LEGION POST TO GIVE BOOST FOR ATHLETICS

New Organization Will Elect Officers at Rally
Tonight

Putting Wisconsin athletics back on a pre-war footing will be one of the primary aims of the newly-chartered university post of the American Legion, which will elect officers and complete organization at a rally of ex-service men in the Engineering auditorium at 7:30 p. m. today.

Badger athletic stars who saw service during the war and have returned to the university are among the leading spirits in the movement for the formation of the university legion post, and through the organization hope to give a boost to Wisconsin athletics. Means to that end will be discussed when organization details have been completed at the meeting tonight.

"There are more than 900 ex-service men in the university, so we're going to have a strong organization here," declared "Red" Weston, who will be temporary chairman of the meeting tonight.

The soldier memorial feature of the new Union Memorial building, which will be worked out by the post, will be taken up tonight. A paper by Dr. George Bryant will feature the program, which also will include vaudeville stunts and numbers by a jazz band.

It is pointed out that ex-service men who are members of other posts can take out association memberships in the university post, enjoying full membership powers here while still retaining regular membership in their home posts. Associate members will pay only for the privileges of the university post, and not any national or state

PLAY FEATURES MORTAR BOARD SUPPER TONIGHT

At last the men are going to have a chance to see how women entertain each other! It's the opportunity of a lifetime.

"Alice in Wonderland as it Might Have Been," which was given at the Story Book ball by the sophomore women for the senior women, is to be repeated at the Mortar Board supper tonight at Barnard. Principals in the playlet will include Helen Kahn, Dorothy Schoener, Marion Doan, Zirian Blish, Consuela Burwell, Esther Guerini, and Katherine Rockwell.

There are to be other acts on the program, which will be followed by dancing in one dining room and on the court. Supper will be served in cafeteria style.

Tickets are on sale at Main hall and Lathrop for 60 cents, which includes the whole program.

The proceeds go to a $100 scholarship for a university woman.

STAR AS CROOKS IN JUNIOR PLAY

DOROTHY LATTA

Dorothy Latta and Herbert Schleman, two of the principals in "Cheating Cheaters" will make their first appearance in a university production when the junior class play is presented at the Fuller Saturday.

Miss Latta is a junior in the Course in Commerce. Her home is in Des Moines. Her interpretation of the difficult role of Grace Palmer, a dissatisfied crook, is one of the most enjoyable parts of the play.

Schleman came to Wisconsin this year from Chicago university. He is a member of the Playwrights and has had experience in high school and university dramatics. His part is that of a shyster lawyer who tries to betray the crooks with whom he has been associated. He has succeeded in making a humorous part out of the role of Ira Lazarre.

HERBERT SCHLEMAN

The production staff for the play was announced last night by Foster Strong, production manager, to include Charles Moore, business manager; Fred Sperry, assistant business manager; Lawrence Murphy, publicity manager; Robert Holcombe, stage manager; Eleanor Riley, costumes; Elizabeth Chandler, Lydia Lacey, Bertha Blaul, tickets; Henry Metz, Alfred Bauer, Lyman Jackson, property masters; George Crownhart, programs; Winifred Titus, Philip Dowling, lighting.

Tickets for the matinee, which was decided upon Monday night, are selling rapidly. They will be on sale today and tomorrow at tables in the university buildings. The prices for the afternoon are 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00, no war tax.

GREEN LIDS OFF FOR FROSH MAY 28, RULES THE SENATE

May 28 was fixed last night by the student senate as Cap Night when freshmen will celebrate the burning of their verdant headgear.

Between now and that date frosh who have been sentenced to lake duckings for violations of traditions may have the penalty meted out to them by the sophomore traditions committee, the senate ruled. Only the traditions committee is vested with authority to carry out the aqueous punishment.

The senate ordered that in the future all university tag days must be registered at the office of the dean of men before fair taggers will be allowed to "shake down" campus wayfarers for jingling shekels.

UNION BOARD HEADS ATTEND CONVENTION

"Larry" Hall and Loring Hammond, president and treasurer, respectively, of Union board, left yesterday to attend a conference of university and college union boards, which opens its sessions at Ann Arbor, Mich., today.

NAME ROY HULL EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF COUNTRY MAG

Roy Hull will be editor-in-chief of The Country Magazine next year, according to announcement of new staff appointments, made last night. John Pinney will be managing editor and Helmer Capperson, business manager.

Other editorial appointments include Russell Frost, Harold Kuckuk and Gilbert Marshall, desk editors; Marie Metz, Mildred Rieck, Caryl Parkinson and Mildred Downie, home economics department; Wendell Rewey, campus notes; and Leon Dunwiddie, alumni.

On the business staff Forrest Crawford has been appointed advertising manager; David Lacey, local advertising manager; Walter Koehlar, circulation manager; and John Hanousek, assistant circulation manager.

ELECTION TONIGHT FOR HOOVER CLUB

Professor D. W. Mead of the Engineering department, and Mrs. Rosenberry, former dean of women, will speak at the Hoover club meeting today at 7:30 p. m. in 165 University hall.

At this meeting the club, which was organized last week to support Hoover for president, will effect a permanent organization and elect officers.

PROGRAM OUT FOR SPEAKING CONTEST HERE

Wisconsin Representative Will Appear First in
N. O. L. Event

The six contestants in the Northern Oratorical league contest at Music hall tomorrow night have submitted their orations to Prof. J. M. O'Neill, of the public speaking department. The speeches show an immense amount of work coupled with cleverness and originality in speech composition. The following is a list of all the orations, the speakers, and the schools they represent.

FORMER WINNER PULLS FOR BIG TURNOUT

"No student—in my judgment—should require urging to attend the annual contest of the Northern Oratorical league," said Alvin C. Reis, '13, in a letter to The Daily Cardinal yesterday. This is an event to which the whole middle west looks forward. The contest is held in Madison only once in six years. The opportunity to hear it never comes twice to the same college generation; and to some generations it does not even come once. Music hall ought to be packed Friday night. For the reward which springs from this contest is not merely to the student body which wins it, but to the one which hears it."

Reis represented Wisconsin in the N. O. L. in 1913 and was the last Wisconsin contestant to win the first place. At present he is legal adviser to the Wisconsin Marketing commission.

sent, given in the order of each speaker's appearance:

"The Unfinished Task," Gladys Berchers, Wisconsin.

"The New American Principle," Earl W. Wells, Iowa.

"The New Leadership," David A. Wolff, Illinois.

"The Challenge to the College Man," Fred Ossanna, Minnesota.

"The Nation's Struggle for Life," J. J. Goshins, Michigan.

"The Challenge to Americanism," Charles C. Spray, Northwestern.

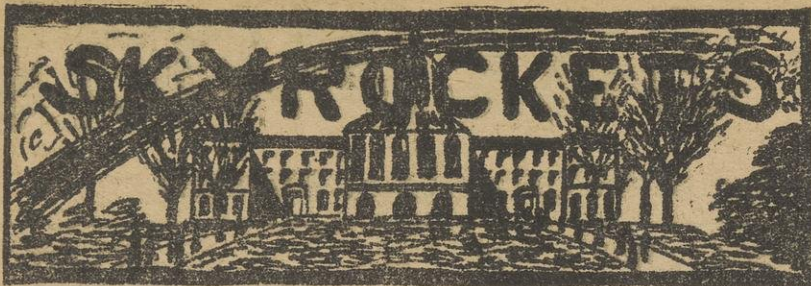

According to an established league ruling the judges are the heads of the public speaking departments in the various schools represented, who

ANNOUNCE WINNERS OF FINAL EMBLEMS

Phyllis Hamilton, Louise Weld and Eleanor Gaik, seniors at the university, were awarded final emblems by the committee, according to an announcement made Wednesday. The final emblems can only be awarded senior girls who are "W" wearers. All three of the girls are members of Mortar board. Miss Hamilton is a member of Alpha Phi, Miss Gaik of Alpha Chi Omega and Miss Weld is a non-sorority girl.

OCTOPUS PROMISES BEST NUMBER YET

By a rigid process of elimination, the cleverest set of contributions that have yet surprised the university have been secured for La Vie Wisconsinne, The Octopus editors say.

Many new writers have contributed to the issue, now on press, which comes out May 17 instead of May 12. A clever playlet "Going Up," and a satirical sketch on the University club are new features which will make new friends for The Octopus.

An old friend will be found in the author of the first of the new series of "Jijiboom Papers," called "The Oxford Professor," which is fully up to the level of the preceding humorous fragments.

THE SQUIRTAIN QULUB

By Ashton Hammond

There was rendered, the other evening, a most delightful little fawntasy by Oscar Wilde by the Squirtain Qulub at the High school auditorium. "Jerry" Oschner and other members of the faculty were represented in the various roles of the numerous characters.

The play was funny. F'rinstance, "Jerry" looks at Carl Russell Fish on his knees before, and murmurs, "Gosh, what nice hair you got," all the time patting his bald spot.

Hair was the funniest thing in the show. Again, let me illustrate. Mrs. C. R. Fish gazes on Jerry as Cicely, and says, "What a simple girl you are. You've left your hair just as God made it." If she had only knew! Only knew!

MAKE ROOM LISTS FOR PROM GUESTS

An S. O. S. call has been issued by the women's arrangement committee for Prom asking all co-eds who will be able to accommodate out-of-town women for Prom week-end to notify Isabel Bacon, B. 2335.

All men who are "importing" Prom partners and would like to have them provided for are asked to get in touch with Miss Bacon before next Wednesday. The co-eds who are going home Prom week-end are asked to volunteer their rooms for out-of-town guests.

Saturday will be the final day for exchanging tickets for the glee club concert. After this date, tickets will be on sale at Hook Bros.' Music company. Many good seats still are available, since the capacity of the high school auditorium is greater than of the Fuller.

COURSE IS OFFERED ON AMERICATIZATION

The effects of immigration upon American life and upon the problem of Americanization are presented in a new correspondence course on "Americanization and Immigration," just prepared by Prof. D. D. Lescohier, head of the Americanization department, and offered by the Extension division.

The course, which consists of 24 lessons, purposes to furnish a comprehensive study of the whole immigration problem for teachers, social workers, and all citizens who are interested in the relation between immigration and Americanization.

TO FINISH PLANS FOR JUNIOR PICNIC

The meeting of the junior picnic committee will take place tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in the Alpha Phi kitchen instead of at the Pi Phi house as previously announced. Boats will leave Park street for Bernard's park at 4:30 and at 5 p. m. tomorrow.

Nothing has been listed officially for tomorrow night by the junior class in order that there may be no conflict with the N. O. L. contest. The boat which leaves Bernard's at 7:30 p. m., will return in time for the opening of the contest.

MUCKS MAY GO TO OLYMPICS THIS SUMMER

Big Former Badger Athlete is Cleared of Charge of Professionalism

The announcement that Arlie M. Mucks, 17, has been cleared of the charge of professionalism has been hailed with joy in varsity athletic circles. It probably means that Wisconsin will be represented at the Olympic games in Belgium, next summer, by the world's premier discus thrower.

The big Badger weight tosser holds the world's record in the discus throw, with a mark of 155 feet, 8 inches, made at Camp Randall in a dual meet against Illinois in 1916. This is about 8 feet better than the old Olympic games mark, and several feet better than any discus record ever made in actual competition.

Competed in 1912

Mucks competed in the Olympic games at Stockholm, Sweden, in 1912, before he had finished his high school career at Oshkosh. His first appearance in the world classic was marred by an accident, for he turned an ankle alighting from a street car onto a cobblestone pavement in the Swedish capital and was handicapped in his throwing, finishing fifth.

Athletic Director T. E. Jones, who coached Arlie as a member of Wisconsin's track teams in 1915-16-17, was overjoyed when he learned that his protege has been relieved of the stigma which a charge of professionalism might have given if proved against the discus star.

"I don't know the exact nature of the charges," said Coach Jones, "but I presume the matter of his officiating was probed. Mucks has done a good deal of officiating at football games in the Dakotas since going west to engage in farm work, and someone may have preferred charges of professionalism for this reason. However, he was always very careful to turn down any offers of remuneration, for Mucks is the type of athlete who loves sport for its own sake."

In Good Physical Trim

"He will undoubtedly be picked on the American team to go to the Olympic games. Whether he will go depends, I believe, on whether he can afford to give up the major part of the summer to the trip. A farmer cannot throw away a couple of summer months indiscriminately, but I hope Mucks can see his way clear to make the trip."

"When he was here in March, Mucks was the picture of health, too hard physically for athletics, perhaps, but in such a condition that a few weeks of the right kind of limbering up would put him in tip-top shape. I believe that if he goes to the games at Antwerp he will be able to equal if not excel his wonderful record of 155 feet, 8 inches. If he does, it will be a mark for future generations to shoot at."

The Forensic board is planning an elaborate entertainment for the visiting speakers while they are guests of the university. They will be met at the station with automobiles and escorted to the Park hotel. Tomorrow noon a luncheon will be held at the Capitol cafe to be followed by a ride around Madison. After the contest, members of the board, members of Delta Sigma Rho, former inter-collegiate debating and oratorical stars, the coaches, and the contestants will adjourn to the University club for a reception.

Training College Men for Business

The Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University offers a two-year course to college graduates. The course is designed to give a broad fundamental training for business together with specialization in those fields in which the student is most interested.

College men, looking to business as a career, feel the lack of adequate preparation which enables them to deal effectively either with general business problems or with the problems in their own special fields. The Harvard Business School aims to fill this need.

Special emphasis is placed upon the application of business theory to actual business problems. For this purpose the "problem method" of instruction is used. The Boston territory affords an excellent business laboratory.

Courses offered: Accounting, Business Law, Banking and Finance, Marketing, Advertising, Industrial Management, Employment Management, Business Statistics, Foreign Trade, Transportation, Insurance, Lumbering, Income Taxation, Office Organization, Printing and Publishing.

Completion of the two-year course leads to the degree of Master of Business Administration.

OUR REPRESENTATIVE

FOR the first time in more than 30 years of competition a woman will represent Wisconsin in the Northern Oratorical League contest at Music hall tomorrow night. Her being chosen as the one person best fitted to uphold our forensic record is indeed fortunate.

She has a splendid record of victories behind her. In 1918 she won the state normal school contest, and later as the representative of Wisconsin in the inter-state contest she again placed first. Her victory at that time was the first that Wisconsin had ever attained in an inter-state normal contest.

Add to this experience an oration that is a masterpiece. It will be the one oration that, judging from the titles, will not be political in nature. In the last four years a woman's point of view has won first place twice for other schools and placed second or third on the other two occasions.

The advent of a woman into intercollegiate forensic competition at Wisconsin should be a source of inspiration to the hundreds of other women here who are gifted along these lines. The faulty impression that oratorical and debating contests are for men only should be forever blasted tomorrow night.

The woman who represents Wisconsin in the oratorical classic tomorrow will enter that fight prepared and determined to do her best. Her reward ought to come from an en masse turnout of the student body. Save tomorrow night for the N. O. L.

THE MORTAR BOARD SUPPER

MORTAR BOARD, senior women's honorary society, seeks to raise its annual $100 scholarship for women by holding a supper and dance in Barnard court tonight.

An entertainment of like nature held last year was highly successful. It should have even more support from the student body this year.

Mortar Board has enlisted for service to the university. It believes in Wisconsin, it works for Wisconsin, it IS Wisconsin in all that the name implies. Its effort to maintain a university scholarship should meet with recognition and that sort of commendation that steps forward and volunteers aid.

Meet you in Barnard court tonight.

UNIVERSITY HISTORY

LL university organizations are unique in that they start over again every four years. In that time membership completely changes—the new constantly replace the old.

During the war more attempts were made to delve into the past of many organizations, to make the history of each a matter of record to be at the disposal of succeeding classes.

Through Founder's Day, students have had an opportunity to hear of the infant days of the university. All who took part in those celebrations have gained a deeper appreciation of Wisconsin's power.

Organizations ought to be on the alert to complete the records of their past. It is one more way to put student organizations on a firmer basis.

NET MEN LOSE TO OKLAHOMA

Visitors Take All Three Matches From Wisconsin Tennis Team

Playing masterful tennis and repeatedly downing brilliant rallies by the Badger net men, the University of Oklahoma tennis team defeated the Wisconsin squad on the varsity courts yesterday afternoon, winning all three matches.

In the singles, Capt. H. B. Taylor was defeated by F. M. Darrough, Oklahoma, by a score of 5-7, 6-4, 6-4. C. Monnet, Oklahoma, won from Melvin Brorby, the scores being 6-0, 6-2. The winning count of Monnet and Darrough against Roy C. Gottfredson and Willis M. Fanning for the Badgers in the doubles was 7-5, 6-3.

Taylor Wins One Set

Captain Taylor showed pretty form, and time after time had his opponent guessing with his law-fords and drives, but by clever placements and consistent returns Darrough took two out of three sets.

In the match between Mel Brorby and C. Monnet, the Badger net man was outclassed by the seasoned southern man's line shots, his clever net work, and his Sphinx-like steadiness.

In the doubles the southerners displayed the same clever tactics against Gottfredson and Fanning. The early games of the first set were pretty well divided, each team winning their services. The break came when Gottfredson served the ninth game, winning it for Wisconsin with his terrific jump ball. The Oklahomans came back, Monnet's clever network, aiding in the winning the set, 7-5. The second set went in quick style, Fanning's backhand being wild, while the southerners formed a barrier at the net through which the Badgers were seldom able to drive. The set ended 6-3, in favor of Oklahoma.

Play Chicago Saturday

The Badger team has a hard schedule of conference games ahead of it, with the first to be played at Chicago Saturday. The schedule contains matches with Michigan, Northwestern, Chicago, and perhaps Minnesota.

COMMUNICATIONS

NEW MEMBERSHIP BASIS FOR Y. W. C. A.

To the Editor of The Cardinal:

Tomorrow noon a massmeeting of Y. W. C. A. members is to be held to vote on the acceptance of the personal basis of membership in the association. The personal basis was accepted as an alternative basis at the recent national convention held in Cleveland by a vote of 6 to 1. This does not mean that the personal basis automatically becomes the basis of membership in Y. W. associations. It means that each association is privileged to choose its members upon the basis it desires. The recent old basis requires that each woman who wishes to become a member must be a member of an evangelical protestant church. The personal basis will admit any woman who declares herself to be in sympathy with the purpose of the association and her purpose "to live as a true follower of the Lord Jesus Christ." The number of Y. W. members is 900 out of 2,300 women. In order to install the personal basis at Wisconsin a two-thirds vote of all the members is required.

The association constitution should be amended and the personal basis accepted, but it can only be done if every Y. W. woman turns out Friday and helps to put the meeting over. The Y. W. C. A. is one of the biggest and most influential organizations on the campus, and the personal basis of membership will not only increase the roll, but will make the association more representative of Wisconsin and Wisconsin women.

SAYS LABOR WILL STRIKE FOR LOW WAGE

Demands Will Turn to Opposite Exereme, Asserts

Prof. Jastrow

"The day is coming when carpenters will strike for lower wages instead of higher ones," said Prof. Joseph Jastrow, department of psychology, at his lecture on "Mass Psychology" in the Biology building last night before the largest crowd the Social Science club has had this far.

The present wage situation and the high cost of living is due to a fallacy in mass psychology, Professor Jastrow asserted. People in general are prone to believe that higher wages will bring better conditions everywhere. The contrary is true, however, he said. The rise of wages will bring a decrease in the purchasing power of a dollar, a diminishing of the work to be found. Thus carpenters as well as many other business workers will find themselves ultimately earning less.

"Present ideas of mass psychology are false," went on Professor Jastrow. "The old mob ideas are due to the fact that not enough attention is paid to co-operation of masses. The difference between foreigners and Americans is shown in any place where unexpected waiting is necessary. The American immediately forms a line; the foreigner forms a mob and wins by muscle."

In a gregarious group, such as men are, two tendencies appear, a tendency to follow and a tendency to lead. The superior force is that of leadership. Any group must move slowly in its development. A dominance of emotion and mental simplicity in any leader will insure success sooner than any other means, concluded Professor Jastrow.

Y. W. C. A. VOTES ON NEW BASIS OF MEMBERSHIP

Massmeeting Will be Held Tomorrow Noon in Lathrop Concert Room

Personal basis for membership in the university Y. W. C. A. will be voted on at a massmeeting of all Y. W. members, tomorrow noon, in Lathrop concert room.

In order to install the personal basis, whereby any woman who declares herself to be in sympathy with the association purpose and who professes "to live as a true follower of the Lord Jesus Christ" may become an active and voting member, it is necessary to secure a two-thirds vote of all members.

At the recent national Y. W. C. A. convention in Cleveland, Ohio, the personal basis was accepted as a part of the alternate basis of membership in associations. The other basis of membership, which is in use at present, is that of evangelical church affiliation. Each association is privileged to use either basis. Wisconsin expressed itself in favor of the personal basis, which will not only increase the association roll but will make the organization representative of all Wisconsin women.

SCHOOL NEEDS TO BE PROBED

Board of Education at Work on Shortage of School Houses

After organization of the board of education Tuesday evening, a committee was appointed by the new president, Prof. E. B. Skinner, to investigate the school house shortage that exists in Madison. Classrooms in every school in the city are overcrowded, according to observations of members.

Among the needs cited was that of Randall school, which is overflowing the regular building and one barrack; the city high school, built to accommodate 1,000, has 1,400 students and the number is growing; high schools are needed in the east and west ends; a school house is needed to accommodate the children of the rapidly growing neighborhood near the packing plant, where 50 new residences are being built this summer; two additional rooms are needed at the Longfellow school and children of Lapham school are being sent to other schools.

To Present Report

One suggestion is to enlarge present school sites to meet the increasing demands. The committee will present a report covering the city as a whole, probably with suggestions for a permanent policy.

A petition from a committee of men representing the Lapham school district will be brought before the council. It asks an addition to the school to provide more class rooms, accommodations for school industrial work, a domestic science department, enlarged gymnasium facilities, and community center rooms. Repairs should be made at once, the petition says, to remedy unsanitary conditions. F. D. Stader, Bert Sauthoff, B. H. Seals, F. D. Browne, Fred Hanson and Luth Swenson are the petitioners.

A tour of inspection of city schools will begin at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Prof. Skinner was elected president of the board to succeed C. H. Tenney, whose term had expired. John Moran and Mrs. Alice Bleyer were reelected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

NORWEGIANS WILL OBSERVE MAY 17

The 17th of May, Norway's Independence day, will be celebrated in Madison this year under the auspices of the local lodge of the Sons of Norway. The exercises will be held at Turner Hall Monday evening, May 17, and will consist of a program with speaking and music after which there will be dancing. The speakers will be Atty. Gen. John J. Blaine, who will talk in English and Joakim Ihlen, a student at the university, from Norway, who will speak in Norwegian.

Schools to Observe Arbor Day Friday

Arbor day will be observed in Madison Friday with exercises in all the public schools and the high school. The guide manual issued by the state department of public instruction has been distributed to each of the schools with suggestions for programs. Shrubs will be planted at most of the schools. Most of Friday afternoon will be devoted to a cleanup at school and at home.

An arbor day program will be held at the high school at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Prof. Skinner Heads New School Board

Prof. E. B. Skinner was elected president of the board of education Tuesday night. John Moran was reelected clerk and Mrs. Alice Bleyer treasurer. C. H. Tenney, former president, retired from the board.

A committee on the building program of the Madison schools was authorized by the board.

Increases in the facilities of the Lapham school were asked by a petition from that school.

FOOD BUDGET IN FEBRUARY 100% HIGHER THAN 1913

Department of Labor Statistics Show World-Wide Rise

WASHINGTON—The family food budget in February was exactly twice the sum expended for the same articles of food in February, 1913 according to department of labor statistics.

During the same period in Great Britain the increase was 130 per cent while in Italy it was 187 per cent. Germany outranked all countries enumerated at an increase of 224 per cent.

Increase in prices of clothing in Germany exceeded 1,000 per cent. A man's suit which before the war cost $20 now sells for $238.

During the year ending last February in this country sugar increased in price 76 per cent. Potatoes went over the top to the tune of 275 per cent increase since February 1913.

SELL TICKETS TODAY FOR RUSSIAN BALLET

The sale of tickets for the Russian ballet, to be given in the High school auditorium, May 8, afternoon and night, will be held in University hall tomorrow and tomorrow morning in charge of Elsie Gluck.

"The musicians who play in the Little Symphony are all finished artists, and Barrere gets some highly artistic results from his orchestra," says Prof. Lowell L. Townsend of the School of Music, who has heard the orchestra many times.

A feature of the program, both afternoon and night, will be a harp solo by Carlos Salzedo, the conductor of the ballet, from his own compositions.

MELODY IN F

By Anton Rubinstein

If the test of good music is its wearing qualities, this simple Melody in F, by Rubinstein, must have a high standing. Few compositions have been sung and played more often and yet its popularity today seems as great as it ever was. Rubinstein wrote and knew it only as a melody in the key of one flat, but the children of this country know it usually only as a song, Welcome, Sweet Springtime.

Anton Rubinstein (1830-1894) was, like many of the remarkable musicians of today, a Russian Jew. In addition to being an eminent teacher and composer, he was a brilliant pianist, the only formidable rival of the wonderful Franz Liszt. He made concert tours throughout Europe and America, giving over 200 concerts in our country. When he first performed in England, critics spoke of him as "the Russian boy whose fingers were as light as a feather and yet as strong as a man's."

He composed in almost every line, vocal and instrumental. There is always a fine broad vein of melody and natural harmony combined with thorough technical skill. This Melody in F is one of his drawing-room pieces. In adapting words to it Michael Watson simplified the music somewhat and transposed it into the key of G, as better adapted to children. Hundreds of thousands of us already, with fully as many more to follow, have found our joy at the return of the birds and bowers most adequately expressed as we sang, "Welcome, Sweet Springtime, we greet thee in song; murmurs of gladness fall on the ear". The form of this composition is like that of the Beethoven Minuet in G. The first theme is followed by a contrasting subject, after which the first theme is repeated as the closing part.

dues. The university dues will be only nominal, according to the expectation of temporary officers.

Will Bar Politics

The committee is determined that the university post shall not become a political organization, and that student politics shall not be a part of its program.

All men who have signed membership slips are requested to bring the slips to the meeting tonight. Additional slips can be obtained from George Chandler, 151 Main hall.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS TAKE HIKE SATURDAY

"Back to Nature" is the keynote of the hike which Lutheran students and their friends are planning for Saturday afternoon, May 8. Taking their clue from "man lives not by bread alone," the picnickers are going to have a real steak roast, the watchword being, "Roast your own."

Hikers will meet at the corner of Lake street and University avenue at 1:30 p. m. All who intend to go are requested to phone Miss Hanson at Badger 7855.

The party will hike to Eagle Heights on the shores of Lake Mendota. Games to develop a good appetite will be in order during the afternoon. The hike will be in charge of "King" Kohl. Rev. and Mrs. N. D. Goehring have consented to act as chaperons. The party will return at 7 p. m.

Teachers Strike; Students Picket

NEWPORT, Ky.—When the entire teaching force of the public grade and high schools of Newport went on "indefinite vacation" this morning because their demand for a salary increase of $300 was refused by the board of education, the 2,963 pupils rushed from the buildings, paraded the streets and shouted "More pay for the teachers."

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB DEFENDS ITS PURPOSES

Cites Indorsement by Campus Leaders to Meet Propaganda Charges

Because of the varied discussion as to the need, the desirability, and the purpose of the Wisconsin Social Science club, the executive committee, to test out the sentiment of the members of the faculty, sent out 25 questionnaires to representative professors, to those persons who have addressed the club during the past year, or who have attended some of the meetings.

"The Social Science club," said David Weiss of the executive committee, has tried its utmost to put before the student body its purpose. It has tried to make clear that it is not a propaganda organization; that it has no special creed or dogma to propagate; that its only aim is to promote intelligent discussion. In doing so, it has tried to get speakers who would present economic, political, and social questions from all points of view, with the sole idea of promoting impartial discussion of the problems of the day.

Adopt Pledge

"It has been hinted by a few students, however, that the club does not always present all sides of the question. And to prove that we are trying to present all angles, the following pledge has been adopted by the club:

"Whenever any group of students feel that a speaker secured by the Social Science club has not presented his question fairly, the club will gladly, at the request of any group, arrange a meeting for any speaker who may be selected by the group, give him equal publicity, present him in the same auditorium, and see that students get the opportunity to hear all sides of the question."

More than 125 students and members of the faculty have joined since last fall. And today the Wisconsin chapter is the largest group in the Inter-collegiate society.

Send Out Questionnaire

The questionnaires sent out contained the following questions:

- (1) Is the Wisconsin Social Science club a desirable club at the university?
- (2) Is the object of the society, as stated in our constitution, a worthy one?

(3) Have you any suggestion to offer that would help make the club more acceptable to a larger number of members of the faculty and students?

Indorsement of Dean Roe

"1 and 2, yes, most desirable," replied Dean F. W. Roe, "so long as it keeps within the purpose of its constitution, as stated in article 2 and 3. No intelligent man or woman can afford to remain ignorant of socialistic thought and action."

"I think, however, in view of public opinion in certain quarters, that your organization should make it very clear that affiliation with the Inter-collegiate Socialist society does not imply in any way propaganda for socialism as the program of a party."

"3. Keep the organization just as attractive (as a free forum) to non-radical as to radical elements. It should not be forgotten that dogmatism is by no means the exclusive possession of the ultra-conservative."

"I feel very strongly that students should maintain a society for the discussion of our pressing social and economic questions. Where is right guidance and right vision to come from, if not from the educated minority. But I feel no less strongly that discussion should be absolutely free from all suggestion of proselytism on the one hand and of the doctrinaire spirit on the other. Any social ideal worth fighting for can stand the attacks of its enemies in the open."

Says Liberalism is Needed

"When reaction abounds with intolerance, suppression, and repression," writes Attorney General John J. Blaine, who recently addressed the club, "any organization which has for its object the discovery of the truth is very desirable, particularly in our college and universities. Liberalism, in these days, is very necessary."

"Therefore, so long as the Wisconsin Social Science club preserves the liberty of discussion and promotes the search of truth, it will be a long way in breaking down the barriers that stand in the way of social and political progress."

Ross Approves Object

"So far as I have had the opportunity to observe," asserts Prof. E. A. Ross, "the Wisconsin Social Science club is justifying its existence and is doing a worth-while work. Its objects, as stated in its constitution, appear to me to be quite worthy."

"Very much so," and "yes," answers W. T. Evjue, editor of The Capital Times, to questions 1 and 2. "Bring more speakers with a national reputation," adds Mr. Evjue, "and charge admission if necessary. Would like to hear men like Fred Howe, Villard, United States Senator France, William Hard, and others. Would it be possible to start a guarantee fund for such purposes next year? Here's to the Social Science club. May its members increase!"

HOLD LAST TRYOUTS FOR '20 CLASS PLAY

Can you win a woman's heart by wit or by beauty? The wager between Narcissus and Chicot, two important roles in "The Jesters," the senior play, is based on this question.

There are 12 important roles to be filled. This offers opportunity to everyone in the class who has dramatic ability. Eighteen copies of the play are at the University library for those interested to read before trying out.

Final try-outs for seniors will take place today at 4:30 p. m. in Lathrop parlors. Unless enough seniors come out, open try-outs will be held next week for members of the other classes. Seniors, however, will be given preference and should be on hand this afternoon whether prepared or not.
