The Future is Now for Neurosurgery in Chicago.

The Chicago NeuroSurgical Center, under the medical direction of Dr. Leonard Cerullo, is now accepting applications for RNs dedicated to the field of neurosurgical nursing.

Ongoing neurosurgical advancements will provide an extraordinary opportunity for forward thinking nurses to be a part of this innovative center of excellence in this exciting field.

We are recruiting for a select group of competent and assertive professionals who have experience in medical/surgical, intensive care, or operating room nursing. Specialized training will be provided.

If your career matters to you and you are looking for a place to try out your progressive ideas, this is your opportunity. In fact, the only nurses we are interested in hiring are those whose dedication to nursing is matched by their ability to creatively participate with an outstanding group of professionals.

If you are interested in neurosurgical acute care, neuro-intensive, or operating room nursing, please call for an appointment.
