BIG BAND TO CHEER AGGIES IN GAME HERE

Michigan Team to Buck Badger Line for Third Time

That students of the Michigan Agricultural college view the Badger-Aggie football game next Saturday as more than a preliminary affair is evidenced by the fact that they have sponsored a fund large enough to send a 50 piece band to Madison for the event. Donations by Lansing business men helped swell the subscriptions.

Saturday's game will be the third in which Wisconsin has faced the Aggies in a gridiron battle. In 1913 the visitors were victors by a score of 13 to 7, but in 1918 Coach Richards' men came out with the long end of the score. With a game each to their credit the battle should be a good one.

Clark Is Coach

The Michigan squad is coached by the old Illinois star halfback, Potsy Clark, who, until this year, was a member of the coaching staff at Urbana. Clark is assisted by Swede Rundquist, old Illinois linesman and captain of 1916, as line coach. C. L. Brewer, the Aggie director of athletics is an old Wisconsin man, who won his "W" in football in 1896, playing on the same team with Coach Richards.

Besides this staff of mentors, the

SEATS FOR GAME WITH AGGIES TO BE SOLD FRIDAY.

The athletic department announced today that the ticket sale for the football game with the Michigan Aggies Saturday afternoon will be open at the gymnasium from 9:00 Friday morning until Saturday noon. Coupon No. 2 should be used, and other students may procure their tickets by paying 50 cents and producing student fee cards. The ticket sale will also be conducted at Morgan's and Fisher Brothers' Cigar Store in order to facilitate the handling of the rush. Seats in the end sections cost $1 and those in the center, $2, from non-students who desire to see the contest.

Mail orders for the Northwestern game to be held a week from the coming Saturday, October 16, have already been received, and the advance sale is now on.

PROFESSOR SHEALY DIES AT HOSPITAL

Prof. E. M. Shealy, 441 Loach street, associate professor of steam engineering, died of heart failure at St. Mary's hospital at 4 a. m. Wednesday. He had been ill since Thursday.

Prof. Shealy was born in Cumberland, N. C., in 1877. He was educated at Clemson college, South Carolina, coming to Wisconsin after graduation to take advanced work. He has been a member of the university faculty for 16 years, and was made associate professor four years ago. He was married in 1909. He leaves a widow and one son, Edward, Jr., in Madison, besides his father, Elias Shealy, and three sisters, all of Spartanburg, S. C.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later. Burial will be at Watertown, former home of Mrs. Shealy. Friends are requested to omit flowers.

SNAPPY

Cadets to Don Trick Suitings in Place of Shapeless Drapery

This year the cadet corps will blossom out in uniforms which resemble the men in shape. The day of the issue uniform is past, when the unfortunate "privates" drew blouse, o. d., one; breeches, o. d., one; leggings, one; etc., and endeavored hopelessly to put the combination together. The huskies burst forth at sundry points, while the sand-blowers went about swathed in folds of olive drab. The most impressive thing about the issue uniform was the fact that there was nobody in the army whom it would fit.

The new uniform is made to the individual measure, of good quality olive drab material, and has the added feature of having straight trousers and a coat of the ordinary cut. It combines the comfort of civilian clothes with the snappy appearance of the army uniform. The officer's cap formerly used by the cadet corps will be worn with the uniform. It is believed that the men of the corps will take more pride in a well-fitting, snappy uniform which is their own property, than would be possible with the old slip-shod issue suit, which "had to be turned in again, anyway."

BADGER SALES SWAMP OFFICE

The Badger offices were completely swamped with subscriptions for the 1922 Badger, brought in by the teams working in the subscription campaign. A corps of workers was

The annual Junior Mixer will be held Saturday evening in the gym. The purpose of the class in staging this event is to offer the freshmen an opportunity to get acquainted with the members of the upper classes. Thompson's orchestra will play and a program of stunts has been arranged.

MORRIS TO TALK TO SCRIBES CLUB

George Perry Morris is the speaker chosen to address the Press club at its banquet in the S. G. A. room, Lathrop hall tonight.

Mr. Morris is an eminent author and a well known figure in journalistic fields. He served on the editorial staff of the Mail and Express, New York, from 1888 to 1890. Later he was associate editor of the Congregationalist, Boston. For some years he held a position on the editorial staff of the Boston Herald, and also on the Christian Science Monitor. At present he is on the editorial staff of the Washington Herald, Herbert Hoover's paper.

FRANCES TUCKER CHOSEN DELEGATE TO KENOSHA MEET

Frances Ellen Tucker, '21, has been selected to represent the University of Wisconsin and the colleges of the middle west at a reception to be given in Kenosha by the Kenosha College club on Saturday. Senior girls from the Kenosha high school and academy will be guests.

Miss Tucker will speak upon the work and activities of women in the university. Besides Wisconsin, Smith College will be the only other institution represented. Helen Harper, who was originally selected by the committee, will be unable to attend.

The selection of Wisconsin's representative was made by the presidents of Mortar Board and S. G. A. and the dean of women. The basis of the selection was scholarship and interest in activities.

Miss Tucker has been especially active in dramatic work. She is president of Twelfth Night, a member of Pi Epsilon Delta, honorary dramatic fraternity, a member of the dancing team which made several trips last year, and was one of the dancers to go to the Chicago convention of the Dramatic league. She had major parts in Union Vodvil and the joint dramatic production, "The Marriage of Kitty," and has produced several plays and sketches and had charge of dramatic work in a girls' camp last summer. Miss Tucker is a member of Alpha Chi Omega and of Mortar Board.

SPERRY SOUNDS CALL FOR JOKES

With the Octopus appearing in two weeks, the editors have sent out a campus-wide call for copy. There are several positions on the board and on the editorial staff which will be filled from those showing active interest in this first number.

"The Octopus belongs to the university," said Frederick Sperry, editor-in-chief. "We want each student and member of the faculty to feel it a duty to send in original jokes."

"We do not want local hits or skyrockets. Short 'he-and-she' jokes, general class-room jokes, and humorous articles of fifty to a hundred words are all most acceptable. General humor that will interest people all over the United States is wanted, as differentiated from the more personal 'Skyrockets' in The Daily Cardinal.

"Art work is particularly in demand. We can take either ideas in the rough, to be finished in the office, or complete sketches. We are sure that there is much talent in the university not yet discovered, and the more contributors we get, the better the Octopus will be."

MAIER WILL HEAD ADVERTISING CLUB

The University Advertising club held its first meeting for the school year at the city Y. M. C. A. last night. At the business meeting which followed a dinner, the following officers were elected for the current semester: Irwin Maier, president; Robert Lindsay, vice-president; Walter Neiser, secretary; William Fischer, treasurer; William Florea, director.

Committees on membership, luncheon and speakers were appointed. Meetings of the club, hereafter, will be held on alternate Tuesdays at 12 o'clock.

Open meetings of the club will enable all students interested in advertising to hear speakers from well known advertising agencies and publication houses. Plans have been formulated to co-operate with the Madison Advertising club, which is composed of merchants and newspaper men in the city.

SENATE HEARS REPORT OF '23 ON BAG RUSH

Perkins Says Sophomores Accept Ruling on Hazing

At a meeting of the student senate last night in President Birges' office, Walker Perkins, president of the class of 1923, disclosed the attitude of the sophomore class in regard to hazing and the recent rush. President Perkins said that he had been asked by his class to appear before the senate that evening in order to help clear its good name. He said that the sophomores wanted it known that they were not sore heads and that they were going to abide by the decision of the judges.

"The sophomores," he continued, "are against indiscriminate hazing and desire to assure the student senate that they are going to try and enforce Wisconsin traditions without barbarous methods." He urged that the senate take action against the violators before the clinic found it necessary to prohibit the lake punishment. "We all have that good clean Wisconsin spirit and we want to make it known that we are going to abide by the senate's rulings and back up the faculty in their efforts to maintain it," declared Perkins.

Committee Named

Through its president, Milton Borman, the student senate expressed its appreciation to Mr. Perkins for the spirit his class had shown and for its co-operation. Senators Strong, Coxon and Bigler were appointed by the chair as a judiciary committee to take charge of all cases pertaining to the violation of Wisconsin traditions.

The senate, also voted to excuse the following overseas men from wearing the green cap: Edwin Schujahn, A. S. Peterson, Clarence C. Holmes, and Edwin C. Anderson. Ezra Goldberg was excused between the hours of 6 and 12 p. m. because

FRESHMAN WOMEN ELECT OFFICERS

Freshmen women will vote for officers of Green Button, Freshman women's class organization, on Friday. Voting booths will be open in Lathrop hall from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Green buttons may also be bought at this time.

The candidates for the four offices are: President, Gerry Alton, Katherine Kenney, Lila Ekren; vice-president, Katherine O'Shea, Rosamond Nolte, Frances Wright; secretary, Lucy Jameison, Blaine Mably, Elizabeth Elsom; treasurer, Louise Beebe, Winifred Fletcher, Edith Jackson.

LEGION MEN TO ENTERTAIN VETS

The University post of the American Legion will start this year's activities Saturday with a big smoker to be held in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. from 7 to 9 p. m. All members of the Legion as well as all ex-service men are invited to attend. Ted Lewis, 32nd Division, the republican candidate for district attorney, will speak to the men, and Glenn Stevens, who was the delegate of the Madison post to the national convention will make his report. Smokes, cider and doughnuts will be served and part of the evening will be spent in singing some of the old over-seas songs.

THOSE who missed the girls bag rush at the Union building at 12 yesterday, missed the sight of the school. Kindly imagine with us: one hundred young ladies, fight in their eyes, up on their toes, and stripped,er, that is, ready for action, y'understand.

SPEAKING OF THE RUSH
I'm a young and bashful maiden,
But I hied me to the rush,
Where I saw his color fadin',
And I felt myself to blush.

Horror filled my childish eyes,
As I saw the summer's tan
Of those once handsome guys,—
Now wrecks upon the sand.

Though his clothes are gone;

ODE TO AN ORIENTAL
I took my shirt last Thursday eve
Unto the Chinese laundry man,
The grime was plain on either sleeve
Around the cuffs in rings it ran.

I got it back, alas, alack!
T'was dirty yet, believe me.
The grime was not removed one whit,
It shocked and much displeased me.

Two fourteen collars he did take,
This part quite makes me laugh,—
He brought them back, wrong style and make
Size, sixteen and a half.

He trifles with my few good clothes;

WE SHALL

Dear Ed.
For several days I have been greatly worried over the sanity and the appetites of several of our promising young men.

Just the other day I saw Gerry Koch produce a slab of Piper Heidsick from his hip-pocket. After biting off a piece so small that he nearly swallowed it, Gerry passed it to several of his Chi Psi brothers. After much expecterating, a great many faces, but very little chewing, these tough young men moved away.

But the next day the "deet" announced that the medical school was paying students for doing this identical thing. Since then I have not worried about the sanity of said young men, but as to their appetites—Let's hope for the best.

CARDINAL ADS WINS BOOSTERS

Gill Has Pile of Letters Telling of Service to Patrons

"I'll say they read Cardinal classified ads!"

The above is a common exclamation heard in the Cardinal business office. And that's not all. There's usually a pile of communications on the associate business manager's desk that gives good cause for the much repeated remark.

In the business office yesterday a sub reporter saw the pile of letters and heard the remarks, and asked what it was all about. C. C. Gill, associate business manager, shoved over a few of the letters and said, "Here, take a look at these."

Curiously, the cub picked up the communications and read. The first was an inquiry from a party in Freeport, Ill., regarding a "Typewriter for Sale" ad that appeared recently in the Cardinal. Another contained instructions to discontinue an ad that had rented a piano the day it was inserted. The next one told of the experience of the Neenah-Menasha Paper Co., of Neenah, Wis., with Cardinal ads. The company inserted an ad for a book on the state water power survey, a book now out of print. The ad was answered and the book supplied by a resident of a small town in northern Wisconsin. That was enough.

"Well, what do you think of that?" said Gill.

SADDLE AND SIRLOIN WILL MEET TONIGHT

The Saddle and Sirloin club will meet for the first time this year at 7:30 tonight in Agricultural auditorium. Election of officers will be the main business, as some of the officers elected last year have not returned to school. There will be short talks by members of the animal husbandry faculty, and Prof. George Humphrey will address the club in regard to the activities of the coming year.

"Eats" and a social get-together will follow the meeting.

All students interested in Animal Husbandry and all lovers of live stock will be welcome. Freshmen and new students are especially urged to attend.

Saddle and Sirloin club is an active organization in the School of Agriculture, and it was through its efforts that the Little International of last year was made a success. Funds made at that time finance the sending of live stock judging teams to the various national shows. The present officers of the club are G. C. Marshall, president, and R. W. Gates, vice-president.

The tables will be in place between 9:30 and 10 a. m. today, all ready for the workers to hang up their hats and start signing up subscribers. Big Badger posters have been provided to go with them. The distribution of the tables is as follows: Bascom hall, 3; Physics Economics building, 2; Chemistry building, 2; Biology building, 1; Engineering building, 1; Agricultural hall, 1; Lathrop hall, 1; Men's Gym, 1.

Students living in outlying parts of the city have reported that they have not been visited by the solicitors. Although the teams have covered the student section near the campus they have this outlying territory yet to canvass. Lists of rooming houses will soon be provided for the workers.

DRIVE FOR LIT HALF FINISHED

The "Lit" drive is making good. "With our subscription drive half over we feel justified in saying that the "Lit" is launching forth on its most successful year," says Horace Powell, the circulation manager. "The interest which the student body is showing is most gratifying and a new record in our circulation is already assured. We are especially interested in having the first year people become acquainted with the "Lit" and invite all students who are not familiar with the magazine to call for a free sample copy at the Wisconsin Literary magazine offices on the third floor of the Union building.

MINNESOTA LOSES MANY PROFESSORS

The University of Minnesota is opening its 53rd year with a large number of losses in its teaching staff, although, according to President Lotus D. Coffman, very able men and women have been secured to fill the vacant positions. The university lost President Burton to Michigan; Dean Jones to Princeton; Professor Gay to Ohio; Professor Notestein to Cornell; Professor Rountree to the Mayo Foundation and Mr. Gerrould to Princeton. None of these men left Minnesota because the university was unwilling to meet the offers they had received, according to President Coffman.

A BUDGET OF TIME

AN editorial whose title does not allure has an initial disadvantage. When its subject matter does not deal with some ret-hot topic whose discussion has set every tongue to wagging, its handicap is doubled. The following editorial operates under both of these disabilities; but though less exciting than a philippic and less flamboyant than a mixer notice, it may prove more useful than either to the reader who is willing to think.

How many students plan their year's work thoughtfully? Is it not a common practice to arrange a schedule in which the prime objective is to leave afternoons and Saturdays vacant? Whether the subjects which can be fitted into such an arrangement are the best subjects is often not considered.

In making the family purchases the modern housewife maintains a proper balance between the expenditures for beef-steak and Victrola records. The student should exercise equal wisdom in deciding how to spend his time. Idling away one's time in the university is as wasteful as throwing a well-filled purse into Lake Mendota.

One of the most common mistakes is to act sporadically. Jumping from one thing to another without a guiding plan is radically inefficient. If time is to be spent wisely, it must not be scattered too widely. Putting one's eggs into many baskets is quite as foolish as piling them all into one.

The widest solution to the problem of disbursing time seems to be a budget system. In formulating such a budget of time, what points should be borne in mind?

First place should be given to one's studies. That is the most important single feature of university life. The primary reason why the state established the university was in order that young men and women could obtain mental training. To place the greatest emphasis on other things is to mistake the true purpose of university training.

A second suggestion is recreation. If a student tries to hold his nose everlastingly to the grindstone, the edge of his mental keenness is dulled. Not only does he miss all the fun of life. Nature, in punishment for such one-sidedness, forbids even the efficiency in study which he desires.

When recreation time comes, forget studies absolutely. Worrying during play time does not write the topic or work the problem, but it does spoil the play time.

Thirdly, in framing the time budget, don't forget to provide for some form of outside activity. The student who stands on the side-lines of campus life misses a large portion of its zest and its benefit. Almost every student can find a place in outside activities which he can fill, where Wisconsin really needs him.

But finally, let the schedule be flexible. If it is made too rigid, the student will throw it over with disgusted weariness. Keep the main points in mind and be sure that studies, outside activities, and recreation are not being neglected. That is the purpose of a budget of time, to provide amply for important things so that non-essentials cannot crowd them out.

FORE

GOLF, the game the presidents and senators and bankers play, is gently rapping at the door of the university asking for admission. The devotees of this sport on the campus have been biding their time and now they think the opportunity has come.

Down in Chicago there is going to be a big tournament held October 22 and 23. Wisconsin ought to be represented at this meet. Already about 35 have signified their intention of entering the try-outs the latter part of this week or the beginning of next week. More entrants are expected. Two players will be chosen to match their skill with the other contestants at Chicago.

The enterprise shown by the University Golf association in arranging these try-outs and planning to be represented at Chicago is worthy of commendation. The idea is one that should appeal to all interested in seeing minor sports developed at the university. There is no reason why golf should not be made a permanent feature in Wisconsin sports.

It is understood that some difficulty has been encountered in obtaining the use of the Maple Bluff grounds. Some agreement ought to be reached and the new sport given a chance to develop.

Coach Driver Still on Lookout for 160 Pound Men

A fast, snappy signal practice culminating with a short scrimmage against Coach Lowman's all-American squad tells the story of the freshman football workout yesterday. "Keg" Driver, who has been coaching the yearlings during the past week, had three teams on the lower field of Camp Randall.

The large squad of one hundred candidates which first reported for freshman football has been reduced to 40 men, but even with this material reporting daily, the coach is looking for a further turnout of some of the big men in this class.

The end of the present football season means the loss to the varsity of several heavy linemen who have added so much strength to Wisconsin's defense. Every yearling who tips the beam at 160 pounds should report immediately to Coach Driver at Camp Randall.

BAPTIST STUDENTS TO HOLD RECEPTION

Foster, the national student secretary for the board of education of the Northern Baptists will be present to greet old and new students.

Around the world in an Excello Shirt

The other day we waited on a globe trotter.

37 countries was his record—if you count Austria-Hungary as two—it would be 38.

He told us that in all his travels he had never changed shirts—don't get him wrong—he meant he had stuck to Excellos and figuratively speaking, they had stuck to him.

Quite a nice thing to be able to say considering the latitude of laundries his shirts must have rubbed shoulders with.

We sell Excello Shirts right here at home.

NO COAL SHORTAGE FEARED AT ILLINOIS

While the coal shortage is very acute in Urbana the University of Illinois has one third of its winter coal supply on hand, and hopes to have no difficulty in getting coal enough to last through the winter. Not only is the price of coal exorbitant in this city, but individuals have trouble in securing any coal at all. City organizations are investigating to discover the cause of this coal profiteering.

MIXING

Scrimmage Rules for Parties at North Dakota Give Wall Flowers a Chance

"No escorts to the dances, and only two dances engaged ahead," so run some of the rules that students attending mixers at the University of North Dakota must observe. The entire set of rules to be observed runs as follows:

No escorts to the dances. Escorts permitted from the dances.

Only two dances engaged ahead. This does not mean two after the one whose music has just started.

No extreme dancing. The shimmy and the cheek-to-cheek dances are not countenanced.

A charge of fifty cents made for men. No charge for women.

These rules are all important. The two-dance rule is one which has been most often broken, but one which is devised for the sake of effecting a uniformity of programs, and, as far as possible, the elimination of wall-flowers.

COMMERCE GRADS
GET PICK OF JOBS

Graduates of the Course in Commerce at the university are in incessant demand, according to Stephen W. Gilman, professor in the commerce course. "The students we send out are snapped up like mallets on a counter," asserts Prof. Gilman. "Last year we graduated 157 and we have 20 more for February graduation; one trouble we have in our department is trying to find enough students to go around. We have enough positions to have five jobs offered to each graduate."

The big problem before the commerce department at present is to supply enough instructors to take care of the unusually large enrollment in the theses courses. Twenty students are being prepared for February graduation and 50 others for June commencement.

Many women are taking the general secretarial course. Professor Irene Hensey, a new member of the commerce faculty, declares that the commerce women are going to make great progress this year through the channel of the Women's Commerce club.

ILLINOIS STARS ARE UNDER FACULTY BAN

Scholastic difficulties and the failure of last year's freshmen linesmen to chock holes in the forward wall left by graduations are checking talk of another Inter-collegiate Conference Athletic association football championship at University of Illinois.

Capt. J. C. Depier, '21, rated as one of the best centers in the conference; I. W. Walquist, '22, star veteran halfback; and R. W. Reichle '22, regular end of last season, are under the faculty ban. There is a chance of the ban being lifted, however, before the season gets well under way. Coach R. C. Zuppke is hard pressed for capable linesmen, and the new men have not revealed the ability expected. Athletic authorities are considering a plan of bringing several former line stars here to assist the five coaches already aiding Zuppke.

SOPHOMORES AGREE TO RUSH DECISION

A final decision that there will not be another class rush this year, was reached yesterday noon at the sophomore class meeting when the report of the committee, visiting Dean S. H. Goodnight, was read.

The faculty was not in favor of another rush this year or another outbreak of hazing, and stipulated that any such action on the part of the students would result in the expulsion of the offenders.

A resolution explaining the attitude of the sophomore class is being prepared, and it is hoped that this statement, by enumerating the bad features of this year's rush, will tend to lessen the possibility of their occurrence next year.

NORTH DAKOTA HAS
INCREASE OVER 1919

The registration at the University of North Dakota is the best in its history. The total enrollment will be far over the thousand mark, a decided increase over last year. The registration in all departments has exceeded the most optimistic estimates.

wearing the cap would interfere with his work, and Roy C. Drake was granted an excuse for medical reasons. R. M. Smith petitioned for, but was not granted, an excuse.

Budget Discussed

Senators Coxon and Field were appointed to act with Tom Brittingham as a committee to suggest to the organizers of the French War Orphans, Far Eastern Relief, American Relief, and Belgium Babies drives the possibilities of a single united drive to include all four causes. The student senate thinks that the matter could be handled more effectively this way with a great saving of time to the campaign and less inconvenience to the student body.

AT THE STRAND

The color and passion of modern Spain is reflected in "The World and His Wife" which is now showing at the Strand theater. The story, which was adapted from a famous Spanish play, tells of Don Julian and his beautiful girl-bride, Feodora. After their marriage, Ernesto, a young writer, comes to live with them, and the world, with Don Alvarez as its spokesman, starts spreading evil stories about Feodora and Ernesto. The result is a duel and a series of dramatic events that result in the death of Don Julian and the final happiness of the young folks.

"The World and His Wife" features Alma Rubens, who was recently seen to great advantage in "Humorousque." Montagu Love and Gaston Glass are also in the cast. The picture, which is a Cosmopolitan Production for Paramount Artcraft, was directed by Robert G. Vignola. There will also be shown a comedy cartoon and latest news weekly.

The Commerce Girls' club held a meeting last night at 7 o'clock in the Physics building to make plans for the coming year and to elect new members. All new girls in the Commerce department were assigned to their Commerce club advisors. Plans were discussed for a large open meeting in the near future to work up interest among the Commerce girls and to welcome the new girls in the department.

The new members elected are Vera Jerg, Helen Olson, Ethel Edwards, Pearl Lichtfeldt, Alice Wilkins, Mildred Ryan, Beulah Bossard, Angelina Lins, Adeline Neyer.

WESTON TALKS AT FELLOWSHIP MEET

In addition "Red" will conduct an open discussion of the Y activities and of general campus problems. The program committee has arranged to have "Sparks" Dodge give his slight of hand performance and monologs as a special feature.

The committee under "Wes" Travers has had difficulty in reaching the men with notices of the meeting, but expects a good attendance. The meeting will last from 7 until 8.

ENGINEER MIXER SLATED TONIGHT

The Civil Engineering society will hold a mixer tonight at 7:15, in room 229 of the Engineering building. Big "eats" and lots of smokes are promised, together with a most interesting program. Prof. L. S. Smith, recently returned from Europe, will talk on Devastated Europe. Another talk, of interest to all Civil Engineers, will be an account of the humorous events at Devil's Lake this summer.

All Engineers are invited to come.

BIG BAND TO CHEER AGGIES

strength of the visitors eleven is added to with eight veterans back in the lineup. There are Basset left end, Leffler and Boss at tackle positions, and Van Order guard, in the line. In the back field are Captain Springer, veteran quarter back of three years, Haas' fullback, playing his third year, and two letter men, Schwei and Brady as half backs.

Richards Drives Men

Coach Richards is working his men hard for this next contest which will be the last before the conference schedule starts. Yesterday afternoon the squad was put through a grueling scrimmage in which two teams, the frosh eleven and the third squad, were used for opposition.

The yearlings, who are being whipped into shape by Coaches Earl Driver and Bob Quick, were the first to take the field against the varsity. This is the first time that they have been in action and naturally their playing is still a little ragged. However, there are men both in the back field and in the line who look good for future varsity material.

Regulars Score

The regulars scored two touchdowns within the first few minutes of play. As usual Elliott and Williams featured the practice by tearing through their opponents for long runs. The forward pass which is being used to a large extent by the team this year was given a try-out in many plays yesterday afternoon. Many of them were incompletely but when successful large gains were made.

After about 10 minutes of scrimmage, the freshmen were replaced by the third team, the "All Americans," who are being coached by Guy S. Lowman. They put up a little stiffer line but were unable to hold the backs from breaking through.
