THOUSANDS POUR INTO TWIN CITIES FOR GOPHER-BADGER GAME; 1,200 FOLLOW TEAM

Homecoming Game Draws Crowd of 25,000 Grid Rooters

BY CHAS. J. LEWIN

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—A colorful Homecoming crowd of Wisconsin and Minnesota partisans continues to pour into the Twin Cities today while two football teams, both in the running for the Conference title, champ at the bit and wait for the "zero hour" when they will clash at Northrop field in the most important football game of the week.

Despite the loss of Donald "Jab" Murry through alleged professionalism, despite the absence of Jack Harris, reserve halfback, the University of Wisconsin eleven is determined that it will successfully play the role of "Daniel in the Gopher's den," and offer a battle on Northrop field that gods may review with delight. An estimated crowd of 25,000 persons will watch Minnesota and Wisconsin play their annual Homecoming game on the Gophers' home gridiron.

1,200 Badgers Present

Although the larger part of the throng will ring with cheers for Minnesota, 1,200 Badger students are to arrive in Minneapolis on Saturday morning. Wisconsin alumni who were here yesterday expectantly await the Badger invasion.

Betting odds of 5 to 4 are offered that Minnesota will add another game to its record of victories over Coach John R. Richards' Badgers. The Gophers have captured 14 games to Wisconsin's 11. Two were tied. If Wisconsin wins, it will close up the gap with the northmen and it will also keep its place in the van of the Big Ten title race.

Hold Secret Practice

In a secluded spot "far from the maddening crowd", two Badgers elevens engaged in a light signal drill while Coach Richards gave final directions to his proteges. The last minute shift in the line-up, which threw Jab Murry off the team, has weakened the right side

CHILDS TO TALK AT PROFS' HOMES

Jack Childs, Wisconsin's representative in China, will be in Madison next week and will give a series of talks to various groups of professors at their homes.

Child's work in China, according to Dean F. E. Turneure, faculty chairman of the meetings, is essentially to help the young Chinese who have returned from western schools to further the upbuilding of their native land.

"Although Childs is supported in his work by a majority of Conference schools, the fact that he is an old graduate from Wisconsin, makes him truly the Wisconsin representative in this work," said Turneure last night.

Childs is a graduate from the journalism school with the class of 1911. He left for China to take up his present work in 1916. While in the university he was a member of Iron Cross, editor of The Cardinal, commencement speaker, intercollegiate debater, and president of the Y. M. C. A.

Men Selected Because of Special Prominence in Work

Ninety-nine members of the University faculty are listed in Volume 12, 1922-1923 edition of "Who's who in America."

The qualifications for registration in the directory are stated as follows: "men selected on account of their special prominence in creditable lines of effort making them subjects of extensive interest, inquiry, or discussion in this country."

Among the university professors included are: Edward A. Birge, president of the university, John B. Parkinson, vice president, the respective deans of the College of Letters and Science, College of Engineering, College of Agriculture, the Law School, the Medical School, the Graduate School, the University Extension Division, and the director of the summer session. Twenty-six of the twenty-nine chairmen of the departments in the College of Letters and Science are listed.

Two of the 99 faculty members are women professors, Frances Louise Nardin, dean of women and assistant professor of English, and Abby Lillian Marlatt, director of the course in home economics and professor of home economics.

Y. DRIVE REACHES HALF-WAY MARK

Approximately $2,700 has been raised in the Y. M. C. A. drive for $5,000. Fifteen of the fraternities have turned in complete reports, and seven incomplete reports, making a total of $702.50. The largest amount, pledged by any fraternity, was $100 by Sigma Phi.

Only 45 of the 203 canvassers have turned in reports today. The team headed by Stanley Kedow '25 led today with $159.50.

A meeting of all of the generals and captains of the drive was held Wednesday evening, at which time it was decided to continue the campaign until the amount was raised, and not to postpone the drive until after homecoming as was suggested.

Prof. A. B. Hall of the law department spoke for the board of directors. He said that if the entire amount was not raised the Y. M. C. A. would have to cut down on many of its activities, which have made it such a service to the incoming freshman.

Returns of Game to Be Received at Gym Today

Play by play returns from the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game will be received at the gymnasium this afternoon and shown on the gridgraph which will report the men figuring in the play, the ground lost or gained throughout the game, and the course of the ball on the field. The doors of the gymnasium will open at 1:30 o'clock.

The special operator for the grid graph arrived last night from Columbus, Ohio, and is preparing to show the moves of the game two minutes behind the progress of the game at Minneapolis.

The athletic board has made arrangements to seat approximately 3,000 spectators. The admission price will be 25 cents.

UNION MEMORIAL CAMPAIGN RAISES AMOUNT OF $20,902

Over 2,000 Memorial Union Buttons to Be Ready By Homecoming

Over $1,406 was turned in today at the Memorial Union headquarters, making the total pledged in the new student drive $20,902.

Chicago with a total of $2,940 is now ahead of Milwaukee county which has turned in $2,774 and Dane county is third with $2,182.

Wisconsin has given $10,622 the rest of United States, $10,130 and foreign countries $150. Ohio has the highest average per person of all the states, $46.40.

"Saturday promises to be a big day, as all the captains reported last night that their teams are going strong," Arthur Inman '23, in charge of the finance committee, said "we are getting ready for big weekend results."

Minneapolis launched the first drive of a $2,000,000 campaign for their stadium and Union building last Saturday and last night, they had turned in over a half million.

"If they can do that, Wisconsin should be able to put across her new student campaign a full 100 per cent with a shout," said Morton Frost '23, general chairman of the new student drive.

By Homecoming, 2,000 Memorial Union buttons are expected to be ready for distribution. The Union board made a change in the design of the button, which caused the unexpected delay. All subscribers who have paid at least $25 on their pledge will be given a button.

Last night a football dinner for more than 250 Minneapolis alumni was held in Hotel Radison in Minneapolis. James L. Brader, '23, now assistant football coach spoke and movies of the Memorial Union were shown.

Senate Representation By Colleges Passes With 230 Lead

Gordon B. Wanzer, Chicago, was elected chairman of the 1924 Junior Prom, Rolland F. Williams was elected president of the senior class and William J. Fronk was elected head of the junior class in the election held yesterday. The heaviest vote in the history of the university was polled.

James R. Flickinger was elected freshman class president and Gene Tuhtar, elected by default, heads the sophomore class.

Robert Aspinwall was elected graduate member of the student senate, and Maynard W. Brown, Lucius P. Chase, Earle Gill, Herbert D. Hentzen, and Oscar E. Kiessling were elected senior representatives.

Junior representatives elected to the senate were: Harold A. Seering, Edgar A. Smith, and Wilbur Wittenburg. Llewellyn R. Cole and Richard Ingraham were elected from the sophomore class.

Malcolm Millar was elected to Union board, and Robert Stewart was elected to forensic board.

Split Seen Early

A splitting of tickets in the senior class was evident as soon as returns began to come in. Williams and Tebell the two football candidates on the ticket were elected by a decisive vote while the Morse ticket swept the rest of the field. The nine candidates affiliated with the Wanzer-Fronk ticket in the junior class were all elected.

The referendum vote making Cardinal representation on the Student senate subject to the choice of the Cardinal Board of Control instead of the managing editor occupying the position automatically was passed by a vote of 525 to 388.

The vote to have representation on the senate by colleges rather than by classes passed by a vote of 810 to 580. This system provides that 9 to 11 members shall be elected to the senate, at least one from each college. One graduate student not a member of the faculty, and the ranking male officer of the freshman class also will be members.

Elections Orderly

The election was conducted in an orderly manner throughout, no attempt being made to do any electioneering or personal canvassing at the polls, according to officials. Voters began to form in lines at the booths shortly after 8 o'clock and the election officials were kept busy all through the day. Many students who had classes in the buildings where the polling places were located took advantage of the 10-minute period between classes to cast their ballots.

Early in the day members of the elections committee predicted that the vote would be unusually heavy and this was borne out in the final

A. C. F. APPROVES ACTION OF DEAN

Resolutions were passed by the Agricultural College Federation yesterday endorsing the efforts of Dean S. H. Goodnight and Prof. F. A. Aust to prevent the vandalism of campus trees and shrubbery.

The resolution was passed as a result of a letter sent by Dean Goodnight to various student groups urging them to co-operate in preventing the destruction of trees and shrubbery on the campus.

The resolution as drawn up by the committee on resolutions reads as follows:

Resolved, that the Agricultural College Federation board endorse the idea as expressed in the Communication by Dean S. H. Goodnight relative to the protection of campus trees and shrubbery.

Be it further resolved, that the A. C. F. board lend its hearty co-operation in carrying out the spirit of the letter.

SEEK SUPPORT FOR EDUCATION

Board Secretary Says 30,000 Will Attend University in 1950

Thirty thousand students will be attending the university in 1950 at the present rate of increase, according to Maj. Edward A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the state board of education, who addressed the Woman's club Friday.

"There has not been in this state any adequate support of comprehensive planning for education," Mr. Fitzpatrick said in his speech on "Making a State Educational Program for Wisconsin."

Considering that $50,350,000 were spent for education in this state in 1920 and that $39,000,000 of this comes from public taxes, it would be only reasonable to organize education along the lines of industry. An industry would have formed long ago a "planning department" which would be free from any activity in order to give its whole energy and attention to a consideration of these problems, according to Major Fitzpatrick.

The State Board of Education has been making an effort to secure the establishment of junior colleges all over the state. University professors will have a better opportunity for research in this way, and the administrative officers will be relieved. Moral oversight of the students may also be better handled by this plan of decentralization.

"Lay educational evangelism" as an antidote to the average American's simple faith in the magic of machinery and organization as such, was recommended in a final plea:

"The permanent success within the last analysis depends upon an intelligent lay interest in education."

Students at the University of Minnesota pledged $118,826 during the first day of the Campus Memorial campaign.

Badgers Hoping For Double Victory Today

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Coach Mead Burke and his Varsity cross-country squad went over the Minnesota five-mile course yesterday afternoon preparatory to their race with the Gophers harriers at 11 o'clock this morning.

The Badgers hope to repeat their 1921-27 to 28 victory over Minnesota, but it is doubtful if they can eke out a win. Capt. Ramsey, Tchudy, Wade, Moorhead, Schneider, Perry, and Valley compose the Wisconsin team.

Capt. Winters and Ulrich are mainstays of the Minnesota hill and dale squad.

Special Trains to Carry Homecoming Crowds

"The Northwestern Line will run special trains to Madison from Milwaukee and Chicago, and will add as many coaches to the regular trains as the patronage will warrant," D. R. Hicock of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad said yesterday.

Two special steel trains will leave Milwaukee Saturday morning at 9:35 o'clock one made up of parlor cars only, the other of coaches. There will be another special train leaving Chicago at 8:15 o'clock the same day. Reduced fare rates will prevail throughout Wisconsin, $1 being the minimum fare to be paid and $7.02 the maximum.

Fare from Chicago will not be reduced. Holders of tickets may return on the special or on any other train leaving not later than November 13. The returning specials to Milwaukee and Chicago will be equipped with as many dining cars as are necessary.

COUNCIL WORK IS SUCCESSFUL

Religious Body Makes Plans For Program of Conventions

The Campus Religious council discussed tentative convocation plans and disposed of miscellaneous business at its regular monthly dinner and meeting yesterday in the Y. M. C. A.

The convocation committee reported that the convocation addressed by Dr. George Craig Stewart Thursday night was very well attended and was very successful in every way. The impression created by the first monthly conference lead members of the committee to believe that they will be able to secure speakers nationally and internationally known for all of the remaining convocations.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

ONLY TWO BIG TEN GAMES ARE PLAYED TODAY

Illinois and Northwestern Battle Attracts Much Attention

While the eyes of football fans will be turned to the two conference games today, good games throughout the whole country are scheduled. Several conference teams are playing games with schools outside the conference which are bound to be interesting.

The feature game of today is that between Wisconsin and Minnesota. The Gophers have proved that they have an exceptionally strong team and are primed to give the Badgers the scrap of their lives. Wisconsin, weakened through injury and ineligibility, will do its best to keep its record for the season clean by defeating the Minnesotans.

Illini Battle Interesting

While the result of the game between Illinois and Northwestern will have no direct bearing on the conference championship, the struggle between the two teams is probably causing more interest than has any other game between beaten team for a number of years.

Northwestern gained the respect of many fans when it held Minnesota to a 7-7 tie three weeks ago. Since that time, Coach Thistlewaite has drilled his men into a machine which may well be feared by the Illini.

The confidence is not all with Northwestern. Illinois, after having been beaten by two conference teams so far this season, will fight to the end of today's battle. The loss of Augur, star tackle, through ineligibility will be keenly felt.

Indiana will attempt to come back after a poor season so far by defeating Notre Dame. While the Catholic team this year does not come up to the standard set in the past few years, it is one to be feared.

Michigan Rests

Michigan will rest from Conference competition today, and will play against the Michigan Aggie team. The Aggies have not showed up as well this year as they have in former years, and Coach Yost's men should find no great trouble in winning over them.

It is doubtful if either Harry Kipke or Capt. Goebel will be in the game for the Wolverines. They are men upon whom Yost depends greatly in the two remaining conference games, and he will probably guard against injury to either one of them today.

Navy Meets Penn

One of the most interesting games in the East today will be that between the Navy and Penn State. The game, which will be played at Washington D. C., is probably the biggest contest ever held at the national capitol.

While the Navy is the favorite among Eastern fans, Penn may be expected to give the midshipmen something to think about, in spite of the fact that several good men have been lost through ineligibility and injury.

In the big intersectional battle of the week, Nebraska will meet Syracuse in the East today. Nebraska has the heaviest team in the country, having an average of 197 pounds and is the favorite in the game today. The Cornhuskers have had an exceptionally good season, and are ready to uphold the West against the East in the contest.

Football Fans Invited

To U. W. Club in Detroit

Football fans who attend the Michigan-Wisconsin game at Ann Arbor have been invited to banquet at the U. W. club of Detroit.

The banquet is planned to welcome Wisconsin students and alumni who expect to be in Detroit the evening of November 17.

Those desiring to attend are requested to notify E. W. Sanders, 1924 W. Lafayette boulevard, Detroit. Applications for reservations must be in early and upon receipt of same, Sanders will furnish information as to price, place and hour of the banquet.

GOPHERS READY FOR WISCONSIN

Men Injured in Ohio State Battle Again in Line-up

(Special to The Cardinal)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 3—Minnesota will enter the Badger game Saturday with every man in fighting trim. Cox and Abrahams will be sufficiently recovered from their Northwestern hurts to swell the strength of the Gopher line, while Peterson will be back in harness at fullback. Everything is set at Northrop Field for the Gopher homecoming, and the biggest conference game of the week.

Coach Spaulding has sent his men through stiff workouts all week and there has been no let up in the preparation for the Badgers. Every night after the freshmen and scrubs have given their best to the varsity, flood lights are applied to the tackling dummies and the first string men played at tackling before hitting for the showers.

The Gophers have used but five or six plays in every game played so far this year. Coach Spaulding in the past week, has drilled his men in a number of new formations. The Cardinals will therefore meet a different lot of tricks than any other eleven thus far meeting the Maroon and Gold.

Minnesota expects a harder battle with Wisconsin than she had of the line. Indications are that Smith has the call for right tackle while Bieberstein will go in at right guard. Rudy Hohlfeld has been shifted to the left side of the line. With Capt. Rollie Williams and Gibson at the halves, the Wisconsin backfield will again be intact. Gibby may have to wear a copper mask to protect his slowly-healing broken nose.

Minnesota also went through a light workout, with Joe Martineau racing about in fine fettle. It will be Martineau the Wisconsin defense has to stop if it expects to defeat Minnesota. He was the only man who could gain in the 35 to 0 rout last year and he is the backfield star this year. McCreery and Peterson are a pair of slashing backs who are also in good shape.

Gopher Wall Strong

Although critics here believe that the Gopher forward wall will have a shade over the weakened Wisconsin line, it will not outfight the "battle-crazy" Badgers. Two weeks of rest have served to polish with Ohio last week. The Alumni will have thrill after thrill presented to them by the new Gopher eleven, while the students who have followed the team thus far this year will see their team at a higher point of perfection. The strength of the Cardinals is fully appreciated by each Gopher athlete and follower.

The Gopher attack will be centered around Martineau. Marty has been showing all-American ability this year and the way he eluded Buckeye tacklers last week is sufficient reason for Minnesota to boost him to the skies. The Martineau-Eklund passing combination will undoubtedly be opened against the Badger eleven Saturday.

While the exact line-up of the Gophers against the Cardinals is not known it is generally expected that Coach Spaulding will start Eklund and Schjoll at ends and Cox and Mac Donald at tacklers. Gay and Abrahams will flank Captain Aas at center. Grose will direct the team at quarter. Peterson will be in action at full and Martineau and Mac Creery will take care of the halves. Gross and Larkin will also get into the game on the line, while Oster and Mitchell may see action in the backfield.

VARSITY HELD BY FROSH BASKETEERS

The freshman basket ball squad engaged in scrimmage with the varsity three times during the past week and showed a praiseworthy resistance on two of the occasions. About 25 men are in close competition for regular places on the team.

Skogland, Scheer, Noth, McCarthy and Meyer are the strongest guardsmen. Meyer, a University high school star, is the best guard and the swiftest man in the team. Skogland is frequently shifted to center and McCarthy to forward.

Herbert Olson, Martinez, Gernon, Mertle, and Ogden are competing forwards. Larson regularly holds center position.

"The squad is going commendable work," said Coach Harper. "We will engage the varsity once a week henceforth."

"I desire to see more men of the large rangy type come out," Dr. Carl Harper freshman coach said last night. "It is unimportant whether a man has previously played basket ball. If he is agile and can adapt himself, we can make a basket ball man of him."

An interclass meet is not yet determined.

off rough which marred Wisconsin's early-season playing. Two victories over Indiana and Ohio State have put the Gophers into a frame of mind where they believe they are unstoppable.

Breaks may decide the contest. An unlucky fumble, a bad punt, failure to kick goal after touch-down, these may prove the undoing of one eleven or the other and decide supremacy for another year. With two such powerful offenses it is hard to see how a scoreless game can be played. Rollie Williams was able to pierce the Gopher defense in the 1921 game. He should be able to repeat this year. Martineau scintillated against Wisconsin last year. Minnesota expects him to do the same today.

Gophers Hold Drive

In this "Homecoming of Homecomings" on the Minnesota campus, a drive will be started to replace the old football stands with a $2,000,000 stadium. A jinx has hovered over stadium drives and dedications. Michigan spoiled the Ohio State opening when it defeated the Buckeyes two weeks ago.

Wisconsin hopes to cast a pall of gloom over the Gopher stadium drive.

Meanwhile, the two squads rest, and thousands of partisans restlessly look for the opening kick-off at 2 o'clock.

The finance committee of the city council adjourned last night until Monday night when the committee will visit the Madison General hospital to determine the tentative budget for 1923.

AG TEAM WINS INTER-COLLEGE CROSS COUNTRY

Total Score is 43; Rossmessel Takes First Place in 16:9

The strong Ag cross country team won the fast inter-college meet yesterday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock of 43. Carl Rossmessel, '23, running for the Commerce school won first place, negotiating the short course of 2.9 miles in 16.9. He was closely followed by Cohen '25, an engineer. Piper '25, the only Ag among the first five to finish came in third, Kennedy an L. and S. harrier, was fourth, and Chase '25, the second Commerce man among the first five finished fifth.

The L. and S. team ran the Ags a close second with a score of 48. The Engineers and Commerce men finished further back with scores of 66 and 69, respectively.

The men who made the Ag team were Piper, capt., Gunderson, Swingle, Smithyman, and Stiles. L. and S. runners were Kennedy, Sherman, Steward, Herman, and Bergstresser, capt. Engineers who placed on the team were Cohen, Trier, captain, Dowling, Bemm, and Lovewell. Commerce harriers who placed on the team were Rossmessel, Chase, capt. Grubb, Sorenson, and Peterson. The first five men to finish and each man to place on a team will be awarded college insignias.

SUFFRAGE

VOX POPULI was distinctly audible last night in the Latin quarter. Old timers were unable to remember a campus election with so much subsequent enthusiasm.

Many a boy scout pledge was broken, we fear. Langdon and State streets boiled over. The shouts of the victors completely drowned out the groans of the vanquished. Which, we presume, was natural, as the victors had the advantage in numbers.

And now that even the shouting is over, the campus will settle down to something like normal. Old friendships will be resumed; at least, most of them. And perhaps some new friendships will languish, now that artificial stimulus is removed.

Class officers will have their pictures taken for the Badger, settle back in an easy chair, try to appreciate their importance, and wonder what they are to do now they are elected.

Junior politicians may spend a few sleepless nights wondering who will have the privilege of selling Prom tickets and becoming ineligible.

Co-ed interest will focus on the choice of Prom queen. It's hard to pick a Prom queen, we have been assured; and we sympathize with the king in his delicate position. Just the same, everybody will wonder who will tell the reporters that she made her own Prom dress.

Senators-elect probably will take themselves seriously. They will meet in Bascom hall and solemnly recognize new campus organizations. They will choose a green stocking cap for freshmen to wear in the winter. They will conduct a Jamboree.

It is entirely possible that they will devise a new system of representation on the senate and that they will propose a new way to have the student newspaper represented in the student law-making body.

Meanwhile campus organizations will keep on being organized. The football team will continue to play football. Seniors will continue to spend $3 to get their faces in the Badger. The Social Science club will continue to exist. Co-eds will continue to have mid-week dates, and a few students will continue to get their lessons and wonder what everybody has been so excited about.

And the student newspaper will continue to appear every day whether or not it chooses to send a representative to the student counterpart of the state assembly.

Just about as if there hadn't been any election at all.

All of which leads us to agree with the defeated candidates that campus elections, aside from Prom, Badger, and executive boards, don't amount to a whoop anyway, but that they are a lot of fun.

Wonder if Andy Gump will be elected.

SPARE THAT TREE

A THING of beauty is not a joy forever if it is destroyed. Evergreens that relieve the monotony of winter's whiteness, shade trees that bring the verdant hues of springtime and the russet tones of autumn, are beautiful only so long as they are allowed to grow. Only careful conservation can keep for future student's those wooded byways that make beautiful the environs of Madison.

That doesn't mean that evergreens and autumn leaves should not be used for Homecoming decorations.

Evergreens will be shipped to Madison and supplied at a reasonable price for decorative purposes. All evergreens near Madison have been planted, and cutting them is lagrant vandalism.

Farmers with woodlots which they do not value may be found near Madison if one takes the trouble to look for them. Many would be glad to have students cut autumn leaves if the students ask permission.

If students take the slight trouble of obtaining permission before cutting leaves for decorations they will aid in preserving treasured beauty spots and also avoid prosecution for vandalism.

The action of Professor Aust and Dean Goodnight in discouraging indiscriminate destruction of evergreen and foliage trees for use as decorations will be supported by every student who believes in leaving something of beauty for those yet to come.

Dance Offering Gets First Honors at Orpheum

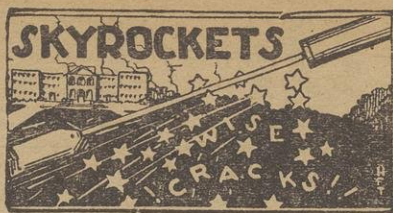

In the lead for first honors the last half of the week at the Orpheum dance offering of La Bernicia, who is assisted by six pretty and graceful dancers in her "Night At Mardi Gras." An original idea in stage setting lends to the class of the act.

A former minstrel man is the burnt cork comedian Harry Van Fossen, of the second act. A satine and travesty on present day courtship is the subject of the act "Is It Coming To This?" presented by Jimmy and Gladys Guilfoyle. Genevieve Davis and Beatrice Bradner, two song birds, are presenting a wizard of Arabia, the six Hassans each a genuine Araban, are viewed in tumbling tricks and pyramid building that seem incomprehensible. Bits of comedy and attractive dances are included in the wire walking demonstration by the Philmers.

Play by play returns of the Wisconsin-Minnesota game will be read to the audience at the matinee today and every Saturday while the team is away from home.

Educational Lectures Sent By Radio From Indiana

Lectures on educational topics are being broadcast by radio from the University of Indiana by President William Lowe Bryan and Dr. Burton D. Myers, assistant dean of the School of Medicine.

SAY! HAVE YOU SEEN

THESE WOMEN ON THE HILL WEARING LONG DANGLING EARRINGS? AND FRENCH HEELS? AND LAST YEAR'S VELVET AFTERNOON DRESS?

Y'know, it's nothing to us, but they just give themselves away.

They probably never get asked no other place where it would be proper to wear them.

I'll bet they never have dates with anything but the bath-tub, of a Saturday night.

Or if they do, it must be very flattering to the men to see them come down the stairs decked out in their usual school clothes.

Anna?

VULGARITY

A propos of nothing at all, we have learned that "vulgar" has come to mean "loud," "noisy," "conspicuous," "ostentatious," "brassy."

It's really an awful blow to our pride in this great and splendid school to have to admit that there is one very vulgar professor in the Economics department.

WITH APOLOGIES TO AROMA The moving finger writes, and having writ Moves on, nor all the vows that you entail Can coax the deans to cancel half a line, Or change their words and say "You didn't fail."

A gang of text-books underneath a bough. A lot of notes, a picnic lunch, and thou, Sitting beside me on the willow drive Does not mean grade points. I sure know it now.

AGRIC TAKE NOTE

"Mamma! Mamma, why don't they bring the cows home over the hill, Mamma?" "Because it strains their milk, dear."

And speaking of Saddle and Sirloin, we've seen an awful lot of feminine sirloin riding around in saddles, lately.

"Beefy-looking women" — for those who don't understand.

PLAIN TALE FROM THE HILL Teachie, teachie, all day teachie; Nightie markie papers; No one kissie; No one huggie; Poor old maddie; No one lovie.

THE U. W. MEAT GRINDER The mills of the school grind slowly, And they grind exceedingly small, But considering the stuff they have to grind, It's a wonder they grind at all.

The mills at the school grind slowly, And they grind exceedingly small, But considering the profs who turn the wheels, It's a wonder they grind at all.

And just along in that line, one professor on the hill yesterday morning very kindly explained why we wore woolen clothing instead of tin.

WELL! WELL! WELL! So this is education? Oh yes, indeed.

But then, anybody can have a hot line, even a peanut vander.

EQUAL RIGHTS LAW IS ASKED

National Woman's Party to Meet at Convention on Nov. 11 and 12

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3.—Plans for a nation-wide drive to procure the enactment by 42 state legislatures of the Wisconsin equal rights law, or its equivalent, will be made at a national conference of the National Woman's party in this city November 11 and 12.

Wisconsin's celebrated bill of rights for women, drafted by Charles H. Crownhart, then revisor of statutes, now associate justice of the Wisconsin supreme court, and signed by Governor Blaine in 1921, will be the basis of all of the state campaigns. It promises to advertise Wisconsin more widely during the next few years than any other enactment in the state's history.

The Washington conference will also decide whether or not the time is ripe to have an equal rights amendment to the federal constitution introduced into congress for submission to the states. Advocate of a federal amendment argue it is needed to "wipe away at one stroke all discriminations against women based on sex or marriage."

Another subject before the conference is welfare legislation as it affects women. The National Woman's party through its council of women lawyers has during the past year been making a thorough survey of such legislation in all of the states. Miss Alice Paul, vice president, says:

"We find that some of our less progressive states, particularly those of the South, have ten-hour laws for all workers, men and women. Yet we were told advocates of special labor laws for women that it was impossible to pass or enforce a law protecting both men and women in industry. Why is this impossible when it is already being done?"

"It is just such information as this which the legal research bureau of the Woman's party is collecting. It is also tabulating all judicial decisions, state and national, on the subject of labor legislation a task never before undertaken. Before we move we are anxious to be fortified by all the facts obtainable."

After leaving here he will speak at the University of Chicago. Dr. Kent is the author of "The Historical Bible," and "The Social and Ethical Principles of Jesus." He gave a series of lectures last year here on "Religion of an Educated Man."

While in the city Dr. Kent will be the guest of E. W. Blakeman at the University club. A conference has been arranged for tonight at which university pastors and professors will discuss "Religious Teaching at Universities."

MEN HAVE MOST CONTROL, SAYS WYOMING WOMAN

Psychology Professor Delivers Lecture Based on Handwriting Tests

That men surpass women when it comes to powers of control is the opinion of Miss Julia Downey, professor of psychology in the University of Wyoming, who delivered a general lecture open to all students at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon in 165 Bascom hall. Miss Downey based her lecture on her handwriting tests.

"Handwriting is the only test where the men are a great deal better than the women," said Miss Downey, speaking of the test for control, in which the 'subject' must write a given phrase taking the longest time possible, and still keeping the pen point moving all of the time. There are 'subjects' whom Miss Downey has tested who have taken as long as 45 minutes to write a phrase, and who have, during the whole period not let the pen stop moving.

Miss Downey, in her talk on "Temperament and Will, and its Testing," told of the series of tests which she has worked out and from which she could judge the characteristics of a person through the medium of his hand writing under varied conditions.

Miss Downey has worked out a series of tests for various traits. She is able to judge of the freedom from inertia of a person, through the means of a test comparing the speed with which a person ordinarily writes, and the highest possible speed which he may attain.

There are also tests which determine a person's reaction to a variation of routine, tests to show how well a person can do things automatically, and a test to show the amount of resistance to opposition that a person shows.

Because of criticisms and doubts as to the validity of these tests, based on the opinion that handwriting is not a good medium, Miss Downey and her assistant are working out a series of similar tests which are based on speech.

Joe Levisay, 70, pleaded guilty to drunkenness when arraigned in Superior court today. He was remanded to the sheriff pending investigation of his case.

TALK GIVEN ON POTATO CROPS

Dean Russell Praises Work of State Association of Growers

In his speech before the annual convention of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association at Stevens Point this week Dean H. L. Russell of the College of Agriculture, gave to the assembly the important stepping stones in the history of potato growing in the state.

He maintained that one of the most important steps was the formation of this association, which has done much to standardize varieties and introduce spraying as a check to the many common diseases of the potato.

"The last decade has witnessed great progress in the history of potato growing," said Dean Russell. "The average has expanded from 260,000 acres in 1910 to 306,000 in 1922 and the yield per acre has advanced steadily."

This organization has been active in promoting potato growing since its formation and the moving spirit in it has been Prof. J. G. Milward who has been secretary of it for several years.

Madison Women and Girls to Help Soldiers

Today is National "Forget-Me-Not" Day, set aside for the commemoration of the disabled veterans of the World War. Tags and forget-me-nots will be sold on the streets by women and girls in order to raise funds for the relief and help of those men who sacrificed themselves and who are maimed or crippled. The money will be used for the general advancement of their interests. A committee of the local branch of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War have charge of the campaign.

WANZER ELECTED PROM CHAIRMAN

count, the totals breaking all previous records for similar elections.

Yesterday's election probably was the most dramatic in the university's history. By 7 o'clock more than 150 students had crowded into the hallway outside of the registrar's office, awaiting the returns. Several times officials in the registrar's office told elections committee members that the crowd must keep quiet so that the votes might be counted.

Elections committee members who called out the results were forced to wait several minutes before the cheering subsided after each announcement. Cheering following the announcement of the major offices could be heard all over the campus. Immediately after the results were announced the crowd dispersed. The winners spent the rest of the evening parading the streets celebrating the victory. Langdon and State streets were crowded with students until a late hour.
