MEN SELECTED FOR STAFF OF ENGINEER SHOW

R. H. Damon, Production Manager, Has 6 Years' Theatrical Experience

Appointments for the production staff of the Engineer's Minstrels, to be presented as a part of the Homecoming program November 12 and 13, were announced yesterday by Foster Strong, general chairman. Strong was elected to his position at a mass meeting of all engineers held last spring.

Staging of the act was put in the hands of R. H. Damon. As stage director, Damon will give to the production the benefit of many years experience in the field of minstrels. For six years he was actively connected with legitimate dramatics, much of the time serving in black face outfits. His parents are in the theatrical profession, and much of his life has been spent in intimate contact with the stage. At one time he was under the tutelage of Al Fields. Later he managed a minstrel show on the Pacific coast, and acted on the Keith circuit.

Rogers is Business Manager
Ross W. Rogers will act as business manager, with Henry Warmuth as his assistant. Heading the publicity is Wilson D. Trueblood. Members of his committee are: Earl Leonard, George Borgman, M. K. Driery, Norman L. Johnson, Sherwood Buckstaff, and Kenneth Scott. George Bepalow was appointed to act as stage manager, Henry Ford as floor manager, and J. Stannard Baker as property manager. The music will be in charge of Nelson R. Fairbanks, who is manager for Boyd's orchestra.

Actual work on the production started this week, and two rehearsals have been run off already. More than 70 exponents of the black face are in line for the cast. Selection of the team of six end men has not been made as yet, but 11 men are trying out for the places.

PRINTERS DELAY LIT UNTIL FRIDAY

"The October number of the Wisconsin Literary magazine will not be circulated on the hill until Friday morning because of unavoidable delay at the printers," said Augustus J. Fehrenbach, business manager, last night. The "Lit" was scheduled to come out this morning. It has been decided to mail all subscriptions before the hill sale starts.

A large staff has been organized by Horace Powell, circulation manager, who will conduct the sales in most of the buildings on the hill Friday. A limited number of copies has been printed. Those who wish to secure copies of the first issue who have not subscribed by the year will be obliged to buy their copy on Friday. The price of single copies is 25 cents.

SALVATION ARMY SEEKS QUARTERS FOR TAGS TODAY

Mildred Rogers in Charge of Campus Solicitations—Funds to Be Used for Hospital

"Make it at least a quarter!" is the war cry of the campus-wide tag day for the Salvation Army hospital being conducted today. University girls tagging under the direction of Mildred Rogers, and the student committee under Wesley Travers intend to reach every student on the campus. The faculty is cooperating in the drive and the money from the university campaign will be turned over to the county committee. Every student is expected to donate his quarter or more for a tag decoration.

The need of the proposed maternity hospital and rescue home under the direction of the Salvation Army has been expressed by the various county boards. A state-wide movement for the collection of funds is under way. County committees are at work raising their quotas. Dane county's share is $12,000. The proceeds of the city drive will be included in this sum, but it is being conducted separately from the university work. The results of the campus drive will also be given to this quota.

The Dane county committee felt that the students and faculty should be given the chance to join a movement that will be such a permanent benefit to the state, and the work was given into the hands of the following committee, working with Pres. E. A. Birge and Dean S. H. Goodnight; Wesley Travers, Mildred Rogers, Milton Borman, Carson Lyman, Marguerite Croskey, and Marguerite Swift.

With the backing and endorsement of prominent men throughout the state and in the university faculty, there promises to be little difficulty in putting the university over the top in its share.

HOW MANY SALES?

Advertising Service Bureau Seeks to Aid Merchants in Selling Stock

"How many pairs of golashes did you dispose of last year?" queried a young woman, and before the man behind the counter could respond—"How many pairs have you ordered for this year, and do you expect to have as many sales as last year? And—"

"Wait a minute there, Miss," came from the shoe merchant after a vain effort to keep up with her. "Start over again and I'll answer your questions."

The young woman departed from her interview, the last of ten which she had had with various shoe merchants, well satisfied. She had had a very thorough report to make at the office.

What's this all about? Why, the new service department of the advertising bureau under Blanche Field's direction. The service department is a feature of the Intercollegiate Advertising association. It acts as an information bureau for both students and advertisers. By taking a poll of the various shops it is able to find out whether or not there is a market for any particular goods that the advertiser wishes to establish here; by inquiring among the students, it is also able to determine the popularity of any article and how far advertising has brought about the resulting pleasure or displeasure.

This department is of great value to the advertising department and a great many helpers are needed. Men and women who are interested in the work should apply at the Cardinal office as soon as possible.

BASEBALL MATERIAL REPORTS TO LOWMAN

Hold First Meeting in Gym Yesterday—Eligibility Requirements Discussed

More than thirty Varsity baseball men met at the gymnasium last evening to receive preliminary instructions for the 1921 season from Coach Guy Lowman. A large number of candidates were unable to attend the meeting last night, but seven of last season's "W" men were present. Coach Lowman expects fifty men to report at the initial work-out, which will be held shortly after the holidays.

The purpose of this early meeting of the Varsity baseball squad was to warn the men on their eligibility. Lowman advised all candidates to keep well up in their studies. He secured the schedule of each man, and will consult the various instructors at frequent periods throughout the year. "It is the old proposition of facing the eligibility problem, and I intend to get at it early in the year," said Lowman last night after his session with the men. "The men must keep their studies up, for we can not afford to lose them because of ineligibility."

Indoor practice will begin as usual immediately after the holidays, and continue until weather will permit the squad to take to the diamond. With a nucleus of seven letter men and a number of sophomores about which to mould his nine, Coach Lowman looks for a winning team in the spring. Considerable preliminary training will be given the battery aspirants.

ROOTERS' CLUB MEETING

The Rooters' club for the Homecoming game with Illinois, November 13, will hold a meeting in 119 Science hall at 5 o'clock today. All men interested in joining this new club and desiring seats in the cheering section should be at the meeting.

BADGERS HOLD STIFF WORKOUT FOR BUCKEYES

Wilce's Plays Met by Team in Scrimmage—Send-off Thursday

The Badgers scrimmaged against the "All-Americans" until long after dusk had fallen on Randall field last night in the hardest practice of the week before the Ohio State game in Columbus next Saturday. If last night's practice is an indication of what will happen in the game against Wilce's men, the Badgers will win, because they stopped Ohio formations used by the "All-Americans" on every play. Another strenuous session is in store for Coach Richards' men tonight and the week's preparation will be finished off with a light signal drill and limbering up Thursday afternoon. The Badger squad will leave for Columbus Thursday night over the Northwestern line.

Send-off for Team

Varsity Cheer Leader "Bill" Pickard is planning a rousing send-off

A block of 100 seats has been set aside for Wisconsin rooters at the Ohio game next Saturday. Tickets in this section may be purchased from Frank Nickerson in the gymnasium office.

for the team Thursday night and it is estimated that a couple of thousand students will be on hand to cheer the Badgers as they board the train for their most critical game of the season.

"We must give the football team a big send-off when they leave for the Ohio game," declared "Bill" Pickard in discussing plans for the parade Thursday afternoon. "This is a crucial game, and the support of the student body is necessary."

The entire student body will form at 3:30 Thursday afternoon on the lower campus and march behind the band to the station. The train leaves the West Madison station at 4:10.

Coach Guy Lowman who has seen the Buckeyes in two games this season declares that they showed marked improvement against Purdue last Saturday over their early season form. According to the "All-American" coach, Wilce's men have a powerful offensive machine

EDWIN BOOTH HOLDS TRYOUTS OCTOBER 26

Tryouts for the Edwin Booth Dramatic society are to be held Tuesday, Oct. 26. Aspirants may get application blanks from the Edwin Booth office, third floor of the Union building or from any of the three members of the tryout committee, John Warren, Bernard Monfried, or Thomas McCandless. Those trying out will be expected to read a selection of three to four minutes in length.

The applicant is urged to take some care in choosing a piece that will give him opportunity of displaying a variety of character portrayal. Selections that have long introductory speeches and few changes of speech between characters should be avoided, especially if they involve little dramatic action. It is also advisable to have the piece well in mind thus giving the reader more time for the interpretation rather than for the mechanical reading of the piece.

FRY AND FRICASSE!

Poultry Club Organized to Promote Interest in Chickens.

Whether the organization name is to be Fry and Fricasse, Broiler and Egg, Beak and Claw or just plain Badger Poultry club was too grave a matter to be decided upon hastily; so action was delayed: The important thing now is that the campus can boast of a poultry club. It was formed by some 85 students last night at a meeting held in the poultry building.

Officers elected are: C. E. Lampman, '21, president; G. W. McIlroy, '21, vice-president; Eugenia A. Duthouse, '24, secretary; and W. H. Beards, '23, treasurer. W. H. Frederick, '23, was elected manager of the poultry exhibit which the new organization intends to put on in connection with the Little International to be sponsored by the Colleg of Agriculture. An egg show is also planned.

For some time students interested in poultry have felt the need of an organization in which there might be united effort to further activities in their field and the enthusiasm manifested last night indicates that the club will rank with the liveliest of the university organizations. Membership is open to any student irrespective of course. Meetings will be held the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month, the next to be a week from last night.

Faculty members who addressed the organization meeting last night were Prof. J. G. Halpin, chairman of the poultry department, D. H. Reed and Owen Johnson.

PURPLE AND GOLD DANCE

A dance for November 19, was planned at a meeting of the Purple and Gold club, an organization of alumni of Washington High school in Milwaukee, held last night in the Green room of the Y. M. C. A. The affair will be held in Lathrop hall. It is in charge of the social chairman, Elmer Mollensteiner, assisted by the publicity committee, Herbert Hentzen, chairman.

CLASS OF '99 HAS CANDIDATE FOR STATE ASSEMBLY

Mrs. J. W. McMillan Visits University to Renew Old Acquaintanceships

Mrs. John W. McMillan, candidate for the assembly from the eighteenth district of Milwaukee county, visited the university during last week end to renew her acquaintance with those people who were her friends and professors when she attended here.

Mrs. McMillan was Miss Lucretia Hinkley before her marriage. She graduated from Wisconsin in the class of 1899. She was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, and a charter member of Phi Beta Kappa. She served on the Badger board and the Y. W. C. A. board. She also was a member of the first self-government board, which she assisted in organizing. One of the leading roles in the senior class play was given to her. She assisted Mrs. Slaughter in bringing the first art exhibit to the university, which was on display in Chadbourne hall.

Mrs. McMillan was also very active socially while in the university. "Once I attended a dance with the furnace tender of our house much to the horror of some of my friends, who had not yet acquired the spirit of Wisconsin democracy," she said in recounting her experiences here. "It is very amusing to me now, for that former furnace tender is a professor at Oxford."

FROSH PREPARING FOR SOPH CONTEST

Game Between Underclasses Scheduled For October 30

The freshman football squad is scrimmaging daily with Coach Richards' varsity eleven in preparation for the annual Frosh-Soph contest which will take place October 30. The yearling squad numbers 65, which is the largest number that has ever lasted until mid-season, but the candidates are showing exceptional ability, and "Keg" Driver, who is coaching the youngsters, hesitates to cut the squad until he is absolutely sure of each man's merits. The final workouts for places on the freshman first team will be held this week, while the youngsters are aiding the Cardinal gridders to get in shape for Ohio State next Saturday. Driver's final selection of a definite yearling squad will be made the fore part of next week. The coach would make no predictions as to which of the men had the edge in the fight for positions, but affirmed that a decision would be given before the sophomore game.

As in the past years, athletic authorities will endeavor to limit players on both teams by enforcing eligibility rules strictly. The receipts from the traditional Frosh-Soph game will be used to send the first freshman squad to Chicago to view the classic Wisconsin-Chicago contest.

26 WOMEN ELECTED TO Y. W. COMMISSION

Twenty-six university women make up the sophomore commission of Y. W. C. A. which is a continuation of the freshman commission, with some additional elections. As a standing committee of Y. W. C. A. this commission discuss membership basis and appoint a committee to look up the national Y. W. C. A. affairs and report to the local association. Members of the sophomore commission aid in obtaining members for the association, and act as ushers at Sunday vespers.

Freshmen members of Y. W. C. A. are advisees of the sophomore commission members. The sophomores write to their advisees during the summer and give parties for them in the fall. The sophomore commission also entertains the freshman commission which is elected in November.

The following women are members of this commission: Carrie Winter, Florence Stolte, Mariam Arey, Alice Frick, Helen Kasbeer, Isabell Capps, Josephine Walters,

ADVERTISING CLUB ELECTS MEMBERS AT LUNCH TODAY

Is Work of Woman of Seventy —Pioneer of Wisconsin

New members will be elected at the next meeting of the University Advertising club, which is to take place Wednesday noon at a dinner at the university Y. M. C. A. cafeteria. Committees are to be appointed and the possibility of forming a national association of university advertising clubs will be discussed.

James Young, vice-president of the J. Walter Thompson Advertising agency with offices in Chicago, Cincinnati, and New York, will speak here before the Advertising club in about three weeks. He has been an associate member of the Advertising club for two years and is much interested in its development. Young spoke in Madison last year under the auspices of this organization.

Membership in the club is open to advertising students or to anyone showing particular merit along advertising lines and to all students working on any university publication.

CLASS FINANCES TO BE REGULATED

Ellen Correll, President, Calls on Girls Interested to Come to First Meeting

Strict regulation of class finances, for the purpose of protecting the classes as well as the merchants, has been adopted by the students' life and interest committee. Elmer L. Benson has been appointed by Dean S. H. Goodnight to act as student financial advisor.

The rules which apply strictly to classes and class functions, provide that class committees or individuals may not have anything charged at any business house without a requisition bearing the signature of the chairman of the particular function. Charges amounting to more than $50 require the consent of the student financial advisor.

These rules are absolutely binding upon all of the classes and any charge entered into without complying with them will not bind the class for the contract. This provision is designed to protect the merchants and the classes, and to prevent confusion in the management of class finances.

Treasurers of all organizations are asked to turn in a list of the officers of their groups to the student financial advisor.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 70 at 3 p. m. and the lowest was 59 at 4 a. m. Sun sets at 5:11.

OUTING CLUB PLANS TO MEET THURSDAY

"To get all university girls interested and acquainted with the work of Outing club," is the purpose of a meeting to be held in the concert room at Lathrop hall Thursday at 7:30 p. m., according to Ellen Correll, president of the organization.

"The method of winning points for membership will be explained fully," assured the president. "We expect to see at least 150 old girls there and all freshmen girls who may be interested."

Last year Outing club boasted of a member ship of 200. Every week-end hiking, bicycling, horseback riding, boating, and in the winter, skiing, skating, and coasting, were arranged for. The club was organized in the spring of 1917 to promote the outdoor activities of the women of the university. Trips to Devil's lake and The Dells formed part of the program of the organization in May and June.

A number of other colleges have requested copies of the constitution of the Wisconsin Outing club. It is rather unique in the variety of sports which it encourages.

THE SALVATION ARMY TAG DAY

IN years past tag days were about as common on the campus as school days. They became so numerous last year that a concerted effort was necessary to limit them. The result meant that in the future they were to be confined only to really worthwhile projects; and that they were to be timed with some degree of consistency.

The Salvation Army Tag Day, brought home to the student body by dozens of co-ed taggers, fulfils both requisites of properly conducted tag days. It is but a small, yet extremely important part, of a state-wide movement for the establishment of a maternity hospital and rescue home to be conducted under the supervision of the Salvation Army.

There is little doubt as to the merits and urgent need of such an institution. Committees consisting of the most prominent men in each county of the state have made thorough investigations of conditions, and have reported, in their advisory capacity, that such an institution is of paramount importance. These county committees are conducting the campaign in their respective districts at the present time.

Being the first tag day of the year, this one is unusually well timed. There need be no fear on our part that this campaign will be followed by a great influx of tax days customary in past years. The rule of importance and the element of time will always be on hand to hold off those non-essential tag days which caused so much unfavorable comment in the past.

Today, "make it a quarter" is the slogan. That means that every student is expected to give at least to such an amount, for only by so doing can our normal quota be filled. Too often in the general run of campus affairs are we prone to disregard something which has real merit for things of far less importance, and in the minds of some no importance at all. Dollars at dances are invariably regarded more lightly than quarters to aid in building a needed hospital.

The fact that the Salvation Army, with its remarkable record of achievement is behind the move, that it has been o. k.'d by committees of prominent men in all sections of the state, and that it has the hearty faculty approval should commend itself to every student. Shell out your quarter and wear a tag.

MAKE IT A REAL BADGER SEND-OFF

WISCONSIN'S fighting football squad leaves the West Madison St. Paul Station at 4:10 tomorrow afternoon for the hardest test of the season. They go to meet Ohio State in what may prove to be a championship battle. Obviously Columbus is too far removed to make it possible for more than a handful of supporters to accompany the team.

There is, however, one way in which all of us can be of some material aid in blasting the Buckeyes' championship hopes and thereby boosting our own, at the same time minimizing the thousand-fold bleacher support that Ohio can always count on. It comes primarily through turning out to see the boys off. This time, perhaps more than any other in recent Badger grid-iron history, a big crowd at the station is going to carry tremendous weight.

Secret practice has eliminated even the most loyal from the confines of Camp Randall during the week. Tomorrow's departure, two days before the game, makes our task doubly hard. To be effective, to last not only until the train pulled out of the yards, but all the way through the game, the spirit exhibited at the station must be typically Wisconsin. Which is merely another way of saying that every student not in classes should be on hand.

One student at a royal send-off cuts more of a figure than five rooting in the stands. There the men come to feel how keenly the student body is pulling for them to win. It is much easier to gauge sincerity when a record crowd trudges to a station merely to see its standard bearers than it is on the field when a good football game is in progress.

The team is going into a hard battle. The men have defeats for the past two years chalked against them at the hands of Ohio, and they are going to make up for both of them next Saturday. We made a splendid start at the "Pep" session Friday night. Here is a better chance to keep up the good work. Don't depend on your room-mate to go. Be there yourself and you'll find the rest of the school crowding the platform.

As "A Fan" so aptly remarked in a communication in yesterday's issue, "let's meet at the Gym, the band in the lead, the whole student body in line and proceed to the depot."

TWO ARE INELIGIBLE IN COMING ELECTION

Ivan Peterman automatically became sergeant-at-arms of the junior class yesterday afternoon when the senate elections committee found that his only competitor, Robert Perry, is ineligible.

W. G. Aschenbrenner, candidate for senior member of the student senate, was also found to be ineligible; his name will not appear on the ballot.

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT MAY EXPECT INCREASE

The prediction that in 1950 the total registration of 210 colleges and universities in this country will be 831,000, if these institutions continue their present rate of growth, was recently made by J. H. Barnes, chairman of the Institute for Public Service.

The registration last year in these colleges was 294,000, while in 1914 it was only 187,000. A single decade at this rate would increase the numbers to 471,000, the figure set as probable by 1930. If the institutions under consideration were to continue to grow at the same percentage rate as that of the past six years, they would number 659,000 in 1930, and 1,138,000 in 1950.

Y. W. C. A. TO SELECT FROSH COMMISSION

"The sorority element is not entering into the selection of girls for Freshman commission," declared Helen Cheetham, head of the committee considering future members. "We are choosing the girl on her own merits, not merely because she is the only possible representative of her sorority. We want the sororities represented of course, but if there is no girl in a group who comes up to the standard we are setting, no girl will be chosen."

"Capability, leadership, and the interest in Y. W. which will make good workers, are the qualities which we are looking for. Y. W. wants to help fit these girls for future leaders, as well as for present ones, and it is looking for unusually strong girls. It is usually from the commission that the future Cabinet council and officers of Y. W. are chosen."

The announcement of the 25 girls who will make up the commission will be made at the Y. W. C. A. banquet.

The purpose of the commission is to help the freshmen girls to become acquainted by dividing them into groups, with a Freshman commission girl at the head. Parties will be held, and other means used for promoting a good fellowship spirit among the girls. In addition to taking charge of these groups, Freshman commission girls will help in drives and other lines of activities on the campus.

ANOTHER SAYS—SEND THE BAND

Editor Daily Cardinal:

At last Saturday's game Wisconsin's band as usual was a big feature and a big asset to our team in its victory. Why is it then, that as students of a great university, one striving for a conference championship, that we must each year hem and haw and argue over the merits of sending a band to outside games?

To anyone who has been at Wisconsin long enough to feel the real "pull" of the real Wisconsin spirit on him, it is utter folly to waste time discussing such a question. It should this year be made a permanent tradition at Wisconsin that in so far as is reasonably practical, the varsity band shall accompany the team on all outside games. Of course this costs money to send a band, but what better investment can loyal Wisconsinites make than toward the conference pennant?

After all, this is the least we can do to back up the coach, and the men whose sacrifice in time alone to boost Wisconsin's status should serve as one grand example for the fans. We can't all be there to root but this is one place where money talks today, and here it YELLS!

Another little matter. As one witnessed the last game, numerous comments as to why the bleachers near the grand stand were bleak, passed around. And following this the query, "Why not let the kids in for a quarter, or for nothing?" Yes, why not? This has long been a question here. But reaching no conclusion we class it therefore under the head "It just isn't done at Wisconsin," along with other things of Skyrocket notoriety. I can easily sympathize with the kids, for I well remember how I felt when I witnessed the first football game at Wisconsin.

"All the now termed "Old stars" were the heroes of the kids, and the kids were the most loyal rooters the team had. Today, 10 or 12 years show these same kids who used to carry the bass drum to get through the gate, or shinny over the fence, some of them Varsity football men, some athletes of other teams, some just students and still fans, but all instilled with an enthusiasm and a loyalty that never wanes. Let's look ahead. The little extra noise the kids'll make now is not our reward. We must look forward as Badgers to the future citizenship, the future fandom, and the future of Wisconsin's ideals in every line.

TRUTH

AT THE THEATERS

AT THE FULLER

Nazihova at her greatest: that is "Madame Peacock." When this most recent and decidedly most brilliant of the Russian actress' pictures was thrown on the screen of the Fuller theater last evening, she came before the audience first as a brilliant stage celebrity, Jane Goring, a woman of fascinating, gorgeous personality, a woman who had sacrificed the love of a man to her irresistible ambition. Then suddenly there appeared a young girl, eager and aspiring and ingenuous; and had it not been for the explanatory subtitle doubt would have remained in the minds of those who witnessed the shadow performance as to whether she utterly different a person could be portrayed by the same actress.

AT THE FULLER

Lovers of the spoken drama who find inspiration in the really worthy dramatic performance of the stage, will welcome the announcement of the engagement of the famous actor-manager, Lou Tellegen, who on Friday and Saturday will present himself (in person) and his own company, at the Fuller in an elaborate revival of his greatest American success, "Blind Youth," the comedy drama in three acts by Mr. Tellegen and Willard Mack, which enjoyed such long and prosperous runs in New York, Boston and Chicago.

For this, his trans-continental tour, Mr. Tellegen has engaged one of the most notable companies ever seen with a traveling organization, as one can realize after reading the following list of names in his support, which includes Lorna Ambler, Juliette Crosby, Helen Grayce, Marcelle Bagnier, Kathryn Howard, Douglas S. Bright, George Deneubourg, Schuyler White and Russell Clark.

AT THE GRAND

The feminine contingent of this old universe which has gone through the last few years bemoaning the fact that Annette Kellerman has usurped all the luck in the world and has just been fortunate in being borne to have the world's most wonderful figure—this feminine contingent should think a bit.

The marvelous physique she now boasts is no indication of the fact that as a child her limbs were terribly ill-formed, from learning to walk too soon. Or that the doctors who treated her at that young age said she was a victim to that malady—"chalk bones." In telling her life story, Miss Kellerman said: "After consulting several prominent physicians in Melbourne, my father was led to believe, by one of them, that swimming might strengthen my limbs which were terribly ill-formed. I was terrified at the thought of exposing my ill-shaped limbs, but through father's firm stand in the matter, I started swimming lessons in Sidney. Through constant exercise of swimming, my limbs were strengthened, and became strong and normal, so at the age of thirteen my limbs were about as perfect as could be."

AT THE STRAND

"The Silent Barrier," a story of love on the peaks of the snow-clad Alps, opened a four day engagement at the Strand theater today.

Charles K. Spencer, an American mining engineer, on a visit to London, disposes of a valuable mining property to Mark Bower, a multi-millionaire.

Among Bower's victims is a clever young actress, Millicent Jaques. Millicent has a friend, Helen Wynnton, who is attached to a widely known London society journal, The Argus. Helen lives at the home of Professor Lemmeno. Helen goes to a reception given by Bower in honor of Millicent. There she meets Spencer.

Etta Stampa is a ward in the home of Prof. Lammemois, and another of Bower's victims, whom he brought to London and abandoned.

Spencer falls in love with Helen. Unknown to her, he arranges with the editor of the Argus to send the young woman to St. Morits to report the winter sports carnivals. The story develops from this point until Bower is dramatically killed by a fall over a 3,000 foot cliff.

As a special added feature there will be shown "Four Times Foiled," a comedy which is heralded by the Strand management as the best comedy ever shown in that theater. It is the first of the new Chester comedy series, the principal actors being animals. A clever baby is the star. Alexander, an amazing monkey with a horse, unguided, dives 100 feet over a cliff and rescues a child in one of the thrilling scenes. A collie and a trained pig furnish much of the entertainment.

AT THE ORPHEUM

The present vaudeville bill, including Berrene, Ryan Sisters and Leslie, in an act of dances and music; Homer Miles and Co. in the playlet, "The Rough Neck...; Ben Harney, the originator of ragtime; Mack and Mabelle in "Her Voice"; Monti and Parti, offering a musical revue, and Paul, Levan and Miller in an acrobatic act, together with the Kinogram and Topics of the Day pictures will be offered at the Orpheum for the last times today, at a matinee and two evening performances.

Starting tomorrow night and continuing for the balance of the week, including three performances on Sunday, the vaudeville program will consist of the following six acts: "Once Upon a Time," a musical comedy featuring C. Leland Marsh, Bill Roder and a quartette of pretty girls; Mlle. Rhea and company in a production of story, dance and music; Green and Parker in a skit, "At the Depot"; Jack Lavier, flying monologist; Fred Hughes and company, Welsh tenor; Mlle. Lizette in "A Parisian Novelty," and Kinogram pictures.

MANY PRIZES OFFERED AT STOCK EXHIBIT

Saddle and Sirlion Club Cooperates With Management of Show

When boys and girls from counties in practically all sections of the state reached here yesterday morning with their entries for the Junior Live Stock exposition, they found 10 student committees from the College of Agriculture on hand to aid in making the show an outstanding success.

The members of the Saddle and Sirlion club, an organization of students interested in animal husbandry, had formulated plans to cooperate with the managers of the exposition in each of the departments. Gilbert Marshall, president of the club, has appointed the following students to act as chairmen of the committees: Philip Gates, Madison, baby beeves; Thomas Clark, Evanston, Illinois, dairy calves; Gilbert Marshall, Belvidere, Illinois, lambs; Stanley Vaughan, Westfield, pigs; Clarence Jennett, Streator, Illinois, horses; George Martin, Madison, rooms; John Hanousek, Antigo, mess and equipment; James Ballantine, Bloomington, and B. W. Allin, Burleson, Texas, assignment of boys; Minnie Lippert, San Juan, Porto Rico, assignment of girls; and Albert Davidson, River Falls, cots and blankets.

Several hundred entries of baby beeves, dairy calves, pigs, colts and lambs are being groomed by the young people for the competition. About $3,500.00 in cash, and a number of special awards are to be divided among the winning contestants, and on the closing day of the exposition, October 22, the baby beeves are to be sold at auction to buyers and packers who are planning to attend the sale. Judges of livestock, as announced by officials of the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders' association, are J. E. Robbins, Horace, Indiana, baby beeves; G. C. Humphrey, Madison, dairy calves; J. G. Fuller, Madison, pigs; Frank Kleinheinz, Madison, lambs; and George Hutton, Madison, colts.

BADGERS WORK HARD FOR BUCKEYE GAME

which is working smoothly and which will be difficult to stop.

Ohio Preparing

Ohio has been concentrating its entire attention so far this season on the game against the Badgers. Wilce recognizes in Wisconsin, the most formidable opponent for conference honors and he is determined to down his alma mater.

Conference football dopsters, however, figure that whereas the Buckeyes are no stronger than they were last year, and possibly weaker, the Badgers have a more powerful defense than a Wisconsin team has had since 1912. Stinchcomb has been shifted to halfback and this will make the Ohio offensive slower. They will miss Harley's punting, perhaps, more than anything.

First Scrimmage for Yearlings

With "Keg" Driver coaching one frosh team and "Bob" Quick the other, the yearlings clashed in a fierce scrimmage last night which lasted more than an hour. The 1924 team is working faithfully every day in preparation for the annual Soph-Frosh game which will be played on Camp Randall on November 1, when the varsity is without a game.

The frosh team is exceptionally strong this year and Driver has retained three full elevens among which there is some most promising material. The regular first team and substitutes will be announced the early part of next week.

Men will look better this season

This season's style is quite different; and many college men will be glad, because it is more comfortable and easy-looking than the soldier-like models of past seasons.

The new coats have a free swing from the shoulders—the waist line is lower and not shaped in—the vent is shorter and behaves better.

And remember there is art in the cut of a full coat. It must hang right when you sit or stand—when it's buttoned or unbuttoned—when your arms are up or down.

Art in design is what has made the Style reputation of Society Brand Clothes. And all-wool fabrics along with fine hand-tailoring hold these clothes to the lines of the design.
