"FORWARD"

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

I, a wandering student, seeking knowledge, came knocking at the gates of the great University of Wisconsin, and it took me in, filled me with inspiration, and when I left its doors the kindly people of the state stretched out welcoming hands and gave me a man's work to do.—An Alumnus.

While individual loyalty is admirable, collective, unified, co-operative loyalty is powerful. Alumni consciousness is the growth of individual loyalty into unified loyalty; it is co-operative loyalty in terms of service. "Forward!" The growing strength and power of the Wisconsin Alumni Association aids our University not alone in material and measurable service but brings also a great wealth of true, continued, devoted, loyal affection, that finer, richer gift known as "Wisconsin Spirit" so necessary to the realization of the ideals of our "Forward" motto.

One of the well known agricultural journals recently said of Professor S. M. Babcock: "Still hale and hearty at the age of 73, and living simply and serenely in his Madison home, Dr. Babcock is one of the world's greatest benefactors, and one of its noblest characters. The merry twinkle in his eye, and the heartiness of his laughter, when seated in the bleachers witnessing a ball game, or discussing with a friend John L. Sullivan's autobiography, reveal the spontaneous youthfulness of his mind and heart."

PROFESSOR S. M. BABCOCK

How old should a freshman be? Is youth a handicap to receiving full benefit of college studies?

Youth vs Age
President Lowell has made the following significant statement regarding the freshman class at Harvard last year: "The age of the seven men who achieved a class A record is notable. Two were eighteen, four were seventeen, and one was fifteen, while the average of the class was about eighteen years and six months."

"A man who cannot write his mother tongue grammatically, lucidly, and with a reasonably fair style, or who does not think it worth while to do so, is not an educated man no matter how many courses he may have scored or how proficient he may be in any field."—
Mother Tongue President A. L. LOWELL.

When sending copy to the MAGAZINE please try to write the same in a terse, interesting style, spell correctly, punctuate accurately, and if convenient use a typewriter. Remember that "it is pedagogically wrong and financially unjustifiable" to use fifty words where five express the idea with accurate, forcible clearness. If you must use wrapping paper and colored crayon send the news anyway. We need the material even though it is in such shape as to ruin the disposition, shorten the life, develop the profanity, and ruin the chances of peace in the hereafter of the copy reader—but "have a heart."

THE COMMUNITY HOUSE MOVEMENT

By MARJORY DAVIS, '14

THE idea of assisting girls through college by decreasing their living expenses, one which has long been carried out in women's colleges in the East, and more recently in co-educational schools, Northwestern and Minnesota, is this year being tried at Wisconsin with marked success. The plan originated at Wisconsin last year when the senior society, Mortar Board, made a study of the college community house and its possibilities at Wisconsin. They found the Regents willing to rent one of the University houses for this purpose. They found the Wisconsin Alumnae Association of Chicago ready to furnish the house at a cost of $675. They, themselves, stood ready to meet any deficit which might be incurred the first year, while the house was an experiment. The plan was undertaken, and at present the ten girls who are living there are materially lowering their college expenses by doing most of their own housework.

The fact that the first year there were thirty-two applications when only ten could be chosen, reflects the need of other co-operative houses. Accordingly, this year plans are being worked out for two more. The furnishings of one of these houses will be left by the senior women as their class memorial, the furnishings of the other will be given by the Wisconsin Branch of the Collegiate Alumnae Association. Each of these new houses, which will be furnished at a cost of about $800, will accommodate fourteen girls. These houses are in a group near the campus, and will be maintained on the same co-operative plan. Thus, a decided advance is being made in the direction of making a college education less expensive.

THE EFFECTS OF THE WAR ON LATIN-AMERICAN PUBLIC FINANCE

(A Summary)

By DR. CHESTER LLOYD JONES, '02
Chairman of Political Science Department

THE effect of the European war on Latin-American finance is a matter of continental interest. There may be "entangling alliances" of an economic as well as of a political nature. If American States show themselves able to withstand the strain put upon their finances it will indicate that their public debts are not likely to become matters which will give rise to international complications. Such a condition of financial strength will be a matter of congratulation for all American States.

All the more important commercial countries of South America have put forth extraordinary efforts to maintain their public credit, especially their foreign debt services. Retrenchments in expenditures, public loans, advances to banks, and increased taxation have all been used to restore or maintain normal financial conditions. By the end of 1915 all the States seem to have passed the crisis and business is decidedly on the upgrade.

In the less important commercial countries of South America the war has had less effect. Bolivia is weathering the storm satisfactorily. Paraguay, a prey to revolutions and depreciated currency, is, independently of the war, in hard financial straits. Peru, Colombia, and Venezuela are doing well not because of their own financial strength, but because the character of their foreign trade is such that their markets have been only slightly affected. Ecuador, the weakest of South American Governments, with the exception of Paraguay, is least affected. The high prices for cocoa have assured her a trade as prosperous as that in time of peace.

Mexico and Haiti have been little affected by the war because exhausted by revolutions at home. The Dominican Republic is enjoying good trade conditions in spite of the disarrangement of her European market. Cuba expects the greatest sugar crop of her history and Central American trade conditions have almost returned to normal.

The performance of the Latin-American States under the financial strain of war conditions is reason for encouragement. It is satisfying to see the anxiety and ability of the American States to maintain their credit even at great temporary inconvenience.

Had the war resulted in defaulting on the debt services it would not only have discouraged future investments of capital, but creditors would urge their Governments to force payment as they have done in the not distant past. Such action might put the other American States into a very unwelcome diplomatic position. All American States are to be congratulated that the war has not affected them more adversely, and that the efforts being made by each promise to be sufficient to prevent the national debts from becoming the basis of serious international disagreement.

Plans are under way for the 20th reunion of the class of 1896; details will be sent to each member as soon as completed. In the meanwhile, I would like those who contemplate being present at the reunion to send word to that effect to the undersigned so that the committee may better judge as to the extent and character of the festivities.—George F. Thompson, secretary, 3826 Van Buren St., Chicago.

1906 IS PREPARING FOR THAT REUNION

By OTTO L. KOWALKE.

Take That Vacation in June This Year

Get the advantage of including the Reunion among your pleasures. Make your plans now. You will be sorry if you don't.

Which town will have the biggest percentage representation? Now don't all bet on Milwaukee!

The Chicago crowd is working hard and so is the Madison contingent. Come now, all together.

This Month's Reminders

1. Have you sent your idea for a costume to A. E. Van Hagen, 212 W. Washington St., Chicago?
2. Now is the time to get the folks in your town together to plant the reunion seeds.
3. Write all your friends to join you at the reunion.
4. Don't forget to pick that vacation in June.

THE 1911 REUNION PROMISES TO BE A BIG SUCCESSPLANS AND ORGANIZATION COMPLETED

By ERWIN A. MEYERS

The Steam Roller of the class of 1911 is under full head of steam and moving toward Madison. The promise and threat of Four and Seven to stage the best and most stupendous exhibition of its kind ever held is about to materialize. From all sides come promises of support and coöperation. Many have already agreed to be present and a few have even tried to give real money, although this tender subject has not been suggested. Several unique stunts have been proposed and any number of additional ones are welcome. The general plan of organization, which may be modified somewhat if that appears desirable, is as follows:

There will be a central committee of about twenty-one members made up from all the colleges and representing all interests. The senior class officers of both semesters will act ex-officio, and the remaining eleven members are to be chosen from the class at large. This committee is to determine upon matters of general policy. From this committee there will be selected an executive committee of five to take charge of the detail work. There will also be a publicity committee, finance committee, and a local homecoming committee. All committee appointments will be announced shortly. In addition, there will be local organizations in all the important cities and districts where our alumni are most thickly distributed. The Milwaukee and Chicago organizations have already been completed, and others are in process of completion. The plan is to hold each local organization responsible for bringing a large delegation. Meetings are being held from time to time to work out ways and means of accomplishing this end.

One or more issues of a special class magazine are to be sent to each member giving full details of the actual reunion at Madison, together with report on progress already made. All the literary talent of the class is to be drawn upon. Therefore, it will be high class. All the members of the class will be asked to make a small contribution to pay the expense of printing and mailing this publication, together with other necessary expenses. The local organizations will be self-sustaining.

Complete lists of the class membership have been prepared and arranged geographically. Any member of the class will be furnished with a list of 1911 alumni residing in his city or locality upon application to the secretary. Every member of the class should first of all argue himself or herself into going and then keep after every other classmate within hailing distance until each in turn yields to the pleasant temptation and likewise become a missionary.

President Van Hise sounded the keynote in New York the other day when he said the University needed a "vitalized alumni organization." This must be built around the class organizations. Our class wants to give its full measure of support. In supporting and working for this reunion you will be doing much more than making possible a pleasant and enjoyable homecoming. Each of us owes much to our alma mater. Let us respond in the only manner worthy of us, wholeheartedly and unitedly. This is our work. Let us do it now and well.

1911 MEN IN CHICAGO ORGANIZE REUNION COMMITTEE.

During the past few days steps have been taken to organize all the 1911 alumni in and about Chicago. A special meeting was called the first week in April of members in business down town. At this meeting it was decided to call a general meeting of all alumni in the city and notices were sent out. The plan is to have regular luncheons every other week, at which time reports are to be made on every member residing in the city; later on a canvass is to be made of all members living within fifty miles of Chicago. So far as possible all are to meet in Chicago and go by special car to and from Madison. At the general meeting a permanent committee is to be elected, and a small tax will be assessed to cover the cost of the local publicity campaign. Several have already definitely agreed to go and the Chicago alumni expect to send a larger delegation in proportion to resident membership than Milwaukee. There will also be special features which the Chicago alumni are keeping to themselves. Arch E. Richards, the well known track man, is temporary chairman of the Chicago organization. His address is 105 S. La Salle Street, in care of A. B. Leach & Co. Alumni in and about Chicago should communicate with him at once.

MILWAUKEE 1911 REUNION PLANS

By E. D. STEINHAGEN

Wisconsin has seen some great reunions. 1900, 1905, and 1910 went back and made splashes that washed the shores of Mendota, but, the greatest ever is at hand. After Commencement, and not until then, can the history of Wisconsin's unparalleled reunion be written. We 1911'ers realize that we have a big work on our hands. The very enormity of it has put every one on his mettle, and plans have already been formulated and even details are being planned at this early date.

In Milwaukee an organization has been effective and in operation since March 14. On that date a meeting was held and an executive committee of twelve was formed. To make a compact and active working body, each member stood sponsor for five other Milwaukee alumni. This places the committee in close personal contact with every alumnus and alumna in the city. The committee is made up of "live ones," to-wit: Mrs. W. A. Klinger (Ada James), Aimee Zillmer, Gretchen Schoenleber, "Morgy" Abendroth, "McCutcheon" Phipps, "Chet" Rohn, "Al" Schwarting, "Heb" Heberd, "Chuck" Moritz, "Dad" Esau, and "Stoney" Steinhagen as chairman. A glance at the personnel of that committee will give the reader a foretaste of what is coming from Milwaukee for the reunion. An attendance of fifty alumni will be Milwaukee's contribution next June, representing energy and festiveness of at least 500 average alumni-power.

Details of stunts and dress are being planned and hatched. But "mum's the word." They'll be kept in the incubator and at the psychological moment will be sprung upon the waiting world. So much, however, will be vouchsafed: every alumnus will be there in June if he has to lose his job or let his business go to ruin; every alumna will be there if she has to wear her last summer's suit or disrupt or happy home. We Milwaukeeans are not all Socialists, but after reunion 1916, Madisonians will see red for the rest of the summer.

Chicago has challenged Milwaukee to outdo her. We have spoken. Let this be our answer.

GLEE CLUB REUNION.

One of the features of Commencement Week will be the Glee Club Reunion. This interesting part of the Alumni Reunion, which was formerly one of the main numbers on the Alumni Day Program, has been missed by the alumni for the last three years. In response to numerous appeals a local committee has been organized to arrange for its revival this year. The committee hopes to have Elias A. Bredin here to direct the concert. All Glee Club men should communicate with the chairman of the committee, John S. Main, '98, 610 State Street, Madison.

SURVEY OF THE SURVEY OF THE SURVEY OF THE SURVEY

W. H. Allen surveyed the University; G. H. Mead surveyed The Survey; Allen surveyed Mead's Survey of the Survey. The following cutting is from W. L. Chenery's article in the Chicago Herald:

A WAR OF EXPERTS

"The University of Wisconsin is the battle ground of a merry war. William H. Allen, director the New York Institute for Public Service, was hired to make a survey of the University.

"EFFICIENT" SCHOOLS

"Dr. Allen applied the familiar business tests to the University. Among other things he figured the cost of conducting various kinds of classes. He estimated the number of hours buildings are used. He counted the class room inspections which are made by heads of departments.

"In factories the expert is estimating the cost of mechanical things. But the awakening of the human spirit is not the same as hammering out steel rail. The same yardstick can't measure the worth of the two dissimilar processes.

"Imagine, for illustration, the folly of making an efficiency test of a church. Fifteen minutes in a beautiful church under the leadership of a great preacher is of infinitely more value than years of uninspired preaching by a dreary monologist.

"So it is in the public school, the college and the university. The great teachers have been the great minds. To make a great scientist or a philosopher or poet work under a time clock is to mutilate or to destroy their choicest gifts. Mechanical efficiency in the schools is the worst sort of vandalism. It crushes what it is incapable of appreciating.

WHAT IS A UNIVERSITY?

"Professor George H. Mead of the University of Chicago surveyed the survey and when he got through very little of value seemed left. Now Dr. Allen comes back with a fresh attack on the University and on its Chicago defender.

"Doctor Allen is an efficiency expert. Professor Mead is a philosopher. Dr. Allen seems to think that a University can be measured just as a factory or a store can be tested. Professor Mead disagrees with this view.

"Many people in this country imagine that a factory and a university are much alike; that they can be made efficient in the same way. Many influential people think so. They believe, too, that public schools and colleges are 'think' factories.

THE REAL GAINS

"While Dr. Allen seems to have missed the important things in a university he has discovered many minor evils.

"The Wisconsin fight is rendering great benefits to the cause of popular education. Governor Philipp's animosity has been as serviceable as was the stupidity of the Pennsylvania trustees who ousted Scott Nearing. By striking a blow at academic freedom they lined up the sleepy opposition and made liberty more secure.

"In the same way Dr. Allen, by applying business tests to education, has emphasized the real difference between a school and a factory. Thus he has contributed toward the building up of a system of education whose great motive is the liberating of the latent powers of the young people of America."

EARLY HISTORY

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

THIS Association was organized by a meeting of the graduates of the University, on the evening of Commencement Day, June 26th, 1861. It was at that time resolved that the said Association should meet annually and during Commencement Week. In accordance with such resolution, the first annual meeting was held on the evening of the 24th day of June, A. D. 1862, at which time an address was delivered to the alumni present by Charles T. Wakeley, Esq., the president of the Association and a member of the class of 1854, and a poem was read by R. W. Hubbell, Esq., of the class of 1858. The Alumni Dinner was given upon the afternoon of the 25th of June and a business meeting of the Association was held during the evening of the same day.

The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Charles T. Wakeley, President; S. Fallows, Vice President; J. M. Flower, Corresponding Secretary; W. F. Vilas, Recording Secretary; George W. Bird, Treasurer.

Executive Committee—Messrs. S. Foote, S. W. Botkin, and T. D. Coryell, in addition to the President and Recording Secretary.

J. M. Flower, Esq., of the class of 1856, was selected to deliver the oration, and W. W. Church, of the class of 1860, to read the Poem at the next annual meeting of the Association.—From University Catalogue, 1861-62.

UNIVERSITY AND CITIZEN

QUOTED FROM THE SURVEY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

"If a physician with a country practice and without laboratory facilities wants to know whether a suspected case is actually typhoid, diphtheria, or tuberculosis, he may learn within a day if he will send a sample of blood or sputum, etc., to the state laboratory, which he thinks of as the university because it is provided for in the university budget.

"If a country teacher wishes help in organizing a parents-teachers association, or a social center, she has to be told by the state Department of Public Instruction that the university has a bureau for giving just that kind of help.

"If a farmer's wife, a plumber, a lawyer, a school teacher, or a boy who hopes sometime to be able to go to college, wants to study a vocational subject, or literature, or a foreign language, or mathematics, the University Extension Division stands ready and eager to help.

"If a club wants a series of lectures by one man or several men, or a survey plus three days of meetings to consider next steps that should be taken in the interest of its community's health, or school work or government, the university offers to conduct a 'community institute.'

"If an organized Chatauqua, or a heretofore unorganized group, interested in educational entertainments, want meetings for a day or three days, or a week, the university has arranged to furnish organizers, instructors, and entertainers.

"If a farmer wants tobacco seed or seed corn tested, along with the particular soil in which it is proposed to grow tobacco and corn, he may call upon the university; if he can spare the time to take a special course (varying in length from one week to fourteen weeks) he may study butter-making and cheese-making and other practical subjects at Madison in the atmosphere of the university and with aid of its instructors and laboratories.

"If those who fish for sport or gain want the lakes freed from inedible fish that eat edible fish, they feel free to call upon the university to show them how.

"If an individual mayor or league of mayors or auditors want to know the latest approved practice in American cities or want copies of laws and approved records, the university has an outstanding offer to help.

"If a school principal of a struggling school wants to know how near it has approached the university's standards for accrediting and for ranking among those schools which have passed the minimum requirement necessary to state-wide recognition, the university will send inspectors.

"If a legislator wants to know the world's experience in taxation or in dealing with public utilities, he feels free to call upon the university professors not only for interviews but for investigation that may take months.

"If the Governor or any other state officer wants help in having facts compiled and analyzed and interpreted, he feels free to ask the university to help.

"Moreover, those who have not felt the need for special help from the university find themselves reading in metropolitan, semi-urban, and in veritably hundreds of rural newspapers helpful statements on health, domestic economy, farming, self-improvement, and 'productive use of leisure.'

"So general is the feeling, especially among farmers, that the university exists not only for the state but for individuals within the state, that indignation is felt either when the university fails to act promptly upon an individual's request, or when it confesses its lack of equipment for answering a particular question or making a particular test."

VARIA ALMA MATER

CHARLES ALEXANDER NELSON, '60

(Tune: Victory—Palestrina)

Alma Mater! Alma Mater! Alma Mater!

O Mother, 'tis a glorious thing
Thy loyal sons to thee can bring
Each year their filial offering,
Alma Mater.

Offering of Faith, ever thy due;
Offering of Hope, born ever new;
Offering of Love, forever true,
Alma Mater.

Sages and saints in days of yore
Thy watchword kept their eyes before,
And in the front thy banner bore,
Alma Mater.

By thee our youthful steps were led
In wisdom's paths their way to tread,
Her words of truth our daily bread,
Alma Mater.

Armed for each call for God and right
Thy sons e'er hold all burdens light,
Upborne for thee and in thy might,
Alma Mater.

Down through the ages yet to be
Thy faithful sons shall cleave to thee,
And sing thy praises loyally,
Alma Mater! Alma Mater; Alma Mater!—Harvard Graduate Magazine, March.

WISCONSIN ALUMNI CLUBS

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and talk together and you'll work together."

TWIN CITIES

By MONTE F. APPEL, '10

PRESIDENT VAN HISE was the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Twin City alumni held at the St. Paul Athletic Club on March 18. Fifty-five alumni were there to meet him and to hear him speak on "The Present Situation of the University." Edward M. McMahon, University regent and secretary of the St. Paul Association of Commerce, talked on "The Present Athletic Situation at Wisconsin." The dinner was presided over by President C. W. Bunn. G. W. Gehrand, '03, and Morris B. Mitchell, '12, were elected president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, for the ensuing year.

RACINE

By STEPHEN E. PERRINE, '15

The Racine Alumni Association put rollers under its rejuvenation movement on the evening of March 13. Over one hundred attended the skating party, and it was "On Wisconsin" for everybody, as they maintained a merry whirling circle about the big hall. The event was something of a departure from the usual form of alumni activity, and the new staff of live-wire officers here deserve credit for originality as well as "pep".

For many of the former students roller skating was an entirely novel thing, and for others it was almost a forgotten accomplishment. Lack of skill only added to the merriment of the evening, for when the crowd had assembled Wisconsin spirit was the prevailing one, and everybody had a share in its making. Vilas H. Whaley, '12, president of the local association, was master of ceremonies, and in that capacity he performed like a veteran rink proprietor. Thorwald M. Beck, '13, secretary-treasurer, collected enough money at the door to make a subsequent celebration seem quite a possibility.

A number of worthy alumni were appointed on committees and they gave the work of holding the skating party their hearty attention. There was a life guard on duty and another squad, under the direction of Deputy Health Officer C. A. Thorkelson, was in charge of a first-aid-to-the-injured department. Fortunately there was no need for either of these committees, but the association as a whole is strong for Preparedness.

A local team of expert skaters put on an entertaining act of fancy figures and dancing on skates. The big feature of the evening, however, was a conference race between the four principal universities: Illinois, Chicago, Minnesota, and Alma Mater. The team of each school was composed of one slim, swift youth. It was a fierce, fast race. The teams flew around the circuit for fifteen laps, the brave colors of each university streaming from their shoulders. The fifteenth lap completed a mile, and Wisconsin won by a good fragment of that distance. Chicago was second; Minnesota third; and Illinois, usually so able on the various speed paths, was last and scarcely in the race.

When President Whaley announced that the association would give another entertainment in the near future, probably a big post-lenten dinner, he was heartily cheered. The second city of Wisconsin is fast coming into her rightful place as regards University alumni activities. The members are back of the organization now, and are displaying a winning enthusiasm.

SEATTLE

At a recent meeting of the Wisconsin Club of Seattle, the following officers were elected: John E. Ryan, '95, president; Mayor Hiram C. Gill, '89, vice-president; Professor Frederick E. Bolton, '93, secretary.

Those who attended the banquet were: Professor and Mrs. F. W. Meisner, '93; Dean and Mrs. F. E. Bolton, '93; Otto Patzer, '98; Professor and Mrs. Edward McMahon, '07; E. O. Eckelman, '98; Walter E. Roloff, '12; Nathan Fasten, '14; Jessie B. Merrick, '04; Victor J. Farrar, '11; Heber B. Hoyt, '97; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse F. Conway, '09; John T. Casey, '96; Howard A. Adams, '15; J. C. MINNEAPOLIS.

By MORRIS B. MITCHELL, '12

Last December the City of Minneapolis gave birth to a remarkably precocious young organization which was duly christened The Minneapolis Alumni Association of the University of Wisconsin. Since time immemorial, there has existed a Twin City Wisconsin Alumni Association composed of the Wisconsin alumni of St. Paul and Minneapolis, but unfortunately, practically the only activity of this Association and its members consisted in getting together once a year and eating a banquet together. So last winter, when a few of the local live-wires had gathered together to protest against the present athletic situation at Wisconsin, it was decided to organize a local Minneapolis Alumni Association, which it was hoped would be able to do more to awaken the Wisconsin alumni here than the old Association had been able to do.

Since its organization, the new association has held monthly luncheons on the first Saturday of every month at the Hotel Dyckman. There are now forty members of the association and we have just started. Any Wisconsin alumni passing through Minneapolis are urged to drop around to our luncheons. The officers of the association are:—Clark R. Fletcher, '11, president; G. Noyes Bright, '13, vice-president; and Morris B. Mitchell, '12, secretary.

At our March luncheon, we had the pleasure of entertaining the members of the Varsity Basketball Team who were in the city for a game with Minnesota. Coach W. E. Meanwell delivered a very interesting address on the athletic situation at Wisconsin, which was followed by short talks by several members of the team. The same night our local association turned out in force to watch the team swamp Minnesota.

Dr. George Northrup of the University of Minnesota, and formerly of the University of Wisconsin, was the speaker at our April luncheon. Dr. Northrup read some very interesting letters from friends of his with the British Expeditionary Force in France.

We had planned to have the Wisconsin Glee Club give a concert here this spring, but unfortunately the old "con" jinx showed itself again and the Glee Club was unable to make the trip.

Henceforth the local alumni hope to do their share toward welding the entire alumni body of the University together into an effective and loyal whole such as is formed by the alumni of some of the older eastern institutions. We believe that this is the greatest need of Wisconsin at the present time.

CHICAGO.

By W. H. HAIGHT, '03

On March 17 the Club was addressed by Mr. Wm. M. Lewis, Secretary of the Navy League, who told us of the objects of the League and what it was accomplishing. He said that from his experience in the work of the League he had finally become convinced that the most important question in the program of preparedness is whether the individual man is willing to sacrifice himself for the principles of preparedness which are advocated.

The usual monthly business meeting was held on March 24. Maurice Pierce, '13, was present, and gave a very interesting account of his experiences in Germany and Switzerland, where he was Vice-Consul for the United States.

On March 31 Mr. Wm. R. Moss, a prominent member of the Chicago bar, told the Club about the various activities of the Chicago Association of Commerce. This Association has grown enormously during the last few years, and has been doing wonderful work for the City and State.

Next month you will hear about our trans-continental dinner of April 22, at which the principal speaker will be J. G. Wray, '93, chief engineer of the telephone companies.

PROTEST?

By MILTON J. BLAIR, '10

Be apprised, gentle reader, that not all of those who heard Governor

Philipp's address to the Wisconsin Club of Chicago fell for his airy persiflage with the same hard thud that W. H. Haight seems to have executed. On inquiry, I find that Mr. Haight was using the editorial "we" when he wrote the article published in the April number of The Alumni Magazine. That the pronoun was used in this sense should be particularly emphasized in connection with the statement that "we believe that the alumni can rely upon him (Governor Philipp) as a true friend of education in Wisconsin." So far as I have been able to ascertain, that "we" does not represent the convictions of those who heard the Governor. It is impossible to believe that there is any group of alumni who could call a man a friend of their alma mater after hearing that man make an address full of ridicule for its accomplishments, full of scorn for its aspirations and methods, and full of patronizing derision for "the old gentleman the boys call Prexy."

The address was an affront to the intelligence of those who heard it. It was made on an assumption of alumni disloyalty and ignorance regarding the true conditions surrounding the University. Instead of being characterized as "convincing logic" it should be characterized as unconvincing sophistry. That there was even one alumnus who could term this talk either convincing or logical is proof that there is a new danger to be guarded against in connection with Wisconsin's present chief executive. He must be counted among those who "damn with faint praise, assent with civil leer," and whose policy regarding the University can best be characterized by that old song of childhood—

"Mother, may I go out to swim?

Yes, my darling daughter;

Hang your clothes on a hickory limb

But don't get near the water."

Track Team Takes Second

ALTHOUGH picked for an even chance with the Illini for first place in the indoor conference meet at Evanston, Ill., on March 18, the Badgers encountered hard luck and were forced into second place.

Smith's failure to place in the 50-yard dash—an event in which he was picked as winner—the failure of the Badger hurdlers, and the disqualification of the quarter-milers, all contributed to the downfall. In the relay race the Badgers, with a team rated on a par with the Maroons, failed to do better than third. After losing on the first two quarters, Williams made up the lost ground but Smith fell at the start of the last quarter and could not recover the lead that Chicago and Illinois got.

The meet was one of the best ever held in the West. Three conference records were broken and three tied. Captain Mason of the Illini team did heroic work in the mile and the two-mile, cutting several seconds off the records in each event. Arlie Mucks, the Badger weight star, added three feet, four inches, to the shot put record. Records were equalled in the 50-yard dash, 60-yard high hurdles, and the relay race.

The points were divided as follows: Illinois, $41\frac{3}{4}$; Wisconsin, $27\frac{1}{4}$; Chicago, 24; Purdue, $6\frac{1}{4}$; Minnesota, 4; Northwestern, $3\frac{1}{4}$; Ohio State, $\frac{1}{4}$; Iowa, $\frac{1}{4}$.

The summaries:

50-yard dash—Pershing, Chicago, first; Hohman, Illinois, second; Gildner, Illinois, third; Ballentine, Minnesota, fourth. Time—.05%. (Ties conference record.)

Mile run—Mason, Illinois, first; Harvey, Wisconsin, second; Schardt, Wisconsin, third; Campbell, Purdue, fourth. Time—4:24. (Breaks conference record.)

440-yard dash—Dismond, Chicago, first; Stirton, Illinois, second; Pendarvis, Illinois, third. Time—.52%. (Williams, Field and Donaldson, Wisconsin, disqualified for fouling.)

60-yard high hurdles—Ames, Illinois, first; Bush, Illinois, second; Pershing, Chicago, third; Burke, Wisconsin, fourth. Time—.08. (Ties conference record.)

Two-mile run—Mason, Illinois, first; Watson, Minnesota, second; Felton, Wisconsin, third; Benish, Wisconsin, fourth. Time—9:43%. (Breaks conference record.)

880-yard run—Harvey, Wisconsin, first; Clark, Chicago, second; Forsberg, Wisconsin, third; Schardt, Wisconsin, fourth. Time—2:02%.

Pole-vault—Culp, Illinois, and Huston, Wisconsin, tied for first; Fisher and Wagner, Chicago, Burgess, Illinois, and Warner, Northwestern, tied for third. Height—12 feet.

High jump—Webster, Illinois, first; James, Northwestern and Fisher, Chicago, tied for second; Schumaker, Purdue, Pittinger, Ohio State, Van Auken, Wisconsin, and Rowe, Iowa, tied for fourth. Height—5 feet 11 inches.

Shot Put—Mucks, Wisconsin, first; Crowe, Purdue, second; Prins, Purdue, third; Husted, Illinois, fourth. Distance—48 feet $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches. (Breaks conference record.)

Relay—Chicago, (Clark, Merrill, Cornwell and Dismond) first; Illinois, second; Wisconsin, third; Minnesota, fourth. Time—3:34. (Ties conference record.)

Swimmers Take Fourth

Owing to the scarcity of swimmers, Coach Hindman of the Badgers entered only three men in the conference swimming meet held at Evanston, Ill., on March 17, but all three took places. The Badgers, however, ranked only fourth in the final rating, Northwestern and Chicago tying for the lead. Illinois was third.

The meet established a new record for western swimming six old marks going by the boards and one being tied.

Schmidt did the best work for Wisconsin, taking third in the breast stroke and fourth in the back stroke. Nathan was fourth in the breast stroke and Nelson captured third in the fancy diving.

With several stars in the freshman class, Coach Hindman is optimistic over the chances next year. The summaries:

40-yard swim—Earle, Chicago, first; Johnson, Northwestern, second; O'Connor, Chicago, third; West, Northwestern, fourth. Time—:20. (New conference record.)

200-yard breast stroke—Scoles, Northwestern, first; Shirley, Chicago, second; Schmidt, Wisconsin, third; Nathan, Wisconsin, fourth. Time—2:51 1/2.

220-yard swim—Johnson, Northwestern, first; Earle, Chicago, second; Simonsen, Northwestern, third; Meine, Chicago, fourth. Time—2:33 1/2. (New conference record.)

Plunge for distance—Redmon, Chicago, first; MacDonald, Illinois, second; Simonsen, Northwestern, third; Harper, Chicago, fourth. Time—:19 1/2. (New conference record.)

150-yard back stroke—Pavlicek, Chicago, first; Scoles, Northwestern, second; Raymond, Northwestern, third; Schmidt, Wisconsin, fourth. Time—1:52 1/2. (New conference record.)

100-yard swim—Johnson, Northwestern, first; Earle, Chicago, second; O'Connor, Chicago, third; West, Northwestern, fourth. Time—:59 1/2. (Ties conference record.)

Fancy diving—Johns, Illinois, first; Rubinkam, Chicago, second; Nelson, Wisconsin, third; McDonald, Northwestern, fourth.

440-yard swim—Simonsen, Northwestern, first; Vitack, Northwestern, second; Meine, Chicago, third; Pavlicek, Chicago, fourth. Time—5:47 1/2. (New conference record.)

160-yard relay—Chicago, first, (Pavlicek, Earle, Meine, and O'Connor); Northwestern, second, Illinois, third. Time—1:21 1/2. (New conference record.)

Enter Drake and Penn Meets

Wisconsin will be represented by three teams at the Drake relay carnival at which the Badger four-mile team last year defeated the University of Michigan and hung up a new record for the event.

Coach Jones has entered a half-mile team which will be made up of Carter, Smith, Pederson and Casey; a mile team composed of Smith, Williams, Donaldson, Fosberg or Harvey; and a four-mile team composed of Captain Harvey, Schardt, Benish and either Merrill or Felton.

Depending upon their showing at Drake, one or more of these teams will be sent to the Pennsylvania games.

Arlie Mucks will represent the University in the latter meet in the weight events.

At Drake, Carter, who is conceded to be one of the fastest men in the West at the 220 yard dash, will represent Wisconsin in the special 220 event against a field of six runners conceded to be the pick of the Western field.

Spring Football Begins

Spring football, under the guidance of the new coach, Dr. Paul Withington, will begin within the next few weeks. Dr. Withington has announced that he will spend a couple of weeks here looking over the prospects and superintending the spring work. Captain Meyers has issued a call for the men to report to him the latter part of April.

Nine Gets Good Start

With two victories over Notre Dame and single wins over Dubuque College and Armour Institute the Badger baseball team has started out auspiciously.

The Notre Dame games were close affairs, the Badgers winning the first by sharp fielding. Although outthit eight to three they managed to win 1 to 0. Four Notre Dame runners were cut off at the plate.

In the second game, the Badgers won when Eber Simpson, Wisconsin's all-round athletic star, stole home in the final inning with the score tied, giving Wisconsin the victory.

Although it looked as if the bulk of the pitching duties would fall upon the shoulders of the veteran Moon, the new-comers, Brann, who pitched for the University of Michigan freshman team two years ago Zick and Cusick, have done good work.

Captain Boulware was unable to make the trip with his men owing to the fact that he injured his shoulder in the preliminary practice. He will be unable to play for several weeks. The Badger infield looks to be one of the best in the conference with Simpson at first, Slaby at second, Pederson at short and Levis and Brady at third.

Kloser is doing good work behind the bat while Reese, Ross, Luebchow and McDonald are showing up well in the outfield.

LOYALTY

By J. J. PETTIJOHN, '11

Director of Extension Division, University of Indiana

MY I add a word with reference to the loyalty of the members of the Alumni Association? I do not believe any college or university has a more loyal group of graduates than the University of Wisconsin. I have been in a number of states during the past three years and have met a great many alumni of other institutions, and everywhere I have been told by these people that the Wisconsin graduates were the most enthusiastic and loyal alumni in the country. Now, of course, the statement of these outside people is not based on as clear an understanding of the actual situation as that of the men at the University of Wisconsin itself. Nevertheless, the impression that our graduates gave to these outside folks is a bit of evidence worth considering.

If I were to offer a suggestion I would make it thus: There should be an organized and more consistent effort made by the members of the faculty and by the upper classmen and also by the members of the Alumni Association, especially those living at Madison, to develop among the undergraduate students the spirit of loyalty to and an intelligent understanding of the University. And this spirit and understanding should not be the usual sentimental feeling expressed toward an endowed institution, but it should be an appreciation of the facts that the University of Wisconsin is one of the best types of a state university; that a state university is an ideal of democracy, an institution expressing the finest conception we have formulated of democracy itself.

To illustrate: I attended an endowed college during my freshman year, and I have a very sympathetic feeling for that institution. I have just as sympathetic but quite a different sense of loyalty toward the University of Wisconsin. The two institutions are different. The college is the ideal of a few men who believed and sacrificed much of their ideal, and whose belief and sacrifice stimulated other men to endow a college; while the university is the product of conscious democracy; it stands for an inspiration, a hope, an ideal of an organized society which we call a commonwealth. Now it seems to me that the students of a state university, especially of the University of Wisconsin, ought to be so trained and so inspired that they will feel and understand the significance of that great institution of democracy, and be just as willing to support it, or if need be to fight for it, as are the students of an endowed college willing to defend and to make sacrifices for their Alma Mater.

DEATHS

ALBERT ALLEN, Law '73, who died at Los Angeles on February 2, was one of the pioneers of Spokane, where he had practiced law since 1887. He was active in the railroad and mining litigation of the Northwest, and at the time of his death he was the attorney for the Spokane International Railway. He represented the owners in the tailings case at Coeur d' Alene, and was active in the celebrated Big Buffalo case. As a member of the committee of fifteen, he helped to draft the charter of Spokane in 1893. He is survived by his wife, a son, and two daughters. A high tribute was paid Mr. Allen in a recent memorial meeting of the Spokane Bar Association.

Word has been received of the death of MAY L. WHITE, '04, on July 1, 1915.

LUCIEN P. WETHERBY, who attended the University in 1908-1910, was killed in a bayonet charge on the Gallipoli peninsula while serving in the ranks of the Australian auxiliaries. Up to the time of his enlistment last spring, he was engaged in railroad construction in Australia.

MARIE BAUMGARTNER, '12, died at San Diego on March 10, and was buried at Lancaster, Wisconsin, on March 16.

ERNEST A. PETERSON, '14, recently died at La Crosse.

VIOLA M. KIECKHOEFER, '16, of Fond du Lac, died at the Madison General Hospital on March 20. She was the sister of William H., of the political economy department, Benjamin A., '11, and Alma, '14.

1915

Class Secretary—ERNEST O. LANGE, 420 Grant St., Fond du Lac.

We spent two or more years of energy, time and money to obtain our education; what is it worth to you to keep alive the associations which made our college life worth while?—W. A. Foster.

The Class Memorial should be completed in 1916. The work on the new boathouse is under way, and Business Manager Thorkelson has set aside the northwest tower of the remodeled building for the Class of 1915. The Class will equip this tower with the instruments necessary to aid the work of the watchman who operates the Cardinal launch; they will also furnish the tower so that the man on watch may make his permanent quarters there. As work progresses, mention will be made of it in the class section in the Magazine.—W. A. Foster.

Although the class of 1915 was in debt at the close of the junior year, due largely to a heavy prom loss, and was even threatened with a civil suit, its financial status at present is better than that of any class which has preceded it for some years.

The activities of the class during the senior year were very successful. There was a small loss on the Men's Smoker and the Class Dance just cleared expenses, but the Senior Play netted almost $450 and the Invitations Committee turned in a profit of $115. Since June, 1915, $214 has been received from members in memorial fees. Shortly after Commencement $400 worth of bonds were purchased—$300 in Keeley, Neckerman & Kessenich first mortgage 5 per cent maturing in 1919, and $100 in Pinckney Apartment Building 5½ per cent due in 1921. These investments yielded the class $10.25 on the first of February, 1916.

The checking account of the class in the Branch Bank of Wisconsin has a balance of $95. The total wealth of the class at present amounts to approximately $710. In comparison with previous classes, one of which had to solicit donations from members for a year after graduation in order to pay its debts, this is a remarkably creditable showing.—A. G. Harter, financial advisor.

The directory which follows is not complete, but it represents the best work we could do under our present organization. Its aim is to keep alive the Wisconsin spirit we had when in school.

The Class of 1915 wants every member of 1915 to become a member of the Alumni Association. The Magazine is the best way to reach you. In order to give value received to the 1915 members of the Association, we are now organizing a system of class reporters, whose duty it is to furnish live and accurate news items for publication each month. From now on this system will be in operation.

At the time you read this, we ask you to consider the proposition of alumni organization as a business requiring the united action and good will of all members, calling at times for a little sacrifice of time, but resulting in the end in the development of that class and school spirit which draws graduates like a magnet back to reunions and homecomings.

Plans are now being laid for the first reunion in 1920. They are plans for your reunion. Let's get together in this work and make 1915 leader of them all.—W. A. Foster.

CAMPUS NOTES

The problem of student expenses has been met in a novel way by a law student, R. G. Conant. Last fall Conant pitched a tent on the wooded slope just north of Main Hall, where he has lived throughout the entire winter. He has reduced his expenses further by preparing his own meals.

Alumnae of the University, to the number of 401, are engaged in occupations other than teaching according to statistics compiled from the records of the Alumni Headquarters by Miss M. Mason, vocational advisor of women. They are distributed as follows: Library work, 100; social service, 65; clerical and secretarial, 48; literary, 31; business, 29; professional, 29; domestic science, 20; agriculture, 19; civil service, 18; administrative, 14; scientific work, 11; economic and public service, 9; pharmacy, 8.

Phi Beta Kappa Elections—Juniors.

Edwards, Arthur Euler, Seymour Fiske, Florence Fleming, Robert L. Grant, Magnhilde A. Gullander, Mary Hemenway, Irene Higgins, Harold D. Kerr, Viola M. Kiekhoefer, Henry B. Merrill, Marguerite Mock, Amy F.

Mueller, Edward R. Narr, Le Roy Peterson, Ernest J. Phillipp, Anita V. Pleuss, John H. Skavlem, Katherine B. Stewart, Joseph V. Taylor, Madge P. Van Dyke, Margaret Wahl, M. B. Wise, Susan A. Yeager.

The 1918 Badger will be edited by Frank Birch and managed by Vernon Packard as the result of the most closely contested election held in the last four years. Three tickets were in the field and the winning editor-in-chief had a majority of eight votes.

In the annual triangular debate Wisconsin suffered a double defeat on the question of federal ownership. At Michigan our negative team, composed of Forest Black, '16; Guy Black, '17, and Herman Zischke, '17, lost by a unanimous decision, while our affirmative team, made up of Francis D. Higson, '17; Leroy J. Burlinghame, '18, and Isadore W. Mendelsohn, '18, lost to Illinois at Madison by a vote of two to one. By defeating Wisconsin at Ann Arbor and Illinois at Urbana, Michigan won the contest.

British recruiting activity in Canada is shown by an exhibit of posters recently presented to the State Historical Society by Col. G. E. Lardlow of Victoria Cross Roads, Ontario.

France, England and Belgium were represented on the University's lecture program for this month. Joachim Merlant of the University of Montpelier spoke on "Public Taste in France in Recent Years;" G. Lowes Dickinson of Cambridge University spoke on "International Reconstruction After the War;" and Paul Van den Ven of the University of Louvain gave two lectures on "Byzantine Civilization."

Artus, honorary economics fraternity, announces the election of the following juniors: Fred C. Seibold, Leroy Peterson, Maurice Leven, Paul Shuster Taylor, Walter A. Werner, Herman A. Zischke, Robert L. Peters, and Jacob G. Calvert, Jr.

The first Indian farmers' course ever held in the State was given on the Menomonie Reservation by the University in co-operation with the federal Indian Service for a week in March. The interest of the Indians in such subjects as corn seed testing, potato seed treatment, and stock judging, showed that the demonstration of approved agricultural practices was appreciated. There were 1,750 Indians on the reservation and 140 farms ranging from 5 to 50 acres. The government maintains a 340 acre experimental farm.

Robert Silvercruys, an instructor in French in the University, has received a military service medal from Belgium in recognition of his services as a cycle dispatch bearer during the opening days of the war.

The University Clinic, with its staff of six doctors and four nurses, have given 118,000 office consultations, made 86,000 house and hospital visitations, treated 15,000 students affected with minor diseases, and made 16,000 thorough physical examinations since 1910. This excellent activity has reduced serious illness, prevented epidemics, and decreased the time lost from scholastic work. Two buildings, a clinic and an infirmary, are devoted exclusively to the care of student health. Somewhat similar aid is furnished to students at California, Michigan and Harvard.

The Haresfoot Club will present "Phiddle D. D." in the following cities: "Baraboo, May 1; Rockford, May 2; Racine, May 3; Milwaukee, May 4; Madison, May 5-6.

Harold Wengler, '17, has the leading feminine role, while H. D. Ferris, Grad., and Webb White, '16, will handle the two important male parts.

Women students have held three class presidencies during the present college year. Marjorie Adams headed the junior class the first semester and Mary Eastman succeeded her when Robert Johnson was declared ineligible the day following his election to the office. Lucile Yates became president of the freshmen upon the withdrawal of President Willard L. Fuller.

Senior officers for the second semester are: President, Crawford Wheeler; first vice-president, Margaret Wahl; second vice-president, Edward Cusick; secretary, Ruth Dillman; treasurer, Claude Maurer; sergeant-at-arms, Edward Stavrum. The ticket was elected by default.

Delta Sigma Rho, debating and oratorical fraternity, announces the election of: Forrest R. Black, '16; Milo K. Swanton, '16; Guy Black, '17; Isador W. Mendelsohn, '17; Herman A. Zischke, '17; Le Roy J. Burlingame, '18.

The Panama Canal Slides are due to the heavy rainfall of the Zone, according to the preliminary report of the investigating committee of the National Academy of Sciences of which President Van Hise is the chairman. In the Culebra district the average fall is 87.68 inches, 80 of which falls in the eight months of the wet season. The committee is confident that this can be controlled by a proper system of drainage which will protect the Canal from further traffic interruptions.

The Regents and Visitors at their joint meeting in March discussed the advisability of having a dean of men, supervision of instruction, desirability of a required course in ethics, supervision of student publications, the separation of the men's and women's athletic departments, and the needs of the University infirmary.

The Class of 1914 Loan Fund, which now amounts to $484, is doing excellent work. Fifteen loans, totaling $605, have been made, of which four, amounting to $150, have been paid. Of the eleven outstanding not one is overdue.

Daniel W. Mead, professor of sanitary and hydraulic engineering, has opened an office in the Equitable Building, New York, with F. W. Scheidenhelm, for consulting work in hydraulic and electric development, water supply, and reclamation. Mr. Mead will divide his time between New York and Madison.

The Law Students gave their third annual banquet on April 4 with Judge F. A. Geiger, '88, of the United States District Court for Eastern Wisconsin, and Justice Rosenberry of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin as speakers.

Fraternities and Sororities are considering the problem of co-operative buying in connection with the employment of a general financial supervisor under whose direction all receipts and disbursements will be made. The forty organizations at Wisconsin hope to profit by a system which has proven most successful at Cornell.

Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commercial fraternity, announces the election of the following juniors: Alfred S. Johnson, Clarence H. Lichtfeldt, Kurt C. Ruedebusch, George L. Service, Glenn E. Taylor, Marshall Wiles.

Dr. William H. Twenhofel, '08, (Yale), of the University of Kansas, has been appointed associate professor of geology to succeed Eliot Blackwelder, who left the University to become head of the geology department at Illinois.

Editors of student agricultural publications representing Cornell, Purdue, Illinois, Iowa, Oklahoma, Penn State, and Wisconsin met in Chicago recently to form the Association of Agricultural College Magazines of America.

The Inter-sorority bowling championship was won by Kappa Alpha Theta with Alpha Xi Delta second and Pi Beta Phi third. Laura Haywood, '17, of the champions, won the individual cup with an average of 203.

The Junior Play, "The Reformers," by Hymen Rosenblatt, '17, was given at the Fuller on March 25, with Ruth Alice Burke and Carl H. Berger heading the cast. Like the play of last year "The Reformers" was a commentary on student life.

BOOK NOTES

Principles of Labor Legislation (Harper) by John R. Commons, University of Wisconsin, and John B. Andrews, '04, Ph. D. '08, secretary of the American Association for Labor Legislation. This work aims to sketch the historical background of the various labor problems, to indicate the nature and extent of each, and to describe the legislative remedies which have been applied. It is a treatment of the principles of labor law, as distinguished from the details that have been subjected to various changes due to legislative action. It points out the good and bad in the statutes and show how the one is being strengthened and the other remedied.

Textiles (Appleton) by Paul H. Nyström, '09, is a concise yet thorough treatment of the production, manufacture, marketing and distribution of the principle textiles. The last two chapters discuss the care of textiles and the tests that should be applied to them. The book will be a valuable work for all who are interested in the sale, manufacture, or use of the products of the textile mills.

Chief Contemporary Dramatists

(Houghton, Mifflin), selected and edited by Thomas H. Dickinson, Ph. D. '06, professor of English, aims to present "a series of plays which would as nearly as possible represent the abiding achievements of the present dramatic era." It includes twenty complete plays of an equal number of the leading dramatists of Europe and America, among whom may be mentioned Wilde, Pinero, Yeats, Fitch, Thomas, MacKaye, Hauptmann, Bri-eux, Maeterlinck and Bjornson.

Women at the Hague (Macmillan) by Jane Addams, LL. D. '04, Emily G. Balch and Alice Hamilton is a most interesting account of the purpose, work and final results of the International Congress of Women, held at the Hague last April. Miss Addams contributed articles on "The Revolt Against War," "Factors in Continuing the War," and "Women and Internationalism." The other essays cover impressions of the congress and of the trips made by the two delegations to the European capitals. Julia Grace Wales of the University gives a synopsis of arguments for her plan for continuous mediation without armistice.
