READY FOR THE GOVERNOR

ELABORATE PREPARATIONS FOR MCKINLEY.

LARGE DELEGATIONS FROM OTHER TOWNS.

Every One Will Stand in the Gymnasium—Republican Umbrellas.

Arrangements have been completed by the University Republican club for the reception of Governor McKinley tomorrow afternoon. Governor McKinley will arrive in the city tomorrow about 3 o'clock on a special train from Superior. The republican state nominees and many other prominent republicans will arrive on the same train. Excursion rates have been secured on all trains running into Madison and it is expected that thousands will take this opportunity of hearing the great protectionist. Word has been received from republican clubs in Janesville, Monroe, Stoughton and surrounding cities that they will be here, prepared to take part in the demonstration. The clubs will meet McKinley and his party at the depot shortly before 3 o'clock and led by the university and other bands will escort them up State street to the university armory. A limited number of umbrellas have been secured and they will be distributed to the members of the club as far as possible. They will be on sale at Thompson & Hendricks tomorrow morning. The front two-fifths of the room will be reserved for the members of the marching clubs. No seats however will be used on the lower floor. The gallery will be reserved for ladies. The glee club will sing a number of selections during the meeting. Final announcements will be made at the meeting of the club this evening.

The following will occupy seats on the speaker's platform:

J. C. Spooner, R. M. La Follette, ex-Gov. Fairchild, Hon. H. A. Taylor, ex-Chief Justice Lyon, Judge Bunn, Judge Keyes, Regent Chynoweth, President Adams, Chairman Estes, Chairman Thorn, ex-Senator Burrows, Phil. Spooner, John A. Johnson, Major Upham and the other state candidates and their wives.

The committees on arrangements are as follows: Reception—G. M. Sheldon, W. G. Hartwell and T. P. Silverwood. On Hall—E. R. Stevens, Harvey Clark, E. J. Henning. On Finance—R. A. Elward, Harvey Clark, E. J. Hicks, W. G. Hartwell. On Printing—D. O. Mahoney, G. M. Sheldon, F. E. Bump, W. L. Woodward. On Insignia—Harvey Clark, W. R. Graves, R. E. Smith. On Music—G. W. Bunge, W. M. Spooner, and W. T. Arndt.

—R. A. Elward, '95, and L. W. Pollard, '95, delivered addresses at a meeting of Stoughton republicans last Saturday.

—G. M. Sheldon, '95, spent Sunday at his home in Brandon.

—James T. Oliver, '98, spent Sunday at home in Belleville.

SENIOR CLASS MEETS.

Cap and Gown Question Not Settled—
A Badger Suggestion.

The meeting of the senior class, to hear the reports of the committees on cap and gown and other important matters, was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in room 4, Main hall.

After the secretary's minutes of the last meeting had been approved, Mr. Urness, of the baseball committee, reported that no meeting had yet been held but a schedule had been arranged and games would be played accordingly.

As Mr. Simons, chairman of the Badger committee was absent, Pres. Buckley told what had been accomplished in that direction. Pres. Adams had been out of town and Mr. Simons had only been able to see Mr. Riley in the matter. Mr. Riley said that the regents could probably not recede from the action already taken, but suggested interviews with some of the regents themselves. A discussion on this and the class party, on which a committee reported favorably, resulted in a motion made and carried continuing the present Badger committee, that they might inquire into the subject more thoroughly, and in a resolution to get the Badger debt off their hands before they indulged in expensive amusements.

There was a confusion of ideas on the adoption of the cap and gown. It was finally decided however to postpone definite action until some future time when the opinion of the whole class could be learned.

A novel proposition was made to the class by Mr. Hager, of '96's Badger, that the seniors appoint a committee to meet with a similar one appointed by the present Badger board, and inquire into the advisability of consolidating the senior annual and this year's Badger; this move not to interfere with the usual status of the Badger, but to be a saving to the seniors, and an improvement to the appearance of the Badger, and a factor in making it a more desirable souvenir to the upper classmen. This proposition was favorably received and Pres. Buckley appointed as such committee, Messrs. A. G. Hough, G. E. O'Neill, and C. W. Jones.

The next session of the class will probably be held in the evening, to accommodate those who are busy during the greater part of the day.

DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION.

The first of the series of delightful receptions which are given by President and Mrs. Adams during each fall term took place last Saturday evening. A large number of students and other friends were present, and the bright talk and happy laughter which were heard on every side was sufficient proof of the pleasure experienced by all. Almost the entire residence was thrown open to the guests and the rooms were all brilliantly illuminated. Light refreshments, consisting of lemonade and cakes, were served during the evening from dainty stands presided over by Miss Mary Freeman. The young ladies who assisted President and Mrs. Adams in receiving were the Misses Sherer, Parker, Chynoweth, Charlotte Freeman, Thomas, Merrill, Hassel and Wright.

VALUABLE ORIGINAL WORK

UNIVERSITY BULLETINS ARE ATTRACTING ATTENTION.

FLATTERING WORDS FOR MR. LIBBY.

Two Monographs on Engineering in Press.

The numbers of the Bulletin of the University of Wisconsin which have thus far been published have received much favorable criticism. In the engineering series two numbers have been issued and two more are entitled "Track," by L. F. Loree, division superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railway company, and "Some Practical Hints in Dynamo design," by Gilbert Wilkes, chief engineer of Detroit Electrical works. Both these papers have been twice republished in technical periodicals and have been frequently and favorably reviewed. In the economics, political science, and history series has appeared a monograph of 116 pages with two maps entitled, "The geographical distribution of the vote of the thirteen original states on the federal constitution, 1787-8," by Orin Grant Libby, fellow of the University of Wisconsin. The Nation of Sept. 13th devotes a half column to a review of this paper in which it is stated:—

"The Geographical Distribution of the Vote of the Thirteen States on the Federal Distribution by Orin Grant Libby of the University of Wisconsin, is a valuable and exceedingly interesting study of causes and effects, political, geographical and social. The influences which worked for and against the constitution have generally been regarded as those of states; but Mr. Libby now demonstrates that there were wheels within wheels—geographical division within state lines which operated with almost as much directness and precision as if these communities had been independent bodies-politic. ... It is issued as a Bulletin of the University of Wisconsin, and is a thoroughly creditable piece of work, both as regards the university and the author."

In a review of the same monograph the Review of Reviews says:—

..... It is quite needless to say that investigations of this character are of the highest importance to an understanding of our national growth, and the University of Wisconsin is deserving of great credit for undertaking them. We trust that the results of other work being done in Professor Turner's seminary will appear in future Bulletins. By publishing them the state of Wisconsin will offer an encouragement to sound scholarship and worthy attainment on the part of her sons and daughters such as she can give in no other way. The present monograph will bear comparison with any similar production, east or west, which has come to our notice."

The two Bulletins of the engineering series which are now in press and will shortly be issued are on "The Steel Construction of Buildings," by C. E.

Purdy, C. E., of Chicago, and on "The Standard Switchboard," by A. V. Abbott, chief engineer of the Chicago Telephone company.

A paper by Mr. Herman Schlundt, fellow in chemistry of the university, has already been approved and will be issued as the first number of the science series. The fourth series of the Bulletin will be devoted to philology and literature. The editors are Wm. H. Hobbs, chairman and editor of the science series; George L. Hendrickson, editor of the philology and literature series; Dugald C. Jackson, editor of the engineering series, and Frederick J. Turner, editor of the economics, political science and history series. The Bulletins are published by the state under provision of the statutes.

THE MELVIN CLUB.

Miss Eliza Allen Starr the Entertainer of the Evening.

The meeting of the Melvin club Saturday evening, Oct. 6, will long be remembered as one of the red letter events in its history. The central figure of the evening was the well-known Miss Eliza Allen Starr, who is an acknowledged authority on art and widely known for her contributions to Catholic literature. For nearly an hour she held the closest attention of the seventy-five members present.

She is a splendid illustration of the power of spirit over matter. Though past three score and ten and physically enfeebled by her long and faithful service in the cause of beauty, voice and gesture, thought and style, indicate heights and depths of power never reached save by the "pure in heart" who bear the unwitting testimony that they "see God."

Those who listened know that she has a message for every one who loves the good, the beautiful, and the true. Shams and petty aims vanish before her; trifles rise to new dignity as their higher senses are called forth by her voice and eye. The power and beauty of her own soul call in generous fellowship to every other soul to rise and do and be its very best. Her power is marvelous. "She can give to every soul of her wealth and teach it to know the worth of the gift."

The members of the club answered to the roll-call by quotations from Miss Starr's poems. This little tribute was very pleasing to her. She assured the club that it was one of the prettiest compliments she had received. Her expressive face and sympathetic manner, her kindness and dignity have won for Miss Starr the lasting gratitude of all who heard her.

Miss Josie Klussman rendered a piano solo which was very well received. Miss Mamie Donovan favored the club with two vocal solos sustaining her reputation as a sweet voiced songstress. Later refreshments were served and after an hour's social converse the club adjourned, each member bearing with him the inspiration of a great presence.

Some of the scores in yesterday's football games are very significant. The failure of the University of Michigan to beat the Orchard Lake Military Academy is not very flattering to Michigan. Northwestern was unable to score while Chicago University was scoring forty-six points. Purdue defeated the Indianapolis Light Artillery by the narrow margin of 6 to 4. Taking everything into consideration, our victory yesterday was more creditable than those of most of the western teams.

The present cold snap is rather discouraging to the track management but if a Saturday only turns out reasonably warm a good field day may be expected for the men are training at the gymnasium when they find it too cold to work at Randall Field. The games will retain the rivalry of the old freshman-sophomore contests as they will still be scored separately but in addition much better performances may be expected from the fact that all the track men in college will contest. Of course some of the men are training for football and rowing now but the majority have done considerable preparatory work and will be in fair condition. Of these the entry list will include Liegler, Kull, Cochems, Richards, Hodges, Warner, Hopkins, Downer, Pittman, Frame, Holt, Brewer, Graham and others. Of the new men little is known of the majority. Petley, Day, H. Frame and Chittenden all have excellent records and it is more than likely that several of the new comers will win U. W. championships.

Saturday's game with the Chicago Athletics was in its result most pleasing to those who saw it, not alone from the score but for the reason that it showed the team to be strong in points which a large number of the students had thought we were weak. For instance, the team of '93 was strong in the attack of tackles and it was thought we would lose much in that respect this year but the ground gaining of Alexander and Silverwood was an agreeable surprise. The interference of the backs was perhaps the strongest single feature of U. W.'s game. The whole team played with a vim and dash that was not surpassed by the team of last year at any part of the season. Every man played hard from start to finish and it would be difficult to single out any one's work from the others. Karel, Nelson and Richards ran well and Lyman's interference and tackling was very good. Kull outplayed his opponent at every point. The team work, however, was the principal feature of the game. There were one or two things which might, it seems, be improved. One of them is receiving the ball from kick-off. The backs did not seem to have a very good understanding about who was to take the ball and lost considerably on this account.

Saturday is field day and it is to be hoped that a large number of men especially from the two lower classes will enter. The points of the freshmen and sophomores will be scored separately and thus it will be just the same in effect as the fall field days in the past. The weather just now is not very good for training but the gymnasium is open every day and all the men except the bicycle and hammer men can work there to advantage. This fall field day is an excellent index of the strength of the new men on the track, and will be a very valuable experience to them, competing as they will, against the best men in the university. It is equally valuable to the old men for every competition makes a man just so much steadier and though the cold weather is pretty liable to prevent any remarkable records, it is at least probable that one or two new marks will be set. There are only a few days more left in which to train and every one of them should be utilized. Of course none of the men will be in their best form but it will affect all equally and no man who has any ability at all on the track should enter and help to make the afternoon's sport worthy of our university.

—Samuel A. Piper, '92, one of U. W.'s joint debaters, was in the city Sunday. At present he is engaged in teaching in Milwaukee.

—The freshman class in Latin will meet in the moot court room of the law building until University hall is better heated.

—Harry Alverson, '93, visited university friends the latter part of last week. He is on his way to Baltimore where he will engage in business.

—Prof. C. R. Barnes will deliver the first of a series of four lectures at the Milwaukee Unitarian church tonight. His subject will be "How Plants Eat and Drink."

MATHEMATICAL CLUB.

The first meeting of the Mathematical club was held in room 21, Science hall, last Saturday afternoon. Dr. Van Vleck addressed the club on "The Possibility of a Non-Euclidian Geometry." He showed how it is possible to found a system of geometry not, as Euclid, upon the hypothesis that through a point in the same plane with a given line one and only one line can be drawn parallel to that line but upon either the hypothesis that a series of such lines can be drawn through that point or that all lines through that point will intersect the given line. Geometry depending upon either of the last two hypothesis is called non-Euclidian. If we admit that a system of non-Euclidian geometry is thinkable, the question then arises which of these systems is true in fact. There is a definite test. If Euclid is right then the sum of the three angles of a triangle is equal to 180 degrees; if the system based upon the first non-Euclidian hypothesis be true it is less than 180 degrees; if the second be true it is greater. But the application of this test is not so easy since our field of action is such a very limited portion of space and in consequence the triangles dealt with are comparatively so small that no matter which of the hypotheses is correct the sum of the angles would differ but little from that of a Euclidian triangle. Astronomical observation offers the widest expanse of space and here although most of the results seem to confirm Euclid's hypothesis some seem to indicate that it is not true. Dr. Davies discussed the subject at considerable length, showing how the exceptions in astronomical results pointed out by Dr. Von Vleck might be accounted for.

A committee on programs consisting of Prof. Van Velzer, Mr. Stecker, Mr. Liebenberg and Mr. Doudna was chosen. Also Mr. Doudna was chosen secretary.

The next meeting will be held at the same place at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, Oct. 19. At that meeting Prof. Van Velzer will present a paper on "Negative Reciprocal Equations." The object of this paper will be to point out a field for original work in ordinary algebra. The professor assures the committee that the paper will be such that it can be easily comprehended by those who have had algebra.

LAUREA'S MEETING.

Laurea met in its usual place Friday night. After roll-call the following officers were installed: Treasurer, Edith Robinson; censor, Hattie von Briesen. The following program was then given:

Music—Edith Lyon.
Paper—Elizabeth Comstock.
Debate—Resolved that the Pullman workmen and the A. R. U. sympathy strikers were justified. The debate was argued on the affirmative by Julia Richardson and Elsie von Briesen and on the negative by Naomi Melville and Kittie Hart. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative.

Recitation—Jessie Shepherd.
Music—Jessie Craig.
After the critic's report was given by Amelia McMynn.

GEOLOGICAL EXCURSION.

The class in geology enjoyed a most delightful outing on Lake Mendota Saturday forenoon. The occasion was the first of a series of weekly excursions arranged by Prof. Van Hise to be made in the vicinity of Madison for the purpose of geological study. The subject studied Saturday was the work of waves. The party, fifteen in number including three ladies, left the university boat house at 5 o'clock and coasted along the university bank. The presence of the boulders along the shore was explained by the washing away of the surrounding soil. In the southwestern bay the spits (projections formed by the action of waves) and the long submerged bar enclosing the bay, were examined. The party then crossed the bay to Picnic Point and viewed the ramparts that have been formed on the southern side by the expansion of the ice in winter. On the northern side erosion was found the greatest, due to the long sweep of waves from the northwest. Picnic Point will itself be washed away eventually. Further west was seen a bar which is formed by the union of two spits meeting from opposite directions. Wave cut and wave built terraces were also shown and explained. Prof. Van Hise informed the class that Lake Mendota was ten thousand years old.

FRATERNITY DANCE.

The local chapter of Beta Theta Pi gave a dancing party Saturday evening at its chapter house on Langdon street. Music was furnished by Lueder's orchestra and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The decorations consisted of foliage appropriate to the season in which artistic taste was shown.

Among those present were Misses Judge, Georgie, Daisy and Ethel Virgin, James, Robinson, Carlton, Shearer, Palmer, Laffin, Nicodemus, Bowen, Brown, Pendleton, Brownell of Janesville, Bradley, Lindsay, Radford, McLennan, Rogers, Meinhardt, Ingersoll and Hayden.

Messrs. O'Neil, Ward, Trautman, C. and G. Burgess, Richards, Phelps, Waite, Perkins, J. F. and Walton Pyre, Crooker, Downer, Noyes, Libbey, Swiler, Brownell, Tilton, Robinson, Crandall, Smith and Coe. The party was chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. Frankenburg.

THE "CREATION."

The Madison Choral union intends to produce Hayden's oratorio, "The Creation" on quite as large a scale as the "Messiah" of last year. The first rehearsal will be held this evening at 7 o'clock in Library hall. All professors, instructors and students who can sing are requested to be present and give their names to the committee on membership. Weekly rehearsals will be held hereafter.

Students who can play any orchestral instrument are requested to report as soon as possible to Prof. Parker, room 15, Ladies' hall, or to Mr. Sired, room 5, Ladies' hall. A university orchestra is contemplated.
