FROSH BURN VERDANT LIDS AT 8 TONIGHT

Plan All-day Drive on City
Junk Piles; Expect Big Blaze

COMMITTEE ASKS AID

"We want all freshmen out today to drive trucks and help gather rubbish for Cap Night celebration tonight," is the plea to freshmen issued by the committee in charge of the burning of freshman caps on the lower campus tonight.

All men who wish to work are asked by the committee to report on the lower campus as early as possible this morning in old clothes and be prepared to work until 8 o'clock tonight, when the celebrating will begin.

Plenty of Fuel

As the horse show which was to be held on the campus this afternoon has been postponed because of the wet condition of the lower campus, the freshmen will start piling up their junk as soon as enough men get around, and will continue until they have all the available material piled up.

The committee in charge has succeeded in getting a considerable amount of lumber, boxes, and other rubbish all over the city, and with a large turnout of frosh to aid in hauling it on the lower campus, the committee expects to be able to light the pile by 8 o'clock.

Officials Named

About $40 worth of tags were sold yesterday. Only a few people that were appointed to sell the tags reported, and it was impossible to raise more money. There will be more people out today, and enough tags are expected to be sold that it will be possible to put the celebration across.

The deputies who will police the celebration were announced last night, by the Student Senate commission; Gus Tebell, chief commissioner, James L. Brader, E. H. Gibson, Rollin Ecker, Charles Puse-tow, commissioners. Deputies appointed: Wallace Barr, Thomas Stavrum, Hubert Perrin, Ralph Balliet, Art Cantwell, Cy Johnson, Gordon Nelson, Harlin Loomer, Edward Templin, E. A. Woelffer, Griffith Barry, Ed. H. Sher-necker, H. A. Pinkerton, F. C. Prehn, George Towpfer, Art Platten, Bill Guagi, George Mason, Len Jensen, S. G. Kally.

Levitz Made Head of International Club

Herman Levitz '23 was elected president of the International club at a meeting held last evening in the S. G. A. room, Lathrop hall. Other officers for next year are: T. Suzuki '23, Hawaii, vice-president; Fernando Sola '23, Argentine, secretary; and Chuang Loc-haya '24, Siam, treasurer.

PHILOMATHIA CHOOSES

JOINT DEBATE TEAM

Harold Seering '24, Charles Rawson '23, and Walter Dahl '23 were elected to the joint debate team at a meeting of Philomathia literary society which was held last night.

Nisbet to Head Next Stock Show

John C. Nisbet '23, was chosen manager of next year's Little International live stock show at the election of officers held by the Saddle and Siroin club, Thursday evening. Nisbet has had much experience in the showing of live stock at state and county fairs in Wisconsin.

Other officers elected by the club for the coming semester are: K. P. Sayre '23, president, "Scoop" Taylor '23, members of A. C. F. board, Walter F. Renk '23, secretary, John Reed '23, treasurer and Donald Bruce '23, custodian.

Medals for students who made the live stock judging teams were presented by Prof. J. G. Fuller, and Prof. R. S. Hulce.

CADET REVIEW HELD INDOORS

Drummer Takes Individual Compet; Company H Also Wins

The annual review of the the University Cadet corps by officers of the general staff of the United States army was held in the armory yesterday afternoon. The muddy condition of the lower campus prevented the review from being held there as was originally planned.

Company H won first place in the company competitive drill. A gold medal was presented to the captain of the company, a silver medal to each lieutenant, and a bronze medal to each of the other men of the company.

In the individual competition, Corporal H. W. Drummer, company M, won first place and a gold medal, Corporal R. C. Salsbury, company Q, won second place and a silver medal, and Corporal J. Winchell, company C, won third place and a bronze medal.

The inspection board consisted of Colonel W. D. Chitty, who is in charge of all R. O. T. C. units in the sixth corps area of which Wisconsin is a part, and members of the general staff board, Major C. E. T. Lull and Major H. T. Hazlett.

Muddy Lower Campus Prevents Horse Show

Because of the wretched condition of the lower campus, the first annual Military Horse show, of which Phil Deicher '23, is in general charge, will be postponed from today to next Saturday afternoon, May 27, at 3:30 o'clock. The idea of dragging the campus in order to put it into shape for the show this afternoon was given up.

This event, the first of its kind to be held in the university, will afford competition, as there are a number of first class horses and riders scheduled to show. Besides the horses of the military department and of the Black Hawk academy, five privately owned horses will appear. They are owned by: Mrs. O. Ward, Mrs. C. Holt, James Bruenecker, Dr. J. P. West, and Miss H. McNeil.

PREP RUNNERS TO GET BOAT RIDE

Entertainment Planned For High School Athletes at Interscholastic

Plans for the entertainment of 545 high school athletes who will be in Madison for the 28th Interscholastic track meet on May 26 and 27 include a boat ride around Lake Mendota and the housing of more than 250 high school visitors by fraternities and other campus organizations.

All available boats have been chartered for Saturday morning, May 27, for the boat ride. It will be an excellent opportunity for the visitors to glimpse the beautiful scenes along the shores of Lake Mendota and to view the water events of the regatta.

The committee in charge of taking care of the prep school men have arranged to have a booth placed at the Northwestern station at which the entries to the meet can obtain information and instructions as they arrive Friday, May 26. About half of the participants in the track meet have made their own arrangements for accommodations, or have signified their intentions of returning to their homes Saturday, but the remaining 250 persons will be housed and fed in groups of seven or eight in the fraternity houses.

National Convention of College Masons Opens With Banquet

The first nationalization convention of university and college Masonic organizations opened with an informal banquet in the university "Y" parlors last night.

The delegates from other colleges were welcomed to Wisconsin by E. J. Kaderabek '23, president of the local Square Club, who acted as toastmaster, Howard V. Funk, '24, and Rufus Phillips '23.

Short responses were given by O. V. Walters, Illinois, A. C. Cooke, Stout college, William Klobec, North Dakota, C. S. Cochran, Ames, and R. S. Roberts, of Columbia university, who also represents the Square and Compass, an organization in southern universities.

The delegates met for the first session immediately after the banquet to elect a chairman and hold preliminary discussions. The second session will be held today at 1 o'clock, and if any business remains to be transacted the delegates will meet again tomorrow morning.

The baseball teams representing Wisconsin and Iowa will meet on Camp Randall diamond this afternoon for the second time within a week. The game will be called at 2:30.

No Shifts

The Badger nine is fully prepared to give the Hawkeyes a hard battle today, and warm weather this afternoon should enable Coach Lowman's proteges to exhibit a fancy brand of baseball. The locals are anxious to test their skill with that of Iowa under favorable weather conditions and the Wisconsin team's performance this season would indicate that a win may be expected.

Captain Paddock has had plenty of chance to rest up since he lost to Illinois, and should be able to cope with the Hawkeye batters to an advantage. The same lineup which has worked in the past few games will take the field this afternoon; Combacker appearing to have cinched a berth at second for the remaining games of the season schedule.

Pitcher Strong

Coach Lowman has, however, a healthy respect for the invading aggregation. Purdue and Illinois were able to win from the Hawkeyes only by a narrow margin, due to the fact that Iowa teams fight to the end and oftimes stage a remarkable comeback in the final innings. This condition has been characteristic of the Iowan football and baseball teams this season.

Frohwein, pitching ace, is the star

Gay Lights Shine At Alley Dance

Sorority alley will flash bright with gay Japanese lanterns at the Crucible dance tonight. A platform for the orchestra will be built in the center of the court. The ticket sale has been opened to men. Tickets may be secured at the University pharmacy or at the gate for $1.35 a couple. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock. A 10-piece orchestra will furnish music.

Crucible, honorary junior women's organization, is giving the dance to make money for a scholarship which it furnishes every year to some deserving woman in the university.

CAMP RANDALL

GAME CALLED 2:30 P. M.

WE wonder where everyone went last night. Who can tell? How could you find out? The sun didn't set for the Sunset Serenade, and then the spring formals won't accommodate the whole so-called student body.

NOTHING to do but wait around for the BADGER.

THE COUNTRY MAG is out with a review of the year's work. The Ag school has done a lot. For example, "How has the College of Agriculture been unified? First of all we had our A. C. Its surprising what a little cider and doughnuts can do!

Student Recital Shows Training and Long Practice

By E. L.

A program of orchestra, violin, piano, and vocal selections was given in the public student recital of the School of Music, in Music hall Thursday night.

The work of the individual students who took part and also of the orchestra showed careful training and preparation. The orchestra opened the concert with selections from "Lohengrin." The slow, melodious character of this well known opera music afforded sharp contrast to the rapid impulsive movement of "Molly on the Shore," by Grainger, which followed. The wedding march was played as an encore.

Ruby Britts gave a delightful selection on the piano. She played "Pastoral Variations," written by Mozart with warm expression and unusual technique. This number was very well received by the audience.

"She Never Told Her Love," by Haydn and "Marie My Girl," by Aitken were sung by Carrol Robb. His voice had good volume, and a pleasing range in the first selection. The accompaniment was played by Robert Nethercutt. Sylvia Rosenberg on the violin offered "Guiterror," by Drdla. Her tones were sure, and her general technique was accomplished. She was followed by Marguerite Baines who played an Irish composition.

Temperance Johnson with a sweet soprano voice sang two selection, one from Gaelano Lama, and the other by Rossini. Her interpretation was pleasing and both were well done. "Impromptu in A Flat," by Chopin was given with light and easy grace by Carolyn Burgess as the last number.

What has become of this world of ours,

So sorely in need of its highest powers,
And waiting the stroke of millennial hours,
If women should smoke

What would atone for the loss crept in

To the baby kiss and cradle hymn,
And the coarser life that would soon soon begin,
If women should smoke?

Just as we find on a frost-bitten farm,

Odorless flowers that cease to charm,

So would a blight fill the earth's best balm,

If women should smoke,

Hawaiian Radio Fans Hear Badger Station

A letter has been received by the Physics department of the university from a radio receiving station in the Islands of Hawaii to the effect that the broadcasting sent out at the station here has been picked up in that part of the Pacific.

The musical appreciation lectures given every Friday night by Prof. Edgar B. Gordon, of the university school of music, will be broadcasted by the physics department throughout the summer session.

Variety Program By Varsity Serenaders Pleases Audience

By LOIS COLE

A large audience enjoyed the outdoor concert given by the Varsity quartet in the open air theatre Friday evening. The stage was fitted with a background of greenery. The only lights were the spot lights, flashing on and off the stage as the singers gave their selections. The singers were Noel Stearns '22, Earl Brown '22, Thomas Dartnel '23, Whitford Huff '23, accompanied by Paul Sanders.

The songs sung included love songs of all varieties, with a few humorous one. The humorous ones were for the greater part arranged by the quartet, and were presented with cleverness and snap. A serenade song arranged by the quartet was a noticeable feature of the humorous part of the program.

The love songs were enjoyed most by the audience. Indian, Chinese, modern and popular songs, and "songs of the days of long ago" came in succession. Many were arranged in new and unique effects, which brought out the passages in a harmonious manner.

Among the best received of the songs were the "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin, "Honey, Honey," "Pale in the Amber West," and "Strongheart" by Parks. "Annie Laurie," "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "Now the Day Is Over" were the most popular of the old familiar songs.

Solos were sung by Brown, Stearns, and Huff. The solo parts in "Love's Old Sweet Song" and

Museum Shows Many Indian Pottery Designs

Indian pottery designs, illustrated in more than 95 plates of colored drawings, have recently been put on display at the Historical museum, after being exhibited in many sections of the country.

Efforts to revive the art of pottery making have been made by the School of American research, Santa Fe, New Mexico, and also to interest the Pueblo potters themselves in the history and possibility of their art.

Before the coming of the Spanish under Coronado in 1540, the making of pottery was highly and extensively developed by the Pueblo Indian women. Now pottery making is an important industry in only 18 New Mexican villages.

Indian designs are composed of few elements, but by means of numerous combinations, a variety of motives is produced. The agricultural life of the Indian is reflected in his pottery. The ripening crops are expressed by the leaf, flower, pod and seed. A feather means a prayer for rain.

American designers are gradually turning to American designs for inspiration, and the pottery decorations of the Pueblo Indians are recognized as a source of native American art, second to none.

Flappers Don't Use So Much Powder As In Good Ol' Days; Costs Are Going Right Up

Little bits of powder,
Little daubs of paint,
Oh! It costs a lot o' money
To look like what you ain't.

So sing the flappers these days as they go flapping down the boulevards, hesitating here and there, ever and anon, to redecorate their complexions.

For be it known the bits and daubs are expensive. Not only that, but they're getting more expensive every day.

Now milady opens the day with her ablutions. Sometimes she uses the old-fashioned soap and water, but the boorish yokels insist that more often one of the seventeen thousand varieties of powder suffices.

It has been estimated, conservatively, that milady goes through the performance of dabbing a wee bit of powder on her face 136 times daily under normal conditions.

Also, it has been estimated, ultra-conservatively, that each dab costs one-seventy-eighth of one cent. That would amount to—aw, figure it out for yourself.

And then in addition to the powder there must be rouge, lipsticks, cold cream, eyebrow decorators and other incidentals.

Co-ed flappers at Wisconsin estimate that the college girl's cosmetic bill is $14.25 annually, itemized as follows:

Two boxes of rice powder at $1 each, three boxes of rouge at 50 cents each, a jar of cold cream at $1.50, three boxes of talcum at $1 each, stick for chapped lips, 25 cents, and six boxes of compact powder, at $1 each.

Business girls say they can get along on an annual cosmetic budget of $2.35, but their employers say they must be magicians to get along on that from the amount of complexion doctoring they do during working hours.

Of course, to actresses "makeup" is part of their daily life and their bills for the year run up to $40 or $50.

Income Taxes Double During Year in State

An increase of practically 50 per cent was shown in income taxes collected during 1922 on incomes of 1920, over the amount of taxes collected last year on incomes of 1919, report today by Henry Johnson, state treasurer, shows.

The total on incomes, exclusive of surtaxes, amounted this year to $7,040,000 compared to $4,680,000 collected in 1921. The state receives 10 per cent, counties 20, and municipalities 70. Administration costs are borne by the state.

Milwaukee paid the largest tax of any county with $2,528,474. This is an increase from $1,930,000 in 1921. The tax commission is of the opinion that this increase is due largely to a smaller personal property offset.

Dane county paid $470,000 compared to $150,000 in 1921; Brown county $153,890 compared to $50,000; Douglas county $101,370 compared to $0,000, and Sheboygan county $154,370 compared to $110,000.

The strictly tailored suit of blue tricotine will always be fashionable, according to indications past and present. Here is a 1922 model which features braid-bound lapels and a one-button fastening.

MAY BUY NEW P. O. SITE HERE IN SIXTY DAYS

Ask Devine For Proposal of Sale; Would Be Big Surplus

The proposed Madison postoffice site may be purchased within the next 60 days, Postmaster W. A. Devine announced today, following the receipt of a request from Washington for a blanket proposal of sale of the property. The site is the entire block bounded by Monona ave., Wilson, Pinckney and Doty streets. The purchase price is $336,448.

A total appropriation of $550,000 was made by Congress. The balance of $213,552 probably will be used as a part of the building fund.

Whether building will begin in the near future has not definitely been decided, but it is felt that with a substantial surplus left from the purchase money, building will probably begin soon.

Proposals on the property to be submitted to the government by Postmaster Devine are as follows: Nolan sisters, $13,700; Mrs. Eugene

Smith, $42,000; Dr. J. A. Mack, $21,000; F. W. Hoyt, $33,629; Cantwell estate, $20,000; Mrs. Helena Detloff, 7,000; Otto Levander, $18,000; John Simon, $25,000; E. J. Fisher, $85,000; A. B. Morris, $25,000; Fred M. Schlinggen, $17,500; Walter L. Lemon, $28,619.

No plans for the building have yet been drawn, but it is thought that the structure will be of granite. There has also been some talk, according to Mr. Devine, of using stone similar to that used for the state capitol. The building will be at least three, probably four, stories.

Woman Candidate For Senate Opens Fire On Kellogg

ORTONVILLE, Minn. — The campaign of Mrs. Anna D. Oleson of Cloquet, for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senatorship was under way today, inaugurated in a speech before an audience of farmers yesterday. Mrs. Oleson criticised Sen. Kellogg for his vote in the Newberry contest and expressed the belief that the people would defeat the senator. "I believe this is a Democratic year, because the Republicans have not lived up to their promises," she said. "They promised prosperity. No one has received it except Will Hays."

CAP NIGHT

IN the hands of the two lower classes rests the existence of Cap Nights of the future. With the memory of what happened last year and the year before still vivid, even an approach to a pugnacious spirit will undoubtedly doom all future attempts at Cap night.

It is one of fate's clever ironies that if consistent good is done, no one notes it, but a moment of lawlessness will be remembered forever. The freshman class could hold well conducted and orderly cap celebrations for years and the university and state but take but passing notice of it. But one affair such as happened last year and the press of the state and the entire middle west would have live copy for a week. And those who hear the story through such media may receive a greatly exaggerated report of what really happened.

There is too close a connection between the university and the state to permit any actions that would reflect in any way upon either. The tax payers of the state support the university and have a right to consider its conduct and the conduct of the organized classes and organizations. It is the students' privilege and duty to respect that right to the extent of being ultra-conservative, if necessary.

The freshman and sophomore classes have maintained, so far this year, excellent order and a fine sense of what is and is not consistent. The class officers are determined to do all in their power to assure order. If trouble ensues today or this evening the blame can rightly be placed on a disorderly element that are sadly devoid of the true varsity spirit.

It is earnestly hoped that nothing will prevent an orderly Cap night.

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

WISCONSIN likes to praise its athletics, its scholastic rating, the standard for which it is recognized throughout the country.

But there is one part, and a great part, of the work at the institution which reflects no little glory and yet has received little credit.

Perhaps it has been custom founded on reason that is responsible for our neglect to appreciate the place the cadet corps takes in the institution. In former years, perhaps the esprit de corps was not so well developed as it is today, but there has been a decided change for the better in matters military at Wisconsin.

The members of the cadet corps have taken a real interest in their respective battalions and in the corps as a whole. When tryouts were held for the President's Guard there was keen and able competition for the posts. There have been but few cuts from drill. There has been throughout the year a snap and precision on the parade grounds and at drill formations that many an army outfit lacks. And such a spirit among the cadets augurs well for the school.

It is unfortunate that weather conditions prevented an outside inspection yesterday. It is doubly unfortunate; for the culmination of the entire year's work of the corps was its final inspection. The work of the individual units never makes as splendid an appearance as does the entire corps on review. Due to circumstances beyond their control, the cadets were prevented from demonstrating their military skill before the student body. But that cannot detract from the general credit that they are receiving and that they deserve to receive for efficient and willing performance throughout the year.

A CAMPUS reformer might find abundant work to do in limiting the number of clubs and organizations that are springing up on the campus. Perhaps that is one good reason for the existence of reformers. Or equally, perhaps, both reformers and the clubs might be listed among the non-essential and unwanted.

The rapidity with which various clubs have been recently organized is indicative of initiative that would be wholly admirable were it expended in more worthy endeavor. It takes initiative and a deal of imagination even to find an excuse for many of the clubs that have gloriously lived for a day, and then died the usual miserable death.

It can hardly be claimed, however, that these clubs do not serve a purpose. They do provide work for the over-ambitious and publicity for the publicity-seeker. The campus politician here finds a mecca and the zealous organizer a haven.

As these we have always with us, perhaps it is best that they have some such an innocent and willing group with which to work.

If the organization mania meant no more than that, no great harm would result. It would be amusing—but no more.

The irony of it is that too often these clubs do not leave us before they have accumulated debts which are left unpaid, debts which must be settled some way by the institution or by the long-suffering Student Senate. But at least the clubs that are formed owe it to the school to prove a worthy purpose and to depart, if depart they must, in a solvent condition.

A fault which is all too common among college students as well as most others and which is insidious in its nature, is the desire to "get by" and nothing more, thereby cheating themselves and others.

A common form of conversation on the campus is the putting to an individual the question as to how he is progressing along a certain line, and the answer that he is "getting by" and that is all he is interested in anyway. Particularly does this apply to the students who are entirely serene and perfectly satisfied if they are receiving a mark which is barely passing and which enables them to put up an air of respectability as far as their school work is concerned. —Daily Kansan.

New Aquarium And Shell Collection Are Being Made Ready at Zoo; Dwight Gift

Practically a new aquarium and a fine collection of sea shells, including about 200 varieties from the west coast of Florida, will greet the visitor to the Vilas park zoo on Decoration day. This information was obtained from Dr. C. G. Dwight, zoo benefactor, who is the owner of the shells, and who is having the alterations on the aquarium made.

Instead of the nine inconveniently large aquaria or tanks in the bird house, there will now be 18 smaller ones, so that a far greater variety of fish can be displayed. The old tanks of wood have been replaced by cement tanks, and instead of having but one row, there are now two rows, the top one being built back of the lower row.

In order to make these alterations it was necessary to tear down a large quantity of boarding, which shut off the light. The alterations make the bird house a much lighter, sunnier abode for all the animals. The fish are meanwhile enjoying a holiday in the big community tank.

The new snake house, with its pretty grottoes of rocks, its clever little drinking places and smooth, sandy floor, is attracting considerable attention. The snakes that will inhabit it this summer are still in Florida, where Dr. Dwight purchased them last winter. The cool climate of Madison makes it dangerous to transfer the snakes until the summer is here. They will probably be shipped in a few weeks, however.

Next to the snake house, which is built over the large fish tank at one end of the bird house, is a similar little house or case, with a highly polished floor and several mirrors. It is into this that the collection of shells will be put. Dr. Dwight is now at work naming the shells, which will undoubtedly make the finest collection in the city. They include specimens from all over the world.

A large number of shells of each kind will be displayed. It is comparatively recently that Dr. Dwight has taken up the study of conchology. He collected his Florida shells, which include unusually perfect specimens, during two trips.

A great many of the shells have popular names, given them by their discoverers for their similarity to some well known objects. Among the Florida specimens to be shown will be the keyhole limpet, the Japanese fan, the rose petal, the bid-die, the fig, the cocoonut, the harp, Noah's ark, the kitty's paw, the lion's paw, the Scotch bonnet, the rice shell, the tooth, the bleeding tooth, one of the most aptly named in the entire collection,— the eagle's eye, angel's wings, turkey's egg, sunrise shell, Chinese alphabet, the jewel box, the top, the rattlesnake, the boat, the slipper, the sand dollar, the nutmeg, the heart, and the tulip shell.

One of the most beautiful in Dr. Dwight's collection is the lemon pecten. There are many varieties of the pecten, but perfect specimens of the brilliant yellow variety are rare.

County Board Not in Favor of Agent Plan?

May Be Asked To Aid Farmers' Body Project Next Week

That the request of the Dane County Farmers' organization for funds to assist in hiring an agricultural agent for the county will be turned down by the county board of supervisors, when the board meets next week, is predicted by county officials.

So far as is known, no county board member is willing to introduce a resolution asking for the money. They are loath to do so, one board member declared, because the board's policy for the present is to "sit tight."

Officers of the Dane County Farmers' organization recently declared that $5,000 would be needed to finance the project of providing the county with an agricultural agent or secretary. The state, it is said, pays 30 per cent of the expense, the county the remainder. The board of supervisors has twice voted down the county agent proposition.

LOCAL DOCTOR FACES FEDERAL LIQUOR CHARGE

Claim Physician is Selling
Prescriptions to U. W.
Students

Sale of prescriptions for liquor by a physician residing near Madison to students of the University of Wisconsin is alleged by the office of federal prohibition commissioner, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Milwaukee this afternoon.

Nineteen Wisconsin physicians and druggists were ordered today by the federal prohibition office to show cause why their permits to deal in whiskey should not be revoked, the dispatch says. Thirteen are druggists and six are doctors.

Of the 19, 11 are from Milwaukee, including seven druggists and four doctors.

Two druggists are charged with having sold colored alcohol to persons who presented prescriptions for whiskey. The others are said to have sold whiskey without prescriptions, or to be short in their stocks as compared with the amounts shown in their records, the dispatch states.

One of the doctors, says the dispatch, lives near Madison and is alleged to have sold prescriptions by mail to students of the University of Wisconsin.

State Factories' Death Toll In Accidents 517

Nearly $3,000,000 Paid As Indemnity; Sets New Record

The toll on industrial accidents in Wisconsin during 1921 was almost as great as during the preceding years, in spite of the industrial depression, the Industrial commission reported today. There were 157 deaths, 11 cases of permanent total disability, 1,602 cases involving permanent partial disability and 14,898 compensable accidents.

This compares with 171 deaths, 11 cases of permanent total disability and 14,400 cases of temporary disability, a total of 16,246 compensable accidents for 1920. The number of days lost in 1921 was 2,518,539, compared to 2,600,760 for the preceding year.

A total of $2,918,817 was paid as indemnity to injured workmen and for medical aid, the largest money cost at any time in the history of the compensation act. Indemnity to workmen amounted to $2,257,255 and medical aid to $661,562. Last year $1,970,513 was paid workmen as indemnity for accidents and $59,571 for medical aid, a total of $2,540,084.

The handling of objects caused 8,744 accidents compared with 2,744 caused by machinery. This is contrary to popular belief that machinery is the greatest cause of accidents. Other causes are falls of persons, hand tools, stepping on or striking against objects, falling objects, hoisting apparatus and automobiles.

When seriousness of accidents is considered, falls of persons are said to rank first, with 24 deaths. Hoisting apparatus and electricity each causes 20 deaths and machinery 16.

Edison Proposes New U. S. Farm Loan Project

WASHINGTON—Proposed by Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, a new plan for extension of long term credits to farmers was taken under consideration today by a bloc. Edison's plan as outlined by Sen. Capper, chairman of the bloc, contemplates issuance of a series of off-in-currency through a central federal farm bank. The currency would be loaned to farmers for one year, repayable at the rate of 1 per cent a month, with a lien on 50 per cent of the farmer's crops as security. Mr. Edison proposed a 20 or 25 year average of prices of agricultural products as the basis for the 50 per cent value loans. The committee was told by Mr. Edison that he had been studying the subject of farm credits at the request of Henry Ford.

under Jack Miller, manager of the San Francisco team, before joining McGraw next spring. The care of a $75,000 beauty weighs on Jack's shoulders a bit. He has to report on Jimmy at regular intervals and guard the "baby" against mishaps. When McGraw bought the wonder he ordered Miller to switch O'Connell from first to the outfield and make a finished gardener of him. Which added to Miller's responsibilities. Reports from the coast say Miller is putting the finishing touches on Jim in good shape, however. Which ought to please John McGraw.

The sound of the trumpets that sounded the purchase of Jimmy O'Connell for the stupendous price of $75,000 by the Giants, has died out. O'Connell is now receiving his final course

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

CINDER STARS MEET GOPHERS AT MILL CITY

Close Contest Expected in Dual Contest Today

The Varsity track squad, all members being in fine shape after resting yesterday afternoon, left last night for Minneapolis where they will engage the University of Minnesota team in a dual contest this afternoon.

A close fight is expected from the showing made by the two teams this year. Minnesota has won from both Ames and Northwestern this season in one-sided contests; while the Badger runners gave strong opposition to the invincible Illini and decisively defeated Chicago last Saturday.

Captain Knollin of Wisconsin, conference hurdle champion, will meet one of his most dangerous opponents this afternoon in Karl Anderson. Spetz, Badger sprinter, will be pitted against Hultkranz, a speedy man in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Another interesting race will be in the one mile event when Ramsey of Wisconsin and Captain Weitzer of Minnesota will fight it out for high honors. Ramsey finished first last Saturday against Chicago in the excellent time of 4:25, but he can expect a good race from the veteran Minnesota runner.

Merrick Rates

Merrick, Badger pole vault king, should have no difficulty in winning his event providing he come up to his best performances. Hawker, a place winner in the Drake relays will be his hardest foe.

Wall and Schneider placed first and second for Wisconsin in the Chicago meet in the two mile grind and will travel the distance again today. The pair work well together and have a chance to repeat last Saturday's performance.

14 TO PLAY IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT FOR PREP MEN

Interscholastic Day to Include High School Court Contest

With 14 men entered and representing half as many schools, the tennis tournament which is to be held in connection with the 28th annual interscholastic track meet, promises to be the greatest assembly of crack high school tennis men ever held at Madison.

Although the tennis entries closed yesterday, several were expected last night and this morning, all of which will be accepted, according to Paul Bekin '24, who has charge of the tennis meet.

The entries this year far exceed those of previous years, and the revealing of high class tennis is sure. Milton Union high school appears to be the class of the entries to date. They have the advantage of practicing daily with the strong Milton college squad. Plainfield, although a small school, is conceded to have a strong team because of the great distance the men are coming to enter the tournament. Milwaukee Riverside is also expected to offer stiff opposition.

Besides the schools already mentioned, Lake Geneva, Racine, Prairie du Chien and Richland Center have sent in the entry slips. The preliminaries of the tournament will be held on Friday, May 26th while the semi-finals will be played off the following morning and the finals in the afternoon.

Accommodations will be offered to the prospective university students while they are at Madison. Two crew races will be held on Lake Mendota between the Varsity eight and the University of Manitoba; and between the junior Varsity eight and St. John's Mil-

Trigger Team Routes Yale By Telegraph

An overwhelming victory for Wisconsin resulted this afternoon at Camp Randall when the university Pistol club was matched against the crack shots of Yale through telegraphic reports. Out of a possible 2100 hits, the bullets of Wisconsin's team struck home 2039, while Yale lagged behind with a score of 1661.

The highest individual score was piled up by Harold E. Pries '25, who made 415 out of a possible 420. Roger Russell '23, captain of the team, made a score of 413; Holger F. Toftoy '22, 411; Bowman K. Breed '22, 403; and Dwight E. Aultman '22, 399. An average of 97 per cent for the team.

This is the most decided defeat that the Pistol club has inflicted upon any of its opponents since its organization several months ago. Next week they will meet the eight teams from the Big Ten universities, including Northwestern, Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, and Chicago.

West Point military academy will shoot against the Pistol club, by telegraph, at the old stone quarry near Sunset Point Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. Immediately after the meet, members of the club will compete for the U. S. expert medal.

COLLEGES WILL MEET IN TRACK THIS AFTERNOON

L. and S. Team and Agrics Scheduled to Run Close Race

The intercollegiate outdoor track meet will be held at Camp Randall at 2 o'clock this afternoon. This is the last intramural track meet of the season with the exception of the track class field day which will occur on Friday, May 26.

The L and S team which took first place in the indoor meet is the best bet for winner of the contest today, but the Agric team, which was second in the indoor meet, will run the hill men a close race due to the work of Fluek, Ed Gibson, and Cullenback. Bergstresser, L and S who recently set a new annex pace whom the hill team is relying for for the mile, is one of the men on whom the hill team is relying on first place. Tuhtar of the Commerce school is about the best man entered for the hurdles and high jump, while Widder, of the Engineering team, is a very good all around man. Smothers and Tuhtar are the two biggest competitors for first place in the high jump.

There are more entries for the 100 and 220 yard dashes than for any of the other events, and there is also more doubt as to the probable winners. There is nearly an equal number of entries from each of the four colleges which are represented: letters and science, agriculture, engineering, and commerce.

This meet promises to be one of the best at Wisconsin for some time, and a large attendance is expected.

Golfers to Meet Minnesota Today

The Wisconsin golf team will meet the University of Minnesota quartet in its second conference match of the season at Minneapolis today. Four Badgers left last night for the northern city.

Capt. "Mort" Frost, Capen, Bauer, and Stegeman will do 36 holes against one of the strongest teams in the Conference. Minnesota has an aggregation of experienced stars and it is doubtful if Wisconsin can grab a victory from them.

etary academy. Venetian night, with many water carnival events, will be the largest in the history of the university, and will take place on the evening of May 27.

CANUCKS TRAIN FOR SHELL RACE WITH WISCONSIN

Meet Badgers For First Time Here on May 27 on Mendota

(Special to Daily Cardinal.)

WINNIPEG.—American and Canadian university oarsmen will clash for the first time on May 27, when the University of Manitoba crew rows against the University of Wisconsin on Lake Mendota. The Manitoba oarsmen are training rigorously for the race, and though this will be the first time, Manitoba has rowed against university oarsmen, the coaches say that Wisconsin may expect fair competition. Selby Henderson and Frank Carruthers, two Winnipeg Rowing club oarsmen who have won American and English rowing championships, are coaching the Varsity crew, and under their training, the crew is shaping into good form.

The Manitoba rowing club is an outgrowth of the Winnipeg Rowing club, and rows the Winnipeg style of stroke, which won the regatta of the National Association of Amateur oarsmen some half dozen years ago, the last time being in 1913, when Winnipeg won 7 of the 9 events at Peoria.

Rowing has developed in the University of Manitoba only during the last two years, the first crew rowing in the Winnipeg regatta, in 1921. Crews have been entered in subsequent regattas, and have won several cups, in fours but the university eights have yet to win a race, being defeated by the senior Winnipeg crew, last fall. The eight is made up of fairly light men, but has several of considerable rowing experience.

BASKETEERS ELECT TEBELL 1922 CAPTAIN

New Team Head Has Strong Record in Athletics

Gustav K. Tebell '23, was yesterday elected captain of the 1922-23 Wisconsin basketball team. With the honor of leader given to Tebell, one of the most sterling athletes that has ever represented Wisconsin on the athletic field has been rewarded.

Two years of Varsity football, baseball, and basketball have made him a consistent athlete, always dependable, and sure to "deliver" in a pinch.

Football Too

Tebell won a berth at end on the Badger football eleven in his sophomore year. With "Red" Weston, he formed a pair of the best wingmen in the Mid-west. Last year, his playing made him the choice of many experts for All-Conference and All-Western right end.

On the basketball court, "Gus" has shown the same consistent qualities. He is one of the best back guards in the game today. Referee Fred Young selected Tebell as his All-Conference back guard. He won two "W's" in basketball under the tutelage of Coach "Doc" Meanwell.

And Baseball

Tebell is a member of the Wisconsin baseball squad also. Although not a regular, he plays in several games each season. Tebell works either behind the bat or in the outfield.

With "Rollie" Williams, "Les" Gage, Gibson, Johnson, and Irish back to support him, "Gus" will lead another pennant-contender in the Big Ten basketball race.

FRAT BASEBALL

The interfraternity baseball schedule for next week follows:

Sunday—8:00, Frosh Field, Sig. Phi Eps vs. P. A. D.

10:30—Varsity Field, Sigma Nu vs. Alpha Gamma Rho.

Tuesday—5:30, lower Campus, T. K. E. vs. Delta Sigma Phi.

5:30—Practice Field, S. A. E. vs. Alpha Pi Delta.

All games will be seven innings. Other games can not be arranged because divisions have not yet been determined.

of the invading team, and it is probable that he will draw the mound assignment this afternoon. He will be remembered by Wisconsin fans as having played basketball here last winter.

The outcome of today's game will decide, to a great extent, the position that the Badgers will occupy in the rating of teams at the end of the session. A defeat would put Wisconsin down among the second division clubs, but a win will leave them as a claimant to one of the runner-up places.

The date of the Northwestern game here has been set back a day to Saturday, June 3. It is possible that Coach Lowman will take his team to Chicago on Tuesday to meet the Maroons in a postponed game. The date has been suggested by the Maroons, but has not yet been definitely accepted by the local athletic department.
