PRICE 5 CENTS

LOWER PRICES OF PROM PLAY; GIVE TWO SHOWS

Non-fraternity Men Meet Today to Form Prom Groups

Final arrangements have been made with the Parkway theater for the Prom play, "Stop Thief", which will be given February 1, according to Herbert Boning '23, business manager of the University Players. An afternoon and evening performance will be given, the prices for the afternoon ranging from 50 cents to $1.50 and those for the evening to $2. Last year's prices ran up to $2.50.

Lower Prices

"We are lowering the price of admission this year in order that the entire student body may see the play," Boning said. "It is not necessarily a prom function and students should attend whether they go to the prom or not. The afternoon performance, we hope will attract a great many non-prom goers. The prices will be lower for the matinee especially for the benefit of these people."

Open ticket sale will start immediately after the Christmas holidays. Advance arrangements for block sections may be made with Boning at 630 Lake street.

All students wishing to try out for the production staff of the play are asked to call Harold Bentson, B. S.

Unorganized Men Meet

The first meeting to organize prom parties among non-fraternity men will be held at 7 o'clock tonight at the Y. M. C. A., where all Masons interested in prom will meet. The meeting will be conducted by Rufus S. Phillips, president of Square and Compass.

"From this year will be a sort of initiation function for Square and Compass," Phillips said last night. "Formal initiation will be held next Friday. An installation date will be held Saturday at the Badger room. We are going to encourage all of the members to go to the prom. Square and Compass hopes to have a large combination prom and initiation party."

All non-fraternity men interested in joining prom parties have been invited to attend a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:15 o'clock tomorrow night. Arrangements will be made to combine groups for boxes and to supply rooms for persons coming from out of town.

AUTHORITIES TO DEBATE CLOSED SHOP ON FRIDAY

"That the Open Shop is Preferable to a Closed Shop in American Industry" is the subject to be debated by Paul Blanshard and Noel Sargent at 7:30 o'clock Friday in Music hall. The debate is under the auspices of the Social Science club. It has been agreed that no decision vote shall be taken by judges or audience.

Paul Blanshard is the Rochester educational director of the Amalgamated Clothing workers, one of the most progressive and powerful labor unions in America. He was graduated from the University of Michigan and studied two years in the graduate schools of Harvard and Columbia.

He has served as a clothing worker, a general organizer of the Amalgamated Clothing workers and is now in charge of the educational work for the 10,000 members of the union in Rochester.

Noel Sargent, manager of the open shop department of the National Association of Manufacturers, is a graduate of the University of Washington and a former student of the graduate schools of Minnesota and Chicago.

Prior to his connection with the Manufacturer's association, Mr. Sargent was active in the political life in the state of Washington. During the past two years he has been the center of the so called "Open shop drive."

Shoults '23, and Thomas A. Tredwell '23. The four initiates are R. Winfield Ellis '23; Edgar B. Kapp '23; Richard J. Van Tassel '23 and George M. Keith '24.

NO ACTION YET ON RUSH RULE

Interfraternity Council Awaits Opinion of Chapters on Deferred System

"No definite action will be taken by the Interfraternity council in regard to rushing rules until after the holidays," Walter Dorth, president, said yesterday.

Printed questionnaires have been submitted to each of the fraternities for a vote and at the present time the council is awaiting their replies following official action by the chapters taken last Monday night.

The advantages of the proposed system as pointed out by a special committee of the council are:

1. Fraternity men who work during the summer will not be compelled to return as early as formerly and will thus have a longer vacation after Labor day.
2. It is fairer to the respective fraternities.

3. It is fairer to the freshman since it enables him to adjust himself to university surroundings before the rushing season opens.
4. Violations of the rushing rules could be detected more easily.

The point system as submitted to the council was approved and will receive more attention at the next meeting after Christmas.

GERMAN CLUB XMAS SPREE ON TONIGHT

Christmas spirit will be brought to the German club meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Lathrop parlor by a Christmas tree, songs and a strictly Christmas program.

The program will include the Christmas message from the gospel of Luke read by Prof. E. K. Voss; "Das Wintersamnenmarchen", by Otto Ernst, read by Herbert Bott '24; "Als ich die Christfreude Holm Ging" by Peter Rosegger, read by Joseph Jantsch '24; "Das Vogel auf dem Weihnachtsbaum" by Herman V. Schmit, read by Alma Haske '25; "Weihnacht" by Ernst Von Wildenbruch, and "Weihnachtsgedichte" by Alice Frein von Gaudy, presented by Otto Toenhart '26; and "Der Armen Kinder Weihnacht" by Otto Julius, given by Harriet Wollaeger '25.

The Misses Gertrude Bruns, Ingeberg Bruns and Annelies Morgan will sing children's songs. Only members will be admitted to the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Winner of Prize Grid Coat Not Yet Decided

Failure to reach a decision as to which man on the 1922 football team was of the most service to the team has delayed the presentation of the overcoat offered by Olson Veerhusen to that man. The committee which has the fate of the overcoat in its hands is made up of Tom Jones, Professor J. F. A. Pyre and Coach John Richards. It is expected that a decision will be reached soon.

STUDENTS IN 3 ILLINOIS CITIES TO GIVE DANCE

Ottawa, LaSalle, Streator Join in Memorial Bene- fit Spree

Students from the Illinois cities of Ottawa, Streator and La Salle will combine in giving a Memorial Union dance at the Armory in Ottawa December 29. Fairbank's orchestra of Madison will be imported for the occasion.

"This is the first time that Madison music has ever been engaged to play in Ottawa," Rachel Bradish '23, said yesterday, "and we expect it to be quite a drawing card."

The affair will not be limited to university members alone but will be open to alumni, high school students and older people as well. With three cities working on the dance it is expected that the undertaking will be a success and that the quota of $100 which each city is striving for will be reached easily.

"Tickets will be sent to Ottawa as soon as they are printed, for distribution by alumni members," Miss Bradish said. "Graduate student also will assist with publicity." Ida Crary '26, Streator, and Miss Bradish, Ottawa, are in charge of the dance, assisted by Jo Snow '24, Ottawa.

Similar affairs will be given in more than 50 cities during Christmas vacation in nine different states.—Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota and North Dakota. With a quota of $100 set for each city, it is expected that more than $5,000 will be turned over to the Memorial Union fund from the proceeds of these dances.

ORCHESTRA WILL APPEAR IN FIRST CONCERT TONIGHT

The University of Wisconsin student orchestra will present tonight at Music hall its first concert of the season, an attractive program of classical orchestral numbers for the entire orchestra, a string instrument number and a vocal solo with orchestra accompaniment.

Allison's "A Song of Thanksgiving" will be sung by Erma Duncan, mezzo-soprano, a student of voice in the School of Music, with orchestra accompaniment. The number has been arranged by Major Morphy especially for this concert and with the purpose of blending it effectively with Miss Duncan's voice.

The string instruments alone will present Loeschorn's "Evening Rest" an effective contrast to the numbers for complete orchestration.

The Overture to "Midsummer Night's Dream", the march from the Symphony "Lenore", and The Morning from "Peer Gynt Suite" are included in the program.

The program is an unusually attractive one to lovers of good music. The greater size and quality of this year's orchestra are factors which will combine with it to make this one of the most delightful events on the list of pre-Christmas musical activities.

White Spades Initiates 11 at Banquet Tonight

Eleven junior men will be initiated into White Spades, junior honorary activities society, at a banquet at 6:15 o'clock tonight in the card room of the University club. The initiates are Martin Below, Porter Butts, Walter Frautschi, Russell Irish, Howard Lyman, Harold Maier, Merrill Taft, Gamber Tegtmeyer, Harold Seering, Allan Walter and Gordon Wanzer.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair today with possibly snow tonight is the weather forecast for Madison and vicinity. Slightly warmer is the prediction for tomorrow.

Tegtmeyer to Direct College Annual Critics

Gamber Tegtmeyer probably will be the official speaker at the round table discussion on college annuals and university year books at the convention of the Mid-West Student conference to be held at Northwestern university in February, according to Robert B. Stewart '23, secretary and treasurer of the association.

Because Wisconsin has the finest year book of any educational institution in the country, except West Point's which is a subsidized book, the delegates who met at Chicago last Saturday have selected Tegtmeyer to conduct the discussion on periodicals, publications and year books.

Stewart led the discussion on athletics last year. The convention holds round table discussions for every phase of campus activity.

'GO-GETTER' IS CUB NECESSITY

Journal Editor Tells Press Club Essentials of Reporting Success

"The young reporter must be industrious, he must be loyal, he must never be willing to sacrifice the welfare of his paper in order to follow his personal inclinations."

This is the definition of a "go-getter" in the opinion of Harry Ross, city editor of the Wisconsin State Journal, who characterized the successful, go-getter type of reporter in his address at the initiation banquet of Press club last night.

"The go-getter sizes up the situation and never lets go until he has surmounted all obstacles and brought back even more than he was originally sent for. He is the reporter who is not satisfied with routine work. He takes advantage of every opportunity for locating a source of news. By using initiative plus dogged determination he builds up his own story and overcomes all obstacles, getting at and covering the story from all angles of interest," Mr. Ross said.

The speaker was enthusiastic in his desire for more extensive cooperation between the students doing reporting practice work and the Wisconsin State Journal.

WISCONSIN SQUARE INSTALLED FRIDAY

The Wisconsin Square of the Square and Compass will be installed formally into the national body at ceremonies to be held at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening in the club room of Christ Presbyterian church. A banquet will be served in the club room immediately after the installation.

Edward E. Parkinson will act as installing officer and Charles E. Whelan will deliver an address after the banquet. Mr. Parkinson and Mr. Whelan have consented to act in the place of a representative sent from the national headquarters. Headquarters of the organization are in New York and it was impossible to have an officer come to Madison for the ceremony.

Final plans for the installation banquet and the dance, which will be given Saturday night in the Badger room, will be made at the regular meeting of the club at 7 o'clock tonight in the Y. M. C. A.

England, Peru, Porto Rico, and Russia had two representatives each and Chile, Argentina, Denmark, Finland, Mexico, New Zealand, Italy, Spain, Siam, Roumania, Sweden, Nicaragua and Paraguay had one each.

FLYING SQUADS HIT HOUSES IN CHILDS CANVASS

Williams, Tebell Praise Wisconsin Work in China

Fraternities and men's rooming houses were visited yesterday during the meal hours by Gus Tebell '23, Rolie Williams '23, and Lee McCandless '23, comprising a flying squadron to talk on Jack Childs and the work he is doing in China as Wisconsin's representative.

"Athletics is one of the feature points which Childs stresses in his work among the Oriental students. He realizes that good clean American play is beneficial and of utmost value in the building up of a nation. He is doing great work toward that same end in China" Williams declared.

Tebell Lands Service

The Badger ex-captain and present senior president also talked on the fact that better relationships between the two nations are developed by the work of such men as Childs.

"Childs is a Wisconsin man and he is doing a work of which Wisconsin should be proud. In the developing of Christian ideals and the furthering of the Wisconsin idea of service and brotherhood he is accomplishing things which make him merit our support," Tebell asserted.

The work of the flying squadron is the first step of the movement this week to raise funds to support Jack Childs in China. Childs is at the university at present on his first furlough since he went to the Orient in 1916.

Lee McCandless '23, is assistant chairman of the Wisconsin in China week has charge of the movement in the fraternities. He also is directing the activities of the flying squadron. Those fraternities which were not reached yesterday will be visited today or tomorrow.

Ku Klux Aids Drive

Ku Klux Klan is supporting actively the work and is assuming a part of the burden of the fraternity work. One member of the organization in each fraternity has charge of the collecting of funds and promises to pay from members of his chapter.

The general movement among the student body is directed by Lucius Chase '23. His organization started work yesterday and will attempt to see every male student of the university and sell him the idea.

Forty captains with five men on each team are working under Chase to put over the general canvass. Thomas A. Tredwell '23, is general chairman of the student Wisconsin in China movement.

Faculty members also are observing Wisconsin in China week this week and are conducting a canvass to raise $2,000 to aid in the support of Childs.

W. A. A. ADMITS NEW MEMBERS; PLANS AUCTION

New members admitted to W. A. A. last night were Leora Ellsworth '24, Grace Baird '25, Mildred Hansen '25 and Frances Tipple '25.

To raise funds for the W. A. A. cottage the organization is planning to have an auction at which old clothes, rejected Christmas gifts and worth while things will be sold February 13.

Marion Streng '25 was appointed chairman of the auction committee. She is to be assisted by all the sophomore members of W. A. A. A bridge party will be held to further increase the funds later.

Mme. Ponafidene, a refugee from Soviet Russia, is coming under the auspices of W. A. A. January 12 to speak on her experiences in Soviet Russia. Mme. Ponafidene has been recommended highly by newspapers of eastern cities where she has appeared in public lectures.

SEIZE STILL AT MT. HOREB

Tasher Cheese Factory Raid
Nets 200 Gallons of Liquor

A modern liquor distillery, in which 200 gallons of booze had already been manufactured ready for delivery, was uncovered by Sheriff W. H. McCormick and officials near Mt. Horeb, Monday afternoon, when they raided a second cheese factory and found a big still, connected up to the factory machinery, and operated by steam. The distillery was up-to-date in every respect, officials declared.

Cheese factories do not operate in the winter months, as a usual thing, and undue activities around several such places during the past month has aroused the suspicions of Dane county authorities. State officials also have co-operated in uncovering two cheese factory distilleries so far. One was disclosed Saturday afternoon when the Fred Funkhauser factory was raided within five miles of the one found Monday.

Sheriff W. H. McCormick, L. B. Nagler of the state prohibition department, and Deputy Sheriff Eric Holm of Mt. Horeb swooped down on the Tasher cheese factory yesterday, six miles south of Mt. Horeb, and stopped activities.

A 15-gallon still, 200 gallons of liquor and some 200 gallons of mash for further production were seized and destroyed.

Leo Ambert, cheesemaker, was arrested and will be arraigned in superior court today.

On Saturday the Funkhauser factory yielded two 50-gallon stills, 10 tons of rye flour and other equipment.

Credit for the discovery of the moonshine factories is given to Deputy Sheriff Holm.

A sweeping campaign against the liquor business, which seems to have been gaining a strong foothold in Dane county, is planned by county officials.

The cheese factory plan is a new one here, and this discovery leads officials to believe that a large amount of the liquor sold in Madison is being made outside of the city limits.

Fred Funkhauser, owner of the cheese factory 9 miles south of Mt. Horeb in which two 50 gallon stills, 10 tons of rye flour, and 50 gallons of moonshine were found by enforcement officers Saturday afternoon, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Superior court this afternoon on violation of the state dry laws and was released on $1,000 bail.

Fire Destroys Cottage at Lake Waubesa Beach

Fire destroyed the cottage owned by John I. Taylor and Dr. R. T. Vogel, at Waubesa Beach, west shore of Lake Waubesa, early Monday in the evening. The damage is estimated at about $2,500, according to Mr. Taylor.

The cottage, a two story, four room building, is one of the largest cottages at the beach. The fire was noticed by a Mr. Burmeister about 8:15. The structure burned to the ground.

The building was partially furnished. It is thought that a party of boys, or perhaps a vagrant, entered the cottage and accidentally set fire to it by a dropped match or an overheated chimney.

Mr. Taylor, resides at 407 N. Baldwin st., and is associated with The Dental Supply Co. Dr. Vogel resides at 119 E. Washington ave. A new cottage may be built next Spring, Mr. Taylor said.

Davis to Speak at Second Campus Religious Convo

Dr. Ozora Davis, president of the Chicago Theological seminary, will speak on "The Reality of Religion" at the second of the series of convocations, sponsored by the Campus Religious council in Music hall at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. President Birge will introduce the speaker.

"In great demand as a lecturer to groups of student throughout the country and already well known on our campus through former addresses delivered here, Dr. Davis comes highly recommended as an orator and is a man whom every student should hear speak," Rev. J. E. Sarles, Congregational student pastor, declared yesterday.

The lecture is open to the public. Dr. Davis will answer questions following his talk.

West's Table Makes Mental Test Simple

Mental and educational tests are much simplified by the use of a table recently compiled by Prof. Paul V. West of the department of education.

During the course of reading tests which he was conducting in the Madison public schools last year, Professor West discovered that the work of finding the quotient representing the reading age of a child could be made considerably less difficult by the use of a simplified method.

Professor West tested his discovery by constructing a series of three tables which provided for the computation of all quotients and corrections for school children between the ages of four and seventeen.

The result of Professor West's work has been copyrighted and published in booklet form under the name of "Simplified Quotient Tables," and is being used in the work of the department this year. Professor West completed work this summer at the University of Chicago for which he is soon to receive the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Four Chimney Fires Tell of Cold Morning

Four chimney fires, caused by sooty chimneys and overheated furnaces occurred between the hours of 6 and 8 yesterday morning, as Madison fired her furnaces to greet the coldest day of the fall.

Residences at 1326 Williamson st., 201 Princeton ave., 1314 Williamson st., and 120 S. Pinckney st. sent in alarms for help in extinguishing fires. Practically no damage resulted.

Dental Specialist Need of Health Department

"A trained dental hygienist for the school children of Madison is the greatest need of the city health department at this time," said Dr. E. V. Brumbaugh, city health officer at a meeting of the Lions' club yesterday noon.

"At present each school is visited daily by a nurse, and the appalling condition of the children's teeth has been reported by the visiting nurse; in some cases children have been found with as many as 12 diseased teeth."

MICHIGAN TRIMS NOTRE DAME IN OPENER 41 TO 23

Team Shows Up Strong
Used Many Second
String Men

(Special to The Cardinal)
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 12.—Michigan opened its basketball season in an impressive fashion Friday night when the Wolverine quintet completely overwhelmed the Notre Dame tossers by the score of 41 to 23.

During the opening half Mather's men played rings around their opponents and had the Irish baffled by their speedy work. When the gun was sounded ending the half, the count stood 29 to 7 in favor of the Wolverines and Notre Dame had been held to a single field goal.

During the second period Coach Mather sent in the second team which put up a strong but unsuccessful battle against the South Bend cagers. With but a few minutes yet to play the regulars were again sent into the fray and once again Notre Dame was bewildered by the Michigan offense.

Vets Boost Prospects

With the Christmas vacation less than a week away Mather is trying to polish off the rough spots in his machine to have it ready for the Big Ten race when the schedule opens in January. Prospects for a strong five are bright since the team is made up of veterans from last year's basketball team and should reflect the efforts of Coach Mather's previous tutelage. Michigan supporters have learned to respect the work of the basketball mentor who put the Wolverines on the map in that sport.

For the forward positions Miller, Haggerty, Henderson and Kipke are the most likely looking candidates. Miller, All-Conference man of last year is the greatest scorer a Wolverine five ever developed and as evidence that his unerring eye still runs true to form he scored 23 points against Notre Dame during his stay in the contest.

Haggerty, a promising sophomore, is a likely looking running mate for Miller, although untried under Big Ten fire. His size is somewhat against him and he may give way to Henderson who starred on the Wolverine team two years ago but who has been out of the university. If Henderson can hit his stride he should make a capable mate for Miller.

Kipke In Game

Harry Kipke, whose work on the gridiron was largely responsible for Michigan's success, is not yet in form. It is doubtful if he will be used at forward this year, although he probably will have a place on the five because of his great speed. Originally Kipke was a guard and it is Mather's plan to try him out at this position.

In addition to Kipke, Michigan has for guards Birke, Paper and Cappon, all veterans of last year so that a strong combination should be worked out, and keen competition for the places is being waged by the rival candidates. At center Captain Ely is without a rival for the tall Wolverine tip-off man is the best center prospect Michigan ever has had.

With these veterans as a nucleus and Mather as coach Michigan is optimistic over the outlook, although the Conference teams as a whole appear stronger this year than for some time and the Wolverines are making no predictions further than asserting that they hope to have a team that will be heard from when the season opens.

Illinois inaugurates the Big Ten season for Michigan when the Illini tossers play the opening game with Mather's men on January 6. Mather is leaving nothing prepared for the Illini who with a new coach and promising material are expected to put in a bid for the title.

STEINAUER WILL GIVE MEN SWIM PROGRAM FRIDAY

All swimmers will meet Friday night at which time Coach Steinauer will lay out the plans for the year and outline a definite plan for training.

The swimming squad has been handicapped this year in that they have not had a tank to swim in. Some of the men have been using the tank at Lathrop but the strange pool and irregular hours have hampered their work.

The tank at the men's gymnasium will be finished by the first of the year, allowing the team a little more than a week to get ready for their first contest with Indiana.

Coach Steinauer will put a plan before the men Friday night, that of training during Christmas recess. The coach hopes that it will be possible for every man to be near enough to a tank to do some real training before he returns to school, thus enabling the men to get a good start for the season when they return.

AMES HOPES FOR TITLE

Ames college, Iowa, has high hopes for the football season of 1923. A football coach who won in one year the respect and admiration of every man on his team will be one factor leading to the success of the team. Only three regular men were lost by graduation and this year's freshman squad is one of the best the college ever has had. Capt. A. E. Wolters who played quarterback, Riggs, an end, and Ekins, a tackle, are the regular men lost by graduation. The prospects for a title team are good and Ames expects to fight hard.

GREEK RUNNERS TO HOLD MEET NEXT SATURDAY

While the entry list for the annual inter-fraternity track meet to be held in the gym annex next Saturday afternoon is not yet completely filled, it is growing fast enough to assure an excellent meet. Kenn competition will be displayed if the way fraternity men are practicing every night is any criterion.

The entry list is expected to exceed that of last year when 15 teams were entered. Almost that number already have been entered at the gym office with two days remaining before the list will be closed.

The meet will be held at 2 o'clock in the annex. Plenty of space for spectators will be provided.

The Pi Kappa Alpha team, last year's champions, are entered this year and are expected to make a strong bid for first honors again. The Sigma Nu team, which took second place last year, and the Alpha Gamma Rho bunch, winners of third place, are again entered. The chances are good for both of these teams to place near the top, as nearly all of the old men are back for both teams and they have been practicing for some time.

The interfraternity track meet held during December of each year, has become an annual affair at Wisconsin. Men are eligible for competition who are not Varsity track men or winners of track W's.

ANOTHER STADIUM DRIVE

Plans are being worked out by a committee of business men headed by Eli F. Siebert, mayor of South Bend, for the financing of a new football stadium at Notre Dame university.

LINE-O'-SPORT

PURPLE PICK CAPTAIN

William McElwain of Evanston, right halfback, was elected captain of the 1923 Northwestern university eleven at a banquet tendered by the trustees of the school Wednesday.

PETCOFF TO LEAD OHIO

Boni Petcoff of Toledo was elected captain of the 1923 Ohio state football team at the sixth annual chamber of commerce banquet Tuesday at Columbus attended by 300 students and town fans. Petcoff played regular left tackle last season and substituted for Capt. Iolas Hoffman in 1921. His election came as a distinct surprise. Harry (Hoge) Workman, last season's quarterback and halfback, was counted to make the position.

MARTINEAU FOR GOPHERS

The Minnesota football team chose Earle Martineau, halfback, as its 1923 grid leader at a meeting of the letter men Wednesday night. The election was unanimous. Martineau has played two years on the university team and is considered one of the best open field runners in the conference.

TIGERS CHOOSE SNIVELY

Twenty members of Princeton's undefeated eleven who played in the Yale Harvard contests, last Wednesday selected Arthur B. (Whoops) Snively, left guard, of Waynesboro, Pa., for the captaincy in 1923. This fall he started in the back field where he became a great threat to his opponents with his deadly passing. After the Tiger line had been ripped up in several games, however, he was sent in as left guard. His passing in the Chicago game was the outstanding feature of the victory.

PURDUE ELECTS CLAYPOOL

Ralph L. Claypool of Davenport, Ia., a center, was elected captain of the Purdue 1923 football squad at a Kiwanis club banquet held last Friday night at Lafayette. Claypool's play has stood out this season despite Purdue's poor record. Ralph has a brother also playing on the team.

MAROON RUNNERS REPORT

Six Chicago regulars of the 1922 track team have reported for practice this fall. Captain Egil Krogh, mile runner, James Pyott, sprinter, Jake Brickman, hurdler and sprinter, Alex Jones and Robert McFarlane, quarter milers, and Harry Frida, weight thrower, compose the nucleus for next season's Maroon team.

INSECT DOWNS GRID MAN

While chasing a butterfly for an entomology specimen, John McAuliffe, football and basketball man who is a member of the Beloit college basketball team which meets the Varsity December 19, stepped into a hole and sprained his ankle. McAuliffe had never been injured while on the athletic field.

NORGREN TRY'S SHORT PASS

The Chicago basketball team is working hard for the first Conference game with Iowa January 6. Coach Nels Norgren has set out to perfect the short pass.

IOWA-YALE RIFLES MEET

The Iowa rifle team will shoot against Yale December 20 in answer to the challenge from New Haven. Members of the Iowa team are Walter J. Dehner and James F. Phillips, both of whom have made perfect shoot trials, and Dillard W. Bray.

CHICAGO GYMNAST GREEN

Only one "C" man, Ed Ricketts, will return to the Chicago gymnastic team this year. Coach D. L. Hoffer is working hard with a large quantity of material which looks quite promising, however. The scarcity of wrestling material is greatly felt because of the early Conference meet this year.

GOPHER GRID STARS BACK

With the loss of only one regular, Otis McCreery, halfback, Coach Bill Spaulding of Minnesota will have an experienced nucleus about which to build his 1923 football team which should make the Gophers a serious contender for the championship next fall. Captain Oliver Aas will lead the Gopher defense and Earl Martineau the offense.

VARSITY MEETS FROSH IN OPEN CLASH TONIGHT

Quintet Will Rest Up For Butler Tilt Next
Friday

The second and last open practice game between the varsity quintet and the freshmen before the start of the regular schedule will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the men's gymnasium. A larger crowd and even a better game than the one played on Monday night is anticipated.

Coach "Doc" Meanwell has changed his regular practice from afternoons to nights to accustom his men to the lights and conditions under which they will have to play in the real games.

Last year Butler won from the Bears principally because of the fouls committed by the Cardinal players. The team was slowed up all through the season for this same reason. Coach Meanwell has been stressing clean playing and teaching his squad to overcome their technical errors during practice this fall.

Elsom, Williams Frequent Foulers

In the practice game Monday night Ken Elsom was called many times for fouling, chiefly on technical fouls. Rollie Williams was another heavy offender. Williams showed some of his old snap and drive against the frosh but ruined many of his best plays by ending them with bad passes.

The other men on the squad looked good but are far from the perfection that will gain Wisconsin a high rating in the Conference standing this year. Les Gage and Doug Gibson probably are in better condition than any men on the squad and both were hitting the net with regularity. Gage especially shows aptitude on difficult shots.

Byron Barwig, and Ralph Wackman, reserves at forward and center respectively, are showing rapid improvement, with the likelihood that Barwig may get the call as Gage's running mate in place of Elsom.

Short on Guards

Coach Meanwell worked several hours yesterday afternoon with his ineligible and sophomores in an effort to find promising prospects for substitute guards. With either Captain Tebell or Williams out of the game, the team would be in hard straits, for Meanwell as yet has no substitutes for these men who are of Conference calibre.

The regulars worked out last night against a team from the freshmen squad. Following tonight's open practice the team will let up on their intensive work until after the first battle with the Butler college quintet Friday.

Butler comes here after weeks of seasoning and after having played several practice games and one regular game with an independent team, the Omars, one of the strongest in the middle west.

Butler Comes With Stars

Coach Pat Page has a squad of 30 men from which to select his team. Five of his best men played in the game which the Bulldogs annexed from Wisconsin last year. They are John Leslie, captain and center; Orville Hooker, all-state forward and Butler captain last year; Haldeen Griggs; Wally Middleworth, all-state guard; and Eugene Colway, back guard.

Besides those regulars, the Hoosier team also has a number of other experienced players to fall back on. Included in these are Ralph Nipper, Paul Jones, Robert Blesing, Gerald Strole and Konold.

The Page outfit has a heavy schedule, playing games with Carnegie Tech, Chicago, Illinois, Franklin, Notre Dame, Purdue, Wabash, Rose Poly Tech, DePauw, Earlham and the State Normal, besides Wisconsin.

There is a possibility that the Harvard and Yale alumni may be limited to only one ticket each for the Yale-Harvard football game next fall, according to the statements of Yale authorities. The game will be played in the Harvard stadium next season. The seating capacity is 30,000 less than that of the Yale bowl.

RICHARDS' RESIGNATION

COACH Richards' resignation was a bitter stab at the cheerful feeling of thousands of students who were allowing themselves no more serious worry than the usual disconcerting decisions attendant upon the holiday season. Students were stunned.

Somehow they couldn't realize that next year they would not see on the side-lines that tweed-clad giant with the bulky briar. Such unpleasant things usually are hard to realize until they actually happen.

We not only have difficulty in realizing it, but we refuse either to realize it or believe it until every effort has been made to bring Richards back.

It's a mighty big break you are making, Coach Richards. You have been here a good many years, and if you will permit us to say so, have become something of a Wisconsin institution. Is that law work out at Los Angeles really so important?

The small boys around Wisconsin have known Red, and Scottie, and Rollie, and Gus pretty well, coach, and have admired them pretty much, but not so much as you. The fame of the player is transitory; he is great for a year or two; but the coach continues.

Big men are scarce, and it would take a big man to fill the place that has been big enough for a man of John Richards' size.

John Richards is a great coach. His teams, though not champions, have been great teams. They have played good football, hard football, and clean football. They have been successful.

A coach who has done so well should not be allowed to resign without argument.

The students want John Richards back; the alumni want him; and if the athletic council represents Wisconsin it will refuse to accept his resignation.

INTELLECTUAL LECTURES

IN yesterday's Cardinal was an announcement that Professor Snow will give his "snowflake" lecture on Thursday. That that should be worth a news story is significant, just as was the remark we heard on the campus the other day:

"Benn's giving his liquid air lecture today. Better come up and hear him."

When a professor's lectures are as popular as that, it is worth while for others to think about it, especially the professor who stooped his lecture the other day and asked a student to open the window in order that the class might not be so sleepy.

There are professors and professors. Dull and interesting. And somehow, when we think back over four years, it seems that our most valuable courses were given by the interesting professors.

There are bright spots in our college course. Paxon's appreciation of P. T. Barnum; Byrne's description of medieval student riots at Oxford; Kiekhofers' inspirational pyrotechnics; Otto's genial presentation of this or that obtruse philosophical idea.

In courses with these men and with many others, we learned a lot, and the ideas which they gave us still remain with us.

Other instructors we have had, who taught us to emulate Endymion. And little else.

Too many distinguished gentlemen on the faculty have the idea that they must cram their lecture hours with dry facts so important that they need no sugar coating.

The facts may be important but unless they are remembered they don't do much good.

Fact-pumping isn't really so important in lectures. Facts usually may be found in books. But books seldom stimulate interest. That's the professor's big opportunity.

The professor who can stimulate intellectual activity and interest is the great teacher. If a student is interested, he will usually find out facts for himself.

We advocate a public speaking course for deficient pedagogues.

More than 820 students are enrolled in the College of Agriculture this year.

Hawaii, Panama, the Philippines and Porto Rico sent 25 students here last year.

Octopus Offers Double Kick In Christmas Issue

By H. H. P.

There's a real kick in Hub Townsend's cover plate on the Christmas Octopus. Two kinds of kick for that matter. A kick in the enraptured expectancy on the merry young gentlemen's face as well as in the wink of the genial broad-breasted butler (who makes us want to shout, "Who's your tailor?") But in terms of more potentiality, the kick is in the pudding.

That cover design, with Mueller's frontispiece, Clarke's "Christmas at Wisconsin" page, and "A Ballad of Gifts" (which we understand was written by Irv Shafirin) give to the book a touch of whimsical geniality entirely in keeping with the spirit of the season. We'd like to see more stuff like "A Ballad of the Gifts."

The adventures of Mueller's philanthropist and Shafirin's bespectacled simp make amusing cartoons and Stiver's page is decidedly pleasing. Miss Leitzell's drawings are unfortunately conspicuous for their scarcity, but the loss is alleviated by K. Harrington's dainty damsel on page 10. (By the way, next to that drawing is a mighty clever limerick.)

Over toward the middle of the book are two bits of verse, "The Professor's Christmas" and "Get in Line." We advise you to clip these out and paste them over the two songs about Santy and socks which occupy the most prominent pages. Despite the mutilation the book will be considerably improved.

Throughout the book are short quips and snatches of verse which are cleverly pleasing, but most of the copy is up to the standard whoever chips the exchanges for the Octopus has made himself a very important staff member. His selections are always excellent and which the Octopus has set for itself.

Exchange editor of a publication is a position of some obscurity, but are really an important feature of the magazine.

Pos Miller, Penn., right half.
Wood, Army, fullback.

CHARLIE BUELL, HARVARD

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Out of the eastern grid season, just behind us, came a multitude of wonderful players. With the exception of four instances it is an extremely difficult matter to select I from the candidates one man who can be ranked as without dispute the best at his post.

These four men are Kaw, of Cornell, Owen and Buell of Harvard and Gray of Princeton.

Kaw is without question the greatest fullback in the east. Charlie Buell is without rival at the quarterback position. George Owen is the peer of all halfbacks and Gray is the perfect end, without an equal.

Buell is selected for the quarterback position ahead of Pfann, the great Cornell pivot man, because, to my mind, Buell showed every quality needed in a quarter against the greatest opposition the east has seen. Pfann's work was just as brilliant, but there is a question as to how great would have been his work against more formidable opposition.

Cornell had little opposition all season, with the exception of the Pennsylvania game, which Cornell won 9 to 0. Buell was called upon to show his greatness in defeat as well as in victory and delivered.

In all-American and all-western selections I tried to place each man in his own position, even holding to the same side of the line and the backfield.

In choosing the all-star eleven of the east, however, Treat of Princeton and Hanson of Cornell stand out as the two best tackles in that section. It would be unfair to replace either with another on that account. Hanson could play either tackle brilliantly. So he is shifted from the left to the right side of the line.

Three Princeton men win places on the honor team. They stood out prominently in the most brilliant campaign Prince had in a dozen years. They helped make Princeton the strongest team in the east.

Last Appearance of Jackson Troupe Today

One of the feature attractions on the program for the last times today is Bobby Jackson and his company of artists in a high class singing and dancing offering under the name of "Eccentricities".

An element of surprise enters into the act of Jean Barrios, who presents "Song Impressions." "Fun at the Soda Fountain" is the name given to the comedy skit by Bell and Eva. The story of a boob musician applying for a position in a small town dance hall is clever, told by Hays and Marion in their comedy "Before and After".

Carl Rosini and his company of master magicians are presenting some new stunts in the art of magic. Tyler and Crolus in "Brazilian Desert" complete this program.

Six exceptionally good Orpheum Circuit attractions will form "The Show of Shows" booked for the new bill starting tomorrow night. This entertainment will be replete with beautiful girls, gorgeous scenery and costumes, music, singing and dancing, and comedy.

Song, dance and musical production known as "A Timely Revue of Class," will bring to this city tomorrow the well known and popular Henry Catalano, supported by an able company. Included in the cast will be Billy Carr at the piano Mildred Davies, a singing comedienne, and the three Strum Sisters, whose dancing has captured much admiration. Of special interest is the scenic and costume beauty with which the elaborate production is invested.

Another act worthy of exceptional praise is the one act playlet offered by Frank Wilcox and his players entitled "Ssh-H!" The Hon. Andy Gump, 100 percent American, will appear in person at the Orpheum for four days starting next Thursday, Dec. 21.

Yale Glee Club Will Give Christmas Concert

The Yale Glee club will give a Christmas concert for the members of the society at 8:15 o'clock, December 28 at the Aryan Grotto. Tickets are on sale by Jay N. Whipple, local manager, 7 West Madison street. A ball will be held after the concert.

OCTOPUS

Meeting of the Octopus editorial and art staffs will be held at 4 o'clock Thursday. Anyone who desires to contribute is asked to attend.

DEATH COMES TO WANAMAKER

Pioneer in Creation of Department Store Dies at Age of 84

PHILADELPHIA—John Wanamaker, world famous merchant and former postmaster general died at his home here yesterday. He had been there since early in November with a heavy cold contracted, at his country estate "Lydenhurst" at Jenkintown near here. He was 84 years old.

Mr. Wanamaker's life was insured for more than $3,000,000.

John Wanamaker led in the creation of the department store as an institution in American life. At the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861 when he began business for himself in a humble way in Philadelphia retail merchandising in this country was in a disorganized state, and, in the opinion of the farsighted young merchant, it was suffering a rapid decline through practices that were then general. There were in those days no fixed selling price for goods. Customers spent hours price-haggling with salesmen. Mr. Wanamaker was impressed with this waste of time and to eliminate it he became a pioneer in fixing a selling price for goods.

Mr. Wanamaker was 24 years old when he entered upon his career, in partnership with his brother-in-law, Nathan Brown, on a joint capital of $3,500, in a clothing business at Philadelphia. He had been born in that city, July 11, 1838. His father and his father's father had been brick-makers, and John Wanamaker's first work was "turning bricks." He was the oldest of seven children and early in his boyhood he was obliged to give up schooling and earn his own way. His first wages were $1.25 a week as an errand boy in a Philadelphia book store and then as a young man he was employed for a time at Tower Hall a famous old Philadelphia clothing house. The Brown & Wanamaker store began business with a first day's sales account of $24, and ended its first year with a record of $24,000 business. Mr. Wanamaker and his brother-in-law were during their first few months of business unable to afford a horse and wagon for delivery, and Mr. Wanamaker himself pushed a two-wheel cart to deliver his goods. It is estimated that during his entire business career Mr. Wanamaker had distributed into American homes merchandise reaching nearly a billion dollars in value.

He was known as a great believer in advertising, in newspaper advertising above all other varieties. He spent millions of dollars in it.

One of the greatest tributes ever paid to an American merchant was that given to Mr. Wanamaker in the fall of 1911 on the fiftieth anniversary of his business career. Thirteen thousand of his employees from both the New York and Philadelphia stores greeted him in his Philadelphia store and presented him with the house in which he was born, and a jubilee book in which each of the thirteen thousand had written their names.

LAW SCHOOLS TO HOLD CONVO DEC. 28-30 IN CHICAGO

The twentieth annual convention of American Law schools is to be held at Chicago in the LaSalle hotel December 28, 29 and 30.

In speaking of the convention Dean H. S. Richards of the Law school said yesterday:

"We are interested in teaching and developing law as a science and the major part of the meetings will be taken up in round table discussions teaching law."

Wrongs, commercial law, legal property, legal bibliography and business associations are subjects scheduled for the program.

Wisconsin being a charter member, has been well represented at the conference. Dean Richards was president in 1916 and has served on the executive committee for nine years. Prof. Charles Gregory who is now in the Philippines also was honored by being secretary for four years and also being elected president.

The East and the West have been equally represented, there being nine representatives from each section of the country. For 10 years the meetings have been held in Chicago.

SHERIFFS MAY BE APPOINTED

Reach Decision in Test Case;
Verdict Handed Down
Today

In counties where the sheriff was re-elected last month, Gov. J. J. Blaine will be called upon to appoint a successor in office if the Wisconsin Supreme court upholds a decision of Judge William R. Foley, Superior, who ruled that the man who received the next highest number of votes in the election cannot succeed the old incumbent as sheriff.

Judge Foley made the ruling in the case of McKeevers versus Johnson, a test action brought in Washburn county. A special hearing will be held to review the findings of Judge Foley by the Supreme court Jan. 12.

By defeating the proposed constitutional amendment, which would have made it legal for a sheriff to succeed himself, the people of five or six Wisconsin counties will find themselves without a sheriff on Jan. 1. The present incumbents retire from office on Dec. 31.

The question arose whether the man receiving the second highest number of votes in the general election becomes sheriff, or whether the office must be filled by executive appointment.

Uncle Sam Will Help Figure Income Taxes

Advisory service will be offered to every county, city and large town in the country by the bureau of internal revenue to assist taxpayers in preparing their income tax returns for 1922. The deputies, who are now being instructed by experts on the individual income tax law and regulations, will be sent, following their examinations, to every county in the United States to aid in making out the income tax forms. The period for filing returns is from January 1 to March 15.

Harding Will Not Act on Big Packer Merger

WASHINGTON—Pres. Harding and his advisers have decided that there is no obligation on the part of the administration to act on the application of Armour & Co. to buy the assets of Morris & Co., another of the Chicago Big Five packers.

The decision in which Atty. Gen. Daugherty and Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture, concurred was communicated to the senate yesterday by Sect'y Wallace.

An opinion by Atty. Gen. Daugherty also transmitted to the senate held that Secretary Wallace had power under the packer control act to investigate violations of the law should there be any in the proposed purchase of the Morris assets by Armour & Co.

Will Not Build New Roundhouse—Here Soon

"The Chicago & Northwestern railroad has been considering building a new roundhouse at the Monona yards for several years but the matter isn't advanced any further now than it was then," F. J. Zoelle, general passenger agent of the C. & N. W. Ry., told The Capital Times today.

This statement from Zoelle refutes reports made public Monday that the roundhouse would be built soon.

When asked whether or not the Baraboo shops would be moved to Madison, Zoelle stated that he knew nothing of the matter.

DEVICES NEW WAVE FILTER

Peters Has Apparatus to Separate Signals of Different Radio Stations

Leo J. Peters, research instructor in the College of Engineering, has devised an electric wave filter following investigation made of the radio problem of separating the signals of one wireless station from those of others. The filter is built up of coupled circuit elements.

An article giving a quantitative mathematical study of the operation of these coupled circuit wave filters in the steady state and presenting methods of designing these filters for any specified set of conditions has been prepared by Mr. Peters and will be published in the near future.

"The whole story of the value of a wave filter when used to eliminate disturbances is not given by its steady state properties alone," Mr. Peters asserted. "Of equal or of even greater importance is the action of these devices in the transient state."

"A quantitative mathematical formulation of the action of a wave filter in the transient state is difficult and complicated," Mr. Peters declared, "but methods of handling the problem are being devised and used which should make it possible to obtain some interesting and valuable results in the near future."

The chief importance of these results lies in the fact that they show why so many attempts to eliminate atmospheric disturbances have failed. Although no new solutions have been given, Mr. Peters has proved the impossibility of solving the problem along certain lines on which investigators have been working.

Outing Club Will Hear Talks on Winter Sports

Special stunts, a talk by an outsider, explanations of the organization and its sports, and a special welcome for all women interested in sports are to be the features of the Outing club meeting at 7:15 o'clock tomorrow evening.

George Martin '23, will talk on winter sports at Wisconsin and will give a description of ice skating and skiing. He has volunteered also to teach women how to perform these winter tricks when the season comes.

All officers will give talks on the respective sports under their supervision and will explain how they are performed.

The meeting is especially for the women who are interested in sports but who have not yet joined the organization, according to Romayne Berryman '23, president of the club.

PROF. RAZZES TRAFFIC PLAN

Smith Objects to Razing $50,000,000 in New York Buildings

Prof. L. S. Smith of the Engineering department characterizes as nonsense the plans of Dr. John A. Harris, special deputy police commissioner in charge of traffic in New York city, who advocates the tearing down of $50,000,000 worth of buildings and the construction of a great boulevard from the East to the Hudson River.

"New York city will have 25,000,000 people within the next century and 45,000,000 in 2222," was the statement made by Dr. Harris.

"The imposing downtown skyscrapers of today will be converted into warehouses, and the financial center will have moved into new towers of steel and granite where apartment houses de luxe now stand. The New Yorker of 1922 would be lost in the New York of three centuries hence.

"So that this growth may not be retarded, traffic conditions for the next quarter century must be considered. The creation of a great cross city boulevard 360 feet in width running from the Hudson to the East river will eliminate this crowded condition. It will necessitate the wrecking of 20 feet of buildings from river to river at a cost of $50,000,000," Dr. Harris said.

"It is futile to prophecy what the size of a city will be 300 years from now," Professor Smith asserted in answer to Dr. Harris' bold program.

"As soon as a city begins to grow industrially, its usefulness as a residential city wanes. What we need is decentralization of our large cities but this is not possible because the satellite cities will neither assume the high taxes, nor accept the control by bosses of the large cities.

"New York is not a typical American city. If all were like it, our democratic institutions would fail. Cities will not grow in the future as they have in the past because we would become a nation of consumers instead of producers.

"A city of the proportions that Dr. Harris would lead us to believe New York will assume in years hence would include in its boundaries all the cities within a radius of 50 miles. Even the environs of Milwaukee will not consent to this."

DIRECTIONS FOR STUDY SUBJECT OF NEW BOOK

"Directing Study" a book just published by Prof. Harry L. Miller of the department of education and principal of the Wisconsin high school, describes methods of teaching based upon a study of the learning processes of children with the object of transforming the learner from a recipient to a reacting agent, from a spectator to a participant.

"The task of education, as I see it," Professor Miller said, "is the production of a people capable of thinking and with a mental attitude that is creative and expectant of change.

Professor Miller declares in his book that the old method of learning through standardized classroom methods and recitation must be replaced by mastery through creative thinking.

"We must devise ways of rewarding students not for having brains but for using brains," the author concluded in condemning the repressions and inhibitions of traditional practices in the educational system.

Professor Miller is the author of "The Eighteenth Year-book for the National Society for the Study of Education," which was published in 1918.

Wolfenson to Talk at Menorah Club Meeting

Prof. L. B. Wolfenson, formerly of the semitics department, will discuss the topic of "Judaism and Patriotism," at the meeting of the Menorah society to be held at the meeting at 7:45 o'clock this evening in Lathrop parlors. The remainder of the program will consist of talks, dramatic readings, a vocal selection and a dance number.

HARVARD CUTS SCHEDULE

For the first time since the war the intersectional element is totally lacking in Harvard's tentative football schedule. Their schedule includes Middlebury, Holy Cross, Dartmouth, Tufts, Princeton, Brown and Yale, with one game pending. The schedule has been cut to eight games as a result of the Big Three agreement that football practice should start only one week before college opens.

OFFER THREE ESSAY PRIZES

$75, $50, $25 to Go to Writers of Best Papers on Law Subject

Three prizes of $75, $50 and $25, to be known as the Susan Chisholm prizes, have been offered for the three best essays by university students on the subject "The Wisconsin Equal Rights Law, Chapter 529, Laws of 1921. Its effect Upon the Rights of Women in Wisconsin."

Prizes are offered in connection with a study of the law being made by a committee of women representing the various state-wide women's organizations that have shown a keen interest in the subject.

The committee was organized as a result of a resolution at the last annual convention of the Wisconsin State Federation of Women's clubs.

All university students are eligible to compete. It is expected, however, that Law school students and those specializing in political science will be the most active participants.

The length of the essay is not prescribed. Between 8,000 to 10,000 words is suggested.

Essays must be handed in to Professor Rice, 131 Law building not later than February 12. Prizes will be awarded by a committee of five judges, three members of the Law school faculty and two members of the women's investigation committee.

AMES WRESTLERS HOPEFUL

C. W. Mayser, director of athletics at Iowa State college, returned from the meeting of wrestling coaches at Chicago with seven engagements scheduled for his cyclone mat men. The other games are Ames at Nebraska, January 26; Minnesota at Ames, February 24; Wisconsin at Ames, March 9; Western conference meet at Ohio State March 16 and 17.

Engineering Sells, Too!

A whole lot of the make-believe has been eliminated from selling operations in the past ten years. The old idea that salesmen were born to the sample-case, that they carried some sort of a special diploma from the University of Pooh, has had to break camp, along with the other exploded theory which insisted that a salesman must be a "good fellow", a man of strange habits, tremendous stories, and unquestioned qualities both as a mixer, and as an assimilator.

Now we believe—nay, we know—that the best salesman is the man who knows most about his goods, and can talk most interestingly about them.

This being the proven case, it isn't so queer that engineering should find a real and effective application in the selling field, especially if the merchandise marketed is an engineering product that is bought and operated by engineers.

Every engineer who now engages in the sale and distribution of Westinghouse products feels that he is doing work worthy of his training—for he is carrying Service and Sincerity to Industry, and to mankind! He is out where the fighting is often the fiercest, and he is putting up a battle for the things that he believes are right. And a man can't expect, nor ask, a bigger chance than that!

Sixty percent, approximately, of the engineering graduates who come to Westinghouse find their way eventually into some phase of selling. And we are proud to have them there—and they are glad to be there!
