DEBATERS PIT SKILL AGAINST MICHIGAN MEN

Negative Team at Urbana
Tonight in Double
Contest

Wisconsin meets Michigan at Music hall tonight at 8 o'clock in the second inter-collegiate debate of the year. The question for debate is the same one used two weeks ago in the debates against Ohio State at Columbus and Minnesota at Madison. It reads, "Resolved that in each industrial corporation the employees, as such, should be permitted to select from among their own ranks at least one-third of the board of directors; all directors to have equal powers and privileges." Admission to the debate is free.

Melbourne Bergerman, '22, Goodwin B. Watson, '20, and Clyde Emery, '21, will support the affirmative for Wisconsin, while J. W. Hindus, C. M. Youngjohn, and J. K. Pollock will uphold the negative for Michigan. A Badger negative trio consisting of Sidney Moody, '20, Charles D. Assovsky, '21, and Joseph B. Beach, '20, will meet an Illinois affirmative at Urbana tonight to complete the triangle of the Mid-west Debating league, which is composed of Wisconsin, Michigan, and Illinois.

The judges for tonight's contest as announced by the public speaking department are Prof. Frank L. Anderson, Chicago; Prof. Wallace Notestein and Prof. Quincy Wright of the University of Minnesota.

New Line of Attack

Although the question has been previously thrashed out in an inter-collegiate debate here, the opposition tonight will see it attacked in an entirely different fashion. There is the additional feature of Michigan and Wisconsin being old rivals in debate which has served to create more than the usual amount of interest. Contests on the platform between the two schools date back to 1900. From 1907 to 1914 the Badgers and Wolverines did not meet in debate. In 1914 the Mid-west Debating league was formed, and since that time annual debates

SENIORS TO RAISE $4,000 FOR CHIMES

With $4,000 set as the goal, seniors will start a drive April 24 to raise their share of the Memorial chimes fund, which three previous classes have contributed to.

A minimum tax of $4 is to be levied on every senior to reach the 1920 class quota. James Lindsey, chairman of the memorial committee, is in charge of the campaign. The senior class this semester numbers about 900.

The slogan "Chime in on the Chimes" was first coined by the class of 1917, which started the campaign to raise $10,000 for a set of memorial chimes by four graduating classes. The class of '17 gave $1,600 for the fund, '18 subscribed $1,800, and '19 raised $2,000 toward the memorial.

STARTLING NEW ACT SCHEDULED FOR BIG VODVIL

Production Staff Promises Surprise in Latest Addition to Show

A new act has been added to the ten originally announced for Union Vodvil. Pearl Stewart, Dave Mahoney and Don Marvin will present an act of the latest songs and clever dances that is billed to excel any production of professional foot-light artists, according to the production staff. In trios, duos, and solo dances the act is a sparkling bit of life and color, from start to finish.

"The Dance of the Raindrops," by Miss Stewart will be a feature of the act. She is a graduate of the Pavlova School of dancing in New York, and her dancing is of a professional class.

Dave Mahoney and Don Marvin are well known in varsity dramatic productions. Both are playing leading parts in this year's Haresfoot play. Mahoney has some clever impersonations and character songs for his end of the act.

Marvin will play—well that's a secret but they do say there will be a "hula maiden" in the act. Special costumes have been ordered from Chicago for the dances and the character parts.

Rehearsals for the Vodvil performance are taking place daily and all the acts are rapidly rounding into shape. Each individual act will be limited in time so that even though the program includes 11 numbers it is estimated that the entire performance will not run over two hours, thus obviating any tiresome length which has marred some previous Vodvil performances.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR S. G. A. DANCE

Tickets for the S. G. A. co-operative house benefit dance, to be held Saturday afternoon at Lathrop hall, will be sold on the hill today at 25 cents.

The matinee dance will be in the nature of a mixer. All students are invited to attend, whether or not they come by couples.

Pearl Stewart, dancer and prospective star in a Union Vodvil act with David Mahoney and Donald Marvin, will be on the entertainment program.

The women selling tickets today are Dixie Davis, Mary McLean, Elizabeth Brown, Marion Lemp, Mona Delzel, Marion Dickens, Alice Campbell, Bertha Paul, Elizabeth Klotz, and Marie Blanchard.

1923 HOLDS SWAY TONIGHT AT DANCE

"Plenty of pep" is the guarantee that the committee in charge of the annual freshman dance promises to all who come with a $2 bill to Lathrop gym tonight, for this is to be the only social event of the 1923 season. The affair is to start promptly at 9 o'clock, when nine of Thompson's jazz players will start the music rolling. To make the party a complete success, the services of the Rusty Hinge quartet have been obtained, and there will be plenty of refreshments to help take out the squeaks. A picture is to be taken at 9:30. Tickets are on sale at the Y. M. C. A., Morgan's, and the University pharmacy.

3:30—Winfield, Kan. vs. Red Wing, Minn.

Close Scores Feature Play as Six Teams Are Eliminated

Four games won by the close margin of a single point featured the first day's games in the inter-state basketball tournament in the gymnasium yesterday afternoon and night.

Canton, Ill., defeated Detroit 11 to 10, Fargo, N. D., defeated Wisconsin High 16 to 15, Red Wing, Minn., too the count of Jackson, Mich., 15 to 14, and Woodward Tech, Toledo, Ohio, won from Elkton, S. D., 16 to 15.

Although most of the games were rather slow because of the bad light and unfamiliar floor, they were all sufficiently close to hold the interest

CLASS RIVALRY TO PUSH DRIVE

Senior President Calls on 1920 Men to Lead Competition

Class competition is the thing needed to put the edge on the campus drive for the Memorial Union building. Such is the opinion of Fred M. Bickel, president of the senior class, in a statement made to The Cardinal, in which he appeals to the seniors to take the lead in boosting the student quota and challenges the three lower classes to rival the showing of the 1920 subscribers.

"The lead the juniors now have is but temporary, and the seniors do not intend to allow them to maintain it," Bickel declared. "In fact, the seniors would be glad to see the whole thing run according to classes, and they'll take on any class that looks as though it could give them some healthy competition."

Board to List Figures

The Union board will make out figures from day to day showing the advances of the four classes in the memorial drive, and class rivalry is expected to liven up at once.

Bickel makes his appeal in the following statement:

"According to figures given out in Wednesday's Cardinal, an innocent onlooker might be led to believe that the seniors were hardly doing their share in the Memorial Union drive. This alarming announcement caused the senior class statistician, who is, incidentally, one of the highest-salaried officers of the class, to scratch his head and immediately begin to prove that figures lie. After some 48 hours of conscientious concentration, he emerged more or less triumphant with news that the seniors had thus far subscribed an average of approximately $10 each, the juniors $11, the sophomores $9, and the

ARLIE MUCKS SEES GAMES

Archie Mucks, '17, famed Wisconsin star on the gridiron and the cinder path, was on hand to view last night's games at the gymnasium. When the crowd learned that Mucks was in the gym every voice joined in a big skyrocket for the giant athlete, but shouts for a "speech" only brought a bow from big Arlie.

Mucks, who is at present farming in Dakota, holds the world's record in the discus throw. He will probably go to Chicago from here to compete in the trials to pick America's representatives in the Olympic meet.

of the crowd throughout, and two or three were fast and hard fought battles.

Kansas Team Strong

The best contest of the day was between Centralia, Ill., and Winfield, Kan. The Kansas team succeeded in winning the battle with a count of 31 to 19, only after the Illinois team had played them evenly for three-fourths of the battle. It was a game almost free from fouls and brought to light the two real stars of the day, P. Rief for Kansas and Beaver for Illinois.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, defeated Monroe in the only one-sided battle of the day. Wisconsin High school was entered in the tourney after Crawfordsville, Ind., wired the athletic department that it would not be able to send a team on account of sickness.

Games today will wind up the preliminaries, begin the consolation series, and also start the semi-finals.

WINFIELD 31, CENTRALIA 19

This contest was the best played and fastest of the day, and the score does not indicate the closeness of the battle.

The Kansas team showed itself to be one of the best entered in the tourney and played the kind of basketball which will entitle it to a high rank in the final standing. Centralia

OCTOPUS EDITOR—

Down here in old Wisconsin, we are wild and rough you know. You never see a decent thing wherever you may go. We ain't got no habits of regularity, Nor not a bit of judgment or responsibility.

We're wild, we're rough
Chew Copenhagen snuff
Say, folks, ain't we tough?

You wicked people, don't you know
Why your mothers love you so?
Can't you play pretty like you ought
Instead of toying with such dirty rot?

Oh, come to Us and let us pray
That all your sins may be washed away.

You shamless naughty people!

CHORUS OF WISCONSIN STUDENTS—

Oh, we're the moral degenerates;
We love the muck and the mire,
We like to be wicked and shameless,

We're bound for the eternal fire.
We don't want to be saved from our sin, you know
We wanna live like Mi Lola from Borneo.

BRADEN, GRID STAR, QUILTS YALE VARSITY

NEW HAVEN—"Jim" Braden, all star football fullback and a track man par excellence, has been forced to leave Yale university due to injuries received during the gridiron season, when he was forced to remain for several weeks in the local hospital. Braden has lost so much time from his studies that he has decided to accept a war degree instead of waiting and trying for the regular degree next June. Braden broke his nose and two ribs in the Yale-Princeton fracas and reopened the same injuries a week later in the Yale-Harvard game.

An honorary body including the ten leading artists in the university, who will be selected by a committee from the Manual Arts department faculty, has been established by the Arts and Crafts club. Excellence in art work will be the criterion for selection of membership in the honorary group, which will be a part of the club and will be perpetuated by re-selections when members are lost through graduation.

The club is planning an active program to further art interests on the campus. Outside speakers of note as well as club members will played a much better game than any other team which has competed so far, with the exception of Winfield. Until the last four or five minutes of the game the Illinois lads had an even break and as good a chance to win as their opponents.

In the first half Winfield jumped into the lead and had a margin of five points to the good as the half ended. Centralia came back strong enough to tie the score in the second period and take the lead for a time. Winfield, with the score a tie and less than five minutes to play, broke loose with five field baskets in a row, which upset the Illinois team's defense and gave the Kansas five a victory by 11 points.

The lineup:

Free throws—Reif 1 out of 2,
Beaver 1 out of 1, Johnson none out of 2.

Substitutions—Cox for Curth,
Keller for Beaver, McClellan for Wilson.

Referee—Levis.

RED WING 15, JACKSON 14

Red Wing won the first game of the evening by defeating the Jackson team by one point. The Red Wing team gained the lead in the beginning of the first half, which ended 11 to 7 in its favor.

During the second half the Jackson team played a better offensive game and held their opponents to 4 points, scoring 7 themselves.

The lineup:

Substitutions—Swich for Surbrook; Cooper for Bahr, Nordly for Hartuppee, K. Brown for Sieg.

CEDAR RAPIDS 17, MONROE 9

In the second game of the evening the heavier Cedar Rapids team defeated Monroe, 17 to 9. The Cedar Rapids team outplayed Monroe at all stages of the game displaying good floor and team work. Monroe was the aggressor at the early part of the game, but Cedar Rapids caged several baskets in close succession and the half ended 15 to 4 in favor of the Iowans.

Swenson.

WOODWARD TECH 16, ELKTON 15

By making a goal in the last half minute of play, Woodward Tech of Toledo, O., defeated Elkton, S. Dak., by a score of 16 to 15 in the last game last night. They made the first point of the game but the heavier Elkton team took the lead from them early in the first half. Both teams fought tenaciously and at no time was the Elkton team sure of holding the lead. The half ended 13 to 7 in their favor.

In the second half the Woodward team came back with a spurt and scored 5 points in the first part of the half while the Elkton team made only one goal. It seemed that the superior weight of the Elkton team would defeat the Toledo five, which showed superior team-work through the entire game. In the last three minutes Kipperman made one long shot and the score was then 15 to 14 in favor of Elkton. In the last minute Brandes made a short shot which gave the victory to the Woodward players.

The lineup:
Elkton Woodward Tech

COME ON CLASSES—PUSH IT ACROSS

WEDNESDAY the Memorial Union drive seemed to have slowed down and lost some of its initial driving force. But the slight pause was only to take breath for a fresh start. The campaign is now being carried forward with even more determination.

In carrying out a thorough canvass, members of the Union Board spoke Wednesday evening at Chadbourne and Barnard and before S. G. A. With their usual loyalty and enthusiasm for a good cause, the women of Wisconsin are working wholeheartedly to make student subscriptions equal student responsibilities.

Competition among the four classes for high mark in the subscription column should boost the fund over the goal line in the next few days. The seniors have taken the lead in challenging the other classes to get into the race.

Every student will be canvassed before the campaign ends. The task is a large one: the Union board is small, and there are thousands of students to be interviewed. The drive will be shortened if students, instead of waiting to be sought out, will secure blanks themselves. That is what the booths on the upper campus are for.

The drive is going over the top. Men and women are determined to do this service for Wisconsin. There is plenty of willingness to subscribe, but much of it has so far remained dormant. Every student, without waiting to be solicited, must shoulder the responsibility of contributing now.

THE MICHIGAN DEBATE

TONIGHT Wisconsin is meeting Michigan and Illinois on the platform in their annual triangular debates. Michigan appears in Music hall for the first time since 1917, when Wisconsin defeated her in a great contest. In 1918 we were defeated by Michigan at Ann Arbor. Last year there was no contest because of war conditions.

A huge crowd is expected tonight because of the great interest in the Michigan debate and because of the intense forensic rivalry between the two schools. The Wolverines always draw a crowd at Wisconsin. Michigan is unquestionably one of the outstanding schools in the country in forensic activities.

Wisconsin has enjoyed a strong debating reputation for many years. Her teams are always powerful and much feared. Our team against Michigan is exceedingly strong. The question is of interest to the general public.

A big crowd of enthusiastic rooters is desired and expected. Great interest is being taken everywhere in intercollegiate platform contests. In 1917 California greeted a Wisconsin team with an audience of 2,500. Two weeks ago Wisconsin and Ohio furnished record-breaking crowds. The last time Wisconsin appeared at Michigan an audience of over 1,200 heard the debate. These facts indicate a great revival in debating.

The Cardinal urges all to attend. Our team will meet worthy opponents. Let's back our team to the limit.

Music hall! Tonight!

STAR ATHLETE AND BADGER EDITOR HEAD VARSITY "Y" IN COMING YEAR

FRANK L. WESTON

Frank L. Weston, '21, basketball star and captain of the 1920 eleven, was elected president of the University Y. M. C. A. at the annual dinner held at the City "Y" last night. Wesley Travers, editor of the 1921 Badger, was elected vice president, Paul Romig, secretary, and Earl J. Tower, treasurer. Frederick Wolf was unanimously re-elected general secretary.

Harry N. Holmes who spoke on "The World Work of the Y. M. C. A." urged the members to serve with the volunteer spirit of the pioneers who established the "Y" 40 years ago. He said that the work of the university association as evidenced by reports of cabinet members, compared favorably with that of other universities.

Secretary Wolf announced that architects had prepared plans for a new Y. M. C. A. building. As soon as funds are secured for the Union Memorial building, a campaign will be organized in order to provide the University "Y" with an adequate home.

A dining room seating 225, an auditorium holding 500, and dormitory rooms for 400 are included in plans for a new Y. M. C. A. The first floor will have a large lobby.

WESLEY TRAVERS

offices for the general secretary and his assistants, a service counter, a soda fountain and billiard tables. The club rooms will overlook the lake. A cafeteria, a private dining room, and storage space for canoes will occupy the basement.

Secretary Wolf announced that $5,000 will be available for scholarships for ex-service men, including members of the S. A. T. C. This fund is a part of the amount refunded by the war department for educational work conducted by the Red Triangle in France, and by the French government for transportation charges.

Reports of cabinet members show that the Y. M. C. A. has served the whole university. A rooming house directory, an employment bureau, a loan fund and a book bureau have been established.

The results of the Religious conference were summarized by Milton Borman. Robert Lindsay told about the survey conducted by the Americanization committee, and the classes in English and in American government which have been organized.

The membership committee report shows a total of 581, exclusive of Short Course students.

What the College Editors Say

COLLEGE AVIATION

The announcement that the University of Pennsylvania will form a flying club and enter a team in inter-collegiate contests marks a new epoch in the realm of college activity. Flying, the most thrilling of all martial activity, has already attained a position in the amateur sport world. It has great possibilities in the line of inter-collegiate competition.

The University of Washington has its quota of airmen who qualified as pilots during the war, and whose hands are itching for the "feel" of a "joystick." There is no present opportunity for these men to keep in touch with this work, as the expense of airplanes and their upkeep is prohibitive to the individual of average bank account. The introduction of flying into the various universities over the country will partially solve the problem.

The introduction of flying as an inter-collegiate activity must come very slowly, partly because of the expense involved and partly as a result of natural conditions. Landing fields are often difficult to obtain and, in some cases, are unavailable. The problem of making the sport pay for itself financially is another problem of weight. University of Washington Daily.

MRS. ROSENVERRY TO SPEAK AT VESPERS

The third of the series of the Y. W. C. A. vespers will be held in the Lathrop parlors, 4:30 p. m. Sunday. Mrs. M. B. Rosenberry will speak on "The Woman's Viewpoint of the Problem of Practical Application of Christianity on the Campus." Orvin Sayle will play the violin, and Marguerite Meyer will sing. This is the last meeting of vespers before the installation of the new officers and cabinet members.

FACULTY TO STEP ONTO REAL STAGE IN 'EARNEST' PLAY

Curtain Club Announces Cast for Production Planned for April

To be, or not to be earnest—that is the question. And who, in this day of the frivolous tea hound, can better answer that question than that dignitary, the faculty.

Come hither, ye wild-eyed critics and hark to these words of wisdom. The faculty actors and actorines are going to show us how it ought to be done. The time is the last week in April. The place is the high school auditorium. The occasion is the play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde.

The Curtain club is in our midst. The faculty, too, have taken up outside activities. If the English prof. droops over Wordsworth one of these spring mornings, blame it not upon spring fever. While he may be, in spirit, skipping with winged feet over the grassy fields, in all probability, he is seeing himself planted with knocking knees in the right corner of the auditorium stage.

The Curtain club is composed of about 17 men from the faculty. The women who act in the plays given by the club, do so by invitation. Some of the persons acting in "The Importance of Being Earnest," have appeared on the professional stage, and all have had experience in amateur performances.

The cast is as follows:
John Worthington...O. J. Campbell
Algernon Moncrieff...E. H. Byrne

Rev. Canon Chasuble.....
.....Horatio Winslow
Lane, manservant.....A. K. Small
Lady Brockwell....Miss Jane Butt
Cecily Cardew...Miss Bertha Ochsner
Gwendolen Fairfax—Mrs. C. R. Fish
Miss Prism, governess.....
.....Miss Lucile Hatch
The production will be managed by Prof. O. J. Campbell. Costumes and scenery will be designed by Clarence L. Fermberg.

FRENCHMAN GIVES PRAISE TO POET

It is not necessary to be sick to be a poet, and Victor Hugo who lived a healthy life, wrote for 60 years, and died at the age of 83 in full possession of all of his faculties, is a splendid example of this fact, according to Anatole le Bras, who lectured on "Victor Hugo, Poete National," yesterday afternoon in 165 Main hall.

"The war is still too recent for a real literature to have grown up about it," said M. le Bras. "The spirit of Victor Hugo, however, represents that of France during the past six years. Born a peasant, he was able to represent most completely, the true French life of his century.

"Victor Hugo was an active man, and lived a complete life, rich with many experiences and travel. His contact with the country and the sea, enlarged the scope of his work. His was the gospel of optimism, and the joy of living, yet he is one of the profoundest of thinkers. He adds new significance to old things, and his expression is original and unique. Indestructible confidence is a characteristic he shows at all times, even in exile, and his faith and hope for the future are told in his last lines."

DAIRY EXPERT GETS TENNESSEE POSITION

G. H. Benkendorf, for 18 years a member of the faculty of the dairy school of the College of Agriculture has resigned to enter the dairy manufacturing industry in Tennessee. For the past ten years he has been the secretary of the Wisconsin Buttermakers' association, refusing reelection for another term this winter.

freshmen $1.50. So that, whereas the subscription of $9,250 by the seniors looks small compared with $12,500 by the sophomores, the seniors are averaging more student for student than are the sophomores.

"The fact that the juniors have a slight edge on us at present can easily be explained when we consider that they have undoubtedly donated all the money we gave them for Prom — rather than take the trouble to refund it. Let us not refer unkindly to the freshmen showing. Consider only that they are giving a dance tonight, which is about all we could expect them to give."

"Take All Comers"

"The lead the juniors now have is but a temporary one at best, and the seniors do not intend to allow them to maintain it. In fact, the seniors would be glad to see the whole thing run according to classes, and they'll take on any class that looks as though it could give them some healthy competition. All this with one provision—that the figures take into consideration the relative membership of the classes."

"Oh well, you say, why shouldn't the seniors average more? They should necessarily establish the precedent, and they'll be out of school and earning before the rest of us. All very true, we say, but don't forget that, for the underclassmen at least, it is an investment, as you'll be here to enjoy the building for a year or two, and we won't."

"Anyway, just to show our sporting blood, we'll take you on! Let's hear from you. And may you not consider this a communication, but a provocation."

DEBATERS MEET MICHIGAN TONIGHT

have been staged between the members except for the war years.

In the last four debates Michigan has been returned victor in three, Wisconsin defeating them in Music hall in 1917. In the past Michigan has sent teams to Wisconsin composed of graduates and law students to contest with a much younger team representing Wisconsin undergraduates. This inequality has been removed by a recent league ruling to the effect that graduates are ineligible to compete.

The Wisconsin teams were selected late last fall and work on the debates has been progressing since that time under the direction of Professors J. M. O'Neill and A. T. Weaver of the public speaking department. Following the precedent established at the Minnesota debate, "Larry" Hall, varsity cheerleader, will be on hand to lead in the cheering.

No Full Dress Worn

In all debates held at Ann Arbor the debaters follow a long established custom of appearing in full dress. Several attempts have been made to start such a practice at Wisconsin but to date none have met with success. Unlike platform discussions of the old days each speaker is allotted 12 minutes for a main speech and 5 minutes for rebuttal. This arrangement does away with the common complaint that debates are long, drawn out, and monotonous verbal scraps.

The Michigan debate has always resulted in a large influx of alumni who are interested in Wisconsin forensics. The Michigan team arrived this morning, accompanied by Professor Trueblood, dean of forensic activities at Ann Arbor. After the debate, the contestants, presiding officer, judges, and coaches will adjourn to the University club where the Forensic board will entertain with refreshments and a smoker.

FOUR GAMES WON BY 1-POINT MARGINS

five to 3 points, scoring 6 themselves. The light scoring on each side was due to the poor shooting of both teams, and if the Detroit forwards had been able to locate the basket they would have had little trouble in winning.

Berry made most of the points for the Canton team, while Carty scored most for Detroit.

The lineup:

|----------------|-------------|
| Canton | Detroit |
| Johnson.....RF | Carty |
| Negley.....LF | Sweeny |
| Campbell.....C | Vereland |
| Berry.....RG | Smokiewicz |
| Simon.....LG | Springsteen |

Field goals—Negley 1, Campbell 1, Berry 1, Sweeny 1, Vereland 1, Smokiewicz.

Free throws—Carty 4 out of 8, Berry 5 out of 10.

Substitution—Jones for Sweeny.

FARGO 16, WISCONSIN HIGH 15
The second contest was as close as the first with Fargo, N. D., defeating the Wisconsin high school five of Madison by the score of 16 to 15. Wisconsin high, although not originally entered, was substituted in place of Crawfordville, Ind., when that team wired that it could not come.

Although the Madison five showed a burst of speed in the closing minutes, they were unable to catch the Fargo team and came within one point of tying the score as the whistle blew. Fargo led 9 to 6 at the end of the first half but was outplayed in the second.

The lineup:

|------------------|----------------|
| Fargo | Wisconsin High |
| Rae.....RF | Glasier |
| Burnett.....LF | Elsom |
| Brockmueller...C | Meyers |
| Berdahl.....RG | Stehr |
| Weingarten....LG | Otis |

Field goals—Elsom 4, Rae 3, Meyers 1, Glasier 1, Brockmueller 2, Berdahl 2.

Free throws—Berdahl 2 out of 9, Meyers 3 out of 5. Substitutions—Meyers for Stehr, Chapman for Weingarten.

INTER-SORORITY BOWLING

The results of last night's inter-sorosity bowling were:
Pi Beta Phi 2, A. O. Pi 1.
Theta 3, Chi Omega 0.
The highest individual score was 160 made by Lois Cottrell, Chi Omega.
