PHI BETA KAPPA HEARS AMHERST PRESIDENT TALK

Excellence and Democracy is Theme

The fundamental sin is dullness, failure to perceive, failure in sensitivity, or being stupid. Alexander Meiklejohn, president of Amherst college, asserted in a speech before members of Phi Beta Kappa in Music hall last night.

"Excellence, the law of taste, is the first law of life. In every human situation there is a higher and a lower, a more significant, a more trivial. The great difference is to be able to perceive and to choose excellence against the vulgar and common," President Meiklejohn said.

Cites Moral Laws

"The second moral law is democracy, the law which provides that, if there is anything excellent, a man should not keep it to himself but should share it with others. In regard to political democracy the entire people must be so educated that in union or alone each man can influence and control. If a man does not understand, he cannot take charge."

The question today is whether or not excellent things can be made general without being degraded according to President Meiklejohn.

"Education is democracy. A democracy is an educated people. At the present time we are only in the beginning of real education. We have no teachers yet in the real sense, for we are in the position of an uneducated people trying to educate its children," he asserted.

Poem Is Read

President Meiklejohn's address followed a reading by Prof. William Ellery Leonard of one of his own poems entitled "Dawn." Prof. F. C. Sharp introduced both speakers.

Initiation of the 60 recently elected members of Phi Beta Kappa was held at the home of President Birge at 4:30 o'clock. A banquet at Lathrop hall at 5:30 o'clock followed the initiation. President Birge and Dr. Meiklejohn spoke at the banquet and Lois Jacobs '24 and Wilbur Katz '23 responded for the junior and senior initiates. Prof. F. C. Sharp, president of Phi Beta Kappa, was toastmaster for the banquet and had charge of the initiation ceremony.

CHADBOURNE ELECTS NEXT YEAR'S OFFICERS
Chadbourne hall will install the newly elected officers Thursday, May 24, directly after the Chadbourne Senior Swingout. The officers are: Mary Margaret Margan '24, president; Helen Herman 25, vice president; Helen Carr 25, treasurer; Marion Khundert 26, secretary; Mary Schneider 26, fire captain; Mildred Frye 24, sergeant at arms; and Beth Harrison 25, librarian. The freshmen leader, keeper of the archives, will be elected next fall.

SPECIALIST WILL LECTURE HERE ON THE SECRETS OF BIRD LIFE

S. Prentiss Baldwin of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the Inland Bird Banding Association, will give an illustrated talk on "Bird Banding as a Method of Bird Study," Friday, May 18, at 4:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Biology building.

Baldwin has made a study of family life, history of birds and migration by systematically trapping birds and marking them with serially numbered leg-bands. He illustrates his lecture with many remarkable slides.

One of the first persons to become most interested in bird banding was Prof. Leon J. Cole of the agriculture department, present treasurer of the Inland Bird Banding Association. In a few years the idea grew so rapidly that it was necessary to turn over the plan to the Lincoln Society of New York.

1923 Theses Will Soon Swamp Libe

In the hall, on top of the files, or chained to the desks in the Reading room, the big question of the library Staff is where to put the mounds of theses soon to be buried in the library. The absolute "dead line" for all theses is June 12 at 10 o'clock.

The number of theses turned in so far total 113. The exact number due this year is not known, due to the change made in the requirements. Last year, however, more than 800 theses were bound and filed in the library. Each senior pays a dollar for the binding of his thesis, all of which is done by Grimms. Each thesis turned in at the university desk is filed and then stored in the library for an indefinite length of time.

VARIED EVENTS IN SWIM MEET

Merchants Offer Prizes For Features For Interscholastic Day

A large variety of swimming races and diving contests will be among the most interesting features of Interscholastic day. The races will take place in the morning behind the University Y. M. C. A. and the diving will be done from the high dive tower on the Phi Delta pier, off Lake street.

Madison business men have offered many valuable prizes which will be given only to the first place winners. The first swimming event will be the 40 yard dash. The Hub has offered a $4 shirt to be picked by the victor of this event.

A lighted candle race in which the swimmers will race 50 yards on their backs while holding lighted candles in their mouths. The first one to cross the line with the candle still burning will have his choice of Pete Burn's best ties. Olson and Verheusen have offered the pick of their caps to the best man in the 100 yard dash.

Four men will be entered by each fraternity competing in the interfraternity relay race, and each man will swim 50 yards. The winning team will be given a large box of Dad Morgan's best La Palina cigars.

An undressing race, in which the contestants swim 50 yards from shore to deposit their shoes, coats and trousers in a boat and then return at break-neck speed for shore, will be one of the best features of the morning. The competitors are expected to wear swimming suits. The Co-op will give the pick of its swimming suits to insure the winner against any misunderstanding. A fancy diving contest will follow this, the winner of which may pick his summer straw hat from Karsen's large assortment.

HEADS OF 1924 HARESFOOT ARE NAMED BY CLUB

Plans Proposed For Larger Trip

Officers of the Haresfoot club for the coming year were elected last night at the annual meeting of the club in the loft at the Union building. Sidney Thorson '24 was chosen manager of the next production, Porter F. Butts '24 was made president of the club, and Walter A. Frautschi '24 was named keeper of the Haresfoot which carries with it the position of publicity director.

The other officers of the club for the new year are Thomas Niles '24 vice-president; Wilbur Wittenberg '24, treasurer; Thomas MacLean '25, secretary.

Announcement was made at the meeting that the itinerary next year would be more extensive than that of any previous Haresfoot production. Plans were discussed for carrying the new show to Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Peoria.

A report on the play situation indicated that 14 men are now writing books to be submitted by June 1 as possibilities for the 1924 show. The play will be chosen this spring out of those submitted. This will be the earliest that any Haresfoot book has ever been written previous to production. Club officials declare that the early deadline will give a greater time for rehearsals of the show and for the writing of the lyrics and the music.

"Haresfoot has just finished its most successful year, and I hope it will carry on to further heights. I hope to hear next year that the show will journey far from Madison into new territory and will expand and improve beyond what we have endeavored to do," Gerold Koch '23, retiring president, declared in his report of the year's work.

MU PHI EPSILON TO GIVE MUSIC RECITAL TONIGHT

Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary and professional musical sorority, will give its annual public concert at 8:15 o'clock Friday at Music hall. It will be open to the public.

The definite program in full will be announced later this week. It will include numbers by students and members of the Music school faculty.

The four senior majors who give graduating recitals this spring will appear on the program with special numbers. They are: Frances Landon '23, Janet Breitenbach '23, Vera Eastman '23, and Erma Duncan '23, all of whom are graduating with a piano major except Miss Duncan who has majored in voice.

The program will also include two piano concertos, a vocal trio, a violin, cello and piano trio, and solos on the different instruments.

The active members of Mu Phi Epsilon who will appear on the program are: Frances Landon '23 president; Vera Eastman '23, vice president; Beatrice Walker '23, secretary; Janet Breitenbach '23, corresponding secretary. Lois Jacobs '24 treasurer, Ruby Britts '23, Grace Jones '23, Erma Duncan '23, Margaret Moore '23, Helen Wheeler '24, Hilda Schultz '24, Carmelita Lewis '24, Louise Madden '25, Jean Kilgour grad, Barbara Hildreth '23, Carolyn Burgess '24, Harriet Brown '24, Charlotte Bellscamper '24, and Minnie Beattie '23.

Chicago U. of W. Club Makes Plans For Banquet
Plans for the Monday night banquet at which Rollie Williams and Gus Tebell will be honor guests will be discussed at today's luncheon of the University of Wisconsin club of Chicago. Announcements have been sent out to all members urging them to be present as an attendance of at least 200 is desired.

The expedient of marking individual birds so that they may be recognized again is not new, for it has been done in Europe for several years on a large scale.

The lecture is under the auspices of the University Lecture committee and is open to the public.

GREEN CAP WEARING MADE VOLUNTARY BY STUDENT COURT ACT

Quashing of Indictments Against Freshmen Makes Invalid All Compulsory Cap Regulations

WILL INSPECT R. O. T. C. TODAY

Thorough Rating Will Be Given All Departments of Cadet Corps

A thorough inspection will be made of everything pertaining to the department and the result of the inspection will determine whether Wisconsin is to be rated as an honor school for this year or not.

The senior R. O. T. C. unit at Wisconsin has been one of the units distinguished as one of the best in the United States. For the past four years it has achieved the coveted honor star. It is the hope of the military department that the corps will be again classed with the highest schools in the country and get the star this year.

Every member of the department is ready for the inspection and feels that he has done his best to see Wisconsin come out on top. The reviews that have been staged on Friday afternoons on the lower campus have all been for the purpose of accustoming the cadets to such parades.

Artillery and infantry drill and first aid and signal corps work will form the chief events of the inspection. Every kind of drill from the manual of arms to regimental parade will be given. The artillery will demonstrate its various guns and the signal corps will operate telegraph, telephones, radio and visual signalling. Scabbard and Blade will give a luncheon in honor of the distinguished visitors and the inspection will come to a climax with the horse show on the lower campus.

The schedule of events for the inspection is as follows:

Friday

8 to 9 o'clock—First aid and infantry drill. Armory and Campus.
9 to 10 o'clock—First aid and infantry drill, involving the use of the smoke bomb. Armory, Campus and Eagle Heights.

10 to 11 o'clock—Topography, minor tactics, fire control and instruments on the Campus.

11 to 12 o'clock—Automatic rifle, topography and sand table exercises in tactics at the Armory.

12 o'clock—Scabbard and Blade luncheon.

2:30 o'clock—Review, guard mounting, President's Guard, on the Lower Campus.

3 o'clock—Signal Corps Competition.

3 o'clock—Freshman infantry company competition and individual competition.

Saturday

8 to 9 o'clock—Automatic rifle, motors, machine-gun firing, blackboard firing and terrain board, on the Campus, at the hydraulic lab (Continued on page 2)

CO-EDS AND CADETS WILL RIDE IN SECOND ANNUAL HORSE SHOW

The second annual Horse Show, given under the auspices of the junior R. O. T. C., will occupy the attention of students and Madisonians tomorrow afternoon.

The entries for the show this year are considerably larger than either last year's show or the events held in connection with the Little International last February. The chief interest seems to center in the inter-sorority events.

A number of individual women riders have entered for tomorrow's show. There will be several events, both three and five gaited, and jumping races for women.

There will be a number of events

Considerable misunderstanding recently has arisen on the campus relative to the present status of the green cap due to the interpretation the Student senate has placed upon the green cap tradition, making its wearing compulsory.

In its decision last night the Student court held that "any university regulation attempting to compel a freshman to wear any article of clothing against his will is invalid because of being a violation of his personal rights, against a sound student policy, and unreasonable. This decision definitely places the wearing of the green cap on an optional basis.

Status of the Court

The Student court, the judicial body of the university, operates under a charter granted a number of years ago by the Board of Regents, similar to the charter granted to the Student senate.

Decisions handed down by the court are interpretations of laws passed by the student legislative body, the Student senate. The relation of the two bodies is similar to the relations existing between the state legislature and the state supreme court.

The court convened last night at the Law building to consider indictments against two freshmen, who had been reported by the sophomore tradition committee for alleged violation of the green cap tradition. Cecil Dull '23, chief justice, opened the court and presided over the trial. Mendez Hansen '24 was the only justice absent.

Court Procedure

Prosecuting attorney Victor Werner L 2, read the charges of the "student body vs. the defendant," charging that the accused had failed to wear the official green cap since April 11. The accused was sworn in by Martin Paulsen L 3, secretary of the Student court, after the charges had been read.

Before the accused took the stand Lawrence Hart L 3, attorney for the defense, moved that the indictment be quashed on the grounds that the discipline coming under the jurisdiction of the court did not cover discipline for not wearing an article of clothing, the booklet of the Student senate did not contain any authority giving the senate the power to make laws and that the indictment stated that the accused had not worn the cap since April 11, whereas the only publication this year given to the compulsory wearing of the green caps was made last Thursday in The Cardinal.

Witnesses Called

Maynard Brown '23, president of the Student Senate, and Llewellyn Cole '25, sophomore member of the Senate were witnesses called by the prosecuting attorney.

The only evidence of the minutes of the senate produced was a single typewritten sheet of the minutes of the meeting last Wednesday night which had not been approved by

Twenty years ago, lyricists wrote fervently of a self-sacrificing, adoring woman in comfortable but unfashionable clothes, whose only interest in life was her home and children.

Now the same interpreter depicts mother as a pal who dresses smartly, cultivates pep and goes fishing and to the movies with the boy.

"But," says Joe Burke, who's written "My Pal," this year's Mother's Day song and dedicated it to his own mother, "whatever you may call her, you can bet mother is always on the job when a feller needs a friend. She never has failed him and she never will, no matter how modern she gets."

CHADBOURNE INSTALLS
LIBRARY FOR WOMEN

Chadbourn hall has installed a very attractive library and reading room on the fourth floor in the space formerly occupied by the rotunda. It is equipped with library tables, book shelves, comfortable chairs, and efficient reading lamps.

The library numbers some thirty books on a fifty-fifty basis of fiction and non-fiction. Among the Wisconsin authors who have contributed autographed volumes of their books are Zona Gale and Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

"New books are being added to the library every day and it is expected that in years to come all four walls will be lined with the most popular books of the day," said Beth Harrison '25, librarian. "The most popular book at present seems to be Lynn and Lois Seyster Monstross' 'Town And Gown.'

A picnic lunch was served at noon to all of the participants. After the lunch, a program was given by all of the schools of the township.

Purchase Of Madison
Postal Site Will Be Made Soon, Says Mowry

The purchase of the proposed site for Madison's new postoffice will be made by the federal government as soon as a few legal matters are settled, Don Mowry, general secretary of the Association of Commerce here, was assured by Edward Clifford, first assistant secretary of the treasury, in Washington this week.

"I was in consultation with Mr. Clifford relative to the purchase of the property," Mr. Mowry said, "and the secretary stated that payment for the property would be made very promptly."

The treasury delayed, according to Mowry, awaiting papers from U. S. Atty. W. H. Daugherty.

"The treasury appreciates the fact that Madison is growing rapidly and that our postoffice revenues show a new postoffice is needed," Mowry added.

"The physical education magazine is an entirely new project which the physical education department hopes to start next year. There will be three numbers during the year containing physical education news," said Maurine Hall '24.

"To select a good name we must have a large number of submitted names to choose from, and as only a few names were turned in by the 40 members present at the picnic, it is found advisable to wait before choosing the name."

BADGERS TAKE FINAL WORKOUT FOR SUCKER GO

14 Balltossers Make Trip

Coach Lowman will lead his fourteen Badger diamondsman south in to the domains of the Illini this afternoon for a game Saturday. The team will take a final workout on the home field before their departure at about 4 o'clock.

The players to make the trip are: Captain Rollie Williams, Becker and Servatius, outfielders, Holm Ellingson, Combacker and Tebell in fielders, Aschenbrenner and Pollack, catchers, Johnson, Schrenk, Pickford and Radke pitchers, and Dugar utility.

Varsity Sets Hard Workout

In preparation for this important contest the coach sent the Varsity through two hard workouts on Wednesday and Thursday. After fielding and batting sessions the Frosh were called in for five innings of the real thing. The Varsity pitcher, Bill Williams, and the ineligible Ashley Mills, a southpaw, have been working on the mound against the Varsity in an effort to furnish a variety of good pitching.

The coach talked as if Bill Johnson would get the slab assignment to open the Illinois game. If he is going good, and has a little steadi-er support than was behind him when the Indians were here, he should turn in a win.

Illini Shows Slump

The Illinois bunch have not been living up to the rating they were given earlier in the season. If they are still in a slump, it will be a sad game for them, for they were forced to the limit by the Badgers when they were at their best. Lowman has installed a lot of baseball into his team since the last meeting of these rivals.

The lineup and batting order will be the same as in the last contest. Gibby Gibson will not make the trip as he is nursing a badly cut hand which he injured in a practice following the Minnesota game.

Meet Purple on Trip

Northwestern will be taken on as the Badgers make their way home Monday. Coach Lowman is undecided as to who would twirl that contest, but if Shrenk lives up to the showing he has been making in the recent practice sessions, he will very likely toss to the Purple.

The Northwestern crew should not be hard for Wisconsin ordinarily, but following a hard game and a several day trip, the Cardinal outfit will probably not be at their best. Chuck Palmer, all around athlete for the Purple, is one of the crack pitchers of the Big Ten and will make it hard for Wisconsin.

WOMEN JOURNALISTS TO HEAR ANUNDSEN

The tea which will be given for Miss George Anundsen '16, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Lathrop parlors by members of Theta Sigma Phi will be a get-together for all women journalists.

Miss Anundsen, who is now advertising manager of Montgomery Ward, Chicago, will relate her experiences as a journalist. She has worked on several newspapers and magazines. She was formerly on the staff of Pictorial Review and for two years was editor of the Matrix, the Theta Sigma Phi publication.

The affair will be of special interest to seniors because of the advice Miss Anundsen can give in regard to lines of journalistic work, and at Camp Randall.

9 to 10 o'clock—Infantry drill, field equipment, scouting and patrolling, machine-gun firing and tactics, on the Campus, hydraulic lab and Camp Randall.

10 to 11 o'clock—Rifle marksmanship leadership, computation or firing data, machine-gun firing and mock court, at the Armory, lake shore and hydraulic lab.

11 to 12 o'clock—Bayonet, topography and machine-gun firing, Mock court and tactics, at the Armory and Campus.

2 to 5 o'clock—Horse show on the Lower campus.

RAIN AGAIN DELAYS FROSH WIRE MEET

For the second time, rainy weather prevented the Michigan freshman track team from doing its part in the scheduled Badger-Wolverine telegraphic meet.

Wisconsin men have run off their events and wired the result to Ann Arbor. As soon as the weather permits them to hold their trials at Ferry field, the Michigan track and field men will complete the meet and a victor will be decided.

FROSH WIN IN HIGH FISH TILT

Madison Central Swimmers Show Form in Local Contest

In a fast meet which was closer than the score indicates, Coach Steinauer's frosh swimming team defeated the Madison High swimming team by a score of 48 to 23, in the university pool last evening.

The Madison team displayed unusual ability in holding the frosh down to such a low score for good swimming teams are not common in high schools. With continued practice, it is safe to predict that Coach Johnson's team will develop into a strong and well balanced aggregation before long, and probably by next year the local high school team will be able to card some high class meets with other schools.

Following is a summary of the various events:

Relay won by: Butler, Alton, Beck, Flueck, (W). Time, 1:31.

Diving—Simpkins, (W) first; Ratcliff, (M) second; Lynough, (M) third.

20 yard dash—Coombs, (M) first; Snell, (W) second; Bump (W) third. Time 11 seconds.

LAWYERS LOSE TO ENGINEERS BY 11 TO 8 SCORE

Two engineers, Kubosh and Smith by names, pitched the plumbbers to an 11 to 8 victory over the Lawyers yesterday on the lower campus. The game settled the baseball supremacy of the two schools, as far as the engineers are concerned.

A near riot was started in the last inning when umpire Norton called a shyster safe at home after he had sneaked through the crowd, and again when, with a Lawyer up to bat, a third strike was called. Mr. Ump stuck to his decision until both sides cooled down a bit.

The game was not without its thrills despite the numerous errors which accounted for most of the runs. Several sensational catches were made in the field as well as remarkable stabs of hot liners to the infielders.

Cave, on the mound for the Lawyers, was touched up rather freely, nine runs being put across in the first inning. His support, however, faltered at critical times. Kubosh started on the mound for the Engineers and held his opponents scoreless for the first three innings. The Lawyers managed to put across one run in the fourth, the last inning Kubosh pitched.

Smith, a southpaw who succeeded Kubosh, was in hot water in the last three frames, seven runs being scored off his delivery.

The score by innings:

Lawyers—0 0 0 1 2 1 4—8

Engineers—4 2 3 1 x—11

Batteries: Cave and Cooper; Kubosh and Smith and Tjoflat.

Ohio State university was defeated on the Midway Monday by University of Chicago tennis sharks who won four single matches and one double match. Rain prevented the final match from being played.

GOLFERS ENGAGE IN MEET TODAY AGAINST PURPLE

Frost Feels Men Will Will Win

The Badger golf team lead by Capt. Morton Frost will engage the strong Northwestern team in an all day struggle here today. This is the second match for Wisconsin and the third for the Purple.

Golf was made a minor Varsity sport by the Athletic Council at their last meeting, and the minor W award will be made the men on the team. During the last three years one after another of the Conference schools have been adopting golf as a minor sport. Wisconsin is one of the last to do so.

The teams will play an 18 hole match in the morning and the same in the afternoon. The team consists of 1. Captain Frost, 2. A. Bock, 3. S. Hopkins, 4. J. Schils or R. Porter. The first three men will play both rounds and the last two probably will alternate in the two matches.

Captain Frost reported the team in good condition and felt confident of a victory if the breaks went for his men. The golfers have been putting in some hard work since the last meet and have improved their game a great deal.

Michigan was defeated by Northwestern 14 to 7, but the Purple were bested by the hard driving Chicago outfit, 11 to 1 in an 18 hole bout.

GIRLS DISPLAY BALL TALENT AT CHURCH PICNIC

That girls are excellent baseball players when given a chance was proven at the Congregational cabinet picnic last Wednesday afternoon when, with the aid of Rev. J. E. Sarles, Congregational university pastor, who acted as umpire, they succeeded in outplaying the boys in a baseball game at Monona park.

About 50 members of both the old and new cabinet attended the picnic. The new incoming members of next year's cabinet were given plenty of opportunity to get acquainted with the old cabinet members.

Supper was served at six o'clock followed by a relay race in which the old cabinet members beat the new cabinet members. Other games followed the relay race.

The entire Congregational student body will picnic at Monona park next Tuesday. All Congregational students are invited and asked to call Badger 2900 by Monday night to let the committee know if they are coming. In case of rain the picnic will be held Wednesday.

STEVENS WILL HEAD GYMNASTS

New Leader Proved a High Point Winner in Contests

Theodore Stevens '24 was elected captain of next year's gym team at a banquet which was held recently at the woman's building by members of the team.

Stevens has been a member of the team for two years, and has done creditable work on the side horse, winning many points in this event in several meets. The new captain is from Viroqua, Wis., and is enrolled in the Ag school.

Although several of the best men on the team will graduate this year, prospects for next year appear bright for the frosh team of this year disclosed several men of exceptional ability. With a little practice under the tutelage of Coach Leitz, the men will undoubtedly be able to fill the shoes of the graduates in a creditable manner.

7 TEAMS REMAIN IN COMPETITION FOR FRAT CUPS

Delta Sigma Phi defeated the Chi Psi ball team by a 6-5 score yesterday afternoon in a hotly contested game, thereby eliminating the Chi Psi from entrance to the semi-finals in the interfraternity baseball league.

Seven teams still in the running for first honors are Kappa Sigma, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Alpha Sigs, Delta Sigma Phi, and P. A. D.

The Betas and Kappa Sigs engaged in a two-inning overtime contest, but the game finally had to be called because of darkness, with the score tied at 6-6. The game will probably be played off some time this week on the varsity field. The Psi U's were also eliminated from further competition when they went down in defeat before the onslaught of the Tekes by a score of 9 to 6.

Although several games have had to be postponed lately because of bad weather, it is planned to have all the teams play off their games this week and next, so that everything will be finished by a week from Sunday. The games have dragged along slower than was expected, and it will be necessary to hurry them along so that the winner of first place can be determined.

Columbia was defeated, 5 to 4 Monday, by the Harvard tennis team in a dual intercollegiate contest.

BADGERS LEAVE TO MEET ILLINI IN URBANA LAIR

Wisconsin Chances For Win Slim

With a squad of 20 men, Track Coach Jones left Madison yesterday afternoon for Urbana, Ill., where the Badger squad will encounter the Illini this afternoon.

Although the Badgers have put away their first two Conference opponents, Chicago and Minnesota, by fairly large scores, they look to the meet today with little hope for a victory. The Illinois squad is recognized as the strongest in the Conference.

Fans had looked to Michigan as the Conference winner until recently when the Wolverine took the count at the hands of Illinois by an 80 to 55 count. If the Wisconsin men score as many points against Illinois as Michigan did, coaches will be well satisfied.

Spetz Good for Points
Wisconsin's greatest strength lies in the runs. With Captain Spetz and Johnson running in the sprints, the Badgers' side of the total sheet should not suffer greatly. Spetz has won his events consistently in dual meets this year and, even against the strong opposition he will meet at Illinois, he should count.

Wisconsin has slammed in the two-mile, one mile and half mile runs against both Chicago and Minnesota this spring, and with the distance and middle distance men in good shape, the Badger count should soar somewhat above that of the Illini in these events. Tschudy and Wade will run the two mile in fast time.

Rossmeissel, Barger miler, has won his event against both Chicago and Minnesota this spring, pacing the distance both times under the 4 1-2 minute mark. He will run again today and Schneider and Bergstesser will complete the list of milers.

Entries Announced
In the weights, Van Ells and Tom Nichols will do the greater part of the work, but Donohue, in the discus, Stehr in the avelin, and Hammann, all-round weight man, will count a few additional points.

Following are the Wisconsin entries:

Sprints—Spetz, Johnson.
Hurdles—Muzzy, Tuhtar, Schneider, Newell.

440 yard dash—Johnson, Hilberts.
880 yard dash—Ransay, Valley.

Mile run—Rossmeissel, Schneider, Bergstesser.

Two-mile run—Tschudy, Wade.

Broad jump—Muzzy, Johnson, Hammann.

High jump—Platten, Tuhtar, Donohue.

Pole vault—Kreiger, Hammann.

Weights—Van Ells, Nichols, Hammann, Stehr, Donohue.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE ABOUT CAMPUS

The service department of the university is doing a great deal of decorating and repairing on the various buildings of the campus. Some of the work has been completed, other work is being done at the present, and still more is planned for the immediate future.

BREAKWATER AND BATH HOUSE—WHEN?

A good junk yard it is, our university shore along Mendota, particularly in the vicinity of the boat house. Extravagant statement, perhaps, but a large measure of truth in it.

There's some debris on land, but the large proportion of the junk consists of broken piers, and tossed up boats, barges, planks, remnants of some stormy disaster of long ago—or this year.

The shoreline heterogeneity suggests not only the carelessness of someone in cleaning up but more particularly the truism that if boats were not permitted to go to pieces with such regularity there would not be those same pieces and bulks strewn along the shore.

All of which recalls to the reader a suggestion of the building of a breakwater by a Student Forum contributor last week.

Three boats sank and the university life boat was damaged in the recent storm,—all because of lack of adequate protection from wind and wave. Cap Isabel reports that student boat owners lose at least $2,000 a year in damaged or destroyed craft. He states emphatically that there would be a decided increase in the number of boats on the lake and in boating activities if there were any sort of protection for them available.

The answer obviously is to build a breakwater, behind which all lake craft can find ample shelter.

That is a big proposition and involves a lot of money. It apparently is a matter for approval by the Board of Regents and subsequent legislative appropriation. If there are other improvements that take precedence, then it is not unreasonable to ask for a beginning, for a plan that will culminate in building action before many more years pass.

What About A Bath House

Shore improvements would not be complete without the building of a bath house.

Bathers become weary and uncomfortably wet,—not to mention embarrassed—trudging through the university district a la swimming suit. Extraordinary inconvenience it is.

The whys and wherefores of no bath house anywhere along the shore are a source of perpetual wonderment.

The perennial "no funds" plea is probably the stronghold for inaction. But the seventy-five years of inaction that precede us in university history rather tend to dim the force of the excuse.

It is odd that a city and a university which in advertising lay on their natural marine beauty and lake advantages the stress that ours do cannot offer a product to its visitors and particularly to its own residents which is completely worthy of that advertising.

Both bodies have done much for Madison's beauty and improvement. But in the future nothing would be more welcome to both populations than the customary conveniences of protection for their property,—a breakwater,—and an accessible pavilion in which to prepare for bathing.

May we be so audacious as to ask what plans are made for either or both and when action will commence?

A HORSE ON US

King Equus will hold the center of the stage tomorrow afternoon. He will try to stave off the encroachments of motor driven vehicles in his annual parade and display.

Lovers of good horseflesh will have an opportunity to see their favorites perform in the ring. Wholesome exercise and entertainment will be furnished. Perhaps a few spills will add to the fun.

Women riders, advanced R. O. T. C. men, and individual contestants, will endeavor to win the plaudits of the spectators by putting the animals through their paces.

Following the lead of other activities, the directors of the show have decided to give the profits of the show to the Memorial Union fund. Both the performance and the cause are worth an afternoon's time.

We await the annual horse on us.

HOSTS, NOT GUESTS

Each year when Interscholastic and Venetian Night roll around, we, as pleasure-seeking beings, are prone to submerge ourselves, let the prep athletes give us an afternoon of good excitement, and then complacently view the most beautiful and charming spectacle Wisconsin offers.

All well and good . . . if we don't carry it too far and forget the primary object for which the whole affair was put into existence.

To the five hundred high school men and their friends who will be here next week end, we are hosts, and not guests or passive onlookers. The entertainment, the track meet are theirs and not ours. We join them in both, to be sure, but always do we have the opportunity to make them feel that the week end is strictly their own.

Such an understanding should motivate all plans for next week's celebration.

Editor's Say

ON WISCONSIN
(The Minnesota Daily)

In celebrating Minnesota day at Madison tomorrow, the University of Wisconsin is establishing a new precedent. The Gopher baseball team will meet the Badgers and the track squad will also compete against the Wisconsin tracksters. A special program has been arranged and the Gophers will be entertained in royal style.

The results of such events tend to create better spirit between the two schools. In regard to athletic relations Minnesota and Wisconsin have always been the closest of the Big Ten schools. This event will bind them closer still (tam'e) sygaB bind those ties still closer together and it is a precedent which should become permanent. Plans should be made to hold a Wisconsin Day at Minnesota next spring. A regular field day program could be arranged each year and the affair could be held alternately at the two schools.

LEIGHTON MOUNT, VICTIM
(Iowa State Student)

A college tragedy makes good news from metropolitan journals, and the recent death of Leighton Mount of Northwestern university is getting its share.

College newspapers, too, have commented on the trouble at Northwestern, expressing regret that the hazing was carried so far, and reading the Evanston story to the students in their own colleges as a lesson, urging that no such tragedy may occur within the walls of their universities.

The Daily Illini says: "We wonder whether the wielding of a paddle upon a man impresses him with the love of the men who have chosen him to become a member of the organization. We doubt that it does. We wonder if being humiliated, even physically injured has any special influence upon his devotion to the men who are manhandling him. We doubt that too."

The Indiana Daily Student plainly states the lesson to learned this way:

"To every university student should the killing of Leighton Mount serve as a warning. To the average reader of newspapers the unfortunate case seems no less than an atrocious murder.

"The students who committed the crime are doubtless innocent of any intent to kill or even maim their fellow student. But it is unbelievable that collegians should carry a sport into such excesses.

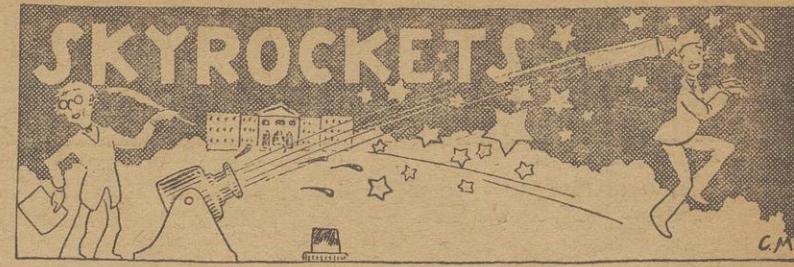

"Class fights are but petty rivalries at the most, and have no actual reason for their being continued except as a sport to add zest to college life. If the students cannot wage them with more sanctity than was shown at Northwestern university scraps should be discontinued.

"Not only has Northwestern suffered as a result of the crime's being revealed, but colleges and universities everywhere will be criticized and the composite college student will be analyzed anew to learn to what extent his education has eradicated stone-age cruelty.

The faculty at Northwestern has declared class wars banished, and has refused to permit cap burning ceremonies which were to take place this week. Indiana university students must bear in mind the lesson which has been taught at Evanston, and when Cap Burning Night is celebrated here next Thursday, the men of all classes must assist in preventing any outbreak of such as occurred at Northwestern."

That was a strange second stanza of Lord Geoffrey Amherst that appeared in Wednesday's issue, wasn't it? Lorenzo wrote so much funny stuff that it crowded us out. We have decided to reprint that second stanza and we hope it will not suffer the fate of Wednesday.

"Oh, Lord Geoffrey Amherst was the man who gave his name to our college on the hill.

And the story of his loyalty and bravery and fame

Abides here among us still.

For they are names that time will never dim

But give us our only Geoffrey,

We learn that Pan-Hellenic has been adding a little more hell to its rues and regulations and that one of the new by-laws is that rushers must pay for their meals.

How about having the little freshmen pay for the decorations that the sororities use in connection with rushing? And if the rushers wish to use the telephone, the sororities might establish a nickel slot machine on their telephones. If dancing is to be included in the entertainment, the rushers might come to the houses where they are to be guests and spend an hour or so waxing floors.

The two systems of rushing on campus, the men's and the girl's, are certainly of opposite characters. The men have practically no rules and when it is suggested by some members of the inter-fraternity council that a new ruling be instituted, the suggestion falls flat. But not so with the girls. For they have almost a superfluity of regulations.

Just which of the two is the better and more efficient policy to pur-

Women Have Last Word! Co-eds Rap He-man in Review

The woman again has the last word. The victim this time is one of the poor sodbusters out in the Ag school, the "Football Man," who wrote last month's article "Pro's and Con's on the Home Ecs" in the Country Magazine.

The Home Ecs are having a comeback in the May issue which appears on the campus today. "Molasses and Sulfur" is the head of one of their rebuttal stories. "More Pro's and Less Con's" is another, and we must hand it to the Home Ecs for prescribing Spring Tonic.

"The May issue is the largest one put out this year," says Werner P. Meyer, editor-in-chief. "The Ag campus is featured, and all of the stories deal with popularizing the Ag College. The Ag Campus Number is the last one edited by the old staff. The June issue will be in the hands of next year's staff with Ed Rohrbeck at its head."

Some of the other leading articles in this issue are "Selling the Ag Campus," by Prof. E. R. Jones; "On the Trail of the Cinder Men," by T. R. Daniels; "If You Work Your Way," by Geo. Pribyl, and "For the Student in Need," by Joseph Pelmer.

COURT MAKES CAP WEARING VOLUNTARY

A booklet containing the constitution of the senate and the tradition in question was produced. It was alleged that the booklet had the approval of the faculty and the Board of Regents. Several cases from law books and statutes of the state of Wisconsin were read by the prosecuting attorney.

Each attorney pleaded his case before the court. After 45 minutes of deliberation the court reappeared and gave the following decision, read by Secretary Paulson.

The Decision

"The Student Court hereby holds that any university regulation attempting to compel a freshman to wear any article of clothing against his will is invalid because of being a violation of his personal rights, against a sound student policy, and unreasonable."

"This Court looks upon the wearing of the green cap as a mark of honor, distinction and loyalty to class spirit and to the university and not a matter to be made compulsory."

"This Court is further of the opinion that the Student senate, faculty, university Board of Regents, or even the university student body itself, by a referendum vote, could not compel an unwilling minority of students to submit to any such regulation."

Indictments Quashed

"The Court regrets that it is unable to concur with the Student Senate in the point of view taken as to enforcement of this tradition."

"However, it is perhaps needless to point out that the Student Court is the sole student discipline enforcement organization, and this court feels that it is bound to declare invalid any and all rules within its jurisdiction which it deems unreasonable."

"For the reasons above stated, the Student Court hereby quashes all indictments for failure to wear green caps," signed by the members of the Student Court who were present.

Hazers Warned

"This does not mean that we will have hazing. The court has the power to try and convict all hazers and we will give them the limit if convicted."

"Hazers can be disciplined and it will be mighty hard on them if they appear before this court," Chief Justice Dull stated as he ordered the court adjourned.

Harding Urges Ideals The literary societies of the uni- Of Alexander Hamilton

WASHINGTON.—Alexander Hamilton's conception of financial integrity and the sanctity of obligation was invoked as a remedy for present world conditions by Pres. Harding in an address today at the unveiling here of a statue of the first treasury secretary. Such principles as Hamilton lived by, combined with a "leadership which rises above prejudiced opinion whether that prejudiced opinion had its beginnings in war or is emphasized by geographic divisions," the president declared would turn humanity "to the rational and only way of restoration."

"Souls for Sale"
Is Propoganda for Movie Producers

Featuring Eleanor Boardman and all-star cast.

Presented at the Parkway.
Written and directed by Rupert Hughes.

Released through Goldwyn Motion Picture corporation.

By CHATTY

Frankly advertised as propoganda for the moving picture industry this film lives up to what its producers say it is. Such a lot of stars we have never seen outside of the heavens or Hollywood. (Don't misunderstand, we haven't ever been in Hollywood.)

For the most part the stars act simply as scenery. There are six or seven of them who act as actors; they are the principals in the picture so they have to. Did we say they act? Well, we mean, they took the parts doled out to them. For the thing really doesn't require much acting.

In fact, it is a disjointed tale of moviedom, very disjointed, just a lot of scenes put together. They are good scenes, especially the last one, a huge spectacular fire in a circus tent. As the publicity men like to say, it was "gripping," even if we did know from the hints given throughout the picture that it was all trumped up buncombe.

We are free to admit that we have never read anything of Rupert Hughes. But after having heard a great amount of praise for him, we expected the story of "Souls For Sale" to be of the best, or at least to amount to something. There was the villain, there was the hero and there was the heroine. There it ended.

HORSE'S KICK IS CAUSE OF AWARD
FOR CO-ED RIDER

Helen Labowitch, '26, yesterday was awarded $300 damages in the superior court in her suit for $8000, brought against the Blackhawk riding academy.

The suit was started after a horse owned by the academy kicked her, causing a compound fracture of her right leg. As a result of this accident she was forced to withdraw from the university last fall, and was not able to return before the second semester. She lives in Chicago.

In returning its verdict the jury gave as reason for not making the full award that the horse did not have a vicious habit, as was charged in the suit, and also that ordinary caution was not used by the plaintiff at the time of the accident. Laurence Hall of Hall, Baker and Hall, of Madison, represented Miss Labowitch.

The state has complete jurisdiction and control over all inland lakes and waters, Franklin E. Bump, assistant attorney-general, advised Assemblyman Lawrence Timmarman, Milwaukee, in an opinion today.

MAKE AWARDS AT SINFONIA

Give Out Conference Medal
and "W's" at Inter-
Fraternity Sing

By cooperating with Phi Mu Alpha, Sinfonia, the athletic department of the university is going to announce the winner of the conference medal and award basketball and track Ws to this year's varsity men at the inter-fraternity sing.

The inter-fraternity sing is scheduled for the night of May 25. The man who has done the most for Wisconsin will be announced as the winner of the conference medal at this event. All men who have earned a basketball or track letter will be given their W behind the Union building as the fraternities sing their favorite songs.

May Be Big Event

Wisconsin soon hopes to welcome the inter-fraternity sing as one of the biggest events of the year, as it is already welcomed at Chicago university from which Wisconsin gained the idea.

Harold W. Lewis, captain of the 1922 Chicago football team, who is in Madison this week end attending a national convention of Psi Upsilon fraternity, stated that the sing at Chicago was the greatest event of the year.

"We all look forward to the inter-fraternity sing as the biggest and best event of the year at Chicago. There is nothing that happens at Chicago that is more anticipated or enjoyed than this great songfest. All letter men of the year are awarded their letters and blankets after the musical competition, and the fraternity cups for the various sports are also awarded at this time," Captain Lewis said last night.

Sing Is Popular

"Chicago has no official homecoming but the inter-fraternity sing takes its place and the old grads come back in great numbers. Last year more than 5,000 people came to witness the event.

"Plans for the sing are being formed now," Bob Nethercut, in charge of the sing, said yesterday. "Now that we have secured the cooperation of the athletic department, we have no doubt that the sing will be a big event. The awarding of the conference medal and the track and basketball Ws will add a beautiful finishing touch to the sing."
