TWELVE PICKED FOR HARESFOOT CAST BY COACH

Characters Harmonize Says Shuter

Final selections of the cast for the Haresfoot show "Kikmi," were made last night by Coach E. Mortimer Shuter, after nearly three weeks of tryouts and rehearsals.

Twelve men were picked to fill the major parts in "Kikmi." These men with the chorus of 20 which was announced last week make up the cast of the show which will be presented during the spring vacation in Appleton, Oshkosh, Milwaukee, Rockford, Chicago, Kenosha, Racine and Madison.

Two Sets of Leads

The play in reality contains two sets of leads so that there are two ingenues and two juvenile leads. The action of all the other characters center about these four.

The cast selections as announced by the coach are:

Isabel Tingling, Porter F. Butts '24; Ernest Lee Pettinger, Thomas Morony '25; Kismi, Hubert F. Townsend '23; Philip Morris, Harold C. Buell '24; Crew, T. Paxton Hall '23; Hushie McTush, Thomas A. MacLean '24; Mate, Arthur Platten '23; Captain, Wilbur J. Eddy '24; Mr. Tingling, Stephen B. Reichert '23; Sheik of Kikmi, Russell J. Irish '24; Kidmi, Walter Kidder '23; High Priest, Joel Swenson '23.

"The cast is an exceptionally good one and will work well together to make the best show Haresfoot has produced. The men can sing, dance and act," Mr. Shuter declared last night when he selected the cast.

Cast Works Together

The cast as it now stands, except for a few minor changes, has been working together for the last week, managers have announced.

"The first act is virtually completed as far as learning the parts and the general idea of the dances and songs is concerned," L. Gerold Koch '23, president of the club asserted last night.

Work on the second act was begun last night. The chorus, being instructed by Howard Welch, assistant to Mr. Shuter, has learned most of the dances for the first act.

The chorus and the cast will work together in a semi-completed form for the first time next Sunday morning at the Parkway theater. The scenery for the first act which has been constructed by the club will be furnished and will be used to acquaint the chorus with the correct surroundings.

PHYSICAL EDS PLAN FIRST ANNUAL DINNER

The first annual physical education dinner is to be held at 6 o'clock March 22 in the Lathrop parlors, under the auspices of Miss Aliceall and Irene Clayton.

The dinner is planned for the purpose of injecting enthusiasm into all of the women physical education major students in the university, and arousing interest in the annual inter-class gym meet which will be held in about two weeks.

The chairman of the committees for the dinner will be Phyllis Tatman '23, general chairman, Janice Boardman '24, stunts, Alma Fann '23, ticket sale, Olga Anderson '23, decorations.

Annual Christian Science Lecture Given Tuesday

The annual authorized lecture on Christian Science was delivered by C. W. Chadwick, C. S. B., member of the board of lectureship of the Mother church in Boston, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at 165 Bascom hall. Ruth Dickover '23 introduced the speaker and defined the purpose of the lecture.

WEATHER: SNOW

Snow today and probably tomorrow; not much change in temperature.

STUDENT CONFERENCE OPENS AT EVANSTON

The third annual Mid-West Student conference will convene at Northwestern university at 9 o'clock this morning.

Student publications will be the principle item of business to be considered at the sessions, following registration of the delegates.

Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of Conference athletics, will address the convention tomorrow afternoon on "Intercollegiate and Intramural Sports."

Ralph E. Balliette '23 and W. Wilbur Wittenberg '24 are representing the University of Wisconsin at the meeting.

DEBATE TEAMS HOLD CONTEST

First Intercollegiate Debates Are Set For Tomorrow

Final preparations and finishing touches have been made for the first intercollegiate debates of the forensic season. The Wisconsin negative team leaves at 7:45 o'clock this morning for Ann Arbor. The contest is set for Friday evening at the same time that Wisconsin's affirmative team argues against Illinois in Music hall.

The affirmative team is composed of Wilbur Katz '24, George J. Fiedler '25, and George McKinnis '23, closer. The negative squad consists of Ralph E. Axley '23, Harold A. Seering '24, and Wayne L. Morse '23, closer. The debate coaches were the members of the speech department, Professors O'Neill, Weaver, and West.

The question chosen for the debate is "Resolved, that any statutory or constitutional changes necessary to render impossible the use of the injunction in labor disputes be made immediately." Due to the recent extended use of injunctions, interest in the question has been wide spread.

The University of Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan, compose the Midwest Debating league, which has been in existence about 5 years. During this time Wisconsin has defeated Michigan only once, and Illinois at least 3 times. The negative team which meets the Ann Arbor organization is the more experienced because Michigan is recognized as one of the best forensic schools in the West. Members of the affirmative team have never had experience in Wisconsin debating before, but have been prominent either in other institutions or in inter-society affairs.

The one judge system will be used. Prof. Rufus Day, formerly of the Economics department at Harvard will act as judge at Michigan, while Prof. Rarig of Minnesota will officiate in Music hall.

Women Transfers Elect Club Officers at Banquet

Election of officers of the Intercollegiate club took place at the semi-annual banquet given in Lathrop hall last night for all women transfer students at the university.

The officers chosen are: Elizabeth Wells '25, president; Mary Blair '25, vice president; Alpha Rosh '24, secretary and treasurer.

Dean F. Louise Nardin told of the value of friendship among people one comes in contact with. Miss Katy Boyd George described her work among foreign students. Miss Mary Anderson, secretary of the university Y. W. C. A., outlined the function of the Intercollegiate club as a campus activity.

The club will hold an important business meeting on Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

OFFER SLOGAN PRIZE FOR ENGINEERS' PARADE

Five dollars in cash will be given to the engineer suggesting the best slogan for the Engineer's parade to be held on March 24. The contest will close at noon, March 17. The slogans should be short and should show the spirit of the engineers. All slogans are to be turned in at the desk in the lobby of the Engineering building.

GUN AND BLADE WILL GIVE BLUE BANDITS FRIDAY

Tickets Now on Sale at Hooks

"The Blue Bandits," a comic opera in two acts under the personal direction of John T. McDonough, author-composer, will be given at the Central high school auditorium tomorrow and Saturday evening, March 16 and 17, under the auspices of the local post of federal board men of the university.

Setting in France

The scene of the opera is laid in the little city of Broux, France, near the Swiss border, on Bastille day, 1919. The respective acts take place in the Place de la Republique, morning and afternoon. The opera is replete with comedy and songs which range from a touch of grand opera to syncopated music.

Some of the songs, "Wines of France," "The Carillons," "Take Me Home with You," and "Primrose Time in Gascony," have a higher appeal, while "My Hula Girl" and "The Blue Law Blues" are of the more popular order.

Carrol Robb '25, Helen Wood, grad., Hilda Schultz '25, Lucille Hanson '24, Richard W. Austerman '24, have the heavier song parts and William C. Christensen '25, and Thomas H. Ford '25, will enact the lead in comedy roles.

Tickets at Hooks

Tickets are now on sale at Hook Brothers' music store. The advance sale points to capacity houses but there are some good seats still to be had.

SHORT COURSE HAS PROGRAM

Class Day Exercises Are Scheduled at 3 P. M. Today

Fifty-two members of the short course in agriculture class of '23 will assemble in Agricultural auditorium at 3 o'clock this afternoon to celebrate the annual class day exercises.

The traditions of the Wisconsin short course will be handed down to the freshman class during the occasion in the form of the class will. Wilfred Wheeler, Concord, Mass., has charge of the administration of the class will.

The principle address during the class day exercises will be given by Prof. G. C. Humphrey. Ted Doherty, Lancaster, Wis., is scheduled to deliver the class prophecy. Music will be furnished by the short course orchestra directed by Prof. B. D. Leith. The public is invited to attend the exercises.

A complete program of the class day exercises includes: selection, short course orchestra; class history, Arnold M. Logerquist; selection, short course glee club; class prophecy, T. E. Doherty; address, Prof. G. C. Humphrey; selection by short course orchestra; class will. Wilfred Wheeler, Jr.; first year response, Frank M. Winters; short course song, class of '23.

Commencement exercises for the senior class will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Dr. E. C. Eliot, President Purdue university, will address the assemblage on the subject, "Luck and Learning."

Haresfoot Orchestra Will Hold Tryouts in Music Hall

Tryouts for the Haresfoot orchestra will be held at 7:15 o'clock tonight in room 1 of Music hall.

AD STAFF MEETING

There will be a meeting of all advertising workers of The Cardinal today at 12:45 o'clock in the Union building.

VESPERS CLUB TO SELL FUDGE BARS FRIDAY

Rich, home made fudge bars will be sold in Bascom hall and Sterling halls all day Friday by the members of Y. W. C. A. Vespers club.

Olive Congdon '26 has charge of the sale, and more than 20 women have made and contributed candy. The bars will sell for 10 cents and the proceeds of the sale will go toward sending a delegate from the club to the Y. W. C. A. convention at Lake Geneva.

Alice Corl '25 is the president of Vespers club which has recently been organized. Members of the club take charge of the Vespers services and make arrangements for the speakers.

SQUAD READY TO PLAY IOWA

Meanwell Says Round Robin Would Avoid Future Ties

"The squad is ready to play Iowa tonight or at any other time to settle the conference basketball championship if the Big Ten officials consent to such a game," Coach Walter Meanwell stated last night regarding the prospect of a post-season game with Iowa university.

"A round robin, consisting of 16 conference games whereby one team each year is dropped from the schedule and rotated from year to year, would remedy the evil of the frequent championship ties in basketball.

"My experience in the Missouri Valley conference has convinced me that such a round robin is effective in deciding the supremacy of one team over another. Each team has an equal chance in an earlier start of the season.

"The number of games scheduled should be left to the individual school. From my experience as a coach and as a medical man, I am sure that any team can stand an 18 game schedule."

WOMEN TO PUT OUT NEAT COMMERCE MAG

The Commerce Mag, which will come out next Tuesday, will be edited and put out by women members of the commerce school.

Maude Killam '22, is the editor, and together with the staff of girls, is working on some special features. Among these features will be an article by Mrs. John J. Blaine on women in business and an article, "Working Toward the Goal," by Mrs. Arlene Foster, of New York.

Helen Harper '20, now in the employment department of Schusters' in Milwaukee, is contributing an article on employment management.

International Club Will Give Annual Play Mar. 23

"The World in Miniature" will be brought before the eyes of the public at the annual International club play to be presented in Music hall on Friday evening, March 23.

The program will be made up of original dances, stunts, and varied depictions of life in foreign countries. Many types of unique entertainment will be introduced into the performance.

Tickets will be on sale in Lathrop, Sterling, and Agricultural halls, and may also be obtained from Nai C. Lochaya '24, Takitaro Suzuki '23, William A. Gluesing '23, and other members of the club.

CHUDNOW'S ORCHESTRA HIRED FOR N. Y. PROM

A telegram received here late last night announced the contract engagement of a Wisconsin orchestra to play at the Wells college prom in Aurora, N. Y., May 4 and 5. One of Madison's best orchestras, consisting of Dave Chudnow '25, Bud Buell '23, Bob Talley '26, Nate Grabin '24, Eddie Kehl, and Torrey Foy '23, will fill the engagement.

The trip is one of the longest ever to be made by a college orchestra playing a single dance.

LOIS JACOBS IS CHOSEN TO BE NEWS. G. A. HEAD

Metcalf and Bilstad Honored

Lois Jacobs '24, was elected president of S. G. A., Marion Metcalf '24, president of Y. W. C. A., and Esther Bilstad '24, president of W. A. A. at the joint elections of the three major women's organizations held in Lathrop yesterday.

The vote cast was heavy and kept up continuously from the time that the polls opened at 8:30 until they closed at 5:30.

Hazel Weingandt Chosen

Other S. G. A. officers elected are Helen Kingsford '24, vice president; Mary Burchard '24, secretary; Mary Bevine '25, treasurer, and Hazel Weingandt '25, census chairman.

Other W. A. A. officers elected are: Nina Ferris '24, vice president; Esther Fifield '25, secretary; Janet Cumming '24, treasurer.

Other Y. W. C. A. officers elected are: Dorothy John '25, vice president; Marion Strong '25, secretary; Alice Cummings '25, treasurer.

Installation Wednesday

The new officers of S. G. A. will be installed with the usual formal ceremony at a meeting held in Lathrop parlors next Wednesday evening. The W. A. A. officers will be installed at the next meeting, which will be March 27. The Y. W. C. A. officers will be put into office soon.

The next president of S. G. A. automatically becomes president of Keystone, the organization for all presidents of women's organizations.

Keystone, Pan Hellenics

Plan Student Relief Drive

A motion to conduct a drive in support of the student relief movement was favorably passed at a joint conference of Keystone and Pan Hellenic association held yesterday afternoon. The drive probably will be held the week after spring vacation.

Arrangements were placed in charge of a committee with Helen Kasbeer '23, chairman, Marion Metcalf '24 and Cleo Parsley '23.

Miss Katy Boyd George, a member of the national Y. W. C. A. board for foreign students, and Mr. W. L. Dunn related their experiences in connection with student relief work abroad and showed the worthy cause involved.

SOPH WOMEN TO HOLD PEP MEETING THIS NOON

A pep meeting to get up the class spirit of all of the sophomore women is being held this noon at 12:45 o'clock in the S. G. A. room. The object is to work up the final plans for the inter-class tournament games which are to be played off in basketball, baseball, and bowling very soon.

Marion Telford '25 will lead cheers and class songs, and several new ones will be tried out. The heads of the different winter sports will each give a short talk on that sport.

The first basketball games will take place Friday evening.

Asher, Swiss Doctor, to Talk on Glands Tonight

Dr. Leon Asher, professor of physiology at the University of Barnes, Switzerland, will lecture tonight and tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in Science hall.

His lecture tonight is on "Glands and Intestinal Secretions," and Friday on "Authomones." The lectures are primarily for medical students, but are open to the public.

Dr. Asher is making a lecture tour of the colleges and universities of the United States.

NIGHT ASSISTANTS

Cardinal night assistants will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the editorial office.

NEED ALLIANCE OF AMERICANS

Dr. Goldsmith Sees Need For Legalizing in Treaty Monroe Doctrine

A new "peace alliance" between the United States and the nations of Central and South America by legalizing in treaty the Monroe Doctrine was declared to be one of the great needs of American foreign policy by Dr. Peter Goldsmith, Carnegie Institute, in an address last night at the Y. M. C. A. before the International Relations conference.

"The Monroe Doctrine has been accepted by European power for the past 80 years" Dr. Goldsmith stated. "For that reason I see no reason why the United States should not substitute the doctrine with an American doctrine adopted by and participated in by all American countries."

International Authority
Doctor Goldsmith is an international authority on inter-American policy. He is one of the leading directors of the Institute of International Education, under whose auspices the local conference opened last night.

"The United States has had one consistent factor in its foreign relations, and that is the absence of a definite foreign policy," Dr. Goldsmith asserted. "All our history shows this."

Five ways by which friendliness to the United States can be obtained were outlined by the expert as follows:

1. Knowledge of the various nations.
2. Correction of wrong impressions with the Monroe Doctrine by adopting an Inter-American doctrine.
3. A Pan-American railway to Columbia by the way of the Panama canal.
4. Rehabilitation of the Pan-American Union which is now "dead".
5. Cooperation by financial means.

Scores Present System
The present diplomatic system by political appointment was scored by Doctor Goldsmith as one of

REV. DOUGLAS TALKS TO CONGREGATIONALISTS

Congregational students who attended the annual spring banquet at the Congregational church parlor Tuesday night were impressed by the message which the Rev. Lloyd C. Douglas, D. D. of Akron, Ohio, delivered in his address, "Very Truly Yours."

The musical program consisted of piano solos by Robert C. Nethercut '24, and selections by a quartet, composed of Robert E. Hill '24, Gerald C. Wade '23, W. Norris Wentworth '24 and Carroll E. Robb '25. Prof. Edgar B. Gordon presided as toast master.

"Personality, the development of that self which is your own and which no other can ever be like, is the thing which the college student will need most when he goes out into the world," Dr. Douglas said.

PROF. KEMMERER TELLS OF LAKE STUDY RESULTS

Prof. George Kemmerer of the department of chemistry delivered an interesting lecture on "Scientific Study of the Lakes" in the auditorium of the Chemistry building, last night at 8 o'clock.

During the past 15 years, Professor Kemmerer has spent much of his time in the study of lakes, particularly those of Washington, Oregon, California and Idaho. He has, however, devoted three years to the study of conditions of the Wisconsin lakes.

"The scientific study of the soil has produced spectacular, practical results in increasing the yield and quality of our crops," Prof. Kemmerer said in beginning his address. "A similar study of the thousands of fresh water lakes, which are now mainly beauty spots and summer resorts, would make each lake produce its maximum yield of the best game and food fishes."

Until recently, we knew little about the chemical and physical changes which take place in the lake and still less about the effect of these changes on the animal and the evils obstructing better foreign relations.

The next address of the conference, consisting of 50 students elected by the Faculty Committee of Fifteen associated with the institute, will be given in two weeks.

OUTING CLUB TO ELECT OFFICERS AT MEETING

Elections for next year's officers will be made at the Outing club meeting this evening at 7 o'clock in the S. G. A. room.

Those nominated are: president, Margaret Hatfield '24, Anita Haven '24, Katherine Kennedy '24; vice president, Josephine Keech '24, Janet Walls '25, Frances Warren '24; secretary, Doris Burdick '25, Mabel Duvy '24, Hazel Weingandt '25; treasurer, Mary Devine '25, Harriet Greene '24, Margaret Hatfield '24.

The heads of the various sports were not nominated from the floor at the last meeting and will be put up tonight. The board has already made two nominations. They are as follows: head of fall and winter sports, Lois Barry '25, and Dorothy Dodge '24; for head of winter sports, Dorothy Whipple '24, Margaret Fauthur '24; for picnicing, Janet Walls '24 and Thelma Roach '24.

Due to other meetings it has been called for 7 o'clock instead of 7:15, the usual time.

$450 Raised For Chinese Student Scholarship Fund

Dorothea Wilgus '24, chairman of the S. G. A. scholarship drive for Chinese students, said today practically all returns had come in and amount to a total of $450. The aim was $500, but considering present conditions, the committee is well satisfied with results. All sorority houses, Barnard and Chadbourne, and all large rooming houses were canvassed.

plant life in it. About twenty years ago, Dr. E. A. Birge, now president of the University of Wisconsin, started such a study of Lake Mendota. Later the work was extended over 200 Wisconsin lakes.

The difficulty in sounding the lakes studied, and the results of the work, Prof. Kemmerer explained in detail.

"The lakes are one of our valuable natural resources," concluded the speaker. "It is as much a duty to properly plant them with fish best adapted to them as it is to plant and tend crops on a good farm."

LAKE ICE SAFE UNTIL SNOW BEGINS TO MELT

"The ice is still safe on Lake Mendota, and will be until the snow starts melting," stated Cap. Isabel yesterday. "At present it has a thickness of about thirteen or fourteen inches."

Cap. Isabel asserted that it is dangerous for autos to venture out on the lake because there are some places on the surface that are apt to be too soft to stand the weight of a car.

EXIT TOOTSIE DE SWEET GIVEN BY BLUE SHIELD

"Exit Tootsie-de Sweet", a humorous French play, was given by the Blue Shield Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Wesley Forum. Group one, captained by Harold Allison '23, and group two, captained by Grace Townsend '26, combined to present this farce. Special music and a reading completed the program. Supper was served at six.

Time to top off with a

VARSITY TRACK SQUAD SET FOR BIG TEN MEET

Dope Places Badgers Near Top

Wisconsin's Varsity track squad, which asserted itself in vigorous terms last Saturday by trimming the strong Notre Dame team 50-36, is tapering off its training in preparation for its fastest competitor of the indoor season—the Big 10 conference meet Saturday night in the Patten gym of Northwestern university at Evanston.

Since the showing of Coach Jones' runners and field men against the Catholics last week, Wisconsin track stock has been fluctuating toward a higher level than it has attained in some time. Strong in the middle distance and distance not to mention some of the other events, the Badger cinder pounders should place the Cardinal well to the fore Saturday night, even though they are not picked by the majority of sport men to take the meet.

Wolverines Powerful

Coach Farrell of Michigan has developed a squad for Michigan that thus far this season has not tasted defeat, while Harry Gill with a large amount of material from which to draw, may be depended upon to place a strong outfit on the track for the Illini. Iowa has a squad that is not to be underrated because of the individual work of several men such as Merrow and Brookins. A small clique of stars can bear the burden of an entire team in a dual meet by competing in two or three events to pile up points, but similar tactics in a large meet does not meet with corresponding success.

Wisconsin's strength may be said to be centered in the middle distance and distance runs. Such men as Lloyd Valley and Carl Rossmeissel are a dangerous brace of runners for the opposition in the half-mile, while Earl Schneider, who scored a victory over Notre Dame's premier miler, Kennedy, last Saturday, is expected to do strong work, although he has been troubled to some extent recently by a bad cold. Captain Ralph Spetz and Johnson will be two of the four wearers of the Cardinal in the 440-yard dash and would not greatly upset expectations by breaking into the money in this race.

Tsclay, with a long preparation lasting from the start of the cross country season this fall until the present, is in excellent shape to battle for honors in the two mile run.

To shift from the track to the field, Pete Platten and Donohue are a strong pair to represent the interests of Wisconsin in clearing the high jump bar. Pete holds the annex record here, while Donohue won a tie with him in Saturday's contest.

Annex Track Slow

A hasty observation in comparing times made by Badgers this season with those of other conference athletes might prove discouraging, if the fact that the Wisconsin annex track is one of the slowest in the conference is not taken into consideration. Notre Dame runners last week declared that the local track is the hardest one on which to attempt fast time as they had seen. A half mile in 2:03 in the annex track generally corresponds with a two flat half mile on the armory track at the University of Illinois.

The Platten gym track, upon which the conference meet is to be held, is also faster than the Wisconsin stamping ground, as its composition is a hard dry clay and its curves not as sharp.

The coaches are sending the quarter and half milers to Evanston tomorrow in time for competition in preliminaries tomorrow evening. Captain Ralph Spetz, Johnson, Irvin Wade, and Hill, quarter-milers, and Ramsey, Valley, Rossmeissel, and Hilberts, half-milers, form this vanguard of the Wisconsin squad proper which leaves for the scene of action Saturday morning.

Work this evening will be necessarily of a light nature for the entire squad, with competition only a day away for some of the men and two days off for the balance.

JACK RYAN WILL BE IN MADISON MONDAY

John J. "Jack" Ryan will be in Madison to officially take up his work as football coach and assistant athletic director on Monday, March 19, according to announcement made by Athletic Director T. E. Jones yesterday.

While the actual work of the new mentor will not begin until spring practice begins at Camp Randall, there will be many details which will demand attention before the spring recess.

Ryan will be an all-year coach and will spend all his time at Madison during the school year. It is not yet known whether or not he will remove his family to Madison.

RIFLE TEAM IS TO MEET IOWA

Wisconsin Expected to Win Corps Trophy Third Time

Members of the rifle team selected to shoot against the University of Iowa were announced at the meeting of the Rifle club last night. They are as follows:

W. A. Rorison '25, capt., L. O. Long '24, G. H. Ross, '26, C. C. Franseen '25, L. P. Drake '26, H. J. Sporer '25, C. J. Ludwig '26, E. P. Von Rohr '26, F. P. Price '24, and F. D. Fulton '26.

Iowa has won every match entered in this year and will give the Badger riflemen the stiffest competition engaged in so far this year.

Results of the Sixth Corps area match have not been received from Chicago headquarters yet, but expectations are that Wisconsin will win, as a record score of 2978 out of 3,000 was turned in. If the Badgers win this year, the silver trophy will become the property of Wisconsin for the third consecutive year.

BOXING CHAMPS MUST WORK TO DEFEND TITLES

Boxing champions of the university will not have to defend their titles in elimination bouts of the all-university tourney if they report to the boxing room at once and work out daily, Coach Edward H. Borgelt declared yesterday afternoon.

Finals in the all-university tourney are scheduled to be held on March 24. Those men who captured championships last year will be permitted to defend their titles in the final bout, without going through the elimination process, if they report to Coach Borgelt and train steadily. In case any of the champs do not work daily, the mitt mentor will select the two best men in the division and pit them against each other for the title.

Finals in the interclass boxing tournament will be held this afternoon. Men who have won from two to four bouts and who are slated to mix today for interclass championships are Chapman, Gillen, Gillen, Resnick, Halperin, Barber, Wenneiger, Madell.

TEN WOMEN RECEIVE SWIMMING HONORS

Ten women received the swimming honors Tuesday night in Lathrop pool, which give 50 points towards W. A. A.

The tests are based on endurance, knowledge of strokes and all-round ability in the water and were awarded to Beth Biglow '24, Rhoda Koch '25, Edith Jennings '26, Sidonie Many '26, Grace Goldsmith '24, Dorothy Sutter '24, Helen Robinson '25, Elizabeth Knott '24, Helen Mahoney '25 and Phyllis Tatman '23.

There will be a special tryout Monday evening, March 26, for those who were unable to tryout this time.

Freshman-Sophomore Girls Hold Gym Meet March 29

March 29 has been set as the day for the sophomore-freshmen girls' gym meet.

All physical education classes will attend this meet, which is to be held at 4:30 o'clock. Picked squads will exhibit their work, and there will also be marching floor work and squad work. This competition will culminate the winter gym work.

GYM TEAM HAS FINAL WORKOUT FOR LAST MEET

Badgers Have Clean Slate

Wisconsin's championship seeking gym team will take a final workout this afternoon before leaving for Columbus, O., to compete for Big Ten honors on Saturday. Eleven men will make the trip besides Coaches Leitz and Linden.

The Badger team has gone unscathed through the season and chances for a win at Columbus are bright despite the fact that conference teams have turned out some especially good teams this winter.

Two Teams Best

Both Minnesota and Chicago have taken the count at the hands of the Badgers in dual meets this year. These teams are considered among the likely winners of the conference and held Wisconsin to a small margin.

The breaks in luck will probably be deciding factors in winning for any team, so evenly are the squads matched.

"If the men are in as good condition Saturday as they are today, and if they get their share of the breaks, we should win," said Coach Leitz yesterday.

Wisconsin Team Balanced

The Wisconsin team is well balanced and scores points through consistent team work rather than high scoring by any individuals.

The complete Badger squad is composed of veteran gym men who have made names for themselves in conference circles before. Wisconsin took second place in the conference meet last year and has practically the same team again this season.

Hansen took second place in the side-horse event last year and has a chance to take first honors this year. He has won his event in all dual meets this winter and is going at top form.

Porth Likely Winner

Wisconsin has a veteran in Porth who is certain to chalk up points in at least two events. His ability in swinging the Indian clubs is feared throughout the conference and he is consistent on the rings and the parallel bar.

Captain Kitchen will bear the brunt of the tumbling but he will be ably assisted by Kubosch and either Bumer or Koch.

Wisconsin's greatest fear is that Minnesota or Chicago will get the breaks which they so sorely need when they meet the Badgers in dual meets and turn the tables. Carlson, of Minnesota is a man to

DELTA SIG WINS EASY GAME FROM CHI PSI

The Phi Gams and the Delta Sigma Phis won over their opponents in the water basketball games by smashing victories last night.

The Kappa Sig six took the court at the hands of the Phi Gams by a 12 to 0 score and the Delta Sigma Phi team took a 14 to 2 victory from the Chi Psis.

The game between the Tekes and the Dekes was postponed until a later date.

SORORITY PIN TEAMS IN TIE

Alpha Xi, A. O. Pi and Alpha Chi at Top; Theta and Kappa Delt Next

Inter-sorority bowling of last week leaves Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Omicron Pi and Alpha Xi Delta in the lead. These three sororities have each won 22 out of a possible 30 games while Kappa Delta and Kappa Alpha Theta follow closely behind with 21 games each.

The results of the games last Friday and Saturday are: Alpha Chi Omega 3, Delta Zeta 0.

Chi Omega 3, Pi Beta Phi 0.

Kappa Alpha Theta 1, Alpha Omicron Pi 2.

Alpha Delta Pi 3, Delta Delta Delta 0.

Kappa Delta 2, Alpha Gamma Delta 1.

The schedule for this week is as follows:

FRIDAY, MARCH 16

Alpha Chi Omega 1; Kappa Kappa Gamma 2.

Chi Omega Pi 3; Chi Omega 4.

14 BADGER FISH ARE ENTERED IN BIG 10 CLASSIC

Czerwonky May Break Record

Fourteen Badger swimmers left this morning for Chicago where they will participate in the conference swimming meet. The preliminaries will be run off today, and the meet will be wound up Friday and Saturday.

Minnesota, the present champs, stand a good chance of retaking the high honors again this year. Northwestern has an undefeated team and Wisconsin has several men who will knock off enough points to make the contest doubtful of outcome until the last event is over.

Chicago Team Strong
Chicago has a strong team, and is expected to take the water basketball championship. Indiana is also expecting to place high with their speed swimmers.

Hugo Czerwonky, who holds the conference record in his event, has been winning the 150-yard breast stroke race in the dual meets this season without even being pressed.

Under fire with the best swimmers in the Big Ten he will undoubtedly take the championship and likely establish a new record.

Robert Moroney and Norman Koch, the Cardinal diving experts, have been showing improvement all season and should rank high in the final scoring.

Bennett to Swim

Capt. Johnnie Bennett, after swimming in the relay, will compete with some of the fastest dash men in the midwest. Both Indiana and Northwestern have record-breaker speed swimmers. Captain Bennett set several records for the conference last year and has been one of Wisconsin's high scorers in the dual meets this winter.

The team as announced by Coach Joe Steinauer will be:

Relay — John Gilbreath, C. C. Ellicott, H. V. Porter, and Bennett.

40-yard swim — Gilbreath and Bennett.

Breast stroke — Czerwonky and Pope.

220-yard swim — H. P. Taylor and Byron Story.

Plunge — Howard Dummer and Irving Salzstein.

Back stroke — Ellicott.

100-yard swim — Bennett and Lyons.

440-yard swim — Gilbreath and Porter.

H. L. Kropp will also make the trip.

Vernon county is represented at the university this year by 40 students, including 12 women and 28 men.

WISCONSIN'S FUTURE

The University of Iowa has doubled its enrollment in the last five years. The University of Wisconsin hasn't. Illinois, which but a decade ago was only a small prairie institution, now has in attendance 9,000 students. Wisconsin hasn't. Michigan, with an enrollment of 11,000, has taken leaps and bounds toward fame and fortune. Wisconsin hasn't.

Whatever may be the original attractions which brought the thousands to the doors of Wisconsin's contemporaries,—sports, faculty, surroundings, reputation, economy,—it remains that after those thousands got there, the university had some place to put them. Wisconsin hasn't.

Therefore, Wisconsin doesn't advertise. Therefore, Wisconsin doesn't progress.

Yesterday a bill was presented before the Wisconsin legislature asking a building program budget of $1,650,500. Illinois at the same time is asking for $2,500,000 and probably will get it.

In the passage of the bill now before the legislature and in the passage of future similar measures which allow for a physical university lies the future of Wisconsin, both institution and state.

BEAUTIFUL, BUT DAMNED
It snowed. And everybody looked out their windows and said, "How pretty!" And everybody walked outside and said, "Oh lordy!" Three-foot drifts,—no street cars,—snow melting inside of oxfords,—late to classes. Beautiful snow, but universally damned. Poor snow! Our material senses do get the better of our aesthetic ones.

Soon the snow will have no more beauty and in the mud, slush, and running water all will be damnation. Anticipating that hestie siege of clime, we plea for the mustering of all available shovel-wielders to stand in readiness to direct the swamp into the gutters and away from the walks.

THOSE INSPECTORS

Somebody made an inspection of fraternity and sorority houses last January, put some personal impressions together on paper, bound the sheets together, and sent copies around to all campus houses to be laughed at and to draw caustic comment together with a little of the "Ain't we got fun" spirit.

The inspection came about as the result of a Board of Regent ruling. It was evidently deemed wise. Inspections usually are helpful.

But, in any case, if the inspection had to be made, it could have served the purpose an inspection is supposed to serve by being an intelligent one.

The recent examination was conducted with particular reference to the sanitation, comfort, conditions, and state of repair of the house. But, with that in view, it certainly is not very illuminating to know that so-and-so has a "fine house," that the boys at another house hollered "Come in" when the inspector rang the bell, and that the occupants of another house were still in bed at 11 o'clock.

Again it is urged that the houses were examined on one occasion only, which occasion may have been very flattering or very disparaging to the house concerned for the moment.

Inspections can accomplish an infinite lot toward bettering rooming conditions when they are intelligently made and the results reported to the parties concerned. But never will they accomplish that betterment when family skeletons are dragged out to public view and the reports become the laughing-stock of the inspected.

TYPEWRITERS IN THE LIBE

In this day when the most acceptable written word is invariably the typewritten word, when a large percentage of the student body is adept in managing typewriters and when the same students have access to portable machines it very plainly is a great waste of time to go through the double process of taking notes in the library and then translating those notes by typewriter later. The process should be a single one.

A typewriter room in the library would be of immeasurable use to topic, thesis, theme, and paper writers who own portable machines. There are many secluded places in the library where the clicking of the machines would disturb no one.

Later, when funds are available, stationary typewriters could be placed in the typewriter room for the use of everyone. No effort should be spared to provide library facilities allowing for the ever-increasing student use of the typewriter.

Editors Say—

PERSONALITY PLUS

(Philadelphia Public Ledger)
Oscar Hammerstein's son explains that Mary Garden was paid $2500 a night in opera because she had personality, whereas Lina Cavalieri received but $300 because she was only a lovely picture devoid in magnetism for an audience. "Mary Garden has about the worst voice now on the stage," declares this candid censor, "but she has personality."

What is that magic quality? At Oxford University hangs the portrait of Dr. Fell, whose claim to immortality is in the couplet:

I do not like you, Dr. Fell;
The reason why I cannot tell.

Quite as mysterious as the cause of any mortal antipathy or pet aversion is the reason for liking and loving other people. The central thesis of Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows" is that if you have charm, you don't need anything else—and without charm it's no use trying. But is anything more odious than the person who thinks himself a winner or the "poseur" who obviously invites admiration?

In public life, on the stage, in the pulpit, in every sort of business that can be named, personality counts, and counts tremendously for, or against, success. Roosevelt made big mistakes, incurred bitter enmities, rode roughshod over prejudices, went from hot water to the hornet's nest and back with a whole-souled, splendid intemperance and insatiable zest—and men and women and children loved him, and trailed after him, and listened to him, and yelled for him, because he was a person and not a "stick with a collar on him."

Musicians and actors and preachers who command success are red-blooded and assertive—they do not blend indistinguishably with a twilight background—they come out into the open, declare a view and take a stand. They may be all wrong, but they are forgiven because they are passionately in earnest.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES OF OUR UNIVERSITY

No. 4. The 'Ag' School
After many months of careful thought, we have come to the conclusion that the boys in the Cow college are good for just one thing and that is to furnish ham vaudeville actors with material for wise cracks. The Ag. school is about as hard to go thru as a five dollar bill and at the end of four years, pre-shrunk diplomas are given to every rustic who can spell agriculture and milk a cow at the same time.

The Ags are inclined to be a bit backward socially, but they are gradually getting away from peg-top trousers and bull-dog shoes, and are beginning to sport sta-comb dome shines and many buttoned sack jobs in haberdashery. However, the more we see, hear, and smell of the boys beyond the hill, the more we are inclined to say to ourselves—You can take a Hick out of the country, but you can't take a Hick out of a Hick.

OPPOSING EVOLUTION

Editor, The Cardinal:

In your issue of Friday I find the statement, made by one of your interviewers, that "with almost complete unanimity the university pastors favor the evolution theory of the ascent of man." Your interviewer missed me, who am also a university pastor. Will you kindly permit me to show my colors?

I am frankly and wholly on the side of what I conceive to be the under dog in this discussion—the Bible. I cannot reconcile the evolutionary theory of man's origin with the teaching of the Bible. Therefore I am forced to a choice, and I unhesitatingly choose the Bible, which I know to be God's word, and reject the theory.

A word to those who will sadly shake the head in a superior scientific way when they read this. Isn't this matter clearly a question of faith with you no less than with me? Surely a university student's intelligence informs him that when he accepts the evolutionary theory, he accepts it on faith. Or is he possessed of the ability and the time to examine the supposed evidence in the various fields, to test its bearings, and to weigh the decisions made?

That he has looked at some sets of plaster casts, inspected the family tree of the horse (funny, isn't it, that it's always and only the horse?) and read a book or two on evolution, or that, at best, he has started to familiarize himself with one or two scientific fields, surely does not alter the fact that he is accepting evolution on faith. So I accept the Bible on faith, and the longer I live, the better am I satisfied ywith my faith. That I cannot accept the theories of scientists in this respect, does not in the least hinder me from receiving the facts and applauding the achievements of science.

A Parthian shaft or two: Have you read the article by W. H. Ballou in the North American Review (April, 1922)? He says, among other things (p. 545), "I think every paleontologist of the world now admits that not a single 'missing link' has been discovered below man, and that we know even less concerning the origin of man than we thought we did formerly."

And wasn't it interesting that Sir William Bateson, formerly president of the British Academy of Science in Australia, declared before the American Association of Science last year that there is no scientific proof for the origin of species by evolution, Darwinism or otherwise? (Science, 1922, pp. 55-61). You see, we disbelievers in evolution receive some aid and comfort even from the ranks of scientists.

SNOW AND LIBRARY BOOKS

Editor, The Cardinal:

Some folks say that students are irresponsible. And, b'gosh, at times they are. And, b'gosh, at times they are not.

On Saturday night some 225 books were drawn out between 8 and 9 o'clock. This is about 30 percent more than usual on Saturday nights.

On Monday morning only ten of those books due before 8:15 were late—no more than usual on a Monday morning. And, b'gosh, just remember what Monday morning was!

Tickets on Sale at Y. W. C. A. Office, 300 Already Sold

"The Feast of the Holy Innocents", "The Voices," and "The Florist Shop," will be presented at 8 o'clock Thursday night in Lathrop hall by the Madison branch of the American Association of University Women under the direction of Mrs. Flora Filtzer Hertzler, Mrs. J. V. Fuller, and Miss Margaret McCarthy, of the speech department.

The first number is a comedy revolving about adventures of two maiden ladies, who tired of their humdrum small Wisconsin town life, seek diversion in the metropolis of Milwaukee on the pretext of paying a visit to the bishop. The cast includes Mrs. Carl Stephenson, Mrs. Pitman Potter, Mrs. J. H. Walton, Mrs. Clara B. Flett, and Mrs. N. L. Hill.

"The Voices" is an impressionistic sketch of the war, revised by Mrs. Fuller. Mrs. Hertzler and Miss McCarthy take the roles.

The interest in "The Florist Shop" centers around a little Jewish clerk who concerns herself with affairs of her customers. Those taking part are the Mesdames Fuller and J. W. Walker and Alfred Ludden, grad, Merle V. Raines, grad, and Carroll Roach '25.

Mrs. Ray Owen, in charge of advance ticket sale, reports 300 tickets already have been disposed of. They may be obtained at the Y. W. C. A. office, for 50 cents and at the door Thursday night.

A new process of treating zinc ores, to increase the Wisconsin output, is being developed by the university.

MINIATURE PAINTINGS ARE DISPLAYED HERE

In bringing the exhibition of the group of miniatures by the American Society of Miniature Painters to Madison, the Madison Art association is enabling the public to become acquainted with an art equal in importance to the recent exhibition of War Portraits. These little pictures painted with pure water colors on pure ivory are on display this month at the Madison Free library on Carroll street.

Previous to 1840 the art of the miniature held an important place in the art world of America and England, but their place was usurped by the development of photography, and it was not until 1890 that what might be called a

Wisconsin as second speaker on the negative team which invades Ann Arbor Friday evening. Seering debated against Washington university last year, and was closer on the Philomathian joint debate team this year. He is a member of Delta Sigma Rho honorary debating fraternity.

Renaissance in the miniature painting became evident.

Of particular interest to Madison people are the three studies in the collection by Lucia Fairchild Fuller, a resident of Madison and one of the founders of the American Society of Miniature Painters. The sure, yet delicate treatment of line and the subtlety of color rank Mrs. Fuller's works with the finest in the collection.

This modern collection is interesting to note in that the subjects are no longer limited to the head and shoulders but include fanciful figure pieces, landscapes, nudes and still-lives.

The collection will remain in the Free Public library through the month of March.

LIT SOCIETIES PLAN POINTS

Forensic Board Completes System For General Competition

The Forensic board, after several months of planning, has succeeded in devising a plan by which all six of the literary societies will be awarded points in a general competition for honors in the various forensic activities.

The first plan worked out had specified separate trophies for the women's societies and for the Agricultural-Hill society joint debate. This preliminary plan was rescinded at the last meeting and the recently suggested one substituted.

Points on All Events

Under this new system, for each intercollegiate debate placed, the society receives 10 points, the winner of the Men's Joint debate 35 points, winner of the Women's society Joint Debate 35, and the winner of the Agricultural-Hill society 35 points, thus placing all the joint debates at an equal rating.

This is a decidedly new departure from the forensic tradition, as the Men's Joint debate has been generally recognized as the classic forensic event of the field. The N. O. L. representative from Wisconsin merits 10 points and for a first place in the final league contest 10 points additional, with 5 points if a second place is secured. For each sophomore semi-public debate won by a society, 10 points is received. Five points for first, 3 for second, and 1 for third place are awarded for the frosh declamatory contest. A new feature, points to be awarded for a percentage of attendance, has been established, under which 85 per cent attendance merits 10 points, from which a scale grades down to a minimum attendance of 50 per cent.

Plan To Equalize Societies

Some opposition to the inclusion of the Sophomore debates from the women's representatives and the Ags was finally settled by the tacit agreement from these representatives to evolve some forensic events among their respective groups which could be compared to the Soph debates. These new events would equalize the point system considerably, as, at present the women and the ags are under a slight disadvantage in the final point award. The Agric representative has already worked out a plan under which the Agric Literary society would compete each year with 2 other West Campus organizations.

The point plan is chiefly designed to encourage rivalry among the various literary organizations thus increase interest in forensic events in general.

While the weather man predicted direfully that another blizzard was headed for Madison, we took a two hours' trip to Merrie England last night.

King Henry, in the person of Lyn Harding, became a jolly, phlegmatic "jelly roll" that we loved. He was cajoled, humored, stormed and domineered by a real Princess Mary, the charming Marion Davies.

The entire picture was excellent. Advance reports were not exaggerated. While the gowns, we believe, received principal mention, more emphasis could well be placed on the humor, delightful love romance, striking night photography and intriguing characterization of the actors.

The humor was of the Yankee variety. Could English historians enact the scenes, what a MacBeth would probably result.

Instead it was thoroughly American, in our opinion. "A Yankee in King Arthur's Court", that riot of fun, was built up on the same sparkling comedy.

Marion Davies gave Princess Mary an a-la-Talmadge role of merit, depicting with sincerity that personage in history.

* * *

Mention must be made even in a tabloid review of King Louis XIV, Brandon, Duke of Buckingham and other characters.

The night photography was outstanding. The mob scenes, like the Griffith spectacles, were dynamic in reality. And so on. It was well worth while, anyway.

Thank you!

GLADYS DELMAR AND BOYS PLAY AT ORPH

A syncopated sextette under the captain of Gladys Delmar and Boys will hold the headline position on the Orpheum bill for the week-end. They will demonstrate their eloquence in the terms of supper jazz with modern improvements. Gladys Delmar excels in dancing, and is said to be one of the most efficient and finished in the world of the theater. A snappy New York jazz band acts as a back ground for her dancing.

The surprising and fascinating "Tango Shoes" is another feature of the new bill. This is a hilariously funny offering, which has scored everywhere it has appeared.

Back stage life, or what would happen if the property man forgot his part will be revealed by George and Paul Hickman, past masters of blackface comedy.

Jerome and France will introduce piano and cello solos and duets, constituting a real musical art. They claim to be the youngest Grand Opera singers now under the vaudeville auspices.

Bringing her company to this city after successful tours of the east, Octavia Handworth will be seen in "Twice a Week", a comedy by John B. Hymer. This is Miss Handworth's first speaking vehicle since spending a number of seasons in the films. The scene is laid at a cemetery gate at 5 o'clock one summer evening.

The dancing DeMarcos and their "Seven Musical Sheiks" are scheduled for an early return to the local vaudeville theater.

Bowers is Great
Handicap to New Strand Offering

By R. B. S.

"What a Wife Learned" is being offered by the Strand for the sole of the great American public, which is hungering for the thrill of entertainment. If we have guessed right, the public will surely go hungry for some time to come if that is all it has to depend upon.

It's all in Texas and the director had ordered a lot of he-man stuff but unfortunately the official "caste picker," or what ever they call him, landed on John Bowers to fill the bill in the part of Jim Russell, a Texas "cow-laddy." Now, Mr. Bowers, when he is acting his very most he-manishest, does little more than jump up and down, stamp his feet, severely crook his eye-brow, grit his teeth and pout. He didn't scare us even once.

Margaret de La Motte was given the role of his wife who later "learned" and had the play been entirely changed, written by another author, her handicap Mr. Bowers placed as far away as possible, and someone selected to gather up for her an even passable wardrobe, she might have been a great success for even under all these difficulties she managed to get an occasional shred of good spontaneous acting across.

The plot which deserves very few words had to do with such new and interesting things as careers, big and wicked cities, little lame girls and dams breaking through to bring about a reconciliation and a happy ending. Society as usual is portrayed as continually hopping about clapping their hands, jumping in and out of motors and on and off of prancing steeds.

The director must have worked hard for every action made on the screen was stamped with his vigorous and fresh-air influence. We are certain that after the final impassioned love scene Miss de la Motte must have been black and blue and nearly bald-headed.

It was pitiful.

ROBERTSON TO TELL

OF INSURANCE FIELD

"To let students know that there is such a field as insurance and that it is a desirable and remunerative business," is the aim of the economics department in bringing A. R. Robertson, field supervisor of the Aetna Insurance company, to the university March 26 to 29, according to Prof. C. L. Jamison.

The Aetna Causality and Security Insurance company is the largest insurance company in the world and offers, Professor Jamison believes, one of the most attractive fields of opportunity to college men and women.

Not only are the students of the economics department and those from the commerce school urged by Professor Jamison to hear Mr. Robertson but also those of the other schools and colleges are invited to attend the lectures which will be announced later. He will endeavor to show the students the "Advantages of Insurance as a Vocation."

FROSH ANSWER ON VOCATIONS

Questionnaire For First Year Women Show Variety of Future Work

That comparatively few women have definitely decided on their future vocations when they enter the university as freshmen is clearly brought out in the answers just compiled from the vocational questionnaire given to the freshmen women at a special meeting held some time ago by Dean F. Louise Nardin.

In view of this apparent indecision the Vocational conference to be held here this week-end for all university women under the direction of Lois Jacobs '24, general chairman, should be of especial importance. Miss Helen M. Bennett, of Chicago, will give the main address and will also have personal conferences with those who sign up on the bulletin board in Lathrop.

Have Not Decided

That freshmen women should have subjects which could easily permit them to change from one course to another is also clear from the answers which show that of the 283 there, 162 had not yet decided on their course.

Of the 282 freshmen at the meeting, 209 are working for a B. A. degree, 51 for a B. S. degree, 14 for a B. M. while 9 are not working for any degree at all.

"The small percentage at the meeting of those not working for any degree at all corresponds to our general idea that the women who are not out for a definite scholastic end are the ones who do not take an intelligent interest in the school meetings and their future vocations," said Dean Nardin in speaking of the answers.

Only 40 expressed dissatisfaction with their present course in contrast to the 242 who like their work now.

Many to be Journalists

Journalism took the lead in future vocations among the answers with a count of 27. Teaching came next with 26, and music followed with 23. After those commercial art, business, dietetics, physical education, social service work, tea shops, marriage, and library work came in the order listed. Nursing, dramatics, and law each claimed two, while microscopic work footed the entire list with a single aspirant.

Self-support after graduation received even responses, 141 yes, 131 no, and 10 uncertain. The amount of capital which they would have to start out in their respective businesses was exactly even with 141 expecting no financial help and 141 looking forward to a limited amount at least.

This year's freshmen women show an amazing aptitude to the professional life, as 90 expect to go into full time outside occupation, while only 68 look forward to merely home work alone.

MISS GEORGE TO LEAD DISCUSSION TONIGHT

Miss Katy Boyd George, national secretary of the friendly relations C. A. will lead in an informal discussion and give a talk tonight at 7:20 in Lathrop parlors on "What Constitutes a Christian."

During this discussion she will answer any questions which are asked her by any one there. Miss George has been giving talks and leading discussions at all of the various meetings of the Y. W. C. A. groups during the week and is very well known to a great number of women here.

This discussion is open to all women. Miss George is in the Y. W. C. A. office most of the time and will be very glad to talk over things with any one who comes in.

London Quartet Concert is Real Musical Dessert

By L. S.

Fanciful, artistic interpretation of the best music of renowned composers was given by the London string quartet in concert at Christ Presbyterian church last night.

The four Englishmen who comprise the quartet won the hearts of their enthusiastic audience through their superb presentation of Beethoven's beautiful "Quartet in A Ma-

Connell and company; fourth, box of candy, Palace of Sweets.

Cash donations were received as follows: Lawrence's Restaurant, $5.00; Buser Grocery company, $5.00; Chocolate Shop, $3.00; Hook brothers, $2.00; Campus Restaurant $2.00; Wittwer, Gents Furnishings, $2.00; Blind and Sanders, $1.00.

ior," at the beginning of the program, and the succeeding numbers but fastened more securely their hold.

"The Pixy Ring," a fantastic, imaginative, composition by H. Waldo Warner player of viola with the quartet, drew from the audience enthusiastic and prolonged applause. The music of this number is unusual, grotesque, even weird, in places, and is a combination of strange harmonies and striking melodies throughout.

Dvorak's "Quartet in F" closed the program, with an encore in answer to clamorous demand.

While they played, one forgot everything except the four musicians, and between their playing there was nothing but applause.

The first correspondence course in paper making is being given this year by the Wisconsin Extension division and the Forest Product laboratory.

Fabric Fashion Show

Are You, Too, Blowing Bubbles?

Dreaming dreams of the new spring frocks that you'd like to have to wear about the campus this spring? Simple, but different frocks—and a number of them? A new jacquette blouse, perhaps, and a silk three-piece suit? You can have them all—you can make them yourself week-ends, Easter vacation, after school. And this is how:

The Fabric Fashion Show, being given at Manchester's the entire week, is giving what is really a short course in making new spring clothes with patterns.

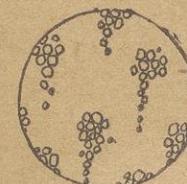

Expert demonstrators show you each step in making a dress from laying the pattern on the goods to completion.

Twice daily, our designer is draping fabrics on a model to show the effect of a finished garment. He makes a specialty of formal gowns.

Large hand-painted color plates of dresses made with McCall and Home Journal Patterns are shown by young women wearing dresses made with patterns and with material on sale in our store.

Thousands of yards of the newest Spring fabrics are on display this week.
