PRICE 5 CENTS

EXACTLY 700 PROM TICKETS ALREADY SOLD

Excessive Demands Have Necessitated Arranging For 100 Extra Supper Checks

Exactly 700 tickets with supper checks have already been sold for the 1923 Junior Promenade. The sale has exceeded the plans so that 100 extra supper checks have been arranged for by the committee.

Attempts are still under way to get about 100 more supper accommodations in order to provide for all who care to attend.

Chase Issues Call

"I wish all organizations that have not already sent in for tickets would do so by tonight," said Lucius Chase, chairman of the ticket sale, "in order that we may judge how many more to count on."

As the special features this year are being particularly emphasized, spectators are urged to take advantage and obtain their seats soon. The spectators' seats will probably be in the balcony on the same side as the governor's section.

200 Are On Open Sale

Plans for 200 prom tickets without supper checks have also been made, and these tickets are now on sale at the Park hotel pharmacy, Fisher brother's cigar store, Morgan's, the University pharmacy, and the Menges drug store at University avenue and Park street.

The tickets with supper checks will be available between January 23 and 26, at the Alpha Sigma Phi house.

Eight-mile Skating Race is Held Today

The eight-mile skating race to Bernard park and return will take place at 3:30 today, starting at the university boat house. The race was postponed from last Wednesday on account of the strong wind. Much of the snow has been blown away so that the ice is now in fairly good condition, according to the skating experts.

Slaughter Speaks at Y. W. Vespers

Prof. M. S. Slaughter, chairman of the classic department, will speak at the Y. W. Vespers Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in Lathrop parlors. There will be special music at the service. Gladys Haskins '22 is in charge.

Sherman Addresses International Club

W. E. Sherman, a member of the Cosmopolitan club at Cornell college, spoke at a business meeting of the International club held last evening at 7:30 in the cabinet room of the university Y. M. C. A. His topic concerned the organization of the club at Cornell. A. J. Fries of Minnesota also addressed the club.

All persons on the editorial, reportorial, and business staffs of The Daily Cardinal will meet at the Badger studio, 21 East Main street, at 12:45 today, for a staff picture.

DRASTIC CHANGES IN ROUTINE LAB WORK SUGGESTED

Engineering Committee Urges Reduction of Impractical Phases of Studies

That the routine features of laboratory work should be reduced to a minimum, and that the time thus conserved should be devoted to practical phases of the subject under study was strongly urged by the Student-Faculty committee of the College of Engineering at a meeting held Thursday night.

The allegation was made that in some courses a large portion of the student's time is spent in reading a meter, watching a gauge, or weighing water, things that must be done in performing an experiment, but which do not bring much real benefit to the man who does them. An effort will be made to slow how work of that nature can be reduced in quantity without impairing the effectiveness of the instruction.

An apparent inclination on the part of some instructors to discriminate in favor of typewritten reports and against handwritten ones was called to the attention of the committee, and, after some discussion, a resolution was passed requesting that such discrimination be discontinued.

Letter of Love Spoils Romance In Prom Comedy

Two married couples parted, one romance shattered, and two careers ended—all this threatens to happen through the misinterpretation of one misplaced love letter in "On the Hiring Line," the Pre-Prom play.

But it was an unusual letter. The endearing terms used were quite original and so different from the usual love letter, in fact, that one of the threatened people said, "It sounds like a comic valentine."

However, as "On the Hiring Line" is a comedy, all these threatened troubles could not materialize. Before the letter is finally identified, however, nearly every member of the cast at some time has been accused of receiving it. It was, undoubtedly, a very unusual letter.

"Punkin Holler" Country Meetin' Is Held Feb. 17

The second annual "Punkin Holler Community Program," under the auspices of the Agric Triangle and the Euthenics club, will be held in Agricultural hall, February 17, according to an announcement just issued by T. R. Daniels '23, chairman.

"Punkin Holler Community Meetin'" is a typical country school program that is presented to students of the university and their farmer friends by the agricultural and home-economics students.

"Agricultural auditorium will be decorated to represent a one-room country school," declared Clem Weyker '24, chairman of the decorations committee. The characters in the program will represent typical rural community people. Students are expected to dress in costumes that they would wear at a real community "meetin'."

Music and songs for the occasion will be furnished by the "singing rustics." Refreshments are to be served during the program.

Prof. Leith Leaves For South America

Prof. Charles Kenneth Leith, chairman of the geology department, has left for a two months stay in South America, where he will inspect mines of high grade iron ore in Chile for a large American company. He will then go across the Andes to Argentina, and up to Brazil by boat, where he will inspect other mines. This is Professor Leith's second trip to South America.

JESSE COHEN '23 IS WRITER OF PROM FOX TROT

"Drifting With You" Selected By Judges From 23 Numbers

"Drifting With You," written by Jesse Cohen '23, was selected as the prize fox trot for the 1923 Junior Promenade.

According to the judges, it sounds like a professional, musical comedy number. Horace R. Taggart '22, assisted Cohen, and Harold Taylor '22 composed the words.

The two final numbers, 7 and 13, were heard by the whole committee Friday afternoon, and the judgment was very close. "Angel Man," written by Sada Buckmaster '21, was the other fox trot that was up for final judgment.

Sada Buckmaster and Jesse Cohen both submitted fox trots last year which were up for final try-outs.

"We have tried to conduct this whole contest with absolute fairness and impartiality," declared Gertrude Collins, chairman of the fox trot committee, "and we hope that the decision will meet with approval. We had wonderful material submitted and it was difficult to pick from the 23 numbers."

To feature the Prom fox trot on a double piano and to have the words sung is the plan of presentation being arranged by Miss Collins. The words are considered particularly good, and the committee feels that Prom-goers would enjoy hearing them when the piece is first presented.

The $50 award will be turned over to Jesse Cohen as soon as possible, and Hook brothers have promised to publish the winning number and pay royalties to the composer as soon as expenses are cleared.

Ecke to Head Commerce Club

A new group of officers for the second semester was elected at an informal meeting of the Commerce club in the university Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday night. Those elected are: Rollin E. Ecke '22, president; Charles A. Inman '23, vice-president; Ewart K. Clear '22, secretary; Orvin H. Anderson '23, treasurer; Peter V. Cheli '23, assistant treasurer, and Lester W. Brann '22, sergeant-at-arms.

TWO GIRLS' BASEBALL MANAGERS ARE CHOSEN

RESPONSE TO CHINA CANVASS IS GRATIFYING

—McCANDLESS

Fund is Used to Maintain Jack Childs '11 in Peking—Announce Student and Faculty Workers

"The response to 'Wisconsin in China' canvassers, who started work today, has been very gratifying. We hope to reach our goal of $3,650 before January 17, the date set for the close of the drive," declared Lee McCandless '23, student chairman in charge, yesterday.

The "Wisconsin in China" fund is used to maintain Jack Childs '11 in Peking, China, where he is interpreting to Chinese students the Wisconsin idea of service. He is organizing study groups, promoting athletics, and teaching Christianity. Most of his time is spent with the better educated of Chinese youths.

Ross is Chairman

Prof. E. A. Ross is general chairman of the organization for this year. McCandless, who is student chairman, is being assisted by Roy Sorenson '22, and Joseph Holbrook '22 in the canvass.

The fraternity canvass is in charge of Holbrook. Each fraternity has invited a faculty member to speak on the drive during some meal hour, after which the actual canvassing is done.

The canvass of non-fraternity men is in charge of Sorenson. He has four division leaders under him, and each of these leaders has a squad of 10 captains to aid him.

Other Schools Represented

The faculty is carrying on its own campaign, under the leadership of Dean F. E. Turneure.

Other universities in the United States have long had representatives in China. When Wisconsin professors who were in China viewed the great work Yale, Harvard, Princeton, and other universities were doing, they felt that their university might accomplish a similar service. In 1916 John L. Childs was sent to Peking, where he still lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Childs now have a house in Peking which has become a center for his activities. Here Chinese young men always find a welcome, and they often come for advice on personal problems as well as those that arise in the many student organizations in the city.

Name Committees

Professor Ross, in commenting on the drive, said, "I think of Childs as an ambassador from the fortunate students of this university to the educated young men in Peking. How fitting it is that we should send them the most precious and most famous thing we have—the Wisconsin spirit."

Professor Ross has appointed the following faculty members to aid him in the drive: Dean F. E. Turneure, and Professors E. H. Farrington, G. C. Fiske, S. H. Goodnight, A. P. Haake, T. E. Jones, F. A. Ogg, F. C. Sharp, and E. Trough.

The following committees have been appointed by McCandless:

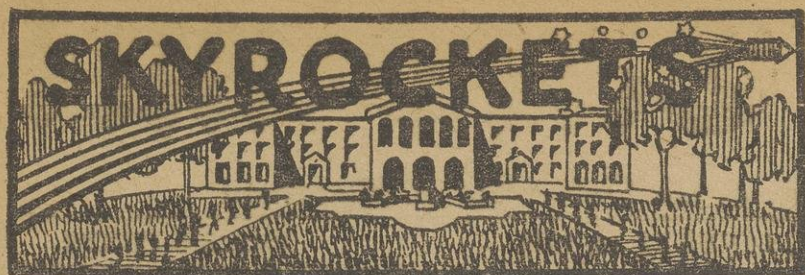

General student canvass—Roy Sorenson, chairman; Wilson D. Trueblood, Benjamin N. Peacock.

Fraternity canvass—Joseph C. Holbrook, chairman; Reuben C. Chadbourne, John F. Murphy.

General publicity—Reginald W. Garstang, chairman; Douglas K. Newell, Ezra G. Crane.

Cardinal publicity—William M. Sale.

Oral publicity—Phillip G. Deicher.

GOOD GORE

BY ways and paths unknown, we have received scraps of the Sigma Phi paper. We herewith print certain extracts that may be of interest to you, gentle reader.

The first is evidently a reference to some recent convention of theirs:

"Those present: Sam Hickox, John Linen, Pete Johnson, and Rube Chadbourn.

"The Alpha carried off first honors for the most representative attendance, for which the chapter is to be given a two volume edition of the 'Autobiography of Andrew D. White.'"

The next paragraph is self-explanatory, concerning their catch of freshman this last fall:

"We (editorially) suppose that by the time you read this article, you will have read Chad's write-up on the rushing season. Of course, you know that Chad wrote it. Who else could write so well? But in our opinion, we should have said more about the freshmen we raked in this fall. He did say a mouthful when he said that they looked a bit ROUGH now, and he has a GREAT deal of CONFIDENCE in TIME'S MIRACLES. Time does work wonders, it is true, but there is also a saying that it waits for no man. Such being the case, we fear that some of the slimmers would be left far behind but for some severe applications of the proverbial poker, which we are administering daily. While there is life there is hope, but the signs are few and far between, so you can judge for yourselves the corresponding conditions of our hopes. They (our hopes) are not dead yet and we suppose that they (the freshmen) are as good as any. Only it is up to us to see that the good is not interred with their bones. NO GOLD TIPS.....FINEST QUALITY."

Follows a paragraph telling how they got these wonderful freshmen:

"Once again the hectic days of rushing have passed over us and we are caught up on sleep. When the smoke has lifted and the customary sandbags were stored carefully away in mothballs, the above stood revealed." This probably was placed below a picture of the poor Frosh, badly banged up by sandbags in their struggles to keep the pins from their lapels.

Another method used by the heartless Sig Phis for coraling the innocent frosh: "Tell them how far it is to town and then give them the choice of taking the button or walking home."

After praising the freshmen in this manner for some length, the Sig Phis pay homage to their alumni thusly:

"We feel that this year more than ever before we owe our success in large measure to the very good help of our Alumni brothers. It is true that alumni assistance has always been a vital factor in the Alpha's rushing, but never before has it impressed us so strongly." Smell? * * *

WHILE you read this, rest assured that we are many miles from Madison, and have burned all bridges behind, in fear of the wrath of the haughty Sigma Phis. Not that we fear them exactly, but we can't argue with this cold of ours. * * *

Anyway, the Sig Phis can state with certainty that they are the best fraternity in the country. * * *

DEEMING it practical at this time, now that the question of dress for men at Prom has been settled, to speak of what the women will wear, the Prom Queen desires to announce that evening dresses are the correct thing, but that open-work stocking must be worn with discretion. The greatest contention arises around the question of whether hair nets may be discarded. The Queen says that they are being worn in the East, but that those entering the North, South, or West doors may go without them. * * *

YOU hear lots of criticism these days about the style and grammatical precision of our great writers, but who has ever heard anybody kick about the grammar of Ring Lardner? Have we discovered something new, or is our idea of grammar entirely wrong? * * *

DOWN in Dartmouth the boys have told the girls who are coming to their Winter Carnival to look "pretty and warm, not expensive and cold." Sounds as though they were preparing for a hot time, does it not? Oh, those Eastern boys!! * * *

AND tonight the curfew rings at 10 o'clock. But what do we care. There ain't going to be no mixer, nohow. * * *

"I'm going to be a self-made man, if I get through some of my courses," someone said to us the other day. Is it possible that he intends to study for the finals? * * *

THE hockey team is not responsible for injuries sustained by passersbys due to flying pucks. They say that if you can't keep your face out of their business, you deserve to get it in the neck. * * *

"I will leave school on one condition," and the freshman knew whereof he spoke.

He slipped on the icy pavement of the S. Hamilton st. hill, and the left arm was broken by the fall. Mr. Bunn was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where the bones were set last night, but this morning he was moved to his home.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

PEARSE TROPHY IS AWARDED TO GUY M. SUNDT

Ex-Captain Called Best All-Around Badger Player

Guy M. Sundt, captain of the 1921 Varsity football team, was yesterday awarded the Pearse trophy for the best all-around player whose work was of greatest use to Wisconsin during the past season.

The award was made upon a unanimous vote by Professors J. F. A. Pyre, Major John S. Wood, and Prof. Guy S. Lowman, who composed the committee of judges.

"I am well pleased with the selection of Sundt," said Athletic Director Thomas E. Jones yesterday. "His work was of the highest calibre throughout the season and his record of four years on a Varsity team has seldom been equalled."

Punts Never Blocked

"During the four seasons that he has punted for Wisconsin, not one kick has been blocked. This is a remarkable record in itself. Four times in the Chicago game Sundt punted from behind his own goal line. His tackling this year was hard to excel."

Ex-captain Sundt was a tackling demon throughout the season. He was the main power in Wisconsin's secondary defense and his work at times took on the appearance of that of a defensive end.

Played Though Injured

He played fullback on the 1918 and 1919 gridiron teams. Elected to the captaincy of the 1919 eleven, Sundt resigned when "Chuck" Carpenter, former captain-elect, returned to Wisconsin. He was shifted to fullback last year and was a general choice for All-Western fullback.

This year Sundt climaxed his four years of Conference competition by playing through nearly two quarters of the Chicago game with a broken collarbone and torn shoulder ligaments.

Puck Team Plays First Game Today

The Wisconsin hockey team will meet a Milwaukee Athletic club sextet in its first clash of the season on the lower campus rink today. The contest will begin at 1:30 p. m.

Michigan, which was scheduled to stack up against the Badgers, wired yesterday that the team would be unable to make the trip to Madison. Soft ice at Ann Arbor which prevented practice and the Wolverines' desire for two games instead of one caused a postponement. Wisconsin will play Michigan on February 14 here.

Players who will be held in reserve are: Ledin, center; Mokrys, wing; Kubosch, defense; Burns, defense; Hendrickson, offense; Blodgett, and Woods.

The Milwaukee Athletic club team, under the leadership of Captain Schrinners, is reputed to be one of the strongest outfits in the state. Experienced players who have gained a nation-wide reputation are on the roster of the Milwaukee club.

Bleachers have been erected around the Varsity hockey rink. Ticket sale will be held at the rink. The price of admission is 35 cents.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the last 24 hours was 16 at 8 p. m. and the lowest was 10 at 7 a. m. Precipitation, .01. Sun sets 4:46.

'24-'25 CINDER MEET IS HELD TODAY IN ANNEX

Contest Promises to Be One of Largest Events of Season

The championship of the freshmen and sophomore track classes will be decided this afternoon when the classmen meet at 2:00 p. m. in the annex for the last intramural contest of the semester. The meet will be one of the largest of the season as a great number of men in each class are signed up for the events. As only men in the regular track classes are eligible to compete in the meet, inexperience will be no handicap, and many untried cindermen will have an opportunity to show their ability in the sport.

Of the men signed up to compete in the 40-yard dash, the pick seems to be Owen, Perry, Cornwell, Holmes, Pinkerton, Snell, and Hanson. Hurdlers of note who will enter the 40-yard highs are Wheeler, Bebb, Pinkerton, Wille, Daniels, Lovergan, and Perry. Some of those competing in the 45-yard lows will be Perry, Wheeler, Linke, Cornwell, Holmes, Pinkerton, Snell, Roberts, Wille, and Medley.

In the middle distances, the 440-yard dash will have Odell, Holmes, Cleveland, Hill, Kamm, Colby, and Hand. The half will be taken care of by Bergstresser, Hill, Lyman, Martin, and Robinson.

Competing in the mile run are Grubb, Ragatz, Hoebel, Reynolds, Swingle, Bergstresser, Robinson, Lange, and Piper. In the two-mile grind will be Grubb, Hoyer, Chapman, and Piper.

The field events are also well represented among the various classes. In the high jump are Guenther, Owen, Link, Lyman, Bebb, Pinkerton, Roberts, Rowley, and Usher. Entered in the broad

SWIMMERS MEET M. A. C. IN GYM THIS AFTERNOON

Record Crowd is Expected at First Home Event of Season

The Milwaukee Athletic club-Wisconsin Varsity swimming meet comes off this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the gymnasium tank. Bleachers have been erected to accommodate the crowd that will attend to see the Badger squad in their first home engagement of the season. Only a limited number of fans will be able to witness the meet owing to the small amount of space given over to the bleachers.

The Varsity will depend upon many of last year's veterans to carry the team through the meet, as they did several weeks ago when they met the M. A. C. at Milwaukee. George Bennett '23, is the kingpin of the Varsity and will swim in the 100, and possibly the 220, besides holding down the anchor position on the relay team. J. J. Lamboley '22 is another of Coach Steinauer's mainstays who will be depended upon to cop his races. He is entered in the 40 and 220 and will also swim in the relay event.

"Rudy" Lederey '24, will be a strong contender for honors in the breaststroke swim and will try to repeat his win of a few weeks ago. "Bill" Collins '22, who copped the diving event in the first meet against the M. A. C. will be much in evidence when that event is called. His diving this year has been more spectacular than ever and many favor him to win the conference honors.

Opposing Bennett for premier honors, will be Thompson, of the M. A. C., who has jumped into the limelight with his great exhibitions in the sprints and 220 event. He was the high scorer for the M. A. C. in the last meet and the local fans will be watching him with interest when he opposes the Varsity stars today. It is rumored that he may be a student at the university next year.

Reineking, and Mayer will be two other men who are expected to score heavily for their team in the plunge event. They managed to score first and second places in the last meet and, with the shorter tank here, they should do better, when the time element will aid them in making better records. Heubner will be Wisconsin's best bet in this event. Bach, Koch and others will also swim for the visitors.

This meet will end the Varsity's activity in the tank for the semester, as Coach Steinauer will give his men a good lay-off in order to have them prepared for their final exams. Immediately after the opening of the second semester, however, he will begin training the squad in preparation for the championship meets with the Conference teams.

jump are Holmes, Owen, Linke, Cornwell, Palen, Usher, and Kamm. Heaving the shot will be Linke, Lyman, Evans, Hand, and Boerner. In the pole event are Perry, Wheeler, Fellows, Head, Newton, and Rowley.

The most keenly contested event of the afternoon will be the relay in which each class will enter a team of four men, each man running one lap. The favorites in this event are the 3:30 classes of Tuesday and Thursday.

Officials for the meet will be: Referee and starter—Meade Burke. Clerk of course—Charles Jensch. Assistant clerk of course—John Holzberg. Clerk of track events—John Murphy. Clerk of field events—Wells Anderson. Judges of finish—Burt White, George Stolley, Clayton Roberts. Timers—Enos Jones, Carl Rossmiessel, H. A. Hofacker. Scorer—Norman DeNosauqui. Caller—Philip Niederman. Judges of field events—Joseph Delfosse, A. V. Stegeman, Harry Kearby, Sterling Alberts. Inspectors—George Finkle, Arnold Jarvis. Manager of meet—Charles Jensch.

GAME TONIGHT WITH MICHIGAN TO BE CLOSE

Badgers and Wolverines Evenly Matched For Battle

LINEUP

Wisconsin	R. F.	Michigan
Ceaser		Reason or Millar
Taylor	L. F.	Kipke
Gibson	C.	Ely
Williams	L. G.	Rea
Tebell	R. G.	Cappon

The Wisconsin-Michigan game which will be staged in the university gymnasium tonight gives indication of being one of the hardest battles confronting the Badgers this year. Following three days of light workouts, the men should be able to put up the best exhibition seen on the local floor this season.

The team, however, is not in as good shape as it might be. Both Johnson and Irish are on the hospital list, and it is exceedingly doubtful as to whether or not either of them will be in fit trim to play tonight. Williams has about recovered from his injuries which have been bothering him more or less all season, and should be at his best.

Wolverines Are Faster

Doctor Meanwell states that the Wolverines have a much faster team than has Wisconsin. Thus the game will be a case of the Meanwell style of game stacked against five faster individual players.

"If the men forget all about individual play, and play the game as they have been coached, we will win from Michigan," was the only prediction that Coach Meanwell would make as to the outcome of the game.

Kipke, of football fame, is the Wolverine "Rollie Williams," and his speedy dribbling and floorwork have brought forth much applause from all who have seen him perform. Cappon, at guard, is another football star who has landed a berth on Mather's team.

Grid Warriors Compete

Thus it may be seen that the two Badger guards will be pitted against two men whom they played against on the gridiron last fall. There is certain to be rivalry from this quarter, as the football game ended in a tie, and a victory tonight would be a source of satisfaction to the grid warriors of either team.

Ely, the Michigan center, is one of the fastest men in the Conference this year, according to Doctor Meanwell, who watched Michigan win from Chicago. In addition to being a speedy floorman, he shoots and guards well.

Will Be Capacity Crowd

Michigan's chances of victory hinge to a great extent upon whether or not Miller will be able to play. He is the chief Wolverine scorer, and the whole attack is built around him. With Kipke getting the ball, and with Miller doing the shooting, Michigan has a combination which will tax the Badger defense to the utmost.

Seats that were not sold to the students on Thursday were disposed of at open sale yesterday afternoon, and a capacity house will greet the team as they come out on the floor for the first home conference battle. Persons having tickets must bear in mind that no one will be admitted while the play is in progress, and must be in their seats before 7:30 p. m.

It is planned to make Feb. 11, the day set by the university for the ice carnival the big day, turning the city sports over to the university, and thus throwing the city crowds over to the university festival. The events on that day will be held on Lake Mendota. On other days most of the events probably will be on Lake Monona, al-

MOCK TRIAL IS HELD BY PHILO

Negative Teams Win in Athena and Hesperia De- bates

In place of a regular debate, Philomathia held a mock trial at the last meeting of the semester last night. The case which was tried before the court had to do with the alleged injury to the fifty-first joint of the Athenae rooster, resulting from a clipping of the rooster's tail. Sterling Tracy '22, in his capacity as judge of the court, maintained order and peace in the hall.

Some of the witnesses called were: janitor of the upper campus, janitor of Music hall where the crime was said to have occurred, and prominent ornithologists and anatomists who analyzed the specimens and exhibits. With the introduction of the star witness, a live rooster, the jury decided in favor of the prosecution. The attorney for the defense was Harry Klos '24, and his opponent was Frank Drobka '23.

Both of the debates held by the other two hill societies were won by the negative team.

In Athenae the following question was debated: "Resolved, that the United States should be a party to the Pacific treaty drawn up by the disarmament conference." The winning team was composed of Sam Sneed '23, Jacob Mantel '25, and J. Dawson '24. The affirmative was debated by J. Nerad '23, A. Friedman '23, and S. Sargis '23. H. Wendroff '22 also gave a talk on the results of the Disarmament conference.

The question which was taken up in Hesperia was in regard to the ratification of the Four Power Pacific treaty by the United States senate. H. C. Waither presented the matter in the form of a topic, and a debate followed, which was won by the negative. The negative was composed of L. M. Boyce '22, V. H. Roick '23, and Edward Sobey '25. The affirmative was discussed by Harold Hartwig '25, L. P. Richmond '23, and Helmuth Kletzien '25.

AT THE GRAND

While Richard Barthelmess and his supporting cast were in the Virginia mountains filming "Tol'able David," all lived the parts they portray on the screen, appearing in their make-up at all times.

One day the sheriff received a warning that three very tough mountaineers were coming to town and that they had plenty of moonshine. The sheriff was alert and when he saw Walter P. Lewis, Ernest Torrence, and Ralph Yeadley walking up the street he approached them and tried to arrest them.

Explanations followed and the sheriff bought the ice cream. While so engaged they looked out the window and saw the three men the sheriff had been warned about.

"Well, you all would make a mighty fine sextette," was the sheriff's comment. "Tol'able David," which has been showing at the Grand all this week, will close its engagement tonight.

AT THE STRAND

Alice Calhoun in James M. Barrie's famous novel "The Little Minister" is being shown at the Strand theater for the last times today. There is also being shown a Snub Pollard comedy and a Prizma story in colors.

"How to Prepare For Exams" to Be Discussed at "Y"

"All students who have not been getting as high grades as they should have, and especially freshmen, should come to the discussion group at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, at which time the subject 'How to prepare for an Examination' will be taken up," said Frederick E. Wolf, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday.

"Printed material has been prepared for this discussion," Secretary Wolf continued, "and it has been our aim to make these highly beneficial to everyone who wants to come."

The subject for discussion next Sunday will be "How to Write an Examination."

Signal Corps Unit Elects Officers

The signal corps unit of university cadets has elected the following officers for next semester: O. F. Landkamer '23, president; W. P. Flynn '23, vice-president; L. P. Richmond '23, secretary, and William H. Knott '23, treasurer.

A Moral with a Think in it

Once upon a time there lived a man who went to school and after a while he did finish.

And all the while he didn't use a Kodak. In spite of himself he gradually forgot all about his Alma Mater and the many friends he had made and the good times he had had.

He still lives but he has been a "dead one" for a long time—simply because he was not alive to the possibilities before him while he was in school. He missed one of the really big things that go to make up a college career—Kodaking—and he will regret it as long as he lives. He neglected in his duty to himself. Too late, he now realizes that the "tie that binds" his after life to his college days is missing.

Moral: — Say to yourself. We've told you often enough. We'll simply suggest again that your school days will soon be over, and that you too have an after college life to live.

THE TUTORING CLASSES

IT would perhaps be far easier to let each student work out his own salvation. And in the case of upper classmen that is largely what is done.

Freshmen, however, who have never taken a university semester examination and to whom the methods of study and teaching are new and strange, require and should have some assistance.

The tutoring classes conducted at the university Y. M. C. A. and the departmental buildings are well directed efforts to aid those backward in their studies and those to whom examinations are bugbears. Not only for backward students are these tutoring classes of value. They present in brief a resume of the courses by competent instructors.

There are few students who would not find the classes of value in reviewing for the coming exams.

THE NEW SCHEDULE

WITH the opening of the second semester will come perforce the arrangement of a new schedule of classes and courses.

The coming semester will be the last one at Wisconsin for many students. It will be the last opportunity for them to take some of those courses that will be eminently helpful in their chosen career.

It has become an invariable practice among certain students to give no heed nor thought to what courses they should take other than those required for a degree. They choose those electives that happen to be known as "pipe courses." Or they hurriedly run through the time table to find classes that come at a convenient hour. Eight o'clocks exist, in the minds of these students, only for freshmen and other uninitiated. The value of a course is too often not considered as much as is the convenience and ease it offers.

In colleges, as everywhere else, what is worth while cannot be secured without effort.

An education should mean more than the required courses plus a heterogeneous assortment of easy courses chosen for the minimum of work they entail. An education should be balanced. A university graduate should receive a symmetrical culture. And with a variety of electives to choose from, naught but personal lack of initiative and endeavor stands in the way of attainment of that ideal.

Intelligent and systematic study of the time table and the catalog would more than be repaid. It would be fair to try it at any rate.

College is not a snap. If it were, the value of a college education would be far less than it is. Worthy awards entail worthy effort. We climb a mountain to get the better view.

COMPULSORY ATHLETICS

THERE is something about the term "compulsory" that the average American heartily dislikes. It makes little difference whether it be compulsory athletics, compulsory military training or compulsory pleasure.

Americans pride themselves on being an independent and untrammelled people. When forced to do anything they are apt to take a very dilatory attitude, but when volunteers in a cause, they are capable of fighting with vim. Perhaps that is the reason that so far compulsory athletics have not proved a splendid success. Eastern colleges especially have of late been trying out various schemes whereby each student is required to report for tryouts on the various teams.

The method has much to commend it as well as to condemn it. It would mean that the entire male attendance of the school would be drawn from for every sport. Athletes of real calibre might easily be discovered among the list. By a process of elimination the squads could be picked and the men started in training. And the system compels each man to train if he is desired for the squad.

In every college of any size there are many football, baseball and basketball stars who never report for tryouts. Some of them are unaware of their ability. Others lack time or do not feel the vital urge of serving their school in an athletic way.

Perhaps some others are naturally reticent and need urging to make them report for training. At any rate where compulsory training has been tried they have found that there is a wealth of hitherto unavailable material.

Considering, however, the aversion of the average American to compulsion of any sort, it is doubtful if athletes discovered in this way will make a winning team out of a mediocre one. Something besides numbers or material is necessary to athletic success. Without that all-pervading urge of varsity spirit, without that determination to fight in the game, a winning team cannot be secured.

More than one game has been won on determination and nerve alone. Varsity spirit—which is winning spirit—is more often found in a team composed entirely of volunteers, men who covet the college letter less than they do the athletic name of the school.

Until the Eastern teams can put out better teams than they have of late years, we cannot believe that compulsory athletics is a wonderful success. For certain it is that the Western schools have been rapidly assuming athletic superiority in spite of their teams being composed of volunteer material.

Students in agriculture and home economics are now rehearsing for "Neighbors," by Zona Gale, and "The Dear Departed," by Houghton. These plays are planned for the entertainment of the farmers and their wives who will attend the Dairy Jubilee at Madison, January 30 to February 4.

Both of these plays are clever and realistic in their interpretation of rural life. They were chosen because they are suitable for use by schools, churches, farmers' organizations and other rural groups as a form of community entertainment.

The plays are under the direction of Miss Helen McCarthy of the department of speech.

The casts are as follows:

"Neighbors"

Mrs. Abel—Mary Russell.

Inez—Hazel Goddard.

Mrs. Main—Elsie Hess.

AT THE ORPHEUM

The present vaudeville bill at the Orpheum has been received with much friendliness by local theatergoers, and several acts, snapped into the proportions of hits. Chick Yorke and Ethel King, in the laugh-producing offering called "The Old Family Tin-Type," and Melo Danse, a whiff of the Follies, with five clever artists in song, dance and musical numbers proved especially popular.

Unusual interest is being shown in the coming to the Orpheum on Monday of Miss Helen Keller, the blind, deaf and formerly dumb woman, who with her teacher and life-long friend, Anne Sullivan Macy, appears as the feature attraction on the new vaudeville program.

264 Jobless Registered In Census Taking

Canvass On Unemploy- ment Will Close Here Saturday

Two-hundred and sixty-four unemployed of Madison have registered with the Madison Employment bureau since the opening of the canvass, Wednesday, to ascertain the number of unemployed in the city. The canvass will close Saturday, and the offices of the bureau will be open during the entire day. The majority who registered were laborers. Persons of every class and condition have applied for work but many of them had enough money to last them until they obtained employment.

"There were very few cases of those in desperate circumstances," J. F. Brahany, manager of the bureau, said today, "and too it is evident from the registrations thus far that conditions are somewhat more favorable in Madison than elsewhere. The average seem to have money left to tide them over, and there are others who need work badly."

Mrs. Handford Named Woman's Guild Head

The Young Woman's guild of Plymouth Congregational church, held their annual business meeting Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. W. J. Handford was re-elected president. Other officers elected were first vice president, Mrs. J. G. Berken; second vice president, Mrs. T. H. Bast, secretary, Mrs. J. W. Sylander, treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Porter; publicity chairman, Mrs. Ignatius Dega; flower chairman, Mrs. Bert Swan and calling chairman, Mrs. Dettlev Helek. The guild has changed its day of meeting from Tuesday to Thursday.

506 Births, Record of General Hospital

Watch Madison grow at the Madison General hospital is a slogan, which might well be adopted since 506 of Madison's new citizens made their debut into the world via the hospital, according to Miss Grace H. Crafts, superintendent of the nurses at the hospital.

Other statistics compiled at the hospital show that the average population of patients per day has been 96 and 3,909 is the total number of patients of treated during the year of 1921.

At the present time the hospital has 38 pupil nurses in its training school and on Feb. 6 ten more will be added when the newly formed class begins work. Miss Ethel Odegard is a full-time instructor for the student nurses. The Madison General Nurses Training school is accredited and has a three year course. Graduates may register in the state.

with unstinted enthusiasm, some reviewers asserting that it even surpassed "The Four Horsemen." It is an adaptation by June Mathis of Balzac's novel, "Eugenie Grandet."

Campbell Sisters, Vodvil Stars, To Present Prom Specialties

The Campbell sisters from Kentucky, well known from their vaudeville acts given in all large theaters from coast to coast, have been secured for the special feature act for the 1923 Junior Promenade.

The act was chosen by James L. Brader, Prom chairman, and "Doc" Dorward '23, who made a special trip to Chicago during Christmas vacation for that purpose.

Besides being good-looking and wearing attractive gowns, the Campbell sisters are clever and do a good act of singing and dancing.

The act consists of both southern and modern songs, and they play the piano and banjo.

The act will be staged on a special platform 10 feet above the platform erected for the orchestra, in order that the entertainers will be just above the heads of the dancers, and may be seen from all parts of the first floor of the capitol.

Smilax, roses, and special lighting effects will be used to decorate the platform, making it into a miniature garden. The actors are scheduled to appear at 12:30.

Other members of the board are Dr. J. M. Dodd, Ashland, secretary; Dr. Spencer D. Beebe, president and Drs. G. H. Ripley of Kenosha and C. W. Rodecker of Holcombe. The laboratory examinations were taken at the university with Drs. J. S. Evans, A. S. Loewenhart and Clarke supervising. Secty. Hoover was invited to the conference. Mr. Ford told Rep. Bankhead and other house members who called on him that he was "very confident" of reaching an agreement today with the government. 2 Close Games Played in Frat Basket League

The Alpha Pi Delta-Phi Delt game and the Delta Sig-Sigma Nu game featured the tilts of the inter-fraternity basketball league last night. The Commerce fraternity beat the Phi Delt by one basket, the score being 11 to 9, and the Delta Sigs beat the Sigma Nus 9 to 4.

The best team work in evidence during the evening was in the Delta Sig-Sigma Nu game. Both sides showed strong defence, but the Delta Sigs outplayed the Sigma Nus in the offence, and managed to pile up five extra points. The Alpha Pi Delta quintet kept in the lead most of the time in their game with the Phi Delt, and came out just one basket ahead in the finish.

Another close game was played between the Phi Kaps and the S. A. E.'s. The score was tied at the end of the first half, and through most of the second period, but the Phi Kaps made another basket, and defeated their opponents by a score of 8 to 6.

The Phi Psis copped off an easy game from the Triangles, with a score of 15 to 2. The Phi Sigma Deltas swamped the Phi Beta Pis with a score of 15 to 8. Jacobsen made most of the points for the winners, while Meinert did some good scoring for the losers. The best individual playing in any of the games was done by Birdelbough, of the Delta Sig team. He made two especially long shots which substantially increased his team's score.

The Acacia team forfeited to the Beta Chi Sigmas.

The scores of the games played were as follows:

Alpha Pi Delta 11, Phi Delta Theta 9.
Delta Sigma Phi 9, Sigma Nu 4.
Phi Kappa Sigma 8, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 6.
Phi Kappa Psi 15, Triangle 2.
Phi Sigma Delta 15, Phi Beta Pi 8.
