FEAR IS GREAT OBSTACLE TO DISARMAMENT

—FISH

Stuart and Goodnight Will Speak at Last Massmeeting Tomorrow

"You couldn't have a pistol without wanting to shoot; likewise the first job of the disarmament conference is to see that the nations are not armed to the point of temptation," said Prof. Carl Russell Fish at the third of the all-university disarmament mass meetings in Music hall yesterday noon.

The fourth and last of the series of disarmament speeches given under the auspices of the Collegiate League of Women voters will be held in Music hall tomorrow noon. The speakers will be Dr. Graham H. Stuart and Dean Scott H. Goodnight. A formal resolution representing the University of Wisconsin will be drawn up at this time and wired to the conference at Washington. All students are requested to be present at this meeting.

Greed and Fear Hinder

"Greed and fear are the two greatest obstacles in the face of a disarmament program," said Professor Fish. "Because these are fundamental human obstacles and not petty political or class barriers, there is more hope for some adequate solution. The greed of the business man, the greed of the skilled workman who may lose his job, the greed of industries which expect large speculative returns, and the greed of pride in the largest navy, are all manifestations of public thought which require some method of restraint. That greatest incarnation of national greed ever experienced, Germany in the war, has made greed unpopular so that its influence will be less potent now at Washington.

"A more powerful obstacle than greed, is that universal and subtle fear of the opponent, the belief that he is superman, supreme in will power, and possessed of motives baser and lower than our own," continued Professor Fish. "To drive out this fear, we must realize the common elements of humanity are

Election Joins Eight O'Clocks As Campus Talk

"Hello Dot. Tired of carrying all those books? Give me some of 'em. Hard life, these 8 o'clocks. No breakfast, either? Same here. Say—got a 9 o'clock? How about some breakfast at Lawrence's after this class? All right, fine.

"Oh, by the way, who are you voting for, Thursday? Thinking it over? Anybody that uses his head can see that our man is the only one to support. Maybe he isn't the best looking, but he sure can fill the bill,—and look what he's done for the school, too. Well, goodbye, see you later."

"Hum, I did have my mind made up the other way, but then, I guess I can change my mind if I want to. And Bill was so nice about helping take down our Homecoming decorations, too. Funny, I never knew before that he liked me. Guess I'll vote for his man. Let's see, how many juniors do I know?"—and on into class went the latest convert, to dream for an hour about what kind of formals they'd be wearing by Prom time.

NEYSA McMEIN TO BE JUDGE OF WISCONSIN TYPES

Badger Has Exclusive Services of Artist in Picking Representative Women

Neysa McMein, famous for her paintings of beautiful women, has consented to act as a judge in deciding which eight girls of the university are the typical types of true University of Wisconsin womanhood. The services of Miss McMein were secured by the Badger before University of Illinois editors, who were seeking her work. She will judge portraits of Wisconsin women exclusively.

Activities Will Count

One basis of decision in finding who are the most representative of the ideal Wisconsin women, will be the points earned in college activities by the various contestants. Helen Powell '24, and Rowena Brown '23 are compiling lists, which they will have completed the latter part of this week, of the women of the university who have points for work in activities.

Some of the positions that award points are as follows: Sixteen points, president of S. G. A., president of Y. W. C. A., president of W. A. A., women's editor of the Cardinal; twelve points, president of Castalia, president of Pythia, and presidents of Barnard and Chadbourne halls; ten points, president of Girls' glee club, members of Theta Sigma Phi, and presidents of Red Domino and Twelfth Night dramatic clubs.

THREE MORE SEEK GOVERNING JOBS

Wanzer and Porth Run For Union Board—Reed
After Senate

Gordon B. Wanzer '24 has announced his candidacy for sophomore members of Union board. He has done active work for Union board for which he has received recommendation from the board for membership.

Wanzer was circulation manager of the Union board Cardinal, has done active work on the Union board weekly dance committee, and is captain of a team in the Union Memorial drive. He was assistant general chairman of the 1921 Homecoming mass meeting, chairman of the 1920 Water carnival, and on the Cap night committee. He is now a member of the Council of 40, sophomore traditions committee, and the Varsity basketball squad. Wanzer is president of Skull and Crescent and a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

Another candidate, Walter H. Porth, a junior in the College of Engineering, has announced his candidacy for election to Union board. He served on the staff of the Wisconsin Engineer in his freshman year. He is a member of the Varsity Gymnastic team and won his "gWt" last year. He is secretary of the inter-fraternity conference, and is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Gamma Sigma, honorary athletic fraternity, and Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Reed Runs for Senate

During his freshman year he was a member of the decoration committee of the University Exposition, on the business staff of the 1922 Badger, and manager of the Spanish play. At present he is chairman of the rooming house committee of the Sophomore commission.

Engineers Seek Lawyers' Scalps On Grid Friday

"We are going to get five dollars for every dead lawyer carried off the field in the engineers and lawyers football game at Camp Randall Friday," said the followers of St. Patrick, congregated in front of their building, yesterday noon.

In reply the students of Blackstone point to "Shorty" Barr, captain of the All-Americans, who will be at the helm when the lawyers' team takes the field next Friday afternoon. With Barr playing quarterback the cane wielders feel certain of a triumph over their rivals on the other side of the campus.

Both teams have been practicing diligently for the past two weeks and have material of high calibre in their lineups. The proceeds of the game will be turned over to the Memorial Union fund.

LESCOHIER TALKS FOR INDUSTRIAL GROUPS TONIGHT

"What it Means for Industrial and Student Girls to Get Together" will be the subject of a talk by Prof. Don D. Lescohier, of the economics department, at a dinner tonight at 5:30 in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall, given by the industrial groups of the student Y. W. C. A.

The meeting marks the first step in the co-operation of student and industrial girls, preliminary to forming groups of both classes to discuss present day tendencies in the industrial world and to try to arrive at some solution of the problem of the working girl.

Plans have been made to accommodate about 60 university girls and 60 industrial girls. Miss Frances Toy, industrial secretary of the city Y. W. C. A., will express the views of her groups and Miss Mary Andersen, student secretary will talk upon the views of the girls at the university.

Tickets for the dinner can be procured at the Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop for 50 cents.

TICKETS FOR SARG'S MARIONETTES ARE ON SALE IN BASCOM HALL

The ticket sale for Tony Sarg's marionettes, which will be shown at Madison high school Wednesday night, will continue today and tomorrow at Bascom hall. The tickets are being sold for $.83, $1.10, and $1.60 war tax included.

Considerable demand for a matinee performance on Wednesday has been made; but, because the Madison high school cannot be engaged for the afternoon, only one showing of the dolls can be given.

The fact that there will be no matinee should make the truth of the statement, "The marionettes are for children from three to 90 years," all the more evident at the performance Wednesday night. Tony Sarg's marionettes is the first of a series of dramatic productions that Pi Epsilon Delta, honorary dramatics fraternity, is bringing to Madison.

CHICAGO SEAT SALE OPENS NOVEMBER 15

Seat sale for the Wisconsin-Chicago football game to be played at Chicago on Saturday, Nov. 19, will open on Tuesday morning, Nov. 15, at 9 o'clock. Robert O. Quick will be in charge of the sale, and tickets can be procured at the gymnasium at that time.

No applications for the tickets are necessary. It will be an open sale with no student prices prevailing. Prices range from $1 to $3.50, according to Quick.

$9,224 PLEDGED TO UNION FUND ON FIRST DAY

Report of Half of Workers
Lacking—All Campaigners
Meet Tonight

With only half of the teams reporting, the Memorial Union drive swept into action with a total of $9,224 as the result of the first day's work.

Hap Baker, chairman, made a statement late last night that it was impossible to obtain a combined report from all teams, and that the present amount is from only about half of the workers.

With the $20,000 already raised before the campaign opened the total of student subscriptions now reaches the $30,000 mark.

The teams report that 76 per cent of those pledging have signed up for life memberships. The workers are getting very few turn-downs.

"The first returns show that the campaign is slowly but surely gathering momentum as it progresses," said Baker. "It always takes time to get a big thing into action, but once it is started there is no stopping."

Pep meetings were held at both Barnard and Chadbourne halls last night for the purpose of rousing enthusiasm among the women. A report from Barnard shows that $700 was raised. The meeting was addressed by Bob Gerholz '22. A determined team of 15 girls has commenced to make Barnard as nearly 100 per cent as possible. A chart in the hall shows the progress of their work.

The first meeting of all the workers will be held in the Chemistry building tonight. At this time a definite report from all teams will be given.

UNION BOARD TO GIVE DANCE ON THURSDAY

Due to the fact that Friday has been declared a holiday, Union board will hold a dance at Lathrop parlors on Thursday as well as on Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

Charles Casserly's orchestra will feature at the dance Thursday night.

Flowers Bloom Jungle Fashion As Snow Falls

Though it is snowing outside, and the trees are leafless, and the wind cold, one would never know it in the greenhouse in back of the Horticulture building. Chrysanthemums are blooming there at their height,—small fragrant ones on tall stems, medium sized fluffy ones, and huge yellow and white ones, with soft curling petals, that resemble toy balloons.

The largest chrysanthemums are not to be sold, but will probably figure in the coming fruit and flower show to be given by the Grafters' club. The smaller ones may be purchased.

In another part of the greenhouse are a lemon-tree with pungent leaves and enormous fruit, a banana tree, and an exotic plant that bears crinkly red blossoms throughout the year. Certain houses are veritable jungles, with warm, moisture-laden air, and coiled black garden hose that hints of boa constrictors.

BRETHREN, you know not the ceaseless drudgery that writing this column involves. You know not the pain that it causes our poor little sore finger to punch these typewriter keys. You know not the pain it causeth us to put in those mean personals about you and yours. You know not the trouble we go to, trying to find more of them.

OUR able contributor, APIS, is up on his ear over the romantic success that OSCAR WILDEST is apparently having in his affair with BLOWZA GALE. Therefore he submits the following:

Prologue:

Dear OSCAR, though I love you,
I'd surely like to shove you—
Into the lake.

Cantos 1-4:

Yours is not Blowza Gale!!
Aloud I shout o'er hill and vale.
For her form divine and angelic face,
I'd tear you apart and throw you to space.

Chorus:

Her heart will yet be mine.
Thoughts of her as thine—
Do harden my heart.

So look out, OSCAR.

Your rival,

A question has recently been brought up as to why the co-ed is so little concerned over the wearing of her sorority pledge pin, while the male freshman is often quite conscious of the fact that he has one on his lapel. The most obvious explanation of this phenomena is that the women have been using pins as part of their makeup from time immortal—rather, we mean immortal.

MORE DEFINITIONS

TEXTBOOKS—The only proof that a professor has of showing that he knows what he is talking about.

ASSIGNMENTS—A method of kidding used by the instructors. The jokes, however, are usually so deep that the class does not get them.

EIGHT O'CLOCKS—The chief activity of the plebians, so ignore them; a gentleman never gets up that early.

DATES—A very delectable fruit. Be careful not to confuse them with prunes, of similar size and shape, but having a very bitter taste.

DANCING—Synonym for wrestling. Standing room only, $1.50 per couple.

"P"—Means perfect, and is highest grade given at this university. However, it is commonly misunderstood by the faculty, who claim that it means "punk."

Nigel de Bruiler takes one of the most difficult roles in the production. In the role of Tchernoff, the Russian who relates the legend of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," Mr. De Bruiler has created a characterization that will stand out for a long, long time.

Edward Connelly, one of the best known actors on the stage as well as the screen, has a part that he declares "the best he has had in 30 years." More than 12,000 extras are used in "The Four Horsemen."

Y. W. C. A. OPENS
DRIVE FOR $4,400
ON NOVEMBER 28

The Y. W. C. A. will inaugurate on November 28 a drive to raise $4,400 which will cover expenses for the coming year. The proposed budget submitted at yesterday's meeting includes $2,500 to be solicited from students, $700 from faculty, and $400 from alumnae. The raising of the remaining $800 which completes the estimated expenditure of $4,400 for the ensuing year will be in charge of the ways and means committee.

How the funds secured by the Y. W. C. A. are used was explained by Belle Knights. The national pledge of $350 provides the university with speakers from national headquarters and with advertising materials. The expenses of student delegates to conferences and of the all university conference are met by these funds. The Bryn Mawr Industrial scholarship offered by the university Y. W. C. A. sends a girl from the city Y. W. to Bryn Mawr each summer.

A religious convocation will be held November 21 at which time Professor Kent of Yale university will speak on the subject, "Jesus and the Modern Man."

MORGAN'S HAS HOP TICKETS

Ex-service men planning to attend the military hop at Lathrop hall next Friday night can obtain their tickets at Morgan's, according to Milton Hart '22, who has charge of the ticket sale and is also chairman of the dance.

"All those desiring to attend the dance should make their dates and get their tickets early," said Hart, yesterday. "Although the price of admission is only $1.00, the number of tickets to be sold is limited. We are doing this to prevent the hall from being over crowded."

The ex-service men, members of Gun and Blade, and students in the

R. O. T. C. who are coming to the dance are asked to wear their uniforms if possible. Cadets will be permitted to wear white shirts and collars with black ties, instead of the regulation flannel shirt.

Volunteers of America Send Call for Taggers

A call for 100 taggers for the Volunteers of America tag day next Saturday, was issued by Capt. Morgan Griffiths of the Volunteers Saturday. The money to be raised will be used to aid Madison's needy. All young women who wish to tag are asked to report to The American Thresherman office on the fifth floor of the Cantwell building Monday or Tuesday. All workers will be paid.

FOUR HORSEMEN REX INGRAM'S GREATEST FILM

Adaptation of Masterpiece of Ibanez Acted by Cast of Well Known Players

Probably the strongest and most distinguished cast ever assembled for any picture in the history of the screen is seen in the Rex Ingram production for Metro of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," adapted by June Mathis from the world famous novel of Vicente Blasco Ibanez, continues as the attraction at the Grand this week. While every player of the 50 principal roles was selected because of his or her ability to enact the part, there is scarcely a name in the list that is not prominently known to the motion picture fans.

Rudolph Valentino, who has the role of Julio Desnoyers, the romantic South American hero of the story, has been in pictures for years and only recently was selected to play the title part in "The Shiek," one of this year's biggest sellers. Previous to going in pictures Mr. Valentino was a professional dancer.

Alice Terry is enacting the leading feminine role, that of Marguerite Laurier, the little French girl whose love for Julio forms one of the absorbing interests of the great story. Miss Terry played in the Metro production of "Shore Acres" and was a featured member of the cast of that gigantic production of "Hearts and Trumps."

Joseph Swickard, a veteran of 25 years' experience on the speaking stage and 10 years in motion pictures, appears in the part of Marcello Desnoyers. Every picture fan will remember Swickard as Ambassador Girard in that wonderful picture "My Four Years in Germany" written by the ambassador himself. Wallace Beery is in the cast too.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

THREE STAY IN RACE FOR GRID
CHAMPIONSHIPChicago Defeat is Disappointment to Grid Followers

Saturday was a great day for football throughout the entire mid-west. The elimination of Chicago from championship consideration was the big headliner of the day.

The 7 to 0 Buckeye victory over the Maroons was witnessed by over 30,000 people. The outcome of the game was a typical Ohio demonstration of Ohio superiority. While it cannot be said that the game was won by luck, the fact remains that, man for man, the Maroons excelled. At a critical moment, however, the Wilcemen selected the proper one of their many trick plays and pushed over the touchdown that spelled victory and undoubtedly a tie for the championship of the Big Ten conference. To many of the western football followers, the elimination of Chicago from the pennant race is a keen disappointment. It is conceded that Stagg has the strongest team in years, and after their victory over Princeton, it would seem that they were deserving of staying in the running longer than some of the other teams which occupy an equal place in the percentage column. Incidentally, the outcome of the game will make the deciding of the championship at the end of the season a more difficult affair than it would have if the game had resulted in a Buckeye defeat.

Iowa Swamps Gophers

Iowa continued its pennantward march by overwhelming the Gophers by a 41 to 7 score. While the score would indicate that the Hawkeyes are practically on a par with Wisconsin, it must be remembered, that, in addition to playing on a dry field, the Gophers were forced to do without the services of McCreery, the only man who was able to gain any ground against the Badgers.

It is almost certain that Iowa will not suffer defeat during the remainder of its schedule. Indiana and Northwestern are the teams remaining on its schedule, and neither has shown the slightest traces of being able to turn the trick.

Purdue Wins First Game

Purdue won its first game in three years by defeating Northwestern 3 to 0. The two teams were as evenly matched as any two Big Ten teams have been this year, and the homecoming crowd witnessed a battle which was bitterly fought. Coach McDevitt put a revamped team onto the field which performed in a most creditable manner, and it was only a break of the game which gave the Boiler-makers a victory.

Coach "Bob" Zuppke's struggling Illini won a midseason clash from De Pauw by a score of 21-0. Zuppke gave Crangle, Carney, and one or two more of his scarred warriors a rest, while he, personally, watched the battle which raged on the Midway. The Suckers had little difficulty in disposing of their opponents, using nothing but straight football, and checking the opposing team's offense with ease.

Suckers May Beat Chicago

A few of the more optimistic Illinois followers are giving the Suckers a chance to defeat Chicago the coming Saturday. Zuppke's team will be stronger than it has been at any time this season, and then too, it is planned that the homecoming spirit which will back the team will have a noticeable effect on its morale. Every year there is at least one upset in the conference, and it may possibly occur at Urbana next Saturday. If the Suckers should defeat Chicago, their stock for the game against Ohio the week following will be considerably boosted.

Michigan and Wisconsin both re-

Hats Go Off To
Oberlin, Champ
Of The Country

Hail to the new champ! They could cancel the football schedule now and there wouldn't be any trouble in picking the best of them all.

It is Ohio State? No!

Is it Iowa? No!!

Is it Centre college? No!!!

Well, then, Who?

It's Oberlin, pronounced with the "i" closed as in loving. Figure it out like this: Oberlin 7, Ohio State 6; Ohio 7, Chicago university 0; Chicago 9, Princeton 0; Princeton 10, Harvard 3; Harvard 10, U. of Georgia 7; Georgia 7, Auburn 0; Auburn 14, Tulane 0; and so on, ad infinitum.

The state of Ohio is the home of Oberlin. The college is so small that visitors have to use a microscope to find Main hall. They've got two chairs down there. One is foreign languages and the other is broken. When English lectures get dull, the class puts on his hat and walks out.

The only time the football team goes to school is when payday rolls around. The players are like convicts. They're all on time. Each athlete punches the clock when he begins practice.

But Oberlin gets results. It beat the team that beat the team that beat the team that beat Harvard.

SOPHS WIN WITH STRAIGHT PLAYSSaari Stars for Second Year
Team—Small Crowd
at Game

Old straight football proved to be victor again over fast shifting plays, last Saturday, when the sophomores turned predicted defeat into a 14-0 win over the first year men. With Saari's punts furnishing the only overhead football used, the sophs took the wearings off their feet after the first quarter of the game and held them scoreless.

Saari Punts Well

Five out of every six plays was a criss cross play, but the freshmen could not seem to break them up. Saari's punts were good. They were well placed, so that his ends were able to get down and nail the safety before he could get under way up the field again. After the second score, the sophomore quarter relied upon Saari to keep the ball out of their territory with his long punts.

Frosh to Use Chicago Plays

The freshman play was not up to the standard set by the first year men when they scrimmaged the Varsity. Their punch was lacking and their plays went off ragged and without the precision and snap necessary for a winning combination. They started out in fast fashion and threatened the sophomore's goal in the second period of play. The freshmen did not use the Minnesota shift, but rather the Chicago shift and plays.

Although they have been using the Minnesota shift, they are now getting the Varsity ready for the Chicago game and are working out on the Chicago formations. The Sophs found little difficulty in breaking through the Maroon attack and nailing the backfield men before they were fully under way.

Radke's punts were good, but the fateful one that was blocked resulted in a touchdown for the sophomores. The first year ends got down fast under punts and gave the opposing men little chance to make sensational runs.

A small-sized crowd attended the game, both rooting sections being nearly empty.

mained idle in preparation for the match at Camp Randall Saturday. Present indications point to a battle which will vie with the Ohio-Chr game both in fierceness and closeness.

HARRIERS SHOW
TEAM ABILITY IN CHICAGO CONTESTFrosh Beat Second Varsity
by a Score of 35
to 25

In defeating Chicago Saturday, the Badger cross country squad displayed its ability as a team. While no especially brilliant running was called forth in the meet with the Midway aggregation, the team by taking the first five places, showed that it was not merely a collection of individual runners, but a working machine.

In the Minnesota meet it was every man for himself throughout the race, while at Chicago the squad remained closer together, bringing in as a result the best score it is possible for a cross country team to make.

Conference Meet November 19

In the conference meet, which comes November 19, it is the school with the strongest team which will carry off the championship, not necessarily the one with the fastest runners. In this lies Wisconsin's danger. Finkle, running his first season of cross country, has taken first place in both the dual meets of the year, and has shown that he will be a strong contender for the leading position in the big meet at Bloomington. Wall has also starred in the meets of this fall as well as last season, and should be at the front with Finkle in the finish of the conference race.

Aside from these two stellar runners, the team up to last Saturday, showed a lack of balance. This was due largely to the inexperience of the men. Tried in the fire of two dual meets, the team has made great advances in overcoming this weakness, and the work of the next two weeks will be largely that of obtaining still further balance in preparation for the concluding test of the season at Bloomington.

Frosh Beat Second Varsity

In the meet between the second Varsity and the freshman squad here Saturday, the freshmen trounced the regulars by a score of 25 to 32. Herrman, Varsity man, completed the short course first in the fast time of 16.52. Favra and Trier, freshmen, came in for second and third places, followed by Chase, Varsity, fourth; Calbert, freshman, fifth; Hazen, Varsity, sixth; Susuki, freshman, seventh; Robinson, freshmen, eighth; Dame-row, freshmen, ninth, and Peterson, Varsity, tenth.

TEAMS PLAY SECOND
SERIES OF TOURNEY

The second series in the inter-gym class soccer elimination tournament is now in progress. Several games were played last week, and one game is scheduled for each day of this week.

This afternoon the Red Dominoes will meet the Dumb-bells at 4:30 on the lower campus. On Wednesday the Black Triangles will play the Crescents; Thursday the Pirates and Black Circles will compete; and on Friday the Skull and Cross-bones will play the Black Squares.

On Friday afternoon the Chinese students will play against a team composed of men from the various gymnasium class teams. Anyone who has had experience in soccer, and who desires to play against the Chinamen, may report to Coach Schlatter at his office.

The results of last week's games are as follows: The Spades, captained by Roder, walked away from the Red Arrows with a score of 2 to 0; Captain Matteson's Horse-shoes defeated the Giants in a close and exciting struggle, scoring one point, and keeping their opponents scoreless; the Red Circles, under Captain Gulson, everwhelmed the Clubs with a score of 4 to 0; Captain Klos and his Pawnbrokers beat the Blue Streaks 2 to 1; Captain Bellack, with only six of his Sham-rocks, played against the entire eleven men of the Red Diamonds.

BADGERS FIT
FOR MICHIGAN
AFTER LAYOFF17,000 Ticket Applications Received for Game With Wolverines

With a victory in the Michigan game next Saturday as its objective, the Wisconsin football squad went through a stiff scrimmage yesterday afternoon. The Badgers are in fine fettle after their week's respite from Big Ten competition.

Their work yesterday was spirited and aggressive. All-Americans, working Michigan plays for all they are worth, were unable to make much headway through the Badger primary defense.

In the backfield during the workout, Coach Richards tried almost every available man. Capt. Sundt held down his regular fullback position, with "Rowdy" Elliott at right half. The backs were rotated in the various positions, with Williams, Gibson, Woods, Gould, and others getting chances at the various backfield positions.

17,000 Apply for Seats

When Michigan and Wisconsin clash at Camp Randall Saturday for the first time since 1905, probably the biggest crowd of the season will be on hand to cheer the efforts of the two elvens. More than 17,000 applications for seats have been received by Robert O. Quick, manager of ticket sales, and with the start of the open sale, it is expected that the rush for the pasteboards will be greatly increased.

In the 1905 game between Michigan and Wisconsin, the Wolverines were victorious, 12 to 0, after a great battle. Before meeting Michigan, the Badgers had succumbed to Chicago, 4 to 0, and went to Ann Arbor with a do or die spirit to remain in the championship race. Unable to stop the powerful Wolverine machine, Wisconsin emerged from the conflict on the short end of the score.

Great Men Played in 1905

Some of the greatest players in football history at Wisconsin were members of the 1905 eleven. Findlay and Vanderboom, known as the "war horse," played the two half-back positions, with Melzner running the team at quarter, and Roseth, a clever interfeerer and driving off-tackle plunger, played fullback. Remp held down center. Bertke, who ranks with Curtis, Scott, and Buck as Wisconsin's greatest tackles, played a wonderful game that year, as did Donovan, guard. Bush was a consistent end who was looked upon as one of the best wink men in the west during his years at Wisconsin.

Michigan has just as great an array of football players. "Germany Schulz," considered by many the best center who ever played football in the middle west, held down the pivot position. Norcross captained the team, and ran it from quarter. Tom Hammond, selected for the backfield on Yost's all-time Michigan eleven, played a sterling game at halfback, with Frank Longman at fullback.

Harry Hammond and John Garrels, great flank players, held down the ends, while Joe Curtis and Rheinschild were tackles. Graham and Schulte, who coached football at Nebraska last fall and is present track mentor at the Cornhusker institution, were the guards.

Michigan Still Strong

These were great lineups which battled for a win back in '05. Michigan and Wisconsin will present equally as strong teams in the game this year, however. Although the Wolverines lost to Ohio, they have one of the strongest teams in the Big Ten. With Steketee, Roby, Cappon, and Uteritz in the backfield, the Badger forward wall and

LET'S GO

THE varsity is swinging into its old time strides.

The flattering reports from the first two days of the Memorial Union campaign show beyond doubt that the university is measuring up wonderfully to the challenge.

If the present high pitch of enthusiasm is maintained until the last minute of the campaign, success will be assured.

We must not forget that the campaign has just started and that every ounce of energy must be thrown into the movement until midnight Saturday. The danger lies in relying too much on a good start. There must be no resting on the oars until the goal is reached.

The outstanding feature of the campaign so far is the large number of subscribers to life membership. Nothing would be more inspiring than a 100 per cent membership by the present student body. Many who gave two years ago are entitled to such a membership. Some may add a little to their contribution and get a life membership. Those who have not yet given can avail themselves of the opportunity by giving $50. The terms of payment are easy, extending over two years.

It is well to bear in mind that thousands of alumni the country over are watching the present campaign among the students. They are waiting to see if the men and women now in the university actually want the Memorial Union. The answer will be known Saturday morning. When that answer is flashed over the wires it will mean that every dollar of the million needed will be assured.

Build a home for Wisconsin spirit!

THE LANGUAGE OF THE MUSES

THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS had the following to say yesterday editorially under the caption, "The Revival of Greek:"

"In New York, according to the latest dispatches, if a man goes to his druggist and asks an alcoholic potion to cure homesickness he is roughly referred to the old oaken bucket. But if he bears a physician's prescription for acute nostalgia he may receive as an antidote two quarts of wine.

"The Greek language is not dead; it is in its antidotage. The physicians, psychanalysts, alienists and mental therapists have cornered all the Greek roots and are working them as they never were worked before. The patient's ailments have to be dignified before they can be treated, and for this purpose nothing serves so well as good old Greek. When the patient steps into the consulting room he finds his fears realized as phobias, his covert weaknesses diagnosed as neuroses and his overt acts as manias. The burnt child no longer dreads the fire; he has a traumatic neurosis.

"This tremendous revival of Greek in the clinics coincides with the passing of Greek from the classroom. It looks almost as if a certain sort of physicians had conspired to kill Greek in the schools in order to enhance its therapeutic value. Every schoolboy used to know that the Greek word for hoakum was phluaria. Now the layman goes to a psychanalysts for his phluaria and pays for it a stiff price. It was cheaper to study Greek in the classroom.

"There are times, of course, when ignorance is bliss. When the thirsty layman gets a prescription for nostalgia and finds that it works out in wine, he will not wish to look the gift horse in the mouth."

Leaving aside the journalistic humor contained in this editorial, there is a precious grain of truth in the position of the editor. His comment certainly shows that the reports of the death of the Greek language have been greatly exaggerated.

After passing through a state of coma for the past few years Greek bids fair to come back at Wisconsin. Two years ago there were six students taking beginning Greek here. Last year the number mounted to eight. This year there are eighteen enrolled in the course.

Perhaps the deplorable reaction against Greek has spent its force and we are preparing once more to ascend the heights and harken to the strains of the Muses in the sweetest language they have ever sung.

COURTESY TOWARDS CO-EDS

IF there is any one place where courtesy should be particularly watched, it is a co-educational institution, because in a school where men and women are continually intermingling there is a tendency for the men to overlook politeness and even mere civility in their relations with the women. Wisconsin is a co-educational university, but it would be stretching things considerably to say that all the men are imbued over much with chivalry.

Undoubtedly, the majority of the men are courteous, but there is a considerable minority, an obvious minority, that are positively rude. If any one wants evidence, let him watch the co-eds canvassing on the campus. The experience will make him wonder at the spirit of the girls who continue to work for the school under such trying conditions.

CITY RAISES $16,000 TOTAL IN UNION DRIVE

116 Subscriptions Reported at Workers' Dinner Yesterday

A total of $16,000 had been raised this noon by campaign workers for the Union Memorial building, it was reported at a dinner for Emerson Ela, city chairman, and 80 of his committee members at the city Y. M. C. A. Since the last report was made, $8,138 has been raised with the 74 subscriptions received.

Several $500 subscriptions came in, Mrs. Annie Marston, who has no connection with the university, gave $500. Many who subscribed two years ago when the project was first started, are pledging additional amounts now. Several of the banks donated $500. The business men's subscriptions range from $100 to $1,000.

To date 116 subscriptions have been received averaging $137. It was announced today that large subscriptions may be divided into smaller ones and each member of a family represented.

EX-SERVICE MEN WILL REPRESENT STUDENTS ON ARMISTICE DAY

Uniformed squads from each of the university organizations of ex-service men will represent the students at the Armistice day ceremonies, November 11, it was decided last Friday at a joint meeting of Gun and Blade, Red Arrow, and the American Legion.

Governor John J. Blaine will officiate at the ceremonies, and both the city and the state will take part. A wreath will be placed by the student representatives on the cenotaph which is to be erected in Capitol park.

Ephriam L. Peterson '22 is in charge of the squads that Gun and Blade, Red Arrow, and the American Legion will send. All university classes will be dismissed on Friday.

Shifted Bill is Satisfactory as Orph Celebrates

By PROEHL H. JAKLON

This is anniversary week at the Orpheum, and although we don't know what they're celebrating, the bill is quite satisfactory in spite of several shifts.

Jess and Dill

A novelty act entitled "The Human Puppets." The title is a misnomer.

Lulu Coates and Dancing Cracker Jacks

On account of the failure of a certain act to arrive act "H" was shifted to second place, and Miss Coates and four colored artists danced for fifteen minutes. Too bad the other act didn't show up.

Hugh Johnston

A billiard ball and card manipulator who successfully entertained an audience that had resolved to be sour. When he had finished, things began to look more anniversary.

Cleveland and Dowry

When the frock-coated man came out eating a banana, we knew the act was going to be good. His alleged capacity for liquor gave the good-looking but dignified partner a chance to air her views.

Dave Harris and His Seven Syncopators

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Harris insisted that the audience coax the syncopators to continue, the act was a hit. Mr. Harris showed his versatility by playing not only each of the instruments, but added novelty when he dragged in a bass viol.

The Robbins Family

Four infants who entertain while mama and papa look on. The two boys are born acrobats, and end the show with lots of applause.

1,249 ARE ENROLLED IN ENGINEERING SCHOOL

With 1,249 students enrolled, the College of Engineering is almost 10 per cent larger than last year.

The enrollment of 1,140 students at the corresponding time last year was by far the largest on record up to that time. The present enrollment includes 187 seniors, 306 juniors, 317 sophomores, 88 unpromoted freshmen, 337 new freshmen, and 14 graduate students.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva To Speak Here Nov. 27

Wilbur Glenn Voliva general overseer of Zion City, Ill., will speak in Madison, Nov. 27, in the Madison high school auditorium.

"His purpose in coming to the city is to preach the gospel and to hear repentance and to offer restitution for those who have done wrong," said Francis H. Cunningham, evangelist, who has been here making arrangements for Voliva's appearance.

Voliva will talk at an afternoon and evening gathering. A chorus of about 20 voices directed by John B. Thomas, leader of the Zion Conservatory of Music, will furnish music.

Miss Belle Schoelhorn and Miss Helen Buhmann, traveling deaconesses who have been distributing literature in the city for the last two months, will assist Voliva.

Fire Prevention Essays To Be Judged Soon

The fire prevention essays submitted by the children of the seventh and eighth grades have been turned in to Supt. T. W. Gosling and by him forwarded to the Association of Commerce. The committee to judge the best essays, consisting of D. D. Foxwell, Judge J. B. Florin and H. W. Schmidt, will meet the fore part of this week at the Association of Commerce and go over all of the

Madison Ideal Site For City, Says Planner

Harland Bartholomew, Expert On Cities, Talks to Kiwanis Club

"Madison has the most remarkable site for a beautiful American city that I have ever seen."
This was the statement made today to the Kiwanis club by Harland Bartholomew who is now making an investigation of the city under the auspices of the city plans commission.

Mr. Bartholomew outlined the growth of the city planning and zoning as a science of modern municipal government and said that American cities are coming more and more to realize the necessity for such plans.

Mr. Bartholomew told of the influence of streets on the development of cities.

"Madison is no different than hundreds of other American cities in the matter of streets," said Mr. Bartholomew. "One of the drawbacks to the growth of American cities is the uniformity in the width of streets. The standard width here is 66 feet. We have the same width on business streets that we have in residential sections where the traffic is less dense."

Mr. Bartholomew said that Madison's need, like that of many other American cities, is in a system of main traffic arteries, about twenty-five per cent of the total mileage, that will carry the bulk of business traffic. These trees should be wider than those in the residential sections.

We should, said the speaker, have a system of major streets.

Mr. Bartholomew said that city planning is not simply to make a city more beautiful but to make improvements in efficiency in the handling of business. He cited the inefficiency to Madison business men in having one freight yard on one side of the business section of the city and another on the other side.

Mr. Bartholomew said that one difficulty in interesting cities in city planning is that a city plan usually takes a generation to bring into effect.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the last 24 hours was 47 at 1 p. m. and the lowest was 35 at 7 a. m. Sun sets at 4:43.

Snow flurries and falling temperatures prevail in the northwest between high barometer in Canada, and low barometer in Rocky mountains. Temperatures within 10 degrees of zero were reached in the Saskatchewan valley. Light rains accompanied by low barometer in the northeastern states. It is fair in the south except for heavy local rains at New Orleans.

Exchange Bank Buys First National Site

The First National bank building, Pinckney st. and E. Washington ave., has been sold to the American Exchange bank. The consideration, it is understood, was about $85,000. The property has 22 feet frontage on Pinckney st. and runs back 120 feet on the avenue.

The building is one of the homes of one of the oldest banking institutions in the city. It was built by Dr. James Baker and designed by S. V. Shipman, who was the architect for the postoffice building. The building was first occupied by the old Park Savings bank, which bought it in 1872. The First National bank was organized in 1854 by Leonard J. Farwell, Levi B. Vilas and Napoleon V. Van Slyke as the Dane County bank. The American Exchange also represents one of the oldest banking institutions in Madison. John Suhr, father of the present banking family, established himself on King st., in the rear of the building now occupied by Vaas-Maw Co. He purchased the present quarters at King and E. Main sts. in 1889. Possession will be taken by the American Exchange bank when the First National bank moves into the new First Central building.

Detroit Dresses Up To Greet Marshal Foch

DETROIT, Mich. — Detroit was in gala attire today in honor of Marshal Foch. An afternoon and evening filled with honors for the allied leader was on the schedule following respects paid him earlier in the day at Camp Custer and at Ann Arbor. The marshal reached the camp from Chicago early today where he dedicated the new Roosevelt memorial hospital, an institution that will care for Michigan former service men. On his way to Detroit the marshal stopped at Ann Arbor and made a five minutes address to University of Michigan students.

Charge Violations of Elevator Code

Accidents caused by defective elevators in Wisconsin decreased markedly during the last year, the industrial commission announces. Two inspectors of the commission made complete inspection of 550 elevators and noted 2,988 violations of the state elevator code. Elevators have heretofore been responsible for a large percentage of the most serious accidents, the commission says. In 1919, 94 compensable accidents occurred, causing a total loss of 76,397 working days. During 1920 elevators were responsible for 92 accidents, causing a loss of 36,540 working days. The majority of accidents were due to violations of the state code, according to the commission, which says that as a result owners have been obliged to pay large amounts in increased compensation.

MOTORCYCLE SQUADS WITH GUNS GUARD N. Y. MAIL

Motorcycle guard accompanying mail truck through New York streets.

To prevent a recurrence of the recent daring holdup which netted the mail robbers $1,500,000 in cash, securities and jewels,

New York postal authorities have arranged for heavy guards to accompany all mail trucks carrying valuable packs. These guards, on motorcycles, are armed and ordered to "shoot to kill" if any attempts to repeat the robbery are made.

VIOLIN SENT TO KREISLER BY MADISON

Blaine Praises Tribute of Citizens in Letter Accompanying Letter

A beautiful, handmade violin, the workmanship of Knute Reindahl, noted violin maker of Madison, was sent to Fritz Kreisler today as a token of esteem from the citizens of Madison and in commendation of Mr. Kreisler's completion of his citizenship of the United States. The suggestion came from Mayor I. M. Kittleson following Mr. Kreisler's appearance in a concert series at the university early this year.

Mr. Reindahl has worked from time to time throughout the summer on the instrument, and has just recently completed it. The instrument was highly praised by Eugene Ysaye of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, while in Madison last week. Mr. Ysaye said that "it is a wonderful instrument and the best new violin I have ever seen." A letter accompanying the violin to Mr. Kreisler in New York City, was written by Gov. Blaine. It follows:

"My Dear Mr. Kreisler:

"Pleasurable is my privilege of informing you of a happy consummation of the desire of the citizens of Madison to show in some fitting way their sincere commendation of your having become a citizen of the United States of America, and so lending to our country all the lustre of your sublime art.

"Your fellow citizens and mine found Kreisler and the violin one and inseparable in all their planning. Finally, at the suggestion of The Honorable Milo Kittleson, Mayor of Madison, an American violin was decided upon as most harmoniously befitting the purpose.

"This violin is going forward to you today. Mayor Kittleson informs me the pine in the top grew in the Cascade Mountains of the Northwest, and the maple in the back, sides and scroll is from our native state. The model follows the lines of Strad in his best period and the workmanship is by a Norseman who years ago became an American, namely, Mr. Knute Reindahl of Chicago and Madison. The high esteem in which his work and his tone are universally held warrant me belief that the instrument is a most worthy tribute and one you will accept as denoting a deep sense of appreciation of the knowledge that Fritz Kreisler and his art are now treasured possessions of America though none the less of all the world.

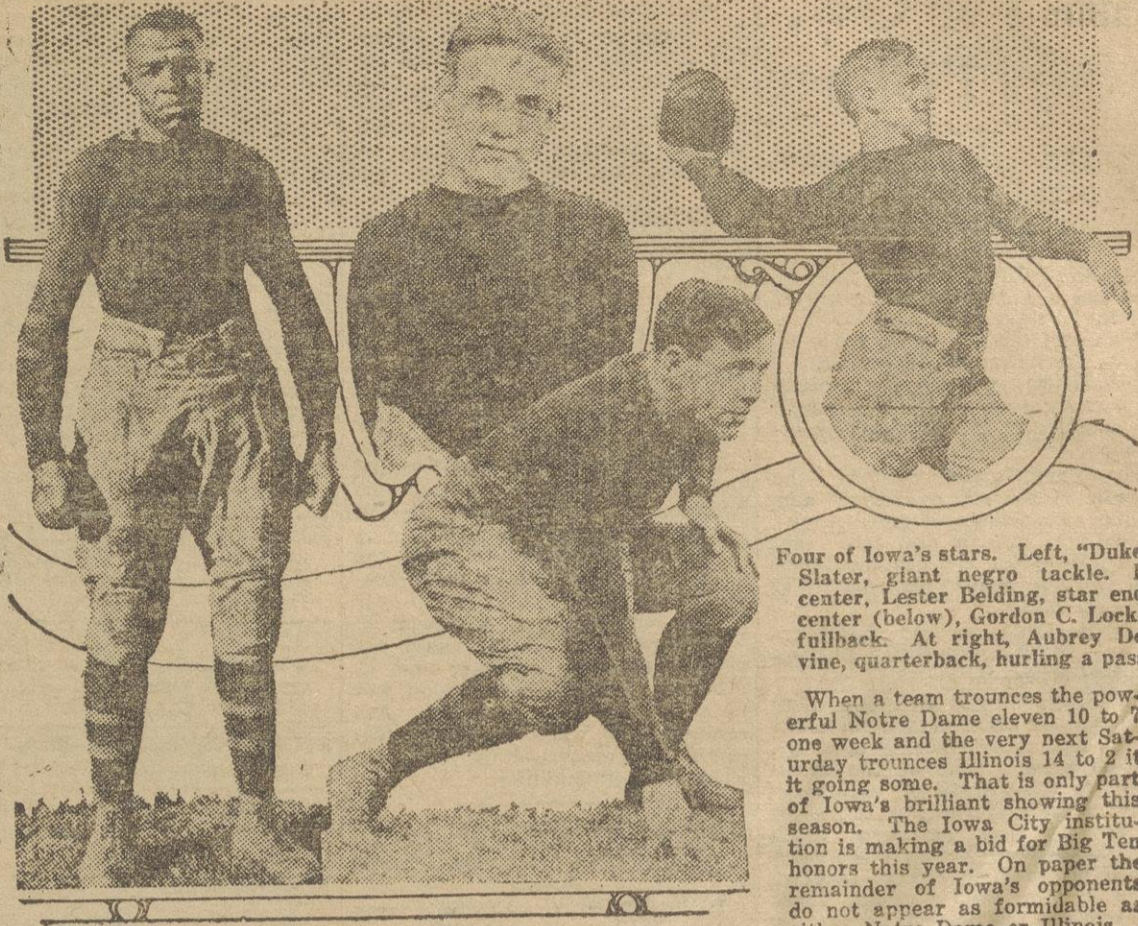

"Your haunting Viennese dance melodies, glorified by your wondrous technic, lead me personally to express the hope that you may sometime devote your attention to the music of America, as interpreted by our Paul Whiteman, Art Hickman and Meyer Davis. Your embarking into American musical comedy with the tuneful "Apple Blossoms," portends great things for America's lighter music forms, I am sure.

"Believe me, Sir, happy at having had this opportunity to address you and to sign myself

"Very cordially yours,
"JOHN J. BLAINE,
"Governor of Wisconsin."

The violin is valued at $600. Violins increase in value as they are used. Mr. Reindahl selected the maple for the back, sides and scroll of the instrument from Wisconsin timber. Mr. Reindahl is said to be one of the greatest violin makers in the world. Emil Sauret, London; the Bohemian artist, Gredorawitch, Franc Von Vecy and Hugo Hermann, Cincinnati symphony orchestra, are among the noted players who use instruments by Mr. Reindahl.

IOWA IS PLUNGING ITS WAY TO TOP OF WESTERN LIST

Four of Iowa's stars. Left, "Duke" Slater, giant negro tackle. In center, Lester Belding, star end; center (below), Gordon C. Locke, fullback. At right, Aubrey Devine, quarterback, hurling a pass.

When a team trounces the powerful Notre Dame eleven 10 to 7 one week and the very next Saturday trounces Illinois 14 to 2 it is going some. That is only part of Iowa's brilliant showing this season. The Iowa City institution is making a bid for Big Ten honors this year. On paper the remainder of Iowa's opponents do not appear as formidable as either Notre Dame or Illinois.

FEAR HOLDS PLAN OF DISARMAMENT

infinitely more important than common interests. Look and you'll find the opponents pretty respectable. Two things you can all start to do right now. First, examine your hearts and pass out that insane fear of things that never existed, that your opponent is a superman; secondly, make others confident that you have justice, hate injustice, and that confidence in human nature has misplaced that abnormal fear.

"This disarmament conference is about the last chance of preventing things from running on to the next war. If the world has another war, a revolution will result, which will entirely wipe out the whole international civilization. The world cannot endure another war, and nothing will be left but to make a complete new beginning."

The "Metrapole" for Style--

It isn't every season that you strike a single-breasted model as keen as the "Metrapole." The picture gives you a pretty good idea of how smart it is. Very softly constructed, pliable front, it has that "comfy" feel young men enthuse about, four buttons, notched lapels. You can't find a better model than this anywhere.

We're offering something worth while in the "Metrapole" to men who like modest yet defined style. In very carefully chosen woolens at $55.
