RUSHING RULES ARE APPROVED BY ASSOCIATION

Pan-Hellenic Expresses Favorable Opinion on Sorority Schedules

A favorable consensus of opinion relative to the adoption of the new rushing schedules for sororities was expressed at the meeting of the Pan Hellenic Association held yesterday.

Most of the measures discussed including the new system of beginning the rushing season with a tea on Wednesday, September 19, followed by two informal functions on both Friday and Saturday received the support of the representatives. The present plan is to have a second tea on Monday, September 24. After this event there will be a general consideration of rushees, after which assortment, invitations will be issued to an informal function on Thursday, September 26, followed by a formal affair on Saturday. In accordance with this outline, tea invitations may be issued any time after June 25. Final pledging will take place on Sunday September 30.

The problem of cutting down expenses during the rushing season by charging each rushee a sum of 35 cents for lunches and 50 cents for dinners was considered. The recommendation of an additional decrease in costs through the rule that each sorority will agree to hire a three piece orchestra for $25 for only one affair was taken up.

Discussions concerning the wearing of pins during rushing and the sole use of sorority houses for rushing purposes will hold over until the Pan-Hellenic meeting on February 5.

All considerations will be taken up at the first chapter meetings of next semester, after which the representatives will hold a joint meeting to cast ballots to determine the final adoption of the "proposed change. The ruling of forbidding a rushee to split the first four dates will be debated at the individual houses prior to the meeting of Pan-Hellenic.

LESS COAL WILL BE USED THIS MONTH

If the present temperature continues, 32000 tons of coal will be burned during the month of January at the University Central heating plant. In January 1922, with an average temperature of 17 degrees, 3624 tons were burned. From present indications, the average temperature for this month will be 20 degrees. While this January has a higher average temperature than January of last year, this December's average was 2.3 lower than the December temperature.

Not until one enters this world of boilers, pressure gauges and water pumps does he realize what constant care must be taken to keep the university warm. Into the nine boilers with their 350 H. P., water is pumped at the rate of 85000 lbs. an hour. The temperature in the furnaces is 2600 degrees F. during last year, 55,449,840 lbs. of water were evaporated.

The coal is coming in freely; 22 cars are now in town. The plant uses 2 1-2 cars a day, each car holding 45 tons. Four thousand tons are in storage at present.

Delta Pi Delta House is Damaged By Fire

Damage to the amount of $500 was done to the newly remodeled Delta Pi Delta house at 501 North Henry street by fire last night. Defective construction of a fire place was the cause of the fire.

Faulty insulation in the brick work about the fire place spread the heat to joists in the flooring of the parlor. The fire was discovered before it spread.

"There are many defective fire places about the city and they are causing lots of trouble," Fire Chief Chafles W. Heyl said. "Extremely cold weather makes extreme precautions necessary."

MANY NEW COURSES APPEAR ON THE HILL

More than ten new courses are to be incorporated in the curriculum of the university the second semester. The most important include four new courses in chemistry: Colloids, research in colloid chemistry, a seminary in biological applications of colloid chemistry, and a seminary in general colloid chemistry.

Three courses in education are to be offered the second semester. Cost and financing of public education and scientific studies in elementary education are included.

Two new courses in political science are local and rural government and a course on the government of dependencies. A course in literary pre-seminary has been added to the subjects in the Spanish department.

Advanced reporting will be an addition to the courses offered by the Journalism department.

REGENTS MAKE APPOINTMENTS

Grant Leaves of Absence and Adopt Summer Session Budget

Appointments, leaves of absence and the adoption of the summer school budget of $117,000 embraced the main action of the Board of Regents at its regular monthly meeting yesterday. Special committees are still working on the new dormitory plan, but no settlement has been reached yet.

President Birge gave the board an informal report in which he corrected the statement of Governor Blaine that the faculty of the university has been increasing more rapidly than the number of students in the decade 1911 to 1921.

Faculty Extension Work
"A very large number of the faculty is engaged in duties relating to extension, to the agricultural experiment stations, and similar duties performed for the benefit of the public, but which have no relation to the students at Madison," said President Birge.

"These members and also a great number of part-time teachers should be subtracted from the faculty list to get the number engaged on the actual teaching force. When this is done it will be seen that the number of students has increased faster than the faculty in the last 10 years," the president explained.

Act Upon Many Faculty Changes

The following changes in the faculty and instructional staff were acted upon:

In the College of Agriculture—Leave of absence for the year, 1923-24, was granted to Prof. L. J. Cole, chairman of the department of genetics. O. J. Noer was appointed half-time assistant in soils.

In the College of Letters and Science—Leave of absence for the second semester was granted to Prof. H. B. Lathrop, department of

Prom Cardinal to Appear at the Boxes Prom Night

A 24-page prom edition of The Cardinal will be published on prom night by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity.

The edition will be a prom souvenir containing the names of all prom-goers and interesting features about the coming and past proms. The entire editorial and business administration of the paper will be in the hands of junior members of the fraternity. Delivery will be made to the boxes at the capitol Friday night and the sale will be continued on Saturday.

Special features of the edition will be a history of prom queens and chairmen, movie features, prom rockets, stories of the prom-committee personnel and a two-page spread of prom photos. Lists of prom-goers must be in the hands of Dheim, 501 North Henry street, by January 29. Orders for delivery can be made with Fred L. Kildow at F. 2916.

REGISTRAR HAS NEW SEMESTER PLANS FINISHED

Announce Official Registration Schedule For Each College

Final arrangements have been completed for second semester registration, according to an official schedule issued yesterday afternoon by W. D. Hiestand, Registrar.

All students in the College of Letters and Science will register in Lathrop hall gymnasium from January 26 to 30 inclusive. Commerce students will register on January 26, freshmen, excepting commerce freshmen, on Saturday, January 27, sophomores, juniors and seniors with surnames from A-L will register January 29, and those with surnames from M-Z on January 30.

The members of the College of Engineering will report for registration in the Engineering auditorium Friday and Saturday morning.

Registration in the College of Agriculture will take place in 108 Agricultural hall, Thursday, January 25.

The students of the Law school, not including double registration, will register in 101 Bascom hall, January 22 and 23.

Graduates are given an early registration day on Wednesday, January 24, in 157 Bascom hall. Those who are not able to take advantage of this day, may register February 1 and 2.

Registration days for new, re-entered students, and transfers are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, January 31 to February 2.

STRAW VOTE TO BE POLLED ON S. G. A. SYSTEM

The question of disbanding the present S. G. A. board and of substituting the district system, was the subject of a short discussion at a meeting of the S. G. A. board in Lathrop parlors last evening.

Disbanding the board, which is composed of the S. G. A. representatives of the rooming houses, sorority houses and dormitories, would mean that the members would meet with the chairman of their territory, who is a member of the District board of S. G. A.

It was argued that this would bring the representatives into closer contact, for they would meet in smaller groups and a consequent improvement in methods of solving problems would follow.

On the other hand it was suggested that this change to the district system would be a case of over-organization and that the communication between the executive and legislative body would be indirect. The idea that the present utility of the district board in its helping the Y. W. C. A. and Crucible might be lost, should these other duties be added, was voiced. With the loss of the meetings of S. G. A. board there would also go the means of getting all the S. G. A. representatives together, it was brought out.

Copies of the amendment, embodying the substitution of the district system for S. G. A. board will be sent around to all the houses in order that a straw vote may be taken to see how the women as a whole feel about it.

WEATHER: CALM

Forecast predicts mostly calm weather for today. Tomorrow will be generally fair and much colder, with fresh to strong southeast winds shifting to northwest.

GEORGE LITTLE WIRES CARDINAL DENIAL OF GRID COACHING OFFER

CRYSTAL-GAZING

NEWSPAPER men, in the mad scramble for scoops, occasionally overestimate their clairvoyant powers. Hunches are valuable to journalists, but it does not always pay to depend on them without verification.

Yesterday's conjecture by the sports writer of a Madison journal proves the value of the old newspaper adage, "Be sure you're right before you write." Of course the error is not admitted, but we think the paper doth protest too much.

We do not entirely condemn the writer concerned; it was refreshing to see in his paper university sports news not clipped and reprinted word for word from the columns of The Cardinal. It shows indications of some initiative.

Initiative is admirable; deductive reasoning is desirable; but at least from the readers' point of view a modicum of truth is to be expected from a respectable journal.

As a method of ascertaining truth, crystal-gazing was long ago consigned to the movies.

HUGH WALPOLE COMES TODAY

English Novelist Will Lecture in Music Hall This Evening

Hugh Walpole, English novelist and literary critic who is to speak in Music hall at 8 o'clock tonight on "The English Novel of the Twentieth Century," will arrive in Madison at 1 o'clock today.

Prof. J. F. A. Pyre of the English department, Majorie A. Ruff '24, representing Theta Sigma Phi, Herbert H. Brockhausen, representative of Sigma Delta Chi, and Freda Rummel of the State Journal will welcome the Englishman to Madison.

Zona Gale has been invited to attend the banquet to be given by Theta Sigma Phi sorority in honor of Mr. Walpole and to introduce the speaker, but no more definite arrangements have been made.

The banquet will be given at the University club at 6 o'clock this evening. Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, Prof. Karl Young, members of Sigma Delta Chi, and Adeline Briggs will be guests of honor at the occasion.

Few tickets for the lecture this evening are left. These may be obtained from Marjorie Ruff at Badger 159 and if there are any left they will be sold at the door.

The patrons and patronesses will have a special section at the lecture. Representative men and women of Madison make up the list: Prof. and Mrs. Frank G. Hubbard, Prof. and Mrs. Edward H. Gardner, Prof. and Mrs. J. M. O'Neill, Prof. and Mrs. R. E. Neil Dodge, Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Leonard, Prof. and Mrs. S. A. Leonard, Prof. and Mrs. Frederick A. Manchester, Prof. and Mrs. F. W. Roe, Prof. and Mrs. Anna Birge, Mrs. Van Ostrand, Mrs. Andrew W. Hopkins, Mrs. Max Otto, Mrs. David Cantwell, Mrs. F. L. Paxon, Mrs. George C. Hyde, Mrs. H. P. Greeley, Mrs. A. E. Proufit, Mrs. F. J. Drake, Mrs. W. J. Osborne, and Miss Jane Sherrell.

While in Madison Mr. Walpole will stay at the Park hotel.

Newspaper Hoax May Be Based on Hockey Message

TELEGRAM

The Daily Cardinal, Capital Times Building, Madison, Wis.

I have had no negotiations with Wisconsin and know nothing about any acts by Wisconsin authorities regarding my reported selection as football coach.

GEORGE LITTLE, Ass't Athletic Director, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.

BY CHAS. J. LEWIN

Is Madison's latest newspaper hoax the result of imaginative deductions resulting from an inconsequential 14-word telegram?

University athletic authorities are wondering if a short communication from George Little, assistant Michigan football coach, did not cause a Madison afternoon paper to issue a morning extra containing the "incorrect" announcement of Little's selection as Wisconsin head football coach Tuesday night.

The telegram to Athletic Director Thomas E. Jones follows: Monday, Jan. 17—Can come here March 2 and 3 instead of this week-end if satisfactory. Signed, George Little.

A Leak Somewhere
Unimportant in itself, the telegram answered Director Jones' wire asking postponement of the Wisconsin-Michigan hockey games scheduled for this week-end. Little is in charge of the Michigan hockey schedule.

Did the telegram "leak out," and did someone think that it referred to a possible conference between Little and Jones regarding the former's acceptance of position of head football coach at Wisconsin?

Director Jones emphatically declared late yesterday afternoon that "there was absolutely not one word of truth in the entire article" which said that Little had been picked by athletic councilmen and a committee from the Board of Regents.

Little Considered
"I have not communicated with George Little regarding his being

SUPPERLESS PROM PRICE SET AT $5

The price of tickets without supper reservations for the Junior prom will be $5, Oscar Sander, ticket chairman, announced last night.

This places the price of prom tickets at a lower point than has been reached since the war. The sale of tickets without supper reservations will be opened on Monday. Places on the square and on State street at which they will be sold will be announced in Sunday's Cardinal.

"Over 600 tickets with supper reservations were spoken for to-night," Sander said last night. "This established a record for prom sales. Last year there was a total of about 750 tickets purchased. Our sale opened Tuesday night and has nearly reached last year's high mark. We hope to sell more tickets than any previous prom."

There is still an opportunity for a number of supper reservations at 11.30 o'clock, Sander said. The greatest demand has been for 12.30 o'clock.

"The special features will be given at 12:30 o'clock so the best possible hours for supper will be 11:30," Sander said. "There are some openings left at 1.30 o'clock also."

CAMPAIGN FOR MILLION BEGINS

Presbyterians Want Cash For New Dorm and Chapel

A million dollars for christian education is the goal objective set by the Presbyterians of Wisconsin. A state-wide campaign to raise this amount has been inaugurated and is under the direction of the general board of education of the Presbyterian church, New York. O. W. Buschgen, secretary of the finance department of the board, is director of the campaign.

Carroll college, Waukesha, of which Dr. W. A. Ganfield is president, and the Presbyterian student work at the University of Wisconsin, of which the Rev. M. G. Allison is university pastor, and Miss Myrtle Jobse, secretary for women, will share in the million dollar campaign.

Subscriptions to the fund will extend over a period of five years.

Carroll college needs expansion and growth for larger service to the state and church. Increased endowment, a larger annual budget, more buildings, equipment and provision for scholarships, are imperative.

The work among the Presbyterian students at the university needs a chapel, dormitory, social and class rooms, offices for the workers and student organizations. For both religious and social purposes, it is obvious that student headquarters is too small. It offers no suitable place for the church service, which is a vital feature of student work. The religious needs of a thousand Presbyterian students require an addition to the staff.

Realizing these needs, the administrative council of the Presbyterian synod of Wisconsin unanimously recommended the million dollar campaign. It is expected that the amount will be fully subscribed by the 26,000 Presbyterians in the state. The campaign also received the approbation and endorsement of the synod of Wisconsin which met in Superior in the fall.

The preliminary work has already been accomplished. Surveys have been made of the churches and prominent men and women throughout the state have volunteered their services on the churches in Madison is under the mittees.

The campaign among the students of the university and the direction of Rev. Ralph W. Owens, field secretary, university department of the general board.

Lineman, Hurt Tuesday Still is Unconscious

Martin Ryan, 27, Madison Gas & Electric Co. employe, who was taken to St. Mary's hospital yesterday morning after falling from a ladder while doing line work in the 800 block on Williamson st., is still in a critical condition today. Mr. Ryan is in a semi-conscious condition, according to attendants.

Y. M. C. A. IS "BIG BROTHER"

Gives Men Opportunity to Be Pals to Youngster Boys

The "big brother" movement, being carried out by university men through the Y. M. C. A. in cooperation with Judge O. A. Stolen of the city juvenile court, is progressing nicely according to Frederick E. Wolf, Y. M. C. A. secretary. Boy's work is being conducted along a number of other lines which the Y. M. C. A. maintained previous to this year.

The work with boys consists in leading groups of boys organized by the city Y. M. C. A., leading and training leaders for Boy Scouts, and helping with the leadership of groups of Sunday school and church. University men who are interested in any of this work can plan to begin the work at once.

A class for the direction of work with boys is being conducted every Tuesday night at the private dining room at the Y. M. C. A. by Frank Cockrell, secretary of Boy's work at the city Y. M. C. A.

"The big brother movement is bound to grow" declared Mr. Wolf. "The university man is given the opportunity to be the big brother of the young boy, act as a good pal take him to games and help him in many other ways."

$100,000 Gift Given to Lawrence College

APPLETON, Wis.—A $100,000 gift to Lawrence college by a Wisconsin man, who wishes his name withheld, was announced today by Pres. Samuel Plantz. This donation completes a Lawrence endowment campaign for $600,000, just closed with a total of $612,000. The total invested capital and pledges of the college now amount to nearly $2,000,000. Of the amount just raised $200,000 was given by the board of education of the Rockefeller Foundation; $75,000 by the Carnegie Association, and $75,000 by alumni of the college.

Eat Eline's Chocolate Bars and Nourish the Skin from within

Some day women will learn that cold creams externally applied will never eliminate wrinkles. Pale complexions result from wrong living. Skin must be nourished from within. Look to your diet.

Eat the food which contains the elements to nourish tissue.

Eline's Chocolate Bar nourishes tissue—is absolutely pure and easily digested. Contains no shells—no refuse. It is rich in flavor—persuasive in aroma.

Eline's Bar is marvelously smooth. It cost millions of dollars and years of time to produce it.

Eline's Bar is creamy—it contains nourishing whole-cream milk from cows that feed in the fertile fields of Wisconsin, where emerald green grass and crystal pure water combine to produce the world's best milk.

Eline's Bar is deliciously good to taste and supremely good for health, yet,—it costs no more than common chocolate.

GEORGE LITTLE DENIES COACH OFFER IN WIRE

Newspaper Hoax May Be Based on Hockey Message

head football coach here," Coach Jones said. "It is true that he was considered for the position, but no negotiations have been entered into with anyone."

Confronted with the stories about Little's selection, Director Jones did admit, however, that he had communicated with Fielding H. Yost, Michigan athletic head, asking permission to talk "turkey" to Yost's assistant regarding the Little is chief aide to Yost, Wisconsin job.

holds a position similar to that of Coach Guy S. Lowman here, and has been groomed to take Yost's place should the Wolverine mentor retire as has been announced previously.

Jones Issues Denial

Little is an exceptionally successful backfield coach and is given much credit for developing Harry Kipke, Irving Uteritz and Franklin Cappon.

While newsboys were hawking the story of Little's selection through the gymnasium, Director Jones, who could hear their shouts, prepared the following denial of any action:

"The statement published that George Little, assistant to Fielding Yost as football coach at Michigan, has been selected as coach at Wisconsin is premature, to say the least. No selection of a football coach has been made and probably will not be for at least a month.

39 Eliminated

"Mr. Little is one of the 11 men who will be considered for the position out of a list of 50 who have been proposed. The position has not been offered to Little, he has not been so much as consulted on the proposition, nor has he been recommended even to the athletic council, to say nothing of selected by the Regents. There was absolutely not one word of truth in the entire article.

"Out of the 50 names proposed, the council has eliminated 39 and I am now going into the records of the remaining 11 before making any recommendation to the athletic council. This will take at least another month.

Council to Recommend

"The matter will then be considered by the council before it makes its recommendation to the Regents.

"It is probable that when the final selection is made it will be from the 11 now under consideration, but it is also possible that the ultimate choice may be a man who so far has not even been mentioned for the place."

James L. Brader '23, former Wisconsin star and assistant coach last fall, is known to be one of "the eleven" under consideration. The record of Hod Ostlie, successful Mississippi A. & M. mentor, has also been under serious investigation.

Texas to Play But One Intersectional Game

The University of Texas football team faces the prospect of only one intersectional game for the season of 1923. His game will probably be played with Oklahoma university. Attempts have been made to sign games with other states including Alabama, but they have not been successful. Negotiations for a 1924 game with Vanderbilt have not yet been closed, and authorities hold out small hopes that it can be obtained.

Northwestern Grapplers Receive Heavy Training

Northwestern university wrestlers are being drilled steadily by Coach Henry Szymanski, who is employing every training device known to him in order that the team may be in good condition for its two meets this week. This evening the Purple grapplers meet Iowa State college at Ames and on Saturday they clash with the Cornhuskers at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Henderson May Leave U. of Southern California

University of Southern California students are anxiously waiting the decision of Football Coach Elmer Henderson on the offer reported to have been received by him from Columbia university. It is understood that the offer suggests a salary of $10,000. However, Henderson is under contract to the University of Southern California for two more years. Coach Henderson is known up and down the Pacific coast as "Gloomy Gus" and has a national reputation, since the team he coached was the only eleven to win its east-west game this year. Prior to Henderson's advent into Southern California, the university was having its troubles winning from even the small colleges of the region. Coach Henderson, a product of Oberlin, came to the University of Southern California from Broadway high school, Seattle, in 1919.

PREDICT HARD SWIM SEASON

Dope Indicates Strength of Badger Tank Opponents

The dope indicates that Wisconsin has an exceedingly hard swimming schedule ahead. Wisconsin's team had difficulty in annexing the meet from Indiana last week, and, while Indian is strong, it is a second rate team in comparison with Northwestern.

The Evanston swimmers took a hard fought dual from the Milwaukee A. C. team recently, and in doing so broke two conference records. The 160 yard relay time was decreased from 1:20 3-5, made by Wisconsin in 1922, to 1:18 3-5, and Capt. Ralph Breyer lowered Johnnie Bennett's time of 19 3-5 in the 40-yard dash 1-5 of a second.

Coach Joe Steinauer thinks that the next meet with the Minnesota will be as hard as any contest on the schedule. It is certain that the Northwestern meet will be a tough one, and since the Purple team won from Milwaukee just two points, it stands to reason that the two meets the Badgers have with the Milwaukee club will be battles royal. Chicago is not known to be exceptionally strong, but the Midway school always turns out a few good divers and swimmers, so that Wisconsin's meeting with them will be far from easy.

A great deal of interest is being manifested in the varsity water basketball team. So far three varsity football men are trying for places on the team. They are Shorty Barr, Rudie Hohlfield, and Rus Irish. Besides Capt. Albert Lahmann, W. E. Bauman, and Charles Eiseman are left from last year's water basketball team. The team showed their lack of practice in their tight squeeze with Indiana, but with the constant training they are going through now they should put up a good fight with the best in the conference.

CITY IS SUED BY BANKS FOR TAX

Action was started by the city of Madison today through the city clerk's office on behalf of the First National bank and Commercial Trust Co. which seek return of taxes paid on shares of stock in 1921. The companies claim that the taxes which were paid under protest were illegally collected, in that the assessment was made at a greater rate than is assessed upon other money owned by private individuals and in competition with the stock shares of these companies. The First National bank seeks return of $12,379.78 and the Commercial National Trust company a sum of $4,535. The total is $16,914.78.

Kappa Psi 21, Sigma Pi 8.
Alpha Gamma Rho 22, Phi Kappa Sigma 12.

VINER SPRUCES PUCK CHASERS FOR MATCHES

Badgers Meet Wolverines Here in Return Games

The varsity hockey squad under the supervision of Coach A. K. Viner, is taking on the appearance of a real aggregation as the men are training intensely in preparation for the games to be played against Michigan.

The Badgers are slated to meet the Wolverines on the local rink in two games and the utmost practice will be necessary if they are to be in winning condition. The from Wisconsin last week-end, but the Badgers are hoping to avenge the defeat this week-end.

Badgers Lose by Fluke

While the Wolverines took both games at Ann Arbor last Friday and Saturday, fans who saw the games do not over-estimate the ability of the Michigan six. According to reports, Wisconsin had a clear edge in the first game and it was only on a fluke that they lost the match.

The scores of the two games, 2-1 and 1-0, indicate that the two teams are much on a par.

With several men who were not in trim last week working every afternoon on the lower campus rink, hopes are fairly bright for a win in the games to be played here. Johnson, speedy wing man on the Badger squad, went to Ann Arbor without having practiced with the team at all. He worked in scrimmage yesterday afternoon, and with a little more practice with the other men he should develop into a player of the first rank.

Combacker and Blodgett Good

Captain Combacker is still working with the same excellent form which has made him a leader both in scoring and in field work. Bob Blodgett, lengthy defense man, showed good form in scrimmage yesterday and several times broke up plays which might have resulted in goals for the opposing team.

Tom Tredwell, in the goal-tender's position in last week's game, upheld the excellent reputation he made last year. Many times he saved what looked like sure tallies for the Wolverine men.

Michigan is Fast

The Michigan outfit is a fast hard working machine which makes counts through its good team work rather than through the work of any individual stars. If one man can be given credit over the others it is Kahn, diminutive defense man. He is fast as a streak and makes up for his lack of weight in his speed and aggressiveness.

Temporary stands will be erected to accommodate spectators for the matches. While hockey is yet in an embryo stage at Wisconsin, it is fast growing in popularity and a large crowd at the games will do much to promote the sport.

BUTLER TO GET NEW COURT FOR BASKET GAMES

Because of the phenomenal success of Pat Page's basketball teams in the past two years, the advisory committee of Butler college, Indianapolis, has promised early action on the matter of a new basketball building. The plan in general is for a building containing a playing floor 50 by 90 feet with a seating capacity of 12,000 persons.

One of the conditions on which Pat Page signed his new five-year coaching contract at Butler was the early prospect of a new basketball court. The fine record during the last two years is all the more remarkable when the lack of a home playing floor is considered. Various coaches estimate the home floor advantage at 6 to 10 points.

The team has been going at a fast pace lately, and will welcome the few days rest during examinations next week. Practice for the rest of January will be light, and Coach Page will devote much attention to the development of individual cleverness in handling the ball dribbling.

Sorority Bowling Plans For Games Completed

Bowling schedules for the inter-sorority bowling tournament have been arranged. All games scheduled will be bowled on the Madison Bowling and Billiard Hall alleys. The tournament will last two days beginning Friday. The games scheduled for Friday are:

A. O. Pi vs. Alpha Delta Pix on alleys one and two; Alpha Epsilon Delta vs. Tri Delt on alleys three and four; Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Kappa Alpha Theta on alleys five and six; Pi Beta Phi vs. Phi Gamma Delta on alleys seven and eight.

The schedule for Saturday is: Alpha Chi Omega vs. Kappa Delta on alleys one, two, three and four; Chi Omega vs. Delta Zeta on alleys five, six, seven and eight.

CAGERS READY FOR ROAD TRIP

Gopher Five is Slated to Be Victim of Badgers

The Wisconsin basketball squad will take its last practice tomorrow before making another invasion of foreign territory. Minneapolis is the next strategic center to be attacked, and Doc Cooke and his Gopher quintet are slated to be the victims.

Minnesota is badly shot this year. Ecklund, Schjoll, and Severinson are ineligible. Hultkranz is still suffering from the injured knee received in the Minnesota-Wisconsin football game. The team is composed of second-stringers who have had little previous varsity experience and old Doc Cooke has had his hands full getting the men into Conference trim.

Figure comparisons gives the Badgers a margin of about 20 points over the sliding Minnesota team. Hughie Fullerton puts little faith in figures—witness the last world's series—and the dope may be upset as it has in past years.

If Douglas Gibson maintains the dizzy pace he set in the Chicago contest, the Wisconsin offense will be unbeatable. Gibson's four baskets went a long way in taking the "heart out of the Maroon team." Gage succeeded in locating the net in that game also. With a pair of consistent basket-shooters and with Ken Elsom liable to drop in one of those impossible throws at any moment, opposing defenses are going to have many a rough evening.

The Badger basketballers are slated to go through the same workout today that has been dished out previously. They will reach top form for the Minnesota contest and will then take a short rest during the period of examinations.

East More Interested in Matwork, Says Coach

Interest in wrestling is much greater in the schools of the east than in most of the western and central universities according to Al Haft, Ohio State Coach. The reason for this is thought to be that wrestling is an old game at these schools while it is still in its first years in some of the more western universities. Ames and Nebraska are the only western schools which turn out crowds for the contests. These schools and Yale, Penn, Penn State, and the Army and Navy teams draw crowds of from 4000 to 5000, while the middle western Ohio State university considers 900 a record crowd.

John Campbell to Lead 1923 Stanford Grid Men

John D. Campbell has been elected captain of the 1923 football team of Leland Stanford university. Campbell was reserve quarterback of the 1922 team.

Marquette Track Team to Run in Relays Here

Marquette university will have a track team this year for the first time. They are scheduled to run in the Wisconsin relays here on February 17.

STANFORD ELECTS CAMPBELL

The 1923 football team of Stanford university will have for its captain John D. Campbell of San Francisco, reserve quarterback of the 1922 Stanford team.

SKIERS OF NOTE TO ENTER MEET ON MUIR KNOLL

Artists of National Reputation Sign For Events

That the annual ski tournament to be held here on February 3 under the auspices of the Badger Ski Club will be the largest and most attractive ever held has been made certain with the receipt of entries of notable skiers from all over the country within the last few days. Practically all ski artists of national reputation have either already signed to come or have made promises to be in Madison for the meet.

Work of scraping snow from the ice in the vicinity of Muir Knoll will be begun immediately. The snow will be put in piles to guard against the event of a thaw coming before the meet to melt the snow. Last year it was necessary to have snow shipped from the north before the meet could be held.

Haugen Will Not Jump

The list of entries for the meet shows some of America's foremost skiers. With the exception of Anders Haugen, most of the men who did good work in the meet at Grand Beach, Minn., will compete. Haugen, ex-professional national champion, and winner of the Grand Beach meet, is a Seven Day Adventist and will not jump on Saturday.

Sven Welhaven, who while he lived in Norway was characterized as Norway's most graceful ski jumper, is already on the list of entries and will be one of the greatest attractions in the meet. He is living in Milwaukee at the present time. Arvid Bakke, also of Milwaukee, will jump in this meet.

Norge Club May Enter

While it is not yet certain whether the Norge Ski Club of Chicago will enter men in the meet, the Badger Club is angling for entries and considers it probable that several men will be entered from Chicago. The Norge Ski Club is the largest of its kind in the country and a representation from it in the local meet would do much to make the meet a success.

Ragnar Omfeldt, holder of several amateur records, will probably compete. He hurt his back at Grand Beach and was unable to compete in the meet at that place. He was a favorite before the meet, and if he comes to Madison he will probably carry away first honors. Omfeldt will be remembered in Madison for his beautiful exhibition of jumping when he took first place in the meet last year.

Riley May Compete

Another man who, if he enters the meet, will be one of the greatest attractions is Barney Riley. Riley was a world's record holder about ten years ago, and while he is getting a little old for his profession now, he is still of the first water. Riley's present plans are to be in Madison for the meet.

Erling Landsvick, nationally known jumper, will act as a judge and will probably take a few leaps from the Muir Knoll slide. Other famous jumpers who will be here are Thor Wollenbeck, Carl Neilson and Carl Norman, all of Chicago.

BELOIT CALLS FOR TRACK CANDIDATES

Beloit college track candidates have been called for by Coach E. J. Osgood who is directing his efforts to developing a team to send to the Badger meet at Madison on Feb. 17, which will be the first meet of the season for Beloit. For two years Beloit has won the college indoor relay championship held here. The team won third place in the college mile at Urbana last year, and in 1921 placed both at Urbana and the Drake relays.

Clayton Addie, Chicago I. A. C. runner, is captain of the team and has been a track man for three years. Ray Rietz, Rock Island, and Blaisdell Gates, Beloit, are two who have been on the team since 1911.

Of the 20 men squad last year, only two are lost by graduation, and Beloit is favored to win the "Little Eight" conference which was taken by Knox last year.

STUDENT SOCIETY

ASSEMBLYMAN Freehoff's resolution concerning expensive social functions at the university emphasizes the problem on which students have pondered and worked for the last two years.

In common with the rest of the nation, the university was hit by the war-time raise in prices; and in common with the rest of the nation the university experienced a post-war spree of spending.

Mr. Freehoff is not the only one who has been alarmed by the high social budget of university students. Students long ago saw the problem and took steps to remedy it.

Students recognized the problem last spring when flowers and cabs were discouraged at the Military ball; flowers were scarce at the Military ball and a large proportion of the students walked to the capitol.

Last fall, by demanding and getting a material reduction in exorbitant dance music prices, students recognized the problem in a manner most militant.

By cutting the price of Prom and discouraging the use of flowers and favors, the Prom committee has launched another attack on the problem.

These are but a few instances of student steps to reduce social expense.

The Cardinal always has stood for sanity of expenditure and has supported every move for price reductions, but somehow we do not entirely concur in Mr. Freehoff's attitude in the matter.

We doubt whether students would take kindly to sumptuary legislation or coercive regulation of their expenditures.

Mr. Freehoff's implied premise that democracy of spirit depends on uniformity of expenditure, carried to its logical conclusion, would mean that students should dress uniformly and be limited in their spending to the pocketbook potentialities of the most poverty-stricken student.

Whether that would be ideal or not, it is impossible. Impossible in the university as in the state at large.

The university is a composite community, an intensified cross-section of the state. It is made up of bankers' daughters as well as farmers' sons. It includes the progeny of pool-room proprietors as well as of politicians.

With students from origins so varied, socially and financially, is there not naturally a diversity of diversion? If a man is accustomed to attending formal parties in Milwaukee, he is likely to continue in Madison. And he has a right to continue, so long as his expenditures do not exceed the bounds of decency and good taste.

There are in the university, of course, a few snobbish spendthrifts just as there are in Milwaukee and Oshkosh and Racine. They are conspicuous, but surprisingly lacking in prestige.

If Mr. Freehoff would investigate he would be surprised at the great number of university leaders whose origins are most humble. He would find that campus popularity does not depend on pocketbooks.

Indeed, we have found the university considerably less snobbish than our home town. We consider as one of the most valuable aspects of our college education the training in judging people for themselves, not by bank-books and genealogy.

There is, we admit, some lack of homogeneity in the university, a lack which might be interpreted as snobbishness.

An immense number of students live in isolated quarters, are not interested in activities, and have little means of getting acquainted. Students who already have friends are not over-assiduous in seeking out others. Their diffidence for the most part is not snobbishness; it is satisfaction with things as they are, entirely human.

The legislature, if it wishes to perpetuate and encourage democracy at the university, can do no better than to pass legislation to make possible the building of dormitories.

It would make possible group life for everyone.

Communication

BETWEEN HALVES

Editor, The Cardinal:
The Varsity wrestling squad offered their services in the way of putting on a 10-minute entertainment between halves at the basketball games, but the proposition met with disapproval, as it was claimed it would excite the crowd.

We didn't go there to listen to a speaker, but to watch an athletic game and to be in some excitement. They promised us some kind of entertainment between halves. Let us see something doing the next game!

Looking Back On Wisconsin

IN THE CARDINAL FILES

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The reception given last evening by the Alumni association for President Adams was a success in every way. A statement reads: "Throughout the evening music was discoursed by the Luéder's orchestra."

The Dairy school with its unusually large class of 90 members is attracting many visitors.

Much interest is being manifested in the eight-oared aluminum racing shell which is being constructed at Philadelphia for Cornell.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

No edition of the paper today.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Medic school must answer charges of cruelty to animals. A delegation consisting of one professor, a Madison physician, and a local lawyer is to make a report, answering the charge, to S. P. C. A.

Newspaper and welfare work is discussed at the last meeting of the woman's vocational conference. Helen Bennett talks on opportunities for women in the field of Journalism, and Edith Shatto presents social work as a field for women.

A new course in Arabic is to be started the second semester.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

The fourth of a series of winter concerts by the University Regimental band is to be given in the men's gym Sunday.

The Wisconsin in China campaign is being organized. The first of this work for Jack Child's fund is started.

The student body urges that the university be closed for three weeks as a fuel conservation measure. This action would save 3,000 tons of coal.

ILLINOIS REQUESTS LARGER BUDGET

"We really ought to ask for 10,500,000 plus what we failed to get last time if we want to put the university in the next two years where it ought to be," says President David Kinlev of the University of Illinois, in regard to the appropriation that will be asked of the general assembly this year. Governor Small, in his veto message of 1921, slashed $1,740,000 off the university appropriation.

The university budget may meet some opposition, but the president has set forth a lengthy statement containing some of the needs of the university in the way of buildings and improvements. The budget has been approved by the university trustees.

The 10,500,00 request is the minimum necessary to put the university on its feet, and enable it to move forward with its old time efficiency. Enrollment has increased 1,700 this year, with an addition 1,000 anticipated in fall. Classes are so crowded that the university is obliged to put mixed classes in the women's building and to hold recitations in the music building.

Parkway Shows Cobb's "The Five Dollar Baby"

"The Five Dollar Baby," the story by Irvin S. Cobb which appeared originally in the Saturday Evening Post, has been converted into a photoplay with Viola Dana in the title role. This diminutive star, with her vivacious personality appears in a role that affords her more than her customary opportunity for joyous comedy. The film will be shown at the Parkway soon.

Mr. Hammond has prepared two amendments which he proposes to present to the legislature, forbidding the use of text books which give these theories and suspending any schools heads who violate these rules.

Frats Act as Guarantors For Symphony Concert

Two fraternities, Kappa Sigma and Sigma Phi, are acting as guarantors for the Madison Orchestral association, which is bringing here the Minneapolis symphony.

The Madison Orchestral Association is an old institution which manages concerts, bringing the best talent available to Madison, with the protection of a guaranty fund. The two fraternities mentioned have each pledged the sum of $25 as protection for the association.

The Minneapolis symphony will give two concerts here on February 6, one in the afternoon and another in the evening.

GOV. APPOINTS NEW OFFICERS

Eight State Officials to Succeed Themselves in Office

Governor Blaine yesterday re-appointed eight state officials to succeed themselves in office and named in addition Dr. Lyman A. Steffen of Antigo to replace I. D. Steffen, who died recently, as a member of health and vital statistics. His term will expire the first Monday in February, 1923.

J. Q. Emery, dairy and food commission, was re-appointed to succeed himself for the two year term ending the first Monday in February, 1925. Mr. Emery is a veteran in the employ of the state government and during the past two years fought for the filled milk law enacted by the 1921 legislature and successfully fought through the courts during his term.

Lucius A. Tarrell, Darlington, was named by the governor as a member of the industrial commission to succeed himself. His term begins June 30, 1923, and expires June 30, 1929. This position carries a $5,000 a year salary.

Gustave Windesheim, Kenosha, was appointed to succeed himself on the state board of health and vital statistics for the term ending in February, 1929.

James A. Peacock, Oconomowoc, was appointed to succeed himself as a member of the state civil service commission for the term ending June 21, 1929.

A. C. Dick, Milwaukee, John H. Kaiser, Port Washington, and Joseph G. Lazansky, Kewaunee, were renamed to the state board of public affairs for the term ending Feb. 1, 1925.

Elmer Grimmer, Marinette, was named to succeed himself as a member of the Wisconsin real estate brokers' board, his term to expire Aug. 1, 1925.

All of these nominations were submitted to the state senate for confirmation this morning. Favorable action by the upper house is expected without opposition.

DANCE STARS HEAD NEW BILL AT ORPH

With surpassingly good music and two dance stars, Carl Shaw and Lo Lorraine "Youth and Melody", featuring the new Orpheum program today, will introduce new tunes, steps and ideas in stage presentation. Both dancers are hits in every sense of the word, and the announcement that a jazz band will accompany this clever duo will be welcome news to Madison vaudeville fans.

An uproar of hilarious fun is expected to be generated by Brady and Mahoney as "Fireman and the Chief". The fireman will be of the Hebraic type, while the chief is to be typical of men hold such office in big city fire stations.

Famed for having been the first woman to transfer from one aeroplane to another in mid-air, Ethel Dare, will be seen in a sensational exhibition of her accomplishments on the flying wings.

Laughs in abundance and numerous surprises are expected from Page and Green. Both are funsters of the silent type, who demonstrate in addition to their fun that they are superior acrobats.

Bits of Musical comedy will introduce Dick Ferguson and May Sunderland. Eccentric and intricate steps by the former and methods of entertainment similar to those of Elsie Janis by the latter, will be the offering of these two.

Mid-winter vaudeville festival next week.

HUGE PAGEANT TO BE GIVEN

500 Children to Be in Church Entertainment Feb. 9

The Publicity committee on "The Blazing of the Trail" met last evening at the First Methodist church. "The Blazing of the Trail," a missionary pageant or lesson in citizenship, will be given Feb. 9 at Christ Presbyterian church. Nearly five hundred children will appear in it, impersonating the various nationalities which go to make up our nation. It will be given under the auspices of the Children's Missionary union, which represents sixteen churches in the city.

The members of the publicity committee and the churches they represent are: Margaret Smith, chairman, Vera Jurz, and Sue Taylor, Christ Presbyterian church; Mrs. H. Williams, Parkside Presbyterian; Mrs. Otis Reichard, Westminster Presbyterian; Mrs. Elizabeth Bollinger, Memorial Reformed; Marion Ramsdell, Grace Episcopal; Mrs. Warren G. Jones, First Congregational; Alice Nichols, Plymouth Congregational; Hattie Pitchard, Pilgrim Congregational; Mrs. W. L. Woodward, First Baptist; Ruth Helen Buck, First Methodist; Ida Willott, Trousdale Methodist; Mrs. W. G. Huebner, Luther Memorial; Helen Boy, Evangelical; Mrs. I. Caldwell, Bethel Mission; Mrs. Irish, University Methodist; and Mrs. W. Christianson, People's Tabernacle.

Miss Margaret Storck, chairman of the council of the Children's Missionary union, at the meeting last night explained the pageant to be staged.

BARN, TOOLS, GRAIN MAKE A BIG BLAZE

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a $4,000 barn on the farm of Elmer Husted, about two miles east of Madison at 10:30 Wednesday morning. Efforts to stop the blaze proved futile. The Madison fire department was summoned to prevent the blaze from spreading to other buildings on the farm.

Firemen succeeded in preventing other buildings from catching fire. Considerable grain, tobacco, tools and farm implements stored in the building were destroyed, causing a loss estimated at $5,000, part of which is covered by insurance. The ruins were still burning at 11:30, but danger to other buildings had been averted and the firemen returned to Madison.

Charges of cruel and inhuman treatment are preferred against August Fluggie by his wife Galena Fluggie in suit for divorce which has been started in Superior court. They were married at Waukegan, June, 1921. They have no children.

GOV. TO NAME NEW RAIL HEAD

F. McManamy Will Be Blaine's Choice For Railroad Commission

Frank McManamy, nationally known railroad expert, of Washington, D. C., is the man whom Gov. Blaine will appoint to the railroad commission as successor to Henry Trumbower. Trumbower's term expires on Feb. 1.

Mr. McManamy will be appointed to the long term on the commission while Adolph Kanneberg, Milwaukee, will be named for the short term.

Mr. McManamy was born in Pennsylvania and is 52 years of age. He entered the railroad business as a fireman and engineer and became an inspector on the Pere Marquette, Northwestern and Milwaukee roads. From 1913 to 1918 he was chief inspector of equipment for the Interstate Commerce commission. In 1918 he was appointed assistant director of operations of all railroads under control of the government during the war.

He has been repeatedly urged for a place on the Interstate Commerce commission. He is a member of the Firemen's Brotherhood and has always had the endorsement of the workers.

Mr. McManamy knows the Wisconsin roads thoroughly. He is a progressive and well acquainted in Wisconsin. He is now the claim expert of the Interstate Commerce commission at $10,000 a year. He has agreed to resign in order to accept the Wisconsin appointment.

Education A Tool To Work With Davis Writes In Commerce Mag

That education is but a means to an end, a tool to work with rather than work itself is the belief expressed by James J. Davis, secretary of labor, in an article on "True Education" which appears in the January issue of The Commerce Magazine. The magazine will be on sale today.

"No matter what place in life the individual is to occupy, whether he plunge into the crowded stream of commerce and industry, or join the ranks of the world's scientists and teachers, he cannot succeed unless he takes in his hands the tools which lie before him and works with them," writes Mr. Davis.

The article, which goes to the heart of the educational problems of universities, belittles the agitation of some educators for the restrictions of training to a single class to be known as an "aristocracy of brains".

Prof. Stephen Gilman has article in this issue urging students to begin preparing four years ahead of time to meet the employing executive. He has set down the qualities which an employer looks for when he is interviewing applicants.

"New Problems in Highway Traffic" is an article by F. A. Cannon, executive secretary of the Good Roads association, on the truck haulage situation in this state. Dr. Alfred P. Haake, former professor of economics at this university and now head of the department of economics at Rutgers college, has written an article on his visit in Maison during the Holidays. "The University Journal of Business" was written by Edwin Schujahn '24.

Humor enters the magazine through the medium of "Paul Bunyan and His Big Blue Ox", a myth which originated in the lumber camps and which has become a part of the every day life of the loggers from Maine to Washington. Many of the extracts in the article were heard personally by Karl Reynolds '23, the writer.

Your Tux For Prom

YOU know, and we know, that for strictly formal affairs, Full Evening Dress is correct.

Yet you know, as we know, that the "Tux" has practically displaced full dress for evening wear, and that the Tuxedo is bound to predominate in all evening affairs in University circles.

We have made a very careful analysis of University men's wants, and have had our manufacturers tailor our Tuxedos according to our specifications. These suits, which were ordered specially for the Prom season, have just arrived.

Our coats are made with loose fitting body lines and are trimmed and faced with a special quality silk. The trousers are featured by the fuller leg and bottom effects. We show them in two special fabrics.

Gordy Assists Polly In Choice Of Bridal Gown

Gossip has again flitted about and many tongues are wagging in campus circles. Gordie and Polly were seen entering the local modiste shop where the wedding gown which Polly will wear in the wedding scene of "Stop Thief" is being made.

It is known by those close to the Prom chairman that he is taking an unusual interest in the construction of the nuptial garments his queen will wear in the play. In fact, it was after the rehearsal of the wedding that Gordie walked home with Polly and asked her to share Prom honors with him, it is hinted.

"Why, it is absurd to think that the bride of 'Stop Thief' had any bearing on the selection of the Prom queen," said Gordie yesterday.

However, the chairman emphatically opposed the proposal that the wedding gown be just an improvised dress for the play and now Polly is having a real dress prepared for her famous scene.

We do not know how others will interpret this opposition of Gordie's, but it may be they are trying to kill two birds with one stone.

EDUCATORS ELECT KITTESON AGAIN

Mayor I. Milo Kitteson and J. B. Ramsay were reelected members of the vocational board of education by the board of education at its meeting Tuesday evening. The position on the board left vacant by the death of W. H. Collins was left open temporarily by the board of education. Election of a successor to Mr. Collins may be taken up at the next meeting of the board.

Miss Beryl Whitney, of the East Side High School, was given leave of absence beginning Jan. 29. Mrs. Elver C. Rodewald was appointed to this position. Mrs. Cleo Flipine was also appointed to the elementary schools. Miss Agnes Anna Kaether was appointed secretary to T. W. Gosling, superintendent of schools, in place of Miss Stryker resigned.

A communication was received by the board of education from East side residents informing them that a petition is being circulated and would be forwarded to them in a short time asking the building of an auditorium and gymnasium at the East Side High School.

Prof. E. B. Skinner, president of the board, appointed a committee of two who will be given instructions to draw a resolution in memory of E. T. Baillie, deceased member of the board of education.

POPULAR VOTE TO PICK WINNER

Carnival Queen Contest Begins; Committee Makes Final Plans

A Madison girl will be selected "queen" of the 1923 ice carnival by popular vote. She may be a co-ed or she may be employed somewhere in this city.

A nomination blank for your favorite is submitted. Other nomination blanks will appear from day to day together with voting blanks to be used for casting ballots in the contest.

The Carnival committee at a meeting last night decided to have the carnival queen selected by popular choice. A nominal charge of one cent a vote has been placed on the ballots. There is no limit to the number of votes you can cast.

"We want to make the competition in the Carnival Queen Contest keen," said Louis Hirsig today, "so that Madison's popular winner will be receiving a real distinction. Of course, we want a fair queen. We're bound to get a good looking one. But we want to be sure that we're getting a popular queen as well."

The mayor's winter sports week committee, after a thorough discussion of the subject of winter sports outfits and costumes, decided at its meeting last night at the Association of Commerce offices to urge individuals, firms, dealers, distributors, manufacturers, and others to provide, insofar as they were able, winter sports outfits for themselves and their employees. Students at the University of Wisconsin already have a committee working along this line.

With a great deal of color in evidence on the ice, on the hills, at the national ski tournament, and wherever events are staged, it is believed that greater zest and enthusiasm will be added to the whole program if everybody provide themselves with warm, comfortable winter attire. E. A. Fuller, commodore of the Four Lakes Ice Yacht club, says that a great many people come out to witness the ice races improperly attired.

One manufacturer of winter sports outfits, the Bradley Knitting works, of Delavan, has given all members of the mayor's committee light blue knitted caps, which will arrive within a few days, and the committee will proceed to wear them from now on until the carnival is on in an effort to stimulate the use of winter sports outfits.

Madison clothing and dry goods stores and specialty shops will be able to supply old and young, men and women, with hats, scarfs, and stockings, so that groups of people may be uniformed either from head to foot in special winter sports outfits, or simply wear special head gear with their ordinary clothing. It has been suggested that since several of the Madison retailers are willing to sell these outfits to groups and clubs at cost, there should be no reason why many organizations cannot outfit their employees.

THERE ARE ALWAYS NEW TOGS FOR THE ATHLETIC MISS

It is perhaps a good thing for the race that all the girls who indulge in athletic and sports clothes do not exercise every time they wear them because there would surely be developed an Amazon group of mighty strength and figure. It is a credit due the designers that most sports clothes are so very attractive that the most lethargic and passive temperaments are fascinated by them and purchase snappy sports costumes when they know the most active thing they will ever do will be go to a picture show. Here are three sports suits, however, which are suitable only for the most strenuous exercise. None of them could ever fill any need of a wardrobe save that of a comfortable outing suit. This is particularly true of the knicker suits.

DEAN RUSSELL SPEAKS TO AGS

Nation Suffers When Farmers' Buying Power is Restricted

More than 400 students attended the Agricultural College convocation held yesterday afternoon in Agricultural auditorium at which Dean H. L. Russell outlined the "Agricultural Situation."

"The inequality in the price of the farmer's products in comparison with those he has to buy is the cause of the present economic depression," Dean Russell declared. "When the farmer is restricted with reference to his buying power, the whole nation suffers."

Freight Rates High

Contributing causes of the low purchasing power of the farmer's dollar were attributed to the unusually favorable yield of farm crops during the last three years, to the lack of settlement of economic conditions in Europe, to the depreciation of European currency, to the high organized labor rates in comparison to agricultural labor rates, and to excessive transportation costs.

"The agricultural history will have to be rewritten unless freight rates are revised," declared the dean. A man received only $5.36 for his carload of potatoes after he had paid the freight on them from the Red River valley to Chicago.

Opportunity in Agriculture
Dean Russell declared that the best time to start farming is when many farmers are leaving the farm. Enumerating the opportunities in the line of agriculture, he stated that numerous opportunities exist in the fields of live stock industry, commercial agriculture, drainage engineering, rural finance, agricultural extension, farm management, agricultural journalism, and merchandising of farm products.

"If you can spend 5 days at the farmer's course beginning January 29, you will have obtained a good idea of the merchandising problem," Dean Russell said.

Captain Mike Kane, after having been out of the lineup for two weeks returned to the Notre Dame quintet Monday night in the contest with Armour Tech of Chicago. Notre Dame won, the score being 29 to 14.

BIG TEN FORMS EASTERN GROUP

Delegates Complete Plans For New York Association

The movement to form an association in New York of the colleges in the Big Ten conference has reached its successful termination this year. At a meeting held late last winter of representatives from each school in the conference, the formation of the organization was proposed.

The organization will be known as the New York association of the Western Conference colleges, and at a banquet which is to be held January 19, the organization will be completed, a constitution adopted, and officers elected.

The committee at present is made up of a man from each college in the conference, A. R. Taylor being the Wisconsin man on the committee.

The first annual banquet to be held Friday, January 19, at the Hotel Astor, will be particularly interesting. The program follows:

Toastmaster—William McAndrew, University of Michigan.

"The College Man in Public Affairs"—speaker to be announced later.

"The College Man and His College"—Dr. David Kinley, President of the University of Illinois.

"The College Man and Athletics"—Major John L. Griffiths, Commissioner of Conference Athletics.

"The College Man in Training"—Walter Camp, Yale University.

ETHEL DARE TO TELL STORY OF CLOSE ESCAPE

"One time I caught the last rung of the rope ladder with three fingers, the very tips of the fingers, too. I thought I was gone and I tried to tell the pilot. The next thing I knew I was hanging on my knees from the ladder. How I made the turn I never knew."

Ethel Dare, aerialist, thus described one of her narrow escapes in her challenges to death which were the sensation of aviation last year. She is the little girl who changed from plane to plane in mid-air and did fancy tricks on a rope ladder a mile or more above the earth. She is now doing a flying number on the stage of the Orpheum.

"I had another narrow escape in Detroit," said the pretty Miss Dare. "It was a 'bumpy' day up in the clouds, and when I caught the ladder the ligaments of my right shoulder were torn. I managed to hang on. The chief of police called a halt to my engagement there. A man named Tinney had been killed there the day before in a flying stunt."

"I made 57 changes during the season," said the daring aviatrix, who talked of it as calmly as a housekeeper making crullers. "Somehow, I never thought of the danger involved. I learned to dismiss that from my mind. I simply had the stunts to do and did them."

Miss Dare has quit the perilous sky-work for all time, she says.

"I quit because I married," she continued. "My husband couldn't stand the strain of watching me, so I fulfilled the contracts I had made and then retired. My husband is an aviator, but he did not fly the planes on which I performed."

This "daring darling of the air" was formerly in a casting act before she became an aviatrix. She has returned to vaudeville for a tour of the Orpheum Circuit.

Green Chosen Head of Student Faculty Body

At the conference of the student-faculty committee of the Engineering School, S. B. Green C. E. 4 was elected chairman of the committee. Different courses in the Engineering School were discussed and several improvements and changes suggested. The student-faculty committee is an Engineering organization to promote harmony and understanding between the students and the faculty. Any grievances or complaints are frankly talked over and constructive criticism is always given careful consideration. Dean Turneure and another faculty member are usually present at the meetings and the students have representatives chosen by popular vote from the different classes of each of the five Engineering courses.

Is University The Setting For Town And Gown?

By F. E. B.

Another spot light has been turned on student life in the great university—Wisconsin in particular, perhaps, or just any mid-western university by "Town and Gown", written by Lynn Montross and Lois Seyster Montross. The book is just off the press and may be procured at the Book Corner in the Mifflin arcade.

As a "collaboration in character and incident rather than in style" the Montross' account of university life seems to show a positive understanding of all varieties of campus people, fusser, flapper, faculty and their reactions, each to the other. Being students at Wisconsin, we know that some things said and done by the "Town and Gown" crowd are possibilities—actualities—others may have escaped our experience, if they exist here at all.

"Coming out of Sterling hall" and "Up in University hall" we go with Peter Warshaw, the frosh of "Town and Gown", onto our own campus, and follow through the intricacies of registration, then pursue the required program with "moil and toil".

Looking through the eyes of Lois Seyster Montross at student life at Wisconsin, other than scholastic, may we not see the student dance where the couples go "sizzling, vacillating or loping up and down?" Do the faculty members look upon the students with dislike and fascination, as the poor assistant dean of "Town and Gown" did when he went to chaperon the fraternity parties?

Do Wisconsin men believe all women pet? According to Andy Protheroe, "24 and a senior", "If a girl doesn't pet a man can figure he didn't rush 'er right. Even a flapper likes romance. A man makes a mistake to depend on his line and overlook the moon."

There might be an athlete in school who wears a halo from football fame but is a "dumbbell" in all else, and a girl who would break a date to lead "The Prom"! Who knows? Did the general story of "Town and Gown" with quite a few sidelights, originate wholly or partly at this university?

2 FRATERNITIES RESPOND TO CALL FOR CONCERT AID

Up to last evening two fraternities had responded to the call for guaranties sent out by the Madison Orchestral Association to help defray the expenses of bringing the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra to Madison on February 6. Kappa Sigma and Sigma Phi are the fraternities which responded.

"The expense of bringing this orchestra to Madison is very great and the success of the undertaking financially depends upon the support given it by the public. Prof. Karl Young, member of the executive committee of the Association, last night. "It is only through a large list of guarantors that the Association can hope to maintain its work and the representative character which it aims to have."

Although only two fraternities have been heard from to date, it is expected that the majority of them will respond before the end of the week. All students who have subscriber's fee cards to the guaranty fund of the Madison Orchestral Association will be given a reduction on the regular admission.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra is conducted by Mr. Henry Verbrugghen, who has acquired an enviable reputation in England and Australia. His success as guest conductor during the early part of this season was so great that he has been selected permanent conductor of the orchestra. The program will include Beethoven's Fifth Symphony.

SUMMER SESSION PLANS NOW MADE

semester with a view of continuing them in the summer," Dean Scott H. Goodnight, director of the Summer Session, advised last night. He is now preparing a bulletin on the courses which will be given this summer.

"Information on the summer session can be procured from all student advisors or at any office. A time table of the summer courses will be issued during the latter part of next week. We are expecting an enrollment between 4,800 and 5,000 this year. A staff of 280 instructors will teach 425 courses," the dean said.

The new courses which are offered this year are:

Landscape gardening; colloid chemistry, a graduate course conducted by Professor Svedberg of Upsala, Sweden; Greek and Greek art, by Professor Smiley of the University of Iowa; industrial relations by Professors Lescohier and Perlman in co-operation with the industrial commission; work with deaf, sub-normal and defective children in the education department; speech for defective children by Dr. Smiley Blanton. Other new courses are Geography of the Far East by Prof. Warren D. Smith of the University of Washington, a Wisconsin alumnus who has traveled in the Far East; Wagner's musical dramas by Prof. E. K. Voss; history conducted by Lecturers Boucher of Texas, Sanford of La Crosse normal, and Renaissance of Towns of Middle Ages by Knipping; picture study by Miss Buck; part time continuation methods in home economics by Miss Johnson; philosophy and continued part time education by Mrs. Glen Turner, research specialist of the Wisconsin state board of education; radio telegraphic work by M. P. Hanson.

Other new instructors who have been procured are Mrs. Hunt of Wesley college; Professors Gray of Illinois; Prechel of the University of California, dramatic production; and Merry of the University of Iowa, voice science.
