TENNIS TEAM PLAYS TROJAN SQUAD TODAY

Meets Crack University of Southern California
Men

RATE WESTERNERS HIGH

For the first time in two years the Wisconsin tennis team will engage in an inter-sectional match when it stacks up against the crack University of Southern California squad on the Breeze terrace courts at 2:45 this afternoon.

Bleachers have been erected around the courts and no admission will be charged.

With clear weather for the past ten days, Coach Linden has been whipping his men into the best of condition for this match.

Chances Poor

"Our chances for defeating the U. S. C. are poor," declared Coach Linden yesterday, "because the playing season here is short. Tennis can be played throughout the year in Southern California, so their team should be in the best condition." "However, I have men who fight to the finish, and through that I hope to accomplish things."

The Badgers completely annihilated Milton college Friday, and lost but one match to Northwestern university Saturday. Tredwell are Godfredson, Wisconsin aces, are playing in excellent form and will force the westerners to the limit. The strength of the travelling Trojans can be seen in the fact that they have entirely smothered Northwestern University Monday, allowing them but one game in four matches. Southern California tore through the University of Chicago racquet men yesterday in a hard fought battle.

The Southern California outfit is a two man team composed of Steele and Welch, two of the flashiest players on the Pacific Coast. Both men have high rating in western tennis and play a slashing type of game. Their doubles has been a mystery to tennis fans and hard tennis will be played when the Trojans stack up against the consist-

FACULTY LIKES REGENTS' PARTY

By STERLING TRACY

For the first time in 20 years 600 members of the faculty and their wives gathered around the banquet table with the Board of Regents last night in Lathrop gym, and the occasion was celebrated with a program rarely equalled in variety and brilliancy. The program ranged from two superb famous numbers by Carl Fischer, world famous tenor, to a rollicking farce by a student cast featuring Henry Scott Rubel.

Mr. Fischer sang the "Celeste Aida" with a richness and power that drew forth a well merited ovation. His second number, Denza's "May Morning," was a revelation for delicacy and lyric elegance. Dr. Mills was at the piano. Mr. Fischer's home was originally in Madison. He attended the School of Music here one year and left for Europe where he quickly won envious recognition as a tenor of high order.

Miss H'Doubler's students presented an aesthetic dancing act that did great credit to her own art and to the talent of her pupils. The "Soldier's Chorus" feature and the "King Cole" number were knock-outs.

The Glee Club quartet was a

'Twill Be A Wild Night On Pi-Nite

Plans for Pi-Nite, which will be held Saturday, May 6, were completed by the members of Press club at a business meeting held last night in Lathrop hall.

Pi-Nite, annual celebration of journalists, will be given by Press club in Lathrop Concert room on Saturday night. "Red Ruby," a one act farce directed by William J. Tannewitz '23, will be one of the features. The program will include entertainment by Haresfoot quartet and Boyd's orchestra will play for the dancing.

A limited number of tickets are on open sale at Morgan Brothers.

Applications for membership in Press club may be made now to Katherine Perry '23.

ABSOLVE SKULL AND CRESCENT

Initiation Not Responsible For Injury Received By Tuttle

Initiation ceremonies of Skull and Crescent, sophomore interfraternity organization, were not responsible for the injury suffered by Neal Tuttle '25, insofar as evidence presented yesterday afternoon in the investigation of the affair by Dean S. H. Goodnight is concerned. Tuttle fractured his skull Saturday night when he fainted and fell against a bath tub. He was reported improving last night.

The investigation was held in order to ascertain whether or not the injury was directly or indirectly caused by the initiation ceremony through which Tuttle had been put Saturday afternoon. After hearing a chronological explanation of the afternoon's activities, Dean Goodnight expressed the opinion that insofar as the evidence went he could not see that the society was responsible.

"Paddled Slightly"

"I can not understand how a husky youth who had been out for football could sustain an injury in an initiation the details of which have just been explained to me," said Dean Goodnight after the inquiry. "However," he continued I shall take no action until further investigation has been made."

After hearing evidence given by Howard Lyman '24, acting president of Skull and Crescent, Gordon Wanzer '24, Arthur Moulding '24, Dexter Brown '22, and Delbert Paige '24, Dean Goodnight censured the organization for incorporating certain forms in the initiation when it was brought out that initiates had been blindfolded and "paddled slightly." The practice of blindfolding was especially deplored since it had led to a serious accident to a Skull and Crescent initiate two years ago.

Initiation Tame

Dean Goodnight recalled to the members present the contract which had been made with Skull and Crescent in 1919, the contents of which guaranteed the abolition of all "rough stuff" in initiations. The blindfolding and paddling of recent initiates seemed to Dean Goodnight a violation of this contract.

Lyman characterized this year's initiation as quite tame when compared to Skull and Crescent initiations of years past, and admitted that the paddling of the afternoon occurred when he himself playfully "swatted" two of his own fraternity brothers.

One ramification of the ceremony which was reported to Dean Goodnight by persons who passed in a car was characterized by the dean as being rather unconventional, if not "rough."

UPTON SINCLAIR WILL SPEAK IN MEN'S GYMNASIUM AT 8 TONIGHT; REGENTS REINSTATE JOHONNOTS

PAPERS DEPEND UPON COLLEGE
MEN—SULLIVAN

White Will Speak Today on
"What the Public Wants"

"Newspapers today are depending on the college educated journalist to rout out the undesirables in journalism and lift the profession to a clean and loftier standard," said Hassel T. Sullivan, city editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel, in an address to the students in the Course in Journalism yesterday afternoon on "What the City Editor Expects of the Cub Reporter."

Sullivan was the first of a series of speakers which have been obtained for Journalism week in celebration of the 16th year of the existence of the Course in Journalism.

Lee A. White, editor of the Detroit News and former president of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, will speak on "What the Public Wants," in the auditorium of the Biology building at 4:30 this afternoon. A dinner will be given in his honor at the city Y. M. C. A. at 6 o'clock tonight for all men and women in journalism.

"The prejudice against college journalists is fading away," Sullivan declared in his address. "The new era in journalism requires well rounded men and women, and finds that the modern school of journalism produces just this type of material. A present day cub reporter must be prepared with wits, brains, education, and initiative to enter the newspaper field and rise successfully to positions of executive responsibility."

Sullivan stated that more stress is laid today on the private life of the journalist than ever before. Papers which are most modern in their field, he said, have come to the conclusion that they must practice what they preach in order to carry to the public collectively the high standards they are attempting to uphold for the welfare of the public.

SANDBURG WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

"The most American of American poets," Carl Sandburg has been called, and the title clings wherever he goes. Sandburg is scheduled to appear tonight at Lathrop concert room, and though his programs are journalistically called lectures, he does not lecture—he entertains.

Sandburg has something to offer to everyone in every line of work. He imparts his spirit to old and young, to highbrows and average, and converts hundreds to enthusiastic reading of his work.

This is all Madison's opportunity to hear of our great American from our great American poet. Tickets are obtainable at Hook's Music store.

FRENCH AGAIN MADE
HEAD OF EDWIN BOOTH

Roy French '23 was re-elected president of Edwin Booth dramatic society for the coming year at a meeting held last night. Other officers also re-elected are: Henry Rubel '23, vice-president; Vincent Conlin '23, secretary; William Tannewitz '23, treasurer; and Ralph Scheimpflug '23, keeper of the mask.

Author Will Speak on College
Student and Modern Crisis

SCOTT WILL NOT LEAVE

Upton Sinclair will speak in the gymnasium at 8 o'clock tonight. Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Johnnot, who were expelled from the university last Thursday for a secret marriage which took place several weeks ago, will be reinstated.

The Student Senate proposal, which was to provide for a joint committee of regents and students to pass on persons invited to speak at the university has been rejected.

These actions were taken by the board of regents at the Administration building yesterday. The board took no action on the Scott-Edison matter nor on Accounting 181.

President E. J. Birge late Tuesday granted Upton Sinclair permission to speak in the gymnasium after members of the board of regents had expressed themselves in favor of the talk and then passed the matter over to the head of the university. Sinclair who had planned to give a talk at the Madison high school on Thursday night, has cancelled this engagement and will speak only at the gymnasium.

He will speak on "The College Student and the Modern Crisis," his original subject, instead of "Free Speech," the subject which Sinclair chose after he had been refused the use of a university hall. The author declared yesterday that he has delivered the first address to many student audiences, university as well as high school.

The regents questioned Sinclair at 11:30 yesterday and allowed him to speak for 35 minutes, during which time he told the regents of his belief in "industrial democracy." In defense of his loyalty he told of his activities during the war.

Although voting to reinstate Johnnot and his bride, Doris Moses Johnnot, the regents approved the

VENETIAN NIGHT
WILL BE LARGER

With the annual interscholastic track meet removed from the jurisdiction of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association and placed under the sole auspices of the University of Wisconsin, the athletic department, working in conjunction with 15 committees, is bending every effort to make Interscholastic Day, May 27, a Wisconsin institution erecled only by Homecoming in magnitude, entertainment, and state-wide athletic interest.

Preliminary plans for this year's event have been formulated, and will be launched at a meeting of the 75 members of the committees for the track meet and Venetian night in the Union building at 12:30 tomorrow.

Crew races in the morning of Interscholastic day will be held between the Varsity eight and the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Canada; and between the Junior Varsity eight and St. John's Military academy. Venetian night, with many water carnival events, will take place in the evening. On May 26 and 27 the Interscholastic Tennis tournament will be held.

In the event of an attendance of 250 high school students reduced railroad rates of one and one-half fare on the certificate plan will be granted.

Spanish Plays Will Be Given on Friday

Rehearsals are under way for the three Spanish plays to be given by members of the Spanish club, Friday, at 7:15 in the Concert room of Lathrop hall.

The first two plays, "La Pugenta Diaria" by Elizabeth Lowe '23, and "El Idilio de Lalita" by Samuel Wofsy '22 were selected from those submitted by the Spanish composition classes because they are entertaining and can be easily staged.

The third play, "De Madrid a Alcala" by J. Paullada requires elaborate scenery.

The cast of the play written by Wofsy will include Robert Rothenburg, who will take the part of the father; Lina Norman and Allen Hendry will be the lovers. Dorothy Smith and Robert Dunstan will represent two servants, supplying the comedy parts. Herbert Nickelsen will be the book-salesman and Eve-Mulhall the young American teacher. The play is well written and full of action and ridiculous scenes.

Tickets at 25 cents may be obtained from any of the Spanish instructors.

Ogg Will Discuss European Situation

"The Political Significance of the European Situation" will be discussed by Prof. Frederick A. Ogg of the political science department at a convocation which will be held at 3:30 tomorrow in Music hall.

This lecture will be the last of a series of three convocations dealing with the present situation in Europe. The first of the series was a discussion of the historical background by Prof. Carl Russell Fish and the economic situation was reviewed by Prof. William A. Scott.

The purpose of these convocations, according to Prof. Alfred P. Haake, is to give to the students an idea of the conditions in Europe which it would be impossible to get from books.

First Candidates Run For ACF Board

W. H. Frederick '23, and L. R. Taylor '23 are the first to announce their candidacy for men's positions in the Agricultural College federation board race which ends May 12 in a regular college election on the Agric campus.

Frederick has been active in affairs of the Agric college as well as of the university. He was winner of the Little International slogan contest, general manager of the Poultry show, secretary of the recent Egg show, production manager of the plays presented by Agricultural students during Farmers' week, and actor in the Union Vodvil. Last year he was general chairman of the Badger staff dance, associate editor of the Country magazine, and took charge of special features for several Agric social functions.

Taylor is vice-commodore of the Varsity crew, charter member of the Babcock Dairy Science club, treasurer of Saddle and Siroin, had charge of the ticket sale for the All-Agri ball, was district manager for the Wisconsin-in-China drive, and has in other ways been active in student enterprises.

Blue Dragon Will Banquet Tomorrow

Blue Dragon, senior women's organization, will hold its annual banquet in Lathrop parlors at 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Dean F. Louise Nardin will speak on "The Fellowship into Which Wisconsin Women Graduate." Toasts will be given by Margaret Duckett, Mildred Miller, Marian Strassburger, and Charlotte C. Voorhis.

Plans for keeping in touch with the members of the class will be presented by Ellen Correll. Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from Evelyn McFarland at the Tri Delt house.

Swensen Elected to Glee Club Quartet

The Varsity Quartet has selected Joel Swensen, a junior in L. & S., to take the place of Earl Brown as second tenor. Brown will teach at Fond du Lac next year.

A number of voices competed for the position, and those men who tried out are heartily thanked for their interest. Swensen has sung with the Glee club or two years, is a member of the Methodist choir, and sang in the Haresfoct quartet this season. He has a clear, mellow quality voice with a comparatively wide range.

"UNDER THE GREEN LID"

THE marked response on the part of freshmen to the letter sent out by the first year class president is clearly indicative that the first year men are reasonable beings. The augmented numbers who yesterday showed themselves "under the green lid of 1925" speaks well for the sportsmanship of the class members and their sincere desire to perpetuate the green cap tradition without the physical violence incidental to it in past years.

It is surely a step in the right direction toward a unified school love and loyalty when the members of the freshman class, unfortunately often looked down upon, can be relied on to help in the preservation of the school's traditions on a man to man appeal, without any threats of persecution.

The question has been put squarely to them—there is no compulsion, and they are showing that they can respond as equals when treated with equality. The life or the death of the green cap as a class badge on the campus has been left to them and by their action they have shown that they are willing to assume the responsibility for its further existence.

"THE MOST ACTIVE MAN"

AND now the mad rush of undergraduate activities reaches a climax. To be 'a big man on the campus' is no longer the goal of the ambitious. The Daily Iowan, enterprising journal, is conducting a contest to determine, by comparison of records, who is the "most active" student in the Conference.

Undergraduate activities are a good thing. They are valuable for the personal development and practical experience gained by those who participate, and more especially for the spirit that is behind them. Whatever may be said of the minority, most of those who participate in extra-curricular activities do so for love of the activities and love of the institution. If this were not the case, if personal aggrandizement were the goal, undergraduate activities might well be abandoned. The pin-chaser, the man whose aim in college is to stretch his senior summary, is to be pitied. The Cardinal suggests that those who enter the Daily Iowan's contest be sent cards of condolence.

At Wisconsin, as well as elsewhere, interest in extra-curricular activities tends to be misdirected. There is a tendency to judge men by how much they do. If a man shows ability, he is soon swamped with requests to serve on this and that committee. If he is not wise, he becomes over-burdened and finds his efficiency in both scholastic and extra-curricular work seriously impaired.

This is a deplorable state of affairs. When leaders are over-burdened, standards are sure to fall. More students in activities and more concentration of activity by individuals would raise the standard.

Let us strive to create a sentiment for concentration. When other universities honor "the most active man," let us honor the man who does a few things and does them well.

TENNIS WITH U. S. C.

MAHOMET could not go to the Mountain, so the Mountain has come to Mahomet. Today the Wisconsin tennis team will meet with the squad from the University of Southern California.

There has been much agitation for inter-sectional athletics and students have deplored the fact that Wisconsin did not enter more into inter-sectional games. In the tennis matches today these students are given the opportunity to support the inter-sectional contest now that it is consummated.

Tennis has not been supported as it should be, thus far in the season, but with the spirited contest promised when the Wisconsin team meets the western contenders who have been winning consistently on their trip, Breeze Terrace should be a Mecca this afternoon.

DEANS OF MEN

THE Kentucky Kernel, University of Kentucky, carried the following editorial in reference to the national meeting of Deans of Men, held recently at Lexington, Kentucky:

"The meeting of the Deans of Men at the university brought into high relief the activities of one of the most potent and important officers of our modern college. The freshman who comes into the school meets the Dean at almost every turn. If he wants a room, if he wants a job, if misfortune has befallen him, he goes to this kindly official who sets him right.

"If the only duties of the Dean, however, were to help freshmen, he would be a happier and more popular officer. Unfortunately there must be an officer to see that discipline is maintained, and this officer has a most difficult and delicate task. The absolutely controlled lives and thoughts of the boys are not found anymore, and as a result the youth of America are impatient of control, even when wholesome. Such control in the cause of democracy took a long stride when it entered the home and freed women and children from masculine tyranny, but this new freedom has not always been used wisely.

"Many of the great administrative problems of the school are those met by these officers who are gathered here in convention. It is to be hoped that the students will get the spirit of the occasion, and realize that the deans are trying to improve and elevate standards of the student body. The fact that there is a high standard of honor and conduct in our colleges is no mean compliment to these men. And so it is with the desire to co-operate and understand that we welcome the deans of men to the University of Kentucky."

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

TRACK SQUAD PREPARES FOR SUCKER MEET

Contest With Illinois Saturday Looks Dubious

Stiff workouts for every member of the track squad today and tomorrow is Coach Jones' schedule for testing his men and preparing them for the hardest dual meet of the 1922 season, the contest with Illinois Saturday at Camp Randall.

Track supremacy in the Big Ten is the stake for which the Badgers will be fighting in the coming conflict. In the indoor conference meet at Evanston this year Illinois was first with 44 6-7 points, and Wisconsin was second with 18 11-21 points. As the Badgers are strong in several events which cannot be included in an indoor contest, there is a chance that the Suckers will be pushed to the limit by Jones' proteges.

Lower Record

Illinois is exceedingly powerful in the distances, as proved at the Drake relays last Saturday when their four mile team, made up of Yates, McGinnis, Patterson, and Wharton, clipped 6 1-5 seconds from the former world's record by stepping the distance in 17 minutes 45 seconds.

McGinnis and Patterson also finished first and second in the mile at the Conference meet; and Wharton, Swanson, and Scott crossed the tape in the two-mile in the order named.

Tied in Pole Vault

Wisconsin's best showing in the Conference indoor meet was made in the pole vault, hurdles, shot put, and quarter-mile run. Merrick tied with Landowski of Michigan for first in the vault; Knollin copped the high hurdles; Spetz won the quarter; and Sundt placed second in the shot put. These men are being counted on to score again against the down state stars.

Spetz, Johnson, and McClure are the Badger 440-yard sprinters to be pitted against the Illinois quartet who lowered the Drake mile relay mark last week.

Osborne in the high jump and Angier in the javelin will in all probability eclipse the best efforts of Wisconsin performers in these two events. Osborne holds the Drake record of 6 feet 6 inches in the jump; while Angier heaved the spear 202 feet 9 1-2 inches, breaking the former American record more than five feet.

Sundt should count a first for Wisconsin in the shot event. The husky veteran placed second to Bradley of Kansas in the Drake meet, beating all Conference entries with a heave of 42 feet 1-3-4 inches.

BUNGE IS AWARDED CONFERENCE MEDAL FOR SCHOLASTIC ABILITY

George C. Bunge, La Crosse, was yesterday awarded the Conference medal which is given to one man each year in Big Ten institutions. Award of the medal is based on scholarship and athletic activity.

Bunge has won three "W"s in football. He has been a mainstay in the Wisconsin line for three years and was selected All-Conference center on many honorary elevens last fall. A scholastic average of 88.53 was made by the medal winner. This average includes marks acquired in Letters and Science and Law courses. 14 grades of excellent were recorded by Bunge.

That Wisconsin athletic rate as well as in studies as they do in sports is shown by the grades hung up by the men who were recommended for the medal by the Athletic board. Mark Wall, a Medic who won three "W"s in track and two in cross country in addition to being captain of the 121 cross-country squad, had an average of 86.77 points. Warren "Cop" Taylor, winner of three basketball letters and captain of the 1920-21 team, had a grand average of 85.20. Carl F. Ceaser, who has won six letters, three in basketball and three in baseball, averaged 84.42. Dale Merrick, with three "W"s in track, has marks which average 83.56 points.

Other athletes who were recommended and their marks follow:

W. K. Collins—Two "W"s in football, two in swimming. Scholastic average 83.41.

A. J. Knollin—Three "W"s in track, captain 1921 track team. Average of 83.46.

Stevens Gould—Three "W"s in football. Average 80.74.

Guy M. Sundt—Four "W"s in football, one in basketball, three in track; 1921 captain football team. Average of 80.21 points.

Marks as high as these rank well above those of the average university student who engages in no form of Varsity athletics.

The following Badgers have won the medal in former years:

1915—T. M. Kennedy, agriculture.

1916—Dow Harvey, engineer.

1917—Mead Burke, letters and science.

1918—Eber Simpson, medic.

1919—Charles Carpenter, letters and science.

1920—Anthony Zulfer, commerce.

1921—Allan Davey, letters and science.

The Athletic council selects the winner of the medal after it has passed on board recommendations. The medal is presented by the Intercollegiate Conference Athletic association, of which Warren D. Howe is president. Joseph L. McNab is the Wisconsin representative.

ency of Tredwell and Gotfredson.

Tredwell is playing the greatest game of his college career this season, and a treat is in store for tennis fans when "Tommy" tries to crack the playing of his western opponent. His work against Daland of Milton college, proves that he will be one of the most formidable players in the Big Ten. Gotfredson is playing a wizardly game this year and will offer stiff opposition to Welch.

Badgers Consistent

Tredwell and Gotfredson play the most consistent game of tennis seen on Badger courts for many seasons. It is with this consistency that Coach Linden hopes to turn back the Trojans. The strength of Tredwell and Gotfredson in the doubles is indicated by the low score which they laid on the highly touted doubles team of Northwestern, Thompson and Newey, 6-3 and 6-2. Both Badger men are veterans, Gotfredson having played two years of Conference tennis and Tredwell one.

The match to-day with U. S. C. is the first inter-sectional tennis contest since the spring of 1920, when the crack University of Oklahoma squad vanquished the Badgers. Two singles and one doubles match will be played. Breeze terrace courts are in perfect condition and favor a fast, crashing game of tennis.

The Trojans will meet the greatest college and university teams of the country, and plan a tour which will require practically the entire summer to complete. They have played three of their matches already, overwhelming the University of Arizona in the first match and Northwestern and Chicago U. in the second and third.

"temporary suspension" of the two students by university authorities. Their statement said that the suspension might well have been made permanent under ordinary circumstances.

"In view, however, of the facts presented and especially in view of the letter of the parents stating that they approved the engagement and were ready to consent to the marriage, it was the sense of all that the students should be permitted to continue in the university," the decision said.

W. A. Scott, director of the Commerce course, has not applied for a leave of absence for next year nor does he intend to, according to a statement issued Tuesday. The report that Dr. Scott was ill and would apply for a leave of absence was published in the newspapers when the Scott-Edison episode came to light a few weeks ago. The board did not feel that any action was necessary in this matter.

The Student Cena' proposal as a solution for the "open forum issue" was turned down by the student life and interest committee Tuesday morning. The vote was seven for and three against.

scream in two original parodies. More power to them.

Miss Reba Hayden was pleasing in her whistling number.

The freshman playlet in the athletic offering under Mr. Schlatter's direction got across the footlights with a snap.

The radio stunt showed that this interesting phenomenon is still in the experimental stage.

An original playlet, "Mendota Mirrors", ended the program. Many an idol on the faculty was joyously smashed to the delight of the assembled dignitaries.

To Prof. Julius Olson, generalissimo, must go the credit for the complete success of the affair. The dinner was enlivened by special music by the Sumner-Brodt orchestra.

It is a safe bet that the faculty and regents will not wait another twenty years to get together for another party.
