WINKING AT ME.

WRITTEN BY F. C. PERRY.

ARRANGED BY ROBERT COOTE.

Piano introduction in G major, 6/8 time. The music is marked f (forte). It consists of two staves: a treble staff with a melodic line and a bass staff with a rhythmic accompaniment of chords.

In truth, kind friends, I am de_lighted to sing, To make your hearts glad, While times on the wing, But Vocal line and piano accompaniment for the first line of lyrics. The piano part features a steady accompaniment of chords in the bass and treble staves.

now, 'pon my word, I'd sing bet_ter you see, If the gents would but give o_ver wink_ing at me.

Vocal line and piano accompaniment for the second line of lyrics. The piano part continues with a consistent accompaniment.

Winking at me, winking at me, I really can't sing while they're winking at me. Winking at me,

CHORUS.

Vocal line and piano accompaniment for the chorus. The piano part features a steady accompaniment of chords.

winking at me, I really can't sing while they're winking at me.

Vocal line and piano accompaniment for the end of the chorus. The piano part concludes with a final chord.

WINKING AT ME.

In truth kind friends I am delighted to sing,
To make your hearts glad, while Time's on the wing;
But now, 'pon my word, I'd sing better, you see -
If the gents would but give over winking at me.

Winking at me, Winking at me,
I really can't sing while they're winking at me.

2

The gents seem to fancy, at will they may wink,
In public its quite out of order, I think;
In their sleeves they are laughing, and that gent there you see,
He like all the rest, keeps on winking at me.

Do be quiet, sir, you're making me blush, and no wonder,

Winking at me, Winking at me, &c.

Ah, sir, you may laugh, but you like the rest,
Think with a wink, to make a conquest:
I've forgotten my song, and no wonder, you see,
While that gent with his bright eyes, keeps winking at me.

I'm surprised, a young gentleman like you being so rude, you ought to know better than to keep Winking at me, &c.

4

That smart looking gent, if I must tell the truth,
Seems to forget that he's not quite a youth;
What would his dear wife say, could she but see,
Her meek lord and master, keep winking at me.

I'm under the impression that if your wife saw you, she would let you have one of her most unpleasant looks, for Winking at me, &c.
