LEADERS OF SENIOR CLASS PREPARE FOR "WATCH 25" CAMPAIGN

1425 of Graduating Class to Sign Domesday Book Monday, May 25

A working unit of 125 senior class leaders are busy perfecting the machinery necessary to launch the dynamic one-day "Now-Watch '25-Campaign" next Monday, May 25, when 1425 seniors will sign their names in the Memorial Union Domesday book of subscribers.

Under the general chairmanship of Lester Kissel, president of Union Board, every member of the class of '25 will be approached next Monday by the committeemen in the particular school in which he is registered.

Publicity for the campaign is being planned by Ellis Fulton, Elmer Barringer, Helen Baldauf.

Special Schools

Seniors in the six special schools will be covered by special chairmen and their assistants. John Bergstresser president of the senior class, is chairman of Letters and Science, assisted by Fred Gustorf. The committee personnel includes Ervin Gerber, Bert Hilberts, Marsh Diebold, Eliot Sharp, Byron Barwig, Tom Morony, George Walsted, Robert Casterline, Clifford Fransson, James Sutton, Wes Dunlap, Lloyd Valley.

The Commerce seniors will be canvassed by a committee headed by Leon Herried, assisted by John Davenport, L. Merton Mears, Fred Evans, Richard Porter, Vernon Noughton.

Engineers Under Fabera

Engineers will be solicited under the leadership of Wenzel Fabera with a committee including Hubert Holmes, Ralph Giles, Arthur Weinke, David Roscoe and Ralph Smith.

Men in agriculture will be approached by Herbert Shaefer, chairman, Russel Perry, assistant chairman, Basil Berg, Fred Kaufman, Henry Wood, Austin Cooper, Ernst Schneider.

Dwight Spooner is chairman of the medicals, assisted by Malcolm Miller. George Fiedler will solicit the Law school.

Organizations will be supervised by Arno Wiese, with Eugene Tuhart as assistant chairman.

Five Women's Teams

Five senior women headed by Mary Devine and assisted by their respective teams will direct the campaign.

HOUSING ATHLETES PRESENTS PROBLEM

900 High School Students to Be Here Must Be Entertained

The problem of housing the 900 high school athletes who will compete in the state interscholastic track, tennis, and swimming meets Friday and Saturday is a serious one, according to Willard Sanders '26, chairman of the housing committee.

The university has never before been called upon to entertain such a large number of men for a state meet. Sanders is now issuing an appeal to all campus fraternities to aid in entertaining this unexpected flood of high school students. Some of the fraternities have responded willingly, says Sanders, but as yet there are a great number of men to be supplied with quarters.

"The manner in which these men are entertained will largely determine the success of the meets over the week-end," states Sanders. "It is up to every fraternity to do its share in housing men."

All fraternities wishing to entertain high school athletes or those wishing to enlarge their quotas should call Edward Seim at B 5177.

The students working on the housing committee with Sanders are Richard Bergstresser '27, Paul O'Neill '27, Arthur Clark '27, Lawrence Moe '27, Raymond Schmidt '27, and Edward Seim '27.

SENIORS TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS TONIGHT

A senior class meeting to discuss Class day and Commencement day problems has been called by John L. Bergstresser, class president, for 7:15 o'clock this evening at 165 Bascom hall.

Chairman of committees and class officers who will be called upon for reports are Dorothy John, Jean Palica, Eliot Sharp, Wenzel Fabera, Irene Norman, Robert Nethercut, Lester Kissel, and Elmer Barringer.

Business of particular importance to come before the meeting is that of the Chimes fund, class day, senior sings, and the class song.

VENETIAN NIGHT LIGHTING PLANNED

Spot and Flood Lights With Varied Colors to Be Used

Spot lights with colored wheels, strung from the top of the boathouse, will throw multi-colored lights on the Venetian night revels, next Saturday night.

William McDonald '25, chairman of the committee on electrical arrangements, stated yesterday.

Flood lights will be used to light the floats, but after the experience of last year when their lighting power was found to be somewhat ineffective, fewer will be used, and increased number of spot lights being planned instead.

From five to ten spot lights will be used. Stringers with the lights used for the hockey rink last winter will be strung from the boathouse to Lake street and possibly as far as the Y. M. C. A. Each float this year is taking care of its individual lighting system.

Those working on the committee with McDonald are Oscar Elkins '26, Fred Ahrebecker '28, Theron Chapman '25, George Schlotthauer '27, and Clarence Martin '25.

COUNTRY MAG EXPECTS TO FOSTER ACTIVITIES

"In future issues of the Wisconsin Country magazine we are going to foster activities more than has been done in the past," said Klovay, new editor, in making a statement as to the policy of the magazine yesterday. "A high standard has been set, and we are going to live up to what has been done before."

University Bill for Appropriations is Passed by Senate

The university appropriation bill, giving the institution approximately $7,500,000 for the coming two years, passed the state senate on Monday night with only one dissenting vote. It is expected to pass the assembly.

Senator Herman Severson, Iola, was the only man who cast a dissenting vote, and there was no debate on the bill. By unanimous agreement the upper house dispensed with the reading of the appropriation clauses of the act as required by the rules and if by the rules a roll call had not been necessary that also would have been dispensed with.

The upper house without dissent also gave its final approval to the normal schools budget allowance bill. This measure gives the normal schools approximately $4,550,000 for the coming biennium.

BERGSTRESSER IS GIVEN KENNETH DAY MEMORIAL

Artman of Chicago University to Speak at Presentation; Qualifications Given

Announcement of the election of John L. Bergstresser '25 as the recipient of the Kenneth Sterling Day Memorial award was made public last night by the faculty committee who had charge of the selection from the names of candidates considered. The committee consisted of Profs. Carl Russell Fish, chairman, M. F. Guyer, Stephen W. Gillman and W. H. Page.

Prof. J. M. Artman of Chicago university and a member of the American Institute for Social and Religious Research will deliver the annual address at the presentation ceremonies which will take place at an all-university convocation Saturday evening, June 6, in Music hall, the committee announced.

Give Qualifications

Upon the memorial, which is a bronze statue representing a youth supporting the earth, is engraved each year the name of the "man who has proven himself to be most outstanding through service to his university and who represents the finest type of manhood." The award is made upon the following bases:

"Essential Christian worth as evidenced by individual moral character."

"Capacity to execute with precision and thoroughness those practical details which are necessary to the operation of religious forces."

"Power to conceive and bring to pass beneficial changes in the life of the student body."

"Scholastic attainments; a normal intellect being indispensable to a full life."

"Concern for personal physical well-being as shown by their interest in bodily exercise."

Highest Honor

The selection of the winner this year was placed in as disinterested hands as possible, according to Professor Fish and the professors on the committee were chosen from unassociated fields so that an unbiased choice might be made.

"The committee feels that, although the class of '25 has produced a large number of remarkable men, the choice which was made was the best possible and that the man chosen fulfills in all respects the requirements for election to this, the highest honor that a Wisconsin man can get," Professor Fish said yesterday.

The memorial was given to the university last year by the parents of Kenneth Sterling Day, a former student at the university who was drowned in Lake Mendota in the spring of 1919, in memory of their son. It now stands in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. building.

BANQUET TICKETS ARE DISTRIBUTED

Mortar Board is Working on Annual Dinner for Tomorrow

More than 90 tickets have been distributed for the annual Mortar Board banquet which will be held at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow night at Barnard Hall. Fraternity and sorority diners will not be served on that night in accordance with the regular custom.

The banquet is an affair that has been given for more than seven years. The proceeds contribute to the $100 scholarship that is given annually to one woman student on the basis of scholarship and need.

Music for dancing during the dinner will be furnished by the orchestras of Tau Kappa Epsilon and Sigma Nu. The dinner will be served in one of the dining rooms and in the open court. Lilacs will be used for decorations.

Tickets may be secured for 85c from members of the freshman and sophomore commissions, at the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and S. G. A.

1926 BADGER MAKES ITS DEBUT AT 12:30; CRITIC PRAISES BOOK

Two Frosh Wait All Night for Badgers

In the annual contest to see who will get the first two free Badgers two Chi Phi freshmen appeared on the steps of the Union building at noon yesterday, equipped for an all day and night vigil in order to be on hand when the first Badgers are given out at 12:30 o'clock today. They were Don Schoonover '28 and Charles Campbell '28 and they came with their toothbrushes, a phonograph and a mattress. Only 20 minutes later four other freshmen arrived but seeing the others there ahead of them they left disappointed.

ZONA GALE LAUDS PLAY OF NATIONS

International Club to Present "Way of World" by Meschi Thursday Evening

"Broad in its appeal and thoroughly unified in its effect" was the way Miss Zona Gale, a regent of the university briefly characterized "The World Over," the International revue which the International club will present Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Lathrop concert room.

The play was written by Edward Meschi, a graduate of Columbia and a Zona Gale scholar in the university. As his patroness, Miss Gale is interested in Meschi's work and was so enthused after reading the play that she has promised to attend the performance Thursday evening.

The play takes place in seven different countries, the United States, France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Japan and China. In each country, some characteristic entertainments will be shown as Spanish dancing, German folk songs, Japanese Jiu-jitsu and Chinese sword dance.

George Millard '25 who takes the leading part is also business manager of the revue. Tickets are on sale at the University and Cardinal pharmacies and at the door Thursday evening. Miss Catherine Bingham '25 is coaching the play.

PICNIC ENDS FRENCH CLUB FOR THIS YEAR

The French club ended its activities for the year with a picnic along the drive last evening.

A short business meeting was held, and officers were elected for the coming year. Ashburnham H. Floyd '28, was chosen president; Sarah Chickering '28, vice-president; F. Kusta '26, secretary; and W. A. May '26, treasurer.

Lucille S. Salentine '25, the retiring president, was the first woman president of the club.

Where's the Fire? Whistles Are Part of Safety Program

Students in their nine o'clock classes Monday and Tuesday were suddenly excited when the fire whistle blew about 10 times. Some turned around, craning their necks to see the fire department whiz by or to see if by any chance, they might catch a glimpse of smoke. Since "they saw not, neither did they hear" they settled down again to listening attention or to peaceful slumber, which ever the case may be.

When the same performance was repeated on Tuesday, most people concluded that it was a mere case of trying out the whistle.

But according to George Chandler secretary of the faculty, the blowing of the fire whistle is merely a part of the safety week observance in Madison. The whistle will continue to blow every day this week.

Distribution to Be Made From 3 Ticket Houses in Front of Union Building

The 1926 Badger will be distributed from the three ticket houses in front of the Union building at 12:30 o'clock today.

Badgers which have been partly paid for will be distributed in the Badger office on the second floor of the Union building. The remainder of the 200 copies which were ordered for sale at the exposition and were not sold will be placed on open sale at the price of $6. These may also be secured in the Badger office. Only Badgers which have been fully paid for can be secured at the ticket houses.

Ben Anderson '26, Charles Kading '26, and Ray Schmidt '27 will be in charge of the distribution of the Badger. Personal checks will not be accepted for them.

By PROF. E. M. JOHNSON

The first reaction of the campus to the 1926 Badger will probably be one of disappointment in view of the many glowing reports that have been published about it. The second reaction will be that it is a most delightful book.

These two reactions will result from the fact that all parts of the book are so harmoniously organized that no one part of it stands out. It is a book that grows on one. New charms are discovered the more one reviews it. It is an excellent example of book making.

Sturdy Cover

The cover of a book should be sturdy and substantial, should be of a color that will wear well, and should furnish a clue to the character of the content. The rugged, coarse grained, dark blue cover of the Badger, with its dull gold medallion design in the center in which appears the name of the book, serves its purpose well.

The size of the book is a new one for annals. It is smaller than have

WILL BE AT UNION FIVE DAYS A WEEK —C. R. FISH

Popular Professor Points Way to Closer Faculty-Student Relations

Prof. Carl Russell Fish yesterday repeated his assertion, made at the Homecoming mass meeting last fall, that when the Union building is completed he will spend five days a week with the students.

"On Sunday I go to church, on Tuesday I write, and the other days of the week I will go to the Union Building at least once a day," was Prof. Fish's statement at the mass meeting.

The repetition of this assertion is an added encouragement to the workers in the "Now-Watch '25" campaign on May 25, as the members of the senior class realize the great need for a meeting place where faculty and students may gather.

Each semester in the university impresses more deeply on the minds of the students the demand for a meeting place. As they take courses from the great men on the faculty, the students realize that only a portion of the knowledge and personality of the professor is skimmed in the class room work.

The significance of Prof. Fish's assertion is that on five days of the week students may meet him in an informal way, and that one of the most popular professors is paying the way for a closer relation of faculty and students.

Topnotch Training Makes Gophers Look Formidable

Northmen Have Strong Contenders in All But Distance, Jump Events

Word from the far north indicates that the meet that the Badgers have on their hands with the Gophers will be anything but a picnic, for Minnesota track mentors are driving their men at top speed this week in order to get in shape to hand Wisconsin its first defeat at the hands of a Big Ten team this year.

Opposed to McAndrews, Francis and McGovern in the dashes the Gophers will put up a strong squad with Gruenhagen, Schutte, and Graham as the most likely starters. The first named defeated the best that the Hawkeyes had to offer last week, while the last two were stars on the gridiron last fall.

Strong in 440

In the 440 Johnson, Gopher ace, will force all of the local entries to extend themselves to the limit. Last week Johnson led Coulter, Iowa star who ran in the Olympics last summer, to the tape in the quarter and he should be in even better shape next Friday when he matches strides with Kenedy, Hill, Flueck, and Hilberts.

Again in the half mile the Gophers have a 50-50 chance to take a first place with Scarborough their mainstay. He won a hotly contested 880 from Sorensen, Iowa star, in the Iowa-Minnesota dual meet and is due to repeat again against the Cardinals. Bergstresser and Carter will have a battle on their hands to keep this lad from picking off five points.

Gophers Weak in Distance

Unless some unforeseen accident happens the Badger milers and two milers should have things pretty well their own way in their respective events. These two events are the Gopher weak points.

All in all, it will be a meet well worth watching, especially as it will be the last time this year to see the crack Wisconsin track team of 1925 step through their paces on the home field. After the home stand the Badgers have their hardest dual meet of the year with Michigan at Ann Arbor, and then enter the three cornered race with Michigan and Illinois at Ohio for the conference championship.

Club Leaders Attending Track Meet Will be Guests at Banquet

Approximately 35 leaders in HI-Y clubs throughout the state have been invited by the freshman Y. M. C. A. to a banquet and conference at the association building Saturday, Venetian night, according to Adamson Hoebel '28, president of the group.

INTERSCHOLASTIC STARTED IN 1895

Improved Coaching and Facilities Account for Broken Records Since Then

Ten schools represented by 100 men made interscholastic track history 31 years ago on June 8, 1895 when their representatives gathered at Camp Randall for the first meet.

No smooth cinder-path or 220-yard straightaway greeted the men, and no Venetian night was held in their behalf, but those pioneers started something which has reached its climax this year with 900 men entered for the contest Saturday.

Illinois dates its interscholastic track history back to the same year also, but recently the Urbana stadium was the scene of the biggest Illinois track meet and university circus put on for the entertainment of the visitors, just as Wisconsin has its Venetian night for the same purpose.

Milwaukee East, Madison, Milwaukee Academy, Milwaukee South Side, Evansville, Whitewater, Edgerton, Wayland Academy, Lake Mills, and Oregon high schools competed in the first meet in which Milwaukee East Side triumphed. A. ran away with the championship Kraentzlein of that time literally himself scoring five first places in the 10 yard dash, 120-yard hurdles, 220-yard hurdles, running high jump, and 12-pound shot.

A comparison of the records made in the first meet and the marks made in the past years gives a good idea of what has been accomplished by improvements in coaching. The records made in the first interscholastic track meet, have all been broken since then.

them athletes attending the track meet will confer with members of the university association and make first plans for a freshman organization for the coming year.

Final arrangements will be made for the sub-freshman conference at Phantom Lake for high school graduates, which is being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. as a training school for freshmen for the first time this year. Outlines of courses and discussions which will prepare the future students for matriculation will be made at the conference here.

BADGER BATMEN HAVE SLIM BID FOR NEXT GAMES

Dope Points to Victors for Maroons and Illini on Coming Tour

Prospects for two victories in games with Chicago and Illinois to be played on Saturday and Monday are poor for the varsity baseball team as far as dope goes.

Wisconsin has already lost a game to Illinois, and Chicago defeated the Suckers last Wednesday by a 5 to 4 score, making the Badger nine the underdog for the two games.

Since the victory over Northwestern last Saturday, Coach Lowman feels confident that he has two dependable pitchers in Claussen and Stoll. Although it has not been announced, he will probably let Stoll face the Maroons, and Claussen try his shots on the Illinois batsmen.

"Lefty" Claussen

The reason Claussen will probably face the Illini is that when the Orange and Blue were in Madison it pounded the right-hand offerings of Shrenk and Stoll; so Coach Lowman figures that perhaps a left-hander may stop the southern team.

The rest of the team will probably be the same, with Steen at first base, Captain Ellingson playing second, Weiland at shortstop, and Tangen caving around third. In the outfield, Donagan, left field, Larson, center-field, and Edwards at right field, will probably be in their regular positions. Behind the bat Barnum is likely to work, although Lamboley and Wold may get a chance.

Chicago Pulls Coup

Chicago has developed a baseball team which is the surprise of the year. Starting off slowly, the Maroons have been showing a tremendous amount of power, especially in their victory over Illinois. Marks, pitcher, has been the most vital factor in the Chicago nine not only with his potent pitching for tremendous slugging on his part has made him all the more feared. When he is not pitching, Marks plays right-field and bats fourth, the cleanup position, in the lineup.

Illinois has a powerful team and are reckoned as being one of the strongest contenders for the conference title although recently it is probable that Coach Lundy, Illinois mentor, will pitch his star Kinderman, who beat the Badgers in the last meeting of the two teams.

TUCSON, Ariz.—Summer arrived here Monday when the thermometer registered 101 degrees at 4 o'clock. At 8 this morning, it was only 54½, the ascent of 46½ degrees taking place in eight hours.

Freshmen Batsmen Tie Varsity in Game

Cardinal Frosh Demand Men Show Strength in Games With Regulars

Displaying a versatile brand of baseball the yearling Badger diamond team held the varsity nine to a 2 to 0 score last night and to a 2 to 2 count on Monday night in the practice sessions on the Camp Randall field.

In the scrimmage Monday night Burbridge, freshman outfielder, knocked a circuit drive into left center, and Ellerman, another yearling, duplicated the feat in deep left field. Massey made a spectacular shoe string catch in the outfield during the game and thus beat a varsity man out of a hit.

Captain Johnny Decker has been shifted from shortstop to second base, and Ellerman has been moved from second to Captain Decker's former post. Massey is now playing at third base, having been called in from left field.

Murphy's work on the initial sack deserves praise. Boldenwick, along with Burbridge, is doing good work in the outfield, and Hawker, one of the pitchers, is also being tried in the outfield. Carlson and Christianson handle themselves well behind the bat, and the delivery of the pitchers, Blakefield, Haggerty, Severson, and Broecker, is showing improvement as the daily practice sessions continue.

HAWKEYE FROSH SHOW STRONG BID

Iowa First Year Trackmen Vie With Badgers for Big Ten Title

What looks to be a real race for the unofficial championship of Big Ten freshmen track teams has developed in the last few weeks.

Iowa swamped the strong Ohio freshmen by an overwhelming score and also won from Michigan by a big count last Saturday afternoon. Led by Cuhel, national interscholastic low hurdle champion who himself is certain of twenty points in every meet, the Corn State frosh are piling up records that are worthy of a varsity squad. Their only obstacle to claiming the unofficial freshmen championship is the Wisconsin yearling team whom they meet a week from Thursday.

Ohio, victor over Wisconsin but loser to the Ames frosh who were defeated decisively by Wisconsin, has a very strong team. Michigan also has been making a good showing.

The Wisconsin Green has yet to meet Michigan and Iowa. By defeating Minnesota and Ames last Friday, they showed that they are improving and will make dangerous opponents for these strong teams.

Charles E. Brown, chief of the state historical museum, spoke last night before the meeting of the Wisconsin Archeological society at its meeting in Milwaukee. His subject was "The Flint Arrow-head."

BADGER CAGERS; SHOW PROMISE
FOR COMING BASKET SEASONUnusual Material Trains on Passing, Pivoting, Shooting; Little Scrimmage

By dint of steady practice throughout the spring months the Badger cagers have reached a point of training that without the spring workouts could not be attained until after two months of fall work.

Scrimmages have been few and far between, for Coach Meanwell has been stressing pivoting, passing, and shooting, and what little scrimmaging there has been has taken place intermittently during the past week or two. Tomorrow afternoon will witness the last practice workout of the spring season for the basketmen.

High School Men Out

Of late some of the best high school material that is planning to enter Wisconsin in the fall has been working out from time to time with the varsity candidates. Notable among these are Monte of the Rockford, Illinois, team; Johnson and Moldenhauer of Beloit, and Miller and his lanky teammate from La Crosse. All of these men, with the exception of Monte, demonstrated clearly their basketball ability in the high school tournament held here at the end of the recent season.

Besides these men, the Brandon, Wisconsin, high school team has been working with the varsity as a unit lately.

More Experienced Material

There is certainly quite a difference in the number of last year's men who will be eligible for competition next season over the number of men whom Meanwell had to mold his recent team about. At the present time there are no less than seven men from the last squad who are out for spring practice, and besides these there are four more who are busy now with other sports and will report in the fall.

been the last three Badgers and larger than those previous to them.

Good Editing

The careful editing of all material that has gone into the Badger and the skill with which it has been put together constitutes the finest feature of the book. It is a book devoid of freakish and novel features which soon become tiresome. It is a book that seems more delightful each time one leafs through it; a book that will wear well; the sort of record of the school year that will prove to be more satisfactory as the years roll by. That is why it will be the second impression that will count.

The book has a theme—the story of Wisconsin for the school year of 1924-25. A picture of the enthusiasms, activities, and interests of the students. In it there is nothing extraneous.

The art work is simple in conception. It has the simplicity that marks the work of real artists. The borders and the medallion design that appears on the cover and which is used on all division pages ties the whole book together, makes the varied activities of the university a connected and unified story.

Nine Sections

The book is divided into nine parts, if the opening or introductory pages are counted as part one. The eight sections following the opening pages are divided into chapters, or books, as they are called in the Badger.

The opening section alone would be enough to make the Badger a success. The fly sheets carry a two page panorama of the Madison shore line as seen from across Mendota. Throughout the first few pages is used a most interesting typographical style. It is beautiful, simple, and in keeping with the rugged cover. The opening pages are printed on attractive rough book paper that is a pleasure to look at and to feel.

Page Balance

Another feature which makes the Badger more and more interesting as one goes through it is the perfect page balance. It is evident that every page in the book was designed with the opposite page in mind. Not once in the book can one find two adjoining pages that do not match—that do not belong to each other. The skill with which this has been done makes one like the book without realizing why it is so attractive. Such excellent make-up entitles the Badger staff to praise.

To produce such exquisite page balance has necessitated the most careful editing of copy. Every page contains just the right amount of type matter to make it attractive. On reading the literary material in the book one is further impressed by the skill with which the copy has been edited. The Badger makes one feel intuitively that Wisconsin students represent vigorous, clean-cut, bright-eyed, youth at its best. The book should go far in helping to establish a worthy opinion of the Wisconsin student body outside the environs of the campus; it is one of the first salvos of good will to be fired in the On Wisconsin program.

Engraving

The engraving of the book is in keeping with all else. The cuts have been sized so as to create just the impression that they were designed to leave. The senior section pictures consist of a long strip down the center of the page. This plan makes it possible to place each biography beside the picture to which it belongs.

The humor section has a typographical dress that makes it look like the pages of a real humor magazine. Too often such pages look as if they were carelessly tossed together. As for the humor—that is for the reader to decide.

The business department evidently believes in clean advertising. Within a space of four pages appears the copy of three manufacturers of bathroom fixtures.

The best feature of the Badger is the lack of ornateness. It is simply designed book, made up so that one will not tire of it. Novelties soon wear out.

FRATERNITY SING
ENTRIES SOON DUE

Deadline Set for 6 O'Clock Tomorrow night; Judges Are Selected

Entries for the interfraternity sing to be held on Lincoln terrace at 7:15 o'clock Friday night must be made before six o'clock tomorrow night, according to a statement made by Elliot W. Guild, '25, chairman of the sing, last night.

Fraternities who plan to enter may reach Guild at 28 E. Gilman street or on phoning F. 1223. The deadline has been set for tomorrow night in order that the program for the event may be prepared in time for Friday night.

The three judges who have been selected to judge the contest are Mrs. H. P. Greeley, Edward Swain, and Prof. Powell of the School of Music.

The cup awarded by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is now on display in the University pharmacy. If it is won again by Beta Theta Pi who has won it both years since the beginning of the sing it will go to them for permanent possession.

Guild stated yesterday that interest in the event has been strong this year and a number of fraternities have been practicing for some time for the contest. Each fraternity must enter at least twelve men for the competition. No entry fee is required.

Radio Question Box To Aid State Farmers

Wisconsin farmers will be aided in the solution of their marketing problems by radio, the state department of markets announced today. The department has established a radio "question box."

"Any person in the state having questions on any phase of the marketing of agricultural products or upon questions relating to agricultural economics can have them answered over the radio," B. B. Jones said. "Every Saturday, at the close of the 12:30 p. m. broadcast of the department's station at Stevens Point the questions are read, the name of the person asking the question is given and the answer is read, so all the farmers of the state will get the advantage of the information given."

Questions should be mailed to the department's offices in Madison, and the answers will be given the following Saturday.

ATHLETE AWARDS
ON SCHEDULE FOR VARSITY NIGHT

Traditional Event Will See Giving of Medal for Best Scholar-Athlete

Over 60 Wisconsin athletes will receive "W"s for efforts in seven sports at 6:30 o'clock Friday night on Lincoln Terrace, and one senior athlete who is outstanding in both athletics and scholarship will be awarded the conference medal.

This is one of the traditional events of Varsity night, and as in former years all sport insignia with the exception of football letters, will be presented to the athletes.

Varsity Toast

The program will open with the Varsity Toast, followed by a welcome to the high schools athletes given by Marshall Diebold, '25, chairman of the evening. Immediately following this, Coach Tom Jones will present the sweaters and letters to the athletes.

Captain Oscar Teckemeyer will talk on crew prospects, after which the conference medal will be awarded by Coach George Little. This is expected to be a big attraction to the high school men, many of whom have not had the opportunity of hearing Wisconsin's new athletic director.

Last Award to Bentson

The conference medal is awarded each year to one senior man in recognition of ability in both athletics and scholarship. Last year Harold Bentson was awarded the medal for his work in three sports, football, water-basketball, and crew, combined with his excellent scholastic record. Gus Tebell received the award the previous year.

"All fraternities and sororities are asked to serve 5:30 o'clock dinners on Friday night," said Schmidt yesterday. The program will start promptly at 6:30 o'clock and the awarding of the "W"s will be followed by the varsity sing at 7:15 o'clock.

Tony Varney '25, is in charge of the sweaters, and Steve Polaski '26 the "W" men and the varsity turnout.

FOR COVETED GOLDEN STARS

Throughout four successive years the student cadet corps held the distinguished service rating by token of which each member of the outfit was given the privilege of wearing on the right sleeve of his uniform a golden star. Out of perhaps 100 institutions in the country, Wisconsin was one of 20 of so in which this was the case.

Last year rolled around and the privilege was not won. The officers who visited and inspected the corps believed that it did not merit the award.

Another year rolls around, once again the inspectors are here, yesterday giving their attention to units and individuals, today—this afternoon—reviewing the entire battalion on the lower campus.

This year the award will be made on the basis, not of numbers and quality, but of quality alone. And the student cadets are determined to win that award.

When the band strikes up its marching song this afternoon, when the commands snap out across the field, when the guns click from order to present through the heat and dust of the waning day, the cadets will not be the only Badgers who are striving for the golden star. The greater part of the student body will be present, in silent encouragement, for here we have, not a contest with a single college, nor with nine others of a conference, but with the colleges of the nation. Indeed, it is more than a mere contest; it is a striving toward a definite goal represented by the golden star.

BEAT '24 AND MAKE IT A MILLION

It has been rumored about through the length and breadth of the campus that the seniors are going to raise money for the Memorial Union building fund. A sign told us to "Watch '25".

Then we were given to understand that the freshmen wanted to contribute its share also, and a sign told us to "Watch '28".

Now whether the freshmen are serious in regard to this matter or not (we seriously hope they are) the seniors intend that it shall be known that they are serious.

The original sign may have appeared to be a jibe at '24; it was certainly not meant to be hurtful. But there is no question that the words connoted the idea that '24 may have done mighty well, but '25 was going to do better.

The class of '24 put over a great move when, in the Spring campaign, it raised its subscription from the neighborhood of $20,000 to $45,000. The class of '25 will act just as splendidly when it increases its present subscription, none to large, it must be confessed, to what it hopes to—to a sum which will be larger than the total amount contributed by '24. And if '25 accomplishes its aims, the entire fund will reach the million mark.

What do you say, '25? You've challenged '24, you can't back down now.

MORE CONGRATULATIONS

These columns have been rather full of congratulations of late; it is pleasant that they should be. Now it is the track team again. Coach Jones' men have reflected nothing but the greatest credit upon Wisconsin all year; even in so-called defeat at California, they added lustre to the Cardinal and white. Now they are finishing the season in a blaze of glory—their easy victory in the quadrangular meet last Saturday was a real achievement.

PLAYING HOST

Wisconsin plays host to more than 900 high school athletes Saturday. The university has promised to entertain them while they are here, and now faces the task of finding a place for each of those men to eat and sleep free of charge. Fraternities are being relied on to furnish this entertainment, but as yet have not offered sufficient room to care for 900 men. It is true that the fraternities have received numerous requests to take high school visitors this year. One might say that this oft-asked service of the fraternities has become a sacrifice. Yet if it has therein lies no excuse for a failure to provide adequate entertainment for the men who are coming to see Wisconsin. It becomes a manifestation of Wisconsin spirit, of which there has been so much said recently. We trust that the fraternities will again "kick through."

What's A Union For

BY JOHN DOLLARD

The Memorial Union will supplement existing educational facilities at the university. It is a symbol of the belief that the play-function of student life is as important as the work-function in developing personality and capacity for performance. It recognizes that free, happy growth and rich development comes in a large degree through the opportunity for contacts with others, and the opportunity to do things with others.

That's what the Union is for—to complete our facilities for a free, happy and creative life for all students at the university. It will do that specifically by making more effective activities such as dramatics, which are now laboring under great handicaps. It will furnish a common meeting place and clubroom for men, which, simple as it sounds, will be of tremendous importance in developing a sound undergraduate feeling. It will, we hope, be a beautiful building, inside and out, which will have an unconscious daily effect on all of us. It may easily become the center of a more general interest in music, in sketches, in rowing, in chess and in many other arts and activities. It will certainly be a headquarters for returning alumni—where meals may be got, grips parked (and later found), friends met, and contacts with the university renewed.

To those coming on, who will easily forget, it will be a concrete serviceable Memorial to Wisconsin soldiers of all wars. Their names will be appropriately inscribed for future generations to see.

It will be too, what faculty and students make of it. If many faculty men share the feeling of Prof. Carl Russell Fish who said at the Homecoming massmeeting last fall that when the Union was built that he would go there five days a week, it will be a success from another point of view—that of increasing personal friendly contacts between faculty and students. And I believe that there are many who do feel as he does.

The Memorial Union will be a success chiefly as the Union, itself, of Wisconsin men, exists before it is built. Many evidences in the last two years point to the fact that that Union does exist and that it will gain in strength as time goes on. One of the evidences of increased vitality of the Union is the greater solidarity of close organization. There is much reason for the belief that '24 and '25 are real classes, such as have been rare at Wisconsin since the days of small numbers. From such classes must be drawn in large part the financial strength on which the Union will be built.

Senior poets and poetesses—the committee is looking for more songs. Here is an opportunity to do your class a lasting good. But beware of sentimentality.

Spring is here and there are lots of us who appreciate it—or at least think that we do. But how few there are who really know how to appreciate spring—or anything.

Argon howled with the rest of the howling mob that was trying to get canoes for the far-famed Venetian night. After he stood there for fifteen minutes a tall man with pimples and purple tie announced that the last canoe had just been rented for $50, three jeweled fraternity pins and a mortgage on the State Capitol. Argon will join the rest of the unfortunates on the shore.

At this time man cannot get a canoe for love or money. A woman cannot get one for money.

That ad, "You own the Daily Cardinal", is the bunk. Being one of the owners, we went in and tried to extract five dollars of the profit from the firm. The doctors inform us that the shoeprints on our back will disappear in time.

And this is the last twelve-thirty week-end. Madison girls will again become popular with the male daters. They were just before semester exams, you know.

Stude: How's your dissecting lab? Medic: It's a stiff course.

We hate to have people mistake us for someone else. Yesterday three men came up behind us and mistook us for Macbeth. So today we got a hair cut.

NOTICE: Argon has received a check from home and is again solvent. If those from whom he has borrowed money in the past month will please come to his room at 8:06 this evening they will be paid in full. If more than twenty-five appear at once the meeting will be adjourned to the open air.

"When does that shipment of coal arrived?"
"It's slated for next week."

Never having seen the 1926 Badger, we are in a position to criticize it without fear of prejudice.

The senior section, which gives pictures of the graduating class, is a scream from start to finish. We never laughed so much since we took a look at our last blind date.

In the athletic section they printed a picture of the football team. Seven of the team who stood immediately behind Herb Schwarze could not be seen at all.

The Greeks were all assembled in one part of the book. After taking a look at some of the supposed heavy daters, several of the girls who had decided to come to Wisconsin next year have decided to go to Illinois.

In the activities there are pictures ranging from that of the Student Senate to that of the Octy staff. In fact, the two can hardly be told apart, except that there is a girl or two in the Octy picture.

The satire section appears at the back of the book. In it someone has used our name in vain at the end of a satirical Rockets column. His column is different from ours, though. All the jokes are original.

All things considered, the best part of the Badger is the back cover.

And there were three Chi Phi frosh sitting on the steps of the Union since three yesterday afternoon waiting for the book.

If the Sigma Delta Chis are through with the hearses they used to hand out invitations to the Gridiron Banquet, we suggest that they loan it to the Student Senate for use on the publications plan.

Stew points out that there in an Octopus is Octy with only seven arms. That's what you get with all this talk about disarmament.

Well, only three hundred sixty-five days until a year from today.
ARGON THE LAZY.

THE ELECTION AND ITS LEGALITY

Editor, the Daily Cardinal!

To whom it may concern:

In Sunday's Cardinal there is a letter regarding the legality of the general election held May 15 with special regards to the status of those declared elected to the Forensic Board.

Permit me to say, on behalf of the Student Senate, that that election is to be considered as legal, and that Lester Daugs shall consider himself the representative of the class of 1927, and that Arthur H. Nickel and John D. Summers shall consider themselves the representatives of the class of 1926.

To support this move allow me to explain the cause of misunderstanding and the interpretation of the senate. In the past, all classes but freshmen voted upon Forensic candidates, irrespective of the votes or candidate. In the recent election, the vote was taken by class. The controversy centering about an interpretation given unto certain passages of the constitution of the senate.

Article 7, section of the constitution of the students senate states that, "The Forensic Board shall have _____, and one member of the junior class, and two members of the Senior class elected by the qualified men and women electors of the University." The interpretation placed upon this passage is that in so far as it is expressly indicated that there should be class representation then it should also be understood that the term "qualified men and women electors" implied that these electors should be only considered from those specified classes.

Furthermore, it is our assumption that it be our right to make this interpretation in view of the fact that the senate controls elections and is the legislative body of the students under its jurisdiction. It is therefore necessary for any other individual or group of individuals to secure a ruling of the student court declaring our acts unconstitutional before we can even

ORGANIZE DUBLIN SUMMER SCHOOL

First European Session on American Plan to Open in 1926

A summer school is being organized for American students at Trinity college, Dublin, for the summer of 1926. Dr. Bernard, provost of Trinity college, will visit the leading American colleges this summer in connection with the project. As planned, this session will be the first summer school in the British Isles to be organized on the American plan. Already a number of American colleges and universities have agreed to give credit to students taking courses at Trinity college.

In regard to schools abroad, Prof. C. Lancaster, director of the Continental division of the American university union, estimates that there will be 4,000 students in French universities and other institutions of learning this year. Prof. J. D. M. Ford of Harvard university will succeed Prof. Lancaster as director next September.

Both the Paris and the London office of the union have arranged to supply students with information about the sessions. Communications should be addressed to the assistant director, Dr. A. S. Krans at 173 Boulevard St. Germain, Paris and to 50 Russell Square, London.

A pamphlet "Guide for American students in the British Isles" may be obtained by application to the Secretary of the Union, Prof. J. W. Cunliffe, Journalism Building, Columbia university.

countenance a statement of illegality or a demand for re-election.

Because of this, it is the wish and order of the Student Senate that Lester Daugs, Arthur H. Nickel, and John D. Summers be given their seats on the Forensic Board until such time as it may be shown that they have been illegally seated—such showing to issue from the Student Court.

--- FERGUS G. CHANDLER, ---
Pres. Student Senate.

Students Asked to Help Observe Week of Safety

Safety week, which is being observed this week, as the whistles each morning testify is of interest to the university district as well as the rest of Madison, since a great many students have cars at school. Safety week should teach the motorist to be careful not only during this week but during the entire year, in the opinion of Mayor I. Milo Kittleson.

Infractions of the traffic ordinance are brought to the attention of the city officials each day, and not a few of these are made by students.

Mayor Kittleson declared that Madison cannot afford to maintain a police department large enough to station a policeman at each intersection along arterial highways, and that drivers themselves should assist in the enforcement by obeying the rules.

Mayor Kittleson has several slogans which he feels each motorist should always bear in mind. They are:

"Don't be a reckless driver."
"Be a wreckless driver."
"Say it with brakes; save it with flowers."
"If stricter attention is paid to traffic rules, many accidents can be avoided."

200 JOURNALISTS TO HOLD REUNION

Grads to Celebrate Twentieth
Birthday of Course Here
June 19-21

"We expect between 150 and 200 graduates and former students of the Course in Journalism to attend the journalists reunion to be held June 19-21, in celebration of the 20th year of existence of that course here," said Franklin E. Bump jr., general chairman of the reunion, yesterday.

Plans have been made to entertain the visitors with true journalistic hospitality. A parade and picnic will bring those who come back for the reunion into a closer contact with each other.

Registration will take place in South Hall June 19 and 20. There will be a display of the work of former journalism students who have gone out, and have done exceptional work in the newspaper field.

A parade, in which costumes typifying the profession will be worn, will take place Saturday morning, June 20. The parade will be headed by a band composed entirely of former journalism students.

"Saturday afternoon will be enlivened by a picnic and pseudo field meet on the shores of Lake Mendota," Mr. Bump said. The reunioners will occupy a special table at the regular alumni banquet to be held Saturday night.

Although the big events will take place Saturday, the journalists will get together at a dinner Sunday, which will be held in the Woman's Building.

"A newspaper will be published sometime soon, in which will appear short news items about journalism alumni, a program of events, and a list of committee members," Mr. Bump said. "The journalists will try to effect a permanent organization with a permanent house organ, and this paper will resemble such a publication to some extent."

MUSIC FACULTY GIVES CONCERT BROADCAST

Prof. Leland A. Coon, pianist and Prof. E. Earle Swinney, baritone, will broadcast a faculty concert this evening at 8 o'clock from WHA. This is one of a series of faculty programs. Maj. E. W. Morphy and Prof. Coon will give a concert on Monday evening, May 25, at 7:45 o'clock.

GOODNIGHT SPEAKS AT RED GAUNTLET DINNER

"It is thoughtlessness, youth, inexperience, and to a large extent style that causes us to stray from the best standards," Dean Goodnight asserted in talk on "Standards in the Life of the Modern Youth" at the annual Red Gauntlet banquet last night at the Women's building. Eulaile Beffel, president of Red Gauntlet presided. Margaret Cambell '25 gave the farewell word from the graduating class and Dorothy Atkinson '27 spoke the answer in behalf of the sophomore women.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM MADE

President Birge to Preside;
City and University Services Combined

Justice Burr W. Jones, of the supreme court of Wisconsin, will give the address at the annual Memorial day services of the university and the city of Madison combined, held May 30 on Lincoln terrace. President A. Birge will preside. Veterans of all wars and the gold star mothers will be guests of honor.

The program will open with singing of "America" by the assemblage, the invocation of Chaplain William Dawson, and General Logan's Memorial day proclamation.

After the address by Justice Jones, the Men's Glee club led by Prof. Swinney, will sing "Hallelujah, Amen" by Handel, followed by the unveiling of the university service flag and the wreath-bearing ceremony for the university world war dead. One hundred-fifty women will take part in this wreath-bearing ceremony, besides the president's guard, the university corps of cadets, directed by Maj. G. W. Keitt and Capt. R. J. Roark.

Following will be the ceremony in memory of the soldier and sailor dead with the world war roll call by Spencer A. Lucas, of the American legion; the Spanish war roll call by Adjutant H. W. Quentmeyer, and the Civil war roll call by S. E. Lathrop, the wreath being deposited by Mrs. Mary De Moe. "Tenting Tonight" will be sung by the Men's Glee club.

A parade will form after taps and after the national salute by the university cadet corps artillery, starting front of Central high and marching around the square.

ALUMNI CHAPTERS TO BE ORGANIZED

Superior and Duluth Groups
Are Considered; Little Makes Trip North

Organization of a Wisconsin alumni chapter for Superior, Duluth, and northeastern Minnesota will be considered at a banquet at Superior tonight in honor of George Little, university athletic director. Coach Little is scheduled to speak today at Duluth, Minn., and at Superior.

One of the activities of the new chapter, if formed, will be to bring the Haresfoot players to the Twin ports, according to Ralph Falstad alumnus who heads the committee in charge of plans.

Coach Little is visiting at the head of the lakes as a part of his program of addresses this month before civic clubs and other organizations throughout Wisconsin and northern Minnesota.

He was scheduled to talk at Ashland last night, and will visit Hibbing, Minn., and the iron range tomorrow. He plans to return to Madison Thursday for the state high school track meet. May 27 Little will visit La Crosse and Winona, Minn., going from there to Stevens Point and Wausau.

On Other Campuses

CHICAGO, Ill.—The engagement of Miss Bertha Ten Eyck James, graduate student and prominent poetess at the University of Chicago to Dan Rich, a junior and leading participant in undergraduate activities was recently announced.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—The engineering open house at Purdue university was attended by about 3,000 people. All the laboratories were in operation with members of the student body and faculty in charge of the demonstrations.

STANFORD, Cal.—Upholding the assertion that the fifty-fifty dating proposition is practicable and applicable, the women's Debating Society of Stanford university won from Euphronia by an audience decision.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—More than 3000 signatures have been obtained at the University of Minnesota by members of the Anti-Compulsory Drill league to petitions requesting that military drill be made optional.

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—To add to the collegiate atmosphere of the Tradition night supper at Ohio State university, the members of Delta Chi decided that it would be appropriate if they went to dinner with some sorority. They took a vote and asked the Pi Phi to go on the composite date. The Pi Phi accepted.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Northrop field of the University of Minnesota will be enlarged by the removal of the old stands, tearing down of the south wall and by the addition of the old railroad right of way and a space of campus ground. The field will be seeded down preparatory for football practice next fall.

EVANSTON, Ill.—Twenty-nine "N" blankets will be awarded to purple athletes at the annual Interfraternity sing which will be held the evening of May 20.

URBANA, Ill.—Ma-Wan-Da, senior honorary society, posted its 1925 arrowhead yesterday on the great oak in front of University hall upon which the names of 21 men who will constitute the organization for the coming year was written.

NORMAN, Okl.—Sixteen women of the Women's athletic association of Oklahoma university will compete in the first women's track meet to be held there.
