UNIVERSITY BUILDING PROGRAM IS REVIVED AT REGENTS' MEETING

Action Follows Submission of Final Memorial Union Building Plans

The project for a comprehensive building program, dropped for 17 years largely because of a lack of funds, was revived by the regents of the university at a meeting yesterday.

Paul Cret of Philadelphia is being summoned as consulting architect to assist in selecting the sites for the new field house, dormitories and Memorial Union in order that the buildings may be in harmony with the general scheme of building construction as proposed by Mr. Cret in his plan of 1908.

Favor Union Plans

The action of the regents followed the submission of the final plans for the Memorial Union building as recommended by the Union executive committee. This was the first time that the regents had ever been asked to approve any plans for the Union, and while many of the regents expressed themselves as pleased with the designs submitted, definite approval was deferred until Mr. Cret has an opportunity to pass on them.

Mr. Cret was notified of the regents' decision last night and is expected to come to Madison shortly to make a practical study of the situation and then make a report to the regents at a special meeting before the middle of next month. In 1908, when the university was contemplating the undertaking of a large building program, Mr. Cret was called in to draw up a general plan of construction, the hope then being that all buildings built subsequently would harmonize in a unified scheme. The shortage of funds, however, prevented very much building on a large scale after 1908 and Mr. Cret's plan had to be dropped for the time.

Committee Approves

If the Memorial Union plans are finally approved next month, building will actually begin next fall, members of the executive committee declare. All of the preliminary and preparatory work is over and only the regents' sanction is needed before steps toward actual construction will begin.

GIVE REPORT ON W. S. G. A. CONVO

Delegates Compare Activities of Women With 50 Colleges and Universities

The activities of Wisconsin women were compared with those of women in 50 other leading universities and colleges in the middle west and west in a report given by Alberta Johnson '26 and Margaret Ashton '26, at the regular W. S. G. A. board meeting in Lathrop parlors last night.

Misses Johnson and Ashton, president and vice president of W. S. G. A., returned Tuesday from Eugene, Ore., where they represented Wisconsin women at the annual conference of university women held at the University of Oregon, April 15 to 19.

Reports from the other colleges showed that Wisconsin women are better organized and cooperate much more harmoniously with university men and faculty than do any of those represented at the conference.

A permanent organization, of which Wisconsin will be a member, was perfected during the conference. A constitution was drawn up and the name of Intercollegiate Association of University Women adopted.

At the business meeting which followed the report, the president of W. S. G. A. named Rena Grubb '26 as chairman of Mother's Reception which will be held May 29, 30 and 31.

Leaves Post Here

Maj. O. L. Brunzell

Maj. O. L. Brunzell of the military department will leave his post here to enter the staff of the War college at Washington, D. C. He will take up his new duties August 15.

8,000 TRY TESTS AT EXPO; NONE PERFECT

Although more than 8,000 people participated in the spelling and information tests which were given by the education department at the exposition, there was not one perfect paper among the many thousands handed in.

WIESE IS HEAD OF GRIDIRON BANQUET

Problems of Mutual Interest to Be Discussed By Guests in Secret

Otis Wiese, editor of the 1926 Badger, has been appointed chairman for the Gridiron banquet to be sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, it was announced last night. He will appoint committees which are to begin immediately making arrangements for the formal stag dinner to be held in May, at which 150 leading men students, outstanding alumni, and faculty will gather to discuss in secret problems of mutual interest.

Copied from the annual banquet of roasts staged by the Press Association at Washington, D. C., the Gridiron event is designed to be an affair that will bring a whole-hearted discussion between students and faculty of matters that concern both. A special committee of men thoroughly acquainted with the campus will select the persons who are to be invited.

Nothing will be given out for publication concerning what transpires, even the meeting place will be a mystery to all but those who attend. The guests will be asked to meet at some designated building, but will be transported blindfolded to some other place where the banquet will be held.

As soon as the raillery is disposed of the discussion of the evening will begin. At this discussion anything from the most amusing to the most serious is likely to be brought up. Discussion will be based on questionnaires sent out to the guests beforehand and they will be urged to respond as freely as possible.

Men who have attended similar events at other institutions declare that a gridiron banquet not only furnishes opportunity for everyone to urge his favorite reforms but also provides wholesome fun of the most constructive kind.

MAJOR BRUNZELL TO ENTER STAFF OF WAR COLLEGE

Commandant Detailed to New Post; Major Peyton is Named Successor

Major Otto L. Brunzell, commandant in the university R. O. T. C. for the past two years, will leave his post here at the end of the current semester to enter the staff of the War College in Washington, D. C. His successor will be Major B. R. Peyton now stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Major Brunzell will assume his new duties on the instructional staff of the War College August 15. He was stationed at Fort Leavenworth before coming here. His appointment has been officially confirmed.

Morale Has Increased

The system of optional military training had just been put into effect in the university two years ago when Major Brunzell took the post. He succeeded Major Wood who was transferred to Leavenworth. Under Major Brunzell's direction the corps has maintained its high standard despite a slight decrease in enrollment in the courses as a result of the optional basis. Last year it narrowly missed the distinguished college rating that had been given the department for several years before. The review by army staff officers to determine the corps' rating for this year will be held next month.

In spite of considerable opposition to military instruction in the university in the last two years, the standards of the department have not been changed, and in fact, the general tone and morale of the men electing drill has been better than under the compulsory system. The men taking the courses have done so with a real interest in the department's work rather than with the feeling that it had to be done as a part of the curriculum. The result has been a more smoothly working unit with a much improved morale. Men not electing drill are required to take two hours extra in physical education.

Cadets Express Regret

Major Brunzell has stressed advanced courses in military science in particular while trying to interest freshmen and sophomores in the elementary courses as a part of their general education.

Cadet officers in the corps expressed surprise and regret at his going when told of the appointment last night.

SENIORS MUST MAKE CORRECTIONS TODAY

All corrections in the proof of the graduating section of senior invitations which are posted on bulletin boards in various campus buildings must be made by tonight.

Spring Ends and Summer Comes as Mercury Hits 79

Spring has gone! It is indeed incorrect to say that spring really seems to be here on a day such as yesterday was. Spring has gone and it is summer that has come.

The warm wind which gently rippled the canoe-filled lake yesterday had lightning and thunder and summer showers in it. Eric Miller, weather man, told us that when it got up to 79 degrees he stopped looking, though it isn't at all probable that it went much higher than that.

Anyway we would have known that, for yesterday at least, summer was here, when we saw the white duck trousers and white flannel dresses with all the intermediate colors of warm weather gaiety which blossomed forth all over State street and the hill yesterday afternoon.

Rain and electrical storms are due this morning and will continue intermittently throughout the day and probably tomorrow also. The various hikes and picnics planned for Saturday and Sunday may have to be turned into auto-rides and marshmallow roasts over the fire-place.

PLAN TO REORGANIZE ALL MEN'S ACTIVITIES PROPOSED BY SENATE

Freshmen Meet to Encourage Wearing of Green Headgear

"All possible means were discussed at a freshman meeting Tuesday night for the purpose of making freshman wear their green caps according to the pledge they took last semester," said Clyde Kluckhohn, president of the freshman class, yesterday.

Representatives from every fraternity and rooming house were present and promised to take up the matter with the men in their groups. When their compulsory term of service expired last Thanksgiving, the freshmen volunteered to wear the caps again after Easter as the class of '27 had done.

Merchants will be consulted so that caps can be secured readily. Many of them have not restocked because they fear the style may change next year.

Plans were also discussed for Cap Night, May 22, when the freshmen assert their freedom by burning the brilliant green at the annual bonfire.

"DEAR BRUTUS" IS CHOSEN FOR PLAY

Theme of Book Makes it Appropriate For Annual Senior Function

Consideration of plays for the annual senior class production has resulted in the selection of "Dear Brutus" one of J. M. Barrie's works. The choice was announced last night by Margaret Campbell '25, chairman of the committee.

Entering largely into the selection of the play this year, was the theme of "Dear Brutus." The atmosphere of the play is one of the beauty of the summer season, bewitching nights, soft winds and mellow moons, the complete tranquility of June.

The committee making the selection is:

Renn Hemmingway '25, Vaughn Winchell '25, Agatha MacCaffery '25, Thomas Morony '25, Margaret Campbell '25, and Gordon Brine '26.

Miss Ruth MacMillan, of the speech department has been appointed coach, and Gordon Brine has been chosen business manager of the production.

Tryouts for the play will be held in the concert room of Lathrop hall, Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock, and again Saturday morning from 10:30 to 1:30 o'clock.

SPANISH CLUB TO GIVE THREE PLAYS TONIGHT

Three short Spanish plays will be presented by members of the Spanish club at a regular meeting to be held in the Cabinet room at the Y. M. C. A., at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Students of Prof. Joaquin Ortega and Samuel A. Wofsy, both of the romance language department, will give the miniature dramas. The remainder of the program consists of Spanish poetry and songs, the playing of the Spanish game, "El juego de las Citas" and the singing of Spanish translations of several American popular songs, including "Dear One" and "All Alone."

BASEBALL INTERRUPTS LIBRARY TRANQUILLITY

Students who were assiduously pursuing the books in the library at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon were interrupted in their work by the intrusion of a baseball through one of the northeast windows. A would-be Babe Ruth doing his best to manufacture runs for his fraternity baseball team either over-shot the homerun mark or misdirected one of his efforts. The missile made a hole about one foot in diameter in the window and sent cracks over the remainder.

Scheme Provides For One Central Body to Supersede Present Boards

Complete reorganization of all men's campus activities was proposed by Fergus G. Chandler '25, president of the student senate, at the meeting of that body last night.

The administration of all campus publications was discussed also in the measure that will create a publications board if the plan of Hampson K. Snell '25 is passed at the student elections May 15.

The members of the senate moved the following motion:

Resolved, that the regents of the university be petitioned to appoint the members who hold over from the student senate and the Union board as a committee to reorganize campus activities in such a way that these activities shall be under the control of a central governing board which will supersede the student senate, Union board and the student court.

Body Replaces All Boards

Under this central governing body there would be special committees working on the various phases of the work so that the central group would not be cluttered up with details of administration. This body would approve the policies worked out by the committee.

This central governing body would supersede the present student senate, student court, Union board, Daily Cardinal board of control, forensic board, and any other boards having charge of the campus activities.

Over all this organization would be a faculty group acting as an advisory executive committee which would be composed of professors with such influence that their endorsement of a policy would result in its acceptance by the faculty and the campus.

To Have Faculty Members

In the publication board which will be offered to the students for their approval on May 15, the student senate has tried to centralize all the publications of the campus and to establish one central regulating body.

The amendment to the constitution of the student senate provided

WIBA BROADCASTS HARESFOOT MUSIC

Orchestra Plays Song Hits From "Ivan Ho!" and Other Popular Numbers

The Haresfoot recording orchestra broadcast a program of musical numbers from the 1925 show, "Ivan Ho!" and various popular selections from WIBA, The Capital Times new sending station in the Studio last night. The program included hits from the show and several other Haresfoot numbers.

The orchestra is the same one that broadcast from several stations while on the tour of the club last week. The players also presented musical programs in the cities visited for civic organizations and clubs that entertained the Haresfoot troupe.

"Ivan Ho!" will be presented at the Parkway three times this weekend. There will be a matinee Saturday afternoon and night performances tomorrow and Saturday. Seats for all three shows are still available, Thomas Morony '25, president of the club, announced last night.

An extra weekend was scheduled this year to accommodate theatergoers who have not been able to see Haresfoot productions in previous years. Students have more than filled the demand for seats in one weekend series of performances, and the extra days were booked to give people of Madison an opportunity to see the productions.

FOUR HAVE ENTERED RELAY MEET

Deerfield-Shields of Chicago,
Wausau, Wisconsin High
Are Entries

Up to last night but four entries had been received for the Mid-West relays to be held May 2. The dead line for sending in entries for this carnival is not until Saturday night, however, and according to George Dennis '27, general chairman, the majority of the high schools in the adjacent states will not hold their time trials until the end of the week.

The last addition to the list of high school teams thus far entered was Deerfield Shields of Chicago. It is expected by the committee that practically all of the most important Chicago schools will enter the meet by the end of the week. The other teams entered are Galesburg, Illinois; Wausau, and Wisconsin high.

The teams will begin streaming into Madison on Friday night and Saturday morning of next week, and the housing and entertainment committees will meet them at their trains and make arrangements to lodge and board them at various fraternity houses.

Six Events

There are six relay events on the schedule for the meet. The quarter mile relay, the half mile, the mile, and the two mile will each be run by four men, the distance being evenly divided. Besides these relays, the sprint medley and the distance medley are also scheduled. In the former, the first two men will each run 220 yards, the third man will run 440, while the last will undertake a half mile. In the distance medley the men run a quarter, a half, three quarters, and one mile respectively.

The special events of the meet will be the 100-yard dash, high jump, 12-pound shot put, 120-yard high hurdles, broad jump, discus, and javelin.

Admission

A special admission rate of 35 cents is being planned for high school students, providing their tickets are bought by Friday evening, May 1. Otherwise the admission

TENNIS REGISTRATION CAN NOW BE DONE

Student tennis players in the university wishing to play on university tennis courts may start registering in the intramural office today between 9 o'clock and 5:30 o'clock. Play may be in one hour periods, and can be registered for at intervals from 7 o'clock in the morning until and including 6 o'clock at night. Games can be played every day of the week, and players may register for Sunday play, although there is no game on Sunday. Those wishing to play may register for their games two days in advance.

BARNARD ENTERTAINS MEMBERS OF FACULTY

About 60 members of the faculty will be guests of the residents of Barnard hall Thursday evening at dinner. There will be special music during the evening. Louise McNaught '26 is arranging a program to be presented. Cut flowers will be used to decorate.

sion will be 50 cents at the gate.

A traveling challenge trophy in the form of a large bronze shield will be awarded to the winning team in each relay event. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be given to the men of the first three teams in each relay, while the same awards will be given the first three men in each of the special events.

The committee appointed by Dennis have started operating, and with all of them working in conjunction every effort will be exerted to make the visiting high school men perfectly at home in Madison.

Burke Working With Frosh as a Team; New Men Out

Wisconsin's freshman track and field team is turning out en masse, since Coach Mead Burke has set his endeavors to the regular outdoor cinder practice. The turnout of the freshman spike aggregation figures well around the 80 mark, and the manner in which the yearling runners are taking to their work in the Camp Randall stadium is satisfying.

This week Coach Burke began to work the freshmen as a team on the same principles as the varsity squad. They will continue to work in this manner throughout the season. Coach Burke will devote his entire attention to the frosh from now on. He plans to arrange a large chart on which will be tabulated the showing of each freshman in the several track and field meets which have been scheduled. This will show the relative progress made by the men from the beginning of the outdoor season this week up to the final meet, which comes near the finish of the present semester.

Frosh Work Hard

The freshmen are bending all their efforts this week to figure on top when they meet the varsity tracksters who do not go to the Drake Relays Saturday afternoon. The freshman-varsity track and field meet will be held Saturday at 4:30 o'clock in the Randall stadium after the baseball game between Wisconsin and Illinois.

In the meet Saturday, the freshmen will be somewhat handicapped in that it is too early for them to be matched against as formidable opponent as the varsity reserves. The contest should not, however, be without interest and excitement.

Interfraternity Wrestling League Competition

Greek matmen are scheduled for three sets of bouts at 7 o'clock this evening on the top floor of the gymnasium. This will be the next to last tournament, the final grappling being scheduled for Tuesday night. Farmhouse and Phi Kappa Tau lead the league thus far.

In tonight's matches Farmhouse will meet Sigma Chi, and Phi Kappa Tau will engage Alpha Gamma Rho, these being the main attractions of the evening because of the perfect percentage of Phi Kappa Tau and Farmhouse. If both of these teams win tonight, great interest will center in the finals on Tuesday at which time they will decide the championship.

Beta Theta Pi and Delta Pi Epsilon will compete in the final matches of the evening.

mile, and McKee and Elleson should show well in the half mile. Kanalz will undoubtedly set a good pace in the 440 event. The frosh should lack no power in the high jumping event with a representation of Heckendorf, Barnes, and Parker.

Number Are Out

The enrollment of the Wisconsin frosh cinder team has gradually increased in number within the past few weeks. Among the new first year runners who are promising material include Vailancourt, good weight man, and who throws the shot nearly 37 feet, Murray, Hoy, Arne, and Kuester, 440-yarders.

Larson as First Base; Barnum Plays in Center Field

Preparations for the baseball game with Illinois Saturday are being rapidly carried on at Camp Randall. Although handicapped by a wet field due to the recent rains, the varsity went through its paces last night by playing a four inning game.

After a lengthy sliding and fielding practice, the men were divided into two teams and went through a hotly contested scrimmage. Lustig, Stoll, and Shrenk worked on the mound, and it is probable that one of these men will face the Illini Saturday afternoon.

Larson worked all during the practice at the first sack, and showed improvement over the previous night. His catches are getting more sure, and he is able to cover the ground around the initial bag with greater aptness. Barnum was in center field, but from his performance last night shows that he needs some intensive work in the garden. From catch to the outfield is a big change, but Barnum will do doubt learn the fielding game fast.

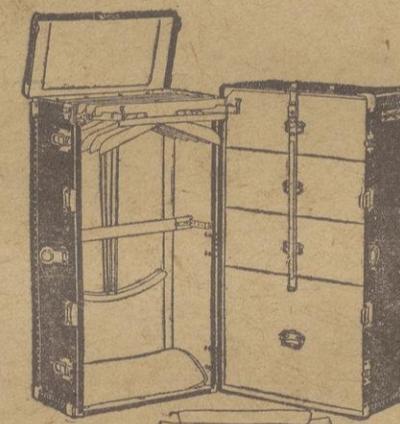

Cubs Invited

Coach Lowman announced last night that the various luncheon clubs of Madison have been invited to attend the game Saturday afternoon en masse. Also another tier of bleachers will be erected to accommodate the crowd which is expected at the game.

The diamond is rapidly developing and by Saturday should be in excellent condition. The grass is getting thick, and the infield will probably be in the best playing condition possible.

RELAY MEN SPEND MUCH TIME ON BATON PASSING

Jistle to Run in Hurdles; Mc-
Andrews Out Due to Injury

Long hours were spent at baton passing by the Badger track men that will represent Wisconsin at the Drake Relays Friday and Saturday. The art of passing a baton is one of the most important features of relay racing. Many a fast team has lost a race merely because one of the members dropped the all important baton at a crucial point in the race. Coach Jones is taking steps to see that this does not happen with his Cardinal charges.

The only time trials that were held were the high hurdles to pick the Badger entry in this event at Drake. Howard Jirtle crashed through ahead of the field and earned the right to compete for Wisconsin.

One of the Badger disappointments is that MacAndrews will not be in the 100 at Drake. A sore leg contracted while on the California jaunt will keep the Badger ace at home. It is possible that he might be able to make a fair showing, but Coach Jones does not want to take any chances of permanently injuring his valuable dash man.

McAndrews was practically certain to place in the century dash and Wisconsin fans planning to attend the meet were counting on seeing the cardinal jersey flash across the finish line among the leaders. However, it is better to stay out of one race now than many during the rest of the season.

Two Relays Entered

Instead of entering all of the relays as originally planned, Coach Jones intends to concentrate on the mile and two mile events. With McAndrews out, chances for victory in the 440, 880 or sprint medley relays are small. Jones will break up his four mile quartet to add strength to the two mile team.

Captain Valley, Bergstresser, Schutt, and Carter are the men that Jones has picked to run in the two mile relay. This is one of the strongest aggregations that Wisconsin has had for some time in this event. The eligibility of Gil Smith is still in doubt but if he is eligible by this afternoon, time trials will be held in the 400 to pick the four men to run on the mile quartet. It is likely that Smith can replace one of the four that have been running on the mile team all season.

This afternoon at 4:10 o'clock the men competing in the special events will leave for Drake as they have to be there by Friday. Schwarze, in the shot, McGinnis in the high jump, Jirtle in the hurdles, Younge in the javelin, and Krieger in the pole vault are the men leaving today.

Younge at Javelin

Younge has been working hard at the javelin for the past two weeks and gets the call over Kreuz, the Badger entry in the javelin at the California meet. Kreuz is in a slump at present, while Younge has been consistently throwing the stick out around the 160 foot mark. These two men are about equal when they are at their best.

McGinnis is all primed to take another shot at his rival from Kansas, Tom Poor. At the Kansas Relays a week ago, McGinnis was handicapped by a slightly sprained ankle and could not put forth his best efforts. Now the weakened member is back in shape again, and this time he hopes to give Poor a closer battle. At Kansas Poor cleared 6 feet 5 inches, while McGinnis turned in a jump of 6 feet 2 inches.

The rest of the squad will leave for Drake tomorrow morning at 9:05 o'clock. The second squad to make the trip will include the mile and two mile relay teams, Coach Jones, and Manager Taub.

Badger Crews Of Yore

And now comes the tale of the first Badger crew at Poughkeepsie, the crew which ran afoul of a berry crate in one of the greatest intercollegiate shell races on the Hudson river. It was in 1899.

The Wisconsin men were admired by the easterners because of their giant physique and their peculiar "donkey engine" stroke, as Yale students dubbed it, but not as oarsmen—that is, not until after the race.

The evening of the race was a perfect one. After two unsuccessful starts the signal was given and the crews were off. It was a thrilling moment for the men and for the 2,000 people on the observation train which followed the race.

"First touches of twilight were falling in the valley and every ripple had disappeared from the surface of the Hudson. The steamer Emeline hovered ominously near the start. The Walla Walla, a police boat, flitted about and the Susie was cutting the water here and there while the crowd waited. Hundreds of pleasure craft, festooned with flags, lay in the river along either side of course."—Daily Cardinal.

Only a half-sunken berry crate floating down the Hudson could spoil that perfect evening. Wisconsin was leading Pennsylvania by one length when just below the railroad bridge, Coxswain Dillon saw a half-sunken berry crate floating on the port bow of his shell. It was close enough that the port oars would strike it. Dillon quickly swayed the rudder to starboard and swung the shell sharply around. The crew then got into dead water and among launches, rowboats and other craft only losing to the Quakers by 30 feet.

J. F. Dillon, coxswain of that crew is a doctor at Fargo, North Dakota. Prof. E. A. Gardner, chairman of the Memorial Union committee received a letter a short time ago from Clarke A. Richards

"As I think of these Wisconsin men and women sitting about the festive board over at the Commercial club, the face of Dr. Dillon seems to come to my mind as the leading spirit and the peppiest man of the outfit. . . . Doc was the little coxswain on the ill-fated Wisconsin crew back in the early nineties when as they were well in the lead and had the race tucked in their shirts, the shell hit berry crate, that spelled the end. Doc is our official cheer leader"

Curran C. McConville, who coached the "Haymaker" crew, was captain the year previous. A. R. Anderson, one of the oarsmen, is now professor of ancient languages and literature at Utah university. I. Mather, one of his mates, is an attorney at Silverton, Colorado.

REAL SCRIMMAGE MAKES FOOTBALL WORK YESTERDAY

Crofoot Shows Ability; Game Has All Official Trimmings

Everything from the linesman's tin horn to injuries, and honest-to-goodness penalties were in the football scrimmage between the "Reds" and the "Blacks" yesterday afternoon.

The game was official in every respect even to the kicking of goals after touchdown, and in it was demonstrated that Coach Little is developing a fighting team. Although the "Reds" were the pick of the candidates, they met much opposition from the "Blacks."

Muddy Field

The game was at times slow due to the muddy field, but many times there were brilliant flashes of football. Crofoot, "Red" quarterback and captain of last year's frosh team, played a good game. He is a real triple threat man and a mighty smart quarterback. He made a pretty run of nearly 60 yards for a touchdown early in the game.

There will be no football practice this afternoon, but all varsity candidates are asked to be out at Camp Randall at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

On the line for the "Reds," Von Bremer played a fighting game. For the "Blacks" Goodlad worked well at the quarterback position, while Alpivitz went fine in the forward wall.

Players

Those playing with the "Reds" were:

Those playing for the "Blacks" were:

THE MEMORIAL UNION AS IT NOW STANDS

Yesterday morning the final set of plans for the Memorial Union building, as described in another part of this issue, were submitted to the constructional development committee of the board of regents for approval.

The regents apparently found no objection to the Memorial Union plans. They did, however, decide that since three new separate building programs, the Memorial Union, the dormitories, and the field house, are shortly to begin, that this was the time to establish a new architectural policy for the campus, and to see that all future campus buildings are of a more uniform style and are located according to a consistent plan.

It is gratifying to know that the regents look favorably upon the present plans for the Memorial Union building, as they do. It is also gratifying to know that the policy, or lack of policy, which has brought to this campus, than which there are few more beautiful in the land, such a hodge-podge of buildings as are now on it is to be abandoned.

The plan of the regents is now in the process of being carried out. Several years ago Mr. Paul Cret of Philadelphia, one of the most eminent architects in the country, outlined an architectural program for the university. For various reasons, mainly of a financial character in all probability, the program was abandoned. Now, however, it is to be re-established under the same man.

A letter has already gone out to Mr. Cret asking him to come to Madison, look the ground over, and consult with the regents. Upon the result of his investigation and this consultation will depend largely the final acceptance of the present Memorial Union building plans, of the two other buildings which are planned for the immediate future, the field house and unit of dormitories, and also the future constructional development of the campus buildings.

It will probably be, therefore, but a matter of a few more weeks before the plans are definitely settled.

But as to these plans as presented to us by the executive committee, and what of the history behind them? Perhaps it would be well to reverse the order as stated.

Six years ago, in 1919, three committees were appointed to work upon the Memorial Union building project, one by the students—the Union board, one by the alumni, one by the regents. It was soon deemed advisable for these committees to combine into one, which was to set about raising the necessary money, draw up the plans and submit them to the constructional development committee of the board of regents. This committee, known as the executive committee, has gone into the problem thoroughly. For some hasty persons, they have done it too thoroughly. But going on the very wise theory that it is better to plan carefully and have no regrets than to plan "in haste and repent at leisure," the committee has studied the situation from the ground up, has made thorough examinations of union buildings in other universities so that it might profit by the experiences met with in their construction and has now, as a result of this expenditure of time, what it believes will be the finest building of its kind in the country for the amount of money at its disposal.

Whether or not the sacrifice has been wise and profitable it must leave to other's decision. The Daily Cardinal believes that it has.

The matter of funds has been a stumbling block also, for the committee wished to collect enough money so that it would be able to tell just what sort of a building could be erected and then go ahead and erect it all.

Now its three-fold function is completed. The money has in part been raised, the plans drawn up and submitted to the regents.

In considering the plans, it is well to know that this is the seventh set of complete plans which has been made since September last. It meets with the approval of the Memorial Union Executive committee. It is also well to remember that every one can not be altogether satisfied with anything, no matter how Utopian it may be. But the committee, which has certainly slaved over the project, has taken suggestions where it could get them and considered them conscientiously.

At first glance it would appear that a three unit building such as is now planned with each unit connected by a corridor necessitates a great expense and may make the structure appear rather straggly. But the reason behind the plan seems altogether wise. The commons is to be separate in order that odors from the kitchen may be kept from the rest of the building, the theater in order that players and directors may not be annoyed by sounds from the rest of the building.

It was with regret that the committee omitted an auditorium. But in order to avoid architectural difficulties (the building would have to be constructed around the auditorium with the auditorium as the main feature) and because of the fact that the field house which will probably seat some 9,000 is likely to be a reality soon and because of the fact that the gymnasium may be remodelled into an auditorium, it was decided best to omit this feature.

Some people will be sorry to note that no bathing facilities in connection with its proximity to the lake are to be included. But it is expected that a bath house with showers may be built in the future in connection with the athletic fields to the west.

The theater, on which the advice of a special architect will be sought, is a matter for the judgment of people who know the dramatic necessities, and they have approved it.

The only objections which we can see are two. The first is that special banquet room space should be sacrificed to the greater need of as much commons space as possible. The second is that in building the structure of two different materials, brick for each end unit and stone for the central one, and using a brick which is of a different hue from the stone is only apt to result in just the sort of an individual hodge-podge which the board of regents so very rightly wishes to keep away from in regard to buildings in general.

The campus will await with interest the report of the consulting architect and the decision of the regents on the location and architectural design of the Union, the dormitories, and the field house.

ROBERT NORMAN McMENN

The university has lost one of its most valued friends and the state one of its finest citizens in the death of Robert Norman McMynn of the class of 1894.

From the time of his entrance into Wisconsin through his graduation from the law school to the day of his untimely death Monday night Mr. McMynn was a true Badger in action and in spirit.

As an undergraduate at another institution he displayed that exceptional combination of talents which enables a student to be an athlete and a scholar as well, for besides making his mark on the track and the tennis court, he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

As an alumnus he acted in many capacities towards aiding the university. From its foundation, in 1919, he was a member of the executive committee of the Union Memorial building project. He was highly instrumental in raising funds for the building in Milwaukee. It was only last fall that he completed his two year term as president of the alumni association.

One of the most important demonstrations at the exposition was the large variety of alibis that will get a person in free at a place like that.

I think the prize excuse goes to the frosh who tried to get past the turnstile insisting he was official timekeeper for "Old Faithful."

That wonderful suspended faucet with the water running from it continually had many visitors stumped. It reminded us of a type of wooden faucet we used to hammer into an oak keg. That was more wonderful; it kept running even when it was shut off.

I arose yesterday morning feeling fine, shaved with cold water, discovered I had no clean collar, and came in a close second in the race for our best tie, but I went whistling to breakfast just the same. The world was a grand old place for all that, and there's no such thing as trouble, thought I. Suddenly spying one of the janitors trudging along the walk, waste basket in one hand and pointed stick in the other, I greeted him with the fraternal salutation, "Well, how's business this morning?" He speared an empty cigarette package, deposited the same in the basket, and replied nonchalantly, "O, pickin' up!" Darn it! The day was utterly ruined.

A SUGGESTION

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

Now that Wisconsin is assured of having a fine new field house—one of the best in the conference, may I not suggest that this new building be called "Meanwell Field House" in token of Wisconsin's regard for the "Little Doctor"—the man who has been so instrumental in the development of basketball to its present stage and who has kept Wisconsin at the pinnacle of the basketball world for the past twelve years?

Journalism Course to Celebrate 20th Birthday in June

The twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Course in Journalism at this university will be celebrated as part of the annual commencement exercises this spring. A reunion of journalism graduates and former students is being planned.

An alumni picnic, novel journalistic costumes, a press band, and other features are being arranged by the local committee under the chairmanship of Franklin E. Bump, Jr., '20.

Instruction in journalism was first given at this university in the fall of 1905 by Prof. W. G. Bleyer as a new course in the English department. Thirty-five students studied news writing in this class. With the various courses that were added in the following years the present four-year course in journalism was organized in 1909. In 1914 it became an independent division, having until that time been connected with the English department.

President and Miss Birge Give Faculty-Regent Reception

Members of the faculty of the university paid homage to their chief, President Birge, with their presence Tuesday evening at the annual faculty-regent reception given by President and Miss Anna G. Birge, in Lathrop hall parlors.

Always a large event, the reception Tuesday evening seemed to exceed the function of previous years, more than four hundred callers being received, faculty members taking occasion to be present at what is probably the last official reception of President Birge.

In view of President Birge's pending retirement (announced for the end of this academic year), the reception had the aspect of a farewell affair honoring him. Sincerely and with reverence his associates exchanged their greetings with him for never was there a university president more genuinely beloved and revered than is President Birge.

Miss Birge and President Birge were assisted in receiving by the regents and their wives who were the guests of honor for the occasion. The regents are Gilbert E. Seaman, Milwaukee; Miss Zona Gale, Portage; Fred E. Bachman, Appleton; John C. Schmidtman, Manitowoc; A. J. Horlick, Racine; Daniel H. Grady, Portage; Harry L. Butler, Madison; Miss Leola M. Hirschman, Milwaukee; Theodore Kronshage, Jr., Milwaukee; Miss Elizabeth A. Waters, Fond du Lac; D. O. Mahoney, Viroqua; Franklin A. Nace, Iowa; John E. Cashman, Denmark; Ben F. Faast, Eau Claire; C. B. Casperson, Frederic.

Acting as assistant hostesses were Mmes. Marvin B. Rosenberry, George C. Sellery, Stephen Gilman, J. B. Overton, C. V. Bardeen, Frank B. Morrison, M. F. Guyer, S. H. Goednight, Junius E. Olson, W. O. Hotchkiss, E. B. Gordon, Frederic A. Ogg, A. V. Millar, O. L. Kowal-

STUDENT WINS PRIZE BY FINDING MISTAKE

Jackson Burgess '28, son of C. F. Burgess, president and founder of the Burgess Battery company, was the winner of a $5 prize given by the Cub Advertising service this month for each typographical mistake in its desk blotter. The mistake occurred in the advertisement of the E. & E. Clothing company, women's outfitters. A mistake in the same company's advertisement appeared in the December issue. In both cases the winner of the prize got to the store in less than a half hour after the blotters had been distributed.

INTERSE TO BUY GIFT FOR LATHROP PARLOR

Income from this semester's activities of Interse, an organization of house presidents, will be used to buy fire-screens for the grates in Lathrop, according to Pauline Dexter '26, president. The society, formed last semester, is planning to hold tea dances on holidays in order to raise money for a scholarship to be awarded to a deserving student.

SENATE PLANS CHANGE IN ACTIVITY SYSTEM

ing for the board reads in part as follows:

Art. VII. Sec. 3—There shall be a publications' board, which shall control all student publications.

Membership—This board shall consist of seven members, three from the faculty, three from the general student body and one from the student senate.

Would Name Editors

Elect of members will be during the regular spring elections. Meeting of the board must be held at least monthly, according to the proposed change. The officers of the board shall be president and secretary, who shall perform the usual duties of their respective offices. A comptroller shall be elected from the faculty members. His duties shall have charge of all funds over and above costs of publications.

Appointment of the editors and business managers of the various campus publications shall be made by this board. The board shall have supervision of all publications at all times.

Union Will Sell

Complete record shall be kept of all funds paid in by the several publications and upon approval by the board loans may be made to any publication. This fund is to be added to with the aim of creating a student-faculty controlled printing establishment, each publication to hold controlling financial interest in such establishment in the ratio of money paid into the general fund.

A publications advisory board composed of one representative of each campus publication will confer with the publications board in the formulation of policies.

Approval of the charter of Phi Sigma Phi, honorary physics fraternity, was granted by the senate. Prof. Benjamin Snow is faculty advisor of this organization. It was moved that the student senate go on record as favoring the exclusive sale of freshman caps by the Union board for and after the fall of 1926. This action was taken in consideration of the supply of caps that the merchants now have on hand.

BATTER UP!!

Bill steps to bat—last half of ninth—two outs—0 to 0. He hits it. Bill is off like a flash—passes first—second—third—slides in safe, a homer!

Bill's father (after the game, with the light of pride shining in his eyes): "A great hit, son, a great hit. And say, whenever you're ready, you get that new Kuppenheimer 'U' suit you've been wanting. You've earned it!"

'25—Commencement is Breathlessly Near!

For your protection—proofs of the list of graduates are posted in the buildings named below. Find your name; check spelling, town, classification! Today only!

Samples of the invitations and proofs of the class roll are posted at Bascom, Science, Lathrop, Agricultural, and Sterling Halls and at the Law and Engineering Buildings, and The Kamera Kraft Shop, for your convenience.

We hate to take the joy out of life—But the fact is, just two months from right now, you will have been an alumnus of this University for 24 hours! Barring accidents, of course!

You have exactly 11 days to order invitations!

Delivery of the finished invitations by May 25 requires that the final order be placed May 4.

The class cannot assume the risk of ordering your invitations for you. You must order them in advance to be sure of getting them. That's only fair!

The invitations were chosen by your committee after study of samples from 18 of the leading manufacturers. They are unique, in dark leather set off by a panel in genuine gold leaf, applied by a process never used before this year.

The prospects for your commencement out of doors are bright; space will be available for those whom you most want to see you graduated.

Make it possible for them to come! Order your invitations—NOW!
