HOMECOMING! This year the great event of the intercollegiate football game with our able neighbor and valued friend, Illinois, meant more than an athletic contest. Naturally that phase held dominant interest. But former students representing the cross section of University life of the past half century came home again from far and near to visit Alma Mater with feelings of affection mingled with the desire to see the major contest of the Western Conference. The decade of the sixties had a few whom we were privileged to welcome. Among those of the seventies was one who related an interesting account of his purchase of the famous bed built by John Muir, ex '65, LL.D. '97. Alumni who are parents of

THE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

A cordial greeting from Alma Mater to all the Homecomers!

It is a good thing for you to come home—to recall old days and to renew old ties of friendship. Homecoming helps you to keep warm your affections for Wisconsin and no less does it help Alma Mater to hold her numerous children in her remembrance. So we who remain on the campus welcome you who arrive here on Saturday from every quarter, coming not merely to see a football game but also because your loyalty and love for the University bring you home again.

E. A. BIRGE, President.

November 11, 1922.

alumni, a number who boast grandparentage, joined with graduates of recent years in the great throng of nearly thirty thousand who responded to invitations sent out by the Department of Athletics and by the Student Homecoming Committee. Never had Alma Mater entertained so many Homecomers. At that the number would have been doubled had more seats been obtainable and more rooms available. Attractive decorations, diversified entertainments—everything possible was done to make the event one of pleasure. Even though the weather man forecasted rain he withheld that threat until after the game. From the standpoint of spectators the weather was delightfully warm, too heavy for wraps and furs, but from the standpoint of players the heat was oppressive. Undoubtedly this warm weather tended to slow up the local team more than it did our rivals from a few hundred miles farther south.

Fighting Illinois defeated our valiant Badgers. Justly proud may our neighbors be. While the defeat surprises and grieves Wisconsin there is no reason why we should feel disgraced. "Wisconsin, may she win—but, win or lose, Wisconsin!" Gone are hopes for the coveted mythical championship of the Western Conference. Opportunity still remains for a display of the traditional Wisconsin spirit in our contests with Michigan and Chicago, both of which, while in the future at the time this goes to the printer, will be past events e'er this publication reaches the readers.

Homecoming was truly enjoyable. Order was most commendable. There were no accidents and no disturbances of the peace. Homecoming offered a fine, wholesome form of week-end entertainment to former students, old and young. May the splendors of such gatherings increase and may the pleasures multiply. Come home again!

MEMORIAL UNION GOAL NEARING

By L. S. BAKER, '22

EACH day, with its incoming subscriptions from students, alumni, and friends of the University, sees the goal of a million dollars for Wisconsin's Memorial Union Building nearing. From all corners of the state and nation comes the call for the use of the "Wisconsin Memories" film—the desire for up-to-date information on the project—and the concrete evidence in pledges of the renewing love and faith which students of former days hold for Wisconsin and her success.

On October 30, in the gymnasium and annex, 2,700 students new to the campus this year were introduced to the Wisconsin Tradition. Speeches by the Reverend Dr. A. J. McCartney, '00, of Chicago, Judge J. C. Karel, '95, President F. A. Birge, '15, Dean S. H. Goodnight, '05, and Professor E. H. Gardner with ringing appeals from Laurence Hall, '20, and Robert Stewart, '22, told the story of the deeds which have determined Wisconsin's greatness in the field of practical ideals. When the deep need of the University for a center for Wisconsin life—a Home for Wisconsin spirit—was set forth, the resulting pledges pushed the total twenty-seven thousand dollars nearer the million mark.

St. Paul and Minneapolis opened twin campaigns on the eve of the Wisconsin-Minnesota game and to date have reported by wire a total of $6,600 without a single refusal. Manitowoc, under the leadership of Earl Vits, '14, has reached $6,400, with several more thousands in sight. Chicago has already passed the $66,000 mark and is pointing her efforts towards the century figure by November 24 at the football dinner in the Hotel Sherman the night before the Chicago-Wisconsin game.

As this story goes to press (November 15) the grand total pledged is $731,200 with preparations in progress for opening campaigns in Milwaukee, Cleveland, New York, Boston, and other cities of the East within the next few weeks. Plans are now on foot, sponsored by the Wisconsin Union Board and student leaders, for a series of dances during the Christmas holidays in all of the larger cities of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota, the proceeds to be contributed to the Memorial Union. More U. W. Clubs are being formed in many cities for the work, and the end of the semester, February 3, is expected to see the million dollar goal achieved.

Architectural delays are nearly over now, and final plans may soon be expected. According to present plans, the Memorial Union, a fit companion to the imposing library building, will be a structure of Bedford stone, 284 feet long on Langdon Street, and 336 feet deep, occupying all the space now filled by the President's house, the clinic, and the present Union building.

Its dominant architectural feature will be the Memorial Rotunda, patterned after the Pan American building at Washington, called "the most beautiful building in America." Here will be permanently recorded the Gold Star Roll of the University and suitable commemoration of those who served their country from Wisconsin in three wars. Here Homecoming crowds of thousands in years to come will find a magnificent and spacious haven—a meeting place in which they hold a share. In beauty supreme on the campus, will be the type and shrine of Wisconsin spirit.

ALUMNI BOARD MEETING

THE meeting of the Alumni Board was held on November 11, at Alumni Headquarters, at 821 State Street, Madison, at 10 a. m. The meeting was called to order by President Israel Shrimski, ex '88. Those present were: R. N. McMynn, '94, A. R. Janecky, '07, C. N. Brown, '81, F. H. Clausen, '97, Mary Clark Brittingham, '89, L. F. Van Hagan, '04, V. S. Falk, '11, and R. S. Crawford, '03, General Secretary.

On motion the reading of the minutes of the last meeting were dispensed with.

The General Secretary reported that William Foster, '14, member of the Board of Visitors, has resigned and that the constitution provides that the Alumni Board recommend to the Alumni Council for election candidates for the Board of Visitors. Following discussion of this matter Mr. Clausen moved that the Alumni Board recommend to the Alumni Council B. E. McCormick, '04, superintendent of schools at La Crosse, as a member of the Board of Visitors to succeed William Foster, resigned. The motion was unanimously carried.

Treasurer C. N. Brown in filing his report stated, "I hereby for business reasons tender my resignation as treasurer, with great regret." Secretary Crawford called the attention of the Board to the valuable time and ability that Mr. Brown had so generously contributed to organized alumni work for more than a decade. Mr. McMynn offered the following resolution: "I move with regret and with sincere appreciation of the able and devoted, long and patient service of Mr. Brown, that we accept his resignation as treasurer of the association." Motion was carried unanimously.

On motion of Mr. Clausen F. H. Elwell, '08, was unanimously chosen treasurer by the Alumni Board.

The question of having the General Secretary visit local clubs was given informal discussion.

The meeting adjourned at 10:55.

ALUMNI COUNCIL MEETING

THE meeting of the Alumni Council was held at Music Hall, November 11, at 11 a. m. The chairman of the meeting was President Israel Shrimski, ex '88. The minutes of the last meeting, as published on pages 307-310 of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE for August, 1922, were approved.

The chairman announced that the terms of the president and vice president had expired and also those of F. H. Clausen, '97, and J. E. McConnell, '87, on the Alumni Board. A committee consisting of Judge E. B. Belden, '86, Florence Moffatt Bennett, '04, and F. S. White, '81, was appointed by the President to suggest nominees for these positions on the Alumni Board for the ensuing year. While this committee was in session roll call was taken. Those answering roll call were:

Other proxies for classes of 1860, 1864, 1865, 1868, 1870, 1873, 1878, 1884, 1885, 1892, 1893, 1900, 1907, and 1909, held by R. S. Crawford; for 1869 by C. N. Brown.

Clubs: Chicago Alumnae, Lucy Rogers, '18; Chicago Alumni, R. F. Schuchardt, '97; Duluth, Benton Beyers, '04; Fort Atkinson, C. B. Rogers, '93; Indianapolis, Paul Buchanan, '10; New England, L. D. Jones, '12; Racine, E. B. Belden, '86.

Others proxies for U. W. Clubs of Chippewa Valley, Detroit Alumni, Detroit Alumnae, Janesville, Los Angeles Alumni, Sheboygan County, Teacher's Club, Twin Cities Alumnae, and West Bend held by R. S. Crawford; for Pocatello by I. Shrimski; for Salt Lake City by C. N. Brown; for Puget Sound and St. Croix Valley by A. R. Jannecky.

Members at large: H. W. Adams, '00, Beloit; C. B. Rogers, '93, Fort Atkinson; A. R. Jannecky, '07, Racine; Alice Bemis H'Doubler, '18, acting for Catherine Cleveland, '94.

Other proxies for members at large: for C. L. Byron, '08, J. H. Gabriel, '87, and Mary Orvis, '07, held by R. S. Crawford.

The nominating committee then made the following recommendations to the Council: For president, R. N. McMynn, '94; for vice president, Mary Clark Brittingham, '89; to succeed J. E. McConnell, '87, on the Alumni Board, C. N. Brown, '81, and to succeed F. H. Clausen on the Alumni Board, Theodore Kronshage, '91. The recommendations of the nominating committee were unanimously adopted by the Council. The recommendation of the Alumni Board that B. E. McCormick, '04, of La Crosse fill the unexpired term on the Board of Visitors of William Foster, '15, resigned, met with unanimous approval.

Mr. Shrimski: It is with regret that I announce to the Council that Mr. Brown, who has served the Association for so many years so well and so faithfully, has declined to take the office of treasurer for another year. He has seen the Association rise from poverty to somewhat affluent circumstances, and I assure him that it is with great regret that we accept his decision to withdraw from the office of treasurer. The roll will not look natural without the name of C. N. Brown as treasurer. As successor to Mr. Brown the Board feels that the Council will be much pleased in our choice of F. H. Elwell, '08.

The treasurer's report was then accepted and referred to an auditing committee.

The following proposal was then offered by the Wisconsin Alumnae Association of Chicago through Alice Bemis H'Doubler, '18, representative of Jessie Shepherd, '95.

"In view of the growth in the number of local Wisconsin Clubs, in recent years, and the increasing membership in the General Alumni Association, The Wisconsin Alumnae of Chicago would like to propose:

"I. That the nominating committees be appointed at such dates, preceding the Alumni Council meeting, as will enable those committees to publish in the ALUMNI MAGAZINE, in the issue of the month prior to the Council meeting, all nominations for officers, members of the Board of Visitors, delegates to the Alumni Council, and any other representatives of the General Alumni Association who are to be elected by the Alumni Council.

"II. That the Alumni Council appoint a regional committee to make a survey of the General Alumni and Alumnae Associations of the country to determine how these associations are constituted and what relation they bear to their universities—to what extent their universities depend on them for practical suggestions and assistance—this survey being for the purpose of enabling our General Alumni Association to render the maximum service to Wisconsin."

Following suggestions offered by Mr. White, '81, Mrs. Pease, '86, Mr. Austin, '12, and Mr. Clausen, '97, as to the best means of carrying out the proposal made by the Wisconsin Alumnae of Chicago, Mr. Schuchardt, '97, offered a motion to the effect that a committee be appointed to draft a suitable amendment so as to provide for giving advance publicity both to the matter of nominations and to the personnel of the nominating committee so that said committee might receive the benefit of suggestions, and that such resolution be printed in the ALUMNI MAGAZINE before the June meeting. This motion secured unanimous approval. President Shrimski announced that the incoming president would appoint the committee mentioned. H. W. Adams, '00, then moved that paragraph 2 of the proposal made by the Wisconsin Alumnae of Chicago be referred to the Alumni Board to make such recommendations as they see fit.

N. D. Bassett, '14, then made inquiry as to the desirability and propriety of having the Alumni Council consider and endorse a proposition for providing a new gymnasium through means of a bond issue. President Shrimski stated the position the Board of Visitors had taken on the matter of constructing dormitories and completing the stadium, stated that the Board of Regents had adopted the recommendations of the Board of Visitors, but showed that these matters, according to the Attorney General could not proceed until the legislature had made such procedure legally possible.

Mr. Austin then offered a motion, which passed, that suitable resolution expressing the bereavement of the entire Association on the death of Bishop Fallows, '59, be incorporated in the records of the Alumni Association. Mr. Tubesing asked whether it would be proper for the Alumni Council to go on record as in favor of a picture of Bishop Fallows. Mr. Schuchardt explained what the U. W. Alumni Club of Chicago is planning in the way of a scholarship for Bishop Fallows. Mr. Rogers, '93, moved that the matter be referred to the Alumni Board.

Mr. Shrimski then introduced his successor, Mr. McMynn, '94, who with earnest modesty expressed his sincere desire for greater co-operation and efficiency on the part of members of the Association. Mr. McMynn paid tribute to the efficient example set to others by the U. W. Club of Chicago, mentioned as big problems the matter of the Memorial Union and the dire need of buildings that will satisfactorily house and permit the more effective functioning of life of the University in its various phases. He bespoke the co-operation of undergraduates, former students, and also of such bodies as the Board of Visitors and the Board of Regents, asking the help of all for the good of the University.

RURAL CHURCH CONFERENCE

By DR. J. H. KOLB, '21

THE Rural Church Conference held at the College of Agriculture during the first two weeks of the Summer Session enrolled fifty-two delegates from twelve denominational groups as follows: Advent Christian, Baptist, Catholic, Congregational, Evangelical Association, Evangelical Lutheran, Evangelical Synod, Lutheran (Norwegian), Methodist Episcopal, Moravian, Presbyterian, and Reformed Church in U. S. This registration came from 30 counties in Wisconsin and from four outside states, namely, Montana, Minnesota, North Dakota, and Iowa.

Courses of instruction covered Rural Life, The Rural Community and the Church, Agricultural Economics and Marketing, Administration of Country Churches, Recreational Leadership, and Auto Mechanics. Various group conferences were held on the theory that certain general problems and interests which are common to all must be worked out through the various church institutions already in the field.

The spirit of the conference may be shown by quoting one of the men in attendance: "This is the first time," he said, "that I have really seen the place of my life work as country clergyman and the work of our local country church in the whole scheme of modern scientific agriculture and progressive rural life. It has given me a perspective and an appreciation of the ideals and principles for right living in the country which I could not have gotten in any other way."

Resolutions adopted by the conference at the end of the session follow:

1. It is the unanimous opinion of the Rural Church Conference, gathered at Madison, Wisconsin, from June 26 to July 8, 1922, that the conference has met a definite need in the State and should be continued by the College of Agriculture from year to year.

2. The Conference urges that the policy of such a conference be an intensive, rather highly specialized course, such as can be furnished only by a college of agriculture and a state university in a way as not to compete with any denominational or church school or conference.

3. The season of the year recommended by this Conference is some time within the period of the regular summer session of the University.

4. A modified two weeks' term is proposed, namely, using Monday of the first week for registration and continuing the school over one Sunday, closing Friday night of the following week.

5. The types of courses recommended for such conferences are as follows: a. A course in Rural Sociology presented from the particular angle of the rural church, allowing certain time beyond the class hour for study and laboratory work. b. A course in agricultural economics or adult education. c. Allow for two hours of classwork distributed through the College of Agriculture or University to be taken along with the regular summer school session or in specially organized classes. d. One hour for recreation of both the practical and theoretical type. e. One hour for group meetings of a denominational or special interest character.

WISCONSIN IN CHINA

By CARL ROGERS, '24

I WAS sent as one of the four official student delegates from the United States to attend the Conference of the World's Student Christian Federation in Peking April 4-9, 1922. I left the United States with the rest of the delegation on February 21. We landed in Japan and went through Japan and Korea on our way to Peking. After the conference I went down through central China to Hankow, and down the Yangtse to Shanghai. From there two of us went to the Philippines, stopping only at Manila, and then came back to Hongkong and Canton. From there we proceeded leisurely up the coast, stopping at several of the ports on the way, and ending up at Shanghai. From there I came home, reaching Seattle July 31.

The conference was attended by delegates from thirty-two countries, its purpose being to unite the Christian students of the world, and discuss ways and means of Christianizing inter-national and inter-racial relationships. It was a wonderful opportunity to come to know students from all over the world, and it was a surprise to some of us to find that the students of the Orient, especially those from China and India, had done far more, and far deeper, thinking on many of these questions than we American students.

After the conference I had splendid opportunities, while traveling through China, to get in touch with the student body. In spite of the hopeless chaos that China is in, to one who has seen the students of China there is no more hopeful country in the world. The students are in the midst of a great Renaissance movement that is affecting them as profoundly as the European Renaissance affected medieval life. Education is having a great revival, and all the schools are crowded with the finest type of students.

It was very interesting to find three Wisconsin alumni who are playing a big part in the student life, and more especially in the Christian student life of the Orient. At Tokyo I found Arthur Jorgenson, ex '14, working with the Japanese students, and in China I found John Childs, '11, and Ray Sweetman, '13. John Childs is doing a wonderful piece of work in Peking. It is regarded by nearly every one as the finest piece of student Christian work done in China. He has succeeded in uniting all the churches and the Y. M. C. A. and under their combined auspices forming the Peking Student Union, which is composed of and managed by the students of Peking. Although newer in the work, Ray Sweetman is already making a reputation for himself, and I spent several interesting days with him in Nanking.

I met several other Wisconsin alumni over there, all of them making a real success of their work. Wisconsin has a name to be proud of in Oriental circles.

"ON WISCONSIN"

(Story of the play of the University of Wisconsin Club of Chicago)

By R. F. SCHUCHARDT, '97

HERE are many interesting and stirring events and there is also considerable romance associated with the history of our University. The play "On Wisconsin" owes its being to the thought that a knowledge of this history would help to arouse renewed feelings of loyalty to and love for our Alma Mater in both young and old alumni. It seemed therefore to offer a good means for preparing the ground in Chicago for the impending drive for the Memorial Union Building and it was produced as the "opening gun" for the drive. It is frankly propaganda for that purpose, as will appear from the description.

The method adopted for presenting the history uses three allegorical characters, History, Young Wisconsin, and Young Wisconsin's Sister. History tells Young Wisconsin and Sister the story and occasionally "opes the book to show a page in life," the four acts being the pages.

After the orchestra has played mid-nineteenth century music the three allegorical characters come out before the curtain, and History, being urged to tell the promised story, begins it as follows

"In the great commonwealth
That northward lies from here,
Of which you are the sturdy son
And you the daughter fair,
There is a University of far spread fame—
Your boast, your pride.
You know it as it is,
But how it was is buried deep
In musty books and in men's memories.
To you I shall relate of its beginnings
And of its many fateful days since then,
And ever and anon
I'll ope the book and let you see a page
In life.
The cry of 'Westward Ho' brought
Many a stalwart settler
Out to the unclaimed wilds
Where redskin chased the furry badger to his lair.
Cities sprang up, and soon the fertile valleys
Resounded to the stir of industry;
And out of these communities, new formed,
A mighty state was welded.
Between the great sea at the east
And giant river toward the sunset sky
There rose Wisconsin.

As soon as statehood stature had been reached
The builders turned to thoughts of higher aims
And straightway laid the stones on which to found
A temple for 'more light.'
And at the mid-hour of the hundred years
That mark the nineteenth century
The doors were opened wide.
Then Chancellor Lathrop called the welcome loud
While grand John Sterling took the youth in hand
And led them 'long the paths of knowledge.

The town was but a village then,
Five years before the railroad came.
Those early days were arduous, but Though the place lacked from the outside touch
It more than offered balance from within,
For none more beautiful, none of nature's bounty
Had a finer or a nobler share.

A simple hall the first, that domiciled
The students and the profs.
And in four years a twin across the hillside campus
Took its place to keep it company.
'Twas five years more e'er the Main Hall
At top of noble upper Campus Hill
Ope'd wide its doors to welcome students in.

But envy made bold enemies who tried
To wreck the noble ship so that
Sectarian rivals might the stronger grow.
Then had the opening years the last ones been
But for the valiant deeds of friends
Like Lewis, gov'nor of the state,

And Lucius Fairchild after him,
And Thomas Allen too,
And many others staunch like these.

Came Henry Barnard now to steer the ship awhile,
But ill health handicapped too much
And so the hopes of those who builded on the man
Were doomed to disappointment.
For six years then the sturdy hand of Sterling
Held the wheel, first as the honored dean,
Then as Vice Chancellor.
Now scarce had time a decade rounded out
Of legislative strife and loyal labors in the Hall
Than fell the shriek of Mars upon the land.
Wisconsin heard the call and nobly did she heed
When Lincoln asked for men and arms,
The country's urgent need.

Full many a student went,
And some came back no more.
The country's mighty men then spent Their strength that they might win the war,
And little now was left
For other things, no matter what the urge.
But still the University strove on
Because it had real men,
Men of sturdy fibre that would not own defeat;
So when the bugle call and roll of drum did cease
The Varsity with courage true prepared for work of peace."

At the end of the prologue the music, which has been playing softly throughout, turns into "Tenting Tonight" and as the curtain rises on a scene representing an oak grove near the lake a group of students is shown discussing the war just ended the preceding year. It is a picture of the early years. Some of the students have been in the army and the dialogue brings out the names of many noted war Badgers such as Gen. (Bishop) Samuel Fallows, '59,
Gen. Fairchild, '57, Gen. Rufus Dawes, ex-
'60, Col. Wm. F. Vilas, '58, Captains Spooner,
'64, Norcross, ex'64, Hall, '61, Vilas, '63,
Tredway, '63, and others. Patrick Walsh, the faithful old janitor who served the University from 1861 to his death in 1897 and who thus appears in three of the acts, takes part in the discussion.

Young Wisconsin and Sister, who have taken their place at one side of the proscenium arch, with History at the other side, are deeply interested. The discussion lead
Young Wisconsin to ask,
"History,
Did none here a memorial raise?
Was all their effort spent in praise?
Did Varsity sons give years and life
So this fair Union may survive,
And here at home no grateful men
Have built a fitting monument to them!"

(To be continued)

Eclipse of the sun

This is the month when the sun is outshone, and we mortals draw greater warmth and sustenance from that homely provender—mince pie.

It is the warmth of the holiday spirit, which causes human hearts to glow when temperatures are lowest. Mother's cooking—the family united—Christmas trees and crackling logs—what would this world be without them?

In promoting the family good cheer the college man's part is such that modesty often blinds him to it.

It would hardly occur to the glee club man to sing over the songs of Alma Mater for the still Dearer One at home.

The football man would scarcely suspect that his younger brother is dying to have him drop-kick for the "fellers."

The Prom leader would not presume to think that among those sisters who have been waiting to share his agility at fox-trot may be his own sister.

And in general, college men would scorn to believe that any conversational prowess they might possess on books, professors or campus activities could possibly interest a certain Gentleman Who Foots the Bills.

But just try it, all of you. The welcome you get will warm the cockles of your heart.

This suggestion, amid sighs as they look back across the years, is the best way a bunch of old grads here know of wishing you "Merry Christmas".

17. Q. Does this organization maintain a loan fund or scholarship? A. No, but students are sometimes helped from the general funds.

The Presbyterian Student Alliance conducts the general work among students, including: calling on students, social activities, social service work in the city and University Hospital, athletics (with tennis court on the property and basketball teams), musical features, proper care and use of Student Headquarters Building, finances for student activities and student payments on property, with committees to help Student Church and co-operate with other local churches.

The University Presbyterian Church is a regularly organized Presbyterian church with regular Sunday services conducted in the Presbyterian Student Headquarters—Bible classes, morning service, evening social hour and evening religious meeting. A Westminster Guild meets on week nights at regular times.

Various meetings are held during the year to interest students in missionary work and the ministry.

There is a Presbyterian Dormitory for student girls, to be operated next year, and a financial campaign is now in process to erect a $150,000 church on the Student Property.

U. W. CLUBS

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and you'll work together."

"The alumni, through their local organizations, can and should do things. The central association can not infuse life into local branches by some hypodermic method or other. Rather, it is the central organization which thrives only when alumni everywhere are alert for their opportunity for service."

AKRON

RUTH STOLTE ALBRIGHT, '18

LUNCHEON at the Portage Hotel on Saturday, October 7, opened the series of fall meetings of the Akron U. W. Club.

Eugene Noyes, '13, was named president of the club for the coming season, Reynolds North, vice president, and Ruth Stolte Albright, '18, secretary and treasurer.

Interest in western conference football is on the increase in the Rubber City and the Badger alumni leased special wires for returns on the Illinois and Michigan games. A Wisconsin delegation from Akron was sent to the Michigan game, and the Wisconsin graduates who remained in Akron held a joint luncheon with Michigan alumni at the University Club.—10-20-'22.

ATLANTA

ERNST GREVERUS, '00

Saturday evening, October 28, a number of alumni and former students of the University gathered in the Mahogany Room of the Ansley Hotel in the city of Atlanta, Ga. It was a very informal gathering and was intended very largely as a "get acquainted" meeting of those in the city whose interests lie with the great University of the state of Wisconsin.

We met informally, really got acquainted, partook of a pleasant little feast, and then discussed plans to form an organization that would be permanent and keep us in touch intimately with the things going on at the University.

Frank Radensleben, '99, who was personally responsible for this gathering, was asked to assume the responsibility of formulating plans for this permanent organization and present these plans at another meeting November 25. At that time we hope to effect an organization that will be active and permanent.

In all we had twelve present who are personally interested in such an organization; either they are graduates or attended the University. When the permanent organization is effected we confidently expect to have twenty or more members.

Present at the gathering were: F. E. Radensleben, '99; E. Greverus, '00, and Grace Goddard Greverus, '02; Dr. H. E. Gilmore, '00, Tallapoosa, Ga.; Carrie Dawkins Murray, '06; Prof. J. M. Smith, '07, of the Civil Engineering department of Georgia Tech; Prof. A. F. Samuels, '10, of the English department of Georgia Tech; Walter Powell, '14 and Helen Bell Powell, '16; H. M. Powell, '17. We also had with us Eugene Bond, '22, who happened to be in Atlanta at the time lecturing at Emory University in the interests of the Student Volunteer Movement.—11-15-'22.

BROOKINGS

VERNE VARNEY, '18

Our U. W. Club of Brookings is on the job and we have had a couple of meetings already this year, the last of which was a meeting on the 28th which was our Hobo Day and Homecoming of State College, in which we welcomed a few of the Wisconsin people who are out in the state and not residents of Brookings. Prior to the week we sent out about one hundred and fifty letters to Wisconsin alumni who live in South Dakota inviting them to be with us on that day and reunite, as it were. There were a few responses, and we had a very good time.

One of the members of our club is J. P. Cheever, a graduate of the class of '69 and from the Law School. It is of interest to know that this was the first class graduating from the newly organized Law School at that time. We also have one member of our club who graduated just this last year. At the present time there are eighteen members of the local organization.

Just as a matter of interest the Wisconsin and Minnesota alumni are meeting this coming Saturday to get the results of the game at Minnesota either by radio or by telegraph and then, as arranged, the club whose team loses has to put on the feed for the other club. We look forward to much pleasure and renewed interest by such doings.—11-2-'22.

CLEVELAND

J. C. POTTER, '04

A get-together meeting was held at the Hotel Ohmstead in Cleveland on October 23. The object of this meeting in addition to good fellowship was to organize the Cleveland alumni for the coming year.

We were especially fortunate in having with us our general secretary, R. S. Crawford, '03. Of course we are always glad to get first-hand views from Madison, and especially from one so well qualified to speak and also who can speak in so instructive and entertaining a manner. Mr. Crawford paid a high tribute to the late Bishop Fallows, '59, and told us of his early life. Such a zeal for education together with such a spirit must of necessity result in success and greatness. He also brought to us the best wishes of President Birge, '15, and his statement that he thoroughly enjoyed the banquet recently given in his honor by the Cleveland alumni.

In closing, Mr. Crawford reminded us that we are now one of the outposts of the University, a University which has always been a good mother and one to be proud of, and not to forget, as Kipling says, "the everlasting teamwork of every bloomin' soul" brings success.

A nominating committee consisting of J. F. Casserly, '05, E. A. Anderson, '13, and O. H. F. Behrendt, '20, was appointed and chose M. S. Rather, '13, president, K. D. Carter, '16, vice president, and J. C. Potter, '04, secretary and treasurer. These recommendations were unanimously approved.

The following attended the meeting of October 23 at the Hotel Ohmstead:

E. A. Anderson, '13; D. M. Bailey, '22; O. H. F. Behrendt, '20; G. L. Bostwick, '17; J. F. Casserly, '05; K. D. Carter, '16; R. S. Crawford, '03; R. E. Ecke, '22; R. N. Falge, '16; J. L. Hasenpflug, '19; P. B. Korst, '13; J. H. March, '17; C. L. Nash, '21; J. C. Potter, '04; J. P. Pederson, '17; M. F. Rather, '13; K. L. Seelbach, '18; K. A. Stockle, '22; D. Y. Swaty, '98; J. M. Williams, '22; W. C. Westphal, '12; P. G. West, '05.

A special delegation to attend the Wisconsin-Michigan football game at Ann Arbor on November 18 was organized, and an invitation extended to our friends in Akron to join the party.

On November 13 Wisconsin alumni and alumnae in the Cleveland District dined at the Cleveland Hotel and afterwards practiced songs and formulated plans for the Michigan game and for the "Big Ten" Conference dinner scheduled for November 20 at the Hotel Winton.

A "Big Ten" dinner is held every Wednesday noon at the Hotel Winton.

Our list of Wisconsin alumni in Cleveland is as yet incomplete, but it now contains the names of 115 men and women.

DENVER

"We have been anxiously waiting for someone from the University to pass through Denver so that we may have a real get-together."—J. H. Gabriel, '87, Kittredge Bldg., Denver.—11-9-'22.

DETROIT ALUMNAE

RUTH COLLINS, '13

Sixteen members of the U. W. Women's Club of Detroit met at the College Club October 30 for luncheon. Harr et Hutson Crocker, '08, presided. Miss Mary Hulbert, prominent social worker of Detroit, spoke to the group on the Detroit Community Fund and its various activities.—11-9-'22.

DULUTH

W. S. JACOBS

The regular monthly meeting of the U. W. Club of Duluth was held on Monday, November 6, and was attended by a large group of enthusiastic alumni. The enthusiasm of the meeting was intensified by the recent victory over Minnesota and by the fact that a large proportion of the membership of the club had attended the game on the previous Saturday. Ray Stack, '05, and Lew Castle, '13, gave very interesting talks on the game and gave their estimates of the respective merits of the Wisconsin and Minnesota teams, so that even those who were unable to attend the game had a very clear picture of the superiority of the Wisconsin teamwork and individual players over Minnesota.

A delegate was appointed to attend the general Alumni Association meeting at Madison on November 11.

One of the most important steps taken by the local club was the formation at this meeting of a policy of each year giving a dinner in honor of the Letter men in the junior and senior classes of the Duluth high schools. The purpose of this annual dinner, which will be held each spring, is, of course, to stimulate the interest of these young men in Wisconsin as their choice of college and present to them the advantages of the University. The local club feels that this is an important step and that this policy will be of great benefit not only to the boys from Duluth who anticipate attending college, but will also be of great benefit to the University.

It was decided to postpone a proposed cabin party which was to have been held during the month of October, the committee having been given the power to postpone it if such action was deemed desirable. However, a committee composed of H. J. Matteson, '15, chairman, Thomas Wood and Rollin Hawks, '17, was appointed for the purpose of arranging a dinner and dance to be held at the Spalding Hotel on the evening of December 2.

It is the plan at this dinner to encourage and assist the alumnae in organizing a club or society to co-operate with the U. W. Club.

The treasurer has had printed and distributed attractive membership cards for the use of the members.—11-8-'22.

HAWAII

That Wisconsin alumni in all parts of the earth are interested in Wisconsin football and keeping in touch with the Badgers' success is indicated by a letter received by Coach John Richards, '96, from Joseph Sherr, '21, who is stationed at Schofield barracks, Hawaii.

A dozen former Wisconsin men who are stationed in the barracks planned a banquet and smoker on the night of the Homecoming game, with a wire direct to the banquet room.

The letter to Coach Richards follows, in part:

"The Wisconsin alumni in Hawaii are anxiously watching the news for reports of the doings of Wisconsin's football team. We were gratified to find the easy time you had with South Dakota Aggies, and are looking for a most successful season. We are taking this opportunity of wishing the team (and their coach) the best of luck for the coming season."

INDIANAPOLIS

EDITH MARTIN MAPLEDEN, '19

On October 12 we met at luncheon at Ayres' Tea Room for the first meeting of the new college year. The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers; and after much politics and speech-making the following were chosen, most of them being absent and unable to defend themselves: President, Paul Buchanan, '10; vice president, Kate Huber, '17; secretary, Edith Martin Maplesden, '19; treasurer, D. V. Slaker, '20.

Plans for the coming year were discussed, and every one present was much impressed with the strikingly original suggestion that a picnic be held the night of Homecoming, and a banquet on Founders' Day. A motion to this effect was passed amid wild enthusiasm.

Accordingly, on the night of Homecoming you can imagine us gathered around a bonfire, some eating wieners and some singing songs, and some choking by attempting to do both. Those who merely sang probably felt best next day. The occasion was featured by mustard and pepper. Mustard is necessary to esthetic fullness of wiener joy; and no Indianapolis alumni party was ever lacking in pep, nor ever will be so long as Dr. John Oliver, '15, Gene Chloupek, '13, and Dan Flickinger, '16, are with us.

Marie Meid represented the class of '22 at the luncheon, and by a good talk on "Wisconsin of Today" made us wonder if we had graduated too soon, or just in time. No picnic casualties are reported.—10-20-'22.

MARSHFIELD

F. L. MUSBACH, '09

We have reorganized our U. W. Club recently. We plan to have meetings monthly and are planning our winter's program. One of the things that we have in mind is a program for Founders' Day in February. If the Glee Club makes a circuit again this season, we should be glad to have them here. We can get our organization together on rather short notice for U. W. speakers that are passing near our city.—11-17-'22.

MINNEAPOLIS

SARAH SPENSLEY MICHENER, '18

We had a splendid alumni banquet November 3 with addresses by Professor Gardner, Coaches Richards, '96, and Jones, and Charles Carpenter, '20, and another assistant coach. And we certainly enjoyed the motion pictures of Wisconsin, which were unusually good.—11-8-'22.

NEW YORK

RAYMOND BILL, '17

The U. W. Club of New York held a very spirited Homecoming party on the evening of November 11 in the main ballroom of the Engineering Societies Building. The meeting started with the unanimous election of Archibald Taylor, '14, to the office of president. He succeeds Paul Meyers, '20, who transferred his business to Chicago early in the fall.

Following the election, a long-distance telephone connection was secured with Madison and the alumni in New York had the pleasure of hearing a short address of good cheer from President Birge, '15, and an interesting report of the Illinois-Wisconsin football game by Paul Meyers. This unusual feature was arranged through alumni who occupy prominent positions with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The party next partook of a buffet supper, and in between courses danced to the music of a "jazzy" colored orchestra. About eight o'clock, Phil Oehman, star pianist and arranger for Paul Whiteman's Orchestra, was introduced. He played a number of popular selections and also "On Wisconsin," which everybody sang. A little later, a trio rendered several ballad numbers. The last feature was a special dance by Miss Muriel Stryker, of Ziegfeld Follies' fame, and an acrobatic tumbling act by her partner in the Knickerbocker Grill Cabaret. All of these professional artists were secured through the co-operation of our alumnus, Maxson Judell, '17.

The dancing lasted until late in the evening and the entire party was acclaimed a huge success. Incidentally, the entertainment committee, of which Clement Evans, '14, is chairman, succeeded in bringing out the largest number of alumni that ever attended any Wisconsin party held in New York. There were nearly two hundred and fifty present, and with this auspicious beginning of the 1922-23 season it looks as though the alumni in Gotham are going to have a season replete with enthusiasm.

PUGET SOUND

HOWARD ADAMS, '15

On the evening of November 10 thirty-nine members of the Puget Sound U. W. Club sat down to their annual dinner and meeting in Seattle. It was on the eve of Homecoming, and although they were two thousand miles away from Madison, it was there that their hearts and thoughts were that evening. All the old Wisconsin songs were sung in lusty chorus, and the Wisconsin locomotive and other yells shook the walls.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Frank Boyle, '10; secretary, Howard Adams, '15. On a committee to further the Memorial Building program were appointed: Edward Brady, Chairman, '81; W. W. Earles, '09; F. W. Meisnest, '93.

Following the dinner and meeting the Wisconsin alumni adjourned in a body to attend the annual College Night at the University of Washington, where together with 2,000 alumni of other institutions they entertained and were entertained at a gigantic old-time smoker.

Those present were:

Otto Patzer, '98, J. P. Weter, '98, E. O. Eckelman, '98, B. H. Petley, ex '97, H. O. Anderson, '01, W. E. Schneider, '20, A. N. Heuston, '19, E. E. Saberhagen, '18, J. F. Conway, '09, D. H. Nickson, '13, A. C. Graff, '88, Elmer Koch, '20, Dr. W. W. Earles, ex '09, G. E. Maine, '07, G. F. Hannan, '06, F. W. Meisnet, '93, F. W. Buerstatte, '01, H. D. Buchanan, '01, F. W. Loomis, '82, Mr. Hoover, '17, J. F. Lidral, '10, W. H. Witt, '10, A. J. Schoephoester, '06, Willis Brindley, '03, A. Shipek, '09, R. B. Ebert, '12, J. R. Gates, '11, E. Brady, '81, A. J. Quigley, '03, F. T. Merritt, ex '91, J. Whitty, Howard Adams, '15, D. G. Schmitz, '17, F. E. Boyle, ex '10, Rudy Soukup, '08, J. M. Gilman, '04, J. C. Rathbun, '77, C. A. Osen, ex '04, C. W. Gilman, '85.

OTHER UNIVERSITIES

No Gambling

Mr. Staggs has rendered services to the University in many ways besides such as come within the immediate province of Director of Athletics—services that will live long in our University life and tradition. This Fall he added most conspicuously to his long list of such services. He carried out a campaign among the students to stop betting on football games, and succeeded, with the help of other administrative officers and student leaders, in stopping such practice. * * * It was forcibly pointed out during the campaign—a campaign which is likewise being conducted at all the Western Conference institutions—that such gambling is in no sense a “proof of loyalty,” that it results in placing an emphasis on the money wagered rather than on the game, that it smacks of professionalism and undermines the solid ground of amateur sportsmanship, and that it has an injurious effect on the players themselves who commence to feel that one of the main purposes of their efforts is to win money for college comrades. We are glad to announce that the campaign was highly successful, that the students caught the true spirit of it and acted accordingly, and that “betting on the team” was conspicuous by its absence.—U. of Chicago Magazine, Nov., 1922.

New Buildings

Campus building plans for the year cluster around the new library, another women's residence hall to match the present structure, men's gymnasium in the stadium neighborhood, new commerce building, and of course the agriculture building, work on which is already under way. The total cost of all, with equipment, would run to about $2,400,000.—Illinois Alumni News, Oct. 1922.

Indiana at Cleveland

Indiana Alumni will as usual hold their annual banquet during the meeting of the Nat'l Educational Ass'n., which convenes this year at Cleveland, Ohio, from February 25 to March 1.

Mentality Tests

The results of the tests made through the department of Psychology on freshmen for mental alertness, comprehension, judgment, etc., are catalogued and are open to inspection by the faculty staff. Through these filed data the faculty expects to be able the better to understand and advise each individual student.—Iowa Alumnus, Oct. 1922.

A Self-maintaining Union

For the first time in its history the Michigan Union has shown a substantial profit for a year's operation. True, the amount is not large—only $2,157.30 out of receipts totaling $486,981.53 for the year ending August 31—but it is sufficient to show that the Union can maintain itself on a business basis.—Michigan Alumnus, Nov. 9, 1922.

Students Challenge Alumni

The Student number of the Minnesota Alumni Weekly, which was edited by a special student staff, features the following legend on its cover page:

"Wait a minute, Alumni! Something important to tell you—all about the game, the Homecoming, and the way we raised our $650,000. This is our number of the Weekly, and you'll get things just as they looked to us.—THE STUDENTS."

The editorial page devoted to "A Challenge to the Alumni" reminding them that the student body has raised its Memorial Drive quota concludes:

"Alumni—we are watching you. We have made our claim to recognition as true sons and daughters of the North Star state. We challenge you to keep steady our faith in you. We have not failed you. We know that you will not fail us. Alumni of Minnesota, the challenge has been made, the goal has been set, the answer is awaited—you will make good because you are men and women of Minnesota—children of a state which never fails."

Alumni Influence

The spirit of determination, unity, and Northwestern University above self, which is now being exhibited by the University as a university can only be accounted for by the loyalty and support of the alumni. This interest by the alumni has given a new impetus and incentive to the students and Athletic Department to get down to business and do their best to develop creditable athletic teams.—Northwestern University Alumni News, Nov. 1922.

The Stadium—An Editorial

By DR. J. W. WILCF, '19 [U. W. '10]

The Stadium is not a monument, however, in its largest interpretation; it is a living stimulation toward the maintenance of strong, virile, clean, active elements in the broad field of education.

It is a structure of remarkable beauty as a structure, but the beauty needs to be carried over into the activities for which it is originally constructed. We need to maintain the fundamental philosophy that the value of any effort lies in its completeness, whole-souledness and integrity, rather than in any superficial results.

Allow me to submit that the Stadium is in a sense the culmination of an attempt at an athletic ideal. It needs to be maintained as an art gallery of activity, or a library of action. The constant opportunity offers for it to become instead a penny arcade of tremendous proportion. I trust the great co-operative body, which has made it possible, will continue to hold it in the proper light.

The Stadium spirit should be that which is conveyed by the Greek word aidos.

The closest interpretation we have is sportsmanship. Aidos is more. It is the spirit that is strong in defeat and modest in victory; it is the spirit of clean, hard give-and-take, without swagger, or braggadocio. It is the amateur spirit of hard playing, sound sportsmanship in its highest form.—Oh'o State Un'ers'ty Monthly, Oct. 1922.

ATHLETICS

On October 21, in our first conference football game of the season, after being held scoreless during the first half, we took a brace and ran up twenty points against Indiana. On the offense, Barr's passes, Tebell's receiving of passes, Taft's line plunging, Gibson's off-tackle drives, and Captain Williams' open field running featured.

Our line played so good a defensive game that only once did the visitors make "first down" through the line. Christianson, Nichols, Pearse, and Hohlfeld bore the brunt of the attack.

The second half brought out some real football and sent the spectators away with their hopes for a good team heading skyward.

After a two weeks' rest, we invaded the Gopher camp on November 4, expecting a hard game; during the first half we were not disappointed. However during the second period the team so quickened its pace as to succeed in scoring twice, despite the heavy field. Coach Richards, '96, used Bieberstein at guard where last year's "All-American" gave a good account of himself. It was a big day for Barr, Tebell

Illinois, at the 1922 Homecoming game on November 11, entered the contest before nearly 30,000 spectators in the horse-shoe stadium, bent on avenging decisive defeats at our hands for three years. A single drop kick took the joy out of the biggest and best Homecoming in Wisconsin history.

During the first quarter Wisconsin advanced the ball to the Illinois two-yard line where it was fumbled. Illinois kicking out of danger, Wisconsin lost her best chance to score. Wisconsin's forward passing attack was far below par. Several times the receiver caught the ball, but dropped it. Passes were often intercepted. It was on an intercepted forward pass that Illinois was given its chance to score. Fighting Illinois gave a concrete demonstration of Zuppke's ('05) philosophy that "football is the symbol of the sturdy."

and Williams. Tebell kicked both goals and aided materially in putting over the first touchdown after he received a pass from Barr. Even the heavy field failed to stop Williams who, before the final whistle blew, dodged, wriggled, straight-armed, and plunged to a touchdown. Darkness was gathering over the sea of mud when the final whistle called the two tired teams from Northrop field, with the Badgers rejoicing in a decisive victory against their friendly and worthy Gopher rivals.

In its first cross country meet, on October 21, at Madison, the Wisconsin team was beaten by Michigan by the narrow margin of one point, 27-28. Isbell of Michigan finished first, followed by Tschudy and Valley of Wisconsin. In its next meet at Minneapolis, on November 4, the morning of the Gopher Homecoming, the team showed marked improvement, winning the first four places. Tschudy finished first, with Wade, Valley, and Moorhead close behind him. The race against Chicago on Homecoming in Madison on November 11, was a clean sweep, five Wisconsin runners finishing before the first Chicago man. Wade won the race in very fast time; the other runners in order were Moorhead, Tschudy, Rossmiesel, and Valley. The cross country season closes November 25 with the Conference meet at Purdue. The Wisconsin team has improved vastly since its first meet with Michigan and should finish in the first division. The six men to represent Wisconsin will be picked from the men who have run in the dual meets: Captain Ramsay, Tschudy, Wade, Rossmessel, and Moorhead, seniors; Schneider and Link, juniors; and Valley, Perry, Bergstresser, sophomores.

The basketball outlook is bright. We should have a good defense and clever attack, but our chief difficulty is in the loss of rugged men. In Elsom and Gage we have men who will play the game cleverly. With the addition of Captain Tebell, Williams, and Irish from the football squad to the present squad which has been working four times a week for the past month, Wisconsin will present the usual strong team in this sport. The following schedule has been arranged:

PRELIMINARY GAMES:—

Beloit—tentative.

Butler—December 15.

Marquette—December 19.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE:—

Jan. 6—Northwestern at Evanston.

Jan. 8—Indiana at Bloomington.

Jan. 13—Chicago at Madison.

Jan. 20—Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Feb. 6—Purdue at Lafayette.

Feb. 10—Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Feb. 19—Michigan at Madison.

Feb. 24—Purdue at Madison.

Mar. 3—Minnesota at Madison.

Mar. 5—Northwestern at Madison.

Mar. 10—Wisconsin at Chicago.

Mar. 12—Indiana at Madison.

BOOK NOTES

Fifty Years of Dairy Progress and Plans for Fifty More (U. W. College of Agriculture Extension Service, Circular 149) presents the outlook for "The Future of Wisconsin Dairying" as foreseen by H. L. Russell, '88, dean of the College of Agriculture. After grouping his discussion around such controlling factors as the diversity in milk outlets, the export market, the international butter balance, cold storage, future consuming possibilities, and the menace of "filled" milk, Dean Russell concludes with emphasis:

"A good dairyman can yet make more money with butter at 30 cents to 35 cents per pound, made from our bred-and-fed-for-production cows that are free from disease and are well cared for, than a scrub farmer can with poor animals and butter at 50 cents per pound. On the basis of this statement rests securely the future of Wisconsin's greatest agricultural industry."

The frontispiece features the following optimistic comment by Prof. K. L. Hatch, '09, assistant director of the Service:

"No matter what trials beset agriculture, dairying is and will always continue to be one of its profitable and its most secure ventures. The reasons are not far to seek. Ever since the days of primitive man the human race has used large proportions of animal food. As population presses, meat is partially replaced by vegetables in the diet. Nowhere, however, has animal food been entirely abandoned. Since the dairy cow is the most economical producer of human food from the grain and roughages of the farm, the increased consumption of dairy products is coincident with the increase of human population. This is one vital reason why dairying must continue.

"Of all the enterprises in which men engage, livestock husbandry is the most alluring and the most enjoyable. But livestock husbandry rests wholly upon mammalian life—life that depends upon mother's milk. In ordinary farming the milk of the cow is freely substituted for that of other animals in the nurture of the growing young. But this reason, important as it must be, is one of the least of the reasons why dairying must continue.

"The cow has been most appropriately designated 'the foster mother of the human race.' Childhood's dependence upon milk for its normal growth and healthy development is so absolute and so vital to our national welfare that dairy farming is rapidly coming to be the one indispensable industry. Textiles may be 'fabricated,' foods produced by 'synthetic processes,' building materials 'substituted,' but there are no substitutes for milk. It is the one protective food in the human dietary."

"Hence, dairying cannot be overdone and the dairy cow will never be replaced, neither in the nurture of the race nor the fundamental economics of the farm."

Corn Judging (U. W. College of Agriculture Extension Service, Circular 152) by Professors R. A. Moore and G. B. Mortimer, '14, of the Agronomy department, is an able guide, very well edited and generously illustrated.

DEATHS

Dr. ROBERT H. BROWN, '72, who in June attended the fiftieth anniversary of his graduation, died at the family home near Kampeska, S. D., October 16. Dr. Brown was widely known as a physician in Sioux City, Ia., and made his home with his children since he retired in 1909. Born March 23, 1849, in Madison County, N. Y., Robert Brown when only a small child was brought west to Wisconsin by his parents, who located near Madison. After graduation from the University he taught in the University for two years. He took further training at the Northwestern Medical college, Chicago, Ill. After locating at Silverton eight years, he went to Sioux City, where he had a wide practice and made a place for himself in medical circles.

1. Brown was married at Madison to Miss Jennie W. Harris May 26, 1880. The deceased is survived by his wife and four children.

HOWARD MORRIS, '77, former Milwaukee attorney died at his home in Los Angeles, Calif., October 23. Mr. Morris was born in Madison, October 6, 1856. After graduation he began the practice of law in Milwaukee, within a year becoming associated with the legal department of the Wisconsin Central railroad, which at that time had its general offices in Milwaukee. With C. F. Whitcomb he later was appointed receiver for the road. Upon the reorganization of the Wisconsin Central company in 1899 he became vice-president and general counsel, until he resigned in 1906 to enter private practice. Business engagements prompted his removal to California in 1920.

Up to the time of his death he was president of the American McPherson Process Co., a concern which re-rolled railroad rails. He belonged to the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the Union Club of Boston, the Chicago Club, and the Wisconsin State Historical Society. At the University he won membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. Morris was a descendant of an old colonial family. Among his ancestors were Jacob Morris, aide to Washington Lewis Morris, first royal Governor of New Jersey, Lewis Morris II, judge of the colonial admiralty court at the port of New York, and Lewis Morris III, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Mr. Morris leaves two sons, Howard, Jr., of New York, and Victor, '14 associated with the Forsythe Leather Co., Milwaukee. A second wife, Viola Carey Morris, formerly of Manitowoc, whom he married last June, also survives. One brother, Charles, '87, is vice-president of the First Wisconsin Trust Co., Milwaukee; another brother, A. M. Morris ex '81, and a sister, Mrs. J. W. Jackson, reside in Madison.

MARTHA G. WEEK, '84 died in Chicago, Ill., on October 11. Burial was at Stevens Point.

"During the year of '82-'83 Mattie Week, Marie Dahle Alice Sanborn, and myself roomed together in No. 18 of Ladies' Hall. It was a happy year for all of us. During the years that have since elapsed 'No. 18' has held many delightful reunions at our several homes. But now our last full reunion has been held for Mattie is dead—he who always contributed so much to the pleasure of these reunions.

"Mattie Week never grew old. She always retained her bright, vivacious manner. At the same time she followed with earnest purpose the high ideals that governed her life. She stood always for the right. The depth and force of her character strengthened with the years, and she had her share of sorrows, but she continued to show to her friends that lightness and gaiety that made her so popular while in the University.

"The graces and culture that come from study and travel were hers, but greater than these was the faculty she had of giving pleasure to those about her. How much happiness she has brought into my life during all these years!

"In loving memory."—Ida Fales, '83, Whipple Barracks, Ariz.

WILLIAM E. DURR, '88, well-known physician, took his life in a Milwaukee hospital on October 29. Dr. Durr had been ill for three years and had been confined to his bed in the hospital since his return from California six months ago.

After graduation at the University, Dr. Durr completed his medical work at Northwestern. He was 57 years of age; he is survived by his widow and one brother. Burial was at Milwaukee.

RANSOM SKIFF SHELLEN, '89, died in Niace, France, on March 27 and was buried in Houghton, Michigan, on April 28.

STEPHEN A. MADIGAN, '94, Madison attorney, died at his home on October 26, following an extended illness. He was almost 50 years old and had resided in Madison for the past twenty years.

He is survived by his widow and seven children, also several brothers and sisters.

ARTHUR GOSLING, '10, was killed in an automobile accident on October 13, while on a hunting trip near Aiken, Minn. Since the war, during which he was a captain in the aviation service, Mr. Gosling has lived in St. Paul. In 1920 he married Mary Saunders Gribber, widow of Captain Dean Gribber, who was killed in a similar accident in 1918.

E. A. GOTTSCHALK, '11, died at his boyhood home in Scandinavia, on July 22.

LESTER JAMES WRIGHT, '14, Waukesha, formerly instructor in agriculture at the University and for two years in charge of the experimental farm, was murdered by bandits near Aleppo, Syria, October 27, the first Near East worker to meet a violent death during the seven years of the organization's service.

Mr. Wright enlisted with the Near East Relief about 15 months ago and had been in charge of agricultural work at various relief orphanages in the Levant. At the time of the tragedy he was taking a group of 1,000 Armenian orphans from Harpoot, Turkey, to Aleppo. It is thought that some one of the numerous forces of brigands that prey on travelers over the roads leading into and through Asia Minor is responsible for the crime.

Burial was in the American cemetery at Beirut, with an impressive ceremony in the American church. The American college, the consulate and other institutions observed official mourning, as did many local Armenians, Greeks, and Syrians, according to cablegrams from Athens.

GRACE JONES, '20, of Brandon, died on June 24.

GEORGE B. LILLY, ex '23, Madison insurance salesman met death near Stockton, Minn., November 4.

Mr. Lilly was one of a party of seven who planned to motor to Minneapolis to attend the Wisconsin-Minnesota game. When the car broke down about midnight the group became separated, whereupon Mr. Lilly evidently decided to take a freight to Minneapolis. Section hands found the body 14 miles from where he left his companions and it is thought he lost hold of the train on which he was riding and fell under the wheels.

Several Zeta Psi fraternity and a number of other student friends attended the funeral, which was held at the family home in Crescent, Minn.

YUAN FU CHAO, ex '27, committed suicide by drowning in Lake Mendota, July 31.

Mr. Chao entered school last February under the sponsorship of the Chinese government. He is said to have been grieving over lack of progress in his studies, caused by failing eyesight, and to have made the statement that he did not want to return to his native country without the education he had set out to get.

At the memorial service held in Wesley Hall, tribute was paid to the deceased by the Reverend E. W. Blakeman, '11, assisted by Chinese student, who paid their respects according to the custom of their native land.

The body was returned to China for burial.

Madison, 41 Roby Road

To O. D. Brandenburg, '85, president of the Democrat Printing Co., Madison, we are indebted for the following interesting comment: "Among the alumni back for homecoming were A. S. RITCHIE, '76, of Omaha, Nebr., and F. S. White, '81, of Chicago, Ill. Few grads have been more steadfast in their allegiance to alma mater, none perhaps coming back so often at Commencements and for other important occasions. Mr. Ritchie had the interesting distinction of being the attorney for Pat Crowe who a dozen years ago kidnaped a Cudahy boy at Omaha, obtained a ransom of $25,000, fled the country, but later returned, confessed, shot and slightly wounded a policeman who sought to arrest him and was acquitted of this offense, and never punished for the other. The whole strange tale now forms a fascinating volume which contains the ingenious, witty and winning address to the jury made by Mr. Ritchie for his notorious client. Crowe 'got religion' later and now is classed as a 'respectable' citizen."

FACULTY NEWS

Seven instructors have been added to the Engineering teaching staff as follows: R. W. WARNER, U. of Kansas, '18, formerly instructor at Kansas; Steam and Gas, L. E. LONGENECKE; Structural Engineering, C. A. WILLSON, '21; Hydraulics, I. H. KESSLER; Mechanics, Carl NEUMEISTER, M. A. G. LES, G. H. HEAD. A. V. MILLAR of the drawing department has been promoted from assistant professor to professor; Alvin MYERS of the department of electrical engineering from instructor to assistant professor.

To simplify the arc process of nitrogen fixation—of extracting fertilizer nitrates from the air—in order to make it less expensive and more practical, is a special piece of research which Prof. F. DANIELS of the Chemistry department conducted last year and is continuing this year.

R. HAMER of the U. of California, is a new instructor in Physics. New assistant instructors are: L. DU BRIDGE, U. of Iowa; L. W. MORRIS, Lawrence; C. M. TUTTLE, '22, Madison; Theo. SOLLER, Oberlin; Arthur WORTHING, and Elda ANDERSON, Ripon.

Prof. W. J. GEIB of the Soils department, secretary and treasurer of the national association, reported as chairman of the committee on improvements in soil maps and reports at the third annual conference of the American Ass'n of Soil Survey Workers, at Urbana, November 17-18.

Prof. E. A. Ross of the Sociology department spoke at the "Big Ten" Y. M. C. A. conference on foreign work, in Chicago, October 15, on his observations in the Orient and suggested methods for remedying prevailing conditions.

Friends of Emeritus Prof. F. A. PARKER of the School of Music will be glad to hear that he has recovered from injuries sustained in a recent automobile accident.

"The fall of the Roman Empire did not mark the beginning of the Middle Ages as is so commonly supposed," Prof. Henri PIRENNE, of the University of Ghent, Belgium, told his audience in his address recently in Bascom Hall, when he spoke on the subject, "Mohammed and Charlemagne."

"About the year 750 there was a change. The gravity of Western civilization shifted due to the conquest of the Mediterranean basin by the followers of Mohammed, who took possession of all this territory. From this invasion one can date the Middle Ages."

Professor Pirenne gave his entire address in French.

CAMPUS NOTES

The French Club tryout, made necessary because of the great number of applicants for membership in the society, was based upon the ability of the candidate to speak and read French; 59 candidates were accepted.

"Slightly drier" than the rest of the Nation is the result of the questionnaire conducted by the October Commerce Magazine. Comments on the vote declare that it means that University students are not so wet as they are supposed to be; that their environment is drier than their home cities; and that they are bitter against moonshiners.

The Commerce upperclassmen convocation in October was addressed by W. H. Ingersoll, president of the Ingersoll Redipoint Pencil Co., N. Y., who talked on the problems of distributing merchandise manufactured in large quantities.

The collapse of the ceiling of the main dairy barn recently, occurred shortly before milking time, when all the men and most of the herd were out of the barn. The barn will be repaired at a cost of several thousand dollars.

The Dr. C. C. Miller Memorial Library, which has been placed in the custody of the University and which will contain all the best literature pertaining to bee culture, will be dedicated next summer.

The Great Plains Horticulturists met at Madison October 11.

N. M. Tulaikov, president of the Russian State Institute of Experimental Agronomy, of Petrograd, was a recent visitor on the agricultural campus.

New students pledged $16,812 to the Memorial Union fund at a mass meeting in the gymnasium in October. President Birge, '15, The Rev. Albert McCartney, '00, Dean Goodnight, '05, and J. C. Karel, '94 spoke.

Pennsylvania students in the Graduate School are Earl Moffitt, H. G. Niesley, H. N. Reist, and D. R. Pheasant.

The football squad on the eve of the Minnesota game was escorted by some 1000 students led by the band to the depot where cheers and speeches by Captain Williams, '23, and Coach Richards, '96, contributed to a rousing send-off.

A gold key symbolical of scholarship will be awarded by Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture fraternity, to the freshman in agriculture who has the highest weighted average at the end of the year.

Alpha Zeta celebrated the 25th anniversary of its founding November 4; key tag souvenirs were worn by the members in memory of the event.

The bag rush in October was won by the sophomores by a score of 14 to 1.

Lesser Mall, as the Hoard Memorial site is to be called, has been made possible by the recent purchase of adjoining property. "The place of the statue at the entrance of the College of Agriculture is fortunate," declares Architect Peabody. "The statue dominates the location and commands attention. It will always be the principal figure in this important part of the University grounds."

"Writers of books must have vision, sincerity, and beauty if they succeed in the literary world," Dr. E. F. Tittle declared at the annual banquet of the Y. W. C. A. "Everyone writes his own book of life. Every day he adds a line, each week a paragraph, and every year a chapter."

A. A. U. W. held its fourth annual convention for the Wisconsin branch in October, with a full representative of its eleven branches. The program began with a tea at the home of President Birge, '15, at which the President and Mrs. H. C. Adams, regional director from Ann Arbor, Mich., spoke. At a later date Frances Bernard, National Educational Secretary, spoke on the educational policies of the club; Mrs. K. K. Kennon, Milwaukee, on "Plans for State Membership Campaigns"; and Corine Gebhart Livingston, '15, Kenosha, on "Plans for Increasing Branch Membership." Officers elected follow: President, Frances Perkins, '98, Fond du Lac; secretary, Mrs. C. A. Toke, Kenosha; treasurer, Natalie Rice Wahl, '12, Milwaukee; vice president, Mrs. Erna Luetscher, Ripon.

"Evolution, the life-creating process of God, is no more God himself than the Bessemer process is the product, steel," said the Rev. G. C. Stewart, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Evansville, to a packed house in Music Hall in November, in his address on "Evolution, a Witness to God."

Omicron Nu, honorary H. E. society, announces the election of the following seniors: Gladys Heuer, Ada Moser, Kathleen Dietrich, Florence Corbin, Edith Black, Mary Baldwin.

Eta Kappa Nu, honorary electrical engineering fraternity, announces the election of the following seniors: P. J. Burelbach, R. A. Clark, W. A. Gluesing, R. W. Groot, G. A. Hill, W. M. Knott, J. A. Potts, L. P. Richmond, A. S. Rufsvold, and F. D. Blanch, H. J. Gregg, F. D. Johnson, juniors.

A statuette, the Spirit of Homecoming, the work of Kenneth Fagg, '23, won for him the silver cup in the Homecoming contest. The work, which is a life-sized head of Captain Williams, '23, of the football team, predicts a future for Mr. Fagg.

House decoration prizes went to Gamma Phi Beta sorority and Theta Xi fraternity in the Homecoming contest. The former was modeled in English tavern style; the latter was decorated with a rotating electrically lighted "W" and "I," and a "Wisconsin" goal post.

To read and interpret plays and poems so pupils will understand and appreciate them is one of the duties of the English teacher, said Professor Leonard, who, with this thought in mind, read Pankhurst's "The Beggar and the King" and Ferguson's "Campbell of Kilmore" to a summer session audience.

"Wisconsin began to show personality as soon as it became a state," said Prof. Leonard in his lecture on "Wisconsin: Its Origin and Characteristics." "The man and women of the state have always been of a broad and cultured type, but while its culture is still subordinate to agriculture, what it has accomplished spells swift achievement for a quarter section of the earth."

"Surface Tension and Soap Bubbles" was the subject of a summer session lecture by Prof. B. W. Snow, in which he explained why raindrops are round, why the hairs of a fine brush cling together when wet, why soap bubbles can be blown, and how to carry water in a sieve.

"Snow crystals are sometimes twins, sometimes triplets," said Professor Snow in his noted "Snowflake" lecture which had to be repeated to care for the overflow attendance. "Often they are right handed or left handed, but it is not because two or more crystals have frozen together. When the first two molecules of water come together to form the nucleus, the individuality of the snow crystal has been forever determined."

Accidents in general can be attributed to carelessness, only one-fifth being caused by lack of mechanical safeguarding, according to A. C. Kroes of the Employers' Mutual Liability Ins. Co., in his lecture on "Safety Education" at the summer session.

Every department of the University was represented by an exhibit at the Milwaukee State Fair. A general information booth under the supervision of J. J. Rood cared for all inquiries that might be made.

"Mazoni was neither a romanticist nor a classicist, but a true artist producing classic work," declared Prof. A. Lipari in his summer session lecture on "Mazoni and His Art of Novel Writing." He suggested that all students in Italian read "I Promessi Sposi" in the original as a model of Italian prose.

India is a vast storehouse of literature, art, and philosophy, to which many people of today go for deeper inspiration, according to S. S. Aiyar of Bangalore, in his lecture on "The Culture and Arts of India." Particular attention was called to epics which are equal to any writings of that type in Greece or Rome.

A solution of all American problems, political, social, and economic, would result from educating one generation in love and unselfishness, said A. L. Shaeffer, director of the American Junior Red Cross society, in stating the theory on which that society works.

Prof. T. E. Jones of the Athletic department gave a three weeks' course in coaching track and field events at Columbia the past summer.

The French House, a student corporation which owns its own house and furnishes rooms to French students, is located at 1105 University Avenue, formerly the John Lewis residence, which it recently purchased for $20,000.

The ideal dormitory, according to Dean Nardin, should contain only single rooms or suites and have all the requisites for comfort, warmth, light, an unlimited supply of hot water, facilities for serving food at tables neatly and attractively arranged, with opportunity for offering hospitality, under the supervision of a "matured, respected, and admired intellectual woman who will be a spiritual and social leader of young women."

Immigration should be suspended altogether, according to Prof. J. R. Commons of the Economics department. "We have about all the immigrants we can digest," he says, "and I think the laws should be made as drastic as possible. I suggest that a tax of $500 be placed on steamship companies for every unqualified person they bring over. This would not require an examination abroad by our government, but would place all responsibility upon the steamship companies."

True appreciation of the beauty of poetry requires the development of an ability to see more than the writer has expressly stated. Such an appreciation will bring an understanding of Shelley's statement: "Poetry lifts the veil from the hidden beauty of the world and makes familiar objects be as if they were not familiar," said M. W. Moe in his summer session lecture on "Sensing Poetry."

The carillon proposed by E. Denison Taylor, English chime manufacturer, in a recent conference with the Secretary of the Regents will be the only one of its kind in America, if erected in the new dome proposed for Bascom Hall. About one-fourth of the $50,000 needed has been raised since the Class of 1917 started the fund.

A fine arts school at the University, with completely equipped departments of music, drawing, and architecture was agitated by E. A. Fitzpatrick, lecturer in education, in a Commencement address.

The Grandstand loss must be borne by the University, according to the decision of Attorney General Morgan, ex '07, who held that as the contract for removal had not been completed, the property was still University property.

Pulp and paper manufacture is being taught by extension for the first time.

The Octopus was not published during the summer as planned, due to a ruling of the Student Life and Interests committee, which does not favor organized activities during the summer session.

"Fuzzy minded thinking" is Dean Nardin's characterization of the general belief that since all of the undesirable things were produced by war, peace will as automatically carry them away.

Social privileges for the year have been withdrawn from Zeta Beta Tau as a result of violation of the three-month pledging rule.

"The scientist is a very human individual, keenly alive and interested in everything about him. He is just like the rest of us—plus. The qualities of a scientist are the qualities of any successful man, but his powers of perception are probably keener, his patience greater, his attention to details much more careful," said C. D. Leake in his summer course on "The History of Science," which in portraying the struggle of great minds for their convictions touched upon the part played by the Church in the discovery of scientific facts, in the retarding of their broadcasting until a final reconciliation took place.

Echoes from the round table conferences for deans of women during the summer session are: The true key for interpretation of behavior is not the outward appearance but the thought behind that behavior; men are seeing their own shortcomings more vividly now as they have a chance to observe some of them in women, and in proportion as the girls let down the barriers the men recognize their responsibility for upholding the standards of the race; the real test for fitness for college is the amateur spirit—the spirit of seeking out things beautiful and intellectual; the campus has a better perspective in regard to what a sorority means and what it does not mean, than the outside world. The people in the home town, who invariably ask, "What sorority did she make?" are responsible largely for the attitude that remaining outside of a sorority means a failure to make good socially.

De la Mare published his first book of verse in 1902 and by 1912 his works were widely known and read. Of his life we know practically nothing, however, since he has evidently courted a shy muse," said Mrs. Elizabeth Parker Hunt in the introductory statement to her reading of "Martha," "Old Susan," "Winter Dusk," "In the Little Green Orchard," "Three Jolly Gentlemen," and "Fairies," during summer session.

Beowulf, in new verse arrangement, was read in part by Prof. W. E. Leonard during the summer session, who believes the story can be told in a form as easily understood as the myths and fairy tales of childhood. It can be read, thinks Professor Leonard, by anyone, young or old, in school or out, who wishes to read the story in its true spirit.

Mental age, on an average, "is 12 years," said Dr. S. C. Kohs, psychologist for the court of domestic relations at Portland, Ore., in his plea for a mental clinic for the purpose of examining and providing for delinquents, at a summer session lecture. "With the rapid increase in the number of morons, law violators, and criminals, with associated crimes, it is apparent that mental diagnosis and supervision, especially in young people, is necessary for social welfare."

"Macbeth was a moral imbecile," said Prof. F. C. Sharp of the Philosophy department. Temperamental as he was, he had to be terrified into action. Lady Macbeth was subject to great fear but possessed one attribute which her husband lacked—a strong will.

Browning's "progressive optimism" was brought out in Prof. J. P. Ryan's readings of "Why I Am a Liberal" and "Asolando" at a summer session lecture. Other selections read, portraying the galloping of horses, the chirping of crickets, the harvest song, the funeral dirge, the marriage chant, and the churchly chorus, were: "Cavalier Tunes," "The Last Ride Together," Rabbi Ben Ezra," and "Saul."

Prof. Gertrude Johnson, in her introductory remarks to the reading of Robert Frost's works during the summer session, stressed that writer's truthfulness, vouching for his accuracy through her own familiarity with New Hampshire, the setting for a number of the poems. "A Servant to Servants," "An Old Man's Winter Night," the author's favorite, "Because of the Road Not Taken," "Mending Walls," and "Blue Bells" were read.

Prof. Leonard's reading from his own poems was a unique feature of the summer session. In his remarks concerning his poems based on the confinement of four fanatics at the prison at Olbatros, California, he lamented the fact that the faculty at Wisconsin had not followed the example of Oberlin in petitioning for their release.
