INTRODUCTORY

This institution was established for the purpose of introducing marriageable people of every age, nationality, rank, religion and circumstances, residing in every part of the country. Ladies or gentlemen with matrimonial inclinations, residing in localities where there is little society or opportunity for becoming acquainted with congenial parties, can, through this medium, be introduced to innumerable eligible marriage candidates.

The Standard Correspondence Club is an old and dependable institution and has rendered efficient, dependable, confidential service for more than forty years. Its utility as a means of bringing together those seeking a matrimonial alliance has been gradually demonstrated and it is recognized as a legitimate and useful social factor. Its object is to arouse by honorable efforts those who are wasting their time and energies through indifference to life's prizes. I trust that many may derive from my teachings inspirations which will serve to make real their hopes of success and happiness.

I am in correspondence with marriageable ladies and gentlemen of every age and rank, rich and poor, in every part of America, and as we are constantly advertising and adding new correspondents every day, we can feel reasonably confident of introducing anyone to a suitable partner.

No matter how particular you are, I feel confident in placing you in correspondence with ladies suited to your tastes and aspirations. To accomplish this for you requires experience and innumerable lady correspondents to select from, and patient, conscientious work in your interests. The necessary experience has been gained in many years' work in this chosen field; my selections will be made from several thousand descriptions and photographs of ladies residing in practically every part of America, and I promise to give each case as much time and attention as it calls for.

If you have been unsuccessful in your efforts of contacting ladies who would interest you as a life companion, try this plan and see if your luck doesn't change.

My work and records are so systematized that I am able to place patrons in correspondence with suitable ladies with such rapidity and precision that I invariably surprise gentlemen not familiar with my method. Have you been unsuccessful in your search for a companion so far? Try this plan and see if your luck doesn't change. I do not promise to marry you off. You must attend to that part of the business yourself, but I DO promise to place you in correspondence with ladies of your choice.

Fill in the application blank and send me a complete description of yourself. Tell me your object in wishing to correspond and in what part of the United States you would like your correspondents to be located. Also give me a description of your ideal woman, and I will spare no pains to find her for you.

Upon receipt of your registration fee, the names and addresses of all the ladies whose descriptions appear in this paper will be rushed to you at once in plain, sealed envelope, with introductions and certificate of service that will entitle you to this paper with names and addresses and introductions the first of each month on request (also a generous list of ladies to suit any description you may desire who have requested gentlemen correspondence since this paper went to press), during the life of your certificate for 10 cents to cover cost of printing, clerical hire, postage and the return of certificate for future use.

When you register with me, my services belong to you. I immediately start working for you. I will make selections for you, being governed by your instructions and introduce you to such ladies whom I believe would interest you and request them to write you under my recommendation;—in fact I do all that is within my ability to find the ideal life companion for each individual in the shortest time possible. I believe that you will get a thrill from receiving those pally letters and a marriage should be consummated. EMPLOY THE TRAINED SERVICES OF A MAN WHO MAKES A LIFE STUDY OF THAT ONE THING. YOU MUST BE SATISFIED OR YOUR MONEY WILL BE REFUNDED.

MY TERMS

FIVE DOLLARS will entitle you to all the privileges and benefits until Cupid ties the knot, and is explained in detail on page four.

THREE DOLLARS will entitle you to all the privileges and benefits for ONE YEAR.

For the above sum my services are yours in securing a suitable correspondent. I know of no other institution in the world that gives you more high-class service or works more faithfully for your interest, even though you paid them a much higher fee.

The registration fee is as low as I can make it and give you this high class service. I have been in this business for more than a third of a century, and think that my past record speaks for my ability in this field. The safest way to remit is by post-office money order. Send money as you think best, but do not send stamps.

In conclusion, dear reader, whether you do business with me or not, accept my advice as a friend and marry. You do not know what it is to live alone, uncared for, unknown, when old age overtakes you; solitude fills one with horrible agony. Solitude at home by the fireside at night is so profound, so sad. The silence of the room in which one dwells alone, is not alone silence of the body, but silence about the soul, with neither father or mother, sister or brother, wife or children—nothing but a wasted past to look back upon; nothing but a lonely, painful deathbed and an unwept and unhonored grave in the future. When one is old it is well to have a loving companion and to have children, and to live so that when in the evening of life the light of heaven streams down through the gathering mists of death, you may have a peaceful and joyous entrance into that world of blessedness, where the great riddle of life, whose meaning you can only guess at here below, will be unfolded to you in the peaceful and joyful land. Yours truly,

STANDARD CORRESPONDENCE CLUB,

J. W. Schlosser, Owner

57620. Mass. I am just a nice plain home loving Christian girl, reared and educated in a Christian community and have a happy home, but my heart yearns for new friends. To Our Correspondents

The Standard Correspondence Club was established in January 1899, by J. W. Schlosser. Over 40 years in business is all the reference needed as to its reliability. Countless people have been made happy by marriage through this medium.

It stands alone on its own merits. It has no connection with any other matrimonial paper or agency. There is reason to believe that a suitable marriage will take place in the near future if you patronize it.

The Standard Correspondence Club is published on or about the first of each month. The names and addresses of any or all ladies' descriptions in this paper will be sent only to registered members upon receipt of certificate of service and 10 cents to cover cost of postage, printing and clerical expense.

Gentlemen desiring introductions will not be introduced to any one of our ladies until they first become registered with me.

All personals appearing in this paper are prepared from descriptions and information contained in the application blanks. The originals are on file in my office where they can be seen by interested parties at any time. The information given with reference to the financial standing, character, education, etc., of each person listed with me or appearing herein is based, in each instance, on the information and representations included in the application and letter, accompanying the same. The statements made are my interpretation of the facts as given to me by such applicant. I have not made any investigation, personally or otherwise for the purpose of ascertaining the truthfulness or correctness of these facts, however I believe them to be in good faith. I make a sincere effort to deal only with honest and reliable persons, and assume that the statements made by them are true.

I take more than a passing pride in our Institution; I take a deep and lasting interest in bringing happiness to others through the service I am in a position to render. Forty years! Is not that positive proof that this Institution is not a "fly-by-night" concern? Forty years of satisfactory service, which is attested to by thousands of satisfied clients, which is your guarantee.

I have published the Standard Correspondence Club for 40 years, and during that time have conducted my business practically at the same address. I am not here today and somewhere else tomorrow. The honesty of my business has never been questioned.

Beware of those who copy my literature and seek to do business on the reputation which I have gained in the 40 years of honest service in the matrimonial field. The foundation of every permanent business success is honesty and fair treatment of the patron. Upon this sound business principle the Standard Correspondence Club has stood for more than 40 years and has developed into one of the greatest institutions of this kind in the world, due to its steadfast policy of giving honest and satisfactory work.

Distance is no barrier to our clients, and all are entitled to full privileges, and as many introductions to our lady clients as may be desired, during the life of their service certificates. Hard, indeed, to please is the man who is unable to find through the advantage of my introductory service, a helpmate of charm and grace.

Ladies by the score write me daily who like yourself are lonely and want gentlemen correspondents, many of them inform me they have means and property in various amounts. Among them there may be the one woman who will fulfill all your ideals of a life companion, and bring peace and happiness into your life. Why not let me present your claim to them?

In my mail each day I receive letters from country girls, shy and sweet; from vivacious and pretty maidens; from handsome and attractive widows—all of whom want to find their ideal so that they may consummate a happy marriage. Some of these ladies inform me they are well-to-do, while all possess charms that will appeal to the right man.

Women in affluent circumstances are not usually seeking an increase in wealth in marriage. If lady correspondents who inform me they have plenty of means for two and who seek a life companion of true worth and not for means.

It is a well known fact that there are many ladies who are blessed with such of the comforts and luxury that money can buy, and to whom there comes a time when their thoughts are turned to the highest and noblest that can rise in woman—the desire to marry and settle down in life and become the mistress of a home and the mother of children—but are deprived of the opportunity because they live where there is little or no society, and are at a loss to find a suitable companion.

Do not think because you are not wealthy yourself that you cannot marry a lady of good social standing.

Many of these ladies inform me they have ample means; they advise me they want a good husband for the sake of companionship. Then too some ladies desire their husband to handle the many business details incident to the ownership of farms, real estate of other kinds, stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc.

Wealthy persons do not always, nor even most frequently demand wealth in return from those whom they marry. In fact, it is comparatively seldom that there is wealth on both sides. Position, education, family, good appearance, honesty and ability—any or all of these enable the possessor to aspire with confidence to the hand and heart of the most wealthy. The great opportunities of life are thus before every one of us. But it is also necessary that each one do his share. Fortune favors the enterprising.

Man is by nature a social being, hence the curse of loneliness. Everywhere throughout the country there are thousands of persons who crave for the mere sense of companionship, and crave in vain. There are many who feel themselves alone, and they scarce can tell the reason why. There is many a lonely heart in the midst of family, friends and wealth, yet there seems not to be one congenial spirit. Henceforth you need not be lonely, for hundreds are awaiting your fellowship.

An unmarried man is a lonely wanderer on the face of the earth—with no home ties, no one to care when he is spent and ill, no one to rejoice in his good fortunes. Achievements without the plaudits of a good woman are indeed hollow which, however, it may be stifled and starved, never dies.

No matter what your position in life may be, there will be a tide in your affairs which, if taken at its flood, leads to fortune. You must be ready to accept the chance. While you are hesitating and deliberating the occasion goes by, never to return again. Cultivate as far as possible the spirit of enterprise, for on that to a great degree depends your success or failure.

It is my intention to accept only those whose intentions are serious and who are honorable in all things. To such people only do I offer my services.

To you gentlemen I recommend the Standard Correspondence Club as a means of securing the fullest extent of future happiness. It will place you in correspondence with as many ladies as you wish and at all times during the life of your certificate and use my efforts and the resources at my disposition to assist you in every honorable way. If you are in earnest you should soon find a suitable helpmate, and a marriage should take place within a reasonably short time.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
J. W. SCHLOSSER,
Owner and Publisher.

SPECIAL $5.00 SERVICE

ARE YOU LONELY? In order to prove to every worthy unmarried man that I am anxious to help him find a congenial life companion and to assist him in finding the one girl that will make his life happy, I will make you a plain, straight forward, business proposition. FILL OUT THE BLANK BELOW. Send me a complete description of yourself and a description of the kind of lady you would like for a lifemate and $5.00 for my services until Cupid ties the knot.

I will arrange your description in just as good shape as I honestly can considering the information I have to work with in order to word it so that it will interest the kind of a lady you would like to meet and set forth your good qualities in the highest terms.

I will mail your description in plain sealed envelope to about two thousand ladies who have requested me to find them congenial mates. Many of them inform me that they are worth from $1,000 to $50,000 and up. I will request the different ladies to whom I mail your description to write you if your description interests them and then you can choose who suits you best.

If you accept this proposition you can, if you prefer, have all the letters come in my care and I will forward them to you in plain, sealed envelope, your name or address will not appear, your description will be known by number only; this makes all business transactions confidential and no one can find out your real name and address until you see fit to tell them yourself.

In this department advice is given freely on all matters of importance; if you wish I will also make selections for you from such ladies you would like to meet and write them in your behalf free of charge; in fact, I do all within my ability to find the Ideal life companion for each individual in the shortest possible time, thus affording you an opportunity of bringing happiness and contentment in your life.

BEAR IN MIND, I GIVE THIS SERVICE WITHOUT ANY EXTRA CHARGES.

In making selections for you these selections are made from ladies who do not want their descriptions printed, but request me to introduce them to suitable gentlemen in a confidential manner. I will select with care and will be governed by your instructions. This will give you the benefit of my confidential service. In many instances within a short time members select suitable correspondents and are planning their future together.

I have the enrollment of several thousand lady correspondents who are seeking life mates (many of them inform me they are wealthy) and with my assistance you should find the one woman who will make your life happy.

Somewhere there is your ideal mate. I wish to help you to find her. I am, perhaps, responsible for more Happy Marriages than any ten Clubs or Matrimony Agencies in existence today. Through my assistance you will correspond with many nice ladies. What gentleman would not like to do this, and of course wed some kind and loving lady who will make your life happier and better, perhaps a wealthy one. I am sure I can please you.

I want to impress upon you that I am giving this part of the work my best careful attention and that I spare neither money, time nor hard work to make this plan a grand success for every person who takes up this proposition.

If it were possible for you to call on my office and read the many nice letters I am continually receiving, or if you could meet these same persons and see the charming wives they have secured in this manner, and are now happy and prosperous, I am satisfied that you would at once make application and give this plan a trial, feeling sure that you will say it was $5.00 well invested.

Countless happy marriages are your guarantee and if you are wise you will not let the small fee stand between you and the opportunity of finding your ideal woman, who would be a real pal and helpmate to you.
