CHAIRMEN MAKE HUGE PLANS FOR '23 HOMECOMING

Allen Walter Heads 1923 Committee With Four Assistants

Allen W. Walter, '24, general chairman of the 1923 Homecoming, and his four assistant chairmen are carrying out plans which will make this year's Homecoming one of the most successful events Wisconsin has ever had.

Harold R. Maier, '24, one of the four assistant chairmen of the 1923 Homecoming, has under his direction six important committees, including the massmeeting, art publicity, bonfire, information, and registration committees.

Maier

The massmeeting will be held in the men's gymnasium, with an overflow meeting in Music hall. Among the several speakers who will address these meetings are Coach Jack Ryan and Marty Below, captain of the varsity football team.

Under direction of the art committee Cardinal displays will be placed in store windows in Milwaukee and Chicago.

United Press Aids

The United Press is cooperating with the publicity committee in spreading publicity for Homecoming in the Middle West. Chicago and Milwaukee papers will run pictures of committee chairmen and of football players in connection with this event.

Of the other committees under Maier's direction the bonfire committee will take care of the huge bonfire the night before the game, the information committee will furnish booths and other sources of information for the convenience of visitors, and the registration committee will register them.

The entertainment committees are in charge of Assistant Chairman Walter A. Frautschi, '24. The Homecoming dance committee is under his direction, as is also the committee on arrangements, which will furnish room-places for graduate visitors.

The decorations committee under his supervision will decorate the field with flags of the Big Ten, and will provide cups for the best decorated houses, store windows, and so forth. Six cups will be given by committee.

The human "W" committee will arrange for a huge "W" made of students dressed in the Wisconsin colors, stationed at the fifty yard line. The committee which has in charge the Hobo parade will arrange for prizes to be given for the longest beard, the best outfit, and other features. The committee is making efforts to interest sororities in participation in the parade.

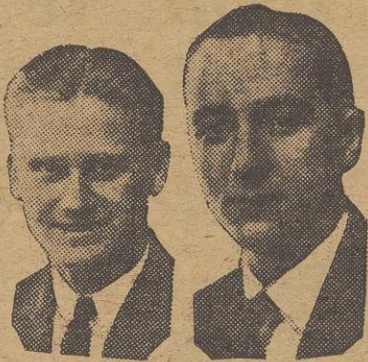

Police Direct Traffic

Letters have been sent to 25,000 alumni regarding Homecoming by the alumni committee. The traffic committee, also under Mr. Frautschi's supervision, will co-operate with the Madison police force in keeping order at the game, at the bonfire, and during other events of the week.

Porter E. Butts, '24, is assistant chairman in charge of the carnival committee and of the Homecoming program committee. A carnival more theatrical than any be-

Members of the Badger orchestra, which played on the United States steamship President Jackson and countries in the Orient this summer, returned to Madison this week to continue their university work. The orchestra travelled over more than twenty thousand miles on the Pacific, and featured Wisconsin songs in Manila, Hong Kong, Shanghai, Kobe, Yokohama, and Tokyo.

Engagements were filled at both the Grand hotel in Yokohama, and the Imperial hotel in Tokyo, which were torn to ruins in the recent earthquake in Japan. The Steamship President Jackson was at sea when news of the earthquake was received by radio, and landed in Seattle, Washington, two days after the shock.

Duane Longaker, '25, Lloyd Hansen '25, Gordon Roberts '25, Bill Thompson '23 and Doc Hewitt '23, made the trip with the orchestra this summer. Many former Wisconsin graduates were met on the trip, and the orchestra was entertained in Manila by Vice Governor Gilmore of the Philippine Islands, formerly a law professor in the university.

PLAN HUMAN "W" FOR BIG GAMES

Men Students Will Form Large Figure Opposite 50-Yard Line

The human "W" will make its debut in Wisconsin at the Homecoming game with Minnesota on October 27. The "W" will be composed of men students who will be seated opposite the 50 yard line.

Ezra Crane, varsity cheerleader, has planned the new feature in Wisconsin enthusiasm and spirit after ideas received at the University of California this summer. The seating arrangement is completed and the plans are all made.

Use Best Seats

Students desiring to sit in the section must signify their desire on the regular applications for seats. Written instructions will be left in the seats at the game so no preparation will be necessary other than the mere application. The seats will be the best on the field and there will be no additional charge for their occupancy.

The Rooters club will comprise a part of the seats but there will be many remaining for outsiders. There will be a meeting of the Rooters club this week to arrange plans.

This is the first time that anything of this kind has been tried at Wisconsin. Ezra Crane, chairman of field events for Homecoming, assisted by Bob Nethercut stated that if the plans are successful at the Homecoming game, they will be used again at the Michigan game and at future athletic contests.

While in California this summer Crane made an extensive study of cheerleading at California university, which is noted for famous cheering sections. Several new ideas gained there will be tried. The human "W" is the first. Another feature which is planned, is the printing of one Wisconsin yell in The Cardinal each day for a period of two weeks before Homecoming.

ENROLLMENT OF 408 OVER LAST YEAR INDICATED

7,465 Students Were Enrolled Wednesday; More Are Expected

An increase of 408 students over last fall is indicated by registration statistics compiled Wednesday evening, making the total enrollment up to 7,465. Late registration last year brought the total enrollment up to 7,368 and a corresponding increase is expected this fall at the registrar's office.

New students enrolling this year number 2,951 and 4,514 students returned this fall. There are 4623 men in college and 2842 women.

The grand total enrollment for last year was 11,522, including summer school students. Correspondence courses were taken by 21,483 students.

Enrollments in most of the colleges in the country are exceeding those of last year. The enrollment at the University of Oklahoma at Norman has reached 3,192, with 1194 women registered and 1998 men enrolled.

There is a ruling of the Faculty at Oklahoma that students having cars at school must return them home by Oct. 1. Cars are only allowed for the rushing period, and after that, a student who wishes to drive a car must have a permit from the dean.

The enrollment at the University of Texas is greater this year than last, the total figures reaching 3,761 enrolled.

3000 Gophers Enroll

Purdue university has a total enrollment of over 2,700 with an increase especially in the engineering school.

With the opening of school at Illinois university, 8124 students were registered. This number is exactly eight more than the number of the same time last year. This The registrar, however, expected that enrollment at the end of this month would greatly exceed that of last year.

The number at Minnesota is slightly lower than that at Illinois, there being some 8,000 students registered. On the fifty-sixth anniversary day of the founding of the college. The registration is over 100 more than last year. School opening is marked by the opening of a number of new buildings on the campus.

DEAN GIVES 12 RULES TO FROSH

Yearlings Receive Advice on Successful Career at First Convocation

The secret of a successful university life was given by Dean Sellery at the first convocation of all freshman men and women at 4:30 o'clock yesterday in the gym.

"All schools, from top to bottom, rest on the idea that we can get experience second hand," said Dean Sellery. "The university puts more responsibility for doing your own work upon you and offers more temptation to spend time in other than scholastic pursuits. The most serious fault of all students is that no work is prepared unless assigned and that fault helps to swell the railroad receipts at the end of the semester."

Twelve working rules to make the life of a freshman more successful given by the dean are as follows:

1. Learn to work without a signal.
2. Make studies the chief interest, and the diversions "sideshow."
3. Give your body a chance by sleeping enough, and taking enough exercise.
4. Take recreation out of spare time, not out of sleep or time for study, and you will gain in power of concentration.
5. Preserve a contented mind.
6. Go to church.
7. No man is loyal to the university unless he puts scholastic work first.
8. The student on probation has a chance now if he works.
9. A full program well done will take all your strength.
10. Don't quit if your money gives out unexpectedly.
11. Consult deans, instructors, or advisors when things are not right.
12. Don't be a quitter.

"It is a popular bit of fiction that the faculty 'flunks' the student," continued the dean. "They don't. They merely record the failure made by the student. The October exams will be here in five weeks. Last year we sent home one student in every ten, and for nothing but loafing."

All Students Urged to Make This Welcome Best Yet

"Varsity Out to Welcome the Freshmen" is the slogan adopted for the varsity welcome which will take place at 11 o'clock this morning on Lincoln terrace.

The Varsity welcome is a feature of the opening of school that no student can afford to miss. For three years it has been put across with great success, and all indications are that this year's pageant will eclipse that of the other years.

No 11 O'clock Classes
All 11 o'clock classes will be dismissed, and in case of rain, the pageant will be held on the following Monday. Every member of the university is expected to be with his class at this freshman welcome.

Members of the freshman class are to be greeted at the foot of the hill by the seniors, graduates and law students, and led up the hill, where they will pass in review before members of the upper classes, to the Lincoln terrace.

Don Frosh Caps

New freshman caps will be officially donned at this official welcome to the students. Many of the caps

Freshmen will gather on the lower part of the upper campus in front of the clock tower of Music hall, and will be formed into a column four abreast for the march to the Lincoln monument.

Sophomores will form on the walk in front of Engineering building, by twos, the women leading and headed down the Hill.

Juniors will form on the walk in front of the Law building, by twos, the women leading, and headed down the hill.

Seniors, graduates, and law students will meet in front of the Biology building, form by twos, the women leading, and proceed into the arcade at the front of Bascom hall, heading out of the center arch of the arcade, ready to cross the Lincoln monument for the march down the Campus to escort the freshmen into position.

Members of the Council of Forty and of Keystone will be on hand to form the classes in line.

have been sold to the freshmen already at the University Co-operative company, and caps will be sold at the bottom of the hill to the freshmen.

The Student Council of Forty and Keystone, organizations that represent all of the students, urge that every student get in line. The Council of Forty and representatives from Keystone will help get the various classes lined up. The success of the pageant of the classes is dependent upon every member in the university.

Seniors, graduates and law students will meet in front of the Biology building, forming by twos, the women leading, and proceed into the arcade at the front of Bascom hall, heading out of the center arch of the arcade, ready to cross the Lincoln monument for the march down the campus to escort the freshmen into position; the latter forming on the lower campus before Music hall.

Classes Start Marching

When the regimental band at the Lincoln monument begins to play, all of the classes will start to march simultaneously.

The guard in white, composed of 26 women dressed in white, carrying swagger sticks and arranged in two columns, will go down from Lincoln monument to meet the frosh. They will swing in by twos, and turn back ahead of the frosh in fours.

The freshmen will put on their green caps as they cross the walk at the foot of the hill. Frosh will gather at the foot of the hill and fore has been planned by this committee. The stage will be moved to the end of the gym and curtains will be used for the acts.

Butts

Two silver loving cups will be given for the two winning acts at the carnival, the judges of the acts consisting of both faculty members and students. Any kind of song and dance act may be presented by fraternity groups at the tryouts which will take place soon.

The Homecoming program will be a combination of program of the game and of the Athletic Review. It will contain the only program of the game and the line-up and will be sold immediately before the game. Last year more than 7,000 copies were sold in the fifteen minutes before the game, and it is estimated that 12,000 will be sold at the 1923 Homecoming.

William J. Fronk, '24, assistant chairman in charge of the committees on ways and means, buttons, and of the treasury, is responsible for the financial success of Homecoming.

That the Homecoming budget which has been prepared will enable the committees to provide a bigger and better entertainment for the alumni than ever before is Mr. Fronk's belief. The financial committees are organized and each chairman has his work well under way.

Fronk

Chairman of the button committee have mapped out a comprehensive campaign for distribution of the buttons. "The Homecoming button is a symbol of Wisconsin's spirit and every student should wear one during the week of Homecoming. To make Homecoming a success requires the cooperation of every student on the campus. This cooperation can best be shown by each student through the purchase of a Homecoming button and program," Financial Chairman W. J. Fronk stated.

New Course is Offered In Spanish Journalism

A course in Spanish journalism, similar to the course in French journalism given by Mr. Ernst, has been added to the university curriculum. This course, which is given by Mr. Ortega, who was a newspaper man in Spain for five years, is not only the first course in Spanish journalism given by the university, but it is the first course in Spanish journalism given in the United States. The first semester will be devoted to the study of the Spanish newspaper, while the second semester will consist in a survey of the leading Latin American newspapers.

"Since we are coming more and more into contact with Latin American countries through the Pan-American conference and the new commercial relation," said Mr. Ortega, "the course was established to acquaint the student with Latin American newspapers, and also to give a body of information concerning the economic and political affairs of the countries."

HARD SCRIMMAGEVarsity Shows Improvement

Work

The DRIVE was at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon.

From about five o'clock until darkness made work no longer possible, Coach Jack Ryan's proteges drove themselves through the All-Americans in the second scrimmage of the season.

Seemingly Ryan is going to make up for his long delay in sending his men into scrimmage by giving them plenty of it now. Scarcely for a moment did the play halt as reserves took the place of the tired regulars.

The one point upon which Ryan has been working all season, that of getting his men to drive through the opposing line, seems to be getting somewhere near their understanding, for in many cases the work looked better than it did the day before.

Every back on the squad got his chance, and every one was in there to prove himself better than the man he replaced. At times the play was listless and ragged to the extreme, but on the whole it was good for the second scrimmage of the year.

The backs were all going wild. Taft, consistently keeping his head down and his feet moving when he hit the line could not help gaining. Harris tore through the All-Americans as if they were high school boys.

Harold Holmes, who has been seen little with the ball in scrimmage thus far, was given the oval a few times and the way he measured off the yardage through the line was a sight for sore eyes.

Driver will have to do some quick work with his line men if they are to provide proper conditioning opposition for the regulars before the season starts. The ineligible show lack of experience and team play.

Sid Eagleburger, at quarter, was going well and his speed netted many long gains, one of which looked like a touchdown until he was downed 15 yards from the line.

Eagleburger alternated with Williams at the position, and Al Schneider saw action for a while. Williams' work was promising, especially on end runs, and Schneider filled the position well.

Herb Opitz, too small to hit the line successfully, looked good in his open field running. He is fast and his footwork is clever.

In response to Ryan's constant plea of "drive, Stangel, drive," Stangel drove. No until he was down with men on his neck did he stop driving. Fritz Radke's work still looks good.

Much of the fault in the backfield seemed to be in the handling of the ball. Fumbles were frequent, and several times the ball was lost after the runner had made a handsome gain.

The line looked much the same as it did in the first scrimmage with the exception of the work of the tackles. Marty Below looked more like his old fighting self and Gerber was a power. Especially on the defense, Gerber was in every play, nailing the runner time after time.

In the absence of Tom Nichols, who has been Ryan's choice for the center job, Pearce and Teckmeyer alternated. Neither man had much advantage over the other either on the defense or the offense. The passing was not as accurate as it is with Nichols playing the pivot role.

Scrimmage is the popular order for the rest of the week, but just when Ryan will start extensive drilling the men on plays is not known.

He will probably take them behind the closed doors next week and open his bag o' tricks to them.

There will be a meeting of last year's 1925 hockey squad and all junior girls interested at 12:45 o'clock Friday in Lathrop gymnas-

Pistol Practice to Be Resumed Next Week

The University of Wisconsin Pistol club, with a record of having won 15 out of 18 matches last year in spite of adverse weather conditions, loss of men due to graduation, and shortage of ammunition, is looking forward to making this year more successful than ever.

Capt. B. K. Breed and several former members of the team are ready to resume practice next week under the direction of Coach H. C. Mason. Twenty-five thousand rounds of ammunition are available for the use of the team. They are anxious to develop as much talent as possible during the fall so as to be ready in the spring for opening matches with Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and Missouri.

Freshmen in the E. O. T. C. are urged to report to Coach Mason on the gym floor as soon as possible. It is not absolutely essential to be an expert pistol shot in order to become a member of the Pistol club. Some of the best shots in the club had never fired an automatic prior to joining the club. Natural ability, together with excellent coaching and training is the best combination for producing a good pistol shot. The club is in need of new material, and hopes that with the cooperation of a large number of new members they will be able to turn out a winning team.

CONFERENCE GRID
TEAMS ARE STRONGWisconsin Will Have Competition With Michigan, Iowa, and Illinois

Never before has any season promised to be so full of keen competition, and hard fought battles as this year's crop of conference teams seem to indicate.

Throughout the conference coaches are on their last drive for material preparatory to settling down to the last round of heavy training before the first games. And out of this new material fresh stars are beginning to show themselves.

Notable at Michigan two new performers of note have appeared. They were discovered during the scrimmage in which Harry Kipki, a choice for all-conference half, and Rockwell, understudy of Uteritz, conference 145 pound quarter, were injured. Their names are Grube, and Muirhead, their position, half and tackle. With this new man Grube acting as a running mate for Uteritz, and Kipki, Michigan will have as dangerous a backfield as last year when Cappon was tearing the line to pieces.

With Hancock shifted to the wing position next to Kriz at tackle and McIntyre, guard, Iowa will have one side of her line, at least, resembling the proverbial stone wall. For there is no man in the game more to be feared than Hancock. A big man who knows how to handle himself and with an eye that can watch the ball no matter what the play is.

Miller the Iowa captain is another dangerous player and as powerful a line breaker as can be found in the conference.

With the exception of the flanking spots the personal of what apparently will be the Ohio team has been decided on. It does not promise much competition as most of the other schools who have more experienced men back.

Indiana looks to be in good shape with the exception of Zivich, who is out of the game at present with an injured shoulder. Coach Ingram has devoted much time toward instruction in the passing department of the game. Moomaw, a veteran backfield man looks good at halfback as does Bernoske, Woodward and Slaote also look good in the backfield.

Without the help of Green, varsity center, the Illini are scrapping it out with the frosh in scrimmage already. Zuppke is not leaving any one team intact for a long time, for he is in evident need of reserve material which is yet to be unearthed from his group of substitutes. Harry Hall is being used, at quarterback, Grange and McIlwain at halves, and Oakes at fullback. Aspirants for Green's

JIMMY BRADER IS WISCONSIN'S OWN

Jimmy Brader, line coach of the Varsity team, is Wisconsin's own, for he received his training here and has remained here to practice it. Starring at tackle and guard at Wisconsin, Brader built up a reputation which gained for him an enviable record over the country. He was a popular choice for all-conference tackle among many sport writers in 1921. Brader has studied football for years and knows line problems from beginning to end. The best part of it is that he seems able to impart his knowledge to his charges easily.

Sport Registration
Takes Place at Lathrop

Womens registration for fall sports and class assignments opened at Lathrop gym this morning and will continue all day and Saturday morning. The usual choices of swimming, volley ball, hockey, dancing, tennis, archery will be given women registering. Horse back riding may be taken for credit under the auspices of the Black Hawk Riding Academy, but a special fee is charged for this sport. Golf will not be given this fall, but will be listed among the winter sports.

There will be keener competition than ever this fall in women's athletics as there is a quantity of good, old material back, and it is reported that the Yearlings have some exceptional ability among their numbers.

Classes will begin Wednesday, October 3. Most of the work will be carried on at Camp Randall as usual. All women are urged to register as soon as possible.

STRINGED ORCHESTRA
TO SIGN UP TOMORROW

Registration in the string section of the University orchestra will be held tomorrow from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning. Special effort is being made this year to bring the orchestra to the front ranks of campus activities. A concert program is given by the orchestra each semester.

place at center are Umnus, Roberts and Neil.

Coach Phelan, at Prudue, is following no letup in his stiff scrimmage schedule despite the fact that play is perceptibly slower because of the hard work. Scrimmage will go on in earnest today, and a regular game will be played against the freshman tomorrow.

Women Hockey Players
Get Special Practice

All women hockey players of the class of '27 will have a chance to display their talent and skill at the four special practices to be held or their benefit at Camp Randall.

The dates for the practices have been set at 5:45 o'clock, September 27, 4:45 o'clock September 28, 10 o'clock September 29 and 5:10 o'clock October 1.

Last year's junior team will hold a meeting at 12:45 o'clock today in the gymnasium of Lathrop hall, to discuss plans for the coming season.

MEANWELL CALLS
FOR CAGE EXPERTSFirst Varsity Practice to Be Held This Afternoon at 4 O'Clock

With the first Varsity basketball practice of the season scheduled for 4:00 this afternoon in the gym, Dr. Meanwell asks that all sophomores, juniors and seniors who wish to try out for berths on the squad report to him at the above time. He also requests that men wishing to compete for the positions of sophomore and junior managers be present at today's practice.

Coach Meanwell realizes better than any one what the loss of Tebell, Williams and Gage means to his hopes for another winning team. He feels, however, that with the enthusiasm that is already showing itself he will be able to whip a team into shape which will be a fighting team if not a winning one. In a meeting earlier in the week Dr. Meanwell met last year's squad to talk over his plans for the coming season and the possibilities for another championship team.

The Varsity this year will have no outstanding stars,—it will be an aggregation of men acting as equally important parts of a finished machine. With Capt. Gibson, Spooner, Elsom, Barwig and Oiebold of the 1922-'23 team as a nucleus, Coach Meanwell hopes to develop a formidable fighting unit.

Iowa, which tied for first place in the Conference with Wisconsin last season, has its complete team back, while Michigan and Illinois loom up on the championship horizon as dangerous contenders, having suffered only small losses by graduation.

PLANS FOR ALL
UNIVERSITY NET
TOURNEY BEGINSVarsity Tennis Courts Are Now in Good Playing Condition

With the Varsity tennis courts once more in tip top condition, it will only be a matter of a few days before the plans for the all university tennis tourney are completed, and the drawings made to determine who will be the opponents in the first round of play.

The tourney will not only serve to increase the interest of tennis enthusiasts who might otherwise allow their rackets to remain idle, but will also aid in bringing to light any player of unusual ability who shows promise of varsity caliber.

Tennis has only recently come to the front at Wisconsin, and the record made by the net teams the past few years must be upheld. Wisconsin has been holding her own in conference net circles lately. The opposing teams have come to respect the Cardinal racketiers, and interest in this sport must be kept up so that the present standard will not be lowered.

Coach Linden, who has been looking after the interests of the tennis teams the past few years, left Madison for Chicago yesterday where he will enter Rush Medical school. Plans have been completed whereby a new coach will take charge of the tennis men in the immediate future. It is said that some representative of the faculty tennis club has agreed to assume the duties for the time being.

There are several freshmen just entering school who are known to possess unusual ability on the courts, and the coming tournament should prove an interesting affair. The outcome will be watched with interest by all students who have the prospects of the Badger tennis men at heart.

In a few days a card will be placed in the gym where all students who wish to enter the all university tourney can register. The results of the draws will then be posted in a conspicuous place so that all candidates can determine their opponents.

Professor Bleyer Compares English And U. S. Papers

"American journalism has a decided influence on English newspapers at the present time," said Prof. W. G. Bleyer, head of the Course in Journalism, in speaking today about the trip abroad, which he recently took to obtain material for a new textbook.

"American comic strips, such as Bringin' Up Father are running in English newspapers," he continued, "and other strictly American features are now appearing in British papers."

"Previous to the laying of the Atlantic cable in the middle of the last century, American newspapers were influenced by the English editors, because all foreign news received in America came by mail from English editors. Until about 1850 most of the newspaper reporters were of British birth and training. Conditions are now reversed, and the English are imitating us in some ways."

Some English papers with large circulations are no larger in size than the Cardinal, according to Professor Bleyer. They contain as much news as a larger paper and are more convenient to handle than the large ones. English newspapers as a rule have larger circulations than those in the United States because they cover all England, and not only London. A London paper can be obtained in any part of England the same day it is published.

An advertising feature common in England and on the continent, but which has not been taken up by American papers, is the news bill. It gives the most sensational news of the day in headline form and is used by the newsboys to advertise their wares. Professor Meyer has a collection of these posters which he will exhibit in his classes in journalism.

When he was on the continent, Professor Bleyer obtained copies of all the important French, Italian, and Spanish newspapers. These papers will be shown in Room 37, South hall. They offer an interesting contrast to the modern American newspaper.

Professor Bleyer's book, which he has just finished, will be used as a textbook in the course in the history of journalism. It deals with the modern trend of American newspapers, and also shows the effects of English journalism on American papers.

Decrease of 300 Bonus Students is Reported

Only 350 bonus students are enrolled in the University of Wisconsin this year, which shows a marked decrease as compared with last year's number, 750. As more are registering, however, the figures will probably reach 400. The decline in the enrollment is due to the fact that most of the ex-soldiers have already used the $1,080 allotted to them by the government.

Y. W. Neighborhood House Has Positions

Positions in the Neighborhood House, which have been filled by university girls for years, are open in various fields, according to Miss Mary Anderson, secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Gay Braxton, director of the settlement house, has sent out the following call:

Four girls are needed to teach English from 1:30 to 3 o'clock on either Monday, Tuesday or Thursday. Three are wanted to take charge of a Doll club, from 4 until 5:30 o'clock. Two public speaking majors are wanted for the Story club on Friday, from 4 until 5 o'clock. The Games table requires five girls on Tuesday, from 4 to 5. Three with experience in home economics, can be placed in the sewing department from 10 to 12 on Saturday. A teacher of manual training (wood work) is needed on Wednesday from 4 until 5:30. A student in the public school music department is needed to give half hour lessons. The call has also been sent out for those who will visit in homes from Thanksgiving until Easter.

Miss Anderson will be in the Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop hall to sign up all those who wish to fill these positions from Monday on. The girls who apply must be ready to guarantee that they will take the places for a year.

STUDENTS AT PITT HIRE AS PALLBEARERS

A gloomy but fairly profitable means of meeting overhead expenses has been discovered by the impecunious students of Pitt university, Pittsburgh, Pa., who frequently hire out to funeral directors as pallbearers. Leading morticians of Pittsburgh say that their department is admirable and quite in keeping with the seriousness of the occasion.

ZONA GALE WILL WRITE FOR LIT

Many New Writers Are Discovered For This Year's Mag

Kenneth Fearing, editor of the Wisconsin Literary magazine promises a widely divergent array of material in the first issue of the new year.

Heading the list of contributions is Miss Zona Gale, with a sketch "Human Engineering." Mary Zaturenska, the new Zona Gale scholar at the university, will be represented by two poems. She is a contributor to such publications as the Atlantic Monthly, Smart Set, the Liberator and Poetry. Further verse comes from the pen of Claude Ivan Lake.

John Francis Weimer '25, is author of a short story to appear in the first number, and Leon Herald, Madison poet who is attending the school, furnishes a column to the publication. The cover design is by Muriel Leitzel.

This year's magazine will present a complete change in appearance, with a smaller page size, covers in color, and illustrated with etchings, sketches, and wood-cuts. Many new writers have been discovered for this year's editions, the editor said yesterday, especially among sophomores. Verse, stories, sketches and articles are to be furnished by them and most of last year's contributors will be present as well.

New members of the staff are Carl Rakosi, associate editor; and Catherine Davis, exchange editor. The first issue of the magazine will appear Wednesday, October 2.

First Mixer to Be Held Tomorrow Night in Gym

Union Board will hold its first all university mixer tomorrow night at 9 o'clock in the men's gymnasium.

This year a committee of S. G. A. girls and a committee of men will attempt to keep things moving and make the dance a success. The feature of the evening will be Thompson's 10 piece orchestra which will furnish the music for the dance.

It will be necessary to present fee cards at the door to obtain admittance and the tickets will be in the form of small programs.

Class Rush May Fall on Saturday of Coe Game

Although the date is not definitely set, the annual soph-frosh rush, according to James Flickinger, '26, president of last year's freshman class will probably fall on the morning of the Coe football game. He expects to have the work of organization under way in a short time and can give more definite information in a few days.

'27 AND DRILL

It is difficult for some of us to realize that five years have passed since the war—that most of our present freshmen were not even in high school when the armistice was signed.

This, at least, is the apparent attitude of the incoming class toward "drill." One supposes that the class is representative of the best of Wisconsin's young manhood, that if anywhere in the state there is current in the youthful mind a sense of the duty of preparedness, a willingness to train for the country's defense, such feelings are to be found in this year's freshmen.

Scarcely a thousand students have enrolled for the basic course this year, and this number is largely made up of sophomores. The second-year men, who have had a chance to learn what military training is, and to acquire in some measure the spirit and ideals of military service—most of these have chosen to remain in the corps voluntarily.

Wisconsin has been proud of its cadet corps in the past, and with reason. The Wisconsin R. O. T. C. represents the university in just as real a sense as the football team, and it has done so with conspicuous credit to the school.

For those of the freshmen who have elected to take military training we have a very real respect. If the voluntary wearing of a freshman cap, signifying devotion to class and school traditions, be praiseworthy, how much more so is the voluntary wearing of the military uniform, signifying as it does loyalty to one's country and recognition of personal obligations toward its maintenance and defense.

ORNAMENTS MISPLACED

There is no question in the minds of impartial observers that fraternities have been careless in the matter of disposing of their empty whiskey bottles. "A whole sackful," it appears, was left in one house during the summer as a standing temptation to the predatory instincts of small boys.

It would have been so easy to have struck each bottle in the center with a tack hammer as emptied, or to have filled them with sand and cast them in Lake Mendota, or even to have dropped the entire sackful down a convenient manhole, with appropriate ceremonies.

We hope that fraternities in general will respond to their critics by cleaning up the situation,—especially their back yards. It is not only a question of morals but of good taste. Discarded whiskey bottles arouse not only the covetousness of the petty pilferer but a sense of repugnance and distaste in the minds of cultured people.

A BIT OUT OF DATE

The laws of the Medes and Persians had nothing on Pan-Hellenic rules in the matter of inflexibility. As far back as we can remember a "rules" complex has dominated sorority rushing, and it has frequently been made evident that not only the spirit but the letter of regulations must be held sacred and inviolate.

One not familiar with the whys and wherefores of rushing rules might not suppose that there were any great harm in a sorority woman meeting her cousin, an entering freshman, at the request of the girl's mother.

We wonder whether a course in Crime and Punishment would not be instructive to the committee in the exercise of their judicial powers. It might be found that the imposition of severe penalties for admittedly technical offenses is a somewhat antiquated procedure, not in the best vogue since the fall of Assyria.

LONG LIVE THE PEDESTRIAN

We really hate to do it, but while we are speaking of Langdon street we may as well bring up the subject which has almost become editorially hackneyed through its yearly appearance in this column, the story of the speeder and the fly-er.

In the first place, we advise the speeders to cut it down for their own sakes, with the warning that, inefficient though we may think the Madison policeman is, he has done a thriving business along Langdon all summer and from appearances he is still on the job in that vicinity.

You know, or should know, his lot, so we will not bore you further with telling it. Just have pity; that will be sufficient.

The fraternity and sorority grades are out before the rushing season is over. He who would pledge a scholar should stop the press.

Fifteen men from Canada studied at the university last year.

The Varsity Welcome to be a success according to the faculty must last just 59 minutes. Sixty minutes will make it a failure.

Track men will have no difficulty keeping on the cinder path on the upper campus. Others please k. o. t. g. (keep off the grass).

Wisconsin Grad Writes Stories For Scribner's

"The Blue in the Labradorite," a short story in the October number of Scribner's magazine, was written by Miss Julia Winifred Johnston, a graduate of Wisconsin in the class of 1911.

"Miss Johnston shows great promise of becoming a leading short story writer," Alfred S. Bashfiel, assistant editor of Scribner's, stated in a communication to The Cardinal yesterday.

In a biographical note published in the magazine, Miss Johnstone says: "In 1911 I was graduated from the University of Wisconsin; the English courses and the campus offered much to me. Five years ago I came out to the Pacific coast and in these free spaces I learned to breathe deeply. The gratification of a ten-year wish is a heady thing; it requires emphasis upon the thing they tried to teach me at Madison: keep your feet upon the ground."

First Industrial Club Supper Held Last Night

The first industrial club supper of the Industrial board of city Y. W. C. A. was held last night at the city Y. W. C. A. This supper opened with the program of industrial clubs.

A hospitality committee of university women, at whose head is Mary Devine '25, will serve each Thursday night. Mary Devine succeeds Leila Ekern as chairman. The hospitality committee is part of the movement for student industrial cooperation of which Alice Corl '25 is general chairman.

A program has been planned for joint discussions between student hospitality committee and industrial hospitality committee. These discussions will follow Thursday suppers, beginning Oct. 4, and will cover economic, social and political questions of interest to all women.

Any one interested in joining such a group should obtain additional information from Mary Devine or Alice Corl.

600 EMPLOYED TO CARE FOR CAMPUS

Workers to Keep Grounds in Condition Equal Instructing Staff

Approximately 600 employees are working each day to keep our university campus, a city of 9,000 or more inhabitants, in excellent condition and good working order. This is practically the same as the number of professors and instructors here.

Two hundred and fifty employees are needed to keep up the clerical end of the institution. Over 100 janitors and 75 laborers are at work cleaning and making repairs. Ninety people are employed by the university to work in the dormitories and cafeterias. The 170 skilled tradesmen employed represent all the varieties of work found in any city. Among them are 22 painters, 14 carpenters, 2 sign painters, 8 engineers, 5 gardeners, 11 machinists, and 5 electricians. 2 seamstresses and 5 chauffeurs are also on this list. A chart representing these figures graphically has been posted in room 101, Bascom hall.

Alfred T. Gallistel is Supt. of Buildings and Grounds and has his office at the Service building. An addition to this building is under construction and will probably be completed this fall. The electric sub-station will be moved into this addition.

First Meeting of Athenae Literary Society Tonight

Clark Hazelwood '24, president of Athenae Literary society, has announced that Athenae will hold a meeting at 7:30 this evening on the fourth floor of Bascom hall.

Although it is the usual custom of the literary organizations to meet on the Friday of the second week of the school year, the organizations can begin their meetings whenever desired. The two women's groups,

Critics Praise Bill Playing at Orpheum

The bill at the Orph this weekend is on a whole a little better than good. Most of the numbers rate as good, while some of them brought down the house as excellent.

Jess and Dell

The human puppets—would have been better if they had stuck to the original idea of puppets and left out the dancing.

Browne and Lavelle

Kay Lavelle had a good time laying a "hard" part, and she got over big with the audience.

Eckert and Francis

With Francis putting over good Swedish lines, and using the wrong word at the right time, with some good songs by Eckert, the act brought down the house.

William Seabury and Co.

Pretty girls—eccentric, fancy, jazz and toe dancing—somewhat risque but dazzling costumes—all this made Billy's act the best on the bill.

Kenney and Hollis

These two original college boys offered a satire on medicine, which contained many old, and some clever new jokes. Aided by players from all the other acts, these two got over big.

Veldez Arnund and Ernest Perez

International athletes de luxe—de luxe just describes their act.

Pythia and Castalia, have not yet announced their first meetings. Philomathia, Hesperia, and the Agricultural Literary society, have announced that their first meetings will be held Friday evening, Oct. 5.

The first meetings of the various groups are open to all interested students.

NUMEROUS BUILDINGS RAISED LAST SUMMER

Numerous improvements have been made throughout the campus during the summer.

The north end of the stadium has been completed for Wisconsin's first game on October. Remodeling of Chadbourne hall is now complete after several months of work. Many of the other buildings have received coats of paint and redecorating.

The electric sub-station, the service station are being completed and new boilers are being installed at the heating plant to heat the new hospital on University avenue.

Chadbourne Welcomes Freshmen With Mixer

Chadbourne hall welcomed the sixty new freshmen with an informal mixer Wednesday night from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

Special feature stunts were given by Edith Faithorne '26, and Miriam Kundert '26.

PARKWAY OFFERS A SUPER SEASON

BY DAMAD RAMA

The most brilliant season for legitimate productions ever offered to Madison theater patrons is promised for this year by the management of the Parkway theater which has made every effort to book those attractions which are at once prominent and high class.

In addition to the long list of regular legitimate attractions which has already been booked the Parkway has promised something new in Madison with a combination high class vaudeville act interspersed with the movie program. The first of these is scheduled for next week with a skit called "The Birth of Venus." Fifteen girls will be included in the act.

The following week Ernie Yong's Revue will be seen at the Parkway. Young is producer of the shows at the famous Marigold Gardens in Chicago. It is whispered that Ethel Barrymore who is now in vaudeville will be her for a week in December giving a short sketch with some cinema.

On the wealth of drama and musical comedy attractions to play here, the first is "Shuffle Along," that pioneer and highly successful negro musical show. Chicago students who have seen the show pronounce the dancing in the show to be of the best. This show is scheduled for Oct. 5 and 6.

A mere innumeration of some of the other coming attractions will cause the theater lover to anticipate with eagerness the season's beginnings. By the way, the Parkway will now make reservations for favorite seats for the entire season.

Here are some of the promised attractions: "Up the Ladder," De Wolfe Hopper, who will present three light operas here with his own company; May Robson with her annual show; Nora Bayes at the head of her own company of entertainers; Chauncey Alcott and company; "Molly Darling," Paul Althouse and Arthur Middleton, opera stars in concert recital; Fiske O'Hara as usual; Irene Castle, the most talked of actress in the world; Zimballist, the violinist who has just re-entered the concert world and who has probably the largest collection of rare violins in existence.

Then there is "Blossom Time" with an old Haresfoot star taking the tenor lead; "The First Year" with Frank Craven; "Up She Goes," now in Chicago; Florence MacBeth, opera star in "Secrets of Suzanne;" Walter Scanlon; "The Clinging Vine;" Robert Mantel in repertoire work; "Whispering Wires," "Cat and the Canary."

Even Madam, FritzmannHeink will appear, as will the as yet unsurpassed Pavlova. Other treats are Ed. Wynn in "The Perfect Fool," Ruth St. Dennis, "The Passing Show," "The Gingham Girl," "Little Nellie Kelly, last season's best bet on Boardway, and David Warfield, the dean of them all.

HOLLYWOOD IS TRANSPLANTED

BY DAMAD RAMA

"Hollywood" at the Majestic and "The Silent Partner" at the Madison are offerings of the Fischer theaters for next week starting with tomorrow.

"Hollywood" is a picture which has received the plaudits of the audiences and reviewers wherever it has been shown. It proves without a doubt that the movies can enter the field of satire without bitterness and can acquit itself successfully. Critics have also declared that the picture treats of the melodrama in a more literary plane than usual.

For accuracy and external detail "Hollywood" has been hailed as the super picture of the year. The fact that some 30 or more movie stars take part in this colossal spectacle of the U. S. A.'s most talked of community forms another attraction. "Hollywood" will be reviewed in these columns next Tuesday.

Of "The Silent Partner" not so much can be said. It is the story of a clerk in a Wall-street brokerage house and deals with the ramifications in his life after yielding to the lure of the ticker. It is a conventional story and more or less conventional in portrayal.

However, the acting in the cinema is good and warrants attention. The film entertains and while it is not a big feature it ranks well with the average. The stars who make of this drab story an interesting film are Leatrice Joy, Owen Moore and Robert Edson.

UPSTAGE BITS

We saw Oscar, czar of all-back stage at the Parkway, yesterday and he said that the increased Parkway activity this year necessitates his resigning from the carpenter's union and taking a steady job at the former Fuller.

Oscar also invited us back-stage when a musical comedy hits town—ostentatiously to see him of course.

Sid Thorson, former king of the gridiron and fly-gallery at the Parkway and now campus politician and Haresfoot manager, still loves work and will decorate any fraternity house or sorority pier free of charge. Ask him.

We have lined up an introduction to Chauncey Alcott's leading lady when she comes and we will be able to give you results later on.

Manager McWilliams of the Fischer theaters has turned over to us the use of his library of current movie literature and we express much thanks for the same.

Word has come that Delmar A. Whitson of Los Angeles has finally perfected the talking moving picture. Folks who have heretofore preferred movies to the legitimate because there was less noise, will soon have to wear cotton and ear muffs.

George Bartlett, former Haresfoot man and university student is still writing plays in Hollywood although we haven't seen anything of his since the Carter De Haven comedy, "Private Keppoff."

Nick Grinde '15, according to reports, hasn't had any too much success with his latest directorship attempt in Chick Sales pictures.

Every column must have a platform so here's ours—a full-fledged dramatic course at the university

HARESFOOT NOW WELL ADVANCED

Preparations are already far advanced for the most auspicious season in history for the Haresfoot club, according to the managers of the student organizations.

Several books have been written during the summer and these are now being considered and suggestions made on them by the club and by E. Mortimer Shuter, Haresfoot coach.

Preparations are also being made by the club to take the longest spring trip in the history of the organization. Dates have already been reserved at Indianapolis and a promotive organization is already under way there. St. Louis, Peoria and Springfield are also being considered as prospective new towns.

Last year's cities which will be played again are Appleton, Oshkosh, Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Rockford and Chicago.

By the middle of October dancing classes which will meet once a week until spring when the show opens will be held at the university and will be coached by members of last year's production. Plans are also under way for the annual Haresfoot Follies which will take place early in December.

of Wisconsin with a major in dramatics.

Paul Gangelin is another Wisconsin Hollywoodian who evidently is making a success of the Merton idea.

Do you know Howard, publicity medium and comic advertiser for the Orpheum? Meet him any night at Kehl's dance hall.

Y. W. Soph Commission Sells Diary Calendars

Let's Get Acquainted

If we can put our ideal in words, you will think of us when you need clothing. "Quality and Service" is an old phrase, but the idea is always new.

QUALITY is an easy word to spell. And almost anyone can recognize the quality of our clothing.

SERVICE is harder to define. It has too many angles. Briefly, our ideal of service is to have in our store what YOU want; sell it to you pleasantly; at a price that is fair to both of us; and then stand back of it without question.

If we do all of that we cannot fail to meet you.
