TENTATIVE PLAN FIXES $4,200,000 APPROPRIATION

Finance Committee Will Submit Proposals to Assembly Next Week

A $1,500,000 appropriation for improvements and another of $2,720,000 for operating expenses will be made for the university if the legislature accepts the plans which are now up for consideration before the finance committee. No further definite action was taken by the committee at its session yesterday. The tentative proposals for the distribution of the appropriation are as follows:

An addition to the university library to cost $550,000; an additional wing on Bascom hall, $477,000; improvements and additions to the Chemistry building, $300,000; land for coal storage, $38,500; a new tunnel and conduit, $32,500; additional greenhouses, $10,000. An appropriation for a boiler in the heating plant is also proposed, $47,000 being allowed for this purpose.

The committee included $2,720,000 for biennial expenditures. The committee will offer its report to the legislature next week for action. The success of the measure will in large part determine the course of the university during the coming year. It is intimated that the lack of sufficient funds will cause the new state general hospital to suspend, and the operation of other institutions functioning under the same difficulties are threatened.

MICHIGAN GETS FUND INCREASE

Funds for the University of Michigan were increased from $3,000,000 to $3,500,000 with the passage of the Penny bill in the senate April 30. Operation and maintenance requirements will benefit by the additional $500,000. An additional sum of $1,800,000 for building and improvements may be granted pending the sanction of the senate conference committee.

JEWISH SOCIAL WORK SCHOOL GIVES PRIZES

The training school for Jewish social work announces a number of $250 tuition scholarships and several maintenance fellowships of $1,500, for properly qualified students. The school is a national institution initiated and sponsored by the national conference of Jewish social service. The course of study aims to meet the needs of college graduates who are planning to prepare for Jewish social work as a profession.

LAST FRESHMAN DANCE IS TODAY

Proceeds of Final Mixer Will Go to Finance Cap Night, May 22

"Cap-Nite" mixer is the name applied to the last of a successful series of freshman mixers, for it is through the proceeds of this last occasion that Cap Night, May 22, will be financed by the freshman class. The mixer will be held tonight in Lathrop parlors at the usual time, 7:45 o'clock, and will continue for an hour. Admission is 25 cents for each person.

"The mixers of the past few months have been more than a success, both from a financial standpoint and from the view of attendance," said Clyde K. Kluckhohn, president, yesterday. "The mixer marks the climax of the series, and if the success and popularity of the past ones are any precedent, this should be a record breaker both in attendance and receipts."

Arrangements for this last affair are being made by Green Button and the Committee of 50. Katherine Ehrigott is chairman of the women's committee, and Charles Dollard of the men's group. Music will be by Bunny Lyon's orchestra.

Sigma Alpha Iota Present Colorful Musical Program

BY K. N. H.

Mrs. L. E. Jackson directed the glee club. Miss Plumlee, who opened the program with a famous Beethoven sonata, first movement, played with excellent technique and beautiful expression.

GRID BANQUET IS SET FOR MAY 29

Professors, Alumni, Students, Will Exchange Opinions at "Roast"

The date of the Gridiron banquet has been set as Friday, May 29. The dean of men has approved this date which is the first Friday in the pre-examination period and will not conflict with social functions of campus organizations. The place of the banquet will remain a secret.

Professors, students, alumni, and men prominently connected with the university will all be in danger of being placed on the "pan" and "roasted" when they attend the Grid banquet. The "roasting" will be in charge of the "roastmaster" who will make a study of the seating diagram of the banquet and will know where each man sits and will know something about him.

Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, is introducing the Badger Grid banquet to Wisconsin as a new tradition. It will be an annual affair and will ordinarily take place earlier in the year.

BADGER DIRECTORIES ARE BEING GIVEN OUT

This weekend and the beginning of next week the Badger business directories will be distributed to all fraternities and sororities and to all advertisers. The directories will contain the phone numbers and the business classifications of the advertisers. The distributing of these directories completes the work of the merchandising department of the Badger.

PI PHI'S GET CUP TODAY AT LUNCHEON

The scholarship committee of Pan-Hellenic will give a luncheon today, at noon at the Loraine hotel. Pi Beta Phi will be presented with the scholarship cup given to the sorority with the highest scholarship each semester. If any sorority maintains first place for three successive semesters it may keep the cup. The two highest members of each sorority will be guests at the luncheon in recognition of their work. Dean F. Louise Nardin and Dean Alice Miller will speak.

HARESFOOT'S STUFF BEING STOLEN BY HORSE SHOW

Equine Exhibit Will Also Have Twelfth Century Back- ground

Haresfoot has no monopoly on twelfth century stuff, for another campus activity is going back to the days "when knighthood was in flower" to furnish a background for its production. The activity in question is the Spring Horse show which, like its dramatic contemporary, will use the atmosphere of seven centuries ago for its setting.

HARESFOOT SONGS, DANCES BRIGHTEN SPRING SHUFFLE

Scott, Sampson, and Patterson Write Exclusive Song For Sophomore Affair

Song and dance numbers by members of Haresfoot were special entertainment features of the Sophomore Spring Shuffle which was held last night by the class of '27 for the whole student body in Lathrop gymnasium.

"Lovin' You," an exclusive Shuffle song by Robert Scott '27, and Jack Sampson '27 with words by Don Patterson '27, was sung by the Haresfoot quartet which includes, besides the two composers, Bill Oatway '25, and Richard Lund '27. "Just a Little Drink" was another of the selections which the quartet gave. William Rahr '27 danced the Saracen dance which won hearty applause in "Ivan Ho!"

Special Programs.

Ted Moore's ten piece orchestra furnished music for the dancers. The dance lasted until 1 o'clock. Programs were specially ordered from Brochon of Chicago.

Various colored spotlights and spring shrubbery on the stage made up the decorations which carried out the spring effect.

The party was chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. Max Mason, Mr. and Mrs. George Little, Mr. and Mrs. George Berg, and Mr. and Mrs. Scott H. Goodnight.

Annual Affair

"This is the first all-university dance, outside of the various mixers and Union board dances, which has been held by a university organization this year," said Emerson Hawley '27, president of the sophomore class. "We hope to make it a tradition. The sophomore dance is an annual affair but never before has the sophomore class played host to the entire university."

Third Community Concert Will Be Presented Sunday

The third community concert to be given this spring in the capitol will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This will be the last concert to be given in the capitol this spring. The program will consist of instrumental, vocal and band music.

Vocal numbers will be contributed by choruses from the East and Central high schools under the direction of Miss Anna Menaul, supervisor of music. All instrumental numbers will be presented by the band and orchestra of the Wisconsin high school under the direction of Norval Church, director of music.

An added feature on the program will be a violin solo by Miss Louise Rood, who will play "Adoration" by Borowski.

"The Old Government and the New Industry," will be discussed by William L. Huggins, former presiding judge of the Kansas Industrial Court, May 4, in 165 Bascom hall.

Mr. Huggins, who is being brought here by the department of economics, believes that there should be developed an enlightened and well considered American policy towards industrial problems.

His book, "Labor and Democracy," is a study of the constitutionality of the actions of labor since the rise of industrial organizations. For 29 years he has been a student of labor problems.

Numerous Records Expected to Fall in Track Event at Camp Randall

Trumpets will blare, crowds will surge and Camp Randall will be the scene of another historic event this afternoon when more than 325 high school track stars perform. And the second annual Mid-West relay carnival is the occasion which four states are watching eagerly. Records will be broken and medals will be won by athletes who have trained and primed themselves for the leading meet of the prep careers.

Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan and Iowa have sent 30 schools to participate in the six relays races and in the seven special events on the program, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. Wisconsin's track team, coached by T. E. Jones and Mead Burke, will be represented by exhibitions in which Herbert Schwarze '27, intercollegiate shot put champion and discus record holder, Harry McAndrews '26, whose 99-10 seconds

STUDENT MAKES SUICIDE ATTEMPT

H. H. Hart, Grad, Takes Sleep- ing Powder While in Mil- waukee Hotel

No further explanation was given for the attempted suicide of H. Herschel Hart, grad, who took an overdose of sleeping powder Thursday night while in a room at a Milwaukee hotel.

Hart set forth his reason in farewell notes addressed to his parents and to "the person who finds me" as being a growing neurotic complex, but no other apparent cause can be assigned to his action.

Mrs. Herman Wittwer, 303 Lathrop street, the landlady of the house where Hart lived, was unaware of his departure for Milwaukee and could give no explanation of his attempted suicide.

Hart was found unconscious by hotel employees at 10 o'clock Thursday night and was taken to the Emergency hospital where he was revived. He told the police that he had taken the drug at 8 o'clock after a vain attempt to secure a revolver.

He was arraigned before Judge Page of Milwaukee on the charge of disorderly conduct, and was sufficiently recovered to appear.

BADGERS, BUCKEYES MEET AT OHIO TODAY

Conference Champs of Last Year Will Attempt to Retain Title

BY JOHN G. GREEN
Sports Editor Ohio State Daily
Lantern
COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 1—Ohio State's baseball nine, co-champion with Michigan's team for the 1924 Western Conference championship, is ready for Wisconsin on the Stadium diamond here tomorrow afternoon.

The Buckeyes, riding alone at the top of the Big Ten standing, will have much at stake when they cross bats with the Badgers. They have not lost a single conference clash yet this year and will aim to keep their slate clean.

Badgers Regarded Seriously

Wisconsin's 500 record to date is not making the Buckeyes overconfident, for they realize that Illinois, which handed the Badgers their only defeat, boasts a strong aggregation this year, while the Buckeyes have met only one worthy foe—Indiana. The local outfit's other two victories came by large scores at the expense of Purdue at Lafayette, Ind., and here.

The majority of Ohio State's lineup which tied for the title will face the Badgers Saturday. Jake Matusoff at third, Jake Cameron at second, Larry Walther at first, Bennie Dempsey in right, Olie Klee in center, Dick Brashear behind the bat, and Captain Russ Miller in the box are all old timers.

Cameron, however, has been shifted from short to second to make room for Marty Karow, sophomore flash, and Dempsey in turn was moved from second to the garden. Arlie Tarbert, another sophomore sensation, is playing left field when he is not pitching, because of his heavy hitting.

Probable Ohio Lineup

The Stadium diamond, newly constructed this year, is reputed to be one of the best in the Big Ten. The infield is well high perfect and the outfield all that could be asked for. The Badgers will be the second conference team to appear against the Buckeyes on the new lot.

In all probability Captain Miller will get the call to start the game on the slab for the Ohioans, though it is not entirely impossible that Don Sloteman, another veteran, will get the call.

The Buckeyes will line up like this: Matusoff, 3b; Klee, cf; Karow, ss; Cameron, 2b; Tarbert lf; Walther, 1b; Dempsey, rf; Brashear, c; Miller, p.

HILLEL TO ENTERTAIN RELAY MEN TONIGHT

As part of the entertainment for visiting prep track teams, the Hillel athletic association will hold a banquet Saturday, May 2, at 6 o'clock in the Woman's building in honor of visiting Jewish athletes and of the conference championship in free throwing, which was won by the Hillel team. Speeches will be given by James Brader, assistant football coach, and Herbert Morse, president of Hillel. Robert Sher will officiate as toastmaster.

Today group two tests of the sit-up fence vault and rope climb will be held on the third floor of the gymnasium at 10 o'clock. Group three tests of the 100 yard dash and running high jump will be given on the lower campus, Friday, May 15, at the mile run and chinning the bar 4:50 o'clock, and the final events of take place in the annex on Saturday, May 16, at 1 o'clock.

Interfraternity Baseball League Play

The second set of baseball schedules have now been drawn up, and the teams are set for the last lap of play. Umpires will now be furnished by the intramural department. It is asked that the teams inform the umpires when they do not play so as to keep the records clear.

"The silver loving cup is well worth trying for."

Today's games follow:

Division 1—Kappa Psi versus Sigma Pi, west varsity diamond, 6 o'clock.

Division 2—Phi Kappa Sigma versus Lambda Chi Alpha, freshman field, 6 o'clock; and Alpha Kappa Lambda versus Delta Upsilon, second freshman field, 6 o'clock.

Interfraternity Swimming Meet

Delta Kappa Epsilon has entered the interfraternity swimming meet which brings the total entries to six. It is desired that more fraternities enter the meet, however. lished in the 1924 carnival when the Cedar Rapids, Ia., team completed the quarter mile relay run in 44.4 seconds, and it is expected by officials of the meet that at least six marks will be broken in today's competition.

Balanced Meet

"Cedar Rapids has returned to enter the carnival this afternoon," declared Coach Mead Burke, promoter of the meet, last evening. "But it is not the Cedar Rapids of last year and the meet will be well balanced on Saturday."

While Mason City, Ia., Oak Park, Chicago, Deerfield-Shields, Chicago, Madison Central, and Milwaukee East are considered the leading contestants for honors, smaller schools from Wisconsin and Illinois have made excellent records in meets this spring, so that they may be counted upon to score heavily in all events.

Added to the fact that schools from four states will compete, four Chicago prep institutions and four Milwaukee high schools will battle for triumph in the carnival's events this afternoon.

Fair Weather

Weather predictions are for favorable conditions with a rising temperature, so that the $500 insurance policy against rain will be but a mere safeguard.

"Final plans for the meet were completed last evening," averred George Dennis '27, general chairman. "Teams have been assigned to fraternity houses and the track and field at Camp Randall are in splendid shape."

The Madison Central high school, and the Madison East high school bands will furnish music during the afternoon and illustrated programs of the carnival entries, designed especially for the 1925 meet, will be sold at Camp Randall.

"More than 325 high school athletes will be in Madison this weekend," continued Chairman Dennis. "And they are here not only to compete in the meet but to see Wisconsin and learn Wisconsin's methods. It is my sincere wish that every student reserve this afternoon to attend the Mid-West relays because the athletic talent assembled at Camp Randall cannot be gathered at any other place. It is the biggest athletic event of the school year."

Banquet for Coaches

An informal banquet for the coaches will be held at the University Y. M. C. A. at noon today. The "Get-together" meeting is held for the purpose of clearing up any questionable points about the conduct of the meet.

Four university graduates have entered their teams in the relay carnival. Edward H. Gibson, former football back and baseball star, is now coach at Janesville; Ray McCrory heads the Milwaukee West delegation, Howard Johnson, former quarterback, coaches at Madison Central, and Donald Dean is coach at University high. Leo Novak, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Leonard Kline, Mason City, Ia., are nationally famous as high school mentors.

Harvey Officiates

L. T. Harvey, athletic director at the Michigan College of Mines, Houghton, Mich., will officiate as head judge of the finish, while Mead Burke will be starter, and Coach T. E. Jones will referee.

Tickets for the meet are 50 cents and they will be sold at the entrances to the stadium.

Events of the Relay Carnival follow:

Track Events

- 1:30—100 yard dash.
- 1:45—120 yard high hurdles.
- 2:00—Two mile relay.
- 2:30—Quarter mile relay.
- 3:00—Sprint medley relay.

Marquette Racquet Team Defeats Badgers In Fast Matches

Chad Wins From Barnard, By 11-5

Much to the discomfort of Barnard, Chadbourn came out at the long end of an 11-5 score in the first indoor baseball game of the W. S. G. A. district tournament yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall. Grabben and Wolleager, Barnard battery did some pretty work, but despite their efforts the hits were consistent. Hyer and Peeke, firing squad for Chad, received fine support from their field, thus enabling them to hold their victims to a few scattered hits.

Rivalry was keen between the two teams, the Barnard tribe keeping up a regular harangue of encouragement to their men on the field, but they bit the dirt, and today Chad is celebrating another victory over her "dear enemy." Other district games will take place next week as soon as teams can be organized.

MORE MEN WANTED IN OPEN GOLF TOURNEY

More men are wanted to enter the all-university open golf championship. As prizes are being offered and as the winner will be known as the all-university open champion, it is desired that a more representative body enter the competition. Registration may be made at any time in the intramural office at the gymnasium. The play is fully of the individual type. Any golf player in the university may enter and try for the prizes.

FRESHMAN BALL TEAM IMPROVES IN PRACTICE

The freshman varsity baseball team played in opposition to the varsity diamond squad Thursday afternoon as a prelude to the foreign games which the Wisconsin team is to play today and Monday against Ohio and Michigan, respectively. Apparent progress is shown by Coach Uteritz's men as they go through the practice sessions each day at Camp Randall. Last night the frosh were exhibiting a good brand of fielding and plenty of heavy hitting.

- 3:30—Half mile relay.
- 4:00—One mile relay.
- 4:30—Distance medley relay.
- Field Events
- 1:30—Running high jump.
- 1:45—12-pound shot put.
- 2:20—Discus.
- 2:30—Running broad jump.
- 3:30—Javelin.

WEATHER HINDERS BADGER SHELLS

Carefully Built, Delicate Shells
Easily Blown Off Balance
By Winds

Although the elements of wind and wave have been opposed to crew practice for the last few days, nevertheless the varsity and freshman oarsmen continue to report in full to Coaches Vail and Johnson. The spell of rather snappy weather is about due to end, and any time now may see several crews slipping through the rippling waters.

It is practically impossible for the men to row well in rough water, and to this difficulty of practicing in a wind is added the fact that any type of wave but the slight, gentle, rolling kind is detrimental to the shells. These slight, eight men crafts are built throughout as carefully as the ordinary violin, and the least rough handling tends to weaken them.

The tapering part of the shell at bow and stern is covered with a tightly stretched, delicate, water-resisting filament which is harmed even by the slightest touch of the fingers. Using such delicate boats as these, it is no wonder that favorable weather is necessary for real training. Good rowing is always an effort, but rowing in a more than normal sea is more than an effort; it is an impossibility.

VARSITY-FROSH RACE OFF UNTIL WEDNESDAY

Because Coach Tom Jones thought it best that the varsity tracksters should rest, the varsity two mile team will not run against the yearling two milers in one of the special events which was scheduled for the second annual Mid-West Relays at Camp Randall tomorrow afternoon. The two teams will meet Wednesday for the race. The freshman team will be chosen from these men, Chapman, Elleson, Stowe, McKee, Breckner, Reeves and Parker.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. —Although the game was called in the sixth inning on account of rain, the Michigan baseball nine had enough time in the game with M. A. C. here yesterday to pile up a 10 to 4 score.

Golf Team Will Play Today at 9

The Wisconsin golf team will meet the fairway and green enthusiasts of Marquette university this morning on the grounds of the Maple Bluff Country club. The first rounds will begin at 9 o'clock.

The men will go through 18 holes in the morning and 18 holes in the afternoon, making a total of 36 holes for the two courses during the day.

The qualifying rounds for the Badger golf team have just been completed. Seven men have won their way to representation on the team. They are, A. B. Bock, R. T. Porter, V. C. Guenther, D. C. Head, Tom Long, Solbraa, and Andy Leith.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA IS GREEK GOLF VICTOR

In the first Interfraternity Golf Driving contest held at this University recently, Phi Kappa Sigma placed first with a total of 113 points out of a possible 150 closely trailed by Beta Theta Pi, who ended with 112 points to their credit.

The honor of being high man goes to Adolph Bock, driving for Beta Theta Pi, who piled up 42 points. He was closely followed by R. Grimm of Phi Kappa Sigma who scored 41 points. R. Brightly was right up with Grimm when he turned in a total of 41 points which went to Delta Tau Delta's credit. N. R. Torrison, a team mate of Bock representing the Beta's turned in a score of 40.

The placing of the fraternities in the meet is as follows; Phi Kappa Sigma, 113 points out of a possible 150; Beta Theta Pi, 112 points; Delta Tau Delta 87 points; Phi Delta Theta, 82 points; Zeta Beta Tau, 81 points; Phi Sigma Delta, 78 points; and Delta Sigma Phi, 74 points.

DAME RUMOR HINTS OF SHELL AT DEPOT

There is a long mysterious package down at the freight depot that Dame Rumor states is a brand new shell for the Cardinal crew to use on the Hudson this year made by the same man who put out the Wisconsin shell that gave the Easterners such a jar last spring at Poughkeepsie.

READ CARDINAL ADS

In a series of fast tennis matches the Marquette tennis men were able to tie the smashing, chopping Wisconsin racquet wielders. The two teams won singles matches and a double match apiece. The matches held yesterday afternoon, were fast and close and many of them went to deuce sets.

Gissel, playing number three on the Wisconsin team, won the first match for Wisconsin. Playing Schernicker of the Marquette team Gissel was able to take two love sets in rapid style and was the first to finish the matches. Durand, the star of the Wisconsin team, met his match in Chapman of Marquette. The first set between the two went to 9-7. The second set was 5-3 against Sam, when the veteran player was able to serve several aces, and playing a wonderful net game brought the set to five all. The match then saw-sawed back and forth, but Durand was unable to withstand the fire of the powerful Chapman and the set ended 9-7, in Chapman's favor.

Badgers Win Doubles

Judkins took the first set of his match 6-3, but lost the second 3-6. Fighting hard the third set to decide the winner of the matches Judkins was able to come through and win 6-3. Playing a hard match with Leichtfuss, Manierre was unable to overcome the powerful drive of the Marquette man and lost the two sets 6-3, 6-4. With all of the single matches completed the two teams were even with two matches apiece to their credit.

Kohler and Foster met Collopy and Schennecker in the first doubles match of the meet. The first set was easy for the Wisconsin men for they walked off with it 6-0. The second set was close and the men fought all of the way and the set reached five all. Wisconsin won 8-6 in a closely contested game soon after. Durand and Manierre were having an easy time in their set with Chapman and Leichtfuss but the match went against them and they lost the second set after winning the first 6-2. The last set found the Wisconsin pair in hard straights and they were unable to pull out of their losing streak and lost the match 6-4.

The Wisconsin men will meet Minnesota at the varsity courts on Breeze Terrace and University Avenue this afternoon at two o'clock.

INCREASING IMPORTANCE OF TRACK ATHLETICS

Today's sun rises on one of the season's most important events, the Mid-West relay carnival, which has brought more than 375 athletes from 30 different high schools to Wisconsin's campus. Held for the first time last year, the relay carnival immediately proved its worth, and a much enlarged program, with a longer entry list, indicates that this year the meet will firmly establish itself as a permanent event in the track schedule here each spring.

The Daily Cardinal bids welcome to these high school tracksters. They have come at the time when the campus is taking on its most attractive aspect, and the university as a whole is at its very best. It is incumbent on every Wisconsin man and woman to do whatever he can to help make the impression a good one.

The rise of track athletics in comparison with others sports here at Wisconsin during the past two or three years is a well recognized fact. In cross country, the sister sport of track, the Badger team has shown steady progress each fall, until this year it won the conference championship. The track team has shown a corresponding improvement, and this year is recognized as one of the strongest and most well-balanced teams in the middle west. Its trip to California during spring vacation was a landmark in Big Ten athletics, and the prospects for a championship this spring are good. Likewise, the growing importance of the state interscholastic track and field day held here each year late in May, with the advent a year ago of the Mid-West relays, gives further proof of the fact that Wisconsin is unmistakably winning for itself a name in track similar to that which it has held for more than a decade in basketball.

This growing emphasis on track is not confined to Wisconsin nor to any particular group of universities. Its realization here is probably only a reflection or result of the same development everywhere. It has been noticed for some years that more highly trained and higher priced coaches are in demand. Training is becoming more of a science, and in spite of prophecies by experts that the limit of human endurance has been reached, records continue to fall, sometimes several of them in one meet. Track events are receiving more publicity in the newspapers than ever before. This winter it was possible for a single runner, the unbeatable Nurmi, to come to America and carry the country by storm, proving as big an attraction as Ringling Brother's circus was ten years ago, and even vying with prize fights and football games.

The Olympic games last summer may have had something to do with this impetus given to public interest in the cinder path, but it doubtless has a deeper significance. In track, more than in any other sport, excellence depends upon muscular coordination, conservation of strength, and bodily perfection. What it lacks in excitement for the spectators it makes up in the way it trains the participants to the very peak of bodily perfection. The real fact is that the present marked improvement in track is an indication of the increasing strength and vigor of the human race. Such a healthy sign may be taken as a direct refutation of the arguments so often urged by prophets of gloom who try to prove that humanity is deteriorating because of the softening effects of civilization.

OUR AIM

Prof. Grant Showerman has taken for the aim of his course in Classical Life and Letters "The Capacity to Think and Feel Intelligently". Could any finer aim be conceived?

Which brings us back to the age-old question of "What are we here for?". No more difficult question could be asked, for our respective aims differ so greatly from each other. Some come here for knowledge, some for education, some for enjoyment, and some because it is the easiest course to follow. So you see the problem of what ideal a university, especially a great state university like Wisconsin, should hold up before this heterogeneous mass of students is a very great one.

Alexander Meiklejohn in his inaugural address stated the answer very well:—

"In 100 different ways the friends of the college, students, graduates, trustees, and even colleagues, seem to misunderstand its mission so as to minimize or to falsify its intellectual ideals. The college is a good place for making friends, it gives excellent experience in getting along with men; it has exceptional advantages as an athletic club; it is a relatively safe place for a boy when he first leaves home; on the whole it may improve a student's manners; it gives acquaintance with lofty ideals of character, preaches the doctrine of social service, exalts the virtues and duties of citizenship. Some of these conceptions seem to the teacher to hide or to obscure the fact that the college is fundamentally a place of the mind, a time for thinking, an opportunity for knowing."

What does Prof. Showerman mean but that the "Capacity to Think and to Feel Intelligently" should be developed in every student, should be the one high aim of the university? The University of Wisconsin, when it takes such ideals as its aim, is an educational institution in the broadest sense of the term; it is not a trade-school.

Other Editors Say

MR. AND MRS. BLANK

"What were some of the results of the riots, Mr. Blank?" queried the instructor.

"Er—Well, quite a number of people were killed," responded Mr. Blank after a minute of intense concentration.

There are too many Mr. Blanks on this campus, too many Miss Blanks also, who find it inexpedient for some reason or other to study their assigned lessons, but who intrepidly attempt a recitation nevertheless.

An honest admission of ignorance would be better than a long dragged out attempt on the part of the instructor to elicit information from a student who is destitute of such a commodity. It would be better from the standpoint of the student himself, for it might encourage him then to prepare his lesson for the next day. It would certainly be better for his classmates who are obliged to mark time while he hazards incorrect guesses and volunteers irrelevant information. It would be better for the instructor, too, that hard-working and harassed individual, who strives constantly to make two ideas flourish where formerly one existed.

If there is anything in the old adage, "Confession is good for the soul," it ought certainly to be offered an opportunity for practical application in the classroom. Forgiveness on the part of the instructor will not necessarily ensue—though the very novelty of the device may serve to protect the offender the first time—but it is certain that the "confession" will be welcome for other reasons, and that the "confessor" will be himself materially benefitted in the end.—The Minnesota Daily.

It's rather hard to tell sometimes what a person is by looking at him. Echoes from the outside world of life and activity that penetrate into our scholastic seclusion here tell us that ordinarily good clothes denote the successful man. But in our own order it seems reversed, for quite often the well dressed man is lazy, purposeless, and indifferent, and those students who are serious and proficient in their work quite often are plainly attired. Not the typical college man perhaps, but at least the best type, puts his inner development ahead of his exterior adornment.

Not that we're trying to draw any inference—but did you ever notice how much alike APPLAUSE and APPLESAUCE look alike in print?

IT'S THE WOMAN WHO PAYS IN THIS CASE

The limit of feminine devotion is exemplified by the young lady who knowingly drags her slew-footed boy friend to her spring formal, takes the censure of sorority sisters calmly, and is darn near killed when he walks all over her own feet—and does it all—just for what little solace may come from a five minute ride together in a taxi (my dear, that was the longest five minutes I ever lived through).

THANKS—OLD KID!

After helping one of the little A. G. D.'s (who live out our way) to plant some grass seed in the front yard, she turned on us with—"Oh, thank you—I just know you must be an Ag!" Now they are advertising their house for sale.

JUST LIKE A PHI GAMM!

My dear! I'm so thrilled—I just had a date with him—and he told me that he is a leading man in the movies.

Well, maybe, honey, maybe—he's an usher at The Strand, I believe.

SKIN GAME—ALMOST!

Poor lad, he's in jail now.

In jail? What for?

Being an undertaker.

But they don't arrest undertakers!

Oh yes, he swiped a pair of B. V. D's.

The roommate, on scanning the headline, "RARE BOOKS UNOPENED FOR A CENTURY, FOUND IN WISCONSIN," pipes up with, "Somebody trying to spoil things up at the libe again!"

WHY BUT A BOAT?

It has been brought to our attention that the Alpha Xi's have a boat house, a pier, and two busted paddles—but no boat. The situation might be somewhat relieved if some kind gentleman would generously donate some sort of a boat—age no object, as long as the darn thing floats. The girls fear that lacking a craft of some sort to moor to their pier they might be forced to disband the navy—and how the dear girls do love the sea (shore).

IF THE PRESENT MODE CONTINUES

Mother: My dear—you MUST wear that dress.

Daughter: But Mother, I WON'T wear the horrid thing.

Mother: My dear, it's that dress or nothing!

Daughter: Oh, Mother, may I?

VERY THOUGHTFUL OF YOU!

We want to thank the person who so kindly dropped the unstamped letters from the pocket of the coat (which he appropriated last Thursday) into the mail box. Inasmuch as there was a return address on the letters, the new owner knows our name (a pleasure we would dearly love to share!).

If the n. owner will now kindly peek into the l. h. pocket, a bill for the toga will also be found. You now possess the added advantage of being able to boast about the cost of the garment. We hope it wears well!

OH, FATHER, DEAR FATHER
Oh, in my mind, the mountains rise—

This deluge of bills, it palls,
While I must think, with clouded eyes,
"Who'll pay for these formal balls?"

Ah, methinks that Hawthorne hath a deadly smell!

HOLEY JOE!

Students of Music Prefer Galli-Curci of the Opera Stars

Galli-Curci is the favorite among grand opera singers with university students, Dr. C. H. Mills, director of the School of Music, discovered in his music appreciation class when he had the students compare the voices of Melba, Galli-Curci, Tetrizzini, and Michailowa on the phonograph.

The Mad Scene from Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoore" was the record sung by each of the four without identification. The four prima donnas were numbered and each student made a chart of his rating of the voice, technique, and general agreeableness of each.

Galli-Curci was rated highest in all three. Melba was second in preference, Michailowa in technique, and Tetrizzini in voice.

Student Alliance Officers Elected Thursday Evening

Officers of the Presbyterian student's alliance for next year were elected at a banquet held Thursday evening in the Christ Presbyterian church. Those elected were Robert Paddock '26, president, Harriet Liggett '26, vice president, and Fiddie Pease '26, secretary. Other officers of the cabinet who will head up the work for the 1,000 Presbyterian students on the campus will be appointed within the next few weeks.

Rev. G. E. Hunt of the Christ Presbyterian church spoke briefly to the 150 students present at the banquet on "Human Types." He told of the need of making America a land of individual liberty where people would not be the slaves of fear or of herd opinion. He complimented Wisconsin graduates as having the distinction of being willing to strike out against the conventional and time worn things when such was necessary, as graduates of few other schools have done.

Six Presbyterian students who were recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa and four who will be awarded their doctor's degree this spring were honored at the banquet. Whitford Huff sang a number of solos for the group at the banquet. Those in charge of the arrangements for the banquet were Harriet Liggett '26 and Clarence Thatcher '26.

Starvation Fountain of Youth, Experiments By U. W. Biologist Shows

PERPETUAL YOUTH! Its fountain, sought after through the ages, has been discovered. And, wonder of wonders, it is starvation that will bring this miracle about.

But, sad to say, the tragic irony of fate must dim the eager hopes stirred in the heart of many human beings by this announcement, for it is only in lower form of animals that science has to the present time been able to apply the principle for rejuvenation.

Right here at the university, in the biology department, under the supervision of Prof. W. S. Marshall, experiments have shown that a return to juvenescence can be achieved by starvation continued for a long period.

Prof. Marshall has centered his studies on the ordinary clothing moth, which according to the biology department, is not a moth at all, but a beetle. For four years, Prof. Marshall has not given a particle of food to this moth.

And the moth lives. It lives and grows younger as time goes on. Recurrently it has moulted its skin, shrunk in size, quickened the heart beat and metabolism of its body, both of which are signs of youth, and now resembles a very young beetle, rather than one that should be senile and ready to die.

Eventually it will die, though the exact date cannot be predicted. But it will die, paradoxically speaking, of juvenility, rather than of old age.

This phenomenon has been known to science for quite a long time. It has been applied repeatedly to flatworms and other lower forms of animals but in man such regime of starvation will produce death.

"It is the specialization of man, the close co-ordination of his organs the refinement of his nervous system," explained members of the biology department, "that makes it impossible to apply the principle of starvation to him."

"The lower forms of animals have it all over human beings in rejuvenescence. Man's handicap is that the nervous system has stolen the body and runs it. Man cannot live without his nervous system. If that is destroyed, his body is worthless."

It is because the organs of these lower animals are far less intricate, because in creatures like the flatworm and sponge and others, there is no complicated co-ordination of all the parts, that a return to youth can be brought about in them.

The fish worm will also react to starvation as did the beetle, Prof. Marshall said. It was shown that akin to this return to infancy by certain lower animals, others like the salamander will grow a leg again, if one is severed; a flatworm will regrow into 25 entities if it is cut into 25 parts; a sponge, described as a "Communitistic" organization

CLUB WILL GIVE PLAY "THE PIGEON"

Fantasy By Galsworthy to Be Presented Tuesday at Central High

"The Pigeon," a fantasy by John Galsworthy, will be presented by the Curtain club, faculty dramatic society of the university, Tuesday, at 8:15 p. m., in the auditorium of Central high school.

Members of this club have presented successfully many of the better class of plays to the Madison public during the past several years, and "The Pigeon" is expected to measure up fully to the standard of productions favored by the organization.

A. R. Thompson, instructor in English, is directing the production; G. A. Chandler, assistant secretary of the faculty, is business manager; W. H. Varnum, associate professor of applied arts, is taking care of lighting work, and C. D. Leake, assistant professor of pharmacology, is stage manager.

Mr. Thompson picked the cast for the play some time ago and rehearsals started three weeks ago.

The cast follows: "Wellnoyn, an English artist," William Tanne-witz, speech department; "Ann, his daughter," Dora Ingraham Roach; "Ferrand, a French vagabond," J. R. Caldwell, English department; "Megan, gambler and flower vendor," Lawrence Powell, music department; "Mrs. Megan, flower vendor," Mrs. R. S. Stebbins, wife of Prof. Stebbins; "Canon Bertley, a clergyman," C. E. Cason, English department; "Sir Thomas Hoxton, a justice of the peace," G. A. Chandler; "Prof. Calway, a sociologist," M. S. Coburne, English department; "Timson, old cabby," M. D. Bassett, independent printing company; "a constable," J. B. Virtue, English department; and "two humblemen," C. D. Leake, P. S. Conklin, English department.

Mr. Chandler, business manager, announced today that there will be

HORSE SHOW TO USE HARESFOOT SETTING

Those familiar with equine history claim that modern horse shows owe their ancestry to the tournaments of the middle ages, when knights clad in the latest cut of steel, jousting for honors. Believing in the validity of the claim, those in charge of the horse show decorations, of which Charlotte Logeman '26 is chairman, will endeavor to carry out the medieval idea for this year's event.

For the evening of May 8, the stock pavilion will cease to be a twentieth century barn and will become a medieval tournament field. Knights in arms will be lacking, but modern co-eds, on thoroughbred imported steeds, will ride under a banner-draped ceiling, amid scenes of medieval pagentry. No ordinary flunkies will be in attendance, but rather courtly-dressed pages will be on hand, while a bugler in regulation costume will announce each event.

The walls will be covered like those of an old baronial castle with lances and shields bearing the coats of arms of knights who may or may not have really existed. From every convenient point and pinnacle pennants and banners will wave, and over the doorways will hang clusters of flags surrounding the insignia of the Caisson and Prince of Wales clubs.
