DEBATERS WIN IN CONTEST WITH ILLINOIS TEAM

Hubbard, Thomson, Morse,
Win in Debate at Music
Hall Last Night

Pleading for the federal government to step in and help the nation's children from the child labor evil in this country, the affirmative team composed of Carol Hubbard '25, Melvin Thomson '26, and Herbert Morse '23 won the decision of the debate with Illinois in Music hall last night.

Before giving his decision, the judge, Prof. George H. Bost of Carroll college, explained the basis of his decision. In considering the teams from the standpoint of the best evidence and reasoning, the application of evidence, and effective persuasive presentation, Professor Bost decided in favor of Wisconsin.

Owen Presides

Judge W. C. Owen of the supreme court of Wisconsin presided.

Tearing down one after another the arguments of the negative for state's rights which they declared would be interfered with by the passage of the twentieth amendment, the affirmative team quoted facts upon facts to show the extensive use of child labor in the United States at the present time. The affirmative asked for the cooperation of state and nation in conquering this evil.

After the debate, the intercollegiate debaters met informally with Professor Bost at the University club.

Nineteenth Relay Carnival Stage Is Set For Tonight

ARRANGE SPECIAL MUSIC FOR CONVO

Men's and Girls' Glee Clubs to Sing at Religious Conference

Special music for the annual all-university religious conference to be held here March 27, 28 and 29 will include numbers by the men's and girls' glee clubs and community singing led by Prof. E. Gordon, according to Clara Hertzberg '25, chairman of the program and music committee.

"Every meeting is to have appropriate music," Miss Hertzberg said. "The convocation program at 4:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon, March 27, will be opened by songs by the men's glee club, led by Prof. E. E. Swinney and accompanied on the piano by Paul Jones '27 and Robert Nethercut '25."

The girls' glee club, led by Dr. C. H. Mills, will sing at the meeting on Sunday, March 29. University song sheets with the words of the hymns chosen for that program will be distributed at each meeting for the community singing.

Working with Miss Hertzberg on the committee are Esther Nelson '25, Robert Nethercut '25, Marion Cunningham '27 and Margaret Patch '26.

Fraternities, Sororities, Military Academies and Special Event Entries Ready

By SPIKE

Everything is set for the raising of the curtain on Wisconsin's oldest track event at 7 o'clock tonight. The officials are selected, the track is in the best of shape, the out of town athletes have arrived and the local tracksters are all primed to give the best track exhibition of the indoor season.

Each year the relay carnival expands in its extent. In addition to the usual number of fraternities, sororities, military academies and special event entries there is an addition of four out-of-town high schools in the high school relay class. In the past, only the three local high schools have competed for the prep school relay trophy but due to the efforts of Chairman Henry Bosch '27, and his committee, Monticello, Wausau, Janesville and Watertown are competing this year.

This will be the last opportunity this year for any of the Varsity athletes or any of the competing organizations to break either the annex or carnival records. There are only a few of the present records that are in danger of being broken. The most important of these is the high jump record made by Pete Platten in 1922. If Charles McGinnis, Varsity high jumper, is in top form he will stand an excellent chance of bettering the old mark of 6 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Harry McAndrews, premier dash man, will in all probability tie his

WILL HOLD FROSH DANCE TONIGHT

Upperclassmen as Well as First
Year Men May Attend
Annual Party

Upperclassmen will not be excluded from the dance given by the class of 1928 tonight at Lathrop gym, according to Everett Fox '28, chairman of the arrangements committee. The party is primarily for freshmen, however, he says.

"Last year the freshman dance went completely on the rocks, but indications thus far point to a considerable success for Saturday's party," said Eugene Kinkead '28, chairman of the general dance committee, in direct charge of the dance.

It is probable that special arrangements will be made for those who wish to come to the dance after the Relay carnival. The committee has decided that stags will be admitted for one dollar; the same price will hold for any couple coming after 10:15 o'clock.

The Misses R. C. Wallerstein, H. C. White, E. D. Young and Messrs. McDowell, Casson and Fernberg have been announced as chaperons.

Sixty Students to Receive Cash From Veterans' Bureau

Sixty students who are enrolled at present in the university and who were disabled during their service in the World war will receive checks from the National Veterans' bureau today.

The students who are benefited by government aid are divided into two classes. A member of the first group receives enough compensation to pay for his tuition, his fees and to cover the cost of his books. The latter group receives in addition the sum of $100 a month for food, clothing and other necessary expenses.

All veterans who have received compensation before are automatically included in the first group, but anyone of them who can prove that his injury prevents him from returning to his old occupation is then transferred to the second group so that he may fit himself more quickly for another position.

First Octy Dance Given Last Night; 60 Couples Attend

More than 60 couples attended the artists' costume party which the Octopus staff gave for its members last night at the Woman's building.

Spanish señoritas, Apache dancers, chocolate drops, Pierrots, Pierrettes, and representatives of the Paris underworld were present and vied for the prizes offered for the most attractive costumes and the best dancers.

The dancing party took the place of the annual dinner that the Octopus has in past years given for the staff. Annette Hirschfield '27 had charge of the arrangements, and those assisting her were Ruth Krause '26, Scott Marsh '28, and Fred De Vries '26.

PIANO SELECTIONS FEATURE CONCERT

Women's Glee Club Will Present
Musical March 25 in Music Hall

Compositions for two pianos, which will be played by Miss Louise Lockwood and Miss Frances Landon, both of the School of Music faculty, will comprise two of the groups of the program to be presented by the Women's Glee club at the annual concert at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday, March 25 in Music hall.

Th first of these is the "Andante and Variations," by Robert Schumann, composer of the Romantic school. The second is the composition, "Silhouettes" by A. Arensky, and is made up of numerous distinct depictions, among them "La Savant," "Le Coquette," "Polichinelle," "Le Revue," and "La Danseuse."

The club will sing three groups of songs, two of which consist of four short pieces each, the last group being the cantata "The Lady of Shalott," by Wilfred Wendall. The words of the cantata are taken from Tennyson's poem of the same title.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale and may be obtained from members of the club, and after Monday from members of Sinfonia fraternity.

George Levis Gives Three Prizes For Best Badger Ads

The promotion service department of the 1926 Badger announced yesterday afternoon the offering of three prizes by the George Levis Sporting Goods shop for the best page ads written for insertion in the 1926 Badger. Any student is eligible to take part in the contest, which will close Friday, March 27.

The ads, which first must be submitted to the Badger office, will be on display in Levis' shop. George Levis will select the judges who are to choose the winning advertisements.

WINTER BREEZE MAY CHILL YOUR THOUGHTS OF SPRING

Spring! Today's the first of the new season.

Now don't get excited because this is the first day of spring and lay off that heavy coat or stow away those galoshes, because Mr. Weatherman predicts more cold weather and probably snow flurries within the next few days. Just as we look to the East for criteria on spring fashions, so the East dictates in the matter of spring weather, and we must accept the decree of slightly colder as we would slightly shorter and fuller.

Judging from the hearty gale that seemed to want to rip up the atmosphere yesterday and ruffle up the co-eds' hair into most disheveled masses, it looks as though March were keeping up the tradition of romping around with every intention of playing the lion's part at the grand finale of the month.

But, spring is here, don't forget

JOHNSON, CHESLEY AND JORRIS LEAD MAJOR ACTIVITIES

Sufficient Votes Cast to Pass
All Proposed W. S. G. A.
Amendments

The three women elected yesterday to lead the major women's activities for 1925-26 are Alberta Johnson '26, president-elect of W. S. G. A.; Bernadine Chesley '26, president-elect of Y. W. C. A.; and Edith Jorris '26, president-elect of W. A. A.

Although the balloting was light there was a sufficient number of affirmative votes cast to pass all of the proposed W. S. G. A. constitutional amendments, according to Alice Corl '25, retiring president of W. S. G. A.

Read, Secretary

Other women elected to fill W. S. G. A. offices are Margaret Ashton '26, vice president; Peggy Read '27, secretary; Genevieve Ellis '26, treasurer, and Jane Gaston '27, census chairman. Y. W. C. A. officers for next year will be Bernadine Chesley '26, president; Julia Peet '26, vice president; Eulalie Beffel '27, secretary, and Alice Brown '27, treasurer.

Have $1 Tax

Under the new ruling the president of Blue Dragon will become president of Keystone. Women who do not pay their annual tax of $1 will be subject to disciplinary probation by the Dean of Women.

Because the majority of women voted to have it so all women who leave the university from now on, unless they are going home, must have a written permission from their families, and must file all the particulars of the trip and destination in the W. S. G. A. office.

CASTALIA, PYTHIA JOIN IN MEETING

Annual Event Celebrated With Interesting Musical and Literary Program

Castalia and Pythia literary societies held their first joint meeting of the year in Music hall last night and celebrated this annual event with an interesting and original program.

Honors for the program were evenly divided as each society put on three numbers, some musical and some literary.

The literary side was upheld by the members of Castalia. Dorothy Hapeman '27 gave an original sketch, Helen Busyn '26 gave a review of all the plays presented during 1924, and Judith Dixon '27 completed Castalia's case with a reading.

Pythia upheld the musical side. Florence Barry '27 gave a flute solo, Vivian Edwards '26 gave a selection on the violin, and Aline Ziebell '27 gave a vocal sketch.

old record that he shares with Al Tormey, 1912, of 42-5 seconds. It is also probable that McGiveran will tie the mark of Al Knollin in the 40 yard high hurdles. Arlie Mucks' distance in the shot is not likely to be touched unless Schwarze shows better ability than at any previous time this season and the record in the pole vault seems fairly secure.

Elimination heats were run off in the interfraternity relay to pick the nine teams that will qualify. Theta Xi turned in the best record with a mark of 1:40 which is the best that this event has been run in for the last 10 years and comes within 3-5 of a second of the annex record made back in 1913 by the Delta Upsilon team. If hard pressed tonight the Theta Xi team should better the old mark that has stood for 12 years. Other teams to qualify are Delta Upsilon, Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Pi, T. K. E., Kappa Sigma, Alpha Chi Rho, Delta Sigma Phi and Beta Theta Pi.

Enthusiasm waxes high in the sorority relay. There are no exceptionally strong teams entered as there was last year and all of the teams have an even break for first honors. Alpha Phi is determined to repeat last year's victory while all of the other entries are resolved to take home the silver cup for their own mantel. There is little chance however that the Alpha Phi record, made by four varsity stars last year will fall.

Little is known about the strength of the high school and military academy teams and their chances to break old records. One record that is due to remain for some time is the mark in the shot put made by Schwarze, crack Badger weight man, when he was competing for St. John's in 1923.

The meet starts promptly at 7 o'clock tonight and the program is as follows:

"Huck" Schmidt Will Compete For All-Around Gym Champion

Meanwell Speaks
Urging Basketball
Tourney Support

"The annual high school basketball tournament to be held here March 25-28 should be supported, because it is an activity that is fundamental to the success of university athletics," said Dr. Walter E. Meanwell in speaking of the tenth annual high school basketball tournament.

"It is one of the greatest assets to university athletics in that it brings Wisconsin directly to the knowledge of the most promising athletes in the various high schools throughout the state."

Not only does it draw basketball men that take part in the tournament but it also forms contact with the high schools in which there are few individual stars but from where many of the future athletic stars of the university come. Past records show that many of the stars in basketball at Wisconsin had never played the game in high school, but came to the university and were developed under Coach W. E. Meanwell.

Last Year's Champion Will Face Keen Competition
From Van Vector

The all-around gymnastic championship of the Western Intercollegiate association will be decided at Minneapolis today with Capt. Herbert Schmidt of Wisconsin, Von Vector of Chicago, and Perlt of Minnesota as the chief competitors.

"Huck" Schmidt has exhibited his skill at the conference meet two times before this. As a sophomore he won several places in the different events and last year he was awarded the conference championship.

Von Vector Competitor

Von Vector of Chicago will probably be the closest competitor of Schmidt today judging from Von Vector's work in the Chicago-Wisconsin meet two weeks ago. The Badger captain bested Von Vector last year, however, and Coach Schlatter believes he has a good chance to repeat today.

Horizontal bar, parallel bar, side-horse, flying rings, tumbling, and finally a club swinging exhibition will be given by Captain Schmidt. Placing first in all these events with the exception of the side-horse work has been his attainment in the past and it is this versatility of performance that gives him rank with best gymnasts.

Two Men Back

Kress, Huxley, Hicks, Vornholt and Hiemke are counted on to win places between them by Coach Schlatter. Kress and Hicks will graduate this June and Huxley, now a sophomore, Vornholt, and Hiemke will be the only experienced men along with the number of the present freshmen squad.

All of the fencers will be back next year. Capt. Freytag, May, Hollister, and Parsons, who will meet the other swordsmen and foilsmen of Intercollegiate conference have won three out of four meets this season against stiff competition.

Carnival Chairman

Henry C. Bosch

All of the work on the nineteenth annual relay carnival has been done under the direction of Henry Bosch '27, general chairman of the carnival committee. This year's carnival is larger than that of any previous carnival and much of the credit for the success of the 1925 carnival goes to Bosch.

NEW RECORD IS MADE AT CALIFORNIA MEET

One world's record and two sectional records were broken at a dual track meet in which the University of Southern California defeated Pomona college, 79 1-3 to 60 2-3. A four man relay team that included Charles Paddock and Loren Murchison, star sprinters, set the new world mark in an exhibition race by running the 660 yards medley relay in 1:41.10. Other members of the team were Murray Shultz of the California Institute of Technology and Eddie Pollack of Pasadena.

MILWAUKEE CLUB IS PLEASED WITH NEW SPORT HEAD

Little Has First Official Meeting
With Former University Athletes

George Little, athletic director, was the guest of the Milwaukee "W" club Thursday night. The club is made up of former Wisconsin athletes residing in Milwaukee, and was decidedly pleased with Little, as this was his first official meeting with them.

Little's talk was quite informal, but his earnestness, his broad views on all athletic questions, his far reaching ambitions for Wisconsin in athletics and physical training appealed strongly to the 60 members of the club who were present. Little praised the members of his department, giving particular mention to Dr. Meanwell, Tom Jones, and Guy Lowman, whom he rated as 100 per cent in ability and Wisconsin spirit.

He also spoke of the balance of the staff, commending the work of his assistants in football, Jim Brader, Irwin Uteritz and Guy Sundt. He also told what he thought the alumni had a right to expect from himself and his department and how the "W" men here, on the other hand, could help Wisconsin.

Brief talks were also made by Jerry Riordan, old time Badger football captain; George F. Downer, Henry C. Case and Dr. Irving Fowle. Judge John C. (Ikey) Karel presided, and Bill Goldie, president of the club, was master of ceremonies.

CONFERENCE MAT TIE NOT TO BE RUN OFF

Due to a western conference ruling against post-season matches it will be impossible for Illinois to meet Indiana, co-holder of the Big Ten wrestling championship. Coach Paul Prehn, however, is anxious to meet the Hoosier matmen next year and would like to secure a two year contract with them.

FIELD HOUSE BILL NOW DEPENDS ON GOV. J. J. BLAINE

BOTH HOUSES OF LEGISLATURE PASS SAUTHOFF BILL

Only 3 Members of Assembly Oppose Measure For Athletic Building

Expectations for a new field house for university athletics came a little nearer realization yesterday when the assembly of the state legislature gave its approval to the Sauthoff bill.

The action was in concurrence with that already done by the senate when it passed the bill some time ago. The vote in the assembly for the erection of the field house was 68 to 3. Only the approval of the governor now remains to make the bill effective.

After the bill had been ordered engrossed and read a third time, Assemblyman Perry of Milwaukee asked unanimous consent for suspension of the rules to place the bill on final passage. On the final roll call only three assemblymen voted against the bill. They were S. J. Gwidt, Rhinelander, Henry Ellenbecker, Wausau, and Ben Halverson, Amherst Junction.

Under the provisions of the measure the university regents are given authority to lease university lands to a non-profit sharing corporation for the construction of a field house, and are given authority to expend any money in the university revolving fund not required for the fiscal year for the purpose of construction of the field house as well as for the construction of dormitories and other permanent buildings.

YOST, ROPER EXCHANGE GRID COACHING JOBS

Fielding H. Yost, Michigan's athletic director, said today an exchange agreement has been completed with Coach Bill Roper of Princeton, whereby Yost will spend two weeks instructing the Princeton spring football squad and Roper will spend two weeks with the Michigan candidates. Yost will go to Princeton April 10. Roper will go to Ann Arbor April 21, accompanied by one or more assistants.

PLAN TO BUILD NEW DRAKE RELAY STADIUM

Plans are under way to construct a stadium at Des Moines to hold the Drake relay races in proper style. The stand will seat 40,000 and cost $250,000.

13 Awards Will Be Offered to Women in Year 1925-26

Thirteen scholarships for women for the academic year 1925-26, ranging in value from $50 to $250, have been offered by the committee on undergraduate scholarships. They are awarded on the basis of scholarship, worthiness, and financial need.

Information concerning the scholarships and application blanks may be obtained from Prof. Julius Olson.

Applications must be in the hands of the committee by April 30.

FIRST PICTURES OF TORNADO AT STRAND

The first pictures of the tornado which swept through southern states Wednesday will be released at the Strand theater today.

These are the first pictures of the storm to be shown in Wisconsin and are sent out by the Pathe exchange. A special agent will come from Chicago with the pictures.

The photos shown how the storm destroyed everything in its path, killing over 800 persons. They will be shown through Wednesday night.

A. J. Anderson was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty in superior court Thursday to failing to stop when entering an arterial highway.

Tournament Head

Dwight Spooner

"All of the plans for the carrying through of the tenth annual high school basketball tournament are nearing completion and promise to make the tournament the best ever held in the university gymnasium," said Dwight Spooner '25, general chairman of the event.

The entertainment of the visiting athletes will be one of the features of the tournament. They will be met at the train by "W" men of the university and entertained at the different fraternity houses while in Madison. After the tournament a large banquet will be held at the Hotel Lorraine at which all of the coaches and players will be entertained. Coach W. E. Meanwell, George Little, new athletic director of the university and football coach, will meet the visitors.

Another feature of the tournament will be the playing of 27 games instead of 22. This will make it possible for no team to be eliminated from the tournament until after it has lost two games.

QUAKERS, PRINCETON TIE IN EASTERN RACE

Pennsylvania's victory over Princeton, 29 to 23, provided a sensational climax for an interesting season in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball league. The victory gave the Quakers a tie with Dartmouth and Columbia for second place, Princeton winning the title with nine victories and one defeat under the coaching of Al Wittmer. Yale, which won three and lost seven in 1923-24, lost every game.

BADGER TANKMEN TO MEET M. A. C. SWIMMERS TODAY

Ex-Wisconsin Mermen Seek
Revenge on Steinauer
Team For Defeat

The swimming team will meet its last competition this afternoon when the Milwaukee Athletic club splashers will come to Madison for a return meet. The Badgers, by virtue of victory in the relay, hold a single point win over the club squad earlier in the season. The meet stood 34 all at the end of the regular event, but the team winning the relay is awarded an additional point under the intercollegiate swimming rules. The M. A. C. headed by Hooks Czerwonky, former Badger captain and breast stroke artist, is anxious to turn the tables in the return match.

The Badger water basketball squad also holds a win over the Milwaukeeans. As the Steinauer team is undisputed conference champions, the club is doubly anxious to register a win there.

Good Season's Record
Dual victories have been registered over Iowa, Indiana, Chicago and the M. A. C., while close meets were dropped to Minnesota and Michigan, the latter under most unpleasant circumstances. The Wisconsin relay crew was undefeated in competition throughout the 1925 season.

In the point scoring, the Badgers lead their dual rivals, 188 to 149, despite the reversal by Minnesota and Michigan. Clarence Herschberger proved the high scoring ace, individually, with a pair of wins in each of the five conference meets, totaling 50 points. Gilbreath was his closest rival with 29½ points.

Announce Lettermen
In the season's awards, Coach Steinauer has recommended the major "W" for the relay quartet of Flueck, Gilbreath, Hipple and Herschberger. Wheatley will also be recommended for the major letter.

Hipple with a third in the forty, Cook with a fourth in the plunge, Gilbreath with a third in the 150 yard backstroke, and Hall and Simpkins for their consistent scoring in the dives will receive the minor insignia.

Hugh Folsom, after four years of steady service, draws the manager's award. The conference champions of water basketball will also receive the honor.

92,000 SEE BIG TEN CAGE CHAMPIONS PLAY

Ohio State, 1925 winner of the Big Ten basketball title during the season just closed, set what is believed to be a new national college basketball season attendance record. Official attendance at the ten games played at Columbus was 70,490. Including the six games away, the champion Buckeyes played before 92,000 spectators during the 1924-25 season. Each of the three final games of the season here drew more than 10,000 spectators. The individual game record, made when Purdue played here in 1924, still stands, however, at 10,641.

Running true to form, along with the first signs of spring has come real baseball. The varsity diamond squad had its first scrimmage yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium annex. It was a four inning contest between a team chosen by Coach Lowman and one picked by assistant Coach Uteritz. The final score ended 2 to 1 in favor of the Uteritz-picked team.

Shrenk for the Lowman team and Lustig for Uteritz's squad started the hurling. It was a pretty exhibition, both men doing well for early season. Shrenk allowed one run and a hit in his three innings on the mound, while Lustig gave a run and two hits.

Clausen Pitches

During the last inning, Clausen was on the mound for Lowman's picks and allowed a run, while Edwards pitched for the opposition and pulled through well.

During that inning, Coach Lowman shifted Larson to first base to try him out. It is probable that Larson will be used in the outfield during the year, but Lowman is experimenting in order to develop the strongest team possible.

Practice Needed

Throughout the practice, it was evident that the team needs much practice on the hitting end of the game. The men have not yet got so they can pick the good ones from the bad, and many mistakes were made. The pitchers seem to be coming along in good shape, though they are still rather wild. No doubt the training trip south should develop the Badger diamond squad into a winning combination. Right now, it is outdoor practice that the Wisconsin ball team needs.

Lowman Picked Team

Uteritz Picked Team

A TOUCH OF COLOR IN THE UNION

Now that balmy spring is here, and the sun shines brightly and puts everyone in the mood of at least apparent thought, it is profitable and appropriate to reflect a bit on questions that are ordinarily overlooked in the more hurried, energetic days of fall and winter. The following is suggested as a "thought sequence" which the reader may want to follow through and elaborate upon during an idle hour weekend:

"This same sun which shines down on us so pleasantly these days, awakening new life about us and apparently sapping a good deal of our own vitality, also shines down upon every corner and recess of the earth. It smiles upon the civilization of the East, and it motivates the boundless activity of the West; it warms the bodies and hearts alike of white man, brown man, black man, and those who are yellow and red. These races form the great brotherhood of man, and are gradually learning and striving to make it a real brotherhood—with cooperation instead of strife. On our own campus there are representatives of practically every color and race, over 200 of them. They are nearly all men, and therefore properly belong to the family of Wisconsin men known as the Wisconsin Union. The big problem now is to include them in that union actually as well as nominally, to make them a picturesque and vital part of the university life, and to give both these foreign students and ourselves the mutual benefits of acquaintance and cooperation while we are in the university."

If the reader's mind can honestly and independently follow through this line of thought, and arrive at the end without branching out in some other direction, he may then be persuaded that here is a real problem, which is in dire need of a solution.

In some few cases in the past there have been examples of foreign students who have actively participated in undergraduate activities here, including athletics, publications, and dramatic work. And yet the fact that these examples have been rather few and far between is not surprising for, on the whole, the students who come here from abroad are far more interested in their scholastic work than in diversions or in outside work. There is not much point in trying to persuade them to abandon such a policy. What is really needed is more frequent and more intimate mingling between students and these foreigners, in order that both may profit from such an extraordinary opportunity of associating with outstanding men of another race. This mingling should be both social and intellectual, and should include all of the foreign students and all of our own who are at all serious about their education.

The most practical means of promoting such a movement is through the Wisconsin Union. Considerable is being done at the present time on the initiative of the foreign students themselves; the International club has many American members, and almost daily invites guests for meals. Recently the Chinese students club entertained a score of upper classmen at one of the fraternity houses, and the affair was proclaimed anything but stilted or uninteresting by both those who were present. Such functions as these are tendencies in the right direction, but they are only a beginning. They have to be frequent and open to everyone in order to accomplish anything definite.

The problem is not quite so difficult as it seems. It is not nearly so difficult to find means of bringing these foreign students into active participation in the union as many of the other students who live in comparative isolation in rooming houses at varying distances from the campus; for the former have definite organizations which can be connected with, or brought under the scope of the union. Such cooperation would add a big element to their education, for they have come here to discover the best elements of American culture, and the union is the highest expression of this in undergraduate life.

The actual means of bringing these foreign students into the union more than they have been previously are, of course, purely conjectural, because they have never been tried. But it seems that smokers and receptions could be made to work if the right men were interested in them. With such functions as a starter, it ought to be possible to develop in various ways a conscious attitude toward the foreign students, so that the Americans would consider it a privilege and an honor to form personal friendships with them. They could be made a definite cog in the machinery of every all-university activity.

A movement toward such cooperation would not only add a picturesque dash of color to the union, but would be one of the most worthwhile services that the union could render.

Wisconsin Should Know

Addition to the Chemistry Building

The enrollment in the chemistry courses has increased greatly in recent years, and present facilities are utterly inadequate. A large increase in space is needed to take care of these increases and to carry on the important experimental work in the department.

And so on.

These needs are of paramount importance, but there are others, many others, of almost equal significance. There is need also of money to buy the land on which the Y. M. C. A. is now located to add to the site of the Memorial Union building, the construction of which is imminent. All of the needs here listed are immediate and pressing and should be met at the present meeting of the legislature.

With regard to the needs for operation, the situation is but slightly less serious. The requests of the university for the next biennium, however, exceed by only a small percentage similar items in the last university budget. The requests of this nature for 1925-1926 are but 4.9 per cent over the budget of 1924-1925; and for 1926-1927, 4.3 per cent over 1925-1926. These funds pay such expenses as salaries, supplies, heat, light, insurance, and printing. The largest and most important item in this group is, of course, salaries of the teaching staff of the university; and if adequate funds are not available for this purpose, it means that the quality of its faculty will be impaired through the inability to retain the services of leading professors or to replace them with others of equal standing in their respective fields. The loss of good professors is a most serious one when it is remembered that it may take 30 years to build a reputable faculty.

The University of Wisconsin hopes to avoid the necessity of checking the numbers of students who come to her doors for instruction. But she must be honest enough to accept no more than she can take care of adequately. That number has been exceeded already. The answer is that she must have from the state generous sums to meet the needs which already have become acute and to provide for those which are developing rapidly.

In this program of the university's development Wisconsin alumni have a part. It is for them to insist that no matter how this money is raised, that it shall be raised, and devoted to a far-sighted program for the university's growth and development. This is their right, both as sons and daughters of the university and as citizens of the state. And the state administration, familiar with the university's needs and recognizing the necessity of its development, probably will be glad to receive the support of every alumnus for such a program.

ALUMNUS HANDBOOK.

Did you hear what happened in Otto's Man and Nature lecture the other day? He was comparing this world to a theater. He remarks, "Some of us come to act, and some of us to look on."

Then we get thrown out the minute we remark that we came merely to eat peanuts.

AS HARD HEARTED HANNAH REMARKED TO THE PRINCE OF WAILES—"GO ON HOME, KID, AND COME BACK WHEN YOU'RE KING!"

Oh, yes, we went to the Oety wrangle last night. We were disguised as a bedroom farce, and wore the famous John Lerch pajimmies. Gin was disguised too—she left off the rouge.

We made an awful mistake in interpreting some of the costumes—for instance, there was the sweet young thing who tried to look like a little school girl—and all along we thought that it was supposed to be a Holeproof Hosiery ad—until we noticed the run in the stocking—then we guessed—"AHH—CO-ED!"

Methusalem wanted to fool everybody, so he shaved and had his trousers pressed. But his date didn't know him and his own dog bit him when he came home—such is habit!

Some of the little dears innocently gave the impression that they were impersonating one of J. D. Rockefeller's well known products.

Will you tell us this—why every BLONDE who comes to a costume party tries to look like a Spanish dancer. "Ah Senorita."—"Jah—I bane Spanish!"—"Oh—ish!"

DON'T ASK HER—TELL HER
"May I kiss you?"
"Why—Why—What do you mean?"
"Well, you d—dumbwench, you!"

"WHERE—OH—WHERE?"
We had the honor of helping the sweet little dears out the other day by giving one of their scum a nice hand-embroidered paddle. Use this and think of me, we told her. Pleasant thoughts. Now we suppose that whenever she sees us from now on we'll give her a pain.

Then she let us help her clean up the former Langdon street lodge Friday afternoon. We went up there at 4 p. m. and the street was treated to the unusual sight of Stew leaning on a broom. Oh—the dust we raised! And—Oh the dirt we hove on them now! We spent an hour rambling around the old house taking notes, and gathering souvenirs—a pleasing form of blackmail would be to tell the Betas and the Thetas Chis—who, you might say, are in the best position to appreciate. The Betas having a slight start, however—we understand that the T. C. boys are rushing work on the ground floor.

JEWISH SENATE
"ARCHIMEDES WILL MEET IN DER COMMITTEE'S ROOM."

Stew has finally crashed through as a full-fledged member of "THE SOCIETY OF HOMELY MEN." He has had part of the necessary qualifications for a long time—he says—but it is only since he recently started to have three dates a day that they decided he could qualify on the genus homo count.

We rise to remark that the Kappa Alpha Thetas are about to take up pugilism—they have already knocked the stuffing out of the dav-enport.

We went up yesterday aft and tried to crash the Lit tea. They wouldn't let us in because we had our hair combed. So here is the expose. Twice now all the literary lights have been lighted and the sandwiches have been unwrapped, only to find that there is no hot water for the tea. So they sent over to the Hoity Hotel next door and get some.

Don't get peved—it's all fun—really. JAY & STEW.

Hold your breath until next week, children—STEW & JAY do the "College Novel" for the col. Complete in the issue—pictures and all the old friends.

Five Bodies RemovedIn Mine Explosion

FAIRMONT, W. Va.—Three additional bodies were removed this morning from mine No. 41 of the Bethlehem Mines Corp'n at Barrackville, where 34 men were entombed Tuesday night when an explosion occurred.

The three bodies taken from the mine this morning were badly burned. Two other bodies had been removed last night.

DOGGY ACTS MAKE STUDENTS LATE FOR ELEVEN O'CLOCKS

Thirty men and seven co-eds came tardy to 11 o'clock classes yesterday morning because they were fascinated by a dog fight in front of Bascom hall.

"Sic him, there, you big boy, wade into him!"

"Look at that doggone poodle—he's trying to figure out which side to pick on!"

"The little cur is holding his own all right, isn't he?"

Thus observed the ring of amused students as the trio of dogs, a hound, a police dog and a poodle, enacted the doggy-dramatic scene.

The main plot seemed to hinge on the hound and the police dog, for the poodle jumped from one side to the other, alternately snarling at one or the other of the main characters. Like a cowardly plunderer seeking easy booty and some cheap fun to boot, he changed his allegiance as the other two changed from offense to defense.

The hound, teeth bared, eyes blazing, hair bristling, tail straight back, stubbornly dared the bigger, more graceful police dog to "start something." Periodically he would back up the stairs of Main hall, but with his back to the wall, he changed to offensive and drove the wolf-like animal before him.

Pluck, grit, the "sand" to fight for one's rights—that was the thing that held the students there, despite the waiting professors within and their knowledge and oratory.

Sympathy for the little fellow, contempt for the cowardly poodle, aversion to the bigger bully, those emotions were written all over the group that watched.

"Hold your own, buddy! Fight him up! That's the old scrap!"

And finally the police dog, his faithless poodle companion flying by his side, scampered down the hill, with the "under dog" giving hot and gratified pursuit.

And from dogs and their troubles the students turned and hastened in to meet adversities of their own!

GEOLOGY STUDENTS TO VISIT ROCKIESUniversity Mountain Field Course to Be Given This Summer

The Rocky Mountain field course in geology, offered in recent years by the university and Columbia university, will be held again this summer in charge of Prof. A. K. Lobeck of Wisconsin.

The trip this year will begin June 13 and extend to July 4. It will cover three regions in Colorado, it will visit the Dakota hogback at Morrism, the lava-capped mesas at Golden, the Continental divide at Corona, Colorado Springs, Pikes peak, South Cheyenne canyon, Garden of the Gods, the Mesa, Cave of the Winds and Mount Manitou, Canyon City, and the Skyline divide.

The Rocky Mountain National park tour includes visits to Long peak, Moraine park, Horseshoe park, Estes park, to Cody, Wyo. A five-day tour of Yellowstone park precedes a visit to Glacier park. A tramping trip of 14 miles from Many Glaciers to Iceberg pike, and two days in the mountains on St. Mary's lake will offer geologic study.

Students may also go on to the Pacific coast. Professor Lobeck has estimated the cost to be liberally $300, which includes the university registration fee of $30 from Wisconsin and $32 from Columbia. Four university credits will be given after a satisfactory report of observations is made.

Red Cross Here RaiseTornado Relief Fund

The Dane County chapter of the American Red Cross is collecting funds for relief of the sufferers in the tornado-stricken area. Mrs. F. W. Hoyt is director of the chapter. All checks intended for this relief should be mailed to the treasurer of the chapter, L. M. Hanks, at the First National bank.

There is a mistaken impression in Madison that the Community Union has funds available for this purpose. The Community Union has no funds on hand at any time for emergency relief of this kind.

Rev. Albert Fitch to Speak in Madison Sunday Morning

The Congregational student work council is this week inaugurating a plan whereby once in each semester some outstanding preacher will be invited to deliver from the First church pulpit a message of particular significance for students of the university. The first preacher under this new arrangement is to be Reverend Albert Parker Fitch, now professor of the History of Religion at Carleton college, formerly of Amherst college and Andover Theological seminary. He will speak Sunday. In addition to his educational work, Dr. Fitch is a writer of note, one of his most recent works being the novel of Harvard university life, "None so Blind."

For years Dr. Fitch has been in great demand as a college and university preacher, and Madison is fortunate in having an opportunity to hear him. His subject will be "The Universal Temptation."

The service is at half past ten, and will include a special music, a solo by Mr. Edward Otis, formerly of the University of Wisconsin. All students are cordially invited.

CHOOSE MILITARY BALL PROGRAMS

Novel Design Replaces Favors and Cards of Former Functions

Programs of a strictly military design have been selected for the thirteenth annual Military ball which is to be held on April 3, it was announced last night by Harold J. Wichern '25, officer in charge of programs.

A metal engraving of a pistol and holster is the design of this year's program. A raised figure of the insignia of the University of Wisconsin is to be on the lower part of the holster.

The programs will take the place of both the programs and favors of former balls since the holsters will include inserts containing the evening's program.

"There were many programs to choose from, but of all of those presented I think we have selected the most original and distinctive," said Wichern. "They will lend a great deal to the military atmosphere of the ball."

Working on the program committee with Wichern are Fayette L. Merriman '27 and Kenneth V. Powers '26. A box for men attending independently has been provided for.

70 Graduates of Short Course Go Back to Farm Jobs

"How you goin' to keep 'em down on the farm?"

Send them to the University of Wisconsin short course in agriculture, and you simply can't keep them off the farm!

At any rate, the 70 young men who were graduated from the short course on March 14 have all returned to the plats beside the highways, enthused with the idea of putting into practice the ideas and facts they gleaned from their courses at the university.

These 70 graduates came from 35 Wisconsin counties and one in Illinois. Only five per cent of the class did not return to the farms from which they came. These men have taken up duties as herdsmen, foremen on farms, or cow testers.

STRIVE TO BRING AID AMONG RUINS

Lack of Light and Water Increase Confusion; No
Food Shortage

CHICAGO—Still prostrated, but with the hurried efforts at temporary relief supplemented by the arrival of trained workers, supplies and medicines, the storm stricken area of the Ohio valley today continued to count the terrific loss of life and property of its great tornado catastrophe.

Fairly systematic checking in 35 cities and towns in the storm's path indicated a death list of between 800 and 900, with approximately 3,000 injured, and many other thousands homeless.

It was believed, however, that many bodies were still to be recovered as entire towns were demolished and isolated. A check of the devastated areas had not progressed far enough to permit even a rough estimate of property losses, although sums of millions were mentioned from many points. Officials of the Red Cross characterized the storm as the greatest disaster since the Ohio Valley flood of 1913 when $500,000,000 of property were laid waste.

Morgues, Hospitals Filled

As relief measures got under way, stories of the misery in the storm swept area came in. Temporary morgues and hospitals were filled to overflowing while frantic men, women and children searched the long lines of dead for missing dear ones. In some instances doctors performed major operations out of doors or in roofless buildings without the aid of anaesthetics. Paralysis of gas and light and water facilities in some towns added to the confusion and through a second night of horror, relief workers had only candles and lanterns to guide their efforts. No food shortage exists, however, the Red Cross at St. Louis announced.

In southern Illinois where terrific havoc was wrought in four towns, Murphysboro, West Frankfort, Desoto and Gorham, all in coal mining territory within a 25 mile radius of Carbondale, the toll of dead and injured continued to mount today as additional bodies were taken from the ruins. The death list was above the 500 mark, while between 2,000 and 3,000 were injured and thousands were homeless. Relief workers said the loss of life might reach 1,000.

The property damage in the area was estimated at $7,000,000.

Entire Families Wiped Out

There the disaster fell largely on persons of limited means, some out of work because of the shutdown of coal fields. Many women and children and score of babies appeared on the death lists. Entire families were wiped out. One man searching through a morgue for his wife and three children, found the bodies of his babes side by side in one room, his wife in another. Many of the bodies were mangled, scared or burned.

The government, Red Cross, private institutions and individuals combined in the huge task of caring for the injured, giving shelter and hunting bodies, while additional workers and state troops, including medical units were due today. Funeral plans had not been made but it was expected that multiple services would be held.

In Murphysboro, where 147 bodies had been recovered up to last night, 8,000 persons or two thirds of the population were homeless. One hundred city blocks were demolished there and the power plant wrecked. Seventeen students were killed in the destructive of school buildings.

"PEOPLE OF INDIA AKIN TO WHITES"

Sociology Professor Gives Account of His Experiences
Before Journal Club

"It is my opinion that the people of India are closely allied to our own race, but that they have acquired a darker pigment through exposure to the hot Indian sun," Prof. E. A. Ross said, in an account of his personal experiences in India before the Education Journal club yesterday.

"An unusual religious custom is the early marriage of females. The average bride is twelve and a half years old, and in some places eight is the maximum marriage age. The result of these early marriages is the inability of the people to endure heavy work. The average baby weighs only three pounds. One third of a million child-widows are also left who are forbidden to remarry."

"Caste is an important factor in Indian life," asserted Professor Ross. A Brahman can lose his caste by dining with anyone outside his class, and outcasts are completely ostracized from society. They cannot enter the temples or even allow their shadows fall on anyone without causing pollution. At present there are 55,000,000 outcasts in India, although the British government does not recognize the distinction.

Professor Ross says that the majority of Indian authorities are nationalists. He believes that India will get self-government but he does not believe that India will be ready for it for at least thirty years.

Inspector Warns Against Gas Heater Connections

A warning against the use of gas heaters in bedrooms and with rubber hose connections, was issued by James O'Connell, city plumbing inspector, Thursday. Mr. O'Connell declared that the recent partial suffocation of two persons at the J. K. Hyslop residence at 716 Conklin pl., was due to the presence of a gas heater in the bedroom. The valve of the heater was in poor condition and permitted the fumes to escape during the night. No heaters should be used in a room while a person is sleeping there and the use of rubber hose connections should be abolished. All heaters should have a regular connection of iron pipes, Mr. O'Connell said.

The one charm men expect of every girl

—make sure of it above all things!

A girl may lack beauty, style and wit and still be popular. But there is one lack which a man will not tolerate—

Underarm odor and moisture are a hopeless social handicap. The danger is that you may offend and not know it. And soap and water are powerless to control it.

The underarm must have special, regular care, just as the teeth and hair. 3,000,000 people now find their one perfect safeguard in Odorono, a delightful antiseptic toilet water formulated by a physician.

Use Odorono just twice a week and enjoy perfect freedom from all unsightly moisture and repellent odor. No stains or taint to ruin clothing; no hot, rubbery dress shields; fewer dry cleaning bills—a little bottle of Odorono saves so much!

INSTRUCTORS TAKE PARTS IN PLAY

Mrs. Greenleaf Directs Farce; Gillen, Harris, Darby, Leven Appear

According to plans for the French departmental play which will be given May 6, instructors in the Romance language department will take part rather than students in the department as has been customary in former years. The entertainment is under the direction of Jeanne H. Greenleaf, instructor in the department.

The program will include a three-act play, "La Farce de Maître Pathelin," in which the characters will be played by Mrs. Greenleaf, Professor C. F. Gillen, Mr. Harris, and G. O. Darby, instructors in the department, and Maurice Leven, graduate student. There will also be a group of medieval songs sung by William E. Ross, graduate student.

The original plan of having a

Romance language night when there would be plays by three groups, one French, one Spanish, and one Italian, was discarded as impractical. In its place, the plan for two evenings' entertainments, one in French and one in Italian, was substituted.

The Blooming Grove town caucus will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the town hall according to a notice of the caucus committee, composed of H. Halverson, C. H. Sanes and Frank Weston.
