INTRODUCTION.

In accordance with chapter 405 of the laws of 1901, the thirty-fourth volume of the Wisconsin official Blue Book is herewith presented. The information herein contained has been taken from official sources and great care has been exercised to secure accuracy and eliminate errors as far as it is possible to do so in compiling a book of this kind. All of the old material which the law requires to be published in each succeeding edition remains unchanged, except that it has been brought up to date, February 1st, 1907, or later.

The increase in the size of each succeeding volume caused by the necessary additions to those parts of the Blue Book which the law provides shall be published has made it advisable not to add any new features to this edition.

The pictures of state institutions, members of congress, and of the state legislature, state officers and supreme judges, have been continued in this volume.

In addition to the regular election statistics of state and national officers, the primary vote for governor by voting precincts has been inserted.

In addition to this, the usual statistics relating to taxes, state finances, banks, schools, Grand Army of the Republic, the state militia, etc., are continued.

In addition to giving all the post offices of the state, those that have been discontinued within the last three years have been inserted, together with the post office where mail should be sent to reach former patrons of the discontinued offices.

Note—Page 637 should have been opposite page 469, and page 1015 should have been opposite page 904, but the plates containing this matter were mislaid and overlooked by the printer until too late to insert them where they belonged.

Commissioner of Statistics.

UNANIMOUSLY PASSED BY THE CONGRESS OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, JULY 4, 1776.

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; and that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having, in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world:

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. He has forbidden his Governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people unless these people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only. He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures. He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people. He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise, the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the danger of invasion from without and convulsions within. He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose, obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their emigration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands. He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers. He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices and the amount and payment of their salaries. He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance. He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislature. He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power. He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us; for protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment, for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States; for cutting off our trade with all parts of the world; for imposing taxes on us without our consent; for depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury. For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences. For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies; for taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering, fundamentally, the powers of our governments; for suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever. He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us. He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coast, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people. He is at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation. He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands. He has excited domestic insurrections among us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions, we have petitioned for redress, in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts made by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war—in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connections between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

(Signed)

JOHN HANCOCK.

And by the delegates from New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Connecticut, Rhode Island, &c., New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia.

PREAMBLE.

WE, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

SECTION 2. The house of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislature.

No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this Union according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SECTION 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class, at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class, at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any State, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore in the absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall, nevertheless, be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

SECTION 4. The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SECTION 5. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties, as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy, and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SECTION 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SECTION 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it unless the Congress by their adjournment prevents its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SECTION 8. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States and with the Indian tribes;

To establish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures;

To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;

To establish post offices and post roads;

To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times to authors and inventors the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court;

To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the laws of nations;

To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;

To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;

To provide and maintain a navy;

To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively, the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever, over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular States, and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dockyards, and other needful buildings; and

To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

SECTION 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

No capitation, or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State.

No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one State over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to, or from one State, be obliged to enter, clear or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding an office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign State.

SECTION 10. No State shall enter into any treaty, alliance or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

No state shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No State shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and together with the Vice President, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector.

The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such a majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them for President; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall in like manner choose the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors, shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them by ballot the Vice President.

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural-born citizen, or a citizen of the United States, at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office, who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability both of the President and Vice President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enters on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the constitution of the United States."

SECTION 2. The President shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts of law or in the heads of departments.

The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SECTION 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress such information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may on extraordinary occasions convene both Houses, or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all of the officers of the United States.

SECTION 4. The President, Vice President, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall at stated times receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SECTION 2. The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States; between a State and citizens of another State; between citizens of different States; between citizens of the same State claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State or the citizens thereof, and foreign States, citizens or subjects.

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned, the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact; with such exceptions, and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crime shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

SECTION 3. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture except during the life of the person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

SECTION 2. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.

A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.

No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SECTION 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States, or part of States, without the consent of the legislature of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

SECTION 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and on application of the legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislature of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution as under the Confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges of every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the conventions of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the same. Done in convention by the unanimous consent of the States present, the seventeenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the independence of the United States of America the twelfth. ## AMENDMENTS.

---

[The first ten amendments were proposed at the first session of the first Congress of the United States, which was begun and held at the city of New York, on the 4th of March, 1789, and were adopted by the requisite number of States.— 1 vol. Laws of U. S., p. 72.]

The preamble and resolution following, preceded the original proposition of the amendments, and, as they have been supposed by a high equity judge (8 Wendell's reports, p. 100) to have an important bearing on the construction of those amendments, they are here inserted. They will be found in the journals of the first session of the first Congress.]

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES, begun and held at the city of New York, on Wednesday, the 4th of March, 1789. The conventions of a number of the States having at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added; and as extending the ground of public confidence in the government, will best insure the beneficent ends of its institution,—

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both houses concurring, That the following articles be proposed to the legislatures of the several States, as amendments to the Constitution of the United States, all or any of which articles, when ratified by three-fourths or said legislatures, to be valid to all intents and purposes as part of said Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE I.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

No soldier shall in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

ARTICLE VII.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States, than according to rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the vote shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the vote shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. SECTION 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President or Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

SECTION 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing the insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

HISTORICAL OUTLINE OF THE ADMIS- SION OF WISCONSIN TO THE UNION.

[By REUBEN G. THWAITES, Secretary and Superintendent of State Historical Society of Wisconsin.]

Previous to the fall of New France (1763), what is now Wisconsin was held by the French, who had several military posts within its borders—the chief among them, at Green Bay and Prairie du Chien, and on Lake Pepin. Upon the assumption of British control, the country northwest of the River Ohio (including the present Wisconsin) was made a part of the Province of Quebec; but by the treaty of peace consequent upon the successful issue of the Revolution (1783), the country became a part of the United States. There were, at first, claims by tide-water States to some of the land in the then Northwest, but eventually these were abandoned, and the district became national domain. By the famous Ordinance of 1787, the trans-Ohio country was erected into the Northwest Territory; the ordinance provided for the ultimate establishment from this Territory, of five States. The story of how Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois were in due course of time detached, will be found set forth in detail in the article on "The Boundaries of Wisconsin," in Wisconsin Historical Collections, Vol. XI.

The country west of Lake Michigan and north of the Illinois line, became in course of time, a part of Michigan Territory. But the great distance from Detroit, at a time when there were no railways or telegraphs, was such as to render the exercise of civil government here, almost impracticable. Hence, after much complaint and recrimination, Congress was, in 1836, induced to erect Wisconsin Territory—the name being derived from its principal river. It is an Indian name, the exact meaning of which is unknown; popular writers are fond of telling us that it signifies "gathering of the waters," or "meeting of the waters"—but there is no warrant for this. The earliest-known French form of the word, is "Misconsing," which gradually became crystallized into "Ouisconsin." When the English language became dominant, it was necessary to change the spelling in order to preserve the sound; it thus, at first, became "Wiskonsan," or "Wiskonsin," but finally, by official action, "Wisconsin." The "k" was, however, rather strenuously insisted on by Governor Doty and many newspaper editors, in the days of the Territory.

Preliminary Agitation.—Some of the people of Wisconsin were not long content with a Territorial government. The Territory was only two years old, when a bill was introduced in Congress for a State government, but the attempt proved abortive. In 1841, Governor Doty, the leader in the movement, had the question put to popular vote, 92 voting for, and 499 against it; in 1842, there was still another vote,—ayes 619, nays 1,821; in 1843, a third attempt was defeated in the Territorial Council; and in 1845, still another met defeat in the House.

But at last, after ten years of Territorial existence, popular sentiment had been educated to a general desire for Statehood. Accordingly, Morgan L. Martin, of Green Bay, then the Territorial representative in Congress, gave notice in the House of Representatives (January 9, 1846), "of a motion for leave to introduce a bill to enable the people of Wisconsin to form a constitution and State government, and for the admission of such State into the Union." He followed this (January 13) by the introduction of a bill to that effect; the measure was approved by President Polk, August 10.

Meanwhile, the Council and House of Wisconsin Territory had favorably voted on the proposition, and took time by the forelock by discussing some of the principal features of the proposed State constitution. This was in January and February, 1846. On the 17th of April, the question of Statehood was passed upon by the people of the Territory, the returns this time showing 12,334 votes for, and 2,487 against. August 1, Governor Dodge issued a proclamation calling a convention for the drafting of a constitution, and apportioning 124 delegates to the various counties; these delegates were elected September 7.

First Constitutional Convention.—The convention was in session in the Territorial capitol at Madison, between October 5 and December 16, 1846. Don A. J. Upham was president, and Lafayette Kellogg secretary. The membership was as follows:

The convention, as above constituted, was an able body of thoroughly representative men, of whom 42 were natives of New York State, 29 of New England, and 12 of foreign birth; 69 of them were farmers, and 26 lawyers. The oldest man was 65 years, and the youngest 23. The speeches, as recorded in the newspapers of the day, were of an exceptionally high order of excellence. The constitution which these men framed was submitted to popular vote, April 5, 1847, the result being 14,119 ayes and 20,231 nays. The contest over the document had been of an exciting nature; the defeat was owing to differences of opinion upon the article relating to the rights of married women, the article on exemptions, and those on banks, the elective judiciary, and the numerical size of the legislature.

Second Constitutional Convention. As soon as practicable, Governor Dodge (Sept. 27, 1847) called a special session of the legislature, which convened at Madison October 18, and made provisions for a second constitutional convention, with 69 members. Most of the members of the first convention declined reelection to the second; six alone were returned—Messrs. S. W. Beall, Warren Chase, Stoddard Judd, Theodore Prentiss, Garret M. Fitzgerald, and Frederick S. Lovell. The membership was as follows, Morgan L. Martin being president, and Thomas McHugh secretary:

Brown—Morgan L. Martin.

Columbia—James T. Lewis.

Waukesha—Peter D. Gifford, George Scagel, Squire S. Case, Alfred L. Castleman, Emulous P. Cotton, Eleazer Root.

The second convention, which, on the whole, was thought to represent a more conservative element than the first, was in session at Madison from December 15, 1847, to February 1, 1848. The nativity list shows that 25 were born in New York State, 24 in New England, and only 7 in foreign lands. The oldest man was 65, and the youngest 25, with an average age of about 37.

The members of both conventions were men of high standing in their respective communities; and later, many of them held prominent positions in the service of the nation and the State.

The State Admitted.—As soon as possible after the close of the convention, notice was given in Congress (February 21, 1848) by our representative, John H. Tweedy, of his intention to introduce another bill for the admission of Wisconsin into the Union. March 13, the people of the Territory voted on the new constitution, and it was adopted by 16,799 ayes and 6,334 nays. March 16, in a special message, President Polk submitted to Congress the Wisconsin constitution, with accompanying documents. March 20, Mr. Tweedy introduced his promised bill, which on April 13 was favorably reported from the committee on territories, read first and second times, and referred to the committee of the whole. It was made special order for May 9, and "each day thereafter until disposed of;" and on the 11th was engrossed, read a third time, and passed. The Senate at once took action; May 12, the bill was there read first and second times and referred to committee on territories; a week later (May 19), the bill was concurred in, and ten days later (May 29) it was approved by the President.

The State Begins Business.—Wisconsin was thus admitted to the Union of States, by the Act of Congress approved May 29, 1848.

Upon the day of the general vote on the new constitution (March 13), the Territorial legislature adjourned sine die, after making full arrangements for the new government which was to succeed it; for it was well understood what the popular verdict would be.

The general election for the first State officers and the members of the first State legislature was held May 8. Upon the 7th of June, Governor Nelson Dewey and his fellow officials were sworn into office, and the legislature opened its first session. Thus the State of Wisconsin began business.

Why the "Badger" State?—In the early lead-mining days in Southwestern Wisconsin, the miners from Southern Illinois and farther south returned home every winter and came back to the diggings in the spring, thus imitating the migrations of the fish popularly called the "sucker," in the Rock, Illinois, and other south-flowing rivers of the region. For this reason, the south-winterers were jocosely called "Suckers," and Illinois became known as "The Sucker State." On the other hand, lead-miners from the Eastern States were unable to return home every winter, and at first lived in rude dug-outs—burrowing into the hillsides after the fashion of the badger (Taxidea americana). These men were the first permanent settlers in the mines north of the Illinois line: and thus Wisconsin, in later days, became dubbed "The Badger State." Contrary to general belief, the badger itself is not frequently found in Wisconsin.

And if the Constitution be ratified by the said electors, it shall become the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin. ## RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved.—That the Congress of the United [sic] be and is hereby requested, upon the application of Wisconsin for admission into the Union, so to alter the provisions of an act of Congress entitled “an act to grant a quantity of land to the Territory of Wisconsin, for the purpose of aiding in opening a canal to connect the waters of Lake Michigan with those of Rock river,” approved June eighteenth, eighteen hundred and thirty-eight, and so to alter the terms and conditions of the grant made therein, that the odd-numbered sections thereby granted and remaining unsold may be held and disposed of by the State of Wisconsin as part of the five hundred thousand acres of land to which said State is entitled by the provisions of an act of Congress entitled “an act to appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the public lands and to grant pre-emption rights,” approved the fourth day of September, eighteen hundred and forty one; and further, that the even-numbered sections reserved by Congress, may be offered for sale by the United States for the same minimum price, and subject to the same rights of pre-emption as other public lands of the United States.

Resolved.—That Congress be further requested to pass an act whereby the excess price over and above one dollar and twenty five cents per acre, which may have been paid by the purchasers of said even-numbered sections which shall have been sold by the United States, be refunded to the present owners thereof, or they be allowed to enter any of the public lands of the United States to an amount equal in value to the excess so paid.

Resolved.—That in case the said odd-numbered sections shall be ceded to the State as aforesaid, the same shall be sold by the State in the same manner as other school lands, provided that the same rights of pre-emption as are now granted by the laws of the United States, shall be secured to persons who may be actually settled upon such lands at the time of the adoption of this Constitution; and provided further, that the excess price, over and above one dollar and twenty five cents per acre, absolutely or conditionally contracted to be paid by the purchasers of any part of said sections which shall have been sold by the Territory of Wisconsin, shall be remitted to such purchasers, their representatives or assigns.

Resolved.—That Congress be requested, upon the application of Wisconsin for admission into the Union, to pass an act whereby the grant of five hundred thousand acres of land, to which the State of Wisconsin is entitled by the provisions of an Act of Congress entitled “an act to appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the public lands, and to grant pre-emption rights,” approved the fourth day of September, eighteen hundred and forty-one, and also the five per-centum of the net proceeds. . . . of the public lands lying within the State, to which it shall become entitled on its admission into the Union, by the provisions of an Act of Congress entitled “an act to enable the people of Wisconsin Territory to form a Constitution and State government, and for the admission of such State into the Union,” approved the sixth day of August, eighteen hundred and forty six, shall be granted to the State of Wisconsin for the use of schools, instead of the purposes mentioned in the said acts of Congress respectively.

Resolved.—That the Congress of the United States be and hereby is requested, upon the admission of this State into the Union, so to alter the provisions of the Act of Congress entitled “an act to grant a certain quantity of land to aid in the improvement of the Fox and Wisconsin rivers, and to connect the same by a canal in the Territory of Wisconsin,” that the price of the lands reserved to the United States, shall be reduced to the minimum price of the public lands.

Resolved.—That the Legislature of this State shall make provision by law for the sale of the lands granted to the State in aid of said improvements, subject to the same rights of pre-emption to the settlers thereon, as are now allowed by law to settlers on the public lands.

Resolved.—That the foregoing resolutions be appended to, and signed with the Constitution of Wisconsin, and submitted therewith to the people of this Territory, and to the Congress of the United States.

We, the undersigned, members of the Convention to form a Constitution for the State of Wisconsin, to be submitted to the people thereof for their ratification or rejection do hereby certify that the foregoing is the Constitution adopted by the Convention.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our hands, at Madison, the first day of February A. D. eighteen hundred and forty-eight.

MANUAL OF PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE.

NOTE.—The rules and practices peculiar to the SENATE are printed between brackets, []. Those of PARLIAMENT are not so distinguished.

IMPORTANCE OF RULES.

SECTION I.

IMPORTANCE OF ADHERING TO RULES.

Mr. ONSLOW, the ablest among the Speakers of the House of Commons, used to say: "It was a maxim he had often heard when he was a young man, from old and experienced Members, that nothing tended more to throw power into the hands of the administration, and those who acted with a majority of the House of Commons, than a neglect of, or departure from, the rules of proceeding; that these forms, as instituted by our ancestors, operated as a check and control on the actions of the majority, and that they were in many instances, a shelter and protection to the minority, against the attempts of power." So far the maxim is certainly true, and it is founded in good sense, that as it is always in the power of the majority, by their numbers, to stop any improper measures proposed on the part of their opponents, the only weapons by which the minority can defend themselves against similar attempts from those in power, are the forms and rules of proceeding which have been adopted as they were found necessary, from time to time, and are become the law of the House; by a strict adherence to which, the weaker party can only be protected from those irregularities and abuses which these forms were intended to check, and which the wantonness of power is but too often apt to suggest to large and successful majorities. 2 Hats., 171, 172.

And whether these forms be in all cases the most rational or not, is really not of so great importance. It is much more material that there should be a rule to go by, than what that rule is; that there may be a uniformity of proceeding in business, not subject to the caprice of the Speaker, or captiousness of the Members. It is very material that order, decency and regularity be preserved in a dignified public body. 2 Hats., 149.

SECTION II.

LEGISLATIVE.

[All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives—Constitution of the United States, Art. I, Sec. 1.]

[The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. Constitution of the United States, Art. I, Sec. 6.]

[For the powers of Congress, see the following Articles and Sections of the Constitution of the United States, I, 4, 7, 8, 9. II, 1, 2. III, 3. IV, 1, 3, 5, and all the amendments.]

SECTION III.

PRIVILEGE.

The privileges of Members of Parliament, from small and obscure beginnings, have been advancing for centuries with a firm and never yielding pace. Claims seem to have been brought forward from time to time, and repeated, till some example of their admission enabled them to build law on that example. We can only, therefore, state the points of progression at which they now are. It is now acknowledged, 1st. That they are at all times exempted from question elsewhere for anything said in their own House; that during the time of privilege, 2d. Neither a Member himself, his<sup>1</sup> wife, nor his servants (familiales sui), for any matter of their own, may be<sup>2</sup> arrested on mesne process, in any civil suit; 3d. Nor be detained under execution, though levied before time of privilege: 4th. Nor impleaded, cited or subpoenaed in any court: 5th. Nor summoned as a witness or juror: 6th. Nor may their lands or goods be distrained: 7th. Nor their persons assaulted, or characters traduced. And the period of time covered by privilege, before and after the session, with the practice of short prorogations under the connivance of the Crown, amounts in fact to a perpetual protection against the course of justice. In one instance, indeed, it has been relaxed by the 10 G. S, c. 50, which permits judiciary proceedings to go on against them. That these privileges must be continually progressive, seems to result from their rejecting all definition of them; the doctrine being that "their dignity and independence are preserved by keeping their privileges indefinite; 'and that the maxims upon which they proceed, together with the method of proceeding, rest entirely in their own breast, and are not defined and ascertained by any particular stated laws.'" 1 Blackst., 163, 164.

[It was probably from this view of the encroaching character of privilege that the framers of our constitution, in their care to provide that the law shall bind equally on all, and especially that those who make them shall not exempt themselves from their operation, have only privileged "Senators and Representatives" themselves from the single act of "arrest in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace, during their attendance at the session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same, and from being questioned in any other place for any speech or debate in either House." Const. U. S., Art. I, Sec. 6. Under the general authority "to make all laws necessary and proper for carrying into execution the powers given them," Const. U. S., Art. II, Sec. 3, they may provide by law the details which may be necessary for giving full effect to the enjoyment of this privilege. No such law being yet made, it seems to stand at present on the following grounds: 1. The act of arrest is void, ab initio<sup>3</sup> 2. The member arrested may be discharged on motion, 1 Bl., 166; 3 Stra., 990; or by habeas corpus under the Federal or State authority as the case may be; or by a writ of privilege out of the Chancery, 2 Stra., 989, in those States which have adopted that part of the laws of England. Orders of the House of Commons, 1550, February 20. 3. The arrest being unlawful, is a trespass for which the officer and others concerned are liable to action and indictment in the ordinary courts of justice, as in other cases of unauthorized arrest. 4. The court before which the process is returnable is bound to act as in other cases of unauthorized proceeding, and liable also, as in other similar cases, to have their proceedings stayed or corrected by the superior courts.]

[The time necessary for going to, and returning from, Congress, not being defined, it will, of course, be judged of in every particular case by those who will have to decide the case.] While privilege was understood in England to extend, as it does here, only to exemption from arrest, eundo, moranda, et redeundo, the House of Commons themselves decided that "a convenient time was to be understood." (1580.) 1 Hats., 99, 100. Nor is the law so strict in point of time as to require the party to set out immediately on his return, but allows him time to settle his private affairs, and to prepare for his journey; and does not even scan his road very nicely, nor forfeit his protection for a little deviation from that which is most direct; some necessity perhaps constraining him to it. 2 Str., 986, 987.

This privilege from arrest, privileges of course against all process, the disobedience to which is punishable by an attachment of the person; as a subpoena ad respondendum, or, testificandum, or a summons on a jury; and with reason, because a member has superior duty to perform in another place. [When a representative is withdrawn from his seat by summons, the 40,000 people whom he represents, lose their voice in debate and vote, as they do on his voluntary absence; when a Senator is withdrawn by summons, his State loses half its voice in debate and vote, as it does on his voluntary absence. The enormous disparity of evil admits no comparison.]

[So far there will probably be no difference of opinion as to the privileges of the two Houses of Congress; but in the following cases it is otherwise. In December, 1795, the House of Representatives committed two persons of the name of Randall and Whitney, for attempting to corrupt the integrity of certain members, which they considered as a contempt and breach of the privileges of the House; and the facts being proved, Whitney was detained in confinement a fortnight, and Randall three weeks, and was reprimanded by the Speaker. In March, 1796, the House of Representatives voted a challenge given to a member of their House to be a breach of the privileges of the House; but satisfactory apologies and acknowledgments being made, no further proceeding was had. The editor of the Aurora having, in his paper of February 19, 1800, inserted some paragraphs defamatory of the Senate, and failed in his appearance, he was ordered to be committed. In debating the legality of this order, it was insisted, in support of it that every man, by the law of nature, and every body of men, possesses the right of self-defense; that all public functionaries are essentially invested with the powers of self-preservation; that they have an inherent right to all acts necessary to keep themselves in a condition to discharge the trusts confided to them; that whenever authorities are given, the means of carrying them into execution are given by necessary implication; that thus we see the British Parliament exercise the right of punishing contempts; all the State Legislatures exercise the same power, and every court does the same; that, if we have it not, we sit at the mercy of every intruder who may enter our doors or gallery, and, by noise and tumult, render proceeding in business impracticable; that if our tranquillity is to be perpetually disturbed by newspaper defamation, it will not be possible to exercise our functions with the requisite coolness and deliberation; and that we must, therefore, have a power to punish these disturbers of our peace and proceedings. To this it was answered, that the Parliament and courts of England have cognizance of contempts by the express provisions of their law; that the State Legislatures have equal authority, because their powers are plenary; they represent their constituents completely, and possess all their powers, except such as their Constitutions have expressly denied them; that the courts of the several States have the same powers by the laws of their States, and those of the Federal Government by the same State laws adopted in each State, by a law of Congress; that none of these bodies, therefore, derive those powers from natural or necessary right, but from express law; that Congress have no such natural or necessary power, nor any powers but such as are given them by the Constitution; that that has given them, directly, exemption from personal arrest, exemption from question elsewhere for what is said in their House, and power over their own members and proceedings; for these no further law is necessary, the Constitution being the law; that, moreover, by that article of the Constitution which authorizes them "to make all laws necessary and proper for carrying into execution the power vested by the Constitution in them," they may provide by law for an undisturbed exercise of their functions, e. g., for the punishment of contempt, of affrays or tumult in their presence, etc., but, till the law be made, it does not exist; and does not exist, from their own neglect; that in the mean time, however, they are not unprotected, the ordinary magistrates and courts of law being open and competent to punish all unjustifiable disturbances or defamations, and even their own sergeant, who may appoint deputies ad libitum to aid him, 3 Grey, 59, 147, 255, is equal to small disturbances; that in requiring a previous law, the Constitution had regard to the inviolability of the citizen, as well as of the member; as, should one House, in the regular form of a bill, aim at too broad privileges, it may be checked by the other, and both by the President; and also as, the law being promulgated, the citizen will know how to avoid offense. But if one branch may assume its own privileges without control; if it may do it on the spur of the occasion, conceal the law in its own breast, and after the fact committed, make its sentence both the law and the judgment on that fact, if the offense is to be kept undefined, and to be declared only ex re nata, and according to the passion of the moment, and there be no limitation either in the manner or measure of the punishment, the condition of the citizen will be perilous indeed. Which if these doctrines is to prevail, time will decide. Where there is no fixed law, the judgment on any particular case, is the law of that single case only, and dies with it. When a new and even similar case arises, the judgment which is to make and at the same time apply the law, is open to question and consideration, as are all new laws. Perhaps Congress, in the meantime, in their care for the safety of the citizen as well as that for their own protection, may declare by law what is necessary and proper to enable them to carry into execution the powers vested in them, and thereby hang up a rule for the inspection of all, which may direct the conduct of the citizen, and at the same time test the judgments they shall themselves pronounce in their own case.]

Privilege from arrest takes place by force of the election; and before a return be made a member elected may be named of a committee, and is to every extent a member, except that he cannot vote until he is sworn. Memor., 107, 108. D'Eves, 642, col. 2; 643, col. 1 Pet. Miscel. Parl., 119. Lex Parl., c. 23. 2 Hats., 22, 62.

Every man must, at his peril, take notice who are members of either House returned of record. Lex Parl., 23; 4 Inst., 24.

On complaint of a breach of privilege the party may either be summoned or sent for in custody of the sergeant. Grey, 88, 95.

The privilege of a member is the privilege of the House. If the member waive it without leave, it is a ground for punishing him, but cannot in effect waive the privilege of the House. 3 Grey, 140, 222.

For any speech or debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other place. Const. U. S., I, 6, S. P., Protest of the Commons to James I, 1621; 2 Rapin, No. 54, pp. 211, 212. But this is restrained to things done in the House in a parliamentary course. 1 Rush., 663. For he is not to have privilege contra morem parliamentarum, to exceed the bounds and limits of his place and duty. Com. p.

If an offense be committed by a member of the House, of which the House has cognizance, it is an infringement of their right for any person or court to take notice of it, till the House has punished the offender, or referred him to a due course. Lex Parl., 63.

Privilege is in the power of the House, and is a restraint to proceedings of inferior courts, but not of the House itself. 2 Nelson, 450; 2 Grey, 399. For whatever is spoken in the House is subject to the censure of the House; and offenses of this kind have been severely punished by calling the person to the bar to make submission, committing him to the tower, expelling the House, etc. Scob., 72; L. Parl., c. 22.

It is a breach of order for the speaker to refuse to put a question which is in order. 2 Hats., 175-6; 5 Grey, 133.

And even in cases of treason, felony, and breach of the peace, to which privilege does not extend as to substance, yet in Parliament a member is privileged as to the mode of proceeding. The case is first to be laid before the House, that it may judge of the fact and of the grounds of the accusation, and how far forth the manner of the trial may concern their privilege; otherwise it would be in the power of the other branches of government, and even of every private man, under pretense of treason, etc., to take any man from his service in the House, and so as many, one after another, as would make the House what he pleaseth. Dec. of Com. on the King's declaring Sir John Hotham a traitor. 4 Rush., 586. So when a member stood indicted for felony, it was adjudged that he ought to remain of the House till conviction; for it may be any man's case who is guiltless, to be accused and indicted of felony or the like crime. 23 El. 1580; D'Eves, 283, col. 1; Lex Parl., 133.

When it is found necessary for the public service to put a member under arrest, or when on any public inquiry, matter comes out which may lead to affect the person of a member, it is the practice immediately to acquaint the House, that they may know the reasons for such a proceeding, and take such steps as they think proper. 2 Hats., 259. Of which see many examples. Id., 256, 257, 258. But the communication is subsequent to the arrest. 1 Blackst., 167.

It is highly expedient, says Hatsel, for the due preservation of the privileges of the separate branches of the Legislature, that neither should encroach on the other or interfere in any manner depending before them, so as to preclude or even influence that freedom of debate, which is essential to a free council. They are therefore not to take notice of any bills or other matters depending or of votes that have been given, or of speeches which have been held, by the members of either of the other branches of the Legislature, until the same have been communicated to them in the usual parliamentary manner. 2 Hats., 252. 4 Inst., 15. Seld. Jud., 53. Thus the King's taking notice of the bill for suppressing soldiers, depending before the House: his proposing a provisional clause for a bill before it was presented to him by the two Houses; his expressing displeasure against some persons for matters moved in parliament during the debate and preparation of a bill, were breaches of privilege; 2 Nelson, 347; and in 1783, December 17, it was declared a breach of fundamental privileges, etc., to report any opinion or pretended opinion of the King on any bill or proceeding depending in either House of Parliament with a view to influence the votes of the members. 2 Hats., 251, 6.

SECTION IV.

ELECTIONS.

[The times, places, and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators. Const., I, 4.

[Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members. Const., I, 5.]

SECTION V.

QUALIFICATIONS.

[The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State chosen by the Legislature thereof for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.]

[Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the end of the second year; of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class, at the expiration of the sixth year; so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen, by resignation or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of the State, any Executive thereof may make temporary appointments, until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.]

[No person shall be a Senator, who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen. Const., I, 3.]

[The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States; and the electors of each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.]

[No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.]

[Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers; which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons; including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one representative. Constitution of the United States, I, 2.]

[When vacancies happen in the representation from any State the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies. Const., U. S. Art. I, Sec. 2.]

[No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person, holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either House during his continuance in office. Const., I, 6.]

SECTION VI.

QUORUM.

[A majority of each House shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each House may provide. Const., I, 5.]

In general, the chair is not to be taken till a quorum for business is present; unless, after due waiting, such a quorum be despaired of, when the chair may be taken and the House adjourned. And whenever, during business, it is observed that a quorum is not present, any member may call for the House to be counted; and being found deficient, business is suspended. 2 Hats., 125, 126.

[The President having taken the chair, and a quorum being present, the journal of the preceding day shall be read, to the end that any mistakes may be corrected that shall have been made in the entries. Rules of the Senate.]

SECTION VII.

CALL OF THE HOUSE.

On a call of the House, each person rises up as he is called and answereth: the absentees are then only noted, but no excuse to be made till the House be fully called over. Then the absentees are called a second time, and if still absent, excuses are to be heard. Ord. House of Commons, 92.

They rise that their persons may be recognized; the voice in such a crowd, being an insufficient verification of their presence. But in so small a body as the Senate of the United States, the trouble of rising cannot be necessary.

Orders for calls on different days may subsist at the same time. 2 Hats., 72.

SECTION VIII.

ABSENCE.

[No member shall absent himself from the service of the Senate without leave of the Senate first obtained. And in case a less number than a quorum of the Senate shall convene, they are hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any or all absent members, as the majority of such members present shall agree, at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non-attendance shall be made as the Senate, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient; and in that case the expense shall be paid out of the contingent fund. And this rule shall apply as well to the first convention of the Senate, at the legal time of meeting, as to each day of the session, after the hour is arrived to which the Senate stood adjourned. Rule 8.]

SECTION IX.

SPEAKER.

[The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided. Constitution, 1, 3.]

[The Senate shall choose their officers, and also a President pro tempore in the absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States. Ib.]

[The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers. Const., 1, 2.]

When but one person is proposed, and no objection made, it has not been usual in Parliament to put any question to the house; but without a question the members proposing him conduct him to the chair. But if there be objection, or another proposed, a question is put by the clerk. 2 Hats., 168. As are also questions of adjournment. 6 Grey, 406. Where the House debated and exchanged messages and answers with the King for a week, without a Speaker, till they were prorogued. They have done it de die in diem for 14 days. 1 Chand., 331, 335.

[In the Senate, a President pro tempore in the absence of the Vice President is proposed and chosen by ballot. His office is understood to be determined on the Vice President's appearing and taking the chair, or at the meeting of the Senate after the first recess.]

Where the Speaker has been ill, other Speakers pro tempore have been appointed. Instances of this are 1 H., 4. Sir John Cheyney, and for Sir Wm. Sturton, and 15 H., 6, Sir John Tyrrell, in 1656, January 27; 1658, March 9; 1659, January 13.

Chand., 169, 276, 277.

SECTION X.

ADDRESS.

[The President shall, from time to time, give to the Congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient. Const., II, 3.]

A joint address of both houses of Parliament is read by the Speaker of the House of Lords. It may be attended by both Houses in a body, or by a committee from each House, or by the two Speakers only. An address of the House of Commons only may be presented by the whole House, or by the Speaker, 9 Grey, 473; 1 Chandler, 298, 301; or by such particular members as are of the privy council. 2 Hats., 278.

SECTION XI.

COMMITTEES.

Standing committees, as of privileges and elections, etc., are usually appointed at the first meeting, to continue through the session. The first person named is generally permitted to act as chairman. But this is a matter of courtesy; every committee having a right to elect their own chairman, who presides over them, puts questions, and reports their proceedings to the House. 4 Inst., 11, 12; Scob., 9; 1 Grey, 122.

At these committees the members are to speak standing, and not sitting; though there is reason to conjecture it was formerly otherwise. D'Evces, 630, col. 1; 4 Parl. Hist., 440 · 2 Hats., 77.

Their proceedings are not to be published, as they are of no force till confirmed by the House. Rushw., part 3, vol. 2, 74; 3 Grey, 401; Scob., 39. Nor can they receive a petition but through the House. 9 Grey, 412.

When a committee is charged with an inquiry, if a member prove to be involved, they cannot proceed against him, but must make a special report to the House; whereupon the member is heard in his place, or at the bar, or a special authority is given to the committee to inquire concerning him. 9 Grey, 523.

So soon as the House sits, and a committee is notified of it, the chairman is in duty bound to rise instantly, and the members to attend the service of the House. 2 Nals., 319.

It appears that on joint committees of the Lords and Commons, each committee acted integrally in the following instances: 7 Grey, 261, 278, 285, 338; 1 Chandler, 357, 462. In the following instances it does not appear whether they did or not: 6 Grey, 129; 7 Grey, 213, 229, 321.

SECTION XII.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

The speech, message, and other matters of great concernment, are usually referred to a committee of the whole House (6 Grey, 311), where general principles are digested in the form of resolutions, which are debated and amended till they get into a shape which meets the approbation of a majority. These being reported and confirmed by the House, are then referred to one or more select committees, according as the subject divides itself into one or more bills. Scob., 36, 44. Propositions for any charge on the people are especially to be first made in a committee of the whole. 3 Hats., 127. The sense of the whole is better taken in committee, because in all committees every one speaks as often as he pleases. Scob., 49. They generally acquiesce in the chairman named by the Speaker; but, as well as all other committees, have a right to elect one, some member, by consent, putting the question. Scob., 36; 3 Grey, 301. The form of going from the House into committee, is for the Speaker on motion, to put the question that the House do now resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole, to take into consideration such a matter, naming it. If determined in the affirmative he leaves the chair and takes a seat elsewhere, as any other member; and the person appointed chairman seats himself at the clerk's table. Scob., 36. Their quorum is the same as that of the House, and if a defect happens, the chairman, on a motion and question, rises, the Speaker resumes the chair, and the chairman can make no other report than to inform the House of the cause of their dissolution. If a message is announced during a committee, the Speaker takes the chair, and receives it, because the committee cannot. 2 Hats., 125, 126.

In a Committee of the Whole, the tellers on a division, differing as to numbers, great heats and confusion arose, and danger of a decision by the sword. The Speaker took the chair, the mace was forcibly laid on the table; whereupon the members retiring to their places, the Speaker told the House "he had taken the chair without an order to bring the house into order." Some excepted against it but it was generally approved, as the only expedient to suppress the disorder. And every member was required, standing up in his place, to engage that he would proceed no further, in consequence of what had happened in the grand committee, which was done. 3 Grey, 128.

A Committee of the Whole being broken up in disorder, and the chair resumed by the Speaker without an order, the House was adjourned. The next day the committee was considered as thereby dissolved, and the subject again before the House; and it was decided in the House without returning into the committee. 3 Grey, 130.

No previous question can be put in a committee, nor can this committee adjourn as others may; but if their business is unfinished, they rise, on a question, the House is resumed, and the chairman reports that the Committee of the Whole have, according to order, had under their consideration such a matter, and have made progress therein; but not having had time to go through the same, have directed him to ask leave to sit again. Whereupon a question is put upon their having leave, and on the time the House will again resolve itself into a committee. Scob., 38. But if they have gone through the matter referred to them, a member moves that the committee may rise, and the chairman report their proceedings to the House; which being resolved, the chairman rises, the speaker resumes the chair, the chairman informs him that the committee have gone through the business referred to them, and that he is ready to make report when the House shall think proper to receive it. If the house have time to receive it, there is usually a cry of "Now, now," whereupon he makes the report; but if it be late, the cry is, "to-morrow, to-morrow," or "Monday," etc.; or a motion is made to that effect, and a question put, that it be received to-morrow, etc. Scob., 38.

in other things the rules of proceedings are to be the same as in the House. Scob., 39.

SECTION XIII.

EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.

Common fame is a good ground for the house to proceed by inquiry and even to accusation. Resolution House of Commons, 1 Car., 1, 1624; Rush., L. Parl., 115; 1 Grey, 16-22, 92; Grey, 21, 23, 27, 45.

Witnesses are not to be produced but where the House has previously instituted an inquiry (2 Hats., 102), nor then are orders for their attendance given blank. 3 Grey, 51.

When any person is examined before a committee, or at the bar of the House, any member wishing to ask the person a question, must address it to the Speaker or chairman, who repeats the question to the person, or says to him, "you hear the question—answer it." But if the propriety of the question be objected to, the Speaker directs the witness, counsel and parties to withdraw, for no question can be moved or put, or debated, while they are there. 2 Hats., 108. Sometimes the questions are previously settled in writing before the witness enters. Ib., 106, 107; 8 Grey, 64. The question asked must be entered in the journals. 3 Grey, 81. But the testimony given in answer before the House is never written down; but before a committee it must be, for the information of the House, who are not present to hear it. 7 Grey, 52, 334.

If either House have occasion for the presence of a person in custody of the other, they ask the other their leave that he may be brought up to them in custody. 3 Hats., 52.

A Member, in his place, gives information to the House of what he knows of any matter under hearing at the bar. Jour. H. of C., Jan. 22, 1744-'45.

Either House may request, but not demand, the attendance of a member of the other. They are to make the request by message to the other House, and to express clearly the purpose of attendance, that no improper subject of examination may be tendered to him. The House then gives leave to the member to attend, if he chooses it; waiting first to know from the Member himself whether he chooses to attend, till which they do not take the message into consideration. But where the Peers are sitting as a court of criminal judicature, they may order attendance, unless where it be a case of impeachment by the Commons. There, it is to be a request. 3 Hats., 17; 9 Grey, 306, 406; 10 Grey, 133.

Counsel are to be heard only on private, not on public bills, and on such points of law only as the House shall direct. 10 Grey, 61.

SECTION XIV.

ARRANGEMENT OF BUSINESS.

The Speaker is not precisely bound to any rules as to what bills or other matter shall be first taken up; but is left to his own discretion, unless the House on the question decide to take up a particular subject. Hakew., 136.

A settled order of business is, however, necessary for the government of the presiding person, and to restrain individual members from calling up favorite measures, or matters under their special patronage, out of their just turn. It is useful also for directing the discretion of the House, when they are moved to take up a particular matter, to the prejudice of the others having priority of right to their attention in the general order of business.

[In Senate, the bills and other papers which are in possession of the House, and in a state to be acted on, are arranged every morning, and brought on in the following order:]

[1. Bills ready for a second reading are read, that they may be referred to committees and so be put under way. But if, on their being read, no motion is made for commitment, they are then laid on the table in the general file, to be taken up in their just turn.]

[2. After 12 o'clock, bills ready for it are put on their passage.]

[3. Reports in possession of the House, which offer grounds for a bill, are to be taken up, that the bill may be ordered in.]

[4. Bills or other matters before the House, and unfinished on the preceding day, whether taken up in turn or on special order, are entitled to be resumed and passed on through their present stage.]

[5. These matters being dispatched, for preparing and expediting business, the general file of bills and other papers is then taken up, and each article of it is brought on according to its seniority, reckoned by the date of its first introduction to the House. Reports on bills belong to the dates of their bill.]

[The arrangement of the business of the Senate is now as follows:]

[1. Motions previously submitted.]

[2. Reports of Committees previously made.]

[3. Bills from the House of Representatives and those introduced on leave, which have been read the first time, are read the second time; and if not referred to a committee, are considered in Committee of the Whole, and proceeded with as in other cases.]

[4. After twelve o'clock, engrossed bills of the Senate, and bills of the House of Representatives, on third reading are put on their passage.]

[5. If the above are finished before one o'clock, the general file of bills, consisting of those reported from committees on the second reading, and those reported from committees after having been referred, are taken up in the order in which they were reported to the Senate by the respective committees.]

[6. At one o'clock, if no business be pending, or if no motion be called to proceed to other business, the special orders are called, at the head of which stands the unfinished business of the preceding day.]

[In this way we do not waste our time in debating what shall be taken up. We do one thing at a time; follow up a subject while it is fresh, and till it is done with, clear the House of business gradatim as it is brought on, and prevent to a certain degree, its immense accumulation towards the close of the session.]

[Arrangements, however, can only take hold of matters in possession of the House. New matter may be moved at any time when no question is before the House. Such are original motions and reports on bills. Such are bills from the other House, which are received at all times, and receive their first reading as soon as the question then before the House is disposed of; and bills brought in on leave, which are read first whenever presented. So messages from the other House respecting amendments to bills are taken up as soon as the House is clear of a question, unless they require to be printed for better consideration. Orders of the day may be called for even when another question is before the House.]

SECTION XV.

ORDER.

[Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings; punish its members for disorderly behavior; and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member. Const., I, 5.]

In Parliament, "Instances make order," per Speaker Onslow, 2 Hats., 141. But what is done only by one Parliament, cannot be called custom of Parliament; by Prynne. 1 Grey, 52.

SECTION XVI.

ORDER RESPECTING PAPERS.

The Clerk is to let no journals, records, accounts or papers, be taken from the table or out of his custody. 2 Hats., 193, 194.

Mr. Prynne having at a Committee of the Whole amended a mistake in a bill without order or knowledge of the committee was reprimanded. 1 Chand., 77.

A bill being missing, the House resolved that a protestation should be made and subscribed by the members "before Almighty God and this Honorable House, that neither myself nor any other to my knowledge have taken away, or do at this present conceal a bill entitled," etc. 5 Grey, 202.

After a bill is engrossed, it is put into the Speaker's hands, and he is not to let any one have it to look into. Town., col. 200.

SECTION XVII.

ORDER IN DEBATE.

When the Speaker is seated in his chair, every member is to sit in his place. Scob., 6; 3 Grey, 403.

When any member means to speak, he is to stand up in his place, uncovered, and to address himself, not to the House, or any particular member, but to the Speaker, who calls him by his name, that the House may take notice who it is that speaks. Scob., 6; D'Ewes, 487, col. 1; 2 Hats., 77; 4 Grey, 66; 8 Grey, 108. But members who are indisposed may be indulged to speak sitting. 2 Hats., 75; 1 Grey, 143.

[In Senate, every member, when he speaks, shall address the chair, standing in his place, and when he has finished, shall sit down. Rule 3.]

When a member stands up to speak, no question is to be put, but he is to be heard unless the House overrules him. 4 Grey, 390; 5 Grey, 6, 143.

If two or more rise to speak nearly together, the Speaker determines who was first up and calls him by name; whereupon he proceeds, unless he voluntarily sits down and gives way to the other. But sometimes the House does not acquiesce in the Speaker's decision, in which case the question is put, "Which member was first up?" 2 Hats., 76; Scob., 7; D'Ewes, 434, col. 1, 2.

[In the Senate of the United States, the President's decision is without appeal. Their rule is in these words: When two members rise at the same time, the President shall name the person to speak; but in all cases the member who shall first rise and address the chair shall speak first. Rule 5.]

No man may speak more than once on the same bill on the same day; or even on another day, if the debate be adjourned. But if it be read more than once in the same day, he may speak once at every reading. Co., 12, 115; Hakew., 148; Scob., 58; 2 Hats., 75. Even a change of opinion does not give a right to be heard a second time. Smyth's Comw., L. 2, c. 3; Arcan Parl., 17.

[The corresponding rule of the Senate is in these words: No member shall speak more than twice, in any one debate on the same day, without leave of the Senate. Rule 4.]

But he may be permitted to speak again to a clear matter of fact (3 Grey, 357, 416); or merely to explain himself (2 Hats., 73) in some material part of his speech (Ib., 75); or to the manner of words of the question, keeping himself to that only, and not traveling into the merits of it (Memorials in Hakew., 29) or to the orders of the House, if they be transgressed, keeping within that line, and not falling into the matter itself. Memorials Hakew., 30, 31.

But if the Speaker rise to speak, the member standing up ought to sit down, that he may be first heard. Town. col., 205; Hale Parl., 133; Mem. in Hakew., 30, 31. Nevertheless, though the Speaker may of right speak to matters of order, and be first heard, he is restrained from speaking on any other subject, except where the House have occasion for facts within his knowledge; that he may, with their leave, state the matter of fact. 3 Grey, 38.

No one is to speak impertinently or beside the question, superfluously or tediously. Scob., 31, 33; 2 Hats., 166, 168; Hale Parl., 133.

No person is to use indecent language against the proceedings of the House; no prior determination of which is to be reflected on by any member, unless he means to conclude with a motion to rescind it. 2 Hats., 169, 170; Rushv., p. 3, v. 1, fol. 42. But while a proposition under consideration is still in feri, though it has even been reported by a committee, reflections on it are no reflections on the House. 9 Grey, 508.

No person in speaking, is to mention a member then present by his name, but to describe him by his seat in the House, or who spoke last, or on the other side of the question, etc. (Mem. in Hakew., 3; Smyth's Comw., L. 2, c. 3); nor to digress from the matter to fall upon the person (Scob., 31; Hale Parl., 133; 2 Hats., 166) by speaking, reviling, nipping or unmanly words against a particular member. Smyth's Comw., L. 2, c. 3. The consequences of a measure may be reprobed in strong terms; but to arraign the motives of those who propose to advocate it, is a personality, and against order. Qui digreditur a materia ad personam, Mr. Speaker ought to suppress. Ord. Com., 1604, Apr. 19.

[* * * When a member shall be called to order by the President or a Senator, he shall sit down, and shall not proceed without leave of the Senate; and every question of order shall be decided by the President, without debate, subject to an appeal to the Senate; and the President may call for the sense of the Senate on any question of order. Rule 6.]

[No member shall speak to another or otherwise interrupt the business of the Senate, or read any newspaper while the journals or public papers are reading, or when any member is speaking in any debate. Rule 2.]

No one is to disturb another in his speech by hissing, coughing, spitting (6 Grey, 332; Scob., 8; D'Ewes., 332, col. 1, 640, col. 1) speaking or whispering to another (Scob., 6; D'Ewes., 487, col. 1); nor stand up to interrupt him (Town., col. 205; Mem. in Hakew., 31); nor to push between the Speaker and the speaking member, nor to go across the House (Scob., 6), or to walk up and down it, or to take books or papers from the table, or write there. 2 Hats., 171.

Nevertheless, if a member finds that it is not the inclination of the House to hear him, and that by conversation or any other noise they endeavor to drown his voice, it is his most prudent way to submit to the pleasure of the House, and sit down; for it scarcely ever happens that they are guilty of this piece of ill manners without sufficient reason, or inattentive to a member who says anything worth their hearing. 2 Hats., 77, 78.

If repeated calls do not produce order, the Speaker may call by his name any member obstinately persisting in irregularity; whereupon the House may require the member to withdraw. He is then to be heard in exculpation, and to withdraw. Then the Speaker states the offense committed, and the House considers the degree of punishment they will inflict. 3 Hats., 167, 7, 8, 172.

For instances of assaults and affrays in the House of Commons, and the proceedings thereon, see 1 Pet. Misc., 82; 3 Grey, 128; 4 Grey, 328; 5 Grey, 382; 6 Grey, 254; 10 Grey, 8. Whenever warm words or an assault have passed between members, the House, for the protection of their members, requires them to declare in their places not to prosecute any quarrel (3 Grey, 127, 293; 5 Grey, 280); or orders them to attend the Speaker, who is to accommodate their differences, and report to the House (3 Grey, 419); and they are put under restraint if they refuse, or until they do. 9 Grey, 234, 312.

Disorderly words are not to be noticed till the member has finished his speech. 4 Grey, 356; 6 Grey, 60. Then the person objecting to them, and desiring them to be taken down by the clerk at the table, must repeat them. The Speaker then may direct the clerk to take them down in his minutes; but if he thinks them not disorderly, he delays the direction. If the call becomes pretty general, he orders the clerk to take them down, as stated by the objecting member. They are then part of his minutes, and when read to the offending member, he may deny they were his words, and the House must then decide by a question whether they are his words or not. Then the member may justify them, or explain the sense in which he used them, or apologize. If the House is satisfied, no further proceeding is necessary. But if two members still insist to take the sense of the House, the member must withdraw before that question is stated, and then the sense of the House is to be taken. 2 Hats., 199; 4 Grey, 110; 6 Grey, 59. When any member has spoken, or other business intervenes, after offensive words spoken, they cannot be taken notice of for censure. And this is for the common security of all, and to prevent mistakes which must happen if words are not taken down immediately. Formerly they might be taken down at any time the same day. 2 Hats., 196; Mem. in Harkw., 71; 3 Grey, 48; 9 Grey, 514.

Disorderly words spoken in a committee must be written down as in the House; but the committee can only report them to the House for animadversion. 6 Grey, 46.

[The rule of the Senate says: "If the member be called to order by a Senator for words spoken, the exceptional words shall immediately be taken down in writing, that the President may be better enabled to judge of the matter." Rule 7.]

In Parliament, to speak irreverently or seditiously against the King is against order. Smyth's Comw., L. 2, c. 3; 2 Hats., 170.

It is a breach of order in debate to notice what has been said on the same subject in the other House, on the particular vote or majorities on it there; because the opinion of each House shall be left to its own independency; not to be influenced by the proceedings of the other; and the quoting them might beget reflections leading to a misunderstanding between the two Houses. 8 Grey, 22.

Neither House can exercise any authority over a member or officer of the other, but should complain to the House of which he is, and leave the punishment to them. Where the complaint is of words disrespectfully spoken by a member of another House, it is difficult to obtain punishment, because of the rules supposed necessary to be observed (as to the immediate noting down of words), for the security of members. Therefore, it is the duty of the House, and more particularly of the Speaker, to interfere immediately, and not to permit expressions to go unnoticed which may give a ground of complaint to the other House, and introduce proceedings and mutual accusations between the two Houses, which can hardly be terminated without difficulty and disorder. 3 Hats., 51.

No member may be present when a bill or any business concerning himself is debating; nor is any member to speak to the merits of it till he withdraws. 2 Hats., 219. The rule is, that if a charge against a member arise out of a report of a committee, or of examination of witnesses in the House, as the member knows from that to what points he is to direct his exculpation, he may be heard to those points, before any question is moved or stated against him. He is then to be heard, and withdraw before any question is moved. But if the question itself is the charge, as for breach of order, or matter arising in the debate, then the charge must be stated (that is the question must be moved), himself heard and then to withdraw. 2 Hats., 121, 122.

Where the private interests of a member are concerned in a bill or question, he is to withdraw. And where such an interest has appeared, his voice has been disallowed even after a division. In a case so contrary, not only to the laws of decency, but to the fundamental principle of the social compact which denies to any man to be a judge in his own cause, it is for the honor of the House that this rule of immemorial observance, should be strictly adhered to. 2 Hats., 119, 121; 6 Grey, 368.

No member is to come into the House with his head covered, nor to remove from one place to another with his hat on, nor is to put on his hat in coming in or removing until he be set down in his place. Scob., 6.

A question of order may be adjourned to give time to look into precedents. 2 Hats., 118.

In Parliament, all decisions of the Speaker may be controlled by the House. 3 Grey, 319.

SECTION XVIII.

ORDERS OF THE HOUSE.

Of right, the doors of the House ought not to be shut but to be kept by porters, or sergeant-at-arms, assigned for that purpose. Mod. Ten. Parl., 23.

[By rules of the Senate, on motion made and seconded to shut the doors of the Senate on the discussion of any business which may, in the opinion of a member, require secrecy, the President shall direct the gallery to be cleared and during the discussion of such motion the doors shall remain shut. Rule 18.]

[No motion shall be deemed in order to admit any person or persons whatsoever within the doors of the Senate Chamber to present any petition, memorial or address, or to hear any such read. Rule 19.]

The only case where a member has a right to insist on anything, is where he calls for the execution of a subsisting order of the House. Here, there having been already a resolution, any person has a right to insist that the Speaker, or any other whose duty it is, shall carry it into execution; and no debate or delay can be had on it. Thus any member has a right to have the House or gallery cleared of strangers, an order existing for that purpose; or to have the House told where there is no quorum present. Hats., 87, 129. How far an order of the House is binding, see Hakew., 392.

But where an order is made that any particular matter be taken up on a particular day, there a question is to be put, when it is called for, whether the House will now proceed to that matter? Where orders of the day are on important or interesting matter, they ought not to be proceeded on till an hour at which the House is usually full [which in Senate is at noon].

Orders of the day may be discharged at any time, and a new one made for a different day. 3 Grey, 48, 313.

When a session is drawn to a close, and the important bills are all brought in, the House, in order to prevent interruption by further unimportant bills, sometimes come to a resolution that no new bill be brought in, except it be sent from the other House. 3 Grey, 156.

All orders of the House determine with the session; and one taken under such an order may, after the session is ended, be discharged on a habeas corpus. Raym., 120; Jacob's L. D., by Roughead; Parliament, 1 Lcx., 165 (Pritchard's case).

[Where the Constitution authorizes each House to determine the rules of its proceedings, it must mean in those cases (legislative, executive or judiciary) submitted to them by the Constitution, or in something relating to these, and necessary towards their execution. But orders and resolutions are sometimes entered in the journals, having no relation to these, such as acceptances of invitations to attend orations, to take part in processions, etc. These must be understood to be merely conventional among those who are willing to participate in the ceremony, and are, therefore, perhaps, improperly placed among the records of the House.]

SECTION XIX.

PETITIONS.

A petition prays something. A remonstrance has no prayer. 1 Grey, 58.

Petitions must be subscribed by the petitioners (Scob., 87; L. Parl., c. 22; 9 Grey, 362), unless they are attending (1 Grey, 401); or unable to sign, and averred by a member (3 Grey, 418). But a petition not subscribed, but which the member presenting it affirmed to be all in the handwriting of the petitioner, and his name written in the beginning, was on the question (Mar. 14, 1800) received by the Senate. The averment of a member, or of somebody without doors, that they know the handwriting of the petitioners, is necessary, if it be questioned. 6 Grey, 36. It must be presented by a member, not by the petitioners, and must be opened by him holding it in his hand. 10 Grey, 57.

[Before any petition or memorial addressed to the Senate shall be received and read at the table, whether the same shall be introduced by the President or a member, a brief statement of the contents of the petition or memorial shall verbally be made by the introducer. Rule 24.]

Regularly, a motion for receiving it must be made and seconded, and a question put, whether it shall be received. But a cry from the House of "Received," or even its silence, dispenses with the formality of this question; it is then to be read at the table, and disposed of.

SECTION XX

MOTIONS.

When a motion has been made, it is not to be put to the question, or debated until it is seconded. Scob., 21.

[The Senate say, No motion shall be debated until the same shall be seconded. Rule 9.]

It is then, and not till then, in possession of the House, and cannot be withdrawn but by leave of the House. It is to be put into writing if the House or Speaker require it, and must be read to the House by the Speaker as often as any member desires it for his information. 2 Hats., 82.

[The rule of the Senate is: When a motion shall be made and seconded, it shall be reduced to writing, if desired by the President or any member, delivered in at the table, and read before the same shall be debated. * * * Rule 10.]

It might be asked, whether a motion for adjournment or for the orders of the day, can be made by any one member while another is speaking. It cannot. When two members offer to speak, he who rose first is to be heard; and it is a breach of order in another to interrupt him, unless by calling him to order, if he departs from it. And the question of order being decided, he is still to be heard through. A call for adjournment, or for the order of the day, or for the question, by gentlemen from their seats, is not a motion. No motion can be made without arising and addressing the Chair. Such calls are themselves breaches of order which, though the member who has risen may respect as an expression of impatience of the House against further debate, yet, if he chooses he has a right to go on.

SECTION XXI.

RESOLUTIONS.

When the House commands, it is by an "order." But facts, principles, and their own opinions and purposes, are expressed in the form of resolutions.

[A resolution for an allowance of money to the clerks being moved, it was objected to as not in order, and so ruled by the Chair; but on an appeal to the Senate (i. e., a call for their sense by the President, on account of doubt in his mind, according to rule 26), the decision was overruled. Jour. Sen., June 1, 1796. I presume the doubt was whether an allowance of money could be made otherwise than by bill.]

SECTION XXII.

BILLS.

[Every bill shall receive three readings previous to its being passed and the President shall give notice at each whether it be first, second or third; which readings shall be on three different days, unless the Senate unanimously direct otherwise. * * * Rule 26.]

SECTION XXIII.

BILLS, LEAVE TO BRING IN.

[One day's notice, at least, shall be given of an intended motion for leave to bring in a bill. Rule 25.]

When a member desires to bring in a bill on any subject, he states to the House in general terms the causes for doing it, and concludes by moving for leave to bring in a bill entitled, etc. Leave being given on the question, a committee is appointed to prepare and bring in the bill. The mover and seconder are always appointed of this committee, and one or more in addition. Hakew., 122; Scob., 40.

It is to be presented fairly written, without any erasure or interlineation, or the Speaker may refuse. Scob., 41; 1 Grey, 82, 84.

SECTION XXIV.

BILLS, FIRST READING.

When a bill is first presented, the Clerk reads it at the table, and hands it to the Speaker, who, rising, states to the House the title of the bill; that this is the first time of reading it; and the question will be, whether it shall be read a second time? then sitting down to give an opening for objections. If none be made, he rises again, and puts the question, whether it shall be read a second time? Hakew., 137, 141. A bill cannot be amended on the first reading (6 Grey, 286); nor is it usual for it to be opposed then, but it may be done, and rejected. D'Ewes, 335; col. 1; 3 Hats., 198.

SECTION XXV.

BILLS, SECOND READING.

The second reading must regularly be on another day. Hakew., 143. It is done by the Clerk at the table, who then hands it to the Speaker. The Speaker, rising, states to the House the title of the bill; that this is the second time of reading it; and that the question will be, whether it shall be committed or engrossed and read a third time? But if the bill came from the other House, as it always comes engrossed, he states that the question will be, whether it shall be read a third time, and before he has so reported the state of the bill, no one is to speak to it. Hakew., 143, 146.

[In the Senate of the United States the President reports the title of the bill; that this is the second time of reading it; that it is now to be considered as in a committee of the whole; and the question will be, whether it shall be read a third time? or that it may be referred to a special committee?]

SECTION XXVI.

BILLS, COMMITMENT.

If on motion and question it be decided that the bill shall be committed, it may then be moved to be referred to Committee of the Whole House, or to a special committee. If the latter, the Speaker proceeds to name the committee. Any member also may name a single person, and the Clerk is to write him down as of the committee. But the House have a controlling power over the names and number, if a question be moved against anyone; and may in any case put in and put out whom they please.

Those who take exceptions to some particulars in the bill are to be of the committee, but none who speak directly against the body of the bill, for he that would totally destroy will not mend it (Hakew., 146; Town., col. 208; D'Ewes, 634, col. 2; Scob., 47); or, as it is said (5 Grey, 145), the child is not to be put to a nurse that cares not for it (6 Grey, 373). It is therefore a constant rule "that no man is to be employed in any matter who has declared himself against it." And when any member who is against the bill hears himself named of its committee, he ought to ask to be excused. Thus (March 7, 1606) Mr. Hadley was, on the question being put, excused from being of a committee, declaring himself to be against the matter itself. Scob., 46.

[No bill shall be committed or amended until it shall have been twice read; after which it may be referred to a committee. Rule 27.]

[In the appointment of the standing committees, the Senate will proceed by ballot, severally, to appoint the Chairman of each committee; and then, by one ballot, the other members necessary to complete the same; and a majority of the whole number of votes given shall be necessary to the choice of a chairman of a standing committee. All other committees shall be appointed by ballot, and a plurality of votes shall make a choice. When any subject or matter shall have been referred to a committee, any other subject or matter of a similar nature may, on motion, be referred to such committee. Rule 34.

The Clerk may deliver the bill to any member of the committee (Town., col. 38); but it is usual to deliver it to him who is first named.

In some cases the House has ordered a committee to withdraw immediately into the Committee Chamber and act on and bring back the bill, sitting in the House. Scob., 48. A committee meet when and where they please, if the House has not ordered time and place for them (6 Grey, 370); but they can only act when together, and not by separate consultation and consent—nothing being the report of the committee but what has been agreed to in committee actually assembled.

A majority of the committee constitutes a quorum for business. Elsynge's Method of Passing Bills, 11.

Any member of the House may be present at any select committee, but cannot vote, and must give place to all of the committee, and sit below them. Elsynge, 12; Scob., 40.

The committee have full power over the bill or other paper committed to them, except that they cannot change the title or subject. 8 Grey, 228.

The paper before a committee, whether select or of the whole, may be a bill, resolutions, draught of an address, etc., and it may either originate with them or be referred to them. In every case the whole paper is read first by the clerk and then by the chairman, by paragraphs (Scob., 49), pausing at the end of each paragraph, and putting questions for amending, if proposed. In the case of resolutions on distinct subjects, originating with themselves, a question is put on each separately, as amended or unamended, and no final question on the whole (3 Hats., 276); but if they relate to the same subject, a question is put on the whole. If it be a bill, draught of an address, or other paper originating with them, they proceed by paragraphs; putting questions for amending either by insertion or striking out, if proposed, but no question on agreeing to the paragraphs separately; this is reserved to the close, when a question is put on the whole for agreeing to it as amended or unamended. But if it be a paper referred to them, they proceed to put questions of amendment, if proposed, but no final question on the whole, because all parts of the paper, having been adopted by the House, stand, of course, unless altered or struck out by a vote. Even if they are opposed to the whole paper, and think it cannot be made good by amendments, they cannot reject it, but must report it back to the House without amendments and there make their opposition.

The natural order in considering and amending any paper is to begin at the beginning, and proceed through it by paragraphs, and this order is so strictly adhered to in Parliament, that when a latter part has been amended, you can not recur back and make any alterations in a former part. 2 Hats., 90. In numerous assemblies this restraint is doubtless important. [But in the Senate of the United States, though in the main we consider and amend the paragraphs in their natural order, yet recurrences are indulged; and they seem on the whole, in that small body, to produce advantages overweighing their inconveniences.]

To this natural order of beginning at the beginning, there is a single exception found in parliamentary usage. When a bill is taken up in committee, or on its second reading, they postpone the preamble till the other parts of the bill are gone through. The reason is, that on consideration of the body of the bill, such alterations may therein be made as may also occasion the alteration of the preamble. Scob., 50; 7 Grey, 431.

On this head the following case occurred in the Senate, March 6, 1800: A resolution which had no preamble having been already amended by the House, so that a few words only of the original remained in it, a motion was made to prefix a preamble, which having an aspect very different from the resolution, the mover intimated that he should afterwards propose a corresponding amendment in the body of the resolution. It was objected that a preamble could not be taken up till the body of the resolution is done with; but the preamble was received, because we are in fact through the body of the resolution; we have amended that as far as amendments have offered, and, indeed, till little of the original is left. It is the proper time, therefore, to consider a preamble; and whether the one offered be consistent with the resolution is for the House to determine. The mover, indeed, has intimated that he shall offer a subsequent proposition for the body of the resolution; but the House is not in possession of it; it remains in his breast, and may be withheld. The rules of the House can only operate on what is before them. [The practice of the Senate, too, allows recurrences backwards and forwards, for the purposes of amendment, not permitting amendments in a subsequent to preclude those in a prior part, or e converso.]

When the committee is through the whole, a member moves that the committee may rise, and the chairman report the paper to the House, with or without amendments, as the case may be. 2 Hats., 289, 292; Scob., 53; 2 Hats., 290; 8 Scob., 50.

When a vote is once passed in a committee, it cannot be altered, but by the House, their votes being binding on themselves. 1607, June 4.

The committee may not erase, interline, or blot the bill itself; but must, in a paper by itself, set down the amendments, stating the words which are to be inserted or omitted (Scob. 50), and where, by references to the page, line and word of the bill. Scob., 50.

SECTION XXVII.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

The chairman of the committee, standing in his place, informs the House that the committee, to whom was referred such a bill, have, according to order, had the same under consideration, and have directed him to report the same without any amendment or with sundry amendments (as the case may be), which he is ready to do when the House pleases to receive it. And he or any other may move that it be now received; but the cry of "now, now," from the House, generally dispenses with the formality of a motion and question. He then reads the amendment, with the coherence in the bill, and opens the alterations and the reasons of the committee for such amendments, until he has gone through the whole. He then delivers it at the clerk's table, where the amendments reported are read by the clerk without the coherence; whereupon the papers lie upon the table till the House, at its convenience, shall take up the report. Scob., 52; Hakew., 148.

The report being made, the committee is dissolved and can act no more without a new power. Scob., 51. But it may be revived by a vote, and the same matter recommitted to them. 4 Grey, 361.

SECTION XXVIII.

BILL, RECOMMITMENT.

After a bill has been committed and reported, it ought not in an ordinary course to be recommitted; but in case of importance, and for special reasons, it is sometimes recommitted, and usually to the same committee. Hakew., 151. If a report be recommitted before agreed to in the House, what has passed in committee is of no validity; the whole question is again before the committee, and a new resolution must be again moved, as if nothing had passed. 2 Hats., 131—note.

In Senate, January, 1800, the salvage bill was recommitted three times after the commitment.

A particular clause of a bill may be committed without the whole bill (3 Hats., 131); or so much of a paper to one and so much to another committee.

SECTION XXIX.

BILL, REPORTS TAKEN UP.

When the report of a paper originating with a committee is taken up by the House, they proceed exactly as in committee. Here, as in committee, when the paragraphs have, on distinct questions, been agreed to seriatim (5 Grey, 366; 6 Grey, 368; 8 Grey, 47, 104, 360; 1 Torbuck's Deb., 125; 3 Hats., 348), no question need be put on the whole report. 5 Grey, 381.

On taking up a bill reported with amendments, the amendments only are read by the Clerk. The Speaker then reads the first, and puts it to the question, and so on until the whole are adopted or rejected, before any other amendment be admitted, except it be an amendment to an amendment. Elsynge's Mem., 53. When through the amendments of the committee, the Speaker pauses, and gives time for amendments to be proposed in the house to the body of the bill as he does also if it has been reported without amendments, putting no questions but on amendments proposed; and when through the whole, he puts the question whether the bill be read the third time.

SECTION XXX.

QUASI-COMMITTEE.

If on motion and question the bill be not committed or if no proposition for commitment be made, then the proceedings in the Senate of the United States and in Parliament are totally different. The former shall be first stated.

[The 28th rule of the Senate says: "All bills on a second reading shall first be considered by the Senate in the same manner as if the Senate were in Committee of the Whole, before they shall be taken up and proceeded on by the Senate agreeably to the standing rules, unless otherwise ordered;" (that is to say, unless ordered to be referred to a special committee). And when the Senate shall consider a treaty, bill, or resolution, as in Committee of the Whole, the Vice-President or President pro tempore may call a member to fill the chair during the time the Senate shall remain in Committee of the Whole; and the chairman (so called) shall, during such time, have the powers of a President pro tempore.]

[The Proceedings of the Senate, as in a Committee of the Whole, or in Quasi-Committee are precisely as in a real Committee of the Whole, taking no question but on amendments. When through the whole they consider the Quasi-Committee as risen, the House resumes without any motion, question or resolution to that effect, and the President reports that "The House, acting as in a Committee of the Whole, have had under their consideration the bill entitled, etc., and have made sundry amendments, which he will now report to the House." The bill is then before them, as it would have been if reported from a committee and the questions are regularly to be put again on every amendment; which being gone through, the President pauses to give time to the House to propose amendments to the body of the bill, and when through, puts the question whether it shall be read a third time.]

[After progress in amending the bill in Quasi-Committee a motion may be made to refer it to a special committee. If the motion prevails, it is equivalent in effect to the several votes, that the committee rise, the House resume itself, discharge the Committee of the Whole, and refer the bill to a special committee. In that case the amendments already made fall. But if the motion fails, the Quasi-Committee stands in statu quo.]

[How far does this 28th rule subject the House, when in Quasi-Committee, to the laws which regulate the proceedings of Committees of the Whole?] The particulars in which these differ from proceedings in the House are the following: 1. In a committee every member may speak as often as he pleases. 2. The votes of a committee may be rejected or altered when reported to the House. 3. A committee, even of the whole, cannot refer any matter to another committee. In a committee, no previous question can be taken; the only means to avoid any improper discussion is to move that the committee rise; and if it be apprehended that the same discussion will be attempted on returning into committee, the House can discharge them, and proceed itself on the business, keeping down the improper discussions by the previous question. 5. A committee cannot punish a breach of order in the House or in the gallery. 9 Grey, 113. It can only rise and report to the House, who may proceed to punish. [The first and second of these peculiarities attach to the Quasi-Committee of the Senate, as every day's practice proves, and seem to be the only ones to which the 28th rule meant to subject them; for it continues to be a House, and, therefore, though it acts in some respects as a committee, in others it preserves its character as a House. Thus: 3. It is in the daily habit of referring its business to a special committee. 4. It admits of the previous question; if it did not, it would have no means of preventing an improper discussion, not being able, as a committee is, to avoid it by returning into the House, for the moment it would resume the same subject there, the 28th rule declares it again a Quasi-Committee. 5. It would doubtless exercise its powers as a House on any breach of order. 6. It takes a question by yea and nay as the House does. 7. It receives messages from the President and the other House. 8. In the midst of a debate it receives a motion to adjourn, and adjourns as a House, not a committee.]

SECTION XXXI.

BILLS, SECOND READING IN THE HOUSE.

In Parliament after the bill has been read a second time, if on the motion and question it be not committed, or if no proposition for commitment be made, the Speaker reads it by paragraphs, pausing between each, but putting no question but on amendments proposed; and when through the whole, he puts the question whether it shall be read a third time? if it come from the other House; or, if originating with themselves whether it shall be engrossed and read a third time? The Speaker reads sitting, but rises to put questions. The Clerk stands while he reads.

[*But the Senate of the United States is so much in the habit of making many and material amendments at the third reading, that it has become the practice not to engross a bill until it has passed—an irregular and dangerous practice, because in this way the paper which passes the Senate is not that which goes to the other House, and that which goes to the other House as the act of the Senate has never been seen in the Senate. In reducing numerous, difficult and illegible amendments into the text, the Secretary may, with the most innocent intentions, commit errors which can never be again corrected.]

The bill being now as perfect as its friends can make it, this is the proper stage for those fundamentally opposed to make their first attack. All attempts at earlier periods are with disjointed efforts, because many who do not expect to be in favor of the bill ultimately are willing to let it go on to its perfect state, to take time to examine it themselves and to hear what can be said for it, knowing that after all they will have sufficient opportunities of giving it their veto. Its last two stages, therefore, are reserved for this—that is to say, on the question whether it shall be engrossed and read a third time, and lastly, whether it shall pass? The first of these is usually the most interesting contest, because then the whole subject is new and engaging; and the minds of the members having not yet been declared by any trying vote, the issue is the more doubtful. In this stage, therefore, is the main trial of strength between its friends and opponents, and it behoves every one to make up his mind decisively for this question, or he loses the main battle; and accident and management may, and often do, prevent a successful rallying on the next and last question, whether it shall pass.

When the bill is engrossed, the title is to be indorsed on the back and not within the bill. Hakew., 250.

*The former practice of the Senate referred to in this paragraph has been changed by the following rule:

[RULE 29. The final question upon the second reading of every bill, resolution, constitutional amendment or motion, originating in the Senate, and requiring three readings previous to being passed, shall be, "Whether it shall be engrossed and read a third time?" and no amendment shall be received for discussion at the third reading of any bill, resolution, amendment or motion, unless by unanimous consent of the members present; but it shall at all times be in order before the final passage of any such bill, resolution, constitutional amendment or motion, to move its commitment; and should such commitment take place, and any amendment be reported by the committee, the said bill, resolution, constitutional amendment or motion, shall be again read a second time, and considered as in Committee of the Whole, and then the aforesaid question shall be again put.]

SECTION XXXII

READING PAPERS.

Where papers are laid before the House or referred to a committee, every member has a right to have them once read at the table before he can be compelled to vote on them; but it is a great though common error to suppose that he has a right toties quoties, to have acts, journals, accounts, or papers on the table, read independently of the will of the House. The delay and interruption which this might be made to produce evince the impossibility of the existence of such a right. There is, indeed, so manifest a propriety of permitting every member to have as much information as possible on every question on which he is to vote, that when he desires the reading, if it be seen that it is really for information and not for delay, the Speaker directs it to be read without putting a question, if no one objects; but if objected to, a question must be put. 2 Hats., 117, 118.

It is equally an error to suppose that any member has a right, without a question put, to lay a book or paper on the table, or have it read, on suggesting that it contains matter infringing on the privileges of the House. Ib.

For the same reason a member has not a right to read a paper in his place, if it be objected to, without leave of the House. But this rigor is never exercised but where there is an intentional or gross abuse of the time and patience of the House.

A member has not a right even to read his own speech, committed to writing, without leave. This also is to prevent an abuse of time and therefore is not refused but where that is intended. 2 Grey, 226.

A report of a committee of the Senate on a bill from the House of Representatives being under consideration, on motion that the report of the committee of the House of Representatives on the same bill be read in the Senate, it passed in the negative. Feb. 28, 1793.

Formerly when papers were referred to a committee, they used to be first read; but of late only the titles, unless a number insist that they shall be read, and then nobody can oppose it. 2 Hats., 117.

SECTION XXXIII.

PRIVILEGED QUESTIONS.

[*While a question is before the Senate, no motion shall be received, unless for an amendment, for the previous question, or for postponing the main question, or to commit it, or to adjourn. Rule 11.]

It is no possession of a bill unless it be delivered to the Clerk to be read or the Speaker reads the title. Lex Parl., 274; Etsynge's Mem., 85; Ord. House of Commons, 64.

It is a general rule that the question first moved and seconded shall be first put. Scob., 28, 22; 2 Hats., 81. But this rule gives way to what may be called privileged questions; and the privileged questions are of different grades among themselves.

A motion to adjourn simply takes place of all others, for otherwise the House might be kept sitting against its will, and indefinitely. Yet this motion cannot be received after another question is actually put, and while the House is engaged in voting.

Orders of the day take place of all other questions, except for adjournment—that is to say, the question which is the subject of an order is made a privileged one, pro hac vice. The order is a repeal of the general rule as to this special case.

*This rule has been modified so as to specify the questions entitled to preference. The rule is now as follows:

[When a question is under debate, no motion shall be made but to adjourn, to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or to amend; which several motions shall have precedence in the order they stand arranged, and the motion for adjournment shall always be in order, and be decided without debate.]

When any member moves, therefore, for the Order of the Day to be read, no further debate is permitted on the question which was before the House; for if the debate might proceed, it might continue through the day and defeat the order. This motion, to entitle it to precedence, must be for the orders generally, and not for any particular one; and if it be carried on the question, "Whether the House will now proceed to the orders of the day?" they must be read and proceeded on in the course in which they stand (2 Hats., 83), for priority of order gives priority of right, which cannot be taken away by another special order.

After these there are other privileged questions which will require considerable explanation.

It is proper that every parliamentary assembly should have certain forms of questions, so adapted as to enable them fitly to dispose of every proposition which can be made to them. Such are: 1. The previous question. 2. To postpone indefinitely. 3. To adjourn a question to a definite day. 4. To lie on the table. 5. To commit. 6. To amend. The proper occasion for each of these questions should be understood.

1. When a proposition is moved which it is useless or inexpedient now to express or discuss, the previous question has been introduced for suppressing for that time the motion and its discussion. 3 Hats., 188, 189.

2. But as the previous question gets rid of it only for that day, and the same proposition may recur the next day, if they wish to suppress it for the whole of that session, they postpone it indefinitely. 3 Hats., 183. This quashes the proposition for that session, as an indefinite adjournment is a dissolution, or the continuance of a suit sine die is a discontinuance of it.

3. When a motion is made which it will be proper to act on, but information is wanted, or something more pressing claims the present time, the question or debate is adjourned to such day within the session as will answer the views of the House. 2 Hats., 81. And those who have spoken before may not speak again when the adjourned debate is resumed. 2 Hats., 73. Sometimes, however, this has been abusedly used by adjourning it to a day beyond the session, to get rid of it altogether, as would be done by an indefinite postponement.

4. When the House has something else which claims its present attention, but would be willing to reserve in their power to take up a proposition whenever it shall suit them, they order it to lie on the table. It may then be called for at any time.

5. If the proposition will want more amendment and digestion than the formalities of the House will conveniently admit, they refer it to a committee.

6. But if the proposition be well digested, and may need but few and simple amendments, and especially if these be of leading consequence, they then proceed to consider and amend it themselves.

The Senate, in their practice, vary from this regular gradation of forms. Their practice, comparatively with that of parliament, stands thus:

FOR THE PARLIAMENT:	THE SENATE USES:
Postponement indefinite,	Postponement to a day beyond the session,
Adjournment.	Postponement to a day within the session,
	{ Postponement indefinite,
Lying on the table.	{ Lying on the table.

In their eighth rule, therefore, which declares that while the question is before the Senate, no motion shall be received, unless it be for the previous question or to postpone, commit, or amend the main question, the term postponement must be understood according to their broad use of it and not in the parliamentary sense. Their rule then establishes as privileged questions, the previous questions, postponement, commitment and amendment.

But it may be asked, Have these questions any privileges among themselves? or are they so equal that the common principle of the "first moved first put," takes the place among them? This will need explanation. Their competitions may be as follows:

| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Previous question and postpone.....</li> <li style="padding-left: 2em;">commit.....</li> <li style="padding-left: 2em;">amend.....</li> <li>2. Postpone and previous question.....</li> <li style="padding-left: 2em;">commit.....</li> <li style="padding-left: 2em;">amend.....</li> <li>3. Commit and previous question.....</li> <li style="padding-left: 2em;">postpone.....</li> <li style="padding-left: 2em;">amend.....</li> <li>4. Amend and previous question.....</li> <li style="padding-left: 2em;">postpone.....</li> <li style="padding-left: 2em;">commit.....</li> </ol> | } | In the first, second and third classes, and the first member of the fourth class, the rule "first moved first put" takes place. |

In the first class, where the previous question is first moved, the effect is peculiar; for it not only prevents the after motion to postpone or commit from being put to question before it, but also from being put after it; for if the previous question be decided affirmatively, to wit, that the main question shall now be put, it would of course be against the decision to postpone or commit; and if it be decided negatively, to wit, that the main question shall not now be put, this puts the House out of possession of the main question, and consequently there is nothing before them to postpone or commit. So that neither voting for nor against the previous question will enable the advocates for postponing or committing to get at their object. Whether it may be amended shall be examined hereafter.

Second class. If postponement be decided affirmatively, the proposition is removed from before the House, and consequently there is no ground for the previous question, commitment, or amendment; but if decided negatively (that it shall not be postponed), the main question may then be suppressed by the previous question, or may be committed or amended.

The third class is subject to the same observations as the second.

The fourth class. Amendment of the main question first moved, and afterwards the previous question, the question of amendment shall be first put.

Amendment and postponement competing, postponement is first put, as the equivalent proposition to adjourn the main question would be in Parliament. The reason is, that the question for amendment is not suppressed by postponement or adjourning the main question, but remains before the House whenever the main question is resumed; and it might be that the occasion for other urgent business might go by, and be lost by length of debate on the amendment, if the House had it not in their power to postpone the whole subject.

Amendment and commitment. The question for committing though last moved, shall be first put; because, in truth, it facilitates and befriends the motion to amend. Scobell is express: "On motion to amend a bill, any one may, notwithstanding, move to commit it, and the question for commitment shall be first put." Scob., 46.

We have hitherto considered the question of two or more of the privileged questions contending for privilege between themselves, when both are moved on the original or main question; but now let us suppose one of them to be moved not on the original primary question, but on the secondary one, e. g.

Suppose a motion to postpone, commit or amend the main question, and that it be moved to suppress that motion by putting a previous question on it. This is not allowed, because it would embarrass questions too much to allow them to be piled on one another several stories high; and the same result may be had in a more simple way, by deciding against the postponement, commitment or amendment. 2 Hats., §1, 2, 3, 4.

Suppose a motion for the previous question, or commitment or amendment of the main question, and that it be then moved to postpone the motion for the previous question, or for commitment or amendment of the main question. 1. It would be absurd to postpone the previous question, commitment or amendment alone, and thus separate the appendage from its principal; yet it must be postponed separately from its original, if at all, because the eighth rule of the Senate says that "when a main question is before the House, no motion shall be received but to commit, amend or pre-question the original question," which is the parliamentary doctrine also; therefore the motion to postpone the secondary motion for the previous question, or for committing or amending, cannot be received. 2.

This is a piling of questions one on another; which to avoid embarrassment, is not allowed. 3. The same result may be had more simply by voting against the previous question, commitment or amendment.

Suppose a commitment moved of a motion for the previous question, or to postpone or amend. The first, second and third reasons before stated, all hold good against this.

Suppose an amendment moved to a motion for the previous question. Answer: the previous question cannot be amended. Parliamentary usage, as well as the ninth rule of the Senate, has fixed its form to be, Shall the main question be now put?—i. e., at this instant; and as the present instant is but one, it can admit of no modification. To change it to tomorrow, or any other moment, is without example and without utility. But suppose a motion to amend a motion for postponement as to one day instead of another, or to a special instead of an indefinite time. The useful character of amendment gives it a privilege of attaching itself to a secondary and privileged motion; that is, we may amend a postponement of a main question. So, we may amend a commitment of a main question, as by adding, for example, "with instructions to inquire," etc. In like manner, if an amendment be moved to an amendment, it is admitted; but it would not be admitted in another degree, to wit: to amend an amendment to an amendment of a main question. This would lead to too much embarrassment. The line must be drawn somewhere, and usage has drawn it after the amendment to the amendment. The same result must be sought by deciding against the amendment to the amendment, and then moving it again as it wished to be amended. In this form it becomes only amendment to an amendment.

[When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee and to a standing committee, the question on reference to the standing committee shall be first put. Rule 36.]

[In filling a blank with a sum, the largest sum shall be first put to the question, by the thirteenth rule of the Senate,*] contrary to the rule of Parliament, which privileges the smallest sum and longest time. 5 Grey, 179; 2 Hats., 8, 83; 3 Hats., 132, 133. And this is considered to be not in the form of an amendment to the question, but as alternative or successive originals. In all cases of time or number, we must consider whether the larger comprehends the lesser as in a question to what day a postponement shall be, the number of a committee, amount of fine, term of imprisonment, term of irredeemability of a loan, or the terminus ad quem in any other case; then the question must begin a maximo. Or whether the lesser includes the greater, as in questions on the limitation of the rate of interest, on what day the session shall be closed by adjournment, on what day the next shall commence, when an act shall commence, or the terminus a quo in any other case where the question must begin a minimo; the object being not to begin at that extreme which, and more, being within every man's wish, no one could negative it, and yet, if he should vote in the affirmative, every question for more would be precluded; but at that extreme which would unite few, and then to advance or recede till you get a number which will unite a bare majority. 3 Grey, 376, 384, 385. "The fair question in this case, is not that to which, and more, all will agree, whether there shall be addition to the question." Grey, 355.

Another exception to the rule of priority is when a motion has been made to strike out or agree to a paragraph. Motions to amend it are to be put to the question before a vote is taken on striking out or agreeing to the whole paragraph.

But there are several questions which, being incidental to every one, will take place of every one, privileged or not, to wit: a question of order arising out of any other question must be decided before that question. 2 Hats., 88.

A matter of privilege arising out of any question, or from a quarrel between two members or any other cause, supersedes the consideration of the original question, and must be first disposed of. 2 Hats., 88.

Reading papers relative to the question before the House. This question must be put before the principal one. 2 Hats., 88.

Leave asked to withdraw a motion. The rule of Parliament being that a motion made and seconded is in the possession of the House, and cannot be withdrawn without leave, the very terms of the rule imply that leave may be given, and, consequently, may be asked and put to the question.

SECTION XXXIV.

THE PREVIOUS QUESTION.

When any question is before the House, any member may move a previous question, "Whether that question (called the main question) shall now be put?" If it pass in the affirmative, then the main question is to be put immediately, and no man may speak anything further to it, either to add or alter. Memor. in Hakew., 28; 4 Grey, 27.

The previous question being moved and seconded, the question from the chair shall be, "Shall the main question be now put?" and if the nays prevail, the main question shall not then be put.

This kind of question is understood by Mr. Hatsell to have been introduced in 1604. 1 Hats., 80. Sir Henry Vane introduced it. 2 Grey, 113, 114; 3 Grey, 384. When the question was put in this form, "Shall the main question be put?" a determination in the negative suppressed the main question during the session; but since the words, "now put" are used they exclude it for the present only; formerly, indeed, only till the present debate was over (4 Grey, 43), but now for that day and no longer. 2 Grey, 113, 114.

Before the question "Whether the main question shall now be put?" any person might formerly have spoken to the main question, because otherwise he would be precluded from speaking to it at all. Mem. in Hakew., 28.

The proper occasion for the previous question is when a question is brought forward of a delicate nature as to high personages, etc., or the discussion of which may call forth observations which might be of injurious consequences. Then the previous question is proposed; and in the modern usage, the discussion of the main question is suspended, and the debate confined to the previous question. The use of it has been extended abusively to other cases but in these it has been an embarrassing procedure; its uses would be as well answered by other more simple parliamentary forms, and therefore it should not be favored, but restricted within as narrow limits as possible.

Whether a main question may be amended after the previous question on it has been moved and seconded? 2 Hats., 88, says, if the previous question has been moved and seconded, and also proposed from the chair (by which he means stated by the Speaker for debate), it has been doubted whether an amendment can be admitted to the main question. He thinks it may, after the previous question is moved and seconded; but not after it has been proposed from the chair. In this case he thinks the friends to the amendment must vote that the main question be not now put; and then move their amended question, which being made new by the amendment, is no longer the same which has just been suppressed, and therefore may be proposed as a new one. But this proceeding certainly endangers the main question, by dividing its friends, some of whom may choose it unamended, rather than lose it altogether; while others of them may vote, as Hastell advises, that the main question be not now put, with a view to move it again in an amended form. The enemies of the main question, by this manœuvre to the previous question, get the enemies to the amendment added to them on the first vote and throw the friends of the main question under the embarrassment of rallying again as they can. To support his opinion, too, he makes the deciding circumstances, whether an amendment may or may not be made, to be, that the previous question has been proposed from the chair. But, as the rule is that the House is in possession of a question as soon as it is moved and seconded, it cannot be more than possessed of it by its being proposed from the Chair. It may be said, indeed, that the object of the previous question, being to get rid of a question, which it is not expedient should be discussed, this object may be defeated by moving to amend, and, in the discussion of that motion, involving the subject of the main question. But so may the object of the previous question be defeated, by moving the amended question, as Mr. Hastell proposes after the decision against putting the original question. He acknowledges, too, that the practice has been to admit previous amendments, and only cites a few late instances to the contrary. On the whole, I should think it best to decide it ab inconvenienti, to wit: which is most inconvenient, to put it in the power of one side of the House to defeat a proposition by hastily moving the previous question, and thus forcing the main question to be put unamended; or to put it in the power of the other side to force on, incidentally at least, a discussion which would be better avoided? Perhaps the last is the least inconvenience; inasmuch as the Speaker, by confining the discussion rigorously to the amendment only, may prevent their going into the main question, and inasmuch also as so great a proportion of the cases in which the previous question is called for, are fair and proper subjects for public discussion, and ought not to be obstructed by a formality introduced for questions of a peculiar character.

SECTION XXXV.

AMENDMENTS.

On an amendment being moved, a member who has spoken to the main question may speak again to the amendment. Scob., 23.

If an amendment be proposed inconsistent with one already agreed to, it is a fit ground for its rejection by the House, but not within the competence of the Speaker to suppress as if it were against order; for were he permitted to draw questions of consistence within the vortex of order, he might usurp a negative on important modifications, and suppress, instead of subserving the legislative will.

Amendments may be made so as totally to alter the nature of the proposition; and it is a way of getting rid of a proposition by making it bear a sense different from what it was intended by the movers, so that they vote against it themselves. 2 Hats., 79, 4, 82, 84. A new bill may be grafted by way of amendment, on the words, "Be it enacted," etc. 1 Grey, 190, 192.

If it be proposed to amend by leaving out certain words, it may be moved, as an amendment to this amendment, to leave out a part of the words of the amendment, which is equivalent to leaving them in the bill. 2 Hats., 80, 9. The parliamentary question is, always, whether the words shall stand part of the bill.

When it is proposed to amend by inserting a paragraph, or part of one, the friends of the paragraph may make it as perfect as they can by amendments before the question is put for inserting it. If it be received, it cannot be amended afterwards, in the same stage, because the House has, on a vote, agreed to it in that form. In like manner, if it is proposed to amend by striking out a paragraph, the friends of the paragraph are first to make it as perfect as they can by amendments, before the question is put for striking it out. If on the question it be retained, it cannot be amended afterwards, because a vote against striking out is equivalent to a vote agreeing to it in that form.

When it is moved to amend by striking out certain words and inserting others, the manner of stating the question is first to read the whole passage to be amended as it stands at present, then the words proposed to be struck out, next those to be inserted, and lastly the whole passage as it will be when amended. And the question, if desired, is then to be divided, and put first on striking out. If carried, it is next on inserting the words proposed. If that be lost, it may be moved to insert others. 2 Hats., 80, 7.

A motion is made to amend by striking out certain words and inserting others in their place, which is negatived. Then it is moved to strike out the same words, and to insert others of a tenor entirely different from those first proposed. It is negatived. Then it is moved to strike out the same words and insert nothing, which is agreed to. All this is admissible, because to strike out and insert A, is one proposition. To strike out and insert B, is a different proposition. And to strike out and insert nothing, is still different. And the rejection of one proposition does not preclude the offering a different one. Nor would it change the case where the first motion divided by putting the question first on striking out, and that negatived; for, as putting the whole motion to the question at once would not have precluded, the putting the half of it cannot do it.*

* In the case of a division of the question, and a decision against striking out, I advance doubtfully the opinion here expressed. I find no authority either way,

But if it had been carried affirmatively to strike out the words and to insert A, it could not afterwards be permitted to strike out A and insert B. The mover of B should have notified, while the insertion of A was under debate, that he would move to insert B; in which case those who preferred it would join in rejecting A.

After A is inserted, however, it may be moved to strike out a portion of the original paragraph, comprehending A, provided the coherence to be struck out be so substantial as to make this effectively a different proposition, for then it is resolved into the common case of striking out a paragraph after amending it. Nor does anything forbid a new insertion, instead of A and its coherents.

In Senate, January 25, 1798, a motion to postpone until the second Tuesday in February some amendments proposed to the Constitution; the words, "until the second Tuesday in February" were struck out by way of amendment. Then it was moved to add, "until the first day of June." Objected that it was not in order, as the question should be first put on the longest time; therefore, after a shorter time decided against a longer, cannot be put to question. It was answered that this rule takes place only in filling blanks for time. But when a specific time stands part of a motion, that may be struck out as well as any other part of a motion; and when struck out a motion may be received to insert any other. In fact, it is not until they are struck out, and a blank for the time thereby produced, that the rule can begin to operate, by receiving all the propositions for different times, and putting the question successively on the longest. Otherwise it would be in the power of the mover, by inserting originally a short time, to preclude the possibility of a longer, for till the short time is struck out, you cannot insert a longer; and if, after it is struck out, you cannot do it, then it cannot be done at all. Suppose the first motion had been made to amend by striking out "the second Tuesday in February," and inserting instead thereof "the first of June," it would have been regular, then, to divide the question, by proposing the first question to strike out and then that to insert. Now this is precisely the effect of the present proceeding; only, instead of one motion and two questions, there are two motions and two questions to effect it—the motion being divided as well as the question.

When the matter contained in two bills might better be put into one, the manner is to reject the one, and incorporate its matter into another bill by way of amendment. So if the matter of one bill would be better distributed into two, any part may be struck out by way of amendment, and put into a new bill. If a section is to be transposed, a question must be put on striking it out where it stands, and another for inserting it in the place desired.

A bill passed by the one House with blanks.—These may be filled up by the other by way of amendments, returned to the first as such, and passed. 3 Hats., 83.

The number prefixed to the section of a bill, being merely a marginal indication, and no part of the text of the bill, the clerk regulates that—the House or committee is only to amend the text.

SECTION XXXVI.

DIVISION OF THE QUESTION.

If a question contain more parts than one it may be divided into two or more questions. Mcm. in Hawk., 39. But not as the right of an individual member, but with the consent of the House. For who is to decide whether a question is complicated or not?—where it is complicated?—into how many propositions it may be divided? The fact is, that the only mode of separating a complicated question is by moving amendments to it; and these must be decided by the House, on a question, unless the House orders it to be divided; as, on a question, Decemand I know it may be viewed under a different aspect. It may be thought that having decided separately not to strike out the passage, the same question for striking out cannot be put over again, though with a view to a different insertion. Still I think it more reasonable and convenient to consider the striking out and insertion as forming one proposition; but should readily yield to any evidence that the contrary is the practice in Parliament.

ber 2, 1640, making void the election of the knights of Worcester, on a motion it was resolved to make two questions of it, to wit: one on each knight. 2 Hats., 85, 86. So, wherever there are several names in question, they may be divided and put one by one. 9 Grey, 444. So, 1729, April 17, on an objection that a question was complicated, it was separated by amendment. 2 Hats., 79.

The soundness of these observations will be evident from the embarrassments produced by the 12th rule of the Senate, which says, "if the question in debate contain several points, any member may have the same divided."

1798, May 30, the alien bill in quasi-committee. To a section and proviso in the original had been added two new provisos by way of amendment. On a motion to strike out the section as amended, the question was desired to be divided. To do this it must be put first on striking out either the former proviso or some distinct member of the section. But when nothing remains but the last member or the section and the proviso, they cannot be divided so as to put the last member to the question by itself; for the proviso might then be left standing alone as exceptions to a rule when the rule is taken away; or the new provisos might be left to a second question, after having been decided on once before at the same reading, which is contrary to rule. But the question must be on striking out the last member of the section as amended. This sweeps away the exceptions with the rule, and relieves from inconsistency. A question to be divisible, must comprehend points so distinct and entire that one of them being taken away the other may stand entire. But a proviso or an exception, without an enacting clause does not contain an entire point or proposition.

May 31. The same bill being before the Senate. There was a proviso that the bill should not extend, 1, To any foreign minister; nor, 2, To any person to whom the President should give a passport; nor, 3, To any alien merchant conforming himself to such regulations as the President shall prescribe, and a division of the question into its simplest elements was called for. It was divided into four parts, the fourth taking in the words, "conforming himself," etc. It was objected that the words, "any alien merchant" could not be separated from their modifying words, "conforming," etc., because these words if left by themselves contain no substantive idea—will make no sense. But admitting that the divisions of a paragraph into separate questions must be so made that each part may stand by itself, yet the House having on the question, retained the two first divisions, the words "any alien merchant" may be struck out, and their modifying words will then attach themselves to the preceding description of persons, and become a modification of that description.

When a question is divided, after the question on the first member, the second is open to debate and amendment, because it is a known rule that a person may rise and speak at any time before the question has been completely decided, by putting the negative as well as the affirmative side. But the question is not completely put when the vote has been taken on the first member only. One-half of the question, both affirmative and negative remains still to be put. See Execut. Jour., June 25, 1795. The same decision by President Adams.

SECTION XXXVII.

CO-EXISTING QUESTIONS.

It may be asked whether the House can be in possession of two motions or propositions at the same time, so that one of them being decided, the other goes to question without being moved anew? The answer must be special. When a question is interrupted by a vote of adjournment, it is thereby removed from before the House, and does not stand ipso facto before them at their next meeting, but must come forward in the usual way. So, when it is interrupted by the order of the day. Such other privileged questions also as dispose of the main question (e. g., the previous question, postponement, or commitment), remove it from before the House. But it is only suspended by a motion to amend, to withdraw, to read papers, or by a question of order or privilege, and stands again before the House when these are decided. None but the class of privileged questions can be brought forward while there is another question before the House, the rule being that when a motion has been made and seconded, no other can be received, except it be a privileged one.

third time and passed; because this would be to pass on two readings in the same day.

At the third reading the Clerk reads the bill and delivers it to the Speaker, who states the title, that is the third time of reading the bill, and that the question will be whether it shall pass? Formerly the Speaker or those who prepared a bill, prepared also a breviate or summary statement of its contents, which the Speaker read when he declared the state of the bill, at the several readings. Sometimes, however, he read the bill itself, especially on its passage. Hakew., 136, 137, 153; Coke, 22, 115. Latterly, instead of this, he at the third reading, states the whole contents of the bill, verbatim, only, instead of reading the formal parts "Be it enacted, &c.," he states that "preamble recites so and so—the first section enacts that, etc., the 2d section enacts," etc.

[But in the Senate of the United States both of these formalities are dispensed with; the breviate presenting but an imperfect view of the bill, and being capable of being made to present a false one; and the full statement being a useless waste of time, immediately after a full reading by the Clerk, and especially as every member has a printed copy in his hand.]

A bill on the third reading is not to be committed for the matter or body thereof; but to receive some particular clause or proviso, it has been sometimes suffered, but as a thing very unusual. Hakew., 126. Thus, 27 El., 1584, a bill was committed on the third reading, having been formerly committed on the second, but it was declared not usual. D'Ewes, 337, col. 2; 414, col. 2.

When an essential provision has been omitted, rather than erase the bill and render it suspicious, they add a clause on a separate paper, engrossed and called a rider, which is read and put to the question three times. Elsynge's Memorials, 59; 6 Grey, 335; 1 Blackst., 183. For example of riders, see 3 Hats., 121, 122, 124, 126. Every one is at liberty to bring in a rider without asking leave. 10 Grey, 52.

It is laid down as a general rule, that amendments proposed at the second reading, shall be twice read, and those proposed at the third reading thrice read; as also all amendments from the other House. Town, col. 19, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.

It is with great and almost invincible reluctance that amendments are admitted at this reading, which occasion erasures or interlineations. Sometimes a proviso has been cut off from a bill; sometimes erased. 9 Grey, 513.

This is the proper stage for filling up blanks; for if filled up before, and now altered by erasure, it would be peculiarly unsafe.

At this reading the bill is debated afresh, and for the most part is more spoken to at this time than on any of the former readings. Hakew., 153.

The debate on the question whether it should be read a third time, has discovered to its friends and opponents the arguments on which each side relies, and which of these appear to have influence with the House; they have had time to meet them with new arguments, and to put their old ones into new shapes. The former vote has tried the strength of the former opinion, and furnished grounds to estimate the issue; and the question now offered for its passage is the last occasion which is ever to be offered for carrying or rejecting it.

When the debate is ended, the Speaker, holding the bill in his hand, puts the question for its passage by saying, "Gentlemen, all of you who are of opinion that this bill shall pass, say aye;" and after the answer of the ayes, "All those of the contrary opinion, say no." Hakew., 154.

After the bill is passed there can be no further alteration of it in any point. Hakew., 159.

SECTION XLI.

DIVISION OF THE HOUSE.

The affirmative and negative of the question having been both put and answered, the Speaker declares whether the yeas or nays have it by the sound, if he be himself satisfied, and it stands as the judgment of the House. But if he be not himself satisfied which voice is the greater, or if before any other member comes into the House, or before any new motion is made (for it is too late after that), any member shall rise and declare himself dissatisfied with the Speaker's decision, then the Speaker is to divide the House. Scob., 24; 2 Hats., 140.

When the House of Commons is divided, the one party goes forth, and the other remains in the House. This has made it important which go forth and which remain; because the latter gain all the indolent, the indifferent and inattentive. Their general rule therefore, is, that those who give their vote for the preservation of the orders of the House, shall stay in; and those who are for introducing any new matter or alteration, or proceeding contrary to the established course, are to go out. But this rule is subject to many exceptions and modifications. 2 Hats., 134; 1 Rush, p. 3, fol. 92; Scob., 43, 52; Co., 12, 116; D'Ewes, 505, col. 1; Mem. in Hakew., 25, 29, as will appear by the following statement of who go forth.

The one party being gone forth, the Speaker names two tellers from the affirmative and two from the negative side, who first count those sitting in the House and report the number to the Speaker. Then they place themselves within the door, two on each side, and count those who went forth as they come in, and report the number to the Speaker. Mem. in Hakew., 26.

A mistake in the report of the tellers may be rectified after the report made. 2 Hats., 145, note.

[But in both Houses of Congress all these intricacies are avoided. The yeas first rise, and are counted standing in their places by the President or Speaker. Then they sit, and noes rise and are counted in like manner.]

[In Senate, if they are equally divided, the Vice President announces his opinion, which decides.]

[The Constitution, however, has directed that "the yeas and nays of the members of either House on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal." And again; that in all cases of reconsidering a bill disapproved by the President and returned with his objections, "the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journals of each House respectively."]

[By the 16th and 17th rules of the Senate, when the yeas and nays shall be called for by one-fifth of the members present, each member called upon shall, unless for special reasons he be excused by the Senate, declare openly, and without debate, his assent or dissent to the question. In taking the yeas and nays and upon the call of the House, the names of the members shall be taken alphabetically]

[When the yeas and nays shall be taken upon any question in pursuance of the above rule no member shall be permitted, under any circumstances whatever, to vote after the decision is announced from the Chair.]

[When it is proposed to take the vote by yeas and nays, the President or Speaker states that "the question is whether, e. g., the bill shall pass—that it is proposed that the yeas and nays shall be entered on the journal. Those, therefore, who desire it, will rise." If he finds and declares that one-fifth have risen, he then states that "those who are of the opinion that the bill shall pass are to answer in the affirmative; those of a contrary opinion in the negative." The Clerk then calls over the names alphabetically, notes the yea or nay of each, and gives the list to the President or Speaker, who declares the result. In the Senate if there be an equal division the Secretary calls on the Vice President and notes his affirmative or negative, which becomes the decision of the House.]

In the House of Commons every member must give his vote, the one way or the other (Scob., 24), as it is not permitted to any one to withdraw who is in the House when the question is put, nor is any one to be told in the division who was not in when the question was put. 2 Hats., 140.

This last position is always true when the vote is by yeas and nays; where the negative as well as affirmative of the question is stated by the President at the same time, and the vote of both sides begins and proceeds pari passu. It is true also when the question is put in the usual way, if the negative has also been put; but if it has not, the member entering, or any other member, may speak, and even propose amendments, by which the debate may be opened again, and the question be greatly deferred. And as some who have answered aye may have been changed by the new arguments, the affirmative must be put over again. If, then, the member entering may, by speaking a few words, occasion a repetition of a question, it would be useless to deny it on his simple call for it.

While the House is telling, no member may speak or move out of his place, for if any mistake be suspected it must be told again. Mem. in Hakew., 26; 2 Hats., 143.

If any difficulty arises in point of order during the division, the Speaker is to decide peremptorily, subject to the future censure of the House, if irregular. He sometimes permits old experienced members to assist him with their advice, which they do sitting in their seats, covered to avoid the appearance of debate; but this can only be with the Speaker's leave, else the division must last several hours. 2 Hats., 143.

The voice of the majority decides; for the lex majoris partis is the law of all councils, elections, etc., where not otherwise expressly provided. Hakew., 93. But if the House be equally divided, "semper presumatur pro negante;" that is, the former law is not to be changed but by a majority. Towns., col. 134.

[But in the Senate of the United States, the Vice President decides when the House is divided. Const. U. S., 1, 3.]

When, from counting the House on a division, it appears that there is not a quorum, the matter continues exactly in the state in which it was before the division, and must be resumed at that point on any future day. 2 Hats., 126.

1606, May 1, on a question whether a member having said yea may afterwards sit and change his opinion, a precedent was remembered by the Speaker, of Mr. Morris, attorney of the wards, in 39 Eliz., who in like case changed his opinion. Mem. Hakew., 27.

SECTION XLII.

TITLES.

After the bill has passed, and not before, the title may be amended, and is to be fixed by question; and the bill is then sent to the other House.

SECTION XLIII.

RECONSIDERATION.

[When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member of the majority to move for the reconsideration thereof; but no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, message, report, amendment, or motion upon which the vote was taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate announcing their decision; nor shall any motion for reconsideration be in order unless made on the same day on which the vote was taken, or within the two next days of the actual session of the Senate thereafter.* Rule 20.]

[1798, Jan. A bill on its second reading being amended and on the question whether it shall be read a third time negatived, was restored by a decision to reconsider that question. Here the votes of negative and reconsideration, like positive and negative quantities in an equation, destroy one another, and are as if they were expunged from the journal. Consequently the bill is open for amendment, just so far as it was the moment preceding the question for the third reading; that is to say, all parts of the bill are open for amendment except those on which votes have been already taken in its present stage. So, also, it may be re-committed.]

[†The rule permitting a reconsideration of a question affixing to it no limitation of time or circumstance, it may be asked whether there is no limitation? If, after the vote, the paper on which it is passed has been parted with, there can be no reconsideration; as if a vote has been for the passage of a bill, and the bill has been sent to the other house. But where the paper remains, as on a bill rejected, when, or under what circumstances does it cease to be susceptible of reconsideration? This remains to be settled; unless, a sense that the right of reconsideration is a right to waste the time of the House in repeated agitations of the same question, so that it shall never know when a question is done with, should induce them to reform this anomalous proceeding.]

In Parliament, a question once carried cannot be questioned again at the same session, but must stand as the judgment of the House. Towns., col. 67; Mem. in Hakew., 33. And a bill once rejected, another of the same substance cannot be brought in again the same session. Hakew., 158; 6 Grey, 392. But this does not extend to prevent putting the same question in different stages of a bill; because every stage of a bill submits the whole and every part of it to the opinion of the House, as open for amendment, either by insertion or omission though the same amendment has been accepted or rejected in a former stage. So in reports of committees, e. g., report of an address, the same question is before the House and open for free discussion. Towns., col. 26; 2 Hats., 98, 100, 101. So orders of the House, or instructions to committee, may be discharged. So a bill, begun in one house, and sent to the other, and there rejected, may be renewed again in that other, passed and sent back. Ib., 92; 3 Hats., 161. Or if, instead of being rejected, they read it once and lay it aside, or amend it, and put it off a month, they may order in another to the same effect, with the same or different title. Hakew., 97, 98.

*This part of the rule has been added since the Manual was compiled.

†This rule now fixes the limitation.

HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE, MENDOTA.

Divers expedients are used to correct the effects of this rule; as by passing an explanatory act, if anything has been omitted or ill expressed (3 Hats., 278), or an act to enforce, and make more effectual an act, etc., or to rectify mistakes in act, etc., or a committee on one bill may be instructed to receive a clause to rectify the mistakes of another. Thus, June 24, 1685, a clause was inserted in a bill for rectifying a mistake committed by a clerk, in engrossing a bill of supply. 2 Hats., 194, 6. Or the session may be closed for one, two, three, or more days, and a new one commenced. But then all matters depending must be finished, or they fall, and are to begin de novo. 3 Hats., 94, 98. Or a part of the subject may be taken up by another bill, or taken up in a different way. 6 Grey, 304, 316.

And in cases of the last magnitude, this rule has not been so strictly and verbally observed as to stop indispensable proceedings altogether. 2 Hats., 92, 98. Thus when the address on the preliminaries of peace in 1782 had been lost by a majority of one, on account of the importance of the question, and smallness of the majority, the same question in substance, though with some words not in the first, and which might change the opinion of some members, was brought on again and carried, as the motives for it were thought to outweigh the objection of form. 2 Hats., 99, 100.

A second bill may be passed to continue an act of the same session, or to enlarge the time limited for its execution. 2 Hats., 95, 98. This is not in contradiction to the first act.

SECTION XLIV.

BILLS SENT TO THE OTHER HOUSE.

[All bills passed in the Senate, shall, before they are sent to the House of Representatives, be examined by a committee, consisting of three members, whose duty shall be to examine all bills, amendments, resolutions or motions, before they go out of the possession of the Senate and to make report that they are correctly engrossed, which report shall be entered on the journal. Rule 33.]

A bill from the other House is sometimes ordered to lie on the table. 2 Hats., 97.

When bills passed in one house and sent to the other, are grounded on special facts requiring proof, it is usual, either by message or at a conference, to ask the grounds and evidence; and this evidence, whether arising out of papers, or from the examination of witnesses, is immediately communicated. 3 Hats., 48.

SECTION XLV.

AMENDMENTS BETWEEN THE HOUSES.

When either house, e. g., the House of Commons, sends a bill to the other, the other may pass it with amendments. The regular progression in this case is, that the commons disagree to the amendment; the lords insist on it; the commons insist on their disagreement; the lords adhere to their amendment; the commons adhere to their disagreement. The term of insisting may be repeated as often as they choose to keep the question open. But the first adherence by either renders it necessary for the other to recede or adhere also; when the matter is usually suffered to fall. 10 Grey, 148. Latterly, however, there are instances of their having gone to a second adherence. There must be an absolute conclusion of the subject somewhere, or otherwise transactions between the houses would become endless. 3 Hats., 268, 270. The term of insisting, we are told by Sir John Trevor, was then (1679) newly introduced into parliamentary usage by the lords. 7 Grey, 94. It was certainly a happy innovation, as it multiplies the opportunities of trying modifications which may bring the houses to concurrence. Either house, however, is free to pass over the term of insisting, and to adhere in the first instance; 10 Grey, 146; but it is not respectful to the other. In the ordinary parliamentary course, there are two free conferences, at least, before an adherence. 10 Grey, 147.

Either house may recede from its amendment and agree to the bill; or recede from their disagreement to the amendment, and agree to the same absolutely, or with an amendment; for here the disagreement and receding destroy one another, and the subject stands as before the disagreement. Elysinge, 23, 27; 9 Grey, 476.

But the house cannot recede from, or insist on its own amendment, with an amendment for the same reason that it cannot send to the other house an amendment to its own act after it has passed the act. They may modify an amendment from the other house by ingrafting an amendment on it, because they have never assented to it; but they cannot amend their own amendment, because they have on the question, passed it in that form. 9 Grey, 363; 10 Grey, 240. In the Senate, March 29, 1798. Nor where one house has adhered to their amendment, and the other agrees with an amendment, can the first house depart from the form which they have fixed by an adherence.

In the case of a money bill, the lords' proposed amendments become, by delay, confessedly necessary. The commons, however, refused them, as infringing on their privileges as to money bills; but they offered themselves to add to the bill a proviso to the same effect, which had no coherence with the lords' amendments; and urged that it was an expedient warranted by precedent, and not unparliamentary in a case become impracticable, and irremediable in any other way. 3 Hats., 256, 266, 270, 271. But the lords refused, and the bill was lost. 1 Chand., 288. A like case, 1 Chand., 311. So the commons resolved that it was unparliamentary to strike out, at a conference anything in a bill which had been agreed and passed by both Houses. 6 Grey, 274; 1 Chand., 312.

A motion to amend an amendment from the other House takes precedence of a motion to agree or disagree.

A bill originating in one House is passed by the other with an amendment.

The originating House agrees to their amendment with an amendment. The other may agree to their amendment with an amendment, that being only in the 2d and not the 3d degree; for, as to the amending House, the first amendment with which they passed the bill is a part of its text. It is the only text they have agreed to. The amendment to that text by the originating House, therefore, is only in the first degree, and the amendment to that again by the amending House is only in the 2d, to wit: an amendment to an amendment, and so admissible. Just so, when on a bill from the originating House, the other, at its second reading makes an amendment; on the third reading this amendment is become the text of the bill, and if an amendment to it be moved, an amendment to that amendment may also be moved, as being only in the 2d degree.

SECTION XLVI.

CONFERENCES.

It is on the question of amendments between the Houses that Conferences are usually asked; but they may be asked in all cases of difference of opinion between the two Houses on matters depending between them. The request of a conference, however, must always be with the House which is possessed of the papers. 3 Hats., 31; 1 Grey, 425.

Conferences may be either simple or free. At a conference simply, written reasons are prepared by the House asking it, and they are read and delivered, without debate, to the managers of the other House at the conference; but are not then to be answered; 4 Grey, 144. The other house, then, if satisfied, vote the reason satisfactory, or say nothing; if not satisfied, they resolve them not satisfactory, and ask a conference on the subject of the last conference, where they read and deliver, in like manner, written answers to those reasons. 3 Grey, 183. They are meant chiefly to record the jurisdiction of each House to the nation at large, and to posterity, and in proof that the miscarriage of a necessary measure is not imputable to them. 3 Grey, 255. At free conferences the managers discuss, viva voce and freely, and interchange propositions for such modifications as may be made in a parliamentary way, and may bring the sense of the two Houses together. And each party reports in writing to their respective Houses the substance of what is said on both sides, and it is entered in their journals. 9 Grey, 220; 3 Hats., 280. This report can not be amended or altered, as that of a committee may be. Journal of Senate, May 24, 1796.

A conference may be asked, before the House asking it has come to a resolution of disagreement, insisting or adhering. 3 Hats., 269, 341. In which case the papers are not left with the other conferrees, but are brought back to be the foundation of the vote to be given. And this is the most reasonable and respectful proceeding; for, as was urged by the lords on a particular occasion, "it is held vain, and below the wisdom of Parliament, to reason or argue against fixed resolutions, and upon terms of impossibility to persuade." 3 Hats., 226. So the commons say, "an adherence is never delivered at a free conference, which implies debate." 10 Grey, 137. And on another occasion the lords made it an objection that the commons had asked a free conference after they had made resolutions of adhering. It was then affirmed, however, on the part of the commons, that nothing was more parliamentary than to proceed with free conferences after adhering (3 Hats., 269), and we do in fact see inferences of conferences, or of free conference, asked after the resolution of disagreeing (3 Hats., 251, 253, 260, 286, 291, 316, 349); of insisting (Ib., 280, 296, 299, 319, 322, 355); of adhering (269, 270, 283, 300); and even of a second or final adherence. 3 Hats., 270. And in all cases of conferences asked after a vote of disagreement, etc., the conferrees of the House asking it are to leave the papers with the conferrees of the other; and in one case where they refused to receive them, they were left on the table in the conference chamber. Ib., 317, 323, 354; 10 Grey, 146.

After a free conference, the usage is to proceed with free conferences, and not return again to a conference. 3 Hats., 270; 9 Grey, 229.

After a conference denied, a free conference may be asked. 1 Grey, 45.

When a conference is asked, the subject of it must be expressed, or the conference not agreed to. Ord. H. Com., 89; 1 Grey, 425; 8 Grey, 31. They are sometimes asked to inquire concerning an offence or default of a member of the other House. 6 Grey, 181; 1 Chand., 304. Or the failure of the other House to present to the King a bill passed by both Houses. 8 Grey, 302. Or on information received, and relating to the safety of the nation. 10 Grey, 171. Or when the methods of Parliament are thought by the one House to have been departed from by the other, a conference is asked to come to a right understanding thereon. 10 Grey, 148. So when an unparliamentary message has been sent, instead of answering it, they ask a conference. 3 Grey, 155. Formerly an address or article of impeachment, or a bill with amendments, or a vote of the House, or concurrence in a vote, or a message from the King, were sometimes communicated by way of conference. 6 Grey, 128, 300, 387; 7 Grey, 80; 8 Grey, 210, 255; 1 Torbuck's Deb., 278; 10 Grey, 293; 1 Chandler, 49, 287. But this is not the modern practice. 8 Grey, 255.

A conference has been asked after the first reading of the bill. 1 Grey, 194. This is a singular instance.

SECTION XLVII.

MESSAGES.

Messages between the Houses are to be sent only while both Houses are sitting. 2 Hats., 15. They are received during debate without adjourning the debate. 3 Hats., 22.

[In Senate the messages are introduced in any state of business, except: 1. While a question is putting. 2. While the yeas and nays are calling. 3. While the ballots are counting. Rule 47. The first case is short; the second and third are cases where any interruption might occasion errors difficult to be corrected. So arranged June 15, 1788.]

In the House of Representatives, as in Parliament, if the House be in committee when a messenger attends, the Speaker takes the chair to receive the message, and then quits it to return into committee, without any question or interruption. 4 Grey, 226.

Messengers are not saluted by the members, but by the Speaker of the House. 2 Grey, 253, 274.

If messengers commit an error in delivering their message, they may be admitted or called in to correct their message. 4 Grey, 41. Accordingly, March 13, 1800, the Senate having made two amendments to a bill from the House of Representatives, their Secretary, by mistake, delivered one only, which being inadmissible by itself, that House disagreed, and notified the Senate of their disagreement. This produced a discovery of the mistake. The Secretary was sent to the other House to correct his mistake, the correction was received, and the two amendments acted on de novo.

As soon as the messenger who has brought the bills from the other House, has retired, the Speaker holds the bills in his hand, and acquaints the House "that the other House have by their messenger sent certain bills," and then reads their titles, and delivers them to the Clerk, to be safely kept till they shall be called for to be read. Hakew., 178.

It is not the usage for one House to inform the other by what numbers a bill has passed. 10 Grey, 150. Yet they have sometimes recommended a bill as of great importance, to the consideration of the House to which it is sent. 3 Hats., 25. Nor when they have rejected a bill from the other house, do they give notice of it; but it passes sub-silentio, to prevent unbecoming altercations. Blackst., 183.

[But in Congress the rejection is notified by message to the House in which the bill originated.]

A question is never asked by the one House of the other by way of message, but only at a conference; for this is an interrogatory, not a message. 3 Grey, 151, 181.

When a bill is sent by one House to the other, and is neglected, they may send a message to remind them of it. 3 Hats., 25; 5 Grey, 154. But if it be mere inattention, it is better to have it done informally, by communication between the Speakers or members of the two Houses.

Where the subject of a message is of a nature that can properly be communicated to both houses of Parliament, it is expected that this communication should be made to both on the same day. But where a message was accompanied with an original declaration, signed by the party to which the message referred, its being sent to one House was not noticed by the other, because the declaration, being original, could not possibly be sent to both houses at the same time. 2 Hats., 260, 261, 262.

The King having sent original letters to the commons, afterwards desires they may be returned, that he may communicate them to the lords. 1 Chandler, 303.

SECTION XLVIII.

ASSENT.

The House which has received a bill and passed it, may present it for the King's assent, and ought to do it, though they have not by message notified to the other their passage of it. Yet the notifying by message is a form which ought to be observed between the two houses, from motives of respect and good understanding. 2 Hats., 142. Were the bill to be withheld from being presented to the King, it would be an infringement of the rules of Parliament. Ib.

[When a bill has passed both houses of Congress, the house last acting on it notifies its passage to the other, and delivers the bill to the Joint Committee of Enrollment, who see that it is truly enrolled in parchment.] When the bill is enrolled, it is not to be written in paragraphs, but solidly, and all of a piece, that the blanks between the paragraphs may not give room for forgery. 9 Grey, 143. [It is then put in the hands of the Clerk of the House of Representatives to have it signed by the Speaker. The Clerk then brings it by way of message to the Senate to be signed by their President. The Secretary of the Senate returns it to the Committee of enrollment, who present it to the President of the United States. If he approve, he signs, and deposits it among the rolls in the office of the Secretary of State, and notifies by message the house in which it originated that he has approved and signed it; of which that house informs the other by message. If the President disapproves, he is to return it with his objections to that house in which it shall have originated, who are to enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the President's objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the congress by its adjournment prevent its return; in which case it shall not be a law. Const. U. S., I, 7.

[Every order, resolution or vote, to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except in a question of adjournment), shall be presented to the President of the United States, and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him; or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill. Const. U. S., I, 7.]

SECTION XLIX.

JOURNALS.

[Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may, in their judgment, require secrecy. Const., I, 5.]

[The proceedings of the Senate, when not acting as in a Committee of the Whole, shall be entered on the journals as concisely as possible, care being taken to detail a true account of the proceedings. Every vote of the Senate shall be entered on the journals, and a brief statement of the contents of each petition, memorial, or paper presented to the Senate, be also inserted on the journal. Rule 33.]

[The titles of bills, and such parts thereof only, as shall be affected by proposed amendments, shall be inserted on the journals. Rule 32.]

If a question is interrupted by a vote to adjourn, or to proceed to the orders of the day, the original question is never printed in the journal, it never having been a vote, nor introductory to any vote; but when suppressed by the previous question, the first question must be stated, in order to introduce and make intelligible the second. 2 Hats., 83.

So also when a question is postponed, adjourned, or laid on the table, the original question, though not yet a vote, must be expressed in the journals; because it makes part of the vote of postponement, adjourning, or laying it on the table.

Where amendments are made to a question, those amendments are not printed in the journals, separated from the question; but only the question as finally agreed to by the House. The rule of entering in the journals only what the House has agreed to, is founded in great prudence and good sense; as there may be many questions proposed, which it may be improper to publish to the world in the form in which they are made. 2 Hats., 85.

[In both houses of Congress, all questions whercon the yeas and nays are desired by one-fifth of the members present, whether decided affirmatively or negatively, must be entered on the journals. Const., I, 5.]

The first order for printing the votes of the House of Commons was October 30, 1685. 1 Chandler, 387.

Some judges have been of opinion that the journals of the House of Commons are no records, but only remembrances. But this is not law. Hob., 110, 111; Lex Parl., 114, 115; Jour. H. C., Mar. 17, 1592; Hale, Parl., 105. For the lords in their house have power of judicature, the commons in their house have power of judicature: and both houses together have power of judicature; and the Book of the Clerk of the House of Commons is a record, as is affirmed by act of Parl., 6 H. S. c. 16; 4 Inst., 23, 24; and every member of the House of Commons hath a judicial place. 4 Inst., 15. As records they are open to every person, and a printed vote of either house is sufficient ground for the other to notice it. Either may appoint a committee to inspect the journals of the other, and report what has been done by the other in any particular case. 2 Hats., 361; 3 Hats., 27-57. Every member has a right to see the journals, and take and publish votes from them. Being a record, every one may see and publish them. 6 Grey, 118, 119.

On information of a mis-entry or omission of an entry in the journal, a committee may be appointed to examine and rectify it, and report it to the House. 2 Hats., 194, 5.

SECTION L.

ADJOURNMENT.

The two houses of Parliament have the sole, separate and independent power of adjourning each their respective Houses. The King has no authority to adjourn them; he can only signify his desire, and it is in the wisdom and prudence of either House to comply with his requisition, or not, as they see fitting. 2 Hats., 332; 1 Blacks., 186; 5 Grey, 122.

[By the Constitution of the United States a smaller number than a majority may adjourn from day to day. I, 5. But "neither House, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting." I, 5. And in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, the President may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper. Const., II, 3.]

A motion to adjourn, simply, cannot be amended, as by adding "to a particular day;" but must be put simply "that this House do now adjourn;" and if carried in the affirmative, it is adjourned till the next sitting day, unless it has come to a previous resolution, "that at its rising it will adjourn to a particular day," and then the House is adjourned to that day. 2 Hats., 82.

Where it is convenient that the business of the House be suspended for a short time, as for a conference presently to be held, etc., it adjourns during pleasure. 2 Hats., 305; or for a quarter of an hour. 5 Grey, 331.

If a question be put for adjournment, it is no adjournment till the Speaker announces it. 5 Grey, 137. And from courtesy and respect, no member leaves his place till the Speaker has passed on.

SECTION LL.

SESSION.

Parliament have three modes of separation, to-wit: By adjournment, by prorogation or dissolution by the King, or by the efflux of the term for which they were elected. Prorogation or dissolution constitutes there what is called a session, provided some act has passed. In this case all matters depending before them are discontinued, and at their next meeting are to be taken up de novo, if taken up at all. 1 Blakst., 186. Adjournment, which is by themselves, is no more than a continuance of the session from one day to another, or for a fortnight, a month, etc., ad libitum. All matters depending remain in statu quo, and when they meet again, be the term ever so distant, are resumed, without any fresh commencement, at the point at which they were left. 1 Lev., 165; Lex Parl., c. 2; 1 Ro. Rep., 29. 4 Inst., 7, 27, 28; Hutt., 61; 1 Mod., 252; Ruffh. Jac. L. Dict. Parliament; 1 Blakst., 186. There whole session is considered in law but as one day, and has relation to the first day thereof. Bro. Abr. Parliament, 86.

Committees may be appointed to sit during a recess by adjournment, but not by prerogation. 5 Grey, 374; 9 Grey, 350; 1 Chandler, 50. Neither house can continue any portion of itself in any parliamentary function beyond the end of the session without the consent of the other two branches. When done, it is by a bill constituting them commissioners for the particular purpose.

[Congress separate in two ways only, to wit: by adjournment, or dissolution by the efflux of their time. What, then, constitutes a session with them? A dissolution closes one session, and the meeting of the new Congress begins another. The Constitution authorizes the President, "on extraordinary occasions to convene both houses or either of them." (I, 3) If convened by the President's proclamation, this must begin a new session, and of course determine the preceding one to have been a session. So if it meets under the clause of the Constitution, which says, "the Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day" (I, 4), this must begin a new session; for even if the last adjournment was to this day, the act of adjournment is merged in the higher authority of the Constitution, and the meeting will be under that and not under their adjournment. So far we have fixed landmarks for determining sessions. In other words, it is declared by the joint vote authorizing the President of the Senate and Speaker to close the session on a fixed day, which is usually in the following form: Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, That the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives be authorized to close the present session by adjourning their respective Houses on the — day of —.]

When it was said above all that matters depending before Parliament were discontinued by the determination of the session, it was not meant for judiciary cases depending before the House of Lords, such as impeachments, appeals and writs of error. These stand continued, of course, to the next session. Raym., 120, 381; Ruffh. Jac. L. D., Parliament.

SECTION LII.

TREATIES.

[The President of the United States has power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur. Const., U. S., II, 2.]

[All confidential communications made by the President of the United States to the Senate, shall be by the members thereof kept secret; and that all treaties which may hereafter be laid before the Senate, shall also be kept secret, until the Senate shall, by their resolution, take off the injunction of secrecy. Rule 39.]

Treaties are legislative acts. A treaty is the law of the land. It differs from other laws only as it must have the consent of a foreign nation, being but a contract with respect to that nation. In all countries, I believe, except England, treaties are made by the legislative power; and there also, if they touch the laws of the land, they must be approved by Parliament. Ware v. Hayton, 3 Dallas' Rep., 223. It is acknowledged, for instance, that the King of Great Britain cannot by a treaty make a citizen of an alien. Vattel, b., c. 19, sec. 214. An act of Parliament was necessary to validate the American treaty of 1783. And abundant examples of such acts can be cited. In the case of the treaty of Utrecht, in 1712, the commercial articles required the concurrence of Parliament; but a bill brought in for that purpose was rejected. France, the other contracting party, suffered these articles, in practice, to be not insisted on, and adhered to the rest of the treaty. 4 Russell's Hist. Mod. Europe, 457; 2 Smollet, 242, 246.

[By the Constitution of the United States this department of legislation is confined to two branches only of the ordinary legislature; the President originating and the Senate having a negative. To what subjects this power extends has not been defined in detail by the Constitution; nor are we entirely agreed among ourselves. 1. It is admitted that it must concern the foreign nation party to the contract, or it would be a mere nullity, res inter alios acta. 2. By the general power to make treaties, the Constitution must have intended to comprehend only those subjects which are usually regulated by treaty, and cannot be otherwise regulated. 3. It must have meant to except out of these rights to the States; for surely the President and Senate cannot do by treaty what the whole government is interdicted from doing in any way. 4. And also to except those subjects of legislation in which it gave a participation to the House of Representatives. This last exception is denied by some, on the ground that it would leave very little matter for the treaty power to work on. The less the better, say others. The Constitution thought it wise to restrain the Executive and Senate from entangling and embroiling our affairs with those of Europe. Besides, as the negotiations are carried on by the Executive alone, the subjecting to the ratification of the representatives such articles as are within their participation, is no more inconvenient than to the Senate. But the ground of this exception is denied as unfounded. For examine, e. g., the treaty of commerce with France, and it will be found that, out of thirty-one articles, there are not more than small portions of two or three of them which would not still remain as subjects of treaties, untouched by these exceptions.]

Treaties being declared, equally with the laws of the United States, to be the supreme law of the land, it is understood that an act of the legislature alone can declare them infringed and rescinded. This was accordingly the process adopted in the case of France in 1798.

[It has been the usage for the Executive, when it communicates a treaty to the Senate for their ratification, to communicate also the correspondence of the negotiators. This having been omitted in case of the Prussian treaty, was asked by a vote of the House, of February 12, 1800, and was obtained. And in December, 1800, the convention of that year between the United States and France, with the report of the negotiations by the envoys, but not their Instructions, being laid before the Senate, the instructions were asked for, and communicated by the President.]

[The mode of voting on questions of ratification is by nominal call.]

[Whenever a treaty shall be laid before the Senate for ratification, it shall be read a first time for information only; when no motion to reject, ratify, or modify the whole, or any part, shall be received. Its second reading shall be for consideration, and on a subsequent day, when it shall be taken up as in a committee of the whole, and every one shall be free to move a question on any particular article, in this form: "Will the Senate advise and consent to the ratification of this article?" or to propose amendments thereto, either by inserting or by leaving out words, in which last case the question shall be, "shall the words stand part of the article?" And in every one of the said cases, the concurrence of two-thirds of the Senators present shall be requisite to decide affirmatively. And when, through the whole, the proceedings shall be stated to the House, and questions being again severally put thereon, for confirmation, or new ones proposed, requiring in like manner a concurrence of two-thirds for whatever is retained or inserted.]

[The votes so confirmed shall, by the House, or a committee thereof, be reduced into the form of a ratification, with or without modifications, as may have been decided, and shall be proposed on a subsequent day, when every one shall again be free to move amendments either by inserting or leaving out words; in which last case the question shall be, "Shall the words stand part of the resolution?" And in both cases the concurrence of two-thirds shall be requisite to carry the affirmative; as well as on the final question to advise and consent to the ratification in the form agreed to. Rule 37.]

[When any question may have been decided by the Senate, in which two-thirds of the members present are necessary to carry the affirmative, any member who voted on that side which prevailed in the question may be at liberty to move for a reconsideration, and a motion for reconsideration shall be decided by a majority of votes. Rule 37.]

SECTION LIII.

IMPEACHMENT.

[The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment. Const. U. S., I, 3.]

[The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to remove from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States. But the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law. Const., I, 3.]

[The President, Vice-President, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors. Const., II, 4.]

[The trial of crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury. Const., III, 2.]

These are the provisions of the Constitution of the United States on the subject of impeachments. The following is a sketch of some of the principles and practices of England on the same subject:

Jurisdiction. The Lords cannot impeach any to themselves, nor join in the accusation, because they are the judges. Scld. Judic. in Parl., 12, 63. Nor can they proceed against a commoner but on complaint of the commons. Ib., 84. The Lords may not, by the law, try a commoner for a capital offense, on the information of the King or a private person, because the accused is entitled to a trial by his peers generally; but on accusation by the House of Commons, they may proceed against the delinquent, of whatsoever degree, and whatsoever be the nature of the offense; for there they do not assume to themselves trial at common law. The commons are then instead of a jury, and the judgment is given on their demand, which is instead of a verdict. So the Lords do only judge, but not try the delinquent. Ib., 6, 7. But Wooddeson denies that a commoner can now be charged capitally before the Lords, even by the commons; and cites Fitzharris's case, 1681, impeached for high treason, when the Lords remitted the prosecution to the inferior court. 8 Grey's Deb., 325-7; Wooddeson, 601, 576; 3 Scld., 1610, 1619, 1641; 4 Blackst., 25; 73 Scld., 1604, 1618; 9, 1656.

Accusation. The Commons, as the grand inquest of the nation, become suitors for penal justice. 2 Woodd., 597; 6 Grey, 356. The general course is to pass a resolution containing a criminal charge against the supposed delinquent, and then to direct some member to impeach him by oral accusation, at the bar of the House of Lords, in the name of the Commons. The person signifies that the articles will be exhibited, and desires that the delinquent may be sequestered from his seat, or be committed, or that the peers will take order from his appearance. Sachev. Trial, 329; 2 Woodd., 602, 605; Lords' Jour., 3 June, 1701, 101; 1 Wms., 616; 6 Grey, 324.

Process. If a party do not appear, proclamations are to be issued, giving him a day to appear. On their return they are strictly examined. If any error be found in them, a new proclamation issues, giving a short day. If he appear not, his goods may be arrested and they may proceed. Scld. Judd., 98, 99.

Articles. The accusation (articles) of the Commons is substituted in place of an indictment. Thus, by the usage of Parliament, in impeachment for writing or speaking, the particular words need not be specified. Sach. Tr., 325; 2 Woodd., 602, 605; Lord's Jour., 3 June, 1701; 1 Wms., 616.

Appearance. If he appears and the case be capital, he answers in custody; though not if the accusations be general. He is not to be committed but on special accusations. If it be for a misdemeanor only, he answers, a Lord in his place, a Commoner at the bar, and not in custody, unless, on the answer, the Lords find cause to commit him, till he find sureties to attend, and lest he should fly. Scld.

Judd., 98, 99. A copy of the articles is given him and a day fixed for his answer. T. Ray; 1 Rushw., 268; Post., 232; 1 Clar. Hist. of the Reb., 379. Or a misdemeanor his appearance may be in person, or he may answer in writing, or by attorney. Seld. Judd., 100. The general rule on accusations for a misdemeanor is, that in such a state of liberty or restraint as the party is when the commons complain of him, in such he is to answer. Ib., 101. If previously committed by the commons, he answers as a prisoner. But this may be called in some sort judicium parium suorum. Ib. In misdemeanors the party has a right to counsel by the common law; but not in capital cases. Seld. Judd., 102-5.

Answer. The answer need not observe great strictness of form. He may plead guilty as to part, and defend as to the residue; or, saving all exceptions, deny the whole or give a particular answer to each article separately. 1 Rush., 274; 1 Rush., 1374; 12 Parl. Hist., 442; 3 Lords' Jour., 13 Nov., 1643; Woodd., 607. But he cannot plead a pardon in bar to the impeachment. 2 Woodd., 615; 2 St. Tr., 735.

Replication, rejoinder, etc. There may be a replication, rejoinder, etc. Sci. Jud., 114; 8 Grey's Deb., 233; Sach. Tr., 15; Journ. H. of Commons, March, 1640, 1.

Witnesses. The practice is to swear the witnesses in open House, and then examine them there, or a committee may be named, who shall examine them in committee, either on interrogatories agreed on in the House, or such as the committee in their discretion shall demand. Seld. Jud., 120, 123.

Jury. In the case of Alice Pierce (1 R. 2), a jury was empaneled for her trial before a committee. Seld. Jud., 123. But this was on a complaint not on impeachment by the commons. Seld. Jud., 163. It must also have been for a misdemeanor only, as the lords spiritual sat in the case, which they do on misdemeanors, but not in capital cases. Id., 148. The judgment was a forfeiture of all her lands and goods. Id., 188. This, Selden says, is the only jury he finds recorded in Parliament for misdemeanor; but he makes no doubt, if the delinquent doth put himself on trial of his country a jury ought to be impaneled, and he adds that it is not so on impeachment by the commons; for they are in loco proprio, and there no jury ought to be impaneled. Id., 124. The Ld. Berkeley, 6 B., 3, was arraigned for the murder of L., 2, on an information on the part of the King, and not impeachment of the commons; for then they had been patria sua. He waived his peerage, and was tried by a jury of Gloucestershire and Warwickshire. Id., 125. In 1 H., 7, the commons protest that they are not to be considered as parties to any judgment given, or hereafter to be given in Parliament. Seld. Jud., 133. They have been generally and more justly considered, as is before stated, as the grand jury; for the conceit of Selden is certainly not accurate, and they are the patria sua of the accused, and that the Lords do only judge, but not try. It is undeniable that they do try; for they examine witnesses as to the facts, and acquit or condemn, according to their own belief of them. And Lord Hale says, "the peers are judges of law as well as of fact;" (2 Hale, P. C., 275); consequently of fact as well as of law.

Presence of Commons. The Commons are to be present at the examination of witnesses. Seld. Jud., 124. Indeed, they are to attend throughout, either as a committee of the whole House, or otherwise, at discretion, appoint managers to conduct the proofs. Rushw., Tr. of Straff., 37; Com. Journ., 4 Feb., 1709-10; 2 Woodd., 614. And judgment is not to be given till they demand it. Seld. Jud., 124. But they are not to be present on impeachment when the Lords consider of the answer of proofs and determine of their judgment. Their presence, however, is necessary at the answer and judgment in cases of capital (Id., 58, 159) as well as not capital (162). The Lords debate the judgment among themselves. Then the vote is first taken on the question of guilty or not guilty; and if they convict, the question, or particular sentence, is out of that which seemeth to be most generally agreed on. Seld. Jud., 167; 2 Woodd., 612.

Judgment. Judgments in Parliament, for death, have been strictly guided per legem terræ which they cannot alter; and not at all according to their discretion. They can neither omit any legal part of the judgment nor add to it. Their sentence must be secundum, non ultra legem. Seld. Jud., 168-171. This trial, though it varies in external ceremony, yet differs not in essentials from criminal prosecutions before inferior courts. The same rules of evidence, the same legal notions of crimes and punishments, prevail; for impeachments are not framed to alter the law, but to carry it into more effectual execution against two powerful delinquents. The judgment, therefore, is to be such as is warranted by legal principles or precedents. 6 Sta. Tr., 14; 2 Woodd., 611. The chancellor gives judgment in misdemeanors; the lord high steward formerly in cases of life and death. Seld. Jud., 180. # CUSTOMS, PRECEDENTS, FORMS AND RULES

FOR THE USE AND GOVERNMENT OF THE WIS-CONSIN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE AUTHORIZED BY JOINT RESOLUTION No. 62, S.,
SESSION OF 1895.

(Adopted by the Legislature of 1899.)

---

ORGANIZATION.

The Legislature convenes at 12 o'clock M., on the second Wednesday of January in every odd numbered year.

Custom, so prevalent and so ancient as to have the force of law, has made it the duty of the Chief Clerk of the previous Assembly to call to order, and to conduct the proceedings generally, until a Speaker is chosen.

In the Senate the Lieutenant Governor calls the Senators to order, the Chief Clerk of the previous session acting in that capacity until his successor is chosen. The oath of office is usually administered to the newly elected Senators by the Lieutenant Governor, who also administers the oath of office to the Chief Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms. Immediately after the Senators take the oath of office the election of President pro tem., Chief Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms is proceeded with in the order named.

The Secretary of State furnishes to the Clerk a certified statement of the names of the members elect, which is read. The members then advance to the Clerk's desk, and subscribe to the oath of office.

The election of President pro tem. of the Senate, Speaker of the Assembly, Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms of both the respective Houses is required to be viva voce.

After the organization each House informs the other House that it is organized and ready to proceed to business.

A joint committee of both Houses is then appointed to convey a like message to the Governor, and inform him that the Houses are in readiness to receive any communication from him he may desire to make.

At the first opportunity after hearing the message read, the various recommendations therein contained, are referred by resolution to appropriate standing committees or select committees.

Drawing of Seats.

The drawing of seats by lot has been observed since the Assembly first took possession of the new Assembly Chamber.

The method heretofore pursued is as follows:

The members leave their seats, and take places in the open area behind their seats. The Clerk having placed in a box, slips of paper containing the names of the members respectively, a page or messenger draws them therefrom. The Clerk announces each name as it is drawn, and the member named selects his seat, and occupies it until the drawing is completed. In the Senate the seats are usually placed in such manner as will be most agreeable to the senators.

Duties of Officers.

PRESIDENT AND SPEAKER.—The duties of these officers are generally defined in the rules.

CHIEF CLERKS.—The rules set forth the duties of these officers. They have the care and custody of all the papers and records, and arrange in proper order from day to day, after its inception, all the business of the two Houses. They must, in order to have a proper knowledge of the affairs of their departments, apportion, systematize and personally supervise the labor of all their subordinates, and, when not called therefrom by more important duties, should officiate in person at the reading desk. The duties of their subordinates are properly their duties, as all are performed under their direction, and they are responsible for any deficiencies. It is their duty to prepare and furnish to the public printer, an accurate record of each day's proceedings and a copy of every bill, report and other thing ordered to be printed "on the same day such orders are made;" to keep the pay accounts of employes and issue certificates of per diem to them; to deliver the messages of the one House to the other and to sign subpoenas.

It is their duty to prepare an index to the journal, at the close of the session, and to be present at the opening of the next session, and to attend to such preliminary business as may be necessary, and conduct the proceedings therein until a speaker is elected, and perform the duties of clerk thereof until their successors are chosen and qualified.

They are by law responsible for the safe keeping of all the bills and other documents in possession of the Legislature, and for the proper registry of all proceedings; and are required at the close of the session, to deposit all papers in their possession as Chief Clerks, properly classified and labeled, with the Secretary of State.

Regulations in the Department of the Clerk.

To insure a systematic and correct performance of the duties of their departments, the Chief Clerks of the two Houses have established the following regulations:

THE ASSISTANT CLERKS.—It is their special duty:

1. To keep a record of each day's proceedings, and to correct the proof of same when printed.
2. To officiate at the reading desk when required by the clerk, and in case of his absence to perform his duties generally.
3. To label and file in the appropriate places all papers presented, with proper dates and references.
4. To select each day all papers ordered to be printed, make the list thereof in a book provided for that purpose, and send them to the State Printer, taking his receipt therefor.
5. To keep a list of all absentees on leave, etc.

THE BOOK-KEEPER.—It is his special duty:

1. To keep the register of bills, resolutions, memorials, etc., showing therein, and opposite to each title, all actions taken and proceedings had, with regard to such papers.
2. To distribute to the proper committee, or officers, all bills, petitions and other papers referred.

3. To make out all certificates of per diem and mileage, ready for the signature of the Speaker and Clerk.

4. To prepare the message to be delivered to the other House, and when not otherwise occupied, to help the Journal Clerk in the performance of his duties.

THE ENGROSSING CLERK.—It is his special duty:

1. To engross all bills ordered to a third reading which the rules require to be engrossed, properly placing all amendments adopted prior to the order of their engrossment.

2. By the direction of the Chief or Journal Clerk to perform any necessary service appertaining to the duties of the other deputies.

THE ENROLLING CLERK.—It is his special duty:

To make clear, legible copies of all bills which have been concurred in, without erasure or interlineations.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

1. Each deputy when not occupied in the performance of his own special duties, is to render such assistance to the Clerk and his associate deputies as may be in his power, or as the pressure of duties in a particular department may render necessary.

2. The deputies are expected to notify the Chief Clerk of any interference with their duties, and of all improper approaches or requests made to them by any person. They are not to exhibit to any person any bill or other document in their possession without leave of the Chief Clerk.

Perfect courtesy must at all times be maintained toward members, reporters, associate deputies, and all who have business to transact with the department, but interference with legislation cannot be allowed under any circumstances.

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS.—This officer is executive officer of the House. He has charge of the Post Office and other appurtenant conveniences of the Assembly. He controls the police regulations, attends to the warming of the chambers, serves the subpoenas and warrants of the Assembly, announces messages from the Governor and from the Senate, provides rooms for committees, receives from the Superintendent of Public Property all public documents ordered or coming in due course, and distributes the same through the Post Office, or otherwise, to members and officers entitled thereto, and keeps the pay roll of the employes in his department. He is to organize his department with such system that each of his subordinates shall know his precise duties, and he is to see that each performs his duty promptly, thoroughly and courteously. He is required to keep the chamber open from 8 o'clock A. M. to 11 o'clock P. M.

He should have the printed bills and other documents in his possession so classified and arranged that he can at once answer any call upon him for them. His assistant assists him generally in the discharge of his duties, and takes his place when he is absent.

The POSTMASTER attends to the receipt and delivery of all mail matter coming to members and officers of the Assembly. Each member has a box in the Post Office of the Assembly corresponding with the number of his seat, in which his mail matter is deposited, and the Postmaster must, by himself or assistant, be at his post from 8 o'clock A. M., until 10 o'clock P. M., and until the adjournment of the Assembly for the day. He receives and forwards all mail matter deposited in his office by members or officers, in time to be mailed from the Madison Post Office. He is to prominently post in the cloak and hat room (which is the members' side of the Post Office), a notice of the hours of closing the Assembly mails. He is entitled to the exclusive use of the Post Office, and no one ought to be admitted thereto except the Sergeant-at-Arms and the Speaker.

The ASSISTANT POSTMASTER brings the mail to and from the Madison Post Office, and assists the Postmaster generally in his duties.

The DOORKEEPERS attend to the principal door; open and close it for the entry and exit of all persons; maintain order in the lobby and vestibule; see that visitors are seated and that the regulations of the House in their departments are strictly enforced.

The assistant sergeant-at-arms, postmaster, porter, watchman, doorkeepers, and gallery, committee-room and washroom attendants are appointed by the Sergeant-at-Arms, and are responsible to him.

DUTIES OF MESSENGERS

1. To be in attendance from 8 o'clock A. M. until 10 o'clock P. M. every day (Sunday excepted), whether the Assembly is in session or not.
2. To receive the journals and printed bills from the Sergeant-at-Arms, and arrange them in order on the file of each member.
3. Not to leave the Chamber during the morning hour, or absent themselves from the session of the House during an entire day, except upon leave of the Speaker, Clerk or Sergeant-at-Arms.
4. During the morning hour to take the positions assigned to them by the Clerk, and, standing up, so as to see and be seen, hold themselves in readiness to bring all bills, resolutions, etc., from the several members to the Clerk when presented.
5. After the expiration of the morning hour, when not engaged in filing bills, etc., for the members they have in charge, to answer promptly any call, and render assistance to any member requiring it.
6. To refrain from throwing any paper balls, darts, or other missiles; to move lightly across the chamber and demean themselves respectfully towards every member and officer of the House.

Process of Passing Bills.

Some diversity of practice exists herein, but the ordinary method in the Assembly, as an illustration, is as follows:

A member having prepared a bill and endorsed the title thereof, together with his name upon the back of it, rises to his feet, at such time as the introduction of bills is under order and says: "Mr. Speaker:" If recognized the Speaker responds: "The gentleman from _____." The member announces: "I ask leave to introduce a bill." The bill is then sent to the Chief Clerk by a messenger. The Clerk then reads the title of the bill and the Speaker announces: "First reading of the bill."

The Clerk again reads the bill by its title, and the Speaker announces: "Second reading of the bill." And refers the same to some standing or select committee, as seems to him appropriate, unless special reference is made by request of the member introducing the bill. The bill is, in due course of time, reported back to the Assembly by the committee, when it is placed in the order: "Bills ready for engrossment and third reading." Under this order of business, the question put by the Speaker is as follows: "Shall this bill be engrossed and read a third time?" If decided affirmatively, the bill is sent by the Chief Clerk to the Engrossing Clerk for engrossment. When correctly engrossed and compared by the Comparing Clerks, it is delivered by the Engrossing Clerk to the committee on Engrossed Bills, who compare the engrossed bill with the original bill and amendments, if any, and cause any errors which they may find to be corrected. When found correct, or made so, the committee report them to the House as correctly engrossed, and then referred to the committee on Bills on their Third Reading and when reported by that committee the original is filed with the Chief Clerk, and the engrossed bill goes into the order of "Bills ready for a third reading." When under this order of business, the bill, unless it appropriates money, is read by its title; if it appropriates money, at length, when the Speaker says as follows:

"This bill having been read three several times, the question is, shall the bill pass?" If the bill passes, it is taken to the Senate with a message announcing its passage by the Assembly, and asking the concurrence of the Senate therein.

If the Senate concurs the bill is returned to the Assembly and is sent to the Enrolling Clerk, who makes a copy thereof, as is elsewhere described. When enrolled it goes to the committee on Enrolled Bills, who compare it with the engrossed bill. When found or made correct, they report the bill to the Assembly as correctly enrolled. The engrossed bill is filed with the Chief Clerk. The enrolled bill is then endorsed by the Chief Clerk, as having originated in the Assembly, for the information of the Governor, in case he vetoes it; then it is signed by the Speaker and sent to the President of the Senate for his signature thereto. It is then sent by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly to the Governor for his approval. The Governor, if he approves the bill, informs the House in which it originated of the fact and that he has deposited it with the Secretary of State. If he vetoes the bill, information of the fact is given to the House in like manner, whereupon, the question shall be, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" The vote shall be taken by ayes and noes, and shall be lost, unless two-thirds of the members present vote in favor of the passage of the bill, over the Governor's veto. Concurrence of the Senate by a two-thirds majority of the Senators present is necessary.

This is the ordinary process of a bill through all of its stages until it becomes a law.

A bill of great interest or importance, or one which is warmly contested, may, by reason of majority or minority reports, special orders, re-commitments, amendments, substitutes, committees of conference, and various other parliamentary process, pass through a vast variety of stages not before enumerated.

Senate bills going into the Assembly, after passing the Senate, are read twice by title and then referred to the appropriate committee. After being reported to the House by the committee, the question shall be: "Shall this bill be ordered to a third reading?" unless there be an amendment offered to the same, which shall be acted upon before the bill is ordered to a third reading. If it is decided affirmatively and the bill passes in the order of "Bills on third reading," and when read in that order, the question is, "shall the bill be concurred in?" If concurred in, the bill is returned to the Senate with a message informing it of that fact. If an amendment be adopted to a bill, the Senate is so informed by message, and the amendment transmitted with the bill to the Senate. The question is, "Shall the Senate concur in the amendment adopted by the Assembly to the bill?"

If it is desired to hasten the passage of a bill, it is done by motion as follows:

I move to suspend all rules which will interfere with the immediate consideration of bill No. ——. If this motion prevails, which requires an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members present, the question will be put on passage of the bill, and if passed, will go at once to the Senate.

RESOLUTIONS should not be entitled, but should have the name of the mover indorsed upon them. The same rule applies to amendments.

Resolutions are of no special form; the following may serve as a general guide in such matters:

Res. No. —, A.,

Resolved, That three thousand copies of the Governor's message be furnished by the public printer to the Sergeant-at-Arms, for the use of the Assembly.

"MR. TUCKER."

AN ENACTING CLAUSE must precede the body of the bill—<sup>1</sup>

Investigations.

When an investigation is required into any matter, the person most interested in having the inquiry made, should move the appointment of a committee to take the subject in charge. This is done by resolution. The resolution should be so drawn as to state the precise subject to be investigated, and to give the committee all the power which the mover may deem necessary for a thorough examination into the subject matter to be laid before them; this should be done to prevent any misapprehension as to the intention and extent of the inquiry to be made. In case of the adoption of the resolution the mover, together with other members, will be appointed a committee. They have power to send for persons and papers. The form of a subpoena is as follows:

"THE STATE OF WISCONSIN,

"To — — —: You are hereby commanded, that laying aside all business and excuse, you personally appear and attend before Messrs. — — —, on the part of the Senate, and Messrs. — — —, on the part of the Assembly, a joint committee appointed under a resolution of the Senate and Assembly, to investigate — — — at the room of said committee — — —, in the city of Madison, the capital of the State, on the — — — day of — — —, A. "— — —, Presiding Officer.

*It is important that the titles of bills should be the same on the outside and inside of the bill, as the bill appears on the books of the Clerk by the indorsement, and is printed from the inside title and text.

<sup>1</sup>Section 17, Article IV, Constitution of Wisconsin, provides that legislation shall be by bill, and the enacting clause is necessary to the constitutionality of the law.

In case of a refusal to appear, or a refusal to testify, the following form of certificate may be used:

"To Hon. _____, (Presiding Officer).

"I, _____, chairman of the joint committee appointed to investigate _____, do hereby certify that _____ has been duly subpoenaed to appear before said committee, as will fully appear by the writ served, and affidavit of service accompanying same, on file with the Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

"I further certify that said _____ has failed to appear before said committee, according to the exigency or mandate of said writ or subpoena.

"Dated, Madison, _____, 18____, at _____ o'clock.

Upon which a warrant in the following form may be used:

"The State of Wisconsin to the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Assembly:

It appearing that a writ of subpoena, directed to _____, commanding him to personally appear and attend before Messrs. _____, on the part of the Senate, and Messrs. _____, on the part of the Assembly, a joint committee appointed under a resolution of the Senate and Assembly, to investigate _____, at the room of said committee, in the city of Madison, the capital of the State, the _____ day of _____, A. D. 18____, at the hour of _____ in the _____ noon, then and there, and from time to time, as required by said committee, to testify and give evidence upon the matter of inquiry before said committee has been issued, and that the said writ of subpoena was duly personally served upon the said _____, on the _____ day of _____, A. D. 18____, and returned as provided in section one of an act entitled 'an act concerning evidence and witnesses,' approved February, 3, 1857; and it further appearing by the certificate of the chairman of the said joint committee, that the said _____ has failed or neglected to appear before the said committee in obedience to the mandate of the said subpoena; therefore, you are hereby commanded, in the name of the State of Wisconsin, to take the body of him, the said _____, and bring him before the _____, so that he may testify and give evidence before the said committee, and answer for his contempt of the Assembly in not obeying the mandate of subpoena. Hereof fail not.

"Given at the _____ Chamber in the city of Madison aforesaid, this _____ day of _____, A. D. 18____.

"_____, (Presiding Officer).

"Chief Clerk of the _____."

To which the return, in ordinary cases, would be:

"By virtue of the within process, I did, on the _____ day of _____, 18____, arrest the body of _____, and took him before the committee within named, and the said _____ having refused to answer interrogatories propounded by said committee, I have him, by direction of said committee, now before the Assembly.

"Assembly chamber, _____, 18____.

"Sergeant-at-Arms of the Assembly."

A resolution declaring the defaulter to be in contempt, is the next proceeding.

The following form of such resolution was used at the session of 1858:

"Resolved, that the neglect or failure of _____, to appear before the joint investigating committee composed of Messrs. _____, of the Senate, and Messrs. _____, of the assembly, in compliance with the mandate of the writ of subpoena of this Assembly, served upon him on the _____ instant, as fully appears by the said writ and the affidavit of the service thereof indorsed thereon, now on file with the Chief Clerk of this House, be and the said neglect and failure is hereby declared a contempt of this House."

This is followed by an interrogatory, as follows:

"Int. 1.—Why did you not appear before the joint investigating committee as required by the mandate of the subpoena served upon you the _____ inst.?"

To which the defaulter pleads before judgment is inflicted.

Another form is as follows:

Resolved, That the refusal of _____ to answer the questions put to him by a member of the joint investigating committee, on the _____ instant, and which questions were certified to the House by _____, Chairman of said committee and are now in writing, on file with the Chief Clerk of the House, be, and the same is hereby declared a contempt of this House."

Followed by the corresponding interrogatory:

"Why did you not answer the question put or propounded to you on the _____ instant, by a member of the joint investigating committee, of which _____ is Chairman?"

In case the answer is satisfactory, the offender is discharged; if otherwise he is punished by reprimand, fine or imprisonment, or both; but such imprisonment cannot extend beyond the session of the Legislature.

The report of a committee on investigation should consist of three parts:

1. The testimony taken.
2. A statement of the facts proven thereby or conclusions derived therefrom.
3. Resolutions, or a bill providing for the action which the Committee deem proper to be taken in the premises.

Quorums.

"Two-thirds of all the members elected." Const., Art. IV, Sec. 8.

"A majority." Const., Art. IV, Sec. 7.

To pass any bill, resolution or motion—

"A majority" of a quorum.

RULES OF THE LEGISLATURE.

(Adopted at the Session of 1907).

It is much more material that there should be a rule to go by, than what that rule is; that there may be a uniformity of proceeding in business, not subject to the caprice of the speaker or captiousness of the member. It is very material that order, decency, and regularity be preserved in a dignified public body. 2 Hats., 149.

To open the session, at the time to which adjournment is taken, by taking the chair and calling the members to order;

To announce the business before the house in the order in which it is to be acted upon.

To receive and submit, in the proper manner, all motions and propositions presented by the members:

Any action taken shall then be messaged to the other house for its concurrence.

95. Certification of pay-roll. The chief clerk of the senate and the assembly respectively, and sergeant-at-arms of each house shall certify to the secretary of state the names of all persons employed in their respective departments the capacity in which employed, and the amounts respectively due them, which certificate shall be approved by the presiding officer of the house in which they are employed, and by the committee on legislative expenditures and employes.

When a bill is duly enrolled, it shall be carefully compared by the clerk of the committee on Enrolled Bills, after which it shall be delivered by him to the chairman of said committee, which committee shall carefully compare the same with the engrossed bill as passed in the two houses, cause any error that may be discovered therein to be corrected, and when perfect forthwith return the bill to the house.

The usual manner of procedure is as follows: The senate, for instance, passes a bill and it is duly messaged to the assembly, which body adopts an amendment to the bill and concurs in it as amended, returning the same, with record of the action of the assembly to the senate; the senate refuses to concur in the assembly amendment and so notifies the assembly; the assembly adheres to its amendment and asks for a committee of conference, and appoints such committee on the part of the assembly, and this action is reported to the senate, whereupon, a like committee is appointed by the senate. The joint committee shall, at a convenient hour agreed upon, meet and state to each other, verbally or in writing, the reason of their respective houses for or against the disagreement, and confer thereon, and shall report to their respective houses such agreement as they may arrive at, if any, and if not the fact of a disagreement. The house having possession of the bill at the time the conference report is made, shall first act upon such report, if an agreement is reported, and duly message the same to the other house, together with the bill, which if the conference report be concurred in and the bill concurred in as amended, shall be the bill that is finally passed.

102. Pairs. Members may pair on any question by filing a signed statement of the same with the chief clerk, who shall read the same to the house before the vote is taken. A blank form of pair for the use of members shall be provided by the chief clerk. In the assembly no pair shall be recognized unless made in person by the members signing the same, nor unless one or both of the parties thereto are absent with leave.

<sup>2</sup> Three states out of thirteen did not vote; New York, which had not passed an electoral law, and North Carolina and Rhode Island, which had not adopted the constitution.

STATE AND EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.
GRAND ARMY DATA.

STATE INSTITUTIONS

Wisconsin, with an area of 56,000 square miles of forest and prairie land, became an organized territory in 1836, with a population of 11,000. It was admitted as a state May 29, 1848, with a population approximating 250,000. Her growth since her admission into the Union, has been steady and rapid. The lead and zinc mines in the southwest part of the state, attracted a considerable population of miners while Wisconsin was a territory. The surface mines were quite generally worked out in 1863 or '64. Until recently mining in that section has been carried on by but few individuals, and in no regular way. Recently, however, several very valuable mines have been opened, and owing to the general disappearance of the water that in the earlier days proved a serious obstacle, lower leads have been uncovered and large deposits of zinc ore, as well as galena, are now being mined. The development of iron mining in the northern part of the state has brought a large amount of additional wealth. The pine forests have generally disappeared, but in their place are today found large sections of valuable agricultural land, and perhaps no state in the Union at the present time offers greater inducements to settlers than does northern and central Wisconsin.

In the matter of state institutions for the improvement of the condition of those physically and mentally unfortunate, and for reformatory purposes, Wisconsin stands second to no state in the Union, population and resources considered. These institutions are under the general direction of a state board of control, comprised of able men who have within the last few years, succeeded in bringing about a system in the general management and conduct of these institutions that has attracted the attention of nearly every other state in the Union. In the matter of strictly educational institutions, the state has made wonderful advancement. There are today 7,453 public school buildings, 237 free high schools, and 15 independent high schools; 138 of these are on the accredited list of the state university,—that is, pupils who graduated from these schools are admitted to the university upon the reputation of the school, and without any further examination,—seven state normal schools, a score or more of colleges, seminaries, and academies, a state university among the foremost in the entire country in domination of education in the higher branches, and an agricultural college giving an exceptionally attractive and valuable four year course in the science of agriculture. For several years past short courses in agriculture, dairying, horticulture, and domestic science, have been a regular part of the university work. The students in these schools are almost without exception boys directly from the farm, and vitally interested in gaining agricultural knowledge. The course extends through two years of fourteen weeks each year.

The following table is a summary of the expenditures for educational purposes for a period of three years, ending with 1903.

The aim has been to put the figures in such form that anyone interested can understand them and see the various purposes for which funds are used. The figures representing the expenditures do not include printing done for different departments of the University and paid for out of the General Fund of the state.

THE STATE CAPITOL.

(By REUBEN G. THWAITES, LL. D., Secretary and Superintendent of State Historical Society of Wisconsin.)

Wisconsin Territory, partitioned from Michigan Territory, was organized at Mineral Point, July 4, 1836. The first legislature met at Old Belmont (now Leslie, Lafayette County). October 25. Then ensued a long struggle over the location of the permanent seat of government. There were seventeen applicants (Fond du Lac, Dubuque, Portage, Helena, Milwaukee, Racine, Belmont, Mineral Point, Platteville, Green Bay, Cassville, Bellevue, Koshkonong, Wisconsinapolis, Peru, Wisconsin City, and Madison), several of them existing merely on maps issued by real estate "boomers." Madison, one of the latter class, won, through the influence of James Duane Doty, who had been circuit judge for that portion of Michigan Territory lying west of Lake Michigan. He, together with Stevens T. Mason, governor of Michigan Territory, had, just previous to the contest, purchased from the United States government about 1,000 acres in sections 13, 14, 23, and 24 in township 7, range 9 east. The Capitol Park, which they laid out, is upon the common corners of these sections; it was formally deeded to the Territory by the owners in a document dated Mineral Point, January 16, 1839, and still preserved in the State archives. The prospective town was called Madison, from the fourth president of the United States. The first house was built in Madison in the spring of 1837—a log boarding house, for the accommodation of the workmen on the proposed Capitol. In June work was commenced upon the Capitol; its corner stone was laid with appropriate ceremonies upon July 4.

The legislature met for the first time in Madison, November 26, 1838. The Capitol was not then in a suitable condition for the sessions, which were held in the basement of the old American House, where Governor Dodge delivered his annual message. Here the legislature met and adjourned from day to day, until temporary arrangements could be made for the reception of members in the Assembly Hall. During 1836 and 1837 the federal government appropriated $40,000 for the Capitol, Dane county $4,000, and the Territorial legislature about $16,000; making the complete cost of the old Capitol $60,000. The building, when finished, was a substantial structure, which in architectural design and convenience of arrangements at the time compared favorably with capitols of adjacent and older states.

The Capitol proving inadequate to the growing wants of the State, the legislature of 1857 provided for its enlargement. By this act, the commissioners of school and university lands were directed to sell the ten sections of land appropriated by congress "for the completion of public buildings" and apply the proceeds toward enlarging and improving the Capitol. The State also appropriated $30,000 for the same object, and $50,000 was given by the city of Madison. The work was begun in the fall of 1857, and continued from year to year until 1869, when the dome (the most satisfactory portion of the structure) was completed.

The legislature of 1882 appropriated $200,000 for the construction of two transverse wings to the Capitol, one on the north and the other on the south sides thereof in order to provide additional room for the State Historical Society, the Supreme Court, the State Library, and the increasing staffs of the State offices. November 8, 1883, the south wing fell while in process of construction, an accident resulting in the death of eight workmen. The height of the building from the basement to the top of the flagstaff was 225½ feet, while the total length from north to south (exclusive of steps and porticos) was 396 feet, and from east to west, 226 feet. The total appropriations for the enlargement of the Capitol and for the improvement of the park, up to 1904, aggregated about $900,000.

Early in the morning of the 27th of February, 1904, a large part of the interior of the Capitol was, with its contents, destroyed by fire; the central portion and the west wing particularly suffered. The department to suffer the greatest loss was the Wisconsin Free Library Commission, which lost a considerable library of expensive books, numerous traveling libraries, and all its records.

A building commission, appointed by the legislature of 1903 (chap. 399) was, at the time of the fire, taking into consideration the construction of a new and larger Capitol. After the disaster the matter was taken up with vigor, and plans for a new building were submitted to the legislature of 1905, which passed an act (chap. 516) extending the powers and duties, and somewhat reconstructing the composition, of the commission of 1903. A new structure was authorized, covering not more than 95,000 square feet and costing not to exceed 40 cents per cubic foot. An architect has been chosen by the commission, plans adopted (save for modifications still under consideration), and excavation for the west wing completed. The new building is to be of cruciform design, with a central section bearing a massive dome, and upon the site of the present. It will be constructed section by section, in order that the business of the several departments may be as little disturbed as possible.

The Capitol Park is seven hundred and ninety-two feet square, cornering on the cardinal points of the compass, contains fourteen and four-tenths acres, and is handsomely situated on an elevation commanding a view of Lakes Monona and Mendota and the surrounding Four Lake country. The Capitol stands in the center of this square, and diagonally, its wings extending to the cardinal points of the compass.

The Wisconsin State Hospital for the Insane, located at Mendota, near Madison, was opened for patients in July, 1860. The original main building, as completed in 1860 was 65x120 feet. Since that time many additions have been made. Two east and west wings, each 250 feet long, and two transverse wings, each 87 feet long, have been added to the original structure. During the last two years a new addition, 154x57 feet, containing congregate dining room, two wards and baths was erected at the end of the old main structure.

The hospital buildings, with a frontage of 569 feet, face a magnificent wooded lawn which slopes gently towards Lake Mendota, a quarter of a mile distant. The hospital will now accommodate comfortably some six hundred patients.

J. Edward Lee, M. D., was elected the first medicinal superintendent on the 22nd day of June, 1859. John P. Clemens was elected in 1860. The first patient arrived July 14, 1860. Dr. Clemens resigned January 1st, 1864, and was succeeded by A. H. Van Nostrand, who resigned and was succeeded by Dr. A. S. McDill June 6th, 1868. Dr. McDill was succeeded by Dr. Mark Ranney in 1873. Dr. Ranney resigned and was succeeded by Dr. McDill in April, 1875. On the death of Dr. McDill, November 12th, 1875, O. F. Boughton, who had served as assistant physician in the hospital for a number of years, was chosen to succeed Dr. McDill as superintendent, and remained superintendent until July 1st, 1881. Dr. R. M. Wiggington of Watertown was chosen by the Board of Supervision in July 1st, 1881, and remained superintendent until his transfer July 1st, 1884, when Dr. S. P. Buckmaster was chosen to succeed him. Dr. Buckmaster resigned December 1, 1889, and was succeeded by Dr. Louis B. Head of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. From July 21st, 1891, and to July 1st, 1893, Dr. E. P. Taylor was superintendent and upon his resignation Dr. John B. Edwards of Mauston was chosen as his successor. Dr. Wm. B. Lyman was elected as superintendent in 1895, and resigned in 1901, to be succeeded by Dr. E. L. Bullard of Waukesha. Dr. Bullard resigned July 7th, 1904, and was succeeded by Dr. Charles Gorst of Baraboo.

There has been paid from the State Treasury, up to June 30, 1906, for real estate, buildings, improvements, repairs and current expenses of the hospital, in all the sum of $4,967,636.66.

In 1870 a law was passed authorizing an additional hospital for the insane. After an examination of several sites in different parts of the state by a commission appointed for that purpose, choice was made of the location offered by the citizens of Oshkosh, consisting of 337 acres of land, about four miles north of the city, on the west shore of Lake Winnebago. The necessary appropriations were made, and the north wing and central building were completed and opened for the admission of patients in 1873. Further appropriations were made from time to time for additional wings, and in 1875, the hospital was completed ac-ording to the original design, at a total cost to the state of six hundred and twenty-five thousand, two hundred and fifty dollars. Since that time some additional land has been purchased, the original buildings modified, and others erected. This hospital will now, without crowding, suitably accommodate 650 patients.

In December, 1873, Dr. Walter Kempster, of Utica, New York, was elected superintendent and continued to act as such by successive re-elections, until the close of the term ending July 1, 1884, when he was succeeded by Dr. R. M. Wigginton, who had had several years' experience as assistant and superintendent in the State Hospital for the Insane near Madison. Upon the close of the official year, July 1, 1887, Dr. Walter Kempster was again elected superintendent, but after serving three months, he resigned the position, and Dr. Charles E. Booth, of Elroy, Wis., was elected his successor.

On July 21, 1891, Dr. W. F. Wegge, of Milwaukee, was elected to succeed Dr. Booth, and became superintendent August 1, 1891.

Dr. Wegge resigned October 1, 1894, and Dr. D. G. Hathaway, of Wauwatosa, was elected his successor. Dr. Hathaway resigned July 1, 1895, and was succeeded by Dr. W. A. Gordon, of Oshkosh.

There has been paid from the state treasury up to June 30, 1904, for real estate, buildings, improvements, repairs and current expenses of the hospital, in all the sum of $4,676,210.14.

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

---

OFFICERS.

E. W. WALKER .....	Superintendent and Steward.
EDGAR D. FISK .....	Clerk.
MRS. E. W. WALKER .....	Matron.
MISS TILLIE CANNAN .....	Assistant Matron.

This institution is located at Delavan, Walworth county, on the Southwestern division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, sixty miles from Milwaukee. The land first occupied, comprising 11 46-100 acres, was donated by Hon. F. K. Phoenix, one of the first trustees, but the original boundaries have since been enlarged by the purchase of twenty-two acres. The main building was burned to the ground on the 16th of September, 1879, but during the year 1880 four new buildings were erected, and with the increased facilities provided, 250 children may be well cared for.

The new buildings are a school house, boys' dormitory, dining room and chapel, with a main or administration building. These buildings are plain, neat, substantial structures and well fitted for the uses intended.

The institution was originally a private school for the deaf, but was incorporated by act of the Legislature, April 19, 1852, and it is now maintained by the State of Wisconsin for the education of those children within her borders who, on account of deafness, are unable to receive instruction in the common schools. It has three departments:

First—The school, in which the pupils are taught writing, reading, composition, arithmetic, geography, history, natural science, and drawing. Instruction in lip-reading and oral speech is given to the semi-mutes and capable congenital mutes.

Second—The shops, where the pupils are taught printing, cabinet making and shoemaking.

Third—The domestic department, in which they discharge various household duties, and learn baking and sewing.

The law provides that all deaf and dumb residents of this state, of proper age and suitable capacity to receive instruction, shall be received and taught free of charge. The regular course of instruction occupies about eight years. The latest and most popular text books, globes, maps, charts etc.,—so far as they are adapted to deaf mute instruction,—are employed. Articulation and lip reading are taught by ladies of skill and experience with very gratifying results.

The day is divided into hours for labor, study, and recreation, with the design of securing habits of industry and of promoting health as well as intellectual and moral development. No leave of absence is granted during the term, except in cases of sickness or extreme necessity.

Deaf mutes of Wisconsin, of proper age, are admitted to the privileges of the institution free of charge, being furnished tuition, books, board and washing. Friends are required to pay the traveling and incidental expenses, and to provide clothing, a sufficient supply of which should be furnished at the beginning of the school year, or sent by express as needed.

Candidates for admission should not be under eight nor more than twenty years of age, of sound moral principles and good physical health. Imbecile, idiotic or feeble-minded children are not received.

The annual session begins the first Wednesday in September, and continues forty weeks.

The summer vacation extends from June to September. Pupils are sent home promptly at the close of the term, accompanied to prominent railroad points by messengers from the institution.

There has been paid from the state treasury, up to July 1, 1904, for real estate, buildings, improvements, repairs and current expenses of the school, in all, the sum of $1,906,603.44.

The whole number of pupils under instruction from the opening of the school in 1852 is 1,371, of whom 174 were in attendance June 30, 1906.

The average number of pupils the past year was 187, as against 190 the previous year, and the current expenses $48,805.97, as against $48,267.64.

SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND.

OFFICERS.

HARVEY CLARK .....	Superintendent and Steward.
MRS. FRUELLA H. CLARK .....	Matron.
MISS CLARA M. DAVID .....	Clerk.

This is the first charitable institution established by the state. A school for the blind had been opened at Janesville, in the latter part of 1849, which received its support from the citizens of that place and vicinity. At the next session of the legislature it was adopted by the state, by an act approved February 9, 1850. On October 7, 1850, it was opened for the reception of pupils under the direction of the board of trustees appointed by the governor. It occupied rented rooms until June 1, 1852, when it was removed to a building erected for its use at a cost of about $3,000. The lot of ten acres had been donated by the owners, and now forms a part of the grounds, forty acres in extent, belonging to the institution. This building was so arranged as to admit of becoming the wing of a larger one, which was commenced in 1854, and fully completed in 1859. In 1864-5 a brick building was erected for a shop and other purposes. The foundation of the wing first built proved defective, and in 1867 that portion of the building had to be taken down. The next year work was begun on an extension which should replace the demolished portion and afford room for the growth of the school. This was completed in 1870, and the value of the buildings, grounds and personal property belonging to the institution was estimated at $182,000. On the 13th of April, 1874, the building was destroyed by fire, and at the ensuing session of the legislature an appropriation of $56,000 was made for the erection of a wing of a new building on the old site, but on a somewhat different plan; and in 1876, a further appropriation of $90,000 was made for rebuilding the main structure.

The school was not allowed to close on account of the fire. Suitable accommodations were procured for the pupils by the board of trustees in the city of Janesville, where at some disadvantage, the work of the institution was carried on until January 1, 1876, when the wing of the new building was ready for occupancy. The main structure has since been completed. It is designed to accommodate one hundred pupils, the same number as the building destroyed in 1874. The exterior is plain than in the former structure, but a considerable sum has been expended in fire-proofing and in laying solid foundations under the main building. It is now believed to be practically fire-proof.

The object of the institution as declared by law is "to qualify, as far as may be," the blind "for the enjoyment of the blessings of a free government, obtaining the means of subsistence and the discharge of those duties, social and political, devolving upon American citizens." The institution is therefore neither a hospital nor an asylum, but a school, into which blind persons residing in Wisconsin, "of suitable age and capacity to receive instruction," are admitted for education. For the purposes of the institution, those persons are regarded as blind who are shut out from the benefits of the common schools by deficiency of sight. Pupils are regularly received who are between the ages of eight and twenty one years. In occasional instances others have been admitted. Tuition and board during the school year are furnished by the state without charge, but parents and guardians are expected to provide clothing, traveling expenses, and a home during the summer vacation. The school year commences on the second Wednesday in September and continues forty weeks.

The operations of the school fall naturally into three departments. In one, instruction is given in the subjects usually taught in the common schools. Some use is made of books printed in raised letters; but instruction is mostly given orally. In another department musical training, vocal, instrumental and theoretical, is imparted to an extent sufficient to furnish to most an important source of enjoyment, and to some the means of support. These two departments were opened at the commencement of the school, and have been ever since maintained. A little later the third department was opened, in which weaving, seating cane bottomed chairs sewing, knitting, and various kinds of fancy work are systematically taught. The "Kindergarten" was established in 1883 and proves a most valuable adjunct to all the departments.

The care exercised over the pupils of this institution, looks closely to their physical and moral well-being, and the details of the discipline are only such as are consistent with and will further this purpose; while the instruction is systematic and thorough, as the character and scholarship of those who have completed the prescribed course of study abundantly attest.

There has been paid from the state treasury up to July 1, 1906, for real estate, building, improvements, repairs and current expenses of the school, in all, the sum of $1,468,919.38.

The whole number of pupils under instruction from the opening of the school, October 7, 1850, is 897, of whom 93 were in attendance June 30, 1906.

The average number of pupils the past year was 93, as against 84 the previous year; and the current expenses, $31,028.71, as against $32,779.92.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

MRS. A. J. HUTTON .....	Matron.

The Wisconsin Industrial School for Boys is situated about three-fourths of a mile west of the railroad depots in the village of Waukesha, the county seat of Waukesha county.

It was organized as a house of refuge, and opened in 1860. The name was afterward changed to "State Reform School," and again to "Wisconsin Industrial School for Boys," its present title. The buildings are located on the southern bank of Fox river, in view of the trains as they pass to and from Milwaukee and Madison, presenting an attractive sight to the traveling public and furnishing good evidence of the parental care of the State authorities for the juvenile wards within its borders.

The buildings include a main central edifice, three stories high, used for the residence of the superintendent's family, office, officers' kitchen, dining and lodging rooms, furnace room and cellar. On March 26, 1898, the factory building with all its contents, was destroyed by fire, the loss being about $40,000. The Governor, Attorney General and Secretary of State authorized an indebtedness of $40,000.00, and a new building was built during the summer of 1898.

On the east of the main central building are three family buildings, three stories high, each with a dining hall, play room, bath room, dressing room, hospital room, officers' rooms, dormitory and store room.

On the west of the main central buildings are four family buildings like those on the east in all respects, with the exception of the building at the west end of this line, which is a wooden building with a stone basement.

In the rear of this line of buildings is the shop building, 38x258 feet. three stories high, which embraces boot factory, sock and knitting factory, tailor shop, carpenter shop, laundry and steam drying room, store, store rooms, bakery and cellar, and three family buildings with room for fifty boys each, also an engine and boiler room and a blacksmith shop.

There is on the farm, which consists of 404 acres of land, a stone carriage and horse barn, two stories high, built in the most substantial manner, three convenient wooden barns, with sheds for cattle, wagons and farm machinery, cellars for roots, and a silo in connection with cow barn.

The total amount paid from the State Treasury up to June 30, 1906, for real estate, buildings, improvements, repairs, and current expenses is $2,539,703.96.

The whole number of commitments since the opening of the schools, August 3, 1860, is 5,623, of whom 305 were present June 30, 1906.

The average number of boys the past year was 317, as against 320 the previous year, and the current expenses were $64,231.86, as against $63,188.13.

STATE PRISON.

HENRY TOWN .....	Warden and Steward.
J. N. BAUMEL .....	Deputy Warden.
JACOB FUSS .....	Clerk.
J. F. BROWN .....	Prison Physician
Rev. GEO. W. PEPPER .....	Chaplain.
Rev. J. C. HARTMAN .....	Chaplain. Catholic.
Mrs. M. H. SCHILLING .....	Matron.

The State prison was located in Waupun in July, 1851, by Messrs. John Bullen, John Taylor and A. W. Worth, who were appointed commissioners to determine such location under a law enacted that year. A contract was at once entered into for the construction of a temporary prison; in 1853 the contract was let for the mason work upon the south wing of the prison; and additions have been made from time to time since that date.

From March 28, 1853, to January 4, 1874, the office of the Prison Commissioner was an elective office, the commissioner having full control of the management of the prison.

From January 3, 1874, to June 1, 1881, the management was in the hands of three directors appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate. In place of a commissioner, the directors appointed a warden, who had charge and custody of the prison, to serve three years.

In June, 1881, the management of the prison was placed in the hands of the State Board, who have continued the control and custody as established by the directors.

The warden, steward, clerk, deputy warden and matron are appointed by the State Board of Control annually. All other officers are appointed by the board from time to time as vacancies occur, upon the nomination of the warden.

The convict labor was leased to M. D. Wells & Co., of Chicago, for the manufacture of boots and shoes, for five years, from January 1, 1878, and the contract was renewed with that firm for five years, beginning with January 1, 1883, at the rate of fifty cents per day of ten hours. Upon the expiration of the contract at the close of the year 1887, the contractors, by consent of the Board of Supervision, continued to employ the prisoners for several months, when the contract was renewed for five years without change of terms. On the expiration of said contract at the close of the year 1892, it was similarly renewed by consent of the Board of Control, for a further period of five years. On the expiration of the contract period at the close of the year 1897 it was again renewed on the same terms for a further period of 5 years.

On July 1st, 1903, a contract was entered into with the Paramount Knitting Co. of Chicago for the manufacture of socks and stockings. The State receives 65 cents per day per convict employed. This contract provides that not less than 300 convicts shall be employed. At present time convicts earn from $6,500.00 to $7,200.00 per month.

Manufacture on the part of the state was therefore discontinued on January 1, 1878. The prisoners' earnings for the 2-year period ending June 30, 1906, were $145,865.57.

The grounds about the buildings embrace 24 acres, and a farm of 112 acres about a mile distant was added in 1885. The buildings comprise the center, 85x90 feet, occupied for offices, dining and lodging rooms for officers, kitchens, bakery, etc. The two wings, 50x200 feet each, contain 504 cells, the deputy warden's residence and female prison with thirty-six cells, a workshop 54x500 feet, two stories high, bath house, blacksmith, carpenter shop, barn, etc., and warden's residence.

A new cell wing is in course of construction which will furnish when completed additional cell room for 200 convicts. It will be ready for occupancy before January 1st, 1908.

The total amount paid from the State Treasury for real estate, buildings, improvements, repairs and current expenses up to June 30, 1906, was $2,761,039.16.

The whole number of prisoners received since the opening of the prison is 9,682. The number in confinement June 30, 1906, was 639—621 males and 18 females. The average number of prisoners during the past year was 640, as against 607 the preceding year, and the current expenses were (not including prisoners' earnings) $114,089.97, as against $106,561.13.

STATE SCHOOL FOR DEPENDENT CHILDREN.

OFFICERS.

M. T. PARK .....	Superintendent and Steward.
Mrs. ISABEL C. PARK .....	General Matron.
A. F. BRANDT, ELSIE M. LOOMIS .....	State Agents.
MARGARET NORTON .....	Bookkeeper.
W. T. SARLES .....	Physician.

The State Public School for dependent and neglected children is located at Sparta, in the valley of the La Crosse river, and is surrounded by hills which impart a varied and pleasant scenery. The location is a most desirable one for the healthfulness and happiness of the inmates. The grounds are spacious and well laid out, affording ample play grounds for the children. Flowing wells abound, furnishing the purest water.

The school was established in 1886 and from its opening to June 30, 1906, 2,911 children had been received within its doors, and after a few weeks or months, as might be necessary for preparation, passed on to homes where opportunities have been given them to develop into useful citizenship. More than 85 per cent. of the children thus placed have accepted these opportunities and have grown and are growing to be good men and women. Rescued from neglect, squalor and vice, where the downward road was the easier, lifted up to useful lives. in 85 of each 100 cases is a record which is very gratifying to the friends who urged the passage of the bill to create the school.

The school is intended for a depot between the children in their neglected conditions in the several counties and the many homes to which children will be welcome. Some of these children, however, have some physical, mental or moral deformity which may require attention for awhile before they are ready for a home. Thus the school is the place where, when possible, the child may be cured of some habits, and finally passed on to commence real life in a home surrounded by good influences. To do this requires comprehensive and careful teachers and matrons and those employed in the Sparta School are doing a noble work in preparing their charges for worthy homes and lives of usefulness.

The utmost care is taken in selecting homes for the children. The great number of applications in excess of the children enables agents of the school to accept only the best homes, and these only on personal inspection and thorough investigation. After a child is placed in a home it is frequently visited by the agent, and to supplement this means of supervision, the guardian is required to make monthly reports to the superintendent regarding health, conduct, attendance at school, and any other items of interest concerning the ward.

For reasons already given, some children cannot be placed in homes. These are given the opportunities of a common school education and the larger girls are taught sewing and cooking under a competent teacher. The larger boys are taught farming. The farm connected with the school consists of 234 acres. About 100 acres are under cultivation, the remainder being pasture some being of light, sandy soil, unfit for cultivation at present. Sufficient vegetables are raised for the population of the school, and a herd of cows furnishes all the milk required.

The buildings consist of a main building in which are offices, superintendent's living rooms, dining rooms for children and employes, a small assembly room, and sleeping rooms; five cottages with a capacity for 250 pupils; a large new hospital, and an old frame building used for epidemics; a school house containing six rooms; a laundry building with heating plant, cold storage and ice house, and farm buildings.

Visitors are made welcome at the school, as it is the desire of the present administration to interest the people in one of the most essential charities of the state, that which may make true men and women of those who, if left uncared for, might descend to unuseful and degraded lives.

From its inception in 1886 to June 30, 1906, the total cost of this school to the state for all purposes, including land and buildings, has been $947,401.00.

The whole number of children admitted up to June 30, 1906, was 2,911; the average number in the school for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, was 147, and for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, the average number was 156.

WISCONSIN HOME FOR FEEBLE-MINDED.

OFFICERS.

ALFRED W. WILMARTH .....	Superintendent and Steward.
E. M. WILSON .....	Ass'stant Phys'cian.
D. C. HAYWARD .....	Assistant Steward.
Mrs. W. R. TAYLOR, Mrs. S. J. JENKINS, Mrs. E. J. BOYCE, Mrs. H. S. BUXTON, Mrs. M. R. VOIGHT .....	Matrons.

The legis'ature of 1895 instructed the Board of Control to acquire, by purchase or donation, sufficient land for a home for the feeble minded and epileptic of the state, and appropriated $100,000.00 for this purpose and the erection of suitable buildings.

In doing this the legislature builded well. The insane, the blind and the deaf, for many years have enjoyed the fostering care and liberal favors provided for them by the state. Their claims upon the practical sympathy of the community have been munificently responded to, and no one questions the duty of prospering people to make the helpless the objects of their special care. But during all these years the public has ignored and neglected the idiot and the feeble-minded classes equally abject, equally deserving and in all respects equally entitled to our care and support. We confidently believe that the establishment now ready for them, if carried to the hoped-for development, will be the means of giving consolation to as many homes and happiness to as many stricken hearts as any or all of our other magnificent state institutions of which the people of Wisconsin are so justly proud.

The Board of Control obtained warranty deeds to the state of the 600 acres donated. In addition, a part of the cash bonus was used in purchasing adjoining lands likely to be needed in the near future, so that now the state owns a clear title to 1,021 acres of good land. The rest of the bonus, in accordance with a verbal agreement, with the officials of the city of Chippewa Falls, has been used in grading and laying out drives and walks through 190 acres of this land set aside for the park grounds of the institution.

In the plans and arrangements of the buildings the Board has given much careful study and consideration. Visits to similar institutions in other states were made by members of the Board and the architect, in order to profit by the experiences and experiments of others.

The first point to be settled was the ultimate capacity of the institution. The highest authorities in the land were consulted, and they agreed that no institution of this kind should contain over 1,000 inmates. The Board, in view of the fact that the census shows about 3,000 feeble-minded and idiotic persons in the state, decided to cover the extreme limit and set the final capacity of the Home at 1,000. Everything so far has been constructed with that object in view. The power-house and heating plant has been built large enough for all future requirements; and so has the laundry building. The sewer system, the water works pipes and the electric light mains are all large enough for any future use. It will be only necessary to put in additional machinery. The underground pipes will not have to be disturbed, nor will the buildings need to be enlarged. When the institution has been completed to its limited capacity of 1,000, there will be about twenty buildings, as follows:

An administration building; a dormitory for boys of 1st grade; a dormitory for girls of 1st grade; a dormitory for boys of 2d grade; a dormitory for girls of 2 grade; a dormitory for boys of 3d grade; a dormitory for girls of 3d grade; a dormitory for boys (epileptics); a dormitory for girls (epileptics); a custodial cottage for boys; a custodial cottage for girls; a gymnasium and assembly hall; a school building for boys; a school building for girls; a kitchen and general dining room for both classes; hospital building, laundry, power house, shops, farm, colony, barns, railway station, etc.

The appropriation of $100,000.00 made by the legislature of 1895 was used as follows:

Contract for one custodial building and one dormitory.....	$57,987
Contract for power-house and laundry .....	10,350
Contract for steam-heating equipment .....	15,794
Contract for sewerage system .....	2,857
Contract for electric light plant .....	2,491
Contract for pumping machinery .....	1,720
Contract for water-works system .....	1,735
Preliminary work, architect's plans, surveying, superintendence of construction, lumber, implements and tools.....	4,037

The legislature of 1897 made a further appropriation of $75,000.00, out of which a second cottage with a capacity of 150 inmates was built and other improvements made.

The legislature of 1899 made a further appropriation of $158,000 for new buildings, equipments and supervision. Of this amount about $44,000 has been expended in erecting a building for epileptics and furnishing the same. This new building has a capacity of about 125 inmates.

The legislature of 1901 appropriated a further sum of $50,000 for the erecting and furnishing of new buildings. From this appropriation and the remainder of the former appropriation four new buildings were erected during the summer of 1902. The buildings erected in 1902 were an administration building and dining hall, a schoolhouse with a capacity of about six hundred, and two dormitories with a capacity of one hundred each.

The legislature of 1905 made an appropriation of $45,000.00 for an additional dormitory, tunnels and other improvements. From that appropriation one dormitory was built which gave the institution an additional capacity of one hundred inmates. The institution now had a capacity of about seven hundred fifty.

The whole number of patients received since the opening of the institution is 1,082. The average during the year ending June 30, 1906, was 681, as against 657 the preceding year, and the current expenses were $116,493.28, as against $106,596.62.

The buildings have been constructed with a view to solidity and permanence, and not one dollar has been spent for ornamentation. Nevertheless the cottages are handsome and imposing. There is nothing cheap and flimsy about them, but every kind of material used is of the very best. The roofs are slate, the gutters and cornices of copper, all the partitions are of brick, and the buildings are of slow-burning construction throughout, and as nearly fire-proof as is necessary.

WISCONSIN STATE REFORMATORY.

OFFICERS.

CHAS. W. BOWRON .....	General Superintendent and Steward.
O. E. BICKFORD .....	Assistant Superintendent.
T. J. BAST .....	Clerk.

The legislature of 1897, under authority of chapter 246, instructed the Board of Control to purchase at its lowest cash price, not more than 200 acres of land and to proceed to construct and organize a state reformatory for criminal first offenders, between the ages of sixteen to thirty years, appropriating $75,000 to start the work.

In accordance therewith the Board purchased a tract of 198 acres lying east of Fox river, and just mid-way between Green Bay and De Pere, paying $15,000 therefor.

A. C. Clas of Milwaukee and John Charles of Menomonie were selected as architects and plans were prepared as directed by the law, for an institution to contain six hundred inmates.

In April, 1898, James E. Heg was appointed superintendent, with instructions to proceed with the work of constructing such portion of the buildings as was possible with the amount remaining of the appropriation. On August 31st of the same year, the institution was opened in temporary quarters, with twenty-four prisoners transferred from the state prison at Waupun. These men were used in construction work of various kinds, such as making sewers, roads, side walks, grading and other necessary building operations in preparing the cell room for occupancy. A portion of the north cell room, containing one hundred and four cells was finished for occupancy March 1st, 1899. This is about one-third of the cell room on that side. When completed the cell room will be one of the best in the country. The buildings are of cream brick, except the front, which is of gray granite from Amberg, Wis. The cells are five feet eight inches by nine feet and seven feet six inches high, the front of each cell being composed of heavy iron gratings. The institution has all modern improvements as regards sanitation, light, heat and security.

The object of the Reformatory is to return to society, in the shortest time possible such young men who through ignorance, bad environments, poor training or naturally vicious habits, have committed some offense against the law. The Reformatory is organized with the design to give every one within it a chance, by good conduct and his own efforts, to shorten his stay therein; to give proper schooling; to teach industrious and honest habits; and, by all available means, to advance his material, mental and moral interests. The training is compulsory and the discipline strict. The individual capacity of each man is studied and he is required to reach the standard set for him. When, by good behavior, diligence in work and progress in school, he shall have reached this point, he is eligible for parole. A position is found for him for a specified term with some approved person. He is given a complete outfit of new clothing, sufficient money to pay his expenses until his first pay day and is started on his new life with every encouragement and incentive to be an honest citizen. The hand of the Reformatory is still over him, either to help or to punish as may be needed. He reports once a month, in detail, his work and actions during the month, which report is verified by his employer and by others when necessary. He is braced and steadied until he can walk alone, when he is given his full liberty. The number of parole breakers is very small and violation generally consists in leaving their place of work, going with loose company, visiting saloons and the like.

The legislature of 1899, appropriated a further sum of $150,000 to continue the erection and furnishing of buildings. From this appropriation four cottages were built for officers during the years 1900 and 1901 at a cost of about $7,000. The early part of the year 1901 James E. Heg resigned as superintendent and was succeeded by C. W. Bowron of Oshkosh. During the year 1902 an addition was built to the north cell wing at a cost of about $80,000. This addition gives the institution a capacity of about three hundred inmates. Many of the inmates of the institution are employed in making overalls and jackets under a contract with Milton F. Goodman of Chicago, and the revenues derived therefrom by the state for the year ending June 30, 1906, were $42,486.97.

The rest of the inmates are employed in making brooms, brick working in engine room, cabinet shop and on the farm. The total number of prisoners received since the opening of the institution up to June 30, 1906, was 980. The number returned after violating parole or escaping 45. There remained in the institution on June 30, 1906, 283. The average population during the year ending June 30, 1905, was 295, and the current expenses for that year were $40,340.80. The average population during the year ending June 30, 1906, was 283, and the current expenses for that year were $36,348.43.

WISCONSIN WORKSHOP FOR THE BLIND.

OFFICERS.

OSCAR KÜSTERMANN ..... Superintendent.
 WILLIAM SCHROEDER, MICHAEL ZANA AND JOHN HEMMING .. Instructors.

The legislature of 1903, under chapter 432, authorized the State Board of Control to procure proper quarters in the city of Milwaukee, to be used as a workshop for blind adults residing in our state. By instructing them in some trade, furnishing the necessary tools, and assisting them in the purchase of material and the sale of articles manufactured by them, the blind were to be given a chance to become self-supporting.

The sum of five thousand dollars per year was appropriated by the legislature for meeting the expense of starting and running the shop. In December, 1903, a suitable building was rented at 1323 Vliet street and the workshop started. While still in its infancy the results of the first year have clearly demonstrated the benefits to be derived from this shop by the blind people of our state.

None of those who availed themselves of the opportunities offered here, had any previous experience in willow work, the trade found most suitable for blind artisans, but among these are a number of persons who have become experts in this line and are now earning from four to nine dollars per week, these earnings representing, as the law contemplated, the difference between the cost of material and the price of the manufactured article.

To lower the cost of raw material and in order to give the blind workmen the benefit of such reduction, a willow farm has been started in connection with the "Industrial School for Boys" at Waukesha, and it is the intention to also raise willow at several other state institutions on land otherwise not utilized.

At the present time about thirty inmates are employed in the Workshop for the Blind. The willow farms started at some of the state institutions give promise of furnishing a sufficient amount of willow for the use of the workshop in the near future. The expenditure of money by the legislature has proven a wise one and a large number of the inmates of the Workshop for the Blind have become self-supporting. Probably in the near future provision will have to be made for more capacity. The present workshop is not of sufficient capacity to meet the demands upon it. Many of the workmen in the workshop have become very efficient tradesmen and there is a good demand for the products of the workshop.

The Wisconsin Industrial School for Girls is located in Milwaukee, on Lake Avenue, in that part of the city known as North Point. It is capable of accommodating 240 inmates.

Its proper subjects are:

1. Viciously inclined girls under 18.
2. The stubborn and unruly, who refuse to obey their proper guardians.
3. Truants, vagrants, and beggars.
4. Those found in circumstances of manifest danger of falling into habits of vice and immorality, for want of proper care.
5. Those under the above ages who have committed any offense punishable by fine or imprisonment in adult offenders.
6. In addition to the girls sent by legal process, the school receives, boards and teaches girls for parents or guardians, on their paying the same sum as is paid by the counties for those committed by the courts.

Although the school was founded by private charity, and is under the control of a self-perpetuating board of managers, it is incorporated and employed by the state for the custody, guardianship, discipline and instruction of the aforementioned children. In default of responsible and efficient guardianship they are treated as minors and wards of the state, and by it they are committed to the guardianship of this board of ladies during minority.

The present statute provides that for each girl so committed the county from which such commitment is made shall pay not more than two dollars and fifty cents per week.

It is designed to be in no sense a penal institution, but it is a reformatory for the older, a temporary place of detention and instruction for the younger. Its objects are detention and reformation.

The school was organized under the act of 1875, and has received from the legislature, in 1878, 1880, 1881, 1882, 1885, 1887, 1889, 1891, 1893, 1901 and 1903 sums amounting to $153,000 for buildings, improvements, stocks and furnishings. The city of Milwaukee has also given for its use a tract of over eight acres of land, the state holding the title to this property.

The buildings, as completed by the successive appropriations and affording the requisites for distinct family life, are designated as the Main Building, Merrill Model Home, Russell Cottage, Lynde Cottage, Cottage Annex, Assembly Hall, Steward's Home and Steam Heating Plant.

The main building consists of the administration part and a family building for girls from 10 to 20 years of age, who are simply wayward or needing the protection of the school. The Merrill Model is for those who have reached "honor grade" and enter this home for more special training preparatory to being paroled and enjoy more privileges and advantages than in the other families.

The cottages are additional and entirely separate buildings for proper restraint and influence over unchaste girls.

On leaving the school children are either returned to their former homes or relatives, or given by adoption or indenture to the care of well-recommended families.

HISTORY OF NORMAL SCHOOLS.

The constitution of the state, adopted in 1848, provides, "That the revenue of the school fund shall be exclusively applied to the following objects:

"1st. To the support and maintenance of common schools, in each school district, and the purchase of suitable libraries and appurtenances therefor."

"2nd. The residue shall be appropriated for the support of academies and normal schools, and suitable libraries and appurtenances therefor."

No advantage of these provisions for the endowment of normal schools was taken until 1857, when an act was passed (chapter 82) providing, "That the income of twenty-five per cent. of the gross proceeds arising from the sale of swamp and overflowed lands" should be apportioned for the support of normal institutes and academies, under the supervision and direction of a board of regents of normal schools, who were to be appointed in pursuance of the provisions of that act. Under this law, the income placed at the disposal of the board was distributed for several years to such colleges, academies and high schools as maintained a normal class, and in proportion to the number of pupils in the class who passed satisfactory examinations conducted by an agent of the board.

In 1865, the legislature (chapter 537) divided the swamp lands and swamp land fund into two equal parts, one to constitute the normal school fund and the other to be denominated the drainage fund. It was further provided by this act that the normal school fund be permanently invested and the income thereof should be applied to establish and maintain normal schools, under the direction and management of the board of regents, with a proviso that one-fourth of such income should be transferred to the common school fund, until the annual income of that fund should reach $200,000. During the same year, proposals were invited for extending aid in the establishment of a normal school, and propositions were received from various places.

In 1866, the board of regents of normal schools was incorporated by the legislature. In February, Platteville was conditionally selected as a place for a school. The productive fund of about $600,000.00 with a net income of over $30,000.00 was already accumulated, with a prospect of a steady increase by the sales of lands, and the board determined upon the policy of establishing several schools, to be located in different parts of the state.

At a meeting held on the second day of May, 1866, the board designated Whitewater as a place for a school, where a building was subsequently erected. The academy building at Platteville having been donated for normal purposes, the board permanently located a school at that place, and a school was opened October 9, 1866 under Charles H. Allen, a former agent of the board. President Allen resigned at the close of four years' service, and E. A. Charleton, from Lockport, N. Y., was placed in charge. President Charleton resigned in 1878, after more than eight years' service, and Duncan McGregor, long connected with the school as a professor, was elected to the presidency, and served in that capacity until June, 1894, when he resigned, and Dr. James Chalmers, Ph. D., of Columbus, O., was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. McGregor's resignation. In June, 1897, Dr. Chalmers resigned, and in July following Prof. D. McGregor was again elected to the presidency and served until June, 1904, when he resigned and J. W. Livingston, of the Stevens Point Normal School, was chosen president. Prof. Livingston is a graduate of the Platteville school, and for a long time was a high school principal before becoming Institute Conductor at the Stevens Point school.

The school at Whitewater was opened on the 21st of April, 1868, under Oliver Arey, A. M., formerly connected with normal schools at Albany and Brockport, N. Y., and the building was on the same day dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. On the resignation of President Arey, in 1877, William F. Phelps, A. M., an educator of large experience and of wide reputation, was appointed to take charge of the school. He was succeeded at the end of two years by J. W. Stearns, A. M., who had attained distinction in normal and college service, but he resigned in January, 1885, to take the professorship of theory and art of teaching in the University of Wisconsin. Prof. T. B. Pray, of the local faculty, acted as president for the remainder of the school year, and Albert Salisbury was elected and assumed the presidency at the opening of the year 1885-6. President Salisbury formerly taught in the school but for two years had been engaged in supervisory educational work in the South.

A building was completed at Oshkosh during the year 1870, for a third normal school, but owing to lack of funds it was not opened immediately for the admission of pupils. The dedication of the building and the opening of the school took place September 19, 1871, and the school was under the constant direction of George S. Albee, A. M., previously superintendent and principal of public schools at Kenosha and Racine, till September, 1893, when he died. On the first day of December following, Superintendent R. H. Halsey, of Binghamton, N. Y., was elected to the presidency. Prof. Halsey was for many years principal of the High School and superintendent of schools in Oshkosh before he was called to Binghamton. President Halsey was accidentally killed July 25, 1907.

The fourth school was opened in September, 1875, at River Falls, under the charge of Warren D. Parker, A. M., formerly superintendent and principal of public schools at Janesville. On the resignation of Mr. Parker, in June, 1889, J. Q. Emery, A. M., principal of the schools at Fort Atkinson, was elected president, and served until June, 1893. John Hull, ex-president of Southern Illinois Normal University, served as president during the year closing June, 1894. Warren D. Parker, A. M. was re-elected president and entered service September, 1894. In August, 1898, President Parker again resigned, and Prof. W. J. Brier, for many years institute conductor of the school, was elected to the presidency and began service early in September following.

September 14, 1885, the fifth normal school was opened in the city of Milwaukee, pursuant to chapter 364 of the laws of 1885, and J. J. Mapel, formerly principal of the local high school, was elected president; he was succeeded by L. D. Harvey, A. M., for many years conductor of teachers' institutes from Oshkosh Normal School. Upon the completion of the building, and the conveyance of the same to the state, the legislature made an appropriation of $10,000.00 to aid in the maintenance of this school. In November, 1898, President Harvey was elected to the state superintendency of schools, and the school was put in charge of Acting President W. H. Cheever. On December 20, 1899, Charles McKenney, then president of the State normal school at Mt. Clemons, Mich., was elected president and assumed the duties of his office in April, 1900.

September 17, 1894, the sixth normal school was opened in the city of Stevens Point, pursuant to chapter 185, laws of 1893, and Theron B. Pray, A. M., formerly professor and institute conductor in the Whitewater Normal School, was elected president. In 1906, he was succeeded by John F. Sims, who for several years had been institute conductor in the River Falls Normal School. The school building at Stevens Point, although commodious and well fitted for normal school purposes, became overcrowded and a considerable addition has been made to the building. The original building, together with heating and ventilating apparatus, cost, in round numbers, $75,000, and one addition cost about $50,000.

September 8th, 1896, the seventh normal school was opened in the city of Superior, pursuant to chapter 185, laws of 1893, with I. C. McNeil, formerly assistant superintendent of schools, Kansas City, Mo., as president. Upon his resignation, Prof. V. E. McCaskill institute conductor of the school was elected president, March 27, 1907. The building is one of the best of its class in the west, and its equipment, when completed, will be all that the highest standards require. The cost of the building, and the heating and ventilating plant was $74,790.00; the estimated value of the grounds (donated) was $30,000, and the portion of the appropriation made by the law cited above, available for equipment, was $20,640.93. Besides the land, the city donated $65,000.00 cash.

The law under which the normal schools are organized provides that "The exclusive purpose and objects of each normal school shall be the instruction and training of persons both male and female, in the theory and art of teaching, and in all the various branches that pertain to common school education, and in all subjects needful to qualify for teaching in the public schools; also to give instruction in the fundamental laws of the United States and of this state, in what regards the rights and duties of citizens."

In extension of the work of the normal schools, the Board is authorized to expend a sum not exceeding $14,000 annually, to support teachers' institutes, and may employ agents for that purpose. At present one professor from each normal school is employed at different seasons in conducting institutes.

The permanent Normal school Fund, August 31, 1906, was $1,955,108.86. The fund for the support of Normal Schools is increased annually by the amount received for tuition in the training and preparatory schools attached to the Normal Schools, and for book rents, and from an annual tax of $230,000.

The total number of pupils in attendance during the past two school years at all the State Normal Schools was as follows:

PLATTEVILLE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The Normal School at Platteville has the honor of being the first normal organized in Wisconsin. The school was opened in 1866 on the grounds previously occupied by the Platteville Academy. It is situated in a progressive city of six thousand people, surrounded on all sides by the rich rolling prairie of southern Wisconsin. The Platte Mounds near the city add much to the beauty of this attractive region. Rich lead and zinc mines in the vicinity enhance the material wealth of the community and furnish many points of interest to the student. Good drainage and pure water afford excellent hygienic conditions. The excellent moral tone of the town and the absence of circumstances likely to distract from studious habits make the location an ideal one for a large school.

Since the opening of the school more than six thousand students have been enrolled. More than one thousand have gone forth as graduates of the school. The alumni are now in forty different states and territories. Their earnest and efficient work prove an honor to the school, and justify the state in her liberal support of normal work.

The fine new building now in construction will be opened in September, 1907. This structure is modern in plan and provides ample room for all that is desired in the most up-to-date normal school. The cost of this building and its equipment is one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000.00). This fine new plant will afford the very best opportunity for effective work in training teachers for the public schools of Wisconsin.

 WHITEWATER NORMAL SCHOOL.

The Whitewater Normal School was dedicated April 21, 1868. It being the second normal school in the state. Its first president was Oliver Arey, who remained in charge until July, 1876. Wm. F. Phelps was president for the next two years, and J. W. Stearns from July, 1878, to January, 1885. For the next half year Prof. T. B. Pray was acting president. Albert Salisbury became president in July, 1885 and remains in charge to the present time.

The site and surroundings of the school are among the finest in the whole country. The original building was enlarged in 1876; and in 1891 yet another wing was added, including an elegant and well equipped gymnasium. In 1897, yet another enlargement was made giving the building a new front and providing improved facilities for all departments of work, especially in the library and laboratories. In 1905, yet another addition was made, providing a new boiler-house, toilet-rooms, and quarters for the work in manual training.

The school graduated its first class in 1870. Since that time it has graduated 725 persons from the Advanced Course, and 659 others from the Elementary Course, making a total of 1,375 who have received the sanction of the school. Of these, all but 53 have taught for a greater or less period of time since graduation.

OSHKOSH NORMAL SCHOOL.

This school was organized as third in the system of normal schools in September, 1871.

It soon took rank as the largest one of the schools and gave instruction to more than 6,000 students during the first quarter century of work.

The building has been enlarged four times to meet its increasing needs, and through such growth has become adapted for efficient management of large numbers with ease. The laboratories and library are thoroughly appointed for the special needs of teachers in training.

Through careful management of conditions, the cost of living to students is below that of any other city of its size. the entire expense for a year ranging from $125 to $175.

COURSES OF STUDY.

The courses of study, uniform in specification for all regular schools of the system, are as follows:

1. Common School Course—Requiring one year of work, and designed to train teachers for work in rural schools.
  2. An Elementary Course of Two Years—Leading to limited state certificate.
  3. The Advanced Course for Four Years—Entitling to life state certificate.
  4. A Graduate Course of Two Years—Entitling to diploma and life certificate.
- The last course is especially provided for graduates from High Schools.

RIVER FALLS NORMAL SCHOOL.

The fourth normal school was established in 1875. It is situated in a beautiful little city on the C., St. P., M. & O. R. R., its location being in an attractive and picturesque country, well settled and prosperous. The city of River Falls is a city of homes and in it the students find ideal conditions for the prosecution of the purposes for which the school is maintained. The normal school building is conveniently situated on a beautiful campus in the edge of the city and affords attractive views of the surrounding country. It is a model in its heating, lighting, and ventilation, as well as in all other conditions favorable to health and comfort.

There are three departments in the school: the Normal, the Preparatory, and the Model. The courses of study in the Normal department are the same as those in other Wisconsin Normals offering four years of work. A complete Manual Training Course (Sloyd) affords a part of the work in the Model Grades, while a successful Kindergarten is carried on as a preliminary to the other grade work.

MILWAUKEE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The state normal school located in Milwaukee was authorized by an act of the legislature in 1880. The school was formally opened in September, 1885. The total enrollment during the year was, in the normal department, forty-six. The enrollment during the year 1906-1907 was, in the same department, 427.

This school offers four courses of study: English, Latin, German, and a Kindergarten Training course. In the English course are several groups of elective studies which make it possible for a student to specialize to some extent. The English course is the equivalent of the last two years of the full English course in the other normal schools, while the Latin and German courses are the equivalent of the last two years of these courses in the other schools except that four years' preparatory work is required in the Latin and two in the German, respectively, to enter these courses.

The Kindergarten Training course is designed especially to give training to students who desire to fit themselves for Kindergarten work. No other normal school in the state offers a kindergarten training course.

All students entering the school must have completed a high school course in one of the four years' course high schools, or have equivalent preparation.

No elementary or preparatory course is connected with the school.

STEVENS POINT NORMAL SCHOOL.

The sixth state normal school was opened September 17, 1894.

The following courses are provided: German, Latin, and English-Scientific courses of four years each, leading to the diploma, which may become a life state certificate; an elementary course of two years and a Professional course of one year, leading to the elementary certificate, which may become a five years' state certificate; a One Year Common School course. High School graduates are admitted to advanced standing in either course.

In 1902 a new course, to prepare teachers of Domestic Science, was authorized and established by the Board of Regents. This is a thorough two years' course for High School graduates. It includes abundant instruction in sewing and cooking and the necessary science as a basis, with laboratory work and practice teaching in these branches, as well as the general professional training of the other regular courses.

Special courses may be arranged by selection from the regular courses to fit the needs of individual teachers.

Special preparation for teachers of Primary and Intermediate grades, by selection of studies in regular courses, and addition of special courses in Practice and Pedagogy.

The building is modern, thoroughly adapted to the uses of a school; is well equipped; has one of the largest and best fitted gymnasiums in the state, second only to that at the University. This is under the care of a trained specialist. A carefully selected library of about 8,000 volumes is in the care of a trained librarian, whose entire time is given to the students.

The total enrollment in all departments in June, 1902, was 626 students, coming from upwards of forty counties in the state.

Stevens Point is a quiet, orderly town, with paved streets and pleasant homes; is lighted by gas and electricity; has a good water supply, well distributed; a paid fire department and free mail delivery; is accessible by two railroads from all the central parts of the state.

Necessary school expenses, including board, for year of forty weeks, need not exceed $135.00 and may be made less.

School year begins last Tuesday in August.

SUPERIOR NORMAL SCHOOL.

The seventh and youngest of Wisconsin's Normal Schools, and recently the third in size, completed its tenth year June 30, 1906. The attendance for the tenth year: 329 in the Normal department and 591 in all departments, excluding those doing special work in Domestic Science only. The number enrolled to date indicates a growth for the year 1906-1907. The clientage is cosmopolitan as indicated by the fact that 23 counties were represented in the enrollment of the school in 1906. The total number of graduates at the close of the school year last year from all courses is 375, of which 265 are from the full courses and 110 from the elementary course.

The Board of Regents has provided for a summer session to be held during the summer 1907 for the accommodation of teachers who are unable to attend a Normal School during the regular sessions. This action on the part of the Board of Regents will make the Normal School still more effectively serve its purpose of bettering the conditions of the teachers and schools of northern Wisconsin. The cool exhilarating summer climate makes Superior an ideal place for a summer session.

The courses of study that are carried on in this school are the same as those administered by the other Wisconsin Normal Schools. This fact makes it easy for teachers who change from one section of the state to another to carry their credits to the Normal School near at hand and be admitted without loss of time or waste of energy.

A large percentage of the students who enroll in the Normal School withdraw each year to teach in district schools, thus taking to their work better equipment and greater skill to the advantage of the rural districts. The demands for graduates continue to exceed the supply. School boards from year to year look to the Normal Schools more and more for trained and efficient teachers.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN.

HISTORY AND LOCATION.

The University of Wisconsin was founded in the days of the pioneers of the State. In the first year of the existence of the territory (1836), an act was passed for the establishment of "Wisconsin University" at Belmont; but, except for the naming of trustees, the project was never carried out. In 1837, another act to establish the "Wisconsin University at Green Bay" eventuated in the formation of a temporary local college called Hobart University. It was in 1838 that the University of the Territory of Wisconsin was provided for by law, and endowed by the act of congress, in the same year with the customary grant of two townships of land. Its governing body, a Board of Visitors, alone evidenced the existence of this University for ten years. Section 6 of the constitution of the new state, in 1848, declared that "Provision shall be made by law for the establishment of a state university, at or near the seat of the state government, and for connecting with the same from time to time such colleges in different parts of the state as the interests of education may require." The land grants of the United States for the support of the University were made a perpetual fund for its support, and it was provided that no sectarian instruction should be allowed in the institution. The University was incorporated by the act of July 26, 1848, and a board of regents, to be chosen by the legislature, was made its governing body. At the first meeting of this board, October 7, 1848, a preparatory department was established, to open in February, 1849, under the charge of John W. Sterling, a graduate of the University of New Jersey (Princeton). The site for the University, on "College Hill," was selected, and John H. Lathrop, a graduate, and afterwards tutor, of Yale college, was called from the presidency of the University of Missouri to become Chancellor. He was formally inaugurated January 16, 1850. North Hall, the first building, was constructed in the same year, and opened September 17, 1851. The first class graduated on July 26, 1854, consisting of Levi Booth and Charles T. Wakeley. At this time the faculty consisted of Chancellor Lathrop, occupying the chair of ethics, civil polity, and political economy; Professor Sterling, who taught mathematics, natural philosophy, and astronomy; O. M. Conover, professor of ancient languages and literature, and S. H. Carpenter, tutor. The attendance was forty-one, exclusive of fifteen students in the preparatory course. Under Chancellor Lathrop, the group of buildings was increased by South Hall, completed in 1855, and University Hall, completed in 1859. Congress granted Wisconsin in 1854 a second two townships of land for the University, but this, as well as the first grant, was sacrificed at low rates to attract immigration. Thus the income from the University fund was very small. Moreover, the State required the regents to construct their buildings by loans drawn from the same land fund instead of providing them by state bounty. Until 1870, the University struggled along on the meager income furnished by the lands donated by the federal government. The State made its higher education subordinate to the demand of its citizens for cheap lands.

The University in these years was criticised because of its preparatory department, and because of the alleged narrowness of the curriculum; it was demanded that "a more distinct bias should be given to its instructions in the direction of the several arts and avocations as they exist among men." In 1858, as the outcome of these demands, the preparatory department was restricted in its scope, and the University was re-organized into a department of science, literature and the arts, consisting of six schools: philosophy, philology, natural science, civil and mechanical engineering, agriculture, and polity.

Chancellor Lathrop was succeeded in 1859 by Henry Barnard, a graduate of Yale, prominent in the reorganization of the schools of Connecticut and Rhode Island, founder of the American Journal of Education, and (1867) first national Commissioner of Education. His policy centered in elevating the public school system of the state as a basis for university growth, but ill health caused his resignation in 1860.

Under the ad interim direction of Professor Sterling, the University remained without a chancellor until 1867. The Civil War took a large proportion of the students into the field, and no commencement was held in 1864, all but one of the senior class having joined the army.

The close of the war brought a new inspiration and growth to the University. The returning soldiers took up their studies, and by 1870 the University had nearly 500 students. A reorganization was effected in 1866, and Dr. Paul A. Chadbourne, a graduate of Williams College, was called to the presidency. Among the important developments of this period was the founding of the College of Law, the maturing of plans providing for co-education, and the institution of the agricultural department as an integral part of the University. This constituted a radical departure from the policy of the other states of the middle west. In many instances agricultural and engineering colleges have been founded apart from the state university. The rapid growth of the University of Wisconsin and its hold upon the people have been in a considerable measure due to the fact that it contains within its organization the colleges which appeal to the farmer and artisan, as well as to the business and professional classes of the state.

It was through the efforts of President Chadbourne that an appropriation of $50,000 was secured from the legislature of 1870 for the erection of a separate building for the women students of the University. This building, now known as Chadbourne Hall, was constructed during the following year, when Professor Sterling, as vice-president administered the University, and was occupied in the fall of 1871.

President Twombly came to the University at the beginning of the academic year 1871-72. He was a graduate of Wesleyan University at Middletown, Connecticut, one of the overseers of Harvard College, and a founder of Boston University.

The reorganization of 1866 had provided for co-education, but during these years the work of the women was kept separate from that of the men. It was significant, however, of an increasing recognition of the importance of the education of women, that the first appropriation which the legislature ever made to the University was for the women's building, and only a few years elapsed when complete co-education was adopted. Perhaps the most important development of the period of Dr. Twombly's presidency was the provision made by the legislature for a state tax of $10,000 a year to form a part of the University income. In thus adopting the policy of a special annual tax for the support of the University, the legislature made the formal explanation in the preamble to the law, that the policy of disposing of the land grants by congress at a low price, in order to attract actual settlers, had prevented the increase of the productive funds, and that it was the duty of the State to see to it that the University should not suffer. A system of free tuition to the graduates of the high schools of the State who passed the University entrance requirements, was also adopted at this time. This step was the beginning of the elimination of the preparatory department of the University. By resting its growth upon the high schools of the State, and receiving an annual income from the taxpayers, the University merged itself completely with the educational life of the State, and, in the long run, felt the benefits of this change.

With the coming of President Bascom from Williams College, in 1874, the University entered upon a new life. The finances of the institution were put on a better basis by the grant of the legislature of a tenth of a mill tax, which afforded increasing revenue as the wealth of the state increased. Large specific grants for new buildings, including Assembly Hall, Science Hall, the Chemical Building, and the Machine Shop, were made in the same period. The farmers' institutes and the short course in agriculture brought the University into closer touch with the farmers of the State. Under Dr. Bascom's presidency the preparatory department was abolished, and the University found all the students it could care for among the graduates of the high schools. At the beginning of his presidency the attendance, excluding the preparatory department, was about 300. At its close, thirteen years later, it was but 500; but the University had thoroughly gained the respect of the State.

President Bascom was succeeded by President Chamberlin of the United States Geology Survey, a graduate of Beloit College. He gave the University a strong impulse toward graduate study by the emphasis which he laid on research. Courses of study were increased, the standards of admission raised, and fellowships provided for graduate study. When he resigned, after five years of service, in 1892, the University had doubled its numbers, rising from five hundred to one thousand. During his presidency, a new science building had been finished, and buildings erected for the dairy school and the College of Law. In addition, a University boat house had been built, and the contracts had been let for the Armory and Gymnasium that are now such a prominent feature of the Lower Campus.

President Adams came to Wisconsin from Cornell, whose presidency he had just resigned. Under his administration the University rose from one thousand students in 1892 to two thousand six hundred in 1901. The beautiful building for the library of the State Historical Society and the University, costing nearly three-quarters of a million of dollars, and housing treasures of inestimable value, is the most impressive monument of his presidency. The University developed into a larger life in all directions during these ten years. Particularly the great increase in the number of graduate students and the emphasis upon graduate teaching should be noted. At the close of his presidency there were over one hundred graduate students, while ten years before there were only twenty-two. Athletics had reached their largest development in the same period, and Camp Randall, an athletic field of forty-two acres, was purchased for the University. The University began its summer sessions in 1899, a development which has been very important in increasing the influence of the University.

During the absence of Dr. Adams, caused by illness, and after his resignation, Professor Birge, Dean of the College of Letters and Science, served as Acting President during the three academic year, 1900-03.

Professor Charles R. Van Hise, the first alumnus of the University to hold the presidency, was elected in the spring of 1903, and assumed the active duties of the position at the beginning of the succeeding academic year.

THE SUPPORT OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The University is supported partly by the income of federal grants, partly by taxation of the people of the State, and partly by private gifts. For such support there have been five federal grants, namely: the Two-Township Grant of 1848; the Supplementary Two-Township Grant of 1854; the Morrill Grant of 1862 for the support of studies pertaining to agricultural and mechanic arts; the Hatch Grant of 1887 for the support of agricultural experiment stations, and the Supplementary Morrill Grant of 1890.

Besides numerous and large appropriations for buildings and other specific purposes, the State of Wisconsin has made eight continuing grants, namely: the one-tenth mill tax of 1876, increased to one-eighth mill in 1883; the additional one-tenth mill tax of 1891; the appropriation for the support of the Observatory in 1887; the appropriation for the support of Farmers' Institutes in 1885, increased in 1887; the appropriation for the College of Engineering, in 1889, of one per cent. of the railroad license tax, and the additional one-fifth mill grant of 1897. The legislature of 1899 consolidated the various mill taxes, specified above, and the grant of one per cent. of the railroad licenses, into a specific continuous annual grant of an amount equal to the annual revenue from these various grants. This appropriation was increased by the legislature of 1901, and again by the legislature of 1903. In 1905 the legislature passed a new law for the support of the University. Section 390, revised statutes of 1898, as amended from time to time, was amended so as to levy two-sevenths of a mill tax for the support of the University. Instead of making specific appropriations for individual buildings as heretofore, an appropriation of $200,000 per annum, for a period of three years, was also made for new buildings, repairs, improvement, equipment, apparatus, etc.

Of the gifts that have come to the University, that of Dane county for the purchase of lands for the University farm; that of the late Governor C. C. Washburn for the founding of the Washburn Observatory; that of the late Judge Mortimer M. Jackson for the establishment of the Mortimer M. Jackson Professorship of Law; the President Adams' fellowship fund; the Mary M. Adams Fellowship fund; the Fannie P. Lewis Scholarship fund, and the endowment of the Henry Gund Fellowship in German have been the most considerable and important.

THE UNIVERSITY AND THE STATE.

The University of Wisconsin is the culmination of the free educational system of the State. In the educational policy of the State, the University sustains a similar relation to the high schools that the high schools sustain to the primary and grammar schools. As those who have passed through the grammar grades may freely avail themselves of the high schools, so those who have completed with credit a full high school course may advance to the opportunities afforded by the University. It is not expected that all pupils who complete the grammar grades will advance to the high school; nor is it expected that all those who complete a high school course shall go forward to the University. But the school system of the State has been so arranged as to make the passage from one grade to another as easy and natural as possible, in order to afford every encouragement to thorough education. The State through the University undertakes to furnish instruction in the various branches requisite for a liberal education, in the technical branches of engineering, law, agriculture, pharmacy, commerce, home economics, and music. It also aims to encourage research work in all departments, to produce creative scholars, and thus do its part in the enlargement of the domain of knowledge. Thus it is the general policy of the institution to foster the higher educational interests of the State, broadly and generously interpreted. By prescribing a large number of studies during the first two years of undergraduate work, and by leaving all, or a large part of the work of the last two years to the free selection of the student, under a definite system, the University endeavors to give a wise measure of direction, leaving at the same time sufficient room for choice to encourage individual adaptation and special development. The graduate work is, of course, wholly elective.

The public school system of the state was adopted at the time of the constitution and went into effect in 1848. The schools were supervised by town superintendents at that time. These officers were presumed to visit the schools, advise with the teachers in the matter of gradation, course of study, etc. They were also empowered to grant teachers' certificates. In 1861 the law providing for county superintendents went into effect and the town superintendency was abolished. The number of county superintendent districts in Wisconsin at the present time is 73, two counties having two superintendents each. The term of office is two years and the election under the provisions of chapter 307, laws of 1903, takes place in the spring at the time of the annual town meeting. These officers are clothed with authority to grant teachers' certificates and the responsibility of visiting each school under their supervision at least once in each year, advising with the teacher in regard to the course of study, discipline and management of the school, and also advising with the school boards in regard to buildings, grounds, out buildings, etc. There are now in this state 53 cities under city superintendents and 6,968 districts under the supervision of county superintendents. The number of persons of school age (between 4 and 20 years) for the year ending June 30th, 1902, was 751,699, 1903—758,626, 1904—766,548, 1905—773,852, and 1906—773,031, a falling off of nearly 1,000 in the last year. A compulsory school law was enacted by the legislature of 1903. This law requires that all persons between ages of 7 and 14 residing outside of cities, whether under city superintendents or not, shall attend school for at least twenty weeks, including legal holidays, each year, and those residing within the city limits shall attend for at least thirty-two weeks during the year. This attendance may be upon any private, parochial or public school. This law does not affect those living more than two miles from the school by the nearest traveled public highway. The total enrollment in the public schools for the year ending June 30th, 1902, was 453,711, for 1903, 450,883, for 1904, 460,489, for 1905, 464,545, for 1906, 467,389. The number of school houses in the state is reported as 7,731, with a seating capacity of 569,169. The number of male teachers employed is gradually decreasing, as will be seen from the table under the head of "Teachers wages, etc." This table will show the wages as reported for the last twenty years. The graduates from the Normal

Schools and Universities are hired quite largely by cities. The number of Normal graduates employed in counties was, for 1902, 931, for 1903, 999, for 1904, 993, for 1905, 1,053, for 1906, 1,056. The number of teachers holding first-grade certificates granted by county superintendents is reported as 430, by city superintendents as 160; of second-grade certificates, county—1,492, city—132; third-grade certificates, county—5,373, city—337; of limited certificates 628 were issued. The total number granted was 8,452; and 2,101 applicants were refused. The expenditure for the common schools for the year was $8,982,992.62, the amount of money remaining on hand in the treasuries of the districts throughout the state was $2,896,158.48. The expenditure per individual between 4 and 20 years of age in cities having city superintendents was $12.49, in counties $11.34. These statistics are based upon the total school population. Upon the basis of enrollment the cities under city superintendents expended $24.20 per capita, while the counties expended $16.99 per capita. The number of free high schools, four year course, is now 265, three years' course 4, independent high schools 14, day schools for the deaf 20, county training schools for teachers 12, county schools of agriculture and domestic economy 2, state graded schools of the first class (that is, schools having three or more departments), 171; of the second class (two departments), 232. The number of private schools reported in counties is 456. In the counties there were 255 male and 560 female teachers in these schools and an enrollment reported of 15,012, between 7 and 14 years of age, of whom 9,332 attended twenty weeks or more. In the cities there are 211 private schools reported, with 98 male and 370 female teachers and an attendance between the ages of 7 and 14 for thirty-two weeks of 20,652. The reports from the private and parochial schools are unsatisfactory. In the above statement the city of Milwaukee has simply reported 80 schools but stated nothing of the attendance or the number of teachers. From the reports in the Catholic year-book the number of teachers in the Catholic schools of Milwaukee alone is 328 and the number of pupils enrolled, 17,730. The number of teachers employed in the four year course high schools, 399 males, 700 females. In the state graded schools of the first class 659 teachers were employed, and in the second class 464. The total amount expended during the year for carrying on the state graded schools of the first class was $690,043.97, and of the second class $309,684.21. Of the 6,968 districts, reported in 1906, 46 report an enrollment of 5 or less pupils, 258 between 5 and 11, 580 between 10 and 16, 834 between 15 and 21, 1,000 between 20 and 26, 1,121 between 25 and 31, 968 between 30 and 36, 924 between 35 and 41. Five hundred and eighteen districts report an enrollment of more than 60. These are generally districts having graded schools and usually a village constitutes part of the district. Of the 6,968 districts under county superintendents 2,486 are reported as having free text books. The tables give in detail the employment of teachers qualified in counties.

WAGES PAID FOR TEACHERS IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The following table will show at a glance the average wages of teachers, the number of teachers—male and female, total enrollment of pupils and total number of teachers employed for the past twenty-two years. These statistics are compiled from the reports sent to this department by the county superintendents of schools. Some apparent discrepancies will be noted in the column "Total number of teachers employed." These apparent discrepancies can be accounted for in part at least from the fact that county superintendents during certain years have made special efforts in their superintendent districts to have the teachers engaged by the year. In many school districts throughout the state as many as three teachers are employed during the year, one for the fall term, one for the winter term and another one for the spring term. Certain county superintendents have, especially in years past, made strong efforts to break up this system, or rather lack of system on the part of school boards and the differences may to some extent at least be accounted for on this ground.

EARLY SCHOOLS IN WISCONSIN—OPENING DATES.

[Furnished by C. L. Harper.]

James (or Jacques) Porlier taught a school at Green Bay in 1791. This man was probably the first professional teacher in charge of school work in Wisconsin. In 1817 a garrison school was organized at Prairie du Chien (Fort Crawford) and maintained for many years. The first school house in southwestern Wisconsin was built at Mineral Point in 1830; the second at Platteville in 1833. The first Kindergarten school officially connected with any state Normal School in the United States was opened at Oshkosh in 1880. Township system of school government provided for by the Laws of 1869. Free High Schools provided for by Laws of 1875. The first Kindergarten school in Wisconsin was opened in Milwaukee, first ward in 1872 with 70 pupils. Farmers' Institutes provided for by the legislature of 1885. The bill was introduced by Hon. Charles E. Estabrook, now a resident of Milwaukee. First school in Milwaukee, 1834, sustained by S. Juneau for his children, Dr. Heth, teacher; first high school in Milwaukee (private), 1841; first public school in Milwaukee opened in second ward, fall of 1836, Edward West, teacher (claimed to be first public school in state); Janesville Academy, 1845; Southport (Kenosha) first free public school, 1845; School Dist. ## FREE HIGH SCHOOLS IN WISCONSIN.

There are 265 free and 14 independent high schools now organized, all except 4 having a four years' course of study. Twenty-three of these schools are what are distinguished as town free high schools; that is, the high school district includes all the territory in one or more towns. These schools do not differ from the ordinary district free high schools so far as educational opportunities are concerned, but the town free high school is by law entitled to receive state aid to the extent of one-half the amount expended for instruction, no matter what that amount may be, while the district free high schools are limited to a maximum of $500, no matter what amount may be expended, the apportionment made in 1906 being $358.62; in 1905, $371.04; in 1904, $400.22. This is owing to the fact that the number of schools, the number of high school teachers and the wages constantly increase. The principals and assistants in these schools must have high and approved educational qualifications. The number of teachers employed for the year ending June 30, 1906, in free high schools having four years' course of study, was male 381, females 611, a total of 992; the pupils enrolled, males 8,828, females 12,625, a total of 21,453. The preponderance of girls over the number of boys in the high school work is quite noticeable. But 187 of these pupils are over 20 years of age. The average daily attendance in the schools was 79; the pupils studying English branches only, 11,317; the pupils in German 5,784; in Latin 4,478; in both German and Latin 2,412. The number reported as studying Greek 22. The expense of instruction in German alone was $42,355.22; for Latin $43,305.34. The number of graduates in 1905 was—males 1,066, females 1,635, a total of 2,701; in 1906—males 1,144; females 1,964. A total of 3,108. The large increase in the number of persons graduating from the high schools in 1906 over the number graduating in 1905, is probably due to what is known as the town tuition law. This law enables a boy or girl not a resident of a free high school district to attend a free high school, the town in which such person resides paying the tuition therefor, at a rate of not exceeding $2 per month. It is evident that a large number of young people throughout the state have taken advantage of this act of the legislature and with the above highly satisfactory showing. While considerable opposition has developed on the part of town officers and in some cases the taxpayers throughout the town, it is not out of place to state that the maximum rate of $2 per month is exceedingly low. It enables every town in the state to offer free high school advantages to its young people at a comparatively small cost. The statistics show that the expense entailed upon each free high school district for the purpose of educating its own children is $42.80 per capita. This expense does not include the cost of the buildings, the expenses for repairs, or any interest upon the investments. The number of non-resident pupils attending free high schools having a four year course of study reported for the year ending June 30, 1905, was 5,094; 1906, 5,763; the total amount reported received by the high schools for tuition $92,042.78. The number of pupils enrolled in the first or freshman year is reported as 8,067; in the second or sophomore year 5,588; in the third year 4,320, and in the senior year 3,456. The number of high school districts furnishing free text books is 71. There are now but four three year high schools in the state. The number of teachers employed—males 9, females 11; the enrollment—males 123, females 180, a total of 303, with but 3 persons over 20 years of age. The number of graduates in 1906—males 21; females 29; non-resident pupils 99; the average rate of tuition $1.81 per month; the total amount received for tuition $1,266.64; the number of independent high schools 14. These are not under the direction supervision of the state department. The number of teachers employed in such schools—males 84, females 130; enrollment for 1906—males 2,507, females 2,900, total of 5,407; with 43 over 20 years of age. The average daily attendance is 194. The number of graduates in 1906 was—males 231, females 315; non-resident pupils 243; the average monthly rate of tuition charge $3.40; the total amount received for tuition, $6,211.65. Four of these schools furnish free textbooks. Independent free high schools are at liberty to charge non-resident pupils any rate of tuition they may choose, while the rate paid free high schools is limited to $2 per month. The independent high schools are located as a rule in the more populous cities.

STATE GRADED SCHOOLS.

Chapter 439, laws of 1901, provides for a classification of the graded schools of this state into first and second classes. The legislature also made an appropriation of $120,000, to be annually given as a special aid for these schools, provided they comply with the general provisions of the law. The state graded school of the first class must have at least three separate departments, maintained for at least nine months during the year, with an average daily attendance of not less than fifteen in each of the departments in the case of schools of the second class, and at least three departments in schools of the first class. The principal of the school or the first class must have some form of state certificate, one assistant may hold a third grade certificate, one assistant may hold a second grade certificate and all other assistants must hold either a first grade county certificate or some form of state certificate. Chapter 374, laws of 1907, requires that in all cases where the principal of a second class school holds a first grade county certificate or a certificate of higher grade he must have to his credit at least one year of successful experience in teaching in the public schools of this state, and if a second grade county certificate is the qualification of the principal, two years' successful experience is necessary. The assistant may be qualified with a third grade county certificate only, but in this case one year of successful teaching is required. The school buildings, grounds and accessories must be free from unsanitary features and the equipment in the matter of seats, furniture and apparatus must be good, and sufficient to meet the demands of pupils enrolled. The law also provides that two graded school inspectors shall be appointed by the state superintendent. It is the duty of these officers to visit these schools at least once during each year, to advise with the teachers and members of the school board with reference to the existing conditions, and recommend such things in the way of equipment, etc., as may be necessary to bring the school up to the required standard. The law provides that graded schools of the first class may receive special aid to the amount of $300, while those of the second class may receive $200. It is also provided that should the sum of $120,000 be insufficient to enable the state superintendent to apportion the maximum amount to each school, the apportionment shall be made per capita. The following tables will show some of the statistics in detail:

The Wisconsin Free Library Commission was created by an act of the legislature in 1895. It consists of five members and its duties are to "give advice and counsel to all free libraries in the state and to all communities which may propose to establish them, as to the best means of establishing and administering such libraries, the selection of books, cataloging and other details of library management."

The Commission was organized December 3, 1895, and, although its means were very limited, it proved so useful that the legislature of 1897 gave it larger means and duties. It was reorganized under the amended law, April 24, 1897. It has a permanent office in the capitol at Madison to which all official correspondence should be addressed and where all friends of libraries will be welcomed.

The Commission is not only willing but anxious to promote the free public library interests of Wisconsin and will cordially accept opportunities to give personal counsel and aid. It also invites information and suggestions from all friends of libraries.

The Commission issues a "Hand Book," which gives the text of the laws of the state relating to free public libraries, suggestions as to establishing, organizing and administering them and other useful information for members of library boards, librarians and others who are interested in libraries. It also issues a "Suggestive List of Books for Small Libraries," and other reports upon the various phases of library work which are undertaken in the state, and frequent book lists giving the titles of the best of the current books.

During the twelve years of the existence of the Commission there has been an unprecedented growth in the number and quality of the public libraries of the state,—a growth so remarkable that it has attracted the attention of educators throughout the nation. During that period the number of free public libraries in the state has increased from 28 to 142. In the period under review private individuals have given more than $20,000 to traveling libraries, and $2,500,000 has been expended in public library buildings. In addition to this many cities have built fine city halls with spacious rooms especially designed for their public libraries. There are now 61 library buildings erected or provided for, and 23 libraries have quarters in city halls.

Especial attention has been given to the training of librarians and the Commission has a School for Library Training the summer session of which is conducted in connection with the summer session of the University of Wisconsin.

The legislature of 1901 passed a law permitting county boards to establish county systems of traveling libraries. In that year Winnebago county established a system which has been remarkably successful. Marinette, Brown, Dunn, Dodge, Jefferson, Columbia, Oconto, Portage, Sauk, Chippewa, La Crosse and Trempealeau counties have followed the example of Winnebago.

In 1896 the late J. D. Witter, of Grand Rapids, started a system of free traveling libraries in Wood county. By his will he gave an endowment of $5,000 to maintain this system, founding, it is believed, the first county traveling library system in this country upon so permanent a basis.

Traveling libraries are small collections of books, generally from fifty to sixty in number, which are sent by the state from one community to another. The traveling libraries sent out by the Wisconsin Free Library Commission are maintained by the state, and are circulated from the offices of the Commission in the Capitol, free of all charges except the cost of transportation. These collections are made up of the best popular books in fiction, history, travel, biography, science and literature for adults and children. They are shipped in stout pine cases and are accompanied by printed catalogs and supplies necessary for keeping records of circulation. The traveling libraries are intended for farming communities and small villages not enjoying public library privileges; for villages and towns able to support public libraries, for the purpose of showing the worth of a public library and how to manage one, and also to encourage the establishment of local libraries; for villages and towns already having public libraries but with book funds insufficient for frequent buying necessary to sustain public interest; for study clubs not having access to public libraries offering adequate service, and for communities whose libraries have a large number of Scandinavian, German, Bohemian or Polish patrons.

Until the summer of 1903 the books in the traveling libraries came from private gifts, gifts of clubs and the subscriptions of associations receiving traveling libraries. The legislature of 1903 appropriated money for books for traveling libraries, enabling the Commission to satisfy the demands for books better than was possible in the past. The demand is still greater than the supply. Because of these limitations the Commission must help first the smaller communities manifesting most interest in securing books and least able to get them by their own efforts.

The libraries are shipped by freight, all transportation charges being paid by the station receiving them. When the people of one station have read the volumes of a library they are returned to the Commission where books are checked up, record of their circulation made, necessary repairs made, and then they are sent to another station.

STATE DOCUMENTS.

Under chapter 168, laws of 1901, the Commission was directed (1) to make a check list of the public documents of Wisconsin; (2) to prepare catalogue cards for such documents, as published, and distribute them to public libraries; (3) to maintain a reference room in the capitol for the use of the state departments, legislators and students of state affairs; (4) to loan from its working library books of permanent value to students throughout the state. This work has met with popular approval and extensive use is being made of the facilities offered.

The Wisconsin Veterans' Home was founded by the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Wisconsin; Nov. 16, 1887, to care for honorably discharged indigent soldiers, sailors or marines of the war of the Rebellion, who cannot be received into any national home for disabled volunteer soldiers, and for their indigent wives or widows, for whom no provision is made at the National Homes, and who previous'y had been separated, the wife to go to the poor house, the husband going to the National Home.

The Wisconsin Home was built on what is known as the cottage plan, each cottage being for two persons, in every instance, man and wife. The cooking was done in a large, centrally located, two story building, the Widows' dormitory being overhead. Meals were served in a commodious dining room in connection with a kitchen.

The Home soon outgrew the calculations of its founders and it became necessary to provide large buildings in lieu of building more cottages. Fairchild Hall,

Jerry Rusk Hall and Marston Hall were all built for the accommodation of men and wives; three buildings for single men were also provided. The buildings for men and wives each have a dining room and kitchen attached. The single men, the occupants of cottages and the widows who occupy the widow's dormitory, all take their meals in the main dining hall.

During 1899 many extensive improvements were carried out in order that the urgent demands upon the institution from all parts of the state could be met. A large hospital building was provided after the most approved plan. This building is pronounced by the government inspector, who visits the Home frequently, the finest hospital connected with any National or State Home in the country. It is now filled to its utmost capacity.

A new system for heating and lighting all of the new buildings was put in and has proved itself a great success. An entire new sewerage system had become a necessity, as the State Board of Health had condemned the old system, which had become a menace to the health of the people. A new brick power house equipped with boilers adapted to burn coal was provided, as wood had become too expensive to be longer used. A new brick pump house, equipped with a modern electric pump, was also provided to meet the increased demands of the institution. The large sink hole in which had been deposited for many years the sewage, was filled up, and about ten acres of ground fully reclaimed and all danger of contagion removed.

The property is now owned by the state but is controlled by a board of trustees elected by the department of the G. A. R. It is supported by an appropriation of $3.00 per week for each enrolled member and employe, made by the state for maintenance of these people, based on actual time cared for, all absences from any cause deducted. An alphabetical list of members and employes is sent to the secretary of state each month showing the number of days that each individual has been maintained during that month. This report is attested by the commandant and adjutant and sworn to by the president and secretary of the Board of Trustees. The State Board of Control visit the Home frequently and have full power under the law to investigate the management in every particular. Every official and employe of the institution is required by law to furnish the State Board of Control with any and all information asked for.

The visits of the Board of Control are much appreciated by the management and any suggestions made by them are given careful consideration.

The Home is situated on the shores of a chain of sixteen beautiful lakes near the city of Waupaca, and is unsurpassed for its healthfulness and for its beautiful scenery and surroundings.

The Woman's Relief Corps, the Grand Army of the Republic, and many generous citizens of our state have expended in buildings and furnishings at the Home over $50,000 and are justly proud of the institution.

The state receives from the government the sum of one hundred dollars per annum for every male inmate based upon the actual time he is cared for by the Home. Up to June 30, 1904, the state has received from this source $291,776.81. There is still due the state on account of deficiency in funds for the June quarter of 1904, $2,165.82. This money is paid directly to the state, none of it being received by the Home. The liberal appropriations made by the state have made it competent for the trustees to make this one of the best institutions of its kind in the United States.

The home comprises 90 acres of land upon which there are 75 buildings, all in good condition. It has the appearance of a flourishing village instead of an institution.

During 1904, a steel water tank was constructed and an additional water system of eight-inch water mains was put in, which gives proper fire protection to all buildings. Nearly all buildings were painted and all urgent repairs were made. A heavy stone wall was built on the lake front, and a cement walk in place of the old wood sidewalk. An additional boiler has been added to the equipment of the power house to meet the demands on that department. The demand for admission has been so great the past year that it became necessary to convert several sitting rooms in the various buildings into sleeping rooms.

The increased age and decrepitude of many veterans has made it impossible for them to support themselves longer, and they have been compelled to seek the shelter of the Home.

During the year 1905 all wooden sidewalks were replaced by cement walks at a cost of $3,070.32. The Amusement Hall was enlarged at a cost of $759.26. R. N. Roberts Hall was completed and furnished at a cost of $6,047.23.

During the year 1906 Griffin Hall was completed and furnished at a cost of $6,532.65. Fairchild Hall addition was completed and furnished at a cost of $6,502.06. An excellent root cellar was completed at a cost of $1,075.50. A new morgue was built at a cost of $748.50.

These buildings are constructed of brick and stone with metal roofs and were needed properly to care for our members.

A new Corliss engine, 150 horse power, costing $5,180, was installed this year, as the capacity of the old engine was not sufficient to furnish the electric current necessary for use.

All of the above mentioned improvements and buildings were made without calling for an appropriation from the state.

The sum of $13,418.13 was expended during the last two years for repairs on the various buildings, and a number of minor improvements. A large portion of this amount was paid from the annual appropriation of 1893 for contingencies and repairs.

THE WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT.

The Department of Wisconsin was organized June 7, 1866, and the first Wisconsin Post was chartered at Madison June 10, 1866. This post, now known as Lucius Fairchild, No. 11, is still active and has 184 members. Post No. 4, of Berlin, was chartered Sept. 8, 1866, and has maintained ever since an unbroken organization. It is said to be the oldest Post in existence with an unbroken record. Post No. 10, Oshkosh, was chartered Aug. 1, 1866.

General James K. Proudfit was the leading spirit in the organization of the G. A. R. in Wisconsin and became the first Department Commander. He is now the oldest Post Commander and Department Commander living. The following is the list of all Commanders up to the present:

The Department reached its largest membership in 1889, when it was 13,944. December 31, 1906, there were 253 Posts, with 9,378 members.

The legislature of 1901 established in the capitol a permanent G. A. R. memorial hall for the preservation of relics and books commemorative of the war, pictures of war scenes, and portraits of men and women who did good service in war times. This hall was to be maintained by the state. It was made the headquarters of the Department of Wisconsin and was well equipped by the state for that purpose. It was the finest department headquarters in the United States. When, Feb. 27, 1904, fire broke out in the capitol, this hall, with all it contained, was completely destroyed; but in the new capitol there will be a larger room of this kind and much better equipped. H. W. Rood, Company E, 12th Wisconsin, is Custodian of this Memorial Hall. At present the Department is at home at 117 North Hamilton street. Wisconsin is generous in her attitude toward the old soldiers.

At the last Encampment—Marinette, June 13-15, 1906—the following named officers were chosen: Commander, John W. Ganes, Fox Lake; Senior Vice Commander, Jason K. Wright, Marinette; Junior Vice Commander, L. A. Brace, Eau Claire; Medical Director, F. R. Garlock, M. D., Racine; Chaplain, Rev. A. O. Britton, Superior; Assistant Adjutant General, C. A. ## LADIES OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

This society of loyal and patriotic women is said to have had its origin in Portland, Maine, in 1867, under the name of the Loyal Ladies' League. The first organized Department was that of New Jersey, 1881, with eight subordinate Leagues. Mrs. Carrie M. Barge, of Vineland, was the first Department President. The following were the stated objects of the order:

"To unite with loyalty, love for one another; to practice precepts of true fraternity of feeling toward all the sisters of our order, thus emulating the spirit that unites our fathers, husbands and brothers; to honor the memory of our fallen heroes; to perpetuate and keep forever sacred Memorial Day; to assist the Grand Army of the Republic in its high and holy mission—aid, encourage and sympathize with them in their noble work of charity; to extend needful aid to members in time of sickness and distress; to aid sick soldiers, sailors and marines, and do all in our power to alleviate suffering."

Eligibility to membership required an applicant to be of good moral character, and the mother or wife, sister or daughter of an honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine who served in the Union Army during the Civil War of 1861-65. These requirements differed from those of the Woman's Relief Corps, which organization decided at its national convention in Denver, in 1883, to admit to membership any loyal woman of worthy character.

On November 18, 1866, at a convention in Chicago, a National organization was effected, and the name changed to "Ladies of the G. A. R.," local societies to be known as Circles. Mrs. Laura McNeir, Camden, New Jersey, was chosen president. All loyal mothers and wives, sisters and daughters, and all lineal female descendants—sixteen years of age or over—of honorably discharged Union soldiers, sailors or marines and ex-army nurses, of good moral character, were declared eligible to membership. Veterans of that war may become honorary members.

The order now has, January 1, 1907, 37 departments, with a total membership of 40,996. The National President is Elma B. Dalton, Winfield, Kansas; Secretary, Mrs. Julia M. Gordon, Topeka, Kansas; Treasurer, Mrs. Ella S. Jones, Allegheny, Pa.

The Department of Wisconsin was organized in 1893. It now numbers 696 active members and 247 honorary—total 943. The names of the present department officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Martha Showalter, Lancaster; Secretary, Miss Sylvia Wheeler, Lancaster; Treasurer, Mrs. Emma Sonneman, Sheboygan, 501 Wisconsin Ave.; Senior Vice President, Miss Lillian Clark, Milwaukee; Junior Vice President, Mrs. Mary Clark, Milwaukee; Chaplain, Mrs. Ethel Irish, Fond du Lac; Counsellor, Mrs. Flora Miller, Green Bay; Patriotic Instructor, Mrs. Dora Snyder, Oshkosh. The following named ladies have been Department Presidents: Mary A. Dix, Clara B. Sloane, Flora Miller, Lennie Grimes, Emma Wheldon, Irene W. Jones, Martha Showalter, Kathryn W. Loomis and Dora Snyder.

There are at present 23 Circles in Wisconsin.

Amount given by the order for the needy, from June, 1905, to June, 1906, $18,672.35: turned over to Posts, $3,610.05; memorial fund by the department, $969.82. They hold their department and national conventions at the same times and places with the annual encampments of the Grand Army of the Republic.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

This auxiliary society of the Grand Army of the Republic had its origin at Portland, Maine, in a local organization there in connection with the G. A. R. Post, in 1869. The first state organization was perfected at Fitchburg, Massachusetts, in April, 1879, when it took the name it now bears. In 1881 the Society received the official recognition of the G. A. R., and they then took the full title, "Woman's Relief Corps, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic." The first national gathering was at Denver, Col., July 25, 1883. It was there decided that all loyal women, whether of kin to soldiers of the war or not, should be eligible to membership. Those positively in favor of admitting only women of the families of soldiers withdrew and organized the "Ladies Loyal League," now "Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic."

The plan of organization is much like that of the G. A. R. Local societies are called corps; state associations, departments; and the national meeting a convention. Department and national annual meetings are held at the same times and places with those of the G. A. R.

The objects of the society are: "To specially aid and assist the Grand Army of the Republic and to perpetuate the memory of their heroic dead. To assist such union veterans as need our help and protection, and to extend needful aid to their widows and orphans. To find them homes and employment, and assure them of sympathy and friends. To cherish and emulate the deeds of our army nurses and of all loyal women who rendered loving service to their country in her hour of peril. To inculcate lessons of patriotism and love of country among our children, and in the communities in which we live. To maintain true allegiance to the United States of America. To discountenance whatever tends to weaken loyalty, and to encourage the spread of universal liberty and equal rights to all men."

The first national president, in 1883, was Mrs. Florence Baker, Malden, Mass. The present officers are: President, Mrs. Carrie R. Sparklin, St. Louis, Mo.; Secretary, Belle C. Kimball, St. Louis, Mo.; Treasurer, Charlotte E. Wright, New Haven, Conn. There are at present 35 departments, comprising 2,648 corps, with 126,224 members. There are 109 corps in states where there are no department organizations. Up to June 30, 1906, relief to the amount of $3,057,444.97 had been extended in aid of old soldiers and their families.

The Department of Wisconsin was organized at La Crosse, June 26, 1884. Seven local corps were there represented, and, if the records are correct, there were even voting members present. The order has grown steadily since then, and now has 149 corps in Wisconsin, with 6,796 members.

Up to June 30, 1906, relief had been expended amounting to $125,609.56 in money besides several thousands of dollars worth of clothing, furniture and food. Of this amount, $16,039.54 was for Wisconsin Veterans' Home, $7,823.86 for assistance in the Spanish-American war, and $708.89 for the Galveston flood sufferers. The order has done much toward the building and comfortable equipment of the cottages, halls and hospitals at the Wisconsin Veterans' Home at Waupaca, and in the way of patriotic instruction.

The present officers, January 1, 1907, are: President, Kathryn Bleyer, Milwaukee; Senior Vice President, Kate R. Walker, Oshkosh; Junior Vice President, Frances Rood, Peshtigo; Secretary, Caroline H. Bell, Milwaukee; Treasurer, Harriet I. Purcell, Beloit; Chaplain, Helen Grimm, Hartford; Inspector, Amanda Wettig, Milwaukee; Instituting and Installing Officer, Amanda Wheeler, Fond du Lac; Patriotic Instructor, Jennie B. Wright, Kilbourn; Counselor, Cora M. Evans, Waupaca; Press Correspondent, Lettie F. Withers, Eau Claire.

The following named persons have been presidents of this department: Harriet Dun'ap, Lodi, 1884-85-86; Gertie Rogers, Milwaukee, 1886-87-88; Caroline H. Bell, Milwaukee, 1888-89-90; Helen Holmes Charlton, Brodhead, 1890-91; Helen M. Puffer, Monroe, 1891-92; Louise C. Williams, Oconomowoc, 1892-93; Belle S. Hanover, Merrill, 1893-94-95; Elizabeth Skeel, Menomonie, 1895-96; Lucinda C. Burchard, Fort Atkinson, 1896-97; Lettie F. Withers, Eau Claire, 1897-98; Libbie C. Baer, Appleton, 1898-99; Bell W. Bliss, Baraboo, 1899-1900; Myra C. Grinnell, Beloit, 1900-01; Harriet L. Welton, Madison, 1901-02; Cora M. Evans, Waupaca, 1902-03; and Celesta L. Edwards, Oconomowoc, 1903-04; Ellen P. Weatherby, Schullsburg, 1904-05; Fannie McAllister, Omro, 1905-1906.

The time and place of annual meetings correspond to those of the Grand Army of the Republic. The next national convention will be held at Saratoga, N. Y.; that for the department of Wisconsin, at Oshkosh.

THE SONS OF VETERANS.

One of the most active organizations auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic is The Sons of Veterans of the United States of America. The order was established November 12, 1881, at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, by Major A. P. Davis, and it has grown rapidly. It is based upon the following:

Principles.—(1) A firm belief and trust in Almighty God, and a realization that under His beneficent guidance the free institutions of our land, consecrated by the services and blood of our fathers, have been preserved, and the integrity and life of the nation maintained.

(2) True allegiance to the government of the United States, based upon a respect for, and devotion and fidelity to, its constitution and laws, manifested by discountenancing anything that may tend to weaken loyalty, incite to insurrection, treason or rebellion, or in any way impair the efficiency and permanency of our national union.

Objects.—To keep green the memories of our fathers and their sacrifices for the maintenance of the Union; to aid the members of the Grand Army of the Republic in caring for disabled and helpless veterans; to extend aid and protection to their widows and orphans; to perpetuate the memory and history of their heroic dead, and maintain the proper observance of Memorial Day; to aid and assist worthy and needy members of our order; to inculcate patriotism and love of country, not alone among our members, but among all people of our land; and to spread and sustain the doctrine of equal rights, universal liberty and justice to all.

Membership.—Members must be at least eighteen years old, and the sons of deceased or honorably discharged Union soldiers. The sons of members of the order are eligible to membership on becoming twenty-one years of age.

The following is the report of the number of members June 30, 1906:

It receives both men and women as students. It has several full courses of study, but emphasizes the value of American history,—the development, growth and preservation of our free institutions. Instruction there is neither sectarian nor partisan, but is intensely patriotic. There are more than forty instructors and lecturers. In establishing this school the Sons of Veterans have given a worthy example of practical patriotism.

The annual encampments of the Sons of Veterans are held at the same time and place with those of the Grand Army of the Republic. The next meeting will be held June 3-6, 1907, at Oshkosh.

PENSION LAWS, PENSIONERS AND PENSIONS.

To obtain a pension the applicant must file a claim with the Commissioner of Pensions at Washington, D. C. In his claim the soldier should set forth all his military or naval service, giving dates of enlistment and discharge. He should also clearly state the name or nature of all disabilities for which a pension is claimed, giving the time when, the place where and the circumstances under which each was contracted. The prime requirement to establish a claim under the act of July 14, 1862, usually called the general law, is to show that the disability for which pension is claimed had its origin while in the service and line of duty; that it has existed as a disabling cause from the date of discharge, and now exists in a degree pensionable under the law.

In a claim under the act of June 27, 1890, the essential requirements are: A service of ninety days or more in the war of the Rebellion, an honorable discharge therefrom and proof that the disability for which a pension is claimed is not due to vicious habits, but it need not necessarily be of service origin.

Survivors of the various Indian wars and uprisings—who served thirty days or more—from 1817 to 1856, inclusive, and who were honorably discharged under United States military, state, territorial or provisional authority, are entitled to pensions, as are also the surviving widows of such soldiers, whether officers or enlisted men, excepting in cases where widows have remarried. Soldiers who were in the military or naval service of the Confederate states, but subsequently enlisted in the United States army or navy, performed faithful service and were honorably discharged therefrom, and the widows and minor children of such soldiers, are pensionable. This provision, however, does not include surviving members of the 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th United States Volunteers, who had prior Confederate service, but were enlisted while prisoners of war under special stipulation that they were not to be pensionable.

Soldiers who deserted, but subsequently enlisted and rendered faithful service for a period of six months or more, and were honorably discharged, but received no bounty or other gratuity from the United States than that to which they would have been entitled had they been regularly discharged from their prior service, are also entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls.

In a widow's claim it is necessary to prove the fact of her legal marriage to the soldier, the date of his death, and, under the general law, that it was of service origin. She must also show that she has remained his widow. If there are children of the soldier under sixteen years of age at the date of his death, their names should be given and the date of birth of each clearly shown. If any have died the date or dates of death should be proved. In a widow's claim under act of June 27, 1890, the requirement concerning the fact of service is the same as under the claim of an invalid, but in addition thereto she must prove the fact of her legal marriage to the soldier prior to the passage of the act, the fact of his death,—though it need not be shown that it was caused by his army service,—her continued widowhood and that she is without other means of support than her daily labor. The act of May 9, 1900, so amends that of June 27, 1890, as to make a widow pensionable if without means of support other than her daily labor and a net annual income of $250.

By act of congress, approved March 3, 1901, a widow who was pensioned, or entitled to a pension, under the general law, but forfeited her claim by re-marriage, may, upon proving the fact of the death of her last husband, and that her net annual income is less than $250, be restored to the pension roll if the widow was entitled to, but had never proved her right to a pension. She must first prosecute and receive the pension due her from the death of the soldier to the date of her re-marriage, and then prosecute the claim for reissue.

A minor child's title to a pension is good only on the death or re-marriage of the widow, which fact must be shown in addition to the requirements in a widow's claim. A dependent mother must show her relationship to the soldier, his celibacy, that he contributed to her support, that his death was due to some cause of service origin, the date of his death, and, under the general law, that she was dependent upon him for support at the time of his death. Under the act of June 27, 1890, it is necessary only to show her dependence at the time of filing her claim and since then. A dependent father must show relationship by legal marriage to the soldier's mother, the date of the soldier's birth and of the mother's death, in addition to the requirements in a mother's claim. Applications rejected by a Board of Pension Surgeons may be reconsidered on the evidence of two physicians that the disability exists.

Act of Congress. February 6, 1907: That any person who served ninety days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the late civil war, or sixty days in the war with Mexico, and who has been honorably discharged therefrom, and who has reached the age of sixty-two years or over, shall, upon making proof of such facts according to such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may provide, be placed upon the pension roll, and be entitled to receive a pension as follows: In case such person has reached the age of sixty-two years, twelve dollars per month; seventy years, fifteen dollars per month, seventy-five years or over, twenty dollars per month; and such pension shall commence from the date of the filing of the application in the Bureau of Pensions after the passage and approval of this act: Provided, that pensioners who are sixty-two years of age or over, and who are now receiving pensions under existing laws, or whose claims are pending in the Bureau of Pensions, may, by application to the Commissioner of Pensions, in such form as he may prescribe, receive the benefits of this act; and nothing herein contained shall prevent any pensioner or person entitled to a pension from prosecuting his claim and receiving a pension under any other general or special act: Provided, that no person shall receive a pension under any other law at the same time or for the same period that he is receiving a pension under the provisions of this act: Provided, further, that no person who is now receiving or shall hereafter receive a greater pension under any other general or special law than he would be entitled to receive under the provisions herein shall be pensionable under this act.

Sec. 2. That rank in the service shall not be considered in applications filed hereunder.

Sec. 3. That no pension attorney, claim agent, or other person shall be entitled to receive any compensation for services rendered in presenting any claim to the Bureau of Pensions, or securing any pension, under this act.

Pensions for privates range, in most cases, from $6 to $30 per month, though $72 per month is granted to those who have lost both feet or both eyes, and $100 per month to those who have lost both hands. The number of pensioners on the rolls in the several states and territories on June 30, 1906, with the total amount paid during the fiscal year that ended on that day, is shown in the following table:

STATE PENSION AGENCY.

The state of Wisconsin has by law constituted the adjutant general,—at present Charles R. Boardman,—state agent for pensions. He will, upon application, supply free all necessary blanks for applications and evidence in all classes of pensions; will give advice and all possible assistance in procuring evidence; will file copies of testimony and perform all the various offices of pension attorney for all soldiers or their heirs residing in Wisconsin free of charge, regardless of the branch of service or organization to which the applicant was attached.

Since this free state pension agency was established in 1889 nearly 9,000 claims have been filed with the adjutant general, over 7,600 of which have been adjudicated and more than 80 per cent. successfully prosecuted.

MILITARY ORDER OF THE ROYAL LEGION OF THE UNITED STATES.

UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Directly after the return of the volunteers of the Spanish-American War the men began to form various local or regimental organizations, the general object being to perpetuate the associations of the camp and field, also to inculcate a general spirit of patriotism. Not long after these societies were merged into a national organization known as the Spanish-American War Veterans. This national society was formed at Trenton, New Jersey, December 14, 1899. Camps were soon established in every state and territory in the Union. Later this society was joined with that known as the Spanish War Veterans under the name of the United Spanish War Veterans. The first annual encampment of this organization was held at St. Louis on the 19th and 20th of September, 1904. This meeting was largely attended, the proceedings were most harmonious and the greatest interest was manifested in the present and future of the consolidated Encampment. Delegates were present from all the consolidated Societies, and all comrades mingled in the happiest and most fraternal manner. The character and attendance of this First Encampment demonstrated that the organization is now established on a permanent and effective basis and has entered upon a bright and useful career.

MILITARY ORDER OF FOREIGN WARS OF UNITED STATES.

WISCONSIN COMMANDERY.

The war with Spain and the later conflicts with the insurgents of the Philippine Islands and the "Boxers" of the Chinese Empire, have given rise to a number of military societies differing but little in their purpose, but sufficiently in their articles of association to create between them a spirit of rivalry. Officers of repute and standing have found it difficult to decide between these several societies and have as yet joined none. To these especially, and to all officers of honorable record the Society of Foreign Wars presents unusual attractions. It has no rival society. Its sons derive their right of membership from personal service in the War with Mexico or those waged in later years with Spain, with the Filipinos, with the Chinese bandits or else by inheritance from ancestors who fought with England, France or the Algerians in the earlier days of the nation. The National Society embraces the most historic names of America. The state societies are rapidly growing and throughout the society there is harmony of spirit and just pride in the membership. In the Eastern States no Order is more highly regarded. In the West it seems as yet, but imperfectly understood.

SITUATION, SURROUNDINGS AND EQUIPMENT.

The Northwestern branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers is beautifully situated about three miles from the city of Milwaukee, with which it is connected by two lines of electric railway. The main building, which affords quarters for 800 disabled volunteers, is an imposing structure, from the lofty tower of which floats our national banner. Five other substantially-built barracks furnish comfortable quarters for the remaining members. The hospital is a commodious and well-lighted building, in which about 400 sick and decrepit old soldiers receive kind care and attention from the attending surgeons and a corps of trained female nurses. A theater, in which entertainments are given by professional actors engaged for that purpose, a fine military band and orchestra, billiard, card and reading rooms, and a library of 10 832 books, 30 newspapers and 44 magazines, provide recreation and amusement for the disabled veterans. The Home grounds contain 385 acres, about a half of which is under cultivation. The remainder is a wooded park, beautifully undulating, traversed by shady walks and drives, and with several charming little lakes well supplied with pleasure boats.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

(Extracts from Acts of Congress, approved March 21, 1866, May 26, 1900, and January 28, 1901.)

FIRST—"The following persons only shall be entitled to the benefits of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers and may be admitted thereto upon the order of a member of the Board of Managers, namely: All honorably discharged officers, soldiers and sailors who served in the regular or volunteer forces of the United States in any war in which the country has been engaged, including the Spanish-American war, and the provisional army, authorized by (act of congress, approved March 2, 1899), who are disabled by disease, wounds, or otherwise, and who have no adequate means of support, are not otherwise provided for by law, and by reason of such disability are incapable of earning their living."

SECOND—In making application for original admission (for which purpose a blank form is provided for the Home with full directions printed thereon), the applicant is required to make oath as follows: The said applicant further swears that he has never been a member of either of the branches of the National Home, nor within six months a member of a State Home for disabled volunteer soldiers and sailors. And said applicant further stipulates and agrees that he will abide by and obey all the rules and regulations made by the Board of Managers, or by their order; that he will perform all duties required of him, and obey all lawful orders of the officers of the Home; and he hereby authorizes and empowers the Treasurer of the Home to draw his pension money and hold the same, subject to his order, under the laws of Congress and the rules, regulations and orders which have been or may hereafter be made by the Board of Managers of said National Home in accordance with such laws.

THIRD—All members of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers are by law subject to the rules and articles of war.

FOURTH—The soldier or sailor making application for admission must forward with his application his discharge, or a certified copy thereof, and when he is a pensioner his pension certificate, before his application is granted, which papers will be returned to him when he is discharged. This rule is adopted to prevent the loss of such papers and certificates, and to hinder fraudulent practices.

FIFTH—Soldiers and sailors whose pensions exceed sixteen dollars per month will not be admitted to the Home unless for special reasons.

SIXTH—Those who have been members of State Homes must have been discharged from those Homes at least six months, before they can be admitted to a branch of the National Home, except by a vote of the Board of Managers.

SEVENTH—Soldiers or sailors who have been previously members of the Home, and who desire to be readmitted, will make their application upon the blank form provided for that purpose (No. 18), which will be furnished on application to any branch.

Applicants are requested to conform strictly to the above requirements.

Admission to the Home may be procured, when vacancies exist, by applying to Colonel Cornelius Wheeler, National Home, Milwaukee County, Wisconsin, Governor of the Northwestern Branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer soldiers.

Note 1. Specie payments were suspended from January 1, 1863, to January 1, 1879. During the greater part of that period gold and silver coins were not in circulation except on the Pacific coast, where, it is estimated, the specie circulation was generally about $25,000,000. This estimated amount is the only coin included in the above statement from 1862 to 1875, inclusive.

Note 2.—In 1876 subsidiary silver again came into use, and is included in this statement, beginning with that year.

Note 3.—The coinage of standard silver dollars began in 1878, under the act of February 28, 1878.

Note 4.—Specie payments were resumed January 1, 1879, and all gold and silver coins, as well as gold and silver bullion in the treasury, are included in this statement from and after that date.

Note 5.—For redemption of outstanding certificates an exact equivalent in amount of the appropriate kinds of money is held in the treasury, and is not included in the account of money held as assets of the government.

Note 6.—This table represents the circulation of the United States as shown by the revised statements of the treasury department for June 30 of each of the years specified.

Note 7.—The details of the foregoing table, showing the amount of each kind of money in circulation each year since 1860, are omitted, but they may be had upon application to the secretary of the treasury, division of loans and currency, where a circular covering information on the subject has been prepared for distribution.

THE EVOLUTION OF WISCONSIN.

Spanish Dominion—1512-1634.

Because of early discoveries by her navigators and inland explorers, Spain laid a general but undefined claim to the greater part of the wilderness of North America, to which the name of Florida was given. This condition of affairs lasted from about 1512 until the irruption of the French, who penetrated the continent by means of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers and the Great Lakes, and gradually made claim to the inland water systems, as fast as discovered by their adventurous fur-traders and missionaries. It should be understood, however, that within this vast territory there were few if any Spaniards, nearer than the Gulf of Mexico.

During this period, the kings of Spain, therefore of nebulous Wisconsin, were: Ferdinand V. (1512-1516), Charles I. (1516-1556), Philip II. (1556-1598), Philip III. (1598-1621), and Philip IV. (1621-1665).

French Dominion—1634-1760.

In 1634 (twenty-six years after the founding of Quebec) the explorer Jean Nicolet (pr. Nik-o-lay) sent out by Champlain, then governor of New France (Canada), entered what is now Wisconsin and introduced the French fur-trade to our savages. Thereafter, until the downfall of New France in 1759-1760, Wisconsin was a part of New France, of which the governors were as follows:

- 1608-1635—Samuel de Champlain.
- 1635-1636—Marc Antoine de Brasderfer de Chasteaufort.
- 1636-1648—Charles Huault de Montmagny.
- 1648-1651—Louis d'Ailleboust de Coulonge.
- 1651-1656—Jean de Lauson.
- 1656-1657—Charles de Louson de Charny.
- 1657-1658—Louis d'Ailleboust de Coulonge.
- 1658-1661—Pierre de Voyer, vicomte d'Argenson.
- 1661-1663—Pierre du Bois, baron d'Avaugour.
- 1663-1665—Augustin de Saffray, chevalier de Mézy.
- 1665— — Jacques le Neuf de la Poterie.
- 1665-1672—Daniel de Rémy de Courcelles.
- 1672-1682—Louis de Buade, comte de Frontenac.
- 1682-1685—Le Fèvre de la Barre.
- 1685-1689—Jacques René de Brisay, marquis de Denonville.
- 1689-1698—Count Frontenac again.
- 1698-1703—Louis Hector de Callières.
- 1703-1725—Philip de Rigault, marquis de Vaudreuil.
- 1725-1726—Charles Lemoyne, baron de Longueuil.
- 1726-1747—Charles, marquis de Beauharnois.
- 1747-1749—Michael Rolland Barrin, comte de la Galissonnière.

1749-1752—Jacques Pierre de Taffanel, marquis de la Jonquière.

1752- — Charles Lemoyne again.

1752-1755—Marquis Duquesne de Menneville.

1755-1760—Marquis de Vaudreuil again.

During the period when Wisconsin was owned by the French (practically 1634-1760), France had only three successive kings—Louis XIII., who reigned from 1610 to 1643; his successor, Louis XIV., who reigned till 1715; and Louis XV., who reigned till 1774. All white persons then in Wisconsin, also (nominally) all the savages within our borders, were subjects of these monarchs.

English Dominion—1760-1783.

Immediately upon the surrender of New France to the English, as the result of the French and Indian War, Wisconsin became, with other western country, English colonial territory, sacred to the prosecution of the fur-trade. In 1774, King George III. by the so-called "Quaker Act," made it a part of the Province of Quebec, and thus it remained until the close of the Revolutionary War, when by the treaty of 1873 the country "Northwest of the River Ohio" and eastward of the Mississippi River was ceded to the United States.

The governors of Canada, during the time Wisconsin was under English dominion, were: Sir Jeffery Amherst (as commander-in-chief), 1760-1763; Gen. Thomas Gage (commander-in-chief), 1763-1764; Gen. James Murray (the first governor-general), 1763-1766; Palinus Emelius Irvine (as president of council, to cover a hiatus of three months), 1766; Sir Guy Carleton (as lieutenant-governor and commander-in-chief). 1766-1778; but from 1770-1774 Hector Theophilus Cramahé was acting lieutenant-governor while Carleton was in England; Gen. Sir Frederick Haldimand (governor-general). 1778-1784. While the Northwest nominally became United States territory by the treaty of 1783, England still held the military posts on the upper lakes till 1796—among them, Mackinac, of which Green Bay was a recognized dependency. Henry Hamilton (lieutenant-governor of Canada) succeeded Haldimand in 1784; then followed Gen. Henry Hope (president of council), 1785-1786; Guy Carleton again (now as Lord Dorchester, and governor-general), 1786-1796; and John Graves Simcoe (lieutenant-governor of the Upper Province of Canada), 1792-1796.

American Dominion—1783 to date.

Wisconsin a part of the Northwest Territory.—Owing to the vague and undefined boundaries given to the original English coast colonies in their respective charters, at a time when little or nothing was known of the geography of North America, several of the states claimed territory in the Northwest; but finally they compromised by ceding these claims to the federal government, in order to form a national domain, from which to create new states. The country northwest of the River Ohio was therefore, by the Ordinance of 1787, erected into the Northwest Territory, of which Wisconsin of course became a part. The governor was Gen. Arthur St. Clair, 1789-1802.

A part of Indian Territory.—May 7, 1800, the Northwest Territory was divided into two territories on the line beginning on the Ohio River opposite the mouth of Kentucky River, and running thence to Fort Recovery (near the present Greenville, Ohio), and thence north to the international boundary; all east of that line became Ohio, and west of it Indiana Territory. Thus Wisconsin became a part of the latter. The governor of Indiana Territory at this time was Gen. William Henry Harrison, 1800-1811.

Various changes took place in the boundaries of Indiana Territory—as when (Feb. 19, 1803) what is now all of the lower Michigan peninsula was added to Indiana; and when (Jan. 11, 1805) Michigan Territory was set off, consisting only of the lower peninsula.

A part of Illinois Territory.—February 3, 1809, Indiana Territory was cut down into the present limits of the state of that name, and all the rest of what had been Indiana Territory was set off as Illinois Territory—the latter of course including all of what is now Wisconsin. The governor of Illinois Territory was Ninian Edwards, 1809-1818.

Attached to Michigan Territory.—April 18, 1818, the state of Illinois was created, with its existing boundaries; and all west of Lake Michigan to the Mississippi River was added to Michigan Territory—in this manner the future Wisconsin became a part of Michigan. Michigan Territory was further aggrandized (June 28, 1834) by adding to it, for administrative purposes, all the country west of the Mississippi and north of Missouri as far as the Missouri River—thus including the site of what is now the city of Bismarck, N. D. The governors of Michigan Territory at this time were, Lewis Cass, 1813-1831; George B. Porter, 1831-1834; and S. T. Mason, 1834-1836.

Wisconsin Territory.—April 20, 1836, Wisconsin Territory was erected, embracing all of what is now Wisconsin, westward to the Missouri River, thus including the present Minnesota, Iowa, and much of the two Dakotas.

June 12, 1838, the Territory of Iowa was erected out of that portion of Wisconsin lying west of the Mississippi river. When Wisconsin was admitted into the Union (May 29, 1848), the portion lying between St. Croix river and the Mississippi was detached and given to the new Territory of Minnesota—in this manner Wisconsin was restricted to its present-day boundaries.

For details of these several boundary changes, with illustrative maps, see article in Wisconsin Historical Collections, xi, pp. 451-501. The story of how Wisconsin acquired statehood, is given in a previous article in this edition of the Blue Book, see pp. 17-20.

AN OUTLINE HISTORY OF WISCONSIN.

(Originally prepared by Gen. Edwin E. Bryant; edited and brought down to date by REUBEN G. THWAITES, LL. D., Secretary and Superintendent of State Historical Society of Wisconsin.)

Early Explorations.—1634.—Jean Nicolet was sent by Samuel de Champlain, governor of New France, at Quebec, to explore the Northwest. He came by way of Ottawa River, and Lakes Huron and Michigan, and landed on what is now Wisconsin soil, probably at Red Banks, on the eastern shore of Green Bay. Clothed in a silken robe, he advanced into a village of the Winnebago, discharging pistols held in each hand. He was received with welcome, the Indians thinking him the god of lightning and thunder. A great feast was then held, a hundred and twenty beavers being eaten. He then proceeded up Fox River to near the present site of Berlin, where was a palisaded village of the Mascoutin. A large painting of Nicolet's arrival among the Winnebago, by Edwin Willard Deming, of New York, is to be seen in the museum of the State Historical Society, at Madison.

1654.—Pierre Esprit Radisson and Medard Chouart des Grosseilliers followed in the wake of Nicolet and wintered among the Potawatomi in the Green Bay region. In the spring of 1655 they ascended Fox River, portaged across, and entered the Wisconsin, spending four months on the trip. The published narrative of Radisson indicates that possibly they proceeded as far as the mouth of the Wisconsin and saw the Mississippi: but scholars do not agree upon this.

1659.—The same adventurers, Radisson and Grosseilliers, with six other fur-traders and a band of Huron Indians, skirted the south shore of Lake Superior in their canoes, passed the Pictured Rocks, learned of the great mines of copper, and, late in the autumn, entered Chequamegon Bay. Near the present site of Ashland they built a crude fort close to the water's edge. Hiding their stores in a cache, they visited the Huron village on the headwaters of what was apparently the Chippewa River, and wandered as far west as the Mille Lac region in Minnesota, there wintering among the Sioux.

1660.—The same party returned to Chequamegon Bay and built a fort on Oak Point, eastward of Ashland. They returned to Three Rivers in Canada the same year.

Father Pierre Ménéard, a Jesuit missionary, came to Keweenaw Bay this year. In the spring of 1661, after a winter of great hardship among the Indians, he and a white companion set out to visit the Huron villages on the Chippewa and Black rivers. They suffered intensely from mosquitoes, hunger, and the insolence and cruelty of the Indian guide, but finally, in safety, reached the Wisconsin River, which they descended for a considerable distance. While portaging Bill Cross rapids, Ménéard lost the obscure trail, and was never seen again. He probably died from exposure. His kettle, breviary, and cassock are said to have been afterward seen in the possession of the Indians.

1665.—Father Claude Allouez, another Jesuit missionary, was then sent to re-open the mission on Lake Superior. He came from Canada, by way of the lakes, into Chequamegon Bay, and chose for the site of the mission a point on the southwest shore, between the sites now occupied by Washburn and Ashland, which he named "La Pointe du Saint Esprit." Remaining here four years, he was relieved by a younger priest, Father Jacques Marquette.

1669.—Father Allouez was invited by the Potawatomi to Depere (abbreviated from Rapides des Pères, or the "Fathers' Rapids"), where he established the mission of St. Francis Xavier.

1670.—The Sieur Saint Lussou, piloted by a prominent fur-trade adventurer, Nicolas Perrot, came to Sault Ste. Marie and there in the presence of Allouez and other Jesuits, with Perrot acting as interpreter, took possession of the Northwest in the name of the French king. Among the party was Louis Jolliet, a professional fur-trader and explorer.

1672.—Father Allouez established the mission of St. Mark, probably on the Little Wolf River, within the present Waupaca county. He made a voyage up Fox River, visiting the Foxes and Mascoutin, above Lake Winnebago; among them he established the mission of St. James, the following year.

1673.—Louis Jolliet and Father Marquette set out in May, from St. Ignace mission, at the Straits of Mackinac, in canoes paddled by voyageurs, or boatmen, and reached the Mascoutin village on the Upper Fox, June 7; they then pushed up through its reeds, made the portage at the present site of Portage, into the Wisconsin River, which they descended to its mouth, arriving there June 17. They descended the Mississippi as far as the mouth of the Arkansas. The narrative and map of this voyage and journey by Marquette have made the names of Jolliet and Marquette immortal; Jolliet's papers unfortunately were lost by the upsetting of his canoe in La Chine Rapids, near Montreal.

1674.—Jolliet and Marquette, returning from their canoe voyage, came up the Mississippi and Illinois rivers, made portage to Chicago, thence paddled down the shores of Lake Michigan and in September were again at the St. Francis Xavier mission, at Depere. In October, 1674, Marquette started with two assistants to establish a mission at Kaskaskia, among the Illinois Indians. Proceeding by way of Green Bay, they came to Sturgeon Bay; thence they made the portage eastward across the peninsula, where the Sturgeon Bay ship canal now is, and paddled up the lake to the mouth of the Chicago River, where they wintered on a sand dune near the shore, in much discomfort. In the spring they proceeded to the Illinois River and Kaskaskia. But a mortal sickness was on the intrepid Marquette; and he turned back to Mackinac, hoping to die among his brethren. He died on the journey, May 19, of a dysentery brought on by the hardships and privations he had suffered. He was buried at the mouth of the little stream called by his name on the Michigan side of the lake, near Ludington.

The same year a daring chief of the couveurs des bois (wood-rangers), Daniel Greysolon du Luth (from whom the city of Duluth was named), explored the Upper Mississippi, taking special note of the Wisconsin and Black rivers. Visiting the Mille Lac Sioux, his party went with their band on a great buffalo hunt, below the St. Croix River on the Wisconsin side.

1680.—Father Hennepin, a Recollet friar of La Salle's party, with two voyageurs, Accau and Anguel, set out, under orders of La Salle, to explore the Upper Mississippi. Leaving the mouth of Illinois River, March 12, they passed the mouth of the Wisconsin, and the site of Prairie du Chien. Below Lake Pepin the party were taken prisoners by the Sioux, and carried to the present site of St. Paul, thence to the Mille Lacs. Kept here for two months, they started with a party on a buffalo hunt. At the mouth of Rum River, Hennepin and Auguel were set at liberty, given a gun, knife, an earthen pot and a small canoe. They began their journey, descended the river into the Mississippi, and passed the great falls, which Hennepin named after St. Anthony. Nearing the mouth of the Chippewa River, being driven by starvation, they ascended that river and joined a party of Sioux hunters, by whom they were roughly treated, but permitted to live.

Du Luth voyaged from Lake Superior to the Mississippi with a small party. He canoed up the Bois Brulé—now a famous trout stream, midway between Bayfield and Superior—crossed over from its upper waters to the head of the Saint Croix, and descended that river into the Mississippi. He there heard of some white men with the Sioux, and pushing on found Hennepin and Auguel, with the Indian hunting party near the mouth of Chippewa River. Rescuing Hennepin and his companion, the united parties returned to the Mille Lacs. That year, in his voyage up the river, Father Hennepin was the first white man to visit the fine prairie on this river, now Prairie du Chien. In autumn, Du Luth and Hennepin drifted down to the mouth of the Wisconsin River, thence up that stream; they then portaged across to the Fox, down which they paddled, and proceeded to Mackinac. Later, Du Luth made several voyages of this kind.

1683.—Le Sueur, a prominent fur-trader, passed the Fox and Wisconsin route, thence ascended the Mississippi to the Falls of St. Anthony (at the present Minneapolis).

1685.—Nicolas Perrot, a daring chief of the coureurs des bois, whose previous explorations are above narrated, was appointed "commandant of the west," with a small squad of twenty soldiers. He came to Green Bay, and there met Indians from the west, who told him of white men far to the southwest who lived in houses that "walked on the water"—probably Spaniards in sailing vessels. Perrot, desirous of further discoveries, passed over the Fox-Wisconsin route. He wintered on the east bank of the Mississippi, about a mile above where is now the village of Trempealeau. Afterwards he established several trading posts on the river, among them Fort St. Nicolas, near the site of Prairie du Chien, and worked lead mines in Iowa and Wisconsin.

1689.—Perrot took possession of the St. Croix, St. Peter, and Upper Mississippi valleys, in the name of the French king.

1693.—Le Sueur was sent by the authorities of New France, at Quebec, to restore the French prestige in the west, which had been much weakened by the intrigues of the Dutch-English traders from Albany on the Hudson. He built a stockaded fort at La Pointe, on Chequamegon Bay, and another on an island in the Mississippi, near Red Wing, Minnesota, which latter became the centre of western commerce.

1699.—Returning from France which he had visited, Le Sueur brought with him thirty experienced miners, and on his voyage up the Mississippi found lead mines at or near the sites of Dubuque and Galena, and at the "Smoke Diggings," near Potosi, Wisconsin.

In October, Father St. Cosme, a Sulpitian missionary from Quebec, found the Fox Indians opposed to his passing up the Fox river route to the Mississippi, and went south to the west shore of the lake. He stopped, as he supposed, at the present site of Sheboygan, where another missionary, Father Marest, had wintered and planted a cross.

1700.—Father St. Cosme visited Milwaukee Bay; finding there many Mascoutin Foxes, Potawatomi, etc. He calls the Milwaukee River the "Milwarick."

Wars with the Fox or Outagamie Indians.—The Fox Indians, objecting to the use by French traders of the great waterway from Green Bay to the Mississippi, levied tribute on all who passed thereby. In 1712, while on a visit to Detroit, whither they had been invited by the French commandant, they with their allies, the Sauk and Mascoutin, were attacked by a body of French Indians, and after defending themselves during a vigorous siege of nineteen days, were defeated, and eight hundred killed. It was claimed that they were in secret alliance with the Iroquois, and were plotting to destroy the French post. The remnant of the tribe at Green Bay immediately took up arms and harassed the French traders and allied Indians from the Illinois to Mackinac, making impossible the important Fox-Wisconsin route between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi. For four years the authorities in Canada delayed retribution, sufficing themselves with inciting the neighboring Indians against the Foxes. Finally Louis de la Porte, sieur de Louvigny, was chosen to conduct a campaign against the hostile tribe.

1716.—Leaving Montreal in the spring of the year, De Louvigny arrived at Mackinac with a detachment of eight hundred men, and surprising the Fox village, laid siege to it and set about mining and preparing to blow up the palisaded defense. Thereupon the frightened Foxes sued for peace, which was granted them upon severe conditions, and upon their surrender of six prominent chiefs as hostages. These were carried in triumph to Montreal, where three died the following winter of small-pox.

1717.—One of the hostages was sent back to his people to explain the decease of their tribesmen, and to secure the keeping of the peace. The Foxes evaded the French demands, and bided their time to make fresh attacks, preserving meanwhile the Iroquois alliance.

The Illinois country, with southern Wisconsin (to the mouth of Wisconsin River), placed under the government of Louisiana.

1718.—Posts founded at Green Bay and Chequamongon—the latter by Paul le Gardeur, sieur de St. Pierre with Godefroy de Linctot and a detachment of soldiers as garrison.

A settlement of French traders reported as existing at La Baye (see Wis. Hist. Colls., xvi, p. 371).

The Foxes divided into two parties—one headed by Ouchala desired peace with the French and sent an embassy to Montreal, where the governor treated them with clemency, yielding to them the remaining hostage and twelve prisoners captured in Louvigny's expedition.

1719.—Three Fox Chiefs, with a Kickapoo and Mascoutin, visit Montreal to excuse themselves for continuing the war against the Illinois, claiming to have acted in self-defense.

1721.—Father Charlevoix, the Jesuit historian, visited Wisconsin, accompanied by Jacques Testard, sieur de Montigny, who superseded the Sieur de la Morandière in command at La Baye (Green Bay).

1722-23.—Ouchala and the French party being helpless to interfere, Foxes continued the war upon the Illinois. They defeated the latter on Illinois River, at the site known as "Le Rocher." They were in turn attacked by the Chipewya and a band of Ottawa from Saginaw; after acting for a time on the defensive, they finally took the war-path in two directions—toward St. Joseph (Ind.) and Mackinac.

1724.—Marchand de Lignery, sent by the governor of New France to pacify the warring tribes, in concert with François d'Amariton, the commandant, and the Jesuit missionaries, Chardon and Saint Pé, held a conference at Green Bay, and made peace with all except the Illinois, where the lack of cooperation with the commandant deterred the pacification.

1726.—From Mackinac, where he commanded, De Lignery again visited La Baye, and patched up a temporary peace between the Foxes and the Illinois. The former tribe, however, had formed a confederacy of French-hating savages, including the Iroquois on the East, and the Sioux at the West.

1727.—In order to detach the Sioux from the Fox alliance, and also to furnish a basis for westward exploration, Fort Beauharnois was built on Lake Pepin, with Sieur de la Perrière in command.

1728.—War upon Foxes declared. De Lignery with 450 French and 1,240 savages left Mackinac early in August, and advanced up Fox River only to find the tribe he sought had fled from their villages. These he destroyed, as well as large crops of maize. On his return the French fort at Green Bay was destroyed, and messengers sent to warn the garrison at Fort Beauharnois. October

3, the French evacuated the latter, were captured and retained as hostages by Mascoutin and Kickapoo on their descent of the Mississippi.

1729.—Captive French detached Mascoutin and Kickapoo from Fox alliance and made peace between them and the Illinois. Foxes, attacked by neighbors and deserted by allies, sued for peace.

1730.—Marin, in charge of Menominee Indians, aided the Winnebago in an attack upon Fox fort on Little Lake Butte des Morts. News of a copper mine discovered on Lake Superior. Foxes attempting to seek asylum with the Iroquois, were stopped and badly defeated by French forces under command of Sieur de Villiers, from Forts St. Joseph, Chartres, and Ouatanon.

Remnant of Foxes, attacked by various bands of French allies, gathered at Green Bay and placed themselves under protection of the Sauk. De Villiers the new commandant, demanded that they be delivered up to be sent to Canada, to slavery and exile. Sauk de ended the Foxes and killed De Villiers, then abandoned their fort and fled to the territory beyond the Mississippi.

In the spring, Gorrell made treaties with the neighboring Indians.

Pontiac's conspiracy led to a confederation of Miami, Ottawa, Chippewa, Wyandot, Potawatomi, Missisagua, Shawnee, Foxes and Winnebago. They organized and burst upon the English posts upon the upper Great Lakes, eight of which were captured. After the massacre of a large part of the garrison at Mackinac, a friendly band of Indians escorted Gorrell and his party from Green Bay to L'Arbre Croche (on the east shore of Lake Michigan), where the remnants of the garrison that had been spared in the Mackinac slaughter were refuged.

1766.—Capt. Jonathan Carver, a medical student and officer of Massachusetts militia, visited Green Bay. He was searching for a northwest passage to the Pacific ocean, and passed over the Fox-Wisconsin route, wintering with the Sioux on the plains. Disappointed in his search, he returned next year by way of Lake Superior.

1774.—Civil government established over the Northwest and Canada by the "Quebec Act," under which Wisconsin became a part of the English Province of Quebec.

George Rogers Clark's agent, Godefroy Linctot, Indian trader at Prairie du Chien, detached many Wisconsin Indians from British alliance.

(Fort Shelby), started June 28, reaching Green Bay six days later, was joined by 30 habitants of Green Bay, and about 100 Indians. July 17 they landed at the mouth of the Wisconsin a few miles below Fort Shelby. The American garrison numbered some 60 or 70 effective men with 3 pieces of cannon. The fort consisted of a small stockade and 2 block houses; and a gun boat manned by part of the garrison, and with 14 cannon lay in the river. The attacking force was about 500 whites and 120 Indians. Lieutenant Perkins, the American officer in command, at first declined to surrender, but was finally forced to do so. McKay, with difficulty saved the prisoners from massacre by his Indian allies. The American loss was 5 killed and 10 wounded in the boat and 3 killed in the fort. Soon after, Perkins and his men were given back their arms and sent down the river. The name of the fort was then changed from Fort Shelby to Fort McKay.

1815.—After peace with Great Britain the British commander of the fort offered to turn the post over to the American governor at St. Louis (William Clark), and (May 24) hauled down his flag and proceeded up the Wisconsin, thence to Mackinac.

1816.—Treaty with Indians confirming that of 1804. Erection of Fort Crawford at Prairie du Chien; Fort Howard at Green Bay, begun; Major Morgan in command at the former, Col. John Miller at the latter fort.

1818.—Illinois admitted into the Union. Wisconsin attached to the territory of Michigan. Brown, Crawford, and Michillimackinac counties organized in Michigan embrace the whole of Wisconsin, besides other territory. Solomon Juneau arrived in Milwaukee.

The American Fur Company, founded by John Jacob Astor, had stations at Green Bay, on the Menomonee, Peshtigo, Oconto, and Upper Wolf rivers, Milwaukee, the entrepôt of trade with the Potawatomi. Augustin Grignon had a trading shanty at the present site of Kaukauna for the trade on the Lower Fox. At Prairie du Chien, Joseph Rolette was the chief trader for the American Fur Company, his field being on the Mississippi from Dubuque upwards. The same company had stations at La Pointe, and on Lac du Flambeau, Lac Chetac, Rice Lake, Tomahawk Lake, Lac Court Orielles, Namekagon Lake and other points in the Chippewa country.

The fur-traders, at various times in this period, established posts, which ultimately led to settlements at Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, La Crosse, Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, Madison, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, Two Rivers, Kewaunee, Green Bay, Prairie du Chien, Depere, Kaukauna, Neenah, Hudson, Portage, Menomonee, Oconto, Peshtigo, Black River Falls, Rice Lake, Baraboo, and Shullsburg.

1825.—Treaty concluded in August between the Indians of Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin by William Clark and Lewis Cass, the former then serving as superintendent of Indian affairs at St. Louis, the latter as governor of Michigan Territory. The Indians begin to grow sullen. An Episcopal mission established at Green Bay, by Rev. Norman Nash.

1826.—First steamboat on Lake Michigan. The lead mines received increased attention. The mining population increased from 100 to 406.

1827.—The rush to the lead mines continued. The Indians sullen and inimical to the whites. Fort Crawford abandoned, and the troops sent to Fort Snelling, near St. Paul. The Winnebago murdered a half-breed named Methode and his family near Prairie du Chien. Red Bird, and two other Indians, inflamed by rumors that Winnebago prisoners had been killed by the whites murdered and scalped Rigeste Gagnier and Solomon Lipcap near Prairie du Chien. About the same time, a band of thirty-seven Winnebago attacked two keel boats on the Mississippi, laden with provisions for the troops at Fort Snelling, killing two whites, and wounding two mortally and two slightly, but were repulsed. These outrages produced great alarm. The settlers fled to Prairie du Chien and there organized and manned the abandoned fort. The news spread through Southwestern Wisconsin and thousands of settlers fled in the greatest precipitation to Galena. Gov. Lewis Cass, of Michigan Territory, soon came upon the scene. Colonel Snelling reinforced Fort Crawford. Col. Henry Dodge raised a hundred mounted volunteers in the lead mines. Major Whistler, in command at Fort Howard, moved up the Fox to Portage, and the troops on the Lower Wisconsin moved up that river, pursuing the fleeing Winnebago. They were overtaken near Portage, and seeing themselves overpowered, gave up the murderers. Red Bird soon after died in prison. His associates were tried and sentenced, but afterwards pardoned on condition that the Winnebago cede lands.

Cutting Marsh arrived at Green Bay, to open Presbyterian mission to Stockbridge Indians at Statesburg (South Kaukauna).

The Black Hawk War.—1832.—Black Hawk, a Sauk headman, had a village at the mouth of Rock River. He hated the American settlers, who had misused him, and loved the English, who sought to nurse his disaffection. Returning from a visit to Canada in 1830, where he had been flattered by the English, he found that the settlers had pre-empted the site of his village and the burial ground of his fathers. He was enraged and made threats. In 1830 the Illinois militia were called out. Then companies of United States troops came to the mouth of the Rock River, and Black Hawk was compelled to cross the Mississippi, promising never to return. But he failed to keep his promise. He re-crossed the river in April, passed up the Rock to Prophetstown, there intending to raise a crop. This "invasion" aroused general alarm in Illinois and in that part of Michigan Territory now embraced in Wisconsin. Settlers fled or gathered into log forts. Gen. Henry Atkinson, with 1,600 horse and 200 foot volunteers—of whom Abraham Lincoln commanded 1 company—and 300 regulars marched from Fort Armstrong. Black Hawk sent a defiant message and retreated up Rock River. At Stillman's Creek he halted to surrender. His messengers of peace were seized by the pickets when they approached the lines. With a mere handful of braves, he then attacked and drove in retreat 275 horsemen, under command of Major Stillman. Removing his women and children to the swamps of Lake Koshkonong, in Wisconsin, Black Hawk descended into Illinois, scattering consternation. Skirmishes took place in many places in Northern Illinois, and at Pecatonica, Blue Mounds, and Sinsiniwa Mounds in Wisconsin. Some 250 whites and as many Indians lost their lives in these battles, skirmishes, and surprises.

Meanwhile, forts had been thrown up in the lead region—Fort Union at Dodgeville, where Major Henry Dodge's headquarters had been; Fort Defiance at the farm of D. M. Parkinson; Fort Hamilton at Wiota; Fort Jackson at Mineral Point; Mound Fort at Blue Mounds. and others.

Pending this outbreak, Dodge came with Captains John H. Rountree, and James H. Gentry, to Fox's Bluff, on Lake Mendota, and had a council with the Winnebago, urging them not to join the Sauk in the war.

Atkinson in command, sent Dodge's company of mounted lead-miners, with Major Henry's and Major Alexander's brigades to Fort Winnebago at Portage for supplies. Arriving there, he learned from the Winnebago the hiding place of Black Hawk's band. They were then at the rapids of Rock River, near what is now Hustisford. The force at once set out to attack them.

The Indians, however, had fled. Their trail was discovered, bearing toward Wisconsin River, and they were pursued. Reaching the Catfish River between Third and Fourth Lakes, a few straggling Indians were found (July 21) on the site of the city of Madison—one of whom was shot and left dead near the present capitol park. The Indians fled westward to the bluffs of the Wisconsin, a mile below the present Sauk City. A battle here ensued. The Indians lost several killed and many wounded. The American loss was 1 killed and 8 wounded. Thence, Black Hawk and his party fled westward to the Mississippi. A few days later Colonel Dodge pursued them, with fresh troops, and came up with them near the mouth of the Bad Axe forty miles above Prairie du Chien. A steamboat had been sent up the river to prevent their escape across the river. The Sauk were now in a bad plight. Colonel Dodge attacked them. Some escaped across the river. The rest were captured. Black Hawk escaped to seek refuge among the Winnebago; but a large reward was offered for him; and the Winnebago arrested him at the Wisconsin River Dells, and gave him up to Indian Agent Street, at Prairie du Chien, whence he was sent to Jefferson Barracks, at St. Louis. Of the 1,000 Indians who crossed the Mississippi with him in the spring not over 150 survived the famous Black Hawk war. The chief died in 1838 near Des Moines. This outbreak greatly advertised Wisconsin throughout the country and stimulated settlement.

The Commissioners of Fisheries were established as a board in 1874, originally consisting of three members. The number was increased to seven in 1878—six appointed by the governor and the governor ex-officio. In 1895, the professor of zoology of the State University was made an ex-officio member of the board. The term of office of the appointive commissioners is for six years.

The work of the Commission consists of the collection of spawn and the distribution of commercial and game fishes to the public waters of the state, through the fish hatcheries. Fish and fish eggs are also collected from public waters and transplanted. The Commission will not knowingly furnish stock for private waters or preserves.

Five fish hatcheries are maintained, one each at Madison, Bayfield, Oshkosh, Minocqua and Delafield and a sub-station at Dousman. The Madison hatchery is devoted to hatching brook and rainbow trout; the Bayfield hatchery to brook trout, rainbow trout, lake trout and whitefish; the Oshkosh hatchery to lake trout, whitefish and wall-eyed pike; the Minocqua hatchery to pike, bass and muskellunge; and the Delafield hatchery to black bass. Black bass are also hatched at Dousman sub-station. A specially constructed car for transporting fish from the hatcheries and delivering them to applicants is also maintained. This car traveled within the state in 1905, 14,830 miles and in 1906, 15,742 miles in the work of the Commission.

A biennial report of the business of the Fish Commission is made to the legislature, and this report together with other matter appertaining to the propagation of fish is printed and distributed.

The distribution of fish made by the Commission during the years 1905 and 1906 is summarized in the following table:

Improved appliances and boats for catching fish and better facilities for delivering the catch to market have stimulated the fisheries of the outlying waters and increased the necessity and demand for stock from the State Fish Hatcheries for those waters. The work of the Commission in stocking Wisconsin waters in Lake Michigan, Lake Superior and Green Bay with lake trout and white fish is heartily indorsed by the fishermen dependent on those waters.

The call for stock for the inland lakes and streams is far beyond the means of the Commission to supply. But the popularity of the work and its good results are fully attested by the urgent and greatly increased number of applications for fish from all classes throughout the state.

Persons desiring fish for stocking public waters will receive all requisite information as to conditions and methods of obtaining them by applying to the Superintendent of Fisheries, Madison, Wis.

The Wisconsin State Board of Agriculture was created by an act of the legislature of 1897. It is composed of one member from each Congressional District, and two from the state at large.

Members are appointed by the Governor for a term of three years, four members retiring annually, and not more than two-thirds of the members can, at time of appointment, be of same political party.

The Secretary cannot be a member of the board, and the State Treasurer is ex-officio Treasurer.

Members of the board serve without compensation, but are allowed their expenses while in the performance of their official duties.

The board has control of the State Fair Grounds, located near the growing village of West Allis. These grounds contain one hundred and forty acres of land admirably adapted to the work for which they are used. The recent fairs held under the auspices of the board have been well patronized by exhibitors and the general public, and financial results have been very satisfactory.

The board publishes an annual report, containing the proceedings of the body, the award of premiums at fair, an itemized statement of receipts and expenses, addresses and discussions presented at its annual agricultural convention, and the crop and live stock statistics for the current year.

STATE BOARD OF FORESTRY.

The department of State Forestry was created by an act of the legislature in 1903 and some 40,000 acres of land in Forest, Oneida, Vilas and Iron counties were reserved from sale as a forest reserve. In 1905 an entirely new act was passed creating the State Board of Forestry and including all state lands north of town 33 in the forest reserve as follows:

	Acres.		Acres.
Ashland .....	4,941	Lincoln .....	10,326
Bayfield .....	4,768	Marinette .....	4,783
Burnett .....	25,828	Oneida .....	35,719
Douglas .....	7,029	Polk .....	1,520
Florence .....	3,762	Price .....	27,634
Forest .....	35,656	Rusk .....	3,404
Iron .....	26,039	Sawyer .....	12,317
Langlade .....	2,700	Vilas .....	15,142
		Washburn .....	12,497

This makes a total, with fractional acres, of 234,072 acres. In June, 1906, congress passed Senator La Follette's bill, granting to the state of Wisconsin for forestry purposes 20,000 acres of vacant government land. The rapid increase in area of the forest reserves in the last two years has been most encouraging, as they have grown from 40,000 acres to 254,072 acres.

The aims of forestry are manifold, but the two most important are to "conserve the forests by wise use and protect the water supply" and keeping these important points in mind, it is to be hoped that the state will pursue a broad forest policy and gradually acquire large forest areas which will protect the headwaters of the rivers and important streams. If the state gradually purchases large areas of natural forest land, restocking all denuded areas as soon as the slash is destroyed, it will not only be building prosperity for the future but can confidently count on receiving a very generous return on the investment in the shape of mature timber.

It is one of the tenets of forestry that no land should be held permanently under forests which is more suitable for agriculture, and every parcel of land within the state forest reserve will be examined with this in mind so that land which is valuable for agriculture may be withdrawn and offered for sale. By such careful selection, the creation of an adequate state forest reserve will in no way retard the development of northern Wisconsin, but, on the other hand, the state's forest policy of cutting conservatively and so always having something to cut, will in a few years give to all the settlers near the reserve plenty of good paying work during the winter, when it is most needed. Every state has areas that are not arable and such, but only such, should be held permanently under forests.

The forestry law provides that the state forester shall also be state fire warden and that he shall appoint one or more town fire wardens for those organized towns in which he deems it necessary. Over 300 fire wardens have now been appointed, nearly all in the northern part of the state, and they have done excellent work in posting notices, fighting forest fires and by warning the settlers against carelessness in burning brush at all seasons of the year. They are gradually educating people to the needless and fearful waste of property through forest fires. Over 20,000 forest fire notices, printed both on cloth and cardboard, have been sent out by this office to be posted in railroad stations, postoffices, school houses, camps and along forest roads and trails. Successful forestry by individuals or corporations in this state depends to a very large extent upon the solution of the forest fire problem, especially as owners of cut over lands are beginning to consider the question of planting.

In the past, in cases of timber trespass, the state board of forestry have charged the trespasser double stumpage, but in future both civil and criminal action will be brought. The man who deliberately steals timber is gradually coming into his own, and is looked upon as twin brother to the horse thief.

The state board of forestry is co-operating with the federal government so that the fine forests on the Indian reservations in Wisconsin shall be cut carefully under forestry management.

(1) The completion of the geological survey of the state. (2) A study of the soils of the state. (3) A study of the plants, and especially the forests. (4) A study of the animal life of the state, with especial reference to the fish. (5) Preparation and account of the physical geography and natural history of the state. (6) The completion of the topographical map of the state. To these the legislature of 1905 added the examination of the water powers of the state.

The publications of the Survey are entitled bulletins and are issued in four series. The bulletins are numbered consecutively and each is independent.

D. Administrative Bulletins. Five of these have appeared addressed to the legislatures of 1899, 1901, 1903, 1905 and 1907. They contain no matter of scientific interest, being entirely devoted to administrative details.

OTHER BOARDS, COMMISSIONS, AND MISCELLANEOUS STATE SOCIETIES.

The following associations and societies are not under the immediate control of the State government, but are given here as a matter of information and reference. Some of them are encouraged by annual appropriations from the State, while the transactions of some of the associations are published by the State. The State Historical Society is the corporate trustee of the state, holding all of its property in the name of the State, its great library being in effect the Miscellaneous State Library, and its museum the State Museum; the governor, secretary of state and state treasurer are ex-officio members of its managing board; and disbursements from its annual State appropriation are, according to law, audited by the secretary of state. It is thus essentially a State board, bearing much the same relation to the State as the regents of the State University.

STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF WISCONSIN.

REUBEN G. THWAITES, Madison .....	Secretary and Supt.
LUCIEN S. HANKS, Madison .....	Treasurer
ISAAC S. BRADLEY, Madison .....	Librarian and Asst. Supt.
MINNIE M. OAKLEY, Madison .....	Assistant Librarian

Anna A. Nunns, Mary S. Foster, Emma A. Hawley, Asa C. Tilton, Louise P. Kellogg, Daisy G. Beecroft, Clarence S. Hean, Eve Parkinson, Edna C. Adams, Anna Jacobsen, Clara Richards, Kate Lewis, Park Kelley, Isabel Hean, Marion Atwood, Library Assistants.

The State Historical Society of Wisconsin was originally organized, chiefly by members of the Territorial legislature, in October, 1846, with A. Hyatt Smith as president, and Thomas W. Sutherland as secretary. On January 30, 1849, there was a reorganization, with Gov. Nelson Dewey as president, a list of vice-presidents covering all the counties of the State, and Increase A. Lapham as secretary. But for various reasons the Society did not prosper during its earlier years, and a second reorganization, with a new constitution, was effected under an act of legislature approved March 4, 1853. This charter the Society still works under, and since the annual meeting on the first Thursday in January, 1854, the growth of its influence and importance has been steady and rapid. At this meeting, Lyman C. Draper, then of Philadelphia, was chosen secretary. With conspicuous ability, he served the Society for thirty-three years, until the annual meeting of January 6, 1887, when he declined re-election; he was then in his 72d year, and desirous of devoting his remaining days (he died August 26, 1891) to completing some individual literary work which he had long had in hand. At this annual meeting of January 6, 1887, Reuben G. Thwaites, who for two years previous had been the assistant secretary, succeeded Dr. Draper as the executive officer of the Society, and the editor of its publications; later he was also given the title of superintendent of the several activities of the Society. Daniel S. Durrie became identified with the Society in 1856, as librarian, serving until his death, August 31, 1892. He was succeeded by Isaac B. Bradley, who had been assistant librarian since April, 1875; he was, later, made also assistant superintendent.

When Secretary Draper took direction of the Society's fortunes, its library consisted of but fifty volumes and pamphlets; there was neither museum nor art gallery, and the institution was quartered in a corner of the secretary of state's office. Today the Society is domiciled in the State Historical Library Building, which cost the state nearly $610,000, and has been unanimously adjudged by experts to be one of the most beautiful library and museum buildings in the United States.

The Society maintains an important museum of ethnology, archæology, and history, and an historical portrait gallery, in which are displayed oil portraits of over 300 distinguished Wisconsin pioneers and Indian chiefs. Its collection of relics of the War of Secession is large and interesting. About 70,000 persons visit the museum and portrait gallery annually, while the now world-famous library attracts scholars and specialists from all parts of the union.

The library accessions number some 10,000 titles per year. At present the shelves contain about 290,000 titles, covering every department of American history, as well as taking a general sweep of English and continental history, and political development. The library is also particularly strong in genealogy, bound newspaper files, general periodicals, Shakespeariana, public documents (American British, and Canadian), maps, and material for illustration. It has a notable collection of works by Wisconsin authors. Its collection of bound manuscripts numbers over 2,000 stout folio volumes, covering the frontier history of the Mississippi basin; in Western and Southern history generally, no other library approaches this. It is of particular value as an aid to the students of the State University, who daily through the reading rooms, the ample facilities for original research there given them being one of the most important advantages of student life at the capital. The excellent and well-administered library of the State University—which purchases books in fields not covered by the Society's library—also occupies rooms in the society's building; and in return for this hospitality the State University regents share certain expenses of maintenance.

The Wisconsin Historical Society is a flourishing institution, in many respects ranking first in importance among American institutions of like character, and from every point of view the most important west of the Alleghanies. It has done and is doing a splendid work for Wisconsin—indeed for the entire West—by resurrecting and perpetuating the records of our development in its volumes of Wisconsin Historical Collections, seventeen in number, which contain practically all the materials now obtainable for the varied and romantic history of our commonwealth; by collecting and keeping abreast of the times, a library of Americana, which as to size and scope has but two rivals in this country. Harvard College and New York State Library, and they on the Atlantic slope; and by maintaining a museum and portrait gallery which are of growing interest and educational value to the citizens of the State. The several publications of the Society (Collections, Proceedings, Bulletins of Information, Class Lists, etc.) take high rank among men of letters everywhere, and are eagerly sought for by students of American history.

The Society receives direct annual appropriations aggregating $20,000, on condition that the sum shall be expended for the purposes of the Society, that it shall hold all its present and future collections and property for the State and shall not sell, mortgage, or dispose of, or remove its collections from the Historical Library Building without authority from the legislature; provided, that duplicates may be sold or exchanged for the benefit of the Society. In addition to this annual appropriation, the officers of the Society have collected, after twenty-four years of persistent efforts, by means of individual bequests, donations and membership dues, a binding fund of some $28,000. An antiquarian fund, now consisting of $8,000, is to be devoted in due time to original historical investigation, or the purchase of rare manuscripts or other historical relics within the limits of the state. The Draper fund, resulting from the sale of some $10,000 worth of property, willed to the Society by Dr. Draper, is being devoted to calendaring and publishing the Draper collection of early western manuscripts. Other special funds, particularly one for the purchase of accessions to the museum, are immediate needs. A special fund of $1,800 for the purchase either of works of art for the museum or books on art for the library, was given to the Society by the late Mrs. Mary M. Adams.

NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY, ADOPTED AT CHICAGO, ILL., JUNE 22, 1904.

Fifty years ago the Republican party came into existence, dedicated among other purposes, to the great task of arresting the extension of human slavery. In 1860 it elected its first president. During twenty-four of the forty-four years which have elapsed since the election of Lincoln, the Republican party has held complete control of the government. For eighteen more of the forty-four years it has held partial control through the possession of one or two branches of the government, while the Democratic party during the same period has had complete control for only two years.

This long tenure of power by the Republican party is not due to chance. It is a demonstration that the Republican party has commanded the confidence of the American people for nearly two generations to a degree never equalled in our history, and has displayed a high capacity for rule and government which has been made even more conspicuous by the incapacity and infirmity of purpose shown by its opponents.

The Republican party entered upon its present period of complete supremacy in 1897. We have every right to congratulate ourselves upon the work since then accomplished, for it has added lustre even to the traditions of the party which carried the government through the storms of civil war. We then found the country, after four years of Democratic rule, in evil plight, oppressed with misfortune, and doubtful of the future. Public credit had been lowered, the revenues were declining, the debt was growing, the administration's attitude toward Spain was feeble and mortifying, the standard of values was threatened and uncertain, labor was unemployed, business was sunk in the depression which had succeeded the panic of 1893, hope was faint and confidence was gone.

We met these unhappy conditions vigorously, effectively and at once. We replaced a Democratic tariff law based on free-trade principles and garnished with sectional protection by a consistent protective tariff, and industry, freed from suppression and stimulated by the encouragement of the wise laws, has expanded to a degree never before known, has conquered new markets and has created a volume of exports which has surpassed imagination. Under the Dingley Tariff labor has been fully employed, wages have risen and all industries have revived and prospered.

The Gold Standard Established.—We firmly established the gold standard, which was then menaced with destruction. Confidence returned to business, and with confidence an unexampled prosperity.

For deficient revenues supplemented by improvident issues of bonds we gave the country an income which produced a large surplus, and which enabled us only four years after the Spanish war had closed to remove over one hundred millions of annual war taxes, reduce the public debt and lower the interest charges of the government.

The public credit, which had been so lowered that in time of peace a Democratic administration made large loans at extravagant rates of interest in order to pay current expenditures, rose under Republican administration to its highest point, and enabled us to borrow at 2 per cent., even in time of war.

We refused to palter longer with the miseries of Cuba. We fought a quick and victorious war with Spain. We set Cuba free, governed the island for three years, and then gave it to the Cuban people with order restored, with ample revenues, with education and public health established, free from debt and connected with the United States by wise provisions for our mutual interests.

We have organized the government of Porto Rico, and its people now enjoy peace, freedom, order and prosperity.

Accomplishments in Philippines.—In the Philippines we have suppressed insurrection, established order, and given to life and property a security never known there before. We have organized civil government, made it effective and strong in administration, and have conferred upon the people of those islands the largest civil liberty they have ever enjoyed. By our possession of the Philippines we were enabled to take prompt and effective action in the relief of the legations at Peking, and a decisive part in preventing the partition and preserving the integrity of China.

The Panama Canal Begun.—The possession of a route for an Isthmian canal, so long the dream of American statesmanship, is now an accomplished fact. The great work of connecting the Pacific and Atlantic by a canal is at last begun, and it is due to the Republican party.

Other Accomplishments.—We have passed laws which will bring the arid lands of the United States within the area of cultivation.

We have reorganized the army and put it in the highest state of efficiency.

We have passed laws for the improvement and support of the militia.

We have pushed forward the building of the navy, the defence and protection of our honor and our interests.

Our administration of the great departments of the government has been honest and efficient, and wherever wrongdoing has been discovered the Republican administration has not hesitated to probe the evil and bring offenders to justice without regard to party or political ties.

Anti-Trust Laws Enforced.—Laws enacted by the Republican party which the Democratic party failed to enforce, and which were intended for the protection of the public against the unjust discrimination or the illegal encroachment of vast aggregations of capital, have been fearlessly enforced by a Republican president, and new laws insuring reasonable publicity as to the operations of great corporations and providing additional remedies for the prevention of discrimination in freight rates have been passed by a Republican congress.

In this record of achievement during the past eight years may be read the pledges which the Republican party has fulfilled. We promise to continue these policies and we declare our constant adherence to the following principles:

The Tariff.—Protection which guards and develops our industries is a cardinal policy of the Republican party. The measure of protection should always at least equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. We insist upon the maintenance of the principles of protection, and therefore rates of duty should be readjusted only when conditions have so changed that the public interest demands their alteration, but this work cannot safely be committed to any other hands than those of the Republican party. To intrust it to the Democratic party is to invite disaster.

Whether, as in 1892, the Democratic party declared the protective tariff unconstitutional, or whether it demands tariff reform or tariff revision, its real object is always the destruction of the protective system. However specious the name, the purpose is ever the same. A Democratic tariff has always been followed by business adversity; a Republican tariff by business prosperity. To a Republican congress and a Republican president this great question can be safely intrusted. When the only free-trade country among the great nations agitates a return to protection, the chief protective country should not falter in maintaining it.

Commercial Reciprocity Secured.—We have extended widely our foreign markets, and we believe in the adoption of all practicable methods for their further extension, including commercial reciprocity wherever reciprocal arrangements can be effected consistent with the principles of protection, and without injury to American agriculture, American labor or any American industry.

Integrity of the National Currency.—We believe it to be the duty of the republican party to uphold the gold standard and the integrity and value of our national currency. The maintenance of the gold standard, established by the Republican party, cannot safely be committed to the Democratic party, which resisted its adoption, and has never given any proof since that time of belief in it or fidelity to it.

Upbuilding the Merchant Marine.—While every other industry has prospered under the fostering aid of Republican legislation, American shipping engaged in foreign trade, in competition with the low cost of construction, low wages and heavy subsidies of foreign governments, has not for many years received from the government of the United States adequate encouragement of any kind. We therefore favor legislation which will encourage and build up the American merchant marine, and we cordially approve the legislation of the last congress, which created the Merchant Marine Commission to investigate and report upon this subject.

A Navy for Defense.—A navy powerful enough to defend the United States against any attack, to uphold the Monroe Doctrine, and to watch over our commerce, is essential to the safety and the welfare of the American people. To maintain such a navy is the fixed policy of the Republican party.

Chinese Exclusion.—We cordially approve the attitude of President Roosevelt and congress in regard to the exclusion of Chinese labor and promise a continuance of the Republican policy in that direction.

Civil Service Law Enforced.—The Civil Service Law was placed on the statute books by the Republican party, which has always sustained it, and we renew our former declarations that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced.

We are always mindful of the country's debt to the soldiers and sailors of the United States and we believe in making ample provision for them, and in the liberal administration of the pension laws.

International Arbitration.—We favor the peaceful settlement of international differences by arbitration.

We commend the vigorous efforts made by the administration to protect American citizens in foreign lands and pledge ourselves to insist upon the just and equal protection of all our citizens abroad. It is the unquestioned duty of the government to procure for all our citizens, without distinction, the rights of travel and sojourn in friendly countries, and we declare ourselves in favor of all proper efforts tending to that end.

Our great interests and our growing commerce in the Orient render the condition of China of high importance to the United States. We cordially commend the policy pursued in that direction by the administrations of President McKinley and President Roosevelt.

Negro Disfranchisement.—We favor such congressional action as shall determine whether by special discriminations the elective franchise in any state has been unconstitutionally limited, and if such is the case, we demand that representation in congress and in the electoral college shall be proportionately reduced as directed by the constitution of the United States.

Capital and Labor.—Combinations of capital and of labor are the results of the economic movement of the age, but neither must be permitted to infringe upon the rights and interests of the people. Such combinations, when lawfully formed for lawful purposes, are alike entitled to the protection of the laws, but both are subject to the laws, and neither can be permitted to break them.

Tribute to McKinley.—The great statesman and patriotic American, William McKinley, who was re-elected by the Republican party to the presidency four years ago, was assassinated just at the threshold of his second term. The entire nation mourned his untimely death, and did that justice to his great qualities of mind and character which history will confirm and repeat.

President Roosevelt Eulogized.—The American people were fortunate in his successor, to whom they turned with a trust and confidence which have been fully justified. President Roosevelt brought to the great responsibilities thus sadly forced upon him a clear head, a brave heart, an earnest patriotism and high ideals of public duty and public service. True to the principles of the Republican party and to the policies which that party had declared, he has also shown himself ready for every emergency and has met new and vital questions with ability and with success.

The confidence of the people in his justice, inspired by his public career, enabled him to render personally an inestimable service to the country by bringing about a settlement of the coal strike, which threatened such disastrous results at the opening of winter in 1902.

Our foreign policy under his administration has not only been able, vigorous and dignified, but in the highest degree successful. The complicated questions which arose in Venezuela were settled in such a way by President Roosevelt that the Monroe Doctrine was signally vindicated, and the cause of peace and arbitration greatly advanced.

His prompt and vigorous action in Panama, which we commend in the highest terms, not only secured to us the canal route but avoided foreign complications which might have been of a very serious character.

He has continued the policy of President McKinley in the Orient and our position in China, signalized by our recent commercial treaty with that empire, has never been so high.

He secured the tribunal by which the vexed and perilous question of the Alaskan boundary was finally settled.

Whenever crimes against humanity have been perpetrated which have shocked our people, his protest has been made and our good offices have been tendered, but always with due regard to international obligations.

Under his guidance we find ourselves at peace with all the world, and never were we more respected or our wishes more regarded by foreign nations.

Pre-eminently successful in regard to our foreign relations, he has been equally fortunate in dealing with domestic questions. The country has known that the public credit and the national currency were absolutely safe in the hands of his administration. In the enforcement of the laws he has shown not only courage, but the wisdom which understands that to permit laws to be violated or disregarded opens the door to anarchy, while the just enforcement of the law is the soundest conservatism. He has held firmly to the fundamental American doctrine that all men must obey the law; that there must be no distinction between rich and poor, between strong and weak; but that justice and equal protection under the law must be secured to every citizen without regard to race, creed or condition.

His administration has been throughout vigorous and honorable, high-minded and patriotic. We commend it without reservation to the considerate judgment of the American people.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM.

Adopted at Madison September 25, 1906.

The Republican party of Wisconsin, through its representatives assembled in accordance with the provisions of the primary election law, affirms its adherence to the principles set forth in the Republican state platforms of 1902 and 1904.

We heartily endorse the administration of President Roosevelt.

We adhere to the Republican doctrine of protection to American labor, but believe in the re-adjustment of tariff schedules in all cases where protection is employed for the benefit of capital to the injury of the consumer and the working man.

We endorse and approve the past administration of Governor Robert M. La Follette, as conspicuously progressive, honest and economic, and point with pride to his advocacy of a faithful compliance with the party promises made to the people of Wisconsin in the past. And we specifically point out, among the important measures secured during his administration, the laws affecting primary elections, the State Railway Commission, and equitable method of railway taxation, the law prohibiting improper legislative lobbying, and other laws of great value to the people of Wisconsin. We approve the work recently done in Congress to secure similar legislation, and we urge upon our senators and representatives in Congress to join in a united effort in support of such legislation as will insure in national affairs the same reforms as have been enacted into laws in Wisconsin, and heretofore and now recommended by the platforms of the Republican party in this state.

We endorse the administration of Governor James O. Davidson and his business-like conduct of the affairs of state. He has never faltered in his adherence to the principles of the party as expressed in its platforms of recent years, and a continuation of his administration assures a continuation of the reforms so auspiciously begun.

We pledge ourselves to the enactment of a law providing for the regulation of rates of service of all public-service corporations, similar to that now exercised over railroads. The same reasons exist for controlling the rates of water, electric light, gas, telephone, telegraph and street railway companies, and other public-service corporations, as for controlling transportation rates. Legislation should be enacted making it the duty of the railroad commission to ascertain the value of the property of all such corporations.

We pledge ourselves to the enactment of a law providing for the regulation of the issue of stocks and bonds of all public-service corporations, giving to the Wisconsin Railroad Commission supervisory control over the same, and by appropriate provisions preventing the issue of any such stocks and bonds, except for actual value.

We favor the enactment of laws for the regulation of the business of life insurance, which shall provide for the fullest protection to the funds of such companies; the protection of the interests of Wisconsin policy-holders in $9,000-000.00 of surplus belonging to them; a fair and intelligible form of contract, the making of mutual companies mutual in fact as well as in name; publicity in all of their affairs, and an accounting and irrevocable apportionment of dividends.

Railway employes are engaged in public service most hazardous in its nature. Legislation should be enacted providing that negligence of an injured employe shall not bar a recovery of damages by him, if the jury shall find that the negligence of the railway company is greater than his own.

We pledge ourselves to further the passage of the amendment to the constitution now pending, as to permit the passage of a law imposing a graduated tax upon incomes with reasonable exemptions, and the passage of such law as soon thereafter as possible in order to remedy, among others, the great evil now existing by reason of the present mortgage taxation law.

We favor such amendment to the primary election law as will strengthen it and make it most effective as an instrument of government in the hands of the people.

We favor the enactment of legislation which will enable any city or village that so desires to own its own public utilities, and to apply the broad principles of eminent domain in acquiring existing plants at their true value. We also favor legislation which will give to municipalities when they purchase a public utility the right to pay for the same out of the proceeds of certificates of indebtedness which shall be a lien on the property so purchased.

We favor the enactment of appropriate legislation at the earliest practicable moment, extending state aid for the construction and improvement of the highways of the state.

We believe in the humane and sanitary housing of the people and the better environment of home life in the densely settled sections of our larger cities, and favor legislation to that end.

Realizing the great opportunities existing within our state for the farmer, the merchant, the manufacturer, and the homeseeker, we believe legislative provision should be made for the purpose of calling these opportunities to their attention in an official manner.

We pledge the Republican party of Wisconsin to maintain, by appropriate legislation, the highest standard of excellence in all public schools and educational institutions of this state, and to advance their efficiency to meet every requirement consistent with the needs of our people.

We favor amending the constitution whenever necessary to permit the enactment of laws which shall best accomplish the objects above mentioned.

With these declarations the Republican party confidently appeals to the voters of Wisconsin for support, and points to its record in past years as evidence of its good faith, and the guaranty of performance of its promises in the future.

NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

Adopted at St. Louis, Mo., July 8, 1904.

The Democratic party of the United States in national convention assembled, declares its devotion to the essential principles of the Democratic faith which bring us together in party communion.

Under them local self-government and national unity and prosperity were alike established. They underlaid our independence, the structure of our free republic, and every Democratic extension from Louisiana to California, and Texas to Oregon, which preserves faithfully in all the states the tie between taxation and representation. They yet inspire masses of our people, guarding jealously their rights and liberties, and cherishing their fraternity, peace and orderly development. They remind us of our duties and responsibilities as citizens, and impress upon us, particularly at this time, the necessity of reform and the rescue of the administration of government from the headstrong, arbitrary and spasmodic methods which distract business by uncertainty, and pervade the public mind, with dread, distrust and perturbation.

Fundamental Principles.—The application of these fundamental principles to the living issues of the day is the first step toward the assured peace, safety and progress of our nation. Freedom of the press, of conscience and of speech; equality before the law of all citizens; the right of trial by jury; freedom of the person defended by the writ of habeas corpus; liberty of personal contract untrammelled by sumptuary laws; the supremacy of the civil over the military authority; a well-disciplined militia; the separation of the church and state; economy in expenditures; low taxes; that labor may be lightly burdened; the prompt and sacred fulfilment of public and private obligations; fidelity to treaties; peace and friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none; absolute acquiescence in the will of the majority, the vital principle of republics—these are doctrines which Democracy has established as proverbs of the nation and they should be constantly invoked, preached, resorted to and enforced.

Capital and Labor.—We favor the enactment and administration of laws giving labor and capital impartially their just rights. Capital and labor ought not to be enemies. Each is necessary to the other. Each has its rights, but the rights of labor are certainly not less "vested," no less "sacred" and no less "inalienable" than the rights of capital.

Constitutional Guarantees.—Constitutional guarantees are violated whenever any citizen is denied the right to labor, acquire and enjoy property or reside where interests or inclination may determine. Any denial thereof by individuals, organizations or governments should be summarily rebuked and punished.

We deny the right of any executive to disregard or suspend any constitutional privilege or limitation. Obedience to the laws and respect for their requirements are alike the supreme duty of the citizen and the official.

The military should be used only to support and maintain the law. We unqualifiedly condemn its employment for the summary banishment of citizens without trial or for the control of election.

We approve the measure which passed the United States senate in 1896, but which a Republican congress has ever since refused to enact, relating to contempts in Federal courts and providing for trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt.

Waterways.—We favor liberal appropriations for the improvement of waterways of the country. When any waterway like the Mississippi River is of sufficient importance to demand special aid of the government, such aid should be extended with a definite plan of continuous work until permanent improvement is secured.

We oppose the Republican policy of starving home development in order to feed the greed for conquest and the appetite for national "prestige" and display of strength.

Economy of Administration.—Large reductions can easily be made in the annual expenditures of the government without impairing the efficiency of any branch of the public service, and we shall insist upon the strictest economy and frugality compatible with vigorous and efficient civil, military and naval administration as a right of the people too clear to be denied or withheld.

We favor honesty in the public service, the enforcement of honesty in the public service, and to that end a thorough legislative investigation of those executive departments of the government already known to teem with corruption, as well as other departments suspected of harboring corruption, and the punishment of ascertained corruptionists without fear or favor or regard to persons. The persistent and deliberate refusal of both the senate and house of representatives to permit such investigation to be made demonstrates that only by a change in the executive and in the legislative departments can complete exposures, punishment and correction be obtained.

Federal Government Contracts With Trusts.—We condemn the action of the Republican party in congress in refusing to prohibit an executive department from entering into contracts with convicted trusts or unlawful combinations in restraint of interstate trade. We believe that one of the best methods of procuring economy and honesty in the public service is to have public officials, from the occupant of the White House down to the lowest of them, return as nearly as may be to Jeffersonian simplicity of living.

Executive Usurpation.—We favor the nomination and election of a president imbued with the principles of the constitution, who will set his face sternly against executive usurpation of legislative and judicial functions, whether that usurpation be veiled under the guise of executive construction of existing laws, or whether it take refuge in the tyrant's pleas of necessity or superior wisdom.

Imperialism.—We favor the preservation, so far as we can, of an open door for the world's commerce in the Orient without any unnecessary entanglement in Oriental and European affairs, and without arbitrary unlimited, irresponsible and absolute government anywhere within our jurisdiction. We oppose, as fervently as did George Washington himself, an indefinite, irresponsible, discretionary and vague absolutism and a policy of colonial exploitation, no matter where or by whom invoked or exercised; we believe with Thomas Jefferson and John Adams that no government has a right to make one set of laws for those "at home" and another and a different set of laws, absolute in their character, for those "in the colonies." All men under the American flag are entitled to the protection of the institutions whose emblem the flag is; if they are inherently unfit for those institutions then they are inherently unfit to be members of the American body politic. Wherever there may exist a people incapable of being governed under American laws, in consonance with the American constitution, the territory of that people ought not to be part of the American domain.

We insist that we ought to do for the Filipinos what we have already done for the Cubans, and it is our duty to make that promise now, and upon suitable guarantees of protection to citizens of our own and other countries resident there at the time of our withdrawal, set the Filipino people upon their feet, free and independent, to work out their own destiny. The endeavor of the secretary of war, by pledging the government's indorsement or "promoters" in the Philippine Islands, to make the United States a partner in speculative legislation of the archipelago, which was only temporarily held up by the opposition of the Democratic senators in the last session will, if successful, lead to entanglements from which it will be difficult to escape.

The Tariff.—The Democratic party has been, and will continue to be, the consistent opponent of that class of tariff legislation by which certain interests have been permitted, through congressional favor, to draw a heavy tribute from the American people. This monstrous perversion of those equal opportunities which our political institutions were established to secure has caused what may once have been infant industries to become the greatest combinations of capital that the world has ever known. These special favorites of the government have, through trust methods, been converted into monopolies, thus bringing to an end domestic competition, which was the only alleged check upon the extravagant profits made possible by the protective system. These industrial combinations, by the financial assistance they can give, now control the policy of the Republican party.

We denounce protection as a robbery of the many to enrich the few, and we favor a tariff limited to the needs of the government, economically administered, and so levied as not to discriminate against any industry, class or section to the end that the burdens of taxation shall be distributed as equally as possible.

We favor a revision and a gradual reduction of the tariff by the friends of the masses for the commonwealth, and not by the friends of its abuses, its extortions and its discriminations, keeping in view the ultimate ends of "equality of burdens and equality of opportunities," and the constitutional purpose of raising a revenue by taxation, to wit the support of the Federal government in all its integrity and virility, but in simplicity.

Trusts and Unlawful Combinations.—We recognize that the gigantic trusts and combinations designed to enable capital to secure more than its just share of the joint products of capital and labor, and which have been fostered and promoted under Republican rule, are a menace to beneficial competition and an obstacle to permanent business prosperity. A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable.

Individual equality of opportunity and free competition are essential to a healthy and permanent commercial prosperity, and any trust or monopoly tending to destroy these by controlling production, restricting competition or fixing prices should be prohibited and punished by law. We especially denounce rebates and discrimination by transportation companies as the most potent agency in promoting and strengthening these unlawful conspiracies against trade.

We demand an enlargement of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission, to the end that the traveling public and shippers of this government may have prompt and adequate relief from the abuses to which they are subjected in the matter of transportation. We demand a strict enforcement of existing civil and criminal statutes against all such trusts, combinations and monopolies; and we demand the enactment of such further legislation as may be necessary to effectually suppress them.

Any trust or unlawful combination engaged in interstate commerce which is monopolizing any branch of business or production should not be permitted to transact business outside of the state of its origin. Whenever it shall be established in any court of competent jurisdiction that such monopolization exists, such prohibition should be enforced through comprehensive laws to be enacted on the subject.

Reclamation of Arid Lands and Domestic Development.—We congratulate our western citizens upon the passage of the law known as the Newlands Irrigation Act for the irrigation and reclamation of the arid lands of the west—a measure framed by a Democrat, passed in the senate by a non-partisan vote, and passed in the House against the opposition of almost all Republican leaders by a vote the majority of which was Democratic. We call attention to this great Democratic measure, broad and comprehensive as it is, working automatically throughout all time without further action of congress, until the reclamation of all the lands in the arid west capable of reclamation is accomplished, reserving the lands reclaimed for home seekers in small tracts, and rigidly guarding against land monopoly as an evidence of the policy of domestic development contemplated by the Democratic party, should it be placed in power.

Isthmian Canal.—The Democracy when intrusted with power will construct the Panama Canal speedily, honestly and economically, thereby giving to our people what Democrats have always contended for—a great interoceanic canal, furnishing shorter and cheaper lines of transportation and broader and less trammelled trade relations with the other peoples of the world.

American Citizenship.—We pledge ourselves to insist upon the just and lawful protection of our citizens at home and abroad, and to use all proper measures to secure for them, whether native-born or naturalized, and without distinction of race or creed, the equal protection of laws and the enjoyment of all rights and privileges open to them under the covenants of our treaties of friendship and commerce; and if under existing treaties the right of travel and sojourn is denied to American citizens, or recognition is withheld from American passports by any countries on the ground of race and creed, we favor the beginning of negotiations with the governments of such countries to secure by new treaties the removal of these unjust discriminations. We demand that all over the world a duly authenticated passport issued by the government of the United States to an American citizen shall be proof of the fact that he is an American citizen and shall entitle him to the treatment due him as such.

Election of Senators by the People.—We favor the election of United States senators by the direct vote of the people.

Statehood for Territories.—We favor the admission of the territory of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory. We also favor the immediate admission of Arizona and New Mexico as separate states, and a territorial government for Alaska and Porto Rico.

We hold that the officials appointed to administer the government of any territory, as well as with the district of Alaska, should be bona fide residents at the time of their appointment of the territory or district in which their duties are to be performed.

Condemnation of Polygamy.—We demand the extermination of polygamy within the jurisdiction of the United States and the complete separation of church and state in political affairs.

Merchant Marine.—We denounce the ship subsidy bill recently passed by the United States senate as an iniquitous appropriation of public funds for private purposes and a wasteful, illogical and useless attempt to overcome by subsidy the obstructions raised by Republican legislation to the growth and development of American commerce on the sea.

We favor the rebuilding of a merchant marine without new or additional burdens upon the people and without bounties from the public treasury.

Reciprocity.—We favor liberal trade arrangements with Canada, and with peoples of other countries, where these can be entered into with benefit to American agriculture, manufactures, mining or commerce.

Monroe Doctrine.—We favor the maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine in its full integrity.

Army.—We favor the reduction of the army and of army expenditure to the point historically demonstrated to be safe and sufficient.

Pensions and Our Soldiers and Sailors.—The Democracy would secure to the surviving soldiers and sailors and their dependents generous pensions, not by an arbitrary executive order, but by legislation which we grateful people stand ready to enact. Our soldiers and sailors who defend with their lives the Constitution and the laws have a sacred interest in their just administration. They must therefore share with us the humiliation with which we have witnessed the exaltation of court favorites, without distinguished service over the scarred heroes of many battles; or aggrandized by legislative appropriations, out of the all manner of devices to overreach and set aside the principles upon which the compensation and allowances of the military officers.

Civil Service.—The Democratic party stands committed to the principles of civil-service reform, and we demand their honest, just and impartial enforcement.

We denounce the Republican party for its continuous and sinister encroachments upon the spirit and operation of civil-service rules, whereby it has arbitrarily dispensed with examinations for office in the interests of favorites and employed all manner of devices to overreach and set aside the principles upon which the civil service was established.

School and Race Questions.—The race question has brought countless woes to this country. The calm wisdom of the American people should see to it that it brings no more. To revive the dead and hateful race and sectional animosities in any part of our common country means confusion, distraction of business and the re-opening of wounds now happily healed. North, South, East and West have but recently stood together in line of battle from the walls of Peking to the hills Santiago, and as sharers of a common glory and a common destiny we should share fraternally the common burdens. We, therefore, deprecate and condemn the bourbonlike, selfish and narrow spirit of the recent Republican convention at Chicago, which sought to kindle anew the embers of racial and sectional strife, and we appeal from it to the sober common sense and patriotic spirit of the American people.

The Republican Administration.—The existing Republican administration has been spasmodic, erratic, sensational, spectacular and arbitrary. It has made itself a satire upon the congress, the courts and upon the settled practices and usages of national and international law.

It summoned the congress into hasty and futile extra session, and virtually adjourned it, leaving behind in its flight from Washington uncalled calendars and unaccomplished tasks.

It made war, which is the sole power of congress, without its authority, thereby usurping one of its fundamental prerogatives. It violated a plain statute of the United States as well as plain treaty obligations, international usages and constitutional law; and has done so under pretence of executing a great public policy, which could have been more easily effected lawfully, constitutionally and with honor.

It forced strained and unnatural constructions upon statutes, usurping judicial interpretation and substituting congressional enactment decree.

It withdrew from congress their customary duties of investigation which have heretofore made the representatives of the people and the states the terror of evil-doers.

It conducted a secretive investigation of its own and boasted of a few sample convicts, while it threw a broad coverlet over the bureaus which had been their chosen field of operative abuses, and kept in power the superior officers under whose administration the crimes had been committed.

It ordered assault upon some monopolies, but, paralyzed by its first victory, it flung out the flag of truce and cried out that it would not "run amuck"—leaving its future purposes beclouded by its vacillations.

Appeal to the Country.—Conducting the campaign upon this declaration of our principles and purposes, we invoke for our candidates the support, not only of our great and time-honored organization, but also the active assistance of all of our fellow-citizens who, disregarding past differences upon questions no longer in issue, desire the perpetuation of our constitutional government as framed and established by the fathers of the republic.

DEMOCRATIC STATE PLATFORM.

Adopted at Madison, September 25, 1906.

The Democratic party of the state of Wisconsin, in state convention assembled, in the enjoyment of the constitutional provision that "The right of the people peacefully to assemble to consult for the common good shall not be abridged," recommends the adoption of the following platform of principles:

We recognize that the gigantic trusts and combinations designed to enable capital to secure more than its just share of the joint products of capital and labor, and which have been fostered and promoted under Republican rule, are a menace to beneficial competition, and are obstacles to permanent business prosperity. A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable.

Should Obey the Law.—We demand a strict enforcement of existing civil and criminal statutes against all trusts, combinations and monopolies, and we commend the Democratic members of both houses of congress for the loyal support they have given to the rate bill, the pure food bill and other measures now in process of enactment and which would have wholly failed but for their unswerving and faithful support.

"We favor revision of the present tariff, and hold that the tariff duty should be levied for the purposes of revenue, such duties to be so adjusted as to operate equally throughout the country, and not discriminate between classes or sections, and the taxation should be limited to the needs of the government, honest and economically administered. We favor placing on the free list all commodities supplied by any trust or monopoly.

We deem it imperative in order to protect the people from the inordinate exactions of coal and oil combinations and monopolies, that the federal government should reserve from sale all coal and oil rights in all government lands hereafter granted.

For an Income Tax.—We believe in the principle of income taxation and favor such amendment to the federal constitution as will permit federal taxation on incomes.

We insist that we ought to do for the Filipinos what we have already done for the Cubans, and it is our duty to make that promise now, and upon suitable guarantees of protection to citizens of our own and other countries resident there at the time of our withdrawal, set the Filipino people upon their feet, free and independent to work out their own destiny.

We favor the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people, and we demand that the constitution of the United States be amended accordingly.

We favor governmental control and regulation of all public service corporations so that they shall be operated for the benefit of the people for whom they were intended.

We favor the enactment of a law by the next legislature amending the present law, so as to authorize the state railway commission to correct upon its own initiative any schedule or tariff of rates which in its judgment should be corrected or modified.

Power to fix Rates.—We favor such legislation as will enable municipalities to own, construct and acquire by purchase such public service utilities as they may deem proper; and to enable them to do so we favor amending section 3 of article 11 of the constitution of our state so that indebtedness incurred in acquiring such public utilities shall be excluded from the limitations of said section, thus permitting municipal corporations to acquire public utilities and to restrict the constitutional limitations of indebtedness to debts incurred for non-productive property.

We favor the passage of a law by the next legislature conferring upon and delegating to municipalities the power to fix the price at which public service corporations within municipalities shall furnish their service and commodities to users and consumers.

We are in favor of a maximum rate of charge by all railroads doing business in the state if Wisconsin of 2 cents per mile for passenger traffic within this state.

We favor the enactment of laws providing full protection for policy holders in all life insurance companies transacting business in this state.

Should Have Just Rights.—We favor the enactment and enforcement of laws giving labor and capital impartially their just rights. Capital and labor ought not to be enemies. Each is necessary to the other. Each has its rights—but the rights of labor are certainly not less vested nor sacred and no less inalienable than the rights of capital.

Political Contributions.—We denounce the contribution of vast sums of money for corrupt uses in national as well as in state affairs, whether derived from interested corporations or by robbery of the funds from widows and orphans, by the management of Life Insurance Companies or other corporations or companies of like character.

We favor the enactment of a law requiring every committee of a political party organization to make public the amount received and expended by it.

We favor the enactment of a law establishing the doctrine of comparative negligence in all personal injury cases.

Equality of contribution to the public burden is essential to equality of social and political rights. The recent decision of our supreme court in the railway cases has opened the way for a more equitable distribution of the tax burden and a speedy return to the constitutional rule of uniformity. We now insist that all laws imposing a license fee on earnings in lieu of taxes, except as to foreign corporations, be repealed and that all property within the jurisdiction of this commonwealth be assessed and taxed on an ad valorem basis until superseded by a more scientific method. We incline to the opinion that a graduated income tax as the groundwork of all taxation will prove to be a more scientific and equitable method than the antiquated system now in use. We therefore favor the adoption of the constitutional amendment permissive of a graduated income tax.

We are in favor of the highest efficiency of the public schools and all institutions of learning, including manual training and agricultural schools. And we demand that party considerations be wholly eliminated from the management of these institutions.

The construction of good highways is entitled to the highest consideration of the state.

Action is Condemned.—We demand that the present state debt of $2,251,000 borrowed from the trust funds of the state for war purposes and bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, for which annual tax levy of $157,570 is made, shall be paid in accordance with the mandates of the constitution; and we condemn the action of the Republican administrations for diverting the sum of $1,184,659.78 received during the years 1903 and 1905, from the United States government in repayment of the war claims of the state, from the trust funds, from which this fund was originally taken, to the general fund, and its use in the payment of general state expenses.

We favor primary elections as being democratic in principle, but recognize some defects in the present law and favor such changes and amendments in it as time and experience may demonstrate to be necessary after a fair trial.

Indorse Bryan.—We regard with just pride and admiration the typical American who has been journeying in foreign lands the past year, and, although only a private citizen with none of the allurements of place and power about him, has been accorded distinguished consideration and attention wherever he has gone, solely because his course in public and private life alike has shown him to be a patriotic citizen, a wise and farseeing statesman, and a thoroughly honest and upright man, in whom the people can safely repose their utmost confidence. We therefore declare that we are heartily in favor of that typical American, William Jennings Bryan, as the Democratic candidate for president in 1908, and we pledge our united efforts to secure his nomination.

PROHIBITION PARTY NATIONAL PLATFORM.

Adopted at Indianapolis, June 30, 1904.

The Prohibition party in National Convention assembled, at Indianapolis, June 30th, 1904, recognizing that the chief end of all government is the establishment of those principles of righteousness and justice which have been revealed to men as the will of the ever-living God, desiring his blessing upon our national life, and believing in the perpetuation of the high ideals of government of the people, by the people, and for the people, established by our fathers, makes the following declaration of principles and purposes:

I. The widely prevailing system of licensed and legalized sale of alcoholic beverages is so ruinous to the individual interests, so inimical to public welfare, so destructive of national wealth and so subversive of the rights of great masses of our citizenship, that the destruction of the traffic is, and for years has been the most important question in American politics.

II. We denounce the lack of statesmanship exhibited by the leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties in their refusal to recognize the paramount importance of this question, and the cowardice with which the leaders of these parties have courted the favor of those whose selfish interests are advanced by the continuation and augmentation of the traffic, until today the influence of the liquor traffic practically dominates national, state and local government throughout the nation.

III. We declare the truth, demonstrated by the experience of half a century, that all methods of dealing with the liquor traffic which recognize its right to exist, in any form, under any system of license or tax or regulation, have proved powerless to remove its evils, and useless as checks upon its growth, while the insignificant public revenues which have accrued therefrom have seared the public conscience against a recognition of its iniquity.

IV. We call public attention to the fact, proved by the experience of more than fifty years, that to secure the enactment and enforcement of prohibitory legislation, in which alone lies the hope of the protection of the people from the liquor traffic, it is necessary that the legislative, executive and judicial branches of government should be in the hands of a political party in harmony with the prohibition principle, and pledged to its embodiment in law, and to the execution of those laws.

V. We pledge the Prohibition party wherever given power by the suffrages of the people, to the enactment and enforcement of laws prohibiting and abolishing the manufacture, importation, transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages.

VI. We declare that there is not only no other issue of equal importance before the American people today, but that the so called issues upon which the Democratic and Republican parties seek to divide the electorate of the country are in large part, subterfuges under the cover of which they wrangle for the spoils of office.

VII. Recognizing that the intelligent voters of the country may properly ask our attitude upon other questions of public concern, we declare ourselves in favor of:

The impartial enforcement of all law.

The safeguarding of the people's rights by a rigid application of the principles of justice to all combinations and organizations of capital and labor.

The recognition of the fact that the right of suffrage should depend upon the moral and moral qualifications of the citizen.

A more intimate relation between the people and government, by a wise application of the principle of the initiative and referendum.

Such changes in our laws as will place tariff schedules in the hands of an omni-partisan commission.

The application of uniform laws to all our country and dependencies.

The election of United States senators by vote of the people.

The extension and honest administration of the civil service laws.

The safeguarding of every citizen in every place under the government of the people of the United States, in all the rights guaranteed by the laws and the constitution.

International arbitration, and we declare that our nation should contribute, in every manner consistent with national dignity, to the permanent establishment of peace between all nations.

The reform of our divorce laws, the final extirpation of polygamy, and the total overthrow of the present shameful system of the illegal sanction of the social evil, with its unspeakable traffic in girls, by the municipal authorities of almost all our cities.

PROHIBITION PARTY STATE PLATFORM.

Adopted September 25, 1906.

The Prohibitionists of Wisconsin through their representatives, the nominees for state and legislative office, at the recent primaries assembled in Madison on the 25th day of September, 1906, set forth the following outline of their political faith. We hold these truths to be self evident that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. Government, therefore, is ordained of God to be an instrument of liberty and blessing in securing to its citizens fullest protection against every form of violence and aggression. Without such protection, no liberty is possible.

No. 2. The glory of a nation is not measured by the extent of its territory, the pageant of its armies and navies, the aggregate of its material wealth, but by the fidelity with which it serves the moral interests of its people in protecting the lives and liberties of all, especially its humblest, weakest most helpless members.

No. 3. Popular government in America is at its testing time. It is not that specific evils exist, grievous wrongs calling for redress, but worse, that the sovereign American citizen seems to have lost his hold in his contest with the oppressor. Under our representative form of government the elected representatives of the people sell out, for money or for political preferment, to the enemies of the people and the thief and the oppressor are still in the saddle. We believe that the restoration of popular representative government to a condition of efficiency should be the earnest concern of every American citizen.

No. 4. To this end we look to the people. Over against our distrust of parties, we believe in the people. The professional politician and the party boss must be retired to private life or to the penitentiary. The people must do their own thinking and themselves take the political initiative. The spell of party names must be broken. We hold the servile spirit of partisanship during the past quarter of a century of American history is chiefly responsible for our loss of efficient, popular government. The spectacle of the vast body of our citizenship, marching in lock step in double column year after year to vote their respective party tickets, regardless of platforms or candidates, as if blindfolded and led by a halter. This has been as pernicious to our country's welfare as it has been humiliating to our just American pride. To assume that one party must be always right and the other always wrong is simply a species of partisan madness which has served no better purpose than to make possible the secure existence of the party boss who for the pride of money and of votes, hands over by promise before election interests to the public plunderer.

No. 5. We hold that when any corporation or industrial body gets into its hands a practical monopoly of the necessities of life, and by virtue of such a monopoly charges the consumer, the public, an excessive and extortionate price, it should be punished as a criminal. The public must exercise effective control over all monopolistic enterprises in which competition has been virtually stamped out. Public ownership has proved inadequate. But in that event, it must follow, the people must be protected. The trusts and other forms of vast wealth in our land constitute a serious menace to our industrial and political freedom.

No. 6. We call attention to that struggle throughout our land and throughout Christendom, in which the race is endeavoring to secure for itself protection against that inveterate foe of human happiness—intemperance. This struggle is one of the most inspiring and tragic in the annals of liberty. Its success has been retarded by a handicap which our government has itself imposed—the tax or license system.

As a principle the license system is vicious and indefensible; as a policy of restraint it has proven itself wholly inefficient. It is a potent bribe to the conscience, whereby this criminal business is able to secure for itself a stay of execution from year to year.

We protest against a granting of federal liquor permits, and especially in communities where the sale of liquor has been outlawed. Our government ought to be above such collusion with criminals.

We protest against the shipment of liquor into prohibitive territory under federal sanction, and we call upon our representatives in both houses of Congress to lend their efforts towards securing remedial legislation against these violations of the principle of local, self rule.

The conviction is gaining ground that nothing less than the suppression of the manufacture and sale, for beverage use, of strong drink, will adequately protect society against the ravages of intemperance.

No. 7. We advocate the adoption of the initiative and referendum as a most effective means of bringing government back into the hands of the people.

No. 8. We believe in the principle of arbitration for the settlement of industrial disputes; and we earnestly hope and long for the establishment of a permanent international court for the peaceful settlement of disputes between nations. Our victories henceforth should be the victories of peace.

No. 9. We favor the wider extension of the principle of reciprocity in our foreign trade relations.

No. 10. We are humiliated over the widespread disregard for law in America. Respect for law is the foundation stone of popular government. As long as we elect men to office simply because they wear a party tag, rather than because of inherent moral qualifications—men, who when inducted into office deliberately substitute their own theories, opinions and policies for the law—the present condition of graft and lawlessness will witness no perceptible abatement. Such men are a menace to liberty itself, and should be impeached.

No. 11. We believe that the time has arrived when the constitutional privilege in Wisconsin, of granting to women the right of suffrage on school matters, should be extended; and we are averse to the bestowing of that sacred trust upon the ignorant, the incapable, and the vicious.

No. 12. We welcome the advent of the independent voter in the arena of American politics. It means emancipation from a form of servitude that should never have been allowed to establish itself under our free institutions. We must teach our people the nature and function of a political party in a popular form of government—that it should be only a temporary alignment for certain specific ends. A vast body of citizens cannot be expected to think alike on every political question that is likely to come before our country during a period of many years. The old political parties, in their day, had a proper birth; but they deny the right to any party organization to be born after them; which is neither generous nor just; nor politically sane.

We believe the present is the time for a citizens' mass movement against the various forms of corruption and extortion and misgovernment under which we are suffering. The widespread indignation against these ruling evils must find a new political embodiment, to do this new work.

No. 13. We believe the organized prohibition movement stands forth as the representative citizens' movement of the present day, embodying the soundest statesmanship, the broadest humanity, and expressing the deepest political yearnings of the American people today.

SOCIALIST NATIONAL PLATFORM.

Adopted by the Socialist Party in National Convention at Chicago, Ill., May 5, 1904, and Endorsed by Referendum of the Party Membership July 20, 1904.

I.

The Socialist party, in convention assembled, makes its appeal to the American people as the defender and preserver of the idea of liberty and self-government, in which the nation was born; as the only political movement standing for the program and principles by which the liberty of the individual may become a fact; as the only political organization that is democratic, and that has for its purpose the democratizing of the whole of society.

To this idea of liberty the Republican and Democratic parties are equally false. They alike struggle for power to maintain and profit by an industrial system which can be preserved only by the complete overthrow of such liberties as we already have, and by still further enslavement and degradation of labor.

Our American institutions came into the world in the name of freedom. They have been seized upon by the capitalist class as the means of rooting out the idea of freedom from among the people. Our state and national legislatures have become the mere agencies of great propertied interests. These interests control the appointments and decisions of the judges of our courts. They have come into what is practically a private ownership of all the functions and forces of government. They are using these to betray and conquer foreign and weaker peoples, in order to establish new markets for the surplus goods which the people make, but are too poor to buy. They are gradually so invading and restricting the right of suffrage as to take away unawares the right of the worker to a vote or voice in public affairs. By enacting new and misinterpreting old laws, they are preparing to attack the liberty of the individual even to speak or think for himself, or for the common good.

By controlling all the sources of social revenue, the possessing class is able to silence what might be the voice of protest against the passing of liberty and the coming of tyranny. It completely controls the university and public school, the pulpit and the press, and the arts and literatures. By making these economically dependent upon itself, it has brought all the forms of public teaching into servile submission to its own interests.

Our political institutions are also being used as the destroyers of that individual property upon which all liberty and opportunity depend. The promise of economic independence to each man was one of the faiths upon which our institutions were founded. But, under the guise of defending private property, capitalism is using our political institutions to make it impossible for the vast majority of human beings ever to become possessors of private property in the means of life.

Capitalism is the enemy and destroyer of essential private property. Its development is through the legalized confiscation of all that the labor of the working class produces, above its subsistence-wage. The private ownership of the means of employment grounds society in an economic slavery which renders intellectual and political tyranny inevitable.

Socialism comes to organize industry and society that every individual shall be secure in that private property in the means of life upon which his liberty of being, thought and action depends. It comes to rescue the people from the fast increasing and successful assault of capitalism upon the liberty of the individual.

II.

As an American socialist party, we pledge our fidelity to the principles of international socialism, as embodied in the united thought and action of the socialists of all nations. In the industrial development already accomplished, the interests of the world's workers are separated by no national boundaries. The condition of the most exploited and oppressed workers, in the most remote places of the earth, inevitably tends to drag down all the workers of the world to the same level. The tendency of the competitive wage system is to make labor's lowest condition the measure or rule of its universal condition. Industry and finance are no longer national but international, in both organization and results. The chief significance of national boundaries, and of the so-called patriotisms which the ruling class of each nation is seeking to revive, is the power which these give to capitalism to keep the workers of the world from uniting and to throw them against each other in the struggles of contending capitalist interests for the control of the yet unexplored markets of the world, or the remaining sources of profit.

The socialist movement, therefore, is a world-movement. It knows of no conflict of interests between the workers of one nation and the workers of another. It stands for the freedom of the workers of all nations; and, in so standing, it makes for the full freedom of all humanity.

III.

The socialist movement owes its birth and growth to that economic development or world-process which is rapidly separating a working or producing class from a possessing or capitalist class. The class that produces nothing possesses labor's fruits, and the opportunities and enjoyments these fruits afford, while the class that does the world's real work has increasing economic uncertainty and physical and intellectual misery, for its portion.

The fact that these two classes have not yet become fully conscious of their distinction from each other, the fact that the lines of division and interest may not yet be clearly drawn, does not change the fact of the class conflict.

This class struggle is due to the private ownership of the means of employment, or the tools of production. Wherever and whenever man owned his own land and tools, and by them produced only the things which he used, economic independence was possible. But production, or the making of goods, has long ceased to be individual. The labor of scores, or even thousands, enters into almost every article produced. Production is now social or collective. Practically everything is made or done by many men—sometimes separated by seas or continents—working together for the same end. But this co-operation in production is not for the direct use of the things made by the workers who make them, but for the profit of the owners of the tools and means of production; and to this is due the present division of society into two classes; and from it have sprung all the miseries, inharmonies and contradictions of our civilization.

Between these two classes there can be no possible compromise or identity of interests, any more than there can be peace in the midst of war, or light in the midst of darkness. A society based upon this class division carries in itself the seeds of its own destruction. Such a society is founded in fundamental injustice. There can be no possible basis for social peace, for individual freedom, for mental and moral harmony, except in the conscious and complete triumph of the working class as the only class that has the right or power to be.

IV.

The socialist program is not a theory imposed upon society for its acceptance or rejection. It is but the interpretation of what is, sooner or later, inevitable. Capitalism is already struggling to its destruction. It is no longer competent to organize or administer the work of the world, or even to preserve itself. The captains of industry are appalled at their own inability to control or direct the rapidly socializing forces of industry. The so called trust is but a sign and form of the developing socialism of the world's work. The universal increase of the uncertainty of employment, the universal capitalist determination to break down the unity of labor in the trades unions, the widespread apprehensions of impending change, reveal that the institutions of capitalist them.

Into the midst of the strain and crisis of civilization, the socialist movement comes as the only conservative force. If the world is to be saved from chaos, from universal disorder and misery, it must be by the union of the workers of all nations in the socialist movement. The socialist party comes with the only proposition or program for intelligently and deliberately organizing the nation for the common good of all its citizens. It is the first time that the mind of man has ever been directed toward the conscious organization of society.

Socialism means that all those things upon which the people in common depend shall be by the people in common be owned and administered. It means that the tools of employment shall belong to their creators and users; that all production shall be for the direct use of the producers; that the making of goods for profit shall come to an end; that we shall all be workers together; and that all opportunities shall be open and equal to all men.

V.

To the end that the workers may seize every possible advantage that may strengthen them to gain complete control of the powers of government, and thereby the sooner establish the co-operative commonwealth, the Socialist party pledges itself to watch and work, in both the economic and the political struggle, for each successive immediate interest of the working class: for shortened days of labor and increases of wages; for the insurance of the workers against accident, sickness and lack of employment; for pensions for aged and exhausted workers; for the public ownership of the means of transportation, communication and exchange; for the graduated taxation of incomes, inheritances, franchises and land values, the proceeds to be applied to the public employment and improvement of the conditions of the workers; for the complete education of children and their freedom from the workshop; for the prevention of the use of the military against labor in the settlement of strikes; for the free administration of justice; for popular government, including initiative, referendum, proportional representation, equal suffrage of men and women, municipal home rule, and the recall of officers by their constituents; and for every gain or advantage for the workers that may be wrested from the capitalist system, and that may relieve the suffering and strengthen the hands of labor. We lay upon every man elected to any executive or legislative office the first duty of striving to procure whatever is for the workers' most immediate interest, and for whatever will lessen the economic and political powers of the capitalist, and increase the like powers of the worker.

But, in so doing we are using these remedial measures as means to the one great end of the co-operative commonwealth. Such measures of relief as we may be able to force from capitalism are but a preparation of the workers to seize the whole powers of government, in order that they may thereby lay hold of the whole system of industry, and thus come into their rightful inheritance.

To this end we pledge ourselves, as the party of the working class, to use all political power as fast as it shall be entrusted to us by our fellow-workers, both for their immediate interests and for their ultimate and complete emancipation. To this end we appeal to all the workers of America, and to all who will lend their lives to the service of the workers in their struggle to gain their own, and to all who will nobly and disinterestedly give their days and energies unto the workers' cause, to cast in their lot and faith with the socialist party. Our appeal for the trust and suffrages of our fellow-workers is at once an appeal for their common good and freedom, and for the freedom and blossoming of our common humanity. In pledging ourselves and those we represent, to be faithful to the appeal which we make, we believe that we are but preparing the soil of that economic freedom from which will spring the freedom of the whole man.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC STATE PLATFORM.

Adopted at Madison Sept. 25, 1906.

The Social-Democratic party is the American political expression of the international movement of the modern working class for better food, better houses, sufficient sleep, more leisure, more education, and more culture.

Under the present system, society is rapidly dividing into two classes: the rich and the poor the capitalist class and the proletariat. The one toils without enjoying, the other enjoys without toiling.

In the wage earner of the cities and the farmer, we recognize the types of the producing elements of this country. Under our present economic system, both are exploited for the benefit of the capitalist class, the laborer on the sale of his labor power and the farmer on the sale of his products. Both are again exploited in the purchase of practically all the necessities of life.

The final aim of the Social-Democratic party is the emancipation of the producers and the abolition of the capitalist system. For that purpose, we organize the producing classes in city and country into a political party to take control of the powers of government.

The most characteristic expression of the present economic system is the trust and the monopoly.

Electricity, steam, and many modern inventions have struck the death blow at production on a small scale. Competition has wiped out competition. Production on a large scale makes monopoly a necessary condition. The trust and the monopoly are here, whether we wish it or not. The only question is whether they shall be public or private monopolies.

Private monopoly is a curse to the nation. Thus we see the coal trust making untold millions out of the sufferings of the poor, the oil trust piling up the greatest fortune the world has ever seen upon the ruins of innumerable small dealers and in defiance of all laws and courts of justice, the meat trust sending thousands of unsuspecting human beings to an early grave by selling diseased meat simply to make dividends and heap up millions. Similar statements could be proven against all the other trusts.

Therefore the Social-Democratic party demands that the production of this country shall be taken away from the control of a small number of irresponsible men whose only aim is to exploit us to the last limit of our endurance, without regard to human life or welfare.

There is no relief to be expected from any of the old parties.

Formerly, the Republican party was the favorite political organization of capitalism, while the Democratic party stood for the middle class. But since the trusts have brought the Democratic party, there is no difference between the two. They both stand for capitalism and the present economic system.

With this in view, the Social-Democratic party of the state of Wisconsin, in convention assembled, reaffirms its allegiance to the principles of international Socialism and declares its adherence to the platform of the national Socialist party, adopted at the convention in Chicago, and pledges itself at the present time to the following measures:

That the state legislature, the governor and our representatives in Congress shall take such action as is calculated.

1. To bring about the nationalization of all the trusts, notably the coal, the meat, the oil, the sugar, the farming machinery trusts, and others of the same kind.
  2. To bring about the national ownership of the railroads, telegraphs, telephones, and express companies and steamship lines.
  3. To enact a law, granting every wage-worker over 60 years of age, who has earned less than $1,000 a year and has been a citizen of the United States for sixteen years at least, a pension of not less than $12 a month for the rest of his life.
  4. To bring about the enactment of a national law, by which the government of the United States shall lend the cities and townships money on bonds issued by said cities and townships. Such loans shall be made in legal tender and without interest, the refund to take place in twenty years in equal shares. The money shall have its intrinsic value secured by the bonds and the assessed valuation of the city or township that receives the loan, and it shall be canceled with the bonds as fast as the loan is refunded.
  5. To amend the United States constitution so as to abolish the United States senate, which is a bulwark of capitalism and trustocracy—the general referendum of all the people to take its place as a check, under proper provisions. Furthermore to elect the United States judges by the people of their respective districts, for terms not to exceed six years—instead of having the appointed by the president—this in order to make an end of the government by injunction.
  6. To establish life-insurance by the national government.
- We also demand,
7. That all elective officers, national, state, and municipal, shall be made subject to the imperative mandate, and to a recall, by the expressed wish of three-fourths of their constituency.
  8. That no city in Wisconsin shall have the right to sell, lease or give away public franchises. Provided, however, that in cases where existing laws and public necessity make a franchise unavoidable, it shall be granted only upon such terms as will guarantee justice to the people in the matter of rates, and fair treatment of the workers in respect to hours of labor, wages, etc., and especially shall provide for the transfer of the utility to public ownership at the earliest possible hour. Or, provided further, that the granting of such franchise shall first be approved by general referendum of the respective city or township.
  9. Every city in Wisconsin shall have the right to take possession of all its public utilities by paying to the present owners the price of the properties involved as fixed by an impartial jury, the same not to include any franchise values; every city and township shall have the right to issue bonds for that purpose. All unlimited franchises now in existence to be declared null and void.
  10. Complete self-government for cities and townships. They shall have the right to erect public slaughter houses, cold-storage plants, elevators, coal and wood yards, ice houses, stock yards, and manufacture commodities and sell them to the citizens at cost.
  11. The state shall provide free school books and school utensils to the public schools. We also demand legislation enabling school districts in the country to give better school facilities and free transportation for the children to and from school.
  12. That no further water rights shall be given away to individuals or private corporations, and those that have been given away, shall be recovered as rapidly as possible. All mineral rights reserved in private contract shall be abolished. No land belonging to the state shall be sold, and all lands now belonging to the state shall be kept for state purposes.

13. That steps be taken to protect the head waters of our rivers. We demand also the reforestation of denuded tracts suitable for reforestation, so as to provide wooded land for future generations who have been robbed by the timber thieves.

14. That laws be enacted, limiting the working of youths under 21 years of age, and women of any age, employed anywhere in Wisconsin to eight hours a day, and prohibiting the employment of children under 16 years of age in any factory, store, workshop or mine, also for the strictest protection of life and limb in workshops, factories, mines, stores, railways and boats. Also the removal of the principle of contributory negligence from our statutes, and the enactment of laws to compensate workmen when injured while employed. All wages to be paid weekly in lawful money.

15. That a graduated income and inheritance tax be enacted, small inheritances and small incomes to be exempt.

The Social-Democratic party also stands for every radical change that will bring more wealth, more culture, and more security to the masses of the people. But we call attention to the fact that the measures we urge are not a cure for all the existing evils, nor are they all Socialistic measures. They are to be viewed rather as mere, palliatives of this kind. The people should move onward to the conquest of all public powers, to an entire change of the present ownership of the means of production and distribution and thereby the blessings of our modern inventions, and a standard of civilization and culture hitherto unknown in history.

This is the program of the Social-Democratic party in Wisconsin. We call upon every intelligent voter of this state, regardless of race, nationality or religion, to join the Social-Democratic party, vote its ticket, build up its organization, and stand shoulder to shoulder for a better order and a higher civilization. And especially to the economically oppressed we call in the words of the immortal Karl Marx:—

“Proletarians of the world, unite. You have nothing to lose but your chains and a world to gain.”

PEOPLE'S PARTY NATIONAL PLATFORM.

Adopted at Springfield, Ill., July 4, 1904.

Preamble.—The people's party reaffirms its adherence to the basic truths of the Omaha platform of 1892, and of the subsequent platforms of 1896 and 1900. In session in its fourth national convention on July 4, 1904, in the city of Springfield, Ill., it draws inspiration from the day that saw the birth of the nation as well as its own birth as a party, and also from the soul of him who lived at its present place of meeting. We renew our allegiance to the old-fashioned American spirit that gave this nation existence, and made it distinctive among the peoples of the earth. We again sound the key-note of the Declaration of Independence that all men are created equal in a political sense, which was the sense in which that instrument, being a political document, intended that the utterance should be understood. We assert that the departure from this fundamental truth is responsible for the ills from which we suffer as a nation, that the giving of special privileges to the few has enabled them to dominate the many, thereby tending to destroy the political equality which is the cornerstone of democratic government.

Holding fast to the truths of the fathers we vigorously protest against the spirit of mammonism and of thinly veiled monarchy, that is invading certain sections of our national life, and of the very administration itself. This is a nation of peace, and we deplore the appeal to the spirit of force and militarism, which is shown in ill advised and vain glorious boasting and in more harmful ways in the denial of the rights of man under martial law.

A political democracy and an industrial despotism cannot exist side by side; and nowhere is this truth more plainly shown than in the gigantic transportation monopolies which have bred all sorts of kindred trusts, subverted the government of many of the states, and establish their official agents in the national government. We submit that it is better for the government to own the railroads than for the railroads to own the government, and that one or the other alternative seems inevitable.

We call the attention of our fellow citizens to the fact that the surrender of both of the old parties to corporative influences leaves the People's party the only party of reform in the nation.

Therefore we submit the following platform of principles to the American people:

Money and Banks.—The issuing of money is function of government, and should never be delegated to corporations or individuals. The constitution gives to congress alone power to issue money and regulate its value.

We therefore demand that all money shall be issued by the government in such quantity as shall maintain stability in prices, every dollar to be full legal tender, none of which shall be a debt redeemable in other money.

Savings Banks.—We demand that postal savings banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of the savings of the people.

Labor.—We believe in the right of labor to organize for the benefit and protection of those who toil; and pledge the efforts of the People's party to preserve this right inviolate. Capital is organized and has no right to deny to labor the privilege which it claims for itself. We feel that intelligent organization of labor is essential; that it raises the standard of workmanship; promotes the efficiency, intelligence, independence and character of the wage earner. We believe with Abraham Lincoln that labor is prior to capital, and is not its slave, but its companion, and we plead for that broad spirit of toleration and justice which will promote industrial peace through the observance of the principles of voluntary arbitration.

We favor the enactment of legislation looking to the improvement of conditions for wage earners, the abolition of child labor, the suppression of sweat shops, and of convict labor in competition with free labor, and the exclusion from American shores of foreign pauper labor.

We favor the shorter work day, and declare that if eight hours constitutes a day's labor in government service, that eight hours should constitute a day's labor in factories, work shops and mines.

Initiative and Referendum.—As a means of placing all public questions directly under the control of the people, we demand that legal provision be made under which the people may exercise the initiative, referendum and proportional representation and direct vote for all public officers with the right of recall.

The Land.—Land, including all the natural sources of wealth, is a heritage of all the people, and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited.

Human Rights.—We demand a return to the strict construction of the constitution and a fair and impartial enforcement of laws under it, and denounce government by injunction and imprisonment without the right of trial by jury.

Railroads and Monopoly.—To prevent unjust discrimination and monopoly the government should own and control the railroads, and those public utilities which in their nature are monopolies. To perfect the postal service, the government should own and operate the general telegraph and telephone system and provide a parcels post.

As to those trusts and monopolies which are not public utilities or natural monopolies, we demand that those special privileges which they now enjoy, and which alone enable them to exist, should be immediately withdrawn. Corporations being the creatures of government should be subjected to such governmental regulations and control as will adequately protect the public. We demand the taxation of monopoly privileges, while they remain in private hands, to the extent of the value of the privileges granted.

We demand that congress shall enact a general law uniformly regulating the power and duties of all incorporated companies doing inter-state business.

NATIONAL SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY PLAFORM.

Adopted at the Eleventh National Convention of the Socialist Labor Party, July, 1904.

The Socialist Labor party of America, in convention assembled, reasserts the inalienable right of man to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

We hold that the purpose of government is to secure to every citizen the enjoyment of this right; but taught by experience we hold furthermore that such right is illusory to the majority of the people, to-wit, the working class, under the present system of economic inequality that is essentially destructive of their life, their liberty and their happiness.

We hold that the true theory of politice is that the machinery of government must be controlled by the whole people; but again taught by experience we hold furthermore that the true theory of economics is that the means of production must likewise be owned, operated and controlled by the people in common. Man cannot exercise his right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness without the ownership of the land on and the tool with which to work. Deprived of these, his life, his liberty and his fate fall into the hands of the class that owns those essentials for work and production.

We hold that the existing contradiction between the theory of democratic government and the fact of a despotic economic system—the private ownership of the natural and social opportunities—divides the people into two classes: the capitalist class and the working class; throws society into the convulsions of the class struggle; and perverts government to the exclusive benefit of the capitalist class.

Thus labor is robbed of the wealth which it alone produces, is denied the means of self-employment, and, by compulsory idleness in wage slavery, is even deprived of the necessities of life.

Against such a system the Socialist Labor Party raises the banner of revolt, and demands the unconditional surrender of the capitalist class.

The time is fast coming when in the natural course of social evolution, this system, through the destructive action of its failures and crises, on the one hand, and the constructive tendencies of its trusts and other capitalist combinations, on the other hand, will have worked out its own downfall.

We, therefore, call upon the wage workers of America to organize under the banner of the Socialist Labor party into a class conscious body, aware of its right and determined to conquer them.

And we also call upon all other intelligent citizens to place themselves squarely upon the ground of working class interests, and join us in this mighty and noble work of human emancipation, so that we may put summary end to the existing barbarous class conflict by placing the land and all the means of production, transportation and distribution into the hands of the people as a collective body, and substituting the co-operative commonwealth for the present state of planless production, industrial war and social disorder—a commonwealth in which every worker shall have the free exercise and full benefit of his faculties, multiplied by all the modern factors of civilization.

PLATFORM OF THE CONTINENTAL PARTY.

Adopted at Chicago, Ill., August 31, 1904.

The Continental party of the United States, in first national convention assembled, in the city of Chicago, August 31, 1904, announces the following platform of principles:

The objects and ends of the Continental party, as set forth in its charter, are: "To enlist the co-operation of legal voters throughout the United States in earnest and honorable efforts to repeal unjust laws in every branch of government, and, in their stead to secure the enactment and enforcement of other laws better adapted to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, promote the general welfare, and secure the election or appointment to office of honest and capable men."

Paramount Issues.—The questions pertaining to money, the tariff, transportation, trusts and corporations, the race problem, the labor problem, are pre-eminently live issues, which can never be permanently settled until they are settled right.

Tariff.—Without referring to our trade relations with nations of the Eastern Continent, we declare our adherence to the principles of reciprocity advocated by that eminent statesman, James G. Blaine, as applied to Canada and all American republics. To this end we favor such Congressional action as shall initiate a movement intended to bring about reciprocity to its fullest extent with the entire American Continent. In the language of Mr. Blaine: "There is room for but one commercial flag between Cape Horn and the North Pole."

Money.—We believe that the money question is far from being settled, and that it involves not only the gold standard, but the far greater question, namely, who shall issue and control the paper currency of the nation—the government or the banks? He who controls the money of a country controls the government of that country.

We believe that the money trust is the mother of all other trusts; that it is international in its scope; that it has duplicate headquarters—London and New York; that its power exceeds, in many particulars, the power of the Government itself; that it controls legislation by controlling the political party in power; that through its agents it secured the nomination of the Presidential candidates of both the Republican and Democratic parties and dictated the main planks of their national platforms.

We believe that it is this subserviency of the two leading political parties of this country to the money trust that is fast placing the wealth of the country into the hands of a few individuals, reducing to penury and want millions of the laboring and middle classes and establishing in this land of former freedom a plutocracy which threatens to be more arbitrary in its demands than any monarchy of the Old World.

“To coin money and regulate the value thereof” is a function of the National Government, which the Constitution has denied to the States, but which the Republican party has delegated, in part, to corporations.

As a check to the encroachments of the money power we advocate the following demands:

The act authorizing national banks to issue notes of credit should be repealed. All money of every description should be issued by the general Government, and be equal in value, dollar for dollar.

Postal banks for deposit and check should be established—one in every city, county-town and village, the surplus funds thus accruing to be loaned to the people at interest not exceeding 3 per cent. per annum.

The one hundred and twelve million dollars Government funds deposited in banks should be withdrawn and loaned to the several States on deposit of State bonds.

Transportation.—Constantly recurring accidents on all lines of railroad, causing great loss of life and the crippling and mangling of hundreds of passengers, demand the most searching investigation and prompt and efficient legal remedies whereby railroads shall be operated for the safety and convenience of the public, rather than for the purpose of declaring the usual dividend on watered stock.

During the year 1901 the railroads of England, which are owned and operated by the Government, transported an immense number of passengers without a single fatality. In this country a person virtually takes his life in his hand when he steps aboard a train of cars. We believe that the fatalities of railroad travel in the United States can be traced directly to the employment of cheap and careless employees, the overworking of engineers and conductors, and the neglect to take proper precautions against accidents, with a view to “cut down operating expenses,” as thus enable railroad officials to declare the usual dividends to stockholders.

As a remedy for such abuses we demand the prosecution for manslaughter of the principal officers of a railroad company on whose line the death of a passenger shall be traced directly to the carelessness or incompetency of their employes, or to their incapacity caused by long hours of continuous labor.

Government Railroads.—To give work to the unemployed, furnish cheaper and more equitable rates of transportation, insure the safety and convenience of the traveling public, and test the practicability of government ownership of railroads, the United States Government should at once proceed to construct, equip and operate one or more lines of four-track railway, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and one or more similar lines from the Gulf of Mexico to points near our northern boundary.

Labor.—We believe in the right of labor to organize for the benefit and protection of those who toil. Capital is organized, and has no right to deny labor the privilege which it claims for itself. Intelligent organization of labor is demanded to preserve the rights of the laborer. It raises the standard of workmanship and promotes the efficiency, intelligence, independence and character of the wage earner.

We believe with Abraham Lincoln that labor is prior to capital and is not its slave, but its companion, and we plead for that broad spirit of tolerance and justice which will promote industrial peace through the observance of just principles of arbitration.

We favor the enactment of legislation looking to the improvement in conditions for wage earner, the abolition of child labor, the suppression of sweat-shops and of convict labor in competition with free labor and the exclusion from American shores of foreign pauper labor and Asiatic labor of every nationality.

We favor the shorter workday, and declare that eight hours should constitute the maximum workday in all manufacturing establishments, workshops, mines and all other industrial establishments, and that where great skill and responsibility are required of an employe, as in the case of railroad engineers, train dispatchers, steamboat employes, etc., no person should be continuously employed more than six hours of the twenty-four.

Trusts and Corporations.—All railroad and other corporations doing business in two or more States should be chartered by Congress, and then only after a close scrutiny of their capitalization, a strict investigation revealing their intentions, and a most guarded restriction of their powers and operations. The creating of "corners" and the establishing of exorbitant prices for products necessary to human existence should be made a criminal offence against the officers, directors and stockholders of a corporation so offending, subjecting them to severest penalties. A man is no less a robber because he is able to hold up his victim by due process of law.

The Philippines.—The Philippines, the same as Cuba, should be guaranteed ultimate independence and a stable government under the protection of the United States.

The Electoral College.—The Congressional district, instead of the State, should be made a unit in the Electoral College, apportioning to each district one Presidential elector, to be chosen by the voters of that district.

Taxation.—We demand such legislation as will place the burdens of government upon that class of people who have been most favored by special acts of government, and to this end we favor a graduated property tax, exempting from its provisions property of the individual to the amount of $10,000 or less. We also demand that a 10 per cent. tax be levied annually upon all unoccupied and unimproved land.

New Primary Law.—We demand the enactment by the several States of a primary election law, by which all candidates for public office shall be selected by direct vote of the people, without the aid of a delegate convention.

We denounce government by the gavel in party conventions, and demand the elimination of the party "boss" from party politics, by whatever method it can be brought about.

Initiative and Referendum.—The election laws of the several States should be changed by constitutional amendment when necessary, so as to provide for direct legislation by the method known as the initiative and referendum.

Qualifications of Electors.—Each State should possess the sole right to determine by legislation the qualifications required of voters within its jurisdiction, irrespective of race, color or sex.

Constitutional Revision.—The Constitution of the United States should be revised and amended in accordance with the method provided in Article V., that our fundamental law may answer the demands of a century of civilization and progress.

Appeal to Independent Voters.—Believing our demands to be practicable and just, we appeal to all who believe in majority rule, to all who are weary of Standard Oil government, to all who are opposed to gavel government in party politics and to all others who desire the welfare of all the people, to unite with us in advocating the principles herein enunciated until they shall be enacted into laws for the government of this Republic—a Republic founded by Washington and Jefferson and the Continental Congress, and first defended and protected by the Continental Army of the United States.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

In the United States women possess suffrage upon equal terms with men at all elections in four states: In Wyoming, established in 1869; in Colorado, 1893; in Utah, in 1895, and in Idaho, in 1896.

In Kansas women possess school suffrage, established in 1861, and municipal suffrage, established in 1887.

In 18 additional states women possess school suffrage: In Michigan and Minnesota, established in 1875; in New Hampshire and Oregon in 1878; in Massachusetts in 1879; in New York and Vermont in 1880; in Nebraska in 1883; in Wisconsin in 1885; in Washington in 1886; in Arizona, Montana, New Jersey, North Dakota, and South Dakota in 1887; in Illinois in 1891; in Connecticut in 1893; in Ohio in 1894.

Two states permit women to vote upon the issuance of municipal bonds: Montana, established in 1887; Iowa, in 1894.

Louisiana gave all women taxpayers the suffrage upon all questions of public expenditures in 1898.

In 1901 the New York legislature passed a law providing that "a woman who possesses the qualifications to vote for village or for town officers, except the qualification of sex, who is the owner of property in the village assessed upon the last preceding assessment roll thereof, is entitled to vote upon a proposition to raise money by tax or assessment."

In Great Britain women vote for some local officers, but not for members of parliament.

In many European countries, in Australia and New Zealand, in Cape Colony, in Canada, and in parts of India women vote on various terms for municipal or school officers.

POLITICAL DISTRICT APPORTIONMENTS, 1901.

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

In accordance with provisions of the Fifty-sixth congress providing for eleven congressmen from Wisconsin, the legislature of 1901 reapportioned the state into eleven congressional districts. The total population of the state is 2,069,042, and the average population per congressional district is 188,094 and 8-11 persons, practically 188,095. By the new apportionment there are six districts with population below the normal, the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Ninth. The population of the other five districts is above normal. The Second district has the least population, 170,792, or 17,303 below normal. The Eleventh has the largest population, 217,650, or 29,555 above normal, a total difference of 46,858 between the lowest and highest in point of population. In point of population the Tenth district is closest to the normal figure, being but 2,880 above. The apportionment into congressional districts follows: [See map, back of book.]

SENATORIAL DISTRICTS.

[Average population per district, 62,898 8-33. See map, back of book.]

The apportionment of the state, by the legislature, into thirty-three senatorial districts, following each federal and state census of population, is in accordance with constitutional provision. By the census of 1900 the total population of the state is 2,069,042. Hence the unit, or normal for senatorial districts is 62,698 and 8-33, or practically 62,698  $\frac{3}{4}$ . In the following table the districts as numbered in the apportionment act, and the actual population of each is given, also the excess of population above the normal figure in those districts having an excess, and the deficiency, or number under the normal, in those below the normal figure. The basis for this figuring is 62,698 even, not taking into account the fraction of one-fourth of a person to each district. This prohibits an exact balancing of the totals in the excess and efficiency columns by 8, the total of one-fourth of a person to each district.

The table shows a total of twenty districts, each having an excess above the normal, and thirteen each below the normal. The greatest difference in population of any two districts is between the Fourteenth, Outagamie and Shawano, with 73,722, an excess of 11,024, and the Thirteenth, Dodge, with a total population of 46,631, or 16,067 below normal, a total difference between them of 27,091. The table shows the excess or deficiency in each district, the list of districts, as constituted, following the table :

In the apportionment adopted there are forty-eight districts, each with a population above the normal and fifty-two with population each below normal. The forty-eight above normal have a total population of 1,143,807, a total of 150,667 above normal. Their average population is 23,829 15-48 each, or an average of 3,139 each above normal. The other fifty-two districts have a total of 925,235 population. Their average population per district is 17,793, an average of 2,897 each below normal. Under this apportionment forty-eight members of the assembly will represent 55 28-100 per cent. of the people and fifty-two members will represent 44 72-100 per cent. of the people of the state. The district with the highest excess above normal is that constituted by Portage county with an excess of 8,793. The one least above is the second district of Racine county, with an excess of only 183. The fourteenth district of Milwaukee county is but 37 below normal, while the second district of Marinette county is 6,063 below normal. There are sixteen districts practically within 1,000 of the normal figure—numbers 43 to 58, inclusive, and twenty-five are within 1,500 of the normal figure. A complete list of the assembly districts as constituted by the apportionment of 1901 is as follows:

UNITED STATES SENATORS.

ROBERT MARION LA FOLLETTE (Rep.) was born at Primrose, Dane county, Wisconsin, June 14th, 1855; graduated from the state university of Wisconsin January, 1879; admitted to the bar February 1880; elected district attorney of Dane county November, 1880; re-elected in 1882; elected a member of the forty-ninth congress 1884; re-elected in 1886; re-elected in 1888; defeated for re-election in 1890; elected a district delegate to the national republican convention June, 1896; elected a delegate at large to the republican national convention June, 1904; elected governor of Wisconsin 1900; re-elected 1902; re-elected 1904; elected to the United States senate to succeed Joseph Very Quarles January 25, 1905. Took his seat as United States senator January 4th, 1906. His term of service will expire March 3, 1911.

ISAAC STEPHENSON (Rep.) was born in York county, near Fredericton, New Brunswick, June 18, 1829. His early life was spent in assisting his father who was a farmer and a lumberman. A short time was spent at public schools but most of his education is the result of observation and experience. At the age of fourteen years he moved to Bangor, Me., but shortly thereafter came west, locating at Milwaukee. After a few years spent in unsuccessful farming, he transferred his operations to lumbering in the northern peninsula of Michigan. His earliest work in the field was contracting for putting in logs in the winter, while during the summer, he carried freight to Chicago and Milwaukee by boat. When the first land office was opened in northern Michigan in 1848, Mr. Stephenson and his associates purchased large tracts of timber lands on the Escanaba, Ford and Sturgeon rivers and on Big Bay de Noquet. In 1857 he discontinued contracting logs and engaged in the manufacture of lumber. Since that date his business operations have grown rapidly until today he is one of the most extensive lumber manufacturers in the United States. In addition to its manufacture, he maintains large yards for the wholesale and retail distribution of lumber and is also heavily interested in the manufacture of paper. Mr. Stephenson is also a banker and owns a model dairy and stock farm. His business interests are centered at Chicago, Milwaukee and at his home city, Marinette. Politically, he has been a republican since the organization of that party. He was a member of the assembly in 1866 and re-elected in 1868. In 1882 he was elected to congress and served three terms when his business affairs required his declining a renomination. In 1880 and in 1892 he was a delegate to the republican national convention. In 1900 was delegate at large to the Republican National convention at Philadelphia; honestly elected delegate at large to Chicago Convention in 1904 and was chairman of the delegation, but was counted out because the national committee had the power to do as it pleased. In May, 1907, Mr. Stephenson was elected to the United States senate to serve for the unexpired term of Hon. John C. Spooner, resigned. His term of office will expire March 4, 1909.

This farm he operated successfully for eight years and in 1894 leased the farm and engaged in the real estate business at Union Grove. Following the real estate business he first visited Wood county, on a tour of investigation, on July 6th, 1896, and being impressed with the natural advantages of Wood county, he at once set to work locating settlers in and near Vesper, invested a little in lands himself, built a small saw-mill and also engaged in the general merchandise business at Vesper and became post-master at that place. He has twice served his town as chairman and been a member of the county board; is now engaged in the real estate business, placing loans and farming. He was elected to the assembly in 1906, receiving 2,155 votes against 1,992 for Frank Pomainville (Dem.).
