The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

He Made Man

When Jesus began, he made man and he made him out of mud and then cooked it. But it was such a short while when he stopped the cooking that his body was too white and he called him the white man. Then he again made another man out of mud. He cooked this one too long and called him the black man. Then he made another man of mud and cooked it for just the right time and he called him Oneida.
