5 CENTS

NOTED LEADER WILL ADDRESS FRIDAY CONVO

Religious Convocation Will Be Opened by Birge

All 3:30 classes on Friday afternoon will be dismissed for the opening meeting of the all-university religious conference in the Lathrop hall gymnasium, at which Sherwood Eddy, the leader of the conference will make his initial appearance before a University of Wisconsin audience. This meeting is an all-university convocation and will take the place of any other inauguration day convocation. Pres. E. A. Birge will give a short introduction address, and there will be special music.

Following the opening meeting at 3:30, there will be a meeting Friday night at Lathrop hall. It has been impossible to secure the gymnasium for the conference this year, but it is felt that most of the crowd can be accommodated if plans are made to be on time.

Saturday will be given over to the meetings of the institutes and to separate meetings in the evening for men and women in Lathrop and Music halls. Sunday's program is the one upon which the biggest effort has been expended, and the two meetings to be held in the afternoon and the evening, both of which will be addressed by Sherwood Eddy, are expected to bring a final and lasting message to the student body.

After 25 years of student work that has made Sherwood Eddy a world figure, he comes to the university with a wealth of ideas and a fund of industrial as well as social ideas. His experiences in student work have taken him into every country in the world, and his knowledge of world activities has aided in making him an author of more than ordinary note. His work on industrial and social problems is authoritative.

Mr. Eddy has been associated with men like Dr. John R. Mott, and his life has been devoted to such activity as brings him to Wisconsin at this time. He is a student leader and a man of international reputation. He has just completed a tour of the world, made since the war and he has thus come into con-

DANCE DRAMA WILL BE GIVEN MARCH 2

The instrumentation of the "Dance," one of the numbers of the program for the Dance Drama recital to be given Thursday, Mar. 3, in Lathrop hall concert room, will be a novel experiment in the work of Miss Margaret H'Doubler's students.

Instead of each dancer contributing to the totality of the dance as is customary, each of the three dancers will follow one of the accompanying instruments. Three girls will take part, and the accompanying instrument will be the violin, cello, and the harp.

In the program will be included Les Petites Etudes, a group consisting of light, fanciful numbers, "The Queen of Hearts," "Jack in the Box," "The Big Brown Bear," the accompaniment of which, Helen Harper '21 will sing, "Why?" and "Old King Cole." A Raggedy Ann dance will be given by girls in masks.

The presentation of a dance program in the concert room for the first time has been made possible by the installation of the new curtain and appropriate drops.

HARDING TO PLAY LEADING ROLE IN UNIVERSITY FILM

JACK HARDING

The leading role in the Varsity Movie has been given to Jack Harding, a graduate student in the College of Letters and Science.

The tryout committee chose Harding from a group of over 150 candidates because of his excellent dramatic ability and because he fits well.

Physically he is an Apollo Beldere, the committee says. Harding graduated from Wabash college in the class of '20. While there he took a leading part in "Justice" and "The Fortune Hunter." He served for two years during the war with the 7th Division in France.

Although a new student in the university he is already well known. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta and a son of W. B. Harding, Indianapolis, president of the G. and J. Tire company.

BIG EXPO MASS MEET TONIGHT

Assembly Will Start Work to Culminate in Huge Event

President E. A. Birge will be the central figure in the general meeting of all interested in the Exposition at the Engineering auditorium this evening at 7:00. President Birge will speak on the value of the Exposition. Prof. A. W. Hopkins will speak on the Exposition and the Newspapers and Prof. E. H. Gardner will point out the benefit derived by the university.

General Manager W. B. Florea will preside at the meeting at which over 500 committeemen and others interested in the University Exposition will attend. The last of the committees were announced last evening. The meeting will be the official start of the two months work that will only end when the doors are opened by Governor John J. Blaine on the initial day.

The committees for L. and S. and Special Schools are:

Letters and Science — Wesley Travers, manager; D. V. Pinkerton, William Ellis, assistant managers.

Botany — H. F. Copeland, chairman; H. Fellows, H. K. Ozanne, Elizabeth Meadows, Clara Brounrigg, Paula Komers, H. L. Dreier.

Chemistry — Charles E. Fawkes, chairman; Myron T. Herreid, Kenneth Hoover, Joe J. Liskovec, Herbert J. Lueck, Gordon Taylor.

City Planning — Gordon E. Nelson, chairman.

Encouraged by the victory of Saturday night and by the unsettled condition of the percentage column, the Wisconsin basketball team resumed practice yesterday afternoon in preparation for the Minnesota game.

This will in reality be a championship game, as it will determine whether or not Wisconsin can stay in the title race. A victory on Saturday would place the Badgers in undisputed third place.

The conference standings have undergone several changes thus far this week, and, since last night's games, still more changes are necessary. Purdue lost to Michigan and Ohio State lost to Illinois. This makes Illinois rank first, Indiana second, with Wisconsin, Michigan, and Purdue tied for third place.

On Thursday night Purdue plays at Indiana, where the Boilermakers stand a good chance of being defeated as they lose two of the three games they would finish up with a rating of 1.00. That would place them below Wisconsin and would probably put them out of title consideration. Purdue will be pretty much worn out by Saturday night, and may even lose to Iowa. However, if

TODAY'S ISSUE OF LIT PRAISED BY PROF. DODGE

By PROF. D. E. N. DODGE

Reviewing the "Lit" ought to be easy work nowadays, for the cover of each issue directs your attention to various select contributions, and at the close is a half-page of information or comment about or on contributors; so you know what the editors think worth while, and if you have nothing else to say can quarrel with them. But you are not likely to quarrel with them this month after reading the first editorial, which is as sensible and good-humored a statement of how college literary magazines ought to take themselves, and how the "Lit" intends to take itself, as you could easily hunt out. It starts you off in a pleasant frame of mind.

The body of any magazine is almost necessarily prose. In this issue the prose contributions open with a letter "Better Late than Never," a story by an English "cousin co-ed." If it is at all representative of English, as distinct from American, undergraduate temper, then our English cousins are more serious-minded, for it is not afraid of what used to be called "honest sentiment." It deals quite frankly with the old-fashioned situation of an ill-mated couple drawn together by the supposed loss and eventual recovery of their only son.

The other two stories of the issue are in a totally different vein. "Nightly Visitors" begins with a clammy, isolating mist; works up to a nightmare apparition of a recently

CAST SELECTED FOR HARESFOOT '21 PRODUCTION

Personnel Includes Best

After a week of strenuous tryouts and rehearsals the cast and the chorus of "Miss 'Quita," the twenty-third annual Haresfoot production has been chosen. The men were chosen from a group of over 150 competitors, comprising the best dramatic talent of the university. According to George Herbert, Chicago, the director, and the officials of the Haresfoot club, the cast and chorus are the best that has taken part in a Haresfoot show in recent years.

Owing to the rush in Dean S. H. Goodnight's office, eligibility records are not as yet complete, and it is possible that ineligibility may cause some changes before the play is finally cast. However, it is quite probable that the following cast and chorus is the one which will take "Miss 'Quita" on tour through seven cities in Illinois and Wisconsin during spring vacation.

The cast and chorus of "Miss 'Quita" follow:

Lawrence Drake, from Chicago	Earl Carpenter
Ralph Waldo Emerson Smith	Wells Carberry
Senor El Ropo, President of Mexico	Samuel Becker
Chicquita, Miss 'Quita, his daughter	Philip D. Reed
Senorita Isabella, his sister	William H. Purnell
Ferdinand Vasco Felix Emilio	Mord M. Bogie
Paprika, in pursuit of Ferdinand	Hubert Townsend
Pedro, Ferdie's negro hangman	Stephen B. Reichert
Shamus O'Brien, the future king	William D. Gray
Conspirators:

General Sombrero	G. Vance Smith
General Carramba	George Bartlett

JONES TO ADDRESS FUTURE TEACHERS

A conference for seniors, graduates, and underclassmen desirous of positions as teachers in high schools or colleges, with Prof. Thomas L. Jones, chairman of the committee on high school relations, will be held in 165 Bascom hall, at 4:30 today, for the benefit of those who were unable to attend a similar meeting held yesterday.

"Teachers' salaries have increased 50 per cent over last year, and last year there was a very positive increase over the year before," said Professor Jones yesterday. "There is a marked shortage of teachers, and university students or graduates who are prepared, have an opportunity now to secure good positions.

"Urgent requests for competent teachers, especially in high schools, are coming to the committee in greater number than we can hope to fill from our list of applicants. There are many vacancies open in the central, western, and southern parts of the country."

Application blanks will be distributed at the conference to be filled out with information of qualifications for the committee's use in placing applicants.

IF the Varsity Exposition staff would only add home addresses and telephone numbers to their committee lists we feel sure that they would make a splendid addition to the student directory.

GRATZ TO ADDRESS
METHODIST DINNER

The Methodist students in the university with their friends and the Methodist professors will enjoy a dinner together Saturday at 5:30 to hear Dr. W. E. J. Gratz, life service secretary for Methodist colleges.

Phillip Corr is chairman of arrangements, Lawrence Hall, and Dorothy Ream of attendance, and Rowena Brown of advertising. Only 250 can be seated. Reserve by phone to Fern Constance, B. 504, the office in Wesley hall B. 2858, or Dr. Blakeman, B. 554. Plates are 50 cents.

HALLING TO TALK
AT PRESS MEETING

The regular meeting of Press club will be held this evening in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall. Members will form in line at the Cafeteria at 5:15 as usual. Important business concerning the election of new officers will be brought up, and President "Pat" Dennis is anxious that all members be present.

A program will be given after the business meeting. Martin Halling '23, will speak to the club on his experiences.

All selections to either cast or chorus are made subject to eligibility and other minor considerations.

Rehearsals for both cast and chorus will start immediately, and preparation for the spring tour will go on steadily from now until April 15, when the show goes on the tour of seven cities in Illinois and Wisconsin. George Herbert will have direct control of every detail of the show; William H. Furnell '22 will assume temporary control of the cast, while Harold "Sunny" Ray '21, and DeWitt Van Pinkerton '21 will start chorus rehearsals.

The cast will start rehearsals tonight in the cabinet room of the Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock. The chorus will report to the Haresfoot loft this afternoon between 1:30 and 5:30 for instructions.

While the cast and chorus have been chosen, there are still opportunities for men to work with the Haresfoot show in the orchestra, technical, stage, and publicity departments. Men who play an instrument and desire to tryout for the 20-piece orchestra which, led by "Jean" Juster '21 will go with "Miss Quita" on its entire trip, should report to the Haresfoot left this afternoon. All men who wish to work in the business or production departments should see Norbert Markus '21, the manager, at the same time and place.

tact with countries in the process of rebuilding. His knowledge and information regarding the newly formed country of Czechoslovakia alone are felt by authorities to be sufficient to make him a figure of importance at the present time in the world's industrial rebuilding.

Unlike former religious conferences this year's convention is to have only one important speaker for all the meetings except the denominational institutes to be conducted by the churches. It is felt that in this way a more coordinated and concise message can be given and the student body may feel that a concerted plan, conceived and delivered by a recognized authority, is the basis of the conference.

VARSITY TRACK MEN TO ENTER SUCKER RELAYS

Illinois Will Furnish Stiff
Opposition for Jones'
Athletes

Coach T. L. Jones will take a four-mile relay team, a one-mile relay team, and six men for special events to the Illinois Relay carnival, which will be held at Urbana next Saturday.

The four-mile relay team will be composed of four of the following men: M. H. Wall '22, H. C. Dennis '21, W. Brothers '21, G. H. Finkle '23, C. W. Wille '22, R. O. Blodgett '23; while Captain C. L. Nash '21, P. A. Kayser '21, W. E. Johnson '23, and either R. C. Mattox '21, L. McCandless '23, L. P. Klug '21, or J. C. Holbrook '22 will make up the mile relay team.

In the special events, L. L. Wilder '21 and D. Merrick '22 are entered in the pole vault; A. J. Knollin '22, G. B. Stolley '22, and H. W. Armstrong '23 in the 75 yard high hurdles; Sundt '22 in the shot put and broad jump; and Armstrong in the high jump.

Wisconsin athletes will encounter their stiffest competition in the runners of Illinois and Michigan. While the Badgers were piling up a 61-25 score against Northwestern, the Wolverines were defeating Chicago and the Suckers Iowa by similar scores.

Wisconsin's time in the mile relay was 3:35, while that of Illinois was 3:30 and of Michigan 3:31. The track on which Illinois ran is vastly superior to any other in the conference; hence Michigan's time was better than that of Wisconsin or Illinois.

Michigan did not do well enough in the distances in her dual meet with Chicago to make her four-mile relay team look dangerous, but not so with Illinois. Allman and Wharton of that university recently ran a two-mile race in the fast time of 9:53:3. Maginnis ran a mile in 4:29:1, barely beating Patterson (both of them Suckers).

deceased father-in-law (if the author wanted to terrify us, why not mother-in-law?) and bring us out face to face with a rapping, dripping radiator. It is "very gracious fooling," though of course we know we are going to be fooled. "Science," perhaps more a sketch than a story, contrasts the purely ideal victories of a distinguished professor with the rather sordid hardships of his material existence. The conception is interesting, but as for the reality of the presentation, professors have yet to be convinced that undergraduates see them as they are.

Allegory is a vein very much worked nowadays, yet it can yield "pay dirt" if the writer does not limit it too strictly to abstractions. "Ashes" is free allegory. It presents the disillusion of youth when experience with life has apparently driven it on a sandbank between conventional religion on the one hand and cynicism on the other. The workmanship is compact and vigorous. Another unusual contribution is a new essay by Bacon, "On Women." One is not quite clear whether it was unearthed in some repository of old manuscripts or taken down by some medium as a communication from the spirit world. One inclines to the latter view, since we find the august Verulam quoting Pope and decidedly rusty on his Latin. Some of his observations are in his most judicious vein.

The issue contains two critiques. The review of "Main Street," being by a member of the faculty, might be expected to be sober, and is, but is also interesting. The "appreciation" of Leonard Merrick's "The Man Who Understood Women" is more discursive and chatty. It deliberately evades criticism, to loiter in the field of personal impressions, those of the writer and those of her friends. It gives an amusing picture of how books take hold.

The verse of the issue is varied in everything but length; all the poems are short. One might wish that the "Lit" could discover some one capable of sustaining a note longer, but to make that wish criticism would be unfair; what we find here is generally workmanlike and sometimes noticeably good. The editors are probably right in calling particular attention to "Fantasy." It is the most unusual of the set both in imaginative quality and in metrical cadence. But why did the editorial proof-reader allow it to end with commercially efficient "thru?" Even new verse ought not to remind us of Modern Language association reformed spelling. At the other end of the poetic scale is an Oliver Wendell Holmesian skit, "The Lie," very clean-cut and distinct. The ground between is occupied by a variety of lyrics, of which "Love Song" and "Night" are perhaps the most noteworthy. The two sonnets might be more noteworthy still, if sonnets were not so appallingly difficult to sustain at an even level of vigor.

As a whole, this issue is more varied than others I have seen.

WISCONSIN DEBT TO AN UNFORTUNATE SOLDIER

HERE is a matter up for consideration before our legislature which must be of great interest to every ex-service man and citizen of Wisconsin. It concerns the problem of adequately caring for the most unfortunate victim of the late war: our buddy who, because of service, has lost more than life—he who lost his mind.

From reliable authority, it is claimed that there are over 600 such cases in Wisconsin alone. While special facilities were provided, these are extremely inadequate for this problem. The only solution is for the state to build a special hospital for this specific purpose.

Bill 119 by Senator Henry A. Huber, Stoughton, District 262, provides $500,000 for a hospital which is to be known as the Wisconsin Memorial Hospital. Unless the state makes such provision these unfortunate young men must soon be sent to county asylums, where they get bed and board in the same manner given other paupers, and no medical care. Up to the present time there have been approximately eighty such cases treated at our state asylums. There are many of these war victims throughout the state who have not been treated because the present facilities mean admission to the state asylum.

Certainly all the vocational students as well as all the ex-service men and others interested in our duty to the men who bore the brunt of our share in the world war will manifest such interest by attending the public hearing to be held in the assembly chamber at the Capitol on Thursday, March 3, at 7:30 p. m.

A LARGER FORENSIC APPROPRIATION

MUCH has been said during the past year in regard to increased funds for instructors' salaries, new buildings, and new equipment. Indeed, the demand for more funds for these various purposes arose justly from the failure of the university budget to expand with the growing needs. There is, however, one pinch of which few have complained—that is, the insufficient sum that the regents allot to forensic activities.

The sum of money appropriated by the Board of Regents for forensic undertakings has not been increased for many years and is now far inadequate. In fact, the present allotment is no larger than that given prior to 1914.

As a result, the forensic activities of the university are being curtailed. Insufficient funds are preventing the university from participating in the desired number of intercollegiate forensic contests. As the result of meager appropriations, the forensic board has the task of financing an all-university activity, in addition to administering that activity. The forensic board is, moreover, burdened with debts bequeathed to it by debating and oratorical events during the war. The forensic activities of the university and the benefits arising from them are being cut short because of financial difficulties.

Such a status is truly deplorable. There are few, if any, phases of the extra-curricular life of the university more worthy of fostering than forensic activities. They bring the student into intimate contact with the live questions of the day. They bring the student into the realm of careful and penetrating research that is too often closed to the undergraduate. They instill in the students lessons of thoroughness and assiduity. They encourage the effective use of spoken English. They foster training in getting one's views forcefully before other people. They enlighten the public mind.

There is perhaps no university activity more stimulating to intellectual activity or more beneficial than forensics.

Activities of such importance should not be neglected. To survive, forensics must have the support of the Regents' appropriation. To survive properly and to yield the maximum benefits, forensics must have a larger allotment of funds.

The university needs, and would profit by, more financial assistance to forensic activities.

HIGH COURT PULLS LEVER LAW'S TEETH

Profiteering Clauses Are Held Illegal by U. S. Supreme Court

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Sections of the Lever food control act under which the department of justice has brought many actions for alleged profiteering in necessities were declared unconstitutional today by the supreme court. Chief Justice White read the court's opinion.

Conviction of the L. Cohen Grocery Co. of St. Louis in having an unreasonable profit on sales of sugar was set aside by the court.

In taking this action the court sustained decrees of lower courts which had sustained a demurrer to the indictment of the grocery concern. The specific charge was that the defendant charged $10.70 for fifty pounds of sugar, or at the rate of more than 20 cents a pound.

The conviction of the firm of Weeds Inc. of Binghamton, N. Y. also was set aside. Chief Justice White said that the statute was "as broad as human imagination."

Justice Brandeis and Pitney concurred in the opinion, but dissented from "the reasoning by which it was reached."

Hundreds of cases growing out of the government campaign to reduce the cost of living are ayected by the opinion. A number of these cases have reached the supreme court while many others are pending in the lower courts.

The federal farm loan act was held constitutional today by the supreme court. This is the act under which land banks were established to extend loans to farmers.

Millions of dollars in loans to farmers have been held up pending a decision of the court in this case, which was brought by Charles W. Smith, a stockholder in the Kansas City Title and Trust Co. who sought an injunction to restrain that institution from investing its funds in bonds by the farm loan banks.

As the act was attacked on the ground that congress was without constitutionality authority to establish farm loan banks and to exempt their bonds from taxation. Justice Day, who rendered the opinion for the court said the power of congress to establish banks, had in a broad sense, been upheld by the supreme court in the days of Chief Justice Marshall.

HIST! CHEST IN HUGE CAPITOL VAULT IS OPEN

Another capitol bubble has burst. The report that a huge wooden chest containing "untold millions in idle wealth" is reposing in a dark corner of the huge vault in the office of Henry Johnson, state treasurer, has been unofficially investigated by eager legislators, and their findings as unofficially reported to their colleagues.

The chest contained:

One quart of imported scotch whiskey.

One quart of extra dry gin.

One quart of imported cognac.

Eight pints and one quart bottle of a certain brand of rye whiskey.

Seven pints of creme de menthe (non-alcoholic).

Various and sundry bottles of moonshine and home brew.

The chest is the property of the state prohibition commissioner, and the contents represent the fruit of various liquor seizure.

The legislators who investigated declared if the chest could be placed on the treasurer's books the state's precarious financial condition would be relieved.

Vice-President Gets Senate Loving Cup

WASHINGTON — A tall, silver loving cup was present to Vice President Marshall today by the senate as "going away" gift, the Republican and Democratic leaders, Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Underwood of Alabama, expressing the good wishes of the membership.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 32 at 2 p. m. and the lowest was 26 at 2 a. m. Sun sets at 5:46.

The snow and wind storm that passed here Saturday reached the north Atlantic coast this morning. An inch and a half of rain fell at New York, but only moderate amounts fell elsewhere. An area of low barometer is causing rapid warming in the Mississippi valley today, but is followed by northerly winds and colder this afternoon. A third low is crossing the Canadian plains accompanied by unsettled and warmer weather.

SHOWERMAN WILL LECTURE ON ART

Prof. Grant Showerman will deliver an illustrated lecture Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Arts and Crafts club, his subject being "What It Means to Appreciate Art." The meeting will be held in room 112 Bascom hall at 7 o'clock. R. B. Stewart, president of the club, stated yesterday that the meeting would be over by 8:30 o'clock.

Prof. Showerman is eminently qualified to speak on the appreciation of art. For many years he has made an intensive study of art, having visited all the renowned art centers of Europe. In his journeys he has collected a splendid group of illustrations. He uses many of these illustrations in the course in fine arts which he is now giving.

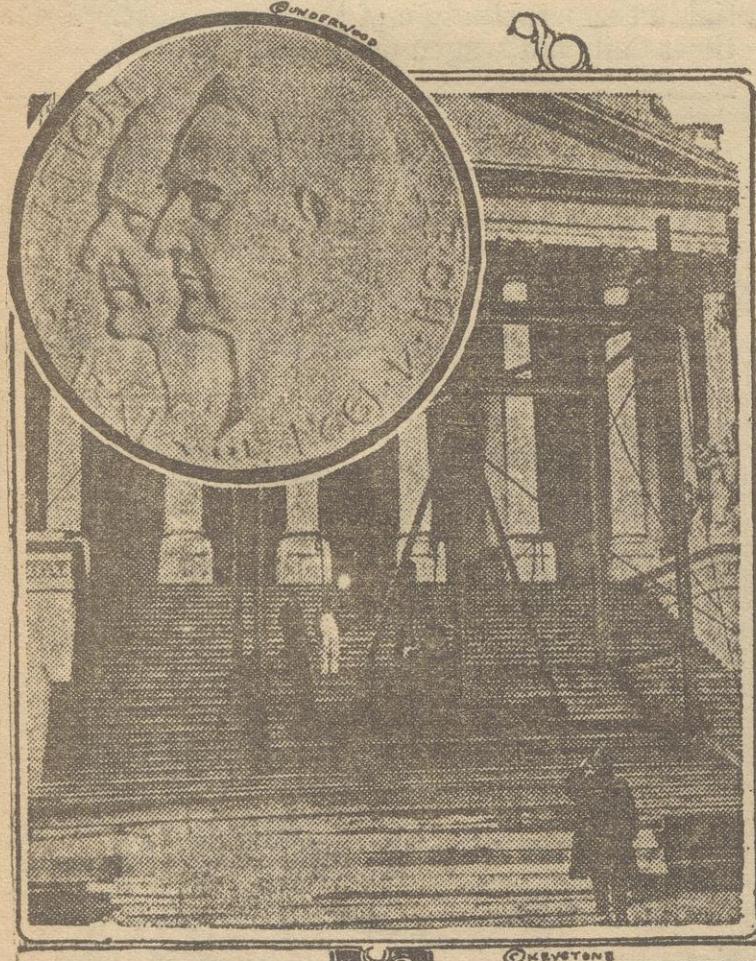

TICKETS TO HEAR CHESTERTON ARE BEING SOLD FAST

One hundred tickets remain unsold for the lecture to be given by Gilbert K. Chesterton at the Madison high school auditorium Wednesday evening, Mar. 9. One dollar seats are the only ones now available for the lecture.

The open seat sale has progressed with unusual rapidity thus far, and it is expected that before the end of the week all remaining seats will have been sold. Reserved seat tickets may be obtained at Hook's music store between 2 and 4, or at the Union building between 4:30 and 6 in the afternoon.

of only 583 per cent, and the conference winner will undoubtedly rank higher than that.

Owing to a short schedule, Iowa cannot finish with more than 700 per cent; consequently, they can do little except to worry Purdue and Northwestern.

The Badgers have gone through a variety of experiences this year. Starting out at the bottom of the percentage column, they have advanced to within striking distance of the conference lead. For, if Wisconsin wins from Minnesota, and if Illinois breaks even on their two games, the Badgers will be tied for first place. It is entirely probable that Indiana's short schedule will prove to be her downfall in the race for first place.

The present condition in the conference is the strangest in its history. Usually at this time of the season the race has narrowed down to one or two teams, but this year, with but two weeks of conference competition remaining, Illinois, Indiana, Purdue, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Minnesota each have a possible chance for the title. At present, it looks as if the last game of the season may be the deciding one.

Considering the conference games of the season, there have been but few upsets this year. Teams have been so evenly matched that the advantage of a home floor has been the deciding factor in the majority of the games.

PICK ARTISTS FOR PRIZE POSTER WORK ON MILITARY BALL

The ten student artists who have been invited to compete in the poster contest announced by the Military ball publicity committee are: Katherine G. Ely '23, Einar H. Gaustad '23, Helen M. Elliott '23, Grace A. Gleerup '21, Byron C. Jorns '24, Maude M. Killam '23, Antoinette H. Wolff '23, John J. Schaub '22, Dorothy T. Johnson '24, Walter E. Schuetz '23.

The number of contestants desiring to compete made it difficult to limit the number to ten, but as previously decided, only ten contestants have been selected. Most of the contestants have made preliminary sketches and some are already well under way. All of the students selected have had previous experience and some high class work is expected. All posters must be finished by March 10.

At The Theatres

AT THE GRAND

The Indian "Io-Wa-Ka," or the Northern Blue Flower, plays an important part in the unfolding of the story of the film drama, "Isobel; or, The Trail's End," which is showing at the Grand theater. This production, adapted from James Oliver Curwood's famous novel, "Isobel," is one of the most powerful Northland romances ever screened.

The hero, a Northwest mounted policeman, cherishes the blue flower as the symbol of pure and faithful womanhood. The woman he loves, married to the man he has sworn to capture dead or alive, prays that he will find "his blue flower of happiness." She, of course, becomes the living "blue flower" of the man's hopes and ideals.

How he finds his happiness at the end of the trail composes one of the most absorbing romances of the north ever screened. The cast is headed by those sterling players House Peters and Jane Novak.

AT THE FULLER

Frances Marion, celebrated scenario writer, is now Mary Pickford's director. The first picture, "The Love Light," released by United Artists Corporation, will be shown at the Fuller theater beginning Thursday. Miss Marion has signed a long term contract with Miss Pickford to direct her in her forthcoming productions. The present photoplay is an original story by Miss Marion.

Miss Marion will continue her activities as a scenario writer also.

Since her wonderful success with Miss Pickford's photoplay, "The Foundling," which was adapted from Miss Marion's story, this clever young woman has risen to the very top of scenario writers in the motion picture business. She has been responsible for nearly a dozen of Miss Pickford's most successful stories and in addition has had the opportunity of writing photoplays for Clara Kimball Young, Sessue Hayakawa, Alice Brady, Billie Burke and the late Olive Thomas.

She also did "The World and His Wife," "The City of Dim Faces," "The Temple of Dust," "The Land of Promise," "Misleading Lady" and her splendid recent success, "Humoresque."

AT THE STRAND

Ethel Clayton in the "Sins of Rosanne" will be the attraction at the Strand theater for the last times today.

The action takes place among the European and native colonies at Kimberley, near the famous diamond mines. Rosanne, the heroine, when an infant and dangerously near death, is taken in charge by a native Malayan woman and not only saved, but imbued with an uncanny craving for bright stones and the gift of bringing misfortune upon those whom she dislikes. She becomes involved in a diamond smuggling scheme, but is finally rescued by the love that enters her life from the Malay's charm.

Jack Holt is Miss Clayton's leading man in "Sins of Rosanne."

A comedy Cartoon and the latest News Weekly will be the added features.

Charles Ray

Charles Ray in "An Old Fashioned Boy" will be the feature attraction at the Strand Wednesday to Saturday.

AT THE ORPHEUM

"Who's Who," a matrimonial farce, headlines the bill at the Orpheum for the first half of the week. There is a docile young wife with a domineering husband and another couple whose conjugal joys are quided by the hand of a firm wife and a rawhide switch. The domineering husband instructs the hen-pecked husband in the strong arm methods of wife control and the powerful wife confides in the abused wife the way to handle a restive mate. So the tables turn. Jack Russell, the hen-pecked, supplies most of the laughs.

With her super-trained pony, Miss Emma Lindsay, a youthful and attractive girl in riding habit, opens the bill. Her pony, Sultan, does everything but talk, and since he has four feet, he manages to make his ideas known without the aid of a voice.

Arthur Stone, a country jay, and Miss Marian Hayes, the conductor of a carnival booth, pull some patter that the audience likes.

Besides singing some tuneful songs, Miss Marie Gasper dances. She is assisted on the piano by a girl of unusual ability.

There is plenty of pep in the tunes sung by Bob Murphy and Elmore White, two genial joksters. Mr. White has a big tenor voice that labors hard so hard at times that the orchestra leader is forced to put up an umbrella to keep off the spray.

"The Silver Mountain," a study in light, color, and form, concludes the bill.

EXPO COMMITTEES TO MEET TONIGHT

A meeting of all committeemen connected with the University Exposition has been called, for this evening at 7 o'clock in the Engineering auditorium by William Florea '21, general manager. This will be the first big get-together for those in charge of the undertaking.

President E. A. Birge will speak to the meeting, giving the attitude of the administrative heads of the university toward the exposition. Prof. Edward H. Gardner and Prof. Andrew Hopkins will speak on practical aspects of the exposition work and the results which may be effected by the exposition.

The meeting is especially for committeemen, but anyone interested in the exposition will be welcome.

TWELFTH NIGHT MEETING

There will be a regular meeting of Twelfth Night at 6:45 tomorrow night at Lathrop parlors.

INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

The Indianapolis club will meet Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Kappa house.

U. W. MATMEN SCHEDULED TO FACE MAROONS

Templin and Pier May be Out of Match Due to Injuries

Injuries to two wrestlers may prevent Wisconsin from entering her strongest wrestling squad in the meet with Chicago, Friday, Mar. 4. The men who are not likely to enter the ring against the Maroon grapplers are E. H. Templin '23, who has hurt his hand, and H. E. Pier '22, suffering with a cauliflower ear.

Coach Hitchcock's wrestling team has been completely broken up by ineligibilities and injuries, and only three of the original varsity matmen remain on the present team. Although Hitchcock has not yet selected the men who will fill the gaps left by recent injuries, he has chosen a tentative lineup which is rounding into condition for the meet against Chicago.

The men who probably will wrestle against the Maroons are: Ora McMurry '21, heavyweight; G. L. Barry '22, light heavyweight; P. W. Voltz '23 or E. H. Templin '23, middleweight; I. H. Peterman '22, welterweight; T. E. Carlson '22, or J. S. Hess '22, lightweight; E. A. Woelffer '23, featherweight. Chicago has not yet decided whether they will enter a featherweight in the meet, but if the Maroon wrestling coach decides to hold this event G. F. Prideaux '22 will wrestle in the featherweight division for Wisconsin.

Chicago has a strong squad of wrestlers in spite of the fact that Indiana defeated the Maroons last Saturday. The Maroons have engaged in only one conference dual meet, and with their team intact, will give the riddled Badgers a hard battle.

"The team which will be sent against Chicago," said Coach Hitchcock Tuesday afternoon, "is not the best one which we are capable of entering. Ineligibilities and injuries have practically broken up the team which wrestled in the first meet against Ames, and if Templin and Pier are unable to wrestle, Wisconsin will be at a decided disadvantage.

"The Maroons, however, will have no snap in their match with Wisconsin, and the Badger team may score as big a surprise against Chicago as it did against the Northwestern team."

18 CHAPTERS JOIN IN DELT CONCLAVE

The Western division of Delta Tau Delta fraternity held its thirty-fifth annual conference at the house of the local Beta Gamma chapter, 16 Mendota court, Friday and Saturday day of last week. The visitors included Charles W. Hills, president of the Western division, Harry R. Hewitt, ritualist, and to delegates from each of the 18 chapters of the division.

Apart from the business meetings on both days of the conference, the local chapter entertained its guests with an auto tour of Madison Friday afternoon, an informal party at the chapter house Friday night, and a banquet Saturday night.

AMERICAN LEGION UNIVERSITY POST OUT FOR MEMBERS

Get-together For All Service Men is Planned For Wednesday

A whirlwind campaign for membership for the university post of the American Legion opened yesterday when over 40 ex-service men started combing the campus in an effort to triple the present enrollment of the post.

On Wednesday night the legionaries will be hosts to all ex-service men in the university at an entertainment and "pep" session in the auditorium of the Engineering building. At this time there will be an open discussion as to future policies, social affairs, and other activities of the post, but the main purpose of the meeting is to give all service men a chance to enjoy a real "get-together."

At a meeting of the chairmen of membership committees working in the various schools and departments last night it was reported that there are 25 new members signed up during the first day and it was decided to continue the drive until the enrollment was brought up to at least 750.

Each school and college is competing for the highest percentage of membership based on the total number of men enrolled. The chairmen of the committees are:

Letters and Science—Augustus J. Fehrenbach '22.

Commerce—Walter H. Sylvester '22.

Agriculture—Elmer Byrns '23.

Law—Herman C. Runge '22.

Engineering—Lloyd M. Scofield '21.

Medicine—Carl Neupert '23.

Faculty—Dr. G. S. Bryan.

Entertainment—Idrys O. Hughes '21.

WILD BULLS

Await Bare Back Riders for Little International Stock Show

Dare-devil cowpunchers of the university, attention!

On the man who can successfully ride one of three bulls at the "Wild West" show, the evening event of the Little International stock exhibition, March 12, awaits fame and an attractive pride. The contestant must, however, ride the animals bareback and with a rope around their necks.

The ferocious animals, which are owned by the genetics department of the College of Agriculture, were purchased recently after a year's search over the country. The red Holstein bulls who are awaiting their charmers are claimed to be as wild as the animals of the noted Mexican and Spanish contests.

Tameness is being avoided in the "Wild West" show at the Stock pavilion. Stunts equally as thrilling as the Mexican bull fight, a la Wisconsin, are included in present plans. Horse-back riding and other western events that Barnum never dreamed of, will be staged at the evening show.

Other Don Quixotes of unknown fame now have an opportunity to display their daring and ability. Those desirous of throwing their hats in the ring should communicate with A. L. McMahon '21, general manager.

Dances

"HONEYDEW"—Medley Waltz—Medley One-Step
Joseph C. Smith's Orchestra

Two eagerly-awaited selections from Zimbalist's new play; not only wonderful dances but splendid music too.

"Biddy"—Fox Trot

"Somebody"—Medley One-Step

The Benson Orchestra of Chicago

When it isn't the trombone, it's the saxophone; and between the two you get a vigorous swinging rhythm.

"Rosie"—Medley Fox Trot

"Honolulu Eyes"—Medley Waltz

Light-hearted dances with a bewitching lilt in them. "Honolulu Eyes" has whistling effects like a forest full of birds.

"Broadway Rose"—Medley Fox Trot

"Sweet Mamma (Papa's Getting Mad")—Medley Fox Trot Original Dixieland Jazz Band

Musical surprises—everything just where you don't expect it. The kind of record that makes a dance twice as interesting.
