CIVILIZATION OF EUROPE FACES FINANCIAL RUIN

Dr. J. H. Holmes Predicts Disintegration of Continent

Europe, Whither Bound—towards a disintegration which is insidiously creeping on month by month and year by year, and which will be the ultimate end of that continent, according to Dr. John Haynes Holmes, author and traveller, of Community church, New York City who lectured at Music hall last night under the auspices of the Social Science club.

The chances of saving civilization are becoming darker and drearier ever moment, the currency is going from bad to worse, there is a definite loss of everything called culture, and spiritual death of the countries is practically complete, are the observations which the speaker made while in Europe last summer.

Dr. Holmes arrived in England last June, and carried his investigation through France, Germany, Russia, Austria, Italy, returning via Italy, Switzerland, France and England.

England Called Fortunate

"London apparently has not felt the effects of the war, but in Paris there is an undescribable feeling of tension. Everything in Berlin has a discouraged, run down, shabby atmosphere, and Moscow has by the recent depreciation in money which an army has past leaving rack and ruin in its wake," the speaker said.

"England has not been hard hit by the recent repreciation in money value, but in Moscow the people speak in terms of millions of rubles to the $. Hordes of foreign people are swarming through central Europe, living like millionaires on their incomes while the mass of people are existing on their pre-war rate of wages.

Families in Turmoil

"There is no middle class in Russia," where millions have died about whom we have heard nothing and never will. The same process is going on in Germany and Austria.

Will We Slide or Wade to Class Today?

Singing gaily about the beauties of spring, co-eds were seen Thursday night carefully packing away galoshes and fur coats. Friday morning these same co-eds were seen hurriedly and carelessly unpacking the afore mentioned articles of apparel. The cause of all this is that tempermental weather which has begun his annual trick playing on the Madisonians.

One day we wade merrily to our classes amid much water, sunshine, laughter and exclamations about painting up the old canoe and "re-stringing that swell racket". The very next day we slip, slide, swear, and sputter along, bundled like eskimos. Talk is rampant of the cheery warmth of the North Pole.

But cease worrying, eds, and co-eds! Warmer weather is on the way. The forecast for today is light snow alright, but also slowly rising temperature. Upon chatting with the officials of the university weather bureau we found the temperature was a maximum of 41.6 Thursday as against 26 degrees January 18, 1922. Yesterday the temperature fell to 9.8. The normal temperature for today is 16 although the mean temperature was 22 a years ago. The little dash of mercury is slowly creeping upwards—ever upwards, but don't spend your pennies just yet for mothballs.

WEATHER: SNOW

A partly cloudy sky and probably snow is the weather predicted for today. A slowly rising temperature is expected tomorrow.

HOCKEY TEAM IS LOSER IN THIRD MICHIGAN MATCH

Once more a Wisconsin team bowed in defeat to Michigan when the hockey team lost by a 1 to 0 score in the game played in the lower campus rink yesterday afternoon. The chance to even up the count for the Wolverine victories at Ann Arbor last week was thereby lost.

This afternoon the Badgers will make a final attempt to win one of the four games. The match will start at 2 o'clock. All three games have been closely contested, and Cardinal players will enter the game with added determination to place one win on the Wisconsin side of the list.

The winning tally came in the last period and was made by MacDuff after the puck had been worked down the rink, and after the Wisconsin tender had gone down on his knees in the mix up directly in front of the goal. The puck slipped out from the jam of players, skates, and clubs, and the little Michigan man tapped it in the goal before Wisconsin men were aware of its location.

Shooting Eye Improves

In the second period a Michigan man shot the ball into the net, but a goal was not allowed because the referee had blown his whistle when Michigan was off side. The second period was much faster than the first, each team trying hard to score. The feature plays came in third period, when time after time both teams missed shots at the goal.

Wisconsin showed much better

HARESFOOT TO HOLD TRYOUTS

February 6 is Date Set For Selection of "Kikmi" Personnel

Many varieties of parts are included in the spring Haresfoot show, "Kikmi," tryouts for which will be held Tuesday afternoon, February 6, Gerold Koch, president of the club, announced yesterday. The tryouts will be held in the afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock to avoid conflicting with the concert of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. Lathrop hall will be used for the tryouts.

The plot of "Kikmi" has to do with the episodes of a company of people on board a ship whose captain turns traitor and who after many experiences lands his crew and passengers on the island of the "sheik of Kikmi." The second act takes place on the island.

The chief characters in the plot and those which will be offered for tryouts to university men are Phillip Morris, Isabelle Tingling, Ernest Lee Pettinger, the Sheik, Kiki, Kidmi, the captain, the mate, and others.

Philip Morse, a burning, dashing youth, is the juvenile lead part of the show. He is not the conventional type of lead, but has many comedy lines and plays a semi-farcical part in the show.

Isabelle Tingling as the ingenue has many troubles in her love affairs, but in the last act finds her own "man." Although she has much trouble she is not the weepy kind, but has a rather good time out of it all, and is never caught without something to say.

In addition to these parts there are several others, some of which require special dancing ability, some of which demand a singing voice, and others which are merely speaking parts.

A chorus of 24 will also be used this year which will be eight more than have ever been used in a Haresfoot show heretofore. The tryouts will be held for chorus prospects and those who wish to work on the productional and managerial staffs, as well.

"There are many and varied opportunities for work in this year's show and at least 250 university men should tryout for Wisconsin's greatest dramatic production," Koch said last night.

1923 Badger Takes First Place In Big 10 Competition In Chicago

Hundred Sign Lists Posted in Buildings About Campus

Competing with six other Conference year-books, the 1923 Wisconsin Badger was voted the best annual representing a Big Ten institution at a convention held in Chicago recently.

Iowa, Purdue, Northwestern Indiana, Chicago, Minnesota, and Wisconsin entered their year-books for the honor, Gamber F. Tegtmeyer '24, editor-in-chief of the Badger this year, and Lee D. Hanson '24, advertising manager, represented Wisconsin during the convention. At least 100 persons have signed the subscription lists placed in Sterling hall, the men's gym, and Bascom hall by Howard B. Lyman '24, business manager. Another list will be placed in Lathrop hall and will remain there for the remainder of the month. All students who place their names on the lists will be assured of a 1924 Badger when distribution is made at Music hall this spring.

"We now have 3,900 orders for books," Howard Lyman said yesterday afternoon, "but we want more people to sign the lists. The Badger won first place at the recent year-book convention. Its ad quotas and circulation were larger than those of other books, and it spent more money on the Badger than other staffs did on their produc-

"If the 1924 Badger is to keep Wisconsin in its place ahead of other Conference schools, we must have more subscriptions. The lists placed in four buildings are filling up and after the next four weeks no more orders will be taken."

ICE CARNIVAL QUEEN NEEDED

Voters Already Name 17 Girls For Honors and Prize of $50

Will the queen of the 1923 ice carnival be a university student?

This question arose yesterday with the announcement that only one student has been nominated for the honor out of the 17 candidates already named. Lucille Larson '25 is the only student up till late last night who had received votes. Blanks have been printed in the Madison papers entitling any candidate to 100 votes. One cent must be deposited in one of the boxes in the University and Cardinal pharmacies for each additional vote.

The girl receiving the largest number of votes will be crowned queen during the night carnival on Lake Mendota, February 10. She will receive a prize of $50 in gold. Any girl in the city, whether a university student or not is eligible to receive votes.

Under the cooperation of the city ice carnival committee plans for the university affair have grown extensively. Ice tennis and basketball games and an international boat race in which one boat will represent each country having one or more students in the university have been added to the program on the morning of February 10. Each boat will be piloted by a student.

Next week a button sale to raise funds for the ice carnival will be conducted among the students. Each student purchasing a button will be admitted to all events of the city and university carnivals.

Prom Cardinal Lists to Close on Monday

Monday will be the last day open for receipt of lists of prom goers for the Sigma Delta Chi edition of The Cardinal, it was announced yesterday.

The names of persons in each box, the homes of those coming from out of town, the chaperones, and features and programs for house parties are requested for the editions. Interesting side-lights or "Skyrockets" on individual parties will also be gladly accepted.

Information can be sent to Harold Diehm at 501 North Henry street not later than Monday night. Orders for delivery of the papers to prom boxes or to houses can be sent with the above information.

LAST CARDINAL

With tomorrow's edition, The Cardinal will suspend publication until after the examination period. The Sigma Delta Chi Prom Cardinal, which will be issued at midnight, February 2, will not be delivered to regular subscribers to The Cardinal, but sold as a souvenir booklet. Regular delivery service will be resumed Tuesday morning, February 6.

Outers to Hold Big Blowout After Exams

A real sleigh ride—with jingling bells, frisky horses and everything will be given by the Outing club Wednesday, January 31, to mark the end of the final exams.

Katherine Kennedy '24 and Margaret Henry '24 are in charge. Further notices will be put on the Outing club bulletin board in Lathrop.

Outing club has some skis and toboggans to rent, 25 cents the first hour and 15 cents an hour after that. These may be obtained at 428 N. Charter.

FARMER JURY FREES MINERS

Defendants in Herrin Riot Trial Found Not Guilty

MARION, Ill.—All five defendants in the Herrin riots trial were found not guilty by a jury of 12 Williamson county farmers at 1:55 p. m. today.

The verdicts were read in the following order: Leva Mann, Joe Carnaghi, Peter Hiller, Burt Grace and Otis Clark. All of them are union miners except Peter Hiller who is a taxi driver. The courtroom was crowded when the verdict was read but there was no sign of a demonstration of any kind.

The crowd pouring from the courtroom after the verdicts were read quickly filled the square, and there was no sign of demonstrations. Many persons gathered about the jurors to congratulate them while the defendants hurried to their homes.

The five men were held following the Herrin mine riots in which a score were killed. The mine unions contended that armed guards employed by the mine owners caused the outbreak.

James Weaver, one of the jurors, said that between 15 and 20 ballots were taken before the verdict was reached. The jury deliberated for 27 hours.

"The defendant's attorneys, of course, fel happy at the result of this trial, happy because this may end ought to be the birth of a new era in industrial disputes in America," A. W. Kerr, chief counsel for the defense said. "The defense was directed against the vicious and murderous use of a private army of gunmen. If this trial has taught the lesson well that hereafter the weapons of the employers' private army shall not be directed against human breasts then the trial with all its sacrifices has not been in vain.

"We speak at the moment with no rancor in our hearts, but with a feeling that some good has been accomplished to the American working man and woman if a blow has been successfully dealt at those employers who would bring to the aid of their cause gunmen who recklessly and maliciously seek to foment trouble and disturbance and to that end will go to the length of murder.

"It was the only and righteous verdict which could have been rendered against an army of invaders."

State's Attorney Duty refused to make any statement.

POLICE HOUND HOT DOG MAN

Tamale Vender Having Difficulty Carrying on Business

C. B. Ballard, state treasury agent, has taken up the cudgels for Wilbur Abrams, Madison's hot to male man, who has been having considerable difficulty in doing business on the streets of Madison.

When Abrams used his cart for vending his foodstuffs he was continually being hounded by the local police. Finally he was told that he could no longer use the sidewalks and that he would have to use the streets.

Abrams then decided to purchase an auto and take out a new street license. Yesterday he paid $75 for a license to State Treasury Agent Ballard for a street peddler's license. Last night Abrams was again interfered with by the police.

"I think that the continued persecution of this man is an outrage," said Mr. Ballard, "and I propose to find out whether the authority granted Mr. Abrams to do business can be overridden by local authorities."

The excuse given for chasing Abrams is that he is blocking traffic. If the local police are so interested from that angle, why do they permit one of your big grocery firms to occupy half of the sidewalk on one of the busiest corners in the city. It is also significant that when Abrams stands in front of a restaurant selling his hot dogs he is immediately chased by a policeman.

"I am only interested in giving this man a square deal. He has to make a living. He was crippled while working in a packing plant. The manner in which he was treated by a policeman some months ago was a disgrace. I propose to get a square deal for Abrams if I can."

Treasury Agent Ballard today issued the following statement:

"This is to certify that W. B. Abrams has complained to me that he has been interfered with by certain members of the police department while he was engaged in the sale of his merchandise.

"I wish it distinctly understood that this man has complied with the law, has paid a license fee of $75 and has a state license, and under this license is protected in the business of a hawker or peddler for the term of one year from Jan. 17, 1923 to Jan 17, 1924.

"If any other complaints come to this department that this man is interfered with, I shall take steps to make a personal investigation of the reason for such action."

Railroad Officials Deny Improvements to Be Made

Officials of three railroads operating out of Madison today denied rumors of extensive improvements to be made here.

"The question of improvements here comes up from time to time," said F. J. Zoelle, local agent of the Northwestern, "but there has been nothing definite. Anything said about the proposition is merely rumor. Naturally, changes will sometime have to be made, but as to when or where I have heard nothing, either officially or unofficially."

The local office of the Milwaukee road also denied that any steps toward changes were being taken, or that negotiations for lands in Madison or vicinity were being made.

The Illinois Central office has heard nothing of improvements to be made here.

Officials of all three roads stated that changes in the future were inevitable, but that no definite plans of any kind had been made.

Wisconsin Lawmakers Hit at Klan in Resolution

A joint resolution memorializing and urging congress to enact such legislation as may be necessary to make it treason for the Ku Klux Klan or any similar organization to refuse to submit a list of its members. The demand was introduced in the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature today by Assemblyman F. J. Peterson, Milwaukee.

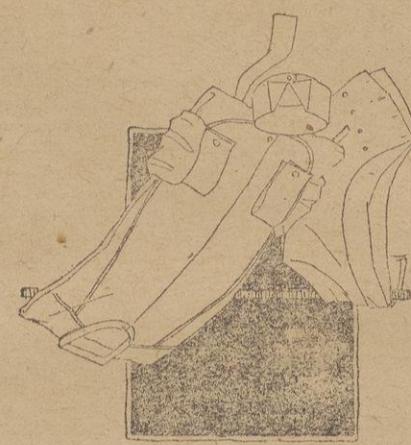

It has been impossible to fix the responsibility for the methods and practices alleged to have been committed by certain secret societies because of the lack of information concerning the membership and officers of such organizations, according to the bill.

Bills Aim At Teacher Fund Law; Highway Legislation Is Sought. New 8 Hour Day Bill

The teachers' insurance and retirement fund, as enacted by the 1921 legislature, will be the subject of considerable legislation during the present session, judging by expressions from senators and assemblymen.

Assemblyman Robert Caldwell, Lodi, has a bill calling for complete repeal of the statute. He would have the state pay all claims of teachers against the fund, and clear the pension system completely off the statute books. A proposal of Senator W. A. Titus, Fond du Lac, would eliminate the section of the statute allowing death benefits to estates of teachers. The bill of Assemblyman Caldwell is offered to completely do away with the pension system. He has consistently opposed all pensions. Senator Titus intends to prevent in the future any such grants of funds as have recently been allowed by the authority board of the fund to the estates of seven deceased state teachers. Their first benefits totalled over $100,000 when payments by the teachers had been less than $1000.

PUCKMEN DROP THIRD CONTEST WITH MICHIGAN

Will Make Final Attempt to Beat Wolverines in Game Today

shooting ability than Michigan, but the stellar work of Comb, the Michigan goal, kept many well aimed shots out of the net. Johnson, for the Badgers, displayed an excellent eye for the goal. On the other hand, Michigan worked the puck down the rink in speedy, systematic fashion, and would have made more goals but for the good defensive work of Tredwell and Mokrejs.

Bob Blodgett broke up Michigan drives many times and did good field work, but could get few shots for the goal. Howy Combacker showed occasional spurts of superiority, and together with Fiske started many Wisconsin rallies. No one man stood out much above another on the Wisconsin team.

Beresford Injured

For Michigan Captain MacDuff, right defense and Kahn, left defense, were exceptionally fast, and they, together with Lindstrom, center, did the most aggressive work. Only through the efforts of Comb, though, was Michigan saved from defeat, since he stopped many accurate shots at the goal.

Beresford, left wing, received a minor cut above his right eye, and several other men were hurt less seriously in the play, which was rough at times.

Line ups and summary:

Kahn	defense Blodgett
MacDuff	defense Mokrejs
Beresford	wing Fiske
Anderson	wing Johnson
Lindstrom	center Combacker

Substitutions:
Haugh for Johnson, Henderson for Beresford, Hosking for Lindstrom, Peterman for MacDuff.

Y. M. C. A. to Sell Second Hand Books

The social service committee of the University Y. M. C. A. is planning to undertake a second-hand book exchange starting January 26 and ending February 9. The exchange will be run for the benefit of all students who have books to sell or exchange, and will be open from 4 to 6 o'clock every afternoon.

Students are being urged by the Y. M. C. A. to take advantage of the exchange service, inasmuch as no fee is charged either to the buyer or the seller. Cards can be obtained at the Y. M. C. A. office for registering of the books, the price, condition of the books and the seller's phone number and address.

Wilbur Katz '24 is chairman of the social service committee undertaking the work this semester, and will be in charge of the arrangements. He will be assisted by Leon Griffey '25, Clayton Bond '24, Clarence Stevenson '25, Swen Cunderson '26, Robert Snyder '26, George Gore '26, and Carl Krauslach '26.

Photoart House to Take Prom Picture This Year

The Photoart House has been engaged to make the picture of the 1924 Prom. This is the fourth consecutive time that the official prom picture has been made by the Photoart House and they have made seven of the last 10 prom pictures.

The first prom to be photographed by this concern was that of the 1914 of which Dr. Al. Torrey was chairman. This was the last "houseparty" prom. The last prom held at the gym was photographed by Photoart. The first prom in the capitol—that of the class of 1917—of which "Chic" Walton was chairman was also made by the Photoart House.

"This year we want to make the best picture ever," William J. Meier, president of the company, said. "In handling a big job like the prom we feel a deep responsibility to the students and the university. We're making every possible preparation this year to outdo all of our past efforts."

Chicago Track Men Plan Three Indoor Contests

The first of three interscholastic indoor track meets which are to be staged by the athletic department of the University of Chicago will be held tonight, together with the Chicago-Northwestern dual games.

The other two meets will be held on February 3 and February 17. Among the stronger teams expected to compete for team cups and individual medals are Oak Park and Deerfield of the Suburban league, and Hyde Park, Austin, and Englewood of the City league. Entries will be limited to two from each school.

GREAT CHANGES BEING MADE IN NEW THEATER

The old Grand theater is being completely remodeled, and only the four walls will remain the same in the new theater, called the New Madison, which will open about February 18. About $75,000 will be spent on the structure by F. W. Fischer, owner of this and 12 other Paramount theaters in this state, including the Majestic.

The new show house will have a large organ, one of the best in the state, costing $20,000. The sound-proof lofts will allow the organ to be played as loud or as soft as desired.

The theatre when finished will be the most beautiful in Madison. The color scheme will be blue and burnt orange. The stage has been made smaller but it is still large enough for prologues and the like. It will be beautifully decorated with lattice work and velour drapes. The floor will be covered with a blue, deep napped Wilton carpet.

A new indirect lighting system, something not seen before in Madison, is being installed. Fixtures are huge and Gothic. The chains will be blue leather with gray standards and backs.

The canopy at the entrance of the theatre will have large announcement boards on each side. A huge electric sign board, 25 feet high will rise from the canopy almost to the top of the building. It will be 3 feet wide and each letter will be 4 feet long. It will read "The New Madison."

The opening attraction will be Gloria Swanson in "My American Wife." The second week George Beban will appear in person in connection with one of his pictures. Paramount pictures will be specialized in, but other photo plays of merit will be shown.

Resolution Defending La Follette Presented

Henry A. Huber, administration leader in the state senate, introduced a resolution yesterday ordering the public burning of the "round robin" letter denouncing Senator La Follette's war record which was signed by several hundred university professors. If the resolution is passed the document will be turned over to the superintendent of public property to be burned.

The resolution has the support of the Blaine and La Follette forces who have control of the legislature. Backers of the measure hold that the letter is an affront to Wisconsin's most distinguished citizen.

The letter was filed in the historical library February 2, 1918. It was signed by many of the faculty with the rank of instructor and above.

Minneapolis Symphony to Give Two Concerts Feb. 6

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will give two concerts in the university gymnasium on Tuesday, February 6. The afternoon concert is for the younger people and the tickets are being sold through the schools. Mail orders for tickets for the evening may be sent to L. J. Picard, 429 Park street. Students accompanying orders with fee cards and self addressed envelopes will receive seats at the special price of $1.50. The program will contain the Overture to "Der Freischütz", Symphony No. 5, in G minor by Beethoven, Prelude to the Opera "Lohengrin" by Wagner, "Peer Gynt" Suite No. 1 by Grieg, Adagietto, "L'Arlesienne" by Bizet, and Symphonic Poem, Les Préludes by Liszt.

LINE-O'-SPORT

Frank "Tee" Young, star linesman on the 1921 Buckeye team, will be lost to the Ohio squad next fall unless he makes up deficiencies incurred in summer school.

Old Eli fans will see a lot of the national game this spring. Twenty-five games, twenty of which will be played on the home lot, are on the Yale card for this season.

The University of Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa, has extended an invitation to the Yale and Harvard track teams to come to their stadium for a meet next summer. A Crimson-Eli team will go to London in July to compete against a crack Cambridge-Oxford squad.

Maroon hopes for a successful track season are booming as a result of the early season showing. Coaches at the Midway think the cinder man will be the best that has represented Chicago in three years.

Kansas university's basketball leaders in the Missouri Valley conference race defeated Washington university, 34 to 16, Wednesday night.

The Iowa State mat men will meet Pennsylvania State college in a wrestling match at Ames on March 30. Seven dual meets and intercollegiates have also been arranged for.

John E. Pitts, assistant coach at the Alabama Polytechnic institute, Auburn, was named head football coach Thursday to succeed Mike Donahue, according to athletic authorities of the institution. "Gob" Wilson, former University of Michigan star, and Douglas Roby, University of Michigan half back, will be his assistants. Wilbur Hutsell retains his position as athletic director.

Madison Man Disciple Of Lady Clafin, Dead

LONDON—Lady Cook, who was formerly Miss Tennessee Clafin of New York, widow of Sir Francis Cook, died in London last night, it was announced today.

Paul Tyner, formerly of Madison, was a satellite of Lady Clafin. He is a "new thought" exponent and writes extensively for American journals. He lived in the sixth ward in Madison.

The opening attraction will be Gloria Swanson in "My American Wife." The second week George Beban will appear in person in connection with one of his pictures. Paramount pictures will be specialized in, but other photo plays of merit will be shown.

Fraternities and sororities that have subscribed to the guarantee fund of the Madison Orchestral association to help defray expenses of bringing the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra to Madison on Feb. 6 are: Kappa Sigma, Sigma Phi, Alpha Phi, Delta Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. All students who have subscribers' fee cards to the guarantee fund will be given a reduction on the regular admission.

WINTER SPORT CHAMPS

Charles Jewtraw, skating sensation of year, and Jimmy Blouin, world's champion bowling champion.

While baseball, tennis, golf and other summer sport stars tug at the leash until their big days roll around again the winter sport followers are watching a new group of stars. Jimmy Blouin of Chicago, as world's bowling champion, is busy defending his title. Charles Jewtraw looms as the skating star of the year. He has already broken one world's record and several other lesser ones.

Frosh Caging Squad is Strong at Chicago

Basketball talent of promising quality has been found in the team selections made by H. O. Crisler, newly appointed coach of freshmen athletics of the University of Chicago.

More than 100 freshman cagers have turned out for practice, and a score of these are receiving the special attention of Coach Crisler. Selections were based largely on the work done in high schools.

With this outlay of material, a crew of no mean ability is being developed. Practice has continued for too short a time for the development of any teamwork, but the passing and floor work, while of variegated sorts, is indicative of results to be expected after a year of instruction in college basketball.

PROM PLAY SEATS SELLING OUT FAST

That "Stop Thief" will prove as popular a play as "The Bat" is certain judging by the mail order sale which is being conducted at the Parkway.

"Stop Thief" is the most notable production now billed in Madison and students and citizens are showing their appreciation and support of the first public performance of the University players by swamping the Parkway office with mail orders. The play is filled with mysterious, thrilling and humorous situations and stands with "The Bat", "Lightnin'" and "East is West" as the most popular offerings of the American stage.

The prom play will be an informal function both matinee and evening, this year. According to Parkway managers there is still a limited number of good seats available, but only an immediate order will secure them.

Greeks Subscribe to Bring Orchestra Here

Fraternities and sororities that have subscribed to the guarantee fund of the Madison Orchestral association to help defray expenses of bringing the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra to Madison on Feb. 6 are: Kappa Sigma, Sigma Phi, Alpha Phi, Delta Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. All students who have subscribers' fee cards to the guarantee fund will be given a reduction on the regular admission.

SOPHOMORE AND SENIOR SQUADS TO WIN TODAY

Doped to Take Honors in Inter-Class Track Meet

Sophomores and seniors are doped to play the main parts in the annual inter-class track meet to be held this afternoon in the gym annex. The freshmen are not as strong this year as they have been in the past and little is feared from the third year men.

The present sophomore team, composed of much of the material from the 1922 crack yearling squad, is one of the strongest teams any one of the classes has been able to produce for some time. The fourth year team, while it lacks somewhat in quantity of good men, will hope for a win through the efforts of several stars of experience.

The meet is in the form of the first varsity tryout and the showing the men today will mean much when final decisions are made of the men who will compose the 1923 squad.

Another Tryout Feb. 9

The only other meet to be held this winter as a tryout meet is the freshman-varsity meet to be held on Feb. 9. The meet this afternoon is open to all men working in track except those who have won track "W's." The fact that many of the Wisconsin aces will not be entered because of their having won letters on the track squad in previous years should make the meet close and exciting.

Present indications show that the sophomore men are likely to compose the greater part of the squad this year. Men from the second year class are entered in almost every event and in several cases are doped to take first places.

Sophs Picked For Half Mile
In the half-mile run, Carter, Hilberts and Valley, all sophomores, are entered and seem to be the pick of the present squad for the event. Sophomores also have good representations in the dashes, distance runs, hurdles, and field events.

Tables Laden With Food

Line Lathrop Corridors

Ailing appetites may be whetted into an astonishing degree of liveliness any Saturday between 11 and 2:30 o'clock by just passing along the lower corridor of Lathrop hall. Dainty tables line either side laden with luscious cakes, creamy mayonnaise, inviting salads and sliced chicken and ham.

The sale is open to the public, and any desired quantity may be purchased from a 2 ounce package of chicken or a slice of cake, to a quart of salad or a whole cake. There are cakes of all sizes including cookies, datebars, cup cakes, Schnecken, and layer cakes.

The sale is run by the Halls and Commons of the University, and all the food is sold at just a little above cost. Many people take advantage of the food sale in buying things for Sunday tea or spreads. It is hoped many more will patronize the sales.

Invite Home-Economics Students to Concert

Home economics students have been invited to the concert given by the Agric Triangle first quartette at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall.

The quartette will take a three day trip into Racine country between semesters to participate in rural community programs given in different parts of the county.

The newly elected officers of Agric Triangle will be installed at the business meeting preceding the concert Sunday morning.

Will Take Exams There Students in Infirmary

The infirmary has thirty-one cases in it at present. A large per cent of these have grippe, but it is not more than usual for this time of year. Five or six students will have to remain in the infirmary during examinations, but for the most part they will take their exams there.

INSPIRED INTELLECTS

THE most perfect relation between people is the comradeship of intellect. It is perhaps peculiar that the mind is more plastic to the impressions of living and vacillating people than to frigid and hard fact volumes. But it appears to be true and this principle is being embodied in the university education of today.

Many prominent universities are realizing the advertising value of nationally known men. Robert Frost a poet of the first rank in the modern school holds a seat as honorary member of the faculty of Michigan at a salary of $5,000. His duties are generally supposed to be that of writing poetry.

He serves, however, the greater purpose of acting as an inspirational incentive to the student body.

President Burton, of Michigan, in announcing his venture, declared that other inspirational men might be added to the faculty of Michigan. A similar step was taken by a prominent southern university which granted a fellowship to Percy Mackaye, another outstanding American poet.

Work that is done without inspiration is not the best kind of work. It may be mechanically perfect, but if it lacks the vital urge of inspired thought it cannot exceed mediocrity.

Inspiration may at rare times come through the printed page of some voluminous text. But it more generally comes through contact with superior men. Men who excite others to high endeavor; men who have a bit of the dreamer as well as the doer in them.

Students understand this longing for some inspiration, some incentive other than the thought of profits or a livelihood.

They like to be told that there is something young, and fine and impulsive about this course that they are taking and that when they graduate and go into the workaday world they are to be idealistic leaders of men.

Note the popular courses on campus. These popular courses are not those in which the most facts are garnered, nor statistics compiled but where the lecturer inspires by his own personality and by his sympathetic interpretation of the course.

It is because of these welcome traits of leadership that certain of the hill courses have crowded lecture rooms. Wisconsin has internationally known instructors who can give that vital spark of enthusiasm to the work that makes a student's intellect respond as much through admiration of the instructor as love of the course.

Every student should have one of these courses before he leaves the university. The value to him cannot be measured. To leave the campus without seeking the influence of these prominent figures we prize at Wisconsin is, to speak mildly, an intellectual crime.

FARMERS WEEK

DURING the lull between semesters the college of agriculture will be staging a week of activity that has state wide and even nation interest.

Farmers Week affords opportunity for the farmers of the state to meet and hear other prominent farmers and breeders. It affords a meeting place that is of common interest to leading farmers every where. The work that students see the college doing is but a small part of what it actually accomplishes.

Holding classes and trading papers, teaching the new scientific methods of undergraduates, ring ever aloft the idea that every agricultural graduate should go back to the farm if possible that is all good work and work that will ultimately count.

The results from such work lie, however, far in the future. What the college does that is of immediate value in achieving results is this work through the extension and allied divisions with the man who is already on the soil. This work reaches perhaps its highest point at Farmers' Week.

The agricultural student body has been asked to remain in Madison during the period between semesters in order to assist the college in this work. Aside from the altruistic reasons for aiding any good work, the students who stay will find that it will be one of the most profitable weeks that they have ever spent in the college.

At this meeting there will be an opportunity to meet many farmers of Wisconsin who will be incentive

Looking Back On Wisconsin

IN THE CARDINAL FILES

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The new steel lockers have been put in the men's gymnasium, in the room formerly occupied by the bowling alleys, which have been completely done away with.

Advertisement, reads "In time of peace prepare for war-use Menges' Toilette Cream now, and insure a soft skin for the winter."

There is a new secret society at Northwestern. It consists of 13 members of the class of 1903, it meets on the 13 of each month at 7:13, and "seems to have no other purpose than to immortalize the number 13." Mottoes are "no mable hearts need amly" and "If 13 is unlucky—we are it." The club is called the "Ghouls".

GRAY DAYS

THE weather man has had too fine a sense of the fitness of things. We suspect him of irony.

With examinations looming the immediate foreground the day looks dark and gray enough anyway without having for the background a sky that is dismal and dull in its grayness.

An hour of sun, however, will drive the gray from the sky. An hour of concentrated study might dispel those gray fears of examination.

I suppose

ALL of

The Profs

HAVE been

Siting up

TILL

Hours of the night

Trying to think up

Trick questions

For Finals

And all we students (beg pardon, who said students) have been sitting just trying to think! That's the difference!!!

You know with all this gore about Wally Ried floating around the front sheet of the yellow journals we have to admit that "dope" has its evils, but just the same we'd like to have a little on these here Exams!

Someone said that the people who sat on the platform at the lecture by Hugh Walpole the other night were quite on their "savior faire." What's wrong with this picture ???

HEARD ON THE HILL
"Are you up in your work?"
"Yah! Up in the air!!!

Ah! Ha! We have discovered a new motto for the Ag. School which we hope will meet the approval of all.

"WEED'EM AND REAP."

You know with all this controversy going on about the "cancellation of the war debts" the Administration has held to the policy of "Hands off across the sea" and Europe seems to think that it should be "Handouts across the sea"!!!

Here's a lil pome
There was a young lady, Gert Nomer,
Who report said had married Bert Homer,
But she was past 32
And she wished it were true
But it turned out to be Miss Nomer!!!

They were eating, they was, or rather they was going to eat, they was, and she was a lil girl and he was a little fellow and he says to her, he does, "Would you like a little shrimp?" and she says, "Oh Gosh Gee Whiz! Oh Gee Whiz Gish! This is so sudden!!!!"

You know

The reasons

These fellas

What imbibe

Always like to play tag

When they get a little imbibed

Is because they like a chaser!
(Oh you chase me and I'll chase you!! Tra, la, tra la, tra la.)

There was a fella in school not long ago what we thought must come from Atlantic City because he had such a "bored walk"!!! (Oh you smarty!!)

Let's see now, who was that guy what called up the "Crematory" to get a quart of milk?

THEM DAYS IS GONE FOREVER

"I drink either gin or whisky, now!"

"Lay off the ether, it's bad stuff!!!!"

Well

All this stuff of Darwin's may be alright, but history tells us that some of our ancestors came from Wales!!!

CENTENNIAL TO SELECT QUEEN

Movie Beauties to Vie For Honor of Opening Monroe Celebration

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19—The motion picture industry is going to have a real queen, elected by popular vote. Her autonomy will extend over the premiere of the American Historical revue and Motion Picture exposition to be given next summer as a great international celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the Monroe Doctrine. She will probably share her regal honors with President Harding, who is expected to be present for the formal opening of the Monroe Doctrine Centennial.

Since the motion picture industry is sponsoring the revue and exposition, it has been decided to let those of the industry select the queen of events for the opening night. The lucky girl winning this honor will ride in state in the electrical parade preceding the opening. She will preside at the opening ball and lead the grand march with the governor or some other high dignitary. She will have a prominent part with President Harding in the official opening ceremonies, and she will preside at the exposition breakfast to be given at dawn following the night of festivities that will mark the opening to the public of the 30-day celebration.

A great deal of rivalry is expected among the various beauties of the local film colony for the honor of presiding at the revue and exposition premiere. It is thought each studio will have a candidate and the keenest competition is anticipated.

Insurance Men Doctors of Business Situations

"A salesman is to business what a physician is to individuals," declared J. S. Knox, president of the Knox School of Salesmanship, Cleveland, in an address delivered at the annual convention of the Badger Agency of the Central Life Insurance Co., yesterday at K. P. Hall, Beaver building. The two-day conference ends tonight. About 150 members of the agency are attending the conference.

"There has been a great change in selling methods in the last few years," continued Mr. Knox. "The old idea was to get the order and make profits. The new idea is to help the man sold to make more profit, to find better use for the product sold."

The insurance men will end their two day conference with a banquet and dance tonight in the cameo room of the Beaver building.

I. And R. Is Introduced By Senator Huber

Measure in Accordance With Platform Promise Is In The Senate

The initiative and referendum is proposed in a resolution introduced by Senator Huber, calling for an amendment to the Wisconsin constitution to give the people of the state a direct voice in passing on legislation.

The measure brought before the senate by the Stoughton senator is similar to that introduced by him in the 1920 session. It was defeated in the upper house at that time but comes before the present administration controlled senate with the indorsement of the governor. It is practically assured of passage.

The resolution provides that no law enacted by the legislature, except an emergency, can take effect before 90 days after its passage and publication.

If within that time a petition signed by 10 per cent of the voters is filed asking that the law or any portion of it be submitted to the people, such a law shall not take effect within 30 days after its approval by a majority of the qualified voters of the state.

An emergency law shall remain in force, the resolution, states notwithstanding such petition but shall stand repealed 30 days after being rejected by a majority of the voters. A two-thirds vote of the legislature is necessary to designate a law an emergency law.

Would Outlaw Prescriptions Says Dry Head

Anti-Saloon League Has Counter Proposals For The Wet Attack

The dry forces of the legislature have counter moves prepared to meet the wet attack on the Severnson prohibition enforcement statute. B. N. Hicks, attorney for the Anti-Saloon league announced today. He is of the belief that the senate is favorably disposed to a strict enforcement of the law.

"When the sun commences to shine on the moonshine, we will have something of concern to the wet forces," Mr. Hicks said. "It was our plan to permit the Severnson law to stand unamended as a satisfactory enforcement statute, until the wets commenced to attack it. Now we may have some measures to make its provisions even more rigid."

While not saying what amendments the drys will offer, it is understood that they are contemplating a section which would prohibit the issuance of any liquor prescriptions. They also are believed to have some measure aimed at soft drink parlors, and a bill to give the prohibition department a larger appropriation.

The general attack on the Severnson law and on prohibition enforcement continues in the legislature. Senator G. F. Czerwinski now has a measure calling for a referendum on the liquor question, beside a memorial to congress asking for return of light wines and beer.

Drys are already aligning their forces to block the wet moves. They will have their counter proposals ready for submission in the legislature within the next few days, according to the Anti-Saloon league lobbyist.

Public Welfare Society Holds Dinner Jan. 30

Reports of the work accomplished by the departments of the society will be given at that time. Reservations may be made at the offices of the society by persons interested in the work of the Public Welfare court.

It was defeated in the upper house at that time but comes before the present administration controlled senate with the indorsement of the governor. It is practically assured of passage.

Governor Blaine today submitted the complete list of his pardons for the past two years, to the senate in conformity with statutory requirements, showing that 31 absolute pardons have been granted, 90 conditional pardons and 55 commutations of sentence.

During his first administration, the governor gave an absolute pardon to six from the Wisconsin state prison, to nine from the reformatory, eight from the Milwaukee house of correction, seven from county jails, one from the industrial school for girls and two from the industrial school for girls.

Governor Blaine's pardons, taking into consideration the larger inmate population of institutions, were fewer than those granted by the previous administration, it was said at the executive office.

CEMENT IS PRODUCT OF FIERY FURNACE

Fierce Heat Required to Fuse Raw Materials

TREMENDOUS forward strides in American industry have developed in each branch some particular spectacular phase that illustrates graphically this development.

In steel manufacture it is the operation of the open hearth and blast furnace. In the manufacture of glass it is the glass blower who holds the interest. Shipbuilding finds its focal point in the launching of some ocean greyhound. In the manufacture of portland cement it is the super-heating of finely ground material in gigantic kilns.

Kilns Tall as Twenty-Story Building. The accompanying illustration shows one end of a kiln used in modern cement plants. In many cases its weight will exceed 275,000 pounds, empty. The foundations that support it are heavy enough to hold a ten-story building. One of the largest kilns, if set on end, would be as tall as a twenty-story office building and a touring car could run through it with room to spare.

Not only in massive proportions is the kiln of interest. A greater degree of heat is required in the operation of these kilns than in most any other industrial process.

"Like Looking at Sun."

Where the materials enter the kiln the temperature is approximately 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. By the time the powdered material has completed its three-hour journey through the 125 feet or more of brick-lined "furnace," the heat has reached anywhere from 2,500 to 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The workman watching through his peephole in the end of the kiln must wear smoked glasses. It is like looking at the sun. In a large plant a dozen or more of these kilns roar and reverberate side by side in one great room. Estimating a single kiln's output at 25 barrels an hour, it would mean that nearly 5,000 pounds of pulverized coal had been blown into it to provide the tremendous heat necessary. It requires 200 pounds of this specially prepared coal to manufacture a single barrel of cement weighing 375 pounds.

T. Donaghey, maintenance engineer of the Wisconsin Highway Commission who addressed the Good Roads Congress at Chicago Thursday.

State Hygiene Tests
Show Increase Here

"Although no contagious disease epidemic has prevailed in the state this year, the work of the state laboratory of hygiene has increased constantly," Dr. W. D. Stovall, director of the state laboratory of hygiene, stated yesterday.

For the past biennium ending last July, 64,768 specimens of material for diagnosis were received at the laboratory, there being an increase of 27,787 specimens from the previous two years. Over 1,200 physicians, representing every county of the state, now use the state laboratory to aid them in diagnosing diseases.

The laboratory co-operates through the state board of health with physicians, health officers, public health nurses, veterinarians and officials of town and school boards in diagnosing and preventing diseases. Chemical, bacteriological and microscopic examinations are made for specimens sent to the laboratory.

The state laboratory of hygiene was established by the Wisconsin legislature in 1903. President Birge is a pioneer in the study of bacteriology and began giving courses in it at the university in 1885-86.

Six co-operative laboratories at Superior, Wausau, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Kenosha, Beloit and the branch laboratory at Rhinelander work in connection with the central laboratory at Madison.

Repeal Esch Law, Demand Of Eber Bill

Measure Says Act Violates Principles Of Good Business

The repeal of the Esch-Cummins law was asked today in a joint resolution introduced in the assembly by John W. Eber, Milwaukee.

"The Esch-Cummins law violates the principles of good business by guaranteeing to the owners of railroads a minimum net return upon that uncertain and intangible thing described in the bill as 'aggregate value of railroad properties of such carriers,'" the resolution asserted, and added that "this grant of privilege is not based on consideration of service reduced but is an exercise of governmental powers for the private interest of that particular class holding railroad securities."

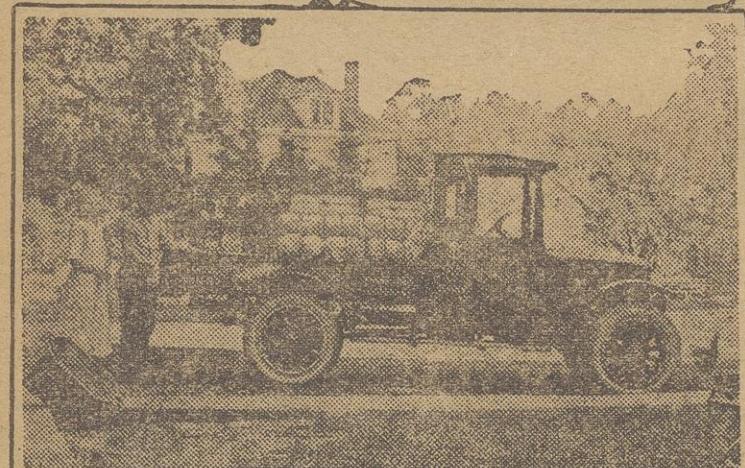

Victor Arnold To Be Arraigned Next July

Victor Arnold will not be arraigned this month, it was learned today. By stipulations between U. S. Dist. Atty. W. H. Daugherty and Hal S. Cobbett, Arnold's attorney, Arnold will be arraigned at Superior the first Tuesday in July. He will make a plea to the indictment of 30 counts charging using the U. S. mails to defraud. The court is expected to adjourn until August at which time he will be tried. The trial may be held in Madison.

NEW FLEET OF SCARLET SPEEDERS LINK FARMYARD WITH CITY DEALER

A new link has been forged in the chain that connects the farm with the city. First the passenger car—now ten million strong—revolutionized the social side of country life. Then the motor truck developed to a capacity which hauls 1,500,000,000 tons of freight one mile a year.

Now comes the Red Baby. It is a high-powered service truck that can speed like a fire engine to a harvest field or to a dairy farm to make machinery repairs, furnish supplies and otherwise aid the farmer. It is estimated that when the service is in full swing it will save American farmers millions of dollars annually by relieving emergencies at those critical periods when delays involve gigantic losses.

Thousands of these service vehicles are chugging through the rural districts from New York to

English Posters Shown in Historical Display

English advertising posters in colors issued by the London Underground Railway system are on exhibit in the North hall of the State Historical museum this week.

The exhibit consists of twelve posters representing places and scenes through which the London underground railway and motor bus line passes. All of the posters are made by prominent British artists of today. Some of the posters are: Honey Lane in Hertford by V. L. Danvers, the Hop Gardens of Kent by Dorothy Dix, and Barking Reach by Charles Pears.

The State Historical museum holds these exhibits every two weeks in the auditorium of the museum, but because of the work being done there the next exhibit on old fashioned valentines will be held also in the North hall.

3 Students To Speak on German Youth Movement

Three representatives of the Youth movement of Germany will appear in Madison some time next month. These representatives are touring America giving lectures at the leading universities under the direction of the National Student Forum and will speak here under the auspices of the Social Science club. This movement was described by Dr. Holmes last night as being a clan of young men and women of Germany who are living away from the world to avoid the terrible effects of the late war.

Ask Marquette Grads Practice Without Exam

Bill Would Grant Same Privilege As To U. W. Lawyers

Law school graduates at Marquette university would be accorded the same treatment before the bar of the state as graduates of the University of Wisconsin if a bill introduced into the senate by Max Heck, Racine, is passed.

In the past, friends of Marquette University have made moves to require that University of Wisconsin graduates take the bar examination before being eligible for practice. Each time this has been suggested, it has been defeated by the legislature.

La Follette To Examine Sinclair On Oil Deal

WASHINGTON — Announcement was made by Chairman La Follette of the senate oil investigating committee upon convening of the committee today that the examination of the property of the Sinclair Oil Co. would be suspended until Mr. Sinclair's appearance Monday in response to the subpoena issued last night by direction of the committee. Chairman La Follette read a statement reviewing the circumstances of the clash between him and Mr. Sinclair yesterday, during which the oil man refused to produce the complete records of Hyva Corporation, a Sinclair-owned private investment company but said he willingly would give the committee any records bearing upon the subject under investigation.

Ag Students Needed to Exhibit Stock at Show

More than 200 animals are available for the show. The live stock will be judged on the basis of the amount of improvement made in the animal and the ability of the exhibitor in the show ring. EUROPE BOUND FOR RUIN, SAYS HOLMES ria. Values of savings accounts and insurance are falling off each day, and the people, mostly the laboring class, are enjoying an orgy of spending. People are selling their home furnishings in order to exist, and when these are gone then starvation will come.

America Does Nothing

"Europe may be suddenly engulfed by failure, but this is hardly probable, and it is more likely that little by little, month by month, and year by year that the continent will undergo a process of disintegration without the slightest chance of stopping it. This process has been accelerated by the French, and America sits by doing absolutely nothing while Europe sinks.

"America has the wealth and economic power, and moral prestige to do this if we had some statesmen who had interest in Europe and the knowledge to crystallize their needs. Senator William Borah, of Idaho, is the man for the job.

"Poincaire, premier of France, knows what he wants, but his policy will crush Europe. The only policy of Bonar Law, prime minister of England, is to save England after the downfall of France. But I do not care to comment on Washington's best minds. The statesmen of Russia are the greatest since the days of our revolution and the framing of the constitution, and in five years, without wars, Russia will be back to her standing of the days before the war. Russia reached the depths several years ago towards which the brigands of central Europe are tending, but the iron rule of the 20 members of the executive council is gradually restoring the country."

Notice of appeal to the Supreme court from the decision of Judge E. Ray Stevens in the case of Gwendolyn Moore against Perry Fess was filed today, definitely postponing the chances of a hearing for a period of at least one year.

Come in and look through the U. W. Prom Pictorial History

It is not for sale, but it is mighty good to look at.

From the very first Wisconsin Prom, that of the class of 1896, to the present — every one is represented in some way. You will find the first Prom program, a paper cover affair, and blue print pictures of the Gym interior, contributed by Prof. Willard Blyer, the first Prom Chairman, for in those days the Junior class president ran the Prom. You will find pictures copied from old Badgers or contributed by alumni, poetry and criticism written about the Prom in the olden days.

Everything is immensely different now, and nothing tells the story better than do pictures. You may "Say it with Flowers" or you may "Say it with Music," but the best way to preserve things to memory and to the future is to "Say it with Pictures" — and the Prom Pictorial History does so like nothing else could.

Drop in and look through it.

The big separate 1924 Prom section will be added as soon as the Prom is over. Official Prom Photographer
