Frost Directs Chairmen In November Frosh Campaign

More than 200 workers have been chosen for the Life Membership week to be conducted by the Memorial Union committee the first week in November for the benefit of the 3,000 Freshmen and new students. Announcement was made yesterday of the advisory committee, the assistant chairman, and the division leaders, who are working under Morton C. Frost '23, general chairman.

"In order to give the new students the opportunity to be Life members in the Wisconsin Union, a time will be set aside each fall to gain their subscriptions," declared Loyal S. Baker, secretary of the Memorial Union.

Pick Advisory Committee

The advisory committee, chosen this fall from the Council of 40, includes Robert Stewart '23, Leslie Gage '23, George Geiger '23, Worth Shoults '23, Gustav Tebell '23, Gus Tuckerman '23, Ralph Scheinpflug '23, Wayne Morse '23, and George Parker '23.

The chairmen of the campaign are Gordon Wanzer '24, assistant general chairman; Lee McCandles '23, personnel chairman; Walter Pfister '23, arrangement chairman; Arthur Inman '23, finance chairman; Kathryn Perry '23, publicity chairman.

Under these chairmen the men have four division leaders and the girls have two. The division leaders for the men are John Sarles '23, Wilber Wittenberg '23, Walter Baum '23 and Wilson Trueblood '23.

Cleo Parsley Heads Girls

The personnel captains each have charge of a team of 10 workers who will take charge of the submissions. The captains include Charles Carroll '23, Norman Clark '24, Lloyd Brown '23, Julian Lunney '23, Ernest Collenback '23, Evrard Caluwaert '23, Tom Maroney '23 and Lester Osterhouse '23.

The general chairman of the girls' organization is Cleo Parsley '23. The division leaders are Ruth Dickover '23 and Alice Corl '24.

The team captains include: Dorothy Williams '24, Alice Knowles '23, Catherine Kenney '24, Louise Moore '23, Celia Brainerd '24, Eleanor Day '24, Marjorie Ruff '23, Frances Wright '24, Louise Holt '24, Ethel Zimmerman '23, Mary Devine '25, Virginia Bensley '24, Janet Cumming '24, Edith Jackson '24 and Alice Cockrell '24.

The Memorial Union, a million dollar building to be built as a gents and a lasting tribute to Wisconsin's gold star men, is almost a reality. Subscriptions from practically every student in the university and from alumni all over the United States have brought the total close to the desired million.

ENGINEERING ROLL SHOWS DECREASE

The present registration of 1,174 in the College of Engineering shows a decrease of 6 per cent compared to the enrollment of 1,250 for the first semester of last year.

The enrollment drop this year is attributable principally to the fact that the incoming freshmen number 67 less than they did last year, according to engineering professors. The only department which has increased its enrollment over last year is that of chemical engineering.

Registration by departments follows: civil, 263; mechanical, 274; electrical, 401; chemical, 186; mining, 60. By classes the registration is freshman, 271; second year freshman, 70; sophomore, 289; junior, 289; senior, 235; and graduate, 20. The graduates in the college last year numbered 14.

1924 BADGER IS TO HAVE MANY NEW FEATURES

Novel Department Never Before Used Will Be Seen

With a large and efficient staff at work on the organization of the 1924 Badger, Wisconsin's former records for producing excellent year books are likely to be surpassed. Several new departments and improvements are planned which the editors expect to make the book approach the ideal in college annuals.

One of the most beautiful departments of the book this year will be the scenic section. Many of the pictures which will be in this section will be displayed in the window of the Photoart house today. Another new department planned is one to be devoted to religious activities on the campus.

A section will be devoted to pictures and organizations of campus rooming houses. Members of the staff are anxious to have this section complete. Good pictures of campus life are wanted. A plan is being worked out in which prizes will be given for the best views which are submitted.

The greatest drawback at present in the Badger work is the slowness with which senior pictures and summaries are coming in. Every senior is asked to have his sitting immediately in order that space may be reserved for pictures and summaries. November 1 is set as the deadline. After this date allowance will be made for no one. Seniors who are not sure of data for their summaries may make changes in them until December 1 at the Badger office.

30 HEAR INSTRUCTIONS AT AD STAFF MEETING

The members of the advertising staff of the Badger this year will be required to report their work the same week it is completed according to announcement made by Lee Hanson '24, advertising manager of the 1924 Badger at a staff meeting in the Union building last evening. Thirty persons attended the meeting. Mimeographed sheets of selling instructions will be given to the staff members at a meeting in two weeks.

Increase Copy Sale of New Country Magazine

More than 125 copies of the Country Magazine were sold on the campus yesterday, which is a slight increase over the number sold last year during October. G. Jenny '24, manager of the circulation department, states that almost all of the 1,200 copies published each month are used. The magazine has a circulation throughout Wisconsin.

Several copies are sent to foreign countries such as Switzerland, Holland, Germany, England, Norway, Philippine Islands, India and Canada. The subscription price of the magazine is $1 per year.

WANZER, FRONK FIRST IN JUNIOR POLITICAL RACE

Kingsford, Rohrbeck, Burchard, Plewke, Complete Ticket

Gordon B. Wanzer, candidate for Prom chairman, and William J. Fronk, candidate for class president head the first junior class ticket to announce its participation in the November 3 election.

Helen S. Kingsford is candidate for vice-president, Edwin H. Rohrbeck for treasurer, Mary J. Burchard for secretary, and Walter Plewke for sergeant-at-arms on the same ticket.

Wanzer has served actively on Union board as chairman of Union dances for two years. He is now assistant general chairman of the Memorial Union drive.

Class numerals in basketball and football have been won by Wanzer. He was chairman of the sophomore Spring party, member of the traditions committee, chairman of the 1921 Homecoming massmeeting and head of the 1922 Water carnival.

Wanzer is president of Ku Klux Klan, junior interfraternity society; member of the Council of 40; member of Square club; and is past president of Skull and Crescent. He is an L and S. student. His home is in Chicago.

Fronk is a member of the Y. M. C. A. Junior council, cashier for the Badger, accountant for the Octopus, member of the Commerce Advisory commission and assistant chairman of the 1922 Homecoming dance. He is cashier and business manager of the Y. M. C. A. and a member of Alpha Pi Delta. His home is in Two Rivers.

Miss Kingsford is a member of the Sophomore commission, Crucible and W. A. A. She was a member of the 1923 Badger staff and is circulation manager for women of the 1924 Badger staff. She is a member of Alpha Phi. Her home is in Baraboo. She is enrolled in the College of Letters and Science.

Rohrbeck was president of the Agricultural Literary society last year. He was a member of the A. C. F. board, associate editor of the Country Magazine and secretary-treasurer and vice-president of the Ag Triangle Country Life club. Rohrbeck is a member of the university post of the American Legion and Farm House fraternity. His home is in Cambria.

Miss Burchard of Fort Atkinson, was the Wisconsin delegate at the national Y. W. C. A. convention last year. She is vice-president of Yellow Tassel and chairman of the student industrial discussion group. She was a member of the freshman and sophomore commissions and is a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, Pythia, Literary society and Gamma Phi Beta.

Plewke is advertising manager of The Cardinal. He was advertising assistant last year. He is a member of the Y. M. C. A. junior council and the Advertising club. He is enrolled in the Chemical Engineering course and lives at Avalon.

Sidewalk on North Side Of Hill Being Widened

The sidewalk on the north side of the hill is being widened 2 or 3 feet to better accommodate the large number of students using the walk daily. The extension will run from the Science hall walk and the main walk to the top of the hill. The walk will be completed next week, according to H. F. Gallistel, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

WEATHER: RAIN

Rain probably will hit Madison today followed by fair weather tomorrow. Little change in temperature is expected.

ROSS WILL OPEN SOCIAL WELFARE ASSEMBLY TODAY

Noted Delegates Arrive To Take Part in State Conference

Prof. E. A. Ross of the Sociology department formally will open the State Conference of Social work at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the assembly chamber of the state capitol with an address "Roots of the Social Question."

"The Modern Trend in Social Work" will be the subject of a paper to be read by John A. Kingsbury at the general evening session. Mr. Kingsbury is director of the Millbank fund of New York city, which is one of the strongest organizations doing research in the field of social service.

The head of the National Child Labor committee of New York city, Owen R. Lovejoy, will speak on "Investing in the Future" at 8:15 o'clock this evening. The evening meeting opens at 7 o'clock with exhibits, motion pictures, and community singing. Judge A. C. Hopperman is chairman of the union mass-meeting which will follow.

The conference opens informally this noon with a luncheon at the Madison club, at which Mrs. I. P. Witter, Wisconsin Rapids, will act as hostess. Among the guests are Prof. J. L. Gillin, Prof. John R. Commons, Mrs. Marvin B. Rosenberry, Judge Solon Perrin, Superior; Harry D. Baker, St. Croix Falls; Mrs. C. J. Otien, State Board of Control; Mrs. Joshua Hodgins, Marinette; and Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary of the State Board of Health.

Swinney Directs Chorus; Dykema at Convention

Prof. E. E. Swinney of the Music school, is conducting the choral union rehearsals this week in the absence of Director P. W. Dykema, who is attending the national convention of social workers at Atlantic City. Professor Dykema left on Saturday. He expects to return to Madison in time to resume his classes October 16.

Homecoming Committees Meet First Time Tonight

All Homecoming chairmen and committeemen will meet for the first time at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the back parlors of the Y. M. C. A. Worth Shoults '23, general chairman, will lay plans for the 1922 celebration before the workers.

Varsity Squad Will Have Week of Secret Practice

Coach John R. Richards announced yesterday that the Varsity football squad will practice secretly all of this week. No spectators will be allowed on the sidelines.

GAGE APPOINTED HEAD OF POLICE FOR CLASS TILT

Names 15 Captains To Lead 10 Man Teams

Leslie S. Gage '23 was appointed chief-of-police for the sophomore-freshman bag rush next Saturday at the meeting of the Athletic board held in the gymnasium yesterday noon. To fire the gun which will start the annual rush, and to have general supervision over the captains of the police force, are the duties of the chief.

The fifteen police captains announced last night by Gage are: Byron Barwig '24, Morris Bell '24, Robert Blodgett '23, Herbert Boning '23, Edward Frawley '23, William Frederick '23, Frank Hyer '23, Daniel Gibson '23, Pete Platten '23, Walter Plewke '24, Charles Ruediger '23, Arnold Spetz '23, Gustavus Tuckerman '23, and Allen Walters '24.

The captains will appoint at least 10 men on their teams to be a part of the police force. The policemen will see that the proper order is kept, that the fighting is fair, and that no freshmen are deported.

"The police will be on duty all day and night Friday and on Saturday morning in order that the frosh may go to classes unmolested. They will take all precautions to see that the lower campus is not flooded or plowed up," Gage declared last night.

The rush will begin at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the lower campus. The sophomores will be lined up on the west side of the campus while the yearlings will hold forth on the east side. At the crack of the gun both sides will rush for the 15 bags in the center of the field. After 15 minutes of battling the rush will end, the bags will be counted and the side having the greatest number to its credit will be declared the winner.

Feminine Humor to Be New Octopus Feature

To maintain the high standard of Octopus campus humor and to increase the quality and quantity of the publication material, the Octopus staff is devising a system which will not allow co-ed humor to escape hereafter the pages of the book.

A woman's editor may be appointed to take charge of a collection system in which each sorority and boarding house makes its regular monthly contributions to the Octopus.

The November book will be the first in which the co-ed humor experiment will be given a trial. It is expected that the variety of material will be enhanced greatly and the feminine flavor keenly appreciated.

REGENTS TO HEAR GOODNIGHT REPORT

Dean S. H. Goodnight, chairman of the summer school session committee, will report on the 1922 summer session at the meeting of the Board of Regents to be held in the Administration building at 10 o'clock today. Dean Goodnight states that he will report the most successful summer session ever held here. The attendance exceeded that of 1921 by approximately 300 students.

The meeting of the Board of Regents will last until about 5 o'clock. Routine business, including appointments, will be considered. A meeting of all committees was held yesterday to agree on matters to be submitted to the board today.

E. M. McCaffrey, secretary of the board, stated yesterday that no business of extraordinary nature is expected to come before the board. It is reported that a request by Prof. W. H. Kiekhoffer for a temporary leave of absence will be submitted to the board.

LAUNCH DAIRY SERVICE DRIVE

Ag Extension School Issues Bulletins to 186,000 Farmers

A series of four circulars on the production, marketing, competitive, and advertising phases of the dairy industry in Wisconsin form the nucleus of a campaign recently launched by the Agricultural Extension service in cooperation with the United States department of agriculture to make the next 50 years in the dairy industry as progressive as the last 50.

The campaign, educational in its character, is the largest venture of its kind ever attempted by the Extension service. Plans will reach 186,000 farmers in 71 counties thru the circulation of the pamphlets by mail and through the field representatives of the Extension service.

Two of the four bulletins are already in circulation. "Marketing" was the first to be issued and "Production" was released Saturday. The mailing room of the Extension service has been swamped with requests for copies. More than 100 are received every day by Prof. W. A. Sumner of the Ag. Journalism department who is editing and distributing the pamphlets.

"Marketing" was written by Theodore Maclin. It deals with a study of past marketing conditions and discusses plans of organization to meet present and future marketing problems. "Production", prepared by Dean H. L. Russell of the College of Agriculture, takes up economic aspects of the dairy industry, analyzes carefully its present status, and discusses at length what the production needs of the future will be.

Big business interests outside the state are giving the campaign considerable attention, the Extension service reports. A large advertising agency, a prominent bank, and several other interested concerns in neighboring states have requested copies of the pamphlets and information regarding the campaign.

Scott, Gilman to Talk At Commerce Smoker

Prof. William A. Scott, director of the Commerce course, will be the principal speaker at the annual commerce smoker to be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening in the Presbyterian church parlors.

Freshmen are being interviewed personally by the men of the Commerce Advisory commission and special invitations are being given. E. Walter Anderson '23, in charge of the ticket sale, has asked that all commerce men act as hosts to the frosh, and help to welcome them into the Commerce school.

Professors Stephen W. Gilman, Edward H. Gardner, and F. H. Elwell also will address the men. Prof. W. J. Jamieson, formerly of the faculty of Minnesota university and now taking A. P. Haake's place in the courses in business administration, will talk on the future of commerce graduates in the business world.

Dean Goodnight Will Be Toastmaster at Banquet

Dean S. H. Goodnight will be toastmaster at the annual Congregational student banquet to be held at the First Congregational church at 6 o'clock, October 17. The Rev. John Gordon of Rockford, Ill., is to be the principal speaker. He will talk on "Making the Most of Life." Tickets are 75 cents each.

Counties Want State Aid For Highways

Appeal will be made to the legislature by county boards asking that it continue state aid for highway construction in an amount totalling at least $785,000 annually. The Wisconsin state aid program is completed this year and further provision must be made by the legislature if it is to be continued. Claim is made by the legislative committee of the county boards' association that certain counties bonded for road building with the expectation and practical guarantee that state aid amounting to at least $785,000 would be forthcoming for an indefinite period.

To maintain scholarships for Chinese women sent to American universities by the Y. W. C. A., women students this year gave $1,200.

Keep Freshmen In Places By Strict Rules

No Stiff Hats Or Canes For Yearlings of University

Because the list of traditions and rules regulating the action of freshmen on the campus were omitted from both the Green book and the freshman "Bible", The Cardinal is printing a code of the major traditions. Although the traditions have been augmented and modified off and on since their inauguration at the university, they remain in very much the same form in which they were originally drawn up by the student senates of the past.

Not only the yearlings are supposed to live up to these various customs. With the exception of the green cap tradition, the regulations apply to the sophomores as well.

The traditions and rules pertaining to them are given below.

Major traditions:

1. A derby or stiff hat shall not be worn except on Prom night. The prescribed green cap shall be worn by all freshmen during the period set by the student senate throughout the school year.

2. Freshmen and sophomores are prohibited from sitting upon or leaning against the fence in front of the gymnasium. No freshman shall be impudent to an upperclassman.

Minor traditions:

1. No freshman shall smoke upon any part of the university grounds. This rule to be in force up to May 1 of each year.

2. Corduroy trousers shall not be worn by any freshman or sophomore.

3. Physical disability rendering such aid necessary shall be deemed the only legitimate excuse for the carrying of a stick or a cane by any freshman.

4. No freshman shall sit or loiter about the steps of the following buildings: Historical library, Engineering building, Agricultural hall, and Law building.

5. No freshman shall wear his high school letters, numerals, or insignia upon the university campus.

Violations of Traditions

Penalties for major offenses:

Violations of these traditions may be punished in any of the following ways:

1. The offender may be denied the right to hold office for a period not less than one year.

2. The offender may be denied the right to participate in any student activity or undertaking except such as are taken or engaged in for University credit.

3. The court may appoint a student committee to punish the offender.

Violations for minor offenses:

1. Violation of this tradition shall be punished by depriving the offender of the right to vote in any student elections for a term of one year or two years, the minimum penalty to be one year and to be inflicted on all first offenders.

2. Violation of this tradition shall be punished the same as (1) above.

3. Violation of this tradition shall be punished by depriving the offender of his right to hold any office within the gift of the whole student body or of any class or vote in any student election; the same penalty to be imposed for one year for first offenses and two years for subsequent offenses.

200 Baptists Attend Convention at Oshkosh

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Two hundred delegates are registered here for the Wisconsin Baptist state convention which opened Monday and will close Thursday evening. The morning was devoted to programs of the woman's state missionary society and the Baptist ministerial union. This afternoon the seventy-eighth annual session of the convention got into formal motion with a business session and addresses. An event of note Wednesday evening will be a pageant, "Visions of Victory." It depicts scenes in Baptist development in Wisconsin, from the beginning of Baptist work at Delavan in 1841, to the present. About 125 persons will take part.

Investment Co. Office Moved to Beaver Bldg.

Offices of the H. W. Dubiske Co., Investment Securities, have been recently changed from the Gay bldg., to the Beaver bldg., according to an announcement Tuesday. The new quarters of the company give the office force nearly twice the former floor space.

Commerce Body Members And Rotary Club Meet

Emerson Ela, Madison attorney, will be the chief speaker of the Rotary club "good fellowship" meeting Thursday noon at the Park hotel. Arrangements are being made to entertain the newly elected officers of the Association of Commerce and to make the gathering a typical "get together" meeting between Rotary club and Association of Commerce members. A speaker representing the Rotary club will be announced later, according to Wm. J. Meuer, who is assisting in arranging the program.

ENGINEERS TO MEET TONIGHT

Five Organizations Plan Attractive Programs For Members

Meetings of the five campus engineering clubs and societies are scheduled for tonight.

The Wisconsin section of the American Chemical society will meet at 8 o'clock in the Chemistry auditorium. Dr. Gerald A. Wendt of the Standard Oil company will be the speaker. His subject is "The Artist in Research." A banquet will be held with Doctor Wendt as guest of honor at 6 o'clock at the University club.

The Mining club will hold its first meeting at 6 o'clock in the mining laboratory. A dinner, prepared in the oven of the laboratory, will be served. Freshmen and prospective new members will be introduced to the club and its members.

The student section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will meet in 204 of the electrical laboratory, at 7:15 o'clock. Mr. W. A. Gluesing will speak on his summer trip through the west.

The American Society of Civil Engineers will meet at 7:30 o'clock in 229 of the Engineering building. The meeting will be strictly a business meeting. The year's budget, membership and plans for the semester will be discussed.

Urges Council To Accept Street Plan

Forged prescriptions for the That the Lions club meet in executive session with Rotary, Roxana and Kiwanis to recommend to the common council the approval of the report of the special street-paving investigation committee, is the effect of a resolution passed by the Lions club at its luncheon at the Park hotel today.

The approval of the report which was made early in July, would expedite the paving of Johnson st., Hamilton St., University ave., and Breese terrace. This work has been held by indecision as to whether the cost of paving streets between rails should be met by the street railway company or not.

If the report of the committee is accepted, the action the common council will take will probably result in property-owners along street car lines meeting the cost of the entire paving along those streets.

Potato Growers Aided By Shipping Priority

ST. PAUL, Minn.—To assist farmers to get their potatoes to market some railroads in Minnesota are giving preference to such shipments over grain loadings, O. P. Jacobson, state railroad and warehouse commissioner, announced today. No official priority order has been issued by the commissioner, Mr. Jacobson said, and this condition obtains only on shipments of potatoes within the state.

Dairy Leaders to Weigh Co-op System Dec. 6

MILWAUKEE—Dairy leaders of the nation will gather in Milwaukee Dec. 6 to investigate the feasibility of a nation-wide cooperative marketing system. Milwaukee was chosen for the meeting place in recognition of Wisconsin's prominence among dairy states. The committee met this week in Minneapolis and formulated plans to be presented at the general meeting. Several hundred representatives of dairy organizations in all parts of the country will attend.

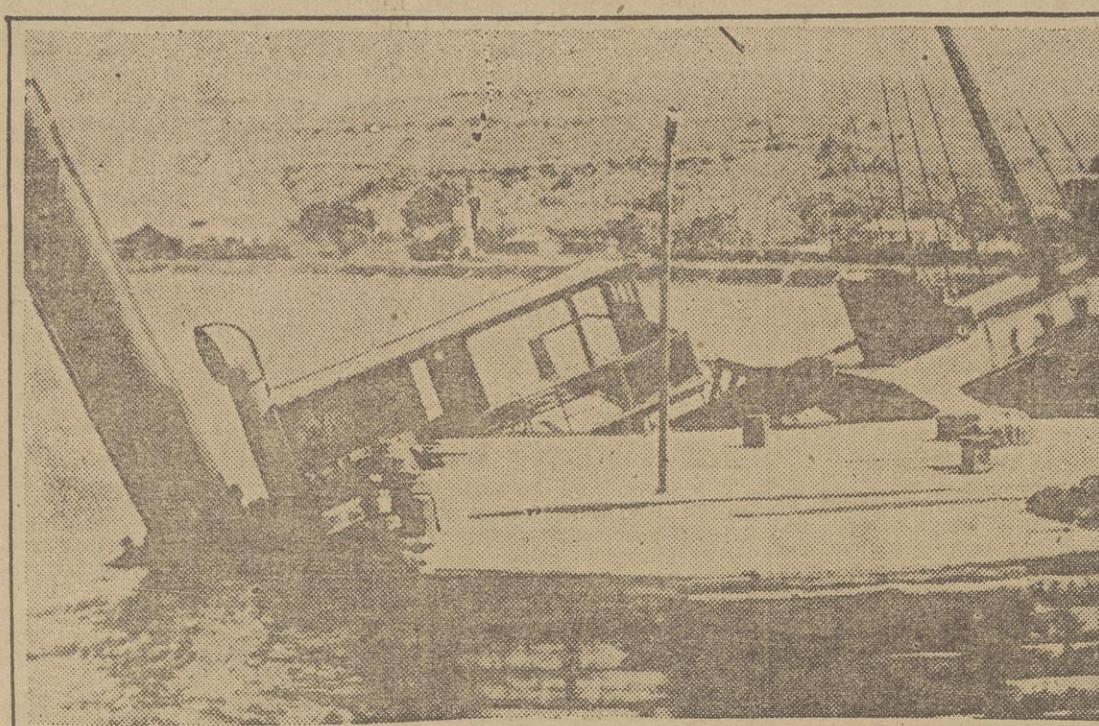

Will Erect Apartment Building Next to Co-op

A three story store and apartment building, which will be completed early next year, is being erected at 516-State street, near the Co-op, by Mrs. H. J. Parke. The first floor will house two stores, one of which will probably be occupied by Brainerd and Harte, grocers, now located at 706 University ave. The building is planned as a memorial to Mrs. Parke's father, Dr. G. P. Kingsley, who died 6 years ago, after having lived at 518-State street for 37 years.

HOMECOMING COMMITTEES

All Homecoming chairmen and committeemen will meet at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday in the back parlors of the Y. M. C. A.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

SCORES AMONG VARSITY TEAMS AVERAGE HEAVY

No Upset in Grid Dope Featured Saturday's Contests

The high scores which characterized the games of both eastern and western colleges on the football field last Saturday indicate that the big schools of the country are putting better teams in the field than ever before.

No dark horses appeared among the smaller schools and the dope proved faulty only in the sense that the scores ran higher than predictions. Yale, handicapped by the loss through injuries of Captains Jordan and O'Hearn, succeeded in trimming North Carolina 18-0 in spite of the sturdy resistance of the Southerners. One of the touch-downs, however, was made after the completion of a 24-yard forward pass, and another was scored when Eddy of Yale fell on the ball after an attempted punt from behind North Carolina's line had struck the goal post and bounded back.

Princeton Wins in Downpour

Playing in a downpour of rain, Princeton won a 5-0 victory over the University of Virginia. The game was marked by various fumbles and misplays, due to the slippery field. The scoring came as the result of a drop kick and a safety. Princeton's playing was much superior to that of Virginia, and the game was featured by the long end runs and punting of the Tigers.

Harvard defeated Holy Cross 20-0. The game was played in a drizzling rain, and it took the Crimson and Purple warriors two quarters to get their scoring machine in action. Harvard was more powerful in the line rush and in straight football, but Holy Cross had the edge in punting.

Centre Has Easy Time

Centre college romped on the university of Mississippi to the tune of 55-0. Two touch-downs were made in the first three minutes of play. Substitutes were used by Centre in the last half, with the purpose, undoubtedly, of saving the regulars for the Harvard game due next Saturday.

The Hawkeye champions showed their mettle again this year by the severe 61-0 trouncing they delivered to Knox college. The backfield seemed particularly strong, and quarterback Askin and Captain Lake gained at will. The Iowa warriors were able to tally score in every quarter but the third. Twice the Galesburg aggregation threatened the Hawkeyes' goal, but the Iowa line held firmly.

Yale vs. Iowa Saturday

Next Saturday the Yale and Iowa elevens will face each other at New Haven in a game that promises to be one of the biggest of the season. Coach Howard Jones of the Hawkeyes will match his science of football warfare against that of his brother, Tad Jones, who is mentor for the Yale eleven. Yale is without question the strongest team in the East, while Iowa, winner of the Big Ten conference in 1921, seems to be in as good shape as last year, if not better. The Hawkeye veterans are out for blood, while the Yale eleven seems to still retain the predominant eastern confidence in the superior skill of eastern gridiron warriors. The game will be closely watched by both eastern and western colleges.

Basketball Practice Has Commenced at Illinois

The University of Illinois already has started out on its 1923 basketball season. Coach J. Craig Ruby of the Orange and Blue has called for all candidates not playing football, and for the next several months three practices will be held each week. Illinois will institute a new system in the coaching of basketball this year. All their plays will be centered around the short pass.

LOOKS GOOD FOR FULLBACK BERTH

MERRILL TAFT '23

Merrill Taft is Wisconsin's best bet for the fullback position on the Varsity eleven this year. He proved his ability last Saturday in the game against Carleton when he made more yards from scrimmage than any other man in the backfield.

Besides his line plunging ability, he can punt in a way that may spell victory for Wisconsin in future games. His work on the defense also is good.

Taft was out for the squad last year and played freshman football. He captained the yearling team and held down a wing position. He attended Whitewater Normal one year, where he played basketball as well as football. He is a member of Zeta Psi fraternity.

INDIANA DRILLS FOR MINNESOTA

Herron Has Fast Back-field and a Veteran Line

After more than two weeks of strenuous drill under Indiana's new coach, Pat Herron, 50 candidates, a dozen of them veterans from last year's squad and many of them rated above the average in ability, are awaiting the referee's whistle, anxious to be given a trial in their first Big Ten game, Minnesota at Indianapolis next Saturday.

The backfield is said to be faster this year than last. Wilkins, regular quarterback last year, will be at his old position, while Raymond and Thomas, also veterans, will fill the halfback positions. Harris has been plunging through the line from fullback for good gains. The interference has been working well in scrimmage.

In the line Indiana will have at least six veterans, Captain Hanny at right end, France at right tackle, Cox at one of the guard positions, and Eberhart, end. Wichterman, left end, Butler at left guard, and Mumby at right guard, are new men, but are expected to make good.

Reserve material both for the line and the backfield is promising, so good in fact that no positions are considered permanently filled, at least, not until coach Horron has seen his men in action against the Old Gold and Black tomorrow.

Tickets Sell at Student Rate Till 11 a. m. Saturday

All students must purchase their tickets for the South Dakota State football game before 11 o'clock next Saturday or pay the public rate, it was announced by Paul F. Hunter, in charge of ticket sales, yesterday afternoon. The booth at the gym-

ELIGIBILITY OF STAR LINEMAN AIDS MICHIGAN

Veteran Eddie Jones Back Among Yost's Gridders

(Special to The Cardinal)
ANN ARBOR, Mich. Oct. 10—Wolverine football prospects were given a big boost Thursday when it was officially announced that Eddie Johns, veteran lineman, had successfully passed an examination which renewed the scholastic bar that has kept him off the gridiron all fall.

Johns has had two years' varsity experience and his addition to the squad materially aids Yost in solving the difficulty of filling in four new places in the center of the forward wall.

In recent scrimmages the Wolverine line has appeared none too strong, but with the addition of a tried veteran it should stand up much better before the attacks that are certain to be directed against it when the Wolverines clash with Ohio State, Illinois and Wisconsin.

In the past two years Johns has been used as tackle, but this season he will probably be seen at guard for in addition to Muirhead veteran tackle from last year's eleven Yost has Vandervert who is a better tackle than a guard.

Forward Wall Worries Yost

Although the make up of the forward wall is still undetermined it appears that Kirk and Captain Goebel will be on the wings in the important clashes, while Muirhead and Vandervert will be at tackle.

Finding two guards to fill the vacancies left by the graduation of Dunne and Wilson has been the most difficult problem for coaches Yost, Little and Wieman, but the eligibility of Johns assures the Wolverines of at least one dependable man, Rosati heads the field of a dozen candidates for the other guard position while Van Orden and Steele also may be used.

The battle for the pivot position has narrowed down to a dual fight between Blott and Slaughter with the former maintaining a slight advantage. Neither man is the equal of Ernie Vick but both are improving. Vick has joined the coaching staff and is devoting his entire time to instructing these two men.

Backfield Men Plentiful

Backfield men are more plentiful than linemen, but at the present time it appears that, barring injuries, the same quartette that finished the Big Ten season last year will be used this fall although Steketee, Keefer and Dunleavy have performed well enough to warrant their appearance in at least some of the big games.

With Steketee's graduation it was feared that Yost would be unable to find a punter to replace him but there are now five men, all of whom boot the pig skin well enough to relieve the coach's worries. Kipke, Goebel, Knede, Steger and Dunleavy are the men upon whom Michigan depends for its kicking this fall. Kipke probably leads the field although Goebel, Knede and Steger are nearly his equal.

Michigan Plans For Intramural Football

Schmidt, who underwent an operation

Plans are being made to reinstate intramural football as a college sport at Michigan, so that interest in the game may be increased.

Class teams were discontinued at Michigan two years ago due to the lack of training which the players underwent before the games and the consequent injuries to the men. Under the new plan, class teams will be subjected to as stiff training rules as the regular varsity team.

Coach Fielding Yost also announces that a reserve squad, which practically amounts to a third team will be formed, and that the men on this squad will be in direct line for places on the first and second squads as their work shows improvement.

nasium will open at 1 o'clock on Thursday afternoon and sale will continue at the gymnasium until Saturday noon. After the South Dakota game all application for football tickets must be made by mail.

MAY PICK TROUBLE WITH BADGER LINE

BOB COFFEY

Bob Coffey is one of the star halfbacks who will play with South Dakota State college next Saturday. Coffey tips the beams at 164 pounds. He is a plunging halfback, experienced and adept at picking holes. With his colored running mate, Ross Owens, Coffey will make trouble for the Wisconsin defense.

W. A. A. BRINGS HOCKEY COACH

New Trainer Was Member of Scotch International Team

That Miss Helen Armfield, member of the Scotch International hockey team, will come here to give special instructions and training in hockey under the direction of W. A. A., it was announced at the meeting of the organization at Lathrop hall last night. She will arrive the latter part of this month.

Madame Ponifidene, noted Russian speaker, is to come here under the auspices of W. A. A. in January to speak on the present economic and social conditions in Russia. She also has been engaged by the Madison Civics club for two lectures. All profits realized from her lecture will be used to swell the W. A. A. cottage fund.

Jean Kilgour '22 was elected head of graduate athletics to serve on W. A. A. board. Many graduates are back and they plan to organize a strong team and to challenge other classes.

Financial reports for Field day held last spring, read by Elizabeth Kirk '23, showed a net gain of $551.74 realized from all of the different activities.

New members admitted to the organization are: Lina Norman '25, Mildred Harpster '23, LaVon Jones '24, Alice Johnson '24, and Katherine Watson '24.

Special signs marking the official end of the W. A. A. hikes through the city are to be erected under the supervision of Esther Bilstad '24. The first of these signs is to be officially installed by the entire organization at a special picnic which will be held October 19.

NO SPECTATORS SIGN HANGS OUT ABOVE RANDALL

Richards Grooms Men Behind Closed Doors For Dakota Test

For the first time this year, the "Secret Practice" sign was hung out at Camp Randall and the Varsity squad worked behind imaginary closed gates yesterday afternoon.

Coach John R. Richards gave the order for a secret workout late in the afternoon and prospective spectators were shagged from the gridiron while the Badgers drilled on their regular Varsity field.

Shorty Barr was given an opportunity to perfect his forward pass, and in a light scrimmage, the men practiced the aerial attack and a defense to lessen its effectiveness when used by opposing teams.

Real Test Saturday

Coach Richards found weak spots in his forward wall when the team defeated Carleton college last Saturday and he is exerting every effort to remedy these defects before the powerful South Dakota State eleven trots onto Camp Randall on next Saturday. The Badger line will get its real test of the season when it bucks up against the prairie ags.

Three linesmen weighing more than 200 pounds each are part of the Dakota wall. All of them are veterans and with four more old heads, heavy and fast, to flank them, South Dakota will shoot off-tackle and center plays at Wisconsin in an attempt to break down the primary defense.

Coach C. A. West, of the Dakotas, is confident that his experienced team will force Wisconsin to the utmost before it suffers defeat. The same team lost only one game last year—that to Wisconsin—and was scored upon by but two opponents. In its first two games this season, it has scored 92 points against a row of goose eggs for Columbia college and St. Thomas, both fairly good outfits.

Big 10 Scouts to Watch

The Dakotas will spring a bag of tricks in their attempt to upset the old dope bucket and eke out a victory.

While South Dakota is playing with "nothing to lose and everything to gain," Wisconsin will have to work under wraps unless defeat appears imminent. Scouts from other Big Ten institutions will be in the stands next Saturday watching Wisconsin "do its stuff." Richards would probably permit his eleven to lose rather than show rival coaches what he has in store for them later in the season.

The Wisconsin eleven is still riddled by injuries. Because "Rollie" Williams is suffering from an injured leg, it is doubtful if he will start against Dakota. Some of the linesmen received bruises in the Carleton contest, but they will see service against South Dakota, with Wisconsin throwing every bit of its weight into the forward wall in an effort to cope with the Dakota heavyweights.

Women's Class Swimming Teams Are Being Chosen

Tryouts for women's class swimming teams are now in progress in Lathrop pool.

Approximately 30 freshmen women tried out Monday evening between 7 and 10 o'clock. Speed, variety of strokes, endurance, diving, and form are considered in the selection of those who will make up the class teams.

Upperclasswomen will contend for places on their respective teams tonight between 7 and 10 o'clock in Lathrop pool. Those who wish to tryout and have not signed already for a definite appointment must do so before trying out, according to Miss Brownell, swimming instructor, and Olga Anderson '23, student head of swimming.

A STEP FORWARD
FRATERNITY rushing rules of other universities are to be investigated by a new special committee of the Interfraternity conference, as a result of the general disgust with this year's cut throat rushing season.

That step on the part of the conference is one which will result in great good to Wisconsin fraternities if it is followed up with the degree of pertinacity that characterized the recent orchestra price campaign.

The committee will find that Wisconsin is in a state of barbarism as far as fraternity rushing goes. It will find that other institutions have done away with many of the fraternity evils which characterize Wisconsin.

It is to be hoped that the committee will tackle the proposition in an energetic manner, that the entire rushing system may be reorganized in a way that will do away with the present system of the survival of the luckiest and least ethical.

THROUGH THE RED FIRE
THE essential issue of a campus election is the qualification of the candidates. There is always a tendency, however, to cloud the issue and to judge by general popularity instead.

Class offices are more than mere empty honors. Incumbents have a definite duty to fulfill, and for that reason candidates should be elected on merit, and merit alone.

Unfortunately, the old adage that "the best man wins" does not always hold true in college politics. Not infrequently it happens that the most advertised man, or the man with the best working machine wins irrespective of his own intrinsic capabilities.

It is well to bear in mind, therefore, that class Officers mean something, and that since they were created for a purpose, their objective can be reached only by the men best fitted for them.

In the heat and excitement of a campaign, voters are apt to let emotions sway them unduly. The result is often the election of a candidate for whom momentary enthusiasm was created, sometimes accidentally, sometimes purposely.

The overshadowing of the issue by "hip, hip, hurrying" and "hail the conquering hero comes" stuff is a common American trait. In college, where men and women are primarily trained to think and act on reason, it is hoped that the emotional and ephemeral side of campaign enthusiasm will be discounted.

A rational, unhurried survey of the field will always help the voter to a decision. There is enough time to consider each candidate, and as a rule, the aspirants to major offices are well enough known so that their respective qualifications are not hidden from view.

Merit, not ephemeral popularity, but merit based upon ability to handle the job, and merit based upon past service rendered to university and class is the same criterion in campus politics at Wisconsin.

COME ACROSS

THE drive is on! The Badger is selling subscriptions.

At least, we suppose it is on; for we see little buttons on coat lapels here and there, and we read the headlines in the paper.

But where are the pirates of yesterday? Where the ominous co-ed voices that always prompted a stampede to the cellar? Where the heater competition of a fraternity house raid? Gone, regulated to the cemetery of dead traditions.

For co-eds no longer may corner the men and snatch their subscription from them. Males must hear their brothers in their dens, armed with the puny power of persuasion instead of the winsome wiles of womanhood. It's hard for the Badger but it must be so. The deans have so decreed.

Resistance was fun in the old days. It added to the spice of the game. But now the spice is gone and the game is dead. So why retain the resistance?

Men of Wisconsin, we commend to you the principle of non-resistance. When a male solicitor approaches you, just imagine he is a co-ed and come across.

Eighty needy students received loans from the Y. M. C. A. during a part of last year.

Ambassador's Son Says Badger Girls "Nice In Day Time"

"What do you think of the University of Wisconsin girls?" I asked, being a mere Cardinal reporter. "They're nice in the day time," said Herman Wiedfelt, the German ambassador's son who is attending Wisconsin, "but I think they flirt too much."

Herman was rather afraid within the confines of Lathrop hall. We continued our conversation as we walked along University avenue—a safe place.

"Rouge, powder and lipstick have not made their debut in Germany as yet," Herman said. "It will not be long, however, until the German girls will use cosmetics just as extensively as American girls. As for bobbed hair and other fashions, the German girls are not as slow as you might think. Perhaps they are not as extreme as Americans nor do they follow fashion so readily; nevertheless they are by no means behind the times."

The students' popular amusement dancing, does not appeal to Herman, but rather seems to him a waste of time. As for athletics, he says that football and other sports do not interest him particularly. He expects, however, to go to some of the big games. All in all Herman finds the life at a state university quite diverting after his trips in China and foreign lands.

Ivanhoe Heads List of Libraay's "Best"

"Ivanhoe", by Sir Walter Scott, heads a list of 100 books that are especially recommended for student reading by a committee of ninety-six men and women, all of whom are mentioned in "Who's Who in America."

The entire list is posted on the bulletin board at the north end of the Library reading room. They may be drawn for two weeks if they are not on reserve.

The first 10 books of the list in the order of their popularity according to the committee are, "Ivanhoe", Scott; "David Copperfield", Dickens; "Scarlet Letter", Hawthorne; "Les Miserables", Hugo; "Autobiography", Franklin; "Man Without A Country", Hale; "Ben Hur", Wallace; "The Tempest", "King Lear", and "Hamlet" Shakespeare; "Life of Johnson", Osgood; and "Pilgrim's Progress", Bunyan.

Jones to Address Meeting of Agricultural Engineers

"Hard Jobs Made Easy" will be the theme of Prof. E. R. Jones of the Agricultural Engineering department in his talk to the student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers which meets at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening in the Agricultural Engineering building. John Swenehart will talk on "Some Land Clearing Problems". Members of the faculty and prominent outside speakers will be secured to lead the discussions in future club meetings, according to V. D. Young '23, president.

QUESTION WIZARD IS LEADING ORPH ACT

Miss Anna Eva Fay, at the Orpheum this week, answers questions put to her by the audience with a rapidity and accuracy which never before have been attained by performers of her type. Thousands have been amused, entertained, bewildered and perhaps instructed by this remarkable woman this week.

The Wilton Sisters, clever youthful entertainers; Smiling Billy Mason, the celebrated movie star; Monroe and Mae in their comedy skit "A Breath of Youth and of Charm," and Bert and Florence Mayo with their thrilling aerial offering, compose the remainder of the program, appearing for the last times tonight.

"Echoes of Scotland" will share headline honors with Eva Fay the last half of the week, starting tomorrow night. The aggregation comprise a sextette of talented lads and lassies presenting "A Scotch Irish Revue," featuring the famous Kiltie Band.

The Orpheum Circuit's "Third of a Century Anniversary" will be celebrated in Madison the week commencing October 22.

Blaine Says Old Amount to Be Sufficient

Governor Tells Board of Public Affairs That He Opposes Increases

Gov. J. J. Blaine advised the state board of public affairs yesterday that the executive department would be able to operate during the next two years without an increased appropriation.

This action of the governor is significant of his attitude toward budget requests now being made to the board of public affairs by all state departments and institutions. A halt in the increase that has marked administrative expenses during the past six years, is anticipated as a result of the expression made by Gov. Blaine in asking no change in his own appropriation.

"Expenditures may vary for each fiscal year, but on the whole appropriation is sufficient," he said. The fact that the governor heads the state board of public affairs, which acts on all departmental requests before they go to the legislature, gives him a position of authority to check increases.

The governor declared in a statement issued from his office yesterday that he will take an active part in demanding that the affairs of the state be conducted efficiently but economically.

Seek Location for New Office of Tobacco Pool

Negotiations which are expected to be completed soon will result in the leasing of an office for the Northern Wisconsin tobacco pool, according to a statement made Monday by C. A. Hoen, manager of the organization. Mr. Hoen said that although several projects were under consideration by the committee in charge of arrangements, no definite action has as yet been decided upon.

It is believed that the pool will lease offices in a downtown office building which will be erected this fall. The new building is being financed by private capital. The offices of the pool, said Mr. Hoen, will continue to be in the Cantwell building until further action is taken.

Oneida Indians Start Fight To Reclaim 6 Million Acres in N. Y.

APPLETON, Wis.—Oneida Indians, living on the reservations in Outagamie and Brown counties are organizing to press their claims to more than 6,000,000 acres of land in the heart of New York state, valued at more than $2,000,000,000. A committee of 22, with Nelson Metoxen as chairman and Mrs. Laura Cornelius Kellogg as secretary, has been appointed to co-operate with similar committees named by the six nations of Indians who would share in the distribution if the property is recovered.

Mrs. Kellogg and Amos Bird, both Oneida Indians, represented the tribe in an investigation of the claims of the Six Nations. The delegates reported the findings at a meeting of the Wisconsin Indians.

The claims are based on a treaty signed in 1784 by the United States government and the six nations whereby approximately 6,000,000 acres in New York state were ceded to the Indians. Most of the land was sold almost at once by individual Indians and tribes to the state of New York and the Indians moved, some going to Canada and others to Wisconsin and Oklahoma. In 1794 the United States government amended the treaty to provide that none of the land could be sold except by the six nations acting as a unit and the clause also stated it was the original intention of the government to include that provision in the treaty of 1784. Most of the land had been disposed of by that time however.

The Indians now claim the property was sold in violation of the treaty and an effort is being made to recover it. E. A. Everett, chairman of the New York Indian commission, is assisting the Indians in their effort to recover the land. The fight is being carried to New York state and the federal government.

Bars Highway Builders With Loaded Shotgun

ST. PAUL—Termed as the John Dietz of Minnesota, Michael Whalen, farmer living 20 miles south of here, with a loaded shotgun, yesterday waited the next move of the state highway department which is constructing a trunk highway across Whalen's farm.

The state condemned seven acres for the road. Whalen agreed to sell the piece for $5,000, but when he learned that the money would not be immediately available he declined to sign the deed, and set up a fence. Engineers planned to proceed with the road Tuesday morning, with the aid of the sheriff, along with them.

Urges Lakes Waterway As Benefit to Farmers

CHICAGO—Lower cost of transportation, greater profits on produce, and relief from congestion in the shipping season would be the benefits accruing to the farmers in the 17 states tributary to the Great Lakes by construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway project, Gov. H. J. Allen of Kansas declared yesterday in an address delivered before the Chicago press club. He urged the support of all public spirited citizens to that project which he said "would make the St. Lawrence the Mediterranean of North America."

Rules Tenants May Burn Soft Coal

Tenants in Wisconsin, unable to obtain hard coal, may heat their leased premises with soft coal in spite of provisions in the lease requiring use of hard coal only, R. M. Hoyt, deputy attorney general, ruled yesterday.

It would be up to the tenant, however, to prove that hard coal was unobtainable, he said.

He held that courts would probably not consider it a violation of the lease if it could be shown that no hard coal was available and that lives of human beings were in jeopardy if heat was not furnished by use of soft coal.

Labor Scarce; Hard to Get Men for Jobs

Industrial Commission Says Workers Cannot be Found for Positions

Employment offices operated by the state are having difficulty inducing men to take work on Wisconsin farms, R. G. Knutson, member of the industrial commission in charge of employment said yesterday. Attractions of cities are drawing former farm hands away he reported.

The employment office at Green Bay has advised the commission that it has requests for 100 farm hands that it is unable to fill. Other offices report similar situations, stating that the farmers feel that the inability of the commission to meet their demands for help is due to its effort to give preference to industries.

"This is not the case," Mr. Knutson said. "We are doing everything we can to place men on farms, but there seems to be a tendency on their part to turn to the cities rather than accepting places in the country."

A general shortage of workers exists in the state, according to advices from the 11 state employment offices. They are unable to find enough men to fill the requests of farmers and industries.

Must Fix Rate
Singly, Ruling

Municipalities must be treated as separate units by the Wisconsin railroad commission in making electric rates, the Supreme court held yesterday in denying the motion of the state for rehearing on the case of the city of Eau Claire against the railroad commission.

Unless a change in the statute is made by the legislature, the commission will be required to rearrange the schedule of charges of practically all electric utility companies in the state, as a result of the Supreme court action. The commission has fixed rates for whole districts.

Production Seen

Production of beet sugar at the United States Sugar Co. plant will be begun between Oct. 18 and 25, according to E. T. Caesar, manager of the plant. With season crop conditions excellent, it is believed that the production this season will exceed that of any previous period.

Approximately 6,000,000 pounds of refined sugar are produced during the beet season at the local plant. Operations are continued for a period of about three months, said Mr. Caesar, although conditions may warrant a longer operating period this year.

Twenty-five thousand tons of beets are consumed annually in production and over 100 freight cars used in distributing the sugar throughout the country. About 250 men will be employed this year, according to Mr. Caesar.

BRITISH WILL TEST U. S. BAN

Send 7 Ships to American Ports Stocked With Liquor

LONDON — Seven ships of the Cunard and White Star lines are to sail for America this week fully stocked with liquor to test the Daugherty order prohibiting ships from entering American ports with booze on board. This announcement followed a conference of shippers. The names of the ships were not made known.

British companies it is said, intend to fight the ruling in American courts. It is believed they will ask an injunction. Failing that they may consider diverting the large passenger liners by way of Halifax or other Canadian ports.

MAKE FIRST SEIZURE

NEW YORK — The first seizure of liquor aboard a United States shipping board vessel under Attorney General Daugherty's dry ruling was made on Monday by agents who visited the freighter Winona, arrived from Smyrna after evacuating refugees from the ruined city.

Four cases of whisky and a number of loose bottles were taken from the Winona's hold. The vessel's officers said they could not account for the presence of the liquor and that it probably had been brought aboard by refugees.

WITTENBERG HEADS LUTHER FUND DRIVE

Wilber Wittenberg '24, will head students in the $150,000 campaign to finish the Luther Memorial church, it was announced yesterday. Wittenberg, after a meeting of the executive committee of the student campaign yesterday, appointed drive workers.

Miss Lulu Staab, '24 and Walter Baum '22 are vice-chairmen. Peter Moeller '23, Ernest Pett '23, and Alice Steenberg '23, will act as division commanders. Sixteen team captains and more than 100 workers will complete the organization.

The captains include Alfred Peterson '24, A. C. Sorenson '24, Margaret Chorlog '25, Arthur Hagen '24, Jerome C. Jackson, graduate, Frank Bumer '23, Otto Herbner '23, C. J. Randall '23, Wm. Hartman '23, George Baum '22, Wm. Haugen '23, Margaret Schwenker '23, Gladys Muscheid '25, Bernice Elver '23 and Louise Elser '23. Vera Carlyle '23, will direct the publicity.

The students have pledged themselves to raise $18,000 to buy the organ for the new church.

Towns Cannot Name Arterial Highways

A change in the state law will be necessary before county or town boards can legally designate certain country road "arterial highways" and compel vehicles to stop before crossing or turning into them, Franklin E. Bump, assistant attorney general ruled today.

Mr. Bump held that cities alone now possessed the power to name special arterial highways, but suggested that legislative action could change this situation. The increased traffic on certain state roads has made some such legislation necessary in the opinion of Frank Cannon, secretary of the Good Roads Association of Wisconsin.

Collided With 2 Parked Cars, Police Charge

Henry Allison Held On Charge of Reckless Driving

Harry Allison is being held on $200 bail after a plea of not guilty in Superior court today to charges of reckless driving.

Allison is charged with driving his machine into a touring car owned by F. W. Thompson and a Ford coupe owned by John Hoffman, Madison police officer, while they were parked on W. Mifflin st., in the 300 block about 9 o'clock last night.

The case was continued to Oct. 17.

Advises Co-ops to Change Names

The 230 co-operative societies in Wisconsin held by the secretary of state to be violating the state co-operative marketing law were advised yesterday by Attorney Gen. William J. Morgan to comply with the law immediately or face prosecution.

He said in a formal letter to the concerns that by immediately changing either their names or the form of their organization to bring themselves within the statutes, they would save court action. If changes are made before filing of suits no prosecution will be undertaken, Mr. Morgan advised.

Hoop Snakes? No, Ain't None Such

Snakes! Slimy, slinky, slithering, snakes! Creeping, crawling, writhing and rolling snakes! Emphasis on the rolling snakes! And when we think we have discovered them, and step forth to claim the honors adorning thereto, they come across with the information that there "isn't no such contraption."

Our inclination to the opinion that snakes of the rolling variety were abroad was dispelled at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Prof. G. Wagner of the zoology department, who informed us that in his studies of snakes for many years past and at the present time he has never heard and never expects to hear of a snake constructed along rolling lines, otherwise called a hoop snake.

"Only two snakes of the 16 kinds existent in Wisconsin are poisonous, and these are the yellow rock rattlers, found at Devil's lake and along the Wisconsin and Mississippi rivers, and small black rattlers, now nearly extinct, which were formerly found in large numbers in the swamps," Professor Wagner said.

Pigs can and do eat snakes because the thick layers of fat under their skins make it difficult for snakes to inject poison in their blood, according to Professor Wagner. Some dogs also eat snakes, and many dogs can be taught to eat them, but a dog has no defense against a poisonous snake except retreat with quickness and despatch.

"The common feeling of fear and loathing which most persons have toward snakes is largely the result of ignorance, or of education in fear," Professor Wagner declared.

"Any snake will put up a good show of defense if cornered, but in the majority of instances it is only bluff. However, anyone not well acquainted with the appearance and characteristics of snakes is advised not to experiment at calling these bluff's out of idle curiosity."

But if you see a snake rolling down the hill toward you do not use any energy vainly fleeing from it. Stop and let it catch up, and you will probably discover that it is an escaped tire having a roll.
