DISTANCE MEN IN BIG 10 RUN ON SATURDAY

Thirteen Teams Entered in Big Cross Country Meet

With the Big Ten cross-country meet carded for Saturday, November 19, at Urbana, Ill., the Wisconsin hill and dale men are working out daily in preparation for the annual western long distance classic.

Coach G. T. Bresnahan sent the squad through a fairly fast three mile trial Saturday which was won by Noble, and the Badger coach is leaving nothing undone in his efforts to repeat the Wisconsin victory in the 1919 conference meet.

The Wisconsin sextet which will probably face the starter's gun at Urbana will be composed of W. E. Brothers, '21; W. L. Dayton, '21; H. C. Dennis, '21; R. A. Noble, '23; G. C. Wade, '23; M. H. Wall, '22, with G. C. Fille, '22; R. B. Powell, '22; F. A. Zielsky, '22; R. O. Blodgett, '23, held in reserve.

Thirteen squads have been entered in the meet, ten from the members of the Big Ten conference, Illinois, Michigan, Purdue, Indiana, Chicago, Minnesota, Iowa, Northwestern, Ohio State, Wisconsin, and three teams from the Missouri Valley country meet which was run off last Saturday, with all three of these squads well up in the running.

"The strongest teams which Wisconsin will run up against," said Bresnahan yesterday afternoon, "are the two conference teams, Purdue and Michigan, with Ames having as good a chance as any to annex the title. Ames won the western championship last year, and Purdue has defeated both Illinois and Michigan this season."

The race will be held over a four and one half mile cinder course which will be to the advantage of Wisconsin runners, especially Dayton and Wall. The course is very level with only two small hills, and according to Coach Bresnahan, was just made to order for the Badger pack.

TICKETS SELL FAST FOR CHICAGO GAME

About 2,300 tickets for the Wisconsin-Chicago football game, November 20, were sold at the gym yesterday. The sale reopens and will continue from 9 till 12 and from 2 till 4 daily until Wednesday at 9 a. m., today, when 500 $3.00 and 200 $2.50 seats will be put on sale.

Eleven hundred $1.00 seats are expected from Chicago but have not yet arrived. Twenty box seats will also be available.

The athletic department will have, altogether, about 4,500 seats available for Wisconsin students. The game is the occasion for Chicago's homecoming and Stagg field will be filled to capacity. Students are limited to two tickets each, and application for more than this number must be approved by Coach T. E. Jones. Fee cards must be presented at purchase of tickets.

Sections K and N in which the $3.00 seats are located extend up to the 50 yard line; section E includes the $2.50 seats as far as the 40 yard line and sections A, B, C, and D of $2.00 seats to the 35 yard line. Sections K and L have been reserved for Wisconsin alumni and are being sold at Chicago.

SHORT!

Deans of Women Ponder
Matter of Abbreviated Attire

A puff of icy wind and the co-ed's skirts dance mischievously upwards. Despairing sighs are heard of "how immodest."

At least, so thinks Dean Jessie A. Ladd, dean of women at the University of Minnesota. Under her direction, a campaign will be started there to mold public opinion against the abbreviated apparel.

F. Louise Nardin, dean of women, does not think such measures are necessary at Wisconsin, however.

"Short skirts are inartistic, and when also scant, are additionally objectionable. The only true reason for censure is that short skirts are not pleasing to the eye. However, it is unnecessary for Wisconsin to start a campaign for longer skirts, since very few women here violate the laws of good taste by going to extremes," she said yesterday.

"Extremely short skirts are in poor taste, but most women on the hill are reasonable in this respect. Women who dress extremely do not represent true Wisconsin ideals," said Isabelle Bacon.

Students as a whole dress moderately and modern sentiments are not in favor of extreme dress of any kind.

DRAMATIC READER WILL APPEAR IN "MY LADY'S RING"

Katherine Jewell Everts Has Specialized in Voice
Training

"My Lady's Ring," which Miss Katherine Jewell Everts will read Thursday, November 18, in 165 Bascom hall, in her first appearance before a Madison audience, is a three act comedy written especially for Miss Everts by Alice Brown, author of "Children of Earth," the $10,000 prize play of three years ago.

This is considered to be one of the most charming of Miss Everts' programs, although her versatility in dramatic work makes her repertoire, covering a wide range of lecture and recital material, excellent throughout.

Miss Everts' work in the training of the human voice is unique and has gained for her a large following. Her keen interest in vocal expression has led her from active work on the stage into the educational phase of dramatic work, so that she now lectures preferably under auspices which give promise of influencing teaching methods.

Wisconsin is one of the few large universities in America, from Columbia to the University of California, in both of which she conducted special courses, in which Miss Everts' series of lecture-recitals, "Imagination and Speech," and "The Dramatic Instinct," which she has been giving in Chicago for the National Council of Teachers of English, as well as the title of her book, "The Speaking Voice," are indicative of the type of work which Miss Everts does.

FROSH WOMEN WIN INTER-CLASS SWIM

The freshman women's swimming team won the first victory of the swimming season over the seniors by a score of 28-8 last night in the Lathrop tank. The juniors defeated the sophomores with a scoring of 20-16.

The scores have been fixed without including the diving because of some difficulty in ascertaining the correct grades.

The meet consisted of breast-stroke, side-stroke, crawl, and back-stroke heats.

STATE IS PAYING $50,000 FUND TO BONUS STUDENTS

No Waiting Line This Year, as Banks Are Handling Pay
Checks

The distribution of a payroll of nearly $50,000 to some 1,200 eager bonus students who have been waiting since the opening of school began yesterday. In contrast to the opening day last year, there was no long waiting in line yesterday; for about half of the men had assigned their drafts for deposit in local banks, the staffs of which worked overtime last night posting the many accounts.

The bursar requires each applicant for a bonus draft to identify himself, the necessary password being the serial number appearing on the retained portion of the approval card. Drafts not called for at the bursar's office today or Wednesday will be held until Monday of next week, when they may be called for at 151 Bascom hall.

Officers of the American Legion many of whom are bonus students, urge that all bonus students who do not belong to the university post appropriate from their first payment the small amount necessary to pay up their legion dues for the current school year.

The dues for new members are $2.00 and for those who belong to posts elsewhere, 75 cents. A drive to include most if not all of the sixteen or seventeen hundred ex-service men at the university as members of the "hill" post will soon be in progress.

NEW CHAPTER IS INSTALLED

Awema Becomes Beta
Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon

The installation of Awema club as Beta chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon took place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The installation was in the hands of a team composed of members of the fraternity from Lawrence, Minnesota, and Illinois. It was under the direction of the grand secretary and vice-president of the fraternity.

The installation exercises were followed by a banquet, and the local chapter and visiting guests attended the Homecoming game and the Engineers' Minstrels in a body.

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity was founded at Richmond, Va., in 1901 and has grown rapidly. There are 52 chapters at present and all the conference schools except Chicago and Northwestern have chapters of the fraternity.

Awema was the oldest local at Wisconsin. It was founded in 1904 under the name of Keto club. The name has since been changed to the University Bachelors' club and then in 1908 to Awema. In the fall of 1919 it purchased its present home on Gorham street.

The Wisconsin chapter consists of 29 active members and six pledges. The active chapter is as follows:

VICTORY GIVES TITLE CHANCE TO WISCONSIN

Illinois Can Only Base
Championship Claim
on Percentage

The Badgers' victory over Illinois last Saturday may give Coach Richards and his men a claim on the Big Ten conference championship, if the results of this week's games prove favorable. Wisconsin will bring their season to a close in the customary manner with the Maroons on Stagg field, while the Illini and the Buckeyes meet at Urbana.

Illini-Ohio For Title?

The Illinois-Ohio battle is now being branded as the championship tilt; but if the Buckeyes do not win, there will be a dispute for honors. Wilce's aggregation still remains undefeated, while the Illini have last Saturday's Wisconsin victory on their books.

Ohio will be the undisputed title holder with a win over Zuppke's team Saturday, but otherwise the conference will finish in a triple tie.

This triple tie will not come into effect unless the Badgers triumph over Chicago. With the Maroons playing the brand of ball they have been offering thus far this season, Wisconsin should return next Sunday with a victory. Illinois, Ohio and the Wolverines have all bested the Stagmen this season and dopesters give Wisconsin comfortable margin in the coming contest.

"Zup" After First Place

In the event of an Illini victory over the Columbus eleven, this weekend, Coach Zuppke and his band of Sucker rooters will claim the title in view of their high percentage, due to their stiff schedule. It has always been the custom with "Zup" to slate six conference games each year, and in that case lay claim to the championship. It seems only right that a team that has defeated Illinois, should have an equal right to boast of a championship.

The Badger defeat over Illinois last Saturday showed to the west that Coach Richards has whipped together the classiest and most aggressive team in the conference. Critics believe that Wisconsin should have won over Ohio State, in that the Cardinal put a much better eleven on the field. A defeat over the Maroons by a comfortable margin should bring forth much protest against awarding the Illini a title when they were defeated by the Wisconsin aggregation, even though they down Wilce's combination.

TWELFTH NIGHT TO BANQUET INITIATES

Ten new members of Twelfth Night dramatic club will be entertained at an initiation banquet at the Woman's building at 6 o'clock this evening.

The initiates are: Lillian Dressler, Irma Borchers, Helen Double, Alice Frick, Carol Goodear, Aline Hall, Rachael Hauck, Elizabeth Johnson, Laurens Owen, and Merle Shaw.

Miss Gertrude Johnson and Miss Mary McCarthy, of the department of public speaking, and Miss Margaret H'Doubler, instructor of aesthetic dancing, will be guests of the society.

RED DOMINO PLEDGES

Red Domino dramatic society announces the pledging of the following upperclass women: Christiana Affeld, Ruth Koppke, Joy Shadbolt, Gladys Borchers, Margaret Emmerling.

Today is Tuesday. We can not think of any other reason for considering it especially noteworthy. But suffice it to say that today is Tuesday.

FOREIGN FIELDS SEND CALLS TO UNIVERSITY MEN

Graduates Are Needed to Serve in Many Lines of Activity

A great field of service lies open to graduates of American universities, according to a bulletin of the Student Volunteer organization recently received at the university Y. M. C. A.

There is a call for the university man and woman in many of the countries of the world to perform services in the very lines of endeavor which they are now expecting to follow in this country, and for which they are training themselves to enter. Practically every college and school is asked to contribute specialists in one occupation or another.

Call Agriculturists

Agricultural specialists are needed in nearly every country of eastern Asia. Positions to be filled by men or women with special training in athletic lines, physicists, chemists, business administrators, and graduates with normal training, are all open in the Philippines, India, Japan, Greece, Egypt, Mexico and Turkey. The educational field in these countries are always open to young Americans with college or university training.

Need Many Medics

The greatest opportunity is open to the medical students, since the greatest need is felt in this profession. Besides the countries named, Ceylon, China, Persia, and Guinea need surgeons and physicians.

Among the other positions, are calls for private secretaries, laboratory chemists, and one for three men for construction work in Africa.

Frederick E. Wolf at the "Y" will give details to any who are interested in the work.

Miss Martha Kemble.

They are calling Miss Martha Kemble of Camden, N. J., New Jersey's first woman "judge." Miss Kemble won the election for justice of the peace over the Democratic nominee, a man. She led the Republican ticket, polling 2,112 votes while Harding, who led the rest of the G. O. P. ticket, got but 1,986 in her district. At present Miss Kemble is telephone operator in the First National bank in Camden. She expects to continue in that job as well as undertake her new duties as justice of the peace.

RIFLE TEAM DOES EXPERT SHOOTING

Several Members of University Squad Won Sharpshooters' Badges in Service

Hitting the bull's eye is not fascinating enough for the members of the rifle squad. Some of them prefer picking off the more difficult target-support-pins in the armory shooting gallery.

With marksmen of this calibre to work with, including several ex-service sharpshooters, Frederick Ruffalo, captain of the squad, expects to develop a team to such a standard of proficiency that it will make rifle shooting in the university worthy of recognition as a minor sport. In case this can be brought about, matches will be held with rifle teams of nearby large cities and schools.

The membership of the rifle squad, which was organized early this fall, is composed mostly of ex-service men and members of the R. O. T. C. Under the direction of range officers, selected because of their experience in handling rifles, the men are working every afternoon in an effort to put themselves in condition for the elimination contests which will be held during the winter.

The members who were awarded sharpshooter's badges while in the service are: Fred Ruffalo, '21; George Marvin, '23; Leslie Hill, '23; Phillip Deicher, '23; Theodore Schlueter, '22. Ruffalo is captain of the squad, and H. L. Darnstaedt is range officer in charge.

The other members are: H. C. Fletcher, A. B. Doescher, E. W. Johnson, A. W. Walter, B. D. Tolman, E. H. Templin, R. L. Rundorf, E. M. Fitchett, H. I. Trinary, W. H. Bennett, W. V. Wilbur, G. A. Prof. F. W. Roe, junior dean of the College of Letters and Science, will speak Wednesday evening at 7:30 in Esther Vilas hall at the city Y. M. C. A. on "Christianity on Trial."

This meeting will be open to all university and city members of the Y. W. C. A.

It will be the first co-operative meeting which has been held this year and is to signalize Y. W. C. A. World Fellowship week, which is being observed in twenty-two countries. In commemoration of this week the university "Y. W." is also holding morning watch meetings in the office of the association every morning from 7:40 to 7:50. ## PLEASE

THE casual observer sees on the campus, here and there, small signs on which is printed the word "Please." Unfortunately, some of our students are not even casual observers. If they are, their actions do not show it. Despite these polite requests, some of our dear brothers and sisters continue to cut across the campus and mar the beauty of the university.

The university could take action to relieve the situation. The regents could easily provide spectacles for all persons who are too near-sighted to see the signs. A sufficient number of wheel-chairs with the proper attendants would greatly help those who are too lazy to use the sidewalks in going to and from classes. For the remaining number, those who see but ignore the signs, a course should be given in the language of politeness and courtesy. To many of the offenders such language is obviously a foreign tongue.

THE SENATE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

WHEN the student senate appointed a committee to investigate the sale of tickets for the Homecoming game, a noteworthy step was taken. Dissatisfaction has been abundant on the campus. It is alleged that outsiders were given preference over the students, that the students were placed in the end stands and in many cases forced to accept unreserved seats.

The senate committee has a splendid opportunity to clarify matters. If the allegations are true, such action must never be repeated. If, on the other hand, the allegations are false, the truth should be brought to light. Co-operation between the students and the athletic department for the good of athletics in Wisconsin can be aided considerably through the activities of the senate committee.

The committee has yet another opportunity for constructive work. That is in investigating the ticket scalping activities before the Homecoming game. Some action to curb the ticket scalping evil should be outlined. The practice of forcing alumni and loyal supporters of Wisconsin to pay exorbitant prices for seats at a football game must be given a death blow. The use of such a sport as football for the financial good of the few and the financial evil of the many must be stopped. The senate committee has the opportunity of bringing football to the place where it rightfully belongs—of placing the ideal of good clean sportsmanship first and foremost.

It is to be hoped that the senate committee will evolve a plan which will bring further co-operation between the students and the athletic department, and which will prevent the loyal supporters of Wisconsin from being robbed by unscrupulous scalpers. Athletics at Wisconsin is in need of such a plan.

THE "LIT" AGAIN

Editor The Daily Cardinal:

Wisconsin, like all other state universities today, has its full quota of that particular type of young man who cannot make up his mind whether to accept the unwise or not, and who spend much time and space telling the world at large about it.

One such has broken into print in the latest issue of the Wisconsin Literary magazine with an offering entitled, "That's the Trouble." The problem confronting this unfortunate young man is apparently this:—that he and the rest of the men of whom he presumably speaks cannot get along either with us or without us.

This is not, in itself, unusual. On the contrary, it is a characteristic of most men. But why work so hard to tell us about it? It will be no startling information to most women, and, aside from the satisfaction (an eminently legitimate one I suppose) of breaking into print, it can hardly have been of any great assistance to the harassed author.

If, therefore, I may make a suggestion, I offer this solution,—that he accept the facts as they are and cease to regard them as subjects to be settled by his hypothetical arguments. He will find, I think, that he will be less troubled, and I am sure the rest of us will be.

PILGRIM FESTIVAL TO BE OBSERVED BY CHORAL UNION

In order to celebrate the Pilgrim tercentenary, the festival program by the Madison Choral union will be given on Tuesday, December 7. It will thus come in the week which has been set aside by the special university committee on the memorial program.

The works to be sung have particular significance and will thus form a vital part of the week's program. "The Rock of Liberty" is a setting by Rosseter G. Cole of the pilgrim poem especially written for this year by Abbie Farwell Brown. "The Wreck of the Hesperus" is a sturdy setting by Prof. Charles H. Mills of Longfellow's famous ballad. It is especially fitting that at this typically American celebration the material should have been produced by four American writers and composers.

The Madison Choral union will give the first presentation of the two numbers mentioned. Both of the works will be given later in the year by other societies, but the Madison presentation will be the first in each case.

On account of the concert, next Tuesday will be the last time at which new members will be received into the Choral union. Men and women who desire to join the organization should therefore present themselves next Tuesday or wait until after the pilgrim concert has been given.

WISCONSIN'S SCHOOLS NOT SURPASSED

—CARY

State Superintendent Answers Ayre's Report in Speech Here

SAYS REPORT UNFAIR

Makes No Mention of Educational Results, He Tells Meeting

Declaring that Wisconsin's school system is surpassed by none in the United States and equalled by few, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Cary last night addressed a meeting at the Pilgrim Congregational church. Mr. Cary said in part:

"No school system in the United States is really accomplishing the results that the friends of education could wish. Wisconsin is no exception to this statement. In all my years of official service up to the present moment I have, with both voice and pen, criticised the weaknesses of our schools and our school system almost to the exclusion of words of praise.

"With all the weaknesses to be found in our schools and in our school system, and nobody is better aware of these weaknesses than I am, I can say without boastfulness that in my opinion Wisconsin is not excelled by any other school system in the United States and is equalled by not more than one or two. In order that this may not stand as a mere bald statement of personal opinion I should like to call your attention to the fact that Wisconsin spends on the training of teachers in the normal schools alone, to say nothing about the training department in the university, the county training schools, and the training classes in high schools, more money for current expenses out of the public treasury than any other state in the Union. We spend on our normal schools out of the public funds more money than is so spent in the three states that stand highest in the Ayres' Report taken together. These facts I take from a recent government report. For normal school purposes Wisconsin alone, out of the public treasury, spends one-eleventh of the total amount spent in the United States for such purposes. Of late years some college training work has been done in our normals, possibly to a larger extent than in most other states, but if the cost of this were deducted it would not be sufficient to reduce our high standing materially.

"There is no state in the Union that excels Wisconsin's system of supervision.

"There is no state in the Union that has a better professional spirit among its educational workers.

"And now for the Ayres' Report. This report stands on two legs,—a condition of unstable equilibrium.

1. Attendance at public schools.
2. The money cost of elementary and high schools in the state.

You will notice that nothing is here said about educational results. The Ayres' Report has nothing to say about results. It merely talks about money and attendance. You can readily see that in the Ayres' Report our training of teachers counts for nothing; our supervision counts for nothing; courses of study count for nothing. Every teacher in the state might, so far as this report is concerned, be no better than an eighth grade graduate. Such a condition would not reduce our standing in the least. Ayres says in effect: "The most expensive school system is the best school system." This makes no allowance for due economy; it makes no allowance for what the dollar will buy here as over against what it will buy in Montana or the Canal Zone. It takes no account of whether the state is new and rapidly growing in population, thus necessitating large expenditures for building and equipment, or well developed educationally, so that unusual expenditures are not necessary.

CHARLES RAY and WINIFRED WESTOVER
in a scene from the THOMAS H. INCE production, 'A VILLAGE SLEUTH'

"The worst aspect of the state school system at this time is that we have a lot of educational machinery that is confusing, conflicting and wholly unnecessary. For example, we have two boards, both appointed by the governor, to govern our state university, two boards, both appointed by the governor, to govern Stout Institute, and the same for the mining school, and two boards that apparently would like to do the work that properly comes under the supervision and direction of a constitutional officer. One of these boards, the state board of education, has no sphere of activity in which it is not a trespasser upon the proper functions of others, except to look after the soldiers' bonus matters. So keenly did the board realize this fact that there was much rejoicing when the legislature turned over this function to the board. Of course it could quite as readily have been attended to by some other board or agency. There will never be any opportunity for peace and harmony in the educational system so long as a state board of education exists, for the reason that it has no proper place in the sun. If it were deemed necessary to have a state board of education it should be an elective board, not a board appointed by the governor. All other boards should be done away with and the office of state superintendent of public instruction abolished by constitutional amendment. A state board of education would then have an open field in which to work. If composed of laymen, however, the board would have no adequate personal knowledge of the educational needs of the state, and would have to depend upon a paid employee to guide it in all technical or complicated matters of an educational sort.

"At the present time the state board of education becomes a rival and a contestant for power and authority in the entire educational field. There is no educational agency, so far as I know, with the possible exception of the university, with which it has, to a degree at least, ingratiated itself that is not secretly or openly hoping for its abolition. The state board of vocational education has a field and is occupying it. It is, however, a field that was formerly occupied by the state department of public instruction in a manner satisfactory to everybody except a few manufacturers and a few politicians. A divided school system is not the road to democracy. A child who stops to go to work at 14 should not find himself in a school system under a different management. This

PHILIPPINE CLUB HAS BIG DINNER

The Philippine-Badger club, an organization of Filipino students attending the university, recently held a dinner at the city Y. M. C. A.

The members invited as their guest, Prof. E. A. Gilmore of the Law school, who visited the Philippines two years ago and for some time was non-resident lecturer on law in the government university there. He spoke of his experience while in the islands and gave an inspiring message to the members.

The singing of Wisconsin songs and Philippine songs featured the rest of the program. A string quartet played native melodies.

This year beats the record of previous years in the number of Philippine students in the university, there being 17 in all, many of whom are taking post graduate courses.

The club holds discussion and social meetings once a month. Its officers this year are: Conrado Paras, president; Nicanor Teodoro, vice-president; Felipe Cevallos, secretary; Manuel Gonzales, treasurer.

PRESS CLUB MEETS TONIGHT AT LATHROP

A meeting of the University Press club will be held this evening at 5:30 in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall to discuss plans for new activities this year. Esther Van Wagoner, who has had considerable journalistic experience outside the department here will speak to the members about her work during the summer.

The rule in regard to absences is to be rigidly enforced this year, according to "Pat" Dennis, president. Failure to pay dues, or absence from two meetings of the club will cause the offender to be automatically dropped from the membership roll.

PLAN TO WELCOME SHORT COURSE AGS

The Agricultural College Federation will honor the short course men with a reception at Agricultural hall Thursday evening at 7:30. All home economics students, as well as the long and middle course agricultural students, are invited to come and give these men a hearty welcome.

The program has not been made out in detail, but there will be a few short talks by faculty members and representatives of the student body, followed by community singing. At the end of the program, when the ice cream is served, all will have a chance to become acquainted.

At The Theaters

AT THE FULLER

Theatergoers here are afforded their last chances today at the Fuller theater to see the tremendous screen drama, "The White Dove" with H. B. Warner, the noted "Chesterfield of the movies," in the leading role.

Warner plays an English doctor who is quick to condemn until he learns that all are more or less guilty of some offense, and that forgiveness is the greatest virtue.

He is surrounded by a notable cast which includes Claire Adams, Ruth Rennick, Virginia Lee Corbin, Herbert Greenwood, Donald McDonald, James O. Barrows, and others.

Fritzi Scheff

Fritzi Scheff, the International Grand and Comis Opera Star, to appear at the Fuller theater Thursday night, November 18, in Glorianna, has always been considered the most exquisitely gowned artist on the musical comedy stage. Her role in Glorianna gives her an opportunity to wear a dozen or more wonderful imported Parisian creations as only the chic and smart Fritzi can wear the striking modes of the French modistes. In Glorianna her costumes embrace a number of wonderful designs from widow's weeds to a most beautiful bridal costume representing a fortune in rare laces, jewels and ornaments.

The costuming of all of the lady members of the company is the last word in female attire, and was designed and finished only a few weeks ago by one of Fifth avenue's smartest establishments from designs furnished by Europe's best designers. The period of the play is the present and consequently the costuming is entirely modern.

AT THE STRAND

Local admirers of the country boy characters portrayed by Charles Ray will see him for the last times today at the Strand theater in "A Village Sleuth," presenting Mr. Ray as a smalltown youth with ambitions to become a famous detective. He is unexpectedly given an opportunity to shine in the sleuthing line and succeeds. "A Village Sleuth" was produced by Thomas H. Ince for Paramount release.

There will also be shown a Buster Keaton comedy "One Week."

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde

One of the classics of English literature, Stevenson's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," has been translated to the screen as a Paramount Arclight picture and will be shown at the Strand for four days commencing Wednesday. In the role of the unfortunate Dr. Jekyll, John Barrymore is declared to give one of the most remarkable performances of his career.

The story of the London physician who, through scientific curiosity, discovered a fluid that would transform him at will from a philanthropic friend of humanity into a grovelling, fiendish beast is well known. It is said to be a real masterpiece of film, as well as written literature.

AT THE GRAND

The picture now running at the Grand, "The Master Mind," featuring Lionel Barrymore, is the first of a new series of Barrymore photoplays to be presented by the Associated First National and it is claimed to be one of the sensational screen masterpieces of the season. Mr. Barrymore is himself authority for the statement that he has never had a role which provided a wider latitude for his talents. He is capably supported by such well-known artists as Gypsy O'Brien, Ralph Kellard, Bradley Barker, Brandt, Marie Shotwell, Bernard Randall and Charles Edwards. The picture was directed by Kenneth Webb under the personal supervision of the producer, Whitman Bennett. The story concerns the workings of the remarkable mind of a brilliant psychologist bent on reaping revenge on a district attorney who had sent his brother to the electric chair. A beautiful girl, innocent and unsuspecting, is used as the pawn and a gang of dangerous criminals, completely under the control of the master mind, weave the nets of vengeance around the victim with thrilling skill. Just at a time when the master mind has finally achieved his purpose, something unusual happens to stay his hand, and it is said the ending is one of the most unusual yet projected on the silversheet.

CARY EXPLAINS
AYRES REPORT

is the road to class distinctions rather than to unity and harmony in our population.

"It would be well if we had many changes in our educational laws. It is unusually difficult, however, to induce any legislature to do more than make minor changes in the statutes. However, changes do come about from session to session that greatly promote our educational welfare. Both the educational forces and the laymen of the state are planning changes in the coming legislature."

"A word as to the so-called 'program' of the State Board of Education.' From some source or other comes the statement that the state superintendent is opposed to it. The state superintendent does not so much as know what it is, and therefore does not know whether he is in favor of it or opposed to it. Nobody can tell until bills are drawn how much that is vicious and how much that is beneficial may be wrapped up in such vague and general statements as have been given to the public. It is not the 'program' that concerns us so much as the board itself. There is no place in our system for such a board. The present effort to flood the state with talk of a 'program' seems to me to have for its purpose the distracting of the public mind from the real issue. If the reports are correct, however, that the board proposes to cut one year off the elementary schools, thus reducing the course to seven years and also to add certain sawed-off colleges, called junior colleges, to the state system it is time for the public to be awake. Our higher education system is now top-heavy as compared with our elementary and it would be utter folly to make it more so."

50 FARM AGENTS MEET THIS WEEK AT AG COLLEGE

Professor Hatch Speaks to Convention on Aspects of Dairy Industry

Fifty county farm agents meet this week at Agricultural hall for their annual conference. Associated with them are the home demonstration workers and the state extension workers, of which the Farmers institute is a part.

Nearly all the agents were present yesterday morning at the initial gathering of the week. Professor Hatch of the department of agricultural education addressed them on the subject "Effects of War on the Daily Industry." He said in part:

"The recent war has done much to harm and retard the dairy industry. Other farm products and industry in the main benefited by the increased demand for the food problem that they solved for the allies and the hungry millions of Europe, but the dairy industry was unable to cope with the increased demand for milk, butter, and other dairy products in their various forms.

"Inasmuch as the pure product could not be produced in sufficiency to fill the demand it was necessary to find substitutes of some nature. So, after various experiments had been tried, a vegetable oil was found that would in part take the place of butter fats. This coconut oil substitute was accepted so readily that the import of this product increased over five times in four years. Substitute butters such as oleomargaine also were more used during the war and their use has had a bad effect on the production of pure grades of butter. The people have failed to sense that the product was not up to the standard of good dairy and creamery butter and have continued to use it and other substitutes.

"Another effect, perhaps of the war, was the increased use of whole milk. The per capita increase has been considerable in this country. It has been computed that the average individual uses two per cent more whole milk per year since the war than before. As a means of counteracting the demoralizing effects of the war on the dairy industry, we would advocate the establishment of the use of "filled" milk, use of less oleo, the weeding out of the poor cows, and the organization of advertising campaigns among the farmers."

Dean Russell addressed the meeting in the afternoon on "The Agricultural Situation at the Present Time." The presentation of the dairy work was performed by Professor Humphrey and staff and the address on "Swine and Best Type of Broad Hogs" was delivered by Professor Scott.

This evening the county agents will stage a banquet in the city Y. M. C. A. Professor G. M. Briggs of the Agronomy department will act as toastmaster.

FACULTY HOSTS AT BADGER CLUB MEET

Prof. and Mrs. Don Lescobier and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Potter were the faculty hosts and hostesses at the Badger club meeting Sunday night. The meeting was well attended and very interesting.

Special features of the program were a violin selection, a solo by "Doc" Doward, who also led the singing, and the answering of the "Question Box," by "Dad" Wolfe. There will be another "Question Box" in six weeks.

Next Sunday night's meeting will be under the direction of Prof. Carl Russell Fish.

TINY MEN PUT ON BIG SHOW AT ORPH

One of the best acts that has come to the Orpheum this year is the Singer's Midgets, a troupe consisting of fifteen tiny men and women and a large menagerie which includes horses, elephants, dogs, a fawn and a monkey.

There are nine numbers on the act, including singing, which was the feature, dancing, a strong man, a conjurer, fancy riding, tumbling, boxing, a drill, and an exceptionally fine act with three large elephants and their trainer.

The midgets are not children nor are they dwarfs. They are men and women in miniature. The whole show is entirely as advertised if not more so. The little strong man lifts four or five times his own weight, a full-grown Shetland pony with a midget seated on its back. The riding and acrobatics were very good. The singing and dancing were attractive and clever.

The costumes are very chic and pretty and the staging is charming. Scenes are changed for every one of the nine acts, and the scenery is exceptionally well-adapted. Taken in all, the production is most pleasing and well worth seeing.

Opening the bill are Archelles and Venus, in "Posing and Painting de Luxe"; their rapid-fire work in bright colors attracts the eye but chagrins the conscience. Then come Minetti and Reidl with two piano accordions. They bring out some good melody, but they can "jazz 'em up," too. Phyllis Gilmore and company present a clever little comedy skit by Roy Bryant. The bill calls it surprising. It is, and it is well done, also. Miss Gilmore is especially good.

Roy La Pearl is advertised as the "World's Greatest Aerialist," but the only thing airy about his act is the great quantity of hot air that he gets over the footlights. He is assisted by two Italians, who do their part cleverly. The voices are good and the act was well received.

What? Oh, yes; they have Kinetograms and Topics of the Day.

GIVE MOTOR CAR TO BEST OHIO GRID STAR

A Templar automobile has been offered to the leading football player in the state of Ohio this year, excepting members of Ohio State's eleven.

The winning candidate is to be chosen by a board of judges composed of some of the leading football writers of the state. The gift is made possible through the interest of the Templar dealers of Ohio, headed by Major J. S. M. Ely, a former eastern football star, now head of the Ohio Templar company, Cleveland.
