acquitted by the court and as for his being radical, it would be folly to think that being a radical automatically bars one from the circle of university minds. After all, Scott Nearing did not appear so furious with revolutionary passion as some thought he would be. He hurt no one. He burnt no one's fingers. It seemed quite ridiculous to think that such a man should be barred from a university which professes to teach truth, which can only be ascertained by viewing all sides of a question and not blinding oneself to the issues at hand.

But the sort of man Scott Nearing is, is not in question. It is the principle involved that makes us voice our protest. A group of students designated their willingness to hear a man, not to accept his point of view, but to judge his thought in the light of their own experience and knowledge, and the university authorities said to them "You shall not hear him at our hall."

When men's opinions are crushed, when they are ostracized and hounded and gagged, they become martyrs and their martyrdom spreads like fire in a windstorm. People who never have given the thought of such men one moment's consideration flame with indignation at what they believe to be a violation of a fundamental human right—the right to free expression. It is only when pressure is thrust on the opinions of men that the passions flare up, that men become fanatical and blind and impervious to sound reasoning.

On the other hand, let men reason one with another without restraint and they are more likely to appreciate one another's point of view. Progress, which implies the free exchange of opinions, is only possible when opinions are permitted to be expressed without fear or restraint.

Moreover, the student body deems it its right to demand that it be not everlasting coddled with pussyfoot ideas so that its vision will be warped and its will and reason become walled against progressive thought. They have a right to demand to hear all sides. They have the right to decide what to believe and what not to believe. That is at the bottom of our common democracy

The student body wants to know reality, not veiled and mystified with hollow phrases, but they want to know reality, unvarnished, naked, and bare, from the lips of men and women who have lived and have met with the jars and jolts of the world. They have the right to know the ideas and reactions of such people and no faculty is justified in keeping truth and what men think and feel from students.

A BROADER APPEAL

THE Commerce magazine makes its initial bow this year with a radically changed policy. The magazine has discarded its technical nature and henceforth intends to make its appeal to all classes and conditions of students. In other words, the Commerce magazine aims to become a popular publication.

This is a commendable move. The campus is well stocked with technical magazines, each one meeting some particular need. There should be more emphasis now on the appeal to the common interests of all the students.

The first number of the Commerce magazine fulfills the requirements of such a publication. Articles of general interest have been specially contributed by Zona Gale, Dr. Albert Ochsner, Thomas E. Wilson, Judge Rosenberry, and Will H. Hays—a formidable array of big men and writers.

Good luck to the "Mag" in its new venture.

THE BAND

While we are singing the praises of the other university organizations, let us not forget to show our appreciation of the band. Whenever there is something doing the band is always at hand ready with music appropriate for the occasion. The fact that they are always on the job is a commendable characteristic, for we have all felt the temptation to back out occasionally when we do not feel inclined to participate in an event.—Daily Nebraskan.

HOECOMING AND THE UNION

The most eloquent argument for a Memorial Union that has yet come to notice was the recent Homecoming. The armory was packed and jammed more than half an hour before the mass meeting was scheduled to begin. A disappointed overflow crowd was sent to Music hall and tried to get peped up. The desperate need for an auditorium large enough to hold such crowds was never clearer.

The Memorial Union will meet this need. A spacious auditorium is one of the big features of the plan. At least 2,200 seats are contemplated in the present plans. Even this number is not large enough. The auditorium should seat not less than 3,000.

Another fact that made a deep impression this year was the absence of any place where the grads could get together. They were dependent on fraternity houses as places of meeting or else the public streets. A world of good could be accomplished by having a common meeting place where old friendships can be revived.

STEBBINS TO BE PROFESSOR OF ASTRONOMY

Will Direct Observatory Here in Place of Prof. Comstock

Prof. Joel Stebbins, now professor of astronomy at the University of Illinois, has been appointed director of the Washburn observatory and professor of astronomy at the University of Wisconsin, beginning July 1, 1922, to succeed Prof. George C. Comstock, who has been director of the observatory since 1889 and has reached the age of retirement.

Professor Comstock will carry on his work as director of the observatory during the present academic year. Dr. Stebbins will act as non-resident professor of astronomy during the present year and assist in the refitting of the observatory apparatus.

Dr. Stebbins, who received his higher education at the universities of Nebraska, Wisconsin, and Munich, and at Lick observatory of the University of California, has been a member of the department of astronomy at the University of Illinois since 1903 and director of the observatory there since 1913. He is a member of the National Research council, as well as of several learned societies, and is well known because of his contributions to astronomical journals, principally on stellar photometry.

TWO GRADUATES DO NEWSPAPER WORK IN CHINA

Word was recently received at the Cardinal office that Lloyd A. Lehrbas, Journalism '19, and Bert L. Kuhn, B. A. ex-'17, have sailed on the "Hawkeye State" for Shanghai to do special correspondence work for the American newspapers in China. They will be connected with the China Press, which is the only first class American daily published in China.

Both Mr. Kuhn and Mr. Lehrbas have until recently been connected with the Manila Daily Bulletin as night and day city editors. Mr. Kuhn will continue to handle make-up work in China as he did for the Bulletin.

Mr. Lehrbas made his initial start in the humorous section of newspapers by his contributions to "Skyrockets" under the name of "Larry." He has been running a humorous column called "The Crow's Nest" in the Manila Bulletin and will undoubtedly continue along this line in his work in Shanghai as American humor there is scarce.

The two will visit Hong Kong and Canton, where Mr. Lehrbas will interview President Sun Yat Sen of South China.

TRADITIONS TO BE SUBJECT OF STUDENT VOTE

Recommended Changes to Be Considered in New Referendum

Traditions, one of the main points of controversy among the student body since the unfortunate fight between the freshman and sophomore classes on Cap night on June 5, in which eight men were hurt by phosphorous and incendiary bombs, will again require the attention of the students in the referendum, November 11.

That the wearing of the green cap and the staging of the class rush and Cap night are favored by an overwhelming majority of students was shown by the referendum called by the Student Senate on September 26. The referendum was the result of student indignation at the action of the senate in abolishing all traditions after the fight on Cap night.

Commission Investigates
A traditions commission representing all shades of student opinion was appointed after the September referendum to investigate the traditions situation. Its recommendation that the old Student Court be revived was accepted, and its other recommendations will be presented to the student body at the coming election.

The donning of the green cap at the Varsity welcome, removal of the visor and red button from the cap, and a change of Cap night to an all-university ceremony in which the seniors would take an important part are among the questions to be submitted on November 11.

Reapportionment
Reapportionment of members in the Student Senate and the Student Court by the various colleges instead of classes was among the recommendations from the commission. The proposal is as follows:

A. Shall the members of the Student Court be selected on the following basis: On the first Monday of June of each year the Dean or director of the Colleges of Letters and Science, Agriculture, and Engineering, Schools of Law and Medicine and the Course in Commerce shall nominate as follows:

Letters and Science—five juniors and five sophomores.

Agriculture—Five juniors.

Engineering—five juniors and five sophomores.

Law—five juniors in the law school.

Medicine—five juniors in the School of Medicine.

Commerce—five juniors and five sophomores.

On the first Friday of June of each year, if this is passed, the juniors in the above named colleges shall be supplied with ballots and shall from and in their respective colleges elect of the five so nominated for the office of justice of the Student Court for the term of one year. The sophomores in the college of Letters and Science, and the Course in Commerce and school of Engineering shall similarly elect one of the five so nominated for the office of justice of the Student Court for the term of one year. Members of the court shall be ineligible to hold or run for other offices during their term of office on the court.

B. Shall the Student Senate be empowered to appoint justices to the Student Court (acting under the powers already granted by charter to the Student Court) to hold until the spring election?

C. Shall the basis of direct representation in the Student Senate be changed from a class to a college basis—on the following terms: Instead of five seniors, three juniors and two sophomores elected as direct representatives, there shall be two qualified male electors, one from the senior class and one from the junior class, elected from the college of Letters and Science, Commerce, Agriculture, and Engineering, and one qualified male elector elected from the schools of Law and Medicine?

(This will not affect the position of freshman president or the Graduate School representative or board representatives?

Propose Field Day

The holding of a field day for the freshman and sophomore classes is another recommendation from the traditions commission:

"We recommend that a committee composed of the captains of all Varsity sports organize, manage and conduct a field day in which the freshman and sophomore classes shall compete through their representatives in boxing, wrestling, football, and various other athletic contests."

The day shall end with a tug of war between the two classes in which as many shall take part as there are men in the smaller class. The winner of the day shall be declared the custodian of Wisconsin's Badger which it shall retain until the next year. The Badger shall be placed in a conspicuous spot in the Memorial Union with a card accompanying it bearing the class numerals of the custodians. Until the Memorial Union has been completed, it shall be placed in a fitting spot in the men's gymnasium," says the report.

"This recommended change is not to take the place of the class rush."

The sophomores are concerned in two of the proposed changes in traditions. Disrespect to upperclassmen and sitting or loitering about Lincoln terrace or the fence in front of the gymnasium bring penalties to the second year men as well as freshmen.

Traditions Nearly Lost

But for the student referendum on September 26, Wisconsin would be without the green cap, the class rush, and Cap night at the present time. Shortly after the fight on Cap night last spring, the senate investigated the causes of the eruption and as a result abolished these traditions.

Students in the university promptly took sides. At an indignation meeting held a couple of days before the closing of classes, many students, including those prominent in athletics and forensics, hotly debated the action of the senate.

A protest was sent to the senate upon which the legislative body arranged for the September referendum which ended favorably for the supporters of traditions.

IBANEZ'S NOVEL
GRAND THEATER

"Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" Starts Ten Day
Run Thursday

Theater-goers of Madison are to have their first opportunity of seeing the widely heralded "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," acclaimed by many critics as "the greatest photoplay ever screened." This picture is to be shown here at the Grand beginning Thursday.

It is a screen version of Vicente Blasco Ibanez' great novel, which set all the world talking when it was published four years ago. Young Rex Ingram directed the making of the film, from the scenario arranged by June Mathis. The company numbers thousands, with a long list of principals including such screen artists as Rudolph Valentino, Alice Terry, Wallace Beery, John Sanpolis, Mabel Van Buren, Stuart Holmes, "Bull" Montana, and two score others.

In making the scenario, Miss Mathis has followed the novel with gratifying fidelity. Scenes range from the wide plains of the Argentine, where the Centaur Madariag lords it over his huge flocks and herds, to Paris of the gay pre-war days. Then we are shown some tremendous and thrilling glimpses of the battles along the now historic Marne river, such battle scenes as never have been screened before and never will be screened again.

One sees the love story of Julio Desnoyers and the beautiful Marguerite Laurier unfold in young Julio's romantic Parisian studio, fascinating scenes show genuine Tangos danced in the cabarets of Bueno Ayres; the charming heart episodes of Chichi and her "little soldier," are depicted with touching skill. And through it all, fit the grim figures of the Apocalypse horsemen, war, famine, pestilence, and death.

Each performance is accompanied by an elaborate musical program arranged especially for "The Four Horsemen," by Ernest Luz. Seat sale begins Tuesday.

or nothing to the general picture public. Working from a scenario written by June Mathis and approved by the Spanish author himself, Ingram has produced a play which it is claimed will take its place among the great screen stories.

Mr. Ingram is an Irishman. He is 29 years old, was born in Dublin and graduated from the Trinity college, where his father was a professor. Having studied about life in the classroom, he started out to find out about life as it really was. He has been a sailor, an actor on the stage and screen, a scenario writer, a director, and he saw service in the great war as a member of the Canadian Flying Corps.

It was in 1911 that Mr. Ingram came to America and the career in the ten years between then and now has embraced a variety of experiences calculated to give him the wide and valuable knowledge of life necessary to a director of pictures. He entered Yale with the class of 1914. At the Art school he met Lee O. Lawrie, who was the professor and sculptor. Mr. Ingram not only studied under this master but later became his assistant. Ingram's first picture experience was with the old Edison company, writing scenarios and acting for the screen. From this concern he went to become a member of the old Vitagraph stock company, playing opposite Lillian Walker, Leah Baird, Helen Gardner and Clara Kimball Young, as well as continuing to write scripts. Later he was with Fox and the Universal companies. He has produced "Shore Acres," "Hearts Are Trumps," and "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" under Metro.

Five More Students Seek Places on Governing Body

Samuel Becker '22, Harold M. Kuckuk '22, Maynard W. Brown '23, Wayne L. Morse '23, and M. H. Albertz, graduate student, have announced their candidacies for student senate.

Becker, who is majoring in political science, has been active in dramatics. He is a member of Haresfoot club and had one of the leads in "Miss Quita," a play put on by the club last spring. Becker had charge of the Haresfoot act in the Homecoming carnival, besides being a member of the special features committee. His home is in Milwaukee.

Since transferring as a sophomore from Ripon college, Harold Kuckuk, who is also running independently for senior representative on the Senate, has played on the Second Regimental band, and has rowed on the Agric crew, in addition to being a member of Saddle and Sirloin club and of the Agricultural literary society. He is an associate editor of the Wisconsin Country magazine. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Zeta, and the American legion.

Wayne L. Morse, candidate for junior representative, was secretary of the recent traditions commission, and is at present a team captain in the Memorial Union drive. He is active in university forensics, being a varsity debater, wearer of the Vilas medal, a member of Delta so that reservations may be made.

Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, and treasurer of the forensic board. Morse is also a member of White Spades, Edwin Booth, and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. His home is in Madison.

Maynard W. Brown, a second candidate for junior representative, was treasurer of the class in his sophomore year and a member of the editorial staff of the Daily Cardinal. Ralph E. Axley is a candidate for Senate on the Gibson and Gibson ticket. He was a member of Hesperia's joint debate team last year and participated in the inter-collegiate debate against Illinois, early in the spring. Axley is a member of Delta Sigma Xilo, honorary forensics fraternity, and a wearer of the Vilas medal.

The candidacy of M. H. Albertz '20, as graduate member of the Student Senate, has been announced. He majored in economics, receiving his B. A. degree in 1920 and his M. A. degree in 1921.

City's Quota For Memorial Near $100,000

Teams Will Solicit Funds
Nov. 5 to 12; Big Sum
is Pledged

Emerson Ela, Madison attorney, has accepted the chairmanship of Dane county in the drive to raise $100,000 in Madison as the city's share toward the $1,000,000 Memorial building to be erected on the lower campus.

Mr. Ela declared that he has given the matter careful consideration before accepting the chairmanship, but that he felt that it was the most important thing that lay before the citizens of Madison at the present time to discharge their obligation in this matter by raising Madison's quota.

"The University of Wisconsin is without any question Madison's biggest asset," said Mr. Ela. "The citizens of Madison have never been called upon to do anything in a financial way to show their appreciation of this institution. The growth of Madison in the past has been due largely to the growth of this university and its growth in the future will depend much upon the future growth of the university. To have erected on the shores of Lake Mendota at the foot of Langdon street a $1,000,000.00 structure for the accommodation of the students of this university will be a drawing card to ever increasing numbers of students and I have no doubt that the enrollment will increase by thousands by the time this structure is completed or shortly thereafter."

Madison's campaign to raise her share of the university's $1,000,000 Memorial Union Building fund will be conducted from Nov. 5 to 12, along with the campaign among the students and faculty members at the university. This announcement was made by the committee formed at the Association of Commerce Tuesday.

The quota for Dane county, most of which will have to come from the city of Madison, has been fixed at $100,000—one tenth of the amount to be spent in giving Madison another university building. Some subscriptions have already been taken among the city's business houses, but no complete canvass has as yet been made. It is planned to have from 15 to 20 teams of business men.

While a business men's committee is at work, a committee of 500 students will be at work raising a similar amount at the university. Students and faculty members have already raised a total of $100,000 towards the Memorial project and leaders of the coming campaign are confident that another $100,000, if not more, will be raised.

Plans for the campaign at the university have been under way for several weeks, under the direction of Loyal F. Baker, '22, Evansville, Wis., general chairman. The general Memorial committee has already obtained subscriptions for a total of $500,000.

No trace of the crew of four was found. According to Capt. Carl Olson, U. S. Coast Guards, the vessel probably sprang a leak swamped and rolled over. There was no storm and no signs of collision.

Cantilever Shoes and Oxfords

Great Opportunity for School Teachers and Mothers

Cantilever Shoes are recommended to be worn by school teachers and mothers who wish to be sensibly and well dressed. The arch of Cantilever Shoes is flexible like the foot arch. There is no strip of steel concealed in the shank of these shoes as in all ordinary shoes. The well curved shank provides restful and healthful support, which obviates the tired feeling of long standing or walking. The flexible shank gives the arch muscles freedom to exercise, which corrects or prevents weak or fallen arches.

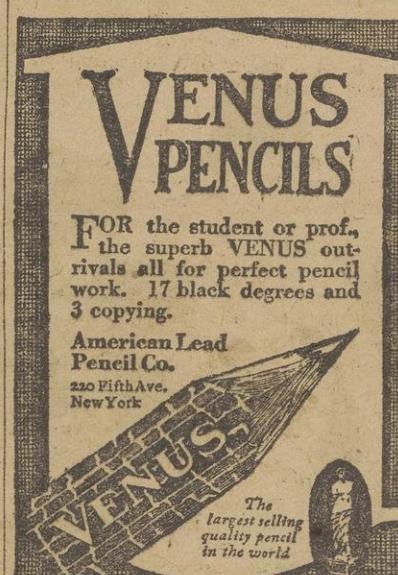

Comfortable toes, moderate or low heels, as you prefer, a natural shape which means comfort and good circulation are other enjoyable features of Cantilever Shoes.

Wear Cantilever Shoes and show the coming generation of womanhood that correct shoes are graceful and stylish, besides conducive to health and happiness. For this good influence you will be rewarded by the enjoyment of physical and mental comfort.

IT'S GOOD BILL TO FOLLOW THE WEEK-END EVENT

—THE CRITIC

By WILLIAM H. PURNELL

The powers that be juked our literary efforts last Friday in favor of Homecoming news. We were only too glad to make the small sacrifice, but, at that, the reading public benefited considerably. By the way, last Thursday's bill was a corker and the Homecomers enjoyed it immensely. Monday night, we had with us:

Arthur Davids

A good slack wire artist. He was a gentleman through the entire act and the audience liked him. His final stunt with the lighted lamp was excellent.

Weadick & La Due

They manipulated ropes and endangered the lives of the patrons in the first two or three rows.

Kennedy & Burt

Very, very sad.

Seven Little Sweethearts

A bunch of little kids who dance and sing. A demure miss of four years sang "Watah Gonna Do When There Ain't No Jazz?" proving that they learn young. One of the little boys, named Forbes, I believe, is a remarkable dancer. The children live up to their honeyed title.

Chabot & Tortini

Mr. Chabot, a Belgian, had lots of pep, too much, in fact at times. However, he was a success and his gyrations on the piano and violin were amusing. Miss Tortini is very good looking, in a vampish way, and the male population applauded her.

Sherman & De Forest & Co.

Hoakum that is 100 proof. A pair of rubes at a circus who caused laughter with their Sun Prairie manners and satisfaction with their close harmony.

Summary—the show will get by and furnish relief for Homecoming hangovers.

PRESS CLUB WILL HEAR STEENBERG
ON HEARST PAPER

"Working for Hearst" will be the subject of a talk by David K. Steenberg '23 at the meeting of Press club this evening at 5:30 in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall. Steenberg spent the last summer as a reporter on the Milwaukee News.

Students interested in journalism who wish to join Press club and have not yet handed in their applications for membership are asked by the club to present their applications to Margaret Daly '22, 428 Sterling court, before noon today. The applications, which should contain a summary of qualifications, will be voted on tonight.
