5 CENTS

BASKETEERS IN BIG TEN REACH FINAL GAMES

Title Still at Stake—Badgers Given Chance to Tie for Honors

Only three days remain before the conference leaders finish up their schedules, and still the outcome of the conference is as much of a mystery as ever.

The coming three days will go down in conference history as the most important, as well as the most unusual, short period ever known. No one can say whether or not Illinois will win. The Suckers have two games to play and they stand an even chance of losing one, or possibly both, of them. Michigan beat them last week, and may do it again. Chicago has a team which is capable of winning from Illinois, and the Maroons are certainly due for a win.

Purdue, Minnesota, and Wisconsin are all hoping that Illinois will meet with another defeat. If the Suckers do drop a game Wisconsin and Minnesota will, on Saturday night, determine which of the two teams will continue to strive for a tie for title honors.

Badgers Have Edge

Wisconsin is given the edge over Minnesota in tomorrow night's game. The Badgers' play has shown great improvement since the Gophers defeated them by two points at Minnesota.

Purdue finishing up their schedule on Saturday night when they meet Iowa. The game will be a hard fought one, as Iowa has been playing great ball in their last few games.

On Monday night Indiana plays Minnesota for the second time. Although Indiana won from Minnesota early in the year, the Gophers have shown up to a better advantage as the season has progressed.

Loss to Purple Disastrous

The Northwestern team does not play again until March 12, when they play Minnesota. The following Monday night they complete their schedule by playing Iowa. The Purple will probably lose both of those games, as the same teams already defeated them once. It is to be regretted that Wisconsin was the one team from whom Northwestern won, as that defeat may prove to be sufficient to prevent the Badgers from winning the conference championship.

BAKER IS ELECTED AS PRESIDENT OF SIGMA DELTA CHI

Following the resignation of Henry C. Dennis '21 as president of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity, John G. Baker '21 was elected to fill the office for the remainder of the year. Baker is a senior in the Course in Journalism, and a member of Press club. The other officers of the organization will complete their term of service.

TO DISCUSS HOW RELIGION SCRUBS BUSINESS DOLLARS

Prof. J. L. Gillin Will Start Series Next Week on "Social Principles of Jesus"

How can a man make his business square with the golden rule without forcing it to the wall?

That is the question that will be answered in the first of a series of group discussions on "The Social Principles of Jesus," under the general direction of Prof. J. L. Gillin of the department of sociology.

Catching up the forces generated in the religious conference, it is hoped that this discussion course extending through the next five weeks will be of interest and dynamic value in bringing to the campus a practical formula for the solution of present day social problems by the simple application to them of the principles of religion.

"Christianity in Business" will be the theme of the first week's discussions. The other four subjects will be "Christianity in Politics," "Christianity and the Home," "Christianity and Social Relations," and "The Church and Social Christianity."

The series will be conducted on the plan that has been worked at various times with more or less success by campus religious organizations, with sometimes as many as 50 or 60 discussion groups participating. Student men and women leaders will meet with Dr. Gillin once a week, the first meeting being next Friday, and they in turn will act as leaders of informal small discussion units organized in various Greek letter chapters, rooming houses and dormitories.

As one of the most popular members of the faculty, with a forceful personality and a deep understanding of modern social problems, Professor Gillin is well fitted to direct this post-conference campaign for student enlistment in Christian social leadership. He has conducted religious discussions for campus organizations before and at present is leader of the largest adult Bible class in Madison, at the city Y. W. C. A., and is delivering a series of talks along similar lines at the city Y. M. C. A., besides being actively interested in various sociological efforts in the local field.

DANCE RECITAL PLEASES AUDIENCE

The students of Miss Margaret H'Doubler's interpretive dancing classes showed, last night at the dance recital, that they are masters of their art. Not only did they interpret the sublime but also the ridiculous.

One of the most beautiful numbers on the program was the interpretation of "Le Jongleur de Notre Dame." The story is about a monk who has no gift to offer the Blessed Virgin except his juggling tricks which he had learned before he became a monk. The Blessed Virgin, appreciating the sincerity of his efforts, blesses him.

The "Raggedy Ann" dance was both unique and amusing. The court of Old King Cole reminded one of the days of nursery rhymes. Seventeen girls were on the program.

Campus Ideals to be Improved by Conference

Work Praised by Howard Beaver as Event Needed by School

"New ideals will be brought into the campus consciousness and traditions by the Eddy meetings," said Howard Beaver, student secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., at a preliminary banquet attended by 150 Religious conference workers at the Woman's building last night.

"The Religious conference comes at a most significant time. The world is out of joint. Present chaotic conditions are either the birth pangs of a new order, or the beginnings of a tremendous crash. Sherwood Eddy attempts to answer the most fundamental and tragic problems of these post-war times. He makes a cross section of human needs.

"The test of this university is whether you are changing your campus life to meet conditions and are turning out the right kind of product. Some college graduates remind me of a bass drum, a sheepskin stretched over nothing. The important need is to fill the lives of university men and women with great driving purposes.

"All the people who are anxious to hear Mr. Eddy can not be accommodated in Lathrop hall, but I advise you to see that the most influential leaders of your campus are present to receive the inspirational message of the conference. Your work is just as fundamental as that of the speakers on the platform."

TRACK MEN TO MEET ILLINOIS

Wisconsin Sends Squad to Compete in Annual Relay Carnival Saturday

Fourteen men will leave Madison this afternoon for Urbana to compete in the annual Illinois Relay carnival there Saturday night.

The most spectacular of the special events may prove to be the high jump in which there are six men entered who have all made better than six feet records. These men are: Murphy of Notre Dame, Bradley of Kansas, Armstrong of Wisconsin, Evan of Earlham college, and Osborne and Alberts of Illinois.

Merrick and Wilder of Wisconsin are the only pole vaulters of special ability in this part of the country, making high scores. They made 12 feet 6 inches and 12 feet respectively.

In the high hurdles any one of the three Badger representatives, Knollin, Armstrong, and Stolley, is capable of winning a place. Knollin has shown up better in the outdoor hurdle races than in the indoor. He will undoubtedly be benefited, however, by the increased distance of his event from 40 to 75 yards.

EDDY TO OPEN RELIGION MEET AT 3:30 TODAY

Dismiss Classes for All-University Convocation in Lathrop

"The Challenge of the World Situation" is the theme of the address by Sherwood Eddy's which will be given before the all-university convocation in Lathrop gymnasium this afternoon at 3:30. Classes will be dismissed so that university students will have the opportunity to hear the opening address of the religious conference.

Pres. E. A. Birge will preside at the meeting and give an introductory address. A special choir, which has been under the training of Prof. E. B. Gordon, will provide the music for this as well as the rest of the conference meetings. A program of songs which will be sung by the entire assemblage has been arranged.

Eddy to Address Legislature
Sherwood Eddy, besides conducting the four other big meetings of the conference, will address a joint meeting of the legislature Saturday morning at the capitol. A special effort has been made to secure this appointment with Mr. Eddy because the message which he brings to Madison people and the students of the university is a world message.

Friday evening will be given over to a meeting in Lathrop gymnasium, at which time Mr. Eddy will follow up the talk given at the opening conference. Saturday morning and afternoon will be taken up with the institutes which are being conducted by the conference. Special choruses and quartet music has been prepared for all of these meetings.

Knows European Conditions
Mr. Eddy has just returned to this country from a trip through the continent of Europe. He will discuss conditions in the 18 different countries which he has recently visited. His message is an economic as well as a spiritual one, and he is considered one of the foremost authorities in America upon European conditions.

ISN'T it just terrible walking across the lower campus? Let's get our heads together and make a board walk for it.

AMONG the pleasant things that happened to us today was to cut a class in order to go downtown to deposit a check and then remember at the cashier's window that we had left it at home.

And so we say, don't be too conscientious.

OR in the words of the great German admiral, "Don't give up the ship until you see the whites of their eyes."

SEVERAL more Chi Psis are out for athletics. A group of them, under the able direction of Bill Goessling, were observed jumping rope in Wingra park the other afternoon.

AND while we are on the subject, it might be well to mention the fact that some of Kappa Sigs are working their way through school by repairing hairnets.

CAN IT BE POSSIBLE?
FROM 5c GEOLOGY lecture:
"The Igorotes, or Philippine Islanders, built terraces in order to provide level land for the cultivation of rice. Scientists have found these people to be very low in the scale of civilization, but they made very good engineers."

HYAN DRY says that it is not only possible, but that he is willing to give unlimited proof of it being one of the natural laws.

Our Daily Axiom
"Tis better to have hugged and lost, than never to have hugged at all."

AFTER this we will call such as the above, "Our Daily Axe and Then Some."

AND then we'll call the police force.

MILITARY BALL TO BE REUNION OF SERVICE MEN

Annual Dance Not Limited to Members of R. O.
T. C.

Although sponsored and managed by the university cadet corps, the ninth annual Military ball, which will be held in the armory April 8, will not be limited to the members of the R. O. T. C. as in the past, but will be a formal reunion of all ex-service men now in school.

Boxes have already been arranged to accommodate all members of the university post of the American legion and all Federal board students who may care to attend. The many campus clubs composed of ex-service men will also be urged to be present. All possible effort is being made to make this affair a real reunion instead of strictly a cadet dance.

Cadet Col. J. Calvin Wolfe is the general chairman of the 1921 Military ball and with his partner, who will be announced in Sunday's Daily Cardinal, will lead the grand march.

RED DOMINO HOLDS FRESHMAN TRYOUTS

The annual freshmen tryouts for Red Domino will be held today at 3:40 and Saturday at 1:30. The tryouts will be limited to the first 40 women who signed up. Final tryouts will be announced later for those selected from the two groups.

Prison Chaplain: "This is the third time that you have been here. Don't you feel ashamed when your friends call on you?"

Regular Customer: "I most certainly do. This cell is so terribly damp, the water is stale and the food is awful. I never was so ashamed in my life."

WE have remarked that 204 co-eds have entered the Tribune beauty contest, but we haven't seen any of them.

THE NOSY NEWSY

Every day he asks five people a question.

Today's question: What does the university need more than anything else?

Mildred Gerlach: "I think that a bright, baby blue, elevated, steam engine is needed to take the people up the hill, excepting those, of course, who ride up in Packards."

Shorty Barr: "The greatest need of the university at present is a change in the S. G. A. hours. They should be changed from 10 o'clock to 11 or 11:30, at least."

"Red" Weston: "There should be a greater number of student activities. Too many people, such as myself, find no relaxation from the steady grind on the hill and have no chance to break into one of the few organizations now in existence."

Eleanor Riley: "Now that spring weather is so near, a course in 'treat 'em rough' seems highly practical. Too many of the beautiful evenings of May are uselessly wasted in antagonizing deliberation and such a course would save invaluable time."

Paul Gangelin: "The greatest need of the university is a good 5 cent cigar and an electric light for the 'Lit' office. But the cigar is the most urgent and pressing need and deserves the first consideration of the faculty discipline committee."

WHICH should be the end, but we just had to get another word in. MISS PRINT.

GYM SQUAD LEAVES TO CONTEST WITH MAROONS TONIGHT

Badger Hopes of Victory Declared Good in First '21
Dual Meet

With every man in excellent condition, the Wisconsin gymnastic team leaves at 9:30 this morning for Chicago, where the Badgers meet Chicago tonight in the first dual conference gym meet of the 1921 season.

The tumbling team is the only varsity squad which has not been riddled by ineligibilities and injuries, and as a result, Wisconsin will be represented by one of the best squads in recent years.

Coach Fred E. Schlatter is confident that his charges will give the Chicago team a close battle, and if Wisconsin gets the breaks, it is not unlikely that the Badgers will emerge victorious. Finn Aanesen '21, varsity fencer who has not lost a Big Ten fencing match, is in top-notch form, and Schlatter counts upon him for an easy victory over his Maroon opponent.

The lineup for Wisconsin follows:
Horizontal bars—Frank Kubosch '23, F. L. Bumer '23, L. W. Tasche '21. Side horse—E. A. Kleizien '23, J. L. Curtin '21, M. Hansen '23. Rings—Walter Porth '23, L. W. Tasche '21, Willard Kates '21. Parallel bars—L. W. Tasche '21, Walter Porth '23, Frank Kubosch '23. Tumbling—H. D. Kitchen '23, Capt. B. A. Hagen '21, Frank Kubosch '23. Fencing—Finn Aanesen '21. Broadwords—E. Boerke '23.

CRIPPLED SQUAD MEETS CHICAGO MAT MEN TONIGHT

Weakened by injuries to varsity wrestlers and by ineligibilities, the Wisconsin wrestling squad leaves for Chicago at 9:30 this morning, where it meets the strong University of Chicago mat team tonight.

Captain L. G. Culver '21, lightweight, is unable to compete in the match because of a faculty ruling declaring him ineligible this week, and either I. R. Haddorff '23 or T. E. Carlson '22 will substitute for him against the Maroons. I. H.

WOUNDED VETS OF GUN AND BLADE TO INCORPORATE CLUB

Edison Boerke Made President —Club Plans Teams in Sport Events Soon

Corporation plans of the Gun and Blade club were made last night when a board of directors, the members of which are to hold office for terms of one to three years, was elected at a meeting held at the club rooms in the Union building.

Baseball and rifle teams to compete with the teams of other university organizations are planned by the club. It was decided to select teams to represent the club in the pool tournaments to be held soon. Strong support for the Senate bill No. 204, which permits a bonus man to enter school without first returning the state bonus, was given by the club by unanimous vote.

Officers of the club for the coming semester were elected as fol-

Peterman '22, welterweight, will act as captain of the Badger wrestling team for the remainder of the season.

Only six matches will be held with the Maroons because Chicago chose not to enter a man in the bantam weight division against G. F. Prideaux '22.

What will probably be the lineup against Chicago follows: Ora McMurry '21, heavyweight; L. G. Barry '22, light heavyweight; P. W. Voltz '23, middleweight; Captain I. H. Peterman '22, welterweight; I. R. Haddorff '23, lightweight; J. S. Hess '22, featherweight.

New Golflex Apparel —for— Smartest Sport Wear

In fashion, in fabric, in finish, Golflex Suits, Coats and Dresses are individual and different.

A worsted jersey, mannish straight line tailoring and the rather blase fit of the unlined sports apparel, conspire to further the inherent trigness of these new arrivals.

Expert Tailoring

Golflex apparel is designed, cut and tailored by craftsmen highly skilled in the special technique required for the correct handling of jersey, which is quite different from that needed for working woven cloth.

THE ORATORICAL CONTEST

A RECENT statement in the Cardinal announced the dates of the oratorical contests. According to the announcement, the Junior "Ex" and the Sophomore Open will be held on March 22, the Junior Open and the Senior Open on March 23, and the Final on March 24.

All students who are qualified to enter these contests should consider them most seriously. It is indeed a rare honor to win any one of the above events. It is a signal honor to be victorious in the Final.

While it is true that such a victory is unspectacular, and that the victor is not greeted with bouquets or great applause, all persons of keen and discriminating judgment recognize the true significance of such a victory. Success in intellectual pursuits is seldom spectacular; yet this in no way detracts from the success.

These contests are, moreover, the means of picking the Wisconsin N. O. L. representative. The winner of the Final represents Wisconsin in the Northern Oratorical League in the annual contest against Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, and Northwestern. To represent the university in this event is without question the height of student forensic attainment.

The university is handicapped somewhat this year by the lack of experienced material. Only a few veteran speakers are in the field. All students, excluding freshmen, who feel that they are qualified to enter the oratorical contests and desire to enter, should notify Professor J. M. O'Neill as soon as possible.

These contests are truly important events in the forensic undertakings of the university. Moreover, Wisconsin's representation in the N. O. L. contest is a matter of vital concern.

There should be a good response to the call for the oratorical contests.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

IN about three weeks, the second annual state high school basketball tournament will be held at the university. The event marks the advent of the high school basketball contest into the class of permanent university institutions.

The success that attended the first annual tournament last year was undoubtedly a big factor in the staging of this year's event. The high school competition brings results which merit continuation.

Such an annual elimination contest held under the auspices of the university to determine the high school championship of the state, is perhaps the biggest single stimulus to high school athletics. No other single factor at the present time offers so much encouragement to sane and wholesome sportsmanship in our secondary schools as the university tournament.

The tournament, moreover, brings the high schools and the university into a closer contact. Such contact is mutually beneficial. It brings university endeavor and university ideals nearer home to the high school students. It presents the university as a power encouraging their activities, stimulating their efforts, and rewarding their success. It presents the university as a goal toward which to strive—as a higher plane of achievement to be attained after high school days. At the same time, the university is in a better position to draw those high school leaders who have abilities that will reflect credit to the university.

The annual high school basketball tournament is an undertaking well worth perpetuation both from the standpoint of the university and the standpoint of the high schools.

AT THE STRAND

Charles Ray in "An Old Fashioned Boy" is the picture which is now being shown at the Strand theater. When Betty Graves let Dav Warrington kiss her, Dav, being old fashioned, naturally assumed that she would become engaged to him, so went ahead and built and furnished a dream of a house. When it was finished and he had proposed to Betty he took her to see it and immediately his hopes were blighted when she told him she would not care to live in it. One word brought another and before he knew it he and Betty were no longer engaged. It was a family quarrel of their friend that finally brought matters to a head and proved to him that Betty was a sort of old fashioned girl he believed her to be. Johnnie Heins in Torchey will be the added attraction.

AT THE GRAND

J. Warren Kerrigan is the star featured at the Grand today. He is starring in "The White Man's Chance," a screen version of the magazine story of that name by Johnston McCulley. Mr. Kerrigan is seen as a young attorney who essays a Spanish alias to get some important information for one of the firm's clients. Humor excitement, punch and thrills are all found in the assembling of the story.

An added attraction consisting of two reels of Tunerville Comedy featuring Dan Mason as "The Skipper" will round out the program.

Former Prof. Writes for Spanish Magazine

The State of Wisconsin and Its Capital is the subject of an article by Chester Lloyd Jones, former U. W. professor and attache of the American embassy at Madrid, Spain, appearing in a Spanish Commercial magazine, Los Estados Unidos (the United States) published at Barcelona.

Several copies of the magazine containing the article have been received by the local Association of Commerce.

MAIER ELECTED AD CLUB HEAD; TALKS PLANNED

Prominent Speakers in Advertising World to Speak to Students

Officers of the Advertising club for the coming semester were elected last night at the university Y. M. C. A. as follows: Irvin Maier '21, president; Donald M. Bailey '22, vice-president; Pauline Cornish '21, secretary; Philip Bredesen '22, treasurer, and William Englehardt '22, and Walter Neisser '22, directors.

Arrangements were made for the program speakers at the meetings this semester. The speakers will be men who are now leaders in the advertising world, many of whom were graduated from the University of Wisconsin in the last few years and now are holding positions in different advertising agencies and in advertising departments of large business firms. Men and women of the club will also give special addresses at the meetings.

Election of new members will be made at the next meeting of the club. Membership is open to sophomores and juniors in the university, and all students desiring to join should make application to Corington C. Gill at the Daily Cardinal office. The application should contain the advertising activities with which the student has been connected either in the university or in business, and any special interest which the applicant may have in advertising.

The purpose of the Advertising club is to bring together for discussion the students of the university who are interested in advertising. The plan of the club is to have discussion meetings, with prominent speakers.

The advertising course in the university has been characterized as one of the best in the country because of its authority in instructing advertising courses. The instructional staff has been considerably enlarged this year and is headed by Prof. E. H. Gardner, assisted by Professors Fisher, Hinmon, Comstalk, and Riordan. The school cooperates very closely with the Advertising club in securing speakers and arranging programs. The work this year has been extended to courses in advertising campaigns, retail advertising, marketing methods, and sales administration. These courses give credit only to students in the Course in Commerce and the Course in Journalism.

TRACK MEN MEET ILLINOIS SATURDAY

The Wisconsin representatives will be M. H. Wall '22, H. C. Dennis '21, W. Brothers '21, and G. H. Finkle '23 in the four mile relay team; Captain C. L. Nash '21, P. A. Kayser '21, L. P. Klug '21, and W. E. Johnson '22 in the one mile relay team, and A. J. Knollin '22, G. B. Stolley '22, G. M. Sundt '22, L. L. Wilder '21, D. Merrick '22, and H. W. Armstrong '23, in special events.

Coach Jones may enter Armstrong in the all around event which consists of the high jump, high hurdles, shot put, 75 yard dash, broad jump, half mile, and the pole vault. Armstrong is a consistent performer in the first five of these.

Sundt will compete in the shot-put and broad jump. In the latter event, he won more points last year than any other athlete in the conference, except Johnson of Michigan.

RESERVE SEATS FOR CHESTERTON TALK

Those who have bought tickets for Gilbert K. Chesterton's talk on March 9, and have not yet reserved their seats are asked to reserve them as soon as possible, according to Paul Gangelin, editor of the Literary magazine.

This may be done by taking them to the Union building between 4:30 and 6 o'clock any afternoon and having the number of the seat marked on them.

U. W. Girl Grad Is Making Movie Actors Toe the Mark

Mari Bollman Now Assistant Director On Dial Film Company; "Fascinating Work!" is Her Verdict

FROM University of Wisconsin graduate to assistant director of a "movie" company—some jump in two short years.

That, briefly, describes the career of Miss Mari Bollman, who graduated from the university two years ago and is now with the Dial Film company, of which her father, Otto Bollman, is president.

Miss Bollman is now assisting in the making of a picture of Irving Bacheller's novel: "The Light in the Clearing," under the supervision of T. Hayes Hunter, the man who produced "Earthbound."

Miss Bollman wants to become a full-fledged director and she has started as assistant to Mr. Hunter. She also helps with the camera in emergencies and even goes so far as to lug props. She is continually studying the drama, art composition, interior decorations, costumes and fashions.

Miss Bollman is a delightful mixture of the south and middle-west. She was born in St. Louis, educated at the Bennett school, Millbrook, N. Y., and at the University of Wisconsin.

While attending the university here, Miss Bollman took the lead in amateur dramatics. She was president of Red Domino. She later assisted Maurice Browne formerly of the Chicago Little Theater company, in putting on productions, traveling with the company as far as Salt Lake City.

Miss Mari Bollman.
"My present work is the most absorbing I have ever done," she declares. "I find more pleasure in real hard work than in any pastime. It is nothing for us to work all day and until the early hours of the morning."

TOO BAD

Co-eds at Syracuse Are Forbidden to Wear Army Breeches

Co-eds at Syracuse University may well complain that all the joys of life are being taken from them. First came an official reprimand against smoking, and shortly thereafter the city fathers took matters in hand by prohibiting the toddle, moonlight dances, jazz bands and several other necessities of life. But now comes the last straw in the form of an order forbidding the wearing of army breeches, flannel shirts or V-shaped sweaters. This latest blue law has set the entire women student body pouting.
