Hanna Refuses To Comment on Fate of Alliance

The fate of Student Alliance, campus political party, was decided at a last minute secret meeting last night.

With the deadline for filing election briefs at 12 noon today, Al Hanna, spokesman for the party in last fall's election, refused to comment on the Alliance's plans for the coming spring election. Hanna said, however, "the party is not dead."

At an open meeting last night, Dogrin (Dorm, Greek, Independent party), the only other party on the campus, endorsed its candidates for the election.

Hanna said that a few people were meeting last night but refused to disclose who they were or where they were meeting.

Alliance incumbents knew nothing of the meeting or of the party's plans for the election.

Frank Ornstein, general chairman for the election, announced that the deadline for filing of briefs is today at 12 noon at the Student Activities office. All candidates must have their briefs with their endorsements in by that time if they wish to run. Up to deadline time last night, only two candidates had filed their briefs.

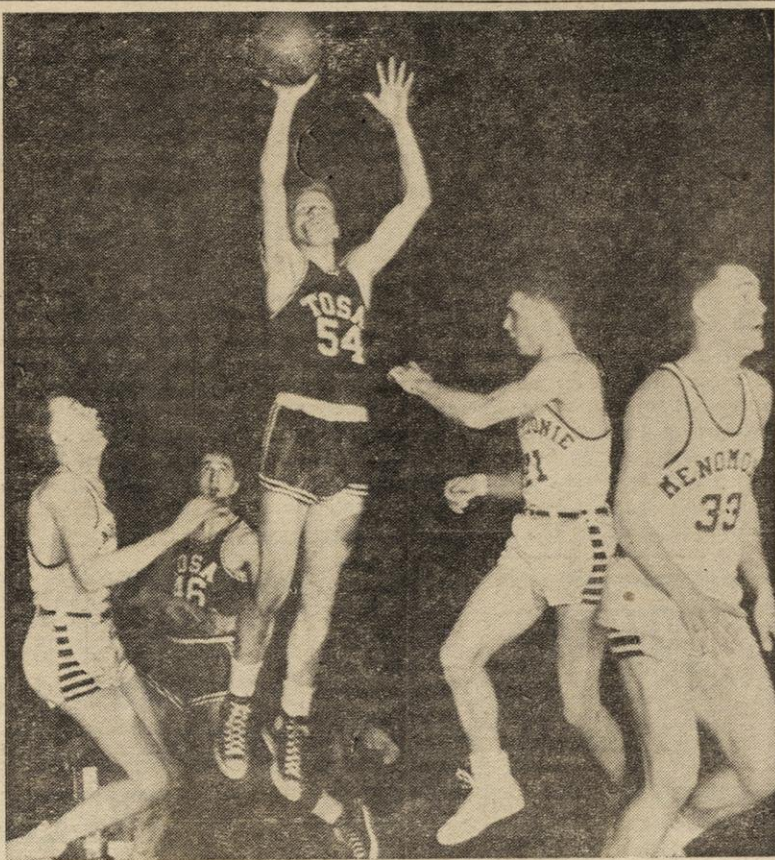

Don Bowman, inter-fraternity representative of the Big 10 convention, member of the track team, and chairman of the Greek Week banquet, filed independently for senior class president.

WAC Explains Defense Position

The Women's Administrative Council (WAC) of WSGA has not turned down financial support of the campus civil defense program as was previously reported, WSGA president Armina Bedrosian has explained. WAC's defense coordinator actually works as a branch of the all-campus group, she said.

The WAC, however, recently did turn down a request for $50 from the Madison civil defense committee on the grounds that student board makes all appropriations for WSGA and board had already contributed.

Rapids Crushes Menasha; Menomonie Wins Thriller

By BUD LEA

Wisconsin Rapids and Menomonie won quarter-final games in the state WIAA basketball tournament before a sell-out crowd at the field-house last night.

The highly rated Rapids squad routed Menasha, 76-59, while the Menomonie Indians were edging Wauwatosa, 49-48 in the last ten seconds.

Wisconsin Rapids, rated first in the Big 16, lived up to previous billings by whipping an eager Menasha team. The score itself is a new two-team record for the WIAA tourney. The previous record was set during the afternoon round by Madison West-Onalaska.

Charles Gurtler, giant 6-4 Rapids center, broke the individual field goal record when he dumped in 13 baskets before leaving the game limping with a minute and a half remaining. Gurtler, only a junior, took individual scoring honors for the evening with 31 points of which 20 were made in the first half.

Pat O'Keefe was the big threat of the visiting Bluejays. He scored 19

May Be Completed by '53; Fund Raising To Start Soon

By GATES HALLINE

Plans to build a half-million-dollar swimming pool and a building to house it have been made, Paul J. Fisher, class of '22, last night told the University Men's Dolphin club.

Approval on the plans to raise this money has come from the Wisconsin Foundation and Pres. E. B. Fred. Such a building, Fisher stated, will bring the N.C.A.A. and Western conference meets to Wisconsin, where a "need for a pool has existed for a long time."

Hopes are to build two pools 50 by 75 feet with sufficient room for spectators, thereby providing Wisconsin with a pool to meet the needs of intercollegiate swimming meets. These plans would meet any requirements of the armed forces or any other program which might be set up at the university.

A natatorium foundation was recently set up by Fisher to receive contributions from Wisconsin alumni and friends.

The program should go into action within the next two months, Fisher said. Expectations are to have the pool completed for use by the spring of 1953.

Fisher spoke before the Men's Dolphin club following a dinner which he gave for the swimming team. A member of the class of 1922, Fisher is president of the Wisconsin Alumni club of Rockford, Ill.

While at the university he participated in track, having at that time no connection with the swimming team. His son, Paul J., Jr., a junior in Letters and Science here, is a member of the team and representative on the athletic board.

When asked how he developed an interest in the project, he said, "We have eight swimming pools in Rockford, and the worst of them is better than what you have here."

Also present at the dinner was Coach Joe Steinauer, who has been working with the Wisconsin swimming teams for 39 years. He was presented with a pipe from the club

Babcock Visited By Lawmakers

State assemblymen, senators and officials were used as guinea pigs yesterday by the university—and they loved it.

The legislators, Governor Kohler and Lt. Gov. George M. Smith were the guests at a luncheon given by the university at Babcock hall. A new sherbert made of whey, still in the experimental stage, and new cheeses were the highlights of the lunch.

After the lunch, groups of the legislators were shown around the new dairy products building. They were invited to tour the building by President Fred and Dean Rudolf K. Froker, College of Agriculture.

Sen. Melvin J. Olson (R-South Wayne), chairman of the senate committee on agriculture and conservation, said yesterday after the

Legislators' Day Set For April 10

Tuesday, April 10, has been set as Legislators' day on campus, Bill Comstock, chairman of the student board sponsored event, said last night.

The state assembly Wednesday voted unanimously to attend the event. Members will tour the campus, eat at living units, and be entertained at a Union coffee hour.

"The main objective of the day," Comstock said, "is to give the student body a chance to show its appreciation for everything the legislators did for them during the year."

Each legislator will have a student host who will accompany him around the campus during the day. Interviews for hosts will be held soon, Comstock said.

Fair and somewhat warmer today. Occasional showers tonight or early Saturday. Windy and colder tomorrow. High today, 40; low tonight, 32.

ORCHESIS, the university dance group, will present its biennial spring concert in the Union theatre April 6 and 7. Tana Godfriaux and Don Redlich are shown above in poses from the dance drama, "The Pact," in which a man sells his soul to the devil, on the left and right.
INCLUDED in the dance concert are a fantasy based on marital boredom, a group of authentic Philippino dances, and a choreographic piece to Bela Bartok's "Concerto for Two Pianos and Percussion." Several solos will be performed by advanced dance students.

Ruth Belew and Joan Jones twist wire and bodies in this glance at "The Haven and the High Place," in the center photo.

Sorority Adopts War Child; Aids In Her Support

A second war child has been adopted by the Tau chapter of Kappa Delta sorority. The 10 year old Greek girl, Niki Rabidi, will again be able to attend school and continue to get medical care through help from Plan, an American relief agency, and the sorority.

Niki's father, Spyros Rabidi, was seized and killed by the rebels in 1944. Niki, her mother, and two sisters live with five other relatives in an almost barren house. The eight people have to live on only $26.66 a month.

The family lives on a farm in Anarahi where Niki's mother and widowed sister cultivate as much land as possible. They eke out a $10.66 monthly income from the land, and the rest of the money comes from the widowed sister's pension.

Niki's family originally came from Asia Minor and lived in Anarahi. They lived comfortably there before the war, and lived through the privation years of German and Italian occupation.

The first girl adopted by the sorority is Claudine Pascal, a nine year old French girl. Her father was active in the French underground, and was captured and executed by the Germans. Kappa Delta is contributing $15 a month toward her support.

Oil Company Awards $2000 For Fellowship

The Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., has awarded $2,000 to the university for continuation of a fellowship in chemistry during the period from July 1, 1951, to June 30, 1952.

A total of 20 fellowships will be supported by Socony-Vacuum during the 1951-52 academic year at colleges and universities throughout the country at a total cost of $40,000. It is a continuation of a program instituted several years ago.

Recipients for the fellowships are selected by the universities and colleges from among students with at least one year of graduate work. No restrictions are placed by the company on the recipients as to future employment nor as to publication of the results of their investigations. Similarly the recipients are free to study any subjects other than ones connected with the petroleum industry.

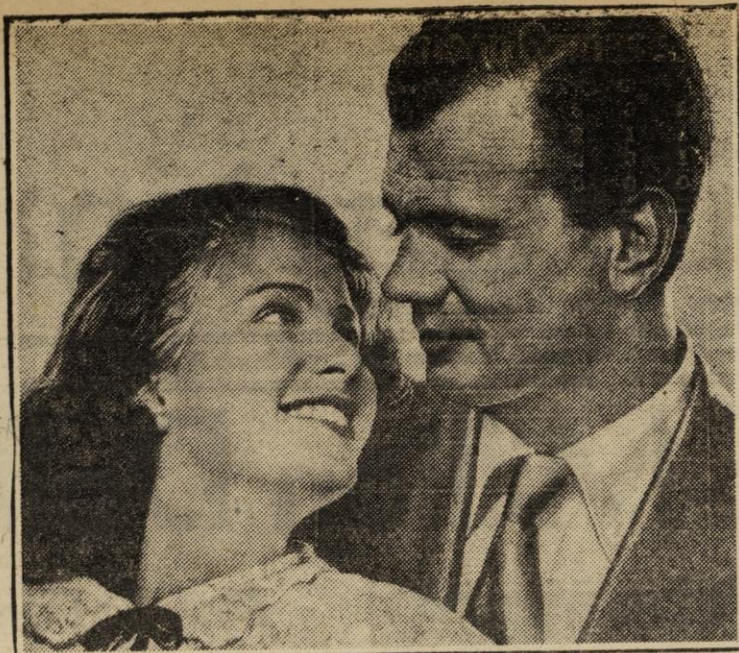

In each case, a major portion of the fellowship stipends from Socony-Vacuum are paid to the students to assist in defraying their living costs.

Professors Attend Education Convo

Two university and faculty members are attending the national convention of the American Association of University Professors meeting March 15-18 at Cincinnati.

Prof. Helen White, English, and Prof. Richard Hartshorne, geography, will take part in the meetings of the national council, of which they are members. Professor White is second vice president of the association.

Things to be considered at the convention, Professor Hartshorne indicated, include a report on the economic status of the profession and the question of academic freedom and tenure.

JOSEPH COTTON AND VALLI co-star in "Walk Softly, Stranger," playing at the Madison Theatre, Friday to Tuesday, March 16-20. The Dore Schary presentation has featured support by Spring Byington, Paul Stewart, Jack Paar and Frank Puglia. "Hi-Jacked" will be the co-feature.

To Recross Parallel?

UN Troops Take Base in Hongchon; Send Troops Close to 38th Parallel

Edited by JERRY KUEHL and JIM JOHNSON

TOKYO—(U.P.)—UN troops occupied the Central Korean military base of Hongchon yesterday and sent patrols five miles north of the city to within 18 miles of the 38th parallel.

The only opposition to the allied troops came from a Communist rear guard, which pumped artillery shells into the advancing troops. U.S. artillery returned the fire and drove the Communists from their hillside emplacements.

Other troops crossed the Hongchon river west of the town and cut the highway leading from Hongchon to Chunchon—which is only eight miles south of the border.

On the diplomatic front, General Douglas MacArthur told the UP that he did not foresee any end to the fighting at the parallel. He said that there was no natural defense near the parallel, and that his troops would have to continue their war of maneuvering—and could not, with the present forces available, build a defense strong enough to withstand a concentrated attack at any given spot.

In Washington, Pres. Truman refused to comment specifically on MacArthur's statement, but did declare that a decision whether to recross the border is a tactical matter for a field commander.

Several Congressional members hailed MacArthur's views as a "sound estimate," and said that MacArthur should be allowed to fight where he sees fit.

London spokesmen agreed that it would not be practical to try to hold a defense line at the parallel but insisted that the UN should not try to cross the border at this time, since that might disrupt chances of negotiating a peace.

A spokesman for the French foreign office said that any decision on the crossing of the parallel would have to be made by the UN.

NEWS BRIEFS

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Justice department officials yesterday served a deportation warrant on Salvatore Solazzo, one of the men indicted in the New York City basketball scandal.

Officials served the warrant on Solazzo in his jail cell and said that a hearing on the deportation move would be held "soon."

BOSTON—(U.P.)—A threatened strike of 200,000 New England rayon and cotton workers was averted yesterday when CIO union and industry leaders agreed on a 7½ per cent wage boost for the workers.

BUENOS AIRES—(U.P.)—The Argentine Press union last night demanded that La Prensa—an anti-Peron newspaper closed down since January 26, be expropriated. The fate of the paper will be decided today at a special session of the Argentine congress.

'U' Mobilization Role Is Praised

The initiative displayed by the University of Wisconsin has played a key role in the mobilization planning of American higher education," the magazine School and Society reported this week.

The magazine is published weekly by the Society for the Advancement of Education.

Using the university activities since the outbreak of the Korean war as a "case history" of the way in which American universities are playing an important role in the national defense effort, School and Society called the university "a unique arsenal of democracy."

McCabe Resigns

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—Federal reserve board chairman Thomas McCabe's resignation was accepted by Pres. Truman Thursday but Truman indicates he will appoint McCabe's choice as his successor.

McCabe had urged the president to name assistant treasury secretary William Martin, Jr., to the position. Martin, former president of the New York stock exchange, was known as the "boy wonder" of Wall st.

Olson Wins 4-H Trip To Norway

Burton Olson, senior in Agriculture, will be one of the first two Wisconsin 4-H members to spend a summer in Europe under the international farm youth exchange program.

Eldora Keske, Fond du Lac, has also been named. Each will live on farms in one of the 23 co-operating foreign countries—Olson, who speaks Norwegian, will go to Norway and Miss Keske will go to Austria. The state's 4-H members made 5c contributions to a fund to finance the trips.

Olson has had eleven years of 4-H club work in Vernon county and has served for three months as a county 4-H club agent.

He is president of the Agricultural Student council, president of the Blue Shield club, and house fellow at Babcock house. He held the position of circulation manager on the Daily Cardinal last year and is assistant circulation manager this year. Olson formerly attended the university's farm short course.

Miss Weiss was a member of a delegation which after traveling through Europe, Russia, and Siberia, spent several weeks investigating conditions in China under the "new government of the people of China."

She said that China is starting to build a strong economy based on an increase of industry on a modern level, and the Chinese are now free from the oppressions of the Chiang-Kai-Chek government.

Fraternity Pledges 53 Year-Old Vet

Possibly the oldest non-honorary pledge, Walter "Pops" Ralston, was accepted into Delta Sigma Pi fraternity recently. He is a first semester senior in commerce.

Ralston, 53, is from Rockford, Illinois, and is a combat veteran of both wars. According to Don Neumann, Delta Sigma Pi house president, he is seriously serving his 12 pledge weeks with ambition and vitality comparable to his younger pledge brothers.

"Pops" gained national publicity in 1946 when he attended high school in Rockford at the age of 45.

At present, Ralston holds patent rights to the argyle sock pattern and knitting process. His discovery of a new fabric may be used by the armed forces for cold weather clothing. Another of his pastimes is flying airplanes.

Dr. Middleton Tells 'Dog Lovers' About Research

THE MEDICAL SCHOOL dean went before state assembly public welfare committee to tell the legislators that the university vitally needs dogs for research.

Dean Middleton rightly pointed out that humane societies are obstructing medical training and research in refusing to turn over the dogs for university study.

In connection with Dean Middleton's testimony we are reminded of a recent editorial in the Wisconsin State Journal. Said the Journal:

IT WAS A FORTUNATE coincidence that announcement of the Dog Lovers' Association's "march on Madison" came on the same day Marquette University revealed its discovery of a substitute for blood plasma.

The "Dog Lovers" will stage their march on the capital Mar. 7. The idea is to convince the state legislature that "the people of Wisconsin" are "incontrovertibly opposed" to scientific experimentation upon dogs.

"We feel that by descending upon the legislators from Prairie du Chien, LaCrosse, Superior, Green Bay, and Milwaukee we could stamp out vivisection in this state forever," the promoter of the caravan announced.

LET'S GO BACK to that announcement by Marquette university that a team of scientists had discovered a substitute for blood plasma.

The new plasma substitute is derived from okra, which is the second largest vegetable crop grown in the South.

It is difficult to exaggerate the importance of the possibilities opened by this discovery.

THE NEED FOR plasma or a substitute, in the event of an atomic bomb attack, has been haunting civilian defense officials.

The okra "plasma" has several advantages over human plasma. It need not be refrigerated for storage. It can be made in powder form and mixed with sterile water when needed.

HOW WAS THE okra-type plasma substitute discovered?

Through scientific experimentation and research on dogs, the same type of scientific research the "Dog Lovers' Association" now seeks to prevent by its "march on Madison."

One reporter who covered the Marquette discovery pointed out in his story:

"Without dogs it would have been impossible for Dr. Benjamin and his co-workers to perform the many tests necessary before the 'plasma' could finally be used on humans. As it turned out, the product may well be a boon to veterinary medicine, as well as human medicine. The plasma the Marquette dogs received experimentally can save the lives of other pets that suffer serious injuries. No plasma is available for animals now."

Do the anti-vivisectionists who march on Madison have an answer?

THE NEW YORK TIMES AND MILITARY TRAINING

One of the false and moth-eaten arguments that the militarists are using in their current campaign to Prussianize America via universal military service and training is that UMST is democratic. Thus, in an editorial on UMST, January 12, 1951, the ardently militaristic New York Times said:

The democracies have always been reluctant to adopt UMST although the equality of obligation that it assumes is of the essence of democracy."

It is untrue of course that "The democracies have always been reluctant to adopt UMST." The truth is that while anti-militarism and hatred of peacetime conscription are imbedded in the traditions of Great Britain and the United States, France, which also comes within the Times definition of a "democracy," succumbed to militarism generations ago.

Again it is an untrue implication that the proposed UMST program prescribes "equality of obligation." The militarists have indulged in a lot of pseudo-moralistic humbug about finding places for the physically unfit, but they want to be saddled with no "problems." Their goal is a program that will give them a monopoly of the nation's physically fit male youth only.

But the most important falsehood in the Time's statement is the assertion that compulsion, when applied universally, is "the essence of democracy." If this were indeed the "essence of democracy," then it would have to be admitted that except in wartime American democracy has been devoid of its "essence" from its birth in 1776 on—an unseemly state of affairs.

Again, if "equality of obligation" is "the essence of democracy," it would have to be admitted that the late Adolph Hitler's military conscription system was the most democratic ever, as were those of Hirohito, Mussolini, and Stalin!

Any way you look at it, UMST is a totalitarian system, and when it is used by countries with democratic political institutions, it inevitably creates a menace to those institutions. UMST pumps the totalitarian concepts of an authoritarian military machine into the bloodstream of civilian life. It imposes unquestioning and unthinking obedience upon conscripts, hence tends to produce a mass of robot citizens who will fit into a totalitarian scheme of things.

The late Senator George Norris knew whereof he spoke when, on the eve of World War II, he said: "I am afraid of building up a society based on compulsory military training in time of peace, for that leads to dictatorship and ultimately to the downfall of such a government as ours, at least, to the ending of democracy, just as surely as the sun rises in the east."

From Texas on War Stop Teaching Nation's Kids War Glory

By THOMAS M. FONTAINE (Of Texas A & M College)

MILITARY MEN, public officials concerned with foreign policy, and other speakers of more or less importance have been discussing, and getting dressed down because of discussing, one idea of international relations which in its very name is a mockery of definition. Preventive war is a fallacy in both meaning and thought.

A preventive police action... seems both logical and necessary at times for the preservation of peace in the world. But when we speak of preventive war against Russia... we are talking pure nonsense.

... Russia is already too strong and too determined to beat in a full scale, but conditional peace war. If we attack Russia as a nation, we will not be able to stop until we have become completely militarily victorious.

BY STAYING ALERT and holding our ground in Europe and Asia against Red aggression we may be able to prevent a major war with Russia. But such action can not be termed preventive war.

Besides throwing away that unreasonable term war to prevent war, we should begin to define our foreign policy and international relations in terms that make sense to the American people... our soldiers aren't fighting to preserve peace. They are fighting to preserve the way of life, the principles and the future of the United States of America.

Why don't we accept that fact, teach that fact, be proud of that fact?... Foreign countries and people aren't so easily fooled as to believe that the United States has forsaken nationalism. Until the rest of the world is ready, too, we won't sacrifice national patriotism for the "One World" principle.

PREVENTIVE WAR is just another term to be added to the vocabulary coined to further American whitewash of our first history and politics. It is just another hammy attempt to glorify and/or purify war and war "heroes."

... When are we going to stop teaching our young people of the glory of dying in a "preventive" war of fighting "to make the world safe for democracy?"

There is so much more glory and honor in working and planning for things that will help people to live better.

... OUR SCHOOLS should begin at once a campaign to rid our youth of the old ideas of the gloriousness of war. From first grade our school children should be taught that war is immoral, degrading, profitless, and uncivilized. They should be impressed with the fact that no one has ever won a war. They should learn to understand and realize the value of human lives.

When we are fully conscious of what war is, we will not allow our leaders to procrastinate as they did before World War II; when we know that war is liable to mean death for our own selves, we will not fall for such stupid reasoning as led us into imperialistic battles such as the Spanish-American and the Mexican War.

As our schools teach that war means horror, destruction, and, most of all, death, they must teach that death is preferable to sacrifice of the ideals which we live.

SO MANY OF US, trained by a system that teaches war in patriotic and sugar-coated slogans, have asked ourselves and our elders time and again, "Why must I risk my life with its dreams and ambition, why must I face death in war?" We should have been taught that facing death is the responsibility we owe our country, our family, our sweetest heart.

To have the right to the opportunities offered by this country, to have the chance at a better way of living, to expect the freedom that advances man's knowledge of himself and other people, we must be willing to accept the obligation of fighting and dying for those things.

Excerpt

"The CORE of the EARTH is NOT a MOLTEN mass of bubbling METAL. But WITH CERTAINTY it can be a mass of dry metal or granular metallic salts, loaded to the utmost with the flowing ENERGY of the SUN'S RAY and compressed to a weight beyond anything that can be produced by the art of the metallurgist, or the chemist, or in the operation of the newest type of cyclotron."

"IT IS the GYROSCOPIC BALANCER for the EARTH."

The Philosophers Worksheet (a supplement) This is MODERN THEORY in the field of SPECULATIVE PHILOSOPHY. TIME and PUBLICITY will DETERMINE the TRUTH. However, ASK THIS of a professor—does he know if it is TRUE or FALSE that anything rotating at a very low speed, without friction, will stay cool; that it is not possible to generate heat from the axis of the earth, which hardly moves; and that rotation of the core of the earth is so slow, at a thousand miles from the axis, the greatest degree of possible heat could be no more than that existing five miles below the surface, along the line of the arctic circle; that if any vent existed to furnish a needed flow of oxygen to the axis of the earth, the fires, of the physicist's imagination, would have burned completely through the crust of the earth long before the creeping start of life. DO NOT press the matter; TIME has the ANSWER.

COSMOGRAPHY 1930 Worksheets was sent, free of all charge, to college and public libraries of all english-speaking countries, in 1944. (About twenty percent, only, were acknowledged and in many places it may not have been put on the library shelves.) The Philosophers Worksheet, a supplement—in 1949—was sent, free, to nineteen hundred libraries. It is not a text-book and the author does not permit its use for classroom study or discussion.

NOW OUT of PRINT. NO CORRESPONDENCE WANTED. ACCEPTANCE by present day teaching professors is not important.

COSMOGRAPHY 1930 is something entirely new—"The ENERGY RAYS that reach the axis would take their departure through the ends of the core, evenly divided in volume at the equinox, seventy percent towards the hemisphere of winter at the solstice." "If it were not for the outflow from the core of the earth of the essence of atomic energy, there would be no lush crops raised anywhere. This outflow tempers the earth, all the way up to the surface, and when the planter tills the soil he prepares the way for a great increase, through his ground, of the outflowing energy." "The speed of light is in the elasticity of the rebound of ENERGY RAYS after they have met with compression in the vapor of the earth, and it varies according to the volume of vapor or humidity through which they pass." "A continuous stream of ENERGY RAYS drives down to the ocean floor in daytime, building up layer after layer of rays that pick up a maximum coating of vapor and are slowed up as they start the rebound." "The Nares deep is a place of accumulation through the long days of summer. The valleys of the lost Atlantis have a surplus to discharge. The rebound from the telegraph shelf towards the Sargasso sea is of greater force than all the artificial electricity simultaneously produced." —that, perhaps, will be freely accepted by grandchildren of present day professors.

Three Marks Fall In First WIAA Session

By DICK SNOW
Cardinal Sports Editor

A record Thursday afternoon crowd of 12,101 saw a couple records broken in the opening session of the Wisconsin Interscholastic athletic association's basketball tournament at the fieldhouse as Madison West Regents literally smothered Onalaska, 75-41, and Rib Lake Red Men took a thriller from Baraboo, 64-62.

West Cops 75-40

Shooting at a sparkling 419 the Regents out-scored and fought the Hilltoppers to score the most points ever scored in a single game by one team — 75 — compared to the 64 Beloit scored in 1947. The high Regent total added to the Onalaska score also broke by one point the highest previous team score — 115 — by two teams in a single game.

Owen Roberts led the Madison five with 16 points, but Earl Johnson, Onalaska, put in 19—nine of them on free throws. The Hilltoppers went six minutes and eight seconds before they scored a field goal.

UPPER LEFT—One of the best reasons why the Madison West Regents set an individual single game scoring record of 75 points was Johnny Parker (36). Parker only had seven points but, with Owen Roberts (not shown), he controlled both backboards. He was removed midway in the second quarter and never returned as his coach, Bob Harris, decided to rest him.

UPPER RIGHT—Bill Marshall, Madison West, drives in for one of his numerous layup shots. Marshall scored a total of nine points in the Regent victory. Lloyd Holthous (12), Onalaska, and teammate Earl Johnson are bypassed by Marshall. Johnson led his team in scoring with 19 points on five field goals and nine free throws. Onalaska was particularly lax on these kind of shots all through the game.

LOWER LEFT—Ed Sorenson (43), Madison West substitute guard, watches Newell Nelson, Onalaska, huff and puff while they both see the ball go out of bounds in the opening game yesterday. Nelson missed a chance for an easy shot when he let the basketball get away from him. Sorenson had eight points for the Regents.

Ab Nicholas Placed on First Five On Student Papers' All-Big Ten

Another honor was conferred on Wisconsin cager Albert Nicholas yesterday.

This time it was a first team berth on the first annual Big Ten student newspapers all-conference basketball team. The balloting was done by the sport editors of the student papers of every college in the conference with the Daily Illini handling the ballot tabulations.

Others on the first team, which is identical to the Associated Press and Look magazine selections, include Bill Garrett, Indiana; Ray Ragelis, Northwestern; Don Sunderlage, Illinois, and Myer Skoog, Minnesota.

Badger Jim Clinton was given honorable mention in the voting.

Wisconsin Wins Billiard Tourney

Wisconsin was a three-count winner in Wednesday night's midwest intercollegiate telephonic straight rail billiard tournament at the Union billiard room.

High team total, high run, and high score were all taken by Wisconsin in competition with Purdue, Illinois, Minnesota, Indiana, and St. Mary's, Winona, Minn.

Charles Scheid of Wisconsin had the high run of 17, and Leonard Stein of Wisconsin had high score of 65. As high man in the midwest, Stein will go to Ann Arbor, Mich., to compete in the national intercollegiate straight rail billiard tournament in April.

Cards Box Miami Tonight

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (Special)—For the second time this year, a highly-touted collegiate heavyweight boxer will be sent in against Wisconsin's Bobby Ranck.

Two weeks ago, 1949 heavyweight titlist Marty Crandall, undefeated this year, came west to Madison with the Syracuse boxing team. He went back a sadly disillusioned man, TKO'd by Bobby.

Tonight, Carl Bernardo, Miami, also sporting an undefeated record, meets Mr. Ranck. Bernardo was the NCAA 175 lb. champion in '49.

Bob has racked up three straight TKO's in his only three fights. Herb Kurtz, Penn State, was counted out after :43 of the first round; Crandall was beaten in 1:35 of the third; and Ad Irwin, Washington State, was stopped in :50 of the second round.

In other fights; Gene Diamond (W) vs. Mickey Demos (M) 125 lbs.; Tom Zamzow (W) vs. Arch Sibley (M) 130 lbs.; Carroll Sternberg vs. Joe Leet (M) 135 lbs.; Pat Shanahan (W) vs. Ed Segall (M) 145 lbs. (Continued on page 7)

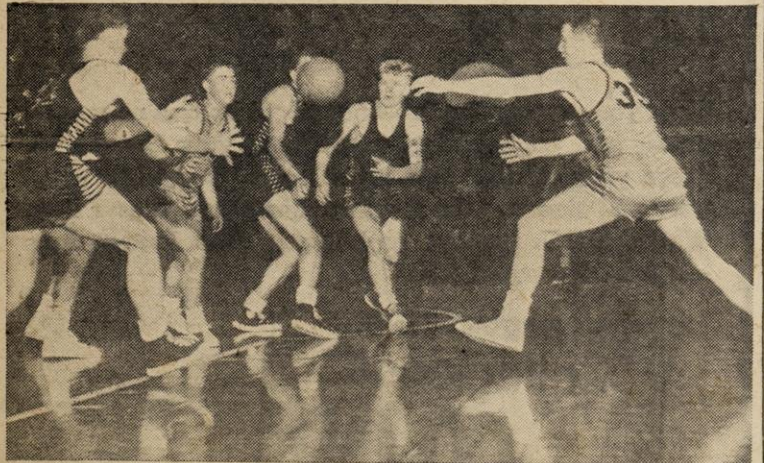

'Shysters', Plumbers Set for Today's Cage Battle in Armory Gymnasium

The perennial Law-Engineering feud will break out this afternoon when the "shysters" battle the "plumbers" in their traditional St. Pat's basketball "blood-game."

The game will start at 4:30 in the Armory gym. Admission is free, but spectators will be asked to refrain from tossing eggs, odoriferous missiles, or water-filled bags at the opposition.

Having all the possibilities of a colorful sport show, the contest will match the "men" on campus against the "boys."

Smarting under a humiliating 42-16 defeat to the engineers last year, the lawyers have "loaded" their ranks with top notch material in order to settle the score. But the plumbers figure differently.

FREE BALL! And Alex Ziemke (35), Baraboo, and Don Cihasky (33), Rib Lake, closed in to grab it up. Cihasky eventually came up with the ball. The Rib Lake Red Men won the second game of the afternoon by a record-breaking 64-62 score. Cihasky led the Red Men with 20 points.

Along Ag Mall

Last weekend provided a whirl of activity for 175 men of the Agricultural Short course as they completed their studies and returned to their homes to put into practice the farming methods learned while at the university.

The long weekend began with the traditional Thursday evening "Class Night," when gold keys were presented to the champion basketball team. The class memorial funds for a new piano, was presented to J. Frank Wilkenson, director of the Short Course.

Friday night the men and their dates danced to the music of Jerry Billington's orchestra and watched Barbara Hawks crowned queen of Short Course prom by King Bill Helm. They were entertained by the singing of the Short Course Barber-shop quartet.

Wakelin "Ranger Mac" McNeel gave the graduating address on Saturday as 107 members of the 65th graduating class were presented their certificates by President Fred.

Although these fellows have been on the campus for only 15 weeks, they have found time to publish a newspaper called "The Short Course" and put out a small sized edition of the Wisconsin Yearbook called "The Little Badger."

The men of the university livestock judging team know what to do when it's time to write six weeks exams. You take a trip to Oklahoma and don't come back until exams are over.

Ten animal husbandry students left March 5 to participate in the Oklahoma City livestock judging contest. Men making the trip were: Don Kropf, LeRoy Hansen, John Jones, Harold Vale, Art Brehm, George Olson, Jim Everts, Bob Blake, Norm Folts, Phil Craker, and Coach Ed Houser.

After returning to Madison yesterday, Hansen was heard to remark, "I guess I'll stay home tonight and study."

Seventeen men were approved for membership in Alpha Zeta, honorary Ag fraternity, at the last meeting of Babcock chapter. Membership in the fraternity is based on character, leadership, and scholarship. The initiation banquet will be held March 28, with Wakelin McNeel as main speaker. Carl Scholz is chairman of the event.

"Farming Methods, Values and Character" was the subject of a talk by Wilbur Renk at the Saddle and Siroloin meeting last Wednesday night. He stressed the importance of a good wife for a successful life. He also stated that a life without problems would be without challenge. The club was shown slides taken at the Little International Show by Ted Ellison. President Bill Norton announced that the election of next year's chairman of Little International will be held at the next meeting.

Alice Pounder was awarded the prize for the best costume at the Blue Shield club's Hard Time party last week. Alice was dressed as "Daisy Mae" and wore a fingertip skirt and a pair of long red flannels. She was presented with a box of laundry soap. Prizes were also awarded to Burt Olson, Polly Schemmer and Carol Feathers.

Two one-act plays will be presented at the Blue Shield club meeting March 21. "Raisin' the Devil," a comedy directed by Lois Linse, and a murder mystery, "Trifles," directed by Julius Landau, will be given by the Country Life Players. The meeting will be held in Bascom theater and is open to the public.

The Babcock Bulls volley ball team kept their undefeated record intact as they played their way to a victory over the Babcock Bears last Monday night.

Something new in sports for Ag campus this year is the "Ag Campus Supremacy Cup" which will be awarded to the house with the best athletic record. The contest is sponsored by Babcock House, Delta Theta Sigma, and Alpha Gamma Rho. Last Saturday Babcock House defeated Delta Theta Sigma in a hotly contested basketball game. Touch football, basketball, volleyball, softball, and bowling will be considered, with a point system set up to determine the winner.

Ralph Schwartz admitted today that his animal husbandry experiment has not turned out too well. Ralph tried crossing his sheep with bears, hoping the sheep would hibernate all winter and he wouldn't need to feed them. "The sheep had enough wool to cover the sheep end," said Ralph, "but not enough to cover the bear end."

New members of Ag student council are Rudolph Scharschmidt and Don Kuesel from Food Technology club; Ed Malcheski and Carl Scholz, FFA; Don Brick, Babcock Dairy Science club; Bob Miller, Alpha Zeta; Ray Craig, County Mag, and "Baldy" Groves, Alpha Gamma Rho.

Wisconsin is a very ancient land, some 15,000,000 years old. Many thousands of years ago a great ice sheet moved back and forth over this land five different times. When the sheet finally receded northward for the last time it had leveled hills, filled in valleys, and ground and mixed the soils. What once were

Stay of Execution for McGee Granted as Wife Talks Here

By JERRY SCHECTER

Less than five hours yesterday after she told a group of 40 people here that she would not stop fighting to free her husband, sentenced to die for raping a white woman, Mrs. Willie McGee learned that the United States Supreme Court had granted him a stay of execution.

Kate Weiskopf, chairman of the Young Progressives, a campus political organization which sponsored the luncheon to raise funds in McGee's behalf, broke the news to Mrs. McGee after hearing it on a radio program at about 6 p. m. McGee, a Mississippi Negro was scheduled to be electrocuted on March 20.

The stay of execution was issued by Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black.

On Tuesday, the United States court of appeals in Jacksonville, Fla., refused to review the conviction, which had already been considered three times by the supreme court of Mississippi and twice by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi refused to grant a hearing for clemency. McGee's attorneys brought the appeal on grounds that McGee was convicted on perjured testimony, and that only Negroes are sentenced to death for rape in Mississippi.

The stay of execution will be effective until the court decides whether it will review the case. The court has previously refused to review the case.

Here is Miss Weiskopf's account of hearing the news. "I left Mrs. McGee at the Park hotel with two ladies from Milwaukee and went home. Then I heard the news. I jumped into a cab and rushed back to the hotel," she related.

"I suppose I ran into the dining room. I didn't want to shock Mrs. McGee. I whispered into her ear and asked her if she had heard the news," Miss Weiskopf said.

She said that Mrs. McGee asked "What news?"

"I said there had been a stay of execution granted," Miss Weiskopf said.

Miss Weiskopf said "Mrs. McGee just dropped her head into her hands. Then she seemed to get control of herself and smiled rather wanly."

"We didn't say very much. We just sat very quietly. Mrs. McGee seemed upset and said she couldn't eat anything else," Miss Weiskopf continued.

Miss Weiskopf said that Mrs. McGee then asked for the name of the hotel and "checked again to see that my name was Kate." She said Mrs.

McGee wanted to "remember where it was she heard the news."

Mrs. McGee was scheduled to speak in Milwaukee last night. Her luncheon date in Madison, at the Workman's circle, 41 N. Mills st., was part of a nation-wide tour she is making to recruit aid for her husband.

McGee's case has been fought by the Civil Rights Congress, listed as Communist on the attorney general's list. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has said that there is "reasonable doubt as to McGee's guilt."

Asked what she thought of the decision Miss Weiskopf said, "I think it's a wonderful thing. I feel it happened because people reacted to the situation and did something about it. It was almost a bit unreal, hearing the news of his stay of execution and Mrs. McGee tell of the case in the same afternoon."

with less than a minute remaining to nip Wauwatosa, 49-48.

Harry Scholfield scored the winning tally with 10 seconds to go in the thriller, after Wauwatosa appeared to have had the game on ice.

Alan Tetzloff, Tosa center, took scoring honors for the contest when he dumped in seven buckets and four free throws for 18 points. But Marvin Hillman, Menomonie pivot man, was not too far behind with 17 points on seven baskets and three free throws.

Testing each other in a slow first quarter, neither team showed much of an offense. Wauwatosa led at the end of the quarter, 13-10, but a second period rally by the Menomonie Indians gave them a 27-24 halftime lead.

Tosa spurted to a 33-28 margin early in the third quarter, before the Indians scored on a free throw by Bill Kerns. In a close freely scoring period, the two squads played nip and tuck and ended the quarter in a 39-39 deadlock.

Guard Walter Jensen opened the final stanza by sinking a free throw for the Red Raiders. After a point-less three minutes of play, John Spicuzza finally scored on a rebound shot for the Tosa quintet.

With 90 seconds left in the game, Tosa had crept to a 48-44 lead and then decided to put on a stall which Menasha jumped to an early 16-12 lead before fading under the Red Raider's fast break. With O'Keefe, Bluejay forward, scoring on five consecutive shots, Menasha went ahead and led at the end of the first quarter, 20-19.

The Rapids started to roll in the second quarter and rushed to a 36-23 splurge before the Bluejays could penetrate the winner's tight defense. The Red Raiders continued their fast breaking offense and climbed to a 43-29 margin at half time.

Unable to cope with the Rapids's tremendous speed and tight defense, the Menasha Bluejays' only successful shots were from far out. Meanwhile, Gurtler's scoring barrage continued and the Red Raider's from the Rapids enjoyed their first tournament contest, settling with an easy victory over Menasha.

In the night cap, little Menomonie roared back from a 48-45 deficit

Costello Still Silent At Crime Hearings

WASHINGTON (U.P.)— Gambler Frank Costello refused to testify Thursday in Senate crime hearings and nearly drew a contempt citation from committee chairman Estes Kefauver. In two days of testimony before the committee, Costello's answers had opened the way for possible deportation and the filing of perjury charges. Thursday Costello produced a medical certificate say-would eat up precious scoring minutes. But the Indians cashed in on a gift by Harry Scholfield, and a few seconds later on a field goal by Marvin Hillman, to climb within one point of the Red Raiders.

The payoff came when Scholfield grabbed a loose ball and heaved a long shot that swished the nets for the winning points.

To Let Draftees Select Own Service Branch

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — A final amendment allowing draftees to choose segregated units of the armed forces was appended to the House armed services committee's draft bill before it was sent to the full House Thursday.

The bill, which would set the draft age at 18 and a half, also puts no limit on the size of the armed forces. The Senate bill sets the age at 18 and places a ceiling of four million servicemen.

In other action on Capitol Hill, the Senate had the first round of its debate on the troops for Europe issue because foreign relations committee chairman Tom Connally was unable to make the opening speech Thursday.

The House banking committee approved the 90-day stop-gap extension of the present rent control law. The measure, already approved by the Senate, now goes to the floor of the House.

More than 2,200 persons mobilized by the "American peace crusade" began a lobbying campaign in Washington Thursday. The organization has been branded a Communist front. They ask an end to the Korean war, discontinuation of discrimination, and opposition to compulsory military training. A rally was slated for last night with singer Paul Robeson as one of the speakers.
