The Daily Cardinal

VOL. XXXII. NO. 183

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON, TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1923

PRICE 5 CENTS

2,000 GUARANTY ORDER NEEDED FOR INVITATIONS

Final Orders Should Be in Today

Already 8300 senior invitations have been ordered and delivered, and the orders are still coming in.

It has been difficult for the committee in charge and for the Print Shop, where the invitations are being printed, to gauge the number of invitations needed, as many have come in over the phone. The committee therefore devised the plan of running an ad in the Cardinal on which a coupon was attached.

Must Send Coupons Today

This coupon is to be sent to the Print Shop with the 50 per cent or 100 per cent payment, and if a total of 2,000 more invitations are wanted, these additional orders will be filled.

"It is imperative," said Maynard Brown, in charge of the printing of the programs, "that all orders be in by this evening. We need an order of 2,000 invitations, of which number some 1000 have already been spoken for."

"All supplies are now on hand. The printers have the material for the leather covers and are only waiting for the orders accompanied by the 50 or 100 per cent payment. If the 2,000 orders are sent in by this evening, we can promise that no one will be disappointed in not getting their invitations."

Supply Soon Exhausted

The supply of invitations first printed was soon exhausted. This supply consisted of 8,300 of the gray leather bound booklets, and when this supply was exhausted, many seniors believed they would be without invitations. This additional printing of 2,000 will insure invitations for everyone.

Orders for this year's invitations have already exceeded those of previous years by from 1500 to 1700.

INDUSTRIAL ART WORK EXHIBITED IN LABORATORY

Art work is now being exhibited in the industrial arts rooms of the electrical engineering building, under the direction of Prof. I. S. Griffith, of the industrial education department.

"The purpose of the exhibit is to put before the students their own work so that they can see what the department is doing," said Prof. Griffith. "To accomplish this, we have collected all the available work of the year, and placed it for the inspection of the students, and all others who are interested." This is the first time this method of exhibit has been used here.

The work exhibited consists of charcoal drawings, oil paintings, construction plans, metal work, and applied art designs. W. H. Varnum is associate professor of applied arts under whom much of the advanced work is prepared. The exhibit is open to all university students, and to the public.

PROF. BARRY SERF GOES TO POSITION AT REED

Announcement has been given out to the effect that Prof. Barry Serf, of the French department, has resigned his position at the university. Professor Serf was given a two years leave of absence from the university in 1920 and went to Reed college, Portland, Oregon, to a professorship in comparative literature. He will continue in this capacity at Reed college.

WEATHER: CLOUDY

Partly cloudy weather is predicted for today and tomorrow, with little change in temperature.

SENIORS MUST PASS FINALS

"There will be no special examinations given seniors who miss, fail or are conditioned in finals except in the case of illness, accident, or some other exceptional case which will have to be taken up first by the faculty and then by the executive board," said Dean G. S. Sellery yesterday afternoon.

"During any other semester except the last semester of the senior year failures in studies other than required subjects do not have to be made up, but in the last semester, failures or conditions must be made up in the regular way, by attending summer school or taking the regular con exam when it is given," he said.

"There will be no special exams to accommodate the seniors, and there never have been," Dean Sellery concluded.

HOME SPIRIT TO PERVADE HALL

Architects Strive For Cheery Atmosphere in Memorial Union Building

The idea of a homey gathering place for the university family is stressed in the two sets of plans for the Memorial Union building, which will be explained at a meeting of the executive committee probably a week from today. Memorial hall will be the most striking feature of the building, according to a representative from the architects' office.

The object will be to give the impression of a homelike building that people will be able to come into and spend their spare time in," said Prof. E. H. Gardner, campaign director. "No pains will be spared to make this the living room of the university."

Large Banquet Place

The plans also provide for a large banquet hall which can be used as a dance hall, and for several dining rooms, two to accommodate 400 or 500. If they are approved, it will be possible to have several banquets going on at the same time without interference with each other.

The building, as contemplated, is complex, and several preliminary sketches will have to be prepared before evolving a satisfactory plan.

Alumni Enthusiastic

Alumni organizations show growing enthusiasm for the project according to Professor Gardner. The Milwaukee alumni are forming class organizations with the object of providing a permanent basis for the larger alumni association of Milwaukee. This work is being carried forward under the chairmanship of Willets Pollock, class of '14, vice-president of Second Ward Savings bank.

Alumni are also making arrangements at Marshfield, Wisconsin Rapids, and Stevens Point.

SALE OF BADGERS NOW MEANS CLEAR PROFIT

"The proceeds derived from the sale of the remainder of the Badgers will be clear profit," announced Howard B. Lyman, business manager of the 1924 Badger, last night. "In balancing the books yesterday morning, we discovered that the money taken up-to-date would just pay for the books," added Lyman.

About 780 books remain to be given out, 500 of which have been paid for completely, 250 of which a deposit of $2.50 has been paid down, and approximately 30 which are on sale at $5.

As today is the last day in which the Badgers are to be distributed in Music hall, it is advisable that all those wishing to obtain their books do so at once, according to Lyman. After today, the Badgers may be obtained at the office in the Union building.

Boston Artist Reads Drama of Self-Willed Strength

The tragedy of self-willed strength was brought out in the representation of Stevens Phillip's "Herod" as impersonated by Prof. Henry Lawrence Southwick at Bascom hall last night under the auspices of the Forensic board.

All the dramatic tenseness of classic drama was embodied in Professor Southwick's performance. Herod, the towering figure of old Jerusalem, was first shown as the ruler of human destiny, the murderer of Aristobolus, who threatened his kingship, and who was brother to his wife.

With a wonderful power of contrast, the artist next showed the indomitable force of Herod, wracked with unrequited love for his wife who mourned for her brother. But still more praiseworthy was the consummate skill in which he gave the quick transitions from one character to another. He was one moment the plotting, vengeful mother of the king, then the wily councillor, Gadias, the fallen, almost crazed Herod, the mourning, Mariamne (Herod's wife).

The play was in three acts, all occurring in the same place, court of the palace of Herod. In its absence of all irrelevant matter, the play was a triumph of classicism.

The reader said in his introduction that Stephen Phillips had written his drama with his "Josephus" open before him and that he had owed nothing to medieval sources. While it is called a tragedy, the characters did not all die. In fact, Herod lived about thirty years after the action of the play. Although the murders occur in the plot, these events are stressed only in their relation to the development of the king's character and not as ends themselves.

The whole theme of the play is given in the words of the physician as he watches the figure of Herod in a trance standing before the body of his wife:

"Behold this Herod motionless and mute,
To me it seems that they who grasp the world,
The kingdom and the power and the glory,
Must play with deepest misery of spirit,
Atoning unto God for a brief brightness,
And ever ransom, like this rigid king,
The outward victory with inward loss."

MAJOR LORENZ WILL SPEAK ON DECORATION DAY

Students in the military department must attend the review and Memorial day exercises Wednesday in order to receive their rebate this year.

The annual Presidential review will be held at 9 o'clock Wednesday on the lower campus. All members of the cadet corps are required to attend the review and the exercises on Lincoln terrace or receive an incomplete for the year's work, which will prevent them from receiving their rebate.

The Memorial day exercises at 10 o'clock will be addressed by Major William F. Lorenz, head of the state psychiatric institute. Major Lorenz was awarded the congressional Distinguished Service Medal last year. Last week the announcement of the discovery by Dr. Loevenhart and Major Lorenz of Trypsamid, a serum to cure parisis in early stages and other social diseases, was made.

The cadets will march to Lincoln terrace in formation. They will form on the lower campus exactly as they formed for the military department review.

The rebate will not be paid this week as was formerly announced, but will be given out some time next week. The Freshman rebate will amount to between $17 and $18. The Sophomores will be paid off first if the present system is continued.

TREASURER CALLS FOR SENIOR CLASS DUES

"A little over one-fourth of the members of the senior class have sent in their class dues, and we hope that the rest of the class will contribute soon," stated Hugo L. Rusch, class treasurer.

"We have sent out 16,025 letters about a week ago, and we hope that every one will take an interest in this matter and will send in their contributions promptly."

The assessment for the class of 1923 is $5. This amount is to cover three items.

Following the precedent of the classes of 1921 and 1922, the senior class this year voted to join the Alumni association, $2 of the dues covering the dues of the alumni association. The remaining $3 will be allotted to the class memorial and the class reunion fund.

The class this year will contribute to the fund for the purchase of the chimes for the university as their class memorial. This has been the custom of graduating classes since 1916, when the chimes fund was started. A part of the dues will go to this fund, and a part will go to the class reunion fund.

GILLEN BACK FROM MEETING

Professor Tells of Conference of Social Workers at Washington

Prof. J. L. Gillin, of the department of sociology, has just returned from Washington where he took an active part in the National Conference of Social Workers which was held there from May 6 to 23.

The conference was the fiftieth anniversary meeting and was attended by more than 4,000 persons. No hall could be found in the national capital large enough to accommodate all at one meeting.

Members Meet Harding

Members of the conference had an opportunity to meet President and Mrs. Harding when the White House grounds were opened to the conference for an afternoon.

Among the prominent speakers at the general meetings held in the evening were Herbert Hoover, Frank O. Lowden, ex-governor of Illinois, and Dean Roscoe Pound of the Harvard Law School. Professor Gillin characterized Dean Pound's speech on "Preventive Justice and Social Work" as one of the greatest addresses of the conference.

Professor Gillin who represented the university at the section meetings of the Association of Training Schools for Social Work besides serving on various other committees said that the university's progress in this line which he explained to the meeting was given approval as the most successful.

W. A. A. BANQUET PLACE CHANGED

The W. A. A. banquet which was to have been held in the Woman's building at 6 o'clock this evening, will be held in the dining room of the Lutheran Memorial church, University avenue.

Aside from having the usual speeches and toasts, the committee in charge has planned a very novel and timely stunt which will be presented in the middle of the evening.

Dean Nardin and Miss Blanche Trilling will speak, while one girl from each class will give a toast. Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from Ruth Klinger, Barnard hall. They are $1.

Seniors' Last Chance Today to Order Caps and Gowns

Today is the last day on which seniors may order their caps and gowns according to the Co-op, where orders are being taken. Up until yesterday noon only about 1,000 seniors had placed their orders.

UNIVERSITY AND CITY PLAN FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Prexy Will Review Cadet Corps

Memorial day services will begin at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning with a review of the University Cadet corps by President Birge on the lower campus which will be followed by services before the Lincoln monument at 10 o'clock.

Major Ray S. Owen, Commander of the University post of the American Legion, will preside at the Memorial services.

City Services

Memorial day services for the city of Madison will be held in the University armory this year instead of at Camp Randall as the custom has been. Members of Gun and Blade will convene at the Memorial Union Building Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock for the purpose of marching with the American Legion post of the city. They are requested to be in full uniform.

Any member of Gun and Blade or ex-service man of the University is requested to march in the morning parade with the American Legion post of the University.

University Program

The program for the university will begin promptly at 10 o'clock with a march of the cadet corps to their position on the Lincoln terrace with Major John S. Wood in command.

The guests of honor are the Gold Star mothers and Civil War veterans. They will be escorted to their seats by members of the university post of the American Legion.

AGRIC STUDENTS GIVE FRENCH DRAMA 'PASTEUR'

"Pasteur," a play written by Sacha Guitry, famous French playwright, will be presented at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the home economics auditorium by students majoring in agricultural bacteriology under Dr. D. W. Frost and Dr. Freda M. Bachmann.

The play is given in celebration of the centennial of Louis Pasteur, famous French scientist, often called "the father of modern bacteriology." This play was presented on Broadway this spring and made a decided hit. Henry Miller, famous American actor gave Broadwayites a new sensation in his portrayal of the character of Pasteur, according to Percy Hammond, national dramatic critic.

The character of the renowned man of science will be read tonight by Dean H. L. Russell of the Agricultural college who studied at the Pasteur institute in Paris when Pasteur was still an active member.

The caste of readers for the performance tonight includes: Virdelle Simpson '23, Elsbeth Hennecke '23, Helen Keator '23, Kathleen Dietrich '23, Ethel Metz '23, Hester Martin '23, Margaret Hile '24, Aileen Thiesen '25, Marie Lottes grad, Edith Haynes grad, and Elder Martin. Mrs. Arthur Beatty, well-known local reader, has coached the caste.

NO ISSUE THURSDAY

Because of the Memorial day holiday tomorrow, there will be no issue of The Cardinal on Thursday morning. Regular service will be resumed Friday, and the final Cardinal for the year will be published on Sunday morning.

FORD LEADS IN COLLIER POLL

Tabulations Give Harding Second Place and McAdoo Third

Henry Ford is leading in the poll being conducted by Collier's Weekly among its readers for the candidate for president. Collier's in the current issue says:

THE first week's tally of votes in Collier's personal face-to-face canvass of its readers has been received and tabulated.

Henry Ford leads with 5,547 votes, Warren G. Harding is second with 4,460.

Next on the list, but a noticeable distance behind the leaders, are: William G. McAdoo, 1,693.

Hiram Johnson, 1,409.

James M. Cox, 1,335.

Charles E. Hughes, 1,147.

Governor "Al" Smith of New York, Senator La Follette, and Herbert Hoover have each received less than 1,000 votes so far. Woodrow Wilson is remembered with 245 votes.

The distribution by states of the ballots counted is as perplexing as the national summary.

In Michigan Mr. Ford received 787 votes to 330 for Mr. Harding, with Senator Johnson running third. That is Mr. Ford's own state; but in Ohio, Mr. Harding's, Henry is still a strong favorite.

The surprising vote for Mr. Ford in the Solid South may be cast with reservation. Perhaps it means that these folks would vote for him on condition that he run on the democratic ticket. But 271 votes for Ford in Georgia, as against 107 for McAdoo and only 59 for Underwood, sounds very much like something.

Pennsylvania and Connecticut, not New York, show the greatest lead for Harding over Ford. Why? Also why should Harding run ahead of "Al" Smith and, in fact, come near equaling the combined democratic vote in New York state? Can it be that New York democrats don't know the nice things we have been saying about the governor?

And how comes it that Ford's vote in California comes pretty near equaling the combined vote for Harding and Hiram Johnson?

No, it wouldn't be safe to attempt much analyzing yet. This is only the first batch of returns. Next week we'll have another; 1,020 Collier's agents are in the field, asking our subscribers personally whom they want for president.

300 EXTRA HAREFOOT SCORES ON SALE TODAY

Three hundred extra copies of the musical score of this year's Haresfoot show "Kikmi" arrived yesterday and are on sale today at Hook's Music store and the University Music shop.

In response to the demand for scores from persons who were unable to secure books at the Haresfoot performances, the extra copies have been ordered. One hundred names are now on the waiting list at music stores. Those persons are to call for their books today.

The scores will sell for the regular price of $1.

Apiculture Library Will Be Dedicated Here at Meet

The dedication of the C. C. Miller Memorial library will take place during the annual State Beekeepers meet and conference which will be held at the College of Agriculture here the week beginning August 13, and ending August 17.

This library is in memory of Dr. Miller of Marengo, Ill. The agricultural library here was deemed by his friends as the best place for an outstanding collection of bee literature. The library will be the most complete collection on the subject of apiculture in America.

Problems confronting Badger beekeepers will be taken up during the first part of the conference. On Friday the program will be a testimonial of Dr. Miller. The last day of the conference, a pilgrimage will be made to Dr. Miller's home.

Czecho-Slovakian Students to Send Exchange Paper

The paper published by The National Union of Czecho-Slovakian students, at the University of Prague in Czecho-Slovakia, has arranged with the Daily Cardinal for exchanges during the coming school year. This is the farthest afield that the Cardinal has yet travelled and the paper published by fellow-students in the struggling country of Czecho-Slovakia should prove very interesting to Badgers.

FORMER STUDENT WINS $500 IN MOVIE CONTEST

A former University student, C. C. Hills, was announced winner of the $500 second prize in the Chicago Tribune Movie contest. This contest, open to everyone, consisted in selecting from the group of half-faces of movie stars, that appeared in the Sunday edition, of the Tribune for over two months, head of some celebrity of filmdom, and in identifying the star's features.

Hills disclaims that he is a fan of the silver screen, but says that he has "always been interested in studying the characteristics, appearance, and methods of the various actors and actresses who have been prominent on the screen."

While in the University, Hills was a student in the College of Agriculture, and was a member of the D. K. E. fraternity. He graduated in 1920, and is now employed in the real estate loan dept. of the Chicago Trust co.

Postoffices Here Will Close Memorial Day

The main postoffice, station A and the University station will be closed all Memorial Day, Wednesday. No mail deliveries for city or rural districts will be made. Parcel post deliveries will be made in the morning and all during the day on perishable parcels and on special delivery letters. Incoming mail for lock boxes will be distributed and outgoing mail will be dispatched as usual. The usual holiday collections will be made at the boxes.

Madison Ministers To Postpone Election

The Madison Ministerial union will not hold a bi-weekly meeting Tuesday, the meeting of two weeks ago having been the last for the season. No more meetings are scheduled until next fall, according to the Rev. L. C. Viel, secretary.

Wisconsin Players initiation and banquet at 6 o'clock Thursday in the Woman's building.

Twenty Boy Scouts Awarded Merits By A Court Of Honor

Twenty Madison Boy Scouts were awarded merit badges at a Court of Honor held in the scout headquarters Saturday.

Many different kinds of merits were awarded. Boys awarded the badges were; Stanley Nebel, Albert Sargeant, Fred Sargent, Harold Williams, Clarence Batcheller, Kenneth Ryden, Ingwald Saboe, John Schutt, Elmer Manthe, Harold Oltz, George Baikie, Walter Miller, Ralph Schwartz, William Glasgow, John Hovey, Ted Holstein, David Meyers, Amos Ways, Paul Austin, and Ralph Peterson.

A rank of first class scout was conferred upon Hayden Jones and Fred Sargeant. Francis Koivan and Martin Ray were made second class scouts.

All business places in the city will be closed all day Decoration day, Wednesday. This will include grocers and other food stores.

No Lectures But Daily Conferences

At Babson Institute they make a business of teaching business to college trained men who wish to fill positions of responsibility and and trust without spending years at routine work.

Standard office equipment throughout. No classes or lectures, but a business schedule of work from 8:30 to 5:00 o'clock, including daily conferences directed by men with years of business experience, and discussions with active factory and office executives at their plants. This removes the instruction from the hypothetical stage and helps the student to look at things in the same light as a man actually engaged in business.

Babson Institute, an educational institution endowed for the purpose of fitting men for executive responsibilities, invites you to send for the booklet, "Training for Business Leadership." Write today.

BADGER TRACK SQUAD STARTS ON LAST RACE

Cinder Men Look to Conference Meet

Starting in on their last lap of practice before the Conference meet which will be held at Ann Arbor, Mich., this week-end, Badger track men again took up their work at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon after a short rest.

Because the annual state interscholastic meet was held at the Camp Randall track last Saturday, the team was unable to take a regular workout. The distance men ran after the meet was over.

Have Won Two Meets

With a period of two weeks almost uninterrupted drill behind them, the Badgers should account for themselves favorably in the conference meet. They have won two dual meets this spring and dropped one.

Both Chicago and Minnesota took drubbings at the hands of the Badgers, but the strong Illinois team turned the trick neatly and won from Wisconsin by a large score.

Dope Favors Illini

Dopesters pick Illinois as a favorite in the Conference classic because of the strong showing the Illini made against both Michigan and Wisconsin. Michigan had been looked upon as a probable winner all season until they met Illinois when they were handily trimmed by an 80 to 55 score.

While comparative scores indicate that Michigan is stronger than Wisconsin by about 10 points, there may be a lively race between the two teams before second place is decided. Iowa has an excellent chance to finish near the top, and both Chicago and Minnesota showed ability against Wisconsin which, with a few breaks in their favor, might push them into the lead.

SIGMA PHI EPS TRIM DELTA SIGS BY 23 TO 3 SCORE

The Sig Phi Epsilons easily ran away with their baseball game against the Delta Sigs on the lower campus yesterday afternoon by a 23 to 3 score and clinched third place in the inter-fraternity league.

Starting out in the first inning Haugen of the Sig Eps clouted a home run with two on bases. In the next inning the winning team continued on their rampage and added eight more counters to their string of runs.

In the third inning the Delta Sigs came back and held the Sig Eps scoreless and managed to gather two runs for themselves. The Sig Eps gathered in their other run in the eighth inning.

The Sig Phi Epsilon batteries were Jacobson and Montgomery and Christianson and Herried for Delta Sig. Jacobson struck out seven men while Christianson only fanned three.

By the winning of this game Sig Phi Epsilon has placed itself into third place in the fraternity league while Delta Sig is in fourth place.

SENIOR WOMEN TAKE GAME FROM FRESHMEN

In a hotly contested baseball game at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon the freshmen women lost to the seniors by a score of 18 to 20. Emma Stevning '23, who has been injured, was back on the mound. The juniors have a chance to cinch the championship by winning their final game from the seniors.

COUNTY TRACK MEET ENTRIES NUMBER 500

Final entries of approximately 500 rural, graded, and parochial school children representing 35 townships and nearly 200 schools have qualified through elimination play day contests for the first annual health and play day to be held at Vilas park, June 1, under the auspices of Agric Triangle Country Life club of the College of Agriculture.

The meet is considered the most representative affair ever conducted by officials of the Dane county public school and health departments. Clem Weyker '25, president of Agric Triangle, is chairman of the field day.

The entries for the various sports and the students in charge of the events include the following: Art Hagen, for the tug of war, 36, three legged race, 70, and the 15 yd. wheel barrow race, 70; Harold Lathrop, for the baseball games, 36; Everal Perkins, for the potato race, 36; George Helfz, for the high jump, 25 and broad jump 25, and teachers throw ball, 35.

FINAL FOOTBALL PRACTICE HELD

Ryan Puts His Men Through Kicking and Punt Practice

In the final football practice of the year held last Thursday, Coach Jack Ryan held a kicking contest. The men who placed first in each department will be awarded gold charms.

The judges of the contest were Coach Ryan, T. E. Jones, and Bob Duncan, a former assistant to John Richards.

The kicks were judged according to distance, form, and placing. In the drops Radke took first, Goodlad second, and Blackman third. Below, captain of next year's squad, was awarded first in kicks from placement, Carlson got second, while Holmes and Brumm tied for third. Taft of last year's squad showed marked ability in the punts and copped first place, Radke got second, and Stangel placed third. These men have shown marked improvement under the direction of Coach Ryan, and next year they should show some good stuff.

Linemen Given Training Although a great deal of the time this spring was given to developing kickers, some time was used in training the linemen. Coach Ryan gave them some pointers in starting, distance in the line, and tackling. Most of the men have had little football experience, but they have stayed with the stuff shown them and with a little experience will develop into football players with ability. There were not enough men reporting to make scrimmaging possible, therefore tackling, kicking and line drill were the most common things taken up by the coach.

Practice will be resumed early next fall. During the summer months the coach urges that the men keep in fair condition, so that when practice starts no time will be wasted in getting them in playing form. He has also given them a few exercises to go through this summer which will help them a great deal.

WISCONSIN GOLF TEAM TAKES CHICAGO MEET

CHICAGO, Ill., May 28.—The University of Wisconsin golf team took a close meet from Chicago today by an 11 to 10 score.

The baseball champions of Indiana play the Badgers at Camp Randall at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Butler college won the Indiana title last Friday by defeating Wabash college, 7 to 6 in a game played at Indianapolis.

Pat Page's nine lost only two games in a long schedule so far this season. Illinois won from the Bulldogs 5 to 1, and Franklin college got the other game but later lost by a decisive count.

Win From De Pauw

Butler defeated De Pauw university last Tuesday, Wabash on Friday and they played Chicago yesterday. As far as condition goes Butler and Wisconsin will be on a par in today's contest, as the Cardinal team played two games and made a trip over the week end.

Middleworth, Nipper, and Leslie, three of Coach Page's big guns are stars in three sports. These three men figured largely in the defeat of the Blue handed Wisconsin's basketball team in a preliminary game last winter.

Schrenk May Start

Coach Lowman intimated last night that he would use all of his pitchers in this non-conference game. As Johnson pitched the win against Minnesota Saturday, he will not likely get the starting assignment, which may fall to Schrenk or Radke.

Butler has three star twirlers who have been turning in victories this season. Staton is the ace of the staff, and was in action against Wabash last Friday, but will probably be used again today, for Slaughter, the second best pitcher, was scheduled to hurl against the Maroons yesterday. Ewing is the other Bulldog slant artist. He is little more than a high school kid but it is reported that the boy is good. At any rate, Lowman's clan will bump into some real pitching.

Workout for Varsity

The Varsity took a snappy but comparatively easy workout yesterday afternoon. Batting practice received the greatest stress. Lowman has developed a green team into a first rate hitting outfit. Twice they have hammered the great Friedl of Minnesota for victories and Arnt of Chicago was sent to cover by a volley of blows which included two home runs. Holm seems to have recovered from his batting slump, while Tebell, Servatius and Combacker have been consistently pounding the ball throughout the season.

Lowman has been shifting his lineup around quite a bit in the last few games so that it is not

NUMERALS OR "aWa's"?

An Editorial

In all probability the members of the second Varsity crew will be awarded numerals for their strenuous work with the shells this spring. Are numerals a sufficient reward?

In the race against St. John's last Saturday the second crew finished three-quarters of a boat length behind the academy team which covered the course in approximately 7 minutes, 4 seconds. The Varsity, racing against the Duluth Boat club, crossed the line nearly three boat lengths behind the northern eight. Duluth's time was 6 minutes, 55 seconds. It is evident that the Varsity and second crew are almost on a par. The second eight does work comparable to that of football "aWa" men.

The members of the second crew deserve more than numerals which are awarded to members of class teams. They deserve at least "aWa's". Can't they have them?

BETAS WIN CUP IN FRAT LEAGUE

Beat Tekes By 8 to 7 Score; Tekes Take Second in League

By slamming out a homer in the ninth with two men on, Coleman, pitching ace, won the final inter-fraternity baseball game from the Tekes Sunday and incidentally clinched the cup and the championship for his team. The final score was 8 to 7.

The game was a thriller from the start with both pitchers hurling good ball and each receiving good support.

Smith, pitching for the Tekes, had the Betas well in hand for the first six innings and was still going strong in the seventh when a batted ball dislocated his thumb. He gamely finished the contest, but the accident had a telling effect on his pitching and the ninth frame proved his undoing.

Coleman's Pitching Strong

The Tekes started on a hitting rampage in their half of the first and four men dented the plate before Coleman, pitching for the Betas, could retire them. He worked well during the remainder of the fray, however, and more than made up for his early failure.

The Tekes nine led during the entire game until the unlucky ninth, and were ahead by a 7 to 5 score when the Betas went to bat. Two men got bases and Coleman tapped Smith's delivery for long circuit clout scoring the necessary counters to win the game. The Tekes rest in second place in the league.

Batteries—Betas, Coleman and Torrison. Tekes, Smith and Durham.

definitely known who will fill the outfield berth and the pitching slab. Williams has been in left field all season but went to center-field in the last Gopher struggle.

Johnson will likely be saved for the twirling in the Michigan game here Saturday, although he may get a fielding job because of his hitting ability. Slaughter, Butler pitcher sometimes plays right field when he isn't on the slab.

NORMAL TRACK MEET TO BE HELD HERE ON FRIDAY

Contest Promises Some Speed

Owing to the conflict with the Michigan-Wisconsin baseball game, the athletic directors of the state normal schools have voted to change the date of the state championship track and field meet of the Wisconsin Athletic conference from June 2 to the preceding day, Friday, June 1.

This year's meet promises to be one of the fastest track meets, outside of the varsity competition, ever held in Wisconsin, and the normal directors believe that the university body will recognize this fact and support the meet this year, now that it does not conflict with any university athletic engagement. Last year the normal meet drew $29.50 at the gates.

1922 Meet Good

Yet the normal conference meet of 1922 was marked by a high standard of athletic performances in almost every event. The normal athletes in their meet bettered the records made by the state colleges, the so-called "Little Five," in eleven out of thirteen events common to the two programs, and tied the collegians in the 100-yard dash, both being run in ten seconds. In most of the events, the margin of superiority of the teacher training schools, judged by the records, was a wide one.

Milwaukee Normal won the championship in 1922, for the third time in four years, incidentally breaking seven track records in the bargain. La Crosse won a majority of the points in the field events and finished in second place. This year, the title seems again to lie between these two schools, with the prospect that the struggle will be much closer than a year ago.

Milwaukee Loses Stars

Coach George Downer of Milwaukee has lost by graduation men who scored 45 out of the 59 points which his team won last year, but he seems to have developed another strong team this season, while from La Crosse come reports of the best team that "Tubby" Keeler has ever had. Oshkosh has some good material. The same goes for Stevens Point, which captured the championship in 1920, while Eau Claire, River Falls, and Stout Institute, though not seriously considered by the dopesters, have some athletes of first rank and will win many points and complicate the figuring.

CREWS START PREPARING FOR SECOND RACES

With the first race of the season a thing of the past, the varsity crew again took to the lake yesterday in preparation for a strenuous siege this week, in the hope of bettering their condition which at present is slightly below par.

Lack of practice was plainly evident in the race with the Duluth Boat club last Saturday. The varsity crew kept pace with the northerners until the finish, but when a spring was necessary at the end, they could not do it, and the northern crew forged ahead, crossing the finish line two and one half lengths ahead of the varsity shell.

On Saturday of this week the second crew will race the crew of Cui-ver military academy. They will leave here Thursday, arriving there Friday, and necessarily will have to make use of every spare moment before that time.

BLUNDERING ALONG

We have our Homecoming, Junior prom, Military ball, horse show, Interscholastic, organization and publication work in perpetual rotation and still year after year we blunder along making the same mistakes that proved costly the year before.

Graduation or accession to higher positions inevitably take the men who know thoroughly the problems of their organizations after a year of expensive experimenting and the neophytes enter to waste half their working time and money finding out what the men with experience could have told him in a day.

It is an exaggeration to charge all campus organs with neglect and blunders since some make definite efforts to train incoming men or to pass on helpful information. But most consider the perpetuation of mistakes a necessary evil or in the languor of the aftermath show a profound inaptitude in drawing up recommendations for their successors.

As a pitiful consequence, committee workers have to find out all over again that special features cannot be heard in the capitol, that so-and-so does poor printing, that there are only certain places to locate barges for Venetian night, that lights in the Venetian parade invariably go out, and so on ad libitum.

The acting chairman in most cases is blameless. Not so with his predecessor.

To obviate our present hierarchy of blunders it would not be amiss to have the student life and interests committee print standardized forms to be filled out by each retiring organization chairman or officer for permanent filing in an administration office for future reference.

A complete knowledge of an activity's history would then be available to its managers and many of the bungles that follow in the wake of quick office rotation would disappear, leaving a greater efficiency and effectiveness in all our student life and interests.

VOTE FRIDAY FOR OUR JUSTICES

It may be near the end of the term, and work may be pressing, but it is not so pressing that the few minutes necessary for casting a ballot in the student court elections can not be given on Friday.

It is essential that a large number of voters put in an active appearance Friday. The election of the student justices is an important matter. The court is not a nonentity. On the contrary, it is a very vital force in student government. The punishment of the ticket scalpers last fall need only to be recalled as a demonstration of that force. The decision of the court this spring making the wearing of the green caps optional and thus saving the university from the disrepute that has arisen out of the compulsory wearing of the green cap and the troubles developing from Cap night conclusively indicates that the court is an actual, living influence in our university existence.

It is essential then, that a large and intelligent vote select the court candidates and not a deplorable minority. In this way, and only in this way, can the students expect the best court decisions affecting them and their future behavior next year.

NOW OR NEVER

The last lap decides the race,—the last week decides the grades.

Since it is the last week,—dissipate, and flunk. Have a good time, fuss, go to the movies, don't touch a book, and miss every question on the examinations.

It is not too late to get caught up on studies, though it is late. Much can be accomplished in a week, especially when that week contains a holiday from classes. Hard, earnest work now will be of infinitely more value than eleventh hour cramming. There will be an opportunity for assimilation before the actual beginning of the examinations.

There are no distracting entertainments this week. Everything is contributing to one short week of hard study. There is no longer time for procrastination, nothing can be put off any longer. Work must be done. Work now and play later. Then there will be no regrets.

June Lit Shows Effort to Make Student Appeal

By S. H. E.

The Lit is making a brave effort to follow out the suggestion that has been offered to it many a time this year, that of appealing more to student interest. At least it appears that such an attempt is being made; for there are two pieces in this June issue which strike at the heart and mind of students.

The first one in position although not necessarily in quality, the Vilas prize essay by Frank D. Crane and called "The Stimulus of the College Curriculum," is an entertaining work of a serious nature. As an entertaining piece of whimsicality, it is splendid.

Eleanor Head has done a beautiful bit of characterization in "Midnight Oil." Flapper philosophy something tangible and close at hand which does not attempt display. Why it is that, with the wealth of unusual material which abounds hereabouts, the writers for the Lit don't make more use of it instead of rambling off on some foreign matter is a question difficult to solve.

There is something about Kenneth Fearing's poetry which makes the work stand out. It is not the sort of stuff one can pass over lightly and forget; it has latent ideas which must be caught and played about. His sonnet is ripe and full and his two other poems are only a little less so.

Guy Talmadge's invocation palls on one along about the fiftieth stanza. This is either because one is apt to find himself trying to change the meter or because one begins to wonder just how the dancer is going to fill the requested bill.

If you don't buy the Lit for anything else, you should get it for the two pleasant little stories, one by Louise Smith and the other by Juniata Scheible. The pair must have been out to a frightful dinner together one night and eaten too many cucumbers.

We have left the editorials for the end. It is gratifying to learn that the Lit will turn down any offers to consolidation with The Cardinal. "Who's What." When you read this you know why it is saved to the end. At first it appears as if these skyrockets were attempts at nasty, naughty digs. Then when one sees that six of the editors of the Lit are included in them one is undecided as to whether they are a bit of mutual admiration or whether the six editors were included just to make the rest of the marks feel better. At any rate, they are scintillating bits of humor, for the most part truthful.

ALL HAIL the Jumping Off number of the Lit!

BUT...how is it that on the threshold of Death this Lit Staff takes a new attitude toward Life? The mighty intellectuals seem to have fallen and dented in the high-brow...for this month they have published some simple and altogether charming things.

Could anything be more delicious than the satire on the school "litterateurs"? (That's a good word, brothers and sisters, and applies to anyone who lends books that are liberally scrawled up.)

SOLOMON THE SAPIENT and SHEBA collapsed in front of North and South halls respectively (also respectfully, as most collapsing is done) and simultaneously, when they discovered themselves among the contributions.

The first poem in the issue, "To D."...by Gaston, is so simple that it reminds us of Sara Teasdale herself. Either Sara or Mother Goose.

And Louise Smith a satirist? Why Louise! Is the title "Painfulness" a jest...do you really believe that marital bliss is a myth? Louise! Naughty! Naughty!

But at any rate, Miss Smith seems to know that Bergson is a French philosopher, and not a German statesman, or a Norwegian city.

KENNETH FEARING SPEAKS FEELINGLY of Divan and Morris chair. Pardon us Kenneth, but these pieces of furniture are obsolete nowadays. The davenport is the thing.

What! Henry Bergson mentioned TWICE in one issue of the LIT! Weel, weel, weel! What hopeful signs these be! And Frank Crane also mentions Milton and Cardinal Newman. Can it be that the intellectuals are actually beginning to realize that these men were pretty good old eggs after all?

Wisconsin in Foreign Service

Four students in the university at the present time are preparing to take the examinations for admission to the diplomatic and consular services of the United States which will be held in Washington next month. They are H. E. Coates '23, W. H. Petterson '23, J. P. Retzer '23, and H. F. Wenzel '23.

Students contemplating entrance into the foreign service of the United States are invited to confer with Prof. P. B. Potter of the department of political science, who maintains a consultation bureau for rendering assistance to students interested in foreign work. A complete file of the American Consular Bulletin, copies of state department bulletins to prospective candidates, specimen examinations, special notices concerning future examinations, and other useful material is available in Professor Potter's bureau.

An analysis has been made of the requirements for admission to the foreign service and Professor Potter will confer with all students interested in courses of political science, law, history, economics and geography, and in independent reading and preparation for the examination.

Wisconsin has from the beginning of her history maintained a very active interest in the international field. International law and international organizations, the two cardinal studies in this field, were taught first in the United States at the University of Wisconsin. President Lathrop began the teaching of international law in 1852, the first year of instruction at the university, and a course in international organization was established by Professor Paul Reinsch in 1913. At the present time more extensive instruction is given at Wisconsin in the field of international law and diplomacy than at any other institution in the

All together now! Skyrocket for Ralph Waldo Emerson!

OH YES INDEED! These revolutionaries include Emerson, Paul Victor Gangelin (adv. pd. for by George Jean Nathan) and Paul Swan. The latter seems to have died out recently, but undoubtedly another aesthetic dancing movement for men will start up soon.

However, let us remind Frank Crane that in spite of the Volstead act the students have, at times, been thoroughly stimulated.

The night of the murderer's escape not only were they stimulated but it was also stimulating to hear them howl "We got him!" and then shoot their revolvers playfully all through the Latin Quarter.

GUY TALLMADGE has evidently been getting chummy with some of the Orpheum Circuit again. STAY AWAY FROM THEM GIRLS, LITTLE BOY.

"Table Talk" seems to be a trifle inappropriate as a title for two paragraphs of description.

Eleanor Head writes a story called "Midnight Oil"...which is altogether fitting and proper for a Phi Beta.

Thank Heaven! We learn from Mildred Fish that even the intellectuals do silly sentimental things! Maybe they're human after all!

And what have we here! "A Sound in the Night!"...an honest-to-goodness mystery story! The Wisconsin Literary Magazine and True Story hand in hand at last!

But no...all in vain...there is no hope. Kenneth Fearing returns to the muddy depths of intellectualism and writes a psychological poem called "The Secret."

The sun is setting in the west, Like a hen upon her nest, We must stop and get some rest, You go home and brush your vest, SHEBA.

United States with the exception of the Foreign Service school at Georgetown university.

In times past the university has contributed to the American foreign service figures of considerable note. Of these the most important was former Prof. Paul S. Reinsch whose contributions to the literature of international political science and whose services as United States Minister to China during the world war are familiar to all students of American foreign relations.

At the present time two other members of the political science department are connected with the department of state, Stanley K. Hornbeck and Chester Lloyd Jones. Mr. Hornbeck was prominent during the Conference on the Limitation of Armaments as adviser on far eastern affairs and is at the present a foreign trade advisor in the department. Mr. Jones has been active in the border land of international commerce and diplomacy and has served as commercial attache at numerous posts, besides sent on a number of special missions connected with commercial treaties.

The chief of the division of eastern European affairs in the department at the present time is DeWitt C. Poole, another Wisconsin graduate who did much, before going into the division of Eastern European affairs, in connection with the re-building of the consular service after the war.

To these might be added the names of a number of other Wisconsin men—Lowry, Hess, Westerman, Quigley—whose services in American foreign relations have been noteworthy. Wisconsin students entering the American Foreign service will find a notable tradition of Wisconsin service preceding them and a tradition worthy of maintaining.

GIVE PRIZES TO 22 IN CONTEST

Work of Entrants in Music
Contest Praised By Judge

Of the 37 contestants in the final try-outs Saturday morning of the Music Performance Contest, 22 were prize winners, 13 first prizes and 9 second. The children competing in piano and violin were divided into classes according to their age and ability, and each class was again divided into two divisions—A and B.

The winners were:

PIANO.

Class 1, division B, Ruth Oldenberg, 1st.; Dorothy Lohff, 2nd. Division A, Kathryn Hubbard, 1st.

Class 2, division B, Jean Boyles and Marion Dudley, tied for 1st. Division A, Emma Endres and Marjorie Brinkhoff, tied for 1st.

Class 3, division B, Marcella Vassen, 1st.; Eleanor Wiese, 2nd. Division A, Margaret Rupp, 1st.

Class 4, Dorothy Hess, 1st.

VIOLIN.

Class 1, division B, Louise Rood, 1st.; Georgia Moseley, 2nd. Division A, Helene Abel, 1st.; Frederick Suhr, 2nd.

Class 2, division B, Leon Rubnitz, 1st. Division A, Sidney Zarky, 1st.; Valesky Kelly, 2nd.

Class 3, division B, Marie Endres, 1st. Division A, Vincent Sundstrom, 1st.

The winners in the voice contest were: Elizabeth Hunter, 1st., and Francis Slightam, 2nd.

Roseter E. Cole, well known composed and teacher of composition, from Chicago, was the judge. Mr. Cole was director of the University School of Music here from 1907-1909, and for 12 years was director of the department of music at Columbia university in New York. In announcing the awards, Mr. Cole said:

"Whenever I am a judge at a contest like this, I am reminded of the picture of the Goddess of Plenty who pours out gifts. She always has enough in her horn of plenty for everyone. And I always wish I might be a sort of goddess that I might give a prize to each. Each of you was deserving of a prize. People say, 'figures don't lie.' I'm not sure whether that is always right. Some of you who did not receive a prize may be just as deserving of one as those who did get prizes. However after all, these contests are not really for the prizes, you gain something much bigger, worthier and lasting in the progress you have made than in the prize you have won. A prize may be lost, but progress is never lost."

In awarding the violin prizes, Mr. Cole said: "I believe violin prize winners are due an extra halo, because the violinist has to construct his sounds. The pianist and singer have instruments better capable for production, but the violinist must produce each tone."

The prize winners concert will be held in the woman's building, June 4, at 7:30 o'clock.

Telegraph Operator Here Knew Whitfield; Attended Same School

J. L. Whitfield, who escaped from local police, was a school mate of E. M. Dousman, telegraph operator for the Milwaukee road here. Both attended the grade school in Waukesha. Mayor Daniel Hoan, Milwaukee, a native of Waukesha, knew Whitfield when a child.

"Yes, I knew who he was the minute I saw the picture in your paper. It looks just like him. I knew his father well. He was a nice sort of fellow of Indian and Negro blood and always well behaved. Whitfield when going to school was a likeable chap but after leaving school seemed to have a desire to be a tough guy. I have not seen him since he left states prison about nine years ago when I met him in Milwaukee. Mayor Hoan and I were talking about him when I was in Milwaukee over the week end."

J. E. Booth, alleged to have been intoxicated four weeks ago when his Mitchell car collided with the motorcycle ridden by Frank Johnson, 24, and Calvin Rosman, 15, will be given an adverse examination before Judge A. C. Hoppmann late this week, it was

Buffalo Bill's Niece Is Here For Moose Pageant Of Progress

Miss Louise Cody, niece of the late "Buffalo Bill" arrived in Madison this morning for her one week engagement to sing during the Moose Carnival June 4 to 11.

Miss Cody is known as the girl who "Sings to beat the band," because of her powerful voice. She is the only outdoor singer known who does not use a megaphone.

"I'm very glad to be in Madison one week ahead of my engagement I've heard so much of your beautiful city," she said today. "Your lakes are splendid and your university is great," she added.

"I know that I'm going to enjoy myself hugely while here. In fact, from what I've seen of your city I think I'm going to have the best time of my life," she said.

BAND WILL REHEARSE COMMENCEMENT MARCH

The first reading of the new commencement march recently composed by Dr. C. H. Mills, dean of the Music school, will be made this afternoon at the regular 4:30 o'clock rehearsal of the university band, according to Mr. E. W. Morphy, director of the band, who completed yesterday the instrumentation for the composition.

The reading will be in the form of a tryout for the instrumentations and the composition itself to see if it will be plausible for commencement music.

The manuscript is intended to supply music for the entire commencement exercises, to take the place of the miscellaneous marches and college songs that are usually played.

MILITARY MEN ORDERED TO TAKE NEW POSITIONS

Capt. Stanley E. Reinhart, field artillery, now at Camp Bragg, North Carolina, has been ordered here as assistant professor of military tactics.

Capt. Harrison Levi Garner, chemical warfare reserve officer, of the department has been ordered to Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, for duty.

Major Harold G. Fits, instructor of the Wisconsin National guard, La Crosse, will go to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, to attend school, and Maj. Henry R. Smalley, cavalry, now on duty at Fort Leavenworth, to Milwaukee for duty with organized reserve.

Michigan Y. M. C. A. to Be Sponsors of Mexican Trip

W. I. Kelsey, student secretary of the state of Michigan, will lead the Mexican Friendship trip leaving Chicago about June 27, according to an announcement received by the university Y. M. C. A.

Students interested in the trip and having the traveling expenses of from $300 to $350 may secure information and blanks at the Y office. The project is to acquaint the students of the Middle West with the actual conditions in Mexico. The trip will be six weeks with a provision for extra work in the University of Mexico City if it is desired.

Ferton R. McCreery, United States ambassador to Mexico, 1897-1907 says of the trip, "It looks good to me, and I certainly trust that you will be able to carry out your plans."

Mayme Dieruf was re-elected treasurer of the federation at the annual convention held in Racine, Friday and Saturday. Miss Dieruf is head of the woman's department of the First National bank here.

Miss Alma Wiese, secretary of the W. N. Parker Co., served on the nominating committee during the convention.

Miss Alma Barry, a Milwaukee attorney was re-elected as president. Other Madison women in attendance were: Miss Annie A. Nunns, assistant superintendent of the state historical society; Miss Minnie Hastings, secretary of the Christ Presbyterian church, and Miss Gertrude Siekert, who is with the Advance-Rumey Co.

Seven Ohio Colleges Favor Undergraduate Marriages

Seven colleges in Ohio welcome undergraduate marriages and five forbid married students, according to a symposium recently made by the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Authorities in the institutions favoring marriage say that the urge to matrimony is too strong to tamper with and outside of their jurisdiction. They say it is better to have a student marry in an open fashion than to force him into a clandestine marriage.

The three college at Oxford, Ohio, which are Miami university, Oxford college, and Western college for Women, have strict rules against marriage. Officials there claim that marriage interferes with studying and is not conducive to a broad cultural education.

Officials at nearly all of schools favoring marriage claim that marriage does not interfere with studying and one claimed that its best student was married.

"WHY MEN LEAVE HOME" ALL WEEK AT ORPHEUM

"Why Men Leave Home", this week's offering by the Dorothy La Vern Stock company at the Orpheum theatre is one of the recent comedy successes from the New York theatre market, which attracted extraordinary attention during its long run in Gotham.

The play is by Avery Hopwood, the author of "The Bat" and other theatrical successes. In "Why Men Leave Home" the author has contrived unusual and novel entertainment by means of situations where in three sets of husbands are posed.

The poor down trodden husband for once has his inning and this fact will likely be responsible for a very large masculine patronage all this week at the Orpheum. The wives will be there, too, most likely to learn just what and why is the reason that men slip the skirts of family ties.

New York theatre goers laughed at this play for several months and it is quite likely that the theatre patrons of this city will do likewise this week.

The usual bargain matinee will be given Wednesday, Decoration Day at 3 o'clock which is a half hour later than other Wednesday matinees due to the Decoration Day parade starting at 2:30.

Announce Winners Of Prizes At Elk Circus; Auto Still Unclaimed

The holder of No. 14,616 won the Hupmobile car given away at the closing of the Elk's circus Saturday night. The holder has five days in which to claim the car. Miss Henrietta Speckler, 2015 E. Washington avenue, drew ten numbers which will be taken in rotation until the car has been claimed.

Other prizes given away and the winners were: Warm Air furnace given by Reinick and Krueger, won by J. F. Cass, No. 335; Hamilton Beach vacuum cleaner by Madison Gas and Electric Co., won by Mrs. R. A. Rodt, No. 368.

In the George Wiese Co. contest consisting of a guessing contest as to the number of cigars contained in a large glass bowl with a prize for the lucky man and woman guesser two of each guessed the exact number of 178. Lots were drawn to eliminate two. The ultimate winners were for the men, R. F. Collins, prize, box of La Follette's cigars; woman winner, Mrs. Thos. Carroll, prize, five pound box of Teckmeyers candy.

SUMMER JOBS SEEM SCARCE

Few Positions Registered With Department Heads For Summer Work

An extensive survey of 10 different branches of the university to ascertain possibilities for summer work for students was made yesterday by a Cardinal representative. Results show that only a few openings are available in all the various phases of university work.

"Better get a job outside the university," was the comment of M. E. McCaffrey, secretary of the board of regents, "because all departments of the university are pretty well filled. We have room for only a limited number of students experienced in clerical work, for which the pay is $50 a month during the summer and $25 during the winter," he said.

Ag Students Register

All agric students desiring work on farms this summer are requested to sign cards in Dean James' office so that information can be given as to experience when farmers make inquiries. A shortage of farm labor this summer makes opportunities for students unusually good and the wages will be somewhat higher than last year, according to Dean James.

All women students desiring summer work should report to Miss Young in Lathrop hall.

Journalism department, extension division, and the school of education report that all appointments for summer work have been made almost entirely from the regular staffs.

Druggists Apply to Kremers

Drug store work applications should be made to Prof. Edward Kremers. Mr. Lester, head of the library school, can place a few responsible students in library work for the summer.

A well known pickle factory and several large canneries have made applications for student help during the summer, and this information can be obtained from Dean James of the Agricultural College.

Woman's Meet Favors Censorship Of Movies

WAUSAU, Wis.—The annual eighth district convention of the Federation of Women's clubs closed at Mosinee with a journey through the big plant of the Wausau Sulphate Fibre Co. The 1924 convention is to be held at Marshfield. Delegates went on record for strict censorship of moving pictures and the regulation of dance halls, advocating the appointment of women welfare police and a provision for the attendance at all dances of a married couple to regulate deportment. Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones, head of the home economics department of the state

SPRING WEATHER WILL PREVAIL, SAYS PROPHET

The warm spring days which were so late in arriving at Madison will probably continue, according to Eric R. Miller, meteorologist, and in charge of the local weather bureau in North hall.

"The persistent cold weather has been due to the area of high barometric pressure which has existed undisturbed over the Great Lakes area causing the cold winds to continue to sweep over the lake states," said Mr. Miller.

"The late spring has been entirely local as other portions have been enjoying much warmer weather for some time. The lakes are now warming up and there is no reason why we should expect a cold wave."

"In 1915," continued Mr. Miller, "a similar condition existed but to such an extent that it was the oldest spring in 100 years." This year, it is true, that the tobacco crop is sixteen days behind time and that other crops have been somewhat retarded, but on the whole it is nothing very remarkable."

Postal Telegraph To Lay Greatest Cable

Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Co., announced that he has completed contracts for the laying of a new cable in the Atlantic ocean, which will operate directly between New York and London. The new cable, which will be the first to be laid in the Atlantic between America and Europe since 1910, is now being manufactured by the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance company and Messrs. Siemens Bros., and will be laid by August 1.

The new cable will be the largest ever to be laid in the Atlantic and will have a capacity of twice that of any cable now in service between the United States and Europe. Engineers of the company who have designed the new cable, estimate that its speed will be approximately 600 letters per minute in both directions simultaneously, or a total of 1,200 letters a minute, which will make it the fastest cable in the world to date. Its dimensions will be much greater than those of any other cable, its conductor requiring an average of about 1,100 pounds of copper per mile, as against an average of about 700 pounds per mile in the heaviest cable now in use.

Plan Field Course At Baraboo For Students

An elementary field course for students will be conducted at Baraboo this summer by Chester K. Wentworth. Mr. Wentworth will leave for Honolulu, Hawaii, September 15 to spend the coming year there studying volcanic ash and other sediments of the islands. This last work is a result of his appointment to a Bishop Museum fellowship by Yale university.
