AL WALTER AND JOSEPHINE SNOW HEAD '24 TICKET

Other Bilstad, Finkle, and Frank Also Named For Senior Offices

Allan W. Walter and Josephine F. Snow were announced officially as candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency respectively of the senior class on Thursday.

Other candidates on the Walter-Snow ticket are Esther W. Bilstad for secretary, George H. Finkle for treasurer and William J. Frank for sergeant-at-arms.

Walter has never held a political position in campus activities. He is general chairman of the 1923 Homecoming and is president of White Spades. He is editor-in-chief of the Athletic review and a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet. In his junior year, Walter was business manager of the Wisconsin Literary magazine, editor of the 1924 Badger, and president of the junior council.

Walter is a member of Iron Cross, Scabbard and Blade, Council of Forty, Philomathia Literary society, Advertising club and the Press club. He was chairman of (Badger Photo) the Military Ball floor committee, the Wisconsin in China drives, and Memorial Union drive. He was a member of the ticket committee for the 1924 Junior prom and was manager of the grid graph last year. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Josephine Snow, candidate for vice president, is president of Blue Dragon and a member of W. A. A.

She won her "W" in baseball, swimming and basketball. She is a member of Keystone and was secretary and treasurer of the committee in charge of inter-sorority bowling. She is a member of Outing club, was a member of the special feature committee for the 1924 Junior Prom and a member of the Homecoming committee.

BARITONE AGAIN CHARMS MADISON

Reinold Werrenrath Sings Before Huge Crowd With Varied Repertoire

A delightful program of various types of songs was given by Reinold Werrenrath before a full gymnasium last night. Mr. Werrenrath was assisted by Herbert Carrik, pianist.

Included in the program were English and Irish songs, some classical German and Italian compositions, a group of Negro melodies, some old American folk songs, and a group of local songs.

An old Surrey air by Lucy Broadwood, "Some Rival has Stolen My True Love Away," opened the concert. This was followed by two old Irish airs, "Little Mary Cassidy," arranged by Arthur Somervell, and "Over the Hills and Far Away" by William Arms Fisher. An Old English lyric by H. Lang Wilson entitled "The Pretty Creature," was included in the first group.

The second group consisted of four German selections, "Du bist die Ruh" and "Der Doppelganger" by Franz Schubert, "Licht," by Christian Singing, and Edward Grieg's "Lauf der Welt." The Prologue to "Pagliacci" crowned the third part of the program.

What's a Matter With Your Eye? Umbrella Points

Are you one of the offenders who struck me in the eye with the points of your umbrella yesterday? You must be for I was ruthlessly aimed at many times while walking to classes.

Black, green, purple, red umbrellas dance before my blinded eyes. Why do three people all carrying umbrellas insist upon walking abreast on a narrow sidewalk, paying no attention to anyone else and doing their dirty work under cover?

Rain in the morning is the signal for persons with umbrellas to congregate, and for all persons without to walk on the untrodden paths where they may be safe from the sharp ends which are unconsciously guided into the unsuspecting eye.

CARDINAL BOARD AWARDS POSITIONS

Fourteen Editorial and Five Business Staff Members Promoted

Fourteen students were awarded positions on The Cardinal editorial staff and five were given places on the business staff by the board of control in its regular meeting yesterday noon.

In addition to making new appointments, the board passed a by-law to meet the emergency arising from the ineligibility of Earle Giff '24 and Sidney Thorson '24 to hold office on the board.

The new by-law provides for the appointment by the present board of two juniors to fill out the entire terms of the ineligible members. The names of the two appointed members will be announced after the board meeting next Thursday.

The by-law passed by the board reads as follows:

"In case of a vacancy on the Board of Control caused by removal from the university, ineligibility, as certified by the Student Life and Interest committee or for any other reason, the remaining members of the board shall take appointments to fill the rest of the term of office so vacated."

Students promoted and given new positions on The Cardinal are as follows:

Editorial staff — desk editors, Chester Bailey '24, James Culbertson; special writers, Janet Hull '26, Paul McGinnis '25, Adline Pepper '25; reporters, Lisa Behmer '26, Russell Bookhout '26, Alice Colony '26, Martha Dalrymple '25, Nelson Jansky '26, John McCausland '26, Lina Norman '25, E. L. Peterson '24, Thelma Roach '24. Business staff — classified advertising manager, Donald B. Hatmaker '26; associate advertising manager, Beatrice Morgan; advertising assistants, John Legier '26, Harriet Godfrey '25, Jane Pierson '26.

WHERE'S M' HAT? ON YER HEAD! THAT AIN'T MINE!

The hat mystery deepens. Delta Delta Delta sorority yesterday announced that it is in possession of a large fel hat whose owner is unknown.

Simultaneously comes the announcement from James Van Wageningen '26 that his hat has been missing since last Friday. All of which goes to show that some student is wearing a hat belonging to Jimmy, because the one at the Tri Delt house is much too small for him.

This comes on the heels of the recovery early this week of the hat lost by one of the Cardinal editors. Now comes the task of locating Jimmy's headpiece as he doesn't like the one he wore last year.

PYTHIA SOCIETY TO HOLD FIRST TRYOUTS

Pythia literary society will have tryouts at 7 o'clock tomorrow night in the dancing room in Lathrop hall. There will be no business meeting. All the time will be devoted to hearing the girls who are trying out.

Revive Old Custom of Hauling Team to University in Wagon

An old custom of years ago when Wisconsin was the football luminary of the West will be revived at 12 o'clock Sunday when the football team returns from its first conference game under a new coaching regime.

At 12 o'clock Sunday noon the student body will meet on the steps of the library with a large flat bedded wagon to go to meet the incoming team at the Chicago and Northwestern station. The team will be placed on the wagon which will be pulled to lower campus by the students.

Members of the athletic department are planning now for the purchase of the wagon. It will be kept near the gym or library in the open. The wagon is never to be used for any other purpose.

An impromptu band is also being recruited. Any musicians that are interested in giving the team a rousing welcome Sunday are requested to come to the library at 12 o'clock.

In accordance with the old custom the wagon will be used to meet the Minnesota team on October 26 and the Michigan team on November 16.

Whether the team won or lost the students would meet them at the station on their return and pull the wagon to the university district.

Weather Man Says Put Away Yellow Slicker For Awhile

All right, fellows, you can pack away those classy yellow slickers for a few days. The rainy season is due for a set-back, and the sun will shine over a drier but colder campus today, if predictions prove true.

The clothing merchants have been blessing the weather man the last few days, mainly because of the decidedly bullish tendency the rain-coat market has been showing. Because of their high visibility, "yaller" coats seem to be the most popular on the campus, but census would show the darker ones in the majority. Those dainty hues of violet that the well-known more artistic sex affect are in plain view, too, but in small numbers.

COLE SEEKS JUNIOR CLASS SENATE JOB

Lewellyn R. Cole, Jr. is a candidate for one of the three junior positions on the Student senate. Cole is chairman of the elections committee at present and is a member of the senate judiciary committee. He is photographic editor of the 1925 Badger and was department editor of the 1923 book. He has served on Military ball, Homecoming, and Y. M. C. A. committees. Cole was one of the speakers at the legislative hearing on prom last spring. He is a member of Phi Beta Pi and Alpha Chi Rho social fraternity.

PAN HELLENIC CUTS ALPHA PHI PENALTY

At a meeting of the judicial committee of Pan Hellenic last Wednesday the sentence of Alpha Phi for infringement of rushing rules was reduced from a semester's removal of privileges to removal of social privileges until Thanksgiving time. The action of the committee was taken because of the lawful attitude in which the decision was taken by the sorority, committee members felt. The committee also felt that the offence of the sorority was unintentional.

Foreign Flashes

BERLIN, Oct. 18—The frequency of rioting in Saxony and the defiant stank taken by the Socialist-Communist ministry at Dresden are causing such concern here that the central government is prepared to send additional troops there.

MANNHEIM, Oct. 18—From six to eight persons are reported dead and many others wounded as the result of yesterday's food riots here. A state of siege was declared by the police last night.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18—Ex-Premier David Lloyd George, in what is termed his chief message to America, before 10,000 people endorsed the Hughes plan for an international reparations conference and condemned the occupation of the Ruhr. He left this afternoon amid cheers from a crowd that gathered in the Illinois Central station and called out for a message of gratitude for the city's gratitude.

SLOGAN POSTERS SENT TO GRADS

10,000 Homecoming Stickers Will Adorn Suitcases and Windshields

Ten thousand Badger posters have been distributed among the alumni clubs of the country to paste on suitcases and auto-shields of grads returning to Madison for Homecoming.

Fred Gustorf '25, publicity chairman, said yesterday. The small animal bears on its body the words: "We're Badgers, homeward bound to watch Wisconsin lick Minnesota October 27." (Badger Photo)

"We are sending these gummed labels to every organization on the hill, asking that they be sent to alumni and pasted on Madison cars," Gustorf said. Large layouts of pictures of general chairman Walter, Captain Below and Coach Ryan, with an insert of the new stadium have been printed in almost every daily newspaper in the state. Big Ten publications also were sent copies of this cut.

The Badger studio is preparing a set of pictures of the chairmen be shown in the case on State street. Eliot H. Sharp '25, is directing the local publicity and Wes W. Dunlap '25 is supervising the foreign campaign.

ALL-UNIVERSITY MIXER TO BE HELD TONIGHT

The second of the series of all-university mixers will be held at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Lathrop hall gymnasium under the auspices of the Union board. Twenty representatives of the S. G. A. will act as a committee to assist in helping the students make the acquaintances they desire. They will also aid in serving refreshments during the evening. Thompson's orchestra will furnish the music. In order to confine these all-university dances to university attendance alone, the rule enforcing the showing of fee cards for admittance will be enforced strictly. Admission price is 25 cents, proceeds of which will be turned over to the Memorial Union building fund.

GRID TEAM ARRIVES AT BLOOMINGTON TONIGHT

The Wisconsin football team left for Chicago at 5:50 o'clock yesterday on the Northwestern railroad. The team will take a morning train for Bloomington and arrive there sometime this evening.

Due to ugly weather only a handful of rooters were there to cheer the team on its way. Ez Crane and Shorty Walstead lead the loyal supporter in a few snappy yells. Everybody seemed happy despite the adverse weather conditions.

Cheer leader Ez Crane will leave today for Bloomington and will be ready to lead the loyal band of students that made the trip.

FRESHMEN PLEAD GUILTY BEFORE STUDENT COURT

Brooks, Wilkinson, and Burroughs Receive Clemency on Charges

"In view of the peculiar circumstances of this case, it is the decision of this court that the three defendants be publicly reprimanded through the columns of The Cardinal at an early date." With these words T. R. Hannon, chief justice of the student court concluded the first trial of students for hazing in the history of the university.

The defendants in the case, Henry Brooks '27, John Wilkinson '27 and Jefferson Burroughs '27 had plead guilty to the charge at the beginning of the trial.

Formal Charge
The trial opened with the reading of the charge by the court secretary, G. Currie. The formal charge follows:

Student Body, Plaintiff vs. Jefferson Burroughs, Henry Brooks, John Wilkinson, Defendants.

The Student Body, by its duly appointed prosecutor, for cause of complaint against the above named defendants, shows the court:

That the defendants, members of the freshman class on the evening of October 9, 1923, at about 10:30 o'clock p. m. in the vicinity of lower campus and west ends of Langdon and State streets, did by words and actions directed to and in the presence of members of the sophomore class, solicit the commission of an offence against the good order of the Student Body, with the intent to cause such offence against the good order of the student body: said offence being hazing, fighting, rioting, and other probable consequences of the hostile meeting of the two classes.

Wherefore, the plaintiff asks that the defendants be punished by such punishment as the court may see fit to impose.

Frosh Plead Guilty
Prosecutor Burke then explained that the charges consisted of inciting hazing through cat-calling, hissing and giving the freshmen class yell.

The defendants then plead guilty.

"I have a little more to say than to repeat what has been read in the charge," said the prosecutor in his preliminary speech.

"It is my opinion that the defendants are unfortunate in being the only ones apprehended of the many who took part in the affair. I think both sophomores and freshmen were to blame. Furthermore, I think the case is that real red blooded frosh who had been attacked several times in the evening, lost patience and showed the stuff they were made of. I think the sentence should be clement," said Persons.

FULTON OUTLINES BADGER PROGRESS

Reviews Present Plans to Entire Staff and Describes Make-up of Annual

Plans for the 1925 Badger were outlined by Ellis Fulton, editor, at a meeting of more than 75 members of the staff yesterday afternoon in Bascom hall.

The meeting was held in order to give the staff members an idea of the progress of the work. Already many of the section headings have been sent to the engravers.

"By the middle of November, we will have an entire list of the art plates."

The first 550 pages of the book will be devoted to presenting the Wisconsin campus, reflecting campus activities and showing Badger students as they now are. But not only will these 550 pages show Wisconsin but the section headings, engravings, and art work will attempt to visualize the future. The Badger is designed to give people on the campus a glimpse ahead, according to Fulton.

FIND FRIENDS BY CARD CATALOGUES

Homecoming Committee Plans New System For Alums to Locate Each Other

The Homecoming committee on the registration of alumni has made arrangements whereby alumni can find their friends and classmates by a card catalogue system, Rachel Haswell '24, chairman of the committee, said yesterday.

Cards will be placed at the five information booths and at the alumni headquarters in Music hall on which (Badger Photo) the incoming alumni can register their names, class, Madison address and telephone number. There will be an alphabetical list of this information as well as a list by classes.

The cards will be collected every hour from the information booths so that the lists will be as near up-to-date as possible. The hourly collection is a new phase of the registration committee's work. The headquarters in Music hall will be open all day Saturday, Miss Haswell said.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB GIVES DINNER MONDAY

A meeting of the Social Science club will be held at 6 o'clock Monday in Lathrop parlors, said officers of the club yesterday. This is to be a banquet and the first meeting of the year. Prof. E. A. Ross of the sociology department will speak on "Socialism and Social Revolution." Members and new students are making reservations for the banquet now. This meeting is especially for the benefit of new students who are interested in social questions and for the reorganization of the club this season, said the officers.

PETER V. ROSS WILL ADDRESS SCIENTISTS

A free lecture on Christian Science will be given by Peter V. Ross, C. S. B., of San Francisco, at 8:15 o'clock Sunday evening in the Beaver building, 117 Monona Avenue under the Second Church of Christ, Scientist. Mr. Ross is a member of The Mother church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The public is cordially invited to attend.

AG LIT MEETING

Ag Lit will hold a meeting at room 134 Ag hall at 7:30 tonight.

Photos Are Needed For Varsity News Issue of Cardinal

Pictures are wanted for the Varsity Photo News, the regular pictorial supplement of the Sunday Cardinal. Snapshots of active campus life are desired.

The Cardinal is opening a contest to contributors. Each week the best picture will be printed with credit to the photographer, and a prize of two dollars in trade will be awarded by the Photoart house. The possibilities for a representative and interesting picture section will depend upon the response of Cardinal readers to this offer.

"Our Spirit Cameraman," for two weeks a campus mystery, succeeded in drawing four of his curious and bewildered subjects to the Cardinal office this week. Goldine Sterling '25 was given a picture. She appeared October seventh. Jene Hay '26, Elizabeth Ball '27 and Rosalind Johnston '27, whose pictures were printed last Sunday, were given copies of the print.

PROF. PAGE ATTENDS LAW INSTITUTE MEET

Prof. W. H. Page of the Law school is attending a conference of the American Law institute being held this week in Cambridge, Mass.

The institute was organized two years ago for the purpose of the restatement of law. Members of the committee this year are working on the restatement of the law of contracts.

The men called into conference for this work are regarded as experts on the subject. Professor Wilson of Harvard university, and Professor Page are the two leading United States authors of text books on contracts.

RUSSIAN WOMAN GIVEN CRANE SCHOLARSHIP

Mme. Tatiana Vacquier, of French and Russian parentage, has arrived in Madison to attend the university, as holder of the Crane Fellowship in Romance languages. Her husband is a physician. Mme. Vacquier explained that she came to America primarily so that her son, who is now 16 years old, and a senior in high school, would have an opportunity to get an education. Mme. Vacquier was educated at the University of Petrograd. She knows four languages and plans to teach after getting her master of arts degree.

CHINESE STUDENT IS TAKING LIBRARY WORK

Kwoh C. Liu, of Nanking, China, enjoys the distinction of being the only Chinese student who has ever enrolled in the Wisconsin Library school, and is the only man student this year in a class of 38. In the 18 years of the Wisconsin Library school, there have been only nine men students, five of whom were Filipinos, two Americans, one Canadian, and Mr. Liu.

"Well, at first it was rather queer, but now I'm accustomed to it," he replied to the question as to how he liked being the only man in a class with 37 women students.

MINNESOTA PLAYS NORTH DAKOTA IN THIRD GRID GAME

Gophers Are Pointing Toward Wisconsin Homecoming Game

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. Oct. 18—After the gruelling contests of the past two Saturdays, Bill Spaulding's football warriors at Minnesota have cause to expect nothing less than a team of frenzied players when they line up Saturday against the North Dakota Flickertails.

If Ames and Haskell were "practice" games, Spaulding and Captain Earl Martineau are anxious to be told what a real football contest is like. At the same time the whole squad admits willingly that nothing could have been better to put the team on edge than the type of swift, aggressive football played by the season's first two competitors.

Two Men are Injured

Loss of Cox, gallant tackle, will be felt by the Gophers. Stew Willson was also added to the string of disabled quarterbacks for a week or two. Minnesota can easily boast the longest list of quarterbacks in the Western conference, but Guzy alone is in condition to play Saturday. Except Foote, however, the others will soon be back in the game. Graham, a fast man, is being held apparently as a half-back rather than at quarter.

Martineau Plays Well

Captain Martineau showed against Haskell that he is the Marty of old. His sensational 41 yard run for a touchdown, holding the ball in a bandaged hand, was a thrill of the real variety.

"On Wisconsin," famous Badger march, is now parodied on Northrop Field, where the keynote is "On to Wisconsin." Spaulding's men will open their conference schedule at Madison on October 27 and the 1923 football record of the Minnesota team will be officially written down beginning with that date. Judging from what has come from the Badger camp, it is anyone's game.

31 HARRIERS ON GOPHER SQUAD

Northerners Meet Grinnell College at Minneapolis Tomorrow

Six dependable distance runners and a bevy of 25 others make up the squad of cross-country men at Minnesota. Emil Iverson, new coach of the University of Minnesota Hill and dale men, is now busily engaged in preparing them for the 1923 season. The Gophers run against Grinnell college at Minneapolis this Saturday, and continue their cross-country schedule at Madison next week on the day of the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game.

The Iowa and Minnesota harriers will meet at Minneapolis November 17, the date of the Iowa game. The conference season will close November 24 with the conference meet at Ohio State university, Columbus, O. A. C. Jacobson, captain, Don McLaughlin, last year's captain, Lyman Brown, L. L. Vye, Roy Shuck, Roy Papkin and W. W. Lowther are leading competitors for places on the team. The first four mentioned are "M" men.

ELSIE JANIS KICKS OFF IN NOTRE DAME GAME

For the first time in the history of college football a woman kicked off. Elsie Janis, queen of the A. E. F. performed the stunt recently at the Army-Notre Dame game at Brooklyn. Among the spectators were fourteen hundred cadets.

MICHIGAN WILL DEDICATE FIELD HOUSE TO YOST

(Special to The Cardinal)
Announcement was made at the athletic offices of the University of Michigan today that the new Yost Field House will be dedicated formally November 10, the date of the United States Marine game.

This announcement came as an added impetus to the interest centering in the Marine-Michigan contest and with the celebration that is attendant with every game in which service teams figure. The day will be a gala one on the Michigan football card.

A committee on arrangements was appointed by the board in control of athletics at their last meeting and although no definite plans have been made, appropriate exercises will be held which are consistent with the dedication of a structure of this kind.

The work on the building has been progressing rapidly in the past few months and Tuesday night for the first time, the main activities room was used for a secret practice of the Michigan gridgers. It is expected that the building will be finished and ready for use by the middle of November.

Grid Graphs

By ORIE

The boys are gone folks—may they come home with the Hoosier's scalp and equipment.

As for the royal sendoff they deserved—it was all dampened by the driving rain and wind. It's a shame that even the band couldn't go down with them, but just wait till they come home. Elaborate preparations are under way—win or lose.

The varsity is in pretty fair shape for the Indiana fracas. Taft will undoubtedly start at his old position, and if he does as his custom in games past, he'll punt the Cardinal out of many a tight hole.

It looks as though Al Schneider will get the call over Eagleberger this week, because of his brainy executions in the Aggie game.

Indiana has a darn good end in this man Knoy. He is a triple-threat man, and is a bear on the receiving end of passes.

This year Indiana is a different bunch than we faced last fall. They have a new coach, his style of play is a mystery to the conference, and the Hoosiers are an aggressive lot all around.

The games that will attract the greatest amount of attention, of course, are the Illinois-Iowa, and Ohio State-Michigan contests. If one wins, the other is practically eliminated. Wisconsin has to play two of these four, so it's a mighty good bet that we still have a ghost of a show.

Chicago plays Northwestern, and to all indications the game on the Midway is going to be interesting. Northwestern under Thistlewaite is still a mystery, while Chicago hasn't shown anything exceptional yet this year.

The Grid Graph at the gym will be a novelty to many of the new folks around school. Take my tip, and witness the proceedings down there. It's even more exciting than seeing the real thing.

MEANWELL PUTS CANIDATES THRU LIGHT PRACTICE

25 Men Working Out Daily in Gym For Basketball Squad

Approximately 25 candidates for the varsity basketball squad have been working out daily during the past three weeks. The work so far has consisted of light practice, but within a short time things will start in earnest.

With the return of several letter men from last year's team, Coach Meanwell will have a fair nucleus with which to build up a new squad.

Among the candidates who have had previous experience under the Meanwell system are Spooner and Elsom, forwards; Barwig and Diebold, guards; and Gibson, center.

Two Guards Lost

The loss of Williams and Tebe through graduation will be felt keenly by the coach and all those who have the Badger basketball future at heart. This pair of guards developed into one of the best, if not the best, guard combinations seen on any conference team for a number of years.

Several likely looking men are included in the list of candidates now out for the team. Nelson, Varney and Merkle who are working for the forward position, will give the old men plenty of competition in the race for membership on the team.

New Men Look Good

Harris, Meyer and Wolf, guards, also look as if they possess the right stuff for varsity material, judging from early practices. Wolf may be in the running when final choices are made. Radke, who is occupied with football also will report for basketball practice after the finish of the grid season. Harris and Nelson are two other football men who have not yet reported.

Practice is expected to start in earnest soon at which time the squad will be cut to the usual number of approximately 15.

CHICAGO TICKET SALE TO CLOSE FOR FEW DAYS

Because of the great demand for tickets for the Chicago game, the sale has been discontinued until those who have already made their reservations are taken care of. Only 10,000 pasteboards were reserved for distribution among students and alumni. If any remain after all mail orders and student reservations have been filled they will again be put on open sale.

Student reservations for the Michigan game on November 17, will begin on Wednesday in the office of the gymnasium. The same course will be followed in ticket distribution for this game as has been used for Homecoming, the fee card and 50 cents being the only requirements, the reservations being given out later.

The tickets for the Homecoming game which have been on file for some time will be given out beginning Monday. The reservation slip must be presented when calling for tickets.

SORORITY BOWLING TO START NOVEMBER 1

Inter-sorority bowling will start the first Thursday after Homecoming, according to Josephine Snow, president of the bowling organization. There are thirteen sororities represented in the organization. Contests will be held every Thursday afternoon at the Madison bowling alleys. A schedule of the games to be played and the times of playing will be furnished the captain of each team.

NO NEW YELLS USED AT GAMES THIS YEAR

Ez Crane, '24, head cheer-leader, states that there will be no new yells used this year. One of the yells chosen last year which will be used a great deal this year is:

Yea Marty

Yea Below

Yea, Yea, Marty Below

Any new yells handed in to the Cardinal or to Ez Crane will not be used as there are hundreds to pick from as a result of last year's yell contest.

A new wrinkle in the cheering

WOLVERINE GAME IS SECOND ONLY TO HOMECOMING

80-Piece Band Will Accompany Team to Madison November 17

With the Michigan fray less than a month off, plans are being laid to make this second only to the Homecoming game. Coach Jones reports that he expects the stands to be filled. This will be the first time in the history of football that the stands have been filled at a game other than Homecoming.

Michigan will be here in force. Mr. Zoelle, agent at the Northwestern depot, says that he has made reservations for 250 Michigan rooters from Lansing. They expect to be here and show the fact to everybody. Besides this the Sparks Wethington Auto company is sending an 80-piece band to help put pep and spirit into the fighting Michigan team. The band and rooters will arrive in Madison on Saturday morning, November 17.

Tickets for the Michigan-Wisconsin game are going fast, according to Coach Jones. He has had orders from many cities in Michigan and expects many more in the next two weeks. A full stadium is Coach Jones' objective.

line, to let the people know who is going to replace a man coming out, will be the giving of a skyrocket. The usual skyrocket will then be given for the man coming off the field. Ez wishes to emphasize the fact that everybody should be on the lookout for the signal to give these skyrockets. Both of these yells will be used in the Indiana and Minnesota games.

DAD'S DAY AND THE GAME

November 17, the day of the Michigan football game, is Dad's day. Although it is a comparatively new event on the calendar, it has been entered into with great spirit since the year of its inauguration, and students especially have recognized and respected it. Many students have planned to have their fathers visit them on Dad's day as a matter of course, but the added attraction of the Michigan game has influenced many more students to ask their fathers to Madison than otherwise would have.

After having extended the invitation, the students realized that they would not be able to buy tickets at student rates if they wished to sit with their fathers at the game. Of course, it would be extremely foolish to observe the day unless father and son could have seats together on the stadium. Accordingly, they forfeited their student privileges and paid the added expense.

The added expense, however, was not the only sacrifice they made, for they were probably prevented from sitting on the Wisconsin side of the stand or at least from sitting in the Wisconsin cheering section. The Homecoming game is largely for the alumni, and the Michigan game, with its peculiar coincidence with Dad's day, should be for fathers and sons, and fathers and daughters. It is a strange arrangement which attracts fathers to Madison for the Michigan game, and yet does not allow them to sit with their sons.

Of course the situation arises out of the decision of the athletic department to sell no more than one ticket at student rates to a student in order that tickets will not be scalped on a wholesale basis. Yet it is not probable that any more tickets will be scalped if a student is allowed to purchase his ticket at the 50 cent rate and another one with it for his Dad at the regular rate.

OVER-EFFICIENCY

When the Bascom hall traffic regulations were introduced several years ago, those who constantly used the building breathed with great relief at the thought of there being less congestion in the halls, doorways, and on the stairs. No longer would entering Bascom hall seem like the class rush, or climbing up its stairways seem like forcing ones way up an impossible mountain. The rules solved the situation, for they were obeyed fairly well, and proved efficient in eliminating congestion.

Now, however, a new traffic rule has been established for Bascom hall. Or rather, the old rule is being enforced to the very limit. Until a few days ago, students and teachers alike took it for granted that at the hours of eight and one-thirty they were perfectly justified in using all doors as entrances since at those times there was practically no one using them for exits. This conclusion was a natural and sensible one. Perhaps it was not in keeping with the letter of the law, but it was certainly in keeping with the letter of common sense.

Now, lo and behold, authorities have deemed it wise to enforce the very letter of the law, and prohibit entrance at the two end doors at any hour. This seems a case of over efficiency. More students enter Bascom hall at the hours of eight and one-thirty than at any other time. Thus, the single entrance is not enough to accommodate them, and as before, entering the building at either one of those hours is like participating in a class rush. And while students push and are pushed through the central entrance, they eye the unused but guarded end doors with wonder.

By all means, the very letter of the Bascom hall traffic laws should be enforced when there is need. But when there is not need for such enforcement, at the first class hour in the morning and in the afternoon, it is simply another case of unnecessary and harmful over-efficiency.

Perhaps this enforcement is carried on in order to train the student in the right way, lest, by using the end entrances, he acquire a careless habit which he is apt to follow at hours other than eight and one-thirty. This is as much as saying that a student in the university is little better than one in high school.

MEN, WOMEN—AND THE GAME

Recent investigations by Dr. Clelia Duel Mosher of Stanford university prove that the college women of today are larger, stronger and healthier than those of three decades ago.

Aside from the various reasons and scientific facts laid down by Dr. Mosher to demonstrate this development, it is perfectly evident to the casual eye that the college women of today are taking a more active interest in sports and outdoor activities. They have done away with some of the old idiotic fashions which hampered development, and they have come to love the game, the fight, and the scrap of contest as well as the most red blooded man.

Along with this development in the women and its attendant increase in interest in their own sports there has come a greater enthusiasm over the men's intercollegiate sports. Thus today the women in the stand are keen rivals of the men in the volume of the cheering.

Poor man has ever been a self-conscious individual in the presence of woman, and although he occasionally forgets himself at a crucial moment of play he cannot do his best cheering when he is accompanied by his fair one.

It seems evident that when the desires and wishes of both the men and the women are identical in that they want their team to win, and when they both realize that they can give better support if they are apart, that the laudable diversion of "fussing" should be discouraged at football games.

If women go together they will feel freer to shrill their soprano cries. If men are alone they will unrestrainedly cut loose on the locomotives and sky-rockets. Thus an unbeatable combination of bass and its higher octaves would result.

A movement should be started against dating to the games. Men want it. Women want it. Wisconsin needs it.

Other Editors Say—

MORE THAN A LITTLE

(Minnesota Daily)

Said Pope: "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

The only way to keep out of Pope's intellectual danger zone is to get more than a little knowledge and the way to get more than a little knowledge is to concentrate on study.

During the summer months many brains have become rusty and inactive, and the lubricating influence of text-books and assignments has become lost. The cog-wheels of our minds do not yet run smoothly and efficiently.

The thing to do is to study the hardest at the beginning of the quarter, letting the mental machinery get "broke in" at the very start. If that is done, all will be fair sailing toward the finals and we will come into our scholastic port with a ship loaded with high marks—and knowledge—more than a little knowledge, too.

SHAKESPEARIAN PLAYER
GOES NEXT TO NEW YORK

Age of Desire
Tiring in Part

Some critics say there are only thirty-six different plots; others limit the number to six. Consequently, we cannot criticize "The Age of Desire" too strenuously for its conventionality. If you expect it to be a society picture you'll be disappointed, because its main interest centers around a very modest home. An added blow is the lack of familiar faces in the cast. If you like movies you will probably not be bored with this one, but you may get a little tired of scenes intended to wring your heart, and of Myrtle Stedman's incessant clinging.

Myrtle, by the way, takes the role of a widow, who, having been disappointed in a poverty-stricken der false pretences, and leaves marriage captures a millionaire un-Ranny, her little boy, with the neighbors. About half of the picture is a survey of Ranny's youth up to the time he becomes a crook, well-versed in the intricacies of blackmail. After many complicated situations comes the banal movie denouement in which everybody's happy, and looking as if he were sitting for a family picture.

Except for William Collier Jr., who is splendid, the acting is mediocre and the photography negligible. We don't think it repaid us for sitting through Topics of the Day, a Dippy Doo Dad and a Felix Comedy, Fox News, and the Class Rush again! However, it's an average picture, and may appeal to you.

peare, and "Peleas and Melisande" by Maeterlinck.

Miss Cowl has been ambitious all her acting life to play Shakespeare and now her ambitions are being fulfilled with most satisfactory results, since her success in "Romeo and Juliet" is one of the greatest in the history of the playing of Shakespeare.

She broke all records, even Julia Marlowe's, in point of number of performances given.

Up Stage Bits

BY TORMENTOR

Now that the film version of the Ten Commandments is nearing completion one wonders which five the censors will delete.

It is pleasing to imagine that some of the music for "Wildflower," now on Broadway and written by Herb Stothart, is a development of some of the pieces in "Alpsburg," the musical comedy show he wrote for the Haresfoot club back in 1910 or thereabouts. Both shows have Italian folk settings.

One good thing that the Homecoming Carnival, which is going to be better than ever, is bringing out is that there is a real Houdini in school. We've always envied these straightjacket slippers, especially when ma locked us up in a closet.

It's getting so that every person in school has to be an actor at some time now: Carnival, Hobo Parade, Haresfoot Follies, Wisconsin Players, Haresfoot Club, quiz sections, Dean Goodnight's office, etc.

We're going "Up the Ladder" tonight, but we'll be back.

Rumor has it that the play is a pleasing thing and funny with a little moral which does not quite spoil it.

Oscar, Sid, Doug and the rest of the Parkway boys are thinking of resigning their job after a week of seeing the impossible dancer at Parkway. She gets away with it too. The Tormentor is surprised at you, Madison.

Snap and Pep Will Be Theaters' Slogan

By SAPPY

"Snap and Pep" seems to be the slogan of the Madison theater for next week. No exceptional shows are going to be shown, but every picture will be filled with life and excitement.

Hoot Gibson will ramble over the screen of the Strand Theater from Sunday to Tuesday in "The Rambling Kid" a play filled with thrills and laughter, showing the West, slightly modernized, slightly prohibitionist. From Wednesday to Saturday the Strand will show "The Bad Man" with Holbrook Blinn, Jack Mulhall and Harry Myers, of "Connecticut Yankee" fame. It is a Mexican wild life story, with revolvers and Spaniards and horse-races.

The Majestic will feature from Sunday to Tuesday "You Can't Fool Your Wife" with Leatrice Joy, Nita Naldi, Lewis Stone, and Pauline Garon. The picture promises to dazzle and shock with its sumptuousness and daring. From Wednesday to Saturday the Majestic will show "April Showers" with Kenneth Harland and Colleen Moore.

The Madison will show our old friend Viola Dana in "Rouged Lips" starting Saturday and ending Tuesday. The picture is taken from Rita Weiman's short story "Upstage." "Rouged Lips" is a roughish comedy of the stage, with an excellent supporting cast led by Tom Moore. "Robin Hood" will be shown from Wednesday to Friday in a return engagement.

at the Orpheum last half, we wouldn't mind paying to see her even if she sang a worse voice and a poorer song.

Howard of the Orpheum tells us that the reason the Orph is having such good shows is that Manager Scharnburg is running down to New York every week end to pick out the best acts.

Second Legitimate Attraction, "Up the Ladder," Here Now

The second legitimate attraction of the season appears at the Parkway theater tonight in the form of "Up the Ladder." Although this play did not have such a long run in New York City, it did meet with great success in Chicago. It is taken for granted in theatrical circles that New York taste differs tremendously from that of Chicago so that the fact that "Up the Ladder" did not make a huge hit in the metropolis is no indication that it is not worth seeing.

The play itself is spiced throughout with bits of humor. There are a number of amusing situations in it.

"Up the Ladder" is built around a moral. It will run a matinee and evening performance tomorrow.

The Parkway will present George Arliss and Alice Joyce in the Indian miracle play "The Green Goddess" a screen adaption of the famous play of the same name that ran in New York for two consecutive years. Friday night at 10:30 the Parkway is going to have its traditional "Homecoming Midnight Matinee" featuring Chicago Vaudeville Acts and an interesting movie. Saturday the fans of legitimate comedy will be able to see May Robson in her famous "Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary."

MU PHI EPSILON

Mu Phi Epsilon will give a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon in Lathrop parlors for the students of the Music school.

How to Start the Day Right

Start the day by reading The Journal's New Morning Edition! It will give you a wide outlook into affairs of the day, of your own state, of the nation, and of the world. It is the best newspaper published for morning readers, circulated in Wisconsin.

LITERARY CLUBS TO HOLD DEBATES

Hesperia, Athenae, and Philomathia Have Talks and Debates For Tonight

Hesperia will listen to a debate on the question "Resolved, that the Constitution be so amended that a vote of at least 7 to 2 by the United States Supreme Court be necessary to declare a law unconstitutional." Talks on the presidential possibilities and a phase of the prohibition law will complete the program.

Athenae's main offering is an argument on the question "Resolved, that the Federal Government reserve the Winneshiek bottoms and marshes of the upper Mississippi river for a national bird and game reserve." A talk on an "Inquiry into the Death of President Harding" and a general society discussion on charges of immorality made against certain state officials will be the extent of the program.

Philomathia will devote the major part of the meeting to a debate on the subject of reforming the present method of ticket sale at the university. The remainder of the program is a talk on the effect of college on a man.

Don't Let the Rain Get You Wet

Buy a Karstens Yellow Slicker

The slicker is the latest fad and they are selling like hot cakes. Everybody wants one—everybody can use one. Wear it over a suit, topcoat or overcoat. It is just as serviceable for girls as for men.

Quantity Limited

The sale has been so remarkable that manufacturers are short on orders. But Karstens foresaw this and have a large stock on hand for you. Don't be wet and down-hearted in rainy weather. Keep warm and dry under a slicker.
