INTRODUCTION.

OFFICE HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY,)
182 S. Clark St., Chicago, Aug. 30, 1887. }

According to our custom, for many years past, we hereby present the regular quadrennial edition of HOLLAND'S FOND DU LAC CITY DIRECTORY AND BUSINESS REVIEW to the citizens, fully believing that, from our long practical experience and unusual care exercised, this, our fifth book in the series, will prove itself to be the best we have ever issued, and for these and other cogent reasons which will readily present themselves to memory, the most acceptable. Directory making, like all other businesses cannot be learned in a day, and in order to give the public a work that will direct, its authors must not only be reputable and trustworthy, but experienced, vigilant and painstaking, and at least of average intelligence. We are led to make these remarks from our own and the citizens' past experience, and feel gratified at the fact that, the people of this community, as well as those in many others, have given us such cordial support and encouragement in our arduous undertakings. In this edition will be found, many valuable features not given in any other similar work, including an entirely new map of the city, and edifying notices on the city, its societies, organizations, business men and manufacturers, thus showing almost at a glance, the varied and important interests of Fond du Lac. As usual, we have, at considerable expense, taken a correct census, not by guess or estimate, as is so often done, and is as often misleading, but by actual count from house to house, and find by definite enumeration a population of 12,825. While these figures indicate no boom or mushroom growth, yet, they show a steady, normal, and satisfactory increase since the last census, and prove that the city is in a gratifyingly prosperous condition and on a sure foundation, a fact, which must be pleasing to, as it reflects credit on, those of our public spirited and enterprising citizens who have, during the past few years, done so much for the advancement of the city's general and material interests. The names, as spelled in the directory, are printed exactly as given to our agents by their owners, however puzzling they may appear to others, and may be relied upon, as being as nearly perfect as it is possible to get them, while if all the questions asked have been properly answered, as we have reason to believe they have, the name of every male resident of legal age in the city will be found therein. To this end, nothing our long experience has taught us, has been left undone, in order to make this work as complete as is possible, and, under this impression we present it to the public to determine its own merits, and for their approval. Thanking all our friends and patrons for their unbounded confidence reposed in us for so many years past, and for their generous patronage, and assuring them of our solicitude to improve our future works, in every respect that time and observation may suggest, we bid them adieu until our next issue and remain,

T H E
CITY OF FOND DU LAC, WIS.
A GREAT
MANUFACTURING AND BUSINESS CENTER.

POPULATION, 12,825.

1887.

As our country has, during the past two decades, immensely increased in manufactures, trade, commerce, general improvements and population, but more especially in the west, so have our older eastern manufacturers found it necessary, in order to compete with the advantages possessed by the west, to establish auxiliary or transfer their original establishments nearer to the points of the consumption of their goods, and where the raw material may most readily be obtained. The result of this has been, that many cities in the west, which, but comparatively few years ago were mere villages, have sprung into prominence because of this, and the natural and acquired advantages they offer to persons seeking the best facilities for success—which includes shipping facilities, abundance of, and nearness to, raw materials, as well as to points whence emanate the demand for manufactured products, scholastic and religious advantages, good society, healthfulness, purity and abundance of water, attractive landscapes, and the productiveness of the soil. In regard to the foregoing, we know of but few States, counties and cities which offer equal advantages to those of Wisconsin and Fond du Lac, and for the guidance of the thousands who will peruse this work, and especially the large per cent. of the same who may be looking for the facilities here offered, we will point out, briefly, some of the many inducements offered to newcomers, and those people who are seeking just such a location.

THE STATE OF WISCONSIN

was admitted into the Federal Union on the 29th of May, 1848, it being the seventeenth received since the formation of the Federation—making thirty states up to that date. At that time it had a population of 215,000, and undeveloped wealth far exceeding many of the older states, and which has since surpassed the most sanguine anticipations of the most zealous enthusiast. To-day, thirty-nine years after its admission, the state has sixty-seven counties, eighty cities, thirty-two villages, an area of 34,559,246 acres, and a population of over 1,600,000. This vast expanse of territory is very diversified and valuable, immense forests of hard-wood and pine lands, and minerals of different kinds being among the riches of her possessions. There are over 3,000 square miles of clear water lakes in the state, while her farming lands are among the most prolific in the country, and capable of producing a very great variety of agricultural products. In manufactures, and every other development, the state has made wonderful and enviable strides in the path of prosperity, which may be more fully understood by the fact, that in 1885 she had 136,108 farms, which, with their products, were valued at $568,187,288, while her manufacturing establishments, and their products, were valued at $193,700,167—making the enormous total wealth of $761,887,455. Among the counties,

THE COUNTY OF FOND DU LAC

is one of the largest, best cultivated, most prolific and valuable in the state, and enjoys a prosperity to which many counties in some of the oldest portions of the country are strangers. While nature has done a large share toward this condition, yet her thrifty owners and tillers of the soil are entitled to considerable credit for the enterprising and liberal part they have taken. The county contains 419,367 acres, largely under a very high state of tillage—49,418 of which, however, are wood land. It contains nearly 50,000 people, and has 4,131 farms, whose value, with their agricultural products, amounts to $24,000,000, while the manufacturing establishments, and their products, foot $4,000,000. More wheat is grown, with two exceptions, than in any other county in the state, while enormous quantities of corn, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, flax-seed, peas, beans, maple sugar, honey, sorghum, potatoes and other roots of many kinds, and wool are produced; also, butter and cheese, there being nearly 60,000 cattle on hand, valued at $1,000,000, and about one hundred cheese factories whose product measures nearly 4,000,000 pounds per annum, while the butter foots 1,500,000 pounds every year. Besides the above, large numbers of horses, sheep and hogs are raised, all of which find a ready market, and bring good prices to the farmers of the county, who rank among the most thrifty and wealthy of any of their competitors in the Union. Throughout the county are numerous school houses, churches, and other evidences of civilization, refinement and prosperity, and the great central market is

THE CITY OF FOND DU LAC.

The city is situated at the south end of Lake Winnebago, the literal signification of the name being the “bottom,” or “furthest extremity” of the lake, being in latitude 43 deg. 47 min. N., longitude 11 deg. 28 min. W. from Washington, D. C., 63 miles northwest from Milwaukee, the largest city in Wisconsin, and 148 miles northwest from the great western metropolis, Chicago. Its name is supposed to have been given to it in 1787, by a Mr. Franks, a trader, of Green Bay, who established a trading post at the forks of the Fond du Lac river in the year named. But the first permanent white settlers of whom we have knowledge, were Colwert and Edward Pier, the former coming to this now favored city in June, 1836, and the latter in March, 1837. These, with their families, were soon followed by others, but it was not until quite a number of years had elapsed that there were any very great accessions made to this young community. Many were the privations these sturdy pioneers endured in order that they might contribute to the bringing of this lovely and prosperous city from its pristine condition to its present state of cultivation and prosperity. From time to time additions were made to the locality until, in 1847, some 400 inhabitants had gathered here, and on the first day of March, that year, a vote was taken which resulted in favor of village incorporation. The place grew, from this date, in a remarkable degree, each year adding some new industry, and the year 1852 found the village in a thriving condition, with a population of 3,000 souls. In April, this year, the city of Fond du Lac was chartered, and from that time to the present has continued to satisfactorily prosper. The city is very finely laid out, her streets being wide and running at right angles with each other. In 1887, half a century after the first permanent settlement was made, we find Fond du Lac with a population of 12,825, with schools, churches, seminaries, stores, manufacturing establishments, gas works, electric lights, water works, complete system of sewerage, streets and pavements, saw mills, sash, door and blind factories, tanneries, wagon and carriage works, machine shops, flouring mills, agricultural implement works, drug mills, planing mills, file works, plow and cultivator works, breweries and furniture factories, seeder works, and numerous other advantages of which her citizens are duly proud, and many of which less enterprising cities lack. While the city produces and ships immense quantities of manufactures and secures large consignments of raw material, yet she does this at comparatively small cost, and this comes of the superior facilities at her command, in the many and important railroads that diverge from this point in all directions, as well as by water-way shipments. Notwithstanding the fact that the city has contributed liberally to various improvements, railroad building, etc., yet her indebtedness is but trifling, which goes to show that her affairs have been managed by economical men, and those having the best interests of the city at heart. We might continue to dilate on the many other advantages possessed by the beautiful and inviting city of Fond du Lac, but will content ourselves by saying that the nucleus of a large and prosperous city has already been made, and those who may locate here, hereafter, will share the benefit of others' wisdom, money and energy, and reap a rich reward for any investment they may make, especially in the manufacturing line, as her citizens and influential men are ever ready to help forward to prominence every such institution. Here are many sites for the location of manufacturing industries, and, with a proper understanding of the business engaged in, the fine location of the city, and the shipping facilities for raw and manufactured material, both by rail and water, very large results might reasonably be expected. The business community is alert, pushing, active, and enterprising, and whatever steps are taken to advance the material interests of the place are done with a view to permanence and stability. There is no desire to establish a boom in any line of business which shall at all partake of a greed and rapacity that seeks to secure capital only to deceive and despoil it of its profits. They aim to present the real advantages of the place, and, when these are fully tested, they feel assured that the business interests of the community have been solidly and permanently benefitted. Permanent settlers and permanent capital are the prevailing notions. While the resources of the State and advantages of the city may be described in roseate colors, they know that trial and time will justify them all, and so far all expectations have been fully met, and this, too, at a period when the city may be said to have just entered anew upon the threshold of prosperity and wealth. A city is naturally dependent to a greater or less degree upon the resources of its surrounding country, and, in view of the universal testimony pertaining thereto, can any one doubt that this place is not providentially favored as the center of such unrivalled resources? If other proofs are wanting, one has only to look at the splendid business houses that line the streets, the handsome residences of its inhabitants that attest their wealth, culture, and advancement, and at the large and flourishing manufactories that convert the products of the land into valuable articles of commerce and give employment to hundreds of industrious and thrifty men. In closing our remarks on one of the most naturally favored cities in the west, both for healthfulness, wealth, railroad, educational, scholastic, religious and pleasure advantages, as well as for excellent opportunities offered for new manufacturing industries, we would earnestly suggest to our readers the wisdom of looking over the inducements Fond du Lac offers before definitely locating elsewhere, whether the object be for manufacturing, residence or business purposes.

THE TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES

of any city are of primary importance to its growth and prosperity and those provided for and by Fond du Lac are unsurpassed by any other place of equal size in the west. Besides the water route of Lake Winnebago, via. the Fox River, Green Bay and the great lakes, the railroads centering and passing through the city impart advantages that cannot well be over estimated. Shipments of raw material and manufactured goods may be made to and from this city of a highly satisfactory character and to almost any point of the compass.

The “Wisconsin Central Line” is one of the great and important railroads possessed by Fond du Lac, and one of which every citizen, but especially manufacturer and shipper, is justly proud. It has been of more real benefit and advantage to the interests of the city than almost any one enterprise, because of the excellent country it traverses and the liberality exhibited by its management. Some cities are dependent on one railroad, but not so with Fond du Lac to-day, although for years, and up to a comparatively recent period, this was the case. The Wisconsin Central Line is nearly one thousand miles in extent and traverses a finely diversified country which is being constantly developed, and this development is being enterprisingly encouraged by the officers of the road. It extends from Chicago to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota, to Ashland, Wisconsin, and to Hurley, Ironwood and Bessemer, Michigan, passing through one of the finest agricultural, timber, summer resort and mineral regions in the country. The whole equipment of the road, in rolling stock, etc., is most excellent, while fares and freight charges are such as to attract a constantly growing patronage, the officers believing in the mutuality of interests that exist between themselves and patrons, hence, the deserved popularity of the Wisconsin Central Line.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. is another great and important iron highway, whose advantages the city enjoys and appreciates, and this, because of its extent, and its wise and liberal management, as, like its competitor, the Wisconsin Central, it extends every facility to patrons, without the patrons feeling that they were “receiving a favor” when they are paying for what they receive.

The C. & N-W. Ry. is the other road, with its various branches, which gives shipping advantages to the city, and it is expected that in the near future this road will make Fond du Lac one of its divisional points.

The Wisconsin Midland Railroad Co. has recently been incorporated, and surveys are being made as rapidly as circumstances will admit, and it is confidently expected that before another year elapses it will be opened, and passing through one of the finest, but as yet, to a large extent, undeveloped section of the west. It will traverse the east shore of Lake Winnebago, and will give an outlet to numerous manufactures, and open up a large territory from which may be secured raw material. The present intention is to build the main line northward to the Menominee iron range, and Upper Peninsula of Michigan, with a branch to Sturgeon Bay and the Wisconsin Peninsular, the whole, according to the programme announced, to be several hundred miles in length, making it one of the most important and valuable railroad projects ever devised for the material interests of Fond du Lac.

The Fond du Lac Street Railway is not yet completed, but we understand steps are being taken to that end, and that in the near future the city will be supplied with the advantages of a street railway, which shall be equal in facilities offered her citizens and strangers, to that of any other in the state.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF THE CITY.

A list of the advantages of Fond du Lac must contain its public schools, which are justly the pride of her citizens. It has come to be admitted that one of the fundamental requisites of a prosperous city is a well graded and generously supported free school, including all departments, primary, grammar and high school, and that when a community cuts off or weakens its school facilities, it withdraws from the ranks of thriving, progressive cities, and enters its decline. It is to the credit of Fond du Lac, that, through good fortune and ill fortune, the public schools have been constantly upheld. That they rank with the first schools of the state is clearly shown by the character of the work done, and by the fact that, through arrangements made within the past year, the graduates of the high school are henceforth to be admitted to the State University on presentation of their diplomas. The Board of Education is composed of nine members, one from each city ward, and the president of the common council, who is, ex-officio, president of the board. The present members of the board are: Messrs. H. G. DeSombre, president; F. M. Givens, H. P. Brown, J. E. Sullivan, L. Muentner, E. L. Maloney, C. Lucia, P. O'Connell, and H. P. Kuicks, Mr. E. Delany, jr., being secretary or clerk. There are, in the city, somewhat over 5,200 children of school age—over four and under twenty years. Of these, just about one-half have attended the public schools within the year, and been taught by the forty-six teachers employed. There are, in the city, nineteen public school buildings and seventeen sites, the whole being valued at the sum of $120,700. The offices of principal of the high school and superintendent of the city schools are united in one person—Mr. I. N. Mitchell being the present efficient incumbent. Miss Elsie M. Dwyer, Miss Jessie Wilcox and Miss Emma Everdell are the assistants in the high school.

PRIVATE AND SELECT SCHOOLS.

In addition to the above, the public schools are re-enforced by quite a number of finely managed and exemplarily conducted private and select schools, which give to Fond du Lac the best educational advantages of any city of which we have knowledge, size considered. These include the GERMAN-ENGLISH ACADEMY, founded many years ago, and one of the foremost schools of its kind in the country; the ST. MONICA SCHOOL for young ladies only, in charge of the sisterhood of St. Monica, connected with St. Paul's Cathedral; the GERMAN LUTHERAN, the ST. MARY'S, the CONVENT OF ST. AGNES, the CONVENT OF ST. JOSEPH, the MARR STREET ACADEMY, the FOND DU LAC COMMERCIAL COLLEGE AND ENGLISH ACADEMY, and several others, thus presenting scholastic facilities to the youth of this vicinity of a high order and great diversity.

THE FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

This association was organized under the general statutes of the State, in the year 1876, and is supported by an annual tax by the city, and is a free library and reading room for the citizens of Fond du Lac. From its first organization it has been successfully maintained, and has become one of the most important institutions of the city, and has upon its shelves one of the best arranged and assorted libraries in the whole country. Its volumes now number nearly 8,000, and its list of reference books is probably unequalled by any except that in the State library. The reading room is furnished with a large list of the daily, semi-weekly and weekly papers, monthly magazines and reviews, and the rooms are kept open from 9 until 12 in the forenoon, from 2 until 5 in the afternoon, and from 7 until 9 in the evening. The rooms are under the supervision of Miss Emma A. Rose, as librarian, who has been with the association for a number of years, and is ranked as one of the best librarians in the country. The present officers of the association are as follows: Hon. N. C. Giffin, president; A. M. Blair, vice-president; J. W. Hiner, secretary; J. W. Hiner, R. Katz, A. J. Decker, N. C. Giffin, Geo. P. Knowles, Frank B. Hoskins, A. M. Blair, O. C. Steenberg and J. B. Perry, board of directors. By reason of its large number of books, the association is entitled, under the state law, to become a depository for all of the state documents, including the Supreme Court Reports and the Digest, and is also a depository, in the second Congressional district, for all of the United States public documents, and, in this respect, becomes a source of very great information upon all topics. The patronage that this library has, is very large in proportion to the population of the place, and probably no institution, except that of the public schools and the religious denominations, has done more to elevate and improve the classes of people, than the advantages offered through this library. No one can appreciate its advantages without visiting the extensive rooms, 438 and 438½ Main street, opposite the Palmer House, and looking at the extensive catalogue of books in its possession.

COUNTY BUILDINGS, OFFICERS AND COURTS.

Fond du Lac being the seat of justice of the county bearing its name, as a matter of course the official buildings are located therein. These consist of court house, jail, sheriff's residence, and the insane asylum, and poor house and farm—the latter two buildings being located just outside the southern city limits. The county being one of the very richest of any in the state, has ample means to provide suitable conveniences in this direction, while its public officers, are gentlemen of sound judgment and enterprise, who believe in having the best of everything, and who know full well that the best is the cheapest in the end. In view of this, it gives us pleasure to give a brief notice of the buildings and their conveniences provided for the use of the county, its officers and unfortunates.

The Court House is located on Main street, opposite Fourth, and is one of the most substantial, imposing, convenient and architecturally beautiful edifices in the country. * Its corner stone was laid May 10th, 1882, and the structure completed and occupied in the fall of 1883. It has a stone foundation, the upper portion being built of a beautiful red pressed brick, these two articles, and iron, being about the only material that enters into its construction, making it as nearly fire-proof as is possible. The offices are magnificently finished and comfortably furnished, each having a fire-proof vault, the records, therefore, being entirely secure from destruction by fire. The court room, in the upper portion of the building, is one of the handsomest and most spacious in the country, in fact everything about the entire temple of justice is an ornament and credit to the county and those officers who had its erection in charge, especially since the whole cost, including the filling and beautifying of the two acres of ground, in the center of which it stands, cost but $83,552.14.

The Jail, located at 6 and 8 Linden street, immediately south of the court house, was erected in 1869, at a cost of $40,000, and is one of the most solid and imposing edifices of the kind in the country. It contains some forty cells, in the rear, the front being occupied by the sheriff as an office and residence. Judging from the past, this building will be large enough for many years to come, as the citizens, being well-to-do and standing high in their moral stature, there are never many occupying this penal abode at one time. The institution is kept in a remarkably cleanly condition, and many eulogies have been conferred on sheriff William E. Warren for this, and for the efficiency with which he discharges his official duties.

The County Insane Asylum is located a quarter of a mile south of city limits, on Military street, and is one of the grandest and most conveniently arranged institutions of the kind in the Union. It has a frontage of 184 feet, is two stories high, with basement, the structure being built of Brocker Brothers' Fond du Lac brick, with limestone trimmings. The whole cost, including the thirteen acres of ground, the furniture, and steam heating apparatus, and fountain 416 feet deep, which yields an ample supply of excellent water, for which this vicinity is far-famed, was $43,000. The asylum has a capacity for one hundred, sixty-five being the present number of patients, a number of whom were received from other counties, for which the authorities receive pay, thus materially reducing the cost of its maintenance to the county. John Bell, a thirty years' resident of the county, and an experienced member of the board of supervisors, is superintendent, and under his charge, since opening January 11th, 1887, the institution has gained great favor among the people in interest.

The Poor Farm is located opposite the asylum, and contains 173 acres, and is largely self-sustaining. This is owing to the richness of the soil, its able management, and the further fact that Fond du Lac county has comparatively few citizens who are a public charge. Richard Ring, an old and time-tried settler of the county, is superintendent. With these institutions, and others not named, the county is one of the most prosperous in the country, and yet, notwithstanding its many advantages, is entirely free from debt. Its standing, at home and abroad, and its physical, moral and financial condition are such as to reflect a large meed of praise on its officers in the past, as well as those serving at the present time, who are: William E. Warren, sheriff, Thomas Cale, under sheriff, H. O. Shipman, deputy and jailer, Charles B. Bartlett, register of deeds, Frank A. Bartlett, deputy, Louis Muentner, treasurer, James W. Watson, clerk of the court, Thomas Watson, deputy, Mark Crain, clerk, J. H. McCrory, district attorney, Jacob Haessley, surveyor, Thomas E. Lyons, superintendent of schools, Frank F. Parsons, coroner, Christopher Serwe, purchasing agent, S. B. Stanchfield, chairman board of supervisors.

The Circuit Court of the fourth judicial circuit is composed of the counties of Sheboygan, Manitowoc, Kewaunee, and Fond du Lac. Regular terms are held in the latter's court house, the Tuesday after the first Monday in March, and the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, the special terms being held Tuesday after the first Monday in February, and Tuesday after first Monday in July, Hon. N. S. Gilson, who has filled the position since January, 1881, judge.

The County Court in Probate, holds its regular terms first Tuesday in each month, except in July and August. Special terms every Tuesday (except the first) in each month, except July and August, there being no terms in either of these months. The civil jurisdiction terms are held on the second Mondays in January, May and September. Special terms, the second Monday in April and October. Court room in court house, Hon. George Perkins being the judge, a position he has held very acceptably since January, 1878.

OFFICERS OF THE CITY FROM 1880 TO 1887.

1887 records the the thirty-fifth year of the chartered existence of the city of Fond du Lac, also witnesses it with a population of 12,825 inhabitants, and a long list of prosperous manufacturing establishments and mercantile houses. It is one of the most fortunately situated cities in the State of Wisconsin, and possesses natural and acquired advantages second to no city in the state. All the advantages, in the way of location, shipping, and transportation facilities that go make up the possessions of any thriving community, together with commendable push, vim, enterprise, and intelligence in her citizens, are here enjoyed, and the prospect for her future increment in this direction, is very flattering. Superior schools, churches, fine, broad well paved and delightfully shaded streets, public and private buildings, free public library, water, electric light, and gas works, police station, fire engine houses, and fire extinguishing apparatus, hotels, two opera houses, a complete system of sewerage, street railway in contemplation, and numerous other educating, moral, refining, beneficial, amusing, and enjoyable influences are very diversified, and the opportunities presented to new comers are above a normal character. In addition, the city is more highly favored with an abundance of pure water, whose purity and medicinal qualities are universally known, if not as extensively appreciated, than any other city in the country that we know of. There are over one thousand flowing fountains in this vicinity, besides the splendid water works, from which fact the city has derived its well-known, popular and very appropriate name, "Fountain City." The officers, who have supervised its destiny during the past seven years, a period in which many internal improvements have been made, entailing much labor, and requiring great executive ability, are given below, together with the names of the chief magistrates, from the incorporation of the city, in 1852, in the order in which they annually served. The names of all other city officers having been given in our 1880 directory.

The Police Force of Fond du Lac consists of one marshal and four regular patrolmen, who, under the leadership of their able chief, who is serving his tenth year in that capacity, are discharging the duties of their onerous positions with great acceptance to the public. Their names are: G. A. Kretlow, chief, with Joseph Commo, Michael Dougherty, Bernard McDermott-Roe and Chas. Foelsch as patrolmen. The peaceful interests of the city are reposed in the hands of the above-named individuals, and we shall be borne out by the citizens when we say that they discharge their oft-times unpleasant duties very faithfully, and have earned high esteem and confidence from the people whose interests they so zealously guard. The headquarters, chief of police' office and city prison, are located at 30 W. First street.

THE FOND DU LAC WATER WORKS.

Of late years, many cities of the west, have been agitated over the supply of water, for cullinary and other purposes, and this is especially true of cities the size and importance of Fond du Lac. Many of these cities have secured water works, some of which are owned and operated by the city authorities, and others by private parties or corporations. In some cases the works have proven satisfactory, and in quite a number unsatisfactory, both in their exorbitant cost, meagre supply, and inferior quality of water, this, however, cannot be said of those enjoyed by the citizens of Fond du Lac, for they have water works of superior construction, at a minium cost, and an abundant supply of water for a city many times her size, whose quality is acknowledged by friend and foe to be all that could be desired, and to far excel that found in the majority of cities in the country. It is soft and pleasant to the taste, containing valuable medicinal properties, and to this fact, as well as the salubriousness of the climate, is attributed, and no doubt correctly, the healthfulness of the citizens, and the very low death rate of the city. While this city had as little real need of water works, as could be imagined from the fact that some one thousand flowing fountains were distributed throughout the corporate limits, yet with their characteristic enterprise, the officials and their constituents, determined sometime ago, on a system of water works. After casting about for some time they decided on the character of the works demanded and needed, and on the 29th of May, 1885, a franchise was granted to the Fond du Lac Water Company, under the administration of Mayor John Hughes, and the company at once proceeded to put in the plant. The company agreed, in consideration of their franchise, to put in twelve miles of mains, one hundred and forty hydrants, for fire protection, to supply water for city offices and public schools, flushing sewers, and one public drinking fountain for each of the eight wards, for a period of 30 years, at a cost to the city of $9,000. per annum. The works were completed on the 18th December, 1885, and have been in working order ever since, and to-day are pronounced by all unprejudiced persons, to rank with the best constructed, and most efficient in service in the country. Since completion, additions and improvements have been constantly added, until the present time finds them with 15 miles of mains, 150 hydrants, and 500 private consumers, who wonder how they ever managed to exist previous to having the purest of water, with the insignificant effort of "a turn of the faucet." The pumping station and works are located at 10 W. Rees street, the building being a substantial and neat brick structure, and contains two powerful pumps, known as "Gaskell's horizontal compound pumping engines," and made by the famous Holly Manufacturing Co., of Lockport, N. Y. They have a capacity, every twenty-four hours, of three million gallons each, a sufficiency for many years to come. The supply is obtained from a number of artesian wells, averaging a depth of 600 feet, and whose combined flow measures one million gallons daily, which is forced directly into the mains by the massive pumps. Besides this, they have a large storage reservoir for fire protection. It is in the rear of the station, and is 223 feet long, 113 feet wide, and 11 feet deep, and has a capacity of two and a half million gallons, affording ample water for all necessary purposes, and in case of almost any supposable emergency. This brief notice will give the reader an intelligent idea of these works, the character of the every-day used water therefrom, and will also prove the enterprise of the people of the city in encouraging their establishment. The officers of the company are Thomas T. Flagler, president, Chas. H. Benton, vice-president, Horace H. Flagler, treasurer, Wm. Reinecke, secretary, with F. A. Tenbrook, superintendent in charge. The latter gentleman is a practical plumber, and has had quite a number of years' experience with water works, and has been connected with the Fond du Lac Water Works from their incipiency. Under his care, they are in admirable condition, and give unusual satisfaction to all concerned, while he, himself, is highly esteemed for his urbanity to all with whom he has business or social dealings.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Fond du Lac's fire department consists of seven regularly paid men, including the marshal, and thirteen "call men," every one of whom is an experienced and well-trained fireman, and who appears to take an active and hearty interest in his calling. With an ample supply of apparatus, with which the city authorities have wisely provided the department, excellent water works, and abundance of water, one hundred and fifty hydrants, located in appropriate places throughout the city, Fond du Lac is one of the best protected cities in the west from the ravages of the fire fiend. The department is supplied with nearly 7,000 feet of hose, eight horses, one hook and ladder truck, two Babcock chemical fire extinguishers, three hose carts, three steamers, for emergencies, three substantial brick engine houses, connected by a fire alarm system and telephone, altogether making a very complete outfit, unless, indeed, it be in the rather small number of regularly paid men who are constantly on duty. Chas. O. Cleveland, who has been chief fire marshal since May, 1886, has been connected with the department for sixteen years and taken every step therein up to his present position, and is doing excellent work, ably seconded by Peter Joseph Wickert and Geo. W. Crosby, first and second assistants respectively, and each individual in his command, the result being a well-organized and disciplined fire brigade. The companies are as follows: No. 1, located 25 E. Second st., Geo. W. Crosby, captain, Charles Willett, driver, No. 3, located cor. Arndt and Packer sts., Peter Joseph Wickert, captain, Benjamin A. Chamberlin, driver, No. 5, located 237 and 239 Main st., where are also the headquarters of the department, Chas. O. Cleveland, chief fire marshal, Peter Kramer and James Russell, drivers.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

Fond du Lac had the honor, we believe, of being the second city in the west lighted by means of electricity, a contract having been entered into by the city authorities with parties to supply this now almost universal and desirable illuminant in the fall of 1882, for a period of five years, which plant was accepted in April, 1883, the term to begin from the latter date. The system at that time being comparatively in its infancy, it was conducted, with varying success, by the original parties to the contract until February 1st the following year, when L. O. Hill & Co., the well-known electricians of Aurora, Ill., who placed in that city the first system of the kind ever adopted in the entire west, took possession of the plant, and assumed the obligations of the original agreement with the city for the unexpired term. Since then many improvements and extensions have been made by L. O. Hill & Co., until we find, at this writing, the city lighted in a splendid manner. There are in the city twenty-one lights, which are suspended on five towers made of tubular iron one hundred and fifty feet high, three of which carry three lights, and two four lights each, besides three masts, sixty-five feet high, carrying one light each, and one at the No. 5 engine house, 237 and 239 Main street. In addition there is a merchants' service, supplying some thirty lights, which, however, is to be materially increased in the immediate future. The headquarters are on E. Division street near Portland, where the company has a fine seventy-five horse-power engine and two fine dynamos, one for city and the other for merchants' service, to which the seven miles of wire covering the city are attached. Taken altogether, the city is well supplied in the matter of artificial light, whose steadiness, brilliancy and efficiency are up to a high standard, which is a characteristic trait of the Brush Electric Light system, as well as Hill & Co., at home and abroad. L. O. Hill is the electrician of the company, of which he is senior member, and is considered as great an authority on matters electrical as his company is reputable and responsible at their home, where each member has resided and done business from a quarter to half a century, respectively. Besides this plant L. O. Hill & Co. have others at Aurora, Ill., and Hurley, Wis., having at the latter place services for the merchants and iron mines, and an incandescent plant, which sheds its light throughout the Burton House, in that city.

THE POST OFFICE AND ITS AFFAIRS.

The post office of Fond du Lac was first established in February, 1837, just fifty years ago, and, lo! and behold, what changes and improvements have taken place since that date, and how many conveniences and benefits we, of to-day, enjoy, to what did our forefathers, including Colwert and Edward Pier, the practically first permanent white settlers of this city? Since establishment, in 1837, there have been eighteen postmasters, including the present incumbent, whose names are given in the order in which they served, and who are: Colwert Pier, John Bannister, Dr. M. C. Darling, Thomas Green, (not the architect), John A. Eastman, Samuel Ryan, C. M. Tompkins, Alexander Davis, Geo. W. Weikert, J. C. Lewis, J. M. Gillet, E. S. Bragg, R. M. Lewis, James Coleman, (the office being moved by the latter to its present location, November 1st., 1873), J. H. Hauser, Thomas W. Spence, Geo. E. Sutherland and S. M. Smead. The office is located at the corner of Forest and Macy streets, and is a beautiful, substantial and well-arranged brick building, its internal arrangement being especially commendable under the direction of postmaster Smead, and his able, efficient and systematic assistant, L. M. Wyatt. The office was placed, by the department, on the list for postal delivery, and the system inaugurated July 1st, 1887, since which time its service has become remarkably efficient, and satisfactory to all concerned. The city has recently been thoroughly and systematically re-numbered, the names of streets posted at each corner thereof, and, as soon as we issue this fifth edition of "HOLLAND'S" Fond du Lac Directory and Business Review, the citizens will possess all the advantages, in regard to mail matter, of the most advanced cities. Already there are thirty-four mail boxes, distributed through the city, mail matter being taken therefrom several times a day by the four efficient, energetic, and polite carriers, as well as three or four deliveries being made. To show the vast business done at this office, it is only necessary to say that after all the expenses of the office have been paid, many thousands of dollars are turned over to the government. Out of the total of 2,336 Presidential offices in the United States, we shall be borne out by the people having business with this office, when we say that not one is more systematically, efficiently, and admirably managed. S. M. Smead, a resident of this vicinity since 1848, is, and has been, postmaster since June 9th, 1885, and L. M. Wyatt, a resident since 1858, has been deputy postmaster since 1878, under whose combined management the office rightly ranks high with the postal department, at Washington, D. C., and with the people whom they serve. The lobby of the office is open from 7:30 A.M. to 8 P.M., and on Sunday, from 9 to 10:30 A.M., the general and box delivery being open from 8 A.M. to 7:30 P.M., and the stamp window, from 7:30 A.M. to 7:30 P.M.

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

E. A. Brown Post, No. 130, was mustered into the ranks of the G. A. R., Department of Wisconsin, January 1st, 1884. Since then, it has increased in numbers, until it now has a membership of one hundred and seventy-three, and is one of the most prosperous Posts in the state or west. Its hall is in the post office block, and is one of the most easily and appropriately fitted up of any similar hall in the country, reflecting much credit on its liberal and energetic members. Meetings are held on the first and third Friday evenings of each month, and we venture to say, without fear of successful contradiction, that they are characterized by a harmony not excelled by any other post in the state. Its treasury is in a healthy financial condition, while out of 350,000 members, composing the 6,000 posts of the United States, no one body of men were braver, or exhibited more patriotism during the dark days of the rebellion. Officers: Col. C. K. Pier, Com.; Capt. M. Mangan, S. V.; S. E. Wade, J. V.; George D. Stanton, Adjutant; S. D. Cole, Q. M.; F. R. Tiffany, O. D.; D. Dougherty, O. G.; Isaac L. Hunt, Chaplain.

Edwin A. Brown Relief Corps, auxiliary to Post 130, G. A. R., was organized April 27th, 1886, and has a large membership. It meets in G. A. R. hall, post office block, on the first and third Wednesday of each month “To aid and assist the G. A. R., and to perpetuate the memory of their heroic dead, and to assist Union Veterans in need of help, and to extend needful aid to the widows and orphans of those who have fallen, to cherish and emulate the deeds of our army nurses, and of all loyal women who rendered loving service to their country in her hour of peril,” are among the objects of the order. Officers: Mrs. Ruth R. Harvey, Pres., Mrs. Ella Adams, S. V., Mrs. Susie M. Dodge, J. V., Mrs. Emma C. Wade, Secy., Mrs. Mary K. Fox, Treas., Mrs. Josephine De Groat, Chaplain, Mrs. Lilly Killam, Conductor, Mrs. Alice Burrows, Asst. Con., Mrs. E. Comstock, Guard, Mrs. Eveline Delany, Asst. Guard.

Kelsey M. Adams Camp, No. 14, Sons of Veterans, was organized May 20, 1887, having twenty-five charter members, and meets in G. A. R. hall every Thursday, its objects being substantially identical with those of the Grand Army of the Republic. Officers: ~~G. A. Hildreth~~, Capt., John Plantt, 1st Lieut., Frank E. Fox, 2d Lieut., John Mangan, Chaplain, Chas. Tripp, 1st Sergt., E. P. Boyne, Q. M. S., Edwin Adams, S. G., De Witt Edgerton, C. G., Clinton Wheeler, C. S., Arthur De Land, P. M., E. S. Walker, C. G., Joseph Eiteneuer, P. G., Arthur De Land, ~~George De Groat~~ and John Mangan, Camp Council.

WISCONSIN STATE MILITIA.

Company "E," second regiment, W. N. G., was organized April 7, 1880, with the following officers: S. L. Brasted, captain, John Kenealy, 1st lieutenant, Chas. J. Hunter, 2d lieutenant, and F. A. Dawes, orderly sergeant. The company has at the present time 64 officers and men, and is one of the finest, best equipped and disciplined in the state's service. It has attended every regimental encampment held since organization, at each of which it has gained credit for excellence of drill and general soldierly appearance. The members are fully equipped with full dress and fatigue uniforms, Springfield safety-notch breech-loading rifles of 45 calibre, and the financial and general standing of the company is excellent, and no doubt would do valuable service if called on in an emergency. In fact, no other proof is necessary than to state that during the Milwaukee riots, in 1886, Gov. Rusk telegraphed orders for the company to hold itself in readiness, and in less than ninety minutes every man was in his place ready to march, in obedience to an authoritative command. On the demise of Colonel Brasted, its first captain, in February, 1886, the company entertained the ten visiting companies who came to Fond du Lac to attend his obsequies. The armory is located on the s. e. cor. of Division and Portland streets, and is one of the largest, most convenient and completely equipped institutions of its kind in any city of equal size. Present officers: Chas. J. Hunter, captain, Ed. T. Markle, 1st lieutenant, Louis H. Gillet, 2d lieutenant, Otto Abel, 1st sergeant, Samuel Longdin, 2d sergeant. A. A. Kelly is lieut. colonel of the second regiment, to which this company belongs.

THE MASONIC FRATERNITY.

The members of this most ancient of ancient orders in Fond du Lac number about four hundred, and it would be difficult to find a more harmonious and reliable body of men than they in any community of equal size, especially while human nature remains human nature. Their hall is located over the First National Bank, with entrance at 9 Forest street, and in size and appointments is commendable to the interest the members take in the order and their taste and liberality. There are two blue lodges, one chapter and one commandery in the city, as follows:

Fountain Lodge, No. 26, was instituted in September, 1849, and holds regular communications the first and third Thursdays of each month. Officers: H. C. Dittmar, W. M., Fred. Glasow, S. W., W. L. THE THREE LINKS—I. O. O. F.

Odd Fellowship was introduced into this country on the 26th of April, 1819, the first being Washington Lodge, No. 1, of Baltimore, Md., with Thomas Wildey as noble grand. To him, more than any other man, is due the honor of its introduction, and he has been generally accepted by the craft as the founder of the Order in the United States. He was born in London, England, in 1782, and had previously been a member of the order in England, having been initiated in Lodge No. 17, in his native city. A charter was issued to the lodge February 1, 1820, by the Duke of York Lodge, of Preston, England. In sixty-eight years the order, with one exception the oldest secret society formed for beneficial and fraternal purposes in this country, has spread with remarkable rapidity in every State and Territory in the Union, and includes as members a vast army, the State of Wisconsin and the city of Fond du Lac having their full average quota of active members in good standing, who carry out with much credit the objects of the order, which are: "to visit the sick, aid the distressed, bury the dead, and educate the orphan."

Fond du Lac Lodge, No. 30, was instituted in March, 1860, and holds regular meetings at Odd Fellows' Hall, over the post office, every Wednesday. Officers: Isaac Alexander, N. G., Warren Bessey, V. G., F. W. Dequine, R. Secy., J. V. Jewell, P. Secy., Jerome Gibson, Treas., W. Wilkie, R. F. Allen and F. W. Dequine, Trustees.

Goethe Lodge, No. 112, was instituted March 12, 1866, and holds regular meetings every Monday evening. Officers: Chas. A. Wilke, N. G., John H. Boeckmann, V. G., Christ. Keyser, Treas., Fred. Zimmerman, Rec. Secy., Frank Rossner, Fin. Secy., Wm. Curtiss, P. J. Ehlers and Wm. Schulz, Trustees.

Pillar Encampment, No. 15, was instituted September 21, 1866, and holds regular meetings the first and third Tuesdays of each month. Officers: A. D. Sommerville, C. P., R. F. Allen, H. P., J. Gibson, S. W., O. A. Bonnell, J. W., F. W. Dequine, S., W. Wilkie, Treas.

Zeurah Lodge, No. 7, was instituted August 9, 1869, and holds regular meetings the first and third Fridays of each month. Officers: Mrs. Sarah J. Gibson, N. G., Miss Hounsell, V. G., Miss Lillian B. Alexander, Rec. Secy., Jerome Gibson, F. Secy., Mrs. L. M. Tompkins, Treas.

DAIRY BOARD.

The Fond du Lac Dairy Board of Trade was organized March 18, 1884. Dairying had become an industry involving much interest in the aggregate, but in the territory tributary to Fond du Lac as a commercial center there was no common and protective system enabling dairymen to sell uniformly, so as to reap the advantage of the market. They awaited the call of buyers, or forwarded their product to dealers, to be sold on commission. To better the marketing conditions, especially in behalf of the sale of cheese, this board was organized. The purpose aimed at has been secured, and other results of almost as great importance have been noted following the weekly meetings during the manufacturing season. Discussion has developed better methods of making, and product unexcelled in the state, and, indeed, holding leading rank in the state, is regularly represented in the weekly offerings, commanding the best prices from buyers from the leading markets, who are in attendance at each session, and necessarily members of the board. Delwin B. Carr, of New York, representing an old and prominent commission house of that city, but recently testified, at a meeting of the Fond du Lac Dairy Board, that Wisconsin cheese is equal in quality to that of New York State manufacture, so that the product represented on this board is not only of the best Wisconsin grade, but it ranks with the best make in the United States, and consequently is not excelled in the world. Factories have increased in the territory commanded by the board, and the membership of about one hundred represents a manufactured product that it is not surprising should be of sufficient moment to demand and receive the best shipping rates from the competing lines of railroad connecting Fond du Lac with the great markets. Such a board of trade cannot fail to be of great benefit to the city, and the business men, who enterprisingly joined hands with the dairymen in its establishment, and who continue to manifest their interest in the work of the organization, while the citizens will agree, in enthusiastic testimony of appreciation, as to the high character of the membership and the business importance of the board's weekly sessions, continued from May till November of each year. The annual meeting occurs regularly on the last Friday in March, and on March 25th last the following officers were elected: President, A. Walters Eden; vice-president, D. D. Jones, Byron; secretary, J. L. Thwing, Fond du Lac; treasurer, Henry Bush, Fond du Lac. The present board of directors consists of G. H. Yapp, Waucousta; E. B. Parsons, Rosendale; E. Peebles.

THE BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

The Fond du Lac Business Men's Association was organized and chartered in January, 1884, with about one hundred and fifty members, consisting of the principal business and professional men of the city. It was instituted for the purpose of extending and improving their social relations and enhancing the business interests of the city, and how well they have done and are doing their work, the growth and prosperity of the city will attest. The association is located at 456 and 458 Main street, in elegant and commodious rooms, consisting of a reception room, parlor and billiard room, all under the care of a janitor, who keeps the rooms open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 11 at night. Every Tuesday evening is set apart as the weekly meeting of the organization, and devoted exclusively to business pertaining thereto, and in any way relating to the interests of the city. During the winter months entertainments have been given, consisting of lectures and concerts, and numerous entertainments of a public character are given under the auspices of the association. The principal daily papers are kept at the rooms, while strangers and other people not residents of the city have free access and are always welcome. The association is maintained by annual dues and the proceeds obtained from games, and has flourished since organization, and is one of the most prominent and beneficial institutions of the city. Its present officers are as follows: C. H. Weston, president, O. C. Steenberg, vice-president, R. F. Allen, treasurer, S. G. Leland, recording secretary, Geo. P. Knowles, corresponding secretary, J. H. Farnsworth, John Spence, L. Muentner, F. M. Givens and C. H. De Groat, board of directors. There is also an advisory board, made up of some of the most prominent citizens, all doing their utmost for the best interests of the city.

Wisconsin Central STOCK GROWERS' and Industrial Association.

is in reality the outgrowth of the Fond du Lac Agricultural and Mechanical Society, which was organized in 1852. It was chartered in February, 1887, and embraces in its circuit the counties of Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Calumet, Dodge, Washington and Green Lake, the city of Fond du Lac being its headquarters. Its present standing and future prospects are very flattering, as the objects for which it was organized cannot be other than beneficial to the whole district which it includes, while the reputable names connected therewith are a guarantee of its valuable character and its certainty of success. The fairs are held at the beautiful and extensive grounds on South Main street, in this city, and as an additional assurance of the promises of the association being carried out, and the premiums paid, a number of our most prominent and interested citizens have associated themselves together, and formed, according to law, a "Guarantee Fund Association" for this purpose, the objects of which are: "To raise by subscription the sum of two thousand dollars, for the purpose of encouraging and improving agricultural products, mechanical, manufacturing and household arts, and to encourage and improve stock-breeding, etc., by insuring and guaranteeing the payment in full of all premiums, prizes and purses which may be awarded by any fair association, whose fairs shall be held in the city of Fond du Lac, in 1887 and succeeding years, under the approval of the board of directors of this association." The present officers of the Wis. C. S. G. & I. Ass'n are: S. B. Stanchfield, president, Dr. L. A. Bishop, vice-president, H. C. Moore, secretary, E. A. Galloway, treasurer, who, together with a board of fifteen members, selected from the different counties, manage the whole affairs of the association. The officers of the Guarantee Fund Ass'n are: Dr. L. A. Bishop, president, W. A. Eldredge, vice-president, Hon. G. A. Knapp, treasurer, C. S. Matteson, secretary.

THE HORICAN SHOOTING CLUB.

This flourishing and prominent shooting club was organized in 1883, and has nearly one hundred members, composed of gentlemen who rank with the foremost in this vicinity. The objects of the organization are so unique and, we presume, appropriate, that we give the language of the constitution verbatim, as follows: “The business and purposes of said corporation are the cultivation and practice of music, the refinement of mental and bodily powers, the obtaining proficiency in sharp-shooting with rifle, pistol and shot-gun, and in handling the sportsman’s hook, spear and net, the protection of wild game out of season, and its legitimate and scientific capture in season, and the culture among its members of gallantry, sociality, temperance and morality.” The officers are: S. D. Wyatt, president, H. S. Eldred, vice-president, C. S. Matteson, secretary and solicitor, Robert Drummond, manager, T. S. Weeks, treasurer.

DE NEVEU LAKE CLUB.

Wisconsin is famous for her numerous and splendid lakes, and many are within easy distance of Fond du Lac, which makes this city, with the many other attractions possessed, one of the most delightful summer resorts to be found in the west. Lake De Neveu is one of the prettiest, and best patronized lakes in the vicinity, and is situated about four miles south-east from the city. It is surrounded by a beautiful, natural growth of shade trees, and yields an abundance of fishing and boating. There are already numerous cottages located here, and without doubt there will be many more added in the near future. Included in the present list, we find those of M. D. Moore, J. S. McDonald, W. C. Hamilton, Hon. G. A. Knapp, Dr. L. A. Bishop, E. A. Galloway, O. C. Steenberg, A. A. Shepherd, Harvey Durand, and Henry W. Durand.

De Neveu Lake Club, was incorporated in 1887, for the purposes of recreation and maintaining a park enclosure, which should be used exclusively by members thereof, and invited guests. Officers: Dr. L. A. Bishop, president, A. A. Shepherd, vice-president, H. W. Durand, sec’y, E. A. Galloway, treasurer.

BENEVOLENT, SOCIAL AND MUTUAL SOCIETIES.

As before stated, Fond du Lac has all the elements of prosperity, and her citizens have laid the foundations for the success and happiness of all whom her present attractions may draw to her borders, whether for health, wealth or recreation. Besides the foregoing, the following organizations will be found, and we believe without a single exception, all in a prosperous, flourishing and harmonious condition.

St. Paul’s Hospital, located on Sophia street, is an incorporated institution, and was established by the sisterhood of St. Monica, and is under the care of the Bishop of Fond du Lac, and five trustees. It is meeting a long felt want in this community, and is deserving of the liberal aid of our citizens, which we are pleased to hear is being very willingly extended. Board of trustees: Bishop of Fond du Lac, H. K. Laughlin, J. B. Perry, C. A. Galloway, and sister Caroline Delano.

The Home for the Friendless, is one of the most valuable and unostentatious institutions in the city, and during its long existence, has accomplished a vast amount of good, for which much credit is due, and extended to those self-sacrificing ladies who have been principally instrumental in providing for its wants, whereby so many unfortunate ones have received succor and assistance. It is located at the cor. of Amory and Arndt streets, and the following are the well known and philanthropic officers: Mrs. Geo. Perkins, president, Mrs. E. C. French, vice-president, Mrs. C. H. DeGroat, secretary, Mrs. C. J. Pettibone, corresponding secretary and treasurer.

Temperance—Fond du Lac Lodge, No. 410, I. O. G. T., was organized January 21st, 1878, has quite a large membership, and is in a good condition, financially and otherwise. Crofoot, secretary, Miss Annie Myers, Fin. Secy., Mrs. A. G. Coffman, Treas.

Blue Ribbon Temperance Society was organized November 8th, 1882, and until April, 1885, held its meetings in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. Since the latter date they have been held at 416 Main street, where they have large and well adapted rooms, the membership at this writing footing about three hundred. The Womans' Christian Temperance Union has a membership of about forty and meet every Friday afternoon at their parlors in Temperance Hall, 416 Main street. The society is, we understand, in a flourishing condition, which is not to be wondered at under the leadership of the following officers: Mrs. C. W. Pinkham, president, Mrs. M. W. Hurlbut, sec'y., Mrs. S. B. Stiles, treasurer.

The Yoke Fellows is an organization composed of about fifty young men, whose objects are substantially the same as the Y. M. C. Ass., viz: "to promote and foster religious intercourse among the young men of Fond du Lac." Their rooms are at 13 Forest street, and meetings held every Tuesday evening, and we understand its members are exerting a very commendable moral and religious influence over all with whom they come in contact, their motto, presumably, being, "by their fruits ye shall know them." Officers: L. H. Gillet, president, C. K. L. Low, vice-president, F. T. Stevens, secretary, P. B. Haber, treasurer.

St. John Baptiste Benevolent Society was organized in 1873, has about seventy members, is in a very fine financial condition, with some $800 in the treasury, and meets the last Sunday in each month in the St. Louis Catholic church. Chas. Boucher, chaplain.

St. Michael's Benevolent Society has been in existence since 1870, and meets over Scherzinger's jewelry store, 426 Main street, every Tuesday evening. It has some seventy-five members in good standing, and the following are the principal officers: Casper Hoffman, president, Ferdinand Bergeman, vice-president, Jacob Dreis, secretary, Joseph Molitor, vice sec'y., Anton Born, fin. sec'y., John Kehl, treasurer, German Scherzinger, delegate.

St. Joseph's Benevolent Society is an old and flourishing organization having about seventy members, who hold meetings the first Sunday in each month at St. Mary's school house on Merrill street. The Fond du Lac Musical Society was organized in the fall of 1883, since which time it has had a very successful course in every respect, and ranks with the foremost organizations of its kind in the west, both in standing and musical ability. Its meetings are held at the n.w. cor. Main and Second streets every Monday evening, and the following are the active officers: D. D. Sutherland, president, Mrs. J. F. Aldrich, vice-president, C. S. Cooke, secretary, Mr. Simmons, treasurer, Mrs. Dr. L. A. Bishop, conductor, Mrs. Phoebe Whitman, pianist.

perous orders of the city. It meets every Saturday evening in Elks' Hall Amory Opera House, 444 Main street, and the following are the present officers: J. C. Heitbahn, E. R.; H. H. Dodd, E. L. The order was first instituted in June, 1877, and since then has grown with almost unprecedented rapidity, until the whole membership of the order approaches seventy thousand. Meetings of Columbia Council are held first and third Tuesday of each month in their hall, 479 Main street, over Kuenne's jewelry store, and the following are the principal officers: C. S. The Fond du Lac Co. Bible Society was organized July 23rd, 1847, and during the forty years of its existence, has done a vast amount of good, the product of which seed, however, may never be fully known in this life. The society is as vigilant as ever in its commendable work, and in the hands of its present officers, must ever continue to be successful. Officers: C. V. Pettibone, president, C. A. Hutchins, vice-president, J. C. Huber, treasurer, G. L. Benjamin, secretary, A. J. Mead, of Appleton, Wis., being district superintendent.

Graves being the master workman. GERMAN ASSEMBLY No. 7,431, was organized in May, 1886, and meets every Wednesday evening over 434 Main street, John Scharf being master workman.

The Bands of the City are two in number, known as Hopkins' and the Silver Cornet Band, respectively, and in musical talent and decorous conduct the members and leaders thereof would be difficult to excel.

There are two Opera Houses, and in this respect the city is well supplied, the one being known as the "Amory" and the other as the "Crescent."

The Rienzi Cemetery is located within a convenient distance of the city, and is one of the most appropriate sites that could have been selected for the purpose for which it is used. While it is often—too often if we poor mortals had our individual choice—brought into requisition, yet compared with the living population from whom it draws its inhabitants, there are fewer interments made than in any other similar place of which we have knowledge. This is accounted for in the fact of the city's very fortunate and remarkable healthfulness, which arises from the salubriousness of the climate, and the pure, sparkling and medicinal water everywhere obtainable, the death rate being only about ten per thousand per annum. S. B. Amory, president, C. A. Galloway, secretary, G. A. Knapp, treasurer.

The foregoing compose all the important organizations of the city and a glance over the list will prove to any fair-minded individual or any one seeking a valuable place in which to locate, that Fond du Lac possesses, in many respects, unequalled advantages, and affords an abundance of social, benevolent and amusement attractions.

THE NEWSPAPERS OF FOND DU LAC.

The Daily and Weekly Commonwealth rank among the oldest and best papers in the State, and meet with deserved patronage, both in their long list of subscribers and the large amount of advertising patronage they enjoy. The Weekly Commonwealth was established thirty-four years ago, and has constantly been identified with the entire county and its growth. In matters pertaining to the city and county in which it is published, it has always taken an advanced position, as well as upon questions of importance to the general public, thus gaining recognition as a leading newspaper of the county, and one of the best weeklies in Wisconsin.

The Daily Commonwealth was established eighteen years ago and has always been relied upon as supplying a special place in the journalism of the city. It is first-class, wide-awake, enterprising, and never shirks a responsibility. Possessing ability to lead, it is always in the lead in moulding public opinion, and giving the news. Its editorial and reporterial corps each strive to make the various departments of the paper attractive and acceptable to the intelligent reading public. That this has been done is fully admitted in the fact that continued prosperity has attended the Daily from the day of its establishment to the present. Both papers are published at Nos. 21 and 23 Forest street, by the Commonwealth Printing Company, O. C. Steenberg being president, and P. B. Haber, secretary and treasurer.

The Saturday and Daily Reporter occupy a place in the journalism of Wisconsin of no mean order. The Saturday Reporter was established in 1860, and has been published continuously since that date, although several changes in proprietorship have taken place. Its present proprietor, L. A. Lange, began work in the office of the paper as foreman, in 1870, and in 1883 he bought half interest in the same, and on January 1st, 1885, bought out his partner, J. L. Thwing, and is now sole owner.

The Daily Reporter was started by him April 1st, 1883, and since then has gained a solid and paying position, and is one of the live, sprightly and newsy dailies of the city and State. It is worthy of note here to remark that in exactly thirteen years after Mr. Lange entered the Saturday Reporter office to "feed" the power press, he became its sole proprietor, as well as owner and conductor of one of the best and most complete newspaper, book and job printing offices in the city or west, and doing the city and county job printing. The Saturday and Daily Reporter are excellent newspapers, and meet with a flattering and constantly increasing patronage, Louie A. Lange being proprietor, Tim F. Strong, Jr., associate editor and Henry A. Bush, city editor.

The Fond du Lac Journal is published every Thursday, at 15 Forest street by Beeson and Beeson, editors and proprietors. It was established in 1846, and is one of the oldest newspapers of the State and one of the most reliable and best edited journals in the country. It is owned and conducted by that veteran editor and journalist, Edward Beeson, and his son, Dr. E. B. Reeson, the latter being also extensively engaged in and known as a propagator of bovine virus. The weekly Journal is an eight page paper, and circulates largely in the city, but probably more largely in Fond du Lac and surrounding counties, and is emphatically a reliable family newspaper.

The Gazette, a weekly publication, having the distinctive character of a special Sunday paper (although published Saturday), devoting considerable attention to the best literature and commanding withal the reputation of being complete in its news features, was established by Thwing & Blackburn, the first number appearing on so good an occasion as Thanksgiving Day, 1886. J. L. Thwing, who has been connected with the press of this city constantly since the fall of 1873, is a native of the county and a college bred man. Being a ready and capable writer, and possessing the advantage of a wide personal acquaintance, he turns his hand to a local dash or an editorial leader as occasion may require. H. E. Blackburn, who began his apprenticeship in Fond du Lac, and has since been in charge of large offices in this and other cities, is business manager and mechanical superintendent. Mr. Blackburn has the deserved reputation of being one of the best practical printers in the State, and he, too, brings to the office the benefit of a large acquaintance where it does the most good. The Gazette is enjoyable both for the extent and quality of its matter, and for its neat appearance.

The Nordwestlicher Courier, which was established in 1871, is published every Wednesday by William F. Weber, at 16 W. Division street. It is an ably edited German newspaper, and since being owned and managed by editor Weber, in 1878, has gained in circulation and advertising patronage to a very liberal extent. Connected with the paper is a fine job printing office, where work is executed in both the English and German languages at very reasonable prices, quality considered.

The Advance, a newspaper published weekly at 545 Main street by the Advance Publishing Company, was established November, 1886, and has since met with gratifying success. It is only one dollar a year, being placed at this low figure in order to bring it within the means of the humblest in this vicinity. Geo. W. Johnston, a gentleman who is well known, having resided in this locality over twenty years, is editor, his brother, F. H. Johnston, a practical printer, being business manager.

The Aus der Heimat is a German weekly newspaper edited and published by Karl A. Bruederle every Thursday at 435 Main street. It was established in May, 1886, and Mr. Bruederle, being a practical printer and a gentleman of energy and push, succeeds in producing an excellent paper, which, we understand, has a wide circulation in the city, but more especially in the surrounding counties, among the German-speaking population thereof.

Spencer Palmer has a neat printing office at 545 Main street, which, with the offices connected with the newspapers of the city, turns out excellent work of all descriptions, thereby obviating the necessity of our people going from home for their printing.

Manufactories and Mercantile Houses,

CITY OF FOND DU LAC, WIS.

EDITORIALLY REVIEWED.

1887.

While it is an acknowledged fact, that "the servant is worthy of his hire, and that we merit, and expect a reasonable compensation in return for our arduous labor, experience, and investment in producing and issuing this DIRECTORY AND BUSINESS REVIEW, yet, we solely rely on the advertisements and subscriptions thereto, for our reimbursement, and in no instance to the editorial matter given. In view of this fact, it is proper to state that we give the following notices on the various manufacturing and mercantile establishments "of our own free will and accord" in order to show their rise and growth, and the position they maintain in this community, together with the advantages they offer to all seeking articles in which they deal. The first to engage our attention is,

THE PALMER HOUSE, of which E. A. Carey is Proprietor.

It is our usual custom to begin this department of our work by noticing the hotel accommodations of the city, and in this edition we adhere to our habitual rule. We do this, fully believing that there is no one enterprise that adds more to the general welfare of a city than ample and satisfactory conveniences in this particular. But our experience has taught us, as that of others has taught them, that there are many cities lacking in this important matter, and others advertising first-class which scarcely possess second-class facilities. Not so, however, with Fond du Lac, whose advantages in every department of trade and manufactures are flattering, and no less than this can be said of the hotel line. Yet this was not always the case, for up to about 1870, the city was rather deficient in this regard. It was about this date that the above hotel was opened, under a different name, however, and since then Fond du Lac, most of the time since, has been known to the traveling public, visitors and tourists as a good city wherein to secure good accommodations. This hotel was opened as a first-class hostelry, and after varying fortunes for a number of years, was for some time closed to the public. During this time it was thoroughly overhauled, and opened to the traveling community as one of the best hotels of the country, first-class, designating its character in every part thereof. Since August, 1885, the present proprietor has been its indefatigable landlord, and while he has been known to this community from boyhood in 1845, to the present time, yet, he has surprised his warmest friends in his adaptability to the position he occupies. The hotel is situated in the very heart of the city, being adjacent to depots, business and amusement places, and is an elaborate and solid structure, with marble front on Main and Sheboygan streets on which it faces. It contains about one hundred rooms, each being comfortably, and many elaborately furnished, while every apartment of the house bears the impress of order, system, cleanliness, comfort and home-likeness. The office, reading, reception and writing rooms and parlors are on the first floor, as are the water-closets, wash-room, six travelers' sample-rooms and dining room, the whole house being heated by steam. And speaking of the dining-room, it is pertinent to say that it is one of the finest, most spacious, best furnished and airy of any of the largest hotels in the largest cities, and while this is true and desirable, yet it excels no more in these respects than in the quantity and quality of viands constantly provided, and herein is landlord Carey's great fort. He is determined that the inner man of his guests (family, as he looks upon them) shall be attended to, and attends thereto liberally and well. He secures the best, and an abundance, of all the market offers in season, and what is most surprising is the fact that all these comforts and conveniences are furnished at two dollars per day. In view of the foregoing, we are led to say in justice to the proprietor and those unfortunate human beings who are compelled to be away from their own home, and for the benefit of tourists and pleasure seekers, that "The Palmer House" of Fond du Lac is the best two dollar a day house in the state, if not in the west. Through all the business career of Mr. Carey, he has been noted for his thorough belief in the wisdom of doing a large business on a small margin rather than a small one on a larger margin, and the result has been, his own success in the various enterprises he has engaged in. E. A. Carey ranks as one of the oldest residents and business men of the city, and one who has taken an active part in furthering the interests of Fond du Lac. He came here in 1845, and during the past forty-two years has been engaged in various businesses, and stands to-day among the old settlers and financially solid business men, full of life and vigor as in his younger and mercantile days. For years after his advent he owned and managed the first 'bus line of the city, and from 1862 until dissolution in 1880, was associated with that merchant prince, H. K. Laughlin, of the "Grand Central" dry-goods house, 22 Forest street, the firm name being Laughlin & Carey. Besides so admirably conducting the Palmer House, he owns a fine farm near the city, well-stocked with cattle, is treasurer of the Fond du Lac Iron Co., vice-president and a director of the First National Bank, organized in 1855, and re-organized in 1864 under the National Banking Act, but what we wish most particularly to say is, "stop at the Palmer House" if you desire solid comfort and all the conveniences of a first-class hotel at two dollars per day, which charges are considerably reduced to parties stopping any great length of time.

CHARLES J. L. MEYER, Manfr. of Sash, Doors, Blinds, Lumber, &c.

Closely connected with the growth and development of Fond du Lac and all that affects her vital interests, stands the name of Hon. Charles J. L. Meyer, a gentleman whose long and varied experience in business affairs, intuitive knowledge of men and manufactures and rare executive abilities have won for him so high a position as is seldom attained by any one man, and gained at the same time the highest esteem and implicit confidence of his fellow citizens. During the long years of his remarkable business and manufacturing career in this city he has exhibited wonderful judgment in his affairs, and continuously controlled an ever increasing establishment with conspicuous and signal success, until he is now, and has long been recognized as one of the most extensive manufacturers in his special line in the United States. He is a Prussian by birth and came to this country in the year 1849, after having been engaged with his sire in the production of cabinet work, sash, doors, blinds and other building material in his native land. In 1855 he permanently located in Fond du Lac, his manufacturing career dating from three years later. Being at this time a thoroughly educated mechanic, and possessing unusually good judgment and great endurance of both mind and body, he had the essential and proper qualifications for the attainment and maintenance of his present exalted position as one of the largest manufacurers in the country and one of the leading ones in his special line of producing sash, doors and blinds. His is the largest manufacturing establishment in this city, and gives constant employment to a number of hundred hands, yet this is only a small part of his earthly possessions and interests which he has accumulated and so systematically supervises. Besides his saw and planing mills at the north end of Main street and his lumber yard and immense brick sash, door and blind factory, warehouses and general offices on Western avenue, he is the president and principal owner of the Wisconsin Land and Lumber Co., whose possessions at and near Hermansville, Mich., comprises some 50,000 acres of pine and hardwood lumber lands, with extensive mills, factories, stores, &c., president of the C. J. L. Meyer & Sons Co., of Chicago, president of the Fond du Lac Furniture Co. and proprietor of the Fond du Lac Sash and Door Co., in addition to which he has quite a number of other private and public interests. In each of the three places named—Fond du Lac, Hermansville and Chicago—he employs several hundred hands, making a grand total of fully 1,000 men employed by him. The products of his various establishments find their way into almost every State in the union, and wherever known hold a high place for intrinsic merit, while C. J. L. Meyer is considered an authority in regard to these productions by manufacturers, dealers and consumers. In addition to the vast quantities of lumber, sash, doors, blinds, mouldings and other building material annually manufactured and sold by him, his Chicago factory is largely engaged in the production of beautifully designed and elaborately finished wood mantels, in which line an extensive and constantly increasing trade has been established. The annual sales of his different business enterprises amount to considerable more than a million dollars, and yet, so well organized are these institutions that they proceed as smoothly as clock-work, proving conclusively the executive ability and systematic precision of their founder. During his thirty-two years' residence in, and identification with the city of Fond du Lac, most of which time he has been known to the writer, we are free to confess, along with our citizens generally, that he has been one of the very leading benefactors of the city. He has employed more men and distributed a greater amount of money thereby, than any other person, and stands to-day highly and rightfully esteemed by his fellow manufacturers, business men and citizens generally. While never an office-seeker, yet offices have sought him, and these include alderman, mayor of the city, Delegate to the National Conventions, Presidential Elector, &c. He was the originator and chief promoter of the Air Line Railroad, from Milwaukee to Fond du Lac, and for three years held the presidency of the company operating that line. In addition he has been intimately associated with every important project set on foot for the advancement of the city's interests, and contributed of his time, money, suggestions and advice to a liberal extent.

THE WHEEL & SEEDER CO., Seeders, Rakes, Drills. &c.

The Wheel and Seeder Company was incorporated in 1874, and since then has surprised its most sanguine friends and incorporators in its unprecedented success, and has grown into one of the largest and most important manufactories of this pre-eminent manufacturing city. This has been accomplished from the fact that the gentlemen connected with it are strong financially, and capable of bringing to a successful issue anything they may engage in, taking it for granted, of course, that they are too far-sighted to engage in any undertaking unless there are elements of success in the articles to be produced from the start. At the very outset it was plain to the vision of a practical person that the seeders, drills, harrows and other agricultural implements had many points of superiority, and since then all the advantages finances and experience could command have been brought into requisition in regard to their production, until 1887 witnesses the implements manufactured occupying a leading place in the market, with an ever increasing demand from farmers, who are their best and firmest friends. Each year from the start they have been improved in obedience to the demands of experience, and while farmers expressed themselves years ago as satisfied that "they could not be improved," yet those made at the present time are better than ever, and appear to admit of no further improvement. But, as the owners and officers in charge are progressive gentlemen, and never rest satisfied unless abreast of the demands of leading tillers of the soil, they will, in the future as in the past, undoubtedly be on the alert for any additional advantage time and experience may prove to be beneficial. We have only specifically spoken of seeders, drills and harrows, and should be derelict as editor of this department of our work were we to omit to also mention this company's self-dump rake. It has now been on the market some three years, and to say that it has had a flattering reception would be putting the case mildly, for the "Yankee" Self-Dump Rake, the name by which it is now familiarly known, is said to be by hundreds of the better class of farmers using it, and who are well acquainted with the merits of others, "the acme of perfection." The implements of the Wheel and Seeder Co., of Fond du Lac, are in extensive use in the States of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Nebraska, Iowa, Dakota and Oregon, and the thousands in use proclaim them the "farmers' friends," and fully bear out the wisdom of the farmers' motto, "the best is the cheapest," and that of the company, "square dealing and first-class goods." The works in which these excellent and ever in active demand machines are made rank among the most extensive and especially among the most systematically arranged and managed in the country, every department being supervised by a skillful and experienced mechanic, while the whole establishment is conducted on economical, yet withal, liberal principles, which insure good work in every part of the manufactures produced, and at the very opposite to exorbitant prices. They are located on Forest street, adjoining and near to the Wisconsin Central and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul R'y.'s freight and passenger depots respectively, and secure thereby all the shipping advantages in raw material and manufactured goods attainable. Seventy-five to one hundred hands are found constant employment and thereby add largely to the city's prosperity, as well as the convenience and benefit of the thousands of agriculturists who use and eulogize their productions. C. H. Weston is president as he is also president of the Business Mens' Association, and is one of the most energetic men in the city and best adapted for these positions, while James H. Farnsworth is the secretary, treasurer and manager of the company. He has been a resident of Fond du Lac since 1846, was one of the founders of the La Belle Wagon Works, in 1868, and the general manager thereof for ten years, and we believe, at the present time, is a large stockholder. Besides filling his position with acceptance and success to the company, and satisfaction to his farmer patrons, he is serving the people of the first ward in the city council, and is one of the active directors of the Business Mens' Association, and one of the most public spirited business men in the city.

MOORE & GALLOWAY LUMBER CO. (Limited).

During the past quarter of a century, Fond du Lac has held a very prominent, and at one time proud position in the north-west, as a lumber producing city, and has also held a prominence in being able to claim as her citizens some of the most far-seeing and reputable in the trade. This being true, it will not be taken as invidious to say that the business of the above company has been from its incipiency classed among the very leading and most scrupulously honorable ones of the country. This, and an indomitable energy, a commendable shrewdness and enterprisingly demonstrated caution, coupled with ventures based on these characteristics, have gradually brought the institution to a point of prominence equal to the very leading institutions of this kind. The foundations of the present mammoth business were laid in 1860, and four years later the president, M. D. Moore, became associated with its fortunes, shortly after which its vice-president and treasurer, C. A. Galloway, became connected therewith. From 1860 to 1880, the affairs of the concern gradually grew, through good and adverse times, and in March of the latter year, it became an incorporated institution, under its present name of Moore and Galloway Lumber Company. Its capital stock is $230,000, and no one can doubt, judging from its immense interests, but that it has quite a large surplus in addition to this capital. It is now, and always has been the aim of the members of the concern, to produce the best of lumber and all other manufactures in their line, while its honorable and faithful business dealings have been marked by strict probity, which has caused it to take high rank in the diversified markets to which it ships goods. The saw-mill and sash and door factory and all their appurtenances are of the best, and thereby the company is enabled to produce an unsurpassed grade of manufactures which find a ready sale wherever the quality as well as the reasonable price of these important articles are taken into account. The large experience and close application of each member and officer of the company, to its affairs, yield them many advantages, while their financial means and more than ordinary credit enables them to secure all the legitimate benefits in buying, which in turn, their own customers largely share. In mill site, sash factory, sheds and grounds, the company occupy some twenty-five acres, having a river frontage of about 2,500 feet. Through the yards run the three railroads, entering and leaving the city, which, together with the system and smoothness that permeates the whole institution, makes it plain to the most casual observer why the Moore and Galloway Lumber Company stands so high and does so large and profitable a business among the largest lumber producers in the land. While they do this, yet they often have preference over others, because of their past record, which, old as well as new customers recognize and appreciate. The business of the company foots some eight or ten million feet of lumber per annum, besides manufacturing large quantities of sash, doors, blinds, mouldings and other building material, in the production of which, they find employment for from 200 to 225 hands here and in the woods, when cutting many of the logs, sawed up, which are taken from their own pine lands. The foregoing brief remarks on one of the oldest, most solid and important manufacturing institutions of the city, will give a pretty good idea of the advantages the Moore and Galloway Lumber Company possesses, and offers dealers in and users of building material, as well as its value to the city, in which each member takes much pride. With these advantages and an unsullied business record, covering a quarter of a century and an unusually large local custom as well as in eight or ten different states footing in the aggregate hundreds of thousands of dollars, the Moore and Galloway Lumber Company stands among the representative lumber producers and dealers of the west, and each member thereof ranks with the most honorable, enterprising and liberal residents of the city. The components of the company are: M. D. Moore, president, C. A. Galloway, vice-president and treasurer, G. N. Mihills, secretary, and Henry W. Moore, (son of the president) under whose excellent management, the affairs of the institution are in so flourishing a condition. Besides the management of their own private affairs, the first two named have found time to serve the people in various public and important capacities, M. D. Moore, on the school board, &c., Mr. Galloway, as chief magistrate of the city, internal revenue collector, &c., and is now president of the Fond du Lac National Bank.

H. K. LAUGHLIN'S "GRAND CENTRAL" DRY GOODS HOUSE.

While Fond du Lac can boast of quite a number of fine mercantile houses, yet one of the very conspicuously attractive stores, carrying a large and diversified stock of goods in its line, is that owned and conducted by the above named gentleman at 22 Forest street. It is known as the "Grand Central," and by this name has become very popular from the fact that this palatial establishment has the goods the people want, and which are represented exactly as found to be, while their prices are never exorbitant, the proprietor having made a point in his long business career of being satisfied with a "fair" profit, believing that to be more remunerative in the end than an unfairly large one for a little while. This has been one of his chief business characteristics for many years in this community, and the host of customers trading with him are friends as well as patrons. H. K. Laughlin, the proprietor, established this business in 1849, and stands to-day the pioneer dry-goods dealer and the "pioneer merchant" of Fond du Lac. During the whole of his business career he has been one of the most reputable, conscientious and reliable of our tradesmen, and while he has been foremost in carrying a more than ordinarily select and varied stock, he has also been very careful to make truthful representations thereof. During his thirty-eight years experience in this city, he has been a close student of the market, its prices, qualities and styles of fabrics, and has been noted for his judgment in buying correctly, and thereby securing the goods the people wanted, and at prices moderate, quality, of course, being considered. He has always discarded shoddy and sham goods, and dealt only in the better qualities down to medium. By adopting and adhering to this course, the rich and poor alike could go with confidence to his store and satisfy their desires, and the success he has attained thereby has been on a par with the satisfaction his wares and their prices have given his multitude of customers. In view of this, we are pleased to be able to say, truthfully, that H. K. Laughlin, the pioneer merchant of the city, has not only an elegant and finely arranged and stocked mercantile establishment, but counts his friends by the thousands for his many years of honorable and lofty business dealings, and no less so for his enterprising and liberal actions pertaining to the advancement of the city's interests. 1887, therefore, finds him in the thirty-eighth year of his business career in Fond du Lac, with a large trade, an unsullied mercantile reputation and a citizen standing high in the community. His store is one of the most attractive of any we ever saw in any similar city, and while its arrangement is exceptionally marked for completeness, yet its stock is as commendable and advantageous to the purchaser. Dry-goods and carpets are his leaders, and in each department a better and more diversified assortment could hardly be found or wished for, while in laces, draperies, cloaks, shawls, velvets, notions and fancy goods the display is enticing, quality of the better class and prices as before stated, the opposite to exorbitant. Taken altogether, it is one of the finest stores and carries as large a stock of goods, with possibly one or two exceptions, as any store in the State. While such stores with their advantages exist, and while under the charge of one so reputable, well tried and well known as H. K. Laughlin, there is no need of any of our citizens going from home to buy anything in the dry-goods and carpet line.

NOVELTY IRON WORKS of DeGroat, Giddings & Lewis.

To the men who conduct honorably and successfully any kind of manufacturing industry much credit is due their integrity and enterprise, for they give tone and character to the place where located and help to swell its resources by drawing finances from other localities, and giving employment to their own citizens. In view of this it is but fair that every assistance should be extended and kindly words spoken of said institutions and their proprietors by every person, when opportune, so far as the same can be said with regard to truthfulness. This course cannot be too highly commended and the opposite too severely condemned. One of the most successful and meritorious labor-employing institutions of Fond du Lac is the “Novelty Iron Works,” located at the corner of Doty and Rees streets. It was founded in 1861, and for years battled in competition with similar institutions and year by year made but little headway financially, but always stood high in the markets where its products were known as making a high grade of goods. This commendable trait has from the start been persisted in, until 1887 finds the works full of orders and producing a character of articles unsurpassed and not often equalled. This is not alone the statement or claim of the interested proprietors, but the claim of their patrons, and what is more than this, if possible, it is the admission of their sharpest competitors. The entire works cover an area of 180 by 180, mostly of brick, and the whole establishment is equipped with a more than ordinarily fine class of machinery, every kind of which is manipulated by an excellent mechanic, the whole being carefully supervised by expert foremen in each department. Everything about the Novelty Iron Works is system and method and all things are arranged with a view to the best products in the market at minimum cost. This being the case it is readily seen why DeGroat, Giddings & Lewis secure orders from a wide area, covering several States, and that wherever their machinery is found it gives unbounded satisfaction. After twenty-six years in the market these works stand higher than ever before, while the proprietors' constant aim is to improve their already excellent goods in every way that time, experience and use may dictate. All classes of iron machinery may here be obtained, but the specialties of the works are saw-mill machinery, including engines, circular mills, head-blocks, gang-edgers, lath-mills, trimmers, bolters, &c., in the production of which some forty to sixty mechanics find steady employment. They have recently completely fitted up a saw mill at Vesper, Wis., securing the contract, amidst stubborn competition, and are now engaged in furnishing the machinery for a furniture factory at Marshfield, Wis. Taken all in all the Novelty Iron Works of Fond du Lac rank among the oldest, largest and very best equipped works of the kind in the west, while the pushing, enterprising, venturesome and systematic proprietors and conductors rank among our oldest and best known citizens, and merit the success they are meeting with and that which is promised for the future. Without show, bombast and ostentation the works are smoothly conducted and their manufactures are their best recommend wherever known. Messrs. DeGroat, Giddings & Lewis, the proprietors, also stand as high at home as their products do abroad, for each is an old and well known and long tried citizen of this vicinity. Col. C. H. DeGroat came here in 1852, Geo. Giddings in 1866 (although a native of Sheboygan Co.), and O. F. Lewis in 1847, and it is not too much to say that no three gentlemen stand higher in the community where they have been so long known and where they possess such large interests, than they.

O. C. STEENBERG, Manufacturer of Sash, Doors, Blinds.

The large and conspicuous three-story sash factory now owned and operated by the above named gentleman, and giving employment to between sixty and seventy-five hands, has been prominent in its special field of manufacture during the past nineteen years, and we can say without fear of successful contradiction that but few other similar institutions were ever established and managed with a like success, while contending with the difficulties which have beset its proprietor. This fact being accepted as true, as it must be by all in any way conversant with its career, it must be admitted that two important features have contributed to this end, namely: the excellent location of the city in which the establishment is located and the rare executive ability of its owner. As a rule, we conclude that a man to be successful must be practical in his business from youth up, and this in the majority of instances is true, but the exception is proven true in the experience of O. C. Steenberg and his manufactory. To be more explicit, we would say that O. C. Steenberg was trained as an educator from youth to a good age, having been graduated from Union College at Schenectady, New York, his native State, and shortly thereafter, in 1862, came to Fond du Lac, and became principal of the high school, to which position, the superintendency of all the schools was added the following year. After filling these positions with signal ability some nine years, and during which time he made annual reports to the State superintendent of schools, in which he strongly advocated the compulsory attendance of children at school, and which is to-day the law of the State as a consequence, he resigned and bought an interests in his present establishment. It was established in 1868, by one H. H. Lewis, with whom he continued in association five years, when he purchased the entire interest, and since then, has managed and owned it single-handed. During the past sixteen years he has witnessed panics and depressions in trade, and suffered from several conflagrations, but nothing daunted, not even his severe and almost fatal sicknesses, he has kept right along, and the year 1887 finds him one of the most prominent manufacturers in the city. The last unfortunate fire occurring to this establishment was on April 6th, 1885, when it was entirely consumed, and although it was partly insured, yet, entailed a severe financial loss, nevertheless with that characteristic energy and push of the proprietor, he began building operations on his present factory on the 6th day of May, and on the 6th day of October succeeding, opened for business again. This remarkable triumvirate of dates seems to have had a fortunate effect on the establishment, for, from the very start it has, all things considered, done an excellent trade, and stands at this writing among the most successful of its competitors, wherever its wares are known in Chicago, and over the southwest and western States as well as locally. The manufactory, therefore, is one of the most modern in the field and is equipped with new and the latest improved machinery, and this as well as the proprietor's well known determination for producing the best of everything, and his strict probity in business and private affairs, has enabled him to command a gratifying trade and become recognized as a leading sash, door and blind manufacturer. Besides conducting with large success this old established and extensive institution, Mr. Steenberg takes a deep and active interest in all affairs that pertain to the city's welfare and although called upon frequently for financial assistance and other help, is always found liberal and on time. At the present time he is vice-president of the Business Men's Association, a director of the free Public Library, secretary and treasurer of the Wholesale Sash, Door and Blind Manufacturers Association of the Northwest, a position he has held for six or seven years, and president of the Commonwealth Printing Company, publishers and proprietors of the Daily and Weekly Commonwealth of Fond du Lac.

B. WILD & CO.'S "Great Excelsior Steam Bakery."

Very often corporations are formed consisting of many men with large means at their command for the purpose of establishing manufacturing industries, which from the start are conspicuous for size, importance and the amount of business commanded. At the appearance of this we sometimes wonder, forgetting that "money makes money," and that the first thousand dollars a person saves is the most difficult to secure. This was the expressed experience of that merchant prince, the late A. T. Stewart, as well as many other notables. In looking over B. Wild & Co.'s immense steam cracker factory a short time ago the above thoughts impressed themselves forcibly upon our mind, and we were compelled to concede to its founder and present proprietors an equal footing so far as prominence, success and amount of trade commanded is concerned, with many of the corporations above referred to. With this difference however in his and their favor, that while they had an aggregation of capital at the start, he had only an aggregation of pluck, industry and wiry persistence, which to the same extent is found in but few individuals. In 1859 the now great cracker, biscuit and confectionery establishment that bears the name of "Excelsior" was started in a humble way, but was directed and conducted from its inception by an energy, sagacity and integrity that long ago resulted in placing it and its founder among the foremost institutions and manufacturers in his line in the whole country. It is now and has been owned and managed by Benjamin Wild, the originator, and his son-in-law, John Heath (who has been a resident of this city since 1867) for many years past, and during this time many and constant additions have been made until "mammoth" is the word to apply to its dimensions and the extent of its product. And, while this is true of its size, yet its equipments are no less admirable, for all the newest inventions have been introduced that would in any way conduce to economy, increase of production or quality of manufactures. The building is an imposing brick and stone structure having a frontage of sixty-five feet and mostly three stories high, in which are consumed daily twenty-five barrels of flour and six barrels of sugar in the production of crackers and the finer goods and confectionery. Employment is given to between sixty and seventy hands, their annual business footing some $150,000, while their trade extends over several different States, with an immense local or home demand. The character of the manufactures of this old established, successful and highly reputable institution is such as to compel dealers and consumers to pronounce them of the very highest made, while the advantages enjoyed by the firm are unexcelled. No house of its class stands higher at home or abroad for the most rigid probity, and none give the city a better name, and but few add more to its material interests. Everything about the establishment is managed with admirable precision and punctuality, and nothing is allowed to be done that would in any way reflect on the house or its proprietors. Benjamin Wild, the father of the manufactory, and a practical baker of nearly half a century's experience, and an industrious record seldom equalled, and John Heath, a partner since 1871, are the present proprietors, and, be it said to their credit, that they are as unassuming as they are successful. W. Walter Wild is cashier and book-keeper, Ben. Wild, Jr., buyer, Edward B. Wild, packing clerk and Nathan R. Heath, billing clerk, each attending to his several duties with commendable ability and regularity.

ALFRED K. HAMILTON, Lumber Manufacturer, &c.

The pioneer lumber manufacturing business of Fond du Lac and vicinity is that owned by the gentleman whose name heads this notice, and not only this, but from its very commencement it has ranked with the most solid and successful institutions of its kind in the great lumber producing northwest. Its origin dates from about the year 1855, when I. K. and W. C. Hamilton, brothers of the present proprietor, were the owners. Some years afterwards it passed into the hands of Hamilton & Finley, and about a decade ago A. K. Hamilton assumed full proprietorship, his connection and ownership to the present time covering a period of about a quarter of a century. During this time but few, if any, in the trade have been more uniformly successful, and none have earned and maintained a more enviable business record. Shrewd, calculating and unremittingly laborious, he has kept pace with the requirements of the trade, and for years past older men in the lumber producing field have listened with pleasure and profit to his valuable suggestions. All through his career he has been noted for punctuality and honor in business transactions, and while he has been a thorough adherent to the practice of giving the dealer and consumer the best quality of any grade that should be called for, yet he has made hosts of friends thereby and amassed a handsome competency. This has been secured amidst keen competition and several disasters, the conflagration of 1881 destroying his excellent saw-mill, being among the number. But not dismayed or discouraged he kept right along in the business which he had made a success, and brought to a gratifying prominence in the markets of the southwest, west and northwest, and in 1884 purchased his present mill and site whose office is at 113 W. Division street. This he at once overhauled, increased its capacity, placing therein new machinery at large expense, and it is now acknowledged to be one of the best equipped saw-mills, with planing-mill attached, in the vicinity. The grounds hereabout contain some eight acres, besides which the proprietor owns and conducts the branch yard at 365 Main street as he has for the past twenty-five years. The product of the mill meets with a good shipping and local trade and wherever the "Hamilton lumber" is offered for sale it is accepted as being "A 1." The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway tracks pass right along side the grounds while the Wisconsin Central and the Northwestern are in close proximity, thus giving A. K. Hamilton as good shipping facilities as could be desired, which, along with his financial means, practical experience and high business character enable him to successfully compete with any other reputable merchant and manufacturer. A. K. Hamilton is also largely interested in other manufactories and institutions, among which are the Fond du Lac National Bank, owner of the Hamilton Lime & Stone Co., of Ketchum, Wis., on the Wisconsin Central Line, whose quarries yield an abundance of superior building, flagging and lime stone, the Milwaukee Harvester Co., in which he was until recently secretary, treasurer and general manager, relinquishing this position on account of ill-health. And speaking of health reminds us to say that he is a graduate of West Point, and it is believed that while there he contracted his present troublesome affliction. At the present time he is in Europe accompanied by his physician, and a host of friends and old patrons are hoping and many of them praying that the trip and freedom from the cares of his immense business and varied interests, may be the means of restoring him to health and the locality that has known and highly regarded him for so many years past. During his absence the business is in charge of George McCluskey, one of the most thoroughly educated saw-mill and lumber men in the city. He has had an experience of twenty-five years, twenty-two of which have been spent in Fond du Lac, the last fourteen with the subject of this brief notice. The confidence reposed in him appears to be fully appreciated by Mr. McCluskey, as it does by Henry R. Potter, who is in charge of the branch at 365 Main street.

B. F. & H. L. SWEET, "Common Sense" Sleigh & Wagon Manfrs.

In any given community there are always better and worse people even among the good thereof, and the same rule, everybody of experience and observation will admit, holds true in regard to the character of manufactures produced. In all lines of articles there are what may be designated good, better and best, and as the best is the cheapest, although they may cost a trifle more at the start, yet in the end more service and genuine satisfaction will be the ultimate result. And while this must be admitted it applies as forcibly to the sleigh and wagon as any other article, and in many cases is of more importance to the purchaser and user than any other commodity of his purchases. In view of this it is pertinent to record the fact in this representative work that Fond du Lac has earned and maintains the reputation of producing these useful and indispensable articles in vast numbers, and that they stand at the head in the market for practical utility. This position has been attained by the Messrs. Sweet, not by guess, or in a hap-hazard fashion, but by the labor and study of two thoroughly educated mechanics and conscientious gentlemen, covering a period of a third of a century. They have studied the necessities of users of these vehicles, and after years of experimenting and solicitude for success, have achieved a position in the manufacturing line in their special field of which they naturally feel elated and for which hundreds of their patrons accord them high praise. After saying this much it is proper to say that B. F. & H. L. Sweet are natives of Grand Isle county, Vermont, and came west in 1852 and 1853 respectively, practical mechanics. For some time they were engaged in responsible capacities by the Illinois Central Railroad Co., then building, and in 1855 the first named established their present business in Fond du Lac, being joined by H. L. the following year. During the past thirty-two years they have carefully but very laboriously managed and worked at its affairs, until 1887 dawned upon them ranking with the largest and most successful manufacturers in their line, with a good name for honest work unsurpassed, and while their work is accepted as honestly made, yet their designs and peculiar construction are above the average, and in many cases excel any on the market. The "Common Sense" sleighs are especially noteworthy in this regard, for they are of their own invention, they being at the present time sole patentees and manufacturers thereof. The specialty of the Sweet Brothers is the production of these sleighs, and users ranging from New York to the Rocky Mountains pronounce them without a peer. Eight sizes are made adapted for pleasure or light delivery, farm work or teaming, mining or logging, and for strength, durability and ease of draft appear to have attained the acme of perfection. Besides these, "Sweet's improved freight wagon" meets with extensive sales and receives many eulogies, as do their mining, railroad and mill carts, spring wagons, trucks and drays, buckboards, and lumber buggies. The shops, which are substantially built of stone and brick are 50 by 340 feet in dimensions and find ample and constant employment to between twenty-five and fifty hands, all scrutinizingly supervised by the proprietors in person, who, as above indicated, are thoroughly educated and expert mechanics and ever on the alert to be sure that no poor work, under any circumstances, leaves the establishment which could in the least tend to tarnish the good name they so long have maintained and so zealously guard. In the establishment each have two sons engaged, Waldo and George B., of the former, and Frank H. and Louis E., of the latter. This manufactory is one of the oldest established landmarks of the city and one of the most reputable and enterprising in the west, with a future before it, if based on the liberality and shrewdness characterizing its past history, which is very flattering.

WILLIAM H. WELLS, Proprietor and Conductor Wells' Bank.

Banking institutions in these days of modern inventions, improvements, luxuries, comforts and conveniences are as necessary to the advancement of a city's material interest as this manufacturing institutions which produce so many valuable articles, or the mercantile houses which supply them to the consumer. In view of this fact we deem it advisable and take special pleasure in referring to the above bank, which has been of more practical value to the general interests of the city than similar institutions usually are. Such institutions are in themselves among the most valuable that can be established in any city, and it is absolutely necessary, in view of the severe times through which we have passed since its establishment, that the public should have recorded for their information and reference in a work of this character, those monetary institutions which are sound and on a sure foundation and at the same time not soulless, but as liberal with their patrons as security will permit. This bank is eminently representative of these traits, for from its commencement in May, 1870, it has gained a proud position in this community and secured a line of deposits and depositors larger and of better class than the proprietor and his most intimate friends and well-wishers, of whom he has a small army, ever thought possible at the beginning. It was established, as before stated, in 1870, and since then has constantly been under the personal management of its proprietor, W. H. Wells, and to his praiseworthy attention to its affairs, sound judgment, liberal and accommodating conduct when consistent with security to lender and borrower alike, the unusual success and high standing of the bank is largely due. Caution, liberality and security have been the watchwords of Mr. Wells' management, and we believe we shall be heartily endorsed by the numerous depositors and patrons of the bank when we say that in adopting and strictly adhering to this course for the past nearly eighteen years he has made many lasting friends and customers for the bank, as all feel to have an interest in its affairs, be they borrowers or depositors. Appropos to this we give one out of numerous expressions the writer has heard concerning this bank: “No, I could not, neither would I think of changing my banking house, for Mr. Wells has treated me as a merchant and manufacturer too handsomely, in time of need, to ever leave him.” Such are the expressions often made and they are full of valuable meaning and fully explain themselves. Mr. W. H. Wells has gained his present exalted position by the most persistent labor, keen foresight and personal adaptability to the requirements of a financier. He is a native of Orange county, New York, in which state he had a banking experience covering twenty-one years, which, with that in the city of Fond du Lac, and on the same location, corner of Main and First streets, makes a grand total of nearly forty years. With this fact in view and the unbounded confidence reposed in his personal honor and integrity there is no occasion for any particular surprise to be expressed at the high standing of Wells' bank and its proprietor in the manufacturing, mercantile, monetary and social world.

BROCKER BROS. & HAMMEL, Groceries, Flour, Feed &c.

In all probability Fond du Lac contains a greater number of grocery houses than the majority of cities her size, and some of which are very conspicuous for size and cleanliness and extent of business, while all seem to be in a prosperous condition. One of the leading houses alluded to is that owned and managed by the above named gentlemen at the corner of Western avenue and Morris street. It was established in 1876 by Philip Brocker, father of the present proprietors bearing his name, and conducted under the firm name of P. Brocker & Sons until his demise in 1879, since when it has been successfully owned and managed by Herman and Chas. Brocker until May of the present year. At the date named the firm became Brocker Brothers & Hammel, the latter gentleman having become well and favorably known to our citizens since his retirement from business in Chicago in 1886, and where he terminated a long business career after amassing a comfortable competency. He is father-in-law of Mr. Chas. Brocker, and this fact and the fact of the financial standing and adaptability of each to the affairs of their establishment induces a harmony not always witnessed. Since the formation of the partnership an additional store has been erected, and now the combined frontage occupied measures forty-eight by seventy feet, two stories and basement, and known as Nos. 54 and 56 Western avenue. Here is transacted a very gratifying trade in each of their departments, which include family groceries, farm produce, provisions, butter and eggs, fruits and vegetables, crockery and flour and feed, the latter articles at wholesale and retail. By unremitting attention to the affairs of the stores they have secured a very large and lucrative trade and command a good name and valuable commercial record in the business world. "Standard goods" is their motto, and while this is tenaciously adhered to yet their prices are consistent with reasonableness, while orders are promptly delivered to all parts of the city free of charge, they having two fine delivery wagons for that purpose. The Bocker brothers are natives of Fond du Lac, and this, with their urbanity, enterprise and liberality toward all valuable undertakings for the city's advancement, has helped to swell the army of customers who throng their store. The BROCKER BROTHERS herein named are also allied with their brother Henry in the manufacture of common and pressed brick and drain tile, they being owners of the oldest and largest works of the kind in the city, out of which issue a very fine class of manufactures which may be seen in many prominent structures of the vicinity, including the county insane asylum and their own double store.

D. H. SMALLEY & CO., School Furniture and Supplies.

One of the prominent, beneficial and important businesses to the interests of the city and those using its wares is the above, the principal management of which devolves upon the senior member. The facilities it possesses are equal to any other house of its kind while the character of the members of the firm average higher than many who make larger pretensions. This is as important an item in the school supplies business as the quality of the articles dealt in. D. H. Smalley is well known throughout this vicinity and state, and wherever known is recognized as a gentleman of sterling qualities and is acknowledged well qualified for the line in which he is engaged. He has been at the business in Fond du Lac since 1878, previous to which he had resided in Sheboygan county from 1854, and was there engaged in teaching for a number of years. Being located in this city where shipping facilities are unsurpassed to almost any point where schools are established, he secures the best rates obtainable, and being in a position to secure the most favorable contracts with prominent manufacturers in Chicago and the East, he is enabled to supply the necessary articles for the school room equal in quality and practical utility to the foremost dealers and in many cases at a considerable reduction in price. While D. H. Smalley & Co. manufacture and deal in all kinds of school supplies, yet there are a few articles that deserve more than a passing notice and of which we desire to call the special attention of all those who are interested, and those interested include every parent. These are the “New Chief” school desk and seat, which for beauty of design, strength, convenience, comfort and durability is said to be by those who have purchased and are using them the peer of any in the market and to excel the majority of those now used in the school room. Johnston’s series of maps, which are always revised to date and considered the leading maps of the world, “Champion Material” for blackboards equal to slate, at one-fifth the cost, a full line of blanks for teachers and school officers, most of which are of the firm’s own manufacture and strictly conform to the latest school laws, are also among the articles largely handled by this house, in fact, everything pertaining to schools and their conductors. There is no house of the kind that we know of that stands higher for business integrity than this and none that handles superior articles in their line or gives better inducements to purchasers. In view of this it will be to the interest of those districts needing school supplies to confer with D. H. Smalley & Co., who will promptly respond to all enquiries.

BARTLETT & CARSTENS, Practical and Leading Butchers.

Every city the size and importance of this has its full complement of meat markets, and to this rule Fond du Lac is no exception. While this city has quite a number of these necessary business places, yet a few of them are of more than ordinary prominence. We do not alone allude to prominence in their extensive and extraordinarily attractive quarters, but to what is of equal or more real practical value to the consumer, a thorough knowledge of the business by the proprietors, which is a requisite qualification toward securing the better kind of flesh food, and the extensive trade controlled. Among these establishments, whose reputation and prominence stand high, is that owned and very creditably conducted by the above named gentlemen, whose advent to Fond du Lac dates from 1855 and 1865 respectively. The business was established by the first named in 1861, and since 1870 the two have been in partnership, and it is safe to say without any undue eulogy that Bartlett & Carstens command a wholesale, retail and shipping trade not excelled by any other similar firm in the state. While they are no respecters of persons in regard to selling their meat, yet among their numerous patrons are many of our leading and most wealthy citizens, who know from experience that by going to their market they can depend on getting choice cuts of beef, mutton, pork, veal, hams, sausage and butter and eggs, for which they have gained a good name. Quality has always been one of the first considerations with the firm, and this coupled with fair dealing and a liberality equal to that of any house in the city, has gained them many lasting and valuable customers, including the Palmer House and Windsor. This goes to prove the quality of meats killed and exposed for sale, and the career of two of our most successful, industrious, energetic and liberal butchers. We say butchers, advisedly, for each was trained to the business from youth up, Chas. B. Bartlett having learned the trade in Cattaraugus county, N. Y., his native place, previous to coming here in 1855, A. L. Carstens serving an apprenticeship to the same in Germany previous to his advent to Fond du Lac in 1865. They are located at 545 Main street in their own beautiful and substantial marble front building, and we are free to confess it is one of the best arranged, neatest, cleanest and most convenient structures ever occupied by this business and a credit to the enterprising and wide-awake proprietors. Besides this partnership C. B. Bartlett is an extensive hay presser and shipper and has held many offices of public trust with rare executive ability and fidelity. Among these are that of alderman, county superintendent of poor, county purchasing agent, and is at the present writing serving a second term as register of deeds, his son Frank A. Bartlett being his well-liked and efficient deputy. The members of the firm of Bartlett and Carstens stand high in the community, socially and financially, and hold a prominent place as liberal and enterprising citizens. To such men our western cities owe much of their prosperity.

THE HUBER BROTHERS, Wholesale and Retail Druggists.

In all cities the size of Fond du Lac we find several very fine and leading pharmacies, notwithstanding which we do not find one which stands out as prominently as that of The Huber Brothers' double store located at 450 and 452 Main street. It not alone stands out prominently in its size and elaborate arrangement, but no less so in the position it has attained for completeness in every appointment. The aim of the proprietors has always been to be abreast with the times in the advancement of their profession, and no matter what important new drug or medicine may be introduced in the market it may invariably be found in their mammoth store. The thousand and one articles ordinarily kept in a first-class drug house may every day be found here, as well as many not found in all pharmacies. Through adhering to this course very tenaciously for the past twenty-three years, the time that J. C. Huber, the senior member of the firm, established the business, the present time finds the incorporated firm honorably and honestly ranking with the foremost pharmacists in the west, with a constantly enlarging trade, whose customers have a remarkable amount of confidence in the quality and variety of their articles, and their caution, ability and integrity. This position and standing has been attained by unremitting attention to the conduct of the store and business, as well as to customers' welfare, and their retail, wholesale and manufacturing departments are, as a consequence, in a flourishing state. In addition to handling and selling all kinds of drugs and medicines, toilet and fancy articles, wall paper and decorations, toys, oils, glass, books and stationery, their stores are headquarters for strictly pure ground mustard, spices, powdered roots, barks, herbs and seeds. THE HUBER & FUHRMAN DRUG MILLS also occupy a very prominent position in the markets of the country, which position has been secured by putting up strictly pure goods from their start in 1871, and in a very attractive and unique manner. They were started by J. C. Huber, and to his probity and well known integrity during his thirty-eight years' residence in this vicinity much of their success has been due. He is at the present time president and secretary of the institution, while Mr. J. C. Fuhrman is the indefatigable treasurer and manager, and under their united control are prosperous and bid fair to become the leading mills of their kind in the country at no distant day.

O. E. PRITCHARD & SONS, Grocers and Coffee Roasters.

In its truest sense money does not make prominence even in this world, where, too often, the aim is to secure affluence from a money standpoint. True prominence consists of personal honor and integrity in business dealings, and these traits are very perceptible in the majority of Fond du Lac's business men. And while this is a fact, yet to be fair in our comments, we have to, and take pleasure in recording the fact, that no house occupies a higher position or stands out more prominently for those traits which make up the sum total of actual prominence than O. E. Pritchard & Sons. The house has been established some ten or a dozen years, and through the very reputable manner in which it has been conducted in its minutest details has succeeded in establishing a mercantile name worthy of emulation, and a trade that fully equals and even surpasses many making larger pretensions. They are located at the corner of Arndt and Brooke streets and conduct one of the most attractively arranged grocery houses in the city. While it is never overstocked, so that goods accumulate and become stale, yet it is filled with a great variety of goods, including everything denominated family groceries, as well as crockery, flour, feed, fruits and vegetables. Added to these is also a steam coffee roasting department, the only one in the city, and besides roasting daily the immense quantities of this delicious breakfast beverage which they themselves dispose of, roast for other dealers. The firm is composed of Owen E., William O. and J. E. Pritchard, father and two sons, and it is but just to say that they conduct this grocery with commendable promptitude and harmony. The father is a native of Llanbedrcoch (if that can be pronounced), Wales, from whence he came to this country in 1854, to Oshkosh the following year and in 1865 to this city. He is a practical carpenter and worker in wood and for twenty years was engaged by the C. & N.-W. Ry. Co. Since his connection with the mercantile business many of his former admiring associates have extended him their patronage, and they have not been disappointed in securing the best and freshest goods in the market at the most moderate prices, consistent with a "live and let live" policy. In cleanliness, system and inviting arrangement, the store of O. E. Pritchard & Sons is admirable, while each of the proprietors merit the large custom enjoyed for their affability, integrity, liberality and enterprise displayed. A verbal or telephonic order will always be promptly attended to and delivered to any part of the city with fidelity.

W. H. POST, "An Extensive Merchant."

One of the most wonderfully successful and extensive merchants and traders we have ever met during our long publishing career is W. H. Post, whose well known motto is, "Post buys everything you have to sell and sells everything you have to buy." As we have during the past twenty years commented on him, his store and business career, we shall be pardoned for giving another brief notice of his beginning and present position. He is a native of Orleans county, New York, from whence he migrated to the town of Metomen, Fond du Lac county, in 1850. Since that date he has continuously resided in this vicinity, been engaged in various businesses and in 1867 embarked in selling groceries, furniture, boots, shoes, etc., on Division street, this city. From time to time thereafter he enlarged his stock and increased the number of articles dealt in until they were so numerous he had to seek larger quarters. These were furnished by his building a double store at 616 and 618 Main street, and even this soon became too cramped for his ever increasing business and enlarged stock. Some two years ago he erected his present mammoth store at 18 Fourth street, and which contains twenty-seven different departments, and is popularly known as "Post's Fair." Besides this he has numerous residences and real estate in all parts of the city and has valuable bargains in "Post's Fair" in the various departments where hosts of people from far and near take the advantage and benefit of purchasing. He buys in immense quantities for cash every description of property, and it may be well to state that "The Fair" is devoted to new goods and the double stores on Main street to second-hand. W. H. Post has placed himself in good circumstances financially and has been of large benefit to the community at the same time, from the fact that he has found employment for many hands and bought all kinds of goods from any person who has for various causes wanted to dispose of them quickly. To-day "Post's Fair" is one of the largest and best known institutions in Wisconsin, while its energetic, shrewd and pushing owner (including his wife) is one of the most enterprising of our merchants. As before stated, he owns large quantities of realty and has money to loan in any amount, and whatever a person has to trade off or sell or may want to buy he can always find the individual sought for in W. H. Post. His trade in furniture, carpets, stoves, tinware, jewelry, sporting goods, hardware, harness, musical instruments, wagons and carriages, real estate, farm implements, sewing machines, etc., etc., is conducted at wholesale and retail and his aggregate business, judging from the number of people flocking to his place, and the extensive shipments and deliveries made, must foot many thousands of dollars per annum. One feature of his business is worth special mention, and that is in furnishing residences complete and ready for housekeeping, either for cash or on weekly or monthly payments, which is of great advantage to the person of moderate means and is eagerly sought by numerous people.

HABERKORN'S Merchant Tailoring Establishment.

How often we are deceived or at least disappointed by patronizing a person claiming to understand a certain business or that he is a superior workman, when in a short time we find that he understands the same but imperfectly and is only a very ordinary workman. This no doubt has been the experience of all men to a greater or less degree and most fortunate of all is he whose experience with this class is of the lesser magnitude. As a rule it is far better and more satisfactory and economical in the long run to patronize those dealers and merchants who are practical in their line, thoroughly understand their business and are personally honorable, even if we have to pay a trifle higher at the start for any article we may purchase. The merchant tailoring business is no exception to the value of pursuing this course, and in view of this fact we take pleasure in noticing in this part of our work a representative house in this line. We allude to Haberkorn's merchant tailoring establishment and gents' furnishing goods store at 431 Main street. It is one of the more notable and leading houses of its kind in this neighborhood, and justly holds a position in its line second to but few in the country for honest goods at very little higher prices than one-half of those often charged in the larger cities. In fact it is a thoroughly first-class house and is prepared at all times to produce gentlemen's garments that have no superior for the wearing qualities of material, style, cut, fit or workmanship. It is in every way a first-class and artistic merchant tailoring establishment, its principal dealings being in the best qualities of imported and domestic cloths. These are bought of leading and reliable importing and manufacturing firms, and while their cost made up into exquisite wearing apparel is somewhat higher than inferior stock, fit and workmanship, yet in the satisfaction given the wearer, the length of time it continues to look well and its durability, is much cheaper. While it would not be wise policy for the worst paid laboring class to purchase this kind of clothing, yet for those whose business or profession will permit or may demand the finer kind of garments, at the very lowest prices cash and reasonable profits will admit, this is one of the very best places hereabouts at which to trade. The Haberkorn house is never exorbitant in its charge, but believes that "a servant is worthy of his hire" and pays the twelve or fifteen workmen employed fair wages and charges patrons accordingly. Mr. John Haberkorn, the manager and founder of the house in 1866, is a practical tailor and cutter, and his forty years of experience has qualified him for the position he occupies. He has resided in Fond du Lac since 1855, and during the past thirty-two years has made many friends and secured a host of customers for the house both in this vicinity and afar off to whom clothing is shipped. Louis H. Haberkorn, son of the manager, ably assists in the conduct of the business and is growing in favor among customers for his artistic cutting qualifications.

ANDREW PAYNE, First-class Livery and Feed Stables.

Livery stables are among the very necessary and convenient establishments of every well-regulated city, and if conducted by reputable and systematic persons usually receive an abundant patronage. The above named gentleman exactly fills these conditions, and the result has been for years past a gratifying patronage extended and a corresponding satisfaction given. (In view of this we will give a brief account of his career and growth to his present position and standing. Andrew Payne is a native of England, having been born February 11th, 1815, and is one of the best preserved business men in the state for one of his age. He came to the United States in the year 1830, and to Sheboygan county in 1846, where he engaged in the mercantile line at Sheboygan Falls and Sheboygan City, and there continued until 1861. In the latter year he moved to Fond du Lac, having traded a stock of goods for his present stables, which, however, he sold out five years later and embarked in the trunk, leather, satchel, valise and robe trade, which he continued until 1874. In 1875 he opened livery stables on Forest street with an entirely new outfit, which he conducted with his usual success until August, when he purchased his original stables, including the ground thereof, and moved his stock thereto. These rank among the finest stables in the state, but the point in which the public is most interested is that they are among the best, cleanest and most reputably conducted as well. They are at 14, 16 and 18 E. First street and cover sixty by one hundred and twenty feet and contain fifteen or sixteen head of the better class of stock, and a greater number of the different kind of vehicles, including three very fine hacks in charge of careful drivers, which carry passengers from all trains to any part of the city for twenty-five cents. Everything about the stables is neat, clean and inviting, so that a lady or gentleman can go thereto without feeling any delicacy as is so often the case in regard to these establishments. As a consequence of the above, and Mr. Payne's well-known integrity, affability and promptness in business affairs, these stables meet with excellent patronage. Besides supplying everything pertaining to the business in good taste and shape, yet his charges are less than at similar places in other cities we know of, but he believes in low and fair prices to prompt paying patrons, rather than higher charges to some others. By adopting and adhering to this course he is looked upon as a leading liveryman, and has hosts of friends in this section of country where he has been favorably known since 1846.

E. A. KEITH, First-class Family Grocer.

Classed among the neat, cleanly and inviting grocery and provision establishments of Fond du Lac is that owned and conducted by the above named gentleman, located at No. 514 Main street. It is also one of the most liberally conducted and enterprising, consequently one of the most successful, for true liberality is, in our opinion, a sure forerunner of success. His liberality is seen in the size, elaborateness and fine arrangement of his store, and no less in these matters than in the completeness of the stock found therein, and the uniformly moderate charges exacted for the same. By pursuing this course from the start he has secured a flourishing trade, and to-day commands numerous customers, whose number is constantly augmenting. This is of advantage to the proprietor and gratifying to his many friends, of which E. A. Keith can boast of a small army. This is all accounted for in the fact that he is a native of Fond du Lac and being endowed with a liberal supply of common sense and good judgment, and having earned a commendable personal record for sterling integrity, his life-long acquaintances take pleasure in extending to him their patronage. Patrons are also equally benefitted, for they receive the most courteous treatment, and what is of equal importance secure the best goods in the market, not at cost, but at a small marginal profit over their cost to himself. His specialties are fancy groceries, foreign and domestic fruits, teas and coffees, and these articles comprise the standard goods in the market and may be relied on as being as fresh as circumstances will permit. All the goods in his store were fresh and new the 25th of August, 1885, the time he opened and announced that he was prepared to receive the favor of orders from the consuming public, and since then they have largely been kept in the same condition by his excellent trade and the necessity arising therefrom of making frequent purchases. This is one of the leading first-class grocery houses of the city, while its proprietor is one of the energetic and reliable native residents thereof, both being esteemed highly and rank among the leading business establishments and citizens of the "Fountain City" of Wisconsin.

M. WAGNER & CO., Prominent Dry Goods Merchants.

Ever since the establishment of the above firm in 1878, it has from the start held a leading position in its line of trade, and at this writing, ranks among the comparatively few systematically conducted dry goods houses of this vicinity. During its career the management of the house has devolved upon Mr. Mathias Wagner, and his industrious habits, his thorough devotion to every trivial detail of its affairs, his adaptability to the business engaged in, his twenty-eight years' experience in handling and selling dry goods, his undoubted integrity and his uniformly moderate prices charged have been rewarded by an unusually gratifying trade. And this trade is secured from far and near and among all classes and nationalities of people, for he has the faculty of making everybody, rich and poor, young and old, feel at home in his store. While this is a valuable feature in the daily affairs of business life, yet customers have the assurance that whatever they may purchase of M. Wagner & Co. will be found as represented and that prices will be in accordance with the quality of goods, whether patrons know their value or not. This is one of the leading traits, to our mind, in the merchant's character, which is certain to reap its reward in a remunerative trade. The public like to find a reliable merchant, and as a general thing are satisfied that he should make a fair profit on investment and services rendered. By steadfastly adhering to this rule, since beginning, he has secured a prominent position and the house of Wagner & Co. stands in the front rank for business transacted and mercantile probity. They have an elaborate store at 528 Main street, the whole of which is occupied by themselves, the first floor to general dry goods, fancy goods and notions and the upper floor to cloaks, shawls, curtains and upholstery goods. Throughout the whole establishment order and system prevail to a conspicuous degree and the dozen clerks employed move about with the air of well trained individuals who are masters of their calling. The stock is full and complete and very diversified and embraces every article known to the trade from the finest to the medium grades, while the manner in which the goods are displayed to the purchasers' view is indicative of praiseworthy taste. Mr. Wagner came to Fond du Lac in 1856 and three years later began to sell dry goods, and as before stated, started on his own account in 1878. During his career in this city he has made many warm personal friends, which, together with his financial means, excellent business qualifications, vim, energy and rigid integrity, has secured for him a leading position in the community as citizen and merchant.

H. G. DeSOMBRE, A Leading Jeweler.

One of the most conspicuous examples of what persistent energy in the line of trade of which we may be master, is to be found in the success and prominent position occupied by the above named gentleman. He is a native of Germany, but came to this country at an early age with his parents, their advent to Fond du Lac dating from the year 1856. Ever since that date the family has been favorably known to our citizens for uprightness, and each member thereof has been successful to more than an average extent. The above named gentleman, however, is the person on whom we commenced to make our remarks, therefore will say that he went to his present business in 1862, after learning which he started on his own account in 1867. At this time he was one of the very youngest business men in the city, but as before remarked his close attention to the same and knowledge thereof have brought a success that is a compliment to his business ability. He is now located at 482 Main street, which has been a jewelry stand for many years past, and has the proud satisfaction of owning and conducting one of the most elaborate establishments of the kind in the west. Having a life-long knowledge of the business, attending very assiduously to its conduct personally, and withal being economical in his personal expenses, he is enabled by pursuing this course to sell his wares at very close figures, a point he prides himself on doing. This, no doubt, is one of the cardinal reasons for his rather unprecedented achievements as a leading jeweler, and yet we must not overlook the fact that in addition to this he has the advantage of keeping the goods the people want. These consist of American and foreign gold and silver watches in different grades to suit the purses of all classes, jewelry from the finest to medium, silver and plated ware of the best makes, spectacles from leading houses, fancy goods in admirable design and large variety, and a general stock of musical instruments. Out of this stock the person of moderate or abundant means can find what they want, and judging from prices asked, Milwaukee and Chicago can therein be discounted. Being a practical watchmaker and jeweler of twenty-five years experience, he also gives close attention to repairing and adjusting all kinds of timepieces from the common "verge" to the finest chronometer, his patronage in this department proving his competency as does his large trade his moderate prices. Besides attending to his store and its business he is called upon by his constituents to serve them in an official capacity in the common council, and the manner in which he serves them and discharges his onerous duties reflect credit on his liberality towards the welfare and best interests of the city. At the present time he is the indefatigable alderman from the eighth ward, the spring of 1888 witnessing the completion of his sixth year in said position, and two years president of the council. He also served as member of the board of education in 1882, and is now president of that body by virtue of his aldermanic position.

A. G. BECHAUD & BROS., "Empire Brewery," Established 1871.

In this world of constant changes some remarkable transformations are observed, the rich become poor, the poor become rich, the weak become strong, the strong weak, and the persons of few advantages in due time become possessors of competencies and prominent in the manufacturing and commercial world. These thoughts engrossed our attention on our recent visit to the Empire Brewery, owned and operated by those genial Bechaud Brothers, Adolph G., John B. and Frank H. They came to this vicinity with their parents from Germany in 1852 and for years thereafter experienced many of the hardships and privations endured by the majority of pioneers. But at this comparatively early day and in their youth they possessed the germs of success, for they were upright, laborious and honorable. These traits became pronounced in each of the gentlemen named at an early age and as they entered man's estate they were well known and had gained large acquaintance and many friendships. When the war broke out the first two enlisted in the service of their adopted country, serving four and two years each in the Thirteenth Illinois Cavalry and the First Michigan Cavalry, respectively, the former being mustered out as captain. In 1871 A. G. Bechaud became owner of the brewery and the following year was joined by his two brothers, already named, and now the three are owners and managers thereof. From the very start they determined to succeed, and by producing a fine beverage and applying themselves unremittingly to its affairs, secured a good name and trade, and brought the Empire Brewery to a point of prominence in its line seldom, if ever, excelled. For sixteen years they have worked together with singular harmony and brotherly good feeling and have placed themselves above want and in good circumstances, not only owning this establishment but much other choice and valuable property. Notwithstanding this fact they have met with some reverses, one of which was in the burning of the brewery in January, 1883. Nothing daunted by this mishap, they immediately began to rebuild and laid their plans for a larger, better and more convenient structure than ever before, and since completion has yielded a better quality of beer than ever before, good as it was always claimed the Bechaud's made previously. The brewery is constructed of brick and stone, and is in dimensions 80 by 120 feet, two stories high and contains cellarage, ice and malt houses of the most substantial built, convenience and adaptability for their respective purposes. Some ten thousand barrels per annum is the amount disposed of in this vicinity, most of which goes to dealers, but no inconsiderable quantity to private families in bottled form. The latter article is bottled by themselves, they having a steam bottling establishment in connection with the brewery. Taken altogether, the Bechaud's own and conduct one of the finest breweries in the west, from whence issues lager beer equal to any made on this continent and stand among the most extensive manufacturers of this vicinity, the staunchest business men and most liberal and enterprising citizens. The headquarters and office are at their sample rooms, 435 Main street, where orders may be left with Frank H. Bechaud, who is in charge, the brewing devolving on John B. and general management on Adolph G.

C. H. MARSHALL'S "Leading Pharmacy."

One of the oldest drug stores in this vicinity, indeed, if not the oldest and one of the most central and best known, is that now owned by the above named gentleman at 486 Main street. It was established some thirty years ago and came into his hands by purchase in April, 1882, and shortly thereafter L. J. Remington, a pharmacist of ten years varied experience, became its manager, since when he has become popular and a large patronage extended to the store. This arises from the financial means of the owner which enable him to buy in immense quantities, thereby saving quite a percentage, and in the admirable manner in which the pharmacy and its affairs are conducted. By the pursuance of this course customers reap an advantage in securing the article they purchase at a minimum cost, while the quality is a feature in which the management takes pride. The stock carried is unusually large for a city the size of Fond du Lac and embraces drugs and medicines in full variety, paints, oils, glass, wall paper, borders and decorations, toilet and fancy goods, perfumeries, plain and fancy stationery, gold pens and cutlery, artists' materials and many novelties found only in first-class stores of this character. Mr. C. H. Marshall, besides owning this establishment, is engaged in the manufacture of mixed, paste, floor and roofing paints, and his store is headquarters for these goods as well as for M. W. Marshall's proprietary medicines which have been before the public for over a quarter of a century, the manufactory of which is on Oak street. By referring to the advertisement of C. H. Marshall in this directory many of the names of these medicines will be found, and we may add, judging from their extensive demand and great popularity, must be appropriate to the purposes for which they are compounded. As a further evidence of this fact, we learn that they are holding their old-time place in demand and public estimation, notwithstanding several unprincipled persons have attempted to counterfeit them, and no worthless goods are counterfeited. Therefore, in securing supplies at Marshall's pharmacy the "only genuine" will be secured and no disappointment follow. Since 1856 C. H. Marshall has resided in this vicinity, and we venture the assertion that but few if any citizen is better known and none possess a greater amount of genuine energy, push and enterprise. In view of the foregoing facts the public will perceive that by ordering their supplies in the drug, medicine, wall paper, fancy and toilet goods line of him they will secure what they are seeking, namely, choice quality at fair prices. "The Central Prescription Drug Store" may be found at 486 Main street, and the genial and competent pharmacist, L. J. Remington, ever ready to politely fill your orders.

HELMER & COOKE, Fond du Lac Roller Flour Mills.

Fond du Lac has quite a number of manufacturing industries which are a credit to their founders and conductors, of material benefit to the interests of the city and citizens, and in which all the inhabitants ought to take pains in building up. One of these is the Fond du Lac steam roller flour mills of Helmer & Cooke, located on Fourth street, near Main. They are among the most perfectly arranged and solidly constructed we ever had the pleasure of inspecting and have the double advantage of producing flour equal to any made and at a minimum cost. The mills were erected and began operations in the spring of 1883 and since then have gained a popularity never before excelled. They are substantially built of brick, with stone basement, their dimensions being 36 by 60 feet and virtually four stories high, the design of the whole structure presenting a very handsome and attractive appearance. The ground owned and occupied has a frontage on Fourth street of 120 feet and extends through the block to Fifth, thus giving Helmer & Cooke every convenience necessary and one of the choicest pieces of property in the city. The equipments and economical conveniences of the mills humanly speaking, are perfect and partake of the valuable features of the leading mills of the country, with a number of practical suggested ones of the owners. Nothing appears to have been left undone that would in any way add to economy in time or the production of the very best grade of manufactures. There are eleven sets of rolls and two of burrs, ten of the former being devoted to flour and one to feed, while one of the latter is also kept busy grinding feed and the other rye and buckwheat. A beautiful seventy-five horse power engine and magnificent boiler furnish the motive power, while from one of the finest artesian wells in this city of wonderful and numerous wells and fountains, the establishment is supplied with water. The whole equipment from basement to attic in fact, is composed of the latest demonstrated valuable machinery in the market. This largely accounts for the success of the firm during the past four or five years. But this is not all, for the practical knowledge of the proprietors of this business, has also added its quota to this success. The two combined, namely, one of the best arranged and equipped modern mills in the country and the manufacturing ability of the owners and managers, have resulted in producing brands of flour having no superior on the market and which meet with an immense sale, principally in this vicinity. These include “Fancy Patent,” “Glory” and “Straight,” and Helmer & Cooke’s record is such that when they say “straight,” straight is meant every time. The firm comprises O. L. Helmer, a resident of this county since 1855 and a flour manufacturer and merchant of the city since 1871, and C. S. Cooke, a native of Neenah, Wis., and where he had been brought up to the milling business and is said to be an expert miller. Mr. Helmer takes general management in purchases and sales, Mr. Cooke attending to manufacturing, and under their combined management the “Fond du Lac Roller Mills” rank high for products and commercial standing.

D. D. TRELEVEN & CO., Leading Butchers.

An establishment that sustains a prominent position in its special line is that owned and ably conducted by the above firm, consisting of D. D. Treleven and John E. Holland. It was established in 1866, under the firm name of Chandler & Co., the first named of the present firm being the company. Continuing thus, until about 1873, the firm changed to its present name, and during the past fourteen years has been principally in charge of the junior member, Mr. Holland. Under his management the house does a very gratifying trade, and this results from his more than ordinary close application to its affairs, and the fact of the facilities enjoyed by the senior member in furnishing cattle, as he is a large farmer and stock dealer. Besides selling all kinds of flesh food they deal quite extensively in lard, butter and eggs, and are largely engaged in packing pork and beef. From raising and buying to killing and selling, the firm has all the advantages of the leading butchers, and in view of this they can and do give customers valuable inducements in choice meats and reasonable prices. In addition to their home trade, D. D. Treleven & Co. ship considerable dressed meat north, and also do considerable in that quarter in beef and pork of their own packing. In all, they average some four beeves, fifteen to eighteen sheep, six to eight hogs, and five or six calves per week, and give the best of satisfaction to their many customers. As stated, the firm is composed of D. D. Treleven and John E. Holland, and but few gentlemen are better known in this neighborhood than they. The former has resided hereabouts since 1843, and the latter, who is a native of Sheboygan county, has been in his employ and partnership for the past twenty-two years. Mr. Treleven is also of the firm of Allen & Treleven, merchant millers, a wool merchant, farmer, stock dealer, general trader, and one of the best circumstanced, financially, of any of our old settlers and respected business men.

O'CONNOR BROTHERS, "The Artesian Well Contractors."

The business of the above firm was established by the late Cornelius O'Connor, father of the present proprietors, in 1867, and during the twenty years of its existence has become so extensive over a wide area that orders are usually in advance of their ability to fill them at the moment that may be desirable. This rush of business comes to them from many distant points as well as this vicinity, where the O'Connor's have bored the majority of the deep wells, and given excellent satisfaction. They possess all the necessary apparatus for their calling, and this includes the most modern and expeditious extant. All kinds and sizes of wells, from a five inch bore upwards, are made by them, and whatever they undertake have the repute of doing in a workmanlike and satisfactory manner. Among the contracts executed we could name hundreds, but have not space at our command, neither do we think it necessary, as their record is so firmly established. The following, however, are worthy of special notice, and go to prove that the O'Connor's are masters of their important business. These are the wells for the Fond du Lac Water Company, the Appleton Water Works, the City of Sheboygan, the famous mineral well at Sheboygan Falls, for H. Giddings, the Keller Chair Co. of Sheboygan, for Konrad Schreier, the brewer of Sheboygan, William Sheibe, the brewer of Centerville, Wis.; the Oshkosh Water Works, C., M. & St. P. R., Milwaukee, L. S. & W. R. R. Co., C. & N. W. R. R. Co., Phoenix Chair Co., Sheboygan; Fox River Flour and Paper Co., Appleton, Wis.; Depere Water Works, Depere, Wis.; and for Hon. Chas. J. L. Meyer,

M. D. Moore, La Belle Wagon Works, Hon. Alex. McDonald, and many other prominent and wealthy gentlemen of Fond du Lac. At the present time O'Connor Brothers are engaged on several other deep wells, which include one for William Gilbert, of Menasha, Wis., for his print and book paper mill, one for the Wisconsin Central Line, at Ashland, Wis., which, if they are successful in finding the right kind of water, will open up an immense business for them in that territory. They have also a contract with Geo. C. Morgan, waterworks contractor and hydraulic engineer, of room 15, Major Block, Chicago, for boring a well at Stoughton, Wis., where he has the commission for furnishing that place with waterworks. The above is sufficient to establish the claim of O'Connor Brothers of not only being practical well borers, but as responsible contractors and business men. For further information in regard to this business all enquiries will be promptly answered by addressing them at 460 Main street, Fond du Lac, Wis., in care of Hughes & Otis, the hardware merchants.

HENRY P. KUICKS, Grocer and Provision Merchant.

In commenting on the varied interests and business houses of Fond du Lac, we have to name some which are conducted by old settlers, who are old in age, and on many who are comparatively young in years, yet old citizens and business men. One belonging the latter class is Henry P. Kuicks, the gentleman whose name heads this notice, and who ranks with those who have resided in the city from its organization. He is a native of Fond du Lac, having grown up to manhood with the city's growth, and although only thirty-six years of age, and without having had extraordinary pecuniary advantages, ranks at this writing with the leading mercantile representatives of the city of his birth. Nine years ago he engaged in the grocery and provision business, previous to which he had been in the employ of the C. & N. W. Ry. Co., as machinist for five years, and since commencement has been gratifyingly prosperous. This prosperity has not come without seeking and a struggle, but has been gained by indomitable perseverance and adaptability to the line he embarked in, worthy of the highest commendation. From the start his aim has been promptitude in the most trivial affairs connected with his business, and dealing only in those goods which his conscientiousness could honestly recommend to customers, and the result is, that thereby he has placed himself among the leaders of his class. His store is at 77 Forest, corner of Brooke street, and is one of the exceptionally attractive grocery houses of the city. The stock carried therein is admirably displayed, and everything about the premises bears the stamp of system, cleanliness and order, while the articles exposed for sale are of the best brands. A few minutes' observation in the store yields convincing proof of the character of his trade, for orders are numerous, and come principally from the better class of citizens. This is positive proof of his personal merit, which is exhibited in the quality of goods, full weight given, and his honorable business method. Whatever adds to the best interests of his business and customers' satisfaction he speedily adopts, as may be seen in the large variety of goods dealt in and the telephone, No. 19, in his store. Besides conducting his private business with success, he finds time to assist in the management of the city's affairs, and in 1883 and 1884 served the people in the common council, and is now a member of the board of education. It is not too much to say that H. P. Kuicks owns and manages one of the leading grocery houses in the city, and is one of the most enterprising and reputable merchants of Fond du Lac.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF FOND DU LAC.

It is absolutely necessary, in times such as we are now passing, and especially have passed through, that the public should have pointed out those monetary institutions which are sound and on a sure foundation, and in order to arrive at an intelligent conclusion in regard to the soundness of any such establishment, one of the first and most important things to be considered is as to how the managers and proprietors have conducted their own affairs. If, after due consideration, we find these managers men of reputation and well-trying character, who have managed their own affairs with large success, then we may reasonably conclude that they are the best persons in any community to care for others' funds and watch over depositors' interests with scrutinizing caution and care. In view of this fact we would say that among the solid, responsible and well-managed institutions of the kind stands the First National Bank of Fond du Lac, which has been organized since December, 1864, as No. 555, but whose foundations were laid in January, 1855. At the latter date the "Bank of the Northwest" was established, and the First National Bank is its successor, the present responsible president and cashier having been connected with it from its organization, and from May of 1855 respectively. Since its organization it has been managed with acknowledged and signal ability, and while liberal to worthy customers, still no one is allowed favors unless perfectly responsible. This is how it should be, for bankers handling public funds ought to be fully satisfied of the character of their borrowers and their securities in order to preserve their own assets intact as well as those of their depositors committed to their care for safe keeping. While this course has been rigidly adhered to, yet the officers have been liberal and accommodating to a fault when consistent with security, which course all should be entirely satisfied with. By adopting this policy it has caused greater confidence in the bank, and, as a consequence, it enjoys a fine and strong line of depositors, each of whom is interested in a conservative yet accommodating policy toward customers. The bank building is one of the finest, strongest and most ornate structures in the city, and is supplied with extraordinarily secure vaults and safes, the latter of Herring's well-known burglar proof pattern with time lock, while the $200,000 in capital and surplus makes it a leading institution of its kind. The directors are A. G. Ruggles, E. A. Carey, Chas. Heth, H. D. Hitt and James B. Perry, gentlemen who rank among our oldest and wealthiest citizens.

JACOB THOMSEN, Frescoer, Designer and Decorator.

Probably there is no business that is in greater demand than that of decorating and painting, but nevertheless many cities are unfortunate in not having in their midst gentlemen well qualified for the same and who are by natural talent and practice adapted thereto. In this respect as in so many others, Fond du Lac is fortunate, for she has at least one establishment where anything in the decorator's art can be secured and on the most reasonable terms. We allude to the house of Jacob Thomsen, and are free to confess from our own observation, the word of others and the satisfaction expressed in regard to his work by his patrons that it would be difficult to excel him in his particular calling. Since establishment here he has exhibited much natural skill and ability, and so unobtrusively and unassumingly has he conducted himself and his affairs that his name and record as business man and artist stands on the highest plane. He is a German by birth, and in his native country served a regular apprenticeship at the business in all its details from ordinary house painting to the most artistic graining, paper hanging, decorating and frescoing. After serving out his time he traveled several years and engaged himself to the largest employers in different cities, and thereby had an opportunity of witnessing the various methods adopted by leading decorative houses. In due time, or in 1869, he landed in this county, and the following year in Fond du Lac. The present year, therefore, records his seventeenth since his advent to this city, and it goes without saying that he long ago became a leader in his profession, and at the present time is called upon to perform the greater portion of the finer work of the city. And not only this, but his ability and faithfulness have reached the ears of residents of distant cities, and his skill has been demanded in Oshkosh, Madison and other places in Wisconsin, and even in the great western metropolis, Chicago. This in itself is a high compliment and recommend, but an inspection of his handiwork in the State Capital at Madison, the Northern Hospital at Oshkosh, the court house in this city, as well as the Presbyterian, Methodist and St. Patrick churches and nearly all the finer residences will demonstrate his superior and gratifying workmanship. His taste and judgment in the blending of colors and tints are admirable, while his more than a quarter of a century's practice has made him very proficient. While his attainments are high in his field of operations, yet his charges are, we understand, very moderate for the artistic work performed when compared with his equals in the larger cities. Being a close student of his profession, and subscribing liberally to art journals, he originates numerous designs, many of which are recognized as unexcelled. As a frescoer, designer, decorator, paper hanger, grainer and general painter, Fond du Lac possesses in Jacob Thomsen an artist of merit and ability and a gentleman of undoubted business integrity and commendable enterprise.

ENCKING & RICHTER, Real Estate and Loan Brokers, Abstracts.

For twenty-three years the business of the above named gentlemen has been established, and for just that length of time it has done a large business and been entrusted with many important financial transactions. The business of the firm is very varied, and in each department it holds a leading place among the old established offices of its kind, while each member is peculiarly and particularly adapted to his calling. The office was originally established by C. L. Encking in 1864, Mr. August E. Richter becoming associated nearly three years ago. After saying this much it will be pertinent to here remark that each member is a well-known and old settler, the former since 1852 and the latter, who is a much younger man, some twenty years. During his residence and business career, Mr. Encking has held many public offices of trust and discharged the duties thereof with ability and rigid fidelity. Among these are register of deeds, city comptroller, alderman and supervisor, while Mr. Richter held the position of clerk of the Circuit Court in 1883 and 1884, and during the last day of his official career in this position was admitted to the bar. From the foregoing, any person needing services in this line will at once perceive why Encking & Richter are two of the best adapted gentlemen for their particular business that could be engaged. They are real estate and loan brokers, notaries public, steamship agents, conveyancers, draw deeds, mortgages, leases, powers of attorney, and other legal instruments, search judgments and taxes, and last, though by no means least, have an admirable set of abstract books to all the lands in Fond du Lac county, perfected down to date. In view of this, with the long residence and varied business career of the former and the court and legal experience of the latter, it will be seen that Encking & Richter are well adapted for their position. But above all this, they prefer to be judged by their works, and refer to anybody for whom and with whom they do business as being their best recommend. In conclusion we would say that it would be difficult to find two more genial and enterprising and personally honorable gentlemen than they, or who will attend more faithfully to any business committed to their care.

ARTHUR SCHUSSLER, Agent Jung & Borchert's Lager Beer.

Milwaukee has for many years been recognized as the largest lager beer manufacturing centre of the west, and not only the largest, but her products sustain an equal reputation with the much boasted fine quality that is imported from the continent of Europe. In fact much of that made in Milwaukee finds its way to the latter country and holds an equality with the home production. And why should it not? for, we have the experience, the water and all the new and old methods of manufacture like unto those in the old world and quite a number of inventions, we believe, unknown to them. Among the beer on the market, which is pronounced a superior beverage and which has a wide and high repute, is that manufactured by the Jung & Borchert Brewing Co. at their large establishment in Milwaukee. They have there been established nearly a decade and at the present time produce nearly one hundred thousand barrels per annum, the enormous amount of which is a demonstration of its high quality. This company have an agency and malt house in Fond du Lac, Arthur Schussler being the agent, and judging from the success he has met with since occupying this position, they could not have selected a better representative. He is a native of Oshkosh, but for the past twenty-four years of his life has resided here and was, previous to accepting his present position in 1883, employed in his father's brewery. This brewery and malt house was then leased by the Jung & Borchert Brewing Co., who since that time have manufactured malt therein to the extent of 25,000 to 30,000 bushels per season, thus providing a splendid market for home-grown barley, whose market price they largely control. Since opening here, the business, we learn, has continuously expanded and at the present writing fifty or sixty dealers are supplied from this agency. This is proof positive of the excellence of the Jung & Borchert beer, as Fond du Lac has for many years past enjoyed the reputation for superior lager made at home. While Jung & Borchert brew and dispose of a large quantity of this sparkling beverage, they are recognized as and classed among the liberal and enterprising merchants of the city. And while this is true of them, yet their representative, Arthur Schussler, is one of the most laborious and pushing young business men of Fond du Lac, and enjoys a large friendship as well as secures and holds the patronage of numerous customers.

C. E. ERRARD, "The West Scott Street Grocery Merchant."

There are a few seemingly fortunate tradesmen, whatever their conduct may be, appear to prosper, but we are of the opinion that if this apparent prosperity is scrutinizingly investigated, it will only be prosperity in appearance. Real and lasting prosperity in these days of rush, push and keen competition does not ordinarily come of itself, but only by a patient and long continued perseverance. By adopting this course and practicing reasonable personal economy all persons in the end must necessarily prosper to a greater or less extent. This has been the course pursued by the above named gentleman, and while he may not have amassed a large fortune, as some account large, yet he has placed himself in comfortable circumstances, circumstances which enable him to buy in the right markets at the lowest figures obtainable which in turn allows him to sell at close prices. After many years of devotion to his business he has gained a proud position among the merchants of Fond du Lac and is to-day recognized as a leading tradesman and the leader in the extreme northwest part of the city. Calice E. Errard is a native of Canada and came to this city in May, 1869, and started in business at once, corner of Scott and Mill streets. In 1876 he erected the west half of his double brick store and just ten years later the other half. These premises, whose dimensions are 44 by 60 feet, of brick and two stories high, with fine basement, are occupied by himself and therein is transacted a very gratifying trade among city and country people. Everything in the grocery line, as well as crockery, tinware, nails, ammunition, notions and some hardware may here be found, also flour and feed, in fact, all kinds of food from "that for mankind to that for chickens." His stores are located at the corner of Scott and Temperance streets and are headquarters for farmers in that vicinity. There is no merchant in the city, we believe, who is more reliable than C. E. Errard and none stand higher for personal honor among their fellow citizens. From April, 1883, to the spring of 1885 he served with much acceptance in the city council as alderman, from his own, the sixth ward.

AZRO B. TAYLOR, Stoves, Gas Fitting, Plumbing, Etc.

A. B. Taylor takes rank among our oldest citizens and business men, in fact, his advent to this place ante dates the city's organization three years. He is a native of Vergennes, Addison county, Vermont, from whence he came to Fond du Lac in 1849. Ever since this date he has been in business on his own account and during the thirty-eight years that have elapsed since then he has transacted a vast business. And while he has been doing this he has also been called upon to fill quite a number of public offices, and in each displayed much individual interest and ability in the discharge of the several duties pertaining thereto and gave the best of satisfaction to his constituents. Included in the offices referred to are alderman for ten or twelve years, treasurer of the Agricultural Society for sixteen years, chief fire marshal for sixteen years and connected therewith for over a quarter of a century and supervisor for seven consecutive years. And while speaking of this matter, it is pertinent to here remark that his father, Jared M. Taylor, who located here in 1850, was the first treasurer of the city in 1852, was alderman in 1854, '55, '56 and '58 and in 1861, '64 and '65 served as chief magistrate of the city. When A. B. Taylor came here in 1849 he was a practical worker in tin, copper and iron and since then has exhibited much ability in his line. Besides the manufacture of tin and copper work, guttering, eaves-troughs and cornices, he deals largely in stoves, and gas and steam fitting and plumbing receive prominent attention. In these various lines of his trade no house can excel this in the quality of its work, as its hundreds of patrons will testify. Quality has always been a feature in which the proprietor has prided himself, and the fact that his business extends to surrounding towns proves that this is appreciated. Sewer pipe, cement, stucco and dairy goods may also be secured at his old established house, 533 Main street, where it has been located for over twenty years. All through his long residence and business career, covering a period of thirty-eight years, A. B. Taylor has taken an active and deep personal interest in the advancement of the city's welfare, insomuch that we believe no one man has done or contributed more in money, time and advise than he, according to the means at command.

S. L. CLEMENT'S Livery Stables and Hack Line.

The above named gentleman is a native of Watertown, N. Y., but left there and located in Wisconsin in the year 1856. After being in various places, and engaging in different businesses for some twelve years, he came to Fond du Lac, and since 1868 has been identified with its interests as a citizen and business man. In 1882 he opened his present livery stable and hack line, at the corner of Sheboygan and Portland streets, Palmer House block, purchasing everything at that time new and of the better class. From their start they have enjoyed an excellent business, and at the present time are in a prosperous condition under their wide-awake, affable and attentive founder's immediate and personal management. Being near the above hotel, and within reasonable distance of depots, business places and amusement houses, they are very conveniently located for strangers and home people needing livery, and are near enough to the very center of the city to be accessible for verbal or telephone (No. 98) orders. The stables have some fine equipments, including ten horses, many of the better kind, and a great number of vehicles, from the finest two-seated carriage to the comfortable and well patronized hacks and the ordinary single buggy. These are let at very moderate rates, the proprietor believing in this course, rather than charging exorbitantly, as is often done in similar cities to that of Fond du Lac. Again, as horses must be fed, shod, curried and cleaned, and vehicles bought, repaired, painted, etc., naturally entailing a constant heavy expense, Mr. Clement has adopted the "moderate charge system," in order to, as nearly as possible, do a cash trade, and thereby benefit himself and customers. This course seems to be appreciated by patrons, and is acting beneficially to customer and proprietor. S. L. Clement, who has, as before stated, lived here for the past nineteen years, is well known and very popular, and to this fact, coupled with his reasonable charges and studiously accommodating actions, have brought him a good trade, with bright prospects for a gratifying augment thereto in the future.

CHAS. L. HANDT'S "Pioneer Insurance Agency."

There were in this country during 1886 the enormous sum of one hundred and fifteen million dollars worth of property consumed by fire, hence it will be seen how important is the insurance business to the country in general and the individual property owner in particular. This fact is becoming more and more generally recognized by the careful, prudent and successful merchant and manufacturer, and probably no less so by the small house holder, and while it is fortunate for the insured who pays his small annual premium if he does not encounter loss, yet how much more so when he is overtaken by the raging fire-fiend, and is repaid the amount of his policy by the company in which he was insured. This being true, how necessary it is that policies, be they for large or small amounts, should be written in those companies and by those agents who are financially responsible and reliable, so that, whether sufferers by fire or not, they are always safe. In view of this we are led to say that Fond du Lac has in the above an agency whose record during the past twenty-nine years has been, and is, above reproach, both for the character of the companies represented and the manner in which business has been and is being transacted. The agency was established in 1858, by the late Chas. A. Handt, just ten years after his advent to the city, and whose demise occurred on the 28th May, 1883. Since the latter date it has been owned and managed by his son, Chas. L. Handt, and we feel safe in saying that no man in the city has exhibited more tenacious persistence in this line than he, and to this and his personal integrity and the excellence and high standing of the companies represented much of his success may be attributed. Then again, promptness is a valuable feature, and this is a trait the proprietor is known to possess to a high degree, and which has given him marked prestige. Aside from this individual trait, solidity is a consoling feature to the insured, and a glance at the advertisement of this agency, wherein are quite a number of home and foreign companies represented, with an aggregate capital of millions of dollars, will prove to the wise and shrewd business man and citizen its sterling character. Among these companies are The Insurance Company of North America, whose establishment dates from 1794, and been represented here since 1858; Milwaukee Mechanics', organized in 1852, and represented here twenty-nine years; Fireman's Fund of California, organized in 1863, and represented here since 1869; Concordia of Milwaukee, organized in 1870, and has large assets; Union of California, with a good record of twenty-two years; The Western Assurance of Toronto, organized thirty-six years ago, and stands high among competitors; The City of London, Eng., organized in 1881, yet has an excellent record; and last, though by no means least, the Sun Fire Office of London, Eng., which dates from 1710, and has never yet been found wanting in time of need.

EDSON & SON, Fine Wood Workers, and Edson Ink Co.

This firm is composed of Willard and Solon W. Edson, and takes rank with the oldest business houses of the city, as each member does among the old settlers. They came here in 1854, from Orange county, Vermont, and six years later established their present manufactory, and notwithstanding the fact that they have experienced many mishaps during their twenty-seven years' business career, yet there is no more honorable firm in the city, nor one which has endeavored more faithfully to succeed by integrity and personal industry. Since 1860 they have worked hard and faithfully among many trying difficulties, during which they have met with many financial losses, which for a time have been a source of much annoyance to the firm, and in many ways crippled their business transactions. Then they have passed through periods of depression, when articles in their line were not in extensive demand. Surrounded and envired by these experiences they have gone right along in the even tenor of their honorable course, and 1887 finds them with gratifying prospects in the foreground. The leading features of their business comprehend the manufacture of carpenters' and stair builders' supplies, church, lodge, store and office furniture, cabinet work of all kinds, turning, scroll sawing, machine jobbing and traverse planing, and it goes without saying that work issuing from Edson & Son's factory has no superior either in design, construction or finish, while prices are a little lower than at many other boastful places. Here also is located the EDSON INK COMPANY, of which S. W. Edson is manager. It has been in operation some eight or nine years, and is meeting with deserved success. The inks made have the peculiar recommendation of being "first class," and are known in the market as "Edson's Electric Inks." Whether for ink or anything in the line enumerated in Edson & Son's notice the public cannot find more reliable houses with which to deal or goods that will give more general satisfaction.

JOSEPH PERRIZO, Family Groceries and Provisions.

We shall be borne out by a vast number of people in this vicinity when we say that the above named gentleman is one of the most favorably known of our younger native citizens. Some twenty-nine years ago he was born in the town of Friendship, Fond du Lac county, and has resided in this neighborhood ever since. In 1882 he left the parental farm with all its associations, and came into the city and found employment with The Huber Brothers, wholesale and retail druggists. With them he remained some four years, and it was there he gained so large an acquaintance. In September, 1886, he determined on starting in business for himself, and selected his present stand for that purpose, and, judging from the success attained, acted wisely. This is at 96 W. Johnson, (Rosendale ave.), corner Waupun street, and where one year ago he opened with an entirely new stock of goods. Since then he has succeeded admirably, considering the length of time he has been in business, and his future prospects are encouragingly bright. Here he keeps a full stock of groceries and provisions, and makes a point of keeping a good quality of goods, sell the same at reasonable prices, wait on customers promptly, and deliver orders free of charge when requested. His store is very convenient for the citizens in its neighborhood, and they are showing their appreciation of that and Mr. Perrizo's eagerness to please by extending him a liberal patronage.

STILES & GIVENS CO., Manfg. Pharmacists, STILES & GIVENS.

In 1883 the Stiles & Givens Co. was incorporated with a capital of twenty thousand dollars, and it is not too much to say that but few if any of the many successful manufacturing institutions of Fond du Lac have controlled a more lasting and satisfactory trade. What was at first merely a local trade has so grown as to cover the territory of Wisconsin, northern Illinois and the peninsula of Michigan, while three travelers are to-day employed where one was sufficient at the start. There are reasons of course for this spreading out of business, and the principal ones may be found in the practical knowledge and efficiency of the president and manager, Mr. Givens, the straightforward business methods of the company and its financial ability. Added to this, they are fortunate in compounding preparations which are time-tried and have not been found wanting, and so certain are the officers of their curative properties that they advertise “warranted to benefit or money refunded.” When a responsible firm or company show their faith in their productions to this extent the public may rest assured of the valuable qualities of the articles, and that they are not some far-off, unknown parties, is a strong recommend in their favor. Their principal remedies are “Dr. Warren’s Syrup of Wild Cherry,” “Parker’s Universal Liniment,” “Kellogg’s King of Pain,” “Dr. Warren’s Mandrake Liver Pills,” and “Rose Cream Glycerine.” These have been before the public for about twenty years and are pronounced valuable remedies for the purposes for which they are compounded and recommended. They are all put up under the personal direction of F. M. Givens, whose pharmaceutical experience covers a period of twenty-three years, thirteen of which have been spent in Fond du Lac. The office and laboratory are at 581 Main street, and the equipments thereof are full and complete for their large and growing trade. It is one of the most reputable and leading establishments of the kind, and the fact that their goods are handled by the various wholesale and jobbing drug houses of the northwest attests that they are standard medicines. Besides medicines they manufacture flavoring extracts, and these, like the remedies spoken of, are prepared with rare skill and care, nothing being permitted to enter into their composition unless strictly pure and of the finest quality. F. M. Givens is president and manager of the company, Silas B. Stiles vice-president, and J. F. Aldrich secretary and treasurer, three gentlemen whose very names will inspire the fullest confidence in the quality and reputability of anything in which they may engage. The two first named also constitute the firm of Stiles & Givens, druggists, stationers and newsdealers, established in 1874, and in this line do a lucrative trade. Frank M. Givens is also the president of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Association in which he takes considerable pride and devotes much time and study as he does in the school affairs of this city, he being a member of the board of education.

A. A. SHEPHERD, Railroad Land Agent and Real Estate.

One of the most pushing, energetic and liberal of our successful business men is the gentleman whose name heads this notice. He is also as responsible as he is laborious, and these commendable traits have been rewarded by an extensive business. To begin at his beginning, we would say that A. A. Shepherd is a native of Erie county, N. Y., from whence he came to Fond du Lac county in 1844, and with the exception of his army career of nearly four years in the First Wisconsin cavalry, has been identified with the interests of this vicinity. For the last twenty-one years he has been engaged in real estate transactions and is now general agent for this State for the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company's lands located in southern Minnesota. There are yet for sale half a million acres of this land, most of which is in the counties of Redwood, Lincoln, Lyon, Murray, Yellow Medicine and Lacque Parle. Included in this immense acreage are some thirty thousand acres of school land, and they are esteemed as equal to the choicest in the great northwest and may be bought at from five to eight dollars per acre with five per cent interest on deferred payments, which may run thirty years or be paid at any time chosen by the purchaser. Excursions to these lands have been organized by Mr. Shepherd for a long time past, and many thousands of acres sold, and he still continues them every first and third Tuesday of each month. Every one of the excursionists who purchases eighty acres has remitted the fare paid, which is an inducement all intending buyers should appreciate before it is too late. The lands represented by Mr. Shepherd take rank among the most prolific in the country, and considering their close proximity are the cheapest that can be secured. While they are yet in the market those desiring choice farms and lands at nominal prices should consult A. A. Shepherd, whose integrity and responsibility may be thoroughly relied on.

GEO. S. BURROWS & CO., Manufacturers of Carriage Tops.

Fond du Lac has surprised many outsiders, and even her own people by the success and prominence of many of her industrial enterprises. One of this class is the establishment of Geo. S. Burrows & Co., it being founded and managed and under the immediate charge of the first named. Its origin dates from 1872, at which time the originator began his experience at the business, and after a career covering a period of fifteen years is accounted one of the most expert gentlemen at the trade and well adapted to the management of this large institution. It is located at the corner of E. First and Portland streets, and occupies a fine brick building two stories high, where employment is found for some forty hands. Everything about the establishment is arranged in an admirable manner, indicating the skill and system of the proprietors, and this gives the firm many advantages, not the least of which is economy in the production of carriage tops and their superiority. These tops are in all sizes and shapes, and are bought by manufacturers and dealers over a wide area, including Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan and Dakota. Every article that enters into their construction is bought of manufacturers or first hands, which, with his other advantages, his personal and laborious supervision, and the shipping facilities of this favored point, enables the manager to successfully compete with any firm in his line. His motto is “style, quality and correct prices,” and the fact that Milwaukee and Chicago houses get their goods of him proves his advantages and their satisfaction. Besides carriage tops, the firm manufactures the “American Top Dressing,” and this is having an immense sale on account of its being jet black, yielding a fine lustre, softening and preserving and water proof qualities. Geo. S. Burrows being a native of Fond du Lac, is well known at home for reliability and integrity, while his goods are known far and near as emanating from an honorable establishment.

C. SERWE, Owner and Conductor of the Serwe House.

Christopher Serwe, the old-time owner and proprietor of the house that bears his name, ranks among the very oldest citizens of Fond du Lac and also among the most genial, liberal, enterprising, popular and, what is yet of more value, reliable and responsible business men. He came to this city from the Rhine Province of Prussia in 1846 and since January, 1864, has been owner and landlord of the Serwe House. This hotel is located corner Main and Merrill streets and does a good paying business with traveling men and first-class boarders. It is a large, substantial, square frame building and contains about forty rooms, all comfortably and many finely furnished, while rates per day or week are very low, considering the accommodations and fare secured. The Serwe House has also a very gratifying farmers' trade which may be accounted for in the fact that the landlord provides them excellent stabling and team privileges, but may be aside from this the fact that he has become so well known during his forty one years' residence also accounts for a portion of this patronage. During his residence and business career he has been one of the most lavish, according to his means, in aiding the various beneficial enterprises of the city. But few things are began with this object in view, unless his aid is solicited and secured. His popularity and standing have been seen in the number of public trusts he has been called on to fill, and the manner in which he has discharged his duties therein has proven him the right man in the right place. These include seven or eight years in the city council, two years as supervisor and is now serving the people as county purchasing agent and superintendent of poor, and so much confidence have the people and county board in his integrity that they have made him the guardian of Geo. Williams, and his estate. The above is all that is necessary to say to show the position Christopher Serwe occupies in the community where he has resided forty-one years, and where he has done as much as any man in the city, according to his means, for the furtherance of its material interests.

DITTER, MITCHELL & CO.'S First Class Drug Store and Pharmacy.

The modern drug store is one of the most palatial business establishments in any line of trade and Fond du Lac has a full complement of these institutions, most of which are a credit to the enterprise, taste and system of their proprietors and give to the city an air of progression not found in all places of its size. One of the foremost is that of Ditter, Mitchell & Co.'s, located at 454 Main street which, since its establishment in 1875, has held a leading position and secured a more than ordinary trade. From the start it has held a conspicuous position in its line for the finer quality of goods, while the liberality of the proprietors towards patrons has been very apparent. The store is centrally situated and enjoys a lucrative trade among all classes of citizens, the proprietors catering to no one class, believing that all should be treated alike—fairly and honorably. By pursuing this course and constantly keeping in stock what the people, including physicians, called for, and selling the same at moderately remunerative prices, they command a leading position as druggists and pharmacists. The firm is composed of the founders, John A. Ditter and Joseph M. Mitchell and Anton Pfeil, who has been with the house for nine years and partner since March, 1887, his whole pharmaceutical experience covering a period of fourteen years. The firm as now constituted is one of the happiest combinations that we know of, each partner taking an active interest in the conduct of the business and, as before stated, meets with a large patronage. Aside from its trade in the drug, medicine and prescription departments, fancy goods, cigars, white lead and oils form no inconsiderable part of their business, as their stock is large and varied and quality assured, while prices are never exorbitant. Taken all in all, the store of, and manner in which business is transacted at Ditter, Mitchell & Pfeil's is a credit to the city and themselves and justly holds a leading place among similar houses and professional gentlemen of Fond du Lac.

E. H. JONES, Groceries, Butter, Cheese, Seeds, &c.

In 1848 the above named gentleman began business in Milwaukee and since 1853 has ranked as one of Fond du Lac's merchants and stands today as the oldest grocer of the city. Thirty-four years of business experience in this city in which he has done an immense trade has given him an opportunity of acquiring a vast amount of knowledge in regard to the numerous articles in which he deals, and the valuable results of this knowledge his customers largely share. They share it in securing the better class of goods and at prices that are as low as they possibly can be sold for. In fact Mr. Jones has always been classed among the moderate priced merchants and at the same time he has been well known as being very careful to deal only in reliable and standard goods. While this course has been very rigidly adhered to, yet it has not rewarded himself by immense riches. Nevertheless it has rewarded him with a vast army of staunch customers and numerous friends. The length of time he has been at and in this business and the enormous amount of energy expended therein, ought to have yielded a larger financial return it may be, yet, that is not the only thing in this world he is seeking, but esteems success to consist of many customers, warm personal friends, a conscientious knowledge of strict probity in dealings and moderate profits on his investments and time devoted to the business. This, we take pleasure in saying, is the condition of Mr. Jones to-day, and it will not be violating any of the rules of propriety to repeat what we have heard many times, namely: “E. H. Jones is not only one of the oldest merchants of the city, but one of the most indefatigable, liberal and honest business men in Fond du Lac.” All who know him will endorse this and will be pleased to extend this reliable merchant all the patronage they can, which will act mutually beneficial. His store is at 436 Main street and is stocked to overflowing with family groceries, crockery, farm produce, cement, brooms, spinning wheels, butter, cheese, eggs and seeds, the last four articles being heavily dealt in at wholesale and retail, his being the “pioneer” seed store of the city. All things considered, E. H. Jones and his store reflect credit on the commercial interests of the city and no better place can be found at which to trade than this.

A. C. BLANKENBURG, “Pioneer,” and Elegant Furniture Rooms.

The “pioneer” furniture store of the city is that owned and admirably conducted by A. C. Blankenburg, at 558 and 560 Main street. It was founded in the year 1849 by C. Blankenburg, father of the present proprietor, and for the intervening thirty-eight years from its foundation has held a conspicuous position among the mercantile houses of Fond du Lac. Never in its history, however, has it done as large a business as at the present time, neither were its facilities ever so varied and valuable. Its trade, which for many years only extended in the city and surrounding country, now extends to the west and north-west, both in wholesale and retail. Two stores are occupied, each being filled to repletion with furniture and upholstered goods, and while all grades may be found therein yet the finest qualities are the specialties of the house. In order to show the character of them it will be understood when we say that this house makes a leading feature of furnishing large and small houses, public and private, complete with everything in the furniture line. The "Palmer House," of this city, The "Island View Hotel," of Bayfield, Wis., besides quite a number of others in the north-west, were furnished by A. C. Blankenburg, and, we understand, the highest satisfaction in quality, style and prices was given. The fact that the proprietor was raised in the city is an assurance of his being well known in the community, but the further fact that he is well versed in the various details of the trade, from his being brought up to the same, but more especially because of advantages enjoyed which enable him to discount many houses in larger cities, whose expenses are enormous compared with his, accounts for his leading trade. His are the headquarters, at retail, for the Fond du Lac Furniture Company's goods, which together with the other enumerated facilities gives customers the best goods in the market at moderate prices. Those trading at Blankenburg's have the satisfaction of knowing that all goods will be found as represented, and that if by any oversight or accident they should not be he is responsible and honorable enough, nay, desirous, of making amends therefor.

L. A. BISHOP, Physician and Eye and Ear Surgeon.

The present records the seventeenth year since the establishment of the practice of the above named gentleman, which was in February, 1870. During the whole of the time that has elapsed since that date his practice has been large, but larger still as his skill became better known through demonstration, but never in its history has it been as extensive, we believe, as during the past few years. This, coupled with his other duties as vice-president and then president of the Wisconsin Homœopathic Medical Society, chairman of the Bureau of Surgery of said society, vice-president and general superintendent of Wisconsin Central Stock Growers and Industrial Association, surgeon to the C. & N.-W. Ry. Co., and corresponding secretary of the Wisconsin State Poultry Association, and several additional minor offices, requiring a large fund of knowledge and excellent judgment, have occupied his time, and so fully, as to allow himself but little rest and recreation. But his admirable constitution and physique, in connection with his indomitable energy and laudable pride exhibited in the profession of his choice, have enabled him to perform a surprising amount of work and apparently without any material injury to his own health. Dr. Bishop is a native of Fond du Lac, and a graduate of both the Hahnemann and Chicago Homœopathic

Colleges of Chicago, and has proven in his own career that “a prophet may have honor in his own country,” where merit is a demonstrated quality in his professional or other career. As before stated, he has a large practice in medicine, and probably larger still in surgery, while his office and “consultation” calls are numerous, many of which require the most delicate skill. He is a close student, and has one of the finest and most diversified medical libraries we ever looked over, and is an extensive subscriber to all the better class of medical literature. Simply recording the above facts in this part of the record of Fond du Lac as it is, without attempting any further eulogy other than the bare mention of facts offer, gives us much pleasure, as Dr. L. A. Bishop is not only one of our oldest citizens and most successful and skillful medical practitioners, but a gentleman occupying a high place in the estimation of his fellow-citizens.

HUGHES & OTIS, Wholesale and Retail Hardware.

Never in the whole commercial history of Fond du Lac did any firm begin business with less flourish of trumpets or make more rapid strides in a successful business career than Hughes & Otis, the now extensive and well-known wholesale and retail hardware merchants of 460 Main street. In 1873 they erected their present store and filled the same with an excellent class of goods, goods which were saleable and in constant demand. The financial ability of the firm was ample to take every legitimate advantage in buying, and when they announced their readiness to supply customers' wants it was but a short time thereafter that they were awarded a gratifying trade. Retiring and unobtrusive, yet liberal without display, they have kept steadily along until this day, the firm name remaining as from the start, the principal management, however, devolving upon Mr. Hughes. Without enumerating the articles, which would be a difficult matter, suffice it to say that everything known under the general head of heavy and shelf hardware, iron, steel and nails, is kept in abundance, and it is a matter of public information that no house in the trade can discount them in price, while in quality they are too honorable, and have too high a regard for personal reputation to deal in any other way than that which shall retain customers' good opinion. Hon. John Hughes and Chas. D. Otis constitute the firm, but as before stated, the former largely manages its affairs, and we may add very methodically and successfully. He is an old settler of this vicinity, his advent to Oshkosh and Winnebago county, Wis., dating from 1847. In 1860 he engaged in business on his own account, and in 1873 in this city. While an unassuming gentleman, and a strict business disciplinarian, yet he has been called upon to fill important offices during his fourteen years residence and business career. In 1880 he was elected alderman of the second ward, in 1885 mayor of the city, and from 1880, for seven consecutive years, served as member of board of supervisors. In all three positions he acquitted himself with fidelity and singular skill, and served the city and county, in which he takes so much laudable pride and has large financial interests, with great acceptance. He is also of the firm of Brownson & Hughes, dealers in all kinds of hard and soft coal, in which they have excellent facilities and command a gratifying trade.

GUSTAV KUENNE, A Leading Watchmaker and Jeweler.

Since 1838 the above named gentleman has been at his life-long business as watchmaker, jeweler, engraver and optician, and since 1855 has done business in Fond du Lac, thus causing him to rank with the oldest, as he does with the foremost men in his line of trade. He may be found at the same location as for years past, 479 Main street, where he owns and conducts one of the most elaborate houses of the kind in the west, and in which is constantly exposed to view and for sale the innumerable articles denominated under the comprehensive head of jewelry. From the fact that Mr. Kuenne is a practical man of long standing and withal very studious, enterprising and conscientious in his dealings, he is very careful in the selection of his goods, so that he may be able to recommend and sell if possible those articles of real merit and worthy of purchase. And here it is but fair to his long and honorable business career to remark that whatever is bought at his store has the reputation of being found just as represented, and the prices are in accordance with their size, quality, weight and design. Pursuing this course for the last thirty-two years in Fond du Lac, and exhibiting a caution and close application to business matters, worthy of the highest commendation, he has placed himself, and rightly so, in comfortable financial circumstances, and commands a large trade and many admiring acquaintances. There is nothing in this line of trade but what may be obtained at Kuenne's jewelry house, and there is no house that can afford to discount its prices. In the watch repairing and regulating department a special feature is made, J. B. Germond, that veteran and practical watchmaker of half a century's experience still being in charge.

QUENTIN & CHAPMAN, Fine Grocery Merchants.

At 456 Main street the above firm, consisting of Peter N. Quentin and W. A. Chapman, is located, and it is but justice to the members and no exaggeration to say that in every way they rank in the first class. Their store is admirably arranged, superbly managed, and the character of the stock carried is above an average in quality. In fact they aim at keeping only the finest in the market of everything, and make a leading feature of fancy groceries. These consist of the best imported and domestic preserves, canned and glass goods, and fresh fruits and vegetables all the year round, when procurable. They also aim to lead and never follow, and this trait may be found abundantly exemplified in their special line of choice teas and coffees, while in consequence of their rather unprecedented large trade and their care and judgment exercised in buying in the right market at the right time, they are enabled to sell these first quality goods at about the same prices as are often paid for the lower grades. Then again full weight and count is a noticeable feature in their dealings, and this, which is only every patron's honest due, yet we account a characteristic worthy of passing mention at least. In fine, what Quentin & Chapman are aiming for and have so far largely secured, is a first-class and extensive trade in the finer quality of all classes of goods and fairly remunerative financial returns for their investment and labor. They are both well-known and enjoy a large circle of friends and acquaintances, and through this and their laudable business methods, a gratifying trade has been gained which is constantly enlarging. Peter N. Quentin has lived here since 1872, and previous to opening this place in March, 1886, for many years had been a commercial traveler and is well educated in the science of business principles, while Walter A. Chapman has resided here all his life and is well adapted for commercial pursuits. In conclusion we can but repeat that Quentin & Chapman conduct an exceptionally clean and systematic grocery house and command a first-class and growing patronage.

O'CONNOR & ERHART, Props. Diamond Yeast Co.

Fond du Lac has assumed so prominent a stand in the commercial world as a yeast manufacturing centre that there are but few persons, especially in the west but what have either heard of or used this indispensable household article. One of the institutions of this kind worthy of notice is the Diamond Yeast Company, which, although established less than one year ago, has secured a proud position and takes rank with many institutions older in age. The productions of this company from the start gained a valuable foothold in the market from the fact of their being of superior quality. This is a concentrated dry hop yeast and the formula belongs to the proprietors, it being no copy of others. This yeast, besides having all the valuable qualities of the best article of the kind on the market, has the keeping qualities which housekeepers have long sought but seldom found and is warranted to retain its freshness six months at least, while the manufacturers have no doubt that it will keep one year. The factory is located at the corner of Main and Eighth streets and is well equipped for the purposes designed. Its capacity is some one hundred boxes per day, which we understand will soon be enlarged to at least twice that capacity. Their trade is already demanding this enlargement, so well is the yeast being received and demand therefor increasing. The proprietors and managers are so well-known as responsible citizens and pushing, energetic business men that all that is necessary for us to say is they are Daniel M. O'Connor and Louis A. Erhart, who have been residents of Fond du Lac for twenty-two years, and since birth respectively. They manage the business with skill and judgment, which, with their liberal dealings and the fine quality of yeast produced, is an assurance of a successful future.

FOND DU LAC ICE CO., Chas. Johnson & Son.

The headquarters of the above company are at 44 W. Arndt street, and we can truly say without fear of successful contradiction that in all our publishing experience we never found an ice business conducted more reputably or more liberally than this. It is often the custom during very hot weather when the supply of ice is the smallest and demand the largest that prices exacted are enormous, but not so with this company, the members being honorable to a fault and believe in very carefully looking after the interests of their regular customers at all times. The company is the outgrowth of several firms and is in that sense the pioneer business of the city, whose origin dates back a quarter of a century. It has four houses in which are stored some ten thousand tons per season, most of which is taken from the lake and is known as "lake ice." This is wholesaled and retailed to all parts of the city, four wagons being employed for daily delivering purposes. The Fond du Lac Ice Company is owned and admirably managed by Charles Johnson & Son, manager and superintendent respectively. Both are well and favorably known to our business men and citizens generally as ranking among the diligent, laborious and responsible merchants of the city. Mr. Chas. Johnson has resided and done business in Wisconsin for the past thirty years and has been well known in this immediate vicinity for fifteen years, and we shall be borne out by those who know him best when we remark that "he wears well both in personal and business matters."

STENZ BROS., First-class Grocers.

Fond du Lac contains some of the finest and most reputable business houses in the country, and among this number is that of Stenz Brothers, located at 585 Main street, opposite the court house. It was established some five years ago by Joseph and Charles Stenz, and from the day of beginning until the present time their business has gradually enlarged and now ranks among the leading ones of the city. From the start they intended to conduct a first-class grocery house, and this they have done to a conspicuous degree. They opened with the very finest stock of goods money could buy and have since aimed at keeping only the better class of articles, making a specialty, however, of the very choicest teas and coffees to be obtained in the market. By adhering very faithfully to this course, and acting in the most honorable manner in their dealings, they have secured a large army of the better class of customers whose number is continuously increasing. After five years energetic and attentive business career they own and conduct one of the cleanest, neatest, best arranged and finest stocked grocery houses in the city and rank among the leading and most reputable merchants, as they do among the oldest citizens. The latter clause also reminds us to say in this connection that they are natives of this county, their father, John Stenz, locating here over half a century ago when this vicinity was a wild, unbroken waste. Here he has resided since and has reared a very remarkable family consisting of ten sons and one daughter, the latter being the youngest and all being alive at the present time, and ranking among the most highly regarded residents of Fond du Lac county. This firm, in addition to owning the above house, is associated with two other brothers in a grocery store at Ashland, Wis., the firm being composed of Joseph, Charles, John and William Stenz.

STAUBER & FROEHLING, Cigar Manufacturers.

Since establishment in February, 1882, the members of the above firm have even surprised themselves at the extent of their business operations, and their many friends are also surprised as well as pleased. They were both practical, however, on the start, and went into partnership and began their business career with a determination to succeed, if making honest goods and close personal application to their affairs would accomplish that result. The result is that in less than six years they employ sixteen hands, whereas their own labor at the start was all that was necessary. This shows a remarkable growth in transactions and also proves they have good business qualifications and that their cigars are of fine quality and prices correct. We believe this is, at the present time, the largest cigar manufactory in this district. Their cigars have a large sale at home and throughout the state, and wherever known are recognized as ranking high in quality. Each member of the firm is a practical cigarmaker, having commenced as “stripper boys” and worked through all the grades up until they are recognized as very good judges of the quality of tobacco and the points that make a good and desirable cigar. John Stauber and Charles Froehling constitute the firm, and it is not too much to say that they rank with the most laborious manufacturers of the city and have a wide circle of patrons, friends and acquaintances. The first named is a native of Manitowoc, Wis., but has been a resident of Fond du Lac since 1863, the last named being a German by birth, but came here some seventeen years ago a practical cigar maker. Among their many brands the following will be found up to a high standard: "High Light," "Purity," "Bouquet," "Our Senator" and "S. and F.," the latter representing the initials of the members of the firm.

HENRY BROTHERS, Flour, Feed, Seeds, &c.

The business of the above named gentlemen is one of the oldest established and most reputable in the city, and commands now, as it has done for nearly a quarter of a century, an unusually large trade. It was established by the late Thomas S. Henry, father of the present proprietors and conductors, and one of the very oldest settlers, business men and manufacturers of the city, his advent dating back to the year 1849. Therefore the members of the present firm, G. A. and C. W. Henry, have been raised in Fond du Lac and at the same time have devoted most of their working lives to this business. In view of this it is fair to assume that they understand the business in its various details, which, taken in connection with their very laborious habits, gives them many inducements not possessed by all new beginners. The standing of the house at home and abroad has always been high and of a flattering character, and this has added to their success, for it has enabled them to make favorable contracts with large firms for articles in which they deal so as to be prepared to extend to the general public advantages not excelled in the legitimate trade. The articles dealt in by Henry Brothers consist of flour and feed, grain, seeds, land plaster, etc., in each of which the quality is, as of yore, one of the first considerations. The flour is secured in large quantities, as is all other articles, thus enabling them to ship by the car load a vast aggregate. In their wholesale and retail departments a large volume of trade is annually transacted, and a point they pride themselves on is in giving the utmost satisfaction to the smallest as well as the largest customer. They are agents for the celebrated Dansville graham or whole wheat flour, for Blatchford's Royal Stock Food and Calf Rearing Meal, the Rockford Oatmeal Company's oatmeal, and "Nudavene Flakes," made at Rockford, Ills. Quality is one of the principal features of the Henry Brothers' dealings, and what is of equal importance, their integrity, thorough reliability and gentlemanly bearing. There is no store or business or business men whom we more gladly notice than these, and no two men of the city sustain a more valuable and enviable record than G. A. and Clarence W. Henry, of 553 Main street.

S. EUDEMILLER, Marble and Granite Works, Established 1862.

As “in the midst of life we are in death” is being constantly verified, it should cause everybody to prepare for that inevitable event, and especially induce those of us who survive our relatives and friends to do all we can to keep in affectionate remembrance the memory of the deceased. One of the most enduring outward signs of this is to mark their last earthly resting place by some monument which shall be an ever present reminder of their worth and affection. This is usually done by selecting some substantial, ornate and lasting material such as marble or granite. This system has been in vogue for centuries, and has become very common of late among all classes. While this is right and proper, yet, in adopting this course, we ought to go to the dealer who is practical and honorable and who possesses valuable facilities for satisfying our various wants, and who, in the matter of designs and facilities, may be able to gratify our varied tastes and financial circumstances. In doing this we know of no better place to go to for anything in this line, under any condition of circumstances, than Sebastian Eudemiller’s, located at 409 Main street. He is a practical man of many years’ experience and one of the most conscientious gentlemen following this business with whom we are acquainted. He is a native of Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, and came to this country in 1846 a practical stonecutter, finding employment with Fisher & Bird, the great marble dealers of 464 Houston street, New York city, with whom he remained until 1861. Here he had a very varied and long experience, and on locating in Fond du Lac in the last named year was well prepared for business on his own account, and which he established in 1862, 1887 therefore, records the twenty-fifth year of his business career here, which makes him the oldest continuous practical marble and granite worker in the city. During this time he has been one of the most laborious and vigilant business men in this vicinity, and produced designs requiring the peculiar skill he is known to possess. These monuments may be found in every cemetery in this vicinage, an inspection of which will demonstrate his superior ability, while the prices of the same have been regarded very reasonable. He makes a point of securing his material from first hands, and there is nothing in the marble or granite line but what he can produce and at the most moderate figures. During his career in this city he has maintained a valuable business name, contributed liberally to the city’s advancement and served a number of years with much credit in the city council.

EDMUND N. KORRER, Sample Rooms and Billiards.

The above named gentleman is one of the oldest, most liberal and successful business men of Fond du Lac, and has an unusually large acquaintance and a host of intimate friends. He is a native of Lucherberg, Prussia

(now incorporated in the Great German Empire), from whence he came with his parents in 1850 to Ashford, Fond du Lac county, and where his father (Hubert) and mother still reside. Here he remained on the farm a number of years, and then came to the city, finding employment as clerk, and afterwards for three years with Thomas H. Green, the architect, learning the carpenter's trade. He followed his trade and taking contracts until 1859, at which time, by hard work and frugality, he had saved enough to purchase a portion of his present valuable premises, and where he has been located since. In 1866 he erected the building on the corner of Division and Brooke streets, this being the first brick structure in that vicinity, in fact the very first in the city, devoted to its purpose. Since the establishment of his sample rooms and billiard hall in 1859, no man in the city has been more uniformly prosperous, while he has the reputation of conducting his establishment in a remarkably orderly and quiet manner. From time to time he has added to his original purchase, until we find him at this writing taking rank with the most well-to-do of our business men. Here he owns 250 feet on West Division, extending to Brooke street, the whole having a depth of 150 feet. On this is erected one of the most substantial brick blocks in the city, having a frontage of 150 feet, and presents a very attractive appearance, and manifests commendable enterprise on its owner. In this block is included his sample rooms and billiard hall, being No. 84 W. Division street, the North-Western hotel occupying Nos. 80 and 82, and his ornate, comfortable and well-arranged private residence, whose number is 78 on same street, is an ornament to the city's architecture. While E. N. Korrer has been diligent in business and financially successful, yet there is no man in the city who has been more lavish according to his means than he. Nothing is instituted for the city's good but what he aids to his full ability, and by this course and his geniality is esteemed a valuable and public spirited citizen. During his career he has served in the city council, as president of the German-English Academy, and is now a director thereof, and is the German and English interpreter of the Circuit Court, a position he has occupied for ten years.

ZINKE BROTHERS, Grocers, Flour, Feed, Produce, Etc.

This firm is composed of Herman, Robert and Louis J. Zinke, and it is safe to say that no other three gentlemen are better known, and none exhibit more energy and real enterprise in business matters than they. Their close and untiring application to the varied businesses engaged in has brought them rather more than an average success, all of which, every one will concede, has been well earned by these brothers. The business of these gentlemen, which to-day ranks among the most extensive in this vicinity, is also one of the oldest ones of the city. It was started by the late Louis Zinke, father of the present owners, in 1854, five years after his advent in Fond du Lac. From the very start it has been esteemed highly for its honorable transactions, and from time to time its growth has been marked. Never in its history, however, has it commanded as extensive a business as at this writing or presented so many advantages to buyers. Besides being wholesale and retail grocers they deal largely in flour, feed and seeds, and ship immense quantities of hay and farm produce to distant points. They are also manufacturers of "The National Horse, Cattle, Poultry and Swine Food," which during the past three years has had such a remarkable sale, but more remarkable in all probability has been the high recommendations given it by prominent farmers who have used and continue to use it. The Zinke Bros. have two stores, the original one being corner Main and Sixth streets, the other corner Main and Johnson, and in each is kept a splendid assortment of goods, while charges for the same will be found to be within very reasonable limits. Taken all in all these establishments rank among the highly reputable and successful groceries of the city, and command a lucrative trade, as does each member of the firm with the oldest citizens and the most hardworking, genial and well liked business men.

G. SCHERZINGER, "Pioneer" Jeweler and Watchmaker.

After a continuous experience in Fond du Lac since the year 1854 there is no business man in the city that sustains a more honorable record than G. Scherzinger, located at the old stand, 426 Main street. He is a German by birth, and came to this country a practical watchmaker and jeweler, having served a regular apprenticeship at the same in his native land. In 1851 he landed in the United States, and three years later in this city, and since that date has been engaged at his life-long business, and is now accorded the honor of being the "pioneer" in his line. Since 1864, or for a period of twenty-three years, he has been at his present location and gradually, by a persistent and close application worthy of the highest praise, he has increased his trade, until 1887 finds him enjoying very gratifying patronage. Here he has a frontage of 25 feet, on which stands a two-story brick building, the lower part of which is used by himself as a store, the upper portion being devoted to office and lodge room purposes. His stock consists of the various articles usually found in a first-class jewelry house, and be it said to his credit that he is considered one of the most honest jewelers in the trade. He is one of those persons who believes in as little display as possible, but is a firm believer in a merchant truthfully representing the real character of his goods, and probably to this fact as much as any other has his gradual but certain success been due. Everything in the jewelry, watch, clock, fancy goods, spectacles, silver and plated ware line, may here be obtained, at prices most reasonable, and whose quality will be found as represented. In the conduct of the business his son Henry B. Scherzinger, a young gentleman possessing many friends, ably assists, while in addition to its successful management the founder and owner, G. Scherzinger, is also acceptably filling the responsible office of city treasurer.

F. R. SHEPARD, Coal, Wood and Salt Merchant.

A business in which the consumer has to trust to the honor of the dealer almost entirely is that of coal and wood, and therefore in order to protect ourselves in the purchase of these indispensable articles it is of prime importance that we select the merchant in whom we have full confidence, and who possesses the facilities for giving us a good article. It will not, therefore, be making use of too strong and emphatic language to say that one of that class is F. R. Shepard, whose office is at 438½ Main street, opposite the Palmer House, and yards at the North-Western depot. He is one of the oldest settlers and best known citizens of this vicinity, whose integrity would not be questioned by any one knowing him. Since 1849 he has been a resident of Fond du Lac county, and up to 1880 was a thriving and prosperous farmer. In the latter year he moved into the city, and since a year later has been at the coal business, five years of which time he has been on his own account. During this time he has done an excellent trade among all classes and enjoys the confidence of his patrons to a remarkable extent. This follows as a consequence of his uprightness and sterling business integrity, and the fact that his valuable facilities are not spasmodic, but regular and all the time available. We believe he is the only exclusive dealer in the city, and therefore it is easy to see that by devoting all his time to the trade he must, all things being equal, possess all the advantages obtainable. By buying in large quantities he secures the best terms, and only exacts reasonable profits on his sales. His trade is large and constantly increasing from this course, and his three delivery teams are kept busy most of the time, filling orders for hard and soft coal, cord wood and salt. During his thirty-eight years' residence in this vicinity F. R. Shepard has been one of the most industrious of men, and has also filled several important public offices with great acceptance, which include justice of the peace and supervisor for Oakfield, and is serving in the latter capacity at the present writing from the third ward of this city.

HELMER & INGRAM, Flour, Feed, Grain, Seeds, Salt, Cement, &c.

The above named gentlemen command one of the largest businesses of any in their line. They are successors to that established by the veteran flour and feed merchant, O. L. Helmer, who founded the business on the spot we find the present firm seventeen years ago. At that time this neighborhood was not as promising as now, neither did it appear to his warmest friends, of whom he has a small army, that he would meet with the success that has since been conspicuous in this seemingly out-of-the-way locality. But by an honorable record, and a vim and push that knows no such word as fail where success was possible, he labored from early morn till late at night and in due time a large and lucrative trade resulted. This he continued for several years after building his splendid roller mills which have proven so largely successful, and in December, 1886, he disposed of its interests to his son, Melvin B. Helmer and Fred. A. Ingram. As of yore the business is ably managed and customers are numerous and the present proprietors command a thriving trade. All the advantages that can be secured in the legitimate trade may be found here and the fact that they handle the choice brands of flour made by the Fond du Lac Roller Mills is sufficient proof that they have the best facilities and offer a superior article to consumers. In addition to flour, feed of all kinds is dealt in at wholesale and retail as well as seeds, salt, cement, stucco, land plaster and fire clay, while they purchase all the grain that offers. Both gentlemen are natives of this vicinity, are well and favorably known and exhibit commendable energy and enterprise in their calling. They are proprietors and conductors of one of the oldest and most reputable businesses in this vicinity, whose dimensions are above an average character in a city the size of this. This we can but attribute to its founder's previous record, and the further fact, of course, that Helmer & Ingram possess equal facilities as formerly, and that they conduct the same establishment with the same integrity as has characterized its career since 1870.

T. F. MAYHAM, Physician and Surgeon.

Dr. Thomas F. Mayham ranks among the oldest citizens of this vicinity, as one of the most successful medical practitioners and as one of the most progressive individuals in the community. To him, as much as any other man, the present high financial condition of the city is due. To go back, however, we will say that he is a native of the county of Schoharie, New York, and from thence came to this vicinage in 1854. From March, 1859, dates his medical career and during the past twenty-eight years has met with more than an average success and has secured a valuable place in the profession. During his many years of residence he has exhibited remarkable energy, physical and mental endurance and has devoted much time to the city's interests. Among the many public offices he has held are superintendent of schools for town of Empire, alderman first ward many years, three terms president of city council, two terms president board of education and several terms member thereof, four or five terms supervisor, a number of years member and president board of health, and four terms mayor of the city, three of which were served consecutively, the last expiring in April, 1887. In all these offices he acquitted himself with signal ability and the thanks of this community are due Dr. T. F. Mayham for the self-sacrifices he has made in serving the people in so many important official capacities.

LOUIS VENNE, Fine Boot and Shoe Maker and Dealer.

Seldom indeed is it that we find a maker and dealer in boots and shoes who has been as uniformly successful and given the unbounded satisfaction, continuously for many years, as has Louis Venne, the subject of this notice. He is a Canadian by birth and a practical boot maker since 1858 and is said to have no superiors at the trade. In 1865 he left his native place and came to the United States, the following year arriving in Fond du Lac, since which time he has followed his vocation. In 1871 he, along with Peter Scholl, opened on their own account and from the start, by reputable dealing and producing very fine and excellent fitting goods, won golden opinions from our citizens and soon became leaders in their line. Their trade magnified from year to year until it became one of the most extensive ever done in Fond du Lac. At the beginning of 1887 they dissolved this old-established partnership and since then he has been alone at the old stand, 484 Main street. Here he continues to command an extensive trade and keeps one of the largest and most diversified stocks, principally of the finer grade, from which the public can select, we ever saw in a city the size of this. As of old, these goods are bought of leading dealers whose names for honest, long wearing and fashionable manufactures stands high in the trade, besides, Mr. Venne's knowledge of the quality of boots and shoes is too great to allow him to be imposed on in his selections. In addition to keeping a full stock of everything pertaining to the trade and at moderate prices considering quality, he also makes foot wear to order and attends to repairing with his usual promptness. It is but just to say of one of our leading and most reputable merchants that no house can give better inducements to purchasers for the same class of goods and no man is more fair dealing than Louis Venne.

JOSEPH WOLFF, "Pioneer" Cigar Manufacturer and Dealer.

One of the very oldest and most reputable manufacturers and merchants of Fond du Lac, and the "pioneer" in his line, is Joseph Wolff, located, as he has been for many years past, at 429 Main street. He is a native of the province of Luxemburg, Holland, from whence he came to the United States in 1851 and to Fond du Lac about two years later. In 1855 he established his present business and has remained at the same continuously to this day. 1887, therefore, records the thirty-second year since his establishment and makes him take rank as the oldest cigar manufacturer in the State of Wisconsin. No man has labored more faithfully at his business than he, and this course, coupled with the excellence of his productions, has resulted in his commanding a lucrative and safe business and placed him in comfortable financial circumstances. A full stock of smokers' articles, including the best and most modern brands of tobacco, are constantly kept in stock while the half dozen hands he employs are constantly engaged making his well known and popular brands of cigars. In these are included the following brands: "Metropolitan," "Belle of Fond du Lac," "Metropolitan Match," "Royal Habana" ten cent cigars, "Peek-a-Boo" and "El Premio Oriental" five centers, each having an unusually extensive sale, being well known for a fine uniform quality. And speaking of quality, it is but just to the manufacturer to say that while he is the oldest manufacturer in the city and State, yet, the first named brand is one of the leading brands in America and has been on the market, too, for a longer period of time than any other of which we have knowledge. The "Metropolitan" has been made by him since 1855 and for thirty-two years has had an immense sale and to-day is a "standard cigar," having a vast number of friends. Joseph Wolff has never been an office seeker, yet so reputable has been his business and personal career, offices have sought him, and these include a member of city council and city superintendent of poor and purchasing agent, the latter position of which he is very acceptably filling at this writing.

H. W. EATON, "Fond du Lac Soda Water Bottling Works."

At the corner of Ninth and Marr streets are located the above works which were established in 1864. Since their establishment they have gradually grown in size and equipment, and at the present writing there are but few cities the size of Fond du Lac, which excel them in facilities, but probably more especially in quality of beverages produced. They have been at the present location many years, and occupy one of the finest and most eligible lots that could have been secured for the purpose. This is owned by the enterprising proprietor and is admirably supplied with an appropriate building, store room, barn, etc., and all the various departments are very systematically arranged and supervised by the owner and his two laborious sons, Harry and Charles F. Eaton. All his time and energies are devoted to the conduct of the business, and this is one of the principal reasons for his rather unprecedented success. It induces him to adopt all the latest improvements in his manufactures, and it is not too much to say that "Eaton's temperance beverages" rank among the most popular in the country. He has had thirty-three years' practical experience, and is one of the very oldest manufacturers in his line, and during his career in this city has not only built up a gratifying trade and gained a good name for these productions, but many enduring friendships, resulting from his every-day manner and liberal and upright dealings. H. W. Eaton has resided in Wisconsin mostly since 1841 and been at this business since 1854, and in addition to his local trade ships largely, his goods finding much favor in Minneapolis, Minn., and vicinity. Besides making four kinds of soda water, champagne cider, ginger ale, seltzer, mineral waters and apollinaris, he manufactures and bottles "Standard Nerve Food" and it is surprising how large have been the sales thereof during the present year. It is considered one of the finest, yet most delicious, "nerve food" drinks on the market, and is highly recommended by physicians, clergymen, lawyers, professional men and brain workers of every degree.

C. P. PHELPS & SON, Insurance and Law Office.

This firm is composed of Calvin P. Phelps and his son, Edward W., and it will not be any exaggeration to say that it ranks with the most reputable in the city and commands a marked degree of confidence from all classes. Their general business is insurance and law and the patronage resulting from each partner's efforts is gratifying in its character and dimensions. The office represents a very fine line of companies, whose number is ten, among which we may mention the "Guardian" established in 1821, the "New York Bowery" established in 1833, the "Rockford" whose existence dates back to 1866, the "Amazon" with seventeen years' record and the "Union" of Philadelphia whose organization was effected in 1804. Any one knowing anything about the merits of leading insurance companies will at once perceive that the Phelps' agency has a strong list, judging from those named, for these are classed among the very solid and safest companies in the United States. They have been tested by the most disastrous fires and have ever come promptly to the front, while their rates are as low as the lowest first-class organizations of the kind. The agency was established in 1868 and during the past nineteen years has held a leading place as such and been awarded a gratifying line of risks and we have yet to hear of the first instance where any dissatisfaction has resulted. As at present constituted the firm has existed some three years and during this time, or since law and collections have been added, the business has assumed larger proportions, and now C. P. Phelps & Son rank with the leaders of their class. Calvin P. Phelps is a native of Cayuga county, New York, and came from thence to Wisconsin in 1842 and since 1845 has been a citizen of Fond du Lac county. His son, Edward W. Phelps, is a native of this county and on March 27th, 1884, graduated from the university of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, and was admitted to the bar. Since then he has practiced his profession and the firm has been known as above, their card reading "C. P. Phelps & Son, Insurance and Law Office."

S. H. CHENEY, Stoves, Tinware, Dairy Goods.

For the past nineteen years, or since 1868, the above named gentleman has been a resident and business man of Fond du Lac, and for just that length of time has he been one of the most trusted merchants and manufacturers of the city, by all who know him. He is one of the most conscientious and reputable individuals of our large acquaintance, and it therefore affords us more than ordinary pleasure to give him a place in this department of our work without any suggestion from him. He is a native of Franklin county, New York, and came therefrom to Chicago a practical tinsmith, in 1857. Eleven years later he located in this city and has remained here to this day. During the nineteen years that have elapsed since then he has been prosperous to a large degree, but by this we do not mean that prosperity which is so often alluded to in acquiring vast wealth. We refer to his doing a good business at a fair profit, and giving therein unbounded satisfaction in faithfully performing his work and in filling contracts, and in gaining the highest respect from those who have become intimately acquainted with him, either in trade matters or socially. Besides, he is esteemed one of the best workmen in the country and an excellent judge of stock. In consequence of this he has been enabled to give the utmost satisfaction to patrons and many of his customers are his staunchest personal friends. He is located at 418 Main street and here keeps a nice line of stoves, ranges and furnaces and several workmen attending to the production of all kinds of tin, copper, sheet iron and cornice work, under his own immediate supervision. In addition he makes a specialty of cheese factory and dairy goods and no better place can be patronized than S. H. Cheney's, if the best articles at "live and let live" prices are desired.

JOSEPH KAYSER, Prop. Fountain City Hotel.

The above named gentleman conducts the Fountain City Hotel with great satisfaction to his patrons, and has the reputation of being one of the most liberal landlords in the city, as he is the most genial. He is also one of the oldest and best known citizens of this vicinity, and to show his career briefly we make the following explanation. Joseph Kayser is a German by birth, and came to this country with his parents in 1840, and settled in the town of Hartford, Washington county, Wis. Twenty-five years thereafter he came to Fond du Lac, and since that time has owned and conducted the above hotel. During this time he has added to and enlarged the same at different periods, and at the present writing the house covers 403, 405 and 407 Main street, and contains about thirty rooms. These give ample accommodations to his transient guests and regular boarders, while the excellent stable room yields valuable inducements to farmers whose patronage he largely enjoys. Mr. Kayser being an old settler naturally takes much interest and pride in the development of this city, and being a progressive and liberal minded property owner and business man never falls behind in contributing his full quota towards advancing the projects set in motion for the benefit of the community in general. After so long a business career and residence he commands a good business, a multitude of acquaintances and many warm friends, and is one of the most jovial and pleasant gentlemen in Fond du Lac. At the present time he is serving his third term in the city council as alderman from the second ward.

J. & J. McKIBBIN, Wholesale and Retail Grocers.

John and Joseph McKibbin own and manage the wholesale and retail grocery establishment located at 579 Main street. The house was started in the year 1865, on the same location, and during the past twenty-two years has done an enormous trade and taken rank with the leading places of its kind in this neighborhood. The building (owned by the former) is 24 by 72 feet, and therein is carried a stock whose size is above that kept in the average grocery house. It has always been the aim of the McKibbins to offer substantial inducements to the consumer, and these consist in the leading and standard brands of family groceries at a fair profit. By persistently continuing this course throughout their lengthy business career they have attracted a small army of patrons to their store, and thus have given satisfaction to them and made for themselves a comfortable living. Without ostentation they go about their business in a very methodical and praiseworthy manner, and have brought themselves into good standing as merchants at home and abroad. They also take rank with the first settlers of this locality, 1849 and 1850 being the dates when they came to this vicinity, respectively. In conclusion, it is safe to say that the public cannot go amiss in ordering their supplies of J. & J. McKibbin, whose business record stands on a par with the foremost, and whose laborious career has been very pronounced.

CHAS. A. WILKE, Cigar Manufacturer.

Fond du Lac has sustained for many years past a valuable name for producing finely flavored and well made cigars. Standing in the front rank of the producers of these much used articles is the gentleman whose name heads this notice. Chas. A. Wilke is a native of Germany, and came from there in 1863 to the city of Sheboygan, where he remained until 1871. Here he spent some eight years at the cigar making and tobacco trade. In 1873 he came to this city and worked at the trade, and five years thereafter started on his own account. At the very commencement he determined on making and offering dealers and smokers superior goods, and in order that he might produce these at a minimum cost very laboriously worked at the trade personally. By adopting and pursuing this course he soon commanded a lucrative position, and at this writing, after nine years' business experience on his own account, is recognized as one of the prominent cigar manufacturers of this section. He is at 381 Main street, the location where he first opened, and where he keeps constantly busy, six or eight first class cigar makers producing his well known and popular brands. The leading and most extensively sold of them are "Queen Anne" high priced and "Last Edition," "C. A. Wilke's," "Commerce" and "Silver Ash," low priced or five cent cigars. Each meets with a very gratifying demand, and the manufacturer's prospects for the future enlargement of his trade are more than ordinarily pleasing. C. A. Wilke is a cautious, pleasant and trustworthy gentleman, and one of the most reliable and reputable of our younger merchants and manufacturers.

A. PREFONTAINE'S Meat Market.

In 1866 Andrew Prefontaine came from Montreal, Canada, his native place, and where he had learned the butchering business in its various details. After working for others until 1879 he started on his own account, and in November, 1884, bought out his uncle, Magloire Prefontaine's business, and has since conducted it, with the assistance of his brother, Vital Prefontaine, with large success. This market is located at 130 W. Division street, corner of Waupun, and has been in successful existence since 1868. Although it has, since the latter date done a very fair share of the trade of the city, especially in its own immediate vicinage, yet, we are under the impression that its trade is larger at this writing than ever before. We conclude that this arises from the fact of the people finding out the quality of meat killed and sold to be of fine grade, and prices low, while another inducement no doubt is found in the cleanly and tempting manner in which the market is kept, as well as the meat exposed for sale. The premises are very creditable throughout, and reflect much credit on the proprietor's systematic and business character. The building is 22 by 74 feet, and is divided into three very convenient departments, the first devoted to shop, ice house and the refrigerator, the next to sausage making, trying lard, etc., and the next to smoking meats. Taken all in all this is a representative meat market, and its proprietor has the reputation of being a leading butcher.

E. COOPER, First-class Boot and Shoe Merchant.

Edward Cooper has been known to this community mostly since 1879, but more especially since establishing his present business in the fall of 1886. At this date he opened with an entirely new stock of goods, and these consist of the finer down to medium grades, a specialty being made of ladies' fine goods. His aim has been to thoroughly discard from his premises all forms of shoddy and keep those goods which will give the wearer the most enduring satisfaction. Then again he has made it a point to sell these articles at moderate prices, in fact, many of them at as low figures, as the writer has seen, what seemed to be "paper goods" sold for. In order to do this he must have a knowledge of the business, and this has been accumulated during most of his working life. In view of this he can determine on quality from examination, and on examination he found two of the best makes in the market to control, in this vicinity. These are the "Jones' ladies' shoes," made in Chicago and said to be equal to any and superior to many, and the "Emery $3 shoe," which is having such an unprecedented sale, and giving admirable satisfaction to purchaser and wearer. Besides these, which are his leaders, he has other well-known and popular makes, and takes great pains to inform the consumer of the exact character of his purchases. We are pleased that the valuable and commendable traits of Mr. Cooper have been rewarded by a good trade, considering the time he has been established, and predict that his future business will be commensurate with the fine goods offered and his sterling integrity. Edward Cooper is a native of Massachusetts and came west twenty-two years ago immediately after being mustered out of the Second Massachusetts cavalry, in which he served two years during the war. "Quick sales, small profits and best goods" is his motto.

H. L. NOBLE'S Leading and First Class Restaurant.

During the past ten years the business of restaurant keeping has not yielded as much financially as many other businesses in return for the investment made and labor and time expended, except perhaps in a few of our larger cities. This has applied to Fond du Lac as pertinently as to any other city of which we have knowledge. There are reasons for this condition of course, but he is a shrewd and far seeing individual who can properly determine this cause. However, notwithstanding the foregoing, yet it does seem from facts presented and general appearances that the above named gentleman has solved the problem of restaurant management, for since his establishment he has been successful, and at the same time given remarkable satisfaction. One prime reason for this is that he is naturally adapted to the business, and besides, is attentive to a fault to patrons, and in addition to supplying them with what they want charges very moderately. By adopting this course from the start he has gradually increased the daily list of customers lunching and dining at his establishment, until his place is recognized as one of the leading eating rooms in the west. Besides providing appetizing viands for his numerous patrons he deals largely in the choicest quality of confectionery in great variety, ice cream, oysters, soda water, bakery goods, cigars, fruits, etc., and is in each department generously patronized. H. L. Noble has acquired a high standing in Fond du Lac as restaurateur and caterer, and enjoys many worthy friends, the result of his long residence and personal meritorious record in the city. For nearly twenty years before beginning in his present business, he was engaged by B. Wild & Co. as salesman, and no more faithful representative ever sold goods than H. L. Noble, who is now reaping his reward.

JOHN CONWAY, Flour, Feed and Builders' Material.

Alderman John Conway is a practical bricklayer and plasterer, and during his residence in this city, since 1862, has done a good deal of the work in his line transacted here. He is acknowledged one of the most expert workmen at his trade, at which he began as long ago as 1853. By a steadfast and laborious experience of thirty-three years duration he attained the excellent craftsmanship accorded him, and such buildings as St. Joseph's Catholic Church, corner Marr and Second streets, of which he was one of the contractors, will demonstrate the character of his handiwork. Notwithstanding this long career at the bricklaying and plastering trade, yet circumstances over which he had no control made it largely imperative that he make a change in his business. The immediate cause of this was the demise of his son Matthew on the 2nd of May, 1887. At this time Mr. Conway determined to continue the flour and feed and building material business at the old stand cor. Main and Rees streets, which the son had successfully conducted four years, and during which time had built up a very nice trade. Since assuming control he has done a very gratifying business, and this is not surprising when we take into consideration the fact that he is so well and favorably known and well versed in the business in which he is engaged. Sand, lime, brick, sewer pipe, mortar, besides flour and all kinds of feed, can here be purchased at all times, in any quantity, and we are assured that prices will be right every time. After a quarter of a century's residence John Conway bears a good name as citizen and business man, and enjoys the esteem and confidence of a large circle of friends, as is evidenced in his long list of customers, and the fact that he is serving his second term in the city council from the fifth ward.

HENRY SCHERER, Fond du Lac File Works, Established 1867.

The present records the twentieth year since the establishment of the Fond du Lac File Works, and it is a fact, and but simple justice to say, that their proprietor is one of the most unassuming, industrious, enterprising and upright business men and manufacturers of the city. Not only this, but it is said by those whose judgment is worthy of recognition that his ability in his special field of labor is above an average character, and that files and rasps re-cut at his establishment are equal and in many instances superior to new ones. During the whole of his career here he has exhibited a commendable amount of personal energy, and has been one of the closest students and attentive men to the affairs of his business of any in our midst. He is a native of Kierdorf, province of Ober-Hessen, Germany, but came therefrom to this country when but nineteen years old. This was in 1855, when he located at Albany, N. Y., and at once went to learn the trade of manufacturing files. Here he remained until 1866, when he moved to Milwaukee, and the following year to Fond du Lac. At this time he established the Fond du Lac File Works, and has been conductor and owner ever since. During the past twenty years he has built up a large trade among millmen, machinists, blacksmiths and others in this vicinity, as well as Oshkosh, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Nenomonee, Marinette, Sheboygan, Waupun, Beaver Dam, Berlin and Ripon. Included in his list of workmen are three of his sons, who give promise under the practical tuition of their sire of becoming as expert workmen as their father.

FINZELBERG & HAX, “The Star” Sample Rooms.

At 515 Main street Fred Finzelberg and John Hax conduct one of the best appointed and most elaborate sample rooms and billiard halls in the west, in fact there are but few if any more finely equipped in any of the larger cities. It was opened by them on the 28th of May, 1886, and since then, from all reports has been one of the most orderly and well conducted establishments of the kind, and receives the most liberal patronage from prominent citizens and business men. It has been the aim of Messrs. Finzelberg and Hax to maintain a strictly first-class house, and this, together with the superior quality of the beverages they are reputed to keep, has given them a prominence as leaders in their line. The place is supplied with electric light, plate-glass front, handsome plate-glass mirrors, and every other appurtenance found in the better class of sample rooms, including two very fine billiard tables of modern design, with latest improvements. In addition to keeping on hand the usual beverages of the better class, lunches are served, consisting of different delicacies. Fred Finzelberg and John Hax, as before stated, constitute the firm, and their genial and every day accommodating manners attract to them a bountiful patronage. The first named is a native of Berlin, Germany, and came to the United States in 1870, the latter being a native of Syracuse, New York. They have been residents of Fond du Lac since 1886 and 1866 respectively, and to-day enjoy a leading position as caterers to the public in ardent beverages and amusement.

L. PREFONTAINE, An Established Butcher Since 1868.

At 54½ W. Scott street, cor. of Brooke, is located the above named gentleman's cozy meat market, where is constantly exposed for sale the different kinds of flesh food, and this meets with a liberal sale. In the conduct of the shop Mr. Prefontaine is very methodical and exhibits many valuable characteristics, such in fact as only experienced persons possess. And in regard to experience he is one of the oldest at the business in Fond du Lac both in working for others and himself. He is a native of Canada, and was brought up to the business from his youth under the guidance of his father, who, along with his grandfather, was a practical butcher. In 1868 he started for himself in this city, and since 1877 has been at his present location, and owns the building occupied. Besides killing all kinds of meat and keeping cured meats in great variety and large supply he deals in butter, eggs and vegetables in their season, and in all these articles he commands a very good trade, as the people have found in him a pleasant gentleman to do business with and upright in his dealings. Ludger Prefontaine is one of our oldest and most successful butchers, and ranks with the reputable and trusty business men of Fond du Lac.

A. E. PETERS, Fond du Lac Brass and Metal Works.

The above named gentleman is a native of this city and is one of the best mechanics in this vicinity, and has, we believe, a bright future before him in his comparative new enterprise. He is founder and proprietor of the above works, and since establishment in March, 1886, has done a rather remarkably flourishing business. This, no doubt, has resulted from the fine quality of work produced, all of which is turned out under his own personal supervision. When he began he determined that there was room for brass and metal works, foundry and machine shops, provided the worked made should be of a first-class quality. From his start his judgment has been verified, for he has done more than he reasonably supposed possible in the same length of time. All things considered, large patronage has been bestowed and everywhere is accorded him high praise for his superior productions. He learned his trade at the Novelty Iron Works and afterwards was foreman there for six years, after which he held a like position at the threshing machine works for six years. In all he has been at the business some twenty years, during which time he has had a varied experience and is therefore well prepared to make all the different kinds of articles that are demanded in his line. He makes all kinds of iron and brass castings from the smallest to those of two tons in weight, does all kinds of jobbing and repairing of machinery, his place being supplied with steam engine and all necessary appliances. The shops are thirty by fifty feet in dimensions and are nicely arranged, being constructed after his own design, and are very convenient. Taken all in all the works of A. E. Peters are a credit to himself and a benefit to the city and deserve the encouragement already extended and that which no doubt awaits them.

FRED ABEL, Wagon and Sleigh Manufacturer.

Fond du Lac claims many of the most practical and experienced manufacturers in the country as citizens. One of these is Fred Abel, the wagon, carriage and sleigh manufacturer, located corner Doty and Arndt street. He learned his trade in Germany, from whence he came to the United States in 1850, and since then has been engaged at the business, having had vast experience, and is esteemed one of the best workmen in the country. In 1854 he located in Fond du Lac, and in the month of May, 1859, started on his own account. Since then he has been at the trade and has turned out some fine specimens of well constructed vehicles, having been on his present location since 1863. At the present writing we find him fully prepared to meet competitor's prices and quality both in new work and repairs, but what we desire to speak particularly about are his sleighs. These are known as "Bartlett's Roller Beam Sleighs," which are patented, and he owns the exclusive right to manufacture them in four counties, including Green Lake, Dodge and Washington and the town of Fond du Lac. In consequence of his age he does not feel as able to push their manufacture as when a younger man, hence is willing to sell rights for their manufacture in the territory named. To these sleighs he has made several improvements and with these they are said to be a valuable vehicle for most any use and over any kind of road. Their construction is such as to enable them to adjust themselves to the roughest road, which is a valuable and advantageous point in their favor, while their price is within the reach of everybody needing a sleigh. Anyone desiring one of these sleighs, or to purchase territory for their manufacture, or needing any other kind of vehicle made in an honest and skillful manner by one of the most honorable manufacturers of Fond du Lac should consult Fred Abel, 60 and 62 Doty street, corner Arndt.

FRANK WERNER, Contracting Carpenter and Builder.

One of the most prominent and well skilled carpenters and reliable contractors is the gentleman whose name appears at the beginning of this notice. He is also one of the personally best known of our older citizens and is regarded as one of the most genial and pleasant gentlemen of Fond du Lac, and one with whom it is a pleasure to have business dealings. Frank (or Franz) Werner came to this country from Germany, his native land, in the year 1854 and located in Washington county, Wisconsin. Ten years later he became a resident of Fond du Lac, and this city has claimed his citizenship ever since. During the intervening years he has followed the carpentering trade and is esteemed one of the most natural mechanics and faithful workmen in this vicinity. Some seventeen years ago he embarked on the sea of business for himself, and gradually from a small beginning has worked up to the position of one of the very leading contractors in his line. He is prepared to take contracts for any and all kinds of structures, and those which have been put up by him prove his ability at the building trade, and include some of the most substantial buildings of the city. Among these occurring to our mind are the brick part of the Lewis House, the No. 5 fire engine house, water works station, the Northwestern Yeast Company's factory, the building in which Finzelberg & Hax's elegant sample room and billiard hall is located, besides numerous stores and residences that now escape our memory. An examination of those cited, however, will prove his efficiency, while the manner in which he completes contracts pronounce him a faithful and honorable builder. During the busy season he employs from ten to fifteen hands and is prepared to do all kinds of jobbing and shopwork at short notice. His shop is at 293 Main street.

ABRAM BURTCH, Cigar Manufacturer and Meat Market.

Abram Burtch came from Lewis county, New York, to this vicinage in 1854 and from that time to 1870 was an indefatigable farmer and tiller of the soil. In this vocation he was quite a success, as he has been in most of his undertakings, including his career as agricultural implement dealer which began in 1876 and continued over a decade. But what we want to speak about more particularly, is his present business and advantages, and therefore will say that he conducts a cigar factory and meat market. The former he established in the fall of 1880 and the latter the first of July of the present year. Both businesses are in a flourishing condition, as each presents inducements to the consumer worthy of attention. In the factory, which is located at the corner of Division and Moore streets, some half a dozen hands are employed, and these turn out several well known brands of cigars which command much attention from smokers, and meet with large sales. Among them the most popular and more notable are "On Guard" and "Old Abe" and those smoking either, and especially the latter, will be pleased with their fine quality as they will on being acquainted with their genial manufacturer after whom they, no doubt, were named. The meat market is also on the above corner and, as before stated, is doing a good business. It is kept clean and inviting and his aim is to give the most that cash will buy and of at least good average quality. This property, and his brick residence adjoining, is owned by himself and, taken all in all, is kept in a neat and tasty manner and reflects credit on its owner. Although he has been several times burned out, yet he soon after exhibited his recuperative powers and it is safe to say that he is one of our most enterprising citizens and public-spirited business men.

PETER SCHOLL, "Economy Boot and Shoe Store."

At 577 Main street, opposite the court house, is located the above named gentleman and we shall be but doing him justice when we say that he owns and conducts one of the leading shoe stores of the city. It is known as the "Economy Boot and Shoe Store" which means, not that goods are given away free, but are of the better class and sold at reasonable prices, and that is true economy in the end. As he is a firm believer in first-class goods being the cheapest, he ignores those of very inferior quality, although he has medium goods in order that he may suit the purses as well as the tastes of the people. Peter Scholl was for many years of the firm of Venne & Scholl up to the early part of the present year, and is a practical boot and shoe maker of life-long experience. He landed in this city with his father on May 10th, 1848, when only three years old and has resided here continuously ever since. From this fact he has naturally a large acquaintance, but what is better still, has many warm friends. This, in connection with the fact that he is a practical workman and understands the business and buys the right kind of goods at the right time and place, brings him many valuable customers. Since being alone he has done a nice trade and his future is as flattering as he or his warmest friends could wish. Being an honorable, hard-working gentleman and keeping a fine stock of goods which are marked at close figures, his must continue to rank as one of the leading houses of its kind in Fond du Lac.

H. A. MICHLER, Wagon and Carriage Manfr., also H. C. GUSE.

Mr. H. A. Michler, although favorably known, is not as extensively known as he desires to be, or rather is not known as a carriage and wagon manufacturer doing business on his own account. While many know this fact and extend to him a liberal patronage, yet he wants all men to know by these presents that he is prepared to make anything in the above line, including repairs and blacksmithing. H. A. Michler has resided among us for the last fifteen years, and for the last nine years has been at the wagon building trade, serving an apprenticeship of three years, after which he was employed by L. F. Haas for a like period and in December, 1884, embarked in business on his own account at 35 Third street. All things considered, he has done a nice trade and proven himself a good workman, a reputable gentleman and one worthy of entire confidence. Besides making wagons and carriages, he also makes and ships many of Wm. Chegwin's patent oscillating snow-flake sleighs, said to be by some superior to any other in the market. He is also agent for Chegwin's patent "Hold-Back" for fastening the hold-back straps of a harness to the shafts of a buggy or cutter.

H. C. GUSE is also located at 35 Third street and like the above named gentleman is a hard-working carriage and wagon maker and is said to be a fine wood worker. He has resided hereabouts since 1872 and has a large circle of friends who not only extend their patronage but recommend him for his sterling integrity and faithful workmanship. The shop occupied jointly by Messrs. Michler and Guse is one to which the public may go and expect good work at fair prices and not come away disappointed.

WM. A. HEATHCOTE, Architect and Builder.

Our notice will be brief on the above named gentleman for he has resided in this city so many years and has during this time become so well known that an extended notice under these circumstances would be superfluous. Therefore, we will commence by saying that Wm. A. Heathcote is a native of England and there learned the science of architecture and secured a diploma from the Rotheram Architectural Institute of Yorkshire. In 1851 he landed in New York and for several years his services were engaged by Field & Correga of Dey street, in that city, and during this time he secured a diploma from the "Institute of Architects." From thence he came to Fond du Lac in 1855 and for the past thirty-two years has followed the calling of architect, builder and contractor, proving himself one of the best educated gentlemen at the business. During this time he has designed and erected many of the imposing edifices of this locality but has been particularly successful in the line of churches. Of these he has constructed nineteen in this vicinage, seventeen of which belonged to the catholic and two to the protestant denominations.

WM. TIBBETT, A Leading and the "Pioneer" Grain Merchant.

Thirty-three years ago the above named gentleman came to the United States from his native place in England and just thirty years ago to Fond du Lac. Since his advent here he has been in the grain business and during this time has done a large trade and always been found ready and willing to pay the highest market price for all that offered. He has done much to encourage wheat and grain raisers to bring their surplus to this market and in this, as in many other ways, added to the interests of the city. Exactly twenty years ago he bought the well-known "Tibbett's Elevator," corner Division and Moore streets, and has ever since then done more than an average business. The elevator, one of the finest and most convenient of its class, has a capacity of ten or twelve thousand bushels and being located on the three railroads is very convenient for loading and unloading and making shipments to any point. William Tibbett is the "pioneer" grain and produce merchant of Fond du Lac, one of the largest dealers and shippers and best judges of the quality of grain in this vicinity, and one of the most genial merchants of the city.

PATRICK H. HANNIGAN, The Grocer.

At 136 Brooke street, corner Division, the public will find the above gentleman, and as he is so well known as an old settler, possessing unusual energy, and as an indefatigable member of the city council, from the third ward, any further remarks from us would be superfluous.

JOHN W. DILLON "The Pioneer" and a Leading Photographer.

"By their fruits ye shall know them" is not the motto or standard by which all persons desire to be judged, for, if it were, we fear that in many instances the "fruit" would not yield very satisfactory results to the reputation of the tree on which it budded, grew and ripened. Many persons, however, court this judgment, for they have honestly and persistently labored for a lifetime at their various callings, in order that they might be able to produce the best possible results attainable therein, and this significantly applies to that veteran and pioneer photographic artist John W. Dillon. He has spent the best part of his life at his business, and night and day has been studying and experimenting in his art for nearly a quarter of a century, until he justly ranks with the foremost in his profession. His gallery is supplied with every new and improved invention, which in his ripe judgment and experience would add any advantage in the production of life-like pictures, the result being that his business has constantly grown in extent and importance, and this, while the photographic trade in many cities of the west has been on the wane. All things considered, it is safe to say that for any kind of picture, either for human being, view of building, etc., the public cannot go amiss by patronizing Dillon's old reliable pioneer gallery.

THE HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY,

publishers of "Holland's Standard City Directories," for numerous western cities during the past twenty-one years, is located in Chicago, Ill., John Holland being manager and editor, D. L. Thorp secretary and treasurer, and Wm. E. Holland superintendent. The directories of this company probably are better known and more popular than those issued by any other house of the kind, and acknowledged to be, and recognized as, the most complete, simply arranged, comprehensive, reliable and valuable works of the kind published. John Holland, the manager and editor, is now, and has been a resident of Downer's Grove, Du Page county, Ill., for nearly nineteen years past, and—

FOREIGN EDITORIALS.

THE CLIFTON HOUSE, Chicago, Ill.

As everybody must visit Chicago at one time or another, either on business or pleasure, it is very important that they should have pointed out beforehand a good hotel at which to sojourn while there. A hotel which is conveniently located, is home-like and cheerful, having all the modern conveniences and solid comforts, and yet whose charges per day shall be within the means of ordinary human beings. Just such a place is the Clifton House, whose location is on Monroe street, corner of Wabash avenue, it having 150 rooms finely furnished, the dining room and all other appointments being in keeping therewith, but what is of most satisfactory importance is the fact that, while it ranks in every particular as first-class, yet its charges are but $2.50 to $3.00 per day. Messrs. J. L. Woodcock and M. A. Loring (formerly of the Matteson House), the proprietors, are old and well educated landlords, and being withal liberal, have placed their tariff at such figures as insures large patronage, while it gives gratifying satisfaction to guests and makes them friends of the house. Their wise selection of clerks also adds considerable to the popularity of the Clifton, the mention of whose names will be an assurance of many of their personal friends stopping at this favorite hotel. They are Chas. C. Hilton, with twenty years' experience in the leading hostelries of Chicago, A. W. Kohler, whose connection with this house covers a period of ten years, D. B. Gerrett and Edward Higgins, four gentlemen it is safe to say, who know their duties and perform them with the utmost satisfaction to host and guest alike. By stopping at the Clifton House no one will be disappointed who is seeking home-like entertainment and genuine satisfaction.

HARPER HOUSE, Rock Island, Ill.

Concerning the above hotel it is a waste of words, even to speak, to those who have known it all through its career, since opening, February 22d, 1871. Yet, as thousands will read this, some of whom may never have seen the house or enjoyed its hospitality, but who may some day visit Rock Island, we, in justice to the late deeply lamented owner and landlord, Hon. Ben. Harper, and the city in which it is located, say that at the time of its erection it was the finest house of its kind in any city the size of this in the west, and that even to-day, with all the modern extravagance and rivalry in hotel building, under its present efficient management, it is not excelled in any similar city in the Union. This applies with equal force to its dimensions, its fire-proof and fire escaping qualifications, its exterior appearance and interior finish and furnishings, its liberal management, its abundant supply and excellence of edibles, and its homelike attention and accommodations.

WINDSOR HOTEL, Lincoln, Neb.

At the present time the State of Nebraska is attracting a vast course of people to her borders, many of whom, at least, visit her beautiful and thriving capital, Lincoln. As large numbers of these go from this section of country, and are unacquainted with its hotel advantages, it will be doing them a favor by pointing out beforehand the house that furnishes the best and most home-like accommodations for the least amount of money. In doing this, and with due regard for our readers' welfare in every sense of the word, we are in justice to them and the proprietors, impelled to name the Windsor Hotel as being the caravansary at which to stop. This, for the reason that it is an elegant and commodious structure, well and conveniently arranged, and conducted with a view of securing and retaining patrons' patronage and good opinion, by two naturally adapted hotel men, Messrs. Jeff. Glass and J. E. Montrose, the latter of whom will be favorably remembered as a former popular hotel man of Ottawa, Ill.

HOTEL EVANS, Aurora, Illinois.

Have you been to Aurora, Illinois, of late? If so, did you notice the many improvements made since your last visit? Among these did you observe the many improvements landlord N. H. Wood has made for your pleasure and comfort in the Hotel Evans? If you did not, allow us to say for him that he has constantly added improvements during his successful career as proprietor and manager, but never before has he been as lavish in expenditures, in adding those improvements, which give comfort and satisfaction to the traveler and enforced hotel guest as during the past year. In many respects the interior of the house has been transformed so that now Aurora may lay claim to having a hostelry in the Hotel Evans, of the better class, which is as great a favorite with the traveling public as host Wood is popular, genial and accommodating.

HOTEL DUNCAN, Burlington, Iowa.

Reader, are you going to Burlington, Iowa? If so, and you desire the most comfort for the least money while away from your own home, stop at the "Hotel Duncan," managed by that popular and extensively known prince of hosts, George A. Duncan, Esq., ably assisted by Kilian H. Seibel, who has been connected with the house since its opening twelve years ago. It is safe to say, that, under its present liberal, painstaking and modern management, with its modern accommodations and charges, the Hotel Duncan is one of the leading, best conducted and most popular hotels, especially with "commercial tourists," whose patronage it specially caters to, in the west. Stop there and see for yourself.

BREWSTER HOUSE, Freeport, Ill.

J. S. Gates has conducted the above hotel during the past sixteen years, and owned it for a dozen years. From time to time he has altered, changed, improved, enlarged and modernized the structure, until Freeport can now claim one of the finest and largest hotels in any similar city in the country. In all, some $15,000 have been expended in these improvements, which, judging from the large and increasing patronage extended to the house by commercial travelers, for which it is "head-quarters" in Freeport, are gratifyingly appreciated. Landlord Gates is never so happy as when surrounded by a crowd of guests, to whose comfort and happiness he has contributed.

"ANCHOR LINE" of United States Mail Steamships.

The "Anchor Line" was established in 1852, and during the past thirty-five years has made many friends both among travelers and emigrants, and to-day occupies a leading position, as speed, safety and the comfort of passengers has always been its watchword. Its fleet consists of some forty fine steamships, many of them being of recent construction, and rank with the largest and most modern ocean steamers afloat. Among these are the popular "City of Rome" and "Furnessia," of 8,415 and 8,495 tons burden respectively, and each might appropriately be called a "floating palace." This company's ships carry the U. S. and foreign mails, and make good time, in fact, the first named, we understand, has made the quickest time on record, its average between New York and Liverpool being under seven days, while the rates of passage, both in the cabin and steerage departments, are as low or lower than those of any other first-class line. By the "Anchor Line" a person may book to any seaport or railway station in the world, although their specialty is in booking from every part of this country to Glasgow, Scotland, Londonderry and Queenstown, Ireland, and Liverpool, England. For rates of passage to any point to which travelers, tourists or pleasure seekers may wish to be booked, apply to Henderson Brothers, general agents, 70 and 72 La Salle street, Chicago, where John E. Earle is the veteran, popular and energetic manager, and D. Wallace MacDonald the resident partner.

THE ILLINOIS TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, Chicago.

In calling special attention to the above bank and its statement made on the map opposite page 2 of this directory, we feel a consciousness of doing those people a favor who may elect to become its patrons. The fact that its capital stock of $500,000 is invested in Government bonds at par, that it has $406,000 in surplus, and that the stockholders' personal liability in addition to the capital is $500,000, is valuable evidence of its solidity and financial strength and that its affairs have been managed with consummate skill, ability, care and caution. The bank is directly under the jurisdiction and supervision of the State of Illinois, is a legal depository for court moneys, acts as trustee for estates, individuals and corporations, and judging from the list of names attached as officers and directors, and the fact that 400 is offered for its stock, there is, in our opinion, no safer fiduciary institution in the country, and "our faith is borne out by our works."

HON. JOHN GIBBONS, Attorney-at-Law, Chicago.

As many attorneys and business men have requested us to give them the name of at least one member of the Chicago bar whom we knew personally for integrity, standing, acumen and legal knowledge, we hereby present the name of Hon. John Gibbons, without the slightest hesitancy as a gentleman admirably filling the conditions named. We have been intimately acquainted with him ever since his admission to the bar at Keokuk, Iowa, or about twenty-one years. He has practiced in Chicago for the past ten years and during this time has gained a prominent position at the bar and in the profession, singularly gratifying. Included in his clientage are some of the most active and prominent business men and corporations of the city, nevertheless he is, to our knowledge, so conscientious and so well versed in law that whether they be rich or poor, young or old, all receive the closest attention and justice at his hands and the benefit of his legal attainments. In presenting the name of Hon. John Gibbons, therefore, to any one needing the services of a legal gentleman in the western metropolis, Chicago, we run no risk of their being disappointed, should their choice fall upon him.

KIMBALL'S TRAINING SCHOOL, Chicago, Ills.

It gives us more than ordinary pleasure to call the attention of the parents and guardians of this vicinity to Kimball's Training School, located at 83 and 85 Madison street, Chicago, from the fact that we are personally well acquainted with its founder and principal and know him to be a gentleman of high standing and one of the most thoroughly practical educators included in our large and wide acquaintance. In view of this it will be of peculiar interest to those having youth in their charge and who may be casting about for the best course to adopt in order to give them a thorough business education in the shortest possible time and at the least expense, to know that these advantages may be secured at Kimball's Training School, as hundreds can testify, who are now holding good positions in all parts of the country. Its name, "Training School," is very appropriate and comprehensive, yet it may not be amiss for us to explain a little more fully its origin and present standing. The founder, Mr. D. Kimball, who has been personally known to the writer for nearly twenty years, is one of the most practical and honorable gentlemen of whom we have knowledge, and for many years held important and responsible railroad positions. During this time, and while practicing the art or science of shorthand in connection with the duties of the positions he was holding, and to which he had been educated, he improved on the methods of writing then in vogue, and in due time became author and publisher of works which have since become widely known, appreciated and used. From the foregoing will be seen the practical character of the individual who is at the head of this school and the value it must be, therefore, to all persons seeking to gain a business education in the briefest possible time in shorthand, type-writing, general office work, etc. Everything about the school is systematized and in thorough methodical order, thus insuring a practical training in business affairs, in the quickest time practicable. To this is also added the fact that tuition fees are much less than at some other schools, while the high standing of its principal and his large and valuable acquaintance enables him to aid in securing for all of his worthy and ambitious graduates good paying positions. Anybody interested in the education of their sons, daughters or wards, or themselves, may fully rely on every statement made by the proprietor of this school on page 363.

CONCLUSION OF EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT.

IMPORTANT to Travelers, Tourists and Pleasure Seekers.

After nearly a quarter of a century's editorial writing, historical work, and publishing "Holland's" City and Business Directories and Reviews for sixty cities, covering eight different states, and having traveled over the greater portion of the United States and Europe, we shall be pardoned for assuming to know the difference between a hotel worthy of being recommended to fellow sojourners at such places, and those which are conducted with only one object in view, and that being the securing of guests' money for the least value in return therefor. In view of this fact, the writer, unhesitatingly recommends, with pleasure, the following hotels to the traveling public as being among the most reliable to be found in the country, the majority of which, are the leading ones in the cities named. Holland Publishing Company,

—PUBLISHERS OF—

"Holland's Standard City Directories,"

The most Comprehensive, Reliable and Valuable Works of the kind published.

JOHN HOLLAND, Manager and Editor.
D. L. THORP, Secretary and Treasurer.
W. E. HOLLAND, Superintendent.

182 SOUTH CLARK ST.,
Chicago, Ill.

Read what the Press says of "Holland's Directories."

The Aurora, Ill., Daily News says of Holland's 1887-90 Directory: "Volume V of "Holland's City Directory of Aurora" is being delivered, and is all we have led our citizens to hope. It is handsomely printed, well bound, conveniently classified, and gotten up in a manner entirely worthy of the reputation of the HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY. Mr. John Holland, the manager and editor, promised that this volume would be the best work of the kind he had ever issued during his life-long experience, and he has conscientiously filled the bill, and every one who has glanced over its pages are delighted with it. Every citizen may well be proud of the directory, and they will feel a grateful sense of relief after the vexation occasioned by the worthless volume issued last winter by some unknown tramps. After finishing the delivery of this splendid directory, John Holland returned to his home at Downer's Grove, this morning."

The Evening Post says: "Holland's Aurora city directory for 1887-90 is being delivered to subscribers, and as usual is giving the unbounded satisfaction all John Holland's works do. An examination of the work convinces us that this fifth edition is the finest work "John" has ever issued, and bears the impress of experience, system and much earnest and hard labor. It is a meritorious directory, and is of course well received by our citizens, as being the best work of the kind by far, ever gotten out for Aurora."

The Daily Express says: "Holland's new city directory of Aurora has finally been issued and is a model work, and a credit to both the publishers and the city. Everybody is very much pleased with this fifth edition, and well they may be for it is a work of great value, and even excels HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY'S previous works, good as they were."

The Beacon says: "Holland's fifth directory of Aurora is issued, and is the finest specimen of a directory ever published, even by the HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY."

The Naperville Clarion says: "Mr. John Holland, of Downer's Grove, called on us Saturday, and we had the pleasure of looking over a copy of the matchless directory of Aurora, just published. The book, typographically and otherwise, was gotten up in the highest order of the printer's art, and the literary divisions, are excellent samples of Mr. Holland's inimitable command of the English language."
