Poll on National Affairs To be Conducted Today

Today university students will express themselves in an opinion poll on three questions of national importance. This poll, designed to stimulate student interest in national affairs, is sponsored by Student board's awareness committee.

The three questions are:

- Should Sen. McCarthy be re-elected?
- Should college students be deferred from the draft on the basis of academic standing?
- Should General MacArthur have been dismissed?

Truman Names Prof Feinsinger To Wage Board

Prof. Nathan P. Feinsinger, of the university law school, was named yesterday by Pres. Truman as one of the six public members of the new 18-man wage stabilization board.

Prof. Feinsinger, member of the law school faculty since 1929, and labor relations expert plans on leaving here Monday for Washington for the organizational meeting of the new board.

He will not be able to teach during the summer law school session but plans on continuing his class work at the university for the rest of the current semester.

"My commitments with the president do not carry beyond the summer," he explained, "and I now expect to be back on the campus in the fall."

Prof. Feinsinger was a public member of the national war labor board during World War II.

Max Lerner Fund Exceeds $100 Goal

"Over the top" was the word received from the student board office yesterday in referring to the fund to bring Max Lerner to the campus on May 13.

The Union forum committee contributed an additional 10 dollars increasing their total 50 dollars, and individual contributions reached 57 dollars making the 107 dollars total collected enough to finance Lerner's trip to Madison.

Student Caravan Urges Wheat for India

By ABBY MANN

The Wheat for India caravan, a student drive to hasten the shipment of wheat to India arrived in Madison Thursday night. The students, from Macalester and Augsburg colleges, (Minneapolis and St. Paul) plan to stimulate action in Congress by arousing public interest along their route.

The caravan originated after a talk by Stringfellow Barr, president of the Foundation for World Government, at the St. Paul campus of Macalester.

According to Carol Van Houten and Nadine Roger, both of Macalester, the purpose of the caravan is mainly to attract attention and show the people that the students are behind the Wheat for India movement.

A token gift of 250 pounds of wheat will be presented to Madame Pandit Nehru at Washington on Monday. Members said they hoped that the wheat would encourage further contributions to the fund

Six Groups Send Pleas For McGee

Six university religious groups have sent letters to both Governor Fielding Wright of Mississippi and President Truman to plead for the life of Willie McGee.

"We object to the discriminatory death penalty for Negroes," they stated, and strongly urged the two executives to save McGee.

McGee is the southern Negro convicted of raping a white woman. His case has already been brought before both the Mississippi and United States Supreme courts.

The organizations which sent the letters were Y.W.C.A., Baptist Wayland club, Methodist Wesley foundation, Unitarian Channing club, Hillel Eating co-op, and Y.M.C.A.

Drop Prosecution of Election Violations

Ornstein Makes Decision Because of Court Action

BY BILL MARCUS

Frank Ornstein, elections chairman, said last night he would be forced to discontinue his prosecution of five students charged with elections violations because of a ruling by student court yesterday dismissing the case of Jerry Schecter.

Student court dismissed Schecter's case because the 15 day statute of limitations on beginning action had expired. Schecter, university editor of the Daily Cardinal, was charged with attempting to vote twice in the April 4 campus elections. He pleaded not guilty.

The court found Don Bowman and Owen Gillick guilty of violating regents' regulations. The court suspended their sentence of $5 each because it was the first time a decision making candidates responsible for the action of their agents had been handed down.

Ornstein said last night, "I feel that these technicalities have completely violated the spirit of the election rules as stated. 'It is the purpose and intent of the regulations to promote good government, good citizenship and to prevent evasion of the spirit and intent of the elections rules.'

"Even though the prosecutions have been thrown out of court, I think they have served their purpose. And that is making people aware of the need for new and better election rules and procedure. Because of the court's ruling I will not be able to continue prosecution in the Bylsma, Day, Schaaf, Clemens, and Searle cases."

Les Scharf, counsel for Schecter, moved to dismiss the case on the grounds that Schecter was not

Deferment Test Due By May 15

The deadline for application for the new college student draft deferment test has been set for May 15 by Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey.

Lt. Col. Bentley Courtenay, state director of selective service urged everyone who is eligible to take the test.

"It is unwise and imprudent not to take the test," said Courtenay. "The draft standards are bound to remain fluid, and therefore it is unwise to rely solely on academic grades for deferment."

The deferment tests will be given May 30, June 16, and June 30. Those who cannot take the test on these dates for religious reasons will be able to take the test July 12.

Recommend Price Raise for Dances

A ten cent per person raise in admission rates for next semester's Campa and Kickoff Ball was recommended by the Union dance board, governing body of the Union Dance committee. The recommendation will be passed on to the Union Directorate which has final jurisdiction in the matter.

The board cited rising costs of orchestras and service charges as the chief factors in raising dance rates from 50 to 60 cents per person. A tie vote of four to four was broken when Larry Eberlein, dance committee general chairman, cast his ballot in favor of the motion.

The proposal for the hike was made by Erv Le Coque, chairman of the Campa committee, who in defending his action, said the rising costs and the necessity of showing a profit at revenue producing committee events were the chief reasons.

Faculty Picks 18 Candidates For Awards

Eighteen candidates were selected Wednesday by the university faculty for the annual Wisconsin Alumni association student awards.

The Alumni association's student awards committee, headed by Dean C. A. Elvehjem, will interview the candidates on May 11 to select eight winners.

The awards include $100 each for the outstanding junior man and woman, and $100 life memberships in the Alumni association for the outstanding senior man and woman. Juniors winning special honors will receive cash awards of $75.

The candidates are: senior women: Judith C. Chemerow, Rosemary A. Scott, and Helen L. Schaars; senior men: Thomas H. Barland, Bruce H. Fellows, and Frank B. Manley.

Junior women: Barbara A. Barnum, Barbara Connell, Ruth B. Merow, Mary A. Wileden, Mary E. Minton, and Rita K. Baer.

Junior men: Donald P. Ryan, Clarence G. Bylsma, Melvin C. Wade, Robert C. Gesteland, Arthur H. Laun, Jr., and A. Roy Anderson.

1,000 Pints Is Goal Of 'U' Blood Drive

One thousand pints of blood is the goal of the campus-wide blood drive to be held May 21 to 26. To boost the drive several Madison businesses are going to award prizes to the campus organizations which donate the highest percentage of blood.

Great hall will be the donation center. It will be open from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9:00 to 12:00 a.m. Saturday, May 26.

Parental consent cards will be distributed to all organized living houses and dorms this week. No blood can be accepted from students under 21 without their parent's consent.

Fair and cooler today, Saturday, continued fair and cool. High today 70. Low tonight 40.

World News... AT A GLANCE

WASHINGTON (UP) — GENERAL MAC ARTHUR, speaking before the senate armed services and foreign relations committee, yesterday, upheld a three-point program for victory in Korea.

The formula, contained in a document drafted Jan. 12 by the joint chiefs of staff, included putting Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa into the war, blockading the Chinese coast, and carrying out "air reconnaissance" of China and Manchuria. The program, he said, had obviously been vetoed by the administration.

Accusing the administration of wasting "thousands" of American lives in Korea by fighting a "stalemate" war, he urged the U. S. to smash Red China by sea and air, and to fight on alone if necessary.

Mac Arthur said he does not believe the Russians would start an all-out war regardless of what the United States does in Korea... unless their timetable for world conquest already calls for it.

KOREA (UP) . . . UN TANKS AND INFANTRY yesterday battled their way into the key west-Korean crossroad town of Uijongbu, 11 miles north of Seoul. This was the farthest allied penetration northward since last week.

Four other allied spearheads, the eighth army reports, routed an enemy regiment in a four-hour battle northwest of Seoul and inflicted heavy casualties on the Reds. All Allied columns returned to the main UN lines after the day's thrusts.

ISRAEL (UP) . . . AN ISRAELI GOVERNMENT SPOKESMAN blamed the outbreak of fighting, occurring yesterday on the Israel-Syria border, on Syrian troops who, he says, crossed the demilitarization zone between the two countries and penetrated nearly one mile into Israeli territory.

In Damascus, Syrian officials claim the fighting resulted from an attempted seizure of an Arab farmer's cattle by one-hundred Israeli soldiers. The clash occurred just as the UN Security Council opened a debate, at Lake Success, N. Y., on previous outbreaks in the same area in the past few weeks.

WASHINGTON (UP) . . . PRICE CONTROLLER MICAEL DI SALLE, in answering to criticism of his new rollback order on beef prices, said yesterday that the order must be given a "fair trial" and that controls on and pork will follow.

The Senate Agricultural committee opposed the rollback on the grounds approved. Under the order, effective this month, retail beef prices should mitted's objection was considered even before the beef price rollback was that it would cause a meat "famine". Disalle said the Agriculture commodity drop from eight to nine cents a pound by fall.

Plan Picnics, Pier Parties

By MARY CUNNIEN

Even though the 1951 Junior Prom is scheduled to be the outstanding event for this summery week-end, a variety of parties and picnics have been planned for Friday and Sunday to supplement prom.

Tonight will find the members of SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON and their dates attending a French apache party at their house. The pledges of PI KAPPA ALPHA are planning a four-season party for tonight, with different walls depicting varying Holidays and seasons. A skit on the seasons has also been planned by the pledges.

An informal party is planned for tonight by BETA THETA PI. A night club atmosphere is scheduled to predominate at the OSCHNER HOUSE party tonight, with appropriate skit and decorations. "Back 40" is the theme of the CHAMBERLAIN HOUSE party tonight, with blue jeans and work clothes being worn by the guests at the party.

A spring sports theme will predominate at the PHI KAPPA party tonight. The Catholic fraternity is holding open house for all Catholic groups, with the members of Newman club, Theta Phi Alpha, and the Catholic eating co-op as special guests.

The current trend of the times is reflected in the MacArthur party planned by PI LAMBDA PHI for tonight. An army atmosphere will prevail, with a military skit planned to add to the party.

The annual spring pier-season is being opened by four fraternities and sororities this week-end. The KAPPA ALPHA THETAS will be the guests of KAPPA SIGMA at an afternoon and evening picnic and buffet supper today.

PHI GAMMA DELTA will entertain the members of KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA at a buffet supper late this afternoon, and the DELTA UPSILONS have planned a pier-party and buffet-supper for the GAMMA PHI BETAS, also scheduled for today. ALPHA DELTA PHI will be host to the ALPHA PHIS at a buffet supper today.

The girls of VILLA MARIE have planned their annual spring picnic for Sunday afternoon at Hoyt Park. A game of baseball is scheduled, with the waiters at the dormitory slated to play the girls.

Commerce School To Honor Seniors At Spring Banquet

The commerce school senior send-off banquet, held each spring to honor graduating seniors in the school of commerce will be held May 9, at 6:30 p. m. in Great Hall of the Union.

The guest speaker will be Carl Taylor, president, Waukesha State bank, who will speak on "America Tomorrow".

Awards for scholarship and activities will be presented to out-standing men and women in the school.

All students and faculty members of the commerce school, including pre-commerce students are invited to attend this final get-together of seniors and graduates.

Tickets are now on sale at the commerce school office in Sterling hall.

YPA

The YPA is sponsoring a coffee hour at 3:30 p. m. today in the Rosewood room. A discussion on "India's Role In a Split World" will be led by a student from India.

"Save Willie McGee" is the title of a talk to be sponsored by the YPA at 7:30 p. m. today in the Union. A Chicago speaker will discuss the issues involved in this case.

Union Danskeller To Feature Dance 'Under the Stars'

Dancing under the stars will be the newest feature of the Union Dance program tonight when the Dance committee converts its Danskeller programs into weekly Star Deck dances from 8:30 to 12.

Popular records will supply the music for the Star Deck dances to be held on the Union terrace every Friday and Saturday evening through the month of May. Admission will be the same as former Danskeller programs, 25 cents per couple.

Along with the stars and music, soft lights will be strung around the area to add atmosphere to the affair. Refreshments will be available in the Rathskeller and can be taken out-of-doors.

Because of this week's Holiday prom, Star Deck will not be held Saturday night, May 5. In case of bad weather tonight's informal affair will be moved into the Rathskeller.

An Opportunity For Action On Athletics, Academic Freedom To the Faculty:

AT YOUR MONDAY'S meeting you will have an opportunity to take two important moves. Both are vital to the university's future. One concerns athletics; the other, academic freedom. We can think of no two subjects which deserve as much attention from you as these.

First, you will cast your vote on approving a further extension of the Big Ten Rose Bowl pact. Three choices will be open: a vote to allow the Western Conference winner to go to the Rose Bowl once in three years, a vote that the winner shall go only once in two years, or a vote to disapprove altogether another signing of the pact.

The Cardinal again strongly urges you to vote for the last proposal.

In March, when Big Ten faculty representatives approved another extension of the Rose Bowl pact, Wisconsin's representative Kenneth Little took a vigorous stand against the proposal. Little reminded his colleagues that the post season colossus at Pasadena only disrupts the original purpose of the intercollegiate football program. Besides, schools receiving doubtful honor of taking the Rose Bowl trek stand to lose a good sum of money in the bargain.

Only one Big Ten faculty has so far reported its decision. Illinois recently voted to continue the pact under the present three-year set up. If the pact does not receive support from each succeeding faculty group, it will go back to conference officials for further negotiation.

Wisconsin will have the first chance, now, to send the Rose Bowl pact proposal back for further conference. Many authorities believe it stands a good chance of rejection at that time.

The mammoth Pasadena circus represents college football in its most extravagant form. The annual battle for the Rose Bowl bid is probably the biggest contributor to the increased commercialization overtaking the Big Ten grid program.

It's your chance on Monday to take an important step in keeping intercollegiate athletics at Wisconsin in their proper perspective.

THE OTHER MATTER we hope you settle, once and for all, is the Max Lerner affair. As members of the university faculty you have every right to demand from your committee on Kemper Knapp bequests an explanation for refusal to finance a speech by Lerner.

The committee took a clear slap at the long tradition of academic freedom at Wisconsin. Statements concerning Lerner's alleged former Communist party membership would have a good chance of being ruled libelous. In the more than a week since the Knapp committee announced its decision, there has been no explanations or retraction made by any of the members.

An official university statement demanding a written explanation from the committee is long overdue. It's also an opportune moment for the faculty to put itself on record opposing the action of one of its committees.

The blot on Wisconsin's record because of the Lerner incident can never be completely erased. But, by strong action on your part, it will be made clear that the decision of the Knapp committee was not in keeping with the sentiments of the faculty as a whole.

Pro and Con

On Draft Deferments for College Students

By LES SCHARF

No one would question that the country will need more persons with certain skills in order to prosecute a war effort. Whether students learning these skills should be sent to school by the army or allowed to continue their education as civilians is not the important question. Most people would agree that these students, at least, should continue their education. Unless the government is ready to draft and assign positions to the whole population, there is little reason for the nation to take on the added burden of sending people to college who could send themselves.

We also recognize that there are certain skills that are needed by the civilian community for which people must continue to be trained. There is a need not only for the natural scientist, but also for the social scientist and the artist. These fields, too, are necessary to the welfare of the nation and cannot be forgotten. Many of our largest problems are and will be of an economic and political nature.

It is obvious then, that all learning, excepting how to kill, must not be sacrificed in the name of a war effort. A successful war effort must be based on an intelligent population and an intelligent population is the product of education. A final consideration is that we do not want to destroy by our efforts, that which we are trying to protect. If we do not continue our education in the Natural and Social Sciences and in the Humanities, we will find that we have lost the very civilization we are trying to protect.

On the Re-election of Joe McCarthy

By BETTY BIRNBAUM

SENATOR JOSEPH MCCARTHY has done more to damage our American democracy than the Communists ever could. Not only has he recklessly tried to disparage the state department's conduct of foreign affairs by unsubstantiated accusations, but he has shown a complete disregard for our democratic institutions.

Under the protection of congressional immunity, he has smeared the reputations of his victims, who, unless they were prominent, had no opportunity to defend themselves.

McCarthy operates on the assumption that if one charge doesn't stick, try another. The senator labels anyone who disagrees with him as a "red" or "fellow traveller", thus stifling legitimate criticism of his ideas. Conveniently using his congressional immunity, he can intimidate his opponents by branding them as Communists.

IN SPITE OF all his rantings, McCarthy has not unearthed any unknown Communists in the state department. McCarthy has never repeated his charges outside the protection of congressional immunity where he could be held to account.

His meaningless charges have served no purpose but to discredit us abroad, and threaten our civil liberties at home.

By DOUG WINTER

THE CITIZENS OF the United States are presently blessed with a viciously corrupt national administration.

Judith Coplon, "Deep Freeze" Vaughn, Alger Hiss, the Amerasia stench, present Korean war politics and the dismissal of United States Attorney Milligan for prosecuting Tom Pendergast are products of the present politically immoral and nationally corrupt administration and show the accuracy of the above statement.

The administration's spirited defense of William Remington through a loyalty board whitewash and of the traitor Alger Hiss by "red herring" statements (both later convicted) are two glaring examples suggesting that a thorough housecleaning is needed.

The man most responsible for bringing to light this foul miasma is Senator McCarthy. Facing serious governmental opposition, he has shown personal courage in grappling with these problems and in informing the American people of the existing four "C's" confusion, commotion, corruption and communism.

Forced to use bare-knuckle tactics, he has been attacked by the hatchetmen of the Democratic party, but his influence has directly or indirectly forced the administration to recognize existing dangers and at least to go through the motions of cleaning house. In so doing, he has done an immeasurable service to the American people.

Group To Study Coffee Price

"There were no grounds for a rise in coffee prices," said Fred Firestone, teaching assistant in Inte-grated Liberal studies, one of a group organizing a student commit-tee for the purpose of investigating the recent price hike in the Union.

"The students least able to pay are being hit by the price hike," Firestone continued in reference to the recent raise in the price of a cup of coffee from five to seven cents.

The group praised the wage in-crease for Union employees but said the coffee price rise would not pay for it, and promised to investigate other sources of income.

Firestone asked that all interested parties call him.

Why the continuation of this white supremacist theory proven so woefully lacking in scientific truth? Harry Haywood in "Negro Liberation," places the blame on the plantation system of agricul-ture practiced in the South. Hay-wood quotes Arthur Raper's "Pre-lude To Peasantry," to say, "No real relief can come to the region so long as the planters, who want dependent workers, can confound the situation by setting the white worker over against the black worker, and so long as the indus-trialists, who want cheap labor can achieve their end by pitting urban labor against rural labor."
But the plantation system is only a manifestation of our finance capitalism economic system in the South. Local credit has its source, through the banks, in the finance center of the country, Wall st. The finance capitalist, the owner of the wealth of the country, must control the political system in or-der to protect his economic inter-ests.

Terrorism is used to "dissuade" the Negro people from actively and openly resisting their oppres-sors. The courts lynch legally. The legal lynchings will not end with the frame-ups of the Trenton Six, the Martinsville Seven, Mrs. Rosa Lee Ingram, and Willie McGee.
If President Truman has the power to remove General MacArthur, he can free Willie McGee who is sentenced to die on May 8, 1951. The federal civil rights act gives the President the power to do this.

DAILY CARDINAL WANT ADS

Illinois Here For Big Ten Game At 3:30

So They Tell Me

By BUD LEA

Assistant Sports Editor

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME Nothing can beat fun at the old ball game, especially when Wisconsin is meeting Illinois. The home opener for the Badger squad will begin this afternoon at 3:30 at the Breese Stevens field. So come on Joe, be a sport and give that girl of yours a break. Besides seeing a top Big Ten baseball game, you can get a good start on your summer tan. What's the tariff? — only your athletic coupon book.

MAYBE A PITCHER'S DUEL Probably two of the best left-handers in the Big Ten will be opposing pitchers when Wisconsin's Lavern Andrews and George Maier of Illinois take the mound for today's game. In conference competition, Andrews has won one game, that being an impressive 7-4 relief role against Minnesota. His rival, Maier, is topping Big Ten pitchers with two victories in two starts. His latest triumph was a 15-0 win over Indiana.

In pitching nine innings, Andrews has only allowed one run, five hits, and four base on balls. He has struck out four batters, and has yet to hit a batter or issue a wild pitch. On the other hand, Maier has hurled 18 innings. He has given up two runs on 11 hits, and six base on balls. The Illinois pitcher has struck out 20 batters in two games. He has also hit one batter and has hurled one wild pitch.

Besides being an effective pitcher, Andrews has shown potential strength at the plate. In the Minnesota contest, he got three hits in four times at bat and drove in one run. His .750 average led Big Ten individual batters last week.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO THE CHAMPS? The Big Ten's defending co-champions, Wisconsin and Michigan are presently residing in seventh and ninth place respectively in the Big Ten race. Whether statistics mean anything or not, they still present some interesting facts about the two teams. In team batting Wisconsin is hitting .248, fifth best in the conference, while Michigan has a .202 mark, the worst in the Big Ten.

As a fielding team, Wisconsin is sixth with .932, while Michigan is second, fielding at a .969 clip. The Badgers have committed 11 errors in four games, and Michigan has only been charged with three errors. Wisconsin has dropped two of its first three games, while the Wolverines have lost four straight in Big Ten play, three having been decided by one run.

Yale Crew Arrives at 1:20 p.m. Today For Saturday Race With Wisconsin

Yale's varsity crew, 14 strong, will fly into Madison at 1:20 this afternoon.

They will be met by Coach Norm Sonju and his assistant Dick Tipple. Grew Captain Duane Daentl will head a delegation of "W" club members who will also greet the Bulldogs.

The visitors will be housed in the new short course dorms and will eat at the Union. After the race they will be entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Erwin R. Schmidt of 1937 Arlington place. Their son, Courtland, rows number four on the Yale crew.

Golfers Crush Loyola, 25-2

By HOWARD KENT

The Nakoma golf links once more were "poison" to Wisconsin's opponents as the Badgers buried Loyola of Chicago 25-2 yesterday.

Curt Jacobs was medalist with a 74 as the Badger linksmen rolled to a 16-2 edge in the singles and completely dominated the doubles.

Some of the good news of the Badger victory was lost when it was learned that Jacobs, the current no. 1 golfer, probably won't accompany the team when they leave for a match with Marquette tomorrow. Jacobs has some important law exams coming up. Coach Joe Steinauer said last night the squad may play with five men or use Pete Anderson who was trying out today.

The scores:

Doubles—Jacobs-Koepeke 3, Stotz-Connor 0; Dean-Engel 3, Balek-Jacobs 0; Mould-Hilsenhoff 3, Lawler-Wertz 0.

Netters Meet NU At Evanston, Ill.

By BILL HENTZEN

Wisconsin's tennis team meets two of the top teams in the Big Ten this weekend when it plays Northwestern today at Evanston and Michigan tomorrow at Ann Arbor.

Because of success of the doubles teams last Monday against Marquette, Coach Al Hildebrandt is taking only a six man team on the trip. Capt. Jim Deloye will play No. 1 singles and will team with Ken Ohm, No. 2 singles, for the No. 1 doubles. Don Negendank will be the No. 3 singles man and will play No. 3 doubles with Bob Reagan, No. 5 singles man and No. 4 singles man will be Bill Rudelius and No. 6 singles will be Bill Grunow. Grunow and Rudelius will team at the No. 2 doubles.

Last year the Cards lost to Northwestern and Northwestern Michigan by the same score of 7-2.

The Wildcats have two returning lettermen and several promising sophomores. Curt Beusman, No. 3 singles last year, or Dan Bauble, a sophomore and former State junior champion, will play No. 1 singles today. The rest of the squad will be made up of Livingston Taylor, a letterman, Bob Cornell, a 1950 reserve, Jim Werner and Bus Frank.

Northwestern will miss Grant Golden, conference champion last year and Bill Landin who teamed with Golden last year to win the conference doubles crown.

Michigan's team will be made up of Capt. Al Hetzeck, Steve Bromberg, Mike Schwartz, Gene Barack, Jack Curhan and Jack Smart.

Vern Andrews to Face Top Hurler In Conference at Breese Stevens

Wisconsin's baseball team meets the University of Illinois in the game of its all-important two game series this afternoon at Breese Stevens field at 3:30. The Badgers will need a double victory to stay in the fight for the conference flag.

Coach Dynie Mansfield has nominated southpaw Vern Andrews, a junior, to pitch today's game. Illinois is expected to counter with its George Maier, another southpaw, who has a 2-0 Big Ten record.

The remainder of the Card lineup will be the same except for other possible change. Mansfield may use John Schnurr a right-handed hitter behind the plate in place of lefty Tom Cooper. Cooper leads the conference hitters with a mark of .462.

Illinois is currently in a second place tie with the Wildcats of Northwestern while the Badgers are holding down the seventh position.

Capt. Shelly Fink Settles On 2nd Base After Two Shifts

By TOMMY O'NEAL

A regular at three different positions in as many years. That's the record of Shelly Fink, Wisconsin's classy baseball captain, currently playing second base.

The 5'10", 160 pound Chicagoan played third base and shortstop before switching to second base this year.

Shelly broke into the starting nine as a sophomore, playing third base, the only position he had ever played before. He showed his preference to that position by coming up with a top fielding record. In Big Ten play, Shelly handled 43 chances without a single error to gain the honor of the best infielding record in the conference.

Thus far, Fink's batting average is .351 for the 11 games the Badgers have played. And he has only two errors on his record.

Last year Coach Dynie Mansfield moved him to the shortstop position. "I liked shortstop very much, even though it was the toughest to play. A shortstop has to cover more area, execute more difficult plays, and make quicker and longer throws, but it's lots of fun", Shelly says.

Besides being a standout on the diamond, Shelly is also a good basketball player. He won his numerals on the frosh team, but decided to give up the sport in favor of baseball.

While at Chicago Senn high school he was one of the top scorers in the prep conference, playing both guard and forward. He was named to the Illinois Tech all-tournament squad and was voted "most valuable" basketball player in his senior year.

Being named captain of this year's baseball squad was nothing new to Fink. He was captain of his high school baseball and basketball teams and was also elected captain of the freshman squad here.

The bespectacled senior says he received his biggest sports thrill when Wisconsin copped the conference baseball co-championship last season. Shelly says he'll always remember another big day he had last year at the plate.

Against the Bradley Braves in one of the early season double-headers, he slammed out five hits in eight trips at bat, including two home runs!

Unlike most players, Shelly likes the afternoon practice sessions. "To me practices are just like the old sandlot games we used to play, except that I'm learning a lot more now. I get as big a kick out of practice as I do out of actual games", he reports.

Although he is not an exceptional hitter, Shelly likes to bat just as well as working the outfield. "Batting is more of a challenge while fielding is just a matter of playing the ball right and remaining calm", he says.

Proficiency in sports seems to run in the family. The Badger's father was a "better-than-average" ball player, while his brother already is a football and baseball star at Senn high.

Fink also cracks the books to a high tune, as he was a member of the National honor society in high school and is keeping up the same average in college.

Shelly, as a senior, is in law school this year. And, if the long arm of Uncle Sam doesn't put a uniform on him in June, he hopes to get into professional baseball.

served with a complaint until May 2, 28 days after the alleged violation. Student board rules state that a complaint must be served within 15 days.

Assistant prosecuting attorney John McFadyen argued that Ornstein's filing of a complaint with the attorney's office on the fifteenth day was synonymous with starting action. The court held that action begins when the complaint is served on the defendant.

Justice Bob Beers told the defense, "The alleged offence is a serious one on this campus and the decision of this court does not prevent any further actions by higher administration authorities on campus. A technicality has gotten you off."

The complaints against the five other students charged with violating election rules were also filed after the statute of limitations had expired.

Bowman and Gillick were charged with defacing campus property and with the illegal posting of posters. The defense argued that the students did "everything humanly possible to instruct their agents to do the right thing."

After finding them guilty and suspending their sentence, the court stated, "We are rendering this decision to set precedence for future cases. In the future, fines will not be suspended." The effect of the decision, the court said, is to make either candidates or their agents responsible for any violation of the rules.

Tom Detienne, candidate for Prom King charged with violating regent rules prohibiting the posting of posters except under special conditions, was found guilty and fined $5.

The case of Robert Schmidt and Philip Ash, dismissed last week because of insufficient evidence was asked to be reopened by the prosecuting attorney, Don Mueller. The court continued the case until next week.

at its headquarters in Washington. Sharon Pratt of Macalester suggested that some student organization, preferably the union, sell students stamped envelopes addressed to various congressmen at a slightly higher cost so that students could urge passage of the wheat bill. The extra money would go to the wheat fund, she said. The plan worked with great success at Macalester and Augsburg campuses, she added.

Tiritha Chawdhari, an Indian journalism student on campus, said that India did not want to accept any gifts with strings attached. He said that it is wrong to say that India is against the United States.

"We share the same leaky craft in the fight against Communism, however, India does not want to be coerced into the fight," Chawdhari said.

The caravan will continue today to Fort Wayne, Indiana, and will pass through Pittsburgh, Pa., before reaching Washington on Sunday.

The members spent Thursday night at fraternity and sorority houses on campus.

Prof. Gustus L. Larson, retiring this year after 37 years service in engineering education will be honored at the dinner at which Gov. Walter J. Kohler, Wilbur N. Renk, Sun Prairie, newly-appointed regent, and Pres. E. B. Fred will speak. President Fred and Dean Withey will also present distinguished service citations to the five engineers.

Dedication of the Engineering building will be held in the foyer of the new building at 4:30 p.m. today. President Fred will preside during the dedication program.

Talks will be given by Regent

Renk, Dean Withey, Kurt F. Wendt, associate director of the Engineering Experiment station, Professor Harold A. Peterson, chairman of the department of electrical engineering, and Paul R. Greenman, president of Polygon board, representing engineering students.

After additional queries from Louis Freizer, publicity and promotions chairman, Le Coque stated that all profits help the Union campaign on its non-revenue programs.
