OLD TIMERS

Lure of Knowledge Calls
Many Back To Classroom
And Lectures.

The Old Timers are back, and they've brought their friends, too. The line outside Music hall this morning was not a line of Youth—exactly. The bobbed hair, short skirts and rouged cheeks of our co-eds was much in the minority. The greased and the marceled hair of our fussing kings was also lacking. Youth on the campus is a "trifle" older in the summer; it wears conservative clothes and has a conservative manner. Many semesters of teaching may have driven the crow's-feet into Mabel's face and the hair from John's head. Yet they have the spirit. They'll be swimming with the youngsters tomorrow, and those who can't swim will be over to see Joe before the week is out. Come on, Old Timers; we have the fun—get your share!

FIRST PLAY HOUR TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow night at 7 Dr. C. Elsom of Physical Education department will give first of a series of lectures on a course in Community Recreation. To summer session students it is known as "Play Hour." Dr. Elsom promises everyone a good time. There will be various stunts and games. New students will have the opportunity of becoming acquainted. After the games Miss E. W. Elmore of the Women's department will give a short talk on folk dances. The simple forms only will be taken up. These can be learned in a few minutes so that those in charge say that before the evening is over the entire audience will have learned the fundamental steps.

Everyone is invited, and a good time is guaranteed. The course is especially valuable to teachers in that it shows them how to take their place in the community by demonstrating how to lead in the social affairs as in the educational affairs of the school.

DIRECTORY TO BE PUBLISHED FOR STUDENTS

A directory of all persons in attendance during the summer session of 1921 will be compiled by the registrar's office during the next few weeks. The student's name, home address, Madison address, and telephone number will be included. Students are urged to report cor- registrar's office so that these may be included in the directory. There will be no attempt at checking the addresses given on registration cards.

STAFF POSITIONS

Several positions on the news staff of the Summer Session Cardinal are still open. Applicants may inquire at the Union building offices, any day, between 11 and 12 a. m. and 1:30 and 3:00 p. m.

HAVE YOU YOURS?

WITH this issue, the first of the 1921 session, the summer session edition of The Daily Cardinal enters upon another term of service to readers.

It is the purpose of the Cardinal to portray accurately and interestingly the university news of the day, to represent student thought, and to offer a forecast of events. It is as essential to the life of the active and interested students as is the metropolitan paper to the good citizen.

Simultaneously with the passing of the small, compact collegiate institution the student newspaper came into its own. The Cardinal has filled its place for years. To read its columns is to know the happenings of your colleagues and the activities that concern you.

A subscription includes the issues for the six weeks period. The price is $1.00. Sign up today.

HUNDREDS REGISTER IN RAIN, HIGHEST RECORDS TO BE SMASHED

MUSIC PROGRAM HELD TONIGHT

Mr. Leon L. Ittis, of the piano faculty of the School of Music, will play the Nocturne in E Major, and the Revolutionary Etude, both by Chopin, at the musical evening to be held in Music hall tonight at 7:15. This affair will be open to the public, and will be followed by the singing of university, national and folk songs by the entire assemblage.

This is the first of a series of six musicales to be held every Monday evening during summer school. The program will consist largely of singing, but each night there will be one soloist. Professor von Geltch will render violin solos next Monday night.

TENTING COLONY PROVES POPULAR

The University Tenting colony, established several summers ago on the Mendota shore about two and a half miles from the gymnasium, is proving to be a very popular resort for families coming to Madison, so that members may attend the summer school.

The university provides platforms for the campers, who must furnish their own tents and equipment. A well on the grounds furnishes a very good water supply, and groceries and milk are delivered to the campers every morning. A boat brings in mail once a day, and all of the boats which go around the lake stop at the colony on signal.

In order to meet all the applications for tenting room this summer, the building of eight new platforms was necessitated. All those desiring to tent there have been provided for and the colony population at present numbers about 75 or 80 including the children.

A. S. Gallistel, overseer of the university grounds has a cottage at the camp and is in charge of the colony.

SUMMER TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO BE PLAYED SOON

Plans have been made at the Gymnasium office for the Summer Session Tennis tournament. The tournament is open to all who are in attendance at school, and entries for the singles should be made at the gymnasium office on or before July 5.

The first match is to be played July 6, and a chart of the drawings will be posted on the gymnasium bulletin board. The blanks on this chart are to be filled in by the winners of the separate matches. The tournament will close July 16, when appropriate prizes are to be awarded the winners.

'21 Roll Will Exceed 3,600 Is Unofficial Estimate

Long lines of students, undiminished by the rain, moving rapidly in and out of various buildings on the campus all day today told the story of what is expected to be the largest enrollment in the history of Wisconsin summer sessions.

No estimates are being made by officials but it is certain that the registration will exceed that of last year which went over the 3500 mark.

The inclement weather did not slow down the process. Umbrellas and rain coats were pressed into service when available, but their absence on the part of many signified the failure of baggage to arrive. The clerks at the registration places in Music hall and Bascom hall were kept busy steadily. At Music hall there was no stop for lunch. The doors opened at 8 o'clock, and the lines were still progressing late this afternoon.

Registration began Saturday and continued throughout the day. Although classes open officially tomorrow morning it is possible that late arrivals are still expected.

The history of registration shows a steady growth in the last 15 years. In 1905 there was a total of 528, in 1919, 1,128; 1915, 1,925; 1920, 3,212, and in 1920 3,600.

DEAN ANNOUNCES HOUSING RULES

A large number of the fraternities not occupying their houses during the summer are renting rooms to the students attending the summer session, and in order to eliminate any misunderstanding about the rooming rules Dean S. H. Goodnight has sent to those in charge of the house a list of the rules.

They include the following: Men and women are not permitted to lodge in the same house during the summer session any more than during the year.

Women are not permitted to lodge or board in fraternity houses unless the entire house is vacated by the men, placed entirely at the disposition of the women, and an approved chaperon placed in charge.

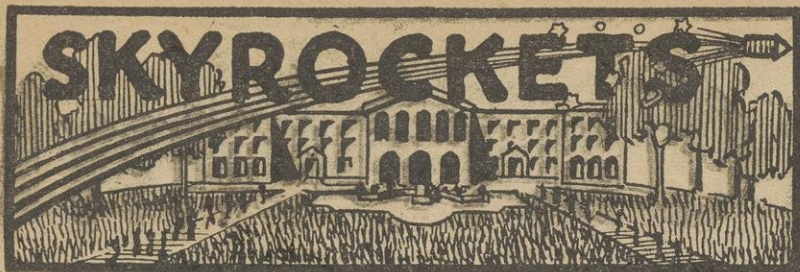

The manager of the house must be authorized to act for the fraternity, for example in accepting or in ejecting lodgers from the house, and he must be authorized to maintain good order in the house. This office will back you to any extent in the maintenance of good order in your house, and we invite your cordial cooperation to this end.

Lists of fraternity and other rooms available to students may be obtained in the office of the Director of the Summer Session, in South hall.

WOMEN'S BATHING PIER IS PLANNED

A new bathing pier for women, to be erected near the foot of Charter street, has been made possible by the subscriptions of the various women's houses, and by a tag day Saturday and today. Fifty dollars were collected Saturday, and the fund is now large enough to begin work as soon as the exact location has been decided upon. The pier will be completed within the next week or ten days.

This pier will be restricted to the use of women, but women will not be required to use it. Miss Brownell, of the Physical Education department, plans to use this pier for some of the classes in swimming, and at certain hours there will be a member of the Red Cross Life Saving Crew present to assist any who may desire additional coaching.

WHEW!—Just arrived after driving 222 mi. in wet mud and over dirty rain to get the hon. colyum started. And we mite add that drivin' rain is n. g. to drive in.

The first person we saw was Art Kinnan, and he asked when we got the new car, whereupon we spat upon the mud and, rubbing gently, showed him that it was old stuff.

The next person was Boscoe, Walt Schulke and Adine Lampton.

Yes, all the bums are back; looks like a pleasant summer.....Ace Carver is here though, so we can't be sure.

"Shave, sir?"

"Of course I do!"

THE Co-op is advertising "DULL LADIES' SHOES." Methinks that that is a chance any lady should jump at.

REALLY?

It's getting nowadays so's a man isn't considered really efficient unless he can hold a baby in one hand and drive a Ford with the other—Yes, I said BABY.

CONCEITED OLD THING!

Funny the way this Dean chap always wants us to pay our respects to him when we come down to school. Eh?

THE BLESSED SABBATH DAY

Mother: And what was the text in Sunday school, Bobbie?

Robert: (after considerable thought): Hurrah, Hurrah, Here comes the quilt!

Sister: No, it wasn't neither, mother. It was "Rejoice, Rejoice, the Comforter is with us!"

—A MEN.

Old Timer, back for the Summer Session (as they are wont to call it): Well Mary, I guess you didn't know who I was this mawning, didja?

Mary: No. Who were you?

AND let us warn you old grads—DON'T waste any time hunting for BH for it is only old Main hall in disguise. Yes, you can't trust anybody, not even the Time Table, any more.

AND another thing, the young folks around here are here to study and so will appreciate it if you older people will bear this in mind. They are the fine type of young folk who go to school in the summer either because they WANT to gain more knowledge, or because they have the habit; and are not the kind who were flunks to make up or who would have to work if they went home. Please remember this and conduct yourselves as your youngsters do.

THEN, TOO, times have changed lately, and so be careful and don't shock us kids with old style immodest bathing suits, as you must constantly bear in mind that WE ARE HERE TO STUDY.

ANOTHER THING—Who started all this anyhow?

NOTICE!

This col. is open to the public and if you want to see your name in print just send in a joke about a friend and then get him to send one in about you. You'd be s'prised how it works out.

.....Editorial.

FREE 'MOVIES' WIL INSTRUCT AND ENTERTAIN

Two Showings Every Week Is Visual Bureau Plan

Free moving picture entertainments to be offered twice each Wednesday evening at 7:00 and 8:45 o'clock in Music hall are one of the newer attractions of summer sessions.

The idea of the demonstrations is to present ideal community programs including both instructional and entertainment reels, and to provide an insight into methods for getting hold of good films. The work is being directed by Mr. Dudley, head of the Bureau of Visual Instruction. Two motor driven machines to insure perfect projection without loss of time, have been provided.

On Wednesday evening the entertainment will feature Colleen Moore in a five-part version of "Little Orphan Annie," which is probably the only film in circulation that reveals James Whitcomb Riley in person. He was caught by the camera man at one of his famous weekly reception hours for children, and is represented as telling them the story of "Little Orphan Annie" and the fascinating "gobbleuns." The delightful love story woven in with the poem, does not, according to Mr. Dudley who has already reviewed the film, "spoil this child classic in the least." The program also offers a travel picture, "The Land of Evangeline," besides a Christie Comedy, "Bride and Gloomy."

Coming attractions will include some of the best photo-plays of such popular actors as Douglas Fairbanks and Charles Ray, a powerful screen adaption of Charles Rann Kennedy's well-known book, "The Servant in the House," and an elaborate production of Julius Caesar, which was photographed in Rome, and which is considered a screen classic. There will be also numerous shorter reels in interesting biographical, literary, historical, and scientific subjects, besides Montessori films, and health pictures.

Rainfall Saves State Crops, Says Report

Rain, which covered Wisconsin Sunday night and fell over the entire central and northern plains revived suffering crops and means millions to the agricultural interests of the country, according to the U. S. weather bureau at the university. Prof. B. D. Leith, college of agriculture, reported all but early planted grain in need of rain. Grain is generally stunted, corn is fair but was in need of rain, according to Prof. Leith. He said the rain would interfere a little with haying, and arrives too late to help the hay crop, which is light.

Enid Bennett in her latest Paramount Picture "Silk Hosiery" is now being shown at the Strand. Miss Bennett is seen as a model in a fashionable modiste's shop, and because of this, the women spectators were treated to a veritable fashion show. The heroine is of a romantic turn and when she arrays herself in a customer's gown and begins to dream of love and wealth, some startling things happen. There is plenty of romance and thrills in the action. The added attractions will be Fatty Arbuckle in "His Wedding Night" and Motion Pictures of Madison including the University Graduating Procession and the Alumni Zig-Zag Parade.

OPEN AIR PLAYS TO BE PRESENTED HERE NEXT MONTH

Among the entertainments being planned for the summer school students is a series of plays to be presented during July by the Clifford Devereux company, with Zenita Graf playing the feminine leads. The repertoire to be given here consists of Sheridan's "The School for Scandal," Lytton's "The Lady of Lyons," Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," and "The Mummy's Ear-Ring," an adaptation from the Spanish by Echegary. Tentative dates set for the performances are July 14, 15, and 16.

The Devereux company played here last summer and the summer preceding and met with much success on both occasions. The plays, as in previous years will be presented in the open air theater, the proceeds going to the outdoor theater fund.

LARGEST CLASS IS GRADUATED BY E. A. BIRGE

1,153 Degrees and Diplomas Are Granted at 1921 Exercises

Commencement exercises for the largest graduating class in the history of Wisconsin were concluded last Wednesday with Pres. E. A. Birge's presentation of 1,153 diplomas and degrees. During the year 344 certificates, degrees and diplomas were granted, making the total for the scholastic year 1,497.

One of the features of the commencement was the renaming of the Physics building in honor of Prof. John W. Sterling, founder of the University in 1848. The structure was christened Sterling Hall in a brief ceremony at the Charter street entrance of the building Tuesday noon. Bishop Samuel Fallows, who gave the invocation at the Alumni exercises preceding the dedication, recalled the days when Professor Sterling was at the university. Alice Crawford Gorst, one of the first women to graduate from the university spoke of Professor Sterling as a "gentleman of the old school" and said that he always appeared in a silk hat and Prince Albert coat.

Wednesday morning the graduates assembled on the upper campus where the senior panoramic picture was taken, after which the cap and gown procession of about 1000 marchers, led by the University Band and the faculty members accompanied by the classes of '61, '66, and '71, marched to the Agricultural pavilion, where the exercises were held before a packed hall, hundreds being unable to gain admission.

The commencement orations were delivered by Rachel Hauck for the college of Letters and Science, Ernest Buttermann for the college of Engineering, and Lyman E. Jackson for the college of Agriculture.

The ten students receiving theses honors were Anna M. Christensen, Racine; Clarence E. Fugina, Arcadia; F. Ernestine Jensen, Fond du Lac; Robert B. Lindsay, Milwaukee; Dudley H. Meek, Villiers W. Meloché and Frances E. Smith, Madison; Burr W. Phillips, De Pere; Guy H. Smith, La Farge; and Lola F. White, River Falls. High honors in scholarship were awarded to 33 and honors to 55 in letters and science and 64 in other colleges and courses.

Nine undergraduate scholarships for next year were awarded yesterday by the board of regents upon recommendation of the faculty. The recipients are:

Marion Grace Dill, Superior, and Auta Lyman, Madison, Fannie P. Lewis scholarship; Blanche L. Field, Racine, and Edith Zander, Two Rivers, Amelia H. Doyon scholarship; Ailene Geiger, Monroe, Kappa Kappa Gamma scholarship; Edna Hempe, Milwaukee, Association of collegiate Alumni; Helen Geller, Muscoda, Mortar board scholarship; Helen Parker, Madison, Gamma Phi scholarship, and Doris Bennett, Madison, the Stein scholarship.

Prof. Frederick Jackson Turner, who received the honorary Litt. D. was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1884 and was for many years professor of history in the university. Since 1910 he has been professor of history at Harvard.

Prof. William E. Castle, who received the honorary Sc. D., was instructor in biology at Wisconsin, 1895-6, professor at Harvard since 1908, and director of its Bussey institute of applied science. His chief work has been in the field of genetics and heredity.

ethics and heredity.

Commander Clyde Stanley McDowell of the navy, who received the honorary Sc. D., was commander of the naval experiment station at New London and in that position developed a research institution in which naval officers and civilian men of science worked together to find means of combatting the submarine peril. He was honored because of his wide training in physical science combined with a grasp of the spirit of science and its possibilities of service.

Gerhard H. Dahl, who received the honorary M. A., was graduated by Wisconsin in 1896, was a leader on the campus and later as lawyer and financier. He rose from the rural bar of Wisconsin to city practice in Cleveland, O., and later to New York city.

William Schaus of the U. S. National museum at Washington, who received the honorary M. A., was honored as a biologist whose chief work has been in the classification of insects, particularly butterflies. He is master in his field and has discovered many new species.

1,497 Awards

The 1,497 degrees, diploma and certificates just granted and during the year were as follows:

The College of Letters and Science conferred 748 degrees and diplomas, including 386 women, as follows: Bachelor of arts, 395, including 281 women; B. A. (commerce), 150, including 24 women; B. A. (journalism), 30, including 17 women; bachelor of philosophy (normal), 15, including 4 women; bachelor of science (chemistry), 23, including 3 women; B. S. (manual arts), 2 men; B. S. A Bit of Information

The Washburn observatory is open to visitors on the first and third Wednesday evenings of each month, if the sky is then clear. At these times, and for the most part only at these times, visitors have an opportunity to see the stars through the large telescope.

Students are invited to inspect the State Historical museum on the upper floor of the Library building. Curator C. E. Brown will be glad to give information and assistance.

The women's tennis courts are to the west and to the east of the Chemistry building and are open to all women in the Summer session.

The men's tennis courts (fifteen in number) are located at Camp Randall, at University avenue and Park street and at University avenue and Orchard street. The handball courts are in the men's gymnasium. Members of the faculty of other colleges are invited to join the Faculty Tennis club.

Canoes may be rented at the boat-house in the rear of the gymnasium. The siren blows at 9:30 p. m. All canoes must be in at 10 p. m. Launches for picnics, excursions, etc., as well as for regular trips around the lake may be engaged at the Park street pier.

There are bathing beaches off the University gymnasium and at the foot of Park street. A life guard will patrol these beaches to avert accidents and keep good order.

During the week the following exhibits will be on display in the Historical museum, third floor of the Library building: Paintings by Henry S. Eddy. Indian Pictograph Drawings. Old Snuff Boxes.

Monona Oil "Mystery" Proves Simply Gas

Madison's Sunday morning mystery, which declared the source of the "globules of oil" which the Blount street sewer turned into Lake Monona Saturday afternoon just before the storm inexplicable, bursts like a pin-pricked soap bubble. It was reported that if someone would discover the source of this oil, which was not street oil, it might disclose one of the big sources of lake pollution. Saturday afternoon 4,000 gallons of gasoline escaped from a tank car of the Forward Oil Co., suffocating a man, and this oil flowed upon the E. Washington ave. gutter to the Blount st. sewer entrance.

THORKELSON TO LEAVE U. W. POST

University Business Manager Accepts Position In New York

H. J. Thorkelson will leave his position as business manager of the university next month, and become associated with the General Education board of New York.

He will assist the various colleges and educational institutions who receive aid from this board in their problems of organization, budget and financial management.

Mr. Thorkelson was born at Racine, 1875, graduated from Racine High School (latin course) 1894, from University of Wisconsin; Engineering college (mechanical engineering course) 1898; given degree of mechanical engineer in 1901 on basis of practical experience and thesis.

Will Advise Regents

For many years Mr. Thorkelson has been associated with the business and social life of Madison. He is a member of the Masons, a Rotarian, for eight years he has been trustee of Christ Presbyterian church, for two years vice president of Association of Commerce, for two years director of the University club and is now director of Madison club and Madison Orchestral association.

At a meeting of the board of regents of the university last week a leave of absence was granted Mr. Thorkelson for one year on understanding he will be available to assist the regents in their problems when needed.

Street car fares in Neenah, Menasha, Appleton and Kaukauna are raised from 5 to 7 cents, by the railroad commission in an order issued Monday afternoon. The Wisconsin, Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., operates the lines affected. Further provision of the order establishes that eight tickets may be purchased for 50 cents, good for any 7 cent ticket, while 12 tickets for $1 will be good for any 10 cent ticket. The order takes effect in three days.

Gordon, assistant secretary of state, left on Sunday morning for Eau Claire where he spoke at the Convention of Pastors and congregational delegates of the Eastern District of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America. Mr. Gordon is President of the Eastern District Young Peoples Luther League which is to hold a convention in Madison July 21 to 24 inclusive.

Kid Winnecke Hits Old Mother Earth Awful Blow Today

The well known earth got a stiff slap in the face between the hours of 3 and 7 a. m. on Monday.

The slap was delivered by Kid Pons-Winnecke as he swished his tail in a sinuous 2,000,000 swirl through the heavens.

The Kid, by the way, is a comet and his foot work is said to have that of either Carpenter or Dempsey backed off the boards.

Astronomers declare he prances around the inter-special roped arena at the rate of 42,000 miles an hour.

The Kid landed one swift punch on Battler Earth's frontispiece, causing the latter to see a few stars, after which the challenger fled toward his own far corner.

The comet was not visible to the naked eye.

The Kid delivered his blow from a distance of some 12,000,000 miles. A meteoric shower is expected to be visible about June 28. The shower is caused by the comet.

FOURTEEN TAKE FACULTY JOBS DURING SUMMER

Thirteen Institutions Represented in Addition to Teaching Force

To the faculty of the 1921 Summer session have been added, in addition to the members of the regular session faculty, 14 professors, assistant professors, lecturers, instructors and assistant instructors from 13 different institutions.

Perhaps the best known of these is Prof. Thomas Sewall Adams of Yale university, formerly associate professor and professor of political economy and economics at the University of Wisconsin from 1901 to 1910, at Washington university for the year of 1910 to 1911 and at Cornell for 1915 and 1916 when he went to Yale.

From 1911 to 1915 Professor Adams was tax commissioner of Wisconsin and professor of political economy at the university. He is regarded as an expert on problems of taxation and economics, having acted in the capacity of advisor to the Wisconsin state tax commission for four years, to the department of commerce and labor for one year, and later became connected with the treasury department. He is the author of several treatises on matters in his field.

Some of the other faculty members include Reuel Borlow of the University of Minnesota, lecturer in journalism; Endora Bishop, head of the art department of West high school, Cleveland, O., lecturer in manual arts; George B. Cox, Huntsville state college, Texas, lecturer in manual arts; Leon Nelson Flint, University of Kansas, lecturer in journalism; Rollin H. Tanner, Denison university, lecturer in classics; Charles Henry Woolbert, University of Illinois, professor of speech; Alice Bivins, North Carolina College for Women, lecturer in music; Bertha Anne Cooper, Texas Christian university, lecturer in music, and John Bradford Tishener,

University of Illinois, lecturer in classics.

There are four school superintendents and supervisors giving courses. They are Raymond A. Kent, superintendent of schools at Duluth, Minn., lecturer in education; Frank D. McElroy, assistant superintendent of schools at Akron, O., lecturer in manual arts; Charles Simpson Meek, superintendent of schools in Madison, lecturer in education; and Estaline Wilson, grammar grade supervisor, Cincinnati, O., lecturer in education.

Defends Stand On Case At Progressive Meeting

Defending her position in the Bancroft-Smalley case, tried recently at Lancaster, and pointing out alleged inconsistencies in Bancroft's political career, Miss Ada James of Richland Center spoke late Saturday afternoon before members of the Women's Progressive league at the Woman's building.

"It is flattering to our organization and to me," said Miss James, "to be accorded entire credit for having caused the defeat of Judge Bancroft; but it is quite unfair. Four organizations were active in keeping him out of the office; the Anti-Saloon league, W. C. T. U., prohibition party and Wisconsin Woman's Progressive association."

Miss James indicated Smalley of responsibility in compiling of libelous pamphlets concerning Bancroft. In answer to the charge of the state that the leaflet published by her was a violation of the corrupt practices act because of the fact that it was unsigned, Miss James explained that political pamphlets printed by Mr. Bancroft were a violation of the same act on the same ground, and that he would be liable to the same law in any court.

Ask A. of C. To Aid Pueblo Flood Victims

Don Mowry, secretary of the Madison Association of Commerce, received a communication this morning from national headquarters urging all associations to aid in sending relief to Pueblo. J. F. Heding, American Red Cross, at Pueblo, has asked the associations of commerce throughout the country to aid. One-half million dollars is needed and up to the present time, it has all been subscribed except $200,000.

ZILISCH HEADS WAR VETERANS

Madison Man Is Elected Commander At Baraboo; Other Officers

C. A. Zilisch of Madison was elected department commander of the United Spanish War veterans of Wisconsin at the 22d annual encampment held at Baraboo June 23-25. Over 300 people attended the meeting and it was one of the most enthusiastic conventions ever held. Madison officers elected are: C. A. Butters, department adjutant; A. Schmitt, department quartermaster; Joe Schmitt, musician; Mrs. C. A. Zilisch, president of the auxiliary. Others are: A. T. Leden, junior V. D. C. of Superior; George Herzog, chief of staff, Racine; Clinton C. Price, judge advocate, Milwaukee; Martin G. Kenny, senior vice department commander, Oshkosh.

Only Two Teams Relief Report; Obtain $1,000

On Saturday only two teams reported to the headquarters of the Near East Relief campaign. Norton Williams, Dane county chairman of the Near East Relief, states that he received quite a large mail from the county outside of Madison.

The amount can not be given yet. It is feared that the total does not exceed $1,000. Dane county's quota is $10,000. Mr. Williams stated that he realized that there is business depression, but says there are comparatively few people who can not afford to give a little something to those starving women and little ones in Armenia who have absolutely nothing.

U. C. T. Picnic Draws Record Crowd To Park

Nearly 6,000 traveling men, members of their families and friends, attended the U. C. T. picnic at Monona park Saturday. With the last of the rain at 3 o'clock the attendance at the park reached record proportions. The U. C. T. organization has made the traveling man what he is today and has raised him to an enviable position compared with his predecessor, Mayor I. Milo Kittleson said in welcoming the men.

EXPECT 2,000 FARMERS HERE

Record Delegation May At- tend "Station Day" On Tuesday

West Hill farm of the University looks like a checker board today in preparation for the arrival of farmers tomorrow, station day. All experimental fields have been labelled and everything is in readiness to explain to the farmers the year's grains, fertilizers, feeding and result in experimenting with breeding.

A year ago 2,000 farmers spent a full day at the farm and an even larger group is expected this year. G. T. Glasco, county agent for Rock county; J. M. Coyner, Jefferson county, and A. A. Brown, Dodge county, each report that they will be accompanied by large delegations. A large Racine group will accompany R. Semmes, secretary of the Racine farm bureau, and E. A. Polley, director of the Racine Agricultural school.

A drainage demonstration and a marsh ploughing and cultivating demonstration will be special features. Women and children will have a separate program.

Mr. Coyner has challenged all other delegations in a race to be first on hand tomorrow.

Ask Mayor To Oppose School Board Measure

An appeal from The Wisconsin League of Municipalities asking that the city of Madison inform Gov. J. J. Blaine that it opposes the Peterson bill, No. 147-8, which recently passed the assembly and which is now in the hands of the governor was received by Mayor I. M. Kittleson Monday from Ford H. MacGregor, secretary of the league. The bill makes school boards separate corporations with power to issue bonds and levy taxes.

"There is no doubt," the letter states, "but that the bill will result in increased local taxes," and adds that this bill is the only bill of great importance that the legislature has enacted adversely to the interests of the cities and the recommendations of the league."

Already this Summer's volumes have been printed on how to economize in buying clothes.

To-day we're at it again—trying to make new men see that the real knack of purchasing lies in buying right in the first place—at the right place.

You can't find satisfaction where the profits are too high—nor can you do yourself justice where the qualities are too low.

If you agree we're right up to here—then won't you please grant us the opportunity of showing you that it is here your judgment says your clothing needs belong?

We still have a good showing of Palm Beach, Kool Cloth, Mohair and Tropical Worsted Suits.

BADGERS LOSE TO DULUTH IN CREW RACES

Varsity Oarsmen Put Up Scrappy Fight On Rough Course

Higher average weight, slightly better form on the part of the Duluth crew and rough water figured prominently in the defeat of the Badger oarsmen last Saturday. The senior race was close until the finish when the Duluth crew spurted and finished two lengths ahead. The time was 6:9:45 in one and a quarter mile straight away.

Duluth's junior eights numbers one and two beats the Wisconsin junior crew by one and two lengths respectively. Time 6:48:0.

Coach T. C. Jones was judge of the finish and Coach W. C. Meanwell trainer for the varsity. About 10,000 spectators witnessed the event.
