HARESFOOT AND MILITARY BALL TO CO-OPERATE

Time For Play Moved Forward

Officials of the Haresfoot club and the Military Ball are co-operating to make both affairs a success next Friday night when the initial Madison performance of "Kikmi" at the Parkway will be followed by the ball in the capitol building.

Arrangements have been made to start the Haresfoot play at 8 o'clock and the grand march will be delayed so that students may attend both functions. The play will be a formal performance for those who attend the ball.

The grand march at 9:30 o'clock will be led by general chairman Robert L. Luening, accompanied by his partner, Miss Sylvia V. Marlewska, Milwaukee, who will be followed by President Birge, Miss Nan Birge, Governor Blaine and other invited guests.

To Show Armory.

Before the grand march a reception will be held in the executive chamber. After the march Governor Blaine will deliver his address and the picture will be taken.

A miniature of the university armory with large flags in each tower will be built in the center of the rotunda. A platform will be built on the roof of the armory for the orchestra.

Stacks of rifles placed along the railing around the rotunda on the second floor of the capitol will add to the military appearance. A crystal mirror will be suspended from the ceiling of the rotunda on which the many flood lights will be played, according to Sidney Thorson '24, chairman of the decorations committee.

Al Thompson's special 15 piece orchestra will be furnished. Thompson will lead the orchestra personally. Rehearsals are being held daily at the Cameo room by the university musicians that play in the orchestra.

Play Special Dance

The number for the special dance will be selected by contest voting on the most popular song hit of the season. Each student is allowed one vote on the ballot published elsewhere in The Cardinal and the

DEBATES TO BE HELD THURSDAY

The second and last of this year's intercollegiate debates will be given next Thursday evening in 165 Bascom hall. Wisconsin's affirmative team will argue against the negative of Northwestern, while Wisconsin's negative team will meet Minnesota's affirmative at Minneapolis.

The question to be debated is: "Resolved, that all international debts and claims arising out of the World war, and not settled by May 1, 1923, should be cancelled without condition or qualification."

Charles A. Rawson '23 first speaker, Francis Karel '23, second speaker, and Robert B. Stewart '23, closer, from the affirmative team while the negative squad, which goes to Minnesota, is composed of Arthur T. Thorson L 2, first speaker, Henry W. Blake '24, second speaker, and Arthur C. Inman '23, closer.

All of the debaters have had experience, either in joint debates or in other intercollegiate events. Every member of the affirmative team has debated on joint debates between literary societies. The negative team has two former intercollegiate debaters.

Wisconsin is a member of two triangular debating leagues, one consisting of Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin and the other of Minnesota, Northwestern, and Wisconsin. Michigan is usually considered Wisconsin's strongest competitor in the former group, and Northwestern in the latter.

GALLI CURCI CONCERT PRACTICALLY ASSURED

A telegram was sent to the managers of Amelita Calli-Curci yesterday morning when it was practically assured that the required $5,000 would be raised by Prof. Charles E. Mills asking that a contract be sent immediately for the signatures, which means in all probability the great soprano will appear at the stock pavilion May 21.

All of the student seats were sold Thursday and all of the $2 seats were asked for early yesterday morning. From now on only $3 and $4 seats will be available and these will be on sale until all are gone.

Applications for the remaining seats must be sent to Professor Mills, who predicts that all these seats will be asked for by Monday night. The tickets will be mailed out during the last week in April.

MASKED FROLIC IS GALA EVENT

Student Senate's Annual Jamboree is Held at Lathrop

Eclipsing all former records in point of attendance, gaiety and picturesqueness of costumes, the fourth annual Varsity Jamboree, the "Greenwich Village" masked dance under the auspices of the student senate, was held last night at Lathrop gymnasium.

Starting at 8:30 o'clock by the grand march, the event was one continuous program of dance, stunts and refreshments. The University Commons served refreshments at cost to diners in the S. G. A. rooms, arranged by Oscar E. Kessling '23, general chairman.

The feature of the evening's program was the 30 minutes devoted to "musical comedy" and "vaudeville" stunts given by the Phi Mu and Alpha Pi Omega sororities. The Phi Mu "musical comedy" program won tremendous applause with the result of awarding of the first prize cup for the best stunt.

"Robin Hood" appeared with his band of bold warriors at the jamboree, winning as in a tournament the cup for the best costumed men's group. The Pi Phis captured the cup for the best costumed women's group.

A scandal sheet, "The Spied-Her," published by the University Press club, was one of the sensations of the evening. Choice "scandal of S. G. A.", "jailing four U. W. athletes in vice raid," and the story of the "U Damma Fly" fire, were included in the funsters' stories. Additional copies may be obtained at The Cardinal office.

Additional announcement of the merchandise prizes will be made later.

Music was played by Bill Thompson's first orchestra of eight pieces. Bill Frederick '23, was the floor director.

Engineers' Annual Dance Will Be at Candy Shop

The annual engineers' dance will be April 28 at the Candy shop. Jess Cohen's eight-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

The engineer's dance always has been a get-together occasion for the plumbbers, but this year's party gives promise of surpassing all former years.

A special effort will be made to induce members of the engineering faculty to join the students in their annual celebration. The proceeds will be devoted to the Engineering Student Loan Fund.

The following students have been appointed to act as committee chairmen in preparing for the event:

General chairman—Rufus S. Phillips '23; publicity—C. Eugene Silver '23; decorations—Edgar D. Lilja '24; advance sales—Clarence C. Holm '25; programs—Lawrence T. Sogard '24; refreshments—Neal D. Herrick '23.

UNION BUTTONS WILL BE GIVEN OUT APRIL 23

Subscribers to Receive Symbolic Badge

The Wisconsin Union button, heralded for years as the official symbol of the university and the external mark of a Wisconsin man or woman, has arrived and will be ready for distribution from the Memorial Union headquarters on State street, Monday, April 23.

The new badge anticipating the consummation of the Memorial Union project with the breaking of ground next fall is the first tangible representation of Wisconsin spirit. The button will designate its wearer as a Wisconsin-man wherever he is found.

Is Gold Filled

The new badge, gold filled and attractively designed, has a cardinal "W" placed on a circular gold background, with the word "Union" written in gold letters across the face of it. The button is of two designs, one so constructed that it may be worn by men in the coat lapel and the other, for women, made so that it can be pinned to their waists.

Approximately 500 students are at the present time entitled to wear the new badge. It will be given only to those who have paid $25 or more on a life membership pledge to the Wisconsin Union. It is expected that many subscriptions will be paid up to the $25 mark and the emblem worn by 1,000 Wisconsin men and women in a short time. Alumni who have fulfilled financial requirements also will be sent buttons.

Design is Symbolic

Union board has spent more than a year in selecting a design sufficiently attractive and symbolic. The contract was amended recently to John Balfour company, which concurred with Union board in designing the badge.

Students who are eligible to receive the button will be notified by letter sometime this week. Any information regarding the statue of the students subscriptions may be obtained at the Memorial Union headquarters office.

DANCE DRAMA TO BE MAY 25

The annual dance drama which is given by Orchesus, honorary dancing organization, will be May 25 this year according to the statement made by Reinnette Douglas '23, president of Orchesus yesterday.

Miss Jule Hanks is to direct the drama this year taking Miss H. Doubler's place while she is on leave of absence. Miss Hanks is going to Chicago soon to procure all of the materials which will be used in the costuming.

The costuming is to be much more elaborately carried out this year than formerly and work on the designing has begun already. Miss Trudy Gallagher, who was wardrobe mistress last year, will be in Madison during the two weeks preceding the drama to supervise all of the work on costumes.

The cast will be announced within the next three weeks. Members of Orchesus will take the various parts, and the plan is to include every member in some way.

It will be held as customary in natural theater behind Bascom hall, with the pines and firs as a background for all of the dances. Spot lights are thrown on the stage from near by trees.

WEATHER: CLOUDY

Clouded Sunday with probable snow in morning; Monday fair with rising temperature. The maximum temperature yesterday was 41.2 at 1 p. m., and the minimum was 29.8 at 7 a. m.

ROSS RECITAL TO BE GIVEN TUESDAY NIGHT

Gilbert L. Ross, son of Prof. E. A. Ross of the department of sociology, will give a violin concert at 8:15 o'clock at Christ church Tuesday evening, under the auspices of Symphonica, national musical fraternity. Ross recently has returned from Germany where he played with great success at Berlin and Leipzig and was hailed by Berlin critics as one of the foremost of the world's violinists at the unusual age of 19.

In the fall Ross will make a tour of the United States under the auspices of the American music league.

The program is as follows:

Devils' Trill, sonata—Tartini-Kreisler; concerto; Symphony Espagnol; Chopin Opera in E Flat; Tambourine Chinois—Kreisler; Deep River—Coleridge Taylor, arranged by Maud Powell; Habanera—Sara Sate; Hills—Cecil Burry; Perpetuo Moto—Cecil Burry.

COUNCIL MAKES NEW RULES FOR TICKET SELLING

Limits Football Sales Necessarily

Necessity, the increasing interest in intercollegiate football, and the limited seating capacity of the stadium at Camp Randall have caused the Athletic council to establish a number of new rules and regulations for the distribution of the football tickets next all, according to Paul F. Hunter, director of ticket sales.

Six new rules have been established for the 1923 football season as follows:

1—That the distribution tickets for the Conference games be limited to not exceed two to any one person.

2—That students and members of the university be limited to one ticket at the student rate of 50 cents, in a strictly student section, beginning at the 59-yard line in the west stand and extending north.

3—That the public rate of any seat in the stadium for Conference games be $2.50.

4—That students file instead of mail their applications for ticket at student rate, be presented with a receipt upon filing application with 50 cents and fee card which will be stamped with the name of the opposing team. The student later to call at the ticket office for his ticket which will be handed him upon presentation of the receipt.

5—That the mail order sale for all Conference games be closed on the third Monday before the game and if any tickets remain unsold that they be placed on public sale within five days before the game.

6—That all tickets mailed at public rate be sent out under registration, which is to be done by an employee of the post office, each applicant being required to include 12 cents with his remittance for tickets to cover cost of postage and registry, a special permit registry envelope to be provided for the purpose by the department.

Need Cheering Section
"It has been found necessary to limit the sale of tickets to two to any one person to provide a wider distribution of tickets for the more important games," said Mr. Hunter. "Last year we were compelled to return more than 1,300 applications for tickets for the Homecoming

KIKMI TICKETS ON SALE NOW

Mail Orders Being Accepted;
Friday Performance Seats
Going Fast

Mail order sale for Haresfoot tickets to "Kikmi" Friday and Saturday, is now open, according to Thomas A. Tredwell '23, manager of the Haresfoot club.

"There seems to be some doubt as to the sale of Madison tickets. Mail orders must be sent to the Parkway theater and a check enclosed made out to the Haresfoot club," Tredwell declared last night.

Provision has been made for the mailing of tickets immediately if a stamped and addressed envelope for return is enclosed. A 10 per cent war tax is required and must be added to the listed prices.

Mail orders were not filled until last Thursday, according to the Parkway managers. Those who sent in orders some time ago will receive them in a few days, they declare. Orders are filled in the order in which they are received.

There is no formal night for Haresfoot this year. Many fraternities, however, are planning formal parties Friday night in conjunction with Military Ball activities. The performance Friday will start at 8 o'clock sharp.

"There still are many good seats for the Friday performance and both the Saturday shows have many excellent seats open. If the road tour is any indication of the success of the Madison performance, however, all these seats will be gone in a few days," Walter A. Frautschi, advance agent of the show asserted last night.

Raines, grad, and C. E. Roach '25, Miss Margaret McCaughy of the speech department is coaching the play. This play was given a short time ago by the American association of university women.

Community singing led by E. B. Gordon of the Extension Division will be a part of the program. Folk dancing by home economics students directed by Miss Alice Gall of the physical education department will be another number.

Tied-and-dyed work, batik, and block printing have all been done by the home economics girls in order to give a great variety to the things on sale. The work has been in progress for several months so that a large collection of material is at hand.

New designs in Holland pleated lamp shades are being made in all colors, sizes, and shapes. Silk candle shades also will be displayed.

Iridescent and rainbow-dyed metal cloth for dress foundations or negligee linings will be sold. Batik neckerchiefs and scarves have been made in new patterns or in copies of the old Egyptian or Persian motifs.

Materials made by the Armenians were bought from the Near East Relief to be sold as well.

ACCUSATION IS FALSE-RUTTE

Circulator of Petition on Military Drill Replies to Papers

In reply to statements made in Madison papers last night to the effect that coercion on the part of the military department of the university was used in having members of the student cadet corps sign a petition requesting the legislature not to pass an act making drill at the university a voluntary matter, Louis B. Rutte '24, who drew up and circulated the petition asserts that such an accusation is "false and ridiculous."

The petition, signed by approximately 90 per cent of the student cadets, was circulated Thursday and Friday morning.

"Before offering it to the cadets to sign, I presented the situation to the students and told them to make the matter entirely voluntary and that the regular army officers in charge of the corps had nothing to do with his action.

"Only a very few of those who did not sign the petition will make that statement because it is the only thing that they could say to discredit the petition.

"If, single-handed, and without any authority to back me, I am able to coerce 926 out of 1,100 university students into signing a petition in which they did not believe, I am indeed a dangerous person.

"I told the legislature that the military department—the regular army officers—has absolutely nothing to do with this petition. On my own initiative I went to the commandant and asked permission to circulate the petition.

"Before presenting the paper to the cadets I said emphatically that unless they did not actually believe in the proposition I did not want them to sign the petition; that I wanted them to use their own judgment, and that I was merely presenting my own personal views.

"As for the article in the local paper, the fact that not one speaker opposing the bill (except president Birge, who merely gave the history of military training at Wisconsin) was even mentioned, shows that only one side was meant to be presented. I don't propose to get into a newspaper controversy, for nothing can be accomplished by such action. This matter of coercion is, in fact, scarcely worthy of refutation."

A number of the cadets, some of whom did not sign the petition, said last night that under no circumstances could it be said that coercion was used in securing names for the petition.

The petition, with some 900 names affixed, was presented to the legislature for consideration before action was taken on the bill abolishing compulsory military training at the university.

game and several hundred for the Chicago game because we could not supply them. It was deemed unfair to permit several thousand people to purchase four tickets each and others, just as anxious to see the contest, unable to purchase even one ticket.

"For several years Wisconsin has had no distinct cheering section and it has been greatly missed. This will be provided this year by limiting the students to one ticket at the special student rate, but he will be given the best seat in the stadium. The north half of the west stand will be reserved exclusively for the students and members of the university.

"By requiring the students to file instead of mail their applications we expect to avoid any chance of either the students money or tickets being lost or stolen. Last year in mailing their applications many students enclosed currency and even silver in a flimsy envelope, and in some cases neither reached our department. Then dozens if not hundreds of students failed to enclose their fee cards with their applications and of course the application could not be filled until we called them over the telephone and required them to come to the ticket office with the fee card.

Record Applications

"Under the new system the student will be limited to one ticket at the student rate in the student section, or he may waive his right to that rate and purchase two tickets for himself and two for some friend. The friend can get just as good seats by making his own application by mail for in making the actual distribution of tickets no attention is paid to the name of the applicant, all applications are filed in the order in which they were received. However, a complete record is kept of the applications and to whom every ticket is sold, so that no one can make two applications and expect to purchase four tickets.

Adopt Chicago Plan

"In closing the mail order for tickets on the third Monday before each game the council adopted the Chicago plan. Last year the last application for tickets for both the Home-coming and Chicago games which could be filled were received more than three weeks before the game, but as the mail order did not close for another week hundreds sent in their applications and were disappointed when there were no tickets left. By closing the mail order a week earlier this year the ticket department is given more time in which to fill the applications, although the tickets will not be mailed more than one week before the game. If there are any tickets remaining unsold when the mail orders and student applications have been filled, they will be placed on open sale during the week preceding the game.

To Register Tickets

"All tickets sent out by mail will be registered by a post office employee in an effort to guard against the loss or theft of tickets after they leave the ticket office. This is done as a protection to both the department and the purchaser, the latter being required to include 12 cents in his remittance to cover the cost of postage and registry.

The new regulations were adopted by the Athletic council only after considerable study, based on the experience of the past, and it is believed they will not only provide a wider distribution of tickets, but give better satisfaction to all parties concerned."

The new regulations do not mean that parties will necessarily be separated at the games. By sending their applications, with separate checks, in the same envelope a party of any reasonable size can procure tickets together for any game, but under no circumstances can anyone procure more than two tickets.

WILL PILOT JANESVILLE

EDWARD H. GIBSON

Edward H. Gibson '23, Varsity football star, has signed a contract to coach all athletic teams at Janesville high school next year, it was announced yesterday afternoon.

Gibson will have charge of football, basketball and track teams in addition to swimming and gymnas.

Gibby is one of the gamets men that ever played with a Wisconsin football team. He has won three "W" letters in the gridiron sport, starting in 1920 when he played halfback. He was shifted to quarterback in 1921 and held down that position until he suffered a severe injury to his leg in the Illinois game.

Gibson played half last season. Although hurt in several games, he continued to play and concluded a brilliant athletic career. He has also worked with the track and baseball squads and was a member of the Alpha Gamma Rho water basketball teams which won the interfraternity tourney championship.

S. G. A. LIBRARY ADDS 9 BOOKS TO SHELVES

Nine new books have been secured for the S. G. A. library and will be available Monday. New volumes are added to the collection every two months and are selected by using the suggestions which come in from women here.

The new additions include: "The Bridal Wreath" by Sigrid Undset; "Where The Blue Begins" by Christopher Morley; "Picture Frames" by Thyras Samter Winslow; "To Tell You The Truth" by Leonard Merrick; Canfield's translation of Papini's "Life of Christ;" "The Judge" by Rebecca West; "Upstream" by Ludwig Lewisohn; "Joanna Godden" by Sheila Kaye Smith; and "Kai Lting's Golden Hours" by Ernest Bramah.

"Maria Chapdelaine" by Louis Hemon is the most popular book of fiction, according to the results of a survey made of the library recently. Next in the order given the popularity is: "The Outcast" by Selma Lagerloff; "Millions" by Ernest Poole; "This Freedom" by A. S. M. Hutchinson; "The Breaking Point" by Mary Roberts Rinehart; and "Certain People of Importance" by Kathleen Norris.

HOLD TRYOUTS IN 880 RUN FOR KANSAS RELAYS

Half Milers Show Up Well

Varsity track time trials in the half mile were held yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall for the purpose of determining the runners who will represent Wisconsin in the Kansas relays to be held at Lawrence, Kan., on April 27.

Although the snow was falling fast at the time set for the trials the men doffed their sweat clothes and toed the mark. The race was hard fought and was run in fairly good time considering the condition of the track.

Eight Men Run

Of the eight men that participated in the trial run, four are regular half milers, three usually perform in the mile, and one is a quarter miler. Two half milers, Ramsay and Hilberts were the first and second to cross the tape. Johnson finished third and Schneider came in fourth. The remaining four finished in the following order, Rossmeissel, Carter, Bergstresser, and Schneider.

Valley, Badger place winner in the indoor conference half, was not in town for the trial yesterday but will probably be one of those chosen for the trip. Ramsay, Hilberts, and Johnson are sure of their places and either Schneider or Rossmeissel may be taken.

Beloit to Come Here

Coach Thomas E. Jones has entered only a two-mile team at the Kansas relays because of the preliminary meet with Beloit college which will be held here on the same day, April 27.

In spite of the handicap of running under unfavorable weather conditions the team, especially the distance men, is in fair shape for its runs much higher.

70 GIRLS CHOOSE SPRING RIDING AS GYM WORK

Seventy girls, 32 more than the fall registration, have signed up for horseback riding this spring. An open hour still remains at 11 o'clock Mondays and Fridays for beginners.

Preparations are already being made for the spring horse show. A selection of the best beginners class will be made as well as a class for everybody. Advanced students trot and canter without stirrups and do a little practice broad jumping. Beginners take their work in the stock pavilion. When they have learned to ride they will take trips to Middleton and drives around the lake shores. So far there have been no accidents.

CLEF CLUB WILL GIVE PROGRAM FOR SOLDIERS

Clef club is to give a complete Indian musical program this afternoon at the Psychiatric institute on Lake Mendota for shell shocked soldiers.

The program is under the direction of Mildred Rodolf '24, who is in charge of the regular programs conducted there by the organization. Caroine Burgess '23, Ima Wilson '23, Minnie Beattie '23 and Grace Jones '24 are to appear in this special program, which is to be carried out in Indiana costumes and will feature all of the old Indian melodies.

Clef club has given programs at the Psychiatric institute regularly every other Sunday afternoon, working in connection with the Y. W. C. A. which takes charge of the alternating weeks. This plan has been in effect since before Christmas.

Y. W. C. A. to Install Officers at Vesper Services Today

The candle installation service of Y. W. C. A. officers will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in Lathrop parlors. The officers who will take offices are Marian Metcalf '24, president; Dorothy John '25, vice president; Marion Streng '25, secretary, and Alice Cummings '25, treasurer. The other members of the cabinet for next year will be installed at this time.

GOLFERS BEGIN SEASON'S PLANS

The Wisconsin golf team will begin practice as soon as arrangements can be made for a course to play on. "Prospects for good team are bright this season," said Thomas E. Jones, athletic director. "Last year the team won third place in the Conference meet, and we have three of the regular men left."

Besides attending the Conference meet that will be held at Chicago this year, the Badger link men will have dual meets with Northwestern and Illinois. The meet will be held at Madison.

It is expected that about 30 men will report for tryouts when links are secured by the Athletic board. Morton C. Frost '23 will captain the team; the other members of last year's team who will play are Albert V. Stegeman '24 and Adolph B. C. Bock '24.

Golf has always been considered more or less of an informal sport at Wisconsin and no letters have been awarded to members of golf teams. A petition is to be brought up at the next meeting of the athletic board which may result in a provision for giving W's to golf men. This will add much to the interest in golf as a university sport and will insure good teams in the future.

MORSE WILL BE N. O. L. SPEAKER IN MAY CONTEST

In the preliminary contest to determine the Wisconsin representative in the Northern Oratorical League, Wayne L. Morse '23 was chosen. The league contest will be held May 4 in Minneapolis.

The subject of Morse's oration which was awarded first place by the speech department judges, is "An Attack on Recent Decisions of the Supreme Court". This victory in the preliminaries entitles him to the $25 prize offered to the Wisconsin contestant by the Forensic board. Other awards are offered to the speaker who places in the first three positions in the final contest. According to the recent point system worked out for the literary society competition by the Forensic board, Morse's success brings 10 points to Hesperia.

The N. O. L. is the most important oratorical event of the intercollegiate forensic season. Northwestern, Michigan, and Minnesota universities are the other contestants, on representative being sent by each.

The three other contestants in the Wisconsin tryouts were: Henry Klos '24, whose subject was the Ku Klux Klan, Ralph Axley '23, on the direct primaries, and Francis Karel '23, writing on "The Trend of the Times."

INTERFRATERNITY LEAGUE TEAMS GET SLOW START

Only two of the eight games scheduled in the interfraternity baseball league were played yesterday. The Tekes easily won their game from the Alpha Deltas by the score of 7 to 1. The Alpha Gamma Rhos had to go an extra inning to take their game from the Dekes 5 to 4.

The other games were postponed either because of the cold weather or on account of the condition exams which were held yesterday.

The teams which are to play off the postponed games early this week are Kappa Sigmas vs. Sigma Pi; Sigma Epsilon vs. Theta Xi; S. A. E. vs. Kappa Si; Delta Sigma Phi vs. Phi Kappa Sigma; Phi Delta Phi vs. Phi Delta Theta; Alpha Sigma Phi vs. Theta Beta Tau.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO BEATS DEK NINE IN FIRST GAME

Alpha Gamma Rho squeezed out a 5 to 4 victory over Delta Kappa Epsilon in an interfraternity league baseball game played yesterday. The victors were forced to go an extra inning before they pushed over the winning run. Comstock and Kellum worked for Alpha Gamma Rho. Haggard and Morris were the batteries.

The Rev. Thomas Gale and Attorney H. D. Hicks will debate on the subject "Can Prohibition be Enforced?" at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the University Methodist church. The debate will be held under the auspices of the Wesley forum. The Rev. Mr. Gale is head of the anti-saloon league for this district.

WEATHER HALTS CINDER SQUAD'S OUTDOOR WORK

LATE SPRING HINDERS TRACKMEN

Wisconsin's track team seems to be followed by the weather jinx at every turn. After a late spring which prevented the men from getting onto the outdoor track at Camp Randall, a snow started falling yesterday afternoon to break up the regular practice which has held sway at Randall every day since the first of the spring recess.

Several distance runners stayed in Madison during the vacation to work in preparation for the several relay events which are to be held this month. After shoveling the snow from the cinder track, they worked out twice a day during the entire vacation and have kept working until yesterday.

WORK FOR RELAYS

The distance men are working in preparation for the Kansas relays which will be held April 21, and the Drake relays which will be held at Des Moines, Ia., one week later. A two-mile relay team will event, while Coach Jones plans on entering four relay teams in the Drake races.

While the half milers are at Kansas, the remainder of the squad will meet Beloit college here. The Beloit meet will serve as a tryout for the Badger men. Provision has been made allowing any number of men to run in each event against Beloit and those who show up to best advantage are likely to be the chosen runners to represent Wisconsin in the dual conference meets which will be held later in the season.

WORK OUT DAILY

The entire varsity squad works at Randall every day that the weather permits and every attempt is being made to round out a squad which will hang up a better record than the indoor team made this spring. Unless the weather jinx persists on camping on the should come through with a first class squad.

PLEDGE $2,500 TO UNION FUND AT PITTSBURG

That the Memorial Union meeting held in Pittsburgh, Pa., Friday night was a great success with a pledge of $2,500 made to the fund is the report received yesterday from John A. Dillard '22 who is in the East assisting in the management of the campaign. Approximately $840,000 have been pledged to the fund to date.

Prof. A. B. Hall, of the political science department, and George Haight '22, Chicago lawyer spoke at the meeting of Wisconsin alumni.

The campaign will be carried on in Pittsburgh for a week. Jack Wilce '10 and Prof. F. W. Ives '09 are arranging a meeting at Columbus for Wisconsin alumni on April 27.

Prof. E. H. Gardner addressed Wisconsin alumni at Tacoma and Spokane, Wash., during the past week. He will go to Salt Lake City for meetings tomorrow and Tuesday. These meetings should be attended by people in Utah, Wyoming, and neighboring territory. Denver, Kansas City and Omaha are other cities in which Professor Gardner will personally conduct Memorial Union drives.

STATE OFFICIAL TO ADDRESS APIS CLUB

Mr. C. D. Adams, of the state department of markets, will describe the work his department is doing for the beekeepers of the state, at a regular meeting of the Apis club, at 6 o'clock Tuesday, in the Entomology Building.

He will discuss the law requiring standard grading and labelling of honey, and how it is enforced.

The department of markets is co-operating with the state beekeepers association in adopting standard labels and containers for honey. Mr. Adams will discuss this phase of his work also.

WOMEN MUST SIGN REGISTER

S. G. A. Head Says That 12:30 Rule on Question is Unchanged

All women must still sign out in the customary manner for all 12:30 o'clock permissions regardless of what they expect to do according to an announcement by Lois Jacobs '24, president of S. G. A. yesterday.

"It is a decided misconception that many women apparently have that because of the new rules for 12:30 o'clock on week-ends it is not necessary to indicate in any manner where they intend to go," she said. "Time will be kept just as carefully as ever before and complete lists of the persons who have signed up for late time will be sent to the office of the Dean of Women."

The rule concerning non-student parties and non-registered parties is still rigidly in effect, and the new regulation that women may stay out for entertainment other than dances does not apply in the least to these non-student functions.

"The new regulations as to the time were made by the women of the university for all of the women in the university, for their greater convenience and it is absolutely essential that they do not abuse them if they will prove successful in operation," Lois Jacobs continued.

Men must leave the houses at 11 o'clock on week ends as before, and at 10:30 on week nights. All questions arising concerning the working out of the new rulings will be taken up at the next regular meeting of the S. G. A. board which is to be at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday night in the S. G. A. rooms.

HAREFOOT TICKETS
Haresfoot tickets for all the performances at the Parkway this week end may be ordered by mail direct to the box office.

BADGER POULTRY CLUB
Dr. Kent of the Quaker Oats company will speak at 7:45 o'clock Tuesday night in Agricultural hall under the auspices of the Badger Poultry club.

BAND WILL GIVE SPRING CONCERT

Chicago Harpist to Play at Gale Concert Next Sunday

The annual Spring Gala concert by the First Regimental concert band will be given at 3 o'clock April 22. This will be the climax to the winter series of concerts given by this organization and following the custom established last year a soloist will be featured with the band.

Miss Clara Louise Thurston, Chicago, harpist has been engaged again this year. Her outstanding success at last year's spring concert was an important factor in her re-engagement. It will be recalled that Miss Thurston played four numbers and had to respond to three encores.

Harpist To Give Solos.

She has been engaged for a number of years as the demonstrator in the harp department of the firm of Lyon and Healy Chicago and is constantly in demand as a soloist. Besides assisting the band on a number of selections she will offer a group of solos.

The band has been hard at work throughout the winter months and anyone who neglects to hear the program will miss a rare treat. It is safe to say that many of our students have never heard the concert band at its best, for too often they confuse the concert work with that of the football field.

As soon as the activities in the fall are completed the concert band is put through intensive drill along entirely different lines from the ordinary band work. This enables this group to present in a favorable manner compositions which are attempted only by symphony orchestras or the best professional concert bands.

Band Attracts Attention.

The programs for a number of years have featured compositions of such merit that the work of this organization has attracted attention far from home. It is worthy of note that a very large percentage of the compositions performed

This is a step toward musical appreciation, for the more frequently the best works are presented to the public the sooner these will be remembered and admired.

Palestine Builders Meet to Listen to Student Lectures

A meeting of the Palestine Builders society will be held in the S. G. A. rooms in Lathrop hall at 10:30 this morning. The includes talks on "The Economic Development of Palestine" by Norman Denosquo '25. "The History of the Jewish Doctors in the Middle Ages," by Abraham Sinaiko '23, and "Present Day Current Events" by Charles Letkovski. The society will give its annual dance on May 5 in Lathrop parlors.

"RENT" MAGAZINE AT KESSENICH'S

Madison's first "rent" magazine library has been installed by Miss Maude Hiestand, owner of the circulation library in Kessenich's store.

Miss Hiestand has obtained copies of 16 current periodicals and added them to her collection of books in the circulation library. These magazines may be taken out for any length of time desired, by the payment of a small daily fee. Among the publications obtainable are "Literary Digest," "Review of Reviews," "Dial," "Bookman," "Arts and Decorations," "National Geographical," "International Book Review," and "New Republic." Miss Hiestand intends to add other magazines from time to time as the public requests them.

This service of "renting" magazines is expected to prove very popular as many persons have suggested it in the past and are anxious to take advantage of the opportunities it offers for home reading.

All members of the order of De Molay are invited to share the box of the Square and Compass at the Military Ball. There will be a meeting of the organization to arrange plans Tuesday night in the Y. M. C. A.

FARCE, DRAMA IN CLUB PLAYS

Faculty Dramatic Organization
Will Present Four Plays

The four one-act plays to be presented by the university faculty dramatic organization at the Madison high school auditorium Thursday night, April 26, will include a farce, a drama, a mystery melodrama, and a romantic play.

The annual productions of the Curtain club the last three years have been arousing increasing interest, and the officers believe that this year's performance will surpass all previous efforts. The mail order sale will open this week under the direction of Prof. B. Q. Morgan.

The leading play on the program is Lord Dunsany's melodrama, "Night at an Inn," the production of which is directed by Prof. Robert West of the speech department. The cast includes Professor West, William Ross, R. H. Roberts and R. Tapley. The last two will impersonate rollicking sailors. Prof. C. A. Gillen, R. R. Aurner and George A. Chandler complete the cast.

"Minuet," by Louis N. Parker, is a romantic play of the French revolution. The cast includes Miss Julia Hanks, Norman Bassett and Clarence L. Fernberg, who is also coach.

"The Shadow of the Glen," by John Millington Synge, is a drama depicting a scene from Irish life. Prof. E. H. Byrne, who coaches this play, takes the part of Dan Byrne. The Curtain club cites this as an example of the effectiveness with which parts in its plays are cast. Other members of this production are Prof. Warner Taylor and Mrs. M. S. Hill of the Wheeler School of Music.

CATHOLIC CLUB WILL PRESENT "JEANNE D'ARC"

Percy Mackaye's poetic drama, "Jeanne D'Arc," will be presented at the Parkway theatre next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday by the Catholic Woman's club.

For "Jeanne D'Arc" there will be brought to Madison one of the most modern of stage settings. The whole arrangement was built for the production along the special designs furnished the Peltz and Carseen studios. Its classic design will set forth the general idea of the author. It will be unique in that the five acts of the play are presented before what is apparently but one set of scenery. But the changes that are made are so effective and illusive that the atmosphere of court and castle, of village and battle field is thoroughly effective.

The lighting for the production is of the most recent design. The "Peavey" method has been followed in designing the color tones and effects. By means of a scientific combination of primary color, tones the various shades and colors are effected; the psychology of character, and the spirituality of the play illustrated.

The cast for "Jeanne D'Arc" calls approximately 150 persons and includes a number of the leading amateur actors of Madison and large contingent of students. Among the latter who are taking principal parts are Agatha McCaffery, Bernadine Flynn, Katherine Burke, John Harrington, William Tormey, Joseph Zellner, Thomas O'Malley, Stuart McCormick, Albert Barrett and Ray Koltes.

French Lecturer Will Speak At University

Firmin Roz, official lecturer of the French Alliance, will be in Madison Wednesday and Thursday, April 18 and 19, to deliver two lectures at 165 Bascom hall, at 4:30 each afternoon. His first lecture is entitled "The Modern Humanitarian and Pacifist in Modern French Literature," and the second "The Psychological Novel in France." He comes under the auspices of the French department. The lectures will be given in French.

Many Women Are Enrolled in U. W. Correspondence School

Women constitute nearly one-third of the total number of enrollees in the correspondence-study department of the University of Wisconsin Extension division during this year, according to figures compiled in the office of Prof. W. H. Lighty, secretary of the department.

A short time ago, women made up only one-fifth of the total enrollment. These figures are looked upon as significant in that they show the increasing interest of women throughout the state in taking correspondence courses. Housewives, as well as teachers and women interested in professions, are enrolled in the various courses. Home nursing, how to care for children and supervise the health of the family, how to decorate and furnish the home, how to plan and cook meals, and how to sew, some of the courses planned especially for the women in the home, are among those that show striking increases. Voting and election methods and other political science courses, are also popular among women registrants.

Prof. Otto Kowalke will address the students on present day problems of the chemical engineer, and Prof. O. P. Watts will give his ideas on higher degrees for engineers. Several prominent seniors will be asked to give short talks.

Every possible effort is being made by C. E. Merriman '23, who has charge of the arrangements to make this affair a 100 percent turnout of chemical engineers. He also urges that everyone sign up for the banquet before next Tuesday, so that the final arrangements can be made. The banquet will be held in the city Y. M. C. A., and after the banquet, the engineers will attend the second show at the Orpheum.

TENNIS COURT RULINGS

University regulation of all tennis courts seems probable.

At the present time, the athletic department is investigating the various systems in use at different universities.

At Illinois, the quarter-to-the-hour system is in use. Any party wishing to play tennis may get a court, provided that they are the first party waiting for that court, at the quarter to the hour. This system, although it may break up a game, has been found to work successfully.

At Chicago, the ticket system is used. All students are required to register for courts before playing and are given a ticket which entitles them to a definite court at a certain hour. This system necessitates an organized ticket system his ticket, but it is perhaps the sicker trouble in going after and may cause the applicant con-surest means of supervision.

Other systems in use are modifications of these two.

A small incidental fee to be paid by all players at the beginning of the season also is being considered. The revenue derived from this assessment would provide the necessary funds for the repairs needed during the season.

Because of the scattered locations of the university courts, student cooperation will be necessary to make any system adopted effective. The sportsmanship of the players will make it easily workable or expensive and clumsy. Our immediate concern, however, is getting the system and getting a good one.

ADSUM

Two weeks ago today the frosh donned the official green gob caps.

Some freshmen have accepted the tradition readily and have entered into thrill of being a freshman 100 per cent. To others the tradition has an obscure purpose. They're missing a big part of the university game.

This latter group probably will never realize that to be a frosh with four years of collegiate training ahead of one is to have the key to an opportunity which many upperclassmen look back upon as once having been offered to them and as now nearly vanished.

In the days of Thackery, it was the custom of the schoolboy to answer roll by saying, "Adsum" meaning "I am here". In the absence of roll call today the green cap serves.

If the freshman would announce to the world that he is in earth and particularly that he is attending none other than the University of Wisconsin for his first year, he would say "Adsum" with a green cap. That's why the green cap tradition exists and that's why most freshmen are wearing the lids.

HE FORGOT THE WOMEN

We note with interest the following editorial from the North Western Christian Advocate,

"One cigarette manufacturing concern boasts on the billboards that it sold 7,000,000 cigarettes last year. Make your own calculations, ladies and gentlemen, on the other firms in the business and then ask, is this a harmless indulgence? Remarkable how custom, bad as well as good establishes itself in the life of a thinking people. Only yesterday, it seems, the boy who was caught smoking a cigarette knew full well what was coming to him at parental hands and scarcely all but cast him out. Today, the statistic above tell the tale.

We wonder what the editor's comment would be on the Shebas who puff their favorite root behind closed doors and in remote places along the drive?

SNAP THE BUTTON

Every night just before the chimes sound out in the libe, a casual glance over the reading room will disclose a host of scattered reading lamps burning over tables which have been vacated.

A clerk soon appears upon the scene and the beacons wherewith we were aided in the perusal of written knowledge are extinguished.

Sunday Round Table

PERSONALITY AND EDUCATION

When Karl Friedrich of the University of Heidelberg spoke here in behalf of the Youth Movement of Germany he defined education as the releasing of the entire personality, and added that one could only achieve this who had the courage to be himself.

Personality, even though it cannot be analyzed should be possessed by every university man. Yet, many men have almost none, a relatively small number have flashes of it, and only a very few can be said to have an entirely "released" personality. This situation should give rise to serious thought, for personality is both the indicator of an all round education, and determines success in any walk of life.

Of course, a technical education will enable a man to catalogue wills, or draw maps, become an expert at it, and even make a name for himself; but unless he possess this additional endowment, he will always be a detail man. Education has disappointed many who spent hard years over their books, simply because they did not realize in time that these formative university days furnish rich opportunity and material by which a man comes to himself. Each individual has a life of his own to live, a peculiar contribution to make to the world. The supreme challenge is to be oneself to live, think, and act so as to express our own individual personality.

But no man will go far in the releasing of his personality until he discovers the need of moral courage. One cannot follow the crowd if he seeks to be himself in thought and act. In the class room—are we thinking, questioning, disagreeing if need be? Are we different at the end of the lecture? Has it taken hold? If you have not the courage to express yourself in the class room, are you developing your personality? Then there is the courage that dares to speak up when the crowd is wrong. You shrink from the test? Well, you must pay the price—run with the crowd and smother your personality, or muster up courage and gain a personality. There is no other way.

Every man has high ideals. Some will remember Eborts of South Africa. He came here little understanding both the idealism of American men and the reserve which keeps it hid. Gradually he got into the lives of them. After one and another had expressed themselves confidentially he came back with—"Why don't your American boys talk more freely about themselves? I find all these men have high ideals for lives of great usefulness." The ideals are there, but how many have the moral courage to be themselves, and giving expression to their ideals grow into men of outstanding personality.

Will some man who reads this make a test of it? Are you moving in a restricted circle? Are you in danger of becoming a detail man rather than a leader? Begin today to be yourself at all times, on all occasions, commanding the courage to face your fellow men and make your ideals effective. Your personality will indicate your education.

FREDERICK E. WOLF,
Sec. of the University Y. M. C. A.

This little one-act drama might be called "On the Forgetfulness of Man." Some of us have the habit of leaving books and packages lie, others of us forget to go to class occasionally, and still others forget to turn out study lamps in the libe when we leave.

There has been no complaint from library officials on this score—there should be no cause for one. As a matter of courtesy—next time snap the button.

Anyway it makes a corking good space filler.

LITTLE MYRON

Little MYRON was an elderly little youngster with a cheery cough and egg stains, but he could be depended upon. When his aunty told him to carry out the old bathing suits, he never failed to take the hinges off the doors.

But then one day little MYRON (for that is what his chums called him) anyway little MYRON busted out of kindergarten, and had to go has done, however. He has already made somewhat of a reputation as a poet, some of his verse having gained considerable popularity since it has been chosen for public recitals.

Two of his short stories, of which he has written quite a number, have appeared in leading American magazines. A late work of Prince William's is "Among Dwarfs and Gorillas in Africa," reputed to be a colorful and lively description of his recent hunting and exploring trip in the Dark Continent.

It is reported that a translation of his work is about to appear in England and that negotiations are being carried on for an American edition.

There is another prince whose stock has jumped considerably within the last few months, but not because of any literary work on his part. We are speaking of the Prince of Wales. In fact, King George's subjects live in daily terror for fear the popular young Prince will break his neck and be lost to them.

You see, the members of the royal family of Great Britain are extremely fond of riding horses. But either they are poor horsemen or else they are sports and take unnecessary risks. At any rate, the young Prince has been worrying all loyal Englishmen a good deal of late by being thrown from his galloping steed. Indeed, his subjects to be have even gone so far as to ask him to stop riding.

They value their future sovereign so highly that they would even deny him the right to enjoy a gallop across the fields. Evidently even the next in line will not take the place of the Prince of Wales.

Another book has been added to the list of Bert Lester Taylor's works. It's called A Line o' Gowl or Two. Some poetry and much prose about the business man's favorite game is contained in it. The introduction is written by Chick Evans, of whom much flattering mention is made throughout the pages.

DISTRICT PLAN NOW COMPLETE

Sophomore Women Will Act as New Student Advisers in Fall

The districting for the junior advisory system for next year has been completed and definite plans will be made rapidly by systematic telephone calls which start this week, according to Jean Palica '25, chairman of the junior advisory system.

Every woman in the present sophomore class will be reached by phone within the next 10 days by the head of her district and asked for her present address, her summer address and her address for next fall. This information will be filed and catalogued for the summer letters.

"Acting as a junior advisor will not be purely voluntary this year as we want the junior class of next year to do the whole thing without having to call on the other classes for assistance," said Jean Palica. "Therefore, we are calling on every member of the present sophomore class individually instead of posting bulletin notices for them to sign on."

The junior advisory system is divided into 16 divisions, each with a member of the junior advisory executive committee acting as the head. These chairmen will live in the district which they have charge of, which increases the efficiency over the former years. This plan utilizes the S. G. A. district which has been completed and is in actual use this year for the first time.

The junior advisory system provides for the assigning of a junior woman to each new woman entering the university. These junior women write during the summer to these advisors and give them general information about the university and answer any and all questions which they are asked.

Upon arrival in Madison the new women are met by members of the junior advisory system and given whatever assistance they want. The upper class women take the advisees to the all-university functions during the first weeks of the semester, and are ready to help during the entire year. The advisees will be assigned through the district system this year, so that both women will be in the same district.

The executive committee of the system is Louetta Dieruf, Gladys Norgord, Alice Corl, Helen Robinson, Esther Fifield, Clara Hertzburg, Elizabeth Brown, Doris Burdick, Janet Walls, Elizabeth Stoltz, Charlotte Case, Alice Cockrell, Marjorie Trumbell, Mary Devine, Helen Blake, Dorothy Haskins.

This committee is holding regular meetings every Thursday noon to perfect and further the plans, and the members plan to have all of the arrangements completed early enough to have plenty of time for everything without the customary rush.

Church Association Will Hold Basketball Banquet

The Madison Church Athletic association will hold their annual basketball banquet at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow in the City Y. M. C. A. Special music and speakers have been arranged. The membership of the association consists of the following churches: Pilgrim Congregational, First Methodist, Our Savior's Lutheran, Christ Presbyterian, First Baptist, Plymouth Congregational, and First Congregational.

The regular meeting of the Wisconsin players will be held in Lathrop hall at 7:30 o'clock Thursday.

LIT SOCIETIES TALK POLITICS

Probable Nominees in 1924 Elections Subject of Discussions

The principal events that occupied the men's literary societies Friday night were a general political discussion in Hesperia, tryouts for freshman declamatory contest in Atheneum, and election of officers and a pie social for Philomathia.

Hesperia's program consisted of talks on the "Political Outlook of 1924." Wayne Morse '23 spoke on the "Democratic candidates, Underwood or McAdoo;" G. J. Fiedler '25 talked on the chances of Ralston and Smith as possible Democratic candidates; C. C. Fransen discussed the probability of Harding's re-nomination; H. Cranefield '24 spoke on Wilson's influence in 1924; and E. Ylvisaker '24 discussed the League of Nations. Two new members were elected to membership, A. R. Wiley '25 and H. J. Bieberstein '24.

Meeting was the tryouts for representatives of the society in the freshman declamatory contest, which will be held sometime next week. The successful candidate was E. R. Bell, O. Messmer and A. Kriegbaum also completed. New officers were installed, and C. J. Hazelwood spoke on "The United States and the World War debt Situation."

In the election of officers in Philomathia, Edgar Erickson '23 was made President, Henry Klos '24, vice-president, Arnold Zube elected secretary, Philip Marquart retained the position of treasurer, Charles Rawson became censor, and Harold Seering, assistant social chairman.

GIVES $250,000 TO CANCER CURE

Minneapolis Woman Presents Minnesota University With Gift

(Special to The Cardinal) University of Minnesota, April 12—A gift of $250,000 from Mrs. George Chase Christian of Minneapolis with which to erect a cancer institute at the University of Minnesota as part of the University hospital, for the investigation, treatment and cure of cancer was announced today by President L. D. Coffman after the board of regents at its April meeting had voted unanimously to accept the donation.

The gift was made in the name of the Citizens Aid society, of which Mrs. Christian is president, a society of donors to which additional gifts for the cancer institute or like purposes can be made in the future, F. B. Snyder, president of the board of regents, said. The hospital will be a memorial to the late George Chase Christian, Minneapolis business leader, who died about two years ago.

Aid to Medical School According to F. P. Lyon, dean of the school of medicine at the University of Minnesota, the gift will result in immeasurable advantage to the school of medicine in giving instruction to the physicians who guard the health of Minnesota and contribute to the general body of medical knowledge.

Of the principal of the gift it is provided that $200,000 shall go for the erection of the building and $50,000 for radium and X-ray equipment. Special technicians in radiology and X-ray operation will be members of the staff. The 50 beds of the hospital will be primarily for the use of cancer patients, but in case all of them are not required for that purpose other patients may be accepted.

Need New Facilities "The University of Minnesota for many years past has been and is now conducting a medical school suitably equipped with buildings, apparatus, and a teaching staff to carry on properly and efficiently the work of the school," say the articles of gifts. "The hospital facilities, however, are limited, and there is need of additional beds. As now organized the school has neither hospital facilities nor radium nor an X-ray machine adequate to treat cancer as those afflicted with that dread disease should be treated and cared for.

"The donor has investigated and is familiar with the conditions existing at the medical school at the university and believes that the donor can render to the university and through it to the people of the northwest a beneficial and lasting service by setting upon the campus a hospital for the investigation, alleviation and care of those afflicted with cancer, and offers to make the gift hereinafter mentioned provided the University will accept the gift and fulfill the terms and conditions upon which it is made."

SERENADING SEASON
OPENED LAST WEEK

Serenading season opened Thursday night. Both orchestra and vocal selections were rendered and were received by the audience with much applause.

The return of chilly weather may dampen the spirits of the serenaders temporarily but they are expected in full force again with the return of moonlit nights and warm weather.

If this year's Haresfoot cast follows the precedent of other years, there is no doubt but that the variety village will be serenaded with some numbers from "Kikmi."

A forerunner of this was heard at the Red Mill just before the spring recess, and if that performance was any criterion there are great things in store for Langdon street.

The Sigma Nus have been getting their jazz band into shape for the spring, assisted by criticism.

WILL AWARD SCHOLARSHIP

Rhodes Nominations Will Be Made Some Time Next October

Preliminary selection of candidates for Rhodes scholarships who will go into residence next year will be made by the university Oct. 1 to 7. Wisconsin is entitled to five candidates by reason of its enrollment. The final election of scholars will take place Dec. 8 of this year by action of a state committee of selection.

"The Rhodes scholarship is the biggest honor in the academic world and I give this early notice so that those undergraduate students who are of the calibre to obtain it can buck up and prepare themselves for it," said Dean Goodnight in commenting upon the subject.

To be eligible, a candidate must be a male citizen of the United States with a residence in this country of five years. The completion of two years' work at a degree giving institution is necessary. The eligible scholar must also be at least 19 years of age and not more than 25 years of age, and unmarried.

The amount of the scholarship is 300 pounds, which is equivalent to $1470. Until further notice, an additional bonus of 50 pounds will be included in the sum. A candidate, it is estimated, however, must supplement this sum with an additional 50 pounds or about $250.

Dean Goodnight said, concerning the practice of this university, "Our method of making nominations is to accept applications from students whose qualifications are good and who can comply with the eligibility requirements. We ask departmental chairmen to recommend men majoring in their departments who would make suitable candidates.

Three factors are taken as a basis for making the choice. First, the candidate must show a capacity for leadership and force of character. Second, he must have a certain standard of scholastic attainment and literary ability. Third, it is desirable that he have an interest in outdoor sports and that he possess physical vigor. Athletic distinction is not to be treated as of equal importance with the other requirements.

Any course is open to Rhodes scholars at Oxford. He may read for the Oxford B. A. in final honor schools established in any of a number of subjects including modern history, jurisprudence, astronomy, engineering science, etc. He may enter for one of the so-called 'diploma' courses in special subjects. If he has had any previous training, he may read for advanced degrees such as the B. S., B. C. L., or Ph. D.

Leroy Burlingame, now in residence at Oxford, was elected a Rhodes scholar from here three years ago. Two years ago, Clyde Emery received the scholarship. A man by the name of Larson from Lawrence college was elected university candidate for last year but he was defeated. This is Wisconsin's off year.

BALL AND "KIKMI" WILL CO-OPERATE

song receiving the highest number of votes will be played. The winning song will not be announced until that dance starts. This does away with the writing of an original fox trot.

A saxophone quartette consisting of men from the orchestra will play during the intermission, according to the plans of Henry Klos '24, chairman of the features committee.

As the President's guard, special drill unit of the cadet corps, is too large to present a review successfully 12 men have been selected to give an exhibition from Butt's manual.

Various search lights will be installed in the capitol which will flood the crystal mirror and the armory. Arrangements are being made to take motion pictures of the ball.

Programs Tasteful.

The program will be a black leather booklet. On the center of the cover there will be a silver military crest, and the names of the assistant chairmen and their partners will be printed on the bottom of the cover in gold letters.

Other couples that want their names printed on the cover of the program should apply to H. D.

Kitchen '23, chairman of the program committee.

On the inside page there will be a picture of the capitol at night. The Photoart shop is doing special work on this picture for the programs.

A special detail of police will be stationed around the exterior of the capitol to prevent the usual attempts to rush the doors.

In order to prevent spectators from crowding the corridors and the floor police will be stationed through out the building under the direction of I. O. Hembre. The police will prevent the crowding of the corridors during the grand march and the spectators from getting onto the floor during the dances.

Punch will be served by the committee and supper can be had by those desiring it at the capital cafe.

Members of the cadet corps and former service men have been urged to attend the ball in uniform.

In keeping with the democratic nature of the affair, flowers, favors, and taxis have been discouraged by the general chairman and the assistants.

Haresfoot Club Entertains

Otis Skinner at Banquet

More than 30 members of the Haresfoot club and the cast of "Kikmi," this year's production, attended a banquet in honor of Otis Skinner last night at the Garden Grill.

In addition to the talk by Mr. Skinner there were talks by Thomas Tredwell '23, manager of the club, Gerold Koch '23, president of the club, Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, and Mr. Fernberg of the English department. There were also several songs by the principles of "Kikmi." The banquet was managed by Walter A. Frautschi '24.

Mr. Skinner is an honorary member of the Haresfoot club and spoke of his work with Walton Pyre, brother of Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, and one of the founders of the club. Mr. packed houses at the Parkway Skinner played yesterday to two theater

VODVIL
NEWS'Mister Antonio'
Welcome Relief
From Usual Play

By H. H. P.

The return of Otis Skinner to pleasant characterization after two seasons of following the melodrama fad, is a delight to those theater-goers who think wine is a better drink than hot blood. If Arliss, Whiteside and a few others will follow his example, we may expect a resumption of stage civilization.

The revival of Tarkington's "Mister Antonio" is especially happy if yesterday's enthusiasm at the Parkway is a criterion; the renovated comedy (saloon in the first act has gone blind since we last saw it) gave to its accomplished star a vehicle for arousing a degree of audience sympathy seldom felt in the local temple of drama.

Booth Tarkington's plays always have aroused out enthusiasm, and the enthusiasm extends to "Mister Antonio," in spite of the fact that Dr. Frank Crane probably would call it a "helpful play."

It is not typical of Tarkington. It has sermon to preach about the Pharisee and the Good Samaritan, and small town homeliness is ruthlessly eliminated to make room for stern puritanism. Avalon ruled by a hypocritical halo-hound, is a hard-shelled village where blue is not confined to the inhabitants' noses, and where a girl is "bad" if she goes out after 9 o'clock and indulges in 4 per cent beer.

Mister Antonio Camaradonio, Italian hurdy-gurdy man, however, with a "little damfool" kindness inside him arrives in time to save a little orphan Annie from being turned forth into the hard cold world, to do a little justified blackmail on the mayor, and to marry the girl, all the while permeating the acidulous air with is radiant geniality.

It all ends in hearts and flowers and happiness, and he is indeed prosaic who wonders how the girl will get along with garlic.

Mr. Skinner has gathered about him several of the old company; even the donkey looked familiar. Robert Harrison, as his gentle, but weak-minded partner, shot off cap pistols as no other man can; and Marion Waring Manley, as the poor wronged maiden blossomed out as sweetly as a Lulu Bett. And Donald MacMillan, the pudgy chief of police, was delightfully futile.

ORPHEUM — The Varsity Quartet, and Stella Mayhew in an exclusive singing act, Sunday through Wednesday; A Fireside Reverie, Thursday through Saturday.

PARKWAY — Earle Williams in "Fortune's Mask," Sunday; Jeanne D'Arc, Monday through Wednesday; Gladys Walton in "The Town Scandal," Thursday; Haresfoot club in "Kikmi," Friday and Saturday.

STRAND — Johnnie Walker in "The Fourth Musketeer," Sunday through Tuesday; Charles Ray in "The Girl I Loved," Wednesday through Saturday.

MADISON — Theodore Roberts in "Grumpy," all week.

MAJESTIC — George Beban in "The Sign Of The Rose," all week.

William De Mille's latest Paramount picture production of "Grumpy," featuring Theodore Roberts, May McAvoy and Conrad Nagel, will be the feature at the Madison theater for seven days, beginning today.

The story deals with the love affair of a young couple, which is handicapped by a diamond robbery, but the mystery is solved by Grumpy, a retired criminal lawyer, capably portrayed by Mr. Roberts.

Miss McAvoy and Mr. Nagel are well cast, and the production is said to be one of the most entertaining ever presented by Mr. de Mille.

Madison Talent
On Stage Here
All This Week

BY CHATTY

The theaters are offering a number of unusual attractions this week and no small amount of the entertainment is being put on by local artists.

In the way of Madison talent there will be, of course, the all star performance of Haresfoot with a chorus of beauties. The Varsity Quartet at the Orpheum the first half of the week will draw the crowds. Its personnel consists of Jack Cornelius, Russ Irish, Bobby Costello and Marty Below with Jess Cohen at the piano and Jimmie Van Vetena at the Saxophone.

An allegorical play and pageant will be presented at the Parkway the first part of the week by a group of Madison women. Jeanne D'Arc seems to be an even greater hero than the little corporal outside the borders of France. This mask is an elaborate piece of work and promises to be an excellent example of amateur theatricals.

A semi-legitimate production will appear at the Majestic when George Beban plays in "The Sign Of The Rose." It's an unusual production. In the midst of the picture the reflection on the screen fades out and the play is continued by the actors in person. After the piece has progressed a little further the stage becomes dark and the silent drama takes precedence over the spoken.

Perhaps you may know that George Beban is something of a stage actor. He has been prominent in spoken drama as well as on the silver sheet, and the novelty of this his latest production, lends interest to his work.

Many years ago an English actor made a tremendous hit in this country playing the role of a crabbed old gentleman in a highly amusing play. The actor was Cyril Maude and his play was "Grumpy."

Along comes a sage old character actor of moviedom to take the Englishman's part on the screen. Theodore Roberts is a trump of the moving pictures and he should be able to fill the foreigner's place in splendid fashion. If "Grumpy" is as good a movie as it was a play, you will do well to see it.

Cyril Maude, by-the-way, has returned to his native isle. He has been a favorite on this side of the water, having played in "The Saving Grace" and a number of other pieces.

At the Strand the week carries us from an East Side tenement to a country town in Indiana. "The Fourth Musketeer" is a wild and woolly story of an Irish prize fighter who goes into business to allow his wife to enter society. The pugilist proves to be somewhat of a chivalrous gentleman and when his wife leaves him for the glory of the social whirl he wins her back by noble acts. The story is written by H. C. Witwer, author of "Fighting Blood."

Charles Ray also takes a chivalrous part in "The Girl I Love." In fact, he is such a noble hero that he allows the other fellow to marry and keep the girl he loves. This one-time Paramount star has an excellent role, as near as can be told from the synopsis.

The Parkway is putting on two one-day movies between the stage productions. Action, mystery and human interest are said to be the chief elements of "Fortune's Mask," a story of Central America where revolution and tyranny are daily routine.

The fate of a Broadway musical comedy star in her own puritanical home town is portrayed in "The Town Scandal." You have seen more than one picture built on this theme and can probably imagine what it is like.

Collegiate Players Sponsor Tony Sarg's Marionettes

The Wisconsin chapter of National Collegiate Players is sponsoring the Tony Sarg Marionettes which will appear in "Rip Van Winkle" and "Don Quixote" at the Central high school auditorium, April 18, in matinee and evening performances.

The National Collegiate Players is the name that has been given to the honorary dramatic fraternity which has resulted from the recent consolidation of Pi Epsilon Delta and National Associated Players.

The consolidation has been brought about largely through the efforts of two members of the university faculty, Prof. Gertrude E. Johnson of the Speech department, grand chancellor of Pi Epsilon Delta, and Merle V. Raines, instructor in English, grand secretary of National Associated Players.

Pi Epsilon Delta was founded at the University of Wisconsin in 1918 and had installed chapters at Minnesota, Northwestern, and Washington University at St. Louis. National Associated Players was founded at Illinois in 1919 and had installed other chapters at the Universities of Washington, and Oregon and Ohio university at Athens.

For some time a feeling had been growing in these organizations that they might benefit by incorporating each others estimable features. Pi Epsilon Delta was strictly honorary, while the chapters of National Associated Players were producing groups.

The main features of the merger include, the adoption of the modified Pi Epsilon point system as the method of selecting future members in all chapters of the new organization, the retention of the original patented Pi Epsilon Delta key as the official membership emblem, and the extension of the producing privilege to the chapters located in such institutions as are not otherwise provided with producing groups.

The first installation since the merger, occurred last week at Iowa with an enviable record of dramatic State college, when Maquay Players achievement, was invested with a chapter of the new fraternity. The application of several other universities are now being considered with a view to further expansion.

WOULD CHANGE UNION VODVIL

Dramatic Committee is Not Satisfied With Former Performers

Dissatisfaction with the Union Vodvil performance given a year ago, was expressed in the form of three resolutions which have been presented by the sub-committee on dramatics and recommended to the central committee on student life and interests which adopted them. The resolutions are as follows:

1—"The participation of women students in Union Vodvil shall be limited to members of organizations which exist for a recognized artistic end, and to acts chosen and presented by such an organization, or by a combination of such organizations.

2—"All acts in their final form—songs, dances, costumes, properties—shall be seen by the full board of censors at least one week before the show.

3—"The board of censors shall consist of the following:

The sub-committee on dramatics, including ex-officio members, and, at the option of the Union board, one man and one woman chosen from the university faculty by the Union board.

The numbers on this program of a year ago were characterized by the sub-committee as "poor and vulgar imitations of some of the worst practices of the commercial vaudeville stage." The committee is further of the opinion that "songs, dances, and costumes which are simply vulgar, common, ill-bred exhibitions should be prohibited even though they could not be called indecent or immoral."

Lake Wingra has stored her winter coat away in moth balls and is preparing to beat her sister lakes to the new spring styles. Monona is breaking out in spots, but has as yet not been quarantined by the board of health. Sufficient talk has been going the rounds about the ice in Mendota to make that lake hot. A small space has opened in front of the University boat house.
