FIRST BASKET FIVE ARRIVES HERE TONIGHT

All Out-of-town Teams Will be Entertained by Fraternities

Assignments to fraternities of the nine out-of-town basketball teams which will compete in the state tournament to be held in the armory Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week were announced yesterday by the athletic department as follows:

Superior will be entertained by Acacia and Alpha Sigma Phi; Racine by Delta Tau Delta and Alpha Delta Phi; Rhinelander by Phi Gamma Delta; Appleton by Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Phi; Menomonie by Delta Upsilon; La Crosse by Delta Kappa Epsilon and Psi Upsilon; Neillsville by Zeta Psi and Sigma Nu; Platteville by Chi Psi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Elmwood by Kappa Sigma and Beta Theta Pi.

A rumor is current that Racine has been declared ineligible by George Chamberlain, state chairman of the W. I. A. A., and that Waukesha will participate in place of the former. The reason given, according to the report, is that Grover, star Racine center, has played professional ball. All of the games won by the Racine team are declared void and the trophies presented them at the Ripon and Milwaukee tournaments will be given to the rightful winners. However, up until last evening, no word of a change had been received by the Athletic department.

Reports from the northern part of the state are to the effect that Rhinelander is ready to put up a strong fight for state honors. They made a clean sweep at the Stevens Point tournament, winning the prize for appearance and conduct, placing two forwards and a guard on the all-sectional team, and having one of their forwards win the prize for individual honors. The only handicap that the Rhinelander team labors under is the fact that they

MIXER TO HELP VARSITY MOVIE

Thompson Donates a 10-Piece Orchestra for the Party

To help defray production expenses of the Varsity Movie an all-university mixer authorized by Union board will be held in Lathrop hall, Saturday evening, March 26. A ten piece orchestra including some of his best musicians has been donated for the dance by "Al" Thompson, local orchestra director.

Thomas Tredwell '23, assistant business manager of the movie, and Washburn Lyon '23 are in charge of the affair.

A program of stunts put on by members of Edwin Booth Dramatic society during the intermission will make the mixer different from the ordinary run, according to those in charge, and a check room with a nominal fee of 10 cents will be maintained for the men.

The chaperons will be Dean and Mrs. S. H. Goodnight, Dean and Mrs. F. W. Roe, Major and Mrs. Orlando Ward, and Major and Mrs. John Wood.

VARSITY FIVE IS GIVEN LUNCHEON

The Kiwanis club entertained the 1920-21 varsity basketball team at luncheon yesterday noon at the city Y. M. C. A. A large number of business men were also in attendance. Each member of the team was presented with a Certificate of True Sportsmanship by the Madison Association of Commerce. The certificate defines a true sportsman as one who loves the game above the prize and victory.

Doctor Meanwell talked on the value of intercollegiate athletics. He spoke of the value of athletics on the character and on the physique, but the main point that he brought out was the fact that intercollegiate athletics are the only successful medium whereby the entire university may work toward a common end.

The Association of Commerce plans to present these certificates to all "W" and "aWa" men in school as fast as their present active seasons close.

OTIS SKINNER IS HARESFOOT GUEST

Noted Dramatist Has Belonged to Club Since

Mr. Otis Skinner, the well known American actor now on tour with "At the Villa Rose," which played at the Fuller last night, was the guest of honor at a banquet given by the Haresfoot dramatic club at the Garden Grill following Mr. Skinner's evening performance last night.

Mr. Skinner is an honorary member of the club, being elected in 1902 when he appeared in Madison in a production of "Francesca da Rimini." Walton Pyre, a brother of Prof. J. F. A. Pyre and an early member of the Haresfoot club, was playing in Mr. Skinner's company at the time, and introduced him to the club.

Mr. Skinner was deeply interested in the history and progress of the Haresfoot club since he had become a member, and was especially interested in "Miss Quita," the 1921 production, which will go on tour during spring vacation. Earl Carpenter '21, the composer of the music for the 1921 production, and Jean Juster, who will lead the orchestra, played many of the musical numbers from "Miss Quita" during the dinner.

Other guests of the club included Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, an early member of the club; Prof. O. J. Campbell, and Mr. C. L. Farnberg.

GIRLS' BASEBALL TO START TODAY

The girls' baseball season will open at 4:30 this afternoon with a game between the freshman and senior teams in the Lathrop gymnasium. There will be two games this week, each class team playing one game. During the season, which lasts only this week and next, each team meets every other team, and the championship will be determined on the percentage basis. Seven instead of nine inning games are played, and they are open to everyone.

SWIMMING SEASON OPEN IN MENDOTA; NEW RECORD SET

Co-eds and Men Students Take Plunge in Chilly Waters of Lake

Lake Mendota's swimming season opened Saturday, establishing a new early record for that lake, according to Capt. Thomas Isabel. There have been hardy winter swimmers in former years, the captain explained; but this is the earliest opening for the regular summer swimmers. Canoes appeared on St. Patrick's day. Capt. Isabel will launch the Cardinal, university life patrol motorboat, Tuesday, establishing another early record.

Among the young women who went swimming Saturday were Marjorie Boesch, Mildred Miller, Esther Graham, Beatrice Turner, Dorothy Schaper, Margaret Fanta, and Theora Teft of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and Dorothy Frank of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. De Witt Van Pinkerton, John Pinkerton, and John Williamson represented the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity as early swimmers.

EX-SERVICE MEN TO HOLD GET-TOGETHER

Ex-service men and women will meet tonight in the Engineering auditorium for their second big get-together. Refreshments will be served by the eight legionettes who have been recruited since the last meeting.

Prof. "Steve" Gilman will speak, and William Tannevitz '23 will give a monologue. Kolb's orchestra and the Glee club quartet will furnish the music. Bill Pickard '21 will lead the cheering.

The committee in charge is planning to make this meeting even more successful than the reunion of the 700 "Buddies" two weeks ago.

ENGINEERS WANTED FOR HIGHWAY WORK

The Wisconsin Highway commission is in need of a number of men with some engineering knowledge to be inspectors of highway construction when the road-building season opens. In order to get in touch with those interested and outline the nature of the work an inspectors' school will be held for two evenings in the auditorium of the Engineering building March 22 and 23. The school will open each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

PRESBYTERIANS TO BANQUET APRIL 6

Program and Business Will Accompany the Eats

The Presbyterian Student's association will hold its annual banquet in the parlors of Christ Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, April 6, at 5:30 o'clock.

Members of the student cabinet for the new year will be elected and other business of importance will be attended to.

An interesting program is being planned to precede the business session. Rev. Matthew C. Allison will act as toastmaster at the banquet, and musical selections will be furnished by Gilman Taylor, Noel Stearns, and other students.

The association includes all Presbyterian students of the university, but the attendance at the banquet will be necessarily limited to the first 300 persons who apply for tickets.

The price of the dinner will be 75 cents a plate, and tickets may now be reserved by calling the Presbyterian Student headquarters, B. 3638.

VARSITY GLEE CLUB MAY GO ON LONG TOUR

Summer of '21 or '22 May Find Club on West Coast

Negotiations for a tour to the Pacific coast during the summer vacation of 1921 or 1922 have been opened by the university Glee club. While the trip is indefinite and no actual announcement can be made, Walter Blair '21, business manager, stated yesterday that the prospects of the club making the tour can be considered bright.

The tour of the Glee club if the present negotiations are successful, will be the first in the history of the organization. It has been customary for the club to make an annual spring tour including the principal cities of Wisconsin and sometimes in Illinois and Michigan. For the organization to make a tour through the west, however, giving concerts at the larger cities along the route to the Pacific coast, would be a novel enterprise.

Because Wisconsin has thousands of alumni in all the western states and particularly in California the prospect of successfully managing the big tour is very encouraging. The undertaking of the trip will be assumed by a large railway company, according to present negotiations. Concerts will probably be given at the large cities along the route.

"The Glee club has endeavored to establish for itself a reputation of being more than an ordinary college musical society," John Warren '21 said yesterday. "The very best of high class glee club music has been consistently followed by the club."

The membership of the club at present is 28. This includes Max Peterson, violinist, Paul Sanders, pianist, Kenneth Daman, baritone, and Walter Blair, business manager. Prof. E. Earle Swinney, School of Music, is director.

YELLOW TASSEL MEETING TODAY

Annual Swing-out Will Be Discussed by Juniors

To arouse pep for the girls' basketball games, and to make plans for Junior-Senior Womens' swing-out are the purpose of the meeting of all junior class women, members of Yellow Tassel, to be held this noon at 12:45 in the concert room of Lathrop hall. Dorothy Ware, president of Yellow Tassel will preside.

Auta Lyman '22, head of basketball will speak, and Zirian Blish '22 will lead cheers for the pep meeting.

Announcement will be made of the committee to conduct the annual swingout which will occur on the Friday evening of June 3. Plans for the program will be presented and discussed.

All junior women are urged to bring their Yellow Tassel dues, 35 cents

WE couldn't think the col. complete this morning without making mention of the death of Bert Lester Taylor, the conductor of the Chicago Tribune "Line o' Type or Two." The dean of all column conductors and the editor of the best column printed, B. L. T. probably was the inspiration and guide of most of the morning jesters in the country.

TO the young and amateur conductor, B. L. T. doubtless was the safest guide and most reliable textbook. His humor was ever pointed, well-chosen, and, most of all, real. He made few far-fetched allusions, his jokes were ever new, and bits of comment on the "so-called human race" were the most pointed and most constructive of any of his contemporary conductors.

TO those of us who once looked eagerly to his col. for bits of help and inspiration, he will be missed. The freshman class in wheezeology has been disbanded.

KIND WORDS
"Now there's many things in this here world
That tends to make us glad;
And there's also many others here
That sometimes make us sad.
But there's one thing I always
As often I have said:
It's when her mother gets us
and sighs,
'Tis time I was in bed."

Today's question: "Do you believe in fairies?"

Mary Diefenderfer, at large: I don't believe in anything or anyone.

Leander Ferguson, man-about-town: Of course not, but I know there's a Santa Claus.

Georgiana Kimberly, movie actress, Kappa studio: Someone's always doing nice things for me. It must be the fairies, or else I'm in the lap of the gods. But I know that Jack Harding isn't Puck, even if I am Oberon.

Elster Lindsten, devil: Quit kiddin' yourself!

Guy Sundt, student: Uh-huh, I just love the little nymphs!

E. A. Birge, warden: I found two in a test of Madison's drinking water last week, but I couldn't get them to stay.

YES, YES, GO ON:

DID THEY PLEDGE HIM?

Dear Ed:

This story has just leaked out about the Chi Psis rushing last fall. Bill Goessling was showing a freshman the sleeping quarters on the third floor. "Oh, it's great stuff," says Bill, "to lie in bed up here and listen to the waves of the lake lapping just below." The freshman took a timid glance out of the window down the sheer depth of 100 feet. "Yes," he said, "But what do you do when the tide comes in?"

SQUARE CLUB TO NATIONALIZE WITH LOCAL DIRECTION

First Organized in London for Soldiers in April, '19

Nationalization of university branches of Square club, an organization of Masonic students, with the Madison branch as headquarters is practically assured by a committee working on this and the housing problem.

The branch at the University of Wisconsin was the first university branch to be started. It was founded by 12 Master Masons of the University in November, 1919, and since then has grown rapidly.

With the object of promoting a better international fraternal spirit among Masons of English-speaking countries, the establishment of a permanent Masonic club, with members from every corner of the globe, with headquarters and club rooms in London, and the creation of branch organizations throughout the world, Masons of the American army, then students in British universities, and Masons of the English, Canadian, New Zealand, and South African troops stationed in England, organized the Square club April 14, 1919.

In London the members of the Square club had many social gatherings and were entertained by the English lodges.

Since demobilization, branches have been started in all parts of the world, and are receiving the backing of local lodges.

Many banquets, dances, and smokers have been given in the past by members of the Madison branch of Square club.

On April 2 they will give a dance at Lathrop gymnasium for all Eastern Star members and Masons in the university.

AGS HEAR NORDMAN ON FARM MARKETING

"Standard grading of farm produce with corresponding prices will urge farmers to produce quality as well as quantity," said Edward Nordman, director of markets, addressing the Agric Triangle at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday morning.

Mr. Nordman further stated that co-operative marketing with able leadership will place farming on the same basis as any commercial enterprise, which must pay the overhead expense plus a fair wage. Furthermore every producer must receive full compensation for the product of his labor. The cheese federation was cited as an example of such co-operation. They have central storehouses and eliminate the middlemen by selling directly to the wholesalers by carload lots.

are a light team, and the strain of a tournament may prove to be too much for them. The entire town is backing the team and a large number of rooters are planning to accompany the team when they arrive in Madison tonight at 9 o'clock. Since they will be the first team to arrive, a large delegation of students should be on hand to accompany them to the Phi Gamma house, where they will be entertained.

The first five games will be played on Thursday afternoon and evening. Friday morning the winning fives will draw to determine what teams they will meet the same evening. The first team drawn will hold the bye. After the evening games are played, the winning teams will draw to see which one plays the holder of the bye. A similar method will be employed in determining the winners of the consolation series.

Fred H. Young, one of the ablest officials in the Big Ten conference, will have general charge of the officiating. No reserved seats will be sold for any of the games, as it is believed that the seating capacity of the gymnasium will be sufficient to accommodate the crowd.

The prizes that will be presented to the winning teams will be on display at the Hub after Wednesday morning. A silver trophy will be awarded to the team winning first place, and a trophy will also be given to the team winning second place. Eight individual gold fobs will be awarded to the coach and members of the team winning first place. Silver basketball fobs will be given to the coach and members of the teams winning second and third places. Gold watches will be awarded to the best center, guard, and forward. This award will be made by a committee of five, based upon basketball ability, sportsmanship, and team play. A prize may also be awarded to the team winning the consolation series.

DETROIT SYMPHONY AT ARMORY MARCH 29

Chippewa Falls: Carl Herman The Detroit Symphony orchestra will give a concert at the Armory Tuesday, March 29, under the auspices of the Madison Orchestral association. This orchestra, though one of the most recently organized, has taken a leading place among the American musical associations through the leadership of its conductor, the Russian pianist, Ossip Gabrilowitsch.

Gabrilowitsch graduated with highest honors from the University of Petrograd, and made America his home in 1906. In 1917 he appeared in New York as leader of an orchestra assembled by himself, with such success that he was immediately in demand, and Detroit was the fortunate city to secure his leadership.

Tickets are now on sale at Hook Bros. Students are $1.50, if fee cards are presented. Other tickets are $2.00.

EXAMINATIONS FOR RURAL CARRIERS ANNOUNCED

Rural mail carriers' examinations for Dane county, to fill vacancies at Mount Horeb and Riley, will be held at Madison and Stoughton April 23, according to an announcement by Postmaster Devine Saturday. The positions pay a salary of $1,800 annually for a 24-mile route, with an additional $30 annually for each additional mile covered.

Charity Ball Will be the Gayest Place One Ever Gazed On

"Shoes all around town, and a goat sandwiched into the Engineer's parade—even as they said at the Charity ball feature committee meeting at Union building last night," I mused, winking at my pal. "Where did you get in on that?" returned Bob, raising his eyebrows.

"Oh, doors have cracks, and walls are thin," I suggested nonchalantly thinking of my comfortable position on the banisters the evening before, as a dangled my feet, twirled my thumbs, and waited for Bill to get through with his session.

"Tell you what," came faintly floating, as I sat there, "We want a mixer—not a mutual admiration society."

"Yes," sounded a deep bass. "Plenty of women, something to laugh at, enough to eat—I mean an abundance—and the best music!"

"Well," piped a feminine voice, "Eliminate wall-flowers, draft a dozen clowns, have refreshments ad infinitum, and engage the Candy Shop ten-piece orchestra to include Don Bohm, Hubbell, Cohn, Louis Mann, Tom Faggart and the rest."

Things were still for a few minutes—then I caught snatches—a few words intermittently. Something about "a Venus de Milo, famous for beauty and 'line,'" who was to occasion a rush for the reserved floor space known as exclusive "McDougal's Alley;" a remark about certain expert in palmistry; and every once in a while, a whispered, "Booth—Booth." The latter was mysterious enough, especially as I caught immediately afterward, "Wild Man from the East," "Match between Chicago and St. Louis," "Tax on Tea," "The Scarlet Letter," and a loud:

"Plenty of color, plenty of red and yellow! Make it the gayest place they ever gazed on; and a softer, "But what will you do with the crowd, man?"

"That's easy," was the answer, "With a squad of policemen to help manage the overly-excited. If all the high-brows, kill-joys, and super tea-hounds will give their standing room to other worthier individuals, it'll help some. Then the overflow, we'll just—" Then another endless uninteresting silence.

Bang! and the folding doors slid back. Bob emerged with blue tickets in his right hand, and yellow in his left.

"Blue for the girls; yellow for the fellows," he recited laconically to himself. "Twenty-five cents a foot; two feet fifty cents. If you don't see me, call and get your tickets at Morgan's or the University pharmacy. Charity Ball, April 2."

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

ON next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the second annual state high school basketball tournament will be held at the Armory. The strongest high school teams in Wisconsin will contend in this tournament for the state championship.

The games scheduled should be spectacular exhibitions of basketball skill. The teams that will contend here have survived the elimination contests in the various parts of the state. These elimination contests have been held by the state normal schools to select the teams best qualified to meet in the championship games. The events, therefore, should prove exciting and spectacular contests.

The university has taken a definite stand in promoting the basketball tournament. It has in reality declared that university students favor the promotion of high school athletics. It has attested its willingness to reward athletic achievement in the high school. At the same time, the university is endeavoring to offer the high school leaders a better conception of what the university stands for and is.

The success of the high school tournament will depend largely on the attitude of the university students. If the games are well supported, the tournament will succeed; otherwise, it will fail.

The university will not appear to have made good in its efforts to foster and reward high school athletic endeavors if most students fail to support the games this week-end. Unless the games are well patronized, the high school students who come here will have a poor opinion of the university and what it undertakes.

University students should support unstintingly the university's efforts to promote high school athletics. University students should endeavor to give an impression of the university that will make high school leaders want to come to Wisconsin. University students should, in short, support the basketball tournament this week-end.

THE CHARITY BALL

QUESTS have gone out to the students to reserve the date of April 2 for the charity ball mixer.

The ball is being given for the purpose of raising funds to carry on social welfare work in Wisconsin. The proceeds will be used to aid those who through sickness, poverty, or misfortune of one sort or another must undergo hardship and suffering.

Special effort is being made by the committees in charge of the charity ball to make the event an unusual success. The usual superabundance of men at the mixers will be obviated by selling the same number of tickets to both men and women. To avoid crowded conditions, the whole Armory will be used instead of just the main gym. The floor will be specially prepared. Everything assures an unusual and an enjoyable affair.

It is up to Madison to raise five hundred dollars for social welfare work. Students can help and at the same time enjoy themselves by patronizing the charity ball on April 2.

Buy a ticket at Morgan's or the University Pharmacy and contribute to a worthy undertaking.

SALE OF TICKETS TO MILITARY BALL
CLOSES MARCH 25

The sale of tickets for the 1921 Military Ball is rapidly nearing completion, according to Larry Warne, chairman in charge of the ticket sale. The mail order sale will close March 25, and all tickets remaining unsold at that time will be placed on open sale.

A number of the groups that have applied for boxes have not as yet made their ticket reservations. Such orders must be mailed to Larry Warne, 625 N. Henry, before Friday. The price of the tickets is $3.50, and until after March 25, only written orders will be accepted.

As far as is possible, the committee desires to dispose of the tickets through groups and clubs this year, and all men who wish to attend are advised to join or form a club of some sort and make their reservations in a body. Only ten men are needed to make up a group and secure a box.

Organizations should also arrange for boxes as soon as possible by mailing their orders to Fred Ruffalo, 216 N. Brooks. Only mail orders will be accepted and should include the number of couples in the party. The boxes will range in price according to their size.

Whether or not the poisoning caused by the food served by the university halls and commons was ptomaine poisoning I do not know, but it does seem to me that it is the manifest duty of the university to find out and make sure that the unfortunate affair is not repeated. The Wisconsin News was accused by the Cardinal of yellow journalism and rightly so, but the story taken from the Capital Times and published in the Cardinal on Saturday shows an equally reckless disregard for the truth. The statement of the Wisconsin News that mothers were called to the bedside of their daughters was no more ridiculous and unique than that of saying that only about 15 or 20 girls were affected.

The attitude of the university halls and commons is certainly to be regretted. If, when they were questioned by reporters, they had told the truth, these distorted and exaggerated stories in the Milwaukee newspapers could have been avoided. By denying it absolutely, they gave the sensational newspaper an opportunity to play up the discrepancies between the story of the victims of the affair and those responsible for it.

There are many people throughout the state who cannot agree with Halls and Commons that the serving of improper food to 272 girls in the dormitories is a trivial matter. It is unlikely that the incident will be repeated but if it is, it is to be hoped that the university will take a different attitude, and instead of concealing the facts will make an earnest effort to find the cause and give assurance that everything is being done to remedy the improper conditions.

AGNES O'HARA,
Pres. of Barnard Hall.GRAFTERS TO HAVE ILLUSTRATED TALK

A free illustrated lecture showing how the science of grafting is being applied to fruit raising in the United States will be given under the auspices of the Grafters' club on Wednesday evening, March 30 at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium of Agricultural hall.

Stereopticon views will show the scientific methods employed in the orange orchards of California, in the cherry orchards of Door county, Wisconsin, and on the fruit farms of Ohio.

The Grafters' club was one of the most active organizations prior to the war, and has only lately been reorganized by Professor Moore of the horticultural department. Meetings are held every Wednesday night.

SPECIAL TWELFTH NIGHT MEETING

There will be a special meeting of Twelfth Night in the concert room of Lathrop hall at 1 o'clock today.

MATHEWS HITS DEATH BY GAS

U. W. Expert Opposed To Proposed Nevada Death Penalty

"I would rather be hung than have to undergo the nervous strain that would be present knowing that I was to be executed by lethal gas," declared Prof. J. H. Mathews, director of the Chemistry department of the University of Wisconsin, discussing the proposed humane death law of Nevada.

There is probably no other man in the country better qualified to discuss this question than Prof. Mathews. He was called to Washington at the beginning of the war by federal authorities. He was placed in charge of the gas and flame branch of the trench warfare station, engineering division, of the ordnance department. In this connection he discovered a gas, with other officers that was about to be used when the war closed. It is the most deadly gas ever discovered.

Prof. Mathews, said "one of the war gasses could be used for the suffering that is involved is beyond description. Nevada proposes to kill criminals sentenced to death by the use of lethal gas, pumped into the cell at a time not known by the convicted man, supposedly when he is asleep.

"The kind of lethal gas that I would imagine that they would use would be carbon monoxide.

"To be placed in a cell knowing that sometime when I was asleep I would be killed by gas would be a most terrible strain to me. I cannot imagine a man sleeping under that strain until physical exhaustion forced sleep upon him."

"THE SCARECROW"

PERSONALITY PUTS
ORPH BILL ACROSS

By A. B. M. and F. E. C.
After all, what makes a good act in vaudeville is personality. Good looks, clever lines, and novelty all help in creating the personality, but they will get nowhere without it. The oldest gags, and the most threadbare situations, however, will get by if they have a striking individuality to put them across.

That was what made us enjoy George Ford and Flo Cunningham at the Orpheum last night when they played around on the stage and confided their domestic troubles to the audience. George had an appealing smile and showed a surprising ability in impersonation, while Flo was superlatively "well-gowned" and brought with her decorative self a whiff of Broadway.

Southern charm, added to a boyishly magnetic personality, made Sidney Phillips a noticeable feature on the program. His songs and stories, not intrinsically unusual, gained twice their value from his manner of delivery.

The Dancing Kennedys, in eye-satisfying and breath-taking dances, afforded a fleeting few minutes of pleasure. But their dancing conveyed no indication of individuality, granting it was present, and they will be soon forgotten.

"A Peep Behind the Scenes," the long sketch, was on a theme that always delights audiences, but somehow this particular variation failed to make much impression. If it had had more realism and less burlesque, one might have been vaguely reminded of "Main Street."

Al Bayes and Arnold Fields in "The Versatile Johnnies," were Johnnies, all right, but not particularly versatile in their black face act.

It is too bad that all the Japanese acrobats, like the Hayataka Brothers last night, keep on doing the same astounding feats in the same way, because after one has seen a few, one's appreciation begins to lag.

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

Pauline Frederick in "Roads of Destiny" and Mack Sennett's latest comedy "Don't Weaken" will be shown at the Strand theater for the last times today.

Wednesday to Saturday Bryant Washburn in "Burglar Proof" will be the attraction at the Strand.

This is the story of a prosperous young man who is so tight in money matters that they call him "Burglar Proof," meaning, that only a charge of nitro-glycerine is able to shake his dollars from him. But Cupid finds the combination and effects a complete change. How this is accomplished makes a highly entertaining story. Lois Wilson is his leading woman and heads a fine all round supporting cast.

The added feature will be Buster Keaton in "The Scarecrow."

AT THE GRAND

The William Russell picture "The Challenge of the Law" will be shown for the last times at the Grand tonight. The story is from the pen of Lloyd Sheldon and is a vivid melodrama portraying the work of the Northwest Mounted Police.

An entirely different type of picture will be offered tomorrow when Shirley Mason will be seen in a screen version of the successful stage play "Merely Mary Ann." A heaping measure of heart interest and an appeal that is irresistible is said to mark the screen adaptation of the stage play.

South African Here to Study Dairying

J. R. Wiese, who represents the largest dairying interests in the Orange Free state, South Africa, has arrived in Madison to spend a month or two inspecting Wisconsin creameries and dairying in general. He has just returned from a tour of New Zealand and Australia. He has been visiting with C. M. van der Riet, B. J. Smit, J. D. de Wet, and F. van der Merwe, South African agriculturists, who are students at the university.

The Kid

"The Kid" represents the return to the screen of Charles Spencer Chaplin, the greatest comedian the screen has produced, after a long absence.

It is the first appearance of Chaplin in a feature length picture and it is totally different from anything in which he has previously appeared.
