THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN SYSTEM

The University of Wisconsin System is marking its ninth anniversary in the fall of 1980. The UW System was created in October 1971 by a law placing all of the state's public university campuses under a single Board of Regents. The 13 universities and 14 two-year UW Centers served 150,629 on-campus students in 1979-80, and UW-Extension provides outreach services from offices in every county. Although only nine years old, the UW System was one of the first statewide higher educational systems in the nation and has pioneered in developing coordinated and high quality programs and services on a statewide basis. System administrative offices are in Madison.

Universities are at Eau Claire, Green Bay, La Crosse, Madison, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Kenosha-Racine (Parkside), Platteville, River Falls, Stevens Point, Menomonie (Stout), Superior and Whitewater. Centers are at Baraboo, Fond du Lac, Janesville, Manitowoc, Marinette, Marshfield, Medford, Menasha, Rice Lake, Richland Center, Sheboygan, Waukesha, Wausau, and West Bend.

1979-80 WSUC NATIONAL PERFORMANCES

Three outstanding performances by trackmen capped another highly successful year nationally for Wisconsin State University Conference athletes.

Eau Claire's Bill Langhout won the marathon, River Falls' Bruce Beckel the high jump and Stevens Point's Jeff Ellis the 10,000-meter walk at the 1980 National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) outdoor track and field championships at Abilene Christian.

The WSUC usually competes against tough odds in national meets because it offers no athletic scholarships. Yet, the conference produced such nationally ranked teams as River Falls in football, Eau Claire in basketball, Oshkosh in baseball and the Titan gymnastic squad, which won the NCAA Division II title.

River Falls' WSUC football champions advanced to the NAIA quarter-finals last fall before bowing to Angelo State of the Lone Star Conference, 31-7, in San Angelo, Tex.

Eau Claire's conference basketball champions led NAIA rankings almost all season and eventually wound up fourth at the national tournament in Kansas City. The Bugolds swept through their first three games before bowing to Cameron (Okla.) in the semi-finals, 71-64. They lost to Huron (S.D.), 59-54, in the third place game.

PREVIEW 1980 FOOTBALL SEASON
WISCONSIN STATE UNIVERSITY CONFERENCE

Rarely do Wisconsin State University Conference football teams head into a season with so many puzzling questions.

Can River Falls run its "wishbone" offense with effectiveness comparable to last season? Can La Crosse avoid the type of lapse that knocked the Indians out of the 1979 race? Will Whitewater find replacements for quarterback Mike LaLoggia and wide receiver Jerry Young?

Does Stevens Point now have the strong running game to complement its potent passing attack? Will Stout's "radar" defense enjoy success even without tackle Joe Bullis, the conference's most valuable player last year?

River Falls on paper appears capable of coming close to last year's 9-1 season record. Mike Farley, the Kodak College Division Coach of the Year, still starts with All Conference tackle Gene Meyer, guard Gerard Sonsalla and center Rich Luedke up front and quarterback Jim Abbs and halfback Dale Mueller in the backfield.

Whitewater possesses strong defensive personnel, headed by nose guard Tony Azarian and safety Jim Haluska, but Coach Forrest Perkins probably will be forced to depend on youth in the offense. This could be the year sophomore wide receiver Joe Gerlach shows his versatility on the gridiron.

Offensively, La Crosse should produce up to Coach Roger Harring's usual standards, but there are some voids in the defense created by graduation. Quarterback Mike Durnin and halfback Reggie Rabb encourage optimism in the offense.

Quarterback Brion Demski and wide receiver Charlie Braun, the WSUC pass reception leader, give Stevens Point Coach Ron Steiner a couple proven offensive weapons and now transfer running back Andy Shumway could provide the ground punch the Pointers have needed so desperately for several seasons.

Performers such as Bullis aren't replaced, but somebody will move into his vacated tackle position and Coach Lyle Eidsness hopes the new man can do an adequate job. He still expects the "radar" to function successfully with such defensive returnees as tackle Tim Wild and linebackers Tom Paulus and Kevin Hoffman.

Coach Link Walker is looking for newcomers, including at least four transfers, to bolster the Blugolds this season. Walker must rev up his passing attack with quarterback Bob Semling gone, but halfback Jeff Rath provides him with one of the most potent running threats in the conference.

Oshkosh lost three WSUC games by a total of nine points last fall and Coach Dave Hochtritt believes the Titans can improve enough this season to reverse those decisions. Most rebuilding must be done in the defense around returnee Art DeCoursin, who can play either tackle or middle guard.

Coach George Chryst's "rookie" year as head coach is behind him and now the Pioneers are expected to become a formidable force in the conference. Quarterback Todd Gundlach returns along with split end Mike Walker and three straight victories at the end of last season got Chryst and the Pioneers on the right track.

Superior has won only two of its last 40 conference games and Coach Mertz Mortorelli is determined to reverse that trend. Junior quarterback Jeff Mumm triggers the offense and a couple of highly touted newcomers could bolster the defensive unit.

Most coaches expect River Falls to repeat after qualifying for the NAIA playoffs last fall. If the Falcons falter, this same coaches' consensus figures either La Crosse or Whitewater will dethrone Farley's legions.

When discussing darkhorses, coaches keep repeating Stevens Point and Eau Claire, although Stout, too, receives some backing.

Eidsness sums up his evaluation with a statement that probably could be attributed to any one of the nine conference coaches. "There is tremendous balance within the league," the Stout coach emphasized. "Any one of eight teams could emerge as the team to beat. Several excellent passers key some explosive offenses."

PROSPECTS FOR 1980

The Blugolds start pre-season workouts with a fairly experienced offense but a relatively young defense that must improve during the course of the season for Eau Claire to become a factor in the WSUC race. The Blugolds lost their last three games in '79 and had to settle for a 3-5 conference record.

Coach Link Walker must find replacements for quarterback Bob Semling and tight end Tyrone Cooper, two key offensive performers last year. The big job, though, centers in the defense, where tackle Scott Thompson, end John White, linebacker Dave Henquinet and cornerback Scott Dahl are gone. Backup players got a chance to see considerable action last fall, so Walker believes this will help.

Also, some newcomers are being counted upon to pick up the slack. These include linebacker Brian McQuillian, a transfer from Northern Michigan, running back Gordy Pangel from UW-La Crosse, tight end Brian Jonas from Carroll and Eric Lindquist, a punter from Hamline. McQuillian and Lindquist were high school standouts from Eau Claire North.

Although much work is needed to establish a passing attack, the Blugolds present one of the conference's most effective running threats in 5-8½ 180-pound Jeff Rath, who rushed for 703 yards in eight games last fall and scored nine touchdowns. Junior Kevin Bohlrig probably will receive first consideration at quarterback.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980

The Indians faltered in two games midway through the 1979 season and these lapses cost them a shot at the WSUC championship. Coach Roger Harring starting his 12th season as La Crosse head coach has 40 returning lettermen and a nucleus of quality players with which he hopes to recapture the title his Indians last won in 1978.

Quarterback Mike Durnin, halfback Reggie Rabb and fullback Jeff Larson provide talent and stability to the offense. Durnin passed for 1,502 yards in the conference last fall, while Rabb took WSUC rushing honors with 732 yards and 5.8 yards per carry. Larson, a tough short yardage runner, contributed seven touchdowns.

Durnin will be aiming most of his aerals at All Conference split end Craig Chrest, who caught 28 passes in the conference last season. The Indians also will be well fortified in the kicking department with All Conference Tim Murphy, who booted 34 conversions in 38 attempts last fall as well as two field goals.

Defensively Harring has some big shoes to fill with the departure of All Conference linebacker Chuck Woodke, who also was the league's punting leader. The Indian defense will be bolstered by the return of back Tom Juan and end Frank Novotney, neither of whom played last year.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980

Coach Dave Hochtritt expects to improve on last fall's .500 season because of normal maturity and added experience among his 1980 Titans. Oshkosh was not that far away last year. The Titans finished 3-5 in the conference but lost to River Falls, Stevens Point and Eau Claire by three points each.

Hochtritt will count on 36 returning lettermen, including 10 offensive starters from 1979. Heading that list is veteran quarterback Jim Marten who will trigger Oshkosh's pass oriented Pro-I formation, and wide receiver John Dettmann, whose 28 receptions in the conference led the Titans last fall.

Most of the rebuilding must be done in the defense, where end Bob Prosser and three backs--John Cameron, Jim Mueller and Al Schlies--are missing. Key returnee is Art DeCoursin, who will be stationed either at defensive tackle or middle guard. Shoring up the secondary and improving the running attack become high priority items at the outset.

Hochtritt concedes much will depend on recruiting, but he expects his off-season weight training program and senior leadership to make the Titans "a pretty good football team" in 1980. Much depends on Marten's development at quarterback. Also, Mike Pelky showed flashes at running back in three games last season and he could bolster the ground game.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980

A strong finish under first year Coach George Chryst in 1979 left the Pioneers with high expectations for the future. Successive victories over Stevens Point, St. Norbert and Eau Claire indicated Platteville players were beginning to adapt to Chryst's new system, which included a diversified wing-T offense.

Quarterback Todd Gundlach returns for his senior season after guiding the Pioneers to a 5-5 season last fall. Also back is split end Mike Walker, who caught 34 passes in '79. But, Chryst must replace some quality performers, including center Jeff Ruzicka, halfback Joe Spellman and fullback Larry Rohrwasser.

Linebacker Jim Anderson and back Gary Herzberg are gone from the defense and replacing their leadership and intensity will be a major problem. "We need speed on offense and size in the line," Chryst commented, while pondering prospects for 1980.

"In 1979 we moved the ball well but we did not score well, especially inside the 10," he continued. "We must be better in that regard to move up in the standings."

"On defense we gave up too many long touchdown runs and passes. We must improve in that phase of the game, also."

PROSPECTS FOR 1980

Defending champion River Falls lost to Angelo State in the NAIA Division I quarter-finals last fall and the Falcons could find themselves back in the playoffs this year.

Mike Farley was named the Kodak College Division Coach of the Year for his job last fall and many observers feel he can duplicate that 9-1 regular season record this year. Twelve starters return, including eight from the 1979 offensive unit. The entire line is back from an offense that led the WSUC in rushing for the seventh straight season.

Among returning offensive players are All Conference tackle Gene Meyer, guard Gerard Sonsalla and center Rich Luedke. Running back Dale Mueller could improve on a 1979 performance that saw him average 5.2 yards rushing, lead the WSUC in punt returns and finished second in scoring with 58 points. Quarterback Jim Abbs returns to direct Farley's wishbone attack.

Defense presents some problems. Veterans include tackles Seggio Gonzales and Bill Sherman, nose-guard Steve Nies and linebacker Scott Lueders, but seven holes must be plugged adequately to assure the Falcons of becoming contenders again. This is particularly critical in the secondary, which was decimated by graduation.

The Pointers finished fourth in the conference last season and the general feeling now is that the 1980 team combines the ingredients to challenge for the championship. Much of this optimism stems from signs that passing again will be strong, the running game improved and defense bolstered by experience.

Coach Ron Steiner is starting his fourth year at the helm and he figures Point should field its best team since the 1977 club won the conference championship and participated in the NAIA playoffs.

Heading the list of returnees is All Conference wide receiver Charlie Braun, who led the WSUC with 63 pass receptions in 1979 as a sophomore. Also among 10 returning offensive starters are quarterback Brion Demski and sophomore tight end Scott Erickson (6-3, 245). The missing starter is graduated guard Andy Matthiesen. Leading defensive returnee is 6-2, 210 senior end Jeff Groeschl.

Demski passed for 1,441 yards in eight conference games last year but Point's rushing offense produced only 97 yards a game. This could change with the addition of running back Andy Shumway, a transfer from UW-Madison. Another ex-Badger, Jon Kleinschmidt, gives Steiner a competent placekicker.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980

Third year Coach Lyle Eidsness got a lot of mileage last season out of hard running Steve Burr and a "radar defense" that featured the premier defensive lineman in the conference, Joe Bullis, whose exceptional talents earned him the WSUC "most valuable player" award. The Blue Devils parlayed this combination into a 6-4 record, 4-4 in the conference.

Included in Stout's season was an impressive 7-3 victory over River Falls, which proved to be the champion Falcons' only loss during the regular season. However, Bullis and Burr are gone and Eidsness must find adequate replacements for the Blue Devils to move up in the standings or at least duplicate last year's performance.

Senior quarterback Ken Kartman returns to trigger Stout's wishbone offense, but defense remains the Blue Devil forte and Eidsness has the "horses" to rev up the radar again this fall. Included in this unit are tackle Tim Wild along with All Conference Tom Paulus and senior Kevin Hoffman, whom Eidsness calls the best linebacking duo in the conference.

The coach also expects considerable help from three transfer students--offensive guard Matt Hutton (6-0 230) from Superior; offensive tackle Brian Ness (6-4 240) from Southwest (MN) State and defensive back Bill Miles (6-0 190) from the University of South Dakota.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980

The Yellowjackets still are searching for that elusive formula which would elevate them up among conference contenders. They lost 10 straight games last fall before trouncing Mt. Scenario, 62-7, in a non-conference season finale.

Veteran Coach Mertz Mortorelli has 45 lettermen returning, including eight offensive starters from 1979 and five off the defense. Most difficult to replace will be wide receiver Willie Reed, running back Paul Kienitz and offensive tackle Joe Gayan, an All Conference performer last fall.

Mortorelli expects passing to be one of the Yellowjacket strengths with junior quarterback Jeff Mumm coming off a fine sophomore season. Complementing Mumm are five solid receivers, headed by sophomore Cecil Ratliff, who caught 23 passes and averaged 17 yards per reception in conference games as a freshman.

Jeff DePalma, a 5-10 250-pound nose guard, anchors the defensive line, which features enough size to hold its own against anyone in the conference. The defense also should be bolstered by linebacker Larry Banks, a highly touted Superior High School all-stater who transferred back home from the UW-Madison.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980

A rebuilding year looms for veteran Coach Forrest Perkins, who lost such outstanding performers as NAIA All American wide receiver Jerry Young and All Conference quarterback Mike LaLoggia, who set 11 school records last fall when the Warhawks shared second place with La Crosse.

Also missing from the offense are All Conference tackle John Locarno along with guard Barry Meerschaert and running back Rick Rabensdorf. The 1980 Warhawks will be basically young and inexperienced but Perkins concedes this team might have more speed than any in recent years. He figures more freshmen will make the varsity than ever before.

The defense lost four linebackers who were regulars at one time or another but the leading tacklers on last fall's undefeated freshman team were linebackers. Also, nose guard Tony Azarian and safety Jim Haluska, both All Conference, provide a strong defensive nucleus.

Perkins' pro set offense will put less emphasis on play-action passes and options without LaLoggia, but freshman running backs Bill Ryan and Steve Aussprung will add depth and increase competition in the backfield. Coaches elevated 12 freshmen to the varsity when their schedule was completed last fall and they joined six yearlings already there.

PREVIEW OF THE 1980-81 BASKETBALL SEASON

Back when Casey Stengel managed the New York Yankees to all those pennants, prognosticators each spring not so facetiously referred to the coming American League race as the "annual battle for second place."

Followers of Wisconsin State University Conference basketball are beginning to talk in similar terms about Eau Claire's dominance each season. Ken Anderson's Blugolds now have figured in nine championships in the past 11 years and are favored to repeat their 1979-80 success during the coming campaign.

Anderson lost 7-foot Gib Hinz, a two-time WSUC most valuable player, but enough experienced players remain to build a formidable machine once more. Included among returnees are All Conference stars Tony Carr and Joe Merten.

Stevens Point, which finished second to Eau Claire last season, returns its five starters intact and the list includes All Conference performers Bill Zuiker and Phil Rodriguez. Coach Dick Bennett also has added some transfer students who could make the Pointers even more formidable.

The consensus around the conference, though, insists that more teams this season will become involved in the championship battle because so many schools added "impressive personnel" during the off-season.

Gleboff has added some others who might make the Yellowjackets a contender, if all clear eligibility hurdles and are ready for the tipoff in November.

Oshkosh Coach Bob White considers Whitewater and Superior darkhorses behind Eau Claire and Stevens Point, but puts a qualifier on the Yellowjackets, emphasizing, "if Stretch makes it." His Titans are not listed prominently among contenders. They need an overhauling after last season's 6-21 collapse.

La Crosse also faces a rebuilding year with Coach Burt McDonald banking on last year's reserves developing into competent starters and some quality transfers working smoothly into his system.

Platteville will miss most valuable player John Krohn and Coach Dick Wadewitz figures his Pioneers lack enough experience to challenge the leaders. He figures inexperience plagues most teams except Eau Claire and Stevens Point, but is not totally pessimistic. He calls his Pioneers "an average team with a good future."

River Falls lacks size and this presents problems because the WSUC shapes up as a big, strong basketball league this year. Coach Lamont Weaver can call on several talented people but the Falcon inside game could be hurting.

Veteran Stout Coach Dwain Mintz has a way with words and the knack of sneaking up on the "favorites" when they least expect it. Nobody dares relax against the Blue Devils, particularly on their home floor.

Mulling over the coming race, Mintz observed, "Nearly everyone is returning a strong, experienced team. Eau Claire will be 'super' again and their physical superiority will give them an added advantage."

Don't discount the Blue Devils, though, particularly if Mike Devney enjoys another banner season and Craig Summers regains his eligibility.

Although the Blugolds and Pointers receive most mention, a segment of the WSUC basketball fraternity warns, "Look out for Whitewater!" Coach Dave Vander Meulen turned the Warhawk program around last season. Even though he lost Mike Gutter, who shared the conference MVP award with Hinz, the Warhawks appear solid again.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980-81

The Blugolds finished fourth at the NAIA Tournament in Kansas City last March and there are solid indications they could return again in 1981. Although they will be playing without NAIA All American Gib Hinz, a 7-foot center, for the first time in four years, the Blugolds possess enough depth to reach the Nationals again.

Coach Ken Anderson brings a 279-57 record into his 13th season as Eau Claire mentor. Last season he guided the Blugolds to their ninth championship in his 12 years at the helm and they are in a strong position to make that 10 in 13 seasons during the coming campaign. They were 15-1 in the WSUC and 30-4 overall in 1979-80.

Despite losing Hinz, a two-time WSUC most valuable player, Anderson has strong rebounders in 6-8 Mike Morgan, 6-7 Joe Merten and 6-8 Bob Coenen. Julian Kycia, also 6-8, is the only returning letterman center. He saw only limited action last season. Veteran Tony Carr upholds Eau Claire's strong backcourt tradition.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980-81

Coach Burt McDonald must replace four starters but the Indians appear to have personnel available to put a representative team on the floor during the 1980-81 season. Most difficult to replace will be All Conference forward Todd Herreid, who ranked second in WSUC scoring with a 19.7 average.

The return of Pete Zaher, Dick Iverson and John Mielke, the only starter back, should make the Indians strong in the backcourt. Mielke averaged 12.2 points a game, while also ranking second in conference assists, dealing off 5.6 a game.

Indian chances rest on the ability of last year's reserves to produce this season with more playing time. McDonald figures it will be a rebuilding year after last season's 8-8 conference and 16-11 overall record, with newcomers playing major roles. Two UW-Green Bay transfers, 6-10 Sam Stuessy and 6-2 guard Mike Hanrahan, could help immediately.

Also, Ken Jagiello, a 6-6 forward, was redshirted last season and has three years of eligibility remaining. Stuessy and Jagiello could bolster La Crosse's rebounding, which ranked eighth in the conference last season.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980-81

Coach Bob White is looking for help from newcomers as he tries to put last season out of his mind and rebuild his Titans for the 1980-81 campaign. Oshkosh finished seventh in the conference, while winning only six of 27 games.

Even that was a struggle. Four of those six victories were snatched out of overtime games. The Titans need more firepower to fashion a respectable record. White's leading scorer last season, 6-4 forward Lionel Perkins, averaged only 10.1 points a game.

Perkins, whom White believes can develop into an All Conference player, forms the nucleus of an improved front line. Two juniors, 6-5 forward Dick Ritchie and 6-7 center Rod Eissens, should work into the starting rotation well. White expects help from Terry Mueller, a 6-5 transfer from North Dakota. The guards will be new.

The Titans hope to run and White says, "Consistent play is the key here. Overall we should be better. The right freshmen could really help. But, we must improve our shooting, become more consistent and improve our defense.

"What's left?" he added parenthetically.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980-81

The Pioneers under Dick Wadewitz usually start slowly and develop poise and consistency midway through the season. The veteran coach expects this to happen again as he searches for the right combination to climb from last season's sixth place finish (5-11) in the conference.

Most valuable player John Krohn is gone, but added maturity should help 6-1 guard Perry Lewis and 6-7 Rodney Roache. Wadewitz expects help from three sophomores--guard Carl Shedivy of Prairie du Chien, forward Tom Steinhaus of Portage and forward Mark Rossetto of Mukwonago.

Lack of experience and adequate scoring will hamper the Pioneers early. Krohn (12.9) was the only member of the team to average more than 10 points a game last season. Platteville ranked third in team rebounding and should be strong on the boards again.

"We could be a strong rebounding team with inside scoring strength," Wadewitz assessed. "Because of the turnover in personnel this looks like an average team with a good future."

PROSPECTS FOR 1980-81

The Falcons continue to search for that mythical pot at the end of the rainbow. River Falls hasn't won a conference basketball championship for 30 years and Coach Lamont Weaver's Falcons will be hard pressed to improve on last season's 2-14 conference record and 5-22 overall log.

First, they will be without their two best players from a year ago, 7-foot center Brock Bentson and 6-1 guard Dirk Jamison, the team's most valuable player. Leading returnees are 6-1 guard Elander Lewis, 6-2 guard Al Van Wright and 6-5 forward Doug Fish.

Van Wright averaged 11 points a game last season, while Lewis contributed 9.9 and Fish 8.3. Somebody must be found to pick up the rebounding slack with Bentson no longer under the boards.

The Falcons can present a nucleus of experienced personnel around whom to build, but they need height to match other teams in the conference. Their tallest returnee stands only 6-5, so they need help from in-coming freshmen or transfers.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980-81

Most WSUC basketball "watchers" concede the Pointers again will present the most formidable challenge to Eau Claire's perennial rush for the championship. Coach Dick Bennett's club finished second (13-3) last season and compiled an 18-10 record overall, losing to UW-Parkside in the NAIA District 14 Playoffs.

All five starters return, headed by 6-8 forward-center Bill Zuiker, an All Conference performer who finished third in league scoring with a 19-point average. Also among returnees are 6-5 All Conference forward Phil Rodriguez (14.0), 6-2 Jeff Radtke (9.2) and 6-4 John Mack (8.8).

Bennett loses John Miron and Tim Bakken, both key performers off the bench. New-comers should more than pick up the slack. Included in this group are Jeff Lewis, a 6-2 guard who averaged 18.3 points and six rebounds for Milwaukee Custer, and two transfers--6-6 forward Fred Stemmeler from UW-Milwaukee and 6-8 Paul Prochnow from Ripon.

The Pointers allowed opponents only 58 points a game last season and shot better than 50 percent from the floor as a team. So, shooting and defense are strengths that should carry the Pointers far, but rebounding and an adequate bench must improve for them to overtake Eau Claire.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980-81

Coach Dwain Mintz ranks his Blue Devils as a prime darkhorse candidate if the right ingredients fall into place. First, Mintz must find an adequate replacement for two-time All Conference forward Harvey Pearson, who averaged 16.6 points and 7.4 rebounds a game last season.

The catalyst of the offense should be 6-3 swingman Mike Devney, another All Conference performer who finished fourth in league scoring with a 17.4 average. He's the shooter and game-breaker the Blue Devils need to improve on their 10-6 fourth place finish of last season.

Stout presents a more experienced lineup this year and Mintz calls 6-3 power forward Herman Lewis "the best sixth man we've had in many years." Mintz is searching to bolster his club with improved defensive quickness.

If 6-2 guard Craig Summers regains scholastic eligibility, Stout's chances to challenge for the title will be enhanced. The coach concludes, "The team should be more poised and better able to handle pressure. And, the guards will be improved."

PROSPECTS FOR 1980-81

Coach Jim Gleboff has carved out an ambitious schedule that would have been challenging to the "Killer Bees" of two years ago, but might break the back of the current Yellowjackets, many of whom struggled through the 1979-80 campaign that produced an eighth place finish and 8-19 record.

Gleboff this season has lined up games at Northern Michigan, Creighton, San Francisco, Washington, Providence, Washington State, Western Illinois and Santa Clara. Those "warmups" could shatter the Yellowjackets or hone them for a strong showing in the conference.

The Yellowjackets will be without their two leading scorers from last season, Ivory Jones, Jr., and Anthony Watson. Jones averaged 14.7 points a game and Watson 13.8. Jake Griffith, who averaged 6.8 points in the conference, is the highest scoring returnee.

The one bright hope centers around 6-9 James "Stretch" Gregory, former UW-Madison star who enrolled at Superior for the second semester of 1979-80 and could be eligible this season. Gregory led the Badgers in scoring and rebounding during his freshman year at Madison. He became ineligible as a sophomore.

PROSPECTS FOR 1980-81

The Warhawks made a dramatic turnaround in Coach Dave Vander Meulen's second season at the helm and optimism abounds on the Whitewater campus following last year's 20-7 record and third place finish (12-4) in the conference.

Vander Meulen is not without his problems, however. Nobody replaces two All Conference performers such as Mike Gutter and Matt Young without complications. Gutter led the conference in scoring (23.8) and rebounding (10.3) last season, while sharing the league's most valuable player award with Eau Claire's Gib Hinz.

Young was the conference's top assist man with 6.6 a game, but 6-3 Fred McGee could pick up the slack here. Replacing Gutter becomes more complicated, so 6-6 Jack Deichl, 6-7 Mike Jeffery, 6-5 Tom Rheineck and 6-6 Ted Wagner must exert themselves aggressively under the boards.

Even without Gutter the Warhawks remain a good shooting team with excellent depth. They also should enhance both of those departments with the addition of 6-7 Joel Tomski of St. Francis High School and 6-1 Tim Wagner of Jefferson.
