Last Hour' Rally Ends Dorm Duke Campaign

"B. O." O'Brien, "Killer" Grant, and "Lazy John" Heinsohn wound up their Dorm Duke campaigns last night in characteristic fashion. The Duke candidates presented entertainment—in their manner—behind the Hise dining hall in last hour efforts to get support for their candidates.

"B. O." O'Brien was brought on the stage in a bathtub, washing

Girl's Condition Called 'Good'

Police Call Leap Attempt on Life

The freshman co-ed who jumped off the Villa Maria pier Monday night is listed as a suicide attempt in the Madison police bulletin, police told the Cardinal last night. She is a minor.

Dr. John Brown, director of student health, said the girl will remain in the student infirmary through today and probably be released Thursday. He said she was "not in bad condition" and was treated for fatigue and chilling.

The girl was saved from drowning in Lake Mendota by Andrew Leith and Phil Ash of Psi Upsilon house, and by two other men. Ash, Leith, and another man rowed about 30 yards from shore to pick up the girl who was clinging to a buoy with the other man who swam out to save her. Police then took her to Wisconsin General hospital.

Huitt Hits Politics, Pressure Groups In Talk To YGOP

Ralph Huitt, professor of political science, said that "pressure groups with great resources sometimes exert more power and influence than special parties in formulating public policy for our government" at a meeting of the Young Republicans last night.

In speaking of the influence of pressure groups, Professor Huitt told the Young Republicans that political parties are concerned not with policy-making, but rather with capturing positions and electing officials. However, more policy is now made by pressure groups whose great resources cannot be matched by other groups.

Professor Huitt also commented on the corrupt connotations formerly attached to the term "lobbying" which have now been eliminated as a result of switching from individual to group control.

Huitt concluded his talk by saying that "our solution now would be to strengthen national parties to think as a whole in the general interest of the public, rather than to let partial interests formulate public policy."

Bureau to Receive Fraternity Movie

The Inter-Fraternity Council (IF) decided last night to turn the IF movie over to the Bureau of Visual Instruction after a close vote at its meeting at the Zeta Beta Tau house.

The movie a picture of fraternity living at Wisconsin was finished last fall at a cost of approximately $300. The movie was shown at the Big Ten IF conference at Michigan state by President Jack Pelisek.

Pelisek announced that the IF council beat the Men's Halls Association cabinet at baseball last Sunday.

The committee chairmen for Greek Week next fall were announced. Ellen Nyhus, Pi Beta Phi, and Bill Gorham, Sigma Nu, share the general chairmanship. Publicity and promotions co-chairmen will be William Kuhns, Sigma Phi, and William Grunow, Phi Gamma Delta.

away the traces of his recent stigma. Ken Raddin, his MC, entertained the audience of over 500 with his impersonations—assisted by a seven piece Dixieland combo.

The "Killer," emceed by Dick Bargans, staged a skit of guys and gals, "rubbing out" several followers and bidding goodbye to an "eliminated" Joe Hammerhead before being chastised by his gun carrying "mother."

"Lazy John" entered in his sedan chair, carried by eight of the faithful. His show featured four "representatives" of the fairer sex, one of whom, Marion Boehm, stopped the show as an All-American girl.

"Lazy John" was too tired to speak for himself; Jerry Maeder was his spokesman. Jerry Liss was master of ceremonies for the final campaign rally.

Candidate Bob "B.O." O'Brien, Gilman house, was "exiled" by his house last Thursday after a trial on charges of "B.O." O'Brien camped on picnic point until late Monday, flashing a night light that was visible in the dorm area. A triumphant return was executed last night after a group of girls from Elizabeth Waters hall staged a raid Monday on Gilman house to protest his ouster. O'Brien returned Tuesday via surfboard, was met by a Dixieland band, and has been reinstated at Gilman house.

Board Urges Audit of 200 Accounts Under Hilsenhoff

Request Certified Accountant As Student Financial Advisor

By LOUISE ARNOLD

An audit of the accounts of the more than 200 student organizations handled by Ray Hilsenhoff, student financial adviser, was urged by student board last night.

Board's recommendations were to be sent in a letter to Pres. E. B. Fred today. The recommendations were formulated by Art Laun, former board treasurer.

In addition to the immediate audit, the board asked:

- That the student financial adviser shall be a certified public accountant.
- An increase in the staff of Hilsenhoff's office.
- A semi-annual outside audit by a CPA or the state auditor.
- Prohibition of the holding by the student financial adviser of any pecuniary interest in any business wholly or partially dependent upon revenue from student organizations as such.

Clarification of this last recommendation is given in the letter to Pres. Fred. "There is some concern expressed as to the connection between the Campus Publishing Co. and the Adviser (Hilsenhoff), and of the internal situation of the Campus Publishing Co., itself."

The letter explains that the board is "in no way making any charge of criminal acts or negligence in connection with the Adviser's duties."

Art Laun, who originated the recommendations, said he believed that if the suggestions were put into effect, "a great deal of the misunderstanding involving student accounts handled by the student financial adviser's office may be clarified."

Board's letter claimed that the (continued on back page)

Basic ROTC Students OK For Army OCS

A plan to give preference for consideration for army officer's candidate training to students who have completed basic ROTC has been put into effect by the university's military science department.

Under the plan a student who completes basic ROTC but does not enter advanced ROTC may obtain a certificate attesting to his eligibility to enter any officer candidate school, provided he meets the army's physical and mental qualifications.

According to Col. Winfred G. Skelton, army ROTC commandant, the certificate will ordinarily be used for the branch to which the soldier is assigned after he completes basic training.

"However, if a man is qualified for another branch, the certificate will be considered there, too," he said.

He emphasized that the certificate does not assure anyone of admission to officers' training, but only provides preferential consideration for such training.

"But you'll have a better chance of getting the branch you want if you volunteer instead of waiting to be drafted," he said.

"Students who have completed basic army ROTC can also use the certificate if they enlist in the navy or air force," said Col. Skelton. "But they won't carry as much weight as they would in the army."

Summer Cardinal Posts Now Open

Applications for positions on the summer Daily Cardinal staff are now being accepted. Anyone interested in working on the paper this summer should apply at the Cardinal office before Monday, May 21.

No previous experience on the Cardinal staff is necessary, but previous journalistic experience is advisable.

Positions open are editor, associate editor, sports editor, society editor, three news editors, and general staff assignments.

Extreme Poverty Main World Problem -- Thomas

By JIM DICKSON

Norman Thomas, six-times a Socialist candidate for the presidency, said last night in the Union theater that the U. S. must proceed in terms of armed strength to deter war. "All we are doing is buying time," he said, "but in that time we must wage a co-operative war against world poverty."

Thomas returned last week from a trip to India and Europe. He spoke at length on the conditions in Asia and Western Europe, deplored the problems that have arisen from the present world crisis, and the failure to find solutions.

Thomas said that the nations involved in the present rearmament race have been obliged to overlook their domestic poverty.

"Desperate poverty is the main problem. We must have an answer better than mere negativism. It is hard to answer the problem in a world engrossed in a cold war" he said.

The 69 year old Socialist commended the effects of Marshall Plan aid and ECA.

"It has restored conditions where Communism and Fascism might have been bred," he said.

Thomas said he found a strange paradox in his recent travels abroad. He said that while the backward nations need American capital, "they fear the control that would come with it."

NORMAN THOMAS, Socialist candidate in six presidential elections, spoke to an estimated 700 listeners last night in the Union theater. Thomas returned recently from a trip to India and Western Europe.

AT A GLANCE

FROM THE WIRES OF THE UNITED PRESS

Edited by Stan Zuckerman and Nancy Playman

THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS have launched powerful attacks on South Korean troops defending the eastern flank of the UN line.

The Reds reoccupied the vital hub of Inje and stepped up probing attacks all along the front. Heavy Chinese forces swarmed across the Pukhan and Choyang Rivers and have moved into strategic positions in central Korea.

A UP spokesman at the front reports that the attacks were covered by one of the heaviest Communist artillery barrages of the war. He says that they are "mounting in fury". Allied officers still are not certain the enemy attack in the east means the spring offensive has been resumed with its full force.

REPUBLICAN SENATORS, led by Wayne Morse of Oregon, are considering the possibility of a contempt citation against General Omar Bradley for refusing to tell senate investigators about his talks with President Truman just prior to Gen. MacArthur's ouster.

Bradley argued that the talks were a private matter, and committee chairman Richard Russell of Georgia agreed. The Republicans, however, say they don't want Bradley's refusal to set a precedent. Shortly after the hearing broke up a meeting was held to consider the matter. The Republicans appointed Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan to make a legal study of possible precedents for overriding Russell's ruling.

Bradley, speaking on the MacArthur controversy, said the former Far Eastern commander's program for expanding the Korean war would involve the United States "in the wrong war, at the wrong place, at the wrong time, and with the wrong enemy."

A CONGRESSIONAL RESOLUTION calling for an embargo on the flow of strategic goods to Communist China was unanimously passed by both the senate and the house yesterday. Concurrent with the senate amendment asking for withholding of American aid to nations selling war goods to Red China, was a speech by British UN delegate, Sir Gladwyn Jebb, denying General MacArthur's charge that Great Britain had been supplying China with strategic goods.

Great Britain's shipments of rubber to Communist China made very little difference in the Chinese war effort. Jebb told the New York bar association yesterday. Jebb pointed out that much of this rubber is used for civilian products. He added that China could get all the rubber it needed from Indonesia should Britain stop shipments.

British interest in the far east is not primarily commercial, he continued. Besides the British troops fighting in Korea, Jebb said Britain had a far larger force fighting communism in Malaya.

Players to Begin 'Heiress' Tryouts

Tryouts for "The Heiress", the first summer production of the Wisconsin Players, will be held today and Thursday at 3:30 and 7:30 p. m. in the Twelfth Night room of the Union.

Frederick A. Buerki is casting and directing the show which is a dramatization of Henry James' "Washington Square".

"The Heiress" will open the summer playbill July 5, 6, and 7, and will be followed by Shakespeare's "Love's Labour's Lost," July 19, 20, 21; Emlyn Williams' "A Murder Has Been Arranged," August 2, 3, 4; and Moss Hart's "Light Up the Sky," August 9, 10, 11.

Debaters Rate High in Finale

The university debate team wound up its forensics season at the Big Ten Debate League Congress in Iowa City on May 11 and 12. This year a legislative session complete with committee hearings, caucusing, and parliamentary debate replaced the usual formal debate tournament.

The subject was the rearmament of Western Germany. The congress passed a resolution favoring rearmament.

Bob Hayes, Tom Luedtke, and Don Hamm were rated as superior committee speakers. Dick Olson and Don Hamm were considered superior advocates of specific solutions. Julie Crane and Bob Hayes were rated excellent advocates.

For their overall performance, Bob Hayes and Don Hamm were rated as superior participants. Dick Olson and Tom Luedtke were Judged as excellent participants. Other Wisconsin participants were Paula Cornish and Frieda Briskin. Dr. Winston L. Brembeck, Director of Debate, and John B. Ellery, assistant director accompanied the team.

CHEMICAL AND METALLURGICAL PROGRAM is for chemists and chemical and metallurgical engineers.

ON "TEST"—popular name for Student Engineering Program, by which most engineers enter G.E.

Four broad avenues by which college graduates begin careers with General Electric . . .

Both the individual and the company learn a lot when a college graduate enrolls in one of these four basic General Electric training programs.

The individual orients himself in the company's products, organization and problems. By rotating through varied job assignments he determines the work that most appeals to him and to which he can make the greatest contribution. Many students go from these courses to training in advanced engineering, sales, manufacturing, etc.

The company learns about the individual's abilities and capacities. The training programs are a major means of recognizing young people of creative ability, of making sure they move ahead to ever more challenging assignments.

A large percentage of General Electric's top scientists, specialists, and managers of today began their careers in company-conducted training programs.

Times Survey On Academic Freedom Should Hit Home

AN EXTENSIVE POLLING of college and university campuses throughout the nation has just been completed by the New York Times. The subject: academic freedom.

Times reporter, Kalman Siegel, talked to student body presidents, deans, and other school officials. He found the already purported incidents of violations of free expression were not just scattered cases. Siegel discovered a widespread "creeping paralysis" of fear that is threatening to envelope our centers of higher education.

A Times editorial last Friday summed up the findings of the survey and commented:

"TWENTY OR 30 years ago one criticism of the American college student was that he was not politically minded. Those were the days of "Joe College", who cheered the team, ate goldfish and took his four undergraduate years as a happy prolongation of boyhood.

"Then the fashion changed, at least for a conspicuous minority. A number of factors, including the depression, the rise of Hitlerism and the policy of appeasement, produced left-wingers, some of whom carried Communist party cards.

"Now...the pendulum in some colleges has swung the other way. 'McCarthyism' has scared some students and some professors, who are afraid to be 'liberal' lest they somehow be associated with that black reaction that goes under the name of communism.

"The drift is not all in one direction. Mr. Siegel found plenty of evidence of a 'reluctance to speak out on controversial items in and out of class,' an unwillingness to join political clubs, even a degree of ostracism of those who were considered to be too outspoken.

"He found also, 'among college administrators, faculties and students, a small but alert and growing army of defenders of free inquiry and free speech, pressing with vigor against repression.'

THE SURVEY SHOULD hit home in many ways. It should be a warning, too, that past attempts to whittle away the meaning of the university's pledge to "continual and fearless sifting and winnowing" in search of truth must not be continued.

Notice: Contact Mrs. Laird Before Speaking for Regents

AN INTERESTING QUESTION was posed by Regent Helen Laird at last week's board of regents meeting.

Mrs. Laird said she'd "like to know just who speaks for the regents when it is said the regents are opposed to this or the regents are opposed to that. Often, I'm not opposed to those things at all."

One of the things she was referring to, Mrs. Laird said, was a recent comment by a faculty member that the regents are "anxious to avoid bringing controversial figures to the campus."

Mrs. Laird's only reply to this one was: "That's silly!"

IN VIEW OF THESE facts, we suggest that in the future those who wish to comment on regent sentiment contact Mrs. Laird before making their statements.

THANKS

FROM WSSF

To the Cardinal:

It is with deep appreciation and sincere thanks that we acknowledge receipt of $2600 forwarded by Kenneth Reich, and representing this year's contribution from the students and faculty at the University of Wisconsin to the work of World Student Service Fund. In accordance with a request made earlier in the year by the student service and relief commission, 50 per cent of your contribution will be used to assist students at the University of Marburg.

This has been a difficult year and it appears that we will not be able to reach the goal we set for ourselves at the outset of the year. We know, however, that the committee on your campus did its very best. We, your staff, shall continue to the best of our ability to meet the most urgent needs of students throughout the world, with the funds that have been made available.

What does this mean in actual fact? It means that students without books in Indonesia will have a mimeograph machine to reproduce their notes; that destitute students in Bombay will receive medical and food service through the facilities of our national committee there; that potentially ill students will be admitted to the Comblouz Rest Centre for a period of rest and recuperation; that T.B. students in Japan will receive multi vitamin pills; that needy Yugoslav students will receive medicines and educational equipment.

In each instance as we attempt to alleviate the conditions which exist, we do so in ways calculated to have the greatest long range effect preferably by encouraging self-help projects which multiply the original gift. In addition to the WSSF projects both ongoing and emergency, we have undertaken, by request, to assist in the UNESCO-CARE book program and the UNESCO gift coupon plan which is designed to provide much needed scientific and audio-visual equipment.

The continued support of the work of WSSF by Wisconsin students and faculty not only makes possible the work of educational relief and reconstruction, but continues to strengthen the faith of others all over the world in American students and professors as members of a world university community.

FUNDS FOR RONNIE

From Lawrence, Kas. we hear of a scholarship fund drive for Ronnie. Ronnie was injured in an auto accident in which his parents and sister were killed in April. The students at Kansas university and the Lawrence Journal-World thus far have raised over $1,000 for the fund, which will be turned over to the all-student council scholarship fund for Ronnie.

SUSPEND 10 RAIDERS

May week raiders at Ohio State university were caught in the act of their senseless and harmful fun the other day. They vandalized one of the Ohio State halls and attempted entering one of the women's dormitories. The women, however, discouraged this. Six of the raiders were given suspended costs when they appeared in court while four others were apprehended, and later released with no charges.

HOT-RODS AND ONE ARMED WILLIES

We at Wisconsin have student problems. However, Ball State college, at Muncie, Ind., has a problem which we haven't adopted here. A recent article in the Ball State News explained the matter thus:

"With the advent of spring comes the rebirth of the hot-rod, the heavy footed maniac and the one-armed Willie. The hot-rod is self explanatory, it is usually a souped-up crate that possesses not much more than the bare essentials that qualify it to even dare think of having the right on the road. The heavy-footed maniac is the unhappy motorist who curses his car because it won't go 70 in low gear. The one-armed Willie's, well, is it really necessary to go into that?"

HEROISM IN LAKE TRAGEDY

May 4 a navy jet fighter crashed into Lake Michigan offshore the Northwestern campus. With courageous valor, several Northwestern students shared the national spotlight focused on the scene by attempting to rescue the victims from three different disasters.

After the LCVP capsized and left the crew drifting in the surf, a member of the NU swimming squad plunged twice into the pounding waves to make successful rescues. When the two seamen drifted close to the breakwaters offshore, he swam 200 feet with a tow line to haul one seaman ashore. He returned immediately and supported a second victim until both were picked up by a rescue life boat.

Three of NU's NROTC midshipmen, with an undersized life raft also made unsuccessful attempts to rescue the pilot of the plane. Using boards for paddles the trio battled the waves for half an hour without reaching the struggling aviator. For their part in the rescue, all three suffered exposure and were taken to Evanston city hospital.

Eight other crew members of the plane were rescued after drifting 25 minutes, the Daily Northwestern reported.

QUEST FOR KNOWLEDGE?

The University of Hawaii librarian revealed to the Ka Lea O Hawaii, the student newspaper, that 1500 books and magazines have been stolen from the UH library.

He explained that "many books on 'orchid culture' have been taken out and not returned, and that the demand for these publications reached such a point that they were put on closed shelves, because articles cut from the orchid journals spoil the whole set."

He also pointed out that UH is the only sizeable state university which permits its undergraduates to have access to its government stacks.

DUPLEX RATHOLE

An ad in a recent issue of the Harvard Crimson read as follows: Summer sublet—ideal 5½-room duplex rathole, one-half block from graduate center. Kitchen, bath, utterly furnished. Superb sack for three or four. No Russians.

PETERING OUT

A recent letter printed in the Daily Californian read:

To the Editor:

It happened as we were traveling thru a quaint rustic part of Connecticut. As we were lost, we stopped to ask our way of a quaint, rustic-looking old timer. After having exchanged howdies and finding that we were only a few miles from the main road, we got to talking.

It seems that our friend was not the farmer he appeared to be, but the truth was that he was a retired naval man who had once sailed gloriously on the seven seas. When he saw that we were puzzled to see a good old salt living in retirement so far removed from the ocean, he explained his position to us this way: "Well, son, it's this way; when I was gettin' along in age I didn't look forward to leavin' a sailor's life."

Then I remembered an old song from my naval school. It went like this: 'Old salts never die; they just peter out.'

A pleasure to the listener which was marred only slightly by an occasional loss of dynamic balance between Mr. Kolisch's violin and Mr. Johansen's piano, which had the effect of reducing the solo part to obligato status.

Bernard Milofsky, Pro Arte violinist, enhanced the rather sombre, austere "Elegy for unaccompanied Viola," by Igor Stravinsky with a soft, lush tone slightly inconsistent with the severe solemnity of the Baroque-echoing work. "Quatre Visages," a suite for viola and piano by Darius Milhaud of "Les Six" fame (a suite whose second movement is obscurely entitled "The Wisconsinian" and leads one to wonder what he is doing with "Le Californienne, La Bruxelloise, and La Parisienne"), completed a rare concert that added up to a mature, satisfying musical experience.

Concert Commemorates Israel's Third Anniversary of Freedom

By DON MARINO

With the rare combination of tasteful programming and superlative performance, campus artists-in-residence appeared in a concert commemorating the third anniversary of Israel's independence at Beth Israel Center Monday night. Gunnar Johansen's graceful interpretation of Bach's calmly lyrical chorale prelude, "Nun komm, der Heilige Heiland," opened a program which featured Rudolph Kolisch, Bernard Milofsky and Bettina Bjorksten.

Arias by Haendel, Mozart and a chamber group by Gustave Mahler were sung by Mme. Bjorksten with a graciousness of presence and a depth of feeling quite exceptional. A particular empathy for the subtly generating Mahler music, which has only recently been gaining a wider hearing, gave power and conviction to her performance.

Pro Arte leader Rudolph Kolisch presented Beethoven's Kreutzer so-

Beta Theta Pi Beats DKEs for League Title

Sigma Nu in 3-2 Win Over Theta Delt

By AL DeCESARO

Beta Theta Pi won its sixth consecutive victory by whipping Delta Kappa Epsilon, 12-6 for the Division 1 crown at the intramural fields yesterday afternoon.

The undefeated Beas jumped to an early 2-0 lead when pitcher Bill Buechl homered in the first inning with two men on base. Elliot Meisenheimer pitched four innings for Buechl who suffered a sore arm.

John Malinowski, Jim Petrie, and Meisenheimer paced the Beta hitting attack each pounding out three hits in four times at bat. Jim Hammond turned in a good fielding job at short stop for the winners.

Sigma Nu came from behind to edge Theta Delta Chi, 3-2. Sigma Nu pitcher Marilyn Mennen allowed five scattered hits to the Theta Delta Chi team. Ed Marty hit a line drive home run in the first inning for the Theta Delt.

Alpha Delta Phi defeated Phi Gamma Delta 4-2, for their fifth straight win without a loss. A home run for the Alpha Deltas by Charley Carpenter in the fourth inning gave them the game winning margin. Hap Johnson was the winning pitcher hurling effective ball for the Alpha Deltas.

Theta Chi Frank Kanardk hit a home run in the third inning to start off a seven run rally which sparked his team to a 9-4 win over Alpha Epsilon Pi. Butch Wolf hit a triple for Alpha Epsilon Pi in the second inning with two men on.

Delta Tau Delta squeezed a 5-3 win from Delta Upsilon, with the help of Tom Owen's home run with a man on base. Dick Pope of Delta Upsilon had two solid hits.

Phi Sigma Delta outslugged Phi Epsilon Kappa 15-14 for their fifth consecutive win of the season. The Phi Sigma Delta team scored eleven runs in the first inning and coasted on to victory. Sheldon Schnoll had three timely hits in four times at bat. He accounted for four Phi Sigma Delta runs batted in. Phi Epsilon Kappa scored four runs in a last inning rally, but fell one run short of sending the game into extra innings. The Phi Sigma Delta win assures them of at least a tie for first place, in sixth division play. One more game remains on the Phi Sigma Delta schedule before the playoffs.

Squad to Fly to Columbus Saturday

Card Trackmen Test Buckeyes Before Big 10 Meet

By BUD LEA

Assistant Sports Editor

Badger trackmen will fly to Columbus Saturday morning to test the Ohio State Buckeyes in a final preparation for the Big Ten conference meet at Northwestern, May 25-26.

Although the Buckeyes lost to a strong Illini squad, 94-38 at Champaign Saturday, Coach Riley Best expects the Wisconsin-Ohio State meet to be "reasonably close."

"We're a little better off in the weights, two mile, hurdles, and jumping events," said Best. "The Buckeyes appear stronger in the pole vault, sprints, middle distances, and the mile."

Best had in mind two top pole vaulters when he mentioned Jerry Welbourn and Roger Bruney of Ohio State. Both boys have cleared 13' 6" this season.

Another Buckeye which will probably give the Badgers a good run is Len Truex. Best considers him the "best miler" in the conference today. Champion of the Big Ten indoor meet, Truex was one of the few runners to beat Don Gehrman this spring.

Gene Cole, who holds the national high school record of .48 in the 440, may be used in the sprints. Cole beat Wisconsin's Collins in the indoor meet; but the Badger's .48.3

performance in Saturday's meet against Purdue is the fastest time in the 440 of the season.

Best was impressed over the Card mile relay team which ran a 3:19 Saturday. This is another dual meet time which is the fastest for the Big Ten so far this year. Besides Collin's 48.1 anchor leg, Sam Greenlee ran a 50.9, and Don Soe was clocked at 50.3 in the relay event.

Jim Englander and Roy Burks, absent from Saturday's meet with pulled muscles, should be ready to go against Ohio State. Walt Deike, who took a medical exam last week, will also be ready.

Badger '9' Travels to Iowa City, Meet Hawks Friday, Saturday

Wins Needed For Crown

Wisconsin's baseball team takes to the road again this weekend when it travels to Iowa City to face the eighth place Iowa Hawkeyes in single games on Friday and Saturday.

The Badgers are currently in a three way tie for third place with Indiana and Illinois with a 4-3 record. A double victory over the Hawks would anchor Wisconsin in the first division and keep alive any title hopes.

Iowa is not as bad a ball club as its record of 3-6 indicates. In team fielding and batting the Hawks rank above the Badgers, but Iowa's pitching hasn't been as effective as Wisconsin's.

Coach Otto Vogel, now in his 24th year as Hawk mentor, has nine lettermen back this season including three pitchers and a complete outfield. The only major losses suffered through graduation last June were pitcher Dick Hoeksema, second baseman Jack Dittmer, and outfielder Murland Moran.

Heading the group of veterans are pitcher Glenn Drahahn, catcher and captain John Dinzole, infielders Merlin Kurt and Bob Christoph. The three returning outfielders are Chuck Cebuhar, George Hand and Rex Vana.

The Hawk's one, two pitching combination of Glenn Drahahn and James Riedesel, each with a 1-2 record, have been hit hard in Big Ten competition. In 24 innings, Drahahn has given up 26 runs, 38 hits and issued 14 bases on balls. Riedesel, in 23 frames has been nicked for 19 runs and 29 safeties. He has yielded only four free passes.

If either Drahahn or Riedesel doesn't go against the Badgers, then Hawk coach Vogel will probably use his new ace, 6'4" sophomore Bob Diehl, who defeated Illinois' George Maier Monday afternoon, 4-3. Diehl allowed only five scattered hits while his teammates touched Maier for seven, handing him his first conference setback.

All three of the Hawk's wins have been notched by the margin of a single run. Besides their 4-3 triumph over the Illini, they defeated Michigan earlier in the season by 4-3 and 10-9 decisions.

Before this past weekend's game, Iowa was second to Illinois in team fielding with a mark of .947. For the same period the team was hitting .241, three points higher than the mark held by the Badgers.

Leading the Hawks at the plate is Rex Vana with a .429 mark, while Bob Christoph has a .308 mark and Duane Brandt and George Hand, both outfielders, have .294 averages.

Sparking the defensive infield for Iowa is first baseman Merlin Kurt, who last season handled 236 chances without an error and batted .239. So far this season Kurt has been in a terrific batting slump.

Badger Crews Plan Exhibition

Wisconsin's varsity and junior varsity crews will put on a one mile race exhibition Saturday at 10.

Although he is not satisfied with the varsity's showing in trimming Columbia and Rutgers last Saturday, Coach Norm Sonju will be shifting his line-up again this week in an effort to generate more power in his top boat.

By Saturday he hopes to have the line-ups set for the California races May 26.

The Badgers' as yet unbeaten frosh shell, twice victors over St. John's Military Academy, will take on Lincoln Park boat club of Chicago at 11 Saturday.

Both races will be held on a one mile Lake Mendota course, which begins in university bay and ends at the breakwater behind the Armory.

Purdue's newly formed student rowing club is coming to Madison Saturday to workout with the Badgers. Coach Sonju plans to put the visitors in the Wisconsin boats for the workouts.

Ivy Announces Captains For Saturday Game

Coach Ivy Williamson announced late yesterday that Quarterback Johnny Coatta and halfback Eddie Withers will co-captain the Cardinal squad Saturday, while Rollie Strehlow, running at fullback, and end Hal Favery, will lead the White squad.

The officials for the game were also announced. They are:

Referee, Rollie Barnum; Umpire, Joe Conway; Field Judge, Sam Hake; and Head Linesman Art Morrow.

The intra-squad game, beginning at 3:15 p.m., will conclude the spring drills for the grid squad.

Tickets may be purchased for 5 cents, with a coupon book, Gates 6, and 7 will be the only ones open for the game.

End coach Paul Shaw and his scout Fred Marsh will handle the Cardinals while the Whites will be coached by backfield coach Bob Odell and line coach Milt Bruha.

The teams were announced earlier by Williamson.

Former Card Cager Dies in Mishap; Played in 30's

Wisconsin basketball fans and coaches lost a friend early yesterday when John A. Paul, 43, president of the Milton Junction bank, was killed instantly in a car-truck collision on Highway 12-18.

Mr. Paul, who was on the 1930 championship basketball team along with Coach Bud Foster, was a native of Milton Junction. Following his graduation from Wisconsin, he became associated with his father in the bank.

The former Badger cager was a guard during his college days, but had played at the forward spot during high school. Mr. Paul was co-captain of the 1930-31 team with another guard, Ted Chmielewski. The coach of the quintet was Walter "Doc" Meanwell.

On Thursday morning, January 23, 1930, the day before a "hotly contested basketball game," The Cardinal sports editor said this of the two starting guards:

Chmielewski, at back guard, will carry out his regular duties with the brand of dribbling, pivoting and passing that makes him an invaluable cog in the defensive work. Paul will act as running guard, and contribute plenty with his pivoting efforts.

Wisconsin won the game, 23-21, over Indiana. The two Badger guards contributed seven points.

Mr. Paul is survived by his wife, one daughter, and a sister, also of Milton Junction. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at the Paul home. Burial will be in Milton Junction.

HENRY L. EWANKIN, professor of speech at the University of Wisconsin, will give the Phi Beta Kappa address at Albion College, Michigan, May 16, the university announced today.

He will speak on "Freedom of Speech in Times of Crisis." From 1946 to 1948 he was vice president of the American Association of University Professors and a member of the committee on academic freedom and tenure.

Duke . . .

(Continued from page 1) attempted a "hold-up" of the MHA store Tuesday. With four armed henchmen in a "blood" spattered coupe, the "Killer" drove up the service entrance to the store, but was stopped by "Joe Hammersley" and two "guards," also armed.

The law enforcement officers stopped the get-away car with a barricade of laundry baskets, but after a "gun battle" in which a second carload of Grant men "killed" the "cops" and stuck the bodies in the car trunk, "Killer" and his men got away. Candidate "Lazy John" Heinsohn, Chamberlain house, attempted to help the "cops," shooting at Grant's men with a squirrel gun. Vilas house reports no casualties.

"Lazy John's" campaign consisted of the raffle, a sedan-chair procession up Bascom hill Monday noon, and a torchlight parade Monday night in the dorm area. In the raffle, a date with co-ed Elaine Krause, Barnard hall, was won by Glen Pesch, Swenson house. "Lazy John," whose monicker derives from the assertion it took Chamberlain men 45 minutes to wake up and tell him he was a Duke candidate, passed out numbered blotters in the dorms Monday. Miss Krause drew a number from a hat Monday night to select the winner.

Winner of the Dorm Duke campaign will reign at the "Dormsylvania" dance in Great Hall of the Union Friday night.

Board . . .

(Continued from page 1) January financial statement for the Wisconsin Student association "contained upwards of 20 errors, all of them due to improper handling and/or inadequate attention, the result of which was a financial statement which was useless for all practical purposes."

The board further recommended that "immediate action be taken with respect to the audit so that the financial records may be obtained in substantially their present form."

In two very close votes, board elected to "support the decision of the faculty to return to the basic provisions of the Big Ten conference by prohibiting (1) Post-season athletic contests and (2) freshman participation in inter-collegiate athletics." The former refers to the Rose Bowl game.

Board urged unanimously, upon recommendation by Art Laun, that a plan be put into effect which would withhold a certain fee, probably 50 cents, from the tuition of each student to meet expenses of the WSA. This would replace the
