3 Mil Ball King Campaigners Land in Court

Two students were fined five dollars jointly and one was found not guilty today in a case involving the illegal use of a loud speaker in campaigning for one of the candidates for Mil Ball King.

The student court accepted the plea of not guilty from one of the defendants who declared that he had not participated on the illegal use of the speaker and was only along "for the ride."

The court fined the driver of the car and the operator of the loud speaker and imposed an additional fine of one dollar on the driver for illegally driving on the campus.

A parking violator was declared guilty, but had his fine suspended when he claimed that it was impossible to comply with the regulations.

He had a permit to park in one of the dormitory parking areas, but claimed that the area was completely occupied at the time that he returned home. He parked in another area and received a parking ticket. The court ruled him guilty of the parking offense, but suspended the fine because of circumstances.

Cardinal Answers Student Complaints

Approximately fifty students representing a cross section of campus "aired their gripes" concerning the Daily Cardinal at an open meeting conducted by Cardinal board last night in the YMCA.

Cardinal staffers were present to answer questions and to take suggestions.

Topics discussed ranged from editorial policy to "today column" items.

Cardinal board president Vickie Warren said that she was gratified by the turnout and the constructive nature of the criticism.

erly Sperling, Lorna Gossett, Sally Bell, and Betty Gross.

The court of honor was narrowed down from all-campus nominations to 12-finalists last night. From these 12 the six members of the court of honor were picked.

The judges were Louise Marston, society editor, Wisconsin State Journal; Emily Chervenik, assistant dean of women; Howard B. Gill, sociology professor; Theodore Zillman, acting dean of men; and Col. Winfred Skelton, campus ROTC commandant.

The interviews were held from 8 to 11 p. m. in the Reception room of the Union.

Two white helmeted ROTC members of the Pershing Rifles corps stood at attention throughout the evening, guarding the beauties.

The six girls in the court of honor will be presented at the 1951 Military ball on March 10 in the Union. The theme of the ball is "The Chocolate Soldier."

Mil Ball king will be named to—

What can I do with a BA degree after graduation? "Should I specialize in one particular field?" The Careers Conference will attempt to answer these and other questions in sessions which begin next Monday.

The sessions have been set up with the intention of avoiding as much as possible narrow vocational categories. This year will mark the beginning of such sessions as "work with words", "work with people in social service", "work with people and books", and "work with people in groups."

Mary Campbell, job editor of Glamour magazine will moderate a student panel on "work with your BA or BS degree" which will consist of one student from five different departments in the school of Letters and Science. The panel will meet at 2:30 p. m. Monday in the Play Circle.

Judith Chemerow, English; Paula Stedman, psychology; Helen Schaars, economics; Mary Mills, sociology; and Louise Nelson, languages will be the student participants.

Prom Selects 18 Chairmen For Committees

Names of all committee chairmen for Junior Prom have been released by George Warrick, general chairman. The dance is to be held May 5.

Chairmen are: Dan Carter, executive assistant; Sally Schaefer, executive secretary; Jim Wiffin, publicity; Larry Ederlein, promotions; Ken Eickenbaum, assistant promotions; Jack Well, finance; John Sargent, decorations.

Rita Bittle, general secretary; Phil Ash, tickets; Barbara Miller, arrangements; Carol Doepke, coronation; Richard Reiley, grand march; Jan Kuehnemann, reception and receiving line.

Eloise Kramp, invitations; Nadine Schuster Shapiro, programs; Dick Bradshaw, banquet; Dick Martin, music; Joan Schutt, boxes.

Wednesday night the group held its first meeting to get suggestions for an orchestra and the general theme.

Junior Prom is one of the three big traditional dances held here yearly in addition to Homecoming ball and Military Ball. Last year 1,200 couples danced to the music of Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra.

Problems of Union Are Topic of Panel

The Union is a social and cultural center, as well as the center of the campus community. Don Ryan, president of the Union said last night on the weekly "Students Speak" WKOW radio panel.

Speakers on the panel were Judy Chemerow, president of the WSGA judicial council; Nancy Becker, secretary of the senior class; Roger Fritz, graduate student, and Ryan. The moderator was Ed Levine.

The panel brought out the service problems of the Union to the student, to the alumni and to visitors on campus. Frequently programs come to the campus which interest all groups and as a consequence students often suffer from lack of tickets.

The Union is governed by a council, made up largely of students. Approximately 500 students are also working on the Union committees.

What can I do with a BA degree after graduation? "Should I specialize in one particular field?" The Careers Conference will attempt to answer these and other questions in sessions which begin next Monday.

CLIFFORD G. FERRIS

Editor, Engineer To Talk at JOC

Two speakers will cover the field of communications at the 4th annual Job Opportunities conference Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Clifford G. Ferris, editor and general manager of the Rhinelander Daily News, will speak at the 9:55 journalism session Thursday.

The editor, who is also president of the Inland Daily Press association, will give a talk entitled "Employment Opportunities in the Daily Newspaper Field".

Students interested in the latest trends and opportunities of fast developing radio and television can hear Edward Jacker, chief engineer, station WAIT, Chicago, Illinois at 2:25 on Wednesday. Mr. Jacker is a licensed consulting engineer.

Whether engineering students are inducted into the armed forces, plan to continue in school, or go to work at some civilian job, JOC has something for them this year.

At 2:25 on Wednesday E. C. Koerner will speak on "Making the Most of Military Service Experience". Mr. Koerner is at present research consultant of the A. O. Smith Corp., Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He is a graduate of the University of California and has had wide experiences in industrial and military engineering.

The second engineering session will feature R. F. Christensen, vice president in charge of research and product development, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. His subject will be hiring in industry under present conditions. The conference is scheduled for 3:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The 3M Co. representative is a graduate of St. Mary's college, Winona, Minnesota. He worked with his company 8½ years as director of product control before taking over his current position.

JOC sessions start at 8:50 and continue thru 5:30 with an hour recess for lunch. All conferences will be held in the Memorial Union.

WMA To Seek Famed Speaker For Men's Night

General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, Vice-President Alben Barkley, Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, or Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois, are all under consideration as possible speakers for this year's Men's Night.

These four men were brought up for consideration last night at a meeting of the executive commission of the Wisconsin Men's association, sponsors of the annual affair. Last year, the WMA obtained Glenn McCarthy, fabulous Texas oilman, as the featured speaker.

Senate Gives Mrs. Laird OK As New Regent

The appointment of Mrs. Helen C. Laird, Marshfield, to the university board of regents was confirmed yesterday by the state senate.

Mrs. Laird will succeed Walter Hodgkins, Ashland, finishing out his term, which expires May 1, 1959. She is the first woman to be appointed to the board of regents in 15 years.

Mrs. Laird is secretary of the Connor Lumber and Land Co., Marshfield, and for the past 10 years has been president of the Marshfield library board. She has also served as president of the Marshfield school board.

A former law enacted in 1923 required that at least two of the board members be women, but this law expired in 1939, and no women have been appointed since. The last woman regent under the 1923 law was Mrs. Barbara Vergeront, Viroqua, whose term expired May 1, 1942.

Under a proposal introduced in the senate this week, one more woman would be appointed to the board of regents. The bill would increase the board from 9 to 15 members, adding three "dirt farmers" and three workers below the rank of foreman or supervisor, one of which would be a woman. The proposal was introduced by state senator Earl Leverich (R-Sparta).

'Differing Sexual Responses Cause Divorce' Kutchera

"Cruel and inhuman treatment is a phrase that covers up the real reason for 80 per cent of contemporary divorces," Father Alvin R. Kutchera said last night at a meeting of the Newman club.

"The reason covered up by this term is incompatibility of sexual response," Father Kutchera explained. "The lack of natural virtue, which includes learning to share and get along with others, is another factor constituting high divorce rates. A husband and wife must be one in mind, heart, and thought. They must learn to do things together."

"Marriage between a man and a woman is a natural union. It comes first and must be protected by the head and not the heart," went on Father Kutchera, warning against in-law interference.

Marriage is instituted to bring up children, to satisfy sex and passion desires as well as to provide love and friendship. The Catholic church looks upon marriage as a sacrament and a contract.

A contract could be broken, but the fact that the marriage contract is also a sacrament brings in the divinity, which makes it sacred and indissoluble.

"God belongs in marriage for He brought the two people together; He can keep them together," concluded Father Kutchera.

U.S. Column Pierces Red Lines To Lift 4-Day Siege of Chipyong

The siege of Chipyong was lifted yesterday when an American relief column broke through Communist lines north of Yaju and linked up with the French and American defenders of the town.

Wave after wave of Chinese attackers had assaulted the defense perimeter, without gaining an inch during the four days that the town was surrounded.

"Chipyong may turn out to be the spot at which the United Nations decided to make a stand in Korea," a spokesman for the defenders of the city announced. "If the whole front held like we are holding at Chipyong, we would soon take the sting out of the Communists."

The allied relief column jumped off Wednesday night, scattering a Chinese battalion in its fourteen mile drive to Chipyong.

Eighth army intelligence reported, though, that the Chinese were massing a 120,000 man army for a new attempt at a large scale breakthrough.

60,000 troops were poised west of

Board Splits On Wage Hikes

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The Federal Wage stabilization board split last night on the question of allowing wage increases for workers who have not had a pay boost since the beginning of the Korean war.

Public and industry members of the board were reported asking for a ceiling of about nine per cent on pay increases, but the labor members of the board reportedly were holding out for 12 per cent.

The U.P. said the labor members "may quit" the board if they're outvoted on the question.

In another price control action, the government yesterday took steps to avert a threatened meat famine on the eastern seaboard by ordering meat packers to go back to a regional price system instead of a single, nationwide price ceiling.

The packers were charged with using as their ceiling price, the highest price charged by any one of their branches.

This has made it possible for east coast packers to increase their prices — putting a squeeze on butchers, whose retail prices are frozen.

The American Meat institute said the order "will help clarify a situation which has been highly confusing."

Labor Government Wins Support Vote

LONDON — (U.P.) — The Conservative party's attempt to upset Britain's Labor government yesterday failed when the house of commons defeated a no confidence motion, 308-287.

The attempt was sparked by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who charged that the country could no longer tolerate the government's "inept and incompetent" re-armament efforts.

The Laborites' victory was the fourth in two weeks—and their margin of victory—21 votes—was the biggest of the four test votes—on government coal, meat, and steel policies.

Winchell Writes 4th Edition of Book

Alexander N. Winchell, emeritus professor of mineralogy and petrology, has written a new, fourth edition of part two of "Elements of Optical Mineralogy." The new book, written in collaboration with Dr. Horace Winchell of Yale university, was published in January by John Wiley & Sons.

A member of the faculty since 1908, Dr. Winchell is also the author of "Microscopic Characters of Artificial Inorganic Solid Substances or Artificial Minerals," and of the parts one and three of "Elements of Optical Mineralogy."

Wonju, and 30,000 on each side of Chipyong.

General Mac Arthur's headquarters announced that Chinese casualties for the last 22 days have totaled over 88,000. American casualties for the entire Korean war number 48,000.

In action yesterday, the American third division killed 148 communists for each loss it suffered.

Triple Troops In Europe, Aim Of Defense

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The defense department wants to send 100,000 more troops to Europe, tripling America's strength there, according to plans revealed by Defense Secretary George Marshall before two senate committees here yesterday.

Marshall stated that the figures would ordinarily be kept secret, but that he did not want Congress to debate the issue in an atmosphere of uncertainty.

Speaking before the Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees, he stated that he felt the U. S. would be in danger of invasion if Communist armies overran Europe.

He also said that he would like to see German soldiers in the western European army, "but only if they were willing" soldiers.

More Students In Foreign Exchange Tours

A total of 3,344 persons participated in the student exchange programs this year, according to Kenneth Holland, president of the Institute of International Education. This is an increase of 1,000 over 1949.

The Institute specializes in administering exchange programs and is an information center on educational facilities all over the world. Its aim is to supply the specific needs of countries for trained leaders in such fields as industry, labor, agriculture, religion, law, journalism, youth activities, and public administration.

Sixty-six foreign countries participated in the program and 2,601 foreign citizens came to the United States. Germany, Japan, Austria, and France had the greatest numbers. United States had 743 students abroad.

Thayer To Speak At Midwest Conv

Prof. Frank Thayer of the university School of Journalism will speak at the Midwest Conference of Associated Business Publications, Feb. 28, at the Drake hotel in Chicago.

Professor Thayer, who with Prof. Lester Hawkes teaches the UW course in business magazines and house publications, will describe what journalism schools can do to prepare personnel for business magazines.

Textile Workers Strike In East

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — New England textile workers struck at midnight last night, when last minute wage negotiations with the American Woolen company, the nation's largest textile firm, broke down.

CIO and management representatives met at noon in New York yesterday, but what was to have been a "round the clock" bargaining session broke up in complete disagreement after a few hours.

The union, representing 70,000 workers in 161 mills, is asking for a 15 cent hourly wage increase.

Remember the Winter of '51? In Wisconsin Who Could Forget!

If you did plenty of shivering during January — and who didn't? — and said "I can't remember when it's been this cold" — and who didn't? — you had good reason, 'cause it was one of the coldest Januaries in many a year. So say university meteorologists.

From November through January, snowfall totaled 46 inches, the most for that period since 1909-10, and with February's eight inches added, the winter total to date is 54 inches. This is more than that corded during any full winter season since 1928-29, and with the heavy March snows yet to come there is a good chance that Winter 1950-51 will set a new record snowfall, the UW scientists say. Goin' south?

DAILY CARDINAL—3

Dr. Ruth Wick To Be Speaker At Universal Day of Prayer Sun.

A former university counselor and educator will return to campus Sunday as speaker at the annual observance day of prayer for students to be held at Wesley foundation, 7:30 p. m.

The speaker will be Dr. Ruth Wick, vice-president of Carthage college, Carthage, Ill., and vice-president of the World Student Christian Federation which sponsors the day of prayer program.

Dr. Wick was formerly a counselor in the student activities office of the university. She obtained her Ph. D. in guidance from the university and also served on the faculty for a brief period. Prior to accepting her present position at Carthage college, Dr. Wick worked with the division of student service of the national Lutheran council.

Each year Christian students in 55 nations join together on this day to witness to their unity regardless of national, racial, and confessional differences. In the United States, 14 national student movements of the major churches and the YMCA and YWCA will participate in the day of prayer through the United Student Christian council. Services of worship and study programs will characterize the cooperative efforts in universities and colleges across the nation.

The World Student Christian Federation, founded in 1895 under the leadership of John R. Mott, brings together Christians of most Protestants and Orthodox churches in 55 nations.

A tea will be held Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at St. Francis student house, for the officers of the sponsoring student centers. The centers are: Baptist student center, Lutheran Student association, Presbyterian student center, St. Francis, United Student Fellowship, Wesley foundation, YMCA, and YWCA.

The student groups will meet for supper at their respective centers and join in one group for the speech at Wesley at 7:30 p. m.

Plan Internat'l Club Cupid Capers Fri., Speakers Sunday

The International club has planned two features for this weekend, a dance tonight and a program of speakers on Sunday.

A large heart flanked by two cupids will greet students attending the Valentine dance tonight. The dance, "cupid's capers," will provide, at no charge, an evening of music and special entertainment.

In keeping with the holiday, Tripp Commons will be given a new look by the decorations committee. Martin Begun will act as master of ceremonies. The dance will be from 9 to 12 p. m. midnight.

Committees and chairmen for cupid's capers are: Marjorie Alter, Pat Canter, Nancy Woods, decorations; Joanne Reilly, Arlene Kagan, posters; Helen Coxe, entertainment; Mickey Bissinger, invitations; Phyllis Gelman, Bonnie Berman, music.

The Arab countries will be spotlighted at the friendship hour this Sunday. Ichiro Fujita, the club's new chairman, has arranged to have four student speakers from the Arab nations give an account of the Arab world.

Mohammad Abbas of the Amman Hashimite kingdom, A. M. Negoum of Egypt, Clement Nouri of Iraq, and Talha Yaffi of Lebanon will each cover his native field. A discussion period will follow the talks.

The affair is from 8 to 10 p. m. in the Reception room of the Union and will feature refreshments.

DR. RUTH WICK

Newman Club To Hold Talk

Sister Mary Nona O. P., president of Edgewood college, will speak on "Education, its Aims and Areas" on Sunday, 7:30 p. m., at Newman commons. Her lecture, and the discussion, are open to all students.

A Dominican nun, Sister Nona received her Ph.D. in education at the Catholic university, Washington, D. C. where she taught courses in education prior to her appointment as president of Edgewood last fall.

At the Catholic university she was also curriculum consultant for the commission on American citizenship.

Set Vocal Recital For February 28

Irma Reynolds, contralto, a senior at the University of Wisconsin School of Music, is presenting a recital in Music hall, February 28 at 8:15 p. m. The recital is open to the public.

During her four years at the university she has been a member of the University chorus, University orchestra, and the A Cappella choir and has been active in Sigma Alpha Iota as well as the Pan Hellenic council. She has held positions in the Presbyterian student center and has been a soloist in their choir.

Her concert appearances include Sigma Alpha Iota public programs, various church programs, the A Cappella choir on tour, and in both the Bach B Minor Mass and the Bach Magnificat.

Movietime

British Officer Interested in 'Art'

The portrait of a beautiful blonde provides the theme for the film coming to Movietime in the Union Play Circle this weekend, "Girl in the Painting," a British suspense film with Mai Zetterling and Guy Rolfe.

In the story, an army officer attends an art exhibition in war-time England and falls in love with the "girl in the painting." This leads him to search for her throughout the D. P. camps of Europe.

The box office is open from 12 noon 'til 10 p. m., and prices are 30 cents 'til 6 p. m. and 40 cents after. A student fee card is necessary for admission.

Weekend Social Schedule

To Feature Open Houses, Sleigh Rides

Social events are predominantly open houses this weekend. Taking advantage of the winter weather, some groups have planned sleigh riding parties.

At Luedke house a party is planned to celebrate Valentine's day. Red hearts and huge valentines will decorate Jones basement and entertainment will center around a ukulele duet.

Also in the Valentine theme is the Cochrane house party tonight. The house will be decorated in the hearts and romantic verse theme. Punch and sandwiches are on the menu.

Open houses are planned by Lincoln Lodge, Victoria house, Lake Lawn house, Langdon Manor, and Georgian house.

Sigma Kappa girls and guests are leaving from the Nob Hill ranch on a sleigh ride tonight. Later the party will travel to the Sigma Kappa house for singing, dancing and a marshmallow roast in front of the fireplace.

The men from Lambda Chi Alpha and their guests are also braving the cold tonight for a sleigh ride. The group is traveling by bus to the starting place and then back to the house after the ride for dancing and singing.

Tower View house, Villa Maria, Dover house and Shoreland house also have open houses on their party schedule for tonight.

Swenson house men have adopted their hopes into a party theme, "Winter Thaw." The informal party is tomorrow night in the Pine room, which will be decorated with a melting glacier and road signs. Games are planned in addition to dancing.

Tomorrow night the Chi Phi men and their guests will be partying at a plaid shirt dance at the house. The Sigma Phis are bringing their dates to the house after the game for an informal party. There will be a skit and some musical numbers.

An informal supper will start the evening for the Sigma Nu's and their guests tomorrow night. There will be dancing later to a "Basin street" theme, featuring a Dixieland jazz combo.

At Mack house tomorrow night the men and their guests will be entertained at the informal party by skits from "Call Me Mister". Ken Reddin will also do impersonations.

On Sunday Hoofer's are having a tobogganing party followed by supper later. A sign-up sheet is posted in Hoofer quarters.

Cardinal Comments About Legislators And Skyrockets

To Student Board:

AT YOUR TUESDAY night meeting, you paved the way for the 1951 Legislators' day—a program designed to acquaint state legislative officials with university problems.

We're glad that you didn't let your poor financial standing cut off this direct way of letting the boys on capitol hill find out for themselves what's going on on Bascom hill.

Legislator's day is a terrific idea, Badger lawmakers will tramp up and down Bascom hill and give the campus a legislative once-over as students play host for the program.

WE NOTICED AT your Tuesday meeting that you had a deep concern over the finances for the event. We hope you remember that during the last session, students and organized units kicked in $489 to pay for the affair.

You were seriously considering dropping the legislator's dinner due to lack of funds—which seems to be curtailing a lot of events these days. Before you scrap the idea of feeding the lawmakers, the Cardinal wishes you'd seriously consider parcelling the lawmakers out to the various living units. We're sure that students at Liz Waters, Chadbourne, the Men's halls, the various sororities and fraternities would gladly play host to a small group of senators and assemblymen.

We also hope that you carefully select a date. Make sure the majority of the lawmakers can take time off from their official duties. Then drive for an all-student effort to make Legislators' day—1951 a success.

To the Students:

YESTERDAY, the Cardinal returned to its columns one of its traditional tid-bit columns—Skyrockets. For over two years, Skyrockets has been out of print—but it's back now to bring students the lighter life on campus.

In the old days—about 25 years ago—Skyrockets was the thing on campus. Students of the roaring 20's used to pick up the Cardinal each day to see who was doing what with whom, why, and what was the latest wise-crack on campus.

A Cardinal survey last spring showed that students had missed these light side-shots on campus life. Now, Skyrockets is back. But it must live on your support. No one can bring that Skyrocket touch that thrilled hundreds of Badgers regularly back alone. So send in your contributions. We need them—and you'll like reading them.

LIKES OUR KIRK COVERAGE

To the Cardinal:

It was with great pleasure and satisfaction that I read your article of February 7th, concerning Dr. Grayson Kirk's speech at the Founders Day Dinner. I have seen the text delivered by Dr. Kirk and have also seen how the Wisconsin State Journal and Capital Times completely disregarded the theme of his speech in order to present newspaper selling banner headlines.

It is shameful to see how sensationalism has replaced truthful reporting, in order to sell the most possible papers. Therefore the Cardinal's reporting of this important speech with emphasis on what was actually accented by the speaker is heartening and illustrates an understanding of what the press owes to the public.

For as Dr. Kirk said, "It is a proper function for our universities to point out the probable consequences of each course of action", and this is a point which can not be too strongly emphasized at the present critical period. With the McCarthys ranting and raving, it is a duty of the university or any enlightened body to make itself heard against the blur of confusion, power politics and lack of planning.

Thus when the Cardinal reports what is actually said, acclaim is due. Let the papers with greater circulation learn a lesson in sincere and accurate reporting. It seems to me that sensationalism should be left to Louella Parsons.

—Tilden Edelstein

WE'RE SORRY

To the Cardinal:

For four years, I've been a loyal subscriber to the Cardinal. I've often been sore as heck at you for some of your crackpot editorials, but I've always felt that there can't be uniformity of thought of the policy of a paper. So I'm willing to let that pass.

But there's two things I can't take much longer. The first is the lousy distribution of the papers. Once in a while, I get it late; once in a while I don't get it at all; and once in a while I do get it—but that seems sheer luck.

The other gripe can be represented by a small story in Wednesday's Cardinal when an article made no sense with its headline. Let's shape, Cardinal.

Plan Better Parties By Swapping Ideas

By Leah Cohen

WANT BETTER PARTIES? Who doesn't? Better parties are one of the chief purposes of the all-campus social activities committee formed last semester by WSGA and WMA. The committee is composed of people who represent all campus groups: dorms, Greeks, independents, professional and religious organizations.

The keynote of the committee is co-ordination leading to inter-change of ideas. The organizational set-up, as explained above, leads directly to this co-ordination between these various student segments on campus.

Last November the committee sponsored a general meeting for the 225 social chairmen on campus. Featured speakers familiarized these students with the extensive plans of the committee. From that time and throughout the balance of the fall semester the committee spent most of its time carefully formulating these plans.

HOW DOES THE social activities committee help bring about better parties? Party workshops, to be held Feb. 27 and 28 are directed at bringing the social chairmen together again, this time in smaller groups, to exchange viewpoints, experiences, and ideas on parties. Students, alumni, and faculty leaders will conduct these sessions.

Along with these workshops will be informal discussions on social conduct on Feb. 27 and March 1. At these, experienced people will offer their advice on what to do and what to say in social gatherings.

Harvard Bounces Athletic Director For 'Amateurism'

WHEN WILLIAM J. BINGHAM took office as Harvard's first athletic director, Harvard's varsity football team was one of the country's most respected. Because this proud boast cannot be made today, as Mr. Bingham prepares to retire from his post, many would term his career as athletic director a failure.

We believe, however, that a college's athletic program is not properly judged by the won and lost record of its varsity football team. And we believe that when proper criteria are used, Mr. Bingham will be seen to have made tremendous contributions to inter-collegiate sports in general, and to Harvard athletics in particular.

Mr. Bingham always felt that athletic problems should be viewed as problems in education, that a college's athletic program was part of its educational program. To him, sports existed not for gate receipts, but to aid in the education of the student. Thus it was that Mr. Bingham established Harvard's vast intra-mural program, with its emphasis on "athletics for all."

MR. BINGHAM'S uncompromising stand in favor of amateurism also stemmed from this belief that college athletics exist to fill an educational function. If athletics exist to educate the participating student, he felt, then colleges should let the students play, instead of fielding a professional team whose sole function was to make money.

Much of the vituperation that Mr. Bingham had heaped on him during his years as athletic director was because of this belief in amateurism. Alumni, subway and genuine students, columnists, and colleges choosing the path of professionalism, all were blinded by football won and lost records and football gate receipts.

Their insights into the role of college athletics went no further than the crowds in the stadiums Saturdays and the spectacle on the gridirons below. Mr. Bingham's insights went deeper, and he struggled, often almost alone, to preserve college athletics for the college student. The price he paid for voicing his convictions was violent abuse, but he never yielded in his battle for amateurism.

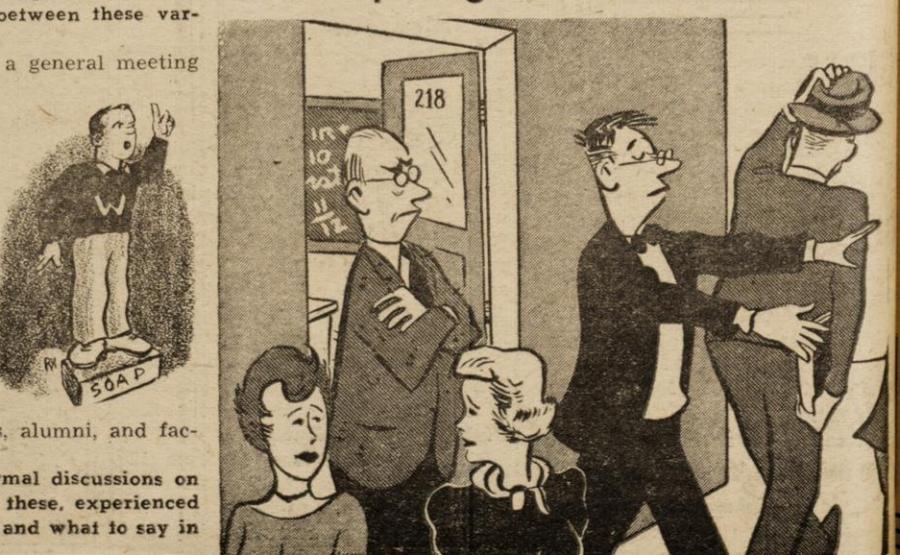

THE CRIMSON has not always agreed with all of Mr. Bingham's policies as athletic director, and it voiced its criticisms when it felt he was wrong. But we believe that Mr. Bingham was right in his fundamental concept: that athletics exist in a college as part of a student's education.

We trust that his resignation does not mean a change in the University's policy as to the role of college athletics. And, finally, we pay tribute to Mr. Bingham for all his contributions at Harvard.

—THE HARVARD CRIMSON

Winding up its week of activity the committee is throwing a model party Saturday afternoon, March 3. The social chairmen from the entire campus, who are responsible for the 60 parties given per week at the university, will be invited. Here all the ideas exchanged and accepted during the workshop periods will be crystallized.

Burkart Appointed Northlight Editor

Carl Burkart, senior in journalism from Sheboygan, has been appointed editor of NORTHLIGHT, according to announcement made last night by the Newman Publishing Corporation, publisher of the campus Catholic newspaper. Burkart succeeds Ken Virch who recently resigned.

DAILY CARDINAL—5
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1951

Assisting Burkart as associate editors are Robert Heming and Kenneth Germanson, both seniors in journalism.

Burkart announced that the staff will publish six issues of NORTHLIGHT this semester. He said that semimonthly publication is made possible by a recent subsidy which the paper received from the Knights of Columbus. The Wisconsin branch of the Knights recently appropriated $3000 for publication of NORTHLIGHT, which is distributed to all Catholic students on the campus.

At the general meeting of the Newman Publishing Corporation last night, three new members of the board of directors also were elected. They are John Kutish, Madison, James Brennan, Hazleton, Pa., and Jack Elwood, Bridgeport, Conn. Robert L. San Soucie, Adams, Mass., is president of the board.

Bergman Loses As O'Donahue Scores 13 Points

BY BUD LEA

The Pseudopodians were crowned kings of the Independent basketball leagues last night.

Pat O'Donahue netted 13 points to lead the Pseudos to a 36-33 win over Bergman house in the championship playoff game at the Armory gym last night.

Behind 6-3 at the end of the first quarter, the winners began to connect in the second stanza to go ahead at half time, 16-13.

O'Donahue's scoring spree exploded in the third frame, when he pumped in 12 straight points to put the unbeaten Pseudos to a 31-22 lead. Ted Baumgarten then scored on a free throw and Stan Krysa added a tip-in to put the Bergman squad within striking distance 31-25.

Bergman made a strong bid in the final quarter when Dick Huxtable made a free throw and added a basket. Ahead only 31-28, the Pseudos put on their familiar stall.

Bergman crept to a 33-32 lead with two minutes remaining. But in the wild closing seconds, the Pseudos intercepted two costly Bergman passes and scored on drives to win.

Clark Wins In Billiard Meet

The new university pocket billiard champion is Forrest Clark, a junior from Stevens Point. In the final round of the tournament, sponsored by the Union Games Committee, Clark defeated Jim Webster 30-26, 30-24, and 30-10. This tournament was the first of a series of four billiard tournaments, the remaining three to be run the beginning of this semester.

Card Fencers Try For Second Win Against Ohio State

The fencing team tries for its second victory of the season when it meets Ohio State at Columbus, Saturday. Coach Masley named a squad of nine to make the trip.

In last year's meeting, the Badgers beat the Buckeyes 16½ to 10½.

In the foils, Bill Cartwright, veteran who won his three matches last year, Bob Brown and Walter Ebling, were chosen by Masley. Wisconsin won this class 8-1 in last year's match with the Bucks.

Art Leipold, who has won seven of his last eight bouts, Lester Soyka and Bob Sears are competing in the epee division. Soyka won, tied, and lost in his three bouts with Ohio last year. State took this class 5½-3½.

Co-captains John Casida and Ken Wilkinson and sophomore Roger Hirsch complete the squad in the saber class. Wilkinson dropped his three bouts last year while Casida won his three.

It's Just Routine For Card Gymnasts

"Wisconsin's gymnasts can beat Chicago in Saturday's meet if they hit their routines," says coach Dean Mory.

The triangular meet has as its third entrant Michigan State, who is favored to beat both the Badgers and Chicago.

Although the meet is a triangular affair, scoring will be figured on a dual meet basis. Wisconsin, defeated in two meets, will be out for its first victory.

All students may see Saturday's meet without charge, which is scheduled to start at 2:15. Bleachers will be set up to accommodate the crowd as in the past two meets.

(Note: This is the sixth in a head man in Hawkeye basketball this season after a nine year lay-off. Previously, he had coached the Hawks from 1929 to 1942. He was a nine-letterman at Wisconsin in the years 1920-1923.

With the return of Williams and a nucleus of stars, sports experts designated Iowa as the team to beat in the current Western Conference race.

But the Hawks performance, at best, could only be described as mediocre. They have won four Big Ten games while losing five. Victories came over Purdue, Michigan State, Minnesota, and Ohio State. The Hawks have been beaten by Illinois twice, Northwestern twice, and Indiana.

Forfeits Allow Ray Zale to Fight; Murphy Faces Thomas In Feature

By DICK SNOW
Cardinal Sports Editor

Although the fights aren't scheduled until 8 p. m. tonight at the fieldhouse, the Wisconsin Badger boxing team has taken an early 2-0 lead over Gonzaga of Spokane, Washington.

Gonzaga has forfeited two matches—at 175 and heavyweight, which means that Gerry Meath and Bob Ranck will take it easy.

However, boxing fans won't be disappointed 'cause Coach John Walsh and Joey August, Gonzaga coach have gotten together and scheduled an exhibition bout with the sensational Badger freshman Ray Zale meeting Gonzaga freshman Tom Keys at 165 lbs.

Plus the fact that the Eli Thomas-Dick Murphy regular 165 lb. fight has been moved back to the win-up spot will make the bouts even more interesting. Thomas won the NCAA 155 lb. title last year when leading Gonzaga to a tie for the NCAA team championship. Murphy is captain of the Wisconsin team and is moving out of his weight to meet the former.

At 125 lbs. Gene Diamond starts off for Wisconsin against Gordon Simanton, Gonzaga. The "little" Badger won the All-University title last week.

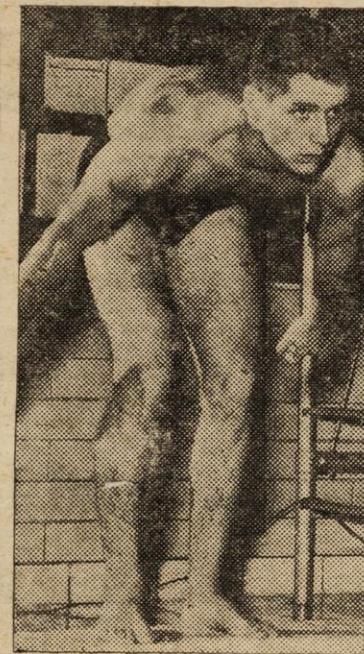

Walsh says that Jim Reilly, Gonzaga 135 pounder, is "a good one" and will give Les Paul a "rough time." Paul lost out in the All-University finals last week to Miyagawa.

At 130 pounds, Tommy Zamm, All-University's "fightin'est fighter," will face Arlen Gallagher, Gonzaga.

Although bothered by a shoulder, Dick Thompson will meet Hal Poole of Gonzaga at 145 until Walsh decides at the last minute to substitute Bob Revenaugh.

"It's a screwy season," Walsh says Wednesday at the training quad. "Usually our heavier weights filled up, but this year with opponents asking for exhibition bouts, we have too many lighter weights. You don't know from Monday to Monday who'll fight at what of the lighter spots. Neverthe less these fights Friday night should be good."

JIM ERKERT, Northwestern sprint free-styler, will be a tough nut for the Badgers to crack. He placed in the Big Ten meet in both the 50 and 100 yard free style last year.

The visitors have five returning lettermen, led by Junior Jim Erkert, who placed in both the 50 and 100 yard free style event in the Big Ten championships last season, and finished second in the 50 yard swim in the NCAA meet. His best time for the 50 last year was :52.8.

Northwestern has already met four conference foes but face Iowa and Illinois before closing the 1951 books.

Senior John Nikolich is another top Wildcat entry (in the breaststroke) holding the school's 2:24.7 record.

The meet will begin at 2:30—and women WILL be admitted to the match.

Indiana 'One of 2 Top Teams In Big 10'—Best; 31-Man Squad Named to Compete for Cards

BY BILL GIBB

Track coach Riley Best tabbed Indiana as "one of the two top teams in the Big Ten" yesterday and then went on to name a squad of 31 men who will try to disprove this statement in the season's opening home meet scheduled for the armory annex Saturday afternoon.

Coach Best will stick with virtually the same squad that wallop Minnesota last weekend except that he plans to use half miler Don Soe as lead off man in the mile relay.

Along with Soe, LeRoy Collins, Dick Carlson and Phil Ashby will make up the relay team with Collins and Carlson slated to enter the quarter mile also.

Don Firchow and Dick Lione will attempt to upset Indiana's Jack Hagan in the mile race. Hagan registered a 4:19 mile in the Hoosier's opening with Illinois.

Jim Urquhart, Walter Deike and Tom Ward will again enter the two mile where they will have to deal with Bob Dellinger who has a 9:32 time to his credit this season.

Best has narrowed the half-mile field down to Sam Greenlee and Wally Mars while Roy Burks and Ellis Allds will represent the Badgers in the 40 yard dash.

Charles Starr will join Bob Hoffman and Bob Johnson in the low hurdles and Loid Atkinson and Tom Friesch are scheduled to run high hurdles.

Capt. Ted Bleckwenn will meet Ken and Farnsley Peters in an attempt to whip Indiana's Clifferson, Big Ten champion, in the shot put.

Dick Kellman, Friesch and Altenbern are entered in the high jump while Johnson, Art Ziegler and possible Altenbern will be in the broad jump.

Jerry Pickell, Dick Von Tamm and Rollie McGinnis, pole vaulters, will have their hands full as they square off against Ed Bales of Indiana who has jumped six inches once this season.

Hawkeyes Have Been Major 'Disappointment' in Big Ten Race

BOB CLIFTON
... Iowa Guard

Darling at center and Bob Clifton and Herald Greene in the court.

This team is the tallest in the Big Ten. Darling is 6-8, Calsbeek, Thompson, 6-4, Clifton, 6-4, Greene, 6. The overall average is 6-4½.

Calsbeek, the team captain, and Darling are among the top scorers in the league. A year ago Calsbeek made 175 points, Thompson, 140; Clifton, 116; and Greene, 100.

One weakness in the Hawkeyes this year has been an inability to hold the opponents scoring. Good defenses against Illinois and Northwestern might have changed the results of those contests.

A Williams-coached team has never beaten a Wisconsin team in the Badger field house.

Former Latvian Guest On Radio

A young university student whose land has been swallowed up by the Russians — Miss Skaidrite Rubene from Latvia — is intermission guest on the UW Show to be broadcast this week over 72 radio stations in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

A graduate student in French at the University. Miss Rubene will explain how she chose the UW as her scholastic home.

Musical feature of the program will be the UW band, directed by Prof. Ray Dvorak, playing a march paraphrase by Harry Alfred, based on the andantino "Starlight," by Le Mare; Homer La Gasse's tone painting "Sequoia;" and a march by Milwaukee composer Norman Brahmstedt, "The Men In Grey."

50 'U' Graduates Pass CPA Exams

Of 85 successful candidates for CPA certificates recently examined by the State Board of Accountancy, 50 were UW School of Commerce graduates, Fayette H. Elwell, dean of the school, announced today.

This was the highest percentage of UW graduates among successful candidates in the history of the examinations, Elwell said. The candidates will be granted CPA certificates when they have acquired sufficient experience, as required by statute.

A total of 369 candidates sat for the examination, given recently in Milwaukee and Madison. The standard examination is prepared by the American Institute of Accountancy.

Hawkes Appointed To Editors Council

Prof. Lester Hawkes of the university School of Industrial Journalism has been appointed to two committees of the International Council of Industrial Editors.

Hawkes will sit with the educational committee, which will seek to stabilize courses of study in colleges and universities, and the committee on ethics, which will draw up a code for use in all schools of journalism.

Prof. Clement Trout of Oklahoma A & M is chairman of the executive committee of the council, which appointed Hawkes.

To Participate In Tournament

University Forensics Union will participate in the annual Eau Claire Forensics tournament Feb. 16 and 17. The university team will be the defending champions in the discussion division, having won the trophy in that division last year.

Three teams will represent the university in the debate division. Ellsworth Kalas, Watertown, will team up with George Shapiro, a junior from Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Robert Hayes, senior from Chetek, and Dick Larson, junior from West Bend will work together. The other team includes Frieda Briskin, junior from Port Washington, and Julie Crane, freshman from Chippewa Falls. All the debaters except Kalas will also participate in a discussion contest.

Kalas, president of the Forensics Union, and winner of the Adams Forensics scholarship, will compete in debate, oratory, extempore speaking, and after dinner speaking.

The teams will be accompanied by Winston L. Brembeck, director of debate, and John Ellery, assistant debate coach.

At a special meeting Feb. 13 new members were voted into the Forensics Union. They are: James Norris, Wausau; Thomas Shannon, Milwaukee; Robert Dustrude, Beloit; Vernon Brandt, Eau Claire; Arvid Sather, New Richmond; and Robert Bruder, Portage.
