Revenge is sweet, and a Wisconsin basketball team is primed to the highest pitch for its all-important imbroglio with Purdue university at 7 o'clock in the gymnasium tonight.

It will be the first time in five years that a Lafayette quintet has performed on the historic armory court here and it will be the second time this season that Wisconsin

VOTING MACHINE ERROR IS FOUND IN RECENT BILL

The Freehoff resolution relating to undemocratic social functions at the university, which was reported killed through an error of the voting machine in the assembly, was found to have passed by the vote of 41 to 40, according to a report given out by T. W. Bartingale, sergeant-at-arms of the assembly, yesterday.

"This resolution was reported killed on February 21, but a recheck showed that the voting machine had registered in error," Assemblyman Bartingale said.

"The bill will be sent immediately to the senate for their approval. We expect that the senate will take up the matter immediately."

W. A. A. HONOR TESTS CONDUCTED IN LATHROP

Additional points for W. A. A. credit may be obtained by successfully passing the apparatus honors tests which will be conducted in the Lathrop gymnasium today, at 9 o'clock; and next Monday, February 26 at 7 o'clock.

The simple tests give 50 points towards W. A. A., and the advanced honors give 75 points to all who pass them. The requirements are posted in detail on the W. A. A. bulletin board in Lathrop, and additional information may be obtained from Florence Hupprich '23, who is in charge.

There are ten groups of tests. In the first group for simple honors a girl must pass 4 tests, and for advanced honors 4 more. For the second group one must be passed for simple and two for advanced honors.

WEATHER: SNOW

Snow and warmer weather is predicted for today with probably fair weather Sunday. The maximum temperature for yesterday was 15.8 at three in the afternoon, and the minimum was minus 3.8 at eight o'clock in the morning.

United States Must Have New Cabinet Post, Says U. W. Man

By INTERVIEWER

Add another secretary to the cabinet.

Let one official assume national jurisdiction over education.

Pay him the same salary as Secretary Hughes or Hoover.

These innovations, provided for in the Towner-Sterling bill before congress, were advocated by Prof. John Guy Fowlkes of the department of education here yesterday.

"In my opinion, the measure is the crystallization of ideas of far-sighted educators who realize the need for a centralized and unified educational agency," Professor Fowlkes declared.

Introduce New Secretary

"The Towner-Sterling bill originated as the Smith-Towner bill, and proposes to introduce a secretary of education with the same standing, and salary as present cabinet officers are receiving.

"The bill has been accused of domineering and tyranny from Washington, but that is not a fact. It would provide an advisory rather than a supervisory relation between the central and state system. Further, it would facilitate and expedite uniformity of reports, which at this time is very desirable.

Standards are Lenient

The standards of education proposed are lenient in their requirements, according to Professor Fowlkes. They are:

1. Compulsory attendance law with a minimum school term of six months or 24 school weeks.

2. The English language must be taught, leaving it entirely optional whether foreign languages will be included in the curriculum.

"The funds which the bill would provide would be distributed according to need, effort and ability to finance public education," Fowlkes said.

GRENFELL WILL SPEAK SUNDAY

Midst Snow of Labrador is Subject of Celebrated Surgeon

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, noted English surgeon of Labrador and graduate of Oxford College, will speak at 7:30 o'clock Sunday in Music hall on "Midst the Snow and Ice of Labrador" as an introduction to the religious conference to be held here March 2 to 4.

To Show Film

Dean Frederick W. Roe will open the meeting with a talk on "The Significance of the Annual Religious Conference." Prof. E. B. Gordon will lead the community singing and special music. Walter Couto '24, president of the Campus religious council, will preside. Dr. Grenfell is here under the auspices of the Campus religious council.

Dr. Grenfell will give an explanation of a special motion picture of Labrador personally supervised by himself.

Thirty years ago Dr. Grenfell started his medical work against tuberculosis and malnutrition in Labrador. He has charge of the large hospital at St. Anthony, Newfoundland. Yale, Harvard and Princeton have given this mission aid in money and men.

Speaks of College Men

The work of college men in Labrador is spoken of by Dr. Grenfell. "College men have helped that section of our people in a thousand ways materially, mentally and spiritually. Beyond the real inspiration they have given and the actual work they have accomplished they have, after having returned, helped many of the special branches in which they have been interested 'to carry on' by raising money to supply needed outfits, or to enable us to afford wages to carry on special branches of needed expansion."

100 STUDENTS ATTEND MUSIC SKATE ON LAKE

Although only 100 people attended the skate on Lake Mendota last night, the committee made expenses. Thompson's orchestra furnished the music and W. A. A. served sandwiches, coffee and doughnuts. The next skate will be held a week from tonight after the basketball game and it is planned to hold them every week-end hereafter.

MANY ATTEND GROUP BANQUET OF Y. W. C. A.

One hundred and fifty active workers in different Y. W. C. A. groups attended the get-together banquet in Lathrop hall Tuesday night. All phases of the organization's work were represented. Each separate group had its individual table.

Impromptu stunts were part of the program. Doris Smith '24 presided. The affair was in charge of the Y. W. C. A. board.

NEXT OCTY WILL BE HAESFOOT NUMBER

The next number of Octy will be the Haresfoot number and the general tone of the magazine will be theatrical. It has been arranged for the Octopus staff to attend a number of the Haresfoot rehearsals.

The magazine will go on sale here shortly before the Haresfoot production. Octy will also accompany Haresfoot, and be for sale in other places in which the club appears, according to Hubert Townsend '23, manager editor.

At a staff meeting held yesterday afternoon the plans were outlined for this number of Octy, and a synopsis of the Haresfoot play was given that the staff might have something definite on which to work.

"Although the intentions are to make this number of the magazine theatrical in tone," stated Townsend last night, "other material will be introduced."

MUSIC PROGRAM FOR CONFERENCE WILL BE VARIED

Music for the All-University religious conference to be held during the next week-end will be furnished by a special orchestra and a large chorus composed of singers from the various churches on the campus, according to William Fronk '24, music chairman for the convocation.

In addition, the famous Fiske quartette, negro singers from Fiske university at Nashville, Tennessee, will render a program of old negro folk songs, or "spirituals."

Professor Gordon of the Music school will lead the community singing at the meeting.

Claims Northwestern Co-eds Smoke Less Than Average

Northwestern university co-eds smoke less than the average college women of today, Miss Lucy Page Gaston, head of the Anti-Cigarette league, stated at a chapel address last Saturday. The influence of the dean of women at Northwestern, Miss Mary Ross Porter and the good home environment of the girls she gave as the reasons that few girls smoke.

FARM FESTIVAL AND STOCK SHOW IS HELD ON AG CAMPUS TODAY

FESTIVAL FEATURES AT AGRIC EXHIBIT

Eight sororities compete for riding cup.

Live stock parade, $200,000 cattle.

Six hundred dollars in prizes. Twenty high school parties to arrive.

Sixteen loving cups will be awarded.

Scotch Kilte band and university band.

Band concert at Music hall 4 p. m.

"Show" commences after basketball game.

Greatest annual event of College of Agriculture.

Outsiders Are Here For Event

The entire College of Agriculture welcomes university students, high school pupils and citizens of the state to the Winter Farm Festival and Little International Live Stock show that is held on the agricultural campus today.

The climax of the festival will be reached this evening when eight sororities, 200 agrics, skillful riders, expert teamsters, trained musicians and other talent is brought together at the University stock pavilion to present the Fourth Annual Little International. The horse show will start immediately after the basketball game so that basketball fans may witness both events.

Keen competition is expected in the inter-sorority riding contest for the traveling silver cup that was won by Chi Omega sorority at the Little International last year. Large delegations from each sorority will attend the show to cheer their favorites on to victory.

Prize Horses Perform

Hundreds of Madison people turned out to witness the exhibition drive of the Wilson and company world champion six horse team around the square yesterday. The team is scheduled to perform at the evening show today. Although the clydes are ponderous in weight, they are said to carry themselves as gracefully as a single pair when the sextette is combined in a six horse hitch.

YELL CONTEST GETS RESULTS

Editor Asks Contributors to Send Suggestions on Printed Form

By THE YELL EDITOR

The first day of the Yell contest netted the editor more than twenty-five suggestions. Suitable yells received today and several submitted yesterday will be tried out at the game tonight.

The yells that were received were short and snappy and show that the proper slant is being taken in the contest.

Yells Are Snappy

The yells that were received were to the point. Several of them were lengthy and unsuitable for Wisconsin.

Yells submitted by H. G. which may be used tonight are:

Oh - - - - h
Ah - - - - h
Team Team
Go Go Go

Yah ha Yah ha

Ya ha ha ha

Team Team

Rah Rah Rah

A yell received from M. A. was snappy but the opening lines are not fitting.

Min - ne ha-ha
Min - ne ho - ho
Go Team Go

The University of Chicago's short yell which is along the line sought for this contest is:

Go Chicago

Go Chicago

Go Chicago

Go

A Few Suggestions

Two famous yells used by the University of Illinois which resounded at Camp Randall last fall are:

Che - hee Che - ha

Che - ha - ha - ha

Illinois Illinois Illinois

Oskie Wow Wow

Skinnie Wow Wow

Illinois Illinois Illinois

Wow

A judging committee will select the yells at the close of the contest on March 6 and an award of five dollars will be made for every one accepted. They must be short, snappy and suggestive of Wisconsin fighting spirit, and they must be original.

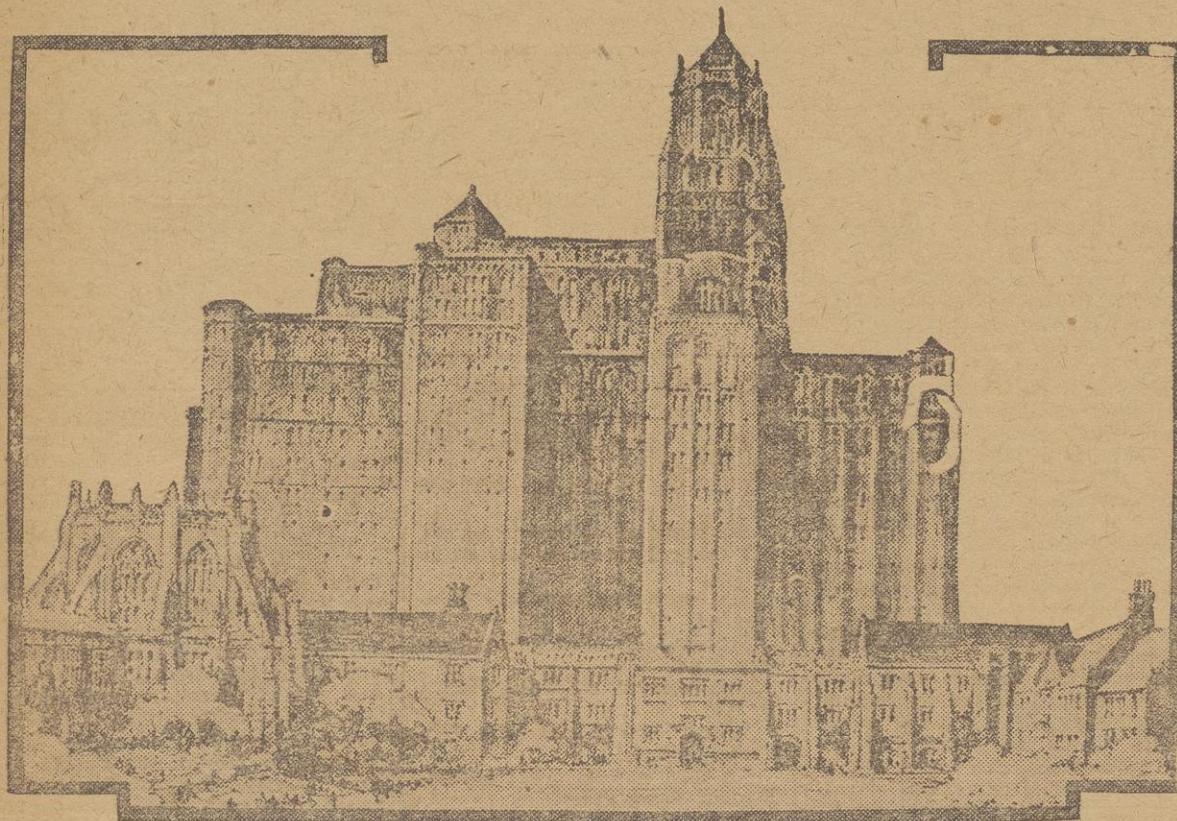

The yells will be tried out during the remaining basketball games. All suggestions should be sent on the printed Cardinal form to Ezra Crane, 622 Mendota court, or to The Cardinal, Union building, in care of the yell editor.

Scarlet fever epidemic has caused a temporary suspension of all athletics at the Michigan Agricultural college, Lansing, Mich. A basketball game and track meet scheduled for last Saturday were postponed until a later date. Many students are ill with the disease.

FIRE!

The university fire whistle blew twice late last night, indicating fire at or near the gymnasium. Fire companies responding to the alarm could find nothing wrong in the neighborhood of box 113.

Skyscraper University for Chicago

Architect's Plan of New Northwestern University building

A great urban university serving thousands of students will be erected in Chicago almost in the center of the business district by Northwestern University.

The university is launching a campaign to secure funds to make a $10,000,000 campus on which will be located buildings designed especially to meet the peculiar problem of its professional schools of law, commerce, medicine and dentistry.

James Gamble Rogers, of New York, has designed the buildings and has proposed an unusual type of university structure. Since the university campus is located where there are high buildings nearby, the architect has designed a huge building of many stories, with a complete system of elevators, to house the medical and dental schools of the university as well as a large hospital. Grouped around this large building, which is ornamental in character despite the utility of its construction, will be smaller buildings of the more conventional type of university architecture which will house the other schools of the university.

Completion of the project will give Chicago the world's greatest urban university campus, it is held. The buildings will be erected on the McKinlock Memorial Campus, named after a son of G. A. McKinlock, of Chicago, who desired to give testimony to the death of his son in the world war. The new campus is located on beautiful Lake Shore Drive bordering Lake Michigan.

The buildings will occupy three sides of the campus, leaving a frontage on the Drive for a view of the lake. In the new university grounds, students of the Law School will only be a short distance from the courts, the Commerce school students will be right in the heart of the business district and the medical and dental students will be near the source of their clinical material.

Gun and Blade to Fight For Guard and R. O. T. C.

Gun and Blade at an annual banquet held Thursday night at the Park hotel went on record as being unanimously in favor of doing all possible to keep R. O. T. C. in the university and to keep the national guard units in the state. The resolution reads as follows: "Let it be known that this body goes on record as favoring the continuance of the present R. O. T. C. unit in the university and as favoring the keeping of the National Guard in the state."

Members of the club stated that they were ready to do all in their power to make the resolution hold good. They intend to fight any move made by the state legislature to abolish either the R. O. T. C. or national guard.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

BADGER TEAM IS PRIMED FOR GAME TONIGHT

To Clash Second Time With Purdue

sin has clashed with the Boilermakers. Purdue eased out of the first contest with a 17 to 13 victory, the result of free throwing by Holwerda, who dropped in 11 out of 12 chances.

Although the game will bring Wisconsin, securely entrenched in second place, against Purdue, in sixth, the disparity in standings will not diminish the fierceness of the battle. The Boilermakers have been handicapped by loss of their leader, Masters. He has been ill and was able to play only part of the time when his team lowered its colors, 20 to 28, before the Illinois onslaught.

Purdue Loses Leader

Whether Masters will be in the fray tonight is doubtful, but his presence would increase manifold Purdue's power. A group of outstanding basketeers represent the Boilermakers. Center Gullion was selected as all-American pivot man last year and he has lost none of his effectiveness. He connected for four baskets in his last game against Illinois. Holwerda is a star free-thrower. Robbins, although a new man, has worked in well and displaced one of the veterans. Eversman is a crack forward.

A "crippled" Wisconsin team presented Michigan with its 16 to 11 nightmare, but a "well" quintet will stack up against Purdue. The Meanwell outfit is in good condition and if its effectiveness is in ratio to its health, the five will set a terrific pace.

Four days of work since their last game have kept the Badgers on edge. The team has been pointed for Michigan and Purdue, and should reach top form during the tilt tonight.

Gage High in Scores

By shooting three baskets against Michigan, Les Gage kept within hailing distance of the leaders in individual scoring records. Gage has connected consistently for field goals. He is also a steady floor man and does much to steady the Badger outfit. Somewhat weak in free-throwing, he will have to be more accurate than ever if Purdue is to be prevented from winning on free shots. In these days of close games, free throws often change the complexion of the game and cause defeat or victory.

Spooner is slated to start at the other forward position. Although this is only his first year of Big Ten competition, he has shown enough stuff to warrant his being placed on a par with the team veterans. Douglas Gibson will be at center, while Capt. Gus Tebell and Rollie Williams are counted to maintain an airtight defense.

The Badger guarding system has a record of having less points scored against it than have been scored against any other Conference team. No opponent has reached the charmed 20-point mark and only one aggregation, Purdue, has exceeded 15 counters.

Other Games Tonight

Two other games will be played tonight. Northwestern goes to Indiana, and Illinois drops in on the Chicago Maroons for a contest. The Purple team, coached by Maurice Kent, a former Wisconsin mentor, beat Indiana in their first game. Long shots turned the trick. Illinois has one victory over Chicago and is due to repeat.

Probable line-ups for the Wisconsin-Purdue game follow:

Wisconsin	Purdue
Spooner	L.F. Holwerda
Gage	R.F. Eversman
Gibson	C. Gullion
Williams	L.G. Capt. Masters
Capt. Tebell	R.G. Wellman
Referee	John Schommer, Chicago; umpire, Ray, Chicago.

Purple Swimmers Defeat Michigan By Large Score

Northwestern swimmers won their fourth victory of the season against Michigan by a score of 56 to 12, in a meet at Evanston. Ralph Breyer, Purple sprint man, easily won his events, the 40, 100 and 220-yard dashes. Northwestern is the next Conference opponent of Wisconsin. This meet will be of unusual interest because the two fastest swimmers in the conference, Johnny Bennett and Breyer, will battle for honors.

STROM WINS MUIR KNOLL SKI MEET WITH 446 SCORE

Sverre Strom, college ski champion of the Badger Ski club, won the meet which was held at Muir Knoll between Wisconsin ski riders Thursday afternoon. Besides winning the meet with 446 points, Strom made the longest leap of the day when he made 100 feet in the jump for distance.

Gordon Taylor was second in the meet with a total of 356 points, and George Martin took third with 355 points.

A summary of the results of the first ten places follows:

First, Sverre Strom, 446 points; second, Gordon Taylor, 356 points; third, George Martin, 355 points; fourth, Dennis Murphy, 326 points; fifth, Richard Plummer, 311 points; sixth, Richard Goodridge, 290 points; seventh, Malcolm Guldian, 249 points; eighth, Clyde Stachan, 228 points; ninth, Oscar Christianson, 225 points; tenth, Kenneth Lamb, 174 points.

COACH COMMENTS ON STATUS OF DUAL MAT MEETS

"No wonder that Professor Jones of Northwestern university calls wrestling a "pink tea" affair when his school has lost five dual meets and all hopes of the conference championship," was the comment of Coach George Hitchcock of wrestling of the department of physical education. "The nearest approach to pink tea is the blood spilled on the mat."

Professor Elmer E. Jones, director of the school of physical education at Northwestern university is no novice at wrestling. He was wrestling coach at the University of Indiana where for three years they produced teams that won the conference title. He previously had won the heavyweight contest from Yale when he wrestled for Columbia where he was heavyweight champion. He also was heavyweight champion of the New York A. C. For some time Professor Jones was champion of the Intercollegiate Wrestling association.

"I am sick of it," he said. "Wrestling now is nothing more than a bucking broncho contest; the fellow who rides the other fellow longer is winner, no matter how poor a wrestler he is."

A referee should decide who is the better man by judging the opponents for aggressiveness, skill in avoiding attacks and efficiency in executing holds and putting the other man in a dangerous position. But now all that the referee can do is to stand by like a chump and give the decision to the man who is on top the longest time."

Coach Hitchcock pointed out that the opinion of wrestling is not what it should be and that if Coach Jones would give his men more science of the game by teaching them to win by falls instead of by the referee's decision, he wouldn't allow his opponent to ride him.

The adoption of the point system in wrestling rules during the last two years has made it easier for the coach to teach. Eight points are now given for a fall and six points for a decision.

"We teach them to pin the man to the mat if possible," declared Coach Hitchcock. "One notable instance of this was when a Northwestern man, Horton, was carried off the mat after a Wisconsin man had wrestled him for nine minutes, 44 seconds.

"I am willing to take three men in the 145, 158 and 175 pounds class to Evanston and pay their expenses, win or lose. To think that wrestling is on the wane is an absurdity. Iowa teams wrestle before 3,000 to 5,000 people."

FROSH RUNNERS EASILY DEFEAT IOWA YEARLINGS

Overwhelm Opponents By 63-26 Score

The Wisconsin freshman track team took the Iowa frosh into camp yesterday in the annual telegraphic meet by the overwhelming score of 63 to 26.

The Iowa yearlings were outclassed in every department except the shot put and pole vault. They took all three places in each event and a first in the two mile.

Zelish Is Big Scorer

Capt. Zelish on the Badger squad was high scorer with a total of ten markers which he collected by winning first in the 40-yard high hurdles and the broad jump. Harry McAndrews, Oshkosh man, won the forty-yard dash and Wisconsin scored a clean sweep in this event.

The Badgers also cleaned the boards in the 440-yard run, the 880-yard run, the 40-yard high hurdles, the broad jump and the high jump.

Badgers Superior to Iowa

In each event that the Badger yearlings placed, they won by a good margin and showed themselves easily superior to their Iowa opponents.

The summaries:

40-yard dash—McAndrews (Wisconsin), Sherburne (Wisconsin), N. V. Smith (Wisconsin), time 4.7 seconds.

40-yard high hurdles—Zelish (Wisconsin), G. Smith (Wisconsin) Kerr (Wisconsin), time 5.7 sec.

440-yard run—Held (Wisconsin), N. V. Smith (Wisconsin), Kerr (Wisconsin), time 56.6 sec.

880-yard run—Butz (Wisconsin) G. Smith (Wisconsin), McDowell (Wisconsin), time 2:18.

Mile—Cassidy (Wisconsin), Thayer (Wisconsin), Canby (Iowa) time 4:50.3.

2-Mile—Bender (Iowa), Lovewell (Wisconsin), time 11 min. 25.8 sec.

Broad jump—Zelish (Wisconsin), Landschulz (Wisconsin), Olson (Wisconsin), distance 20 ft. 6.5 in.

High jump—Smothers (Wisconsin), Oatway and Brown (Wisconsin) tied for second, height 5 ft., 10 1/2 in.

Pole vault—Nefzger and Dauber (Iowa) tied for first; Canby (Iowa) height 10 ft. 4 in.

Shot put—Dauber (Iowa), Longcore (Iowa), Clendenning (Iowa), distance 38 ft. 7 1/4 in.

Many Pitchers Turn Out For Michigan Ball Team

Baseball practice at Michigan is now well under way. A great abundance of pitchers has turned out. Infield berths will probably be filled by the same men that held them last year, one of whom is Kipke, football and basketball star. Three major league players, two of them former Michigan players are working out daily with the Wolverines previous to going to spring training camps.

Iowa's wrestling team won from the Badgers 16 to 11, last night in a contest that was in doubt until the last match had gone almost to its close.

Iowa took two falls and two bouts by decision. Wisconsin gathered two decisions and one fall. Bill Heuer was the only Cardinal man to register a fall against the strong Hawkeyes.

Capt. Johnny Heldt won the meet for his team in a spectacular bout with Bieberstein. It was football center against football guard with the Iowa man outweighing Bieberstein 200 to 182 pounds. Heldt won in 6 minutes and 55 seconds, pinning Bieberstein with a body hold.

The 158 pound bout between Heuer and W. H. Thom was the feature of the evening. Heuer pinned his man in nine minutes with a body scissors, which was applied so vigorously that Thom gave up and staggered off the mat. Thom entered the match radiating confidence and gained the first advantage. The rapidity with which Heuer changed the advantage surprised the Iowa man, and from then on Heuer was the aggressor, with Thom fighting him off less confidently and more desperately.

The lightweight match was fast. Suzuki started the fight early and came near securing falls twice. Pfeffer finally gained an advantage which he held three minutes and 45 seconds. Only pure grit and endurance saved Suzuki from losing by a fall in the last few minutes. Pfeffer had a combination of speed and science.

A three minute advantage gave Gugisburg the decision over Benbow. The 125 pound clash was one of the evenest bouts on the card. The men were on their feet most of the twelve minutes.

Holmes Scores First

Bob Holmes, was the first to win points for Wisconsin. He defeated B. E. Lane in the 135 pound weight

NIGHT EDITOR—FRED GUSTORF

Not wishing anybody any bad luck, but we hope Purdue will regret that they didn't stay away from Madison for another five years after tonight's little affair in the gymnasium.

THE AG SCHOOL KEEPS OPEN HOUSE

Today the College of Agriculture turns itself inside out for the public to see what makes it tick.

Beginning early this morning the eighteen departments of the college will display their wares in the buildings about the ag campus for the amusement and enlightenment of students, farmers, and legislators. The pupils of one hundred high schools have been invited; the legislature has been asked to appear en masse.

A bountiful lot of tricks, capers, and entertainment have been injected into the day's program, culminating in Wisconsin's famous horse show, the Little International, tonight.

The innovation of a college open house, taking the form of a miniature exposition, is a highly progressive addition to the year's program of the College of Agriculture, an addition that could well be exemplary for other schools.

And it is entirely proper that tonight's basketball game should be called a half hour earlier, as it has been, to allow spectators to attend that agricultural open house and the Little International.

Michigan postponed its Wisconsin basketball game because of a conflicting dance, and there was good reason to lament the fact that college dancing should take precedence over college sport.

But tonight college sport gracefully and rightly bows and allows the place of honor to agriculture. There is no lamenting.

And always must the place of honor go to agriculture. If there is one necessity that is fundamental in the economic and social life of our country, if there is one influence that counts more than any one other where our prosperity and well-being are concerned, it is the necessity and influence of the man who produces our bread and butter.

Often repeated is the statement that it is the farmer who makes the world go 'round. The farmer is vital to the country's welfare, and the university becomes in the same respect vital by virtue of being essential to the farmer through its College of Agriculture.

The farmers of Wisconsin know the good of their state university through its agricultural school, and virtually through that medium only. When they cease to know the agricultural school they cease to know and appreciate the university, which can mean only injury to our university since one half of Wisconsin's population is made up of farmers.

One half the population of Wisconsin, ably represented in the state legislature, can advance the university to a position of unsurpassed educational influence and excellence or choke it to mediocrity.

The Little International and the Winter Farm Festival today, besides entertaining and giving insight to student and farmer, are placing the College of Agriculture before the farming public, demonstrating to them its value, and tightening the bond between skeptical agriculturist and university which will safeguard both the farmer and the university.

The fact that college students stood in the back of a lecture room and sat in an outside hallway during the whole presentation of "The Hippolytus of Euripides" the other night—even after an unfortunate delay of 45 minutes in starting—must needs change the tone of one's stock in a modern writer's opinion which reads that university men and women are going to the "bow-wows".

Whether sheer curiosity for something uncommon on the stage and the renown of the actress were the big drawing cards, or whether students really were interested in the tale written by Euripides is a matter of conjecture. A venture

The Orph Owl

By E. H. S.

The small audience at the Orpheum last night was no indication of the quality of the show which is being put on there. It's first class, for the Orph, and ends up in a bang the like of which we haven't seen at the local vaudeville house this year. The Russians, if they are Russians, are so full of vitality and vim that we left the theater rejuvenated. Although a number of the acts fall down somewhat, the average is far above par.

Aeroplane Girls

A unique acrobatic stunt committed by a couple of girls suspended from soaring planes.

Stuart Girls

These bad little school children sing and dance (not much of the latter) and have such a good time themselves that they put the audience in good spirit. The woman behind us aided them beautifully in "April Showers."

Andrus & George

An ordinary playlet entitled "The First Hundred Years."

Monte & Lyons

Two Italians (probably from the East side) who are rather clever with a guitar and mandolin.

Claudie Coleman

The funniest part of this act was the woman behind us. Her guffaws seemed an attempt to make up for the silence maintained by the rest of the house. As for Claudie, her impersonations, especially Woolworth's clerk, were realistic.

Yarmark

This night at the carnival made one feel almost as if he were in Moscow. Spontaneous, athletic dancing, good singing and clean fun. It made us all the more anxious to see Balieff's Chauve Souris.

Editors Say—

WANTED: NO HUSBANDS

(Indiana Daily Student)

Race suicide looms, if the answers of co-eds to the all-university questionnaire are true. According to their replies in regard to future occupation, college women are turning away from the home. Practically every co-ed now enrolled in the university would be a school teacher or a business woman upon graduation.

About 840 co-eds intend to teach. There is a wide margin of safety for mankind in this group because school teachers are always susceptible to marriage. About 90 aspire to business careers. If successful, these 90 are lost to "housewifery." More than 40 seek the life of a journalist. This is encouraging. Cupid's mortality rate in this profession is high.

Only eight admit that they intend to keep a home. There are certainly more than eight college engagements. These facts disclose a discrepancy, or many of the "better halves" intend to augment the family mess fund, or certain male members of the student body who have leased out their pins, have been fooled.

The co-eds may be deadly in earnest about their careers. They are all industrious. Even now, 185 women, or about 15 per cent of them, are paying part, or all, of their way through the university.

We laud their ambition and the ambition of their sister co-eds, and do not doubt their intentions to grapple, single-handedly, with the problem of winning a living. But strangely—of course it may not be significant—the enrollment of the home economics department has not suffered.

either way could not be conclusive.

A recent editorial in one of the eastern papers lamented the fact that the enrollment in the Harvard and Yale Greek and Latin classes had decreased alarmingly during the post-war period. The writer complained that the well-thumbed Greek lexicon was being quickly replaced by the books of less-exacting studious effort.

Whether the pessimistic modern writer mentioned in the first paragraph got his ideas from that editorial or not is another conjecture.

But it is interesting to note that at Wisconsin the enrollments in Latin and Greek courses have exceeded far the expectations of the professors, that students can't get in a large hall because of the crowd to hear a Grecian drama reading, that a packed hall has greeted Mr. Mather at each one his series of lectures on higher art.

One wonders whether students have scrapped cultural education and really are going to the "bow-wows".

ON COMPULSORY DRILL

Editor, The Cardinal:

In the last Octopus there is a poem which reads that drill is great stuff as long as one is not taking it. That seems to be the feeling among a large per cent of those now forcibly enrolled in the military department. Most of the students who are of that opinion feel that military training is a good thing in peace times only for those that want to take it but they resent having it forced indiscriminately upon them whether they wish to take it or not.

One of the claims of the advocates of compulsory drill is that it promotes patriotism and good citizenship, but when students are compelled against their will to train three times a week under the system that is taught here, are those students going to be better and more loyal citizens?

So far as the actual results mentally and physically are concerned they are not worth the hours spent in the armory. A student acquires a smattering of "squads right" and "port arms" but not much of permanent value.

The government also receives little return on its annual investment of $100,000. In war time the superficial training given here is of very little help in getting a commission for the soldier, and the government does not receive much benefit from the crowd of slightly trained college R. O. T. C. members.

If drill were made optional and a thorough course given for those who want it—not a "half-way" course adapted to the ability of an unwilling mob—those who do not want drill would be freed from going, while those who really have ambitions along that line would get a training that would be profitable for them as well as for the government.

A PRIVATE.

DANCE RULE WRONG

Editor, The Cardinal:

The Daily Cardinal and other university authorities are continuing usually talking of cooperation between the university and the city of Madison. Yet the university is astoundingly antagonistic against the city.

When it was announced by the dean that university girls may attend only exclusively student dances, the announcement seemed to imply that university students are too good to mingle with the people of Madison.

Since the majority of dancers on Friday and Saturday are students, the dance hall managers were helpless in the face of that announcement and had to comply with it. But anyone who has gone to the Cameo room will agree that the majority of townspeople in attendance conduct themselves better than do many of the students. At no time there, have I seen any conduct that would warrant any such exclusion act for the "protection of the girl student."

Moreover, this entirely selfish act is working a real hardship on the better class of young people of the city. Thompson's and Boyd's on Friday and Saturday nights are practically the only places where a couple can go to dance and be sure of a decent place. With these dances the graduates, the townspeople and the high school pupils, if they wish to dance must go to the tough dances in the small towns outside of the city—and those without cars are not able even to do this.

Although I have been a student and no longer live in Madison, if this is the way a democratic university uses its power over public places, I renounce all allegiance to the university and will side heart and soul with the city in the struggle which the university has again revived.

Some may reply that only a few city people attend these dances. It is not a question of numbers, it is a question of principle.

No one who conducts himself decently should be denied admittance to a public place of amusement by a selfish body, even though that group may have the power to keep him out.

HOME ECS HOLD OPEN HOUSE FOR FARM FESTIVAL

Open house at the Home Economics building will be a feature of Classes will be at work in all of the laboratories from 10 o'clock until 12 and the building will be open all day for any who want to go in and look at the exhibits.

Food classes will be carrying on their regular work and spectators may have an opportunity to sample scientifically cooked food. They can also see the value of planning the kitchen work so that all of the dishes will be ready to serve at the same time.

Sewing classes will show the dresses that they are making now and demonstrate how they cut and drape them over the dress forms which were made last semester. Costume designing students have planned and cut dresses for different types of women. Batiks, block prints and tied and dyed problems of all colors and descriptions are to be on exhibition on the fourth floor.

Grandmother's old loom will be taken out of the attic and set up in a convenient corner of the living room when the scarfs, pillows and rugs that the students in handloom weaving are admired.

Euthenics club women are going to serve a hot lunch at the Stock pavilion for all the people who expect to spend the day at the Little International. A hot dish, sandwiches, and coffee or milk can be obtained for a quarter at a booth appropriately decorated in the Varsity cardinal and white.

Food will be gotten from the halls and commons, but arrangements have been made to have stoves in the booth to keep things warm.

"Yarmark" Makes Final Appearance Here Today

The Russian super-vaudeville act "Yarmark," plays this afternoon and tonight for the last performance at the Orpheum theater.

Claudia Coleman in "Impersonations" shows kaleidoscopic changes of various characters and the Aeroplane Girls, the up to the minute sensations, display both daring and beauty.

"Annabelle, introducing snappy songs and music, heads the bill tomorrow. Dave Lloyd and Harry Sharpe with the Moore Sisters come again to Madison for a dash of music, dance and songs.

A wrestler of unusual ability, "Jim," guarantees to meet all comers. "Jim" is a bear and will be muzzled for the act. Tuneful songs and violin instruments feature in "His First Lesson" by Hal Chamberlain and Vivian Earle.

The O'Connor Sisters singing popular songs vie with the musical comedy stars for beauty and charm. Two others acts of merit form the bill for tomorrow.

MATMEN LOSE HARD MEET TO HAWKEYES

with an advantage of one minute and 35 seconds. Holmes was pushing the issue all the time, and more credit is due him than the time indicates.

The 145 pound match was one of the most interesting of the meet. It took E. E. Jacobson 13 minutes to win over Hembre. Under ordinary circumstances Hembre would have won in a walk, but he has been in bad shape since the Minnesota meet. He had not trained, only going through a few careful work outs with the coach. Hembre went onto the mat suffering with a sprained ankle, a bruised ear and elbow, and a bad finger, because Coach Hitchcock had no other man to send in.

Hembre Shows Grit

Hembre held a hard man even during the allotted 12 minutes. In the first overtime, Jacobson got a fall in a little over a minute. In the second overtime Jacobson held the advantage throughout, Hembre's nerve saving him from another fall.

Captain Templin worked hard to get a fall from D. W. James, but the latter was successful in eluding the Wisconsin strong man. James got the first advantage but held it for only a few seconds.

"I didn't think we could do it," said Coach Hitchcock after the meet. The coach had the score doped at about 20 to 8 in favor of the Hawkeyes. The coach was well satisfied with the showing of all men.

Summaries

The summary: 115 pound, won by Pfeffer Iowa, over Suzuki Wisconsin, a decision. 125 pounds, won by Gugisburg Iowa, over Benbow Wisconsin, by a decision. 185 pounds, won by Holmes Wisconsin, over Lane Iowa, by a decision. 145 pounds, won by Jacobson Iowa, over Hembre Wisconsin, in a first overtime period, 13 minutes by a fall. 158 pounds, won by Heuer, Wisconsin, over Thom Iowa, in 9 1/2 minutes by a fall. 175 pounds, won by Templin Wisconsin, over James Iowa by a decision. Heavyweight, won by Heldt Iowa over Bieberstein Wisconsin, in 6:55 minutes by a fall.

Score: Iowa 16, Wisconsin 11. Referee, H. P. Troendlev.

"Follow the Directions"---

People who have any care at all for the state of their health would quite reasonably be shocked at the idea of taking medicine without considering the dose required under the circumstances. So no rational being would condemn a medical prescription for not producing the desired results, until he ascertains whether the doctor's directions have been followed.

Now, applying the same degree of common sense to your prayers: if they have not produced the expected results, are you sure that you have prayed in such a way as to make those results possible? Tonight the class in personal religion, which meets at the St. Francis Clubhouse, will receive instruction on HOW to pray. Meeting at 7:30, for all Episcopal students, at 1015 University Avenue.

BIG STOCK SHOW AND FESTIVAL OPENS TODAY

band from Richland Center is due in Madison this morning. The students will give a concert in the stock pavilion at two o'clock this afternoon. Major L. W. Murphy, university band director, has arranged for the university band to entertain the visitors at a concert in Music hall at four o'clock in the afternoon. The high school band is scheduled to furnish the music for the night show.

Parade is Feature

Other features of the live stock event are the $200,000 live stock parade of the entire university herd, the Scotch Kilte band, the 1950 rooster, "Products of Our Faculty" by Agric Triangle, and open riding exhibition classes.

Six hundred dollars in prizes are to be awarded the winners of the various classes. The trophies include 18 silver loving cups, a score of books, two pigs, a Holstein calf, two picnic hams, meal tickets, horse blankets and numerous other awards. Many of the trophies are on display at Loken Brothers, 15 Mifflin street.

Students from more than 20 high schools already are on the ground to participate in the Winter Farm Festival that is to be held during the day. Parties are to be guided in order that they may inspect the exhibits, demonstrations and inventions set up.

Afternoon Program

The original Babcock test, the Truog acidity test, Home economics demonstrations, grain displays, bee keeping exhibits, experiments with plant and animal diseases and charts showing the scope of agricultural education all will be on display.

A short program is to be held at one o'clock this afternoon. Gov. John J. Blaine, Dean H. L. Russell, Prof. H. H. Kildee, Iowa, are the principal speakers. The Richland Center band will furnish the music.

The afternoon is to be devoted largely to the judging of the animals prepared by agries for the show ring and a review of the various departments. The champion animals may be seen at the night show.

Dr. Brown Declares That Place of Soul is Unknown

Dr. Horace M. Brown of Milwaukee gave a lecture Tuesday in Science hall on "The Varying Ideas of Different Races and Peoples as to the Anatomic Habitat of the Soul."

The single soul idea originated three thousand years before Christ from the unexplainable phenomena of flowing water, Dr. Brown stated. Since the development of the single soul idea, the habitat of the soul has been put in a different part of the body by every race.

REGIMENTAL BAND TO GIVE CONCERT TODAY

That the First Regimental band, which is to play at 4:30 o'clock in Music hall today, is appreciated by all the colleges and departments in the university is shown in a letter to E. W. Murphy, band leader, from the Publicity department of the Little International Stock show. In the letter they speak of the fine spirit and co-operation of the band in voluntarily helping them entertain the many visitors who are in Madison for the show.

The band assisted by L. L. Townsend, pianist, and E. Earle Swinney, baritone, will play primarily to entertain the visiting teams and the visitors.

The program will consist of 8 selections and will be as follows: Willis March, "The Proboscian"; Mozart overture, "The Magic Flute," by the band; Beethoven, "Creation's Hymn"; Aitken, "Maire My Girl"; Moss "The Floral Dance" by Mr. Swinney; Liszt Nocturne No. 3, "Liebestraume", Rubinstein, "Valse Caprice" and Lemmens, "March Pontificiale" by the band.

This last number was written originally for the pipe organ but it was arranged for the university band by Mr. Murphy.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB ENJOYS PUPPET PLAY

A puppet play "Robber Baron" which has been translated from the German by Professor B. Q. Morgan of the German department was the feature of the International club meeting which was held last evening in the S. G. A. rooms of Lathrop hall. Other interesting offerings on the program were a trio of German songs with Carl Krauslach '26 at the flute, Otto Toenhardt, '26 at the violin and Irmgard Seigmeyer '23, at the piano, classical songs by Rigmor Konermann '24, a violin solo by Otto Toenhardt and a folk song in costume by Eunice Neckerman '25. German games for the purpose of getting acquainted were played after the performance.

Women Will Try Out For Swimming Credits Tuesday

Tryouts for high honors in swimming will be held in the Lathrop pool for all women who are interested next Tuesday at 7 o'clock. These honors if successfully swum off give 50 points towards W. A. A. and also go for credit for each class in the race for the all-year championship. Olga Anderson '23 is in charge of these tryouts. All who are interested should sign up on the bulletin board in Lathrop.

PROPOSES NEW USE FOR COPPER

Wisconsin Professor Reads Article Before American Engineers

Copper refineries in this country can produce more tellurium and selenium if there is a demand for these unfamiliar elements, said Prof. Victor Lenher, of the chemistry department of the University of Wisconsin and discoverer of the new solvent, in an article which was read before the meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers in New York city, on February 21.

Selenium is chemically similar to sulphur and experiments already made indicate that it might be used instead of sulphur in dye-stuffs and in the vulcanization of rubber, he said. The principal uses of selenium at present are in the manufacture of ruby glass and as a decolorizer in white glass.

Crystalline selenium is an electrical insulator in the dark, but when exposed to light it becomes a conductor, the conductivity being proportional to the intensity of light.

This property has led to its use in many ingenious mechanical devices, including machines for sending pictures by telephone, self-lighting buoys as sea-coast safeguards, and an apparatus to enable blind people to read ordinary type by ear, the professor continued.

Tellurium, now used as a crystal detector in wireless receivers, as a blue, brown and red coloring agent for glass and porcelain and for toning photographic prints could probably, he suggests, be employed in electrolytic plating.

One of the compounds of tellurium will prevent knocking in a motor when added in small amounts to heavy gasoline, but he said it is not abundant and cheap enough for general use in automobiles and a specially designed engine is required.

The W. A. A. auction will take place at 7:30, Tuesday evening, in the S. G. A. room at Lathrop hall. This auction, the first of a series to be conducted for raising funds to establish a W. A. A. cottage, is under the management of the sophomore members of W. A. A.

"Everybody is urged to contribute anything, from candy to hats, second-hand articles, books, brushes—everything—is accepted," say officials.

The Spaulding Sport shop has contributed auctionable articles and it is expected that other stores will follow suit. The auctioneers will be Lib Kirk '23, and Nina Faris '24.

RECORD CROWD AT AUTO SHOW

Thousands View Display at Four Lakes Ordnance
Building

The biggest crowd which ever witnessed an automobile show in Madison passed through the turnstiles at the Four Lakes Ordnance building on Thursday, it was announced yesterday. Between 8,000 and 10,000 people saw the show. Thursday was Madison Day and a holiday.

As during the first three days, the spectators came and went expressing their approval of the beautiful displays that local dealers have arranged.

An orchestra, playing on a raised platform in the center of the building added the necessary touch to the display and the elaborate decorations throughout the building brought many exclamations of surprise.

Today was "Central Wisconsin Dealers' Day" and hundreds of dealers from central Wisconsin arrived here for the show. Invitations had been extended to all auto dealers in this part of the state and as in the past years they respond in large numbers.

Today, the final day of the show is expected to surpass all records as far as attendance is concerned. Today has been designated as "Central Wisconsin Day" when the public in general of central Wisconsin are asked to come to Madison for the big display. One of the big drawing cards today will be the giving away of the O'erland Sedan to the person holding the lucky number coupon that is given to all persons who pay admission. These coupons have corresponding numbers on the tickets and will be deposited in a washing machine and allowed to "mix" for about a half an hour. Shortly before the show closes at 12 o'clock a little girl will be taken from the crowd and asked to pick a number from the thousands that will be in the machine.

The first number will be the winning one and if the holder of the number is not in the crowd, 48 hours will be given in which to produce the coupon. If the holder of the lucky number cannot be found, another number will be selected. This process will continue until a number is picked and the lucky party claims the car.

In connection with the show, radio enthusiasts will be given a treat

BUSINESS BOOM IS NOT STABLE, SAYS RUSSELL

"The business boom of today is not real and permanent because agriculture, the greatest and most basic industry, is not a part of it," Dean Harry L. Russell, College of Agriculture, declared yesterday.

With the purchasing power of the industrial dollar ranging from 90 cents to $1.30 and the agricultural dollar worth only 69 cents, there can be no substantial and permanent progress in business, and the sooner an equilibrium is reached the better, according to the dean.

"Depression in agriculture," said Professor Russell, "is due to the following causes: The abnormal crops of the last three years have caused an over supply on the markets thus depressing prices. Secondly, very little exportation of agricultural products to Europe has caused a small demand and reduced prices in a greater ratio.

Lastly, agricultural products in terms of manufactured products are worth about as much as the Russian ruble, which means that the American farmer after getting a very low price for his goods has to pay an exorbitant price for by members of the University faculty who will broadcast lectures pertaining to automobile development.

At 12:10 yesterday Prof. Ben C. Elliott, professor of mechanical engineering broadcasted a lecture on "Trends and Tendencies In Automobile Development."

Prof. C. M. Jansky, professor of electrical engineering will broadcast at 12:10 today on "The Storage Battery," and tonight at 7:20 Prof. Ben Elliott will deliver his second address, the subject to be "Some Things Every Automobile Owner Should Know About His Car."

These talks will not be a technical discourse but will be understandable to every man, woman or child.

manufactured goods.

"Wisconsin agriculture has not gone through this terrible depression," said Dean Russell, "and as a result our farmers are twenty per cent higher in purchasing power than the average American farmers. A diversified system of agriculture, non-exportation of Wisconsin's agricultural products, and the stability of our dairy industry are the reasons for Wisconsin's supremacy in agriculture and in other lines today," Dean Russell concluded.

DICKSON FAVORS THREE TRACT SCHOOL SYSTEM

"Intelligence tests tend to revolutionize the educational program," said Dr. Virgil E. Dickson in his lecture on the three tract school method yesterday. Dr. Dickson is superintendent of schools at Oakland and Berkeley California.

According to him the three tract school method puts those children who are not able to do the work of their grade into a separate section, and those who can do more than the required amount of work in still another section. This leaves the rest of the class on a par and all able to do the same amount of work.

He also stated that the public schools were a melting pot for the children of this country. Children of different mentalities start at first grade with high ambitions. About one-fourth of the first graders of the country fail. Sometimes they are required to repeat the work three or four times. This starts resulting in failure frequently stunts the child's ambitions in regard to the future.

Dr. Dickson ended with a plea that teachers recognize the individual capacities of children in educating them to be good citizens.
