STUDENT SENATE SHOWS NEED FOR SEVERAL CHANGES

Advocates Revision of Bag
Rush, Revival of Traditions, at First Meeting

At the first meeting of the Student senate held yesterday afternoon at the University club, Friedrich Koehler advocated a revision of the freshman-sophomore bag rush, a revival of university traditions, strict enforcement of the wearing of green caps by freshmen, the recognition of the activities of the Forensic board or its complete abolishment, the revision of the senate constitution, and constructive legislation, work, interest, and cooperation on the part of the members of the body to restore it to a position of power on the campus.

Greiser '28 President

The new members of the Student Senate elected Paul Greiser '28, president; and Walter Brummond '28, secretary for the coming year.

Koehler pointed out that the bag rush, in its present form, is proving objectionable and that the student body as a whole demands some change. The members voted to give the Athletic board power to change the present conflict and Richard Clement '28, and Friedrich Koehler '28, were appointed to work with that body as representatives of the Student Senate.

Traditions Have Faded

In his appeal for the revision of Wisconsin traditions, Koehler said, "They have faded almost entirely out of the scene, and Wisconsin spirit in general seems to be on the downward trend; therefore we must obtain the cooperation of all sororities, fraternities, dormitories and unorganized persons in enforcing the old traditions, including the strict wearing by freshmen of the green cap. A united cooperation

66 LEGISLATORS PETITION FULLER

Wisconsin Solons Ask Investigation of Sacco-Vanzetti Trial

Sixty-six members of the Wisconsin legislature and the presiding officers of both houses followed the example set by the mass meeting Tuesday evening, and yesterday signed a petition asking Gov. Alvin Fuller of Massachusetts to order an impartial investigation of the trial of Nicola Sacco and Bartolommeo Vanzetti.

Many signatures have been received on the petitions which were circulated at the gymnasium.

The petition reads:

"The undersigned, being convinced that Sacco and Vanzetti could not be found guilty by a jury having before it the evidence now available, and a new trial being legally impossible, request Governor Fuller to appoint a committee of unprejudiced persons to investigate the conduct of the trial and recommend to the Governor what action he should take to right any injustice done to Sacco and Vanzetti and to restore the confidence of the public in the administration of justice."

This petition will reach the Massachusetts governor almost at the same time as the personal petition of the two condemned men which has been prepared in their prison cells at Dedham, Massachusetts. In their document, the two men appeal for "justice" and do not ask to be pardoned. They maintain that they have committed no crime.

Day By Day With The News

By W. C. P.

More reports of the ravaging work of the Mississippi flood waters and requests for increased contributions for the aid of refugees continued to be sent from New Orleans yesterday, as the bulging waters were cutting a new gap in the levees and threatening a weak spot at St. Joseph, La.

Almost every parish in northeastern Louisiana has now felt the effects of the flood waters as they move toward the Gulf of Mexico. Seven million acres of land has already been submerged and more than 200,000 people are now homeless.

Yesterday the Tellulah valley of Louisiana was abandoned, and its entire population fled to Vicksburg, Miss. Residents of St. Joseph and Waterproof, La., spent a sleepless night in fear that the Villa Clara levee would give way. New Orleans, however, is well fortified by an artificial crevasse, and little fear is held for the city.

Will Coolidge Run For Third Term?

The vexing problem as to whether President Coolidge will or will not run for a third term, which to many seems deadly serious, is taken as very amusing by a critic of the administration in a report yesterday. The question of "What will the president do?" is answered by the supporters of a third term with the statement that he can receive the nomination on "a platter" and need not campaign for it now. They point also to the number of callers who, after visiting the White House, say emphatically that Mr. Coolidge will be a candidate. On the other hand, the negatives point out that Mr. Coolidge reveres the presidential tradition of two terms and would be the last man on earth who would wish to break it. He also is said to desire only endorsement of his policies and party loyalty. All in all, says our critic, the situation is most amusing.

United States Prosperity.

David F. Houston, former secretary of agriculture, in a report sent from Geneva, Switzerland, to the international economic conference Tuesday says that the great prosperity of the United States in the last four years and the continued improvement in Europe has brought about greater "rationalization in industry." By rationalization, Houston means the three elements of stabilization, standardization, and simplification of industry, and he cites the prosperity of the United States as an example of how these three factors have been made possible.

Pan-American Equality.

That all nations in the Pan-American Union stand on an equal basis with the United States was the statement made by President Coolidge before the Pan-American commercial conference.

Zopelka Says Uniforms Fit This Year as R.O.T.C. Does Weekly Dozen

BY ZOPELKA

"There! the second one from the left! that's the one with the uniform that fits."

This remark, 'tis the din of band music and the marching of student feet, caused us to cease our pedestrian efforts yesterday afternoon and cast dubious eyes on the Reserve Officers Training Corps (R. O. T. C.) doing its weekly dozen on the lower campus.

But the uniforms did fit and the boys did know how to march, we soon discovered. Also, believe it or not, we saw a number of sprightly-looking young men ride horses around in a capable manner. Hitherto we were convinced only co-eds in wide-hipped riding-trousers could control equines in this part of the country.

Anyway, the boys are improving. When we saw the first review some weeks ago, we left in a somewhat

SEVEN ARGENTINES RECALLED AS GOV'T PASSES NEW LAW

South America or Get Dispensations

By GENARO A. FLOREZ

The Argentine students attending the university are in imminent danger of being recalled to their native land and given the alternative of either spending six months in jail or of re-enlisting in the compulsory military service for one year.

Emilio Le Fort, instructor in the Spanish department, is one of the men who received the pleasant surprise this week. The other men who were advised of their positions are Mauricio Pages '29; Camilo Pages, graduate, Ataliva Cuneo '28; Norberto Cuneo '28; Americo Dominguez, and Carlos Vollenweider, graduate.

Must See Consul

Rumors to the effect that the seven men were planning a weekend trip to Chicago had reached the Daily Cardinal, but whenever one of them was approached he would answer: "We are going to see the Olympic championship soccer team of Uruguay play in Chicago," and smile a brief goodby.

Things were not so pleasant, however, for as soon as the inquirer was out of sight, the South American would resume an attitude of pained dejection, and wonder if Consul R. Ojeda would be able to arrange the matter satisfactorily.

Norberto Cuneo, acting as spokesman for the Argentine group, explained the situation to the Daily Cardinal last night. Although the situation is serious, Cuneo's amazing wit has not left him, and he began to explain the problem with a rapid fire explosion of Spanish.

New Law Passed

"It seems as though instead of being greeted by the municipal band and leading officials of Buenos Aires, we will be welcome by the 'Fuddy Wagon,' and the city warden," began Cuneo. "All the Argentines have been notified that a new national law has been passed which provides for a change in their citizen

Union Board Elects Clyde Kluckhohn President

Dawson, Fairbank, and Fronk Are Chosen at Banquet as Other Officers of Campus Body

Officers for Union board next year were elected last night at the banquet at the Latch-Gate Inn. They are Clyde Kluckhohn '28, president; Gordon Dawson '28, vice president; John Fairbank '29, secretary; Ed Fronk '29, treasurer.

Kluckhohn, the new president, made remarks concerning the board's work next year at the inaugural dinner. Lowell Frautschi '27, gave a report of this year's work. Prof. H. C. Bradley, chairman of the faculty Memorial Union committee, spoke on the board's relation to the Memorial Union and the board's function in the administration of the building when it is completed.

The retiring officers are Lowell Frautschi '27, president; Jefferson D. Burris, Jr. '27, vice president; Clyde Kluckhohn '28, secretary; Gordon Dawson '28, treasurer. Members of the board retiring this year are Harold Konnak '27, Charles Nelson '27, Jefferson D. Burris '27, Lowell Frautschi '27, and Vernon Carrier '27.

Kluckhohn was president of his freshman class two years ago. He collected an amount larger than any other worker in the Memorial Union drive last fall, and was given the first shovelful of dirt turned up by President Frank in the ceremonies a year ago last fall. He was elected to the board in the spring elections last year, and has served as secretary up to the present time. He managed the Union board concert series this year.

Gordon Dawson, the new vice-president, was treasurer this last year and had charge of Union board dances.

The new secretary, Fairbanks, was elected to the board in the fall elections, and has helped with the concert series since that time. Fronk was elected in the recent spring elections.

"The purpose of the tea is to give Mrs. Meiklejohn an opportunity to meet others of the committee," said Miss Davis.

Dean Roe Elected President of Local Phi Beta Kappa

Frederick W. Roe, junior dean of the College of Letters and Science, was elected president of the Wisconsin chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at the recent meeting of the honorary fraternity.

Others elected to offices were:

Grant Showerman, professor of classics, vice-president; Pitman B. Potter, professor of political science, secretary; and Robert R. Aurner, professor of business administration, treasurer.

The annual banquet of Phi Beta Kappa will be held on Tuesday, May 10, at the University club. Prof. Charles E. Mendenhall, of the physics department, is in charge of the arrangements for the banquet.

STONING AT UNION SITE INJURES ONE TAXICAB DRIVER

Legislative Committee Meeting Postpones Procedure; Questions Undecided

George Fangmeier, a driver for the Yellow Cab company, sustained cuts on his hands and face at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning when the pickets at the Memorial Union building again resorted to violence and stoned the three taxicabs which brought the strike-breakers to work.

Fangmeier was not seriously hurt and was released from the hospital after his wounds had been dressed. The other two cabs were also stoned, but the drivers escaped injury.

The stoning occurred after the cabs had safely conveyed 14 non-union carpenters to the building site and had driven onto the Memorial Union lot by way of the drive behind the old Union building, which leads from Park street to the rear of the present construction.

Barricade Drive

Seeing that the imported workers were beyond their reach, the union pickets barricaded the drive to prevent the offending cabs from leaving. They were forced to remove the barricade upon the insistence of a truck driver, who had delivered materials to the building and wished to leave the grounds.

When the taxicabs endeavored to follow the truck, they were greeted with a sprinkling of stones hurled by union pickets standing in front of the engineering chemistry building. Stones thrown at the first two cabs failed to find any vulnerable spots, but at Fangmeier drove from the grounds, a stone crashed through his windshield and the glass at his back, showering him with razor-sharp bits of glass.

Cabs Still on Job

OFFERINGS SMALL FOR FLOOD RELIEF

Phlegmatic Response of Students to Cry of South Surprises Workers

Voluntary contributions for flood relief received yesterday at the W. S. G. A. and Union board offices from students were practically negligible according to the members of the volunteer committee.

The students in charge offered no explanation of the phlegmatic response, but will continue to keep the two offices open today and tomorrow in the hope that the student body will of its own accord answer the plea for help which emanates from the flood-swept districts of the South.

The leaders did not announce the exact figures of the day's receipts, but it was understood that they were exceptionally small.

The Union board office remained open all afternoon to receive contributions, and the W. S. G. A. headquarters were turned over to the committee from 10:30 to 2:30 o'clock. These same hours will be maintained today and tomorrow.

The plan was suggested Monday by a faculty member of the English department, and was heartily commended by President Glenn Frank. Nine students including the heads of Union board, W. S. G. A., the Badger, the Daily Cardinal and other organizations volunteered to serve on a committee which would receive voluntary gifts. They decided against any campaign.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY PRINTS OLD WORKS

Augsburg Pharmacopoeia by Unknown Author is Photographically Reproduced

An exact photographic copy of a book describing drugs and preparations used in medicine, compiled by an unknown author and published at Augsburg, Germany, in 1564, has just been contributed to pharmaceutical Americana by the Wisconsin Historical society as the first of a series in the Hollister Pharmaceutical library.

One of the two known copies of the original Augsburg Pharmacopoeia Augustana repose in the library of the University of Wuerzburg. Dr. Joseph Schneider, Milwaukee, a graduate of the University of Wuerzburg, was responsible for the photographic reproduction of the valuable old work, and for the securing of a set of the prints from which the State Historical society compiled the recent edition.

The Augsburg original edition was one of the earliest European pharmacopoeias and possibly exercised the greatest influence upon later compilations of pharmaceutical data and formulae. It, no doubt, influenced the compilers of the London Pharmacopoeia, editions of which later work in turn served as a guide to the early compilers of the United States Pharmacopoeia. The last-named work was adopted as standard for the country in the Food and Drugs Act on June 30,

Dr. Edward Kremers, director of the course in pharmacy here, edited the new volume and furnished, as introductory essays, translations of two German accounts of the Augsburg Pharmacopoeia. These accounts constitute a series of articles in the Pharmazeutische Zeitung in 1892 entitled "Die aelterten Auflagen der Augsburger Pharmacopoeia" and written by Prof. Theodor Husemann of Goettingen, and an article, "Raymund Minderer, die Augsburger Pharmacopoeia von 1613-1629," published in 1899.

The fascimile of the original work contains 261 pages of directions, formulae, preparations, and descriptions, and 11 pages of index. Six pages in script, apparently notations and addenda, follow the index. The reproduction of these pages is particularly clear. The photographing was done by John Lochmuller, Weuerburg.

The unionists again met a group of non-union men as they came to work yesterday morning and tried to persuade them to leave the job, but they were unsuccessful. No

The legislature's committee appointed to consider the problem postponed its meeting yesterday afternoon and announced that if District Attorney Glenn D. Roberts takes action against J. Pfeffer, the contractor, as he has been requested, it will indefinitely delay its proceedings.

R. A. Heilman, counsel for Mr. Pfeffer, after a conference with the district attorney yesterday said he did not expect a warrant to be sworn out for Mr. Pfeffer immediately as the evidence on which the union requested Mr. Pfeffer's arrest has not been augmented and the district attorney has not fully considered the material at hand.

Novelties

Quaint and useful are entirely new brooches which take for their motif an old French print, done in colors and set in a circlet of rhinestones. Beautiful for more formal wear are crystal pendants which boast insets of finely cut crystal in the chain. Pins $3.75. Pendants $5.

Italian Ware

Some attractive new Italian ware has just arrived in the form of beautiful tall vases in tan with hand painted flowers in soft, dull shades. Novel cream and sugar sets for the table also come in this beautiful pottery. Odd pieces as low as $2.

Stationery

No more useful gift can be found than beautiful stationery. Among the attractive novelties are Cordlinera, Modish Creations, and Tocadero. Some of these boxes of fine, grained paper have envelopes lined with hand blocked or futuristic designs on tissue. All stationery reduced 20 per cent this week.

Books

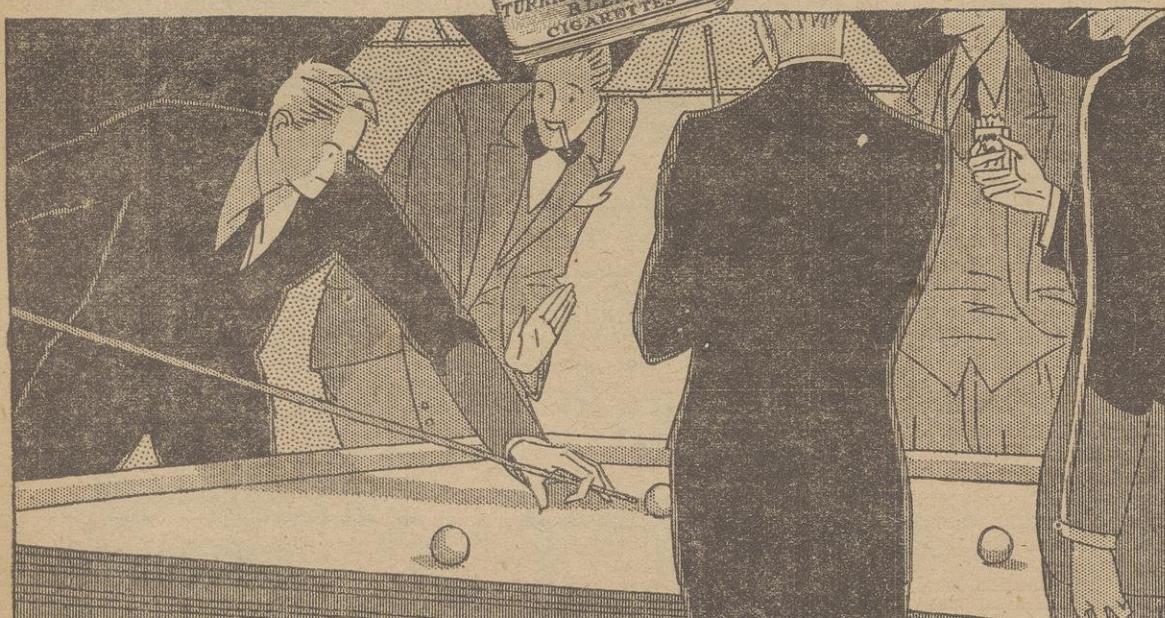

Though mother may be way ahead of you on her reading, choose something from our list of modern fiction library that you know she has not yet seen. Just as there is every type of mother, so is there a book here to satisfy her. Shall it be Minnigerode's "Cockades," which received such favorable reviews in the New York papers, or would she enjoy Arnold Bennett's "The Woman Who Stole Everything?"

Leather Boxes

There's a place in every home for one of these exquisite, imported leather boxes. Some for cigarettes and candy may be used by the entire family. A more personal gift for mother alone are the small trunk boxes with inner drawer, which hold gloves, hankies, and accessories.

Late Rally Helps Wisconsin to Beat Madison Blues, 4-3

TWO HOMERUNS FEATURE TIGHT DIAMOND BATTLE

Thelander, Jacobsen Pitch for Wisconsin; Larson Drives in Winning Runs

By WARREN C. PRICE

After being held to two hits for seven innings yesterday afternoon, the Badgers suddenly burst forth with all their batting power in the last half of the eighth, smacked the offerings of Rube Noble to all corners of Camp Randall and turned what seemed a 3 to 2 victory for the Madison Blues into a 4 to 3 triumph for Wisconsin.

For four successive innings, following a cyclonic home run by Eddie Donagan, the Madison pitcher had set Wisconsin down without a man getting near first base, and the onslaught in the eighth was so unexpected that the entire Blue team was taken completely off guard.

Jacobsen Starts It

With the score 3 to 2 against the Badgers, Jacobsen opened the rally with a long single to center. Johnny Decker sacrificed him to second with a neat grounder to first base. Donagan immediately sent Jacobsen to third with hit to right field and advanced to second himself on the return throw to the infield.

This put men on second and third with only one out, but Massey cast gloom over the cheering spectators by tapping weakly to second and forcing Jacobsen at home on a close play, Allen to Witte. "Squeaks" Larson, who had previously failed to get the ball out of the infield in three attempts, took advantage of his last opportunity to hit, however, and sent both Donagan and Massey home with a screeching double to left center, scoring the tying and winning runs. George Stoll ended the inning with a grounder to shortstop.

Thelander Starts

"Ted" Thelander started on the mound for Wisconsin, and with the aid of a walk and Eddie Donagan's long home run to left field in the second inning held a 2 to 0 lead until the fifth, when three hits, a base on balls, and some woozy head work by Mike Murphy helped to give the Blues two runs to tie the score. This caused Coach Lowman to withdraw Ted and substitute Jacobsen for the remainder of the game.

Both the Blues and the Badgers were retired in short order in the first and second, the only hits made being a double by Massey in the initial inning and a single by Utteritz in the second. In the third, Decker led off with a walk and Donagan followed with a four base smash which cleared the fence fair in the outskirts of left field. Massey, Larson, and Stoll went out, but with Thelander pitching sterling ball, the two run lead looked as if it might be enough to win.

Blues Rally

The fates were not kind to Ted though, and the Madison outburst came in the fifth. Edwards went out on a weak grounder, Thelander to Murphy. Meredith walked and famous Rube Noble sent a one base hit to right field, putting men on first and second.

Murphy's poor skull work came in at this point, for when Allen rolled merely to first, Mike, instead of throwing to second for a force play, attempted to touch Noble on the line but failed. All hands were safe as a result, the bases were loaded, and Allen was given credit for a hit.

Allison then sent a single to center, scoring Meredith and Noble and knotting the count at two all. Things might have gone worst for the Badgers then and there, but Allen attempted to go from first to third on the hit and a beautiful return throw, Larson to Donagan, nipped him just as he was sliding into the base. Lenahan then rolled out and Thelander escaped without further damage.

Meredith Hits Homer

Jacobsen went to the box for Wisconsin in the sixth and set the

All it takes is one more run. And still those Blues think they can play ball. Well, maybe they can.

That workout yesterday should put the Badgers on edge for their week-end jaunt to Chicago and suburbs starting tomorrow. Although the Maroons have not an overpowering strong team they can provide healthy opposition, while Northwestern, Wisconsin's Monday opponent, possesses the heaviest set of hitters in the conference.

Since the last time they appeared on the home diamond, the Badgers seem to have developed a batting eye or two. It all helps.

Even the great are not always well-known. Last Saturday, so we are told, George Little happened to be leaving Camp Randall abreast of one of the Oak Park High school youths who competed in the Midwest relays. "Nice work you Oak Parkers did today," said George, "What's your name?"

"Reynolds," replied the athlete, "What's yours?"

Must cut it off short today in order to leave room for the ads. Lucky again.

PLAN BALL LEAGUE OF UNORGANIZED MEN

Plans for the organization of an independent baseball league made up of unorganized men in the university were announced at the intramural office Wednesday.

It is the aim of the department to get as many independent teams as possible into the league, and in order to further this aim, baseball bats, and catcher's paraphernalia will be provided for the games. All the players themselves will have to furnish will be the gloves.

Teams which want to play in the league should elect a manager or a captain who should report the name of his team, his name and his telephone number to the intramural office, according to George Berg. He emphasized especially the fact that only non-fraternity men will be eligible to play in this league.

Blues down in order. In the seventh, though McEldith connected with one of his offerings for the second homer of the day and put the Blues in the lead 3 to 2. The homer was almost as long as Donagan's the ball landing beneath section "S" of Camp Randall stadium.

With Noble continuing to pitch in his own masterly way, the Badgers could do nothing, and for the fourth successive time went down "one-two-three" in their half of the seventh. The eighth told a different story, however, and the incidents previously related placed them in the lead.

Play Well in Field
The Blues threw a scare into the spectators in their half of the ninth. Edwards led off with a hefty sock to right center, which looked like another homer, but some more fast fielding by Johnny Doyle, Larson and Donagan caused him to be caught at third when he oversold the bag. This ended the activities for the day, for Meredith fanned and Noble sent a pop-up to Massey, and the Badgers left the field confident that they had regained the stride which seemed to have left them in the first two conference games.

The old work of the Wisconsin team was remarkable for its coordination. Larson, especially, with five putouts and two assists in center kept several Blue runs from the plate, while Donagan, Decker, and Massey starred with their work in the field.

GREEK NINES STRUGGLE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

One or Two Teams Ahead in Each Division; Race Half Over

With the fraternity baseball race half over, several teams are asserting their leadership in the eight divisions. Phi Delta Phi, champions for the past two years, and Delta Sigma Tau remain undefeated in the first division with three and four victories respectively. One of these teams, however, will go down to defeat today when they meet on diamond A at Intramural field.

In Division 2 the Theta Deltas are continuing their winning ways with three victories and no defeats. They are closely pressed, however, by Phi Beta and Beta Theta Pi each of which has won two out of three games.

Alpha Deltas Ahead
Momsen has pitched the Alpha Deltas into a commanding lead in Division 3. The closest competitor to the Alpha Deltas are the Sig Chis with two victories and one defeat.

The Theta Xis and Kappa Sigs are staging a merry race for the leadership in Division 4 with two victories and no defeats for each team.

Phi Kappa Tau, through the stellar pitching of Waterman, is holding the top position in Division 5 with two victories. The S. A. E.'s are close behind with two victories and one defeat.

Yesterdays scores:
Theat Xi 7, Phi Pi Phi 3.
Delta Tau Delta 7, Zeta Psi 2.
Phi Kappa Tau 7, Kappa Psi 6.

First Matches in Intramural Tennis Set for Saturday

The drawing of first round matches in the interfraternity tennis tournament was announced by the intramural athletic office Wednesday afternoon.

Thirty-two teams have been entered in the tournament, which will be played off by elimination contests until the championship team is decided.

No Postponements

George Berg, director of intramurals, stated vigorously that no postponements will be permitted in interfraternity play.

"We are keeping many organized men from playing by reserving these courts at these times and we will not permit the tournament to encroach more than is absolutely necessary upon the rights of other students," Berg said.

Under the rules of play, a complete game consists of two singles and one doubles match. The courts to be used are the Varsity courts, numbered 1, 2, and 3 near Camp Randall, and the university courts, numbered 4, 5, and 6 on the corner of Park street and University ave.

leading with 3 victories. Pi Kappa Alpha is holding the second rung with two victories and two defeats.

The DKEs, who finished second last year, are leading Division 7 with three victories. The DKLs have a very capable battery in Barbank and Evans. Phi Kappa holds second place with two victories and one defeat.

Yesterday's scores:
Theat Xi 7, Phi Pi Phi 3.
Delta Tau Delta 7, Zeta Psi 2.
Phi Kappa Tau 7, Kappa Psi 6.

TWO CREW MEN LOST, BURRUS GIVEN STROKE

Jayvee and Frosh Shells Hit; Expect Further Changes

Lady Luck struck her first and hardest blow at the Badger crews and Coach "Dad" ail Wednesday when two men were lost to the crews. Casselman, junior varsity, was forbidden to row by physicians, and Raeder, a member of the frosh crew was declared ineligible.

With the loss of Casselman to the jayvees, Coach ail has again been forced to make a change in this shell. Casselman's place is being taken by Zohorik, but his loss will further the junior varsity which never did budge with power.

Burrus New Stroke
Capt. Jeff Burrus has been brought up from number six position to stroke the varsity shell, and he is encountering some trouble at his new position. This is not surprising when one remembers that he has been in the waist of the boat for two years, and stroking is quite different from rowing in the middle of the boat.

"Eddie" Kesting, who was sticking, until the change took place, has been shifted back to Burrus' place and will probably remain in the varsity boat. Several more changes before the crew goes East would not be a surprise to those who have seen the men in action.

A Student Labor Union

The Daily Cardinal's news columnist, C. O. S. calls attention to the growth which has marked the student labor union here in Madison of late and the probability of evolving such an organization among student workers which will guarantee higher wages and more suitable conditions to the men who are forced to earn all or part of their expenses while in the university.

For years employers of student labor have shown by their attitudes that they realize fully the dependency of the student who is forced to attend school on the condition that he earn his expenses. The student workers are taken advantage of and exploited wherever they might find employment. The question of wages is not the chief concern of those who are forced to seek employment, but the attitude and the conditions under which they are expected to work is an important issue as well.

A large number of men work for all or part of their expenses, and Madison is not so large a city as to swallow up this number of part time workers without it registering on the labor indicator. The result of it being that there is a plenty of student labor for work in the industries as well as helping with housework. But this is no excuse for the employer taking advantage of the workers. The students furnish a high class of labor; they are far above the level of intelligence generally seen in this class of workmen; they are conscientious workers and can be relied on. They are deserving of a better treatment and better working conditions than they have received in the past.

Let us cite an example. We know a senior who is to graduate this June. He has worked for his meals at a certain eating house for four years and done his work well, conscientiously. For the past five months he has been treated with no deference; veiled insults have been his lot. He was taunted with challenges to find work somewhere else if he is not satisfied. His employers know that labor is not hard to find, and they know that this certain person is dependent on his job if he is to finish school.

These are some of the conditions which the Student Workers' league hopes to correct in the interest of fair play. The organization will meet as a body this evening in the Y. M. C. A.

The South Needs Our Help

Action taken yesterday in forming a committee of student leaders to receive funds for flood sufferers deserves the highest commendation and co-operation that can be extended by the university as a whole. The need for aid is pressing and immediate. Few disasters of such magnitude have ever overtaken the country as this creeping horror caused by the floods on the lower Mississippi.

More than 130,000 square miles of good, prosperous farm land have been inundated by the Father of Waters in its unexpected spring lark. Three hundred and fifty residents of the flooded territory have been killed and hundreds left injured and destitute. Disease can very easily follow in the wake of the exposure and unsanitary conditions.

The urgent need right now is relief for the sufferers and the best way to accomplish that is through the student-subscribed fund. The cause of the flood sufferers in the South is a worthy one and deserving of our help.

Railroads

In an essay written for the Illinois Central Railroad's essay contest, a writer enlivens the railroad to food inasmuch as commonness and necessity.

"The railroad is a minister to our comfort. Of old men might not travel even a few miles without paying dearly in money and discomfort; now he is whisked across the continent in ease and at small cost. Formerly even a message was expensive and uncertain; now the lightest word leaps rivers, scales mountains and traverses plains with speed and surety, and the cost is negligible. Not only do the railroads contribute thus to man's comfort, but they bring to his very threshold the luxuries of six continents and drop at his feet the treasures of the seven seas."

"The railroad is a guaranty of our supremacy. The preservation of our financial, agricultural, manufacturing and commercial leadership depends entirely upon the maintenance of our railway supremacy, and upon it too, depends our self-sufficiency. Without our railroads the vast expanses of our resourceful continent would become a desert, not of barrenness, but of inaccessibility."

Editor THE DAILY CARDINAL:
I, like many other students, have watched with some amusement and lately with much disgust, the controversy between the union men out on strike at the Memorial Union and the contractor in charge of the construction.

On a front page article in the Daily Cardinal recently Mr. Haber, of the Economics Department of the University was quoted as supporting the stand of the union in the strife that has arisen. In the same article it was said that the sentiment of the student body seemed also to be in favor of the union. I have discussed the matter with a large number of students and have found only a few who felt that the union had any cause for complaint.

I heartily agree with Mr. Haber that as a means of collective bargaining the labor unions serve an excellent purpose, but is violence collective bargaining? The union officially disclaims all responsibility for the acts of violence which have occurred at the site of the Memorial Union, but the only men who have committed these acts have been union men who loudly proclaimed the fact that they were union men. One evening last week when the non-union laborers were leaving the job, a big husky young union striker struck several blows at an old man unable to defend himself, but failed to bother in any way another non-union man as young and husky as himself.

This morning another union man threw rocks through the windows of Yellow Cabs returning from taking men to the job. Of course the union will again disclaim all responsibility for the act, but is the union not indirectly responsible for it?

Why are the union men allowed to collect in crowds on the streets, and not only intimidate the non-union men by words but by blows? Several of them have been overheard to say that "The police are with us," and the evidence thus far surely seems to support that claim. In any other city of any note in the country their acts would be deemed rioting, and they would have been summarily dispersed every time they congregated, but in the three times that I have seen the police called, they had to wait till there were eight or ten of them together before they dared make a move to get the non-union men out of the trouble zone. Even then they made no effort to disperse the crowd and simply broke one head when they were personally attacked. Had that crowd been composed of students, there would have been several of them shot instead of merely being rapped on the head with a club.

In the last few days I have heard several students express a desire to see the union men cooled off by a few baths in the lake, and they all also expressed a desire to have a hand in administering the bath. Would it not be a good idea?

Pinero's "Trelawney of the Wells" at Garrick Saturday

Arthur Pinero's famous comedy, "Trelawney of the Wells," under the direction of George C. Tyler, will be presented at the Garrick next Saturday evening, May 7th.

First presented in 1908 at the Little Orpheum theater in New York by Daniel Frohman, the comedy was revived in 1911 with charming Ethel Barrymore taking the leading role. It was reincarnated two years ago by Laurette Taylor at the Knickerbocker, New York.

Young and lovable Helen Gahagan with her winsome smile has more than done her share in resurrecting this old English comedy. Supported by 16 stars of proven ability, the play has met success on its trans-continental showing.

ART COLLECTION IS STILL ON SALE

Selected Group of Foreign Prints and Etchings at Lathrop Hall

Italian springtimes, Paris street scenes, and strangely smiling saints mingle together in the collection of foreign prints and etchings on display in Lathrop hall today until five o'clock. The collection was selected by an art critic in Florence, Rome, and Paris and is being sold here for the benefit of the Industrial Workers to help raise funds so that they may attend the summer session.

In the collection there are all the old familiar pictures, the haunting "Mona Lisa," carefully copied, the softly faded "Last Supper," Corot's "Peace con Iago," and the "Age of Innocence." There are pictures and etchings less familiar, original and unusual. Luigi Olivetti has done most of the etchings.

There are several studies of Dante and Beatrice, including "Incontro di Dante e Beatrice," and the one of Dante and his Beatrice in the Florentine window.

Among the collection there is a number of studies of streets where bookstalls stand and old men sit. The Arc de Tromphe against a fall sunset has a new beauty, while St. Francis and his birds, done in a neutral gray, recaptures all the old beauty of the legend.

Evelyn McElphatic '29, is in charge of the sale.

zenship rights. Unless their 'libertas' are duly changed before June 1, they will be taken in hand by the government on their return."

"The 'libertas' are nothing more than booklets resembling passports, which all civilians are requested to carry on their person should their identity be questioned. Due to the distance between this country and Argentine, it is totally impossible to arrange the matter by correspondence, and the only alternative is to see the representative consul in Chicago and arrange the matter through him.

"The consul, however, is handicapped by the natural slowness so prevalent in the natives of tropical regions of northern Argentine, and we may be forced to make repeated trips to Chicago before the necessary changes are made. If the matter is not settled before the allotted time expires, we will be placed in a rather uncomfortable position."

When questioned as to whether or not he had served his term in the army he smiled wistfully and added, "No, my brother and I were fortunate in drawing low numbers when the military quota was being filled, thus being automatically released from the service. This time, however, luck does not matter." Cuneo looked at the floor and signed, "And how I hate the uniforms."

Walker Whiteside Achieves Hit in "The Arabian"

"Walker Whiteside's every pleasant and serious move is interesting to the theatre of America, and as he arrives in our midst there is solace and hope in his latest and most potent gesture, for he comes with a FINE, EXCITING PLAY and his always admirable acting.

"This fine actor has devoted so much of his art time to the Orient that he knows his atmosphere and dialects, his colors and manners, as well as his lines and dramatic activities. His Abd el Rey in 'THE ARABIAN' is a brilliant achievement. He is suave, graceful, vigorously imperious, and as much an Arabian as Alladin' or Hassan Ben Ali, or Belroubadoura.

"All of Walker Whiteside's admirers will REVEL in his BRILLIANT CHARACTERIZATION, and be enthusiastic over his SUPERB Play.

"WALKER WHITESIDE HAS AN OVERWHELMING SUCCESS IN 'THE ARABIAN'."

SENATE OUTLINES NEED FOR SEVERAL CHANGES

In regard to the lack of interest at the present time toward the Forensic board, he pointed out that this body has almost entirely disappeared on the campus. Only one person petitioned for an office at the recent election. The question, as he pointed out, was either that it should be abolished entirely or its activities recognized. Koehler suggested that some sort of a booking agency be established in order that conflicts or a congestion of speaking dates might be avoided.

"The constitution of the Student Senate has not been revised since be Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Miller. Guests at the Frolic will be Prof. and Mrs. W. G. Bleyer, Assistant Professor and Mrs. E. Olson, Prof. Grant M. Hyde, Asst. Prof. Chilton Bush, Miss Helen Patterson, instructor, and Miss Mabel Bauer.

1919. Because of the many additions since that time, it is incorrect and misleading in its present form" stated Koehler.

He concluded by describing the present status of the Student Senate as being "altogether passive, ineffective, and wanting in prestige. This body has the power to control student activities of Wisconsin and it is up to us to make it what we want. I propose that we diligently strive to return the Student Senate to its rightful prestige by getting results through constructive legislation, work, interest and cooperation," he added.

Strike Pictures Will Be Shown At Strand Theater

Exclusive motion pictures of the activities of Madison Union men in preventing non-union men from working on the University of Wisconsin Memorial Union building, which occurred Tuesday morning will be shown at the Strand theatre starting tonight.

Haresfoot and Now Wisconsin University Players

Ring out the old, ring in the new! First, Haresfoot's "girlie" show holds the center of attraction on the boards of a local theater. Now, Wisconsin University Players presents "Outward Bound," a drama of the next world, in the New Bascom Theater, on May 13 and 14. On May 13, Prexy Frank and Dean Glicksman will formally dedicate the New Theater.

Ticket sales will be announced soon!

"The Play's the Thing . . . and so's the New Theater."

"Still setting the style pace, aren't you? Glad I'm not the parent who pays and pays and pays."

"Ah, that's the point. It's an Erskine Six and economy is its secret passion. Don't judge its cost by its appearance."

SPEAKING frankly, who cares a fig for bore and stroke, cubic displacement and all of that. The car of today is the one that slips through traffic like an All-American halfback wriggles through a broken field; turns on a dime with nine cents change and pops into a parking space with a hair's breadth clearance front and rear.

To match the spirit of American youth a motor car must have "It." "It" is the ability to chase the horizon all day without panting; smart good looks that do credit to the intelligence of its owner and riding comfort that wins a sigh of complete ease.

That's why the Erskine Six Custom Coupe is taking America's youth by storm. Style conceived in Paris—design by Dietrich, the master designer—speed that lets you decide whether or not the car behind will pass. And, will it stand up? Studebaker builds it—Q. E. D.

Take possession of an Erskine Six today. Drive it over roads other cars fear. Forget the gearshift lever. Revise all your notions of motoring. You're riding in a car that has set a new pace for others to try and follow.

The Erskine Six Custom Coupe, as illustrated, sells for $995 f. o. b. factory, complete with front and rear bumpers and self-energizing 4-wheel brakes.
