ANNUAL RUSH IS HELD TODAY AT 1:30 SHARP

Sophs Plan to Deport Freshmen—List of Exemptions

Plans to deport the frosh into the country this morning by means of motor trucks were formulated at a meeting of nearly 400 sophomores on the lower campus last night at 7:00 o'clock, after they had been told by Albert Knollin '22, captain of the rush, to refrain from plowing the campus.

Fearing that the faculty would call off the contest in case the campus was torn up, the second year men decided that deportation was the best means of overcoming the handicap of greater numbers in the rush.

Immediately after the meeting which was conducted by a few self appointed leaders, the sophomores marched up State street in a body, but not finding any stray frosh they returned to the lower campus.

Sophs Haze Two Frosh

Here two freshmen were uncovered and rushed to a sorority house where they went through the formality of proposing to the girls. Many of the sophomores ran to another sorority house, but upon finding themselves without any frosh, they necessarily left without hazing anybody.

Ninety sophs who met in 165 Bascom hall at 12:45 p. m., yesterday, were unable to come to an agreement on a plan of campaign for today's rush. As nothing happened after 15 minutes of discussion the meeting broke up, and the men rushed out to entertain the frosh.

Will the Russian Soviet Regime Be Overthrown?

"Impossible," declared Prof. E. A. Ross, when we asked him whether or not he thought the old regime in Russia would ever gain control again. "The land is now in the hands of the peasants and there it will stay."

Professor Ross has developed his theory in a comprehensive manner in his new book, "The Russian Bolshevik Revolution," but there are those who do not feel the impossibility of the overthrow of the Soviet, and some who are emphatic in their stand. We dropped in to see—but you'll find it all in The Sunday Feature Section tomorrow.

Also, we present:

"IKEY" KAREL TO ACT AS CHAIRMAN OF MASSMEETING

Fish, Richards, Sundt, and Bunge Will Be Among Speakers

Judge John C. Karel, who won his football "W" in 1894, and who is now a circuit judge in Milwaukee, will be chairman of the 1921 Homecoming massmeeting, according to Arthur Kinnan '22, chairman of the massmeeting committee. Judge Karel was one of the speakers at last year's massmeeting and is very much interested in Wisconsin's annual event.

Plans now forming indicate that the 1921 Homecoming massmeeting will eclipse all former pep sessions. Prof. Carl Russell Fish, Coach John Richards, and possibly Edward Gillette '13, star quarterback and one of Wisconsin's four-letter men, will be the main speakers for the event, while Guy Sundt '22, captain of the football team, and George Bunge '22, center, will probably have something to say for the team.

"With Judge Karel as chairman, and with Prof. Carl Russell Fish, and Coach Richards as speakers, this year's massmeeting ought to arouse more spirit and contain more pep than any former meeting," is the comment of Arthur Kinnan, of the massmeeting committee.

In addition to the speeches, Gus Tuckeran '23, varsity cheerleader, will lead in Wisconsin yells and songs, and Jess Cohen's feature orchestra has been engaged to supplement the music of the First Regimental band.

400 MEN ATTEND SMOKER AT GYM

Over 400 Commerce men turned out for the first all-Commerce smoker held in two years at the gym last night. Refreshments, in the form of doughnuts and cider, plenty of smokes, "Doc" Dorward's singing, and Jean Juster's orchestra provided occupation and amusement for the crowd.

A program of short informal talks by faculty members and alumni was provided. Professors W. A. Scott, S. H. Gilman, and F. H. Elwell talked of the commerce ideals, and the spirit necessary for making the school stronger, and gave reminiscences of the time when the school was young. Professor Gardner made a strong appeal for the Memorial Union building.

Mild hazing disturbances had the effect of keeping about 150 first year men from the smoker who had purchased tickets. Reginald Garstang '22, president of the Commerce club, introduced the speakers.

HURLEY SELECTS TRADITIONS BODY

The following men have been appointed to compose the temporary traditions committee of the sophomore class by Jack Hurley '24, president of last year's freshman class:

ASSOCIATION WILL ENTERTAIN ALUMNI FROM ANN ARBOR

Michigan alumni and the student band will be entertained by the Michigan Alumni association of Madison when the Michigan football team plays here for the first time in years on November 12.

Visiting alumni and their guests will be able to secure tickets and information from John H. Schmidt, Chemistry building. The association will serve luncheon and dinner for visiting alumni and the band, and perform such other services as are possible. Chicago and Milwaukee alumni associations are assisting in this work.

"We hope to see the Michigan game as big and important an affair as the Homecoming game with Minnesota. Many Michigan alumni will want to see Michigan and Wisconsin resume gridiron activities, so we expect the crowd to be as large as that which saw the Homecoming game," said Dr. E. C. Sherrard, of the Forest Products laboratory, who has charge of the arrangements which the Michigan Alumni association is making.

The local committee is composed of Dr. Earl C. Sherrard, chairman, John H. Schmidt, Dr. Charles D. Cool, all of the instructional staff of the University of Wisconsin, C. E. Marks and A. W. Tessier.

RECEIVE REPORTS ON GAME AT GYM

Play-by-play reports of the Wisconsin-Northwestern football game at Evanston, Ill., will be received at the gymnasium this afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock sharp.

George Stolley will send the results of the gridiron battle by direct wire from Patten field as soon as each play is made. Although Union board has always handled these reports before, the Athletic board is in charge this year.

An admission price of 10 cents will be charged.

THIRD UNION DANCE HELD AT LATHROP

The third of the Union Board dance series will be held tonight in Lathrop parlors. A large crowd was on the floor last night, and students are unanimous in declaring the dances a success in every way. "The crowd seems to be of the best, the music is superior, and every detail is right," said Leslie R. Gage '23, who is in charge of the dances. Thompson's orchestra will furnish the music, and the price remains at $1.00.

EVANSTON, Oct. 14—When the Wisconsin football team trots onto Patten field here shortly before 2:30 tomorrow afternoon, the stage will be all set for the Badgers' initial Big Ten game of the 1921 season. It is also Homecoming for Northwestern alumni and the Chicago suburb is garnished with purple banners, purple streamers, and other accoutrements of the same hue.

On the eve of the big contest for Northwestern, there is no feeling of optimism in the Purple camp. Three defeats stare loyal rooters in the face. There is the memory of the 7 to 0 beating administered by a little team which came to Evanston from Beloit college. There is the

"The Bat" Will Establish a New Long Run Mark

Arrangements have been made with the management of "The Bat," now playing at Cohan's Grand Opera house, Chicago, for students visiting the Northwestern to secure seats, through The Daily Cardinal, in the first 15 rows for the Saturday evening performance.

O. L. Hall, writing for the Chicago Daily Journal of September 24, says, "At the Grand opera house next Monday night, 'The Bat' will establish a new long run record for Chicago. On that evening the Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood melodrama will receive its 360th performance in this city. On the score of time 'The Bat' matches tonight, with the completion of its 39th week, the run of the George Randolph Chester play of the great swindler. The 'Wallingford' record has stood uncontested for ten years. "With the attendance during its three weeks at the Grand added to the attendance at the Princess, the play has now been seen by at least one-tenth of the whole population of Chicago."

SOMEONE once said that no man ought to court before 6 o'clock in the evening, for he is not at his best until that time. Earlier than that he is liable to make a fool of himself. Now we can see why the Delta Gammas have open house from 7 to 9. They only want to be fair to all of us. Or else they don't want to be bored to death.

KID CUSSpDOOR has another bit of advice for us poor males, too, which makes it possible for us to marry without the means of supporting a wife. For a wedding present just give her a wash tub and a looking glass, which puts it all up to her. She either has to go to work, or watch herself starve to death.

RULE 23,751 of the S. G. A. list of purity regulations reads: "There shall be no male callers on any afternoon but Saturday until 4:30, except on business." That seems to be rather hard on those who make a business of fussing, such as Sid Bliss, George Parker and others ad infinitum.

WHILE looking at hats the other day we were told that the prevailing styles would be felt this year. Yes, and so will the prices.

HAVE you subscribed for the Badger? If not, report to Professor Jastrow for examination of head.

WITH class spirit now at its height, a movement is on foot for the Music school to carry some distinguishing insignia. Why not let them carry the air? Two advantages at once present themselves in connection with this idea. It would not weigh on their minds and they would feel heightened just the same.

IT is very hard to believe, but Georg'ann Kimberly says that although she has never eaten lumber, she has dined on shipboard.

WITH betting even on the class rush today, we refuse to put up any money on the outcome, but we are willing to place a reasonable sum that the sophs get just as dirty as the frosh.

ALMOST went to Northwestern to see the game today. Twenty dollars is the only thing that stood in the way.

NOTICE the great activity along the lake shore today. The piers, like the leaves, are beginning to come down.

"I can't get over the hump," said the ant, as he ceased trying to climb over the capitol dome.

Chad Freshmen Given Initiation

Freshman girls of Chadbourne hall were awakened Thursday night by a wierd procession of their sister Sophomores clad in sheets. The procession blindfolded the frosh and led them to their mysterious lair in the basement.

Here they were made to finger the eyes of their ancestors which appeared in the form of grapes. Angeworms, which proved to be cold spaghetti, were served for refreshments. The poor frosh were then made to jump upon nails but this was discontinued when it was seen that the supply of crutches would not be sufficient to supply the demand.

Green bibs, embroidered in gold thread will be seen from now on in the dining room. The frosh must eat with spoons and pour the water for the upperclassmen for the rest of the year.

At the end of the evening about 50 frosh acknowledged their inferiority and took the "oath of allegiance" supplied by the mighty sophs.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR UNION SITE

Arrangements for the site of the proposed Union Memorial building are nearly completed. The land known as the Edmonson property, where the Union building now stands, has just been bought, and an assessment commission is soon to evaluate the property between the Y. M. C. A. and the Union building, preparatory to its sale to the university.

This second piece of land has belonged to President E. A. Birge since 1883 and was occupied by him from that year until March, 1920, when he moved to the president's house. Whether or not the site of the president's house on the corner of Langdon and Park streets will also be needed for the building is not yet decided. In case it is needed, it can be used, since it is already university property.

EUTHENICS CLUB PLANS PICNIC FOR FRESHMEN

Isabel Wright '22 was appointed chairman of the membership committee, and Lillian Freeze '22 was appointed chairman of the program committee, at the first meeting of the Euthenics club held in Lathrop Thursday night.

The members of the club voted to continue the work at the General hospital, and also to stand behind the girls of the University house.

A picnic for all new girls is being planned, and will be held at Sunset point October 25.

The annual reception and dance for all Episcopal students will be held tonight at the Guild hall of Grace church from 8 until 12 o'clock. Prof. Carl Russell Fish will welcome the new students into the social life of the church. Refreshments have been planned and music is to be furnished by one of Thompson's feature orchestras.

There will be entertainment for those who do not dance. The committee guarantees that a good time is in store for all and all students are welcome whether they belong to the church or not. The St. Francis society, the Episcopal student organization on the campus, is in charge of all the arrangements.

Varsity Meets Northwestern University

MANY CRUCIAL BATTLES ARE PLAYED TODAY

Three Conference Games May Eliminate Several Big Ten Elevens

Today will mark the beginning of the season's crucial football battles in all sections of the country. Three Big Ten conference clashes will take place: Wisconsin at Northwestern, Illinois at Iowa, and Minnesota at Ohio.

After today, Northwestern, Purdue, and possibly Illinois, will be out of the race for the conference championship. The Purple men have already lost two games and there is little chance of their winning today. The Hawkeyes loom up strong as title contenders after their victory over Notre Dame last week. Today's battle with Illinois is probably the hardest game on their schedule, and, if victorious today, they should experience little difficulty in going through the season with a clean slate.

It is not known just what has been accomplished by Zupke this year. While his material is new, all of the men are heavy and rangy, and possess all of the earmarks of football players. The Suckers defeated South Dakota by an overwhelming score last week, and there is a possibility that they will spring a surprise and wreck the championship hopes of the Iowans. Due to injuries received last week, Aubrey Devine may not be in the lineup which faces the Suckers this afternoon. If this is the case, the loss will be severely felt by Coach Jones' team, as Devine is easily the outstanding star of the aggregation.

It is not probable that the Gophers will be forced to drop out of the 1000 per cent column as a result of their clash with Ohio today. Doctor Williams' team showed power by a 28 to 0 victory over Northwestern last week, while Wilce's ex-champions lost a preliminary game against Oberlin. If Oss gets back into the game soon, and if the Gophers stow away a victory today, they will certainly be entitled to title consideration. The chances are that either they or the Badgers will be eliminated when the two teams meet on October 29.

Football followers are anxiously waiting to see what the Wolverines will do when they meet Ohio next Saturday in their first conference clash of the year. After the results last week, it looks as though the Buckeyes will not be able to offer much resistance, and the real test of Michigan's strength will not come until they meet the Badgers on November 12.

The Maroons are idle today. They are conserving their energy for the important intersectional clash with Princeton next week. There is reason to believe that Coach Stagg has traveled east to watch the Princeton-Middle game as the former will undoubtedly be forced to uncover everything that will be used against the Maroons next week.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM COMPETES WITH FRESHMEN

Varsity Prepares for Meet With Minnesota Squad on October 29

Today at 4:30 the second cross country varsity team will run over the short course against the Freshman. Coach Burke will enter 17 men against the first year squad, among them being Grieley, Branch, Gunderson, Smith, Searing, Krueger, Herman, Kloster Koher, Bachhuker, Weimer, Madell, Hammen, Chase, Powell, Straka, and Weiss.

The race will be over the 2.7 miles course and will be in the nature of a workout for condition. Many of the men have not yet rounded into good form and their condition is regarded as being below varsity standards, hence they are kept on the second varsity. As they round into form and show staying powers, they will be shifted to the first squad.

Captain Wall will lead the remaining 16 men on the first varsity over the long course, for the first time this season. The long course is 5 miles in length. The men have all been kept on the short course, previously by Coach Burke, in order not to strain them in the first month's training, but the time is drawing near for the first meet, with Minnesota, and Burke has but two weeks in which to prepare his men for the first tilt of the season.

The varsity will be put through rigid training for the remaining two weeks in order to get them in superb shape for the grind with Minnesota. Minnesota will be able to enter four of the five men who competed last year in the meets this year, while Wisconsin will be able to put one man back in the field. Captain Wall is the sole survivor of last year's squad and he will be forced to lead a green team against Minnesota at Homecoming. The material for a first class cross country team is turning out and all that is necessary is to round them into proper shape and give them some experience in running the hard grind.

The team should be in fairly good shape within 10 days, and the remaining four days will be used in polishing the men off and selecting those who will run against Minnesota in the first meet of the season. As yet no men have actually been selected to represent Wisconsin, but Coach Burke is keeping a watchful eye on all of his charges and will put forth his strongest men to bring home the honors from the visitors.

DATES ARE SET FOR SWIM MEETS

November 25 has been set as the date for the inter-class swimming meet. The inter-college meet will be held on December 9.

Coach Steinauer needs more candidates for the frosh squad. Eighty-six yearlings have reported for practice so far, but there is still an opportunity to try out.

Many of the letter-men from last year's Varsity squad are back, including Davis, Lamboley, Sollitt, Lahman, Huebner, Bennett, Story, Koch, Collins, Brader, McMurray, Richter, R. Pabst, and Pope. Four members of last year's frosh squad, Rand, Gilbreath, Leaderer, and J. Gibson, are also candidates for positions on this year's team.

The first meet will be with Milwaukee A. C. at Milwaukee about December 15. The dates for dual Conference meets and for the all-Conference contests will be decided upon at a meeting of representatives of the Big Ten on December 1.

Nobody is surprised that Guy Sundt is so adept in plunging through the line. He bought his books at the Co-op during the first two days' rush.

SUNDT PILOTS BADGERS TODAY

CAPT. GUY M. SUNDT

TEN TEAM SOCCER LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Coach Schlatter is organizing a soccer league, which is to consist of 10 teams selected from the general gymnasium classes.

He is preparing a schedule which will be posted next week. When the league championship has been decided, the most proficient players will compete for inter-college honors. The winners will receive numerals, and points counting towards the Nelson trophy will be awarded.

Eight veterans of last year form the nucleus of this season's gymnastic squad. Capt. E. Kletzien is rapidly regaining his old proficiency on the side-horse, and D. Kitchen and F. Golley, conference champions last year in their respective lines, tumbling and horizontal bar, are rounding into shape. The other letter men are F. Kubosch, F. Bumer, M. Hansen, W. Porth, and F. Leitz.

"I will not be able to make any predictions regarding this year's team until after the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. meet," said Coach Schlatter, regarding the season's prospects.

Although no definite dates have been set, dual meets with Chicago and either Illinois or Minnesota are sure to appear on the schedule. The All-Conference gymnastic meet is to be held at Wisconsin this year.

Spalding's says this about Superior high school last year: "Coach I. I. Tubbs developed a strong football machine at Superior. With Hancock, Conroy, McIntyre, and Captain Nelson as a nucleus around which to build his team, a victorious campaign was started which culminated in the defeat of Madison High at the University of Wisconsin on Thanksgiving Day, this game deciding the state championship." No mention was made of any of the loving cups which Hancock carried away from Wisconsin.

BADGER TEAM OPENS BIG TEN SEASON TODAY

Purple Eleven is Anxious to Avenge Consecutive Defeats

41 to 0 walloping that "Old Man" Stagg and his charges handed the downtrodden Methodist eleven, and to make their portion more bitter, the 28 to 0 defeat and aftermath of the Minnesota contest. It will be a hard dose for the big Purple eleven and its followers if Wisconsin scampers off the field with a victory on Saturday afternoon.

Evanston is Aroused

The Evanston campus is fighting mad. Angered by the charges of Gopher students that Northwestern played "dirty football" to get Arnold Oss, star Gopher back, last Saturday, the students will back their team to the limit in their desire to see it vindicated. The eleven will play hard, clean football while it tries to efface the stigma of three straight defeats. In his final admonition to the players, Coach Elmer McDevitt said: "Fight. We want fighters, men who can give their all. Anyone who won't fight won't play long."

The Purple has been handed a series of hard workouts this week which were culminated by the final signal drill Friday afternoon. The line is weakened by the injury to Le Count, linesman, in the Minnesota game. Saunders, who has been playing end, will work at guard. If Turner is declared eligible by the faculty, he will start at end. Blumenthal, Patterson, Palmer, and McElwain form the Purple backfield. Blumenthal is the question mark of the Purple backfield. He has done exceptionally fine work in running back punts during the last practice sessions. In his role as quarterback, the burden of responsibility will fall on his shoulders. Northwestern is not sure of the new man.

Rain Handicaps Badgers

In its first conference game of the year, Wisconsin will be represented by a combined squad of veterans and new, untried men. Trying to find the right combination, Coach John R. Richards has shifted his line time after time. He has been handicapped by rainy weather in his development of the team. Downpours of the last week have, to a great extent, prevented hard scrimmaging, and with an already large hospital list, no chances of injuring more men were taken.

Despite the handicaps which have faced him, Coach Richards declared, "Wisconsin should win. It will not be a runaway contest. But if the men play up to the form that they are expected to reach, the Badger team should count a victory in its first start."

Cardinals Hold Secret Practice

Because of the recent shifts in the Badger lineup and the secret practices which have excluded everyone from the Camp Randall gridiron, considerable doubt about the Badger lineup exists. There is no question about the backfield. Gibson will pilot the team, with "Rollie" Williams at left half, "Rowdy" Elliott at the opposite half, and Capt. Guy Sundt in his regular fullback position. The line is the puzzling part of the Wisconsin lineup. Tebell is sure to start at right end, and Hohlfield will be at right tackle. Only Coach Richards and Trainer George Berg know if Nelson is in good enough condition to step into the right guard position against the Purple aggregation. Nelson was injured in the Lawrence game. He did not scrimmage during the following week, but reported in a suit and followed

GIBSON AND GIBSON HEAD SECOND JUNIOR TICKET TO BE ANNOUNCED

EDWARD H. GIBSON '23

Editors Note: Because of the accident in the press room of the Capital Times and the resultant failure to deliver copies of The Daily Cardinal to most of the subscribers yesterday morning, it was decided by the staff, with official sanction from the office of the dean of men, to reprint the following announcement of the Saturday's issue of the Cardinal. This decision is in accordance with the Cardinal's policy to bring before everyone of its readers the full particulars of each elections ticket.

Edward H. Gibson, Fort Dodge, Iowa, heads the second ticket to be announced in the junior class elections as a candidate for class president with Richard F. Gibson, Wisconsin Rapids, his running mate, the candidate for prom chairman.

"Gibby" is the third football man to throw his hat into the political ring this fall, having played three years of football in the university, winning his "W" in 1920. This year he has been shifted from half-back to quarter, which position he now fills.

During his freshman year "Gibby" earned his college insignia and class numerals as a member of both the frosh track and swimming teams. Last year he also won the All-University Pentathlon field meet.

Gibson is active in other campus affairs. He is a charter member of the Sophomore commission and was the commission's vice president for the College of Agriculture. He was twice elected to the Agricultural College federation, the governing board for agricultural activities. "Gibby" also takes an active interest in the Y. M. C. A., especially its deputation team work.

"Dick" Gibson has also been engaged in a varied list of activities ever since entering the university. During his first year at Wisconsin he was a member of the frosh basketball and track squads and was elected a member of the honorary freshman athletic society.

RICHARD F. GIBSON '23

Last year "Dick" was a member of the Varsity track squad. In the Inter-College tennis tournament he was the runner-up for the university championship.

Besides being active in athletics, Gibson has had a hand in the direction of many of the university's most successful dances. "Dick" was chairman of the Sophomore class dance, is assistant chairman of the 1921 Homecoming dance, and chairman of the floor committee for the Union board dances.

Gibson is a member of Theta Delta Chi, was president of Skull and Crescent, is secretary of Ku Klux Klan, and a member of the Council of Forty. He is on the Union Memorial drive committee and enrolled in the College of Letters and Science.

Luccia Pauline Ambrose, Nevada, Iowa, is on the "Gibson and Gibson" ticket as candidate for vice-president of the junior class. "Polly" was active in university dramatics last year as a member of Red Domino. She is enrolled as a student of Letters and Science and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and Mystic Circle.

Isabelle Capps is announced for the secretaryship. Miss Capps is a member of Keystone and is the census chairman of the S. G. A. She was president of the sophomore commission and a member of the Freshman commission. She is a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet council and of the Physical Ed club. Her athletic activities include hockey, basket ball and outdoor baseball.

Charles B. Puestow, the ticket's candidate for class treasurer, won his "W" as a member of last year's Varsity crew. Last year he was a member of the sophomore football squad. At present "Chuck" is vice president of the junior medics, on the staff of the 1923 Badger, and a Hesperian. He is a sectional leader for the Memorial Union drive. Puestow is one of the five university candidates for the Rhodes scholarship.

The other candidates will be announced later.

ADD NEW VOLUMES TO LAW LIBRARY

The Law library now boasts of 30,557 volumes together with 2,000 pamphlets and 17,000 briefs. Of this number, 1,070 volumes were added during the past year; these books deal with the law in both the United States and the British Empire. The library thus is extremely wide reaching.

Although the library is conservative in its policy of adding new treatises, every new reference work is added as it comes. Thus the library has a very good foundation and is in decidedly good working order. It compares very favorably with the Law libraries of other universities. It has the best collection of bills and notes of any college in the middle west or any western college; for two or three years a specialty was made of collecting this kind of material.

Many interesting old books, still with their original covers, dating back to the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries are to be found in a wonderful state of preservation. One of particular interest is an old bibliography printed in Venice in 1566. These old books are constantly increasing in value. This is also true of the library in general. The books at the present time are valued at $100,000.

SIGMA DELTA CHI TO CONVENE AT IOWA STATE "U"

The sixth national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalistic fraternity, will convene in Iowa at Ames on November 11, 12, and 13. Prof. W. G. Bleyer, head of the department of journalism at the university, and honorary national president of the fraternity, will probably not attend, because of a previous engagement. Last year the convention was held at the University of Oklahoma.

Sigma Delta Chi has grown rapidly since it was organized six years ago. There are chapters in the leading schools of journalism throughout the country. Here at Wisconsin the chapter is especially active.

As yet no delegate has been chosen to attend the convention, but it is very probable that the university will be well represented. Plans are under way this week to entertain the visiting delegates and alumni members, and as this is the first time the Iowans have acted as host, it is their plan to show the visitors Iowa from the upper angle.

Music of Johannes Brahms Will Be Studied This Week

(A movement to acquaint Madison with the best music, through a contest in naming selections from hearing them. Open to everyone without fee or restrictions.)

Fifth Selection, for week beginning October 16.

Hungarian Dances, numbers 5 and 6, by Johannes Brahms (born in 1833, died in Vienna in 1897).

There is something paradoxical in the fact that the musical compositions by which Johannes Brahms is perhaps most widely known, among all but professional musicians, owe the least to his creative genius and present this studious and classical composer in the guise of a writer of tempestuous dance music. Yet it may be justly said that these dances are characteristic of Brahms and he might very well have composed these numbers that are so widely accredited to him.

Brahms has been called the last of the great German masters of music, and he represents in a sense the culmination of the development which their work foreshadowed. At an early stage of his career he came under the influence of Schumann, that big-hearted composer and critic who was always ready to recognize genius. His keen eye discerned at once the extraordinary promise of this newcomer, and led him to aid Brahms with invaluable stimulation and encouragement. The chief objects of Brahms' reverent study were Bach and Beethoven. Bach's great contribution to music is his wonderful polyphony, the art by which he interweaves independent melodies into a harmonic whole. Beethoven's chief concern was with the structure of music, and he inclines to use one melody as theme, and build up his composition around it. It is the merit of Brahms to have combined the polyphony of Bach with the Ustructural complexity and solidity of Beethoven. The supreme examples of his art are to be found in his symphonies, in his German Requiem, Song of Triumph, and Song of Fate, three choral works in which he reaches the highest sublimity, and in some of his chamber music. It is this absolute mastery of the highest forms of concerted music which has led to the charge that Brahms is "academic" and unpleasing. In point of fact, no composer as created lovelier melodies than Brahms, or more melting combinations of voices and instruments. His songs alone, with their unexampled emotional eloquence, would be enough to disprove the thoughtless assertion that Brahms is without charm. There is indeed a close analogy between the music of Brahms and the poetry of Browning. With both, the thought is paramount, the manner of its expression secondary; of both it is true that the better they are known the more deeply they are loved.

One of the most personal notes of Brahms is his fondness for out-of-the-way rhythms, especially cross-rhythms and elaborate syncopations. This may have been a principal reason for the appeal which Hungarian music evidently had for him. The famous "Hungarian Dances" are, however, not his own, but are superbly idiomatic piano transcriptions (originally for four hands) of the wild performance of the Hungarian bands. Brahms, early in his career, traveled through Hungary as accompanist to the famous violinist emenyi, and often heard the gipsies playing their wild music. The trip evidently made a deep impression upon himself for he later recorded these dances and dedicated them to Remenyi. They exemplify throughout the two chief characteristics of Magyar music, both of which are really Oriental in origin. The one is syncopation, the other is the lavish use of turns, embellishments, and grade notes, which was the specific contribution of the gipsies to Hungarian music. Three-four and six-eight time are virtually unknown in this music, but variety is gained by abrupt and striking changes in tempo. The structure is very simple, each dance being made up of two or more sections, each of which is composed of phrases in 8 or 16 bars.

SAY IT WITH THE TEAM

WISCONSIN meets Northwestern today in our first 1921 conference game. The Badgers will win that game, easily and handily, we know. But even though the seven devils of ill luck and mischance were to cause them to lose—they would still be our team and we would still be proud of them.

The vital thing to remember is that the team must have the full-hearted loyalty of every student throughout the season, if it is to be a football machine, which can function at its best. It deserves such loyalty. It should by all means have it.

Whether the breaks of the season come with the team or against it, the spirit of standing behind the team should be the same. There are no quitters on the team; there are no quitters among the supporters.

Every member has been working his best since the fall practice opened; every member will continue to pour forth his best efforts until time shall be called on the last game in Chicago on November 19. To the players the football season means a continuous round of study, field practice, signal practice and rigorous training. It means denying themselves many of the pleasures and comforts which the average student feels it necessary to his happiness.

It is the old story of much work and very little glory. It remains partly up to every student to see that that work will result in victory through the season. From the first to the last every student should be entirely and at all times behind the team.

Wisconsin faces a hard schedule this year. We will meet some of the strongest teams in the conference. Three of the games are on foreign territory. It will be impossible for many of the students to see all of the games. But there is no reason that should keep many of them from meeting the team when it returns or even from seeing it off when it leaves. It will not always be possible to see the boys off, but it should be easily possible to meet them after every out-of-town game. And meeting them and showing that we are with them is the least we can do to help. It is not too much to ask!

Barring possible accidents, Wisconsin should be conference champions; despite possible accidents, they are strong contenders for that championship. And not barring anything—but despite everything—let us assure them that the student body is 100 per cent behind them.

Show them that concretely by having "Varsity out" when they return Saturday evening from Northwestern with the first victory tucked away.

The team will return at 9:20 Saturday evening. Meet the team!

THE CLASS RUSH

WISCONSIN traditions will again be on trial today at the annual class rush between the sophomores and freshmen.

Following the Cap night of last spring, the rush, together with many other traditions, was put aside by the student senate. This fall the student referendum decided definitely that the majority of the students of the three upper classes were in favor of the traditions as they have existed during the past years.

Whether the vote this fall was a wise one or not will depend mainly upon how much traditions are observed and enforced. It is natural perhaps for the freshmen to try to ignore some of what would appear to them to be the harsher traditions. It is natural also that the sophomores will have a full sense of their newly acquired responsibility and that they will endeavor to enforce the letter as well as the spirit of the traditions.

With the trouble of last spring fresh in the memory of the three upper classes it can at least be expected that today's rush will be tempered somewhat in spirit. A successful and man-sized rush can be enjoyed by the two classes involved without any serious effects if common sense be called into play when making the preparations for the event.

Fair play and common sense should be watchwords today on the lower campus. Thus far this year the sophomores have conducted their hazing of freshmen in a commendable manner. And freshmen have seemingly been willing to observe all traditions. But today will tell whether or not this reasonable feeling between the classes can continue.

With such a large freshman class to oppose today, the sophomores quite properly feel that they are outnumbered too heavily to make the contest a fair one. But it should be remembered that the upper class has the advantage of being already organized and with class spirit fully awake. Further, there is an adequate and competent force of upper classmen to supervise the rush and see that each class receives a square deal.

It is earnestly hoped that neither class will think of class spirit and the importance of winning the rush to the end that unfair tactics be employed and the greater and more important Wisconsin spirit be eclipsed.

Class spirit and class success, yes—but the good name of Wisconsin first.

Dahl Says Farmers

Talk National Problems

The farmers of Wisconsin are particularly concerned at present about the Esch-Cummins law, freight rates, and operation of the federal reserve banks in liquidating loans to small country institutions, John L. Dahl, assemblyman from Barron County and administration leader in the lower house, said when here today after speaking in several northern counties. He said that there is a definite feeling against policies of the federal reserve banks in drawing in loans to the smaller banking institutions. National politics and problems are engaging the attention of farmers more than affairs of the state, he says that he has found.

Welfare Tag Day Changed To October 22

Date is Advanced Week On Request of Homecoming Body

The Public Welfare Tag Day has been changed at the request of the athletic and homecoming committees. It will now be held Oct. 22 in place of Oct. 29 as previously advertised.

T. E. Jones, of the athletic department of the university, today expressed himself as much pleased at the action of the officials of the Madison Public Welfare association in changing the date of the annual tag day. The homecoming committees went on record as being anxious to give the welfare association their hearty cooperation.

MINNESOTA SQUAD VINDICATES PURPLE

Deploing the petition of Minnesota students who wish to sever athletic relations with Northwestern, the Minnesota football team unanimously voted to continue the annual football rivalry between the two institutions. The Gophers announced their stand just before boarding the train which will take them to Columbus for their game with Ohio State tomorrow afternoon.

The Gopher eleven places no blame on the Purple for playing the game with unnecessary roughness, and in a statement made Wednesday, the team demands that the Minnesota athletic council reject the students' petition for a breaking off of athletic relations between the two institutions.

Northwestern was considerably heated over the controversy and further declarations by Coach Elmer McDevitt and Captain "Fighting Jack" Hathaway absolved the Purple eleven from blame. The men said that no Purple player was sent into the contest with instructions "to get Oss" nor were there any intentional attempts to put the speedy Minnesota back out of commission.

Arnold Oss, halfback over whom the controversy rages, will be unable to play football for three weeks. Bailey, substitute half, was awarded the position until Oss recovers.

Walter Camp writes this about the 13-7 victory of Ohio over Wisconsin last year. "This was the most exciting football game the writer has witnessed in many years. In fact, spectators were so exhausted at the completion of the game that it was difficult to get them out of the stands."

Body of War Hero Arrives Here for Burial

The body of Arthur O. Kopang son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Kopang 1208 Oakridge avenue, who was killed in action Nov. 1, 1918 near Arras, France, arrived in Madison Thursday evening and was taken to the Schroeder undertaking parlors. The military rites will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 from the home will be followed by services at the Luther Memorial church, the Rev. A. J. Soldan officiating. The pall bearers will be six cousins who were in service with him. Lawrence, Adol and Walter Bakken, Richard Rydel and Allen Johnson of Deerfield, and Bendie Ramstad of Hawley, Minn. The Westly quartet of Deerfield will furnish the music at the services at the house. Mr. Kopang was born at Deerfield, Wis., June 16, 1893. With his parents he had made Madison his home for several years. He was first stationed at Camp Grant, and was later transferred to Camp Upton, N. Y., where he was assigned to the 341 Infantry, 86 division. He left Camp Upton in the early part of September 1918 and was killed in November. Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Fred Miller of Chicago and Mrs. John Fredlake of Madison and a brother Oscar of this city.

May Name Referee in Filled Milk Battle

There is a probability that the supreme court will name a referee to take testimony on issues of fact involved in the court battle that has resulted over the state law against manufacture and sale of filled milk in Wisconsin. It is said here that the court may have these questions threshed out before it makes a decision on the request of the state to have the complaint of the Carnation Milk Co. dismissed. Issues in the case were drawn yesterday when the attorney general filed reply to the complaint of the company against enforcement of the law which was supposed to have gone into effect Sept. 27. The state claims that the filled milk is fraudulently manufactured and sold in the state against the law, while the company claims that it is making and selling a wholesome food compound.

ison at 7:34 Saturday morning. In a special car, the 35 men who are to make the trip will have a skull practice and lunch enroute before they arrive in Evanston at noon. The train carrying the "Big Red" warriors will make a special stop at Irving Park, where a short cut is to be made by auto to the Purple camp. Wisconsin athletic authorities have decided that this radical departure from the usual practice of arriving the day before the game will give the players more rest because they were enabled to sleep in their own beds Friday night.

The handful of Wisconsin rooters who plan to accompany the team to Evanston will not be alone. Badger alumni in Chicago are making complete preparations to watch the team in its first battle, and a steady stream of Badger cohorts will pour into the stands until the referee blows his whistle for the first kick-off.

MUNSON FINISHES THEOSOPHY TALK

"Attendance, service, study, and harmony are the fundamentals of a theosophical lodge," said Eugene W. Munson, lecturer, in the last of a series of talks on theosophy in the public library Thursday night. "According to the earnestness with which each of these points is attended by the members, so helpful will be the influence of the society."

"The purpose of a theosophical lodge is to serve as a center for the spread of theosophical truth, both physical and mental. People in all walks of life, in all communities are looking for the kind of solution theosophy offers for world problems."

Educated persons are hardest to convince of the powers of theosophy, according to Mr. Munson. Engineers, he said, are the most open minded, and medical men the least. Scientists are generally free from prejudice.

Mr. Munson goes from Madison directly to Milwaukee where he will deliver a similar course of lectures next week.

COMMISSION JOBS AWAIT "U" GRADS

"Positions with the railroad commission offer a fine opportunity for university graduates in political science, economics, or engineering," declared Dr. H. R. Trumbower, former professor of economics and now of the railroad commission, in a talk before political science majors at the home of Prof. F. A. Ogg Thursday evening.

"Many of our best men are graduates of the university; in fact, we have a greater percentage of university men in our department than any other in the capital. Much of the success of our department has been due to the close relations existing between members of the department and the university."

"The first chief engineer of the commission was drawn from the professional ranks of the university, and P. H. Meyer, a member of the first commission and now a member of the inter-state commerce commission, was formerly a professor in the university."

In the course of his talk, Dr. Trumbower outlined the history of the commission, starting with the passage of the railroad commission law in 1905, and of the public utilities law in 1907. He traced the growth of the commission in power and duties to the present time, when its total budget is $180,000.

A buffet luncheon was served after the address, and students majoring in political science had an excellent opportunity to become better acquainted.

BIG TEN ALUMNI TO HOLD DINNER

On Monday, Oct. 17, the first of a series of annual dinners for the alumni of all conference schools in the city will be held at the University club in Cleveland, Ohio.

This is the first attempt to organize the many Alumni in the city into some sort of permanent body, and representatives from practically every conference school will be there.

E. D. Jordan, a graduate of the university, is taking an active interest in the affair, and is expected to give the introductory address.

the squad around the grid. The big fellow did not get into the contest with South Dakota state. Whether the injury to his arm muscles has healed sufficiently to permit him to play will not be disclosed until the Cardinal squad races onto the field for its warming-up signal drill tomorrow afternoon. Christianson will probably start the game.

At left end, Coach Richards will have to take his choice of "T" Gould or Horne. The latter was crippled in the Lawrence game. Gould is a good defensive man, an experienced player, and it is likely that he will draw the wing assignment. Aggressive "Jimmy" Brader, steady linesman and one of the bulwarks of the Wisconsin defense is slated for his left tackle position, with "Kibe" Brumm working in at the guard job. George Bunge will be stationed at center against "Fighting Jack" Hathaway, Purple pivot man and captain, who is charged with making the tackle that put Arnold Oss out of the game.

You Cant Get "Peeved" This Week at Orph

The Orpheum really has a good bill this week-end, with nothing you can get "peevied" at in any feature.

Palmaro's Canines Featuring "Bessie" is the usual dog act with nice little brutes galloping about first on their front and then on their hind "pins." "Bessie" is a hound without any back, who squirms about like an eel. Anyhow the act has a nice blue, back drop, and that's something.

Copeland and Strain are two black-face artists who talk a lot, but get nowhere. They got one laugh last night which had something 'er other to do about a finger-bowl and lemonade. However, they sing some old songs well.

Byrd Allen styled "A Treat for the Eyes and Ears." Well—that's all right, but don't expect too much. There is another girl in it too, and they both put over a musical act of merit. They sing nice songs, and wear good-looking gowns (too long), but their act contains considerable class.

Joseph E. Howard and Ethlyn Clark are the headliners of the bill. It is a "Hodge-Podge" musical act in which Mr. Howard sings some of his old songs, and Miss Clark does some impersonations. Jack King, who also plays the piano, does a female impersonation that brings down the house. It is a good act with a lot of style and some clever lines.

Al and Fanny Stedman in "Pianocapers" were the cream of the evening. Both are clever comedians of "gig-time" merit. They have a fund of "wise-cracks" which get across big, and their whole act goes with a "zip" from beginning to end. It's a knock-out.

Bill Keno, Bob Keese and Elmer Melrose are the homliest bunch of "stunsters" I've ever seen. Elmer has a face which he throws out of joint at will; his nose and chin get all messed up. The trio are funny and turn one or two neat tricks.

COMING WEEK AT GRAND
Sunday—Fannie Ward in "She Played and Paid," Johnny Hines in "Torchy Comes Through."
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday — Women only for "Wild Oats."
Thursday, Friday, Saturday — Men only for "Wild Oats."

The Scoffer

Merit pervades the entire atmosphere of Allan Dawn's production "The Scoffer" which yesterday opened a two day engagement at the Grand. Seldom has such a story been told so masterfully and rarely have incidents held an audience so enthralled. While the play in itself is unusual in its power to command undivided attention, artistic acting on the part of the brilliant players is an outstanding feature worthy of praise. Mary Thurman, James Kirkwood and Noah Beery share first honors, while Rhea Mitchell, Eugenie Besserer, Philo McCulloch and John Burton also display rare knowledge of dramatic proportions in enacting their roles.

The story, which is cleverly evolved, concerns the misfortunes of one Dr. Stannard Wayne, who, through the villainous plotting of his best friend, Dr. Arthur Richards, is forced to serve a five-year term for an alleged operation performed by Richards. All his life Dr. Wayne had been an intensely religious man but he emerges from prison a scoffer, because he rankles at injustice. In the end the scoffer is convinced that he is wrong and he renews his faith in mankind and finds true happiness in a new field of labor.

AT THE STRAND

"The Journey's End," which will be shown at the Strand theater for the last times today, is the first serious drama ever brought to the screen without a single sub-title. Wyndham Standing and Mabel Ballin are cast in the leading roles.

Douglas MacLean in "Chickens" and Ben Turpin in his latest comedy "Love and Doughnuts" will be the attractions at the Strand Sunday to Tuesday.

LIT GROUPS HOLD OPEN MEETINGS

Edith Black, president, gave a talk on what Castalia stands for, and Yvette Goldberg gave a Swedish interpretation. A social hour, at which refreshments were served, concluded the meeting.

At the meeting of Pythia Helen Geller spoke upon noted Wisconsin personages. Margery Capehart told a few interesting facts concerning Honore Wildse, and Erma Borchers read one of her stories, "The Forbidden North." Mary Lieb was appointed social chairman.

PROFESSOR LENHER NAMED ON BOARD

Prof Lenher f Caiha, sq, vtak
Professor Victor Lenher of the university was appointed a member of the city board of health and Arthur Bartz, janitor at the gymnasium, was made a special policeman on the university campus, at a meeting of the city council last night. A resolution to resurface Langdon street between Lake and Park was referred to the street committee.

SETTLEMENT WORKERS TO MEET THIS MORNING

The meeting of all women interested in doing service at the new settlement house will be held at 1:00 p. m. today in the S. G. A. room instead of at 10:00 a. m. as formerly announced.

ANNUAL RUSH IS HELD AT 1:30 P. M.

1:30 p. m. today as a signal to start the rush, in order to prevent anybody from "jumping the gun." Captain Knollin stated last night that the contest will be started on time to avoid a conflict with the returns of our Northwestern game to be given out at the gymnasium beginning at 2 o'clock.

A large corps of "cops" will police the campus this morning to assist the freshmen going to and from classes. They were provided with clubs yesterday noon.

Dr. Robert Van Valzah of the University Clinic has issued the following lists of men who are exempt from the class rush this afternoon because of physical disability. In compiling the lists the men have been exempted from the rush on the same basis as they are exempted from military drill service.

"These lists possibly may not be complete," said Dr. Van Valzah yesterday, "but any man who knows that he should not go into the rush should report to the clinic for a statement, so that he will not be molested by the upperclassmen." The lists are as follows:

Sophomores—Carl G. Hausmann, Fidel T. Ramirez, Edward D. Morris, Richard H. Klare, Jos. T. Delfosse, Russell G. Pfeifer, Albert N. Hjorth, W. A. Mason, Leo V. Rowen, Harold Brandt, Lester J.
