CITY DONS GALA ATTIRE FOR BIG HOMECOMING DAY

Grads and Visitors Begin to Arrive; Massmeeting
Starts at 7 O'Clock

Madison began to dress for the 1924 Homecoming celebration last night. All day today fraternity and sorority houses, men's and women's rooming houses, dormitories, and mercantile establishments will take on holiday attire.

The vanguard of grads and visitors began to arrive last night, but today the main body will come to take part in the celebration.

Homecoming festivities will begin tonight and continue steadily on schedule until tomorrow night. The massmeeting, first event on the program, will begin promptly at 7 o'clock in the men's gymnasium. Speakers will be Jack Harris, captain of the varsity squad; Judge John C. "Ikey" Karel, Milwaukee; and Prof. Carl Russell Fish, of the American history department. Frank Cosgrove '23, manager of the review.

A lost and found department will be conducted at information booths. Margaret Ashton '26, chairman of information, announced yesterday. This department will be operated for the benefit of those who lose articles while visiting in Madison for Homecoming.

Judge Decorations
While the massmeeting is in progress, the judges of decorations will make a tour of the Latin quarter to decide upon the best decorated fraternity and sorority house, the best decorated girls' rooming house and to select the winner in the Barnard and Chadoorne hall display contest. The judges are Major L. L. Lampert,

Gordon Walker '26, chairman of the Homecoming traffic committee, has asked that all students and townpeople co-operate by leaving their cars at home Saturday night.

Prof. William Varnum and Dean F. Louise Nardin. The results will be announced as early tonight as possible.

Immediately after the mass meeting, the huge bonfire will be kindled on the lower campus. Boxes and other materials were gathered yesterday and last evening a respectable pile was built. More will be added today.

No Langdon Parking

The Homecoming carnival, an entertainment of eight varsity vaudeville acts, will begin at the men's gymnasium at 9 o'clock. The best student talent has been obtained for this phase of the celebration.

No cars will be allowed to park on Langdon street between Lake street and Park street between 7 and 9 o'clock tonight.

International Club Will Hear Talk on Politics of China

A sketch of the political parties in China, how they originated, and their present platforms will be presented by I. H. Sin Su '26, before the International club at the meeting tonight, which will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the concert room of Lathrop hall.

The International club, an organization for foreign students, admits students and faculty members. At present the members number 50.

The purpose of the club is to promote a better feeling between the students, and to locate the foreign students in the university. The meetings which are held bimonthly, are open to the public.

Punish Powers

(An Editorial.)

Six months ago Wednesday night Peter M. Posepny '25, of Two Rivers was shot and killed by former police officer Patrick J. Powers. A coroner's jury pronounced a verdict of unjustifiable homicide. Powers was arrested on a murder charge and released on bail.

After a long delay and a change of venue the case comes up this month in the circuit court at Janesville. The trial must be a fair one; if the evidence available is all presented it is more than likely that Powers will be found guilty.

Within the last few days members of Phi Delta Phi have been trying the case in a mock hearing. A mock jury was convinced of the officer's carelessness with a gun and found him guilty of second degree murder.

ATHLETIC REVIEW SET FOR GUESTS

More Printed Than Ever Before to Supply Returning Alumni

The Homecoming edition of the Athletic Review has been printed and will be ready for distribution to the early comers in Madison this evening. A total of 12,000 copies of the review has been printed and will go on sale at all Homecoming functions this evening, according to Bert M. Hilberts '25, business manager of the review.

"The Athletic Review has grown in popularity in the past few years," Hilberts said last night. "Two years ago 7,000 copies of the review were sold to homecoming visitors and students; last year the number increased to 10,000. This year, to take care of the demand, we have had 12,000 copies printed."

A sales force of 60 men has been engaged to handle the sales at the football game, Saturday afternoon.

The money realized from the sale of the Athletic Review is the principal source of income for defraying expenses for Homecoming, Hilberts declared.

The reviews will be sold at the mass meeting, the bonfire celebration, and the carnival tonight. Information booths and registration places also will have an allotment to sell.

Experiments Show Tobacco Help to Routine Thinking

"Evidence shows that the effect of tobacco on ordinary routine thinking is favorable to its use. However, in the case of rote learning, results are unfavorable to the use of tobacco." This statement, drawn by Prof. Clark L. Hull of the psychology department of the university, is the result of a series of tests to determine the influence of smoking on mental and motor efficiency.

The 19 young men used as subjects were tested for pulse, adding, steadiness, and memorizing. The heart action increased, and much of the increase was still present an hour and 40 minutes after smoking. Along with this came a trembling of the hand.

There was a marked and uniform gain in the rate of mental addition which did not decline until an hour and 15 minutes after smoking. Both the smokers and non-smokers showed immediately after smoking a loss in the rate of learning of about nine per cent, and recovery was complete within an hour.

Habituating, in the matter of learning seemed, therefore, to have no effect whatever.

Y. W. FINANCE DRIVE NETS $1,530 TO DATE

Returns from the Y. W. C. A. finance drive which began November 7 show a total of $1,530.83 collected to date. The aim is $2,000. The winning team is headed by Elizabeth George '27, and composed of the following girls, Dorrit Astrom '27, Barbara Bacon '27, Louise Zimmerman '27, Jane Gaston '27, and Beulah Henry '26, reports a total of $300.

LIQUOR VIOLATION TO BE TRIED BY STUDENT COURT

New Power Given to Body to Handle Disciplinary Cases

Greater jurisdiction in student disciplinary cases, especially in those involving Homecoming liquor violations, will be assumed by the student court this year, according to Lucius P. Chase '25, newly elected chief justice of the court.

Student disturbances and other rule violations, except class room dishonesty and cases demanding immediate faculty action, can be tried before the student court. Punishments ranging from disciplinary probation to recommendation for suspension or dismissal may be handed down by the court.

In the past election dishonesty and traditions violations have occupied the greater part of the work of the court, and it is expected that the addition of the liquor cases will result in many more prosecutions.

Complaints must be made to any of the justices, to Prosecutor Peck, or to Dean S. H. Goodnight before the court can act in any case. No regular sessions are held, but the court is called when the prosecutor has prepared a brief, following the filing of a complaint.

WILL HOLD FIRST MATINEE MIXER

Students and Guests Invited to Lathrop Dance After the Game

A matinee "mixer" for all university students, alumni and visiting guests will be given in Lathrop gym immediately after the game Saturday from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents, and music will be furnished by Thompsons orchestra, Malcolm Millar '25, chairman of the mixer committee of the Union board, announced today. Cider and doughnuts will be served.

W. S. G. A. are co-operating with the Union board in the first year that such a function has ever been planned. It will take the place of the alumni reception which has hitherto been given after the homecoming game, but which has been abandoned this year.

A committee of 30 girls from W. S. G. A. will be at the dance to introduce people and help them to mix. Alumni students and visitors in the city are all invited to come, the committee announced.

PREXY WILL SPEAK TO CONGREGATIONAL GROUP

"Science and Religion" will be the subject of President Birge's talk to the student group at the Congregational church Sunday.

When asked to tell some of the main points of his talk, President Birge said, "I don't know myself what it will be about yet, but I urge you to come and find out."

Each Sunday at 12 o'clock at the Congregational church some university professor speaks to the student group.

ZR-3 Observer

Major F. M. Kennedy, one of the army observers on the ZR-3 during its record flight across the Atlantic, will speak in the auditorium of the Engineering building at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Major Kennedy graduated from the College of Engineering in 1908 from the civil engineering course. Since that time he has taken up work in the air service.

The ZR-3 was built by Germany for the United States under the provisions of the Versailles treaty. The name of the craft has been changed from ZR-3 to the "Los Angeles" by order of the secretary of the navy.

BAND TO PRESENT NOVEL FORMATION

145 Men Will Play at Homecoming Game; Will Form "W" and "I"

A completely uniformed and organized band of 145 men, the largest organization of its kind ever seen at the university, will be out for the Homecoming game with Iowa tomorrow.

A novel marching formation, forming a large white W and I on a blue background, has been perfected, and will be shown for the first time.

Major Murphy has been working for the past year in the selection of good men and obtaining of new instruments and better equipment, and has at last succeeded in bringing the organization up to its present proportions.

All the men are equipped with ceremonial capes and red cheering megaphones, and will be in their best Saturday for the game and the taking of the picture of the organization.

Buckets will be passed through the bleachers at the game to raise money to send the band to Chicago next week.

GILMAN TO SPEAK AT WESLEY FOUNDATION

As a special Homecoming feature, Prof. Stephen W. Gilman will speak at 7:30 o'clock Sunday November 16, at the Wesley foundation.

"Professor Gilman is a popular speaker upon occasions such as these," said Maynard Halverson, chairman of the evening. "We are very fortunate to get him for our Homecoming program."

A mixed quartet will sing several numbers, and other special music has also been arranged for the evening's entertainment.

FIRST MEETING OF A NEW GROUP IS HELD

The Chippewa Valley club held its first meeting of the season in the Green room of the Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock last night for the purpose of electing officers. The officers for the ensuing year are Robert Curtis '27, president; Stephen Frawley '25, vice president; Emily Belle Farr '25, secretary; Victor Linley '26, treasurer; and Frederick Brady '26, sergeant at arms.

Shorty Walstead—a much shorter Shorty in fact, only six inches of him left—is leading cheers, and one lone hobo left from the parade is tragically watching the carnival committee in their rather insecure canoe.

And so we see ourselves as others see us in De Longe's window where Homecoming is portrayed in miniature.

2,000 LISTEN AS NOTED LAWYER TELLS OF CRIME

"It is Not an Accident; It is Violation of Custom," He Says

By IRENE NORMAN
In a low but clearly audible voice, Clarence Darrow, for almost two hours held the close attention of more than 2,000 people who last night packed the Stock pavilion to see and to hear "America's greatest criminal lawyer" propound his theories of "Crime and Its Punishment."

"Crime is not an accident. It is the violation of customs that are always changing and should change," Mr. Darrow said. "One who violates a law is not necessarily good or bad. To say all laws must be obeyed is foolishness, for all sorts of ideas have made criminals."

Commandments Inadequate
Religion, conscience, and judgment, Mr. Darrow declared to be poor and inadequate standards for the measurement of the good and the bad.

"The ten commandments, held by many to be the plainest set of laws, mean nothing for they say only 'Thou shalt not under circumstances where it is wrong.' Conscience is changing and there is no human machinery to determine justice."

In answer to the popular question "Is Crime on the Increase?" Mr. Darrow said there is no way of finding out. In that danger to human liberty is growing greater and human beings are being hemmed in by more and more laws, in that sense alone is crime increasing, according to Mr. Darrow.

Age Too Rapid

"In every age and everywhere has there been a close connection between poverty, ignorance, and crime. Almost never does a man of mature age commit his first serious crime except due to some terrible misfortune."

"Until we have the intelligence and idealism to realize what crime is, crime will continue to prosper. Most property crimes could be prevented by giving the criminal a chance and by making the conditions of life easier."

"The rapidity of the age bears its fruit in crime. It is not admissible to make the victim suffer where it is unnecessary. He should not be isolated with vengeance and hatred. He should be considered, not as a criminal, but as an unfortunate man. Prisons should be in the hands of scientific and humane men and not in the hands of politicians."

Mr. Darrow expressed hope that some day a small percentage of what is spent for the punishment of crime will be used for its prevention.

Flonsaley Four Will Play Music By Spalding Nov. 18

"Albert Spalding is going to be an old acquaintance of Madison music lovers, by the end of this month," said Lawrence Powell of the music department today, "for it is going to hear not only his personal performance, but also a composition of his which the Flonsaley quartet has included in its program for November 18. Mr. Spalding is the only American composer represented in their proposed performance."

"Waldo Warner, the English representative, is the viola player of the London String quartet," Mr. Powell continued. "He is known by his friends as the brains of the quartet."

"His miniature suite, 'The Pixie Ring,' makes all its auditors feel like courtiers at Titania's throne; it is the product of so intricate a knowledge of string technique. In it he has drawn a series of little, poetic, tone-pictures by which he has translated ordinary human experiences into fairy-like gossamer imaginings."

Out of his squad of 25 men Coach Levis has selected 14 to compose the first and second Freshman basketball squads. With these men he will devote the most of his time, for he feels that they have shown the most promise. The two squads will be divided into two teams, giving him a good working number.

Fast First Team

The first squad is composed of several good eagles. Dew, the Fondy star and all state center, is one of the best shots on the team. Hotchkiss, of Oshkosh, another all state man, is a fast man with the ball, and handles himself well on the court. Bear, an all state man from Rockford, Ill., and Eye, from Chicago, are two of the best passers on the first squad. Nelson, of Madison Central high school; Chekton, Milwaukee; and Mulchter, Vernon, are men who dribble, shoot and pass equally well, and are showing up well in the practice games against the varsity.

Second Squad Strong
On the second squad Barr, an all around athlete from St. Cloud, Minn., and all state man in two sports, is giving every man on the first squad a hard run. He is an able guard and an excellent shot. Dunn and Sanders from Madison Central are proving their worth and with a little instruction in the Meanwell system will develop into varsity material. Freytag and Gentile are showing themselves capable of good basketball. Both are good dribblers and know something of the pivoting game. Hillard, of Baraboo, is playing a good game at center, having a knack of not missing when under the basket. All of these men will be varsity material in another year, so that Meanwell's hopes will not be so dark as they may seem through the loss of several of this year's team.

Badger Coaches
No. 14—Student Coaches

In the ranks of Badger coaches there are three under-graduate coaches that are assisting in developing Wisconsin teams, at the same time that they are acquiring an education.

These men are Ray Moore, boxing coach; Paul Eschweiler, water basketball coach; and Erwin Gerber, frosh swimming coach and assistant frosh line coach.

Ray Moore has developed boxing from a sport in which students took only a slight interest to a plane that is now on a par with other minor sports. Although boxing is not as yet an inter-collegiate sport at Wisconsin, each year sees more men working out in the little room at the top of the armory trying to master the manly art of self-defense. Last year Moore put on a program of boxing that was a credit to the university and his boxing classes put on an all-university championship tournament that was equal to any professional fight in aggressiveness.

Paul Eschweiler, captain of last year's water basketball team, has taken over the job of putting out a winning aqua net team this year. He knows the game thoroughly as he has been an ardent devotee of the sport for a number of years. Outside of Joe Steinauer, varsity tank coach, there is no one better fitted to coach the team than Eschweiler. Followers of the sport are looking to him to put out a successful aggregation this year.

Since Erv Gerber, star tackle on the grid eleven and an expert swimmer, was declared ineligible, he has proven his loyalty to Wisconsin by offering his talent in the way of a coach. Gerber has been appointed frosh swimming coach and he is certainly capable to fill the position. Gerber was at one time swimming instructor at the La Crosse Y. M. C. A. and was also one of the best divers and swimmers on the Badger swimming team. His

Fans and Committee Guessing

Dr. W. E. Meanwell, Badger basketball coach, is always upsetting the dope of the sporting world, but seldom did he cause such a stir as when it was discovered that he had proposed the rule which makes it impossible to inject a substitute into a game for the sole purpose of giving the regular players information during the rest period. Many of the newspapers of the country have come out with stories of how the rules committee had taken a slap at some of the Badger mentor's strategy, not knowing that it was Dr. Meanwell who proposed the rule.

When interviewed on the matter, Coach Meanwell said: "So they think that is a slap at me, do they? Perhaps they will change their minds when they learn that it was I who proposed the rule. After I had used the scheme I felt that it would be rather old stuff and that it would be a poor policy to continue using it. I used the play when it was there to be used. Others could have done the same thing, for there was nothing to prevent them from doing so. However, it would be carrying the plan too far, and for this reason I proposed the change to the committee and they upheld the suggestion, making it a rule."

Basketball fans will remember how the wonder coach sent a substitute into the game and while the rest time was being taken, gave the regular the necessary information and then sent him back in before the play was resumed. This trick was entirely new to the fans and it was regarded with interest by the followers of the game.

Badger Harriers
Being Pointed For
Michigan Gallop

The Badger hill and dale squad will have the final time trials 11 o'clock Saturday morning in an attempt to pick the men that will run for Wisconsin at the conference cross country meet at Ann Arbor next week.

Petaja has been out for a few weeks with an injury to his foot and has not been put to test since the Michigan dual meet. He was one of the best men on the squad at the start of the season but there is some doubt as to whether he will be able to hit his stride after the long lay off. If the star harrier gets in shape he will greatly enhance the Badger chances of coping the championship.

Although the trials will not be run for spectators, old fans who happen to be on the ground will see a Badger squad of harriers that have not lost a dual meet this season and a squad that stands more than a 50-50 chance of bringing a championship back after the conference run.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—Seven thousand ardent football followers of Michigan and Ohio State will greet the Wolverines and Buckeye gridiron teams when they march upon the field to play the traditional classic struggle Saturday afternoon. This will be the largest crowd to witness a football game since Michigan dedicated the stadium in 1922. All tickets were sold two weeks ago and temporary stands will be erected to handle the overflow crowd.

Michigan will enter the game as favorite. The dope favors Coach Little's team more than it has for the past three seasons. Ohio State will fight an uphill battle with Wilcox handicapped by the numerous injuries of men on the Buckeye squad, 17 being on the injured list during the first few days of the week.

Sports 2 col—Ryan stresses Working with a teamwork that has not been equaled at Camp Randall all season, Coach Ryan's first squad went through a stiff signal drill last night as a final polish to the offense which will be used Saturday in attempt to down the invading Hawkeyes before the homecoming crowd of 32,000 which will begin to infest Madison this afternoon.

No heavy scrimmage was meted out. The squad has been weakened by injuries and Ryan wants no more casualties to mar the team's chances for Saturday.

This is the week in which Badgers come home. Every year at homecoming time there is an especial quickening of life among those who have gone out that strikes a responsive chord and sends them back to their alma mater—college chums not seen for years, new fraternity houses, color, new buildings, new faces and new customs—but the same old spirit and the same old cardinal. Homecoming.

pression on the heavy Hawkeye line. Although the first part of each practice game has consisted of tackling practice and pass receiving, the men worked on new plays and new formations handed out by Ryan.

Polaski to Start. Doyle Harmon was back in the signal drill last night, taking McGivern's place at half. It is believed, nevertheless, that McGivern will be picked by Ryan to start the game tomorrow. The rest of the backfield seems certain and Larson, Leo Harmon, and McAndrews will carry on the offense.

That Polaski will be in condition to start the game at end with Miller seems certain. Although Steve has been out the past few days and was able to play only a few minutes in the Irish game, his injuries have healed and Ryan will depend on him to hold down his end. Miller, a big husky of 190 pounds, is one of the best receivers of passes on the squad.

This makes it seem as though forward passes will figure prominently in Saturday's game. Miller, Polaski, and Harris are a trio who can catch passes and who can run once they have the pigskin in their hands.

Larson, at quarter, completes the cog wheel in the passing scheme. In addition to being a good field general, Larson is an excellent passer.

So It Seems

Coach Ryan and his men were working together at Camp Randall last night like brothers. The men displayed a zeal and a will to learn that surpassed that of the entire season thus far.

The Badgers will show more fight and teamwork than ever as a result of the talk of this week. It is a noticeable fact, proved in history as well as on the gridiron, that when all is well on the outside things may go rough within the organization. But when an outside force comes in as an enemy, in this case, unfavorable publicity and criticism, the men unite to meet the foe and display strength never expected of them.

Ryan is working to put out a winning team here, there ought to be no doubt about that. Furthermore, he is working hard to drill the freshmen and ineligibles so they will be real additions to the squad next year. That doesn't help this year's team, perhaps, but it certainly makes for material for the future.

Badger reserves are well taken care of by Coaches Guy Sundt and Gundy Nelson. The only weakness, it seems, is in the assistant coaching staff. Ryan needs, as an aid, a line man of wide teaching experience.

An exponent of the positive spirit sent in the following: We ain't gonna lose no more, no more. We ain't gonna lose no more, We lost to the Irish and to Michigan, but We ain't gonna lose no more.

This promises to be one of the most spirited homecomings—not the bonded kind—in many years. All the old grads are coming back to see for themselves if things are really as bad as some newspapers have painted them.

Tries New Plays

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 13.—Wisconsin plays and Iowa plays, new ones and old ones, are getting the attention of the Hawkeye squad this week while Coach Burt Ingwerson concentrates on the filling of the hole in the center of the Iowa line. Iowa worked out a number of new formations last week while taking a long breath before Butler came here and now the scouts are back from Madison with a host of new plays that the Badgers bared in their effort to make a dent against Notre Dame.

In the early drills this week, actual scrimmage has been scarce for Coach Ingwerson has already lost so many men that he is going light, but there was plenty of care given to the finishing of a special attack that has been cooked for Wisconsin and most of the remaining periods were given over to the freshmen who demonstrated the plays of the Badger boys.

INGWERSON CALLS IN LAME, HALT TO STOP BADGER RUNS

Encouraged by their victory over Butler last week, the Hawkeyes feel confident of downing the Badgers here tomorrow in spite of the fact that both Fleckerstein and Griffin are definitely out of the game.

Coach Ingwerson has been striving all week to find replacement material for these two men, their absence having so weakened the Iowa defensive machine that the Iowans have been bending every effort to block what it is feared will constitute a serious flaw in the forward wall.

In an effort to brace the line, the Iowa coach has resurrected two supposed cripples, who have been out of the game all year, to strengthen the holding power of the Hawkeye machine.

The end of the football season will probably see the baseball aspirants swing into action in the annex. Although Coach Lowman has not as yet issued his call for men, it is probably because his time and efforts were taken up by the football squad at Randall, where he is grooming the ends.

Field House

Chicago will join the ranks of other Big Ten schools having new stadiums next year. It was definitely announced at an alumni meeting held last week that the new structure will be finished by next fall.

The new stadium will contain accommodations for 70,000, more than twice as many as the present structure holds. It will be constructed on the same site as the present stands, but the football field will be reversed. Instead of the length running north and south it will face east and west. In this way the new stadium can be built without causing too much interference with athletic work at Stagg field.

In addition to the construction of the new stadium, plans are under way for the building of a new field house that will take care of all intramural sports and will also be large enough to seat the crowds at basketball games.

DESK EDITOR—PAUL S. MCGINNIS

Our Policy in Regard to Athletics in the Future:

1. BEAT THE HAWKS
2. GO GET CHICAGO

The writer of the editorial entitled "A Discourteous Instructor" which appeared in the Daily Cardinal last Thursday morning was not fully informed of the case with which he was dealing. The instructor in question was entirely justified in her action, according to evidence, and by it helped the student in question materially.

Homecoming time approaches and with it the possibility that Wisconsin once more will be open to the "Annual Brawl" charge. It does no good whatsoever for the editorial writer to plead on the matter. But it might be suggested that it is very possible that the method used at Amherst college on such occasions may be employed here. What that method is may appear Friday or Saturday night.

"Give Christianity a trial," says Bernard Shaw. Recently they gave two of them: one through Bishop Brown and another in Madison through the Rev. Dr. Hunt. A few more of the like and Christianity will be perfect, free in thought and genuine in the practice of the true Christ spirit. What is more—"without benefit of the clergy."

"SPANNING PAPA"

The Capital Times yesterday accused the Daily Cardinal of being inconsistent in its handling of the situation in the athletic department of the university. It declares that the Daily Cardinal, while printing on its front page the "very story" which appeared in the Capital Times aent a shakeup in the athletic department, took the Times to task in an editorial for publishing its story.

Let it be known that the story which appeared in the news columns of this paper yesterday morning on the athletic situation was not at all the same story which appeared in the Times. The Times came forth with the statement that a shakeup was rumored. The Daily Cardinal spoke of the rumor but after the Capital Times story had started the rumor. The Daily Cardinal in no way recognized the truth of the Times story.

It is very clear that the Capital Times did the reading public no service in blazing forth a shakeup. The Capital Times is clearly doing nothing more than trying to force the issue. The Capital Times says that it is in the business of printing news—very well, but rumor can not be called news under any circumstances, and it calls its story nothing more than a rumor.

The Daily Cardinal thanks the Capital Times for the confidence shown in this newspaper by printing on page one of yesterday afternoon's Times the very editorial over which it works up such a temperature on its own editorial page—and for further complimenting the editorial by calling it "snappy."

HOT TIME TONIGHT

The first step in the campaign to beat the Hawks is the mass meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in the men's gym, followed by the traditional bonfire on the lower campus. The need for such a meeting at the present time is evident from the lack of interest in the game exhibited by some of those who call themselves Wisconsin boosters during the past week. The team can win tomorrow, but the uncertain factor just at present, and the factor that may prove decisive, is the support of the student body and the alumni.

The Homecoming committee has made elaborate preparations for tonight, and the stage is all set for an even larger massmeeting than that which crowded the gym a week ago. Probably the excitement of meeting old friends and various social attractions tonight will keep many away, but each man or woman who allows anything to interfere with his part in the general program will help to kill the support that the team has a right to expect, and consequently will make it harder to win tomorrow's game.

Football games are not played primarily to make money or even in order to win a victory. They are played and financed on such a large scale as they are by this university that they may serve to stimulate and draw out that school spirit which is essential to healthy student life. That consideration makes the mass meeting and bonfire tonight just as important as the game itself, for each in its own way helps to build up the enthusiasm which is the true purpose of football and of all athletics. Yelling and shouting is one of the ways in which a student can give expression to the spiritual side of his relation to his college.

SCHOOL DAY FRIENDSHIPS

Hearth fires will burn brightly tonight, and long after the excitement of the bonfire and the carnival have passed away, lights will twinkle far into the early hours as old cronies get together and swap stories of college days and of the less colorful years that have slipped by since their undergraduate days.

Many of these reunions will be the first meetings of old friends after many years of separation. And yet the greetings of these old school day chums will doubtless be warmer and more affectionate than the greetings that men give to acquaintances formed later in life. For there is something about college friendships which makes them last through life in spite of distance which may separate or vocations which may call to widely separated fields. Often these old friends keep up their association through correspondence or occasional meetings, and always when they come together the old bonds are found to be just as strong as ever and the old interests not forgotten.

Such reunions it is the true function of Homecoming to effect, for seldom do alumni who live in different cities have a chance to see each other save when they return to their old stamping grounds. Then for a couple of happy days they talk over their college days, and long for a return of the old times. They have found out that life can be a very drab succession of events, and they want to abandon themselves for a while to the carefree joys of college again.

Undergraduates do not always realize that the friendships they are forming and the good times they are having will continue to be one of their chief sources of delight in future years, and will be talked over again and again when they return for Homecoming ten or twenty years from now. Perhaps a realization that all their friends and pleasures will live on, in their minds at least, as long as their memory lasts would make many students put more effort on making their social life worthy of future meditation.

THEM THERE CO-EDS.

I happened to be walking down the hill on Wednesday morning when two snappy Kappa Alpha Theta pledges started to talk over their prospective dates for the week-end.

"You know," said one, "I have two dates with two different fellows on Friday night and I just don't know what to do."

"That's easy," replied the other. "Just call up one and tell him you'll see him from eight to nine. Then call up the other and tell him you'll see him from nine to ten. They'll tell you what to do."

I WONDER WHAT SHE MEANT.

Oh, mama uses cold cream,
And papa uses lather,
But my sweetie uses powder,—
At least, that's what I gather.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL.

Dear Skyrockets:
I took a girl over to the dance at Lathrop hall on Saturday night, and after strutting off two dances, she looked up at me and said, "Tell me, are you from the North?"

Being an inhabitant of Racine, I answered, "No. Why do you ask?" Whereupon she said, "You dance as if you had snowshoes on."

Yes, it certainly pays to keep straight. Look how the corkscrew lost out.

House Mother—No, the silence.

Dear Rockets:

Told a friend of mine that I was going into the hosiery business when I graduated and he said he wished me lots of success.

Bulletin Board

This column is for the use of all organizations and university staff members who wish to reach large groups readily. No charge is made for notices. Notices may be brought to the editorial office in the Union building, 752 Langdon street, or phoned to Badger 250 before 5 o'clock of the day preceding publication.

MENORAH SOCIETY.

Because of the Menorah Homecoming banquet to be given Saturday night, no meeting will be held this week. The next regular meeting will be Nov. 25.

CASTALIA

The members of Castalia will be at De Longe's Studio Friday at 12 o'clock for the Badger picture.

PYTHIA.

The Pythia group picture scheduled for 12 o'clock Friday at Thomas' studio has been postponed to 12 o'clock next Monday.

HESPERIA.

Hesperia Literary society will not meet tonight. The sophomore semi-public debate tryouts will be held on November 21. All sophomores should consult the bulletin board in the library.

ONE O'CLOCK PARTY.

The office of the dean of men has approved the one o'clock party of

Her cheeks have lost that schoolgirl hue;
She's all but meek.
She doesn't know her eyes reflect
The fact that she's a nervous wreck.

SHE'S the co-ed who wrote the ode,
Flattering her date for Union Vod!

WELL, NOW, WHERE DO WE COME IN?

Dear Methuselah—
Please, oh please, tell Argon the Lazy, for me that I'll exchange a ticket for the Chicago game (I really have two of them) for a breakfast at his "buckwheat plus syrup" place. Is it a bargain?

SCENES FROM PROM.
Among the new and novel ideas that will feature the 1926 Prom are the following:

1. All prohibition agents will be dressed in Cardinal Tuxedos.
2. The Prom Chairman will wear a vest of the same color and the queen will be draped in the Star Spangled Banner.
3. Ushers will ride bicycles appropriately decorated with "W" shaped wheels.

THE R. R. BOYS.
John Richards is back for Homecoming! He ran over to chat with Bill Kieckhofer yesterday, and the following conversational bit ensued:

Bill: Do you remember any of your economics, John? Do you remember who established the law of diminishing returns?
John: Oh sure, that was my laundry man.

Doug Newell, the human football catalog, is back for the big time. Doug can tell you why the interference failed in formation 77-63-144 in the first quarter of the homecoming game in 1776.

And here is the bottom again.

Reports on Marks of Midsemesters Due November 26

Reports of the results of the midsemesters examinations must reach the freshman committee before November 26, according to announcements read to various classes during the past few days. This is done in order that advisers may have sufficient time to see their advisees before the Christmas holidays.

At this time reports of all freshmen and of all sophomores on probation or in any other way deficient in their studies are reported to Dean F. W. Roe, while juniors and seniors are reported to Dean G. C. Sellery.

It has been recommended by the committee that five and two credit courses hold their examinations before November 20 while three and four credit courses hold theirs between November 20 and 25.

DAIRY CLASS HAS BIG ENROLLMENT

Sixty Come to Take Three Months' Course in Ag School

The three months' winter dairy class of the university, including buttermakers and cheesemakers, opened November 6 with an attendance of 90 students, which is a 50 per cent increase over the 60 students who were present on the first day of school last year. An increased number of students come to take the course of special instruction in ice cream making.

The students are mostly from Wisconsin creameries and cheese factories and are more mature and experienced than those of last year. In spite of the non-residence fee, the class includes men from Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Ohio, Vermont, South Dakota, Washington and South America. Indian Party to Be Among Features For Homecoming

Homecoming gaiety has begun. There are several parties scheduled for this evening, at which Homecoming decorations will be used. The Midnight Frolic will hold the center of the stage later tonight, there will be many theater parties attending it. Tomorrow will be a busy day, and tomorrow evening there will be about thirty parties given in addition to many open houses, and tea dances in the afternoon.

Delta Chi.

The Delta Chi house will be decorated with Homecoming decorations for the informal dancing party to be held there this evening. Shaded lights and decorations in Wisconsin and Iowa colors will be used. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brockhausen will chaperon. About fifteen members of the Iowa chapter of Delta Chi will be guests.

Delta Pi Delta.

A motto from Hiawatha, "Footsteps to a wigwam leading—" will welcome guests at the Delta Pi Delta dancing party this evening. The outside of the house is decorated like an Indian wigwam, and the decorations inside are also to be in Indian style. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cook will chaperon the party.

Phi Delta Theta.

An informal dancing party is to be held at the Phi Delta Theta house this evening. Homecoming decorations will be used. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marling are to be chaperon. Six or eight members of the Iowa chapter of Phi Delta Theta will be among the guests.

Phi Kappa.

Wisconsin and Iowa colors will be used to decorate the Phi Kappa house for the informal dancing party to be given there this evening. Eight members of the Iowa chapter will be guests. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McNamara and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Manion have accepted the invitation to chaperon.

Alpha Gamma Rho.

Flowers and shaded lights will decorate the Woman's building for the Alpha Gamma Rho dance to be held there this evening. Professor and Mrs. J. B. Hayes have been asked to chaperon.

Alpha Kappa Lambda.

Homecoming decorations will be used at the Alpha Kappa Lambda informal dancing party this evening. Professor G. Fowlkes and Mr. and Mrs. A. K. McArthur are to chaperon.

GLEE CLUB PLANS EXTENSIVE TOUR

Student Life and Interest Committee O. K.'s Proposed Tour of Cities

The Student Life and Interest committee handed down its approval yesterday of the program and tour of the Men's Glee club, which makes possible the largest program the club has ever undertaken, according to John F. Murphy, L2, manager of the club.

The spring tour, which will be the longest trip taken by the club, will cover four states and will include appearances in 13 cities and towns. A trip to Milwaukee and vicinity will be taken in February, and another to Chicago February 23, when the club will take part in the annual inter-collegiate glee club contest.

The club is preparing for its first concert this year which will be given at the university radio station November 19.

The temporary booking for the spring tour includes the following towns and cities: Rockford, Illinois; Davenport, Iowa; Cedar Rapids, Iowa Falls, Webster City, Mason City, Winona, Minnesota; La Crosse, Marshfield, Wausau, Stevens Point, Wisconsin Rapids, and Portage.

and other treacheries of Lake Mendota, the open season on canoeing and other lake sports will close Saturday, Nov. 15, according to Captain Isabel of the university life-saving station.

"After Saturday, protection will be taken away for the winter," Captain Isabel said. "It is customary to close the boat house right after Homecoming. And beside, the weather is too raw, so nobody should feel bad about the matter."

According to the captain, the crews are still on the lake and will be for a few days more if the weather permits. The life-boats will be lifted early next week, so that anyone venturing on the lake after that time will be without the protection of the life-guards.

The hair is the most important part of the appearance.

Smooth, well-kept hair is now so easy to have!

UNKEMPT hair was once as nearly universal as smooth, neatly-combed hair is today.

Of course, well-dressed men realized then as well as now that nothing spoils the whole appearance so quickly as hair that is out of place.

But what could they do?

Old-fashioned pomades only matted the hair and made it greasy. Water evaporated within an hour and left the hair drier and more unruly than ever. There wasn't a thing that could keep the hair smoothly in place from morning till night—natural, soft, lustrous.

That's why Stacomb was introduced.

At last—a way to keep the hair in place

At first known only in California colleges, the story of Stacomb quickly spread. Today, well-dressed men everywhere have found in Stacomb what they have always needed—an easy, natural way to keep the hair looking just as they want it to look at all times.

Perhaps you part your hair in the middle. Perhaps on the right side. Perhaps on the left. Perhaps you comb it straight back. It makes no difference; Stacomb will keep it just the way you like it best. A touch of it in the morning, and your hair will stay just the way you want it all day long.

No matter how uncontrollable your hair may be after being washed—no matter how dry and straggly by nature—Stacomb will keep it in perfect order, always smooth, trim, lustrous.

Women use Stacomb, too. They find it excellent to control stray hairs, to make the curl stay in, and to keep the hair severely close to the head in the prevailing fashion.

Use Stacomb tomorrow morning, and look your best all day! A delicate, invisible cream—non-staining and non-greasy. In jars and tubes at your college drug store.

Film Fans to See Many Stars Next Week on Screen

By H. E. R.

A large number of moviedom's best actors and actresses will appear in Madison next week at the different showhouses.

Nazimova and Milton Sills will start the week at the Strand in "Madonna of the Streets," a powerful drama of a "hahd-hahed" woman who "fell" for one of the men that she had planned to throw aside as she had done with gangs of others (like Dotty Gaines is in the habit of doing). Then "Wine of Youth," a light-hearted melodrama of effervescent youth, will take over the screen. Eleanor Boardman, Creighton Hale, Nen Lyon, and Virginia Lee Corbin are the stars in this hot little play.

The Parkway is bringing back our bonnie to us. Gloria Swanson will be wayward-leading, leading lady in "Wages of Virtue." Gloria assumes the role of Carmelita living in the neighborhood of Algiers, and causes much distress within the heart of a member of the French Foreign legion, and that ain't all. (Roundy's stuff.) The Parkway is also getting prepared for syncopation week, which will be held the week after next. "Frolic o' Jazz" is the name that they are giving to it and some of the features will be a pair of excellent comedians, ten singing and dancing girls, and a ten-piece band.

"The Fire Patrol," a thrilling "melodramer" with an all-around good cast will be shown the first three days at the Madison. In it are Anna Q. Nilsson, Madge Bellamy, Jack Richardson, Spottiswoode Aken, and Charles Murray. It is chuck full of thrills. Then Pat O'Malley and Agnes Ayers will enact a nice little comedy for our benefit named "Worldly Goods." According to the press reports, the picture should be called "The Terrible Liar." Should be good.

At the "Orph" we will have another orchestra the first part of the week. Ben Maroff and his symphonic band will entertain us with an act of music that is good and different. "The Parisiennes" will be another musical act the last part of the week and will feature Carrick's orchestra.

Melvyn Hesselberg is due to carry a dual role next week at the Majestic in a light-hearted comedy called "Putting It Over." He acts the part of the burglar in the play and also the part of a serious minded civil engineer who is engaged to build a dam (not give a —). They have a nice little company down there now.

And so it goes.

EVANSTON, Ill. — The first sweeping educational inventory of an American university is about to be effected by Northwestern university. The inventory will include every department and school of Northwestern and will differ radically from other and similar attempts in that leading educators from various and sister universities have been invited to be the investigators.

Mask and Wig

By CHATTY

Did you see Ruth Draper Wednesday night? If you didn't you have our deepest sympathy. Bill Purcell was largely responsible for our seeing her, and we shall be deeply indebted to him forever. We agree with him and Percy Hammond that she is the world's greatest actress.

Gene Byrne was on hand and we thought that he was going to fall out of his seat, he laughed so hard. And even R. E. N. Dodge could scarcely contain himself.

The only person we saw in the theater—excuse us, we mean church—who didn't seem to be enjoying the performance was Warner Taylor. But we caught only a few glimpses of him and may be doing him an injustice.

We suspect that Sunny Pyre got a lot of new jokes to spring on his classes from the character sketches which Miss Draper put on. If you saw the performance yourself, try to laugh at their repetition, anyway. It will make Sunny feel good.

Just a word about a subject which was written up in yesterday's editorial column. We are all for the idea of some of the campus entertainers visiting the soldiers' hospitals in the vicinity of Madison to distract these disabled veterans and help them enjoy the peace which they won.

The Homecoming carnival comes off tonight. If it is as much of an improvement over last year's show as last year's show was over that of the previous one and the previous one over that of—oh well, etc.—it will be a humdinger.

The big theatrical event of the week-end, however, will really be the Iowa game. We don't mind bringing athletics into this column because we want the team to realize that everybody on this campus is behind it heart and soul and knows that it is going to win. Tomorrow we forget all about stage plays and think only about gridiron plays and playlets, knowing full well that Wisconsin will star.

Orpheum Maintains Good Standard of Last Three Weeks

By S. P.

Evidently the Orpheum has decided to keep up the standard shown during the past three weeks. Last night's offering was received with unusual applause by a hilarious audience. No better show could be gotten together in honor of Homecoming.

Gallettis Monkeys.

Almost human little beasts with weird humor.

Goss and Barrows.

This is a good nut act with a pretty girl and some very clever gags.

Wilfred Clark and Co.

New stuff with personality and nerve. The audience gasped wildly at the antics of the mixed couples. Old idea with a new slant. The best one-act play at the Orph this year.

Haddy Rappi and His Violin.

An excellent singer, a pleasing violinist, and an indifferent storyteller.

Herbert Williams.

Slapstick stuff with big appeal, and a real humorist. Jokes that you haven't heard before, and a shapely girl. The best thing of its kind in years.

Goss and Barrows.

An amusing pair of clever gymnasts who do new stunts on a bar. Well above the average. Thrills, glides, and breathless moments.

Talk Plant Pathology at Rotary Club Meet

Prof. L. R. Jones, of the plant pathology department of the university, discussed the problems arising in plant growth and culture at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club at the Lorraine hotel Thursday noon.

The lecture was illustrated by slides and pictures of planting and propagation of numerous varieties that have been taken in the several years that Prof. Jones has devoted to this subject.

E. F. U. Initiates Class Here Wednesday Night

New members were initiated into the Equitable Fraternal Union Wednesday night at Moose hall.

Those initiated were Dr. O. Isham, Mrs. F. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. G. Vitence, Mathew Hauser, Scott Sheldon, Frank Soule, Clarence Tipple, Louis Russo and Mr. and Mrs. F. Darling.

After the initiation, refreshments were served. Dancing concluded the program.

STRIKE ONE! MOVIE SCORES

By F. G. V.

Baseball, America's great game, is portrayed with an interesting sidelight on the pitcher's home life at the Madison this week.

Johnnie Walker, playing the leading role, inherits baseball tendencies from his father—so can't resist an offer with a big team, in spite of his promise to his mother to stay out of the game professionally.

With a 6-7 score and the Giants underneath, Johnny steps in as pitcher, bringing the team home with flying colors. Incidentally, he aids in the reunion of his mother and his father, who is manager for the Giants.

Jane Thomas, as Johnnie's mother, plays her part well, but our applause is won by Tom Santschi, the father, who says, "Baseball is America's game—a white man's game, and can't be bought."

Offer Prizes In Apple Display at University

A feature of the fruit and flower exhibit Thursday and Friday in the Horticultural building at the university will be an apple display of the spray rings, of which there are approximately 90 in the state. The spray rings are groups of farmers cooperating in spraying their orchards. Prizes to rings and to individuals will be awarded. The apples displayed will be placed on sale from 3 to 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Farmers from Jefferson, Kenosha, Racine, Rock, Ozaukee and Winnebago counties are participating in the show.
